He'll rather choose to kill me than to come like a normal person and talk. How can he expect me to react in a normal manner?

This keeps coming to my mind: the YT recommendation in which many babies in diaper sat vertically all over along a wall with each one holding a slice of Pizza in its hand. I had seen it long back, but it keeps coming to my mind (keeps getting highlighted to me) and makes me weep internally.

33.'Baksha Gunaho Ko'

'Spared/Forgave my sins'

The guy sings:
Forgave (my) sins
After listening to (my) prayers..

My God.. Love.. You gave to everyone..

To my sighs too..
Please listen, to my prayers (as well)..
(And) Bring her to me, whom I have given my heart to..

Ohh..

Forgave (my) sins

After listening to (my) prayers..

My God.. Love.. You gave to everyone..
To my sighs too..
Please listen, to my prayers (as well)..
(And) Bring her to me, whom I have given my heart to..

(That) she's (both) my hope and thirst
Let her know just this..

She who smiles looking at me..
Whom I desire day and night to have..

34. 'Tenu Dil Da Wasta'

'For my Heart's sake'

God, reserve her to my name
For my vulnerable heart's sake..

35. 'Sara Jahan Chod Chaad Ke'

'after leaving the whole world behind'

The Guy sings:
God, I came at the doorstep of my love
Leaving the whole world behind..

Beautify my dreams (that I have with her)..
For my Heart's sake..

36. Black Lady With Protruding Lips

Vision: Animated view of a short and curly-haired black lady With highly protruding dark pink lips stands facing to the right dressed in a black slip and looks sideways at me.

37. Events From Past

They just keep getting highlighted.

A Guy in Black

(~2018/ Early 2019) On my way back from dept to home on Scooty, I saw a guy dressed in a black t-shirt over black trousers coming towards me from the other side of the road on a white scooty. It was the road outside the back gate of Omaxe City (my home in NCR Sonipat). He had beautifully smiling eyes from what I caught from the corner of my eyes. He was perhaps a doppelganger of Death Conqueror. I'm not sure, but he looked a lot like him. That day I had gone to the dept on scooty but after reaching I found out that it was an off. So I returned home immediately.

A Red Alto

(~2018/Early 2019) I was on my way out towards the back gate of Omaxe City when a red Alto came in front of me and stayed in front of me for a while.

38. I Never Really Hated Death Conqueror.

I hated what he did. Even if I understood his reasoning behind his actions, I knew that it was a wrong thing to do. Knowing this stopped me from going his way.

Visions (somewhere within the past two weeks) that I had

39. While Doing Bench Presses

- A smiling Kartik Aryan lying horizontally facing me at around two feet above me with the elephant trunk resting vertically against his full-sleeved white shirt.
- A smiling Ranbir Kapoor lying horizontally facing me at around two feet above me with two dumbles in his hands as he lifted them up together in synchrony with me. He was dressed in a colorful jacket in that vision.

So, are these revelations too representative of something bad that's going to unfold..? Like the forehead hit represented their spy drone's hit at the centre of my forehead. They have created a circular depression at the center of my forehead. It makes me recall the vision of a Red Light on a metallic skeleton's head. Have I done that much wrong to them..?

40. Bepanah Pyaar Tujhse

The chorus of this song repeats itself in my Spirit often.

The lady sings:

Bepanah Pyaar Tujhse	Unfathomable love I have for you..
Tu Kyu Jaane Naa..	Why do you not know ?..
Hua Ikraar Tujhse..	I have admitted it to you
Tu Kyu Maane Naa..	(But) why do you not believe..?..

Bepanah Pyaar - The Lady Sings.mp4

But around a week back, while writing revelations, after I heard the above song in the Spirit, I heard this song next. I've used an illegible font below because his way of saying it like using the illegible font below. But if you look at the meaning directly instead of the font, only then you understand what he's saying.

41. '汴ﾊ⁀⁂↘∓⤭ ύ▪↘~ ə⁀~~‴ ε⁂ネ----◡ ﾊ~‴ ▪◡ υ~⤭ υ⁂ネ殿'

'Because with this intensity do I love you..'

The guy sings:

Because with this intensity do I love you..
What would you understand..

Ref: KYON KI ITNA PYAR

Around a week back, I laid on bed and saw the stubbled face of RS on top of me kissing me passionately.

42. The Neutralizer and Strengthening Revelations

I now take all the love revelations God gives me with a grain of salt. I tell my heart that it may represent a future negative situation created by someone - that that's why God is neutralizing my future pain by placing in my mind the love revelations in time so that during the time of my persecution, I can replace the hurt with my experiences with those people.

A while after I had written the revelation 'Black Lady With Protruding Lips', I had the following vision while I was laid with my laptop on my bed.

43. The Lip Chew

Vision (yesterday night): Death Conqueror dressed in a full-sleeved white shirt is chewing my lips.

This made me think if they were really going to persecute me in the manner.

44. Kartik Aryan Pulls Out Teeth

Without anasthesia of a person who was a part of deceiving and betraying him. And while he does so, he says, 'Sorry To Make You Wait, Sir'.

Are they going to pull out my teeth?

I've been hearing the below lines for the past week.

1. 'These Moments of Happiness Are Few'

I woke up with these lines from the 'Mela Dilo Ka' ('The Fair of Hearts') song:

'Laugh and Smile, for these days won't be found tomorrow..
These moments of happiness are few..

Once these springs are gone,
The past season of springs won't return..

The fair of springs comes.. for only once,
it comes and leaves..

Ref: Mela Dilon Ka (Mela)

2. 'On Board'

Vision (Morning): A bearded RS is sitting in a helicopter's left seat beside the window as he reports in the microphone and says, "On Board."

While brushing my teeth in the washroom, my eyes closed abruptly on their own, and then I heard the chorus of this song sung by the guy.

3. 'Taakte Rehte Tujhko'

'I stare at you day and night'

The guy sings
I stare at you day and night..

In your eyes..
In your eyes..

I keep staring at you day and night..
As if in my eyes have resided your eyes..

Your two bewitching eyes..
Stole my heart away..

Stole my heart's rest away,
Your two bewitching eyes..

Do Nain - The Chorus.mp4

It was followed by this stanza sung by the lady. This stanza has been playing in my spirit for the past week.

3.1 'Tujhse Shuru Hui, Tujhpe Hi Khatam Ho..'

'It started with you, It should end with you as well..'

The Lady sings:

It started with you, it should end with you..
The world of mine, world.. the world of mine..

It was inside my heart previously,
but now it is said out by (my) eyes..

That I'm yours.. that I'm.. that I'm yours..

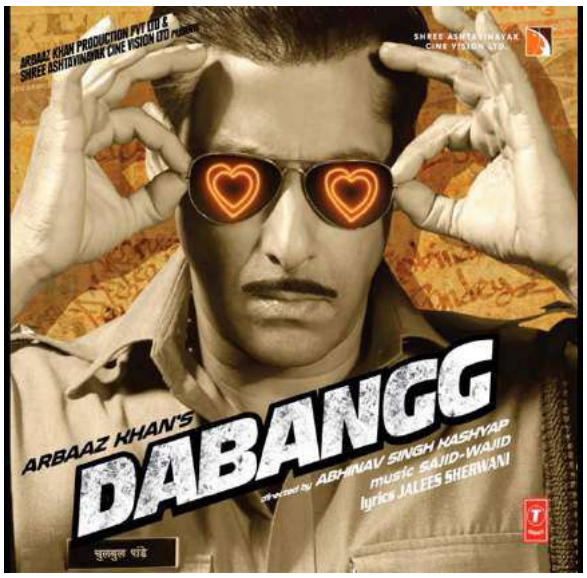
Remembering you, I take sighs..
I'm both near and far from you..
What should I do now..?

I'm both near and far from you..
What should I do now..?

Your two bewitching eyes..
stole my heart's rest..

Stole my heart's rest,
your two bewitching eyes..



Tujhse Shuru Hui..
Tujhpe Hi Khatam Ho.

4. The Stab From Above

Vision (few days back): A dagger/knife coming right at my groin from the top as I laid on my bed. I saw it coming from the above my groin area.

5. Recall

- The lines written in white cursive writing on the left knee of my black jeans, the last line ending with 'Death Glory' (Is that my promise?)
- The Jeans Vision 'Nearby': the Zip vision had the open zip of a greyish black denim with nothing inside.
- What if you never received your promise in your lifetime..? I worked/walked with God with this in my mind. My promise could turn out to be something entirely different as well at the end. Things made sense as I received more revelations.
- The revelation of 'Red Sparkle Eyes'. It was given because of what my eyes were going to go through in the future.

All these things were revealed to me beforehand. The eye mashup, the capping of the crown, the neck slice, the knee burst, the ear burst, the wrist amputation, the opening of the belly and chest, and yesterday the chipping away of my ovarian flesh. Why're you doing this..?

The place is not for God's children.

6. What Hurt Me The Most

Was not what I saw or went through

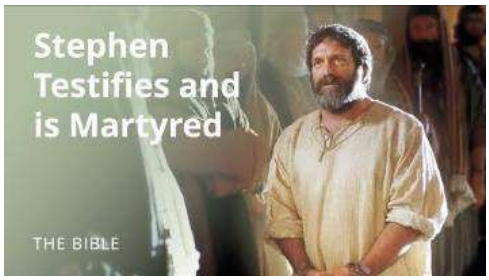
But to know that the person that I love did those things.

But then I recalled what Jesus went through. 'I' did that to Him. We all did that to him. He loved us nevertheless. So, I learned a part of the nature of God. He is unmatched.

7. St. Stephen's Head Gets Stoned

Vision: In the vision, a close view was shown of saint Stephen's forehead being hit by a huge stone on the left side injuring him severely. The stoning of Stephen from the video 'Acts 6|The Martyrdom of Stephen| The Bible' has also been highlighted to me several times.

The Stoning of Stephen: Acts 6 | The Martyrdom of Stephen | The Bible



8. The Bride Gets Beaten Down

BiLL

She tells him that it's his baby that she's carrying right before he shoots her head.

9. Understanding Reflected Revelations:

They represent the opposite of what I went through physically.

The Healing Assignment in Pink & Yellow

I prayed for Death Conqueror. I was on my knee, metaphorically speaking (I will have a knee burst).
I had my hands on his 'crown' to heal him (My crown is going to be capped).
I whispered 'Jesus loves You' in his left ear (The revelation of the burst of a bomb near my left ear)
I kept looking at his head and the device to the right that showed his state. (That's what he does. He looks at my outer head and then the inner damage on his screen that has been caused because of the spycams)

8. 'I Wrote You Everyday For An Year.'

– The Scene from The Notebook.

9. Martha Sees Through

Martha told Noah that though he was now with her, it seemed to her that he was looking at Allie whenever he looked at her. Martha can see that Noah is still in love with Allie.

Ref: The Notebook- Martha meets Allie.

Recall – 'Either Ghoda or Chatur' revelation. Notations are not consistent.

10. Do They Want My Head To Be Bowed Down With Shame?

It won't make any sense if I was to feel shame for something I didn't do. I haven't done anything shameful that my head should be bent with shame. It's held high either. My head is neutral and content with the knowledge of the love of God. I wouldn't want anyone to feel shame because of me or wouldn't create situations for others to feel shame. I like to uplift people. I know that it's unreasonable to want to make others feel shame for uneligible reasons. It's similar to refusing to call an almirah a bed. You know that it would be wrong, and even if you called it so, it won't be true. So, even if I bow my head, it would still be unreasonable.

I wrote this because when I went out of my PG, I saw a third-party messenger, a fat and short girl with 'Head High' written on her t-shirt as she walked past my PG looking at me with her head high. This again made me confront the false perceptions/judgments that fall on us.

11. 'It's Not Over, It's Still Not Over'

12. Rebecca Comforted Isaac after the death of his mother.

Genesis 24:67
New International Version
67 Isaac brought her into the tent of his mother Sarah, and he married Rebekah. So she became his wife, and he loved her; and Isaac was comforted after his mother's death.

13. The Guy in Black

It was the day of 15th August, the Indian Independence Day, during the year 2020 and there was a function organized in our society in the park beside the back exit gate, after which followed a community lunch. I stood in the line when I noticed a short-heighted guy through the corner of my eyes stopping to my left with his back towards me, bending and tying his shoelace. He was dressed in all black and wore an inverted cap and a mouth mask with an army print. After an hour or so of being there, I sat alone on one of the chairs holding myself with both arms as I looked forward into the air and was thinking about something. I happened to look to my right, and there stopped the man in black looking at my face from about 20 meters. I could tell from the look in his eyes that he was smiling for some unknown reason though he wore a mask. It was Death Conqueror there.

I'm writing about these events because they're being highlighted to me. I remember all encounters with people I care about. These are some past events.

14. The Guy in Pink & Black

When I was reappearing for some MSc subjects and used to attend classes, there was this guy whom a fellow classmate was introducing to others. He was praising him a lot saying that he cleared JRF in just one attempt and that he fared too well in the first sem of MSc as well, which most students did poorly in. He stood with a bowed head like a characterful man and didn't say much. I used to frequent the Central Science Library back during those days. This day I saw him standing outside CSL behind the left railing near the racks meant for bags to be placed in them. He was formally dressed with a full-sleeved pink cotton shirt tucked inside black pants over black formal shoes. He was very slim too. He emanated a very serious and intellectual aura. I could tell that he was standing there intentionally. He was from a humble background but looked very stern and sharp. It was unexpected for me to find him there. He emanated an aura like Stephen Hawking's. And also perhaps I had that recent heart break from Tejaswi, so I was deliberately running away from everyone who seemed to be interested in me. If I was in my normal state, even then I would've preferred to stay alone because it gave me time to do what I wanted. However, if I found a good and like-minded company, then I let those people in my life, people who could fit in my box.

I always wanted to write a novel. I used to tell Meera back in BSc that I would one day write a book on our BSc days because they were so special to me. Meera seemed to be the perfect fit for me. I wasn't attracted to her though, but she often said that if I was a guy, she would've married me.

I've written one now. But it's not from my own mind. It's a book of revelations given by God.

A Smiling Sumit Sir

And when I wrote the above para about desiring to write a novel in the past, I had this vision of the face of Sumit Sir (the 'AI' guy) in a dark background looking at me with filled eyes reflecting a filled heart. He taught us Mathematical Physics & Quantum Mechanics in BSc and took some labs. He became the favorite of almost all the students because of the way he taught. My friend Angana once showed me a video lecture by Feynman to point out how Sumit Sir emulated Feynman's hand movements while teaching. Angana was from Rajasthan. We then knew the place he took his teaching style from. Then, once during MSc when we were discussing something with him, he was emulating Prof. Debajyoti Chowdhury (his PhD supervisor).

The vision above was repeated a few times. He looked quite touched and filled, followed by the vision of him standing facing to the left where in a huge elephant trunk hit his head making him slightly dizzy. His face looked an amalgamation of him and my dad.

15. Vijay

He was my batchmate in MSc. He had a protruded jaw and lived with his grandma and sister. His grandma used to pack him lunch. He came from a very humble background. I saw him as a friend as we discussed the things from our classes, but he had started to become romantically interested in me. I didn't chum well with him so I had to put some boundaries in place.

16. 'Soniye..'

'(My) Beautiful Loved One..'

You alone, you alone, are my destination.
You alone are present in my desires.. that you say something like this – this's what (my) heart desires..

Without you, my mornings don't burn..
Without you, my evenings don't set..
Without you, my life seems to be leaving me..

My Beautiful Loved one.. My Beautiful Loved one..

17. Trying to Cut Me In Pieces

In this dream, I was moving around a place. I was trying to evade Death Conqueror. Towards the end, I was floating high near the room's ceiling as I saw the short-heighted guy below with a sharp weapon with which he was trying to cut me in pieces while I was trying to evade him.

I have heard this song in the spirit a few times by far. It repeated itself today as well. But I had heard it for the first time in A-16. It didn't make much sense to me back then because of the dream revelation in which I saw Glory in a Red suit with white shirt with a bouquet. When I shifted to Room D1 with Akhila, I had the revelation in which I saw the prophetic symbol lift itself up and place itself on top of Death Conqueror's face from the public lecture delivered by Prof. Patrick Das Gupta in the Cluster Innovation Centre. And then I recalled my previous revelations that I had related to him. One of them had me in a home in a room of which was an infant named Divya and a short-heighted man in a white tunic standing with a lady, his sister perhaps, I'm not sure. The guy looked like Death Conqueror.

18. Mein Kya Karu Ram Mujhe Buddha Mil Gya

'Oh what to do, I got an old man'

The lady sings:
Oh what to do, I got an old man
Oye Hoye, Got an old man
Ho, Got an old man

This song played in my Spirit first in A-16, and then it repeated itself today. Death Conqueror was shown as having grey/white hair on his head in the dream revelation of 'The Man with Dual-Eyes.

19. 'My Mom Got Lost'

When my birth mom died, I was still very young – about 2.5 to 3 years old. People would ask me where did my mom go.. And I would tell them what I was told.. that she got lost in a college.

20. 'Sought'

My gaze kept stopping at 'sought' written on the bible verse wall painting I bought during the past month.

The verse says, "I sought the Lord, and he answered me and delivered me from all my fears. Those who look to Him are radiant, and their faces shall never be ashamed." Psalm 34:4-5

God was talking to me through the phrase. I thought if it means that I must search him out. But he stays in hiding and there are many random noises around. How would I know which one is his? It also refers to the lost sheep of God who is sought by God back to Him. He is the lost sheep of God.

21. 'Rabba Mere Naam Kar Use, Tenu Dil Da Vasta'

'God give that person to me, for my vulnerable heart's sake'

22. 'Phool Sa Hai Khila Aaj Din'

'The day has blossomed like a flower.'

The Guy sings:
Today, the day has risen..
Like the color of your skin..

Today, the day has risen..
Like the color of your skin..

The day has blossomed like a flower..

23. Tera Hi Saath Mangna

'To ask for your accompaniment alone'

The Guy sings:
To ask for your accompaniment alone..
To hold your arm alone..
I don't want to go anywhere without you..

The Guy sings:
Don't (you) get crossed
With me again.. (and) never leave my side..
I don't have anyone here
to call my own besides you..

24. I WANT Death Conqueror To Be SAVED

I wanted 'them' to be saved. I wanted Death Conqueror to be 'saved' or 'sought' by God. That was my objective in doing what God told me, even if it meant that I may not with him. Above all, the soul has to be saved from the prison suit. Yes, at times I was angry because of his chosen way, so I cursed him. But my heart always changed later. I don't know. I keep forgiving him, and I am beginning to see him through a new lens, not looking at the outer actions, but going into the core. And the situation looks different from this frame.

God sees the good shining through the mixture. He showed me His sky-blue angel eye. In that dream (The Man With Dual Eyes on Page 106), he had grey hair.

It was important for me to walk in God's will, for only then he would be 'truly' helped.

I am sorry. I'm not a very experienced or clever person, but a very straightforward one. I don't say things indirectly, nor have I a lot of experience in the way he chose. I too am a fool in the sense that I found it hard to approach the people I love. My pace automatically slows down with them. I found it easy only to go and talk with Mayank. I don't know. Perhaps because he doesn't play games. I felt very comfortable around him because I didn't see a lot of hidden layers of persona. He is a part of the greater promise. But things are just so hazy when it comes to Death Conqueror and Glory, because they form their own perceptions and only show me stupid signs instead of coming across like a sensible person.

I prayed for Glory's salvation too. It was at the top of my list of prayers written in my Notebook. But what I understood from the revelations I received was that I had to do what God showed me for the healing assignment to be accomplished that I thought would lead to Death Conqueror's newly found faith in God thereby leading to him being saved. And in that revelation, I wasn't already a part of his life, because some ladies present around said, "Isse Shaadi honi thi" "Isse shaadi honi thi". So it told me that I was to be with Glory as I had seen in the wedding dream revelation, while Death Conqueror was to be healed and saved from the system. Whether Glory would be saved, I didn't know about it. But I prayed for it since I came to God or since God promised him to me.

I didn't know everything about things would unfold. What I knew, I wrote.

25. God is Above Science

Recall – my Sunscreen named Sarah that I bought from Beauty Lounge Salon in the service lane in front of Ganda Nala. Sarah conceived at an age well past her fertile years. She was surprised at the promise of a son made by God to the extent that she even chuckled that how was she going to bear a child at that age. But she still conceived because of God's made promise.

The Guy Sings:
I hope you're feeling happy about having me..

about having me..

The Lady sings:

28. Recall: They Rejected My Heart, Brain and Reproductive System

Burying Elephants in the Ocean

The revelation also pertains to my reproductive system that is being rejected by being chipped at.

'Why were you rejected?' – I saw the side view of a beach followed by short and sparkling smooth pink elephants running to the left with their trunks lifted horizontally in a wavy manner. On the other side of them, ran bigger black elephants together with them. And as they ran together, a voice said in the background, "because they buried elephants in the ocean, and threw roses in it. The result was pink elephants coming out of the ocean together with the black ones. They didn't like the pink elephants."

29. 'O Maa..'

'O Mother'

I once sang this song in a school function on Mother's Day. I was dressed in my school House's uniform of Red & White - Red polo t-shirt tucked inside a white skirt.

This song played in my Spirit today. It was playing previously as well in A-16 with special emphasis on the stanza below.

O Maa… O Maa…
O Maa… O Maa…
How good you're, how simple-minded you're..
Lovely-Lovely you're..

O Maa… O Maa…
O Maa… O Maa…

This world that is - it is a forest of thorns..
(But) you're a garden of flowers..

Stanza1:

Your eyes, mother, have begun to hurt..
Your eyes, mother, have begun to hurt..

For me, you've spent whole nights staying awake..

That on my sleep, you've given up yours..
O Maa… O Maa…
O Maa… O Maa…

Stanza2:
You don't care about your own joy and grief..
You don't care about your own joy and grief..

I smile - you smile, I weep - you weep..
On my laughter, and on my crying..
You've lost your strength..

O Maa… O Maa…
O Maa… O Maa…

30. Lost On You

When you get older, plainer, saner
Will you remember all the danger
We came from?..

Burning like embers, falling, tender
Longing for the days of no surrender
Years ago..

And will you know..

So smoke 'em if you got 'em
Cause it's going down..

All I ever wanted was you..

I'll never get to heaven
Cause I don't know how..

Let's raise a glass or two
To all the things I've lost on you.. Oh Oh..

Tell me are they lost on you?.. Oh, Oh

Just that you could cut me loose.. Oh Oh

After everything I've lost on you..
Is that lost on you?..

Ohhhh.. Ohhh.. Ohh
Ohh, Ohh Ohh..
Is that lost on you?..

Ohhhh.. Ohhh.. Ohh
Ohh, Ohh Ohh..
Baby, is that lost on you?
Is that lost on you?

Wishin' I could see the machinations
Understand the toil of expectations
In your mind..

Hold me like you never lost your patience
Tell me that you love me more than hate me
All the time..

And you're still mine..

So smoke 'em if you got 'em
Cause it's going down..
All I ever wanted was you..

Let's take a drink of heaven
This can turn around..

Let's raise a glass or two
To all the things I've lost on you Oh.. Oh..
Tell me are they lost on you? Oh.. Oh..

Just that you could cut me loose
Oh.. Oh..

After everything I've lost on you
Is that lost on you?..

Ohhhh.. Ohhh.. Ohh
Ohh, Ohh Ohh..
Is that lost on you?

Ohhhh.. Ohhh.. Ohh
Ohh, Ohh Ohh..
Baby, is that lost on you?
Is that lost on you?

Let's raise a glass
Or two
To all the things I've lost on you
Oh, oh..

Tell me are they lost on you
Oh oh..

Just that you could cut me loose
Oh Oh..

After everything I've lost on you
Is that lost on you?
Is that lost on you?..

31. No More Games

Come upfront and talk. If I was in his place, and I liked someone, I would go to them my own self and ask them for a coffee, provided I feel comfortable around that person! He can just come walking to me and I will lightly caress his cheek because I don't kiss people in the first meeting itself. There was no need of playing such a hurtful game. I know it was not him. Because I have seen guilt in him. At times, he feels guilty, that's his angelic part. I realize from the dream of 'The Moral Man, The Serpent Chaser and the Woman In White' that I have to be more powerful in prayer and not downcast in the Spirit, because the man got killed because of loose prayers. He had told the woman to pray in low tone as they would've to run for long and therefore had to preserve strength. But I would fast and pray fiercely.

I returned around 5 minutes back from getting a full belly ultrasound done. I had started to feel weak and my ovarial area was hurting even on slight touch and felt very sensitive. The doc told me that there was a cyst in my left ovary due to the burst of an egg. And that the pain should cease after 2-3 days while the burst egg should dissolve within 2-3 weeks.

But when I was waiting for my turn to get the ultrasound done, I heard this stanza in my Spirit:

32.1 'Do Pal Tujhse Judaa Tha'

'For two seconds I was one with you..'

The guy sings:
And in such a manner then my path turned..

I started getting lost away from you,
As if something of my own was being taken away from me..

32.2 'Tu Hi Mere Liye Ab Kar Dua'

'You only pray for me now..'

The guy sings:
You only pray for me now..
You only relieve me from this pain..
When Being yours, I couldn't stay yours..
I say this to my own self

I have forgotten you..
I have forgotten you..
I have forgotten you..

Then why have your memories made me weep..?
Made me weep..

33. A Firey Shield From My Brain

Vision (Night): When I started praying fiercely after I realized it was time that I left this apparent lukewarmness and complaining about my suffering, I had a vision in which I saw fire come out of a depression in my forehead and form a firey disk outside of me in front of me of somewhat less than 2 meters in diameter. The vision then changed to my roommate Prachee Singh standing near my bed facing the door as the fire came out of her forehead and formed a wide disk. She was dressed in her red and white night suit (white top over red palazzos).

34. The Forehead Hits Continue

They are making me feel dizzy and are now affecting the mobility of my right hand because of the damage to my brain.

35. 'Koi Kami Nahi Hai'

'There's nothing lacking'

I heard this phrase a few times as it kept getting repeated back in A-16 when I was roaming this certain night on the roof. It was a male voice saying this. I thought it was Glory saying that to me.

I don't judge people according to their appearances. Death Conqueror looked good enough. But I don't know why he found bad company.

It's not about how the other person looks. But it's the other way round. When you love someone, no matter how they look, you'll love them the same. They may fall sick, or may loose hair, or may loose an arm or a leg, or their hair may change color, or they may become poor, but you'll still stand with them and love them the same.

It was never about the looks. I liked him the first time I saw him in MSc. He looked more than perfect to me. I somehow resonated with him in a weird way. I didn't know his background then or who he was.

36. 'Use Tu Laga Le Ab Gale'

'Hug Him Now..'

The Guy sings:
God these days of mine days don't seem to pass by
When I meet her in my dreams
Hug him (me) now..
For my Heart's sake..
God, I came at the doorstep of my love
Leaving the whole world behind..

Beautify my dreams (that I have with her)..
For my Heart's sake..

Ref: Aaj Din Chadheya (Full Lyrical Song) | Love Aaj Kal | Saif Ali Khan & Deepika Padukone | Pritam

37. 'Friend'

In this dream, I was referring to Death Conqueror as I wrote 'Friend' in white in a dark background.

38. "Jhukti Aankhon ne Btaya"

'Falling eyes told what is it like to breathe.' – It's an ironic statement. It refers to death making one realize what 'breath' (true life after death) is..

This scene from the song was being highlighted to me:

What do conscious people know of losing one's mind..

What do conscious people know of losing one's mind..

Fall in Love, then understand..
What life is all about..

Stanza:
When my eyes first met hers..
The space was lit with brightly..

When my eyes first met hers..
The space was lit with brightly

Today I got to know what
Love's enchantment is about..

Today I got to know what
Love's enchantment is about..

Fall in Love, then understand..
What life is all about..
What do conscious people know of losing one's mind..

Stanza:
Opened hairlocks taught poetry to (all) seasons ..

Opened hairlocks taught poetry to (all) seasons ..

Falling eyes told what is it like to breathe..

Falling eyes told what is it like to breathe..

Fall in Love, then understand..
Fall in Love, then understand..

What life is all about..

Stanza:
I never was able to describe with my lips the condition of my heart to them..

I never was able to describe with my lips the condition of my heart to them..

And they never understood what this silence meant..
And they never understood what this silence meant..

Fall in Love, then understand..
Fall in Love, then understand..

What life is all about..

After writing the revelations until late last night, when I laid on bed to sleep, I had this immediate vision.

1. The Armoured Soldier

Vision (303, A-10, Yesterday Late Night): The upper half of a well-built soldier armoured up fully in a silver metallic suit wearing a helmet with a cross-shaped opening on his head. The helmet resembled that of Magneto's. He stood in front of a sand mountain.

The following vision showed attacks coming at him from the front cornering him against the rock as he used his sword and armour to dodge and fight.

The next vision showed the top-view of the scene as seen from some distance in front of the mountain rock. The soldier was now at some distance ahead from the mountain with his sword in his hand which he moved horizontally around and as it moved, it released fire in the air. There was no one around him this time. He kept moving his sword in the air. I saw the devil dragon standing high in the air. The soldier used his firey sword to resist the devil.

After a while of these revelations, I saw,

2. An Injured Unarmoured Man

Vision: An injured unarmoured man lying with his face on a black rock with closed eyes and his face facing the viewer. He wasn't moving at all.

The day before yesterday, after writing my heart out towards Death Conqueror, I was thinking that it's been so long that I've walking towards my promise and writing revelations. And that I wanted to hug him, because I didn't know how long I have on Earth. I think that's also the reason I wrote what I did yesterday, that there's nothing wrong with his looks and that he should stop sending tall and muscular doppelgangers. Glory doesn't seem far away to me, as he's already in the right. But Death Conqueror needed special ministering. I've said many harsh words to him out of anger. I was till learning the heart of God.

And then these lines from the song 'Aj Din Chadeya' kept playing in my Sprit..

The lyrics:
God these days of mine don't seem to pass by
When I meet her in my dreams..
Hug him (me) now..
For my Heart's sake..

God, I came at the doorstep of my love
Leaving the whole world behind..

Beautify my dreams (that I have with her)..
For my Heart's sake..

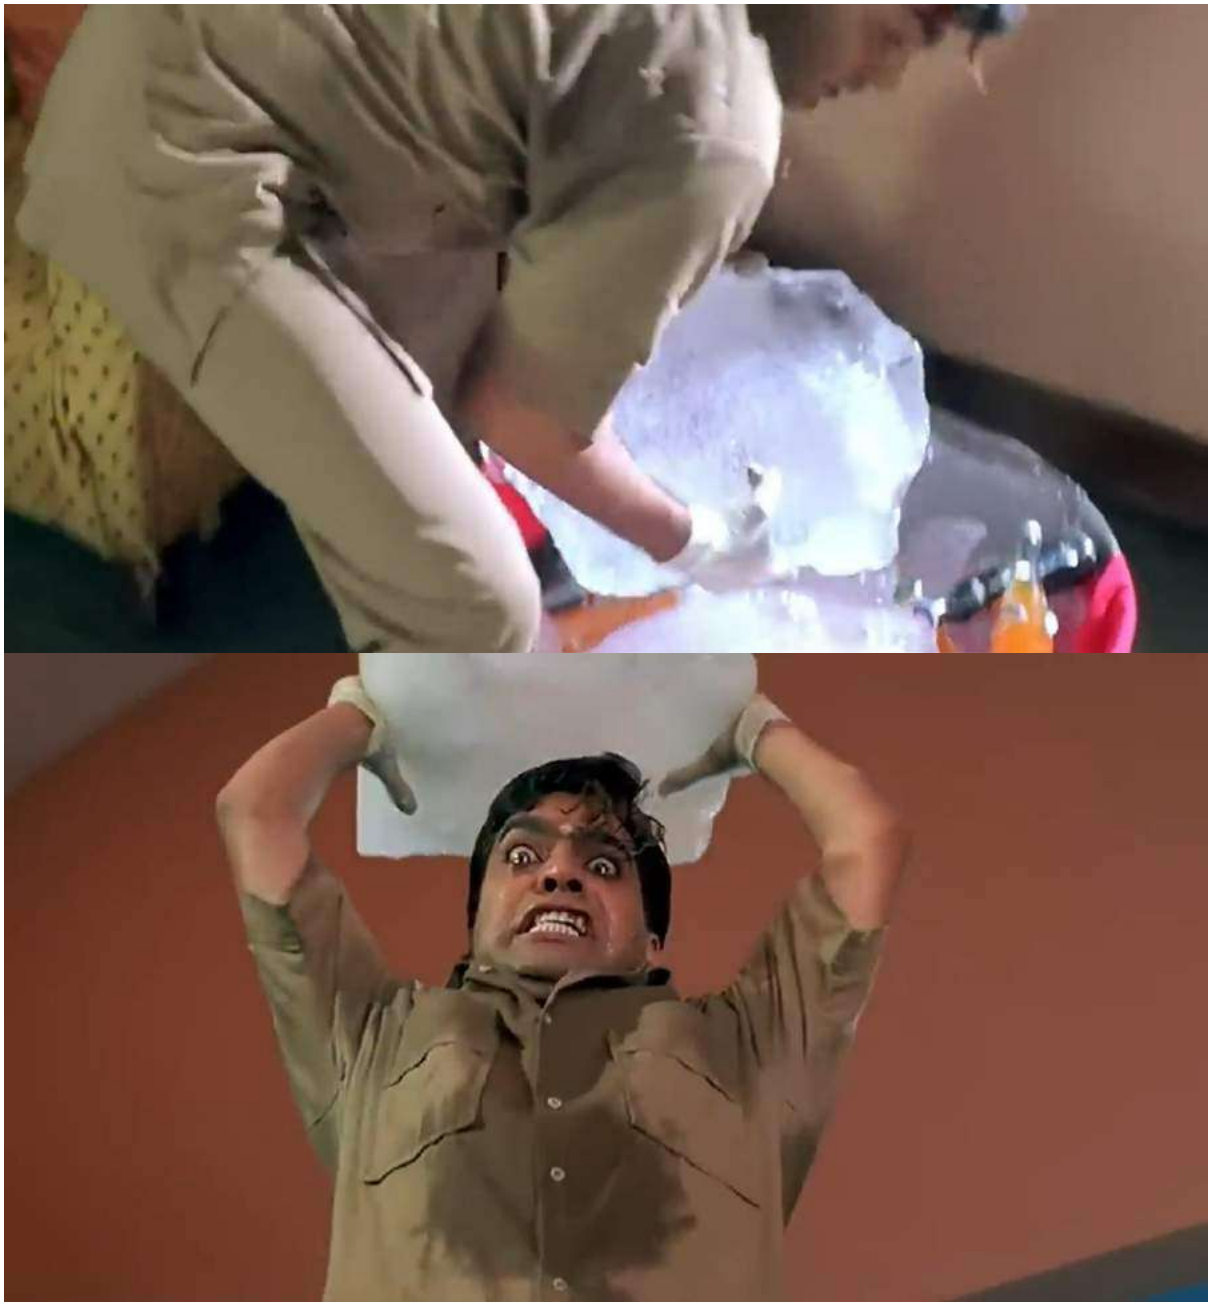
For the past few days, this vision from the movie Dushman was being highlighted to me where he killed the twin elder sister from the movie by slamming her face with a heavy surface.

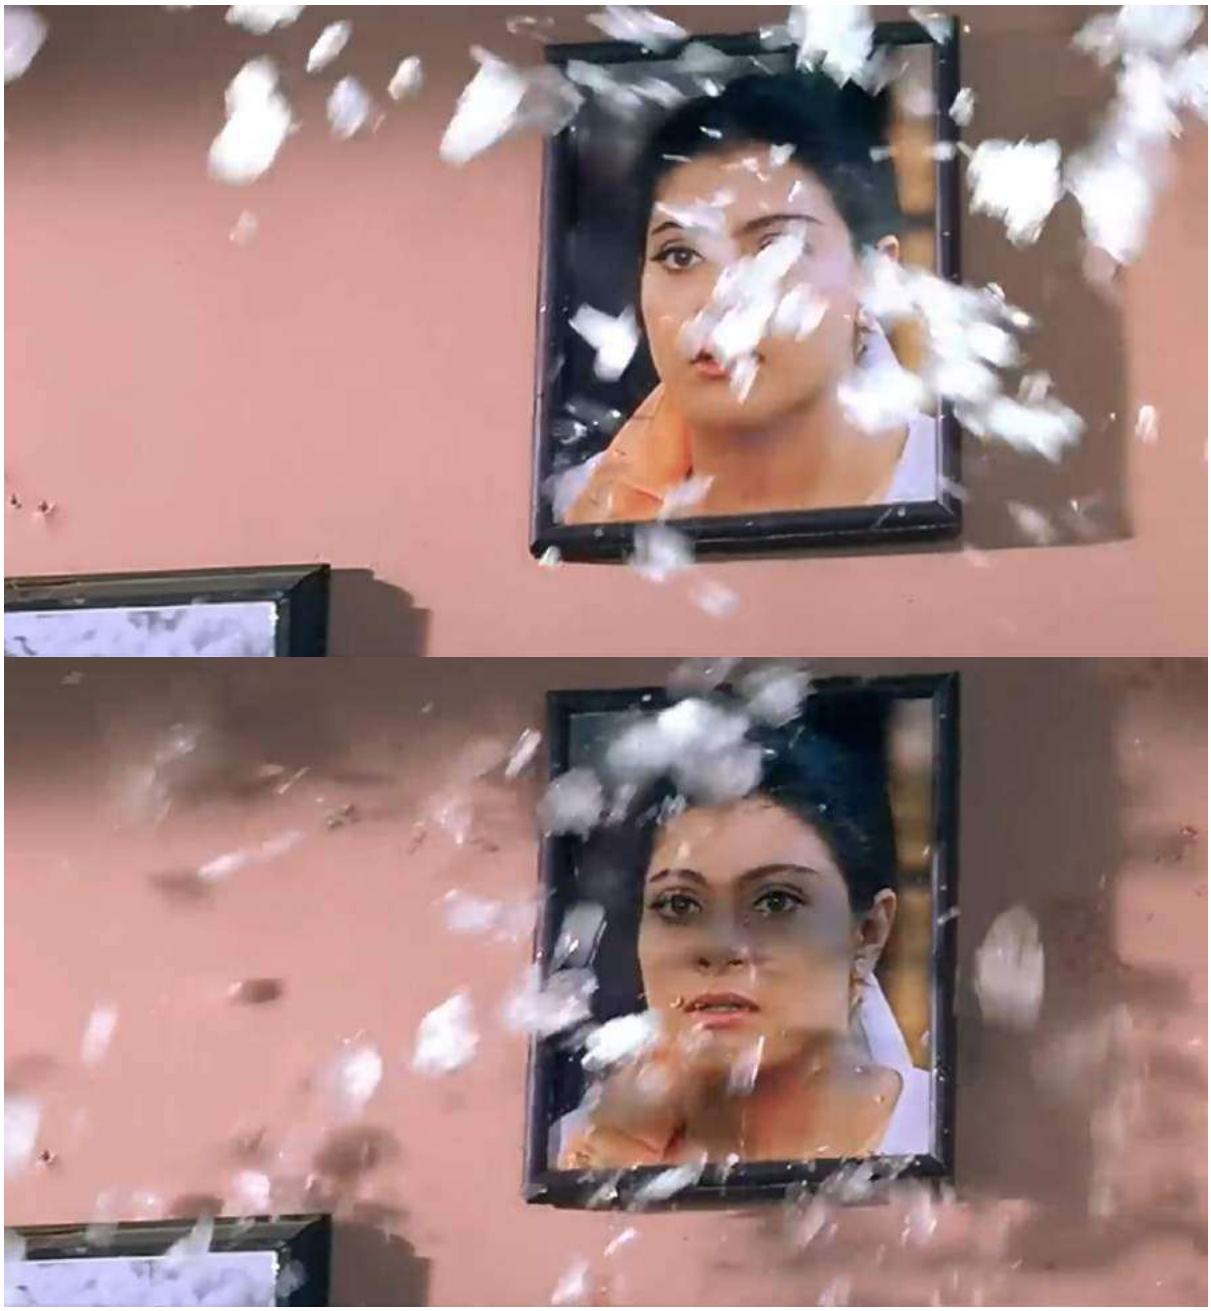
Are you really going to do this..?

I understood its correlation with the revelation of semi-Open House, today morning..

3. Dushman Bursts The Head of the Elder Sister

This scene from the movie Dushman in which the villain first rapes the short-haired sister, then stabs her and slams her head with a heavy object.





4. Recall Page 319 (The Semi-Open House):

I had a baby's head held in my hand. It looked like a stillbirth. Someone told me that after delivery it had been left in the car. I prayed for it to come to life again in Jesus name. And as it came to life, the innocent baby's head changed to a cemented square frame on which appeared the features of Death Conqueror – vertically narrow eyes and small lips which then smirked at me. The smirk was evil and it made me pray intensely while holding the frame in my hand.

It's a reflected revelation. The opposite of slamming someone's face with a cemented slab or rock thereby destroying their features.

5. Recall Page 345: To Sift The Hair

Those layers of hair that are being lifted revealing white flakes - they represent the layers of my brain.

6. After waking up:

Vision (this morning): Ranveer Singh looks at me with his white space suit helmet in his hand with a part of Earth and its atmosphere visible in the background.

Is he (me) about to take off the Earth? Yesterday he (I?) was on board in a helicopter.

When I laid on bed to rest an hour so back, I saw,

7. Dushman With a Raised Slab

Vision: Dushman standing beside my bed to my right with a slab of ice raised in his hands to smash on my face facing upwards. The vision kept repeating itself.

8. Two Doves Kissing In Front of a Dusty Wall

That's what God wanted us to do. The body is the dusty wall, and the spirit inside is the white dove.

9. God Exemplified How Things Should've Been

I may have not received proper treatment on Earth from the people I loved, but God gave me the appropriate shadow revelations. I lived my life through them. And because they were given by God, they had substance it it. Some were teaching revelations, some were informative, others were prophetic.

10. Home Conditions in Both Cases:

My family Had Death Conqueror in My Home but didn't have me & Glory in. My mom started shouting when I was inside and I had to leave eventually, and as I stood in front of the main gate, I saw my dad closing in the gate slowly as he smiled at me lightly. He didn't hate me though we weren't accepted in my home. We then left. That's how it would be, if it would be so. My dad was ok with Death Conqueror and if I look at the revelations 'Time With Blue-Eyed Man In My Home' and 'A reflected house', he seemed to be sitting content, as I moved around the home and back to him.

11. The Barging In With An Axe

Vision (day before yesterday): I saw Death Conqueror barging in my room naked with an axe lifted in his hand against his chest. While I stood naked behind my table and I was trying to evade him by moving around the room as he followed after me.

12. What Would He Have Done If He Was At My Place

Would he follow the commands of God, or would he do his own thing? Isn't one supposed to do the job one is chosen for.. What would Glory have done? What would either of them have done..

13. 'The Grace Is About To Lift'

I heard it in my spirit a few days back.

14. Prof. TRS Walks Upright With Two Love Hearts

Vision (): Side-view of Prof TRS walking to the right dressed in the attire I saw him in last time. He walked forward and straight and had two love hearts in place of his eyes.

15. Some Past Revelations:

The day that I accompanied Jema to Sarojini Nagar, on our way back to the Metro station, an earrings vendor came to us. She had to buy as well so we began going through the heap. I suggested her the ones semi-circular in shape with sea shells on them. I placed them on her ears to see how they would look, and then I heard in my Spirit the lyrics of the song:

15.1 The Shoulder Kiss

Jema and I stood together outside the lift of the Physics Dept. She was wearing her printed green top with a stretchable neck.

Vision: I dropped a quick kiss at her shoulder skin.

15.2 'Aisi Deewangi Dekhi Nahi Kahi'

'Such a devotion in love, I didn't see before'..

Ref: Aisi Deewangi Dekhi Nahi - 4K Song | Deewana | Shah Rukh Khan, Divya Bharti | Best Romantic Song

15.3 The Quick Kiss Drop

We happened to be stuffed inside Metro as it was too crowded. I looked at her and saw her inner self that was good and that which had been too empathetic for me. We were standing too close because of the crowd. And then I had this vision: I dropped a quick kiss on her lips. I didn't imagine or think about the act, but it represented my heart's love state.

16. La Corda D'oro Primo Passo (Ending)

The Guys Sing in Unison:
You're so lovely every second..
The beats of my heart keep resounding..

We were suddenly silent
while we were walking back home.. fumbling around with the feelings I can't express.

In any scene of the quick paced seasons..

I quickly go to your side because I wanted to see you..

Casually kissing you, saying the phrase you like

If it's you, no matter what the tone is..
You can play it, right?..

I want you to burn in me every second
Your sulking face is also your smile ..

Everything you painted is now being gently engulfed..
by the whirling wind..

Song: [La Corda d'Oro Ending - Crescendo]

17. Bury Me, Bury Me

Come, break me down
Bury me, Bury me

Look in my eyes
You're killing me, killing me
All I wanted was you..

I tried to be someone else
But nothing seemed to change
I know now, this is who I really am inside..

Finally found myself
Fighting for a chance
I know now, this is who I really am..

When I die, 'Bury Me'.

19. 'Don't Try To Save Your (Earthly) Life'

When I was at the Tirsa Healthcare center yesterday for an ultrasound, this bible verse kept being highlighted to me, "Don't try to save your life.." It referred to my earthly life. We've to let go of our earthly life to gain eternal life. I went there because I felt too weak and found it hard to move.

Jesus placed His hand on my knee for a reason when I was in A-16. Because I will have a knee burst according to their plan. At times His given revelations alter the course and stop the plans midway.

20. 'Aapki Nazro Ne Samjha..'

This song plays in my Spirit now:

The Lady Sings:
That your eyes found me
worthy of love..
Oh the beats of my heart - be still for a while..
(for) I've found my destination..

That your eyes found me..

This stanza was also playing in my Spirit back in A-16:
The Lady sings:
Yes, I have accepted this decision of yours..
Yes, I have accepted this decision of yours..

(and) all eyes are saying.. "God, thanks be to you."

Smiling you let me in your life..
Oh the beats of my heart - be still for a while..
(for) I've found my destination..

21. 'Karu Kya'

'What else to do..'

The Lady sings:

What else to do..
I watch your way day and night.. here..
each moment.. Beloved..

What else to do..
Living has become hard without you.. here..
I swear by you..

What else to do..
Living has become hard without you.. here..
I swear by you..

Stanza:
I never thought about it..
Turned my heart into being madly in love with you..
I can't find sleep.. I can't find rest..
Anywhere now..

A stupefaction has taken over my thoughts..
This loneliness doesn't let me live.

You alone, I see,
Everywhere I look..

Chorus:
What else to do..
I watch your way day and night.. here..
each moment, Beloved..

What else to do..
Living has become hard without you.. here..
I swear by you..

The Guy sings:

Hey Hey Hey..
Aahaa haa haa haa…
Stanza:
Besides you, I've no other friend..
For you, I got sentimental..
Evenings and Mornings,
Days and Aafternoons,
I stay impatient..

You've given me immense pain..
Like a drug you're all over my thoughts..
I'm lonely..
What state I am in – is hard to describe..

Chorus:
What else to do..
I keep watching your way day and night.. here..
each moment., Beloved..

The Lady sings:
What else to do..
Living has become hard without you.. here.,
I swear by you..

Both sing together:
What else to do..
I watch your way day and night.. here..

each moment., Beloved..

What else to do..
Living has become hard without you.. here.,
I swear by you..

The Guy sings: The Lady sings:
Hey Hey Hey.. La La La.. La La La

The Guy sings: The Lady sings:
Aa ha ha ha ha.... La La La La...

The Guy sings: The Lady sings:
Hey Hey Hey.. La La La.. La La..

The Guy sings: The Lady sings:
Aa ha ha ha ha.... La La.. La La.. La La...

22. 'The Time To Leave..'

Recall – 'Leaving in a Spaceship With My Mom.'

The time to leave would be when snakes would be about to be out of the lid present at the bottom of the well.

Those snakes represent my intestines beginning to ooze out of the 'well'.

23. 'Tujhe Jeena Hai Mere Bina'

'You've to live without me'

The Guy sings:
Forget about me.. (to a specific person)
(for) it's a goodbye to you..

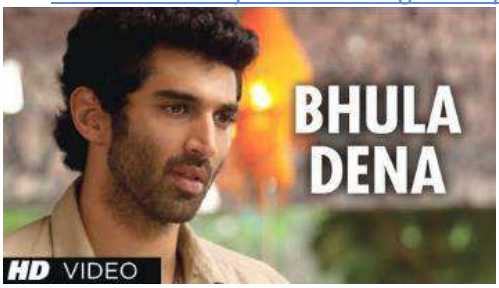
You've to live without me..

It's your journey..
It's your path..
You've to live without me..

May all good things belong to you..
May you be blessed by God..

You've to live without me..

Ref: Bhula Dena Mujhe Video Song Aashiqui 2 | Aditya Roy Kapur, Shraddha Kapoor



Also, the vision of my heavenly treasure was being highlighted to me within the past two days.

But that's secondary.

24. Don't Look Back

It's hard to fathom what it would be like to return to God. Apparently, I'm at the border of Earth and Outer Space, and I shouldn't look back. When you've to leave Earth, you shouldn't look back at it. Because the place is set for destruction. Remember Lot's wife..

Don't look back at your earthly life like Lot's wife looked back at her native city while leaving it when it was to be judged and burnt with fire.

25. Detective Byomkesh Bakshy

Heard in the Spirit (evening): When I was outside my PG on the way to get the first copy of this book of revelations printed. I heard in my Spirit repeatedly: Detective Byomkesh Bakshy.

26. The Blind Stab

Vision (morning): I saw a healthy/overweight lady dressed in an orange Indian ethnic tunic set with stonework on it. She looked healthy, and had her hair tied at the back. Her face looked square in shape with her hair tied at the back. There was a tall man standing close behind that lady in front of a wall with his left palm covering her eyes, as he stabbed her lower belly with his right hand.

27. Ramveer Sir

Vision (D4, A-16, late 2021/early 2023): I saw a small vision of him standing at some distance in the direction of my right eye as he looked at me dressed in white.

28. Apocalypse

Dream (Omaxe Heights, 2020): In this dream, I saw a lot of chaos surging around in public spaces. It was known that zombies will soon take over the area and attack people. I found myself in the washroom of the junior wing of my school in my hometown. The cubicle wasn't closing properly. I went out and was now standing in a corner amidst a group of people. Though the apocalypse hadn't yet begun, we could see that it was soon to begin as the aura was dark greyish. I saw my PhD colleague Naveen standing in front of me and he said, "Rohtak" very clearly, pronouncing 'Roh-tak' very distinctly. It seemed as if he was telling me the place he would be going for safety. Rohtak is a city in Haryana. My grandfather had his home there in Srinagar colony, though now its sold.

I then continued moving through the streets. I had my school friend Himanshi Dua with me. The apocalypse had now begun. I flew to the top of a very tall building and carried her with me. She was a very hardworking girl. She topped consistently until it was high school. Both of us looked down from the roof of the high building and saw the huge rush of people down. People running like Zombies together between the buildings to the right on a road. All of them looked tiny and grey. I told Himanshi that we could go through the situation if we had faith.

Now when I look back at it, I see it in an entirely different light. I understood the meaning of what he said. He said, "Roh-tak" very distinctly.. or Ruh-tak referring to the kind of suffering that reaches until the deepest part of one's soul. (The apocalypse was that of my body. The rush of grey people running to one side together like Zombies represented how they were going to evacuate my internals.)

I happened to recall the revelation in which KA was giving me long licks from between the groin to until neck. And then I recalled the revelation in which I saw Raju Uncle of this PG making a vertical cut in the middle of my body beginning from the end of my throat. Raju there represented someone else. They're already behaving like zombies. I had long back written the past revelation in which A-16's PG owner Kunal and the girls were after me and Glory to 'eat our brains'. It hadn't made any sense to me. But now it does. They are saying things and behaving in a way that is consistent with the revelations I received. Though my revelations are a positively reflected version of their vicious plan. Whatever evil they devise, God gives me the opposite revelation of that.

29. Recall – 'Pyjama Lut Gaya'

There was an empty heart-shaped yellow box that was being covered by its lid by a hand as a voice said this phrase 'Pyjama Got looted'.

These lines have been repeating in my Spirit since two days: 'Khush Ho Na Mujhe Tum Pakar' from the song 'Kya Khoob Lagti Ho'. And it makes me think if this is a reflected revelation of how things are going to unfold. Because that's what Jesus showed me. He placed my head with utmost care on a hospital bed in green light. It was so because they are going to bang my head open.

I feel like being in prayer all the time. I don't know when will this hour fall on me.

The song 'Bhula Dena Mujhe.. Hai Alvida Tujhe.. Tujhe Jeena Hai Mere Bina..' seems like a reflected revelation too. In the song, the hero sang this song before going to commit suicide. In the lines, he is telling the girl he loves goodbye and that she has to live without him. But in my case, they will kill me and they'll end up living without me. It's hard to believe them. The pack of wolves is wicked and kills even its own members who leave the pack.

When I look at all the revelations of physical hurt together, they're pure evil. I am now wondering about the revelation in which my BSc classmate Deepawali looked down at me and said something in a condescending manner followed by Death Conqueror walking in through the glass door, dressed fully in black, with an axe in his hand, which he extended to me in repentance. But I threw it away and hugged him for long in that dream. It seems to me a reflected revelation now. He is not going to come in repentance. He will come to kill me and I will be running from him trying to evade him, like I saw in the revelation I had two days back in which he barged in naked with an axe in his hand and intended to use it on me while I was trying to hide naked behind my table in this PG's room, as I moved my body and head to a low level and was trying to evade him. They're already hurting my brain like Zombies.

I already wrote everything here and it was the truth. But he hardly responded according to what I wrote.

When I thought about the Apocalypse dream, I couldn't help but cry thinking about the kind of things I was going to go through, as was revealed to me in the Greenlight communion with Jesus. I don't know. I also happened to think that let me cry now when I still have my eyes that I may not have tomorrow. Then I would be in pain but won't be able to express it.

30. Kartik Aryan and Demons

Vision (few days back): I saw Kartika Aryan to my right dressed in a full-sleeved off-white shirt tucked inside black pants, and he was being grabbed from behind by many black demonic hands that were trying to pull him towards them. I prayed for him and the demonic hands retaliated. But they won't stop reaching for him. As soon as I would stop praying, they would grab a hold of him again and would try to pull him away towards them, almost as if they want to have him for themselves and stop him from seeing the light of Jesus. As I continued praying for him, he came closer and closer to me and then sat beside me on the bed but the black demonic hands were still reaching for him. I continued praying and he stuck even closer to me on my left side, almost as if he himself was trying to evade those demons. The closer he stuck to me, the safer he was, and the more I prayed, the further the demonic hands were pushed back. I prayed for him intentionally, because I wanted him safe and out of reach of those demons. It wasn't an involuntary part of the revelation but involved active involvement from my side. Kartik Aryan may as well represent someone else here. And the reflected negative counterpart of this revelation would be terrible. I don't know if that's their plan to hurt me.

This also reminds me of the following revelation on Page 169.

The Baby Got Stolen
I woke up one night holding the hand of a baby, and faced a lot of demonic resistance that night. When I let go of the hand of the baby, the hand slid away as if someone sneakingly took it away.

The time to drink my cup of suffering approaches near. In that dream, I felt a lot of oppression around me with my youngest brother coming close from my right and saying something to me in a creepy manner.

31. 'Ye Ek Dard Bhari Kahani Hai'

'This Is a Story Filled With Immense Pain'

This phrase kept getting repeated to me during the past few days.

Is the revelation of the short man in white coming with a bouquet a reflected revelation too? Is it the opposite of what will actually ensue? And I thought all this while that the good revelations God gave me about him were true. Some were true, and some were reflected. But almost all the revelations pertaining to my state of mind were not reflected. If I had the head of that baby in my hand, I would actually've prayed for him. And if Death Conqueror was on his deathbed, again, I would have prayed for him and have him healed. Now he may think that he doesn't need prayer because he has enough money, but that's not how it goes in matters of God. The persona of me in the revelation of 'Time with the Dual-Eyed Man' is how I really am. I just feel betrayed.

32. Meera Worships Bhuvan

Dream (D1, A-16, Late 2022): In this dream, I was moving in a space that had a huge hut-like tent/hall. The tent was at first empty. But when I entered it after a while, I now saw people there along with Meera and Bhuvan. The tent's door was now shut closed. On the inner surface of the door of the tent was put up a photo of Bhuvan, and Meera was dancing all around in front of it with a thali in her hand like she was in a trance.

33. The Insects Go Inside

The vision of a protrusion moving on a human skin's surface was highlighted to me.

Ref: Bug in Face Video.mp4

34. Kalpana's Death

It reminds me of the vision in which I saw the face of Ranbir Kapoor lying on its side close in front of me as he looked at me focusedly. The next vision had a crown of thorns on his head and his head was bent up backwards and he wasn't moving at all, after which the soldier who had an old mother at home got up and shot his rifle with all his might. Recall 'The Chase' revelation, when Death Conqueror caught up with me, the dragon-headed serpent came too at our right side beside him.

35. 'Tujhe Sab Hai Pta Hai Na Maa'

'You already know everything, Mother'

This is a song lyric from a song sung by a child to his mother. But here, they are said because the supposed mother knows about their wicked thoughts. God already highlighted to me what they were thinking. How else would I know all these things? It's the Holy Spirit that kept highlighting to me the visions or parts from different movies and I kept storing them here.

Ref: Tujhe Sab pata Hai Na Maa Taare Zameen Par YouTube

The chorus of this song was playing in my spirit.

36. 'Tu Dhoop Hai..'

Perhaps the song was for me but it suits Death Conqueror because he is an intelligent person but got into the wrong company and mindset.

The song is from the Hindi movie 'Taare Zameen Par' which means 'Stars on the Ground', representing correctly the situation of God's angels/stars being on Earth after falling from heaven.

These three parts of the song were highlighted to me at different times:

Kholo kholo darwaaze parde karo kinare	Open O open the doors, draw the curtains to the side
Khoonte se bandhi hai hawa	The air is tied to the hook
Milke chudao saare	Together, set it free..
Tu Dhoop Hai	You are sunlight
Zham se bikhar	Scatter with a splash
Tu hai nadi..	You are a river
O bekhabar	O you unaware one..
Ud chal kahi	Fly away to some place
Beh chal kahi	Flow away to some place
Dil khush jahan	Where the heart is happy
Teri to manzil hai wahi..	There alone lies your destination..
--
Khul Gaya..	It has opened..
Aasman ka rasta dekho khul gaya..	The path of the sky has opened..

Mil gaya..	Is found..
Kho gaya tha jo sitara mil gaya..	The star that was lost is found..
Mil gaya.	is found.
Roshan hui saari zameen..	The entire ground is now lit
Jagmag hua sara jahan	The entire world is now twinkling bright
Ho.. udne ko tu aazad hai..	Ho.. You are free to fly..
Bandhan koi ab hai kaha	for there's no bondage present now..

The first part is an instruction. The second - a description. The third is the truth of the Kingdom of God that makes itself manifest when a 'fallen star' turns back to God and is freed of the bondage of sin through Jesus's sacrificial blood.

37. An Angry Jesus

But keep in mind that it could as well be a reflected revelation. Because in the past revelation, He showed Himself having a fire explosion inside as he laid on my bed with bright yellow light visible inside his mouth and other openings.

Vision (day before yesterday): Jesus dressed in his long white tunic looks angry and hits me with an axe at the junction of my back and hips as I lay on my front on my bed.

He hits the back of my shoulder and says, "You wicked servant!" I can't understand why is he saying this because I've been miserable all this while and I hoped to see a good change in the people I was after or was ministering to. I've never seen Him this angry.

Then last night I felt a strong nudge to have the leftover Paneer Pakora but I resisted it because I was on a fast and didn't want to break it. After a while, I had the vision in which Jesus grabbed my neck, not tightly but He just grabbed it with His hand. He had red passionate eyes. Almost as if he wanted me to have that Pakora. These were the only angry revelations that I had from Him.

When you 're fast asleep..

In dreams you will loose your heartache

39. The Two-Second Wedding

Vision (A-16): A distant side-view of Death Conqueror dressed in a white tunic and facing to the left as he moved his thumb over the center of a woman's forehead. It was a distant and blurred vision, but I could make out that the guy was Death Conqueror.

But now the vision that came to my mind a few times when I laid on my bed a few minutes back is the following image of Volturi, in which he gives a very wicked smile after beheading Carlisle.

Ref: 'Aro Kills Carlisle' Scene | The Twilight Saga: Breaking Dawn - Part 2

And I feel a very wicked aura around and get reminded of the vision of the demonic army that I had in Saroj Sadan.

(Don't be like that..)

I don't know why these lines keep repeating themselves in my Spirit.

'Khush Ho Na Mujhe Tum Pakar..' 'I hope you're happy after having me.'

'Kya Dil Mein Hai Aur Tamanna' 'Do you have more desires in your heart..?'

Almost as if they're the reflected versions of the wicked thoughts of someone and are being said sarcastically.

The psyche-split I saw in D4, could as well be the split of my brain as well. Because I had the vision of opening of my brain at the top into which poured the golden Holy Spirit from above.

My head easily feels heavy now because of the hits on my brain.

I never worked against Death Conqueror. I was always for his good though I didn't go to him, for that's not how it works. I wrote what I was shown.

40. Blackness of Vision:

Vision (~00:26): My vision went black momentarily.

My journey somewhat resembles my middle brother's. His vision gets affected by the medicines he takes. Mine is getting affected by their drones inside of me. Once I observed a momentary blurring of my vision accompanied by a bit of pain.

41. 'You're Not Worthy'

Heard in the Spirit in Gym : I kept hearing this phrase in the Gym somewhere during the last two times I went there. I don't know who was saying it to me.

42. My Job

When I complained to God about choosing someone else to minister to Death Conqueror and Akhila or to stop giving me more revelations related to them, as it was only hurting me, I had the following vision:

The huge hand of Jesus touched its fingertips on my face. He was comforting me about the situation and had a slight smile on His face. I understood that it was my job to minister to them with love though they may not have been nice to me all the time.

It happened a few more times. Whenever I would complain, Jesus would touch my face with his fingertips with love to show that my thoughts weren't really wise but were rooted in spiritual immaturity. But He sees my heart and my pain.

43. The Strong Fight For The Weak

And that's what I'm doing here. I'm mentally and emotionally stronger than them and also more righteous. Though not fully, completely, or perfectly righteous, and do not meet 'all' the requirements, but much stronger in my sense of moral values than them. That's also why I'm able to fight for them while listening to their insults and bearing their mistreatment. They couldn't have done it with their present selves.

People with strong morals guide the morally weak and fight for them too to grow stronger in godliness.

3. Dushman Running Away

When I was crying yesterday evening, I had this vision:

Dushman is running away from me in my room to my roommate's side as if he is trying to avoid looking at me. My hard weeping scares him. The vision then changes to him carrying a slab of weight again, but my crying made him obnoxious and uncertain. He had the slab lifted but then he would lower it down and run around to avoid me. He couldn't figure out what to do in that situation. He was telling me to be quiet but with the same wicked expression.

4. The Gif of a Loving Man

While using the washroom late night after writing revelations, I happened to be thinking about the Gif I had seen among the suggested group while wishing my middle brother Himanshu a Good Night.

One had a lady in black lying on the bed, with the head of a man in black held on her chest as they slept together. The Gif changed to the man now being at the level of the woman's face with his head down at the viewer's left side of her head (and 'her' right side) while he moved his face around in relief. The hair of the woman then changed to blonde. Both looked so in love.

When I laid to sleep on the bed:

5. A Stone-Headed Karishma Kapoor

10. 'You're in My Veins..'

I saw their plan more than a month back. These are all their thoughts for me. But they implement it as well. I couldn't think that they'll do what they already did, either. Would he have hurt or sent spy cameras to Akhila as well – the way he did to me? The way they are bent on making me blind, as if it's them who have given me my eyesight and body organs because of which they own them and can hurt and destroy as they will. I don't think he would've done this with her. But it's okay for him to hurt me and my family emotionally, mentally, and physically. And they won't even give me a quick death, but a brutal slow one filled with suffering. And here I am worrying for his soul more than how his or my earthly life unfolds. I want him to have heavenly riches and be heavenly-minded and leave his earthly mindset behind. It's God who gave me my body, and it's a temple of His Spirit now. And they should respect the temple of God. They may destroy it, but it won't be because of their authority over it, but only because of their willful step taken towards sinning against me or the Most-High God. When you sin against a person, you sin against God. What I wrote above doesn't show my lack of love. But it's just the 'truth'. Love corrects. It corrects and wants the other person to be better. At times, it takes me a while to get back to the other side's perspective which is so unusual. Perhaps it's too great and out of my mind's capacity to understand. God corrects me all the time and reveals to me my shortcomings. He should expect from me a love-bond, not a compromise.

But even if I let him in my life, I wouldn't want him to continue in his ungodly ways. So, in any case, he would've to leave them behind and be a new formation in Christ, because that is the will of God as well.

I know they're severing my neck bit by bit. It's a slow process.

Recall: The severed head of RS that was still alive and changing expressions.

The Guy Sings:
Nothing goes as planned, everything will break
People say goodbye, in their own special way..

All that you rely on..
and all that you can fake
Will leave you in the morning
but find you in the day..
Oh, you're in my veins and I cannot get you out
Oh, you're all I taste at night inside of my mouth

Oh, you run away 'cause I am not what you found
Oh, you're in my things and I cannot get you out..

Everything will change,
nothing stays the same
And nobody's perfect,.
oh, but everyone's to blame

All that you rely on,
and all that you can save
Will leave you in the morning and find you in the day..

Oh, you're in my veins and I cannot get you out
Oh, you're all I taste at night inside of my mouth
Oh, you run away 'cause I am not what you found
Oh, you're in my veins and I cannot get you out..

(Uh, uh-uh-uh, uh-uh) no, I cannot get you out
(Uh,uh-uh-uh, uh-uh) no, I cannot get you
Oh no, I can not get you out
I can not get you-..

Everything is dark,
it's more than you can take
But you catch a glimpse of sunlight shinin'
Shinin' down on your face, on your face..

Oh, you're in my veins and I cannot get you out
Oh, you're all I taste at night inside of my mouth
Oh, you run away 'cause I am not what you found
Oh, you're in my things and I cannot get you out

Oh, I can not get you out (oh, you're in my veins)
Oh, I can not get you out
I know I can not get you-

11. Recall: My Mom's Response on Page 112

My middle brother was crying out in the washroom and my mom and youngest brother Divyanshu were listening outside the door. He wasn't opening the door. But when I came and said, "Himanshu, Wife." The door opened and I saw that his hand and feet had dep cuts with blood oozing out. As I took him out with me by hand, my mom asked Divyanshu to fetch cash to her. I kept asking them to get a bandage while I noticed a hanky lying on the bed in front of me. But she asked Divyanshu fetch the 'cash' (money) to her, while Himanshu kept bleeding. And it just reminds me of how my mom keeps asking different people to contact my past PG owner Kunal for my PG's security amount while I am about to bleed internally. I think she will receive the money when I've already lost a lot of blood.

12. I, Himanshu and The Bombing

Dream (Last Year): I was walking out of a building with Himanshu. He was dressed in a blue suit with a white shirt inside. I had my right arm around his waist and with my left arm, I was stroking his protruding belly. We both looked in a joyful mood. When we had walked some distance away from the building, I saw a short-heighted man resembling Death Conqueror standing at some distance ahead facing another guy. He abruptly threw a bomb in our direction which I noticed but Himanshu didn't. I made him run and we went out of the building together and closed the huge main gate before the bomb exploded. We were already out and safe when the explosion happened. The next part of the dream that followed was 'My Mom's Response' written above in which she wasn't concerned about the bleeding Himanshu but asked Divyanshu to get the cash lying somewhere.

The Bomb was dropped inside of my body behind the closed gates.

13. The Cry of Pain

The vision that I had last year of the cry of pain that I wrote about on Page 115: it was my mine.

14. Things Moving Inside My Head

Yesterday I was feeling something walking on the surface of my brain at the back and the sides. I could tell that it was on the inside.

15. 'The Cupbearer'

In the dream, I was holding a glass/cup filled with a drink and was taking it to the king. But on my way, I came across a barn-like building out of which walked out a man with a chocolate cake in his hands. He had a basket on his head on which were sitting birds as they ate what was inside. He was then taken to the left where I saw another man's hand being nailed to a cross, as he cried out in pain. It was a terrible sight.

I have those metaphorical birds inside my head that plan to 'eat' my brain, and have already created a slight depression in my forehead as foretold by the vision of a huge golden key inside. Also, my body was being represented as a cake in the visions that followed the Greenlight communion vision with Jesus.

And then I recall Brother Wally's words, "I'll never bake a cake." – referring to not cooking/baking things that are not handed directly to the King but are placed on a table for a show. The cupbearer carries and hands the cup directly to the King. But I wasn't doing things for a show. If that was the case, I would've tried to not make any mistakes. But I fell many times.. I ate as well. I did things as I 'could' in my own capacity and not in a way that would be looked upon as 'perfect' by others.

I don't want to be 'seen' by others. It tends to affect my performance. I always did the best when I had no one watching me. Attention saps my potential. I'm no longer as acute as I used to be and now bypass several things because of the 'degradation of mind' I went through while trying to hone my body and adjust to the ever present gaze of non-zero number of people. Then how did I do things for a show? But my physical condition also represents the coming spiritual judgment on the bakers, who do things for a show.

Recall: Offering Breastsuck – the revelation in which I took a breast out from above my orange top. That's a representation of handing out the cupbearer's cup.

16. Addition to the Vision 'Short Heighted RS Claps'

The evening before I had the morning vision of a short-heighted RS clapping in front of a yellowish wall, I had come across a bearded short-heighted doppelganger of Ranbir Kapoor who wore the same clothes as RS in the vision – an orange full-sleeved shirt untucked over blue denim jeans. When I passed him by, he said looking at me, "Join karlo. Naya batch start ho rha hai." Even his voice resembled RK's. His words were in relation with the dream revelation, 'Time With An Actor' in which he was telling me things about outer space that I didn't know previously. And when he told me those things, I saw them for real as my vision journeyed.

19. The Hit Inside My Head

While resting I was woken up an internal head hit, resembling the feeling of a kick.

It reminded me of the vision in which I saw a basketball at the level of my head with RS standing behind it ready to kick it on my head. RS in this vision represents Death Conqueror. It also reminded me of the internal shaking I had experienced one night back in A-16 in May 2021, when I was staying in C1 – the room in which Shin, Akhila's fast friend currently lives in.

I was on bed trying to find some space with God. When I went into a half-sleep and had the following visions.

20. 'Pair Hi Khatam Ho Gya'

'Lost her foot itself'

A girl resembling Kavya in height and figure looks at another girl in a dark background and says, "Jyada focus kar rhi thi, pair hi khatam ho gya.' Followed by the focus of vision on the foot of that lady. Kavya is a dark and overweight girl who lives at the floor below me in the room beside the one below my previous room in this PG.

I was then reminiscing about my time at home in 2020, and looked at them in a new light.

I also thought that Akhila was meant to be a part of my life according to God's plan, or how else what I saw months and years back would have come to pass.

21. The Time Stored In My Heart

But then I recalled my time at home in 2020 and realized that those days hold special importance to me though back then I was quite apathetic towards the dual-eyed man because I was looking at his 'ways'.

22.1 The Yellow & white Pepsi Symbol

Vision: The vision manifested slightly above the centre of my chest, above the position of my heart. I saw a vertical circle forming that had an 'S' shaped partition in the middle with one side colored in light yellow, while the other side being white.

22.2 The Yellow Diary - The Pages of My Heart Flip

The vision then changed to a hand brushing against a yellow surface trying to lift it up. When the surface lifted, it turned out to be the cover page of a small square notepad with slightly off-white pages (of dimensions ~ 3X3 inches). The hand flipped through a blank white pages and finally found the Pepsi symbol printed at the center of a page. The hand then picked up the small square notepad and as it flipped through it more, all it found was the red and blue Pepsi symbol printed at the centre of all the pages.

The Pepsi symbol: a circle divided in two by an 'S' curve inside with one side colored in red and the other colored in blue.

22.3 I Had a Small Square Yellow and White Notepad

It was long back, when I was either in high school or BSc I guess. On it was written, "Discover the might of your pen." It had the same off-white pages and I kept it with me as a reminder notepad.

I also look back at how I didn't have a lot of verbal communication with Jesus, but I had a strong bond with Him, all because of Him. He knows that talking without the presence of love means nothing compared to sitting silently with Him.

25. A Vertically Swinging Fat Baby In Woollen Clothes

I had this vision in line with the vision of SRK in a graduation suit (#23 on this page). I saw a lady standing facing to the left and she held a fat baby dressed in off-white woolen clothes in her hands. The baby wore an off-white woolen cap and a thick off-white sweater. Its belly was bulging out and it looked quite overdressed. The lady swung the baby vertically with much force in front of her with stretched arms as the vision focused on the baby and the swing. The baby resembled me and someone else to an extent in its features. They both were rejoicing together in that moment.

27. The Dirty & Naked Man

Once on my way from the dept to the University's Metro Station, I encountered a tall and dirty man walking naked to my left in my direction. Looking at him and his expressions, I could tell that he was doing it intentionally. Everyone ignored him and walked past him. I thought of giving my blue stall to him that I used to cover my face, but then I realized he was only acting! And I saw an observer's car parked nearby and it raged me to some extent. I thought that who were those people to do such a social experiment and judge others at the cost of making that man walk naked! It was those people alone who had him do such a thing who were guilty, and he shouldn't have agreed to do it either.

28. Man Looking Through A Mesh Door

Vision (Around 2 hours back): The face of a man peeks through a square mesh window of the size of his face. Behind him is a dimly lit room with light green walls.

29. The Burning Bird With Long Black Beak

That's Me.

30. The Long Nail In My Left Eye

Vision (this afternoon): I saw a 2 feet metallic pointed nail being pushed into my left eye horizontally by a man behind it, as I sat on my bed.

The vision of Dushman standing with a slab held high ready to be smashed on my head repeated a few times again.

While moisturizing my face after bathing, I heard this song in the spirit.

31. 'Maar Dala'

'It killed me'

33. Ranveer Singh In My Dress

The side view of stubbled Ranveer Singh in my long Cheetah print dress/tunic with a low pony at the back, as he looked in my direction with his face turned to my side.

I went to see the doctor nearby (Dr. Dimpy Gimber) for the persistent pain I've been having in my left ovary. She told me that along with the cyst in my left ovary, I had fluid as well in my POD. She prescribed me medicines and took a blood sample to know where I stand.

While I was waiting for my turn in their main sitting area, I happened to look at the news playing on the LED on the wall above.

34. The Recent Murder Case In Delhi

The news channel talked about the recent murder of a young Girl in Delhi who was stabbed 20 times by her boyfriend before he crushed her head with a heavy object. The incident took place openly and no one stopped to help and rescue the poor girl. The guy was interviewed by police personnels and asked several questions. He answered them casually and didn't show any remorse. He said that he didn't feel any remorse for killing that girl but that he wanted to teach her a lesson. He refused to answer some questions but what was already known was that he wanted to have the girl convert to his religion, and there might have been other altercations between them as well.

A day after a 16-year-old girl was stabbed at least a dozen times and killed in public view allegedly by her boyfriend in Outer Delhi's Shahbad Dairy, the Delhi Police arrested the 20-year-old AC repair mechanic in connection with the murder.

A police officer said the girl was passing by the street when Sahil, who was identified later, suddenly intercepted her and stabbed her repeatedly with a knife and hit her on her head with stones.

"Sahil and the deceased were in a relationship but yesterday they had a quarrel. On Sunday, the deceased was planning to attend her friend Neetu's son's birthday. The accused Sahil intercepted her and stabbed her multiple times," said the officer.

The police said they had received information on Sunday that a dead body of a girl was lying on a street in the Shahbad Dairy area. The girl's body was seen by a police informer who alerted the force, which sent a PCR vehicle to the crime scene. They also lodged a case of murder.

Taking note of the crime, Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal targeted Lieutenant Governor V K Saxena. "A minor girl is brutally murdered openly in Delhi. This is very sad and unfortunate. The criminals have become fearless, there is no fear of the police. L-G sir, law and order is your responsibility, do something. The safety of the people of Delhi is of paramount importance," Kejriwal tweeted.

AAP minister Atishi, too, tweeted, "My soul trembled after seeing this dreadful murder. I want to remind the Delhi L-G that the Constitution has given him the responsibility of protecting the people of Delhi but you spend all their time in stopping the work of Arvind Kejriwal. I request the L-G with folded hands to pay attention to the safety of women in Delhi. Today, women are not at all safe in Delhi".

And when I shifted to the sette near the doctor's office, I heard:

35. 'You Don't Want Attention'

- a different version of the lyrics of 'Attention' that went like..

The Guy sings:
'You don't want attention..
You just want my heart..'
Followed by..

'You've been running around, running around, running around..'

Ref: Charlie Puth - Attention [Official Video]

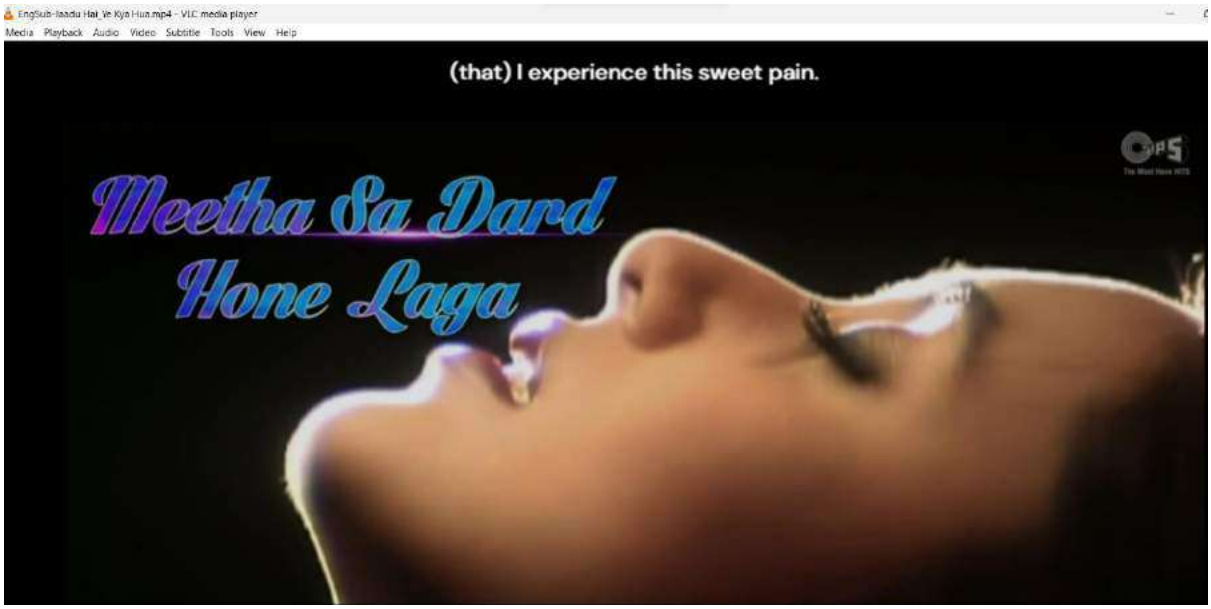
After getting my medicines, and returning to my PG, I went on the roof to get my clothes. But I kept having the raw pain shots inside while standing there, even while when I was walking upstairs. Today, the revelation #2 on Page 332 was highlighted to me for it pertains to my present situation.

36.1 'Meetha Sa Dard Hone Laga'

The lady sings:
It's magic, your magic alone..
That has spread itself over my heart (and begun to work)..

It's magic, your magic alone..
That has spread itself over my heart (and begun to work)..

O (devoted) lover of mine, just tell me what have you done..
(that) I experience this sweet pain..



After the lady has finished singing her part, the scene changes to a guy riding his bike alone on a road.

36.2 '(and) of my home, give me the address'

The Guy sings:
What is it that happened!!!?
It didn't use to happen before..
Where I am,
I don't know..

What is it that happened!!!?
It didn't use to happen before..
Where I am,
I don't know..

- someone let me know this much;
(and) of my home, give me the address.

38.1 'Ye Raat Aur Ye Doori..'

'(Amidst) this night and this distance'

The Guy sings:
(Amidst) this night and this distance
Meeting you is necessary..

(Amidst) this night and this distance
Meeting you is necessary..

For my heart..

For my heart oscillates in bumpy beats
Mad in love, hiccupping it keeps..

For my heart oscillates in bumpy beats
Mad in love, hiccupping it keeps..

38.2. Kehna Chahu Tumse Mein Kitni Baatein

'Oh how many are the things that I want to talk with you about'

The Guy sings:
Oh how many are the things that I want to say to you
In this desire, oh how many are the nights that I've passed ..

Oh how many are the things that I want to say to you
In this desire, oh how many are the nights that I've passed ..

Come over to the roof now..
(And) show me a glimpse of you..

Come over to the roof now..
(And) show me a glimpse of you..

38.3. Haal Hai Jo Tera, Wahi Haal Mera

'The state that you're in, the same is my state as well..'

The lady sings:
The state that you're in..
The same is my state as well..

The state that you're in..
The same is my state as well..

My darling, the same state is mine as well..

38.4. Karu Pyaar Chori Chori

'I am forced to love discreetly'

The lady sings:
I am forced to love discreetly..
How helpless I am

I am forced to love discreetly..
How helpless I am

For my heart oscillates in bumpy beats
Mad in love, hiccupping it keeps..

For my heart oscillates in bumpy beats
Mad in love, hiccupping it keeps..

Ref: Ye Raat Aur Ye Doori | Romantic Song | Salman Khan Karishma Kapoor | Andaz Apna Apna - YouTube

Vision (Morning): The lower legs of the bride and the groom walking together one after another.

Vision (Afternoon): A dog's face through a circular hole in the center of a square vertical cheese slice..

Vision (Afternoon): A face with burnt skin and huge hollow black eye holes wearing a hat. Is that me? Who else would it be? It resembled Lakshmi's (the acid survivor's) face but without eyes.

The face resembling the vision with a capped head with hollow dark eyes.

Vision (Afternoon): A room resembling my first rented room in Delhi. A room resembling the first room of my first PG (Saroj Sadan) present to the right of my room is opened by a tall and muscular man from the inside. He is wearing a red striped half-sleeved shirt over blue jeans and has frizzy neck length hair with light stubble. Its outside resembled the build of the two corner rooms joined with a common partition wall at the middle. The vision of the opening of the door of the room at the right side was being shown to me.

Vision: The cook Ganga bhaiya with a headset and microphone around his ears.

The cook Ganga was also the one who nailed my finger on the table downstairs in yet another vision. Representing someone else.

Now when I look back, I feel like I've judged wrong.. I was new in my walk with GOd and didn't know the steps I was to take. But now I've the instructions through God's given revelations. I was overwhelmed today while looking at my past time at home in 2020 and how my heart is very much different now.. All the memories were there in my brain, and I kept crying today looking at everything and the reality of my heart, and the song 'Jis Mod par kiye the' I had written previously about came to life. Or perhaps I judged right. Because who could do the things I saw in revelations to someone they claim to love. I don't know.. I'll leave it to God. My brain doesn't work in a criminal way. I don't understand these this logic not this way. So I couldn't go along with it as well. I tried to be someone else, change my look, and in a way mold my looks according to them. I don't know if it worked. They didn't do anything to change their ways according to how God showed and suggested to me.

39. The Case with Pizza in the Evening.

I ordered a Pizza yesterday along with a Choco lava cake. It was almost as if I was nudged to order it. While I was having it, the outer layer of two of the pieces fell down, giving it the look of the vision of the Pizza base with just a red sauce on top and a knife swirling on top of it. Recall: The Breast Pizza.

Now I'm feeling that I made them suffer. But that wasn't really what I wanted to. I was reading the Word during that time, learning to walk with God by receiving revelations, and judged people by their outward actions. I am a vey bad person. But I was only following God.

40. 'Khuda Haafiz'

'Goodbye'

This afternoon, I heard "Khuda Haafiz" (in the spirit). Now I don't know who said that. Perhaps it was Death Conqueror. I don't know. Now that I have admitted my love for him, he's coming to kill me.

I was crying because I felt I had lost someone I loved dearly, and I loved him all the time, though I may have been angry intermittently. And I felt heartbroken. I had a terrible feeling of loss. But no. I feel healed again and my inner state of love towards him is back to being the same. So I learned another aspect of Godly behavior. Have I learned it too late now? But I don't know what He learnt after I have written this voluminous book of Love. I realized later that I've not lost anything if they come to God at the end. I do not forget things. I was walking with the picture of greater good in my mind, so I neglected my suffering and the emotions of others as well.

And one reason that stopped me from looking at Death Conqueror's actions in a good light was the fact that I only wanted to strip in front of my 'loved' husband and not the whole world. And by doing such a thing to me that he did, I felt like he took away something of huge importance away from me and broke something. So I found it hard to let go of and see him in a fully favorable light. I was very firm about the things that held importance to me.

But I was blind!! I was blind truly..? He alone said hurtful things that made me stay away from him.

I hope we get to meet soon or tomorrow. I don't even have their number. If I had, I had asked them when they would be able to meet up with me. Oh yeah, they would send a group of people to kill me. While I wanted to meet him as I thought my end was near. The next day I wanted to meet Glory. I was feeling a lot of mental pain yesterday and was internally saying out the exact words as Anjali said in the movie KKHH - that her love didn't get fulfilled on Earth. But then I got back into the right mindset of 'God above all', that if one has God, one hasn't really lost anything. Those other people are also created by God, but they chose not to follow His ways. When I was at Ram chemist near the E Block of Vijay Nagar, I heard in my Spirit:

41. 'Humein to Loot Liya..'

The Lady sings: 'I Got looted'

Ref: Besharam Rang Lyric| Pathaan | Shah Rukh Khan, Deepika Padukone | Vishal & Sheykhar | Shilpa, Kumaar

And now I am hearing the male voice singing the chorus of the following song:

Perhaps it was Glory.. But it also represented my state as well. Because they looted from me what I reserved for a special person.

42. Ha Lut Gaye, Ha Lut Gaye

In misery, my heart kept sighing..
You punished me for loving you..
What was my sin
That I got looted, yeah, looted
To this extent.

Ref: Tadap Tadap Ke Full Video Song | Hum Dil De Chuke Sanam | K.K.| Salman Khan, Aishwarya Rai

I want them to go to sleep peacefully for tonight and be well rested.

I've heard this song often in my spirit, but I didn't know who did this pertain to.

43. 'Dil Ke Jharokhe Mein'

'In the cavity of my heart'

The English translation:

The Guy Sings:
Keeping you in the cavity of my heart,
and treating your memories like my bride,

I will keep you close to my heart.
So, my life, don't be sad.

Ref: Dil Ke Jharoke Mein Tujhko | Shammi Kapoor | Rajshree | Mohd.Rafi | Brahmachari (1968) - YouTube

What I did during the past time was also needed. I had to write the revelations.

44. The Beating Given By The Beast

Scene from the movie Kungfu Hustle (highlighted for the past few days): 'The villain's (called beast) beating of the hero activates his chi flow'. The beast crushed the hero's head, and while he healed his Chi Flow activated. Everything has a role to play in the greater plan. Even our sufferings.

I ended writing revelations yesterday quite late. I would've written for longer but my eyes were falling. I needed sleep badly. I was then woken up by a loud thud of the closing of a door. After which I heard Shristi's voice calling her roommate Stanzin to open the door of her room. She was talking out loudly for a while and it woke me up. She was saying that she wanted to 'study' at that hour, and that if Stanzin didn't open the room, she was going to be angry. She kept repeating it for a while.

After she was done, I stayed awake for sometime, went outside and filled my white Matthew 4:19 scripture bottle with water and had some.

M 4:19 – I will make you fishers of men.

I laid on bed to sleep when I had the following visions:

1.1 Dushman's Changed Countenance

Vision: I saw the side view of Dushman near my bed facing to the right. But this time, he had a humbled and tamer horizontal smile with a thin strip of his teeth visible as my left hand caressed his left cheek. He seemed to be rejoicing in it, as if it was an antidote.

Vision: I saw him standing with a beige rucksack at his back. He was sweating a lot. And meanwhile I kept hearing in the spirit, "Baby, Calm down, Calm Down."

1.2 He Tears My Jaw Apart

Vision: I was lying on my left side of my bed when I kept seeing the guy in front of me as he tore apart my jaw with a jerk. The vision repeated itself a few times.

1.3 The Bloody Kiss

Vision: The next vision had my jaw intact with us kissing in that vision. He had blood around his mouth. The vision focused on him and I was a bit blurred. The vision was seen from some horizontal distance from his head.

1.4 The Path To Normalcy

Vision: The following vision showed the side view of him being in a kiss with his lips now being protruded more than usual as they engulfed the lips of the lady that were also protruding. There was no more blood.

1.5 The Postman On My Bed

Vision: Dushman was a postman by profession in the movie. The follow up vision now showed a smaller vision of him lying on his side at the right end of my bed facing me as we still continued kissing. I wrapped one of my legs around him. He had a huge elephant trunk erect and hit his head.

The next vision being highlighted was me in my red night dress sitting on top of RS. Following which I saw the postman now not being the postman from the movie but changed to the blurry view of a person resembling Death Conqueror.

1.6 The Change in Persona

Vision: His upper half was shown as lying straight on my bed and his head was no longer fiery as Dushaman's. His expressions were smoothened one could see normalcy now.

1.7 The Heart Eyes

Vision: The follow-up vision had two filled red love hearts on top of his eyes now. And though it wasn't shown, the situation shown in the vision in which I was sitting on top of RS having intercourse with him was playing out. As the vision continued, the 3-dimensional watery red hearts in front of his eyes grew bigger and bigger. I felt something moving softly within my tissues too. But after a while I realized I couldn't fathom if it was my brain on my groin. As my brain too was having movements in flesh while I was aroused at the same time. I saw his soft fluidy heart eyes increasing in size. It was such a sight! It was one of those times he was not portrayed as the villain from the movie 'Dushman', and there was no drive to intentionally hurt the other person. It filled my heart to spend that time with his changed angelic self, for that's what I had wanted, and not the villain from the movie Dushman. He seemed innocent and was filled with love and was silent for the most part. It was almost as if God granted my heart's wish by giving me that revelation. I don't know how he will act in person, or if I will be alive for long, but it is one of those special revelations given to me, in which all that was present was Love and not fear, trickery or violence. For the first time, I had the revelation of a love-filled union with him which continued for a good extent of time. I fell asleep after a while.

2. Dream: RS, Shaktiman and Me

I saw RS dressed in a navy blue sweatshirt over trousers of the same color working out in a group in a room lit in white light at some distance ahead in the hall I stood in. I too went into the room to work out. I saw that everyone was following synchronous steps as I observed them from the side. I also saw Shaktimaan standing in the right corner of the room in front of me. He wasn't working out either. The next scene had some people in a dark place where Shaktimaan too was present. I saw the side-view of Shaktimaan dancing as he faced to the left making the prophetic symbol. He wasn't dancing energetically but wavily in his shiny red and golden suit. The vision then changed to a mustached bald man dressed in a silver half-sleeved t-shirt. He had a protruding belly. He was dancing with another man at the left. The vision kept changing from the view of the bald man and Shaktimaan. While the bald man had a protruding silver belly, the side-view of Shaktiman looked

'even', not slim though, but even as he moved to and fro dancing wavily in his fitted and shiny suit, he looked good. The next scene had me in my department on the wavy road-turn towards Gate No. 4 outside IUCAA, and I was walking along its right side. I saw a lot of grey pebbles and rocks on the way and an e-rickshaw standing near the elevated platform present in the dream. A man came, bent down and put a hollow green coconut between the rickshaw and the platform. I continued walking forward. The next scene had me back into the workout room which was now devoid of people. I saw a man jump and sit on his foot on the roof of the building visible through the segregated transparent window pane of the room.

The man was dressed colorfully in a weirdly layered manner. He came inside the room and gave me a problem to solve. RS was present with me as well. He was sitting on the floor with his head bent on the problem, while I was standing high. I was still understanding the problem, looking at the various aspects of it, when RS said that he had already solved it. The dream then ended.

I woke up because of my alarm, though my eyes were still not well rested. When I later went to the washroom I saw that they were quite swollen.

But prior to that, I had these visions:

3. My Head Bursts Open

Vision: Because of a firey explosion on the inside, my head bursts open.. The vision repeated itself several times. – I think it's a warning vision. Because I'm gonna be alive and he's gonna be needing me on that public bed of healing.

4. Ranveer Singh Disappears

Vision (~half an hour back): The upper half of Ranveer Singh walking dressed in a grey suit is shown as walking forward and then he disappears in thin air.

5. 'Yaadon Ke Sab Jugnu, Jungle Mein Rehte Hai'

'All the fireflies of love live in the forest'

Accompanied by the vision of the thumbnail of a dense green forest, even the ground of which is covered with green bushes

The Guy sings:

The tomorrow that is to come is (but) a dream..
The past yesterday alone is what belongs to us..
We live in the past yesterday..
All the fireflies of Love stay in the forest..
All the fireflies of Love stay in the forest..

They can stitch a torn heart - they who know how to stitch wounds..
The lives of those are worth living – who know to live in memories..

The stars that you search for in the sky waking up at nights..
The buds and flowers that you search for in the garden..

Those flowers, buds and stars live in your bosom..
We carrying the spark of love stay in the cloud..

Recall: My Sight resting on a Cloud and the highlighting of the song 'My Love'

The tomorrow that is to come is (but) a dream..
The past yesterday alone is what belongs to us..
We live in the past yesterday..
All the fireflies of Love stay in the forest..
All the fireflies of Love stay in the forest..

Ref: Aane Wala Kal - Phir Teri Kahani Yaad Aayee | Kumar Sanu | Rahul Roy & Pooja Bhatt

While I was on bed having these visions, I started praying in tongues. And I had an immediate vision.

6. RS Giving Light Punches In Air

Vision: Ranveer Singh standing facing to the right pushing forward his arms in light punches with white punching gloves on.

My way of praying wasn't that strong as I was only murmuring praying in tongues while I am supposed to be shouting as that would've a greater impact - shouting in the manner that had woken me up that night at home in 2020. But then I also get reminded of 'Don't try to save your life.' It doesn't mean that I stop praying, but what it means for me is to not pray for my physical life.

7. The Hounds of Baskerville

The Sherlock Holmes Episode. The hounds strike and kill humans.

8 .'Humne Tumko Dekha, Tumne Humko Dekha'

'I saw you, you saw me'

The Guy sings:

I saw you, you saw me
In such a manner
As if I and you my darling,
For seven births,
Have stayed together in unision..

9. 'One in Himself, I Cannot Die'

Recall: 'The Internally Lit Jesus' (#1) on Page 427..

One with Himself, I Cannot Die..
My Soul is Purchased By His Blood
My Life Is Hid With Christ on High
With Christ My Savior and my God

Ref: Before the Throne of God Above - Selah [with lyrics]

10. 'Isiliye Mummy Ne Meri Tumhe Chai Pe Bulaya Hai..'

'That's why my mom has called you for tea.'

I heard the chorus of this song in my Spirit many times in the past, beginning from my time in A-16.

The Lady sings:
Perhaps the thought of my wedding has sprouted in her heart
So my mother has called you for tea..

The Guy sings:
Observing me as a lone bird,
the snaring net has been spread..
So your mother has called me for tea..

11. Lakshmi – the Acid Attack Survivor

This short video of her keeps getting highlighted to me in which she was dressed in a saree and was looking at her beauty in the mirror wearing gold ornaments. Her facial skin was not smooth and her features were a bit deformed as well. I had come across the video back in 2020.

12. The Firey Kick

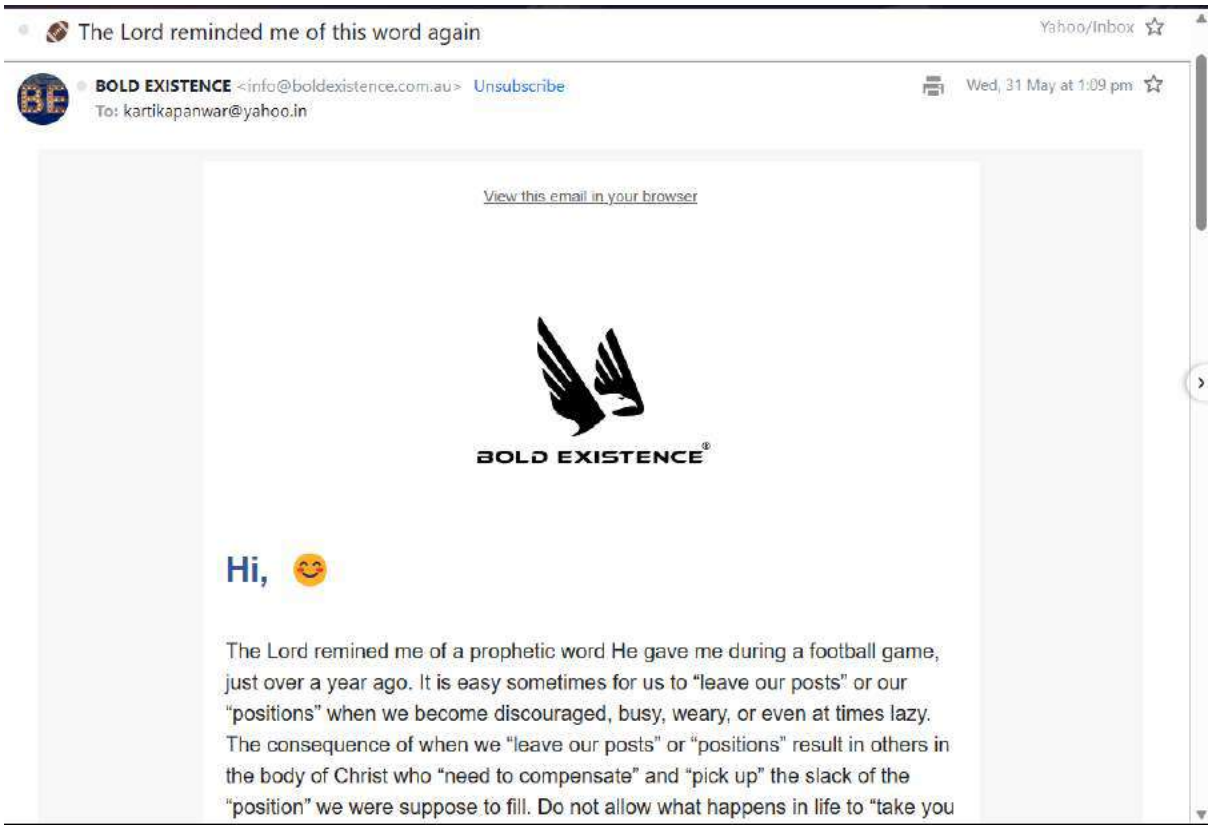
Recall: Mui Stops Team Evil - #3 on Page 391

That firey ball is my brain that is being kicked in the picture below.

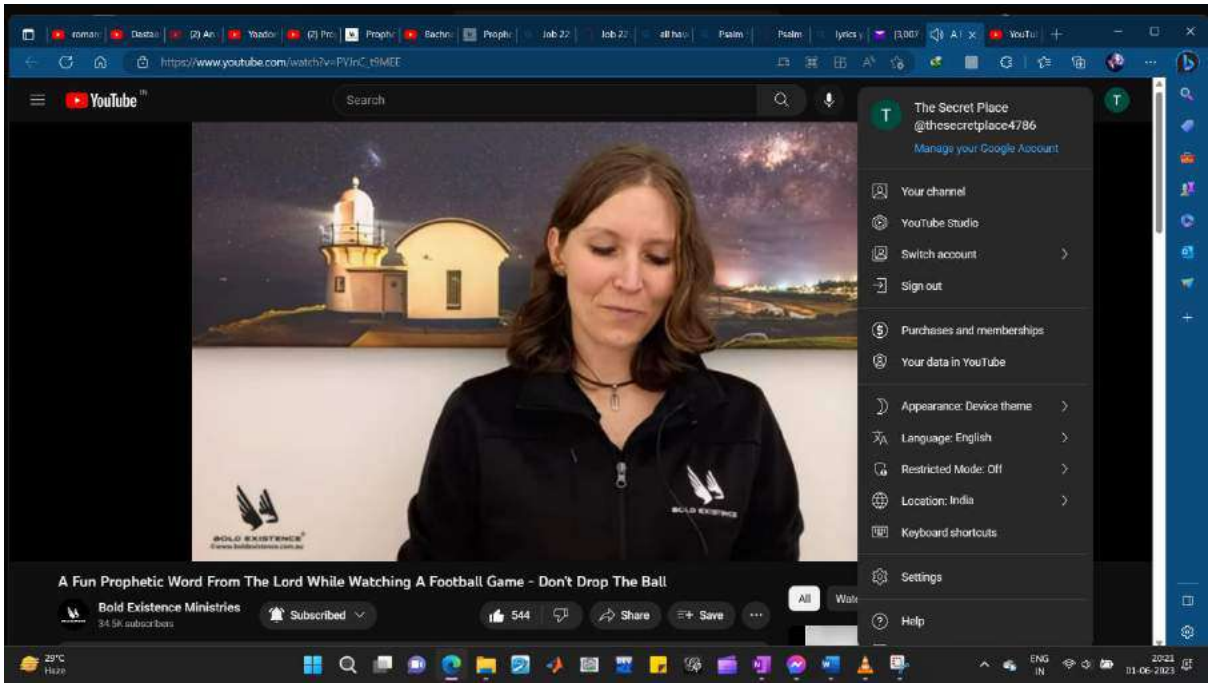
On my way back from A-16 today an hour or so back, I had this vision. I had gone there to inquire about my order that was shown as being 'delivered' in the App but wasn't so for real.

This scene from the movie kept getting highlighted to me during the day. And yesterday, I received a mail from Sis Adele in which God highlighted to her a previous word He had given her while watching a football game.

Additionally, I happened to say something out in the Spirit that called me 'Lazy'.



The Word:



13. The Back Hit

Vision: A hit at the back of my head.

The Pearl Path ending with 'Love'. It now seems to me my own journey where I had pure emotions of love, with the vision ending with 'Loved'. Those pearls shining in the dark on the thin branches of the bush represented the fireflies of memories that live in the Jungle.

14. The Sign of Jonah

To give the message of repentance to people.

Jonah was told by God to go to Nineveh to preach repentance to them without any miraculous sign. He did not want to go there because he looked down on them as they lived a very ungodly lifestyle and therefore didn't deserve to have the message preached to them. Instead of going there, he fled away in a boat, but was captured by a huge fish in whose mouth he stayed for 3 days after which he was thrown out by the fish. He then went to the people of Nineveh and preached them the message, after which they all repented and the heart of God changed towards them.

A Call For Repentance

14.1 Psalm 53:3

Everyone has turned away, all have become corrupt;
there is no one who does good,
not even one.

14.2 Romans 3:12

King James Version
12 They are all gone out of the way, they are together become unprofitable; there is none that doeth good, no, not one.

Reminds me of the mindsets of some people who instead of taking responsibility for their behavior to not be affected by corruption, use corruption as an excuse to do wrong.

Visions

15. Green and White Checkered Shirts

An almost bald, fat mustached man comes walking in the vision from the right, and another man from the left and they stop in front of a golden door. One of them has the key that the other one asks for to open the door. Both are dressed in full-sleeved white shirts with a fine mesh print of parrot green color, tucked inside their pants. There are some thin boys that come walking in from the front view of the vision. They too are dressed in the same shirts but their shirts are untucked. Only their backs are visible and they have their hair tied inside a black cloth in a round bun at the top like Punjabis. They all gather in front of the golden door in yellow light, and the vision ends.

16. Thick and Wide Colorful Books in Two Columns

Vision: In a dimly-lit room, two columns of thick hard bound library books are being stacked together, one book on top of the other. The covers are maroon, dark green and blue with golden embossed print. The books are huge and wide, and all of the same size. There is hardly any difference between the two columns of the books though there's a distance of around two inches between them. The left section of the brain controls logical and analytical reasoning, while the right section is about art and creativity. The two sections of my brain are an amalgamation of both. That's how God created me.

I know it is a reflected revelation of the removal of layers of my brain, but this is His way of portraying the situation - my brain stacked up with thick books with colorful outer cover prints. because I have always wanted to be a wise person who does the right thing and I loved reading. And it's not a creation of my own. It's how God created me and I have tried to stay away from wickedness as much as I could. My part in my life was taking the right decisions and steps along with making the right friends.

I want to thank God for giving me such a brain because that alone is the reason I was able to be happy at all times. Death Conqueror thinks he is very superior. But look, God has shown here, that I was by birth superior to him brain-wise, though I may not be having an inclination to remember labels and fill up my memory. But it means nothing in the Kingdom of God – just like his wealth doesn't mean a thing in the Kingdom of God. Though on Earth he may feel like a King and as if he owns it and has a lot of power. Though God gave me the hue key, I still don't feel like I've some kind of authority, let alone use it to make an innocent person bend their knee.

I see why he wants my head smashed. He sees my unwillingness to bow down to a wicked way as being egoistic. But I am not at all egoistic with the people I love. I am very much careful with my actions. If he came up to me like a gentleman (someone sensible) willing to be used by God and be close to Him. Oh, he would be the perfect partner for me. But it seems from his ways that he prefers the ways of the devil, and his friends are the worst. Can he count the name of just 'one' godly person whom he has in His life, who has accepted God and has rejected the world and who is close to God and hears from Him (besides me). And 'I' am the one he wants to get rid of. Not at all wise. I'm the one him and the gang need to look up to because I am trying to follow God and am the only person I their close vicinity, so they can have an indirect encounter with God until the time they themselves have developed a heart for God and are willing to follow Him and His ways. But here they go, hurting me and giving me pain. It doesn't at all look like if they want to be a better person or change the ways of their thinking. I am the one God chose to minister to the people of this country in a unique way. Others may come to minister later as well, but for now, they should be changed in their heart desires and mindsets and should use me as a tool with which they can learn the heart and ways of God, instead of hurting me.

Well, Akhila had a prophetic dream once in which she saw us (her and me) riding a tractor on a slanted road. It makes me think now that she is enough for him. Because he is not kind of person who would want to be around those who are way too into God. She is a higher version of external qualities and it will go well with him. But I hope he will change for the better and turn to God who is perfect.

Glory already doesn't has an inclination and it will be easy for him to understand the system of the matrix.

The end credits of the book.

The may be thinking along the lines that I needed to be taught a lesson to break my 'pride' or 'ego'. But in trying to do so, he revealed what needs to be broken in him. Like the killer of Sakshi said that killing her was a part of teaching her a lesson, they may also say the same thing about killing me in a brutal manner.

But what lesson will they teach me? I am already on the side of God, and it's them who're on the opposite side.

17. How I Will Use My Excess Time

I will edit and complete my book of revelations, and recall if if I've missed any. I will write the events I've not yet written about, and I will write lyrics and add photos to the previous songs I added in my Notebook, and I would get a combined colored printout of the book, all 'Pages' together in one, and not in separate sections.

And write the name of Jesus inside the temple that I made. Because I have only written the name of Father God on the inner wall. And I wanted to write the name of Jesus as well, because He is one who saves. This's something I want to do in peace and relaxation, and not in a hurry. Because I will put thought into it and would want to do it as best as I could.

18. The Dream 'Difficult Times Ahead In My Life'

I will leave it to the reader.

19. It's God That I Need to be alive, not a brain, or not even a heart. For He can even walk on water and heal the sick just by saying the words out. My spirit is separate from my brain. They can destroy the body, but they can't destroy the spirit which is in the Hands of God.

20. The Highlighted Scene From Barfi

The scene in which RK is bathing while sitting and sneakingly cleans his genitals telling her to turn away while PC is watching him.

21. 'Dabe Dabe Paaw Se Aye Holay Holay Zindagi'

'Life Comes to One Silently'

The Guy sings:
With silent steps, life approaches one.
By keeping our lips shut and locked,
Lets sing innocent melodies secretly..

Let's divide in half, this surface of the heart..
A little part of it will be yours too,
And a little mine as well..
This house of ours..

A little bit of laughter
A little bit of happiness
A little piece of moon..

With the straws of dreams
Lets create a home for ourselves..

The reflected version of this song reflects a very brutal reality.

When I had the vision of the birthing in the lift, the child with evil expressions climbed up on me and attacked my lips from a distance with a jerk after which the vision ended. I didn't think it will be a marker of all the terrible events I have written. The eyes and face of the child resembled Death Conqueror's but I thought it was an overly exaggerated representation of him.

22. Sin, Sexuality & Faithfulness

Sin: To lust for a person you're not supposed to be lusting for.
Sexuality:
Godly: Pertaining to sexual relations with the opposite sex alone.
Ungodly: Pertaining to sexual relations with anyone regardless of their gender.
Faithfulness: Staying true and committed to the person you love within the boundaries of that relation.

25. My Past Sins (that I've repented of):

Middle school: Homosexuality and Incest. I had a bad attitude of easily letting things go back then. I hadn't developed a strong sense of commitment and faithfulness. I used to think that even if I did a such a thing, it's not going to matter in the future and that I was going to forget about it. But I was wrong and was living with a broken sense of reality.

Middle School: I stole sweet eatables from my own home because my mom used to keep them from me. I would just pick up things and eat at home that I liked that she had told me not to eat. I don't know if it's a sin. I've stolen money from home to eat Samosas in the school's canteen. But my mom caught me the third day as she found the money in my bag. Thankfully she didn't make a huge deal out of it and let it be there, and asked me casually about it in the evening. I was too ashamed in front of her when she asked me if I took money from the almirah. She asked in a nice tone though.

She used to forbid me from eating sweets or other things I liked because I used to eat a lot. I couldn't stop myself.

Stole Again: Once we were given refreshments after a school singing function, in which I had two bread pakoras though I was supposed to have one. I thought, even if falls short by one, the hosting school will send one more and I was hungry. But I felt terrible later.

I once stole Ghewar (an Indian sweet) I liked from the fridge in BSc. Other than these, I don't see any blatant sins in my memory, though I know there're many that I've forgotten or are unknown to me as God is the best judge. But these are the ones that just suck on my soul when I look back. Only if I hadn't committed them, my record would have been righteous in my own eyes, though not in God's. But it's not my perception of myself that matters, but God's.

I wasn't greedy but was content. I wanted to use my own money to buy things for me. I wanted my life to be a form of true expression of the inner self, and therefore I only bought those things that resonated with my persona. I wasn't a hoarder. The only things that I could buy anywhere were novels. I used to feel very excited when beginning to read yet another novel. And I had this strong urge to be a writer, though my logical self went after Physics because that brought me contentment too. It wasn't 'study' as such that I liked - but studying 'what I liked', or what pacified me and brought me peace and in a state of being one with my inner self. I didn't want to fill myself with mental junk. I wanted to not just have a good understanding but also a good application of considerate living, or living in a moral way. I felt so good when I lived morally and saw through the things around me. It made me feel a sense of depth. Yes, depth is what kept me busy with things I liked reading. I studied science in depth, and I felt in depth the literature that I read. I didn't find depth in people, so I resorted to books. People lied, cheated and said and did hurtful things intentionally. In the absence of depth, I was drawn away from them. Only in Meera, I found a real person who was too unique. With her, I could sit for long hours and have a hearty chat. So, I found someone with whom I could be myself. And now I am too different from my previous self.

And I think depth is what will help me through my suffering. Because only out of our depth of love for God can we endure what we go through. If our love for Him is shallow, we give up on His ways and will. God loved us with an infinite depth, and that's how he was able to endure at the cross what He did. But the only kind of depth I've experienced by far is mental and emotional, not that of physical pain. That would be testing for me. Will I be able to stand firm in my heart state towards God in the depths of physical pain? See, everything is interconnected.

We can learn from the way that God has loved us. If you love deeply, you won't be able to be unfaithful, because it's just not consistent with the trait.

29. The Tale of Affliction

O you listeners,
Things unfold in such a manner as well..
No matter how much one laughs,
The same amount (s)he cries later as well..

Being fully devoted in love,
the deceit that the beautiful lady faced..
Come you too listen today..

The story is that the person the innocent lady
Loved turned out to be monstrous on the inside..

Mating her heart with his
And getting into his hands
She only faced death one day..

It's a tale of affliction that's called by everyone as Om Shanti Om

It's a crime that can't be hidden..
It's a stain that can't be removed
(but) stays at the hand of the killer.

When that beautiful lady was killed
Someone reached the place of crime
But he couldn't save her
Love had wept on her death..
Love had wept on her death..

The tale is that who recognizes the killer
- that young man has returned..
And life is saying that the killer should understand
That death is hovering on his head!

The cup of suffering that's in front of me makes me tremble and breaks my heart. Not because of what's ensuing but because the person whom I loved all along made grounds for this day to manifest in my life.

30. Word From God (Sis Adele) - 'Are you a Servant, or Are you a Friend?'

Notes from the video:
John 15:13-18 (NIV): Greater love has no one than this – to lay down one's life for one's friends. Oh my friends, if you do what I command, I no longer call you servants, because a servant doesn't know his master's business. Instead, I've called you friends, for everything that I've learned from my father, I've made known to you. You did not choose me, but I chose you, and appointed you so that you might go and bear fruit – fruit that'll last. And so that whatever you ask in my name, the father will give you. This is my command, "Love each other."

'So, here we see a difference between a servant a friend. Servant is not very close in proximity, in intimacy, like a friend is. Servant just does what the master asks. But there's not a very strong connection between the two. Whereas a friend is someone who will actually pitch up for you, someone who you can have conversations with, someone who'll serve you like a servant, but out of love. A friend is actually higher than just being a servant. Some of you right now might just be servants in serving the Lord, because you just might be doing the works of God, but you don't actually go and press in with him, to cultivate that deeper relationship, and the Lord SO wants that with you. You know, he really wants you to become His friend. And we see here what is a friend. A friend that really loves lays down their life for their friend. And so, if we really love God, we will lay down our lives for Him. We'll be putting our own fleshly desires aside so that we would want to do what pleases Him. And we see here as well that the Lord said that a friend knows the secrets of what they're doing. A servant doesn't know a master's business. So, if you've been operating as a servant with the Lord, you might not have that great communication and intimacy with Him where you hear the secrets of His heart, or where He makes known to you His plans and purposes. Whereas if you're walking in more intimacy with Him, God then shares with you regarding your own life and your own destiny, and also the things that are on His heart. And He also says that you did not choose Him, but He chose you to bear good fruit. So, we're His friends if we obey His commands and bear fruit for Him. So, be a friend of God. Don't just be a servant. There's so much more benefit in just being in close intimacy with Him, and you cultivate that by just spending time in His presence, by going and pressing into His Word, by obeying Him and allowing Him to have His Will and way in your life. '

31. Sis Adele – 'You're the Difference.'

Ref: Prophetic Word - You Are The Difference

Word By Adele:

God said: "My child, you are the difference. Just being you is more than enough for Me to work with. For it is not by your power or effort but through My Spirit that I move and accomplish what is needed. I can use anything and work through anyone to accomplish what is needed. All I am looking for are willing and available hearts to say "yes" when I call.

Do I not display My power through weakness? Why then do you keep disqualifying yourself? If I assign you a task, do I not provide all that is needed for you to do and accomplish that task? All you need to do is show up and say "yes". Get your limited human reasoning out of the way and allow Me to have My way in and through your life. If I wanted perfection, I would create you flawless, robotic, without reasoning, programmable. But that is not what I wanted. I want you free to reason and choose for yourself.

I wanted you unique, reflecting My creativity in My creation. I enjoy seeing you grow. I enjoy seeing you be free in who I created you to be. If I wanted you to express Me the way others do, would I not create you that way? If I wanted you to look like everybody else, would I not have created you that way? You look at your flows, yet I look at your heart. You look at your shortcomings and sin, and yet I look at the gold I placed inside of you. You look at what you don't have, yet I look at what you do have.

You think you need to have it all together before I will work in and through you. But oh My darling child, are you not a piece of clay on My potter's wheel that I continually shape and mould to create a masterpiece? The masterpiece is only achieved at the end, but during the process of shaping and moulding there is movement. The movement helps to show weakness and areas that need improvement. And so I shape and mould it continuously. If you do not allow me to work in and through you even in your imperfections, how can I then mould you in the areas that need moulding?

It needs to be revealed in the movement process. So do not hesitate, do not refrain, do not hold yourself back from learning and growing in Me. I know how to help you clean up messes and how to learn from mistakes, if you are willing to learn. Don't overcomplicate things. Keep it simple. All that is needed is surrender, willingness, faith, humility and obedience. I will get you where you need to be. Just keep surrendering, keep growing, keep seeking Me, keep obeying Me. You are My masterpiece."

Here are the scriptures the Lord gave with this word:

Isaiah 64:8, Micah 6:8, Hebrews 11:6, 2 Corinthians 12:9-10

Be blessed

By Adele Grobler

Isaiah 64:8 (NIV)
8 Yet you, LORD, are our Father.
We are the clay, you are the potter;
we are all the work of your hand.

Micah 6:8 (NIV)
8 He has shown you, O mortal, what is good.
And what does the Lord require of you?
To act justly and to love mercy and to walk humbly[a] with your God.

Hebrews 11:6 (NIV)
6 And without faith it is impossible to please God, because anyone who comes to him must believe that he exists and that he rewards those who earnestly seek him.

2 Corinthians 12:9-10 (NIV)
9 But he said to me, "My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness." Therefore I will boast all the more gladly about my weaknesses, so that Christ's power may rest on me. 10 That is why, for Christ's sake, I delight in weaknesses, in insults, in hardships, in persecutions, in difficulties. For when I am weak, then I am strong.

32. Death Conqueror with Red Love Heart Eyes

When I laid on bed around two hours back, I had a vision in which I saw Death Conqueror dressed in a full-sleeved sky-blue shirt tucked inside blue pants gazing at me from a feet above me. He had huge red love hearts in his eyes. And he emanated the aura of a gentleman. Somewhere in the middle of these visions, he sat in front of me on one knee on the floor with the red love hearts still in front of his eyes. But in that part, my intestines were hanging down low until the ground from my vagina. Then he laid on the bed with his head in the opposite direction, still carrying those love-heart eyes which were now bigger than before.

The vision then changed to a scene from the 'Time With the Short Blue-Eyed Man'. In that part of the dream, I had asked him to lie down on the Diwan as I checked out the book he had given me. I revisited the part of the dream in which I had bent down and dropped a quick kiss on his lips leaving some drool by swirling my tongue on them which he quickly licked in. But the new part of the revisited dream was me now standing facing the bed as he lied on it. I undid his pants zip, and immediately his genitalia erected vertically straight. In the dream, I was then sitting on top of him moving around slowly.

37. Strong Moves In Air This Time

When later during the day, I started praying a bit more fervently, I had the vision of Ranveer Singh now punching in the air with greater vigour, even doing a front kick. While previously, they were light and wouldn't have caused much resistance to the enemy or damage to its plans. Praying fervently is like a strong weapon against the devil.

Around two hours back, I laid on my bed to rest. But as soon as I would get relaxed, I would feel pain at multiple points in the side of my left ovary as if something was hitting on the inside the already vulnerable part of the cyst formed by the burst of an egg.

1. Karishma Kapoor In My Dress, Emulating My Pain And Sad State

It made me respond with pain which was followed by smaller visions of Karishma Kapoor, dressed in my brown Cheetah printed dress with her hair tied at the back, emulating my expressions. She had those grey eyes from the movie 'Andaaz Apna Apna' as she moved around in pain.

The visions continued in synchrony with my movements whenever I would feel pain or like crying. The pain subsided after a while as now nothing was hitting at the cyst inside. I've started feeling a bit of pain now in the right ovary too whenever they hit it. I feel so weak around the my frontal pelvis area.

But now there were no more ovary hits but I rather felt something moving deep inside my vagina, and it was arousing me at the same time.

While I was having the experience, I heard this song in my Spirit:

2. Kya Apko Ehsaas Hai..

'Do you realize..'
The guy sings:

Your heart is with me..

is with you..

After a minute or two of lying in that state, I had this vision:

3. The Head of a Vertical Metallic Rose Inside My Vagina

Vision (303, A-10, Late night): I saw the vertical head of a metallic rose transposed at my vaginal tunnel shown as a see-through dark space . It didn't make much sense to me at first. But then I recalled the dream revelation of burying elephants in the ocean and throwing roses in it. The metallic upright rose then made sense to me. The spy drone in that instant took the meaning of a rose thrown inside.

When I understood it, it just touched my heart.

The metallic platinum rose resembled the shape shown below.

4. A Metallic Pink Rose

This was a follow-up vision to the above. The head of the metallic rose changed to a long-stemmed pink rose. The rose was slim and well-shaped resembling the one below. The stem was green with a few small green leaves on it. Though it had now changed its color, it was still metallic. The rose then came out of my see-through vagina resembling a dark tunnel. The colored metallic rose stayed intact in shape.

It resembled the one shown ahead to some extent.

After a while, I saw

Vision: A thin metallic dragon-headed serpent rushing in the dark tunnel.

4.1 The Loving Lion

The rose reminded me of the small visions I had of a maned lion walking with a rose towards me held in his mouth by its stem. In yet another vision, the lion was standing up on its hind feet with its front feel raised in a manner to reach up for a hug. I thought it was Death Conqueror who was being portrayed in these visions I wrote in A-16.

5. The Swarm Inside

I woke up with vibrations inside of me. It seemed as if my body was filled with swarming with flying objects inside of me that were posing an outward pressure.

6. His Soul Burnt During The Wait..

But now he's too pissed with me and is all set to teach me a lesson for making him wait for those many years, as if lived a very wonderful life during that time. I felt tormented and lost my hair and joy. The only joy I found was in the Lord and the good revelations He gave me.

They're going to rip out my heart. Now it seems to me that that's why I had the vision in which I took the heart out of KA.

This song in Rev #2 has been playing in my Spirit since morning: 'Your heart is with me.. My heart is with you..'

I, for the first time understood within the past few days, that how it has been for him. Previously I was thinking that he had only been enjoying watching me suffer and giving me pain. But no, there was a motive behind his actions, and he suffered in the wait.

I was recalling this event from my past in which I was walking through Arts Faculty. A man dressed in a long brown tunic over white trousers shouted, "Maaro Mujhe! Maaro Mujhe" ("Hit Me! Hit Me!") looking at the person sitting in front of him on a cemented path. He was a doppelganger of Death Conqueror, and he was saying those repent full words for I had been miserable for some weeks and couldn't work at all in the dept.

Today I found myself thinking the same. I felt like I deserved a persecution that would 'burn my soul' as that's what he went through.

I then recalled this event from my home in which my mom would keep saying, "Maar Mujhe! Maar Mujhe!" ("Hit Me! Hit Me!") to my dad whenever they had a fight and he got violent.

I have never gone to a person I never ever previously interacted with. So, it didn't make much sense to me to do such a thing when I don't even have a basis to go to them. There has to be something strong present beforehand, or it has to be instruction from God. In Glory's case, I had a good impression of him from some past events and then I had the revelatory vision as well. So I went to that home last year because of the revelations I had.

If God had shown me the revelation of me standing facing Death Conqueror in 2021, instead of Glory, I would've gone to him. But He didn't show me that. What He showed to me in 2020 was that he was a demonized infant, so though I had a soft heart for him, I didn't go to Him. If God had shown it to me to go to Him back in 2020 in a clear vision, I would've done that. But He only started giving me 'good' revelations pertaining to Him beginning late 2021 and 2022. And on top of that, He showed me that I had to have a flat belly. Which I don't think I will have because now it's hard for me to move a lot after the ovary injury. I always had a task given by God in front of me that made me think I wasn't worthy to confront God's promise. And I had to fight myself to be willing to mold myself according to God's ways when He showed me to use some eye makeup products.

However, back in 2020, I had the vision of a pearl in its shell. I didn't know who it pertained to or what it represented. I took it for purity, that God wants me to be pure as I was beginning my new walk with Him after having the vision of a radium pink Y (Hebrew letter for 'nail') glowing on a white slab in a dark background. Now it makes me think if that white slab was my brain which is now getting flattened out and nailed. But back then I understood it as God communicating to me that the nail glowing in radium pink was an expression of His love – His love that forgave our sins at the expense of His own blood.

7. The Fire Extends Towards Me

Once back in 2020 when I was at my home in Omaxe Heights (Somiapt), I was in the kitchen with something placed on the stove. I was thinking about Death Conqueror because he kept making rounds making noises above. I then happened to think something judgmental about him because of the stalking that I had experienced for a while. But as I had that thought, the burning fire from the stove suddenly extended to me as if warning me. He had been using methods of crooks as I had been witnessing, and that thought that made God extend that fire must have been false or an unreasonably judgmental thought. I was sinning by judging him falsely. After witnessing the sudden extension of the fire, I was careful with my thoughts. I understood that because I was closer to God and had now started hearing from Him, I was also more prone to corrections or warnings from Him.

8. The Complementary Situation

There was a nudge of the Spirit that I ignored when passing by Glory in a Rickshaw back in 2021 or early 2022. The nudge had highlighted a side spot on the service lane in front of the Ganda Nala for me to get down at, near the navy blue car he was in. But I wasn't too used to the nudges of the Spirit back then. I was still learning and became over conscious on seeing Him. I guess that's also the reason why Death Conqueror walked past by me in the Arts Faculty area when I sat on the raised cemented surface to tie my shoelace. A man dressed in a checkered orange shirt tucked inside pants with large yellow shoes below had started walking with me on my way. And when I stopped and sat at the side, though I didn't see his face, I could read his walk. He looked internally weak and was conscious as he walked past looking down with weak-in-spirit steps - as if my presence made him weak in flesh. Though he's a strong-headed person as is made clear by now, which is a good quality and can be used by God.

9. Glory Hits My Head

I just keep having these visions in which a naked Glory hits the top of my head with a green trekking stick resembling the one with which my middle brother Himanshu was hit on his head by my Dad or my youngest brother Divyanshu. I wasn't present at the time of the incident.

This vision was repeated to me several times.

10. When Himanshu Got Hit

Vision (D1, A-16, Late 2022): A small distant vision of Himanshu standing facing to the left was shown as a long rod hit hard on his head resulting in drops of blood splashing around. I wonder if the bloody incident that happened with Himanshu back at my home was a prophetic precursor to events in my own life.

11. The Metallic Palisade Of Three to Four Pins

This part of the dream 'Christian Gets Arrested' was highlighted to me yesterday and today as well. In this part of the dream, Christian was taken away and was being persecuted naked in a tub with three policemen around him, one of whom trying to insert a palisade of metallic needles, thin but too thick for insertion at the back of his hand. He couldn't endure the pressure put by the needles on his hand and gave up the info the policemen wanted from him.

I had the above dream in 2020, when I was still at home with Death Conqueror around. And I can see that this part of the dream is also a reflection of what they intend to do to me, or a part of what they've already done. Some people will come looking for me, like it was shown to me in 'Dream regarding difficult times ahead in my life' on Page 53, to take me away to torture me to death. It also shows what they did - they tried to force something in me which was too big for the surface's pores. I don't know which surface it's in reference to. Perhaps my left ovary, or the surface of my brain which is not porous enough for their drones to make a hole in and roam inside. The brain's surface will eventually lift up, and they will keep flipping through the underlying layers leaving 'red and blue' stains. This is all I can understand from the revelations 'Christian Gets Arrested' (#7 on Page 152) and the 'Yellow Notepad With White Pages Above My Heart' (#22 on Page 430).

12. God's Will Over Earthly Life

Was I predestined to go through this suffering from the beginning? Looking at my past life situations and events from around 10-15 years back, and also the revelations that I received 2-3 years back in 2020, it seems like so. So I won't complain about my suffering. Because it's God's will for me in a way. But I don't know how I will I fare during that time, because I get scared looking at an injection's needle ready to be ministered to me. I will have to focus on Jesus all the time while they hurt me.

This reminds me of a past situation that was previously highlighted to me as well. It was during my BSc days and I was in a parlour to get my legs waxed. My hair growth is genetically long and hard, so it leads to a greater amount of pain as well. That late evening, I was feeling scared of getting waxed looking at my full growth. Those were the days when I hadn't yet come to God. So, what I decided to do was focus on Daniel Radcliffe. And it worked. Thinking about him brought me healing and my focus was shifted to my inner feelings of love for him. I had once written him a fan mail during my 2nd or 3rd year of BSc, reading which my PG mate and friend Prabha made the remark that the letter looked as if it was written by his grandmother, because I wrote him well-wishes and told him to take good care of himself.

12.1 Glory Hits My Head With a Stone

Vision: Why is Glory hitting the top of my head with a huge stone as I wrote the above?

I gave my life up for you,
I was created by you..
You made me believe in myself..

Though you may not be present at a place,
But if I'm here,
You're somewhere around..

The Guy sings:
Wherever you go,
You find me, me alone
The parts of my presence
Occupy you deep within..
Wandering Star, I am a Wandering Star
Wandering Star, You are a Wandering Star
In the world of stars, now we'll meet..

Wandering Star, I am a Wandering Star
Wandering Star, You are a Wandering Star
In the world of stars, now we'll meet..

14. Dream (Morning)

The Ground Floor

I went downstairs and stood in the open hall lit in yellow light as I looked at the open door of the PG. I had to pick up a delivered order, or perhaps I was waiting for something to be delivered because I stood there for a while and looked at the open door from a distance. Apparently, that's why I had gone there. I went back and forth between the ground floor and my floor. When I would be on the ground floor, I would stand inside and stare at the open door.

The Eye Makeup

I was then back to my floor. It resembled that resembled this one but it had a small central hall with a few sofas in it reminding me of my previous PG (A-16). I saw Khusboo - the girl from my previous PG sitting there. I was spreading some silver sparkle around my eyes looking in the mirror on the wall adjacent to my room's door. Khusboo passed a comment that seemed mean.

My New Roommate and The Ranger Bicycles

I went into my room of around the same size as this one. But it was arranged differently, and the beds were not boxy but were foldable. I saw a tall and muscular man in that room dressed in a white tunic. His facial features resembled those of people from north-eastern states of India. I seemed to be ok living with my new roommate, though it was a girl's PG. My side of the room was the same as my current room while his side was opposite to my wall. I went to use the small attached washroom at the other end of the wall with the room's door at one end. I perhaps brushed my teeth or washed hands. When I came out, I saw a short-heighted girl who had placed yet another foldable bed between the guy's bed and my bed, but there was still some space between the beds. She wore a dark-colored t-shirt over trousers and her hair tied low at the back. As I walked towards the door's end of the wall, I saw two ranger bicycles standing against the wall in front of me. They were not there previously. I turned around and walked towards the washroom again. This time the man sat on his bed with the short heighted girl standing in front of him. I saw that the man was naked from down below and wanted to show his thighs to me. As I walked past him, he held his trousers in his hands to wear.

I exited the room and went downstairs but the view was now that of an open space filled with a mixed crowd. I saw a circular sitting arrangement under a shed at the far right end of the ground. I walked up to there and sat along with others. It was daytime and the chairs were grey and looked to be made of stone.

Atmabhoj (Soul food) Tablets

I was then into a hall with chairs placed along its wall. I sat on the left end of the wall facing the entrance to the hall. There was a guy sitting at my right, dressed in a dark brown suit over a white shirt. The shape of his head from the back resembled Death Conqueror's. I sat some inches behind him. He had his left arm lifted horizontally up to my side and it was brushing hard against my face. He was trying to get hold of something without looking in the direction of his hand. I asked him about it. He told me to pass him 'Atmabhoj' ('Soul food') tablets, pointing to my side. I looked to my left and saw a small cylindrical white plastic bottle lying on a short stool filled with other things . I passed the bottle to him. He took something out, put it in his mouth and threw small useless bits of coverings in the steel dustbin a few feet away at the front, lifting its lid by his hand. It made me cower a bit, because I avoid touching the lids of dustbins unless there's a handwash facility nearby.

[Note: Those Atmabhoj tablets are my ovarian eggs.]

A Stale Dead Body

In the center of the hall, stood a tall man of around 6 feet or more in height. He was bulky and had neck-length frizzy hair and was dressed in full sleeved white shirt over white trousers. He stood facing to the left looking at the LED on the wall above. He then turned around wit his back against the LED, raised one of his hand, and looked at the people sitting behind what seemed like white counters meant for judges of a contest. He said, "Jeewan ke plan ko maine.." but stopped midway. He then turned to his right facing me, and stretched both his hands upwards to his sides making a star-shaped symbol, and began to speak again while looking at me,

"Jeewan ke plan ko maine tere fail kar diya.
Teri mari hui kaya ko maine phir mere-stale kar diya."

He repeated looking at me,
"Jeewan ke plan ko maine tere fail kar diya.
Teri mari hui kaya ko maine phir mare-stale kar diya."

"I failed your life's plan
And then I let your dead body of a mare rot."

After this, I woke up.

15. The System and the Transmutation Process

When I was thinking about the last part of the above dream, the phrase 'Atma Jale' ('Soul Burns') from the song 'Atma Jale' played in my Spirit. The amount of suffering that the events portrayed were equivalent of burning the innermost part of one's being, and therefore the song 'Atma Jale' It also represents what happens after death to those who are not saved through the Blood of Christ. My life represents the Biblical Truth. After some days, they will burst one of my eyes from the inside and out will come their drone. This represents the biblical reality of the transmutation cycle of an angel into a demonic locust through the human house body system. One eye is spiritually connected to our Creator in Heaven, while the other is connected to your own personal locust in the spiritual pit of Hell. The locusts feeds off you, killing the angel inside while the other demonic entity grows. At the end of the cycle, an angel has been transmuted to a demon locust. Devil is creating an army of spiritual locusts through the human house body system. This is what was revealed to Brother Jonathan by the Holy Spirit.

15.1 Atma Jale (Soul Burns)

The Guy sings:

Soul Burns, Soul Burns, Soul Burns, Soul Burns..
Soul Burns, Soul Burns, Soul Burns, Soul Burns..

God gave his people of Israel a performa to follow whenever people sinned in one or the way. God was serious about sin during those days, still is, and would always be. In ancient India, sin was practiced in various ways against the afflicted Shudras. The same if someone did in Israel, he would've had to pay eye for an eye, and tooth for a tooth. God was righteous in His judgment and what He told them to follow.

He gave us forgiveness of sins and Grace through Jesus, and the old rituals and customs stopped being followed.

Leviticus 24:17-22

(NIV)

17 "'Anyone who takes the life of a human being is to be put to death. 18 Anyone who takes the life of someone's animal must make restitution—life for life. 19 Anyone who injures their neighbor is to be injured in the same manner: 20 fracture for fracture, eye for eye, tooth for tooth. The one who has inflicted the injury must suffer the same injury. 21 Whoever kills an animal must make restitution, but whoever kills a human being is to be put to death. 22 You are to have the same law for the foreigner and the native-born. I am the LORD your God.'"

Leviticus 24:10-16

A Blasphemer Put to Death

10 Now the son of an Israelite mother and an Egyptian father went out among the Israelites, and a fight broke out in the camp between him and an Israelite. 11 The son of the Israelite woman blasphemed the Name with a curse; so they brought him to Moses. (His mother's name was Shelomith, the daughter of Dibri the Danite.) 12 They put him in custody until the will of the Lord should be made clear to them.

13 Then the Lord said to Moses: 14 "Take the blasphemer outside the camp. All those who heard him are to lay their hands on his head, and the entire assembly is to stone him. 15 Say to the Israelites: 'Anyone who curses their God will be held responsible; 16 anyone who blasphemes the name of the Lord is to be put to death. The entire assembly must stone them. Whether foreigner or native-born, when they blaspheme the Name they are to be put to death.

Unsaved souls burn in Hell for 'Eternity'.

'Dreams came true.. Each desire came to fulfilment..'

Dreams Came True...mp4

The Guy sings:
Paths finally hugged their destinations
Dreams came true
(and) Each desire came to fulfillment..

This line from the song 'Apka Dil Hmare Paas Hai' kept being playing in my Spirit throughout the day. Especially when I was having my night communion of Matar Samosa with Chai. The lyric kept repeating itself with great intensity..

17. 'Dushman' As An Adult Baby

Vision (Yesterday): Adult Dushman in a diaper with fair and supple baby skin stands with his back towards me. He turned his head to the left side and looked by the corner of his eyes at me. His expressions looked disturbed as he showed his face. He for some reason wanted me to see his naked baby back and not his face.

18. 'Ajnabee Mujhko Itna Btaa..'

'Stranger, tell me this..'

The Lady sings:
Stranger, tell me this
Why is my heart disturbed..

Looking at you it seems,
Like I've known you for many years..

The Guy sings:
How gullible you're
How innocent you're
Unbeknownst to the matters of the heart..

The Lady sings:
Stranger, tell me this
Why is my heart disturbed..

Looking at you it seems
Like I've known you for many years..

These lyrics from the song kept playing in my Spirit since I pasted the song's link here around half an hour back.

The Guy sings:
Oh.. how do I reveal the person
Who has got my heartbeat running in love ..

The Lady sings:
A stranger I 've started to call my own
And my own became a stranger to me..

The Guy sings:
Oh how do I reveal the person
Who has got my heartbeat running in love ..

The Lady sings:
Ohh..
A stranger I 've started to call my own
And my own became a stranger to me..

I laid to rest for a while and had a vision immediately.
Vision (303, A-10, ~17:05): A naked Glory jumps with all his might to stab the place of my right ovary.

I thought, "Why?.." The left one isn't healed yet. And keeps making weird noises with the sensation of movement of fluid inside. And now he wants to stab my right ovary too, with no mercy. It's not Godly character at all. God prefers mercy over judgment, especially when the other person repents and has the right heart towards Him.

19. 'Come Walking'

In the revelations where I happened to come across people I love, they came walking towards me. They didn't come disguised in the crowd in a way where I have to look inside vehicles where I am not supposed to look.

20. Paras Patel With Baazigar Eyes

Vision (Past few days): The upper half of Paras Patel was shown with his body facing slightly turned to the left as he looked at the viewer with a turned head. His eyes had thick black kohl applied around them inside the cavities giving him a look resembling that of Baazigar movie's.

21. 'Forgive'

Forgive me for my outer countenance as I've forgiven you. If I look at what I know now, I would be too overwhelmed, and my heart would sink knowing that I have been hard-hearted to such an extent. But I was only being self-protective. When I look at some of the events and what my dad indirectly told me once about some people ready in a vehicle with 'needed stuff' when I was at home in Omaxe, I see a different picture. I am not used to going to strange vehicles hoping to see people I know. It sounds alarming to me. That's why God gave the revelations of them coming to me on their foot so that I see that it's them alone. I've already fought my fears to a great extent while facing the blows given to my mind, and still managed to keep a supple heart towards Death Conqueror. He had good things stored up in his mind for a future time. My heart state towards him was because of my own 'independent' willingness to forgive out of love, which I learnt from God. His actions sometimes scared me! I know I am no match financially or being smart in a worldly way. Those people scare me! And so do huge cars, or cars with black windows. They've a creepy aura around them. Though I loved him, his actions and the related revelations scared me! I'm supposed to be feeling safe around the role he wanted. He's so unpredictable. He can be unpredictable in giving me pleasant surprises, but why does he want to scare me? Even the way he slowly turns his car around is scary.

While I was writing the above, I had the following brutal visions.

Vision: A person who looks both like Glory and Death Conqueror hits my head with a sharp weapon wanting to bifurcate it from the middle.

The vision repeated itself several times and every time he came with greater intensity at my head.

Now, I know that I am not supposed to fear anyone because of the kind of job God gave me, but somehow I just felt scared by his tactics and misuse of power. Despite my fear and the warning death-lyrics from 'Daastan-e Om Shaanti Om' playing in my Spirit, I went out hoping to see him because I was overwhelmed on coming across the YouTube video recommendation that said, "I gave you all I had." He gave me all he had - it was in a way I couldn't understand for long because I don't think like him.. Now I've slowly learned to see through the outer behavior.

22. When I Stood Outside the Lift

I heard these song lines play in my Spirit again:

'Being fully devoted in love,
the deceit that the beautiful lady faced..
Come you too listen today..'

I had wanted to see Death Conqueror because it was making me feel guilty and burdening my heart to see the truth from new eyes – the ones given by God. Had God not given me the good and beautiful revelations, I would have been left alone with my own judgment of his outward methods.

But I heard the lines above in my Spirit that talk about the lady being deceived to death by the person she loved madly. So, I don't know. And all the revelations I received were brutal.

I didn't know how he had been living. I only knew what was indirectly told to me by others, and in knowing those things I was focused on my own situation and struggle.

And he sees and knows that he tried his best in a way he thought suited me.

'Tera to vo haal karenge, yaad rakhegi!' ('We're gonna make you suffer to such an extent, that you'll always remember it) – I heard these words in my Spirit a few times within the past few minutes.

23. Nupur Wants To Sleep At My Singing

My school friend Nupur Thakral loved to listen to me sing. She said that it was so soothing that she felt like sleeping. I remember singing to her during our bus trip back into the town from our school amidst green fields, open and clear skies, and clean air.

24. 'Luke' – The Guy From MSc

Though he had taken admission in the MSc Physics program here, he wanted to join the army for a job as many people from his place preferred doing so. Though he wasn't a very bright student, he was a good and straightforward guy with a clean heart. He took help from me in some subjects. He used to borrow my notes and his behavior was too nice. He was tall, thin and used to wear a cap as well. Once he was sitting on the desk in front of mine facing me in room no. L of Physics Dept when his expression suddenly changed and he looked at me in a very serious manner. I could tell that he was interested in me. But I, though I liked him as a person and an apparent friend, didn't have much serious thought about people when it came to romantic relationships. I was too focused on making a career and being financially independent.

25. A Time To Kill

This scene from the song was being highlighted to me. The guy is swinging the lady while reading the book 'A Time To Kill'.

26. The Sharp Hits on My Brain

Yesterday, I felt a sharp localized pain at certain points on the surface of my brain, the top left sides at the front and the back,s almost as if something was targeting those specific areas, and wanted to make cuts on its surface.

This vision that I had last year in which I saw a 3-D LOVE written in bold burning with fire in a dark background has been kept being highlighted to me for the past few days.

28. The Head-Hit Again.

A naked glory hit the top of my head again from behind.

29. 'Aaaa'

I kept hearing this being sung intermittently in the Spirit.

Aaaa.mp4

The Ladies sing in unison:
Aaaa Aaaa Aaa…..
AaAa AaAa AaAa Aaa AaAa
AaAa AaAa AaAa Aaa AaAa
AaAa AaAa AaAa Aa

30. 'Humein Apne Dil Mein Basaya Hai Tumne'

'You've Situated Me In Your hHeart'

The Lady sings:

You've situated me in your heart..
You've made me capable of Love..

Guy 2 sings:

We couldn't have lived without you..

Guy 1 sings:

Who would we have called our own where would have we soothed my heart..

The Lady sings:

However may I be punished ..
Ohh.. Oh Oh Oh Ohh...
Oh Oh Oh Oh Oh... Oh Oh Oh Oh Oh...

However I may be punished ..
I accept it..
That now we will worship you..

Guys 1, 2 and 3 and the lady sing together:

Besides you we will not desire anything else..
And while we live, we'll (only) Love..

The Prophetic Trio

The Trio & the Lady

When I was taking the above screenshots from the song, a particular scene from the dream revelation 'Smooth Talk and Witchcraft' on Page 113 was being highlighted to me. In that scene, I was lying asleep/unconscious with two guys at my legs putting their hands between my legs through the blanket that covered my lower half, while Death Conqueror laid beside me in a hangover. Those three guys are the above three guys in red and white. Now is the time to listen to the servant of the Lord.

The Guys sing:

Paths finally hugged their destinations
Dreams came true
(and) Each desire came to fulfillment..

31. When Jesus Is Angry With a Wicked Servant

When I look back at the visions in which Jesus hit my back with an axe severing it in the vision, followed by another vision later at night in which He held me by the neck with red eyes, it reminds me of Death Conqueror, as I recall what Deepak once said about himself when we were all sitting in the Buddha Garden to the left of Physics Dept during winters. He was saying to Naveen that if someone didn't listen to him, then he held that person by his neck and slammed him on the floor. And he said it with aversive threatening expressions. Listening to him and looking at him made me cringe in repulsion.

Anyway. In the visions with Jesus, He behaved with me in a manner that resembled Death Conqueror's behavior, as he said to me, "You wicked servant!"

1. Aishwarya Rai Kisses Death Conqueror

Vision (303, A-10, yesterday Night): The side-view of Aishwarya Rai dressed in a heavy bridal dress and laden with gold jewelry around her ears kisses Death Conqueror passionately engulfing his lips inside hers, as is she is having a drink from what it seems by the wavy gulping motions of her lips, while he's dressed in a full-sleeved sky blue shirt tucked inside pants. He stood standing on the right side, his face therefore facing to the left (making the prophetic symbol) while Aishwarya Rai stood bent on the left facing him while he had his left thigh (visible in the view) lifted parallelly around her which she supported with her right hand.

2. The Man in Black Beside the Independence Day Card

I see this vision and it keeps getting highlighted to me.

Vision: A tiny and cute man in black with a cap and an army mask on his mouth standing to the right of a paper card pinned to a board to the left of the stage set for the Independence Day celebration in the park of my home's society.

The man is Death Conqueror. I don't know why he wants to falsely emulate the look of a muscular and tall man. I just want the same tiny and lean person to come to God. God hasn't made it a condition for him to gain weight like he did for me to lose. He just has to have both his eyes blue instead of fluctuating between his blue eye and red eye.

I hear this Hindi song in my Spirit, "Bhula Dena Mujhe.. Hai Alvida Tujhe.." (Forget me.. for I'm saying a goodbye to you..). I don't know who these lyrics pertain to. But whoever this is, know that I don't forget the people I love - never! God can separate people through circumstances, but they can still stay in our hearts.

3. Assasin's Creed's Member Hands Me a Problem To Be Solved

Recall: the dream 'RS, Shaktiman and Me' (#2 on Page 431)

In that dream, I had seen a man abruptly coming into my view with a jump as he sat on his feet on the roof visible through the windowpane of my room. He was fully clothed in a multi-layered dress and looked at me through the window.

Yesterday I came across an Assasin's Creed video in my YouTube recommendations that showed four people dressed and jumping in the same manner as the guy in the dream, but apparently, they were all assassins. They reminded me of the man I had seen in the dream the previous day.

However, in the dream, the jumping guy came inside the room through the window calmly, and handed me a page. Apparently, there was a problem written on it and it was to be solved. Both Ranveer Singh and me began to solve the problem. But while I was still gathering the details, Ranveer Singh had already solved it!

In the video above, the lady is handing the assassin a page with the photo of the person she wants dead. But in the dream, the person with the same look handed me a page that had a problem instead of an image. And when I was gathering the details of the problem, I saw that the terms resembled those used in the field of commerce and I knew nothing about them.

Ref: Assassin's Creed - Parkour in Rome 4k

I realized later that the way the man sat on his foot with a jump on the roof of the building at the front was also the way Jesus sat in front of me with a bouquet in His hands on the roof of A-16.

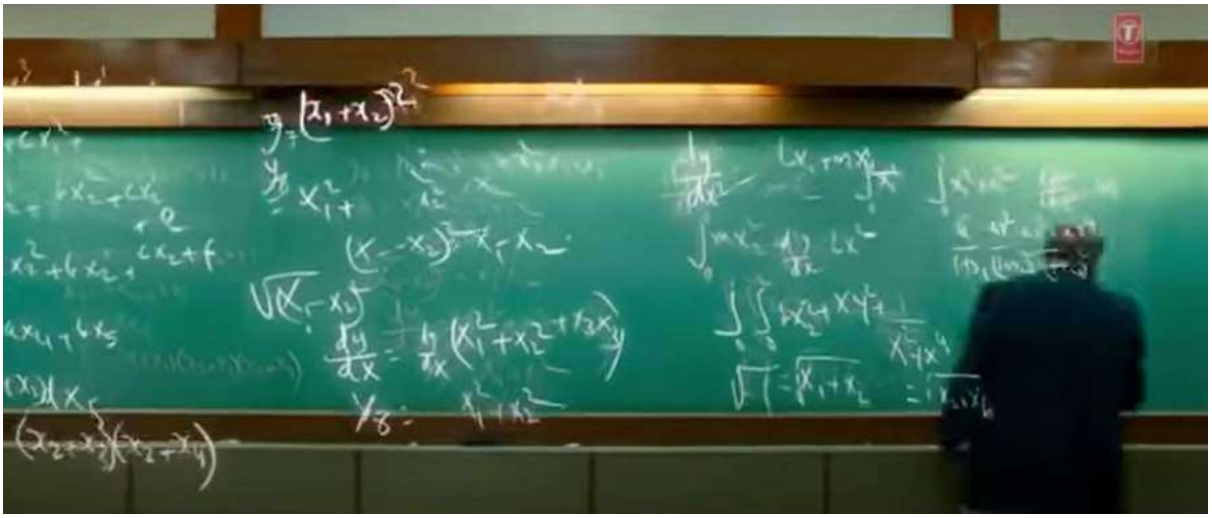
5. The Three Places Amalgamated

Dream (Morning):

I'm moving on a pathway that resembles the one adjoining the small entry gate to Omaxe Heights. I am walking towards the grocery shops, but the pathway is also RGHG's inner pathway running along its sides. As I move around, I find myself walking through the corridors of Physics dept (my workplace) as well. I am walking through parts of the three places in turns. I see myself walking to the left on RGHG's inner lane adjoining the watchman's office at its entry gate. I move around in the amalgamated space and I find Prof TRS on an open pathway. There's another girl with me. He takes us to the inner room, sits with us and we chat for a while. I'm mostly silent and then he says something in a negative tone.

6. 'All is Well'

This song kept playing in my Spirit.



Song Lyrics (Eng Translation):

When life is out of control
Just let your lips roll

Let your lips roll
And whistling away the toll, say..

When life is out of control
Just let your lips roll

Let your lips roll
whistling away the toll, say:

A Guy yells:
All is Well

The chicken's clueless about the egg's fate
Will it hatch or become an omelette

(It reminded me of the vision of one-egg omelet in a dark background that I had during late 2021 in A-16..)

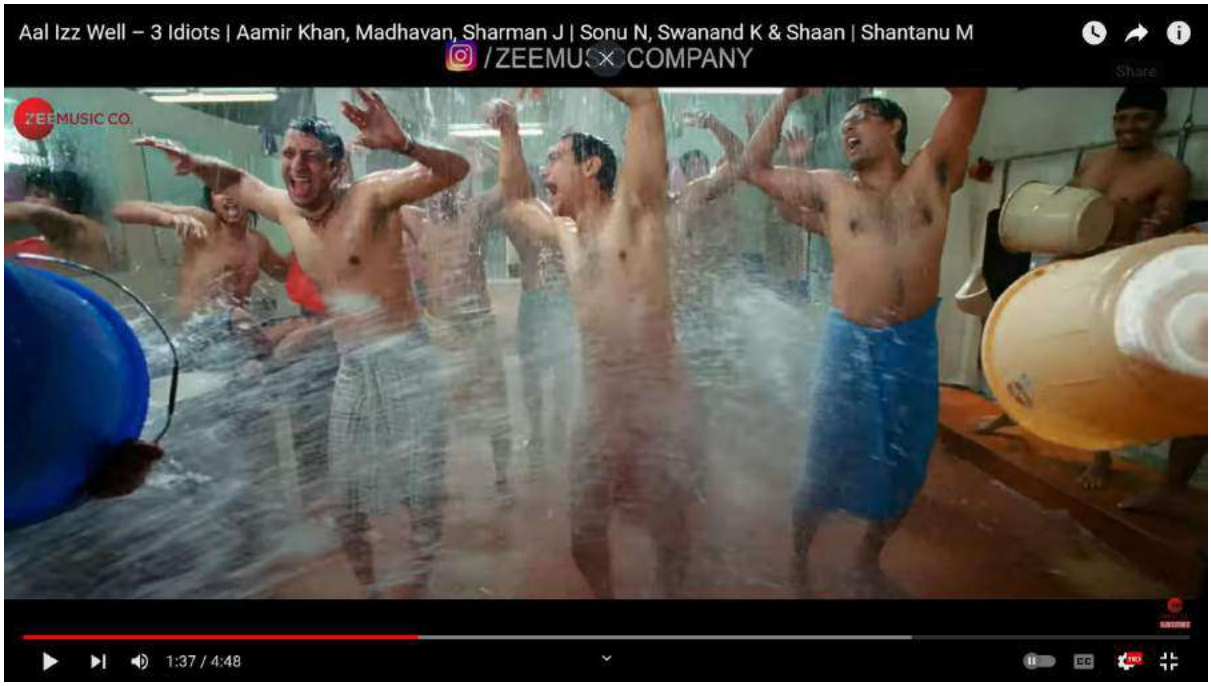
No one knows what our future holds

So let your lips roll

And whistle away the toll,
Whistling away the toll, yell

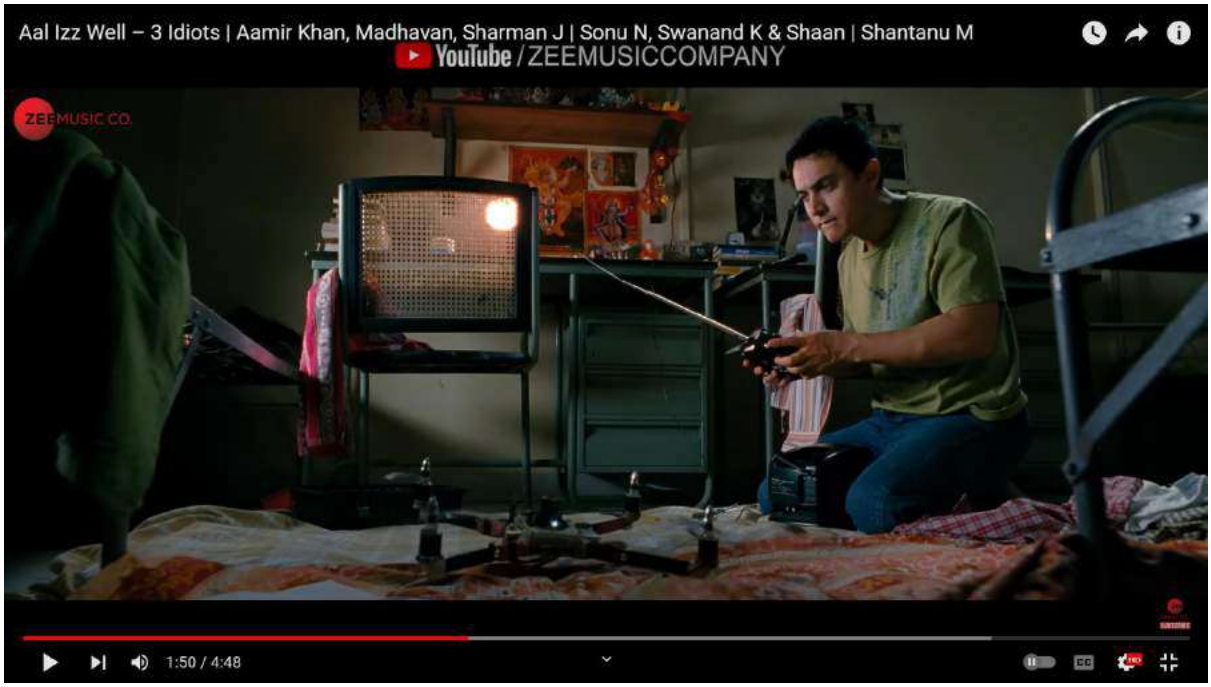
Bro - All is Well

Hey Bro – All is Well

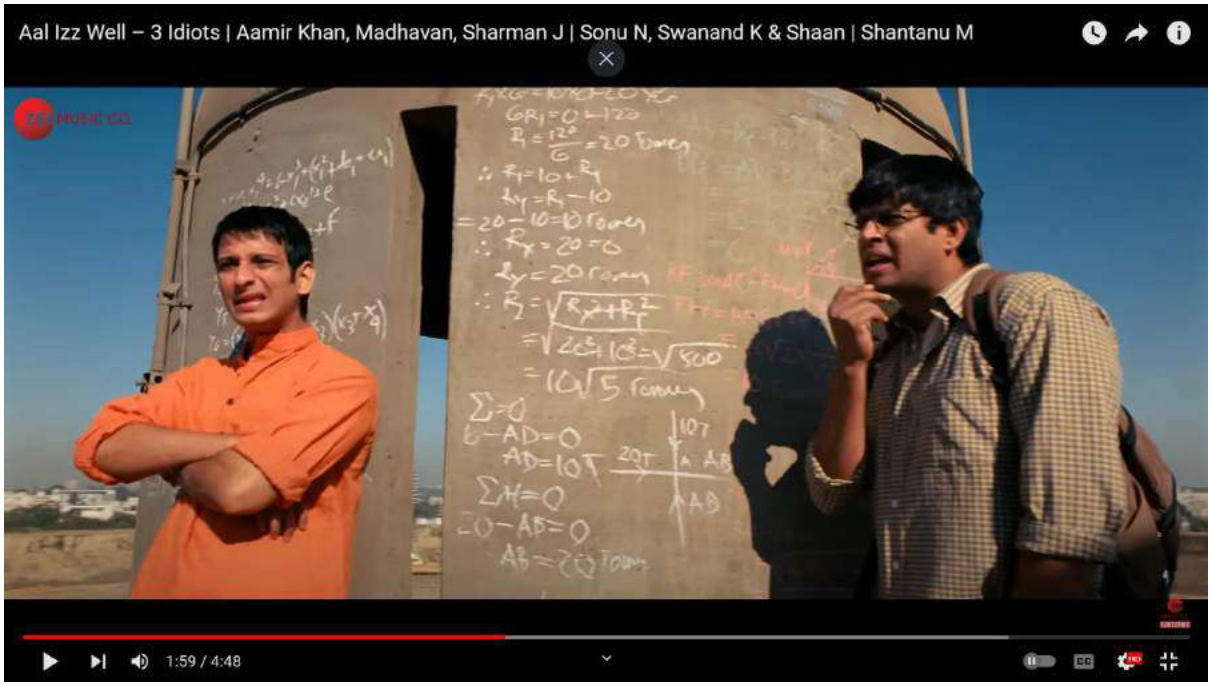


Hey Mate – All is Well

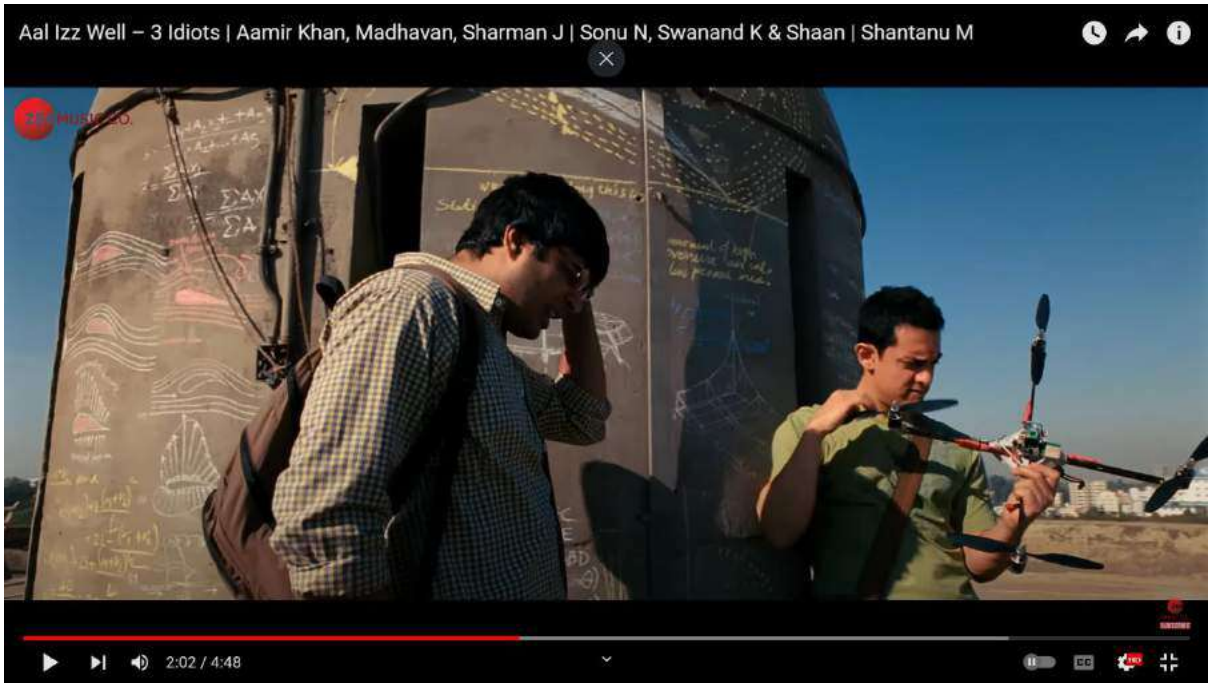
Hey Bro – All is Well



Confusion and more confusion abounds
There's no sign of any solution



When a solution is found finally,
The question is lost and unknown..



(Why is God highlighting these things to me.. Why does He want me to store them here? Because it's all a part of the truth..? Not just the good, but the bad as well.)

If the timid heart with fear is about to die
Then soothe it with a soft stroke of hand

(the highlighted lines were repeated in my Spirit later at night)

Heart's an idiot, so with love make it understand

Let your lips roll
and whistle away the toll,
Whistling away the toll, say
Bro – All is Well
Hey Bro – All is Well
Hey mate – All is Well
Hey bro – All is Well

Guy 1:
Blew the scholarship on booze
But that did not dispel my blues

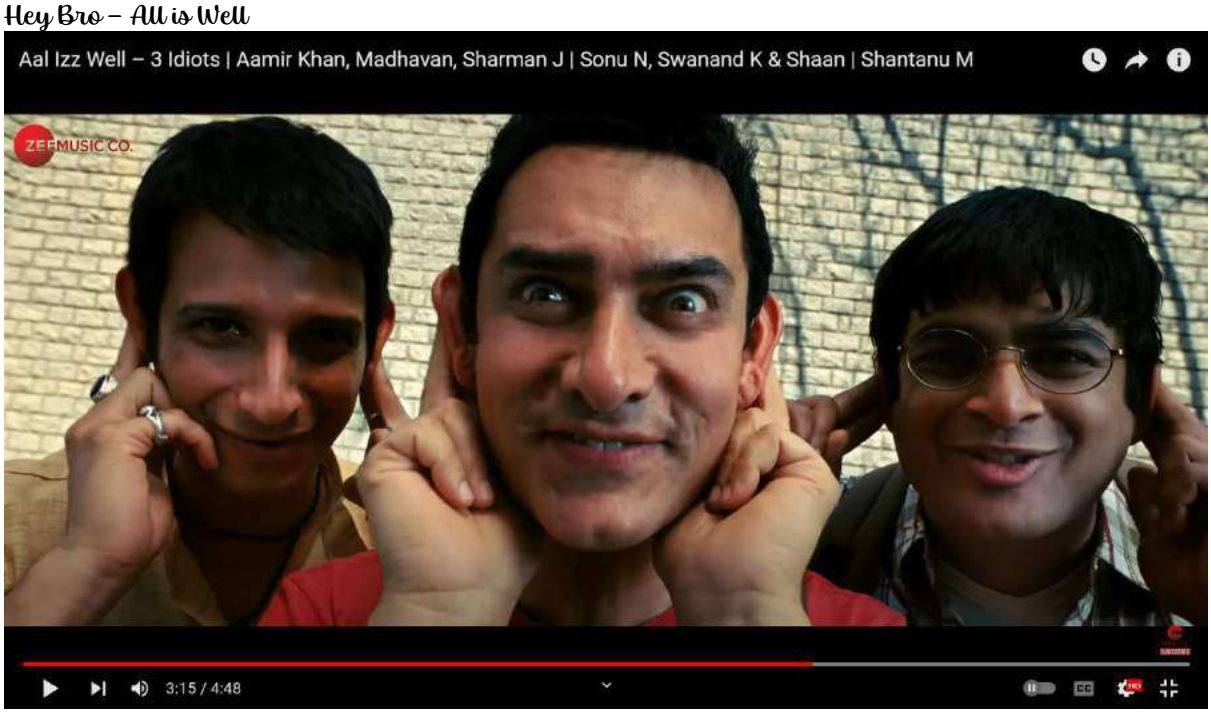
Guy 2:
Holy incense lip up my plight
And yet God's nowhere in sight

This reminded me of the dream revelation 'Smoothtalk & Witchcraft' in which one of the guys at the backseat of the car was moving a few incenses in front of my face, held together in a holder.

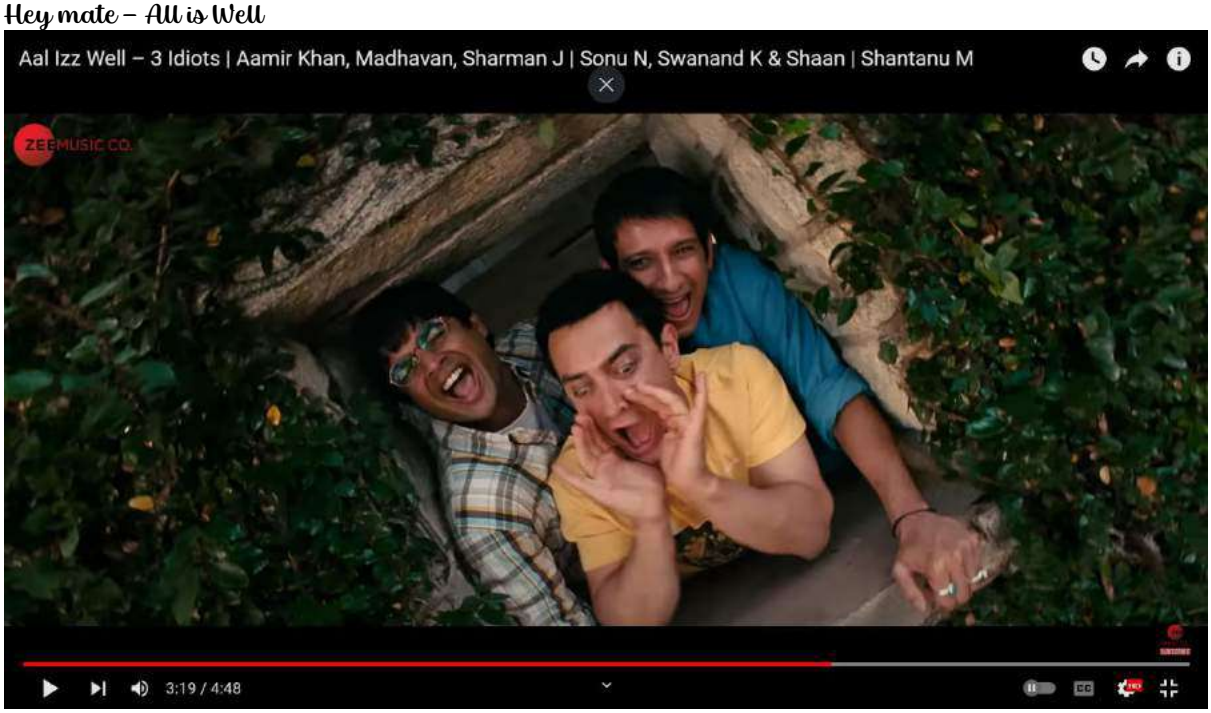
Guy 3:
The lamb is clueless for what it's destined
Will it be served on skewers or simply minced

They all sing together:
No one knows what the future holds
Let your lips roll
and whistle away the toll,
Whistling away the toll, say
Bro – All is Well

Hey Bro – All is Well



Hey mate – All is Well



Hey bro – All is Well

When life is out of control
Just let your lips roll

Let your lips roll
And whistling away the toll,
Yell - All is Well

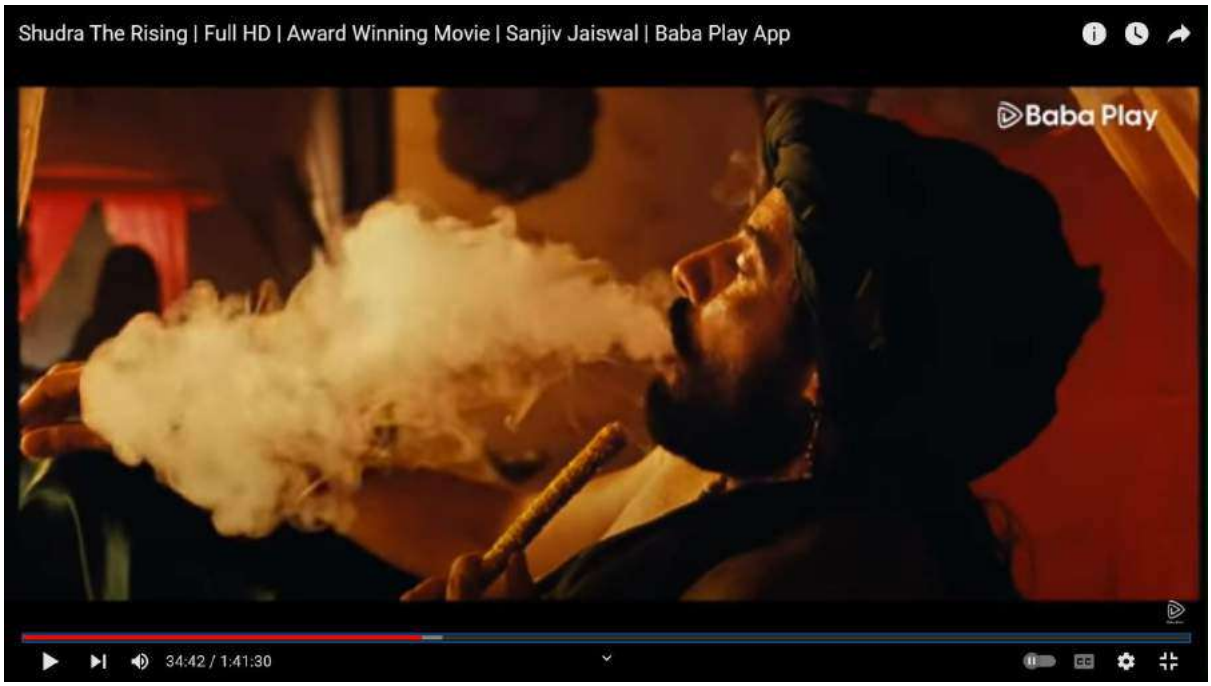
8. The Immoral King (Shudra Movie)

The king on his scout of the village sees a Shudra girl and tells his secretary to get her to him for a night. His people come at night and take the woman away after beating up her husband brutally. The woman when brought to his court begs him to leave her as she is already married and pregnant with a child. But he signals a maid to take her away and get her ready.

It reminded me of the girls (Shristi and Stanzin) living across the corridor who were telling me indirectly to 'bath and go' to meet the person who put me through immense mental pain with both his actions and words. And then this tall and dark girl Kavya who stays on the above floor, she indirectly asked me to go and give a drink to a supposed 'friend' of mine and his sister and then to not complain that I was forced to do so.

(The lady is brought to the immoral king who is having a hookah.)



The maids of the court give the lady a rose bath and dress her in a silver two-piece.

It again reminded me of a vision I had in A-16 in which a black lady wearing just a silver two-piece set with thin vertical hangings was doing a squat with her hands on her knees as she squatted in swag with a glamorous expression while slowly spreading her knees outwardly.

The immoral king tells the woman that he never understood why lotuses always bloomed in mud, and why roses were found amidst thorns. I've screenshotted the scenes that were highlighted to me.

The above scene highlighted an earlier vision I haven't written anywhere yet.

8.1 The Wary Guy and The Hook Up

Vision (D1, A-16, Late 2022): I saw a wary Death Conqueror dressed in a white tunic slowly approaching my back without blinking to 'hook up' the thick bra strap. It seemed like I must have asked him I might have been facing some difficulty.

It was hard to believe the vision, just like the other ones because there's hardly any interaction, and with the passing of time, his heart is gonna turn more and more bitter after which he is going to inflict his 'judgment' on me.

9. 'Kyu Koi Kaatil Samajhta Nhi'

'Why Doesn't A Killer Understand'

Lyrics:

Why doesn't a killer understand
It's a crime that can't be hidden..
It's a stain that can't be removed
(but) stays on the hand of the killer.

When that beautiful lady was killed
Someone reached the place of crime
But he couldn't save her
Love had wept on her death..
Love had wept on her death..

10. The Nail Stroke

Vision (Yesterday night): A hand stroked once the fingers of my right hand resting on my pelvis as I laid on my left side on the bed in real life.

So, the next day I painted my nail black.

11. The Dark Guy With a Round Face

Vision (303, A-10, ~16:48): A dark guy with a round face grabs my throat angrily with a hand. He seems to be resembling the one near my legs in the dream revelation 'Smooth Talk & Witchcraft'. But then he immediately sits down with watery dog eyes as he looks up at me with a smile.

12. Meera Discovers That I Eat Everything a Lot

Meera once told me that she used to think that I only eat delicious foods in great amounts, but that now she had learned that I ate everything in slight excess. It didn't have to be too delicious, but that I would call even plain food delicious and eat it with great interest. She commented on how I was always ready to eat.

It reminds me of this song lyric that had been playing in my Spirit lately.

13. 'Raah Kaisi Bhi Ho, Hum Shauk Se Guzarte Hai..'

'Regardless of the kind of path, I pass through it with great interest..'

Regardless of the kind of path, I pass through it with great interest..
How lovely this face is, that I admire profusely..

14. God Can Correct And Judge

Death Conqueror and his gang had this additional excuse for their hurtful actions towards me – that it was all a part of stripping down my pride and making me humble. While in fact, what they did was add to their pride because they inflicted affliction on someone who wasn't well equipped to resist or fight against it. So I don't see how it made me humble or stripped down my pride. I had self-respect and a strong will to do the right thing. That's not called pride. That's called walking in uprightness. They themselves lived a corrupt lifestyle of their own, filled with fornication and adultery. How then can they rectify others? Charity begins with home. One has to first rectify one's own self. They added to their own pride by stripping away my self-respect.

15. A White Fluidy Heart

Vision (303, A-10, while resting during the evening): A vertically stretched fluidy white heart in a dark background.

I've been hearing this in the spirit for some past days now:

16. 'Ek Jungle Mein Do Sher Nhi Reh Sakte'

'Two lions can't adjust together in one jungle'

17. Semi-Open House: The Baby Head Already Delivered

Recall the part of the dream in which I prayed for the innocent baby head still wrapped inside its embryonic sac to come to life, after which it changed to a cemented slab with features of Death

Conqueror appearing on it and giving me an evil smirk, looking at which I immediately started praying in Jesus name for all his evil powers to be taken away from him, and that his powers do not negatively impact the world. I prayed while keeping the slab stretched away from me and I was avoiding looking at it because it emanated an evil aura. The face on the slab kept changing expressions and making distorted faces as it looked at me! I will not go to the car with the seemingly innocent baby head in it who is going to later hit my head with a stone slab. The baby head had been delivered and left inside the car. It was a case of still birth. After being delivered and coming to life, it's going to reduce my body to a semi-open house and won't even feel remorse because he would be justified in killing me as I made him wait for so long. But he alone is responsible for his wait, and then he's going to put it all on me and punish me for his waiting period. He thinks of even pulling out my tooth. He had long back been delivered 'normally' had he walked on the right path towards me. Now it's turned out to be complicated case and he's put the life of both the delivering mother and the delivered child in danger.

But if the baby head doesn't stay in the car but comes walking, the above situation is not likely to arise or unfold.

18. Motichoor Ladoo

And I heard in my Spirit today, 'Motichoor', and then Motichoor Ladoo was highlighted to me. So I ordered them.

Motichoor -> Moti-Choor -> Pearl-Smashed.

It reminded me of the vision where a dagger strongly came vertically from above at my groin.

Recall: The Stab From Above (#4 on Page 428)

So I've an even greater reason to not go to him. It's not that I don't want to see him or hold that innocent baby head in my hands. But it only looked innocent while it was still and still inside the embryonic sac with closed eyes. It's likely to assume an evil countenance once it comes to life after prayer.

And I keep hearing in my Spirit the chorus song lyric: 'Ik Waari Aaa..' ('Come for once'). It again sounds shady because the person is called for 'once' (which may turn out to be her last).

And then yesterday, these lines were being highlighted to me.

19. Mauka Mila Hai Abhi, Hoga Na Phir Ye Kabhi..

'I've found this opportunity now, which I won't find ever again'

Ref: Tu Mera Hero

It again gives out the sense that they're waiting for that one opportunity that they may not find again. The lyrics carry a sense of wickedness and gives out a message that his one-time call might turn out to be my last time on Earth. How can he be so sure that his beast part won't take possession over his angelic self because of his inner compiled feelings of rejection and resentment? Now he may think he is going to behave normally, but does he know his heart enough to know that it's going to stay stable? What if he's overflown with feelings of vengeance as he looks back at all that he 'invested' in me by far?

The very act of calling another person for 'once' carries an aura of wickedness.

(Though the song has a different word used, the following is what I heard in my Spirit.)

20. 'Ankhiya Ladau Kabhi Ankhiya Churau'

'At times I lock, at times I evade your eyes'

Chorus:
The lady sings:
At times I lock, at times I evade your eyes
What sort of magic is this that you did..

At times I lock, at times I evade your eyes
What sort of magic is this that you did..
At times I lock, at times I evade your eyes
What sort of magic is this that you did..

At times I get scared, other times I hug you..
I can no longer control my own self..

My ankles buzz without anklets..
My ankles buzz without anklets..

The Guy sings:
At times you lock, at times you evade my eyes
What sort of magic is this that I did..

At times you lock, at times you evade my eyes
What sort of magic is this that I did..
At times you get scared, other times you hug me..

I can no longer control my own self..

Your ankles buzz without anklets..
Your ankles buzz without anklets..

Stanza 1:
The Lady sings:
Don't love me in such a manner
I feel shy so don't stare at me

The Guy sings:
Stealing away my rest, don't fight with me
And don't tell a no.

The Lady sings:
In your desire, I got honed
And when you looked at me, I became shade fairer.

The Guy sings:
When I looked at you, I came to a still..
Of your idiosyncrasies, I became a fan..

The Lady sings:
At times I lock, at times I evade your eyes
What sort of magic is this that you did..

Music..
At times I lock, at times I evade your eyes
What sort of magic is this that you did..
At times I get scared, other times I hug you..
I can no longer control my own self..

My ankles buzz without anklets..
My ankles buzz without anklets..

Stanza 2:
The Guy sings:
My lifeline, You're beyond description,
And adorable to me more than my own life..

The Lady sings:
Don't praise me this much
For I know the desires of your heart

The Guy sings:
The drug of your love took a hold of me
Whatever be the case, I feel too elated.

The Lady Sings:
Slowly I got distanced from the world
In your love, I got crushed..

The Guy sings:
At times you lock, at times you evade my eyes

What sort of magic is this that I did..

At times you lock, at times you evade my eyes
What sort of magic is this that I did..
At times you get scared, other times you hug me..
You can no longer control your own self..

Your ankles buzz without anklets..
Your ankles buzz without anklets..

The Lady sings:
my ankles buzz without anklets..

When I laid on bed to rest (at night):

21. The Beast (X-Men)

Vision: The upper half of Beast from X-Men dressed in a blue suit with sideburns as he looks at me with red eyes.

22. The Hound Above My Left Breast

A wild creature resembling a dog with long canines protruding out of his closed mouth above my left breast as I laid on bed.

23. This I Promise You

Note the many doves flying above – they represent the saved children of God who will leave the system while the unsaved ones in flesh stay on Earth and get to be judged.

24. Pain At Different Spots Around My Neck

Is it the beginning of the slow severing of my neck..? I feel a sharp localized pain at spots..

25. 'Kartika, Tum Rote Hue Achi Lagti Ho..'

'Kartika, you look good while crying..'

I heard this later during the day I wept most of the day on the feelings of the loss of a loved one.

26. Dream Girl

I heard this in the Spirit being sung out in the melody of the song.

27. A Black School Shoe

Around the time that I had the dream revelation in which I was being told that DC will only sleep outside once in a month, I had yet another dream a part of which showed a black buckle shoe resembling a school shoe near the window at my side of the room. In the dream, what was being said was that Death Conqueror had brought it for me. It was hard to believe because of my different outlook towards him.

28. A Note to Death Conqueror

He doesn't have to stay outside waiting in a car. He can sleep peacefully in his home, and come out when he's sure that he will definitely get to meet me that particular day as he is going to use the normal method of delivery and not an unusual way that poses a threat to the lives of the people involved. When he did come, I wasn't ready mentally to receive a person in my personal space because of a lack of interaction or didn't see him as a moral person whom I wanted. But God has now created his image of an infant in my eyes. Why did He do this? I think it's because God wanted me to feel safe around him. I understood this part yesterday only when I wrote how creepy his methods seemed to me and how I felt scared because of the aura of his personality that I perceived after witnessing this deed of his. This realization that I was actually scared away by his unusual creepy ways dawned on me yesterday. But the fear dissolved away today itself, and I was back to my usual self. I think it's the Spirit of God working. I do want his stillbirth to be brought to life, but then I look at the dream revelation of Semi-open House, and the vision revelation of 'A Vision of Birthing in The Lift' (#1 on Page 418) in which he looked devilish and attacked me. He just has to come walking because he already knows where I live, while I don't know, and God hasn't revealed it to me either, not in a direct way at least.. He hides and plays games,. And then he can tell the PG guys to call me downstairs. That's how a 'normal delivery' is. That's how Glory could deliver himself also, but I don't think it would be safe for him to do so. The code to his delivery is in the song 'Kabhi Shaam Dhale..' from the movie 'Sur'.

It was back in 2020 when I was staying at my home at Omaxe. I went near the stage with my brother to take a look at the board on which people had pinned the Independence Day cards made by their children. A certain paper card caught my attention. It had some figures made with crayons and on it was signed with 'Kartikey TO Meri'. 'To' here is pronounced with the sound of an 'O', and the phrase means: Kartikey, You're mine. Because of the negative that I saw, I didn't believe the positive that he showed. I thought it was all a part of deception. That's what kept me from being affected by his actions that reflected his love. I had hardwired my brain since childhood to look at the complete picture in front of me before making opinions. His ways stopped me from believing in the good that God 'later' showed me.

29. God Has Done This Often Throughout The Bible

To be willing to hurt the other person in order to save and secure them for oneself, or to save them for a better future is a Godly trait. By dying for our sins, God saved us for our time with Him in Heaven.

I was hurt deeply by Tejaswi which led to me being a part of a healing group on Facebook thereby leading me to Jesus. But even when I was hurting and didn't know Him too closely, He loved me and watched over me. When I laid silently on my bed one night at home sunken in my sadness, God kissed my left cheek to strengthen me though I didn't even believe in Him back then. He was watching me in my sadness, for He knew that eventually, I was going to work for Him. He had a plan for me.

Death Conqueror chose a way that he thought would definitely bring him success - a way that had minimal chances of failure. Sometimes God puts us through difficult situations to test us or to give us something better, or because He wants to bless us. Joseph had to be rejected by his family and sold into slavery for his prophetic dream to come to pass. Death Conqueror tried to play God. God puts us through difficult situations to teach us lessons as well, though at times we can receive a gentle word of correction from others instead of learning it the hard way through circumstances.

But when God judges us or puts us through difficult situations, it is because of His authority as God. He has the right to do with His creation as He wants, and He has loved His children with perfect and everlasting love at the same time as well. He can change the course of our lives according to His plan for us, and His ways can involve pain as well. However, when a created person tries to do the same to another individual, it counts as sin, because (s)he is acting out of her/his humanly place.

But at the same time, we're called to be Christ-like in character, which is to say that we forgive quickly, endure all for love ('Love bears all') – he endured through his own share of suffering. But because he acted 'out of his place', he was also represented by the character of 'Dushman'.

Glory acted within the moral bounds of being a human. He acted justly, like a just and righteous child of God, but Death Conqueror tried to be God himself. I think that's why God represented him (DC) as the Lion form of Himself. Glory was represented as the soft and loving side of God who would rather use a soft and ethical way to bring His sheep to Him. Recall: the wedding dream in which he sat on his feet on the ground with a bouquet in his hand, emulating the vision I had on the roof of A-16 back in 2022 in which I saw Jesus dressed fully in multiple layers of white sitting on His foot on the ground with a bouquet held in His hands as He looked at me with a huge teethful smile. Both reflect two different ways that God adopts to bring people to Him (their creator who has loved them truly). God's love is true in both kinds of ways He chooses.

When I wrote the above, I saw
Vision: Death Conqueror with a huge 3-D pink fluidy heart in his hands as he moved around happily in a skyblue background. He was dressed in a fluffed full-sleeved sky-blue shirt tucked inside blue pants.

Is that why God gave me the revelation in which I was in an ultra-clean home sleeping on a mattress with my youngest brother on another mattress on the floor, when a person came to meet his wife's daughter. Perhaps it represented my own decision that I made. Doesn't make sense any other way.
It took me a long time to see through Death Conqueror's ways.. I pray healing for his heart, and for Glory's heart too. It took me time to grow and mature in the Lord. Now when I look back, I can see that I would've behaved differently in the past if I was the kind of person that I am now.

I was once sewing and repairing my home's Settee with a needle when I happened to look outside and saw a man walking away slowly. If I was who I am now, I would've stopped that man, but back then I was confused by his actions. Note that I sewed the damaged Settee of my home – the same settee that was shown to be present in my previous Room in A-16. It had a lavender-colored cloth spread on it with my home's stool covered with a white cloth on top of it.

After bathing, when I laid on my bed, I ended up tearing up as I thought about their sufferings, and also how my life had now become connected to theirs. I prayed to God to add the years of my short life to theirs. I was feeling terrible while painting nails as I thought of the kind of life I was living. That though DC stayed near, yet he had been far, and I didn't get to bond in the human way that should've been. That I had just been writing revelations all this time while staying away and making him suffer.

We all can learn from the suffering of Jesus. He gave it to me as an e.g. when I was complaining to Him many months back that I was feeling pain because of Death Conqueror and that he only hurt me (because I didn't look at the full reality of things as God did). So I will now pray for Death Conqueror, for the healing of his heart, and the uplifting of any demonic influence he may be tormented by.

While I wrote the above two paragraphs, I saw

30. The Uniting Hug

Vision(303, A-10, Night): A black and fat lady dressed in a shoulderless parrot green dress with a black baby elephant hugging her by lifting up its body on his back legs and pushing itself on her shoulder.

Vision: Glory hits the top centre of my forehead with a knife

31. The Cemented Slab

The last scene from the movie Ghazini where the hero is staring at the foot stamps of him and his lover Kalpana on a cemented slab has also been being highlighted to me for the past few months.

The song has also played in my Spirit intermittently since I was staying in A-16.

Ref: Kaise Mujhe Tum Mil Gaye-Ghajini-Last scene-Ending(HD)

32. The Proposal With An Assasin's Jump

I also realized that the way Glory jumped from behind a car with a bouquet of roses and sat on his feet resembled the Assasin's in Assasin's Creed. I had the dream during late 2021.

33. Smriti Had Ovarian Cysts

Smriti, the girl I befriended briefly during high school once told me that she had ovarian cysts that gave her pain. She is the same girl who was shown as creating the art piece of a cuboidal box with matchsticks vertically pasted on the outer surface.

34. RK & The Wooden Slabs

Vision (Night): RK with a thin lower moustache and dressed in a cheetah-printed 'suit' throws wooden slabs together on top of something in a room, as if ready to light it up.

I thought if he had now made all preparations to 'light me up' that I was now seeing this.

I too was wearing a cheetah-printed top (over black trousers) that night.

09:39

I'll be going to the church today for the first time. But I'm not sure how it's going to go.

1. The Lit House of The Lord

Vision (yesterday): I saw a brief glimpse of the light of a fire burning in the house of the Lord, the light being visible through the glass paperweight placed in front of its open mouth.
So, after long I lit a candle inside before having communion.

I'll be leaving for church around 10:30 with Nathu Uncle.

In the dream revelation of 'Standing Against the devil', the fire that was created with the prayer weapon deflected a streamlined army of demon insects coming at me from above horizontally through the air from my left side, while the devil was right in front of me, hiding its body and head behind the mountain cliff, with only its forehead visible to me.

When I looked behind me, I saw an empty room in which the flying insects had entered and fallen down. It seemed as if they were all made dysfunctional. They were hitting the back of the room and falling.

2. God Judges

Also, He is going to punish those who rejected Him and His authority, because He loved them truly, and He is God and their creator and has the right to judge them. Humans should not try to play God in such a manner. They've to rather mimic His Holy qualities of forgiveness, slow to anger, everlasting faithfulness, and compassion. It makes sense in a way when one wants to kill another for rejecting their 'true love', but it doesn't make sense as well when looking from the standpoint of being a human. Humans are under God's authority and need to watch their steps in fear of Him and be ready to let go of people when God asks them to. Though a person may love another, he shouldn't want the other dead if God's plan leads to them being separate for a season, or even for long. They should respect God's plan and wish happiness for the other person. Day before yesterday, I was thinking how I wanted the dream revelation of 'Time with the Blue-Eyed Man' to come to pass in real life, and not just be a shadow revelation. But then yesterday I thought, what if Aishwarya Rai in the bridal dress who was kissing Death Conqueror was someone other than me.? Though it was painful at first, I let it go because I looked at the entire picture of things, and not just at what my heart wanted. The same will hold true with Glory. If I wasn't to be with him, though I'm going to think about him intermittently, but I wouldn't be wanting him dead or want to torture him to death like Death Conqueror would want for me, because that would be sinning against him and God. I would wish him happiness and a healthy and filled heart as I prayed for other people.

That's also a part of the reason why the below is written in the Scriptures:

1 Corinthians 7:25-40

2.1 Concerning the Unmarried

25 Now about virgins: I have no command from the Lord, but I give a judgment as one who by the Lord's mercy is trustworthy. 26 Because of the present crisis, I think that it is good for a man to remain as he is. 27 Are you pledged to a woman? Do not seek to be released. Are you free from such a commitment? Do not look for a wife. 28 But if you do marry, you have not sinned; and if a virgin marries, she has not sinned. But those who marry will face many troubles in this life, and I want to spare you this.

29 What I mean, brothers and sisters, is that the time is short. From now on those who have wives should live as if they do not; 30 those who mourn, as if they did not; those who are happy, as if they were not; those who buy something, as if it were not theirs to keep; 31 those who use the things of the world, as if not engrossed in them. For this world in its present form is passing away.

32 I would like you to be free from concern. An unmarried man is concerned about the Lord's affairs—how he can please the Lord. 33 But a married man is concerned about the affairs of this world—how he can please his wife— 34 and his interests are divided. An unmarried woman or virgin is concerned about the Lord's affairs: Her aim is to be devoted to the Lord in both body and spirit. But a married woman is concerned about the affairs of this world—how she can please her husband. 35 I am saying this for your own good, not to restrict you, but that you may live in a right way in undivided devotion to the Lord.

36 If anyone is worried that he might not be acting honorably toward the virgin he is engaged to, and if his passions are too strong[b] and he feels he ought to marry, he should do as he wants. He is not sinning. They should get married. 37 But the man who has settled the matter in his own mind, who is under no compulsion but has control over his own will, and who has made up his mind not to marry the virgin—this man also does the right thing. 38 So then, he who marries the virgin does right, but he who does not marry her does better.[c]

39 A woman is bound to her husband as long as he lives. But if her husband dies, she is free to marry anyone she wishes, but he must belong to the Lord. 40 In my judgment, she is happier if she stays as she is—and I think that I too have the Spirit of God.

4. 'Yeshu Bhawan' (Yeshu's House)

The Church I Visited. It operates in a rented hall in the locality of Jaroda. I could feel the pure environment in that church. It showed me the areas of my own heart that needed to be worked on. Is that why Death Conqueror and his gang hate me in a way. Because I shine light on the areas of their lives they are stinking, like I saw yesterday for my own life. The Pastor addressed and answered some of the questions that I didn't have in mind but needed to know the answer to.

He preached the meaning of 'going up to the Roof'. It represented being at the highest place of worship, while fasting and reading the Word. It made me recall the song lyric, 'Tu chat par aa bhi jaa' ('You come to the roof – said in a serious and pleading manner') from the song 'Ye Raat Aur Ye Doori' (this night and this distance) (#38.2 of Page 430). He also told what the ocean represented spiritually. It represented the world out of which Jesus saved us, which explained my dream in which I was drowning in the ocean when a hand reached out from above and took hold of me. He said that even though Jesus has saved us from the world, we're still in it as long as we're on Earth, but we're not lost in it, but while we're in it, our world shouldn't be rocky but calm and still.

4.1 The Little Girl To My Left

I was so touched and overwhelmed on looking at a little girl beside me who was making notes of the Pastor's preaching. As he told us to quickly move on to certain Bible verses, I was trying to open them on my phone but my internet wasn't working. So she gave me a Bible from within her group. She sat with her head covered with a white cloth, and she looked so cute and lovely. She was shining the light of Jesus because she always had a smile on her face whenever I looked at her. She then later helped me with finding Bible verses in the book as I wasn't used to the Hindi version of the Book, though the Pastor was reciting the English names of the Book chapters as well. IT was so n ice of her. I later happened to peek at her notes. She had made colourful notes, and though she didn't know the spelling of 'Spirit' she still was very much into learning the Word. She wrote 'Speret' instead of 'Spirit' in her notes.

4.2 Lucky to Know God So Early

I thought how lucky she was that she got to know about God at such a young age and was even in a God-led church and learning about Him. When I sat there and looked at the crowd around, and the kind of things that were preached, I realized how deluded I had been living, and that this was the place I should've come to long back in time.

Some things I was living a deluded life in regards to:

- I saw that people had extroverted goodwill. They didn't feel reluctant in showing their kindness and goodness to other church members. While many years back, I used to be the kind of person with an introverted goodwill. Only those who were close to me would know my inner self. I didn't care if an outsider thought false thoughts about me because only those of ones close to me mattered. I saw the personality type of having an introverted goodwill as an advantage because it came along with a default quality of sifting through genuine people and those with thorny minds. It was almost as if I would open up by default in front of good people – those who are good in all circumstances.
- Their extroverted goodwill was also a marker of their trust in the people around them, who were godly.
- I saw that it didn't matter at all what one's career or worldly position was in the House of God. How one looked, talked or ate, or the kind of clothes one wore, or if one was dusty, for God looked (and will always do so) at the heart of those who come to Him.
- I saw the things I had lived giving importance to and realized that they were not important at all. Going to that church made me want to live a simpler and humbler lifestyle. I wanted to resonate with those people in their love and devotion towards God.
- I was lauded for my skills back in school, and I gave huge importance to being logical in a worldly way. They no longer mattered in the House of God, nor did one's looks. I saw that my upbringing had been 'in the world' and now I had the opportunity to be with the people of God and see through their eyes. Though I had a walk of my own with God, I still had some worldly seeds in me because of some of my deep-rooted convictions from the past.
- I accepted being social as a good thing when it came to interacting with the people of God who actually wanted to follow His ways and didn't accept or justify sin. They were true to their faith and had actual testimonies of the work of God intheir lives. Though I too have, but I didn't get to be in the physical presence of other such people. I only knew my online brothers and sisters.
- Going to that church evened out my perception about all kinds of jobs. Previously, I would've preferred to do only those jobs that resonated with my inner self or brought me contentment. For e.g., I chose the job of a researcher for myself and I always wanted to be a writer as well. Because they brought me happiness. I couldn't have thought of being a ragpicker or a job of a similar kind because it just didn't go along with what my mind was comfortable with or was well-equipped for. I liked cleaning because it created a fresh and pleasing environment for the mind, and others usually didn't clean and organize things in the way I wanted them around me. I could order good, cooked food from outside, but organizing and cleaning I had to do by myself to create a look suitable for my mind, which would get me in a flowy state of relaxation and release. But now my focus shifted to God. I still prefer to keep things my way, but it's no longer an idol. Previously, it used to be super important for me to have things set in a certain way.

So I saw all the ways my upbringing had been lacking, for our parents always wanted us to rise 'up' in the world, and not be content with where we were at. The house of God has peace.

4.3 The Lady Praying in Tongues

Then I saw a lady in orange and white pray on her knees in tongues with her hands lifted high in the air. I was amazed at the excellent condition of the church. The preaching was powerful. It hit right at my blindspots of sin and lukewarmness, or it showed to me how much better and holier a mind could be. This was the place I resonated with so well, though the crowd wasn't very elite in a worldly way. It made me recall how stifled and constricted I felt around some people in my dept – an ungodly place festering with compromise and sin.

In a church, people admit their sins and repent before God, while in my dept, people hide their sins and act as if it's normal to represent a false self while intentionally doing the devil' work behind the curtains.

As I wrote the above, I saw:

4.4 The Violent Prof

Vision: A slow-motion vision of Prof Patrick Das Gupta coming at me with a rod at the back of my head with all his might. Now since notations are not consistent, so I don't know if it's really him. But I wrote what I saw.

The people weren't very wealthy not very worldly. All of them knew about the things pertaining to God. They knew how Holy the Holy Spirit of God was. Their respect for it was reflected in the aura of the place. I felt that if I was to visit that place more often, I would be truly transformed internally as they're not a bunch of hypocrites, and whatever hypocrisy exists in me is going to be brought to my attention as well so I can change for the better and be holier and closer to God.

People weren't really dressed in expensive or glamorous clothing, and people from all age groups were present. But it was so good, encouraging, and heart-filling to see such young children being able to understand the things pertaining to God as they made notes.

Note: The arrangement of the church looked as I had seen in my dream during late 2021 – some people sitting on the floor with others on the chair.
On the first Sunday of a month, all the church members bring home-cooked food and everyone eats it together. It was that day of the month.

At the end of the preaching, the Pastor started a worship session with his son and two more people who were playing instruments.

4.5 The Little Girl With Stretched Forearms

At the end of the church session, the little girl to my left stretched her forearms towards me with a smile as she said 'Praise The Lord'. She held my hands and wasn't willing to leave them until I did so. She kept smiling at me all the time. Such a godly child.

I then saw a child of about 4-5 years of age casually playing bongos. I thought that how talented he was to play at such a young age and how lucky to get to visit the real house of God. It was a good church, better than the big ones where people come for only a show.

The E-Rickshaw had taken a detour because of some construction work on the usual path to the Church, and it had dropped us somewhere in the middle of the village and we had to search around a bit for the church.

The Pastor recalled:

4.6 Noah & His Three Sons

The Pastor mentioned in the church the event from the Bible where Noah's son saw him asleep naked, but instead of covering him, he went and told his two brothers – The situation that relates to 'The Prophetic Trio'.

4.7 The Godly Holy Spirit Filled Aura of The Place

Going to that church made me feel that I should've been born in such a locality where I would have gotten to go to that church, or some other Godly church fuelled by the Holy Spirit if God willed so. I thought how good it would have been. Well, it's not too late now either for I know God, have seen Him, and have been receiving revelations from His Spirit. So, I still am in a reasonably good place, but to be in the company of fellow believers who have Godly attitudes and who praise and worship together with a pure heart is a thing of another level. The aura of the place was hitting on my mind in a different way and transforming it. I can recall the instant changes that took place.

4.8 The Songs They Sang

They were the songs written by them alone. The first song the Pastor sang said about witnessing a flower burning in blazing fire. He also later sang the Hindi version of the song 'Like David Danced'. I realized towards the end that its melody resembled that song's and the lyrics were the Hindi translation of the song, as well. His son also sang self-made Hindi songs that were well-suited for youngsters.

4.9 My Reluctance To Shout Praises to God

I learned how reluctant I was to shout praises to God. Because when the pastor was asking everyone to shout Hallelujah, I could mince out in a low tone. I don't know what was inhibiting me. But I just couldn't shout out like others did. I learned that this is what I had to learn as well - to be able to pray boldly in the Spirit. I want to pray but I don't want to be seen by others while doing so because it's an intimate thing between me and God! I don't want them to hear what I speak. Though they serve God's purpose, they inhibit me too in many ways! I saw how comfortably they all sang songs together to God. I've always had stage anxiety. During my performances too, I would get nervous and my legs would shake. I wasn't someone with a bold stage personality. But I think God wants me to learn to pray boldly to Him, and that's why He showed me what He did in the dream. The man sitting on the chair asked me to lift up the weapon and start operating it in front of everyone and as I did, it created a disk of fire.

5. 'Tere Yaar Bhatere Ne, Mera Tu Hi Hai Bas Yaara'

'You've enough people/partners, but I only have you'
I heard this chorus line being sung in the Spirit.
Ref: Tere Yaar Bathere ne songe

I reached my PG around 2 pm after church got over. I had the following vision while resting:
Vision: I saw a huge milk burst that spread itself on top of my left breast, and immediately appeared the face of Glory who then began to drink that milk like a baby. Actually, the face of the person resembled both Glory and Death Conqueror. It was an amalgamation of the two.

I want to do a forty day no food fast - with consuming only a bite or two daily as part of communion, because after my first three-day-fast, I had a vision in which a hand raised itself to the left holding a bite of roti with veggie inside, seemingly to feed the person in front.

It reminds me of the part where Bathsheba tied David to the kitchen table and fed him with her hands. It also reminded me of the animated vision in which a muscular guy sat on a table surrounded by foods of different varieties with a piece of cloth (a parrot green plastic bra) running across his chest seemingly tying him to the chair on which he was sitting.
I will start my forty-day fast beginning this sunset. But I don't know if I would be able to work out during that period. I haven't gone to gym for more than a week now.

On my way back from church, when I boarded an e-Rickshaw with Nathu Uncle, I heard the chorus line of this song play in my Spirit:

6. 'Jo Pyaar Karta Hai, Pagal Ban Jata Hai..'

'He Who Loves, Becomes Unreasonable'

Ref: Jo Pyaar Karta Hai Full Video -Yeh Raaste Hain Pyaar Ke | Ajay Devgn, Madhuri Dixit, Preity Zinta

7. The Orange Car and The Blind Stab Vision

I was out to have something from the Juice Corner and was passing by the Nath Tent & Caterers building when a dark orange car with black mirrors passed by my right. Right when it was behind me, the vision-revelation 'The Blind Stab' (#25 on Page 429) popped in my Spirit. I recalled how I was that lady in orange with a bulging belly. The suit of the lady had stonework around the belly, while I had literal stones inside my belly because of the drones inside. There was a tall guy standing behind her covering her eyes with his left hand while he stabbed her lower belly (the part around the uterus) with the right hand. This made me think if the people in that car were the ones the vision talked about.

8. The Red Heart With Wings

When I saw the vision of a Red Heart flying with two wings (#4 on Page 410), the dragon-headed serpent tore open the vision from behind as it came flying out.

9. Beautiful Lowered eyes (of RS)

On my way back from the Church in the E-Rickshaw, I happened to look at a person who looked like RS but was wearing a mask. His eyes were lowered and looked so beautifully enticing.

10. Gangadhar KA

On my way to the church, I happened to come across a person who looked like the Gangadhar version of KA and reminded me of him.

11. Stoning of St. Stephen

I realized today that I have a wound on my brain on the right side of my forehead (left side of the viewer). I felt a sharp pain there a few days back and it has continued intermittently. Almost as if something is hurting that side. I received an internal 'stone-hit' directly on my brain by the spy drone. It made me recall the vision I had of a bearded man's forehead being hit by a large stone at the same place on his forehead that I received the hit at in the vision revelation 'St. Stephen's Head Gets Stoned' (#7 on Page 428). The hit took his head down and out of the vision. I think I will go for an MRI so that I know how worse the condition is and how long can I last. When I have an idea of my condition, I can prioritize things accordingly. But first I need to know the condition of my brain as I keep feeling their stings on its surface. I was thinking if they burst a vein in my brain, but the effects of that would have been worse. By far, I feel a burning and localized pain on the right side of my head – the reflected version of the place my brother was hit at.

The following scene from this video has been being highlighted to me several times. So I am pasting the screenshots here. The pictures show the stoning of Stephen for his faith. Stephen testified his faith in Jesus and the way God had showed Himself up in the Old Testament through Moses. The religious leaders of that time didn't like his 'words' and were rather enraged at them. Stephen however saw the heavens open and the Son of Man (Jesus) standing there looking at him. The religious leaders got further enraged at his testimony of the same. They didn't see anything for they were only religious blind fools. They didn't really know God nor followed His Spirit. So, they gave orders to stone Stephen to death as was the custom according to the Old Law. They counted His testimony as blasphemy.

Acts 6 | The Martyrdom of Stephen | The Bible
4:53 / 5:43

I've been hit at several places inside my brain. It's hard to believe Death Conqueror when he/his people are hurting me in this manner at the same time. It is just like the confusion I had faced previously that kept me from going near to him. He was hurting me and yet was expecting me to come to him. But now it has resorted to the beginning of physical damage, and the actions still cause confusion. Because they're again hurting me and yet are expecting me to behave differently. But with God, I've learned some things. I prayed to God like Stephen to not put this sin on their heads if I was to be dead soon. But I know that God has His way to judge and avenge/recompense. The fact that I was able to pray such a prayer as Stephen did, marked to me my progress towards being Christ-like.

Additionally, 'St. Stephen' also reminded me of DU's St. Stephen's college where Death Conqueror graduated in Physics from. I think there's a direct correlation here. Was he born to stone a child of God..? No. He was born to learn from the college and graduate from it. So, I hope at the end he would have earned his actual degree in learning the ways of God, the degree that his former degree symbolizes.

12. God Taught Me His Nature

Earlier during the day, a situation was playing out in my mind in which I stood in an open area in front of Death Conqueror. He said something hurtful. It didn't have any effect on me. But I rather saw that my thoughts and feelings were now independent of him and not based on his actions. I saw a happy Jesus above as He rejoiced because I had learned a lesson in character because of my affliction. Death Conqueror again said something hurtful, and it was represented as a physical blow to my head. I stood unaffected in emotions again with a strong heart. I received a few more hits on my head. It didn't matter anymore who it was who was giving me those hits, and what mattered was maintaining a right heart towards God. And this time I understood how it was for Jesus, and what His nature is like. He is not oversensitive who gets offended by small insults or blows, or even huge blows. He endured the cross. Though He was in pain, He carried His cross. His love was strong. When, in the situation being played out in front me, I didn't get affected despite the blows, I saw Jesus above walking with joy because I He had now taught me to be like Him. It's a part of Godly sanctification. In my case, He used Death Conqueror to instill His own Holy nature in me through suffering. He was just too happy because I had understood this 'hit on foreheads' revelation though it had previously seemed weird.

13. They Work All The Time To Push Me To My Death

And then say out their lies.. So deplorable!

Even when I am sitting and working, their drones inside work to peel off inner layers of my flesh/neck as they slowly make their way to severing it from my body. Why will I shake hands with such people. I don't know if Death Conqueror is sent by God. He prefers the religions of satan when He hasn't had a single revelation by God. I think He chose the one that goes along with His wicked lifestyle, so that he can still call himself 'godly' while following ungodly ways. But the revelations pertaining to Glory were directly related with Jesus, because of the proposal in red & white revelation and also the revelation in which the face of Jesus came out from behind the clouds which goes along with Psalm 36:5 (KJV) 5 Thy mercy, O Lord, is in the heavens; and thy faithfulness reacheth unto the clouds.

I think that choosing Glory is equivalent of choosing Jesus, that's why Jesus has been giving me related revelations. If Death Conqueror came to Jesus and adopted His ways, perhaps then the itinerary would've been different. But in any case, Jesus is the one who is our head.

They should stop saying anything good to me which only seems hypocritical when they're peeling me off on the inside.

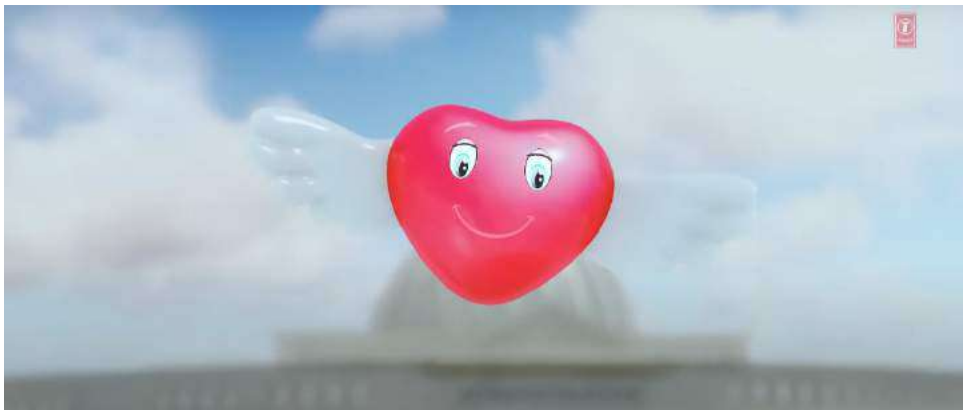
1. Last Evening:

Recurring visions: Death Conqueror came to my room dressed in a full-sleeved light sky-blue shirt tucked inside pants. As soon

I happened to play this song because of the song's tagline 'Tu Mera Hero'. I was looking for a specific part of this song. But when I played it, it turned out to be a different song. However, as I continued watching the song, I came across this.



It reminded me of the vision of a flying heart that I had while listening to the piano performance by one of The Chosen's actors. I hadn't watched the song's video before. This was the first time.

Before Falling Asleep:

2. 'Are re re Mein To Gaya Re,
Dil Bhi Gaya Re'

' I'm gone and dead,
And my heart too is gone.'

It kept repeating itself.

3. On a 5-day No-Food Fast:

I felt a strong urge to have dinner at night. After continued nudges, I went ahead and had dinner. Later I realized that it was because I had to now start fasting. And I will be a doing a 5-day No Food fast this time. I got this nudge after church today as the Pastor will also be doing a 5-day fast. I may extend it to a forty day fast.

Dream I woke up From:

4. The Men in Black

I'm on a road and everywhere I see, people pass me by looking at me. It's night time. I am crossing the red light from the Burari common cab junction to the E-Rickshaw junction outside Metro. I see a fair, chubby man dressed in a black suit with a white shirt inside driving past me out of the stationary vehicles to the left. His hair are curly and there's a man sitting behind him. I am now in the service lane of my PG and am moving along different I find myself at the GTB Nagar junction I and Nathu Uncle boarded the E-Rickshaw to Jaroda for church today. I see some people pass me by in their respective vehicles. But as they do so, they look at me, almost as if they're passing by me intentionally.

I continue walking and am in the service lane of my PG facing the Ganda Nala. I am trying to evade someone/ some people. There's a very narrow balcony, on the ground floor facing the Ganda Nala. I enter it from the left side and start moving ahead, but there is a cooler blocking my view. I bend low and look at the space below the cooler's stand. There's something covered with a dark brown cloth lying there as well. I am about to make way for me to pass through when I get interrupted by someone.

It's still night. I'm now on the road that resembles the Burari Common Cab junction. But at this hour, there're no common cabs. I still see people dressed in the same black and white suits pass me by looking at me. I don't know why they all take a glimpse at me before passing by. There's some movement, perhaps an accident and I find myself sitting on a long white bench. A car drives by from the left on the lane in front of me, and from it gets down Ayushman Khuranna. He too is dressed in that black and white suit and has a bearded face and a serious expression. As soon as he's down from the car, he starts walking towards me, and I start crying loudly pulling in my legs and sitting with vertically folded knees. When he's reached near me, he stops and looks at me. While I sit on that long bench covered with a white cotton cover and continue crying loudly looking at him.

I woke up immediately after this.

5. My Mom In Dark Brown Clothes

My fat mom in a multi-layered dark brown long tunic, with neck length frizzy hair. She looked darker than her usual self and her belly was bulging out.

6. Separating The Outer Part

A knife slides through the darker front layer of a rectangular cake bread, separating it from the rest.

7. 'Happy Birthday To You'

Heard in the Spirit when I got up from bed
Also seen in a dream-vision a few days back.

8. 'Vijeta Ma'am'

(Vijeta: Victorious)
My High School English Teacher. She was a bit cross-eyed and chubby. She was once sharing with us how her husband called her 'Pehelwan Saab' when she would reach home. She stayed in the street in front of the Ashram to the right of which lay Nupur's home in the adjoining street.

9. I Write What is Highlighted

I added the 3 Idiots song because it kept playing in my spirit. And I saw that the video reflected the reality of what was done to me being played out by the 3 heroes of the movie. And I understood the reason why it was being highlighted to me, so I added the screenshots. It may look like betrayal in a sense because I released some info about the number of people involved and what they did. But, what got highlighted to me was the scene from the movie Fanaa in which Jooni shot Rehan though she loved him, because he on is way to do what was wrong.

10. The Righteous Self, The Loving/Forgiving Self Together

Directly related to Miss Khatti Meethi (Miss Sour Sweet)

11. Ek Dilruba Hai

'Is a sweetheart'.

The heart my heart is in love with
The heart my heart is in love with
is a sweetheart.

12. Dilruba

I woke up with this phrase in my Spirit when I stayed in Room D4 of A-16 back during late 2021 or early 2022.

13. The Journey And The Rocky Rain

Dream (@Omaxe, 2020): I went from one place to another, travelling from one home to another directly flying through air. I was then in a desolate place with grey uneven rocky walls standing around me. I stood with Death Conqueror and I was wearing just a long white shirt. It was an unusual dream. I took a flight alone towards the sky, but when I crossed above the clouds, I saw grey rocks present there that fell on me, the dream ending with Death conqueror walking inside a room some steps ahead of me and stopping at some distance, while I stayed at my place.

14. 'Save The Last Dance For Me'

You can dance
Every dance with the guy
Who gives you the eye, let him hold you tight
You can smile
Every smile for the man
Who held your hand 'neath the pale moon light

But don't forget who's takin' you home
And in whose arms you're gonna be..
So darlin' save the last dance for me.

Oh I know
That the music's fine
Like sparklin' wine, go and have your fun..
Laugh and sing..
But while we're apart
Don't give your heart to anyone..

And don't forget who's takin' you home
And in whose arms you're gonna be..
So darlin' save the last dance for me.

Baby don't you know I love you so
Can't you feel it when we touch..?
I will never never let you go
I love you oh so much.

You can dance
Go and carry on 'til the night is gone
And it's time to go..
If he asks
If you're all alone
Can he walk you home, you must tell him no

'Cause don't forget who's taking you home
And in whose arms you're gonna be
Save the last dance for me.

Oh I know
That the music's fine
Like sparklin' wine, go and have your fun

Laugh and sing
But while we're apart
Don't give your heart to anyone..

And don't forget who's takin' you home
And in whose arms you're gonna be..
So darlin' save the last dance for me.

So don't forget who's taking you home
Or in whose arms you're gonna be..
So darling, save the last dance for me..

Oh baby, won't you save the last dance for me?
Ooh you make the promise that you'll save the last dance for me
Save the last dance..
The very last dance..
For me!

Ref: Michael Bublé - Save The Last Dance For Me [Official Music Video]

The song reminded me of a bride dancing with Jesus alone in a huge room decorated with flowers.

15. Anupam Kher Bites Cash

The side-view of Anupam Kher facing to the right with a few dark Green & Black cash notes horizontally raised in air towards his mouth as he moves his head forward and bites the short lengthy slab midway. The thin slab of notes stays intact as he clenches his jaw midway.

16. Panna Ki Tamanna

'The Desire of Emerald'

The desire of Emerald is this much
That I get to be with Diamond
Regardless of If I have to lose my life
Or if I have to lose my heart..

17. Is He Feeling The Same..?

It was long back when I was thinking how I would never want to be with someone like Death Conqueror who strips the person and breaks them down first, in order to train them to accept hurtful behavior and treatment, and challenge their sound reasoning of right and wrong. So, is he feeling too that he never gets to encounter someone like me in the future..?

Well, now I feel that though I may not get to be with him, I wouldn't have changed my decision of befriending him on fb that led to this supposed earthly tragedy in my life.

12:35

18. 'Lagta Hai Mere Seene Se Sil Nikal Gaya'

It seems as if my heart is out of my chest..

It kept repeating itself when I rested a while back.

I slipped since I saw you
And it seems like my heart is out of my chest..
Not just Mom, I'll have you meet my Dad as well...

Whatever I tell you, why does it seem to be a lie to you..

Where is your focus..
For your hero is here!

Where is your focus..
For your hero is here!

Where is your focus..
For your hero is here!

Do you even know..?
Your hero is here!

I had taken a short nap about an hour back. I had the following revelations during that time:

Heard in the Spirit: 'The Biggest of All Frauds'

Dream-Vision: I am getting down a staircase with a covered horizontal balcony at the end. The balcony is dark, extends to either side and is covered with walls. As I enter the cemented unplastered shed of the balcony, I realize that I've missed hitting the top of my forehead by a slight amount and got lucky.

Vision (303, A-10, ~half an hour back): A blade of a dagger at my neck from the left side.

19. Red & Blue Lights on My Left Wrist

When lying on my bed late at night, I happened to look at my left wrist. Red and Blue lights were blinking in turns on it, separated by some distance. It was because of my Airdopes that were still turned on but were lying below my pillow with their LEDs still blinking the lights in turn. The lights were being reflected on the yellow wall to my left as well. I was talking to my mom when I observed this. I showed her the same too.

20. The Bandaged Man and the Leaking Blood

Recall the part of the dream: The Doodle, The Beating and The Bandaged Man (#1 on Page 389)
There was a semi-animated man walking in my direction in that dream who was fully covered with bandages with blood leaking out through the layers. This today made me think if I was bleeding internally, because I felt some pain around my left wrist, left foot and near the areas of my toes.. I also felt pain near my upper belly. Additionally, their drones crawl on my brain. But apparently, they can't cause much damage until God allows it. He can make me function even if the room behind me (my brain) is empty and flooded with the locust insects, as was shown in the dream revelation.

21. 'Belly Ache'

Mind..
Mind..
Sitting all alone
Mouth full of gum
In the driveway
My friends aren't far
In the back of my car
Lay their bodies.

Where's my mind..
Where's my mind..

They'll be here pretty soon
Looking through my room
For the money
I'm biting my nails
I'm too young to go to jail
It's kinda funny

Where's my mind..
Where's my mind..
Where's my mind..
Where's my mind..

Maybe it's in the gutter
Where I left my lover
What an expensive fate
My V is for Vendetta
Thought that I'd feel better
But now I got a bellyache

Everything I do
The way I wear my noose
Like a necklace
I wanna make 'em scared

Like I could be anywhere
Like I'm reckless.
I lost my mind
I don't mind
Where's my mind..
Where's my mind..

Maybe it's in the gutter
Where I left my lover
What an expensive fate
My V is for Vendetta
Thought that I'd feel better
But now I got a bellyache.

Maybe it's in the gutter
Where I left my lover
What an expensive fate
My V is for Vendetta
Thought that I'd feel better
And now I got a bellyache

It reminded me of the dream in which I was stepping down the stairs in synchrony with Glory.

23. Saawan Ne Aaj To Mujhko Bhigo Diya..

The rain drenched me wet today..

The Lady Sings:
The rain drenched me wet today
Oh my shame drowned me in it..

The rain drenched me wet today
Oh my shame drowned me in it..

The continued falling rain touched me in such a way
That I think each moment..
That I've lost something..
What did I lose…

Why are you silent? Say it out..
With me, move in synchrony, you..

With my walk/steps, match yours..

'Synchronize Your Steps/Claps Together (With Mine)'
'Synchronize Your Steps/Claps Together (With Mine)'

The stanza reminded me of the dream and vision dance revelations.

24. Maska Bun With Tea

During day, the Maska Bun kept being highlighted to me. Though I had a strong mindset of not having food items because of my fast, I ordered it because its vision kept popping up in my mind. I only had those eatables that were kept being pointed at in my Spirit. I think there must have been a reason.

Yesterday Night, I heard this song in my Spirit:

24. 'Mujhe Kitna Pyaar Hai Tumse'

'Oh How I am In Love With You'

Chorus
The Guy sings:
Oh how I am in love with you..
Ask this to your own heart

Whom I've given my heart is you,
My life is yours..

The Lady sings:
Oh how I am in love with you..
Ask this to your own heart
Whom I've given my heart is you,
My life is yours..

Stanza 1
The Guy sings:
My desire for you
Has besieged me in such a way
That during day, I discuss about you
At night, I dream about you..

The Lady sings:
Where you're, there itself is where my heart stays too..
Just a thought of you and I lose my sense of day and night..

Chorus
The Guy sings:
Oh how I am in love with you..
Ask this to your own heart
Whom I've given my heart is you,
My life is yours..

Stanza 2
The Lady sings:
How did this world change
It's out of my comprehension..
How did you become mine
When until yesterday you were a stranger..

The Guy sings:
When a heart's love is true
Then why wouldn't it come to fruition..?
You were always mine
But came close to me now..

Chorus
The Lady sings:

Oh how I am in love with you..
Ask this to your own heart
Whom I've given my heart is you,
My life is yours..

Stanza 3
The Guy sings:
My faithfulness, now,
You should stop testing..
After stealing my heart,
Stop stealing eyes..

The Lady sings:
After making me yours..
Stop making vain flirtatious talks
When was I not yours
But stop stressing me out now..

The Guy sings:
Oh how I am in love with you..
Ask this to your own heart
Whom I've given my heart is you,
My life is yours..

Both sing together:
Oh how I am in love with you..
Ask this to your own heart
Whom I've given my heart is you,
My life is yours..

25. Banana Shake

I was writing revelations when I had an inner sensation of banana shake arise within. It was weird because the taste and smell weren't sensed with the physical senses but were put directly in my spirit. I felt a nudge to go and have it. So, I went out and had that banana shake.

Today, I was experiencing pain at new places in my belly and at the place of my right ovary, intermittently, as well. So, I thought of going to get an ultrasound done again, so I would know if there was any improvement in the cyst on the left, and also if there was a new condition at the right and about the condition of my upper belly as I felt internal pain around those areas.

It was found that there weren't any changes in my right ovary and the cyst at the left had decreased in width by 0.2mm, while the condition of my belly was shown to be the same.

After returning from the Ultrasound center, I laid on my bed with lights off to rest for a while, when the vision of Paneer Hakka Noodles kept recurring to me in the Spirit in various closeup poses of it being wrapped on a fork.

26. Paneer Hakka Noodles

Recurrent vision: Paneer Hakka Noodles wrapped around a fork with a piece of paneer in a dark candle-lit background

27. A Showroom Lit In Yellow & The Woman In Black

Vision: A shopping lane lit with a wide showroom lit in yellow light, and on the left glass pane appears the upperhalf of a short-haired beige woman in a shining black dress. She has black curly hair in the shape of a cabbage on her head.

28. Tiny Paaro In The Burning House of The Lord

Vision: Aishwarya Rai of length around 10cms in a red saree and open hair in her Devdaas movie's look inside the house of the Lord with folded hands making the symbol of a Namaste before she goes down into the fire of the burning candle.

While washing clothes on the roof a few days back, I was listening to and singing a song in repetition when I had this recurrent vision

Vision (Roof, A-10, few days back): A dagger comes at my tongue to chop it. I thought why someone would now want to chop my tongue?

When I laid to rest for a tiny bit, I saw:
Vision: The side-view of an animated man coming out of a door, dressed in a white suit with sky blue icy patches/triangles on it. The patched seemed like real ice-structures embedded in the suit. The man exited into what seemed like a train platform.
Is it a reflected revelation.?

4. Dream (This Morning)

Packing Maggi

I am in Rugha Saini's home (our previous rented home on their first floor) in my hometown (Pundri). But the aura is that of a public place. I see a girl. She has to leave but she's hungry. There's a table to the left of the stairs that go down. My dad is standing there with his back towards me. I get a bag to pack her lunch from the covered steel containers because there are no lunch boxes. I see that the steel containers have vegetable maggie inside. I am putting two scoops of it in the bag when the thought of wrapping the Maggi in aluminium foil comes to my mind. But I've already put it in, and as soon as I do so, I see the bag turn into an off-white translucent cloth bag with a leakproof inside. I want to pack the Maggi in an aluminium foil and inside a different bag and pack some more of it, but the girl has already left with that cloth bag. I turn back and passing through the living room (having a white marbled floor with black/colored pebbles) rush towards the balcony to stop her. I catch a glimpse of her exiting through the main gate at the left end of the building. I call out to her but she tells me that it's enough and I see that she's already put the Maggi on a disposable white plate and is eating it as she is walking to the right on the narrow lane adjoining the 1.5 meters high wall of the building at some distance ahead of the balcony.

The Lady With a Huge Past

I go back into the house and come across another short-heighted lady in the home. She talks nicely with me. I move around the place a bit, keep coming across her and chatting with her briefly. She is young and has straight black touching her shoulders. She is lying in a restful position on the bed now and tells me about her history of past relationships. How she met some guy at a movie and other stories.

The Attracted Lady

I can tell that the other lady I had been coming across previously is carrying some romantic feelings for me. I see her standing near the stairs at the other end of the hall and start talking to her. As we do so, we're now holding each other while talking. She is shorter than me. She sticks closer and I can tell that she is aroused. I too get aroused. We talk for a while in this manner holding each other, and even tighter with our legs wrapped around. I now know for sure that she really was romantically interested in me as I had suspected.

The Dishwashing Angad

When I let go of her, I turn back and walk some steps ahead. I stop in front of what looks like the small dishwashing room of my PG lit with light yellow light, but inside it I find Angad sitting facing to the left and washing the dishes. His eyes are bent low and he's doing it with modesty. There are a lot of dirty dishes around him. He continues without looking at me with his eyes still bent and tells me to not be not involved with that girl, because she has done the same thing to many people in the past. He is warning me, for it may end up being just a waste of time and emotions. I take him seriously and now go out to the square handpump platform present in the open to the left.

Virat Kohli & The Imminent Attack

When I reach there, I see Virat Kohli appear in a mid-level tractor with no roof, dressed in an orange half-sleeved t-shirt. His face is looking away from me to the right. From his countenance, it seems that he's come to warn me about something - a coming attack on me.

I go back to my home. But now it no longer resembles my hometown's home, but a stuffed English home. I again feel that an attack is intermittent. So I want to shut the doors and windows of my home. I go outside once to look. I see a wide ground covered evenly with snow - resembling the look from the Lootera movie. I see some young boys outside gathered to play. They start going inside their homes. The criminals must definitely be on their way. There's no one outside when I see some short boys come running from behind the tree to the far left. The one in front is wearing an inverted cap. I now see that the perpetrators have arrived. So, I go inside my home and quickly bolt up the door at the top - the right door of the two doors that closed together. I leave the door now as it would be enough to stop them, and also because I can lock it from below later for more protection. I move to the right to check the window. I see that it was open. I'm facing difficulty in closing it because of misorientation. I go back to the door and take a brief peek outside to check the situation. There's only one guy standing there. He's dressed in a long black coat and doesn't seem to be carrying any weapons. But I still go back to the window to lock the home. I place the bolt present at the top properly below the hole in the slab above, and push it up. The right side of the window is now locked. I'm worried about the left side now, and also the door when the dream ends.

Note: In the dreams, when I use the pronoun 'I', it doesn't always refer to me, but can refer to the person whom the dream is intended for. So, one part of a dream may minister to one person, while another part to a different person.

5.1 A Piece of Land on the Map of the World

Vision (Morning): The part shown on the map didn't have any labels on it but only showed a far-sighted view of a deserted land with some green areas.

5.2 Land surrounded by Water

A piece of Land surrounded by water all around as seen on the Earth's Globe

6. The Candle Burns At Its Lowest

And is about to lead to the House of The Lord Catching Fire

7. 'Kyu Janma Is Jaati Mein'

'Why Was I Born In This Race'

Referring to the 'Serpent Race on Earth'

The song 'Atma Jale' pertains to the plight of the sheep of God in a system that worships the serpent (satan).

The Guy sings:
Soul Burns, Soul Burns, Soul Burns, Soul Burns..
Soul Burns, Soul Burns, Soul Burns, Soul Burns..

Ask the tears of a helpless person
About the amount of pain (s)he carries in her/his heart
What was the fault of that fool
That (s)he was born in this race..

What kind of corpse is this that burns inside each moment

Soul Burns, Soul Burns, Soul Burns, Soul Burns..
Soul Burns, Soul Burns, Soul Burns, Soul Burns..

Winds of torment have now blown
And the lamp of life was extinguished..
Like life was an imprisonment
And a prisoner was freed..

Even when the night falls...
Even when the night falls
The torment of burning sunlight doesn't stop

Soul Burns, Soul Burns, Soul Burns, Soul Burns..
Soul Burns, Soul Burns, Soul Burns, Soul Burns..

Write with the blood of a child
In the religious texts
The names of those Killed by the arrows of the bow of religion

Ask – this custom of sin..
Ask – this custom of sin,
Why has it long existed..

Soul Burns, Soul Burns, Soul Burns, Soul Burns..
Soul Burns, Soul Burns, Soul Burns, Soul Burns..

8. A Very Wicked and Vicious Death Conqueror

I saw no conscience in him in these visions. He was a plain animal with no strong expressions but his inner hardness of heart was very much apparent. Almost as if he could do anything, or hurt someone in the worst of ways, and yet be unaffected and not feel any remorse about it.
Though his expressions were plain, there were no godly qualities emanating from inside of him- only the chilling persona of a merciless psychopathic murderer though he was dressed modestly in a full-sleeved light sky blue shirt tucked inside pants.

9. Viraat Kohli's Lookalike Axes My Neck

Vision: I saw Virat Kohli move the an axe horizontally towards my neck from my left in a slow manner. He had a vicious expression and a protruded upper jaw that revealed his frontal teeth.

10. Death Conqueror's Reality

8. The Burning Smell

A few minutes back, I smelled something burning - resembling the burning of flesh. It made me think if the time of my burning was near.

11. The Lion with Red Eyes

1 Peter 5:8

New International Version

8 Be alert and of sober mind. Your enemy the devil prowls around like a roaring lion looking for someone to devour.

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=1%20Peter%205:8&version=NIV>

Vision: I saw the vision of a lion above me in a wide place dimly lit with sunlight. The lion's eyes were red and looked bloodthirsty as he attacked the prey below him by moving his head vertically in sharp discrete motions ripping out the prey.

12. When I Felt Like I Was Losing My Mind

It reminded me of the song, "Jo Pyaar Karta Hai, Pagal Ban Jaata Hai.. Pagal Ban Jaata Hai.."
"The one who loves, becomes unreasonable.. becomes unreasonable.."

When I was on my bed and was resting, nothing made sense to me. Because it seemed to me that I had been thinking in quite unreasonable terms lately. I saw myself suffering and the state of my heart. I was called to love Death Conqueror by God from the past revelations though I didn't like his actions at all, and some of the ways his mind thought. I didn't see any relief in sight. Every day was a burden though I wasn't doing anything much. I didn't see any real reason for me to continue with a love heart towards him because it didn't seem like a logically sound thing to do after all that I went through and was still going through. I looked at the right moral mindset and the right way that things should have been - which was not so. I looked at my previous mindset that was right and judged people according to their inner self and practiced boundaries accordingly. But now I had been put in the presence of emotionally abusive wicked bullies who had now started hurting me physically as well. It just didn't make any sense for me to allow them in my life. They were already living with a disgustingly corrupt way of thinking, and their behavior had started to affect my own thoughts now. I thought about a normal situation of being in love with a normal person, and I could've easily found one if I told my dad to start looking for a guy had this bully not stepped in and had God not promised Glory to me. That guy may not had been too rich, most probably would've been a middle-class person, and would definitely not be a rag-picker or a beggar as they keep pointing out, but at least I wouldn't be having this much pain in my life. I could've easily found a 'normal' person who is not a power-hungry politician, or who is not someone with vain attitude with half of his personality like that of a beast! I could've easily found someone who wouldn't be able to think, say or do the kind of things he did. I wouldn't have had to go through what I did, and face public shame and consistent pain for this long that I did. That other person could never have thought to insert alien things inside my skull, belly, or ovaries! My life would've been normal and I would've found happiness in little things like I always did and wouldn't be having spy cams around me.

Conscientious people like the company of conscientious ones. I didn't want to be a part of a morally challenged setting/environment. And why did I have to think about a guy at all or what he did? Previously I had the option to do the work that I like and stay content living in the right manner. But now since God made this promise, and told me to make changes, I have to think differently and accept unacceptable behavior. It just didn't make any sense to me. Why let someone in who 'chooses' people to show his unreasonable beast persona to. I can hurt others too. But it won't be in a bestial fit to take unreasonable revenge, but would be out of righteous anger aroused because of their wrong actions. If I were to take revenge on Death Conqueror, it would make sense and be justified! But what they did wasn't!

In that moment I felt like I was going crazy! Because the real things of value he had already stomped on, and now was expecting me to accept his world of unrighteous living! I never wanted the spoilt characterless rich around me or in my circle! But here I am, walking on steps that seem contrary to everything godly! I didn't want to be in such a setting!

I felt like I might have a mental breakdown soon and may actually need to be admitted to a rehabilitation center because of the continuous effect/hits of their targeted focus on my life! And then the part of the movie 'A Beautiful Mind' in which John Nash is admitted to a psychiatric hospital kept being highlighted to me. My middle brother's condition also kept getting highlighted to me in where he had now slowed down in some aspects of his reasoning and wasn't the same bright person that he previously was. I saw the resemblance of his life situation with mine.

And while I laid on my bed looking at my failing reasoning and structure of mind that now seemed vague, the song got highlighted in my Spirit.

I saw that I didn't really have to go through what I did just to get married which wasn't a priority for me in the first place. I could've found a much better person (in ways and character) through the ordinary way.

Why should I look at his heart or intentions? Did he care about my heart? He only tried to change my mind according to his own ungodly ways!

13. While Brushing Teeth

After closing to a mental breakdown, when I went to brush my teeth, I had this sudden feeling of being hunted down arise in my spirit followed by the vision of black featureless being coming after me – the black beings representing the wicked serpent race. I see these people everywhere as they demonstrate their lack of empathy by passing hurtful messages to me, messages that I don't really want to receive as they're only filled with threats mostly!

14. The Tower of Bable

Genesis 11:1-9

New International Version

The Tower of Babel

11 Now the whole world had one language and a common speech. 2 As people moved eastward,[a] they found a plain in Shinar[b] and settled there.

3 They said to each other, "Come, let's make bricks and bake them thoroughly." They used brick instead of stone, and tar for mortar. 4 Then they said, "Come, let us build ourselves a city, with a tower that reaches to the heavens, so that we may make a name for ourselves; otherwise we will be scattered over the face of the whole earth."

5 But the Lord came down to see the city and the tower the people were building. 6 The Lord said, "If as one people speaking the same language they have begun to do this, then nothing they plan to do will be impossible for them. 7 Come, let us go down and confuse their language so they will not understand each other."

8 So the Lord scattered them from there over all the earth, and they stopped building the city. 9 That is why it was called Babel[c]—because there the Lord confused the language of the whole world. From there the Lord scattered them over the face of the whole earth.

11. Man Tera Mandir

'Your heart is a temple'

Your heart is a temple
Eyes Diyaa and wick
Lips constitute the carrier plate
Words - flowers and leaves placed on it..

The lyrics are from a hindi worship song that describe how a certain Hindu Goddess is like. However, the words describe how 'we' are supposed to worship the Lord God. We're the temples of God and we praise and worship Him with our words and eyes lit with His love.

12. It's Almost As if I Don't Even Want The Promise Now

I want to do other things for God instead of getting married. I want Jesus More than I want the promise to come to fulfilment!

13. Past Revelations

13.1 The Lady With The Face of Karishma Kapoor

Vision (Sunday): A Fat Lady dressed in my Orange Butterfly to walks slowly towards me in the room, but she has a disproportionate small face of Karishma Kapoor on her head.

13.2 The Fat Face of Guruji

Vision (Past Week): The man who is usually called as Guruji and has a fat face looks at me with his hand held in the position of a salute.

Sometimes it's hard for me to believe that God chose a fool like me to do His job. But then 'He chooses the foolish things of the world to confound the wise.' I'm a fool in many ways.

14. ‘Heart’ with A Vertically Extended Cross in Place of 't'

The chorus of the Hindi song ‘Mujhe Kitna Pyaar Hai Tumse’ played in my spirit with the vision of its English translation (‘Oh How I Love You’) written in white on a black background being shown to me. But, then the vision focused and stopped at the letter 't' of heart which was written and extended upwards in the shape of a cross.

15. The Inner Eyes Blink

I laid in rest with my eyes closed on the bed when I saw an internal blink inside my already closed eyes causing momentary darkness in my view.

16. Heera To Pehli Hi Kisi Aur Ka Ho Chuka

'Diamond has already belonged to someone else now..'

The lyric is a part of the Hindi song 'Panna Ki Tamanna' ('The Desire of Emerald').

17. Apni Jagah Se Kaise Parvat Hil Jaaye

'How can a mountain move from its place..'
Irrespective of whether I lose my life or my heart..

The lyric is a part of the song 'Panna Ki Tamanna' ('The Desire of Emerald').

18. I Don't Belong With Them

Akhila and Death Conqueror are not the kind of people I want to be around. I want to be in the presence of people who carry the Godly Holy Spirit filled aura that was present in that church. Oh how glad I am that I have not been receiving more revelations about them. Especially Akhila. I recalled how mean she was behaving while talking on phone in that dream in which she left me behind and cycled herself away. And also how she said hurtful things together with her friend Shin for no reason in real life. She can't be in the presence of Godly people. The kind of things both talked about and said about me told me about their inner selves, and were not a representation of me.

I have already had enough hurtful revelations related to them which were hurtful to even look at again. I have found some relief lately.

I was thinking that he should go back to his own world, but then he would be lost in the world again. But again, it's up to him to take steps toward God. I don't want to enter into their world. It's just so deluded and illusionary, away from the reality of the Kingdom of God.

I don't belong with them. But they've to take steps towards God to be a part of His Kingdom.

Some of the revelations that I received related to them make my heart cringe, seeing that their minds can 'come up' with such wicked thoughts. That says how they're wired inside. ('Their brains are not worth eating.')

19. Timepass

Some people think that I am passing time. But I'm not. I'm moving ahead in my walk with God, though it may seem to them as if I'm passing time in vain. I don't want to do what they spend time doing either. At times people of God stayed at their respective places for long durations without really doing much but just spending their days waiting for god to move in their lives. World is a vain pass of time, not the time that's spent alone in an attempt to be separate from the world and be closer to God.

20. “Abhi Tak Ye Zinda Kaise Hai”

“How's she even alive until now”

21. Miglani Ma'am

She was our science teacher during middle school. She had a neck problem. Her neck always stayed bent to one side. She has been highlighted to me several times now.

21.1 Miglani Ma'am Rebukes

Once she signaled me to hook a student's application to the wall on top of other applications. I misunderstood her signal and threw it in the dustbin. She then told me what she had really asked me to do and asked me to pick the application up from the dustbin and put it up on the hook. The dustbin had only crumbled papers in it. I felt awkward picking something up from a dustbin, though it wasn't very dirty and only had dry waste, mostly papers in it. After standing beside her for a good amount of 5 minutes as she shuffled through other papers on her desk and waited for me to do the task, she herself took out the paper from the bin and hung it on the wall. But she rebuked me by saying that had a thick bundle of cash dropped in a drain, then not just me but even my dad would've picked it up. She said it with a righteous expression. I thought that what she said wasn't really true because I could've let the bundle go, or wouldn't have cared, though I didn't know about dad.

Nevertheless, it wasn't because I felt awkward about picking up that paper from the dustbin, but the people sitting in front of me were ready to say mean stuff after she had been gone. I looked at her, the dustbin, and then back at the front benchers (Mayank and his friends) - the students who liked to make fun of others. I could tell from their expressions that after the class, they would definitely be passing comments and making a scene, and that fear alone stopped me from obeying her.

24. In Case He Goes To Jail

I was thinking that if in case Death Conqueror got to go to jail because of what he did, then I could visit him on alternate days, and bring him home-cooked food and scripture as he would have a lot of time there to know God. Though it's not something that I strongly want for I would rather want him to repent and change his ways and I wouldn't be feeling too bad either in case God arranges things to judge him according to His righteous judgment which leads to him being in jail.

'The Letters That I Wrote To You'

The letters that I wrote to you
Those in your memory
Became a spectacular sight of a thousand colors..
When it was morning,
They became flowers..
When it was night,
They became stars..

The letters that I wrote to you..

26. Alif Laila: The Lady Invites The Fat Magician

This episode from the series has been highlighted to me several times.

Chakma wants to marry Jarnigaar but she doesn't like him. She puts a condition to Chakma's servant that if he eats her hand-cooked food and likes it, only then will she agree to marry him. Chakma is a voracious eater and eats a lot. When his servant intimates him of the condition, though at first he's offended because he thinks that his status is too high for him to meet a condition, when he gets to know the condition, he agrees happily. Chakma is an evil man in the series. Jarnigaar though had planned to poison Chakma'a food and kill him during the feast itself. However, he doesn't die because he had stored his life in a magical Roti that couldn't be torn by hands and chewed by the teeth of a common person.

27. 'There's A Boy In My Mind'

And he knows I'm thinking of him..
All my way to the day and the night, the stars shine above me
He's been gone for some time but I know, I truly love him
And I'm singing a song, hoping he'll be back when he hears it

My heart goes sha la la la la, sha la la in the morning
Sha la la la la, sha la la in the sunshine
Sha la la la la, sha la la in the evening
Sha la la la la, sha la la la la just for you

If your love's gone away just like mine you feel like crying
Sing along maybe once maybe twice, let's try it together
Some sweet day no one knows he'll return and you'll be happy
Shout it sweet in a song, listen to your heart it is singing

My heart goes sha la la la la, sha la la in the morning
Sha la la la la, sha la la in the sunshine
Sha la la la la, sha la la in the evening
Sha la la la la, sha la la la la just for you

My heart goes sha la la la la, sha la la in the morning
Sha la la la la, sha la la in the sunshine
Sha la la la la, sha la la in the evening
Sha la la la la, sha la la la la just for you
Sha la la la la just for you

29. 'Words'

Smile, an everlasting smile
A smile can bring you near to me
Don't ever let me find you gone
Cause that would bring a tear to me.

This world has lost it's glory
Let's start a brand new story
Now, my love
You think that I don't even mean
A single word I say...

It's only words,
And words are all I have
To take your heart away

Talk, in everlasting words
And dedicate them all, to me..
And I will give you all my life
I'm here if you should call to me..

You think that I don't even mean
A single word I say...

It's only words..
And words are all I have
To take your heart away

It's only words
And words are all I have
To take your heart away

Da da da da da da da
Da da da da da da da da
Da da da da da da da da
Da da da da da da da da

This world has lost it's glory
Let's start a brand new story
Now, my love

You think that I don't even mean
A single word I say...

It's only words
And words are all I have
To take your heart away

It's only words
And words are all I have
To take your heart away

It's only words

And words are all I have
To take your heart away..

32. I Step Into a Train

I was thinking about my previous vision of 'The Person In Sky-Blue & White' the side-view of a man in a white suit with icy structures embedded within, when I had this revelation. The man was exiting a door and it seemed that he was walking out into a train platform.

Vision: I step forward into a train looking down. I see that my toes are painted black and I am wearing my Roadster slip-ons consisting of a rough parrot green strap around the toes with a brown sole.

The Person In Sky-Blue & White: The reflected revelation of a person who went inside that room with its flesh cut in pieces and roasted - the icy structures embedded in the person's white suit.

33. My Whole Body Bursts

Out into pieces from the fire within.

The vision repeated itself a few times.

34. The Cremation of My Birth Mom

She died when she was pregnant. During her cremation, her baby embryo bursted out and threw itself out of the body.

35. He's a Cannibal

The beast part of Death Conqueror is a cannibal. When I was resting a while back, I had terrifying revelations.

I saw how they were lusting after actually 'eating' my flesh.

35.1 The Cannibalistic Queen Elizabeth

Vision: An old Queen Elizabeth crawls up on me from below with a demonic expression. I can tell that she wants to eat my flesh. They're so demonic! How did they hide themselves by far. Very very demonic. I wonder if we were to meet now, he has a set plan to capture me and eat me slowly within a period of a few days.

Recall: 'A Brown Cuboid Breast Bun' served on a plate (#4 on Page 100). It was a roasted bun of an intact breast.

That's how they plan to remove me from the face of the Earth!

Now it seems to me that the state of my heart and brain doesn't at all matter here. That it was never about love! Because I'm not a hateful person. Still, they treated me in such a manner! It's only about their hungry bellies! Why don't they find someone else who will go along with who they are? - Because they're the serpent race and by default slaughter the children of God.

Before tormenting me, they'll slaughter my tongue or make me dumb in some way.

He's a Cannibal. That's why certain scenes from the series Hannibal kept being highlighted to me.

35. Hannibal Cooks a Woman's Lungs

Ref: HANNIBAL COOKING LUNGS

What is a person like him doing out in the open!? He shouldn't have been born! Look at what he can do! He deserves to be put behind bars for having a brain like this! He doesn't deserve 'any' rights. He can kill a person who loves him and 'eat her'..? Though Jesus has called us to eat His flesh, it's symbolic of consuming His sacrifice made on the cross. He didn't tell His disciples to cut open His body and eat His flesh while He was alive. He told them to break bread in the memory of His sacrifice. Half of the mind of Death Conqueror is so diabolical. I don't want to want to have anything to do with him. I don't know why I wasn't shown this before! But I can do one more thing in place of hating him. I can pray for him. That's a godly way to deal with the situation.

There's a full-fledged beast inside of him and an angel as well. He's divided within so doomed to hell until he rejects the beast and reconciles with God by accepting His forgiveness through Christ and repenting.

I don't know if that day will come. Because they're constantly revolving around and through my brain as I can feel the concussions. And they do it knowingly and intentionally. It doesn't make me scared but with time I am seeing more of their true nature that was previously hidden get revealed!

They don't even see me as a human with emotional responses. They're conscientiously dysfunctional pieces of society who operate with a false add-on conscience program which is put on top very much like make-up on the face. Not real, but gives a fake realistic nice outward look, though the inner program is corrupted!

36. Rose Petals Fall On Me In The Dept

Vision: I saw a distant view of the middle of the corridor on the ground floor of the Physics Dept in which rose petals appeared out of nowhere in the space above and fell on my head.

I had this revelation many months back and it repeated itself a few times as well.

It seems to me a reflected revelation

I've understood now that my workplace (Physics Dept) is a place that is good for psychopaths and not Godly people!

Again, I said harsh words in the rev on the previous page because it disorients me for a while when I get to know some shocking truth about people, and it's after a while that I realize that it's a condition that can be gotten rid of and is not a permanent constitution of their being. That it's a trait learned over a period of time and can be unlearned by repeated binding and casting out of such thoughts from the mind in the name of Jesus.

I laid to rest in the evening when I had the following revelations:

37. Visions:

37.1 The Abhishek

Ramveer Sir of the admin office of my workplace consecrates my forehead between the eye brows in red.

37.2 The Forehead Slam

Ramveer Sir has a flat dark brown rock lifted in both his hands that he is about to slam my forehead with.

I kept getting the vision of having a burger with a Pepsi for the past half an hour.

When I was surfing through to assemble my combo, this song started playing in my Spirit:

1. 'Do Dil Mil Rahe Hai.. Magar Chupke Chupke..'

'Two hearts are communing, but stealthily

Two hearts are communing, but stealthily..

2. 'Meri Aashiqui'

'My Way of Loving'

The girl tells her lover that her dad had fixed her marriage somewhere else, and that she would be gone but for a while and return to him at the end. This was the part that was highlighted to me.

Throughout late 2022, I happened to think of Death Conqueror whenever I would listen to this song.
Recall: Vision 'Up' on Page 293

4. The Naked Walk

On my way back to my room after receiving my Burger order, after I exited the lift at my floor, I saw Death Conqueror walking at some distance ahead dressed in that white sweatshirt suit with his head covered with its hood. After a few minutes, when I was still having my communing burger, I now saw him remove his clothes backward like a cloak near my wardrobe behind me after which he kept following me at the back as I walked to and fro eating that burger along with drinking my Pepsi. He stayed behind my back the entire time and tried a half back hug a few time as well.

5. 'Hua Hai Aaj Pehli Baar'

It has happened for the first time

That I've smiled in such a manner..
After seeing you, I got to know
Why I came to this world..

With this life of mine,
I've come to live you..
Of making love with you -
I've taken permission from God.

I've taken permission from God.

Death Conqueror had value for me. I just didn't like his way and then I had to face the world after being stripped in front of those people. I hope someday he will understand how it is! Or perhaps it was a part of his plan! - to make me feel embarrassed or ashamed!

The above revelations were in tune with a certain specific person at the moment of when I received them which assured him that I indeed was connected to him through the Holy Spirit as it told me his heart state.

6. 'Mein Duniya Bhar Ki Tareefe Tere Sajde Mein Laya Hu'

'I've brought all the praises of the world in your worship.'

7. 'Hum Tere Bin Ab Reh Nhi Sakte'

'We/I can't live without you now..'

The Guy sings:
'We/I can't live without you now..'
My existence is meaningless without you..
If I get separated from you
Its equivalent to being separated from my own self..

Because you alone are..
Now you alone are..
My life... you alone are..

Rest too, my pain too,
(and) My love – you alone are..

We've to come to a place of the above heart condition in regards to Jesus, where we find rest in Him, and we embrace the pain that we face in the world because we know that we are not of the world.

8. Dream (Morning):

Towards the end of this dream, I saw my dad standing facing to the left with a person in front of him. There were a few others around him. He was manipulating an object in front of him, and it turned to fire. He then folded something ingeniously, and it too turned to a localized burning fire. The fire was burning in a huge closed shape floating horizontally in the air at the level of his head in front of him.

The Guy sings:
Why did your eye turn away from me...
Spare my sin if I've sinned...

Why did your eye turn away from me...
Spare my sin if I've sinned...

The Lady sings:
I had no specific intentions
Your sin itself became your punishment...

I had no specific intentions
Your sin itself became your punishment...

The Guy sings:
Though it's punishment,
At least I've received something today..
In punishment too, lies a string of love..

Though it's punishment,
At least I've received something today..
In punishment too, lies a string of love..

However love may come to an end now..
The first meeting has been manifested..

The Guy sings:
Why did your eye turn away from me...
Spare my sin if I've sinned...

The Lady sings:
I had no specific intentions
Your sin itself became your punishment…

The Lady sings:
Why're you so arrogantly bent on meeting (me)..
Why're you helplessly bent on flattering me..

Why're so arrogantly bent on meeting (me)..
Why're you helplessly bent on flattering me..

Where did you learn this habit of reconciling from..
What're you trying to teach me by vexing me..

The Guy sings:
Why did your eye turn away from me…
Spare my sin if I've sinned…

The Lady sings:
La... La.. La La.. La.. La La La La.. La….
La.. La La.. La.. La La La La.. La….
La La La La.. La….

The Guy sings:

How would I've reconciled with you..
How would I've brought you near me..

11. Brain Eaten

Vision (303, A-10, Morning): Glory completes eating my brain placed on a white plate with a knife and fork, as he sat naked on a wide table covered with an embroidered white cloth.

I went to pee and afterwards looked at my eyes in the mirror in the washroom. They were swollen and bulging out and hard to keep open. I didn't wash my face because I knew it will only give me a burning sensation and a headache instead of waking and freshening me up. I was around 7:30 in the morning. So I went back to bed to rest some more with closed eyes. The thought of having tea had kept recurring to me when I had woken up from sleep, but I kept ignoring it.

I then had a quick vision.

12. Tea At My Eyes

Vision (303, A-10, Morning): I saw just the eyes of the Pastor of the church I visited as he threw hot tea at my eyes with a serious expression.

13. Ye Hosla Kaise Jhuke

'This morale won't be downcast'

The Guy sings:

Chorus
This courage will not bow
This desire will not stop

If reaching the destination is difficult, it doesn't matter
If the horizon looks hazy, it doesn't matter
If my heart is lonely, it doesn't matter..

Stanza 1
If the road is laden with thorns,
I've to walk on it nevertheless..
If the evening hides the sun, but night has to eventually pass..

This season will change
Courage will show its colors
The morning will be here again..

Chorus
This courage will not bow
This desire will not stop..

This courage will not bow
This desire will not stop..

Stanza 2
If the favor of God is upon me
My sunny days will be spent under the shade..
I have this prayer laid in front of God
That I my journey's end hugs me..

Let my enthusiasm be amped a hundred times
Let the confession of love be at its highest Let all the loved ones live

This courage will not bow
This desire will not stop

This courage will not bow
This desire will not stop

This courage will not bow
This desire will not stop

13. 'Isne Sabko Rula Diya'

'(S)he made everyone cry/weep' (Heard in the Spirit)

Few days back, I was on the road of Shyaam Chaat Bhandar on my way to PG, when I heard this phrase repeated in my Spirit.

While resting:

14. Revelations

14.1 White & Beige

The beautiful woman with middle-partitioned blonde hair tied low at the back from the song 'Rahegi Sada Yaha..' dressed in clothes similar to the song looks at the face of a man (with a naked upper body) below her with her upper body raised a bit as she holds his face with her hands.

14.2 Grooming KA's eyebrows

The stubbled face of KA with his well-groomed eyebrows being repeatedly swabbed outwardly with a wet cotton swab.

14.3 The Lady in Green

A distant vision of a lady in a green V-neck dress with her left breast out of the dress.

When I woke up

14.4 The Scent of Ganda Nala

I had a strong smell of 'Ganda Nala' in my nose. It continued for a while.

Followed by

14.5 The Scent of Mushrooms

14.6 Vision of Chole Rice

And then I saw yellow chole over rice, which I had seen before falling asleep as well. The ones I ordered weren't yellow and as thin in consistency, but I had them nevertheless. I have eaten during the past days.

1. 'Bin Kahe Bin Sune'

'Without speaking, without listening'

The Guy Sings:
Let there be a dark night.. let there be the company of silence..
Without speaking, without listening
Let there be a wordy exchange between us..

When sleep is missing.. let go of the sadness..
In the guilt of dreams, let the night of yours and mine fall..

Like a piece of sweet, looks the half moon
Taste it Slowly-Slowly...
To make each other laugh and cry, is what the promise holds..
Ogle at it cautiously..

These moments that are.. in the flowing river of these moments.. yeah,
Let me get wet.. yeah, Let me get wet..
These eyes that are.. the innocent silent language of eyes.. yeah,
Let me learn.. yeah, Let me learn..

An unspoken conversation.. an unheard guest..
Without speaking.. without listening..
We have had our wordy exchange..

Let there be a dark night.. let there be the company of silence..
Without speaking, without listening
Let there be a wordy exchange between us..

2. My Mom Understood

She indirectly once said to me, “Love has no language.” She saw that some people were staying upstairs and she understood that they were trying to communicate. She then one day told me to fetch the newspaper from downstairs in a serious tone. She didn’t ask me to get the newspaper per se but was sending me to meet ‘someone’. I understood by the way she asked me in a low tone with eyes bent..

I neither found the newspaper, nor the person. When I returned to our apartment and told her that there was no newspaper, she said lowly that I had returned too quickly.

3. He Will Easily Find Someone Better

After writing about how I didn’t have to go through all that I did to get married for things could’ve been progressed in an ordinary way, and how I could’ve easily found a suitable person if I had asked my parents to look for a guy, I happened to be thinking that even Death Conqueror would easily find a better girl who looks like Aishwarya Rai, is slim and fair with long hair and without a monkey jaw, and is clever in the worldly sense. One only stays stuck in two cases - when either it’s about love or it’s about ego. I stood at my place because I believed (and still do) in sharing a love bond that closed perfection. Because what Death Conqueror did wasn’t how someone who loved me was supposed to behave. But he tried to hurt my ‘sense of self’ to get his way.

4. My Memories Don’t Fade

And they keep popping up.
That’s why I have strong boundaries.

5. My Heavy Head and Ears

The concussions in my brain continue and my head and ears usually feel too heavy.

6. The Loud Thud on The 7th Floor

When I was at home in Omaxe back during 2020, and Death Conqueror was around too as he roamed on the floor above, I once heard a very loud thud on the floor above as if something heavy was thrown on it. It left vibrations emanating from that place outwards to the entire ceiling of the room. The event keeps getting highlighted to me.

He behaved in a manner highlighted in Dushman movie even then (back in 2020). Dushman killed the short-haired girl by slamming her head on the day she was icing a birthday cake.

7. The Man Outside PG In a Black Mask

When I went outside to fetch the exchanged order of the combo pack of a scripture bottle and t-shirt of Matthew 4:19, I happened to look to my right side in the direction of my previous PG and saw a man in a white car driving in my direction. He was wearing a black mask and seemed to be having a slight smile on his face. He reminded me of the vision of a white bird with a black beak trapped in a dark place. The sight of that man keeps getting highlighted to me.

I'll pray for a while now before sleeping. I will pray for all the people God brought into my life.

~4:30

I could sleep but for a while. I woke up around 4-4:30. It seemed to be an awakening caused by the Spirit. I heard the chorus of the song 'Taal Se Taal Mila' ('Match your claps/steps together') clearly in my Spirit, followed by some lyrics of the song 'Kyon' from the movie Barfi.

8. Songs In My Spirit

8.1 Taal Se Taal Mila

The 3 ladies sing together:

Dil ye Bechain Ve	This heart is restless..
Raste Benain Ve	Paths are sightless
Zindadi Behaal Hai	Life is in shackles
Sur Hai Naa Taal Hai	Devoid of melody and synchrony..
Aaja Sawariya.. Aa, Aa, Aa, Aa…	Come Beloved.. Come, Come, Come, Come….
Taal Se Taal Mila..	And synchronize your claps/steps with mine..
Taal Se Taal Mila..	And synchronize your claps/steps with mine..
Taal Se Taal Mila..	And synchronize your claps/steps with mine..
Taal Se Taal Mila..	And synchronize your claps/steps with mine..

Ref: Taal Se Taal Mila | A.R Rahman | Alka Yagnik | Udit Narayan | Taal (1999)

8.2 'Kyon'

'Why'

I've written only those lyrics that were playing in my Spirit and the ones that were highlighted..

The Guy sings:
Why don't you & I
Walk on the zig-zaggy paths barefoot..
Let's Wander insanely..

Why don't you & I
Wander high-headedly on paths unknown..
Let's wander insanely..

In these twinkling eyes..
In these sparkling postures..
What thoughts are hidden..

Why do we meet at all streets..
What kind of melody it is..
Good or bad – what kind of omen it is..
Tell (me) where your village is..
Go along without much thought..

Listen.. life jingles..
See! Life calls us..
Do what you have to today..
Don't postpone it foolishly..

Why don't you & I walk being high-headed with life
Come.. Let's wander insanely..

Why don't we find a relieving shade in the garden..
Let's wander a bit..

In these humming deep spaces..
In these flowing winds..
What're you gazing at so focusedly..

What condition you're in.. you insane person..

9. The Dead Head Covered With Blood

Vision: I also kept seeing the dead head of Devdas as shown below from the movie. But in my vision, it was fully covered with blood.

Ref: Devdas DIED without Meeting Paro - Aishwarya Rai Bachchan, Shahrukh Khan | Devdas Movie Scene

Because the vision kept being repeatedly shown to me, I started praying life over him. I had seen enough videos by now and understood what praying 'life' over someone meant. It meant praying for them to be out of the situation that was killing them. Though I know that he or his gang can never even think of praying life over me because they themselves have been putting me through this situation that has been killing me internally – I just realized this, but not in the morning when I was praying. But that's also how God has called us to be as His children. No.. When I look back, I can recall the presence of medical support vans. Now I don't know if they were real but I kept coming across them whenever I went out with my colleagues to go to the canteen. It's only natural to pray for someone God shows something bad to you about. Since I already knew about his beast half of personality, he was also more prone to get demonic/ungodly thoughts being whispered in his ears. So I prayed not just 'life' over him but also protection from demons or unfavorable circumstances. Now I know that if God choose to judge people in some way – personal or judicial, then our prayers don't amount to much if those people don't repent. But I kept him in prayers because some past revelations kept getting repeated in my Spirit. The phrase 'Vo Mar Jayega' ('He'll die') that I had heard after receiving the dance revelation with Ayushman kept getting repeated in my Spirit. After a while, I started praying lightly in tongues.

If that dead person's me, I accept that too because I know that I'm loved by Jesus and He cares about me. He is 'just', meek and humble.

9.1 Devdas Hits My Head With a Stone

After a while, I had another vision in which a clean Devdaas now stood on his foot to the left of my head under an open sky as he threw a stone of the size of a fist of a child at my head with much force.

I went back to sleep after praying above. I had further dream-visions when I was half asleep.

10. My Granny In White

Vision (Past week/few days): My Naani (birth mom's mother) in an embroidered white tunic with her head covered with its white drape. She stands and looks at me.

I haven't met or talked to her for long.

11. Visions

11.1 The Thick Column of Pages

A very thick column (around 15cms in height) of the pages of this book of revelations lying on the desk of the HOD of my dept (of Physics & Astrophysics, DU).

11.2 The Firey Goal

Team Evil gives a firey kick followed by the vision of Mui slowly hitting the goal net horizontally in mid-air being pushed by the ball in front still being on fire. But as soon as she hits the net, the fire extinguishes.

11.3 Vicky Kaushal's Head Loaded With Newspapers

I saw the Masaan movie's actor standing as a load of newspapers on his head rose in height quickly in discrete increments.

11.4 Akshay Kumar, The Pages and The Cut in The Middle

I saw the Bollywood Actor picking up a 5-6 cms thick bundle of A4-sized printed sheets from a table as he looks at me watching him from my lying position on bed. As soon as he picks it up and turns away to leave, a cut running vertically down through the center of my lower belly reaches the end of the surface of my groin from between the outer lobes, the cut passing vertically straight through the middle.

11.5 Tiny Brown Puppies Rush Towards a Dog

I saw around 7-8 tiny dark and light brown puppies get released from a barred cage and rush to a dog's belly lying on the floor in front of them. Perhaps it wasn't a dog but a b*tch. It wasn't clear.

12. Dream:

The Chat With Adele & Candace

I was talking with Adele and Candace on a video call. Both were dressed in their Bold Existence black attire of black polo t-shirts with a bit of white print as I looked at them in front of me. Adele asked me what it was that I wanted to ask or talk about with her. I first turned on my video and saw that it was my face itself that was visible in the video call's screen instead of theirs, and moreover, I looked different. I had a chubby face and shorter hair resembling a veg cut done on straight hair and wore a white polo t-shirt. I said that I would first pray over what I was going to tell them so that I don't leave out any information. I realized that it was Adele's pattern of giving out a word wherein she first prayed over the word before saying it out. After praying on I was going to speak, I now started sharing my situation with them, but this time both were actually present inside my PG's room. I told Adele that I had been receiving revelations and writing them out - that some had already come to pass, some were shadow revelations that represented a reflected reality, while others represented a different form of the same situation (or a different sum of the same total), and that I had been doing this for long.

After listening to me, she told me something. We talked for a while longer when I realized that I had already forgotten what she had told me. So I asked her to repeat that.

She then gave me a comforting hug. I then lay on my bed covered with my sheet, and she too laid on top of me on that sheet itself. We stayed as such for a while with her head on one side of my head. We weren't moving but it was warm and comforting and I was vibrating a bit. She got up after a while, but I told her to lie down again which she did. It was good and comforting.

The Wicked Fake Doppelganger

I then moved out of the room and walked out into an area that didn't resemble my PG and on further walking to the left, I came across a room on my left-hand side and entered it. I found Adele there again. But she didn't look like Adele but resembled my ex-roommate Akhila. She wore a sky blue long tunic over narrow trousers. I laid on the bed there again. Perhaps I wasn't well and needed rest. I was lying on the right end of the bed so my right hand was near the end too. I saw that girl who claimed to be Adele walk up to my right with her tunic raised up by a great amount revealing her wheatish flat belly and her curves below as she stood facing to the right in front of a table acting like she was busy doing something. I saw that her dress had a golden border stitched to it and she had a golden waistband wrapped around her lower belly. I felt repulsed by her and didn't like her cheap act at all. I knew that though she was claiming to be Adele, she wasn't. I didn't tell her though that I knew that she wasn't Adele. Adele would never have done such a thing like her. She is a Godly person who follows Jesus. I got up from my place and walked out of the room and now was on what resembled the side soil lane of the highway opposite to my home's society Omaxe City in Sonipat. I saw a bus parked there facing to the right. It was filled with people who seemed to be belonging to a city or a suburban area. I walked to the right and saw another bus which too had people in it. I saw a girl dressed in brown with her hair tied at mid-level at the back sitting on the seat next to the door.

I passed by the buses, took a right turn, and was back to the place I was moving in previously.

The Locked Door

I walked up to the door behind which laid the room I had first exited. But I found out that the door had been locked after I was out. I attributed it to Death Conqueror. Though the door was locked, I found a rectangular window above through which I could crawl in with some effort. But I chose to enter via the door as I took out my copy of the key to unlock it. I was still rotating my key in the lock's hole when the dream ended.

Notes in Red & Green

I then had a lined register with light sky-blue lines open in front of me with words written in red and green ink. I shuffled back through the pages and found what seemed like poems with lines written in red and green alternately in a huge cursive handwriting. The handwriting was huge and right cursive. It seemed that t I came back to the current page and saw the name 'Nivedita' (my Supervisor's name) written in a small font on the top right corner of the right page of the register. There was something else written around it too. To the name's left was a horizontal 'U' shaped arrow that pointed to it. My attention kept going to that corner of the blank page repeatedly when the dream ended.

13. My New Greyish Black Jeans

It has a problem with its zip which keeps getting split open from the middle under the outward pressure exerted by my belly. The Jeans and the zip reminded me of the 'Nearby' vision. Now things come together at their own time. So I will only write what goes on and what I see.

14. Scattered Red Pieces In The Physics Dept's MSB's Corridor

Vision: I saw red cubical spongy pieces of varying dimension of something scattered in the corridor space to the slight left of Prof TRS's room on the 2nd floor of the Multi Storey Building of the Physics Dept as a hand got down to pick a piece up. It seemed to be a burst watermelon though there were no black seeds seen.

15. Past Revelations:

15.1 Recall: A Swinging Fat Baby In Woollen Clothes (#25 on Page 430)

The revelation of a lady vertically swinging an overdressed baby in woollen clothes. It's a reflected revelation of a killer brutally swinging his weapon repeatedly on his target below.

15.2 Green Light Vision: Jesus placed my head carefully on a hospital bed with green light around before it would face severe blows, after which He stood still and let me eat His flesh symbolizing healing.

A green light was given to the passenger train in the recent Odisha train accident, after which its head collided with a stationary goods train. The way to heal is to remember Jesus and commune with Him. Additionally, in yet another dream-vision, I was told that Death Conqueror had 'green light' in him.

Ref: Odisha train accident: Officials give clean chit to driver, say rail received green signal, was not over-speeding (dnaindia.com)

"We had spoken with the driver and he confirmed that the signal was green. Our staff is dedicated and works with dedication. He neither had passed when the signal was red nor was overspeeding. The driver sustained severe injuries and he said that the signal was green," said Sinha in New Delhi. According to Sinha, the data record (a sealed record which is part of the investigation) also suggests that the signal was green.

15.3 Hollow Cylindrical Pipes
(Past few days) The end-view of a group of 8-10 thin hollow steel cylindrical pipes put together in the shape of a cylinder.

15.4 The Gnashing Lion
A lion gnashing at the center of my chest at the open space between my breasts, to rip away my heart, followed by it jumping at me from a distance and putting my head inside its mouth to severe it.

16:37

Earlier during the day, I was reminded of the vision in which I saw the huge foot of Jesus as he walked on a glass surface above. It had resembled the scene from the song ' Tha Kar Ke' (With a Bang). When I recalled the vision, the song's chorus lyrics that were previously highlighted to me got highlighted to me again. The lyrics warn the other person to 'get out of the way' and 'not mess' or else it would lead to unfavorable situations.

My MRI appointment was scheduled for 3 pm at Sewa Bharati Diagnostic Center (Ashok Vihar) but when I reached there they told me that they entertained patients on a 'first come, first serve' basis and there were already enough number of MRI clients waiting. So, they told me to come earlier the next day to get an early slot.

After returning from the centre, I saw

15.5 Glory Says 'Bye'

Vision: The naked half of upper half of Glory as he says, "Bye" looking at me. The vision repeated itself several times.

15.6 The Bride Plucks Out Eyes

Paras Patel had eyes resembling the Crazy 88 that fought The Bride in the vision 'Paras Patel With Bazigar Eyes' (#20 on Page 432).

15.8 Ho Radhe Radhe Radhe, Barsaane Waale Radhe
The chorus song lyric.

16. Dream (Middle School):

It was a painful dream in which I was in the junior wing of my school evading evil forces. When I went to its playground, I saw that my parents were being inserted into a grinding machine on one end and from the other end came out noodles of flesh. I was crying looking at the scene and was frozen and found it difficult to move to stop the process.

17. Diamond Heart

The Song Lyrics:
If I had a diamond heart, oh-oh
I'd give you all my love, if I was unbreakable
If I had a diamond heart, oh-oh
You could shoot me with a gun of gold, if I was unbreakable..

18. 'Na Tum Jano Na Hum'

'Neither you know nor I..'

Kyon Chalti Hai Pawan	Why do winds blow..
Kyon Jhume Hai Gagan	Why does the sky dance..
Kyon Machalta Hai Mann	Why does the heart become restless..
Na Tum Jano Na Hum	Neither you know nor I..
Na Tum Jano Na Hum	Neither you know nor I..
Kyon Aati Hai Bahaar	Why does spring come..
Kyon Lut ta Hai Karaar	Why do we lose our peace and rest..
Kyon Hota Hai Pyaar	Why do people love..

19. Ye To Sach Hai Ke Bhagwaan Hai

'Though it's true that God exists'

Yeh To Sach Hai Ki Bhagwan Hai	Though it's true that God exists
Hai Magar Phir Bhi Anjaan Hai	He is but isn't known to everybody
Dharti Pe Roop Maa Baap Ka	On Earth, the role of parents
Us Vidhaata Ki Pehchaan Hai	is a signifier of that God.

I've been hearing this song in my spirit for the past few days.

21. Axe on Jaw

Vision: I'm lying down on bed when Dushman hits an axe from above on my slightly open mouth and severs it.

21:57

I was missing Jesus for I felt that I hadn't been focusing on Him for the past days as I spent my busy days typing out the revelations I received and thinking about the various ways I had been hurt. I forgot to be in close communion with Him which I again want to be now.

22. Visions:

22.1 Prem Chopra Walks On Clouds

A young Prem Chopra dressed in a yellow suit with hair partitioned to the right walks to the right on clouds amidst hazy yellowish sun-lit hue surrounding them.

22.2 RS in a Metallic Yellow & Black Suit

Ranveer Singh in a thick Yellow & Black Metallic suit as he stands on the left side of the vision with his yellow & black helmet held in his hand. He has his usual beard and long straight and smooth hair flowing backwards a bit due to the wind currents. The background is well-lit in yellow light.

22.3 RS in Black & White

RS standing facing to the left in a black suit with his left leg placed bent and placed on a surface ahead as he gently rubs his left thigh.

1. Let The Skyfall

'So put your hand in my hand and we'll stand..' – This lyric has been being highlighted to me for the past hour.

The Lady sings:
Let the sky fall.. When it crumbles..
We'll stand tall.. Face it all, together
Let the sky fall.. When it crumbles..
We'll stand tall.. Face it all, together..
At sky fall..

Where you go, I go..
What you see, I see..
I know I'll never be, without your security..
Oh your loving arms..
Keeping me from harm..
So put your hand in my hand, and we'll stand..

Ref: Adele - Skyfall (Official Lyric Video) - YouTube
And the vision in which I held Jesus' hand tightly was also highlighted to me. So I guess something bad is on the way because He put my head very carefully on the bed with green light around followed by my communion with him and severe beating.

2. 'Thodi Khushiya, Hai Thode Se Ye Pal'

'Things of happiness are few, these moments of happiness are few..'

'Hasle, Gaale.. Ye Din Na Milenge Kal
Thodi Khushiya.. Hai Thode Se Ye Pal
Ek Baar Chali Gayi Jo Ye Bahare
Laut Ke Na Ayengi Guzari Bahare
Mela Baharo Ka Ata Hai
Ek Baar Ake Chala Jata Hai
Mela Dilon Ka Ata Hai
Ek Baar Ake Chala Jata Hai'

Ref: Mela Dilon Ka - Grand Finale (Mela) - YouTube

Who else other than the bullies is going to inflict such a pain on me that I will have to hold Jesus' hand throughout my torment as the sky falls..? No matter how my heart state is, I always end up hearing something evil and wicked coming from them.

3. Mein Duniya Bhulaa Dunga Teri Chahat Mein

'I will forget the world in your desire..'

The tagline of the song has been playing in my Spirit since yesterday.

Ref: Main Duniya Bhula Dunga | 💙 90s Jhankar 💙 | Aashiqui | Rahul Roy, Anu Agrawal | Kumar Sanu

And the song lyric below plays at least once every day.

4. 'Bure Bure Hum Hum Hum Shaitan, Jara Jara Bachna Re Hamse'

'We're very much wicked and devilish, beware of us!'

Ref: bure bure hum-Bluffmaster -HD-.MP4 - YouTube.mp4

Then why're they running after someone who wants to be with God if they prefer devil and his ways. If they are pursuing someone who wants God, they've to come across as Godly and adopt the ways of God, not of devil.

The shepherd of the sheep enters through the door, while the thief jumps through a small space or an open window. That's what the end of yesterday's dream told. I was opening the door to enter in instead of choosing to crawl in through the rectangular window which would have been wicked.

Like an ice cream melts quickly in a hot environment and needs refrigeration, godly traits are needed to sustain a godly person and to have a reciprocative and fulfilling bond with him/her.

They behaved like devil, like a thief, they climbed up from the window instead of walking in through the door like the true shepherd of the sheep whom the sheep doesn't fear as he really cares for them. But they tried to instil fear in me by their threats instead of correcting themselves and their ways. If Death Conqueror had chosen the right way, wouldn't he have found success. How many times have I written this previously. If I was to keep a check on my diet and workout consistently, won't I attain the goal of a falt belly? But it doesn't happen because I don't do the needful. The same holds for them. They choose the ways of devil to work with a godly person. It's no use.

5. 'Deewana Kar Rha Hai Tera Roop Sunehra..'

'Your golden form is making me crazy in love..'

Ref: Deewana kar Raha Hai Raaz 3 Video Song | Emraan Hashmi, Esha Gupta

6:27
6. The sound In My Right Brain's Side

I heard the sound of something being released from under pressure inside the right side of my brain.

7. 'VENGEANCE'

Vision (303, A-10, Morning): In a dark background, I saw a circular newspaper clip move towards me with the words being read vertically upwards - a huge heading/word to the left while the content to the right. The visible right end of the huge bold word within the circle read '..VENGEANCE' .

It also reminded me of the vision in which I had seen beautiful Jesus in armor ready with a sword as he looked at me with a smile. He's going to take vengeance on the serpent race! In that vision, he had his usual neck-length straight hair with a light beard on his face. That's also His usual look in all the previous visions.

The 'V' that He showed me back in room D4 of A-16 also stands for Vengeance. It can represent person-specific vengeance, or it could be the vengeance taken over the entire serpent race at the end. But God is the Judge and He avenges. I felt His immense love again, yesterday, after I realized how much I had been grieving but had let Jesus slip in hindsight when He is the one true love of my life who calls people to Him by name and doesn't play games.

These specific statements made by my ex-roommate have been being highlighted to me for more than a week now.

8. "He's Not 20 - 30"

She said this referring to Death Conqueror that how he's not a 20-30 Rs person who spends 20-30 Rs (on eatables..?) It didn't make any sense to me. Because I wouldn't make such a statement about another person behind their backs. Clearly, they had been back biting. They've many negative traits that go together. Instead of looking at their filthy inner self, they make cheap statements that reflect their character.

9. "Now the Username Makes Sense"

This was also highlighted to me. It was said by her to me indirectly as she was talking over phone. She said it in regards to the name of DC - that how it was making sense to me now while also making the point that he had assumed the role of a user in 'my' life! Oh how I am glad I am not with her anymore, or else I would be having more junk from their mind and mouth stored in my head which would have kept popping up and hurting me!

He may not be 20-30, but what he did was worth 0.0000----------2+- 0.0000----------1 Rs!

I just keep oscillating in my views of him looking at his actions and also how I'm talked about with my ex-roommate. I don't want to have anything to do with them! He will never be able to talk in such a manner about someone with me! Yesterday when I felt closer to Jesus again, I felt a 'huge' amount of stink emanating from Death Conqueror and his gang again!

They stink and their way of thinking makes me nauseous.

Both are murderous at heart and repulsive. But Akhila especially had a vain attitude emanating from her reflected in her hurtful comments made about me and the things she gossiped behind my back is unknown to me.

I didn't want to have bad thoughts in my mind but they behaved in such a manner. That's also a huge part of the reason I want to stay away because he is going to make me miserable by his words.

10. 'Mein Aag Dil Mein Lagaa Dunga Vo'

'I will set such a fire in (your) heart'
The Guy sings:
Sweetheart of mine, how long will you keep paining me..?
I will set such a fire in (your) heart..
That you'll melt in a moment..

The chorus of this song played often in my Spirit in A-16. And now I understand what it meant. It was referring to his drones putting my heart on actual fire!

Ref: Dilbar Mere Kab Tak Mujhe | Kishore Kumar |Satte Pe Satta 1982 Songs | Amitabh Bachchan, Hema Malini - YouTube

I've mostly received threats by far in the Spirit.
Though there have been good revelations as well, but the negative ones are playing out in my real life as of now as my brain gets 'stoned' internally.

This next song played in conjunction with the above song.

10. 'You Break My Heart Like A Toy.'

Ref: Khilona Jaan Kar Tum Toh - Mohammad Rafi Sad Song - Laxmikant Pyarelal Hit Songs - YouTube

11. 'I LOVE YOU...'

This kept playing in my Spirit one day when I was on roof back in A-16. The chorus of this song played in my Spirit in A-16 as well. I was in a mixed state of emotions back then. One has to bend the state of the other person to one side by one's behavior and actions.

The Guy sings:
My Beautiful Lady,
My desire..
My love is not false..
Being a lunatic in love, I made a mistake..
Let it go... pal..

I LOVE YOU...
I LOVE YOU...

Ref: MERI SONI MERI TAMMANA - ASHA BHOSLE & KISHORE KUMAR

12. Kaun Hai Jo Sapno Mein Aya

'Who is it that came in my dreams'

Who is it that came in (my) dreams..
Who is it that filled (my) heart..
See, the sky too has now bowed,
(and) My love came to fruition/colors..

Oh Beloved.....
Oh Beloved.....

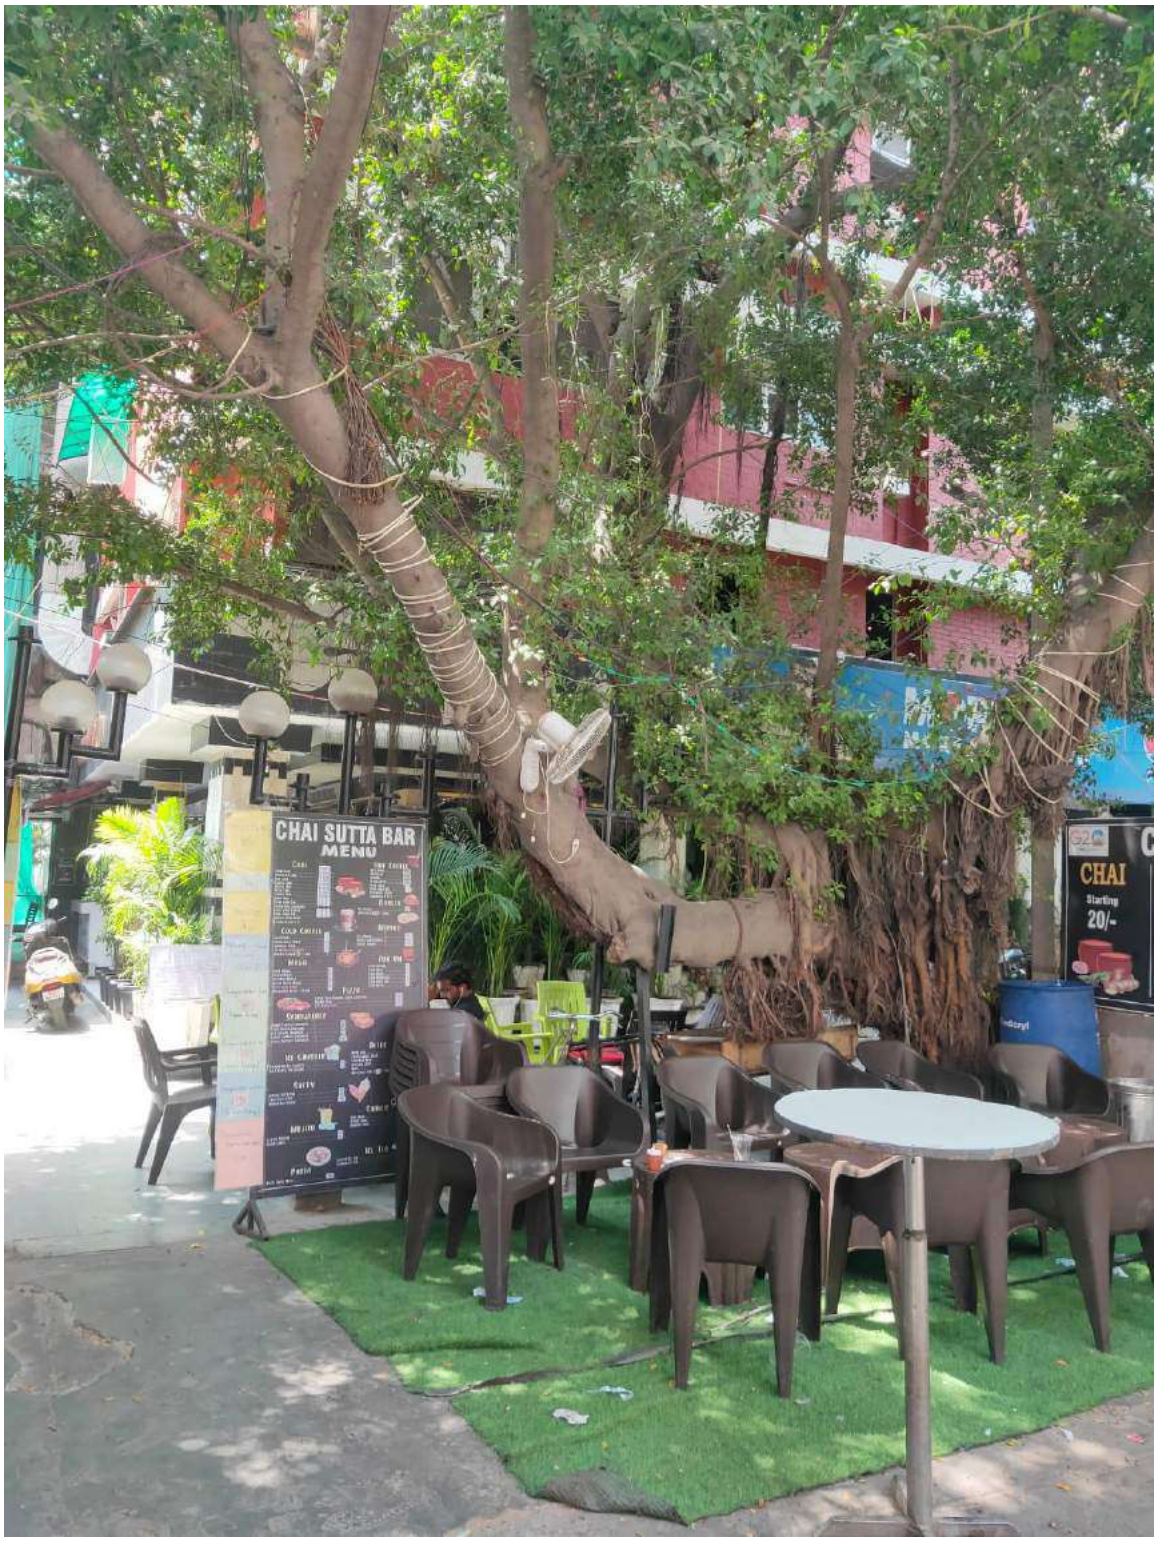
13. The Day With Jema - Got The MRI Done

We reached the Diagnostic centre around 10:30 am. After billing, I was given the time of about 4 pm for the scan. We waited at first for some time, then went downstairs to have food. Right afterwards we went out to have tea outside. While we were sitting in front of the Chai Sutta Bar, two wicked men came walking, one of whom indirectly said that the other end of the street behind us was a good place to shoot at someone. The men were puppets and repulsive.



The cold coffee seemed like a chocolate shake and didn't serve the purpose, but we had it. I got a roll as well and had slightly more than half of it and gave the rest to Jema. She was looking cute because of her hairstyle and dressing sense (red polo t-shirt over blue Jeans). I saw two Pepsi posters of RS to my left. On our walk back to the center, I casually said to Jema how out of all Ads, doing a cold drink ad was the one that would get your photo up everywhere. After returning to the center, we decided to pass the time by watching a movie on her phone. I suggested her 'The Da Vinci Code' because God had once asked Jonathan to sit and watch it with Him, which was just so awesome. Awesome because God would ask His servant/friend to watch a movie with Him. I kept falling asleep in between because I hadn't been able to sleep well for some days as I would be woken up after a dream revelation by the Holy Spirit and often, I would have a heavy head. It also highlighted to me the revelation in which Paras Patel woke up from sleep at night and the trunk kept hitting his head repeatedly. I had understood now why I was given that revelation. Anyway. A girl was brought in by her relative meanwhile. She was having stomach ache and was mal-nutritioned with the shape of her bones clearly visible through her flesh. I noticed them still waiting after more than an hour had passed. Therefore, I asked the guy if they were waiting for their turn which he affirmed to. Looking at her made me think of the vision of an empty hospital room and I thought if that day was on its way to be an actual part of my life events. I so wanted that specific vision to come to life, as it would glorify God and make people turn back to Him. I was a few things at the time - if I had fallen too short, or if I would be dead before it comes to pass. I was waiting for Jema to be back from washroom as we had to go out to have tea. It was now about 13:45 and the desk – guy had told me that I could be called around 14:30. So we decided to use that interval as a tea break.

When I laid on the MRI machine, I explained to the operating girl all that I had been going through for some time and how I would often have a heavy head and blurry vision. I told her that I could be having metal objects (the spy drones) in my brain that were causing these problems.

When she had begun the procedure, the machine started making sounds and I saw the following vision:

13.1 'X' Glowing in Fire

Vision: When I had just entered the MRI machine, I saw the vision of an 'X' glowing in fire in a dark background.

I could feel the concussions in my brain even during the MRI. It didn't take as long as I was told and we were free by around 15:30. We took the metro home.

14. Word By Adele – 'How To Get Unstuck'

God said: "My children, some of you are feeling stuck. You seem to repeat the same old cycles in your life over and over again. You repeat the same mistakes and feel like you are not going anywhere. You feel like you keep going in circles, going around the same mountains. This has exhausted you and wearied you. You long for something new and different but feel like it is unreachable due to the repetitive cycles you are experiencing. You cry out to Me for change, and I have heard you and I have seen you. So, I have brought you insights, wisdom, direction, and strategies.

Sometimes through words of others and sometimes directly from My Spirit to yours. I have highlighted and made these strategies known to you, time and time again. Some of these strategies and insights have required you to make some changes and implementations in your life. Some of these have required a heart change. Some a mindset change. Others a new discipline to start implementing. Others require a sacrifice you have to make. And some a greater laying down of your life.

Have you implemented the things I have made known to you? Not yet. Some of you who feel this way, took some steps forward but then quickly defaulted back to your old ways, when it became too burdensome on your flesh to continue in the new way. You see, it is very easy to give up and give in when changes that are needed require effort and work. I work with you and in you, but some changes require you to do your part. Some things I will do automatically in your life to get you unstuck. Others, I require your obedience and willingness to partner with Me for change to occur.
Do you remember how My children the Israelites received words from My servant Moses' mouth, instructing them and guiding them to implement a heart change? Did they respond? They did when I disciplined them, but they quickly defaulted back to their stubbornness, murmuring and complaining. They failed to implement the necessary heart and mindset changes. As it was too comfortable for them to remain in their flesh, rather than making the necessary heart and mind adjustments required.

What happened to them? Did I not in the end gave them over to their stubborn ways and have them die in the desert after 40 years of wildering in the desert? If they had but heeded when I spoke to them through My servant Moses, that generation would have entered into the promised land. But as it were, their children entered instead. I am gracious and compassionate, but you have to do your part. Meet Me halfway by pushing past your flesh. Making the necessary implementations and adjustments and you will see how My Spirit continues to strengthen you on the correct pathway. Helping you to get unstuck. And out of your repetitive cycles.

You are not in this alone. I am with you but do your part. If you keep defaulting to what seems to be easy and more comfortable to your flesh, you will continue to see the same results and outcomes. A life fully surrendered and yielded to Me produces much fruit. If you find yourself fruitless due to these repetitive cycles, ask yourself "Is it not time for a change?". Go back and examine the strategies, insights, and words of wisdom I brought to you personally and through My willing vessels. You will do well by starting to make decisions in those directions."

Here are the scriptures the Lord gave me for this word:

2 Timothy 1:7, Galatians 5:24, 1 Timothy 6:6, Proverbs 19:20, Proverbs 15:22, James 1:22-25, Matthew 7:24

Be blessed 😊

By Adele Grobler

2 Timothy 1:7 (New International Version)
For the Spirit God gave us does not make us timid, but gives us power, love and self-discipline.

Galatians 5:24 (New International Version)
Those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified the flesh with its passions and desires.

1 Timothy 6:6 (New International Version)
But godliness with contentment is great gain.

Proverbs 19:20 (New International Version)
Listen to advice and accept discipline, and at the end you will be counted among the wise.

Proverbs 15:22 (New International Version)
Plans fail for lack of counsel, but with many advisers they succeed.

James 1:22-25 (New International Version)
22 Do not merely listen to the word, and so deceive yourselves. Do what it says. 23 Anyone who listens to the word but does not do what it says is like someone who looks at his face in a mirror 24 and, after looking at himself, goes away and immediately forgets what he looks like. 25 But whoever looks intently into the perfect law that gives freedom, and continues in it—not forgetting what they have heard, but doing it—they will be blessed in what they do.

Matthew 7:24 (New International Version)
The Wise and Foolish Builders
24 "Therefore everyone who hears these words of mine and puts them into practice is like a wise man who built his house on the rock.

Ref: Prophetic Word - How To Get Unstuck

On the evening of June 1, the song 'Yaadon Ki Baarat' had played in my Spirit for the first time and I had written about it. The next day Marcus & Esther had their marriage anniversary. The song revelation pertained to them.

15. Night visions:

15.1 Dushman Can't Kill..?

Upper half of Dushman dressed in a prison suit (white tunic with thin black strips) stands down outside the stairs of a light brown building as he looks down supposedly at me and says in a volatile manner moving at his place, "Mein tujhse bahut pyaar karta hu! Mein tujhe nhi maar sakta! Mein tujhe nhi maar sakta!" ("I love you a lot! can't kill you! I can't kill you!"). Looking below, he kept repeating these lines.

15.2 The Bullet Shots

RS dressed in a black suit shoots at me with a bullet in his hand a few times as he walks towards me in a watery sky-blue background.

15.3 Grieved Amitabh Bachchan

Past Vision (303, A-10, few days back): The grieved face of Amitabh Bachchan with filled eyes looks upwards at me.

The Pain & Concussions Continue.

16. "BHAIYAAA.." – The Shout

Highlighted/Heard in the Spirit (a few days back): The shout 'Bhaiya' (brother) from the scene below in which the girl is calling out to her brother (who's not present there) while the wicked ones rape her.

Ref: सलमान खान का दिल दहला देने वाला सीन | Salman Khan | Garv: Pride and Honour - YouTube

17. Making an 'X' – the Scene from Garv

Vision (Last Night): The scene from the movie Garv in which the deceased's brother who is a Policeman makes an 'X' in the air with his finger.

The brother ends up killing 18 people because of what they did to her sister. This reminded me of the story of Dinah in the Old Testament who was captured and raped by the son of that place's king. But instead of apologizing, he asked for her hand in marriage. The people of the place too found it benefitting that the marriage would open up avenues of business and further intermarrying between 'their' people and the people of Jacob who were blessed by God. Enraged by this, Dinah's brothers devised a plan and ended up killing all the males of the place as none found wrong what the king's son had done but rather agreed to his cause. It was also God's judgment inflicted on the people of that place for violating His daughter. God also instructed His people the Israelites to kill everyone from a certain land (men, women, and children) as they were all ungodly and followed the ways of the world. God would tell them to even burn their stuff so nothing of them remains and to not keep anything of them. God can inflict massive judgment when sin in a place becomes too large. God judges both His people and those who are not His people, because He is the righteous judge.

Genesis 34 (New International Version)

17.1 Dinah and the Shechemites

34 Now Dinah, the daughter Leah had borne to Jacob, went out to visit the women of the land. 2 When Shechem son of Hamor the Hivite, the ruler of that area, saw her, he took her and raped her. [3] His heart was drawn to Dinah daughter of Jacob; he loved the young woman and spoke tenderly to her. [4] And Shechem said to his father Hamor, "Get me this girl as my wife."

[5] When Jacob heard that his daughter Dinah had been defiled, his sons were in the fields with his livestock; so he did nothing about it until they came home.
[6] Then Shechem's father Hamor went out to talk with Jacob. [7] Meanwhile, Jacob's sons had come in from the fields as soon as they heard what had happened. They were shocked and furious, because Shechem had done an outrageous thing in[a] Israel by sleeping with Jacob's daughter—a thing that should not be done.
[8] But Hamor said to them, "My son Shechem has his heart set on your daughter. Please give her to him as his wife. [9] Intermarry with us; give us your daughters and take our daughters for yourselves. [10] You can settle among us; the land is open to you. Live in it, trade[b] in it, and acquire property in it."
[11] Then Shechem said to Dinah's father and brothers, "Let me find favor in your eyes, and I will give you whatever you ask. [12] Make the price for the bride and the gift I am to bring as great as you like, and I'll pay whatever you ask me. Only give me the young woman as my wife."
[13] Because their sister Dinah had been defiled, Jacob's sons replied deceitfully as they spoke to Shechem and his father Hamor. [14] They said to them, "We can't do such a thing; we can't give our sister to a man who is not circumcised. That would be a disgrace to us. [15] We will enter into an agreement with you on one condition only: that you become like us by circumcising all your males. [16] Then we will give you our daughters and take your daughters for ourselves. We'll settle among you and become one people with you. [17] But if you will not agree to be circumcised, we'll take our sister and go."
[18] Their proposal seemed good to Hamor and his son Shechem. [19] The young man, who was the most honored of all his father's family, lost no time in doing what they said, because he was delighted with Jacob's daughter. [20] So Hamor and his son Shechem went to the gate of their city to speak to the men of their city. [21] "These men are friendly toward us," they said. "Let them live in our land and trade in it; the land has plenty of room for them. We can marry their daughters and they can marry ours. [22] But the men will agree to live with us as one people only on the condition that our males be circumcised, as they themselves are. [23] Won't their livestock, their property and all their other animals become ours? So let us agree to their terms, and they will settle among us."
[24] All the men who went out of the city gate agreed with Hamor and his son Shechem, and every male in the city was circumcised.
[25] Three days later, while all of them were still in pain, two of Jacob's sons, Simeon and Levi, Dinah's brothers, took their swords and attacked the unsuspecting city, killing every male. [26] They put Hamor and his son Shechem to the sword and took Dinah from Shechem's house and left. [27] The sons of Jacob came upon the dead bodies and looted the city where[c] their sister had been defiled. [28] They seized their flocks and herds and donkeys and everything else of theirs in the city and out in the fields. [29] They carried off all their wealth and all their women and children, taking as plunder everything in the houses.
[30] Then Jacob said to Simeon and Levi, "You have brought trouble on me by making me obnoxious to the Canaanites and Perizzites, the people living in this land. We are few in number, and if they join forces against me and attack me, I and my household will be destroyed."

[31] But they replied, "Should he have treated our sister like a prostitute?"

18. Red Tissue Around Holes

In the evening I went to pick up the printed pages from this photostat shop opp. to the Maurice Nagar Police station. After I was back to my PG, I arranged the pages in my folder and while casually going through the looped pages, I came across a page that I hadn't written. I found that there were three such pages and they talked about some political terms and explained their causes and effects. I removed them by pulling them out to the right which tore open their side holes.

After a while, I had this vision repeated to me:
Vision (303, A-10, Late evening): The two holes at the end of the page have red tissue around it now instead of the torn page.

Pulling them out to the right also reminded me of the revelation of something being unstuck in the right side of my brain in the morning.

19. Mr. Tumnus With A Horse's Back

Vision (303, A10, past few days): Mr Tumnus (the character from Narnia) stands with his back towards the viewer's sight. He has the extended back of a brown horse in this vision while his upper body stands in place of the horse's head.

20. Karishma Kapoor in Skyblue, and a Gorilla

Vision (yesterday): I saw Karishma Kapoor dressed in a sky blue skin-fitted one-piece, standing facing to the left. She had her hair wrapped above her head in the form of a lady turban whose cloth consisted of the same material. She stood facing a kitchen slab. The room was lit with dim yellow light. There appeared a black, thick, muscular and hairy arm of a gorilla in place of hers that faced the viewer. The form of a hairy black gorilla kept blinking in place of her arms and face as the vision ended.

21. Death Conqueror and Shechem

The serpent system awaits God's vengeance. Death Conqueror behaved like the Shechem, and the people of the place who obeyed him in his cause – like Shechemites. Shechem didn't approach Dinah in a sensible courteous manner but took her forcibly directly and put her in his palace.

In the case of Death Conqueror, God gave them grace because it served a purpose in expanding His kingdom over that of the devil.

Devil's kingdom awaits judgment. It will be judged in the end.

And while I was writing the above, I heard this song by Westlife in the Spirit.

22. 'You Make Me Feel'

Guy 1 sings:
I've been trying to reach you
'Cause I got something to say..
But you're talking about just nothing at all..
And you're slipping away

We were crying together
It was a long time ago..

Guys 1 and 2 sing together:
Before you walk out that door
And leave me this way,

Guy 1 continues:
Just hear what I say..

Chorus
All 5 guys sing together:
You make me feel..
You make me real..

For the rest of my days,
in so many ways..
You make me feel...

Stanza 2
Guy 3 sings:
I've been trying to leave you,
Why should we go on like this..?

Guys 3 and 2 sing together:
But my heart can't breathe,
When I hear you say,

Guy 3 continues:
"It's better this way.."

Chorus
All 5 guys sing together:
You make me feel..
You make me real..
For the rest of my days,
in so many ways..
You make me feel...

Guy 2 interjects:
Ten thousand light years away from you..
Keep thinking maybe it's time to let go..
But by the end of the day,
I still want to say 'Do you..?'

Guy 4 continues:

1. Weird Sensations Inside Skull

An hour or back I was wondering if my brain was internally bleeding because I felt a gush oozing out on the front left side of my forehead. I'm waiting for my MRI reports which I will then consult a doctor for.

It's not that I'm trying to 'save' my earthly life but I've to last as long as I can see stuff for me to do.

2. Late Night (Dream):

I stay in my room, for I'm afraid of the boxy white car roaming outside. I see it through the walls of my PG. I know that I'm being sought after. I pack some of my stuff, some clothes that I want to give away.

I see the short-haired version of me sitting on bed, facing the door in my granny's home which is no longer in the same shape as it had long back been broken down and build upon again and now sold away somewhere within the past two years.
My brother comes and I show him the clothes I had separated for him (black V-neck sweater with a dark green triangular print). He says he likes it.

While I was half asleep and was trying to sleep:

3. 'Teri Chunariya Dil Le Gyi..'

Song in my spirit (Early morning):
The Guy sings:

Teri chunariya dil le gyi..	Your drape took my heart away
Teri ye Bindiya dil le gayi..	Your bindi took (my) heart away

Ref: Teri Chunnariya | Hello Brother | Salman Khan | Rani Mukherjee | Kumar Sanu | Alka Yagnik

4. Sound of a Small Burst on the Left Side of My Brain.

5. The Rosy Tea

Vision (303, A10, Morning): A white cup filled with tea on a white plate amidst red and pink rose petals scattered on the white surface.

I will keep a Sabbath today and will fast and rest. I may further extend the fast. I've observed with experience that the more you fast, the more you want to fast, and vice-versa.

6. Something Burns Around My Table

I was on my bed when I had this vision.
Vision (an hour back): Smoke rising above my chair and table.

And now I can smell something burning as well.

Recall: The vision in which 'LOVE' in Bolds was burning in the fire was also highlighted to me this morning.

7. A Land Of Tall Trees

Vision (303, A10, Late Night/Early Morning): A land without grass with sparsely populated tall trees around with trunks of medium-sized width.

8. The Trees That Pass By

Vision (303, A10, Morning): The view of blue sky visible through the long brown and white trunks of trees to the left of a road as seen from a moving vehicle.

9. 'Ek Garam Chai Ki Pyaali Ho..'

'Let there be a hot drink of tea..'

The few chorus lines of this song played in my spirit.

Ref: EK GARAM CHAI KI PIYALI HO.HQ _ HD.mp4

10. Tu Dhoop Hai

I've written only the sections that were highlighted to me.

The Guy sings:
Open the doors,
Move the curtains to the side,
The wind is tied by a stopper,
Let's set it free.

You're the sunshine, shatter and spread,
You're the river, oh uninformed one,
Flow somewhere, fly somewhere,
Where the heart is happy, there itself lies your destination.

If there's thirst in you,
The house of the rain is close by,
Why should anyone stop you?
The sky is by your side.

It has opened, the path through the sky has opened.
It is found, the lost star is found.
It is found...

The earth is lit,
The world shone/twinkled,
You're free to fly,
For there's no bondage present now?^

21:19
I again can smell something burning.

11. My Flattened Brain

Vision (303, A10, Day): A heavy thick metal object in the shape of a cloth iron sits on top of my brain flattening it to the bottom.
On my way to the Diagnostic center, my cap lifted and flew away at the back. I thought if this was a marker of the capping of my crown.

Then I was thinking about all the violent revelations, and the slaughtering one as well. I saw how I despise violence or hurting others irrationally. I thought about the time that I would actually get to witness those violent acts, and how horrible it would be. I don't want to be in the presence of such individuals, let alone do those acts to others. Such a tainted world they live in. No, they created it for themselves, this broken reality - half devilish, half good. I don't want to be around violence, name-calling, and abuse of any kind. I can't abuse those I love. And that's the norm for godly people, that's how it should be with everyone.

12. Shamsher Sir's Wife Irons Everything

This has been highlighted to me for some of the past few days. Once I happened to wait in the other room of Shamsher Sir's home. His wife was ironing clothes. I saw that she ironed all clothes, even their children's undergarments. They had two little boys.

13. The MRI Report

I went to get the MRI report around 5:30 pm. The doc wrote everything was normal. But how can things be normal when I have been experiencing pain all around my brain. I think the report is incomplete/false. Or it doesn't capture what is causing me the concussions.

14. The Chicken's Roasted Leg

Vision (303, A-10, Evening): I saw a roasted chicken leg being eaten by someone who wasn't visible in the vision. It was being eaten with much delight as I could tell from the way the bite were being taken. I waited for a while after this vision, when I had this further revelation:

14.1 The Chicken Leg Was My Thigh

I saw the face of Death Conqueror present at my right inner thigh and taking huge flesh bites that came out to be roasted. I could then also relate with the vision of the man in sky-blue and white. The cannibal feels high-headed about his worldly power. God doesn't want the political cannibal. He wants the foot-chewing baby.

15. The Cyst in the Left Ovary

The doc said it was caused because of the burst of the egg present there.

1. Matthew Under Rain

Vision (303, A10, Late Night): I saw Matthew (Paras Patel dressed in the clothes of Matthew) lying on a bed on his front with a white stone tablet open in front of him as rain fell on him from above. The background is dark but there is white light around the bed, and on his white tablet. He seemed to be moving a bit as he worked on the tablet. He looked at rest and ease, and joyful to some extent. He was restfully working in that position. A man in an armor suit stealthily enters from a door behind him at the left and hits the centre of his body at the back with a sharp weapon to sever him into two pieces.

I don't know how close these are in time or if they're shadow revelations.. The vision below just keep repeating:

2. The Nail Eye-Hit

I keep seeing a long nail above my eyes ready to be slammed inside.

3. The Wall Slam

And then Glory held me by my hair and slammed my head to the wall.

Grounds seem to be forming for the vision of 'The Capping of the Crown' to come to manifest. This would also lead to the vision of a burnt face with hollow eyes with a capped head coming to manifest.

4. Bible On Fire

Vision (303, A10, Late night): I saw the Bible lying below the table in front of the other bed on fire.

The vision was followed by

5. Jesus Comes Out of The Bible

The Upper Half of Jesus comes out of the Bible like a Genie towards me. He is dressed in multilayered shiny white robes and is glowing in a golden hue.

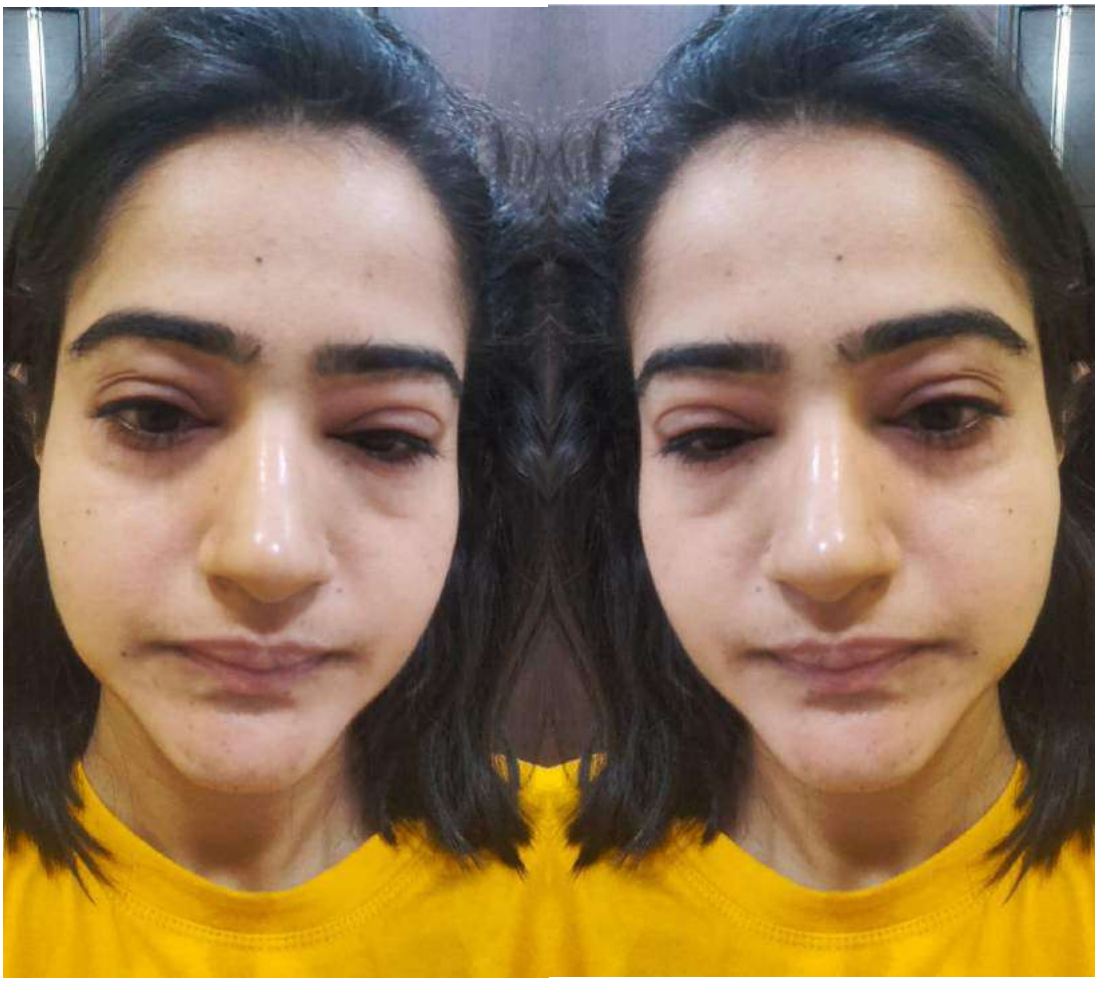
I was writing other revelations at that moment. After the vision repeated itself 3-5 times intermittently within a period of 15 minutes to half an hour, I had this vision:

5.1 Jesus Comes Out of The Bible With An Axe

The upper half of Jesus comes out of the firey Bible like a Genie. He is still shining with a golden hue, but this time He had an axe in His hand which he used on my back at the the junction of my upper and lower half as I laid on the bed on my front.

7:39

I woke up with heavily swollen eyes. And the swelling didn't look usual as there was an accumulation of fluid inside above my eyelids which I have never seen before in my life no matter how sleep-deprived I was. On top of that, my eyelids hurt at the place of the accumulation of fluid.



Since morning I have been hearing these song lyrics from the song 'Daastane Om Shaanti Om in my Spirit:

6. He Couldn't Save Her

Lekin use vo bacha na saka	But he couldn't save her
Roya tha pyaar uski maut par	Love had wept on her death..
Roya tha Pyaar Uski Maut Par	Love had wept on her death..
Keh rhi hai Zindagi katil samajh le	And life is saying that the killer should understand
Uske sir par chaa chuka hai maut ka saya	That death is hovering on his head!

Ref: Dastaan-E-Om Shanti Om [Full Song] | Om Shanti Om | Shahrukh Khan - YouTube
The Vision of 'LOVE' in Bolds set on Fire is on its way to manifest.

7. They're The Serpent Race

And their wicked persona is proud of what they do.

8. He's Not Sorry For What He's Done

Because he indirectly told me to wait for my eye to get even smaller. It's good that I saw his face without a mask before dying at least. Death Conqueror calls himself Don. He's Don the devil! It's nothing to be prideful or feel good about.

9. Dil Deta Hai Jo, Vo Jaan Bhi Khota Hai..

These lyrics also play in my Spirit:

Dil deta hai jo	The one who gives his heart
Vo Jaan bhi khota hai	also loses his life
Yaar aisa jo karta hai	Who does such a thing
Kya marke bhi marta hai	does (s)he die even after dying..?

I left for church without bathing as I was already late. Though I had woken up early around 5 or 6, because of my swollen eyes I talked to a good amount of time with my mom and dad. It was now already 9 am. I wasn't feeling well either as my eyes were still swollen and hurting. Hadn't brushed too. Then Raju Bhaiya came to clean the room. I had him clean it because it hadn't been cleaned yesterday as well.

After he was done, I quickly got ready and it was 10:30 am now already.

I reached the church before 11 am. They did a Bible study today. They read 6 chapters from Genesis, with one chapter read by one person of the six chosen for the day who stood at the front.

I noticed while drinking Limca that it hurt my food pipe while swallowing. I don't know what damage they did to it.

The Pastor said that we were going to do more of such chapter readings in the church and cover the entire Bible.

10. 'Rooh Aaa' ('Spirit, Come')

Ref: ROOH AA - BERITH Feat. Michael Singh

When we moved into the worship session, we all stood at our places with our eyes closed and hands lifted. I was in worship when I felt a splash of water on my face. I saw the Pastor had thrown it as a form of deliverance prayer. When the singing guy at the stage now started this song called 'Rooh Aaa' ('Spirit, Come'), I joined along too like I had done with other songs. I hadn't yet separated the two words Rooh Aaa and understood them as 'Ruaaa' which I didn't understand the meaning of.

When more than half of the song had already passed by, I finally understood the chorus phrase and now joined in with greater vigor. I was completely lost in worship and singing 'Rooh Aaa' with my hands fully raised when I happened to slightly open my eyes and saw the Pastor walking towards me with a slight smile with his hands ready to lay on my head in prayer. He started praying. There were a few other ladies around me as they knew that I might fall. They told me to leave my body loose. I did so and he kept praying when I felt a sudden lightness in my head and body, becoming weaker and unable to stand straight almost as if I might fall but I continued upholding myself. The Pastor saw my condition and gave a very slight downward pull with his hands on my head so I would fall down and they could lose hold of me (from what I understood), as I was stuck in the middle. I was neither upright, nor falling.

The act of laying on of hands and ministering to the other person through the Holy Spirit.

I've uploaded the 'laying on of hands' video on my YT channel below:

Ref: Laying on of hands at Yeshu Bhawan

When I got up after a few seconds, I was now filled with the Spirit and started praying in tongues involuntarily as I was strongly internally nudged to do so. I saw that I was praying with fluency and it came out on its own. After a while, I stopped. Later, I realized that the way I had prayed resembled that of the man in 'The Stale Dead Body' part of the Dream revelation (#14) on Page 432 (Recall). I was previously praying facing to the front but when I very briefly opened my eyes and saw the orientation of the rest of the crowd, I faced to my right and stood in a direction perpendicular to my previous one. The man in the dream was also praying facing in certain direction but then turned to his right. I was praying in tongues but he prayed in Hindi with a few English words. Though I didn't know what it was that I prayed in tongues because I can't interpret tongues, I recalled the prayer of the man he had said with his hands raised up fully like mine. He had prayed:

"Jeewan ke plan ko maine tere fail kar diya.
Teri mari hui kaya ko maine phir mare-stale kar diya."

"I failed your life's plan
And then I let your dead body of a mare rot."

It was a very invigorating worship session. I was amped up afterwards and was nowhere like the way I was in the morning with swollen eyes.

This church session the Pastor said that we were now going to put the Word of God at a high respect-level.

I just felt that drone moving at the inner corner of my left eye. Death Conqueror and Gang are brute wicked!

After returning from the church I kept feeling good for a long period of time as I was still amped in the Spirit. I felt the Spirit profusely - especially on my way back from the church. I wanted the state to extend further in time.

After I had returned to my PG, I recalled the vision revelations of me swinging slowly on a swing with KA. I was wearing clothes of the same color scheme in the vision, and in the church, I was swinging lightly to my sides as I prayed and danced (in a way) to the worship songs. In the church, the song revelation of the chorus of 'High-Rated Gabru' played very briefly and intermittently in my Spirit.

I rested after checking out my Keyboard and having lunch. While I did so, I had this vision revelation from the movie 3-idiots play in my Spirit:

11. 'Tohfa Kabool Karo' (3 Idiots)

Vision: A distant vision of the 3 actors from the Ragging scene in the movie lowering their pants and flashing their asses to the viewer as they said, "Jahpannah Tussy Great Ho. Tohfa Kabul Karo." (Jahapannah you're great! Receive the gift!)

Ref: 3 idiots| jahpanah tussi great ho|topha qobool karo_

12. Mermaid Ranbir Kapoor Eats

Vision (303, A-10, Late evening): I saw an angled side-view of Ranbir Kapoor with his upper half of his own hairless naked body of a man with his look from his movie 'Saawariya', while his lower half below his navel was the body of a silver fish. He stood on his silver tail leaning against a white boat with a thick blue horizontal strip and perhaps something written on it in blue. He had a disposable cuboid bowl in his hand of the same colour as his lower body and he was slowly eating from the bowl with a spoon. There was another person present a few meters to his right who wasn't visible too well for the vision centred on RK. Both were resting against the outer surface of the boat.

13. Pastor Takes Out His Tooth

Vision (303, A10, Last Night): Pastor Emmanuel Morgan of the church I visit takes out his tooth from his lower left jaw. It comes out easily. He was dressed in an off-white shirt finely checked in brown.

14. The Pastor's Head Throttles Inside

Vision (303, A10, Morning): I saw the upper half of Pastor Emmanuel Morgan, as his skull throttled inside like a pressure cooker, as if tiny objects inside his brain were hitting out on the surface continuously.

15. The Bleed (My Mom's and The House of The Lord)

Around two decades back, once when I was in middle school, I woke up in the bus that we had been traveling in. We were on our way back home after my mom had got an abortion. The bus had stopped at its station. I found myself alone without my family in the bus. I started walking out and saw a lot of blood on the bus floor. It ran like a wide stream and ran until the door. I was then waiting for my mom to be out from the washroom where she took a bath and changed clothes. I could see from a distance that even the washroom had tiny blood clots – the remnants from her body. Apparently, the abortion had not been done properly causing her to bleed through her vagina on the way.

Now when I look at the burning pattern of the red candle that I lit in the House of The Lord, I see some similarity. The candle was very thick (about 6 cms in diameters) and whenever there would be a large accumulation of molten wax above, and I happened to move it a bit, the wax would slide down the candle and out through the door of the House of The Lord. This happened a few times before I finally removed the candle from the House as it may have led to the House burning which I didn't want.

16. 'Bhadakti Aag Mein Ek Fool Jalte Dekha Hai..'

"In an agitated fire, I've seen a flower burn.."

When I woke up the morning next to the day I had gone to Yeshu Bhawan for the first time on 4th June, this line from one of the worship songs that they had sang played in my Spirit repeatedly.

Ref: Sulagti/Bhadakti Aag Mein Ek Fool Jalte Dekha Hai..

17. 'Muquadma Hoga Re, Karlo Aaj Waqeel..'

'A case is going to be made, so hire a lawyer today,,'

I heard this in my Spirit this morning and it kept repeated itself.

This was a song played in the worship song towards the end of the Sunday church I attended yesterday.

Ref: 'Muquadma Hoga Re, Karlo Aaj Waqeel..'

18. 'Teri Dega Kaun Gawahi Re..'

'Who'll testify for you..?'

This played in my Spirit about half an hour back while I was editing a video.

The lyric is a part of the previous worship song.

19. Difficult To Sleep

I kept feeling like I was filled with something on the inside with a weird feeling. It seemed like my head could behave outrageously at any moment.
I will go see a doc.
It seems like they create new inner cuts after a while so I would keep losing blood out of veins inside.
I had started to feel dizzy in my head while washing clothes. I was thinking if I would die a slow death in this manner.

20. 'Roshni Iski Jaati Nhi Hai..'

23. Repentance with Head Hits

Vision (): I saw the top-view of a dark and chubby woman bent on her knees with her upper half dressed in a translucent white suit with a light green drape on her head as she hit her head on the church's floor to repent.

24. Recall: The Red & White Candle on Page 27

25. Face To Neck Quick Kisses

It was perhaps a Sabbath and I was resting on bed when I had this abrupt revelation with Glory. He was smiling a lot as he dropped quick kisses on my face and neck while I laid on bed, and even when I got up and walked towards the door, he followed along continuing in the same manner with a smile.

26. Ayushmann Khurrana in a Black Vest

I had this vision in line with that of RS in a yellow and black armour.

Vision (303, A-10, Past few days): I saw the upper half of AK sitting facing the viewer with a black vest.

I have to go see a doc now. I feel too weird inside and these sharp pinching sensations keep arising at various places at my brain and around my neck.

27. "I Feel The Pain, And I Cry Out"

-A part of the song 'House on Fire'.

Heard in the Spirit a few days back in the morning when I woke up. It kept playing intermittently throughout the day. It still gets highlighted to me in the Spirit.

29. 'Beast Mode'

While heading out of the room to see the doctor, the earphone in my left ear played the phrase 'Beast Mode'. I had apparently 'long pressed' the button on the right earphone that was in my hand. These Airdopes have this feature of going into an intrinsic Beast Mode (that I don't know the purpose of because it doesn't seem to affect the quality of the audio). It was also reflected in the blue and red lights blinking alternately on my left wrist when I had laid on bed - 'Red & Blue Lights on My Left Wrist' - #19 on Page 435.

Death conqueror had a Beast Mode which is without conscience into which he can go into any time. That's why he is unpredictable.

30. 'Rooh A Khuda Ka Pyaar Mila Hai'

'I have received the love of the Holy Spirit of God'

This song has been playing in my Spirit intermittently since morning.

It's a Hindi worship song.

रूह ए खुदा का प्यार मिला है
येसु का लहू मुझे छु गया है (2)
छु गया है... छु गया है.
येसु का लहू, गया मुझे छु
रूह ए खुदा का प्यार मिला है

छु गया है, छु गया है
येसु का लहू, गया मुझे छु, गया मुझे छु

लहू येसु का रेहमतो वाला

हमको मददगार, येसु ने दिया है
मस्सा हमे, पाक रूह से किया है (2)
अब न उदासी, है न दर्द कोई
प्याला शिफ़ा का हमने पिया है
अब्दी ज़िन्दगी...

1. Past Revelations:

Heard in the Spirit (Past week):
1.1 'Chinta Chita Ke Samaan Hai'
To worry is equivalent of creating a Pyre

While praying (night, few days back):
1.2 'Do Not Eat'
I involuntarily started to pray out this 'phrase': 'Do Not Eat.' And I kept repeating it for a while.

Yesterday while resting, when I was half-asleep, I was woken up twice by:
1.3 A horizontal jerk at the junction of my upper and lower body

1.4 A jerk at the place of both my knees

The jerks made my body jump involuntarily on my bed and woke me up. (To me they seemed to be representing the slaughtering hits at those places meant to severe those parts from my body. But things always get clearer with time. And it's for a reason God keeps the complete comprehension out of sight until the last puzzle piece is received.)

Yesterday my mom came to my PG to pick me up with my youngest brother and Saini Uncle who lives nearby in the Villas' area. She had picked him up for additional security. I hadn't been feeling well for long and for the past few week I wasn't able to sleep at nights either because of heavy-headiness and ever-present motions inside my skull and behind eyes that caused me stress. And after I have had those swollen eyes that morning, my mom was too worried for me and wanted me to return home as she had asking me for the past week, but I had told her that I would return after attending Church and seeing the doc on Tuesday. But I was too mentally distressed Tuesday evening because of which my mom asked me if they should come to pick me up. I told them a yes. I wrote revelations meanwhile and packed my stuff later. When my mom called me on reaching downstairs, it was about 9 pm.

2. Testimony (Multiple Arrays of a Baby In Diaper)

On going downstairs, I saw her standing outside my PG's gate. She was dressed in a light green kurta with a white print and had her tied low at the back. It reminded me of the vision 'Multiple Arrays of a Baby In Diaper' (#6 on Page 418). My mom was that cute, fat baby dressed fully in a long green and white tunic who came walking towards me. Though the baby in green and white had a bulging tummy, the baby in diaper in the array of photos had a relatively better-toned body and had short neck-length hair with a boy cut and combed sideways.

After we reached Omaxe, we first dropped Saini Uncle to his home. He was suggesting on the way that he would cook halwa for us in her home. My mom agreed to it. When we reached at his home, he stepped down the car and was about to leave when my mom brought up 'Halwa' in a very firm tone as if she was certain to have it in his home. We followed her. They seemed to know each other well. I suggested to help him as he's old. My mom then started talking in the kitchen about how much property he possesses which I found weird. I told her to stop. I, my mom and Divyanshu stayed there for a while and left afterwards to our home. My mom told me not to reveal the event to Himanshu. I didn't understand why she would ask me so.

3. 'Bhujh Gaya Tu'

('You Got Extinguished')
Utterance in the Spirit
On reaching home (night 12th June, 2023), I was listening to the song ' rooh e khuda ka pyaar mila hai..' in my spirit when the line' bujh gya tu' played instead of 'mujhe gya chu..' ('It left me touched')

4. 'Bin Maange Maut Marega Tu'

(You'll die in a way you didn't ask for')
This was a phrase that played in my Spirit in place of a line from the same song in the previous revelation.

Vision (~1:05, Midnight 13th June, 2023): The face of a man with sideburns and neck length hair (resembling Ranveer Singh) spitting a streak of blood horizontally out in the air.

(It seemed to me to be representing me, but I will leave it to the event.)

5. The Lying Man In Rickshaw

(Omaxe Heights, ~2:00 am, 13th Jun 2023)
Vision: A 2-seater e-rickshaw drives quickly to the left on the road adjoining the Ganda Nala and the service lane of my PG. It has a tall man lying on it with his head facing to the other side and legs to the side of the service lane with his left knee bent forward and resting on the seat. He is dressed in a full-sleeved sky-blue shirt over blue denims, and there's a white cardboard present covering him on top as he hid beneath it.

6. The Dark Hit

Vision (Omaxe Heights, Late Night): In a dark background, I saw a slightly bearded man with neck length hair (resembling Ranveer Singh) hitting a long nail on my face as I closed my eyes.

7. The Shiny Stony Jesus

Vision (Omaxe Heights, Late Night): I saw an animated view of the face and neck of a man resembling Jesus. He had sharp facial boundaries and seemed to be made of stone. His stony face had a shining yellow hue about it.

7.1 Golden Eye

His face now changed to him having an open golden eye in the place of his left eye (viewer's right).

8. Jonathan and The Bouquet In A Deep Red Setting

Vision (late night): I saw Brother Jonathen dressed in a black suit with a white shirt inside sitting on a chair in front of a table covered with a deep red cloth. To the left on the table rested a vertically resting bouquet of red roses and at some distance behind him fell deep red curtains.

9. 'ACTIVATED'

Vision (late night): I saw a rectangular yellow strip with 'ACTIVATED' written in Black on it with the photo of an entirely black man at the right end of the strip. The man was dressed in a black suit with a white shirt inside. Below 'ACTIVATED' is written, "If I follow the fire of God.." The sentence continued further but I was able to read only this much of the vision while it was visible to me.

10. Dream (Morning):

10.1 The Green & White Soap Bars

I remove the cover from my dark brown soap case with a light brown inner soap rest. I see two thin rectangular slices of used soap – one light green and one white. And apparently, I am supposed to be eating them. I have an opened parrot green packet of chips in my hand with its back facing me, and with my other hand inside it. But what my hand takes out are the two same bars of soap – parrot green and white.

10.2 Akhila - The Bully

I am sitting on the bed in a room lit with white light with my dark blue LAPISOLUPO sling bag lying slightly to my left on the bed. My ex-roommate Akhila comes walking from the left with a bullying wicked expression and asks me for my sling. She is dressed in a loose light orange t-shirt of 3-4th sleeves over white shorts. I can see that she doesn't really need it but she's asking it out of her weird way of bullying. I am utterly repelled by her, so I deny her. She then bends, reaches out her hand, and tries to grab the bag by herself. I pull it to myself. I don't feel like sharing any of my stuff with her. She turns back saying some mean things. I get up from the bed and start walking out. When I reach near her and look at her, she turns her face to the right and elongates it affecting my sunken cheeks. She still has that bullying look. I can tell he is making fun of my side facial structure.

Past Revelation:

11. Vicious Violent Akhila

When I was in my PG within the past two weeks, I decided to iron my recently washed clothes. I also took out some other clothes to be ironed. While I continued ironing them, I started having visions of a very vicious Akhila coming violently at me with a metallic object in her hand to hit me. She used it at me with a very wicked expression. I made me ponder why would the act of me ironing my clothes provoke her to hit me with hatred.

The violent visions made me recall the incident from my time in A-16 with her when I was ironing a cloth on my bed seeing which she too started ironing a cloth of hers. She did it meticulously but what was surprising were the hateful expressions she looked at me with as she walked to her wardrobe to put the cloth inside. What was so hateful about me ironing my clothes that she had to do the same with that much hatred towards me!? She's a mentally sick/abusive lady and the people who are friends with her are as mentally sick/abusive as her!

12. The Firey Duet With Jesus

Vision (Afternoon): I slowly dance with Jesus between the bed and the plastic wardrobe beside the TV unit. I am holding his hand in a duet while being on fire. I am dressed in my current clothes - the black t-shirt with 'Walking With The Lord Is My Cardio' written on it in dark golden yellow and grey trousers below - and He in His multilayered white full linen robes. He has shoulder-length hair and is internally lit with yellow light while I am lit externally with fire though it isn't burning me but just stays on the surface. It's a love-filled soulful duet.

I was lying on my back on the bed on its right side when I had this vision.

13. The Repeated Stabs with Splashing Red Tissues

Vision (Master Bedroom, #603 Tuntex, Omaxe Heights, Afternoon): Glory stabs my belly viciously and repeatedly with a dagger and doesn't stop while I lay on my home's bed at its right end. Every time he lifts up the dagger, it comes out with a thick streak of a slurry of red tissues splashing out.

14. Philippians 1:17

I received this today this in the side notifications on my laptop. It reminded me of a woman whom I adored (and still do) but some of the comments of whom made me ponder the purity of her motives. It's always between us and Jesus and not us and some other fellow believer. If we want to do good, then we should do it out of an inner independent will to please God as He leads us, and not to show how good we are at competing with other fellow believers while trying to make their work look meek. If we've to compete, let us compete at shouting praises to Him.

Philippians 1:17 (NASB)
"the former proclaim Christ out of selfish ambition rather than from pure motives, thinking to cause me distress in my imprisonment."

Paul had just explained to the Philippian believers that there were two types of teachers who were giving good instruction about the glorious gospel of grace, but the motives of these two groups were diametrically opposite.

The teachers in the first group were preaching the gospel of Christ Jesus for no better reason than out of envy and strife. They were jealous of Paul's calling and his apostolic ministry. Rather than proclaiming the gospel with the joy and thanksgiving for their salvation and to honour their glorious Saviour, they were selfish, ambitious individuals who had developed a spiteful, contentious disposition. Their motive in spreading the Word was far from pure, for their ministry had developed out of selfish envy and an ungodly rivalry. Rather than showing sympathy towards Paul's imprisonment, they expressed their delight that he had been flung into jail.

The question to ask yourself is: Is what you're doing rooted in an actual attempt to get closer to God or be better at something, or is it rooted in copying someone's traits and putting forward a better version of it to feel good about yourself and to make it look like you could do it better than them? It isn't godly to compare one's work with others and to want to minimize what God has others do for Him.

As the saying goes, "Jalo Mat, Rees Karo" ("Don't be jealous, but learn and emulate").

1. My Mom Abruptly Says, "There's None Present To Beat You Up"

It made me ponder if she was hiding something. Especially when she had mentioned how Himanshu had called Police and filed a complaint in Chandigarh Police about her behavior. It made me ponder around her statement.

2. 'Dharti Pe Roop Maa Baap Ka, Us Vidhata Ki Pehchaan Hai'

'On Earth the role of mother and father is a signifier of that Creator'

It made me think if it was a reflected revelation. That if they were actually going to show their devilish self after a while! And if God gave me this song revelation as a warning.

3. Do They Plan To Beat Me Up..?

A while back I was recalling the part 'The Doodle, The Beating and The Bandaged Man' (#1 on Page 381), in which my dad beat me up brutally for no reason. In that dream, I was lying beside the kitchen counter and my mom was complaining to my dad about a doodle I had made in my diary, after which my dad got angry and beat me up. I was wrapped tightly with clothes after that and laid on my right side.

I was recalling how since I've returned I keep lying here at my home as my head is mostly heavy and my eyes hurt whenever the drone moves behind them. And my mom's behavior in #1 para on this page seemed to be hinting towards the manifestation of this dream in my life. I thought if my parents were really going to beat me brutally for no reason, with the temper being ignited by my mom like she used to do in the past.

But hasn't our relationship improved since the past few months and I keep giving her money generously whenever she needs. And then she was asking me to give her 'all my money' yesterday so could give it out to me in 'proper' amounts.

I don't know. Our parents behave in weird ways and get angry for no reason sometimes. They're unpredictable. My mom doesn't even like me going to church. She keeps glorifying devil by chanting 'Om Namay Shivay' but she tells me to not go deep with the real God (Jesus). I have somehow become cautious after noticing how my parents have suddenly become too nice. Because they're usually rash.

God is a parent too. And he's not harsh without a reason.

4. Whoever Loves This World Is Not of God

Children of God recognize that this world can't be the place to live peacefully and with love, that this is not the place where Godly statutes are followed. But those who are not the children of God love the world and reject God. They only think about God to gain something from Him and not to love Him as their Creator. My dad doesn't believe in God, and my mom doesn't love God (Jesus) deeply either.

5. My Parents - Ever Testing, But Never Learning

Why? Because they lie or create fake situations to deceive their own children. Saini Uncle offered to cook Halwa for us at that hour in the night, and my dad asked me to come to Chandigarh on Sunday Intentionally - they were all tests! He wanted to test if I would miss church to visit him. He lies and often says things just to test our reaction decision. It also brought to my attention how others how also do the same, Death Conqueror and Glory. They're not perceptive or else they wouldn't be making false judgments. My mom calls my good nature as being gullible.

Can we trust them with our lives as parents seeing how they create fake situations and use our response to them to inflict judgment? One has to communicate openly and not create tests! God is worthy to test because He is God and He sees hearts. Therefore, He can't ever make false judgments. But humans can try testing others and yet make false judgments!

I was happy with her but her comment in #1 took me by surprise!

Our parents reject Father God as their Creator and God. But perhaps she will come to Him later.

11:48

I woke up at night due to my trembling brain inside my skull. It scared me up to some extent. I saw that my skull was heating up. And it seemed to me that it could be my last night or perhaps I was given a glimpse of how it was going to be like when my head explodes.

I had this vision when I was still half-asleep:

6. Water On AC's Socket

Vision (On bed at Omaxe, late night): I went near the single bed below the AC with a glass in my hand and threw its water on the wall above the AC's power socket. My brother was to my left. I don't know why I did it. But I could tell that the water was going to reach and go inside the socket of the running AC and could lead to a blast at any time. I then moved away from the socket waiting for the blast.

7. The Crack In The Skull's Middle

Vision (On bed at Omaxe, late night): I saw the head of a person with a crack suddenly appearing on the skull in the middle at the position of the junction of the two hemispheres of the brain.

I got up from the bed after this. My brain was shaking inside. I got down on my knees to pray. I wanted to be in close communion with Jesus and know His immediate will for me though I had received prophetic visions previously. I sat in prayer and prayed in a low tone as my mom and youngest brother were asleep in that room. I sat facing the wall with Philippians 4:13 – I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me. I pleaded the blood of Jesus on my body. I was asking for one more chance for a better performance and for even more changes to me made in me.

I wanted to repent while banging my head on the floor. I did it twice but I knew it more about my heart state than trying to act out the state. While I was still in prayer, I had this unexpected vision. It didn't make any sense to me because for me I was in a bad condition physically and it was only confusing to see this vision of a person who only said hurtful things to me, passed threats to me, and mostly hurt me with his words.

8. A Transformed Deepak

Vision (late night): I saw half of the upper half of Deepak dressed in a white tunic as he looked at me with a smile (which I later realized resembled somewhat that of Glory). But in this vision, he was fairer with smoother skin and thicker uniform lips. His good character was being reflected off him. He showed no hint of the kind of character he displayed when he said those things to me.

"Why was it that he was shown to me unexpectedly when I was anticipating an imminent head burst?", I thought. This was the last thing I was expecting to see.

I continued praying and now lay on the floor to pray. My head was heated up and I saw my arms getting heated too. Lying on the bed made me feel very low and humble in front of God which was also what I wanted to feel like. I now started praying in that posture. It felt relaxing to me and after a while, I noticed that I had cooled down to a great extent. My arms were quite cooler now though my head was still throttling inside though by a decreased extent now.

9. A White Fan, and Small Red and White Flowers

Vision (yesterday morning): I saw a white fan above with three blades. It started to come closer to me and there appeared a layer of small red and white flowers above it. The fan continued moving towards me in slow motion when the vision ended.

10. 'Stoned'

Utterance in the Spirit (Morning)

11. The Semi-Circular Paddle

Vision (Morning): A child stops near the wall to the left after riding a small bicycle in a semi-circular manner inside the room of a playschool.

12. Natakalaya

Heard in the Spirit: 'A place where one learns acting skills'. It's in rhyme with the Hindi word 'Vishwavidyalaya' for 'University'. The University is just a 'Natakalaya' because it teaches you to 'act' good while having you shaking hands with wickedness behind the curtains.

13. The Meetup With My Maternal Granny

I went to meet her with my mom and youngest brother today. It was around 17:30 when we went downstairs to leave but then my brother filled up the windshield's water sprinkler and took a good amount of time to clean the outside. On our way, we stopped to inquire about the path from a man in a white tunic who when he stood up turned out to be missing his right arm. I was wondering if it was affected or if that guy was a real resident. On seeing her after long, we shared a good and long tight hug. She was my birthmom's mother. She led us into her home and then went out. When my mom and brother asked me about her whereabouts, I told them that she had gone out to buy a bottle of cold drink as she always did whenever we visited them.

We talked for a while after which she suggested that we go for a walk in the fields. We walked on a narrow road surrounded by fields on both sides holding hands. It was a great sight with the cool breeze of pure air and the 180 degrees' dome of the sky. We walked a good distance through the path and back to her home. It was heart-filling to meet her after long. She later told me that she was 76 years old. While sitting together, I pointed out how our nature was matched to some extent to which she replied that it matched to a 'great' extent.

14. Recall: 'The Kiss and The Revolving Vision'

(#6 on Page 375)

It also represents the way the drone goes around my brain in a semicircle. God replaced it with a beautiful vision of the revolving kiss b/w me and RS on the bridge in the NSCG song. While the drones go around in a semi-circle, the duo expresses their love for each other.

15. White Letterings Over Sparkling Blue Water

Vision (Omaxe, Within the past two hours): I saw a sparkling water surface with something written above on top of the vision in a vertically large but curvy handwriting with letters written compactly together in a slightly squished manner. Though the handwriting was vertically extended, it was easily contained in the middle of the sparkling surface but it wasn't legible. The sparkling water then morphed into an eye with a glittering sky blue eyeball. The vision then changed back to the sparkling sky blue watery surface.

16. Golden Gymnastics On a Swing

Vision (Omaxe, Within the past two hours): A tiny golden couple is balanced on a wooden swing at a high distance in the air with one of their arms stretched forth together as the man's hand grips the lady's hand through her fingers from behind while the swing moves constantly forward to the right. The man is behind the lady and is seen to have a moustache and his golden hair are short but slightly frizzy like Einstein's. The lady is wearing a plain long golden skirt with a large vertical slit on it. She moves her leg around a bit doing gymnastics moves. As the swing moves to and fro, the lady gets up and down the man balanced around the seat in neat and slow gymnastic moves.

17. The Uneven Pile of Books On A White Desk

Vision (Within the Past Two hours): I saw books of varying sizes and thicknesses lying on a white desk. The cover of one of the books was yellow & black in color.

(Written at my home in Omaxe Heights, Sonipat)

This lyric repeated itself several times in my Spirit last night. I heard it in my Spirit today as well.

1. 'Yahi Doobe Din Mere..'

'Here only my days set..'

Yahi doobe din mere..	Here only my days set..
Yahi hote hai sawere...	Here only I have my mornings..
Yahi marna aur Jeena...	Here only lies death and life..
Yahi mandir aur Madeena...	Here only is my temple and wine bar..
Teri Galliyan,	Your streets..
galliyan, teri galiyan..	streets.. your streets..
Mujhko Bhawe,	I get soothed by
Galliyan Teri Galliyan..	streets.. your streets..
Teri Galliyan,	Your streets..
Galliyan, Teri Galiyan..	streets.. your streets..
Yu hi tadpawe..	In this manner they vex me
Galliyan, Teri Galiyan..	streets.. your streets..

2. The Lion With Dual Eyes

Vision (Late Night): I saw a vicious maned lion come walking from the right. His left and right eyes had blue and red scleras respectively with black pupils, and he had long canines protruding out by 5 to 6 inches below his jaw.

3. 'Dulhe Ka Sehra Suhana Lagta Hai..'

'The head covering of the groom looks beautiful..'

This song was playing in my Spirit last night. Seeing the kind of revelations of physical hurt I have been receiving lately, this made sense to me only in the context of the heavenly wedding of the Bride of Christ with Jesus. I also thought if the revelations pertained to a certain wedding that would take place after I die.

The nuptial headwear of the groom seems beautiful..
The heart of bride seems crazy in love..

The nuptial headwear of the groom seems beautiful..
The heart of bride seems crazy in love..

In just a moment how relations change..
Now everyone formerly close seems a stranger..

4. The Living Headless Man

Vision (Late Last Night): I saw the side-view of a 6 feet tall headless man who stood leaning against a dark brown wooden piece of furniture of height up to half of his length. His body faced to the right and the furniture rested against a wall to the left. He was dressed in a full-sleeved sky-blue shirt untucked over blue trousers and the red tissue of his slaughtered neck was visible as he moved at his place with his right knee bent with his foot vertically resting on the wood's surface, while his palms rested beside him on top of the wooden surface.

5. The Baby With a Tiara

Vision (Late Last Night): A fat and fair baby in just a white diaper with his fat face resembling Death Conqueror's with small blue eyes sits on a bed with a wall behind it. The baby is wearing a Tiara with a triangular front on its head.

I got up at night again as I felt uneasy. My brain was again restless inside. This time I felt a burning sensation on the sides of my brain. The internal motions were present and the burning sensation was especially strong on the left side of my brain above my ear. I got down from the bed and started praying like the previous night again.

I continued praying when I had this vision:

6. My Arms Disappear In The Fire.

Vision (Late Last Night): I saw my arms start burning from the top at the place of the hand, and continue burning down until my elbows. They burned easily like a paper and nothing of them remained.

After praying for a while, I went back to bed and tried to sleep when I had these visions:

7. The White Gates of Heaven

Vision (Late Last night): I saw an angled view of the closed white gates of heaven in my left mental view. There were two white angels flying inside above it and they faced each other. They both carried a shofar in their hands. They lifted them up together and blew them.

When I wrote this vision, I saw Glory crying bitterly and loudly. He kept crying. He kept crying.

8. People Walk Into The White Gates

Vision (Late Last night: The white gates are now open and people are walking inside towards it. The back of the head and shoulders of an average-heighted man in a light blue shirt at some distance ahead of me catches my attention. A fire is seen burning above the two pillars supporting the sides of the gates. The fire above the left pillar burns more profusely than the right one.

9. The Blood Purge

Vision (Morning): I saw two tiny men open out the way for a deep red liquid carrying spherical brown blobs to be out of a previously closed volume of deep red tissue. The men were embedded in the tissue and stood at the diametrically opposite ends of the stream of blood, separated by some distance along the stream. Their dressing sense seemed to be resembling the roman soldiers from 'The Chosen' as they wore a metallic armour on top of red inner clothes. They had short spiky hair that gave them a bald look.

This scene from the movie Lajja was highlighted to me a few months back.

10. The Bride Exposes The Groom

The part of the scene where the bride insults the greedy in-laws and tells them to get lost was what was highlighted to me. She mocks them by revealing that all of them were wearing clothes including even their underwears that were bought by her dad. She makes a scene of them publicly, calls off the wedding, and sends them off.

11. A Golden Trophy Is Revealed

Dream-vision (past few days): A semi-animated vision in which Death Conqueror stood with a group of people in a room lit with light yellow light. He then brought out from behind him a medium-sized golden trophy.

Vision (): A lady in an embroidered white tunic with a white drape stands outside my apartment's meshed door with red love eyes. She has her hands resting on the mesh door.

16. I'm Almost Headless Now

Because of the very low bloody supply reaching my head. Since they fiddled with some of my blood-carrying tubes inside, as was revealed by the vision 'The Blood Purge' (#9 on this page)..

17. Puppy Dog In Church

Vision (afternoon): I saw a lady sitting on a chair with a bucket below her filled with water. There was a tiny beige Puppy dog sitting on the floor. She took some water from the bucket in her palm and brushed her palm and fingers on the dog's mouth when the vision ended.

18. Harry Potter In Red & White

Vision (afternoon): I saw a teenage Harry Potter standing with a group of other people in what looked like a choir but instead of the instruments, they had their wands in their hands. Harry Potter was dressed in an ankle-length red robe with the collar of the white shirt inside visible through the robe's V-shaped neck. He was standing separately at the front while others stood a step above behind him. The crowd behind him is a mix of both genders and is dressed in the same attire of red & white. But Harry stands with his wand lifted with a slight tilt of arm. He is wearing his slim metallic glasses in the vision. The space is lit with light-yellow light.

19. The Two Cats

Vision (~23:40): A semi-animated vision of a dark brown fat cat with black horizontal strips lying on the grassy sideway of a road at its right with a visible sight of the long road curving to the left behind the cat. A smaller/shorter white cat striped with light grey color comes walking to the brown cat from the right and immediately gets on top of it. It's shown to have the tendency of tearing apart the brown cat around her neck as the vision shows so but then the vision immediately changes to the scene of the brown cat being intact and unharmed. The tearing apart doesn't ensue but the shorter white cat ends up licking the brown cat's throat and surrounding area. Their positions are now reversed as both have rotated by 180 degrees in the opposite direction. The two cats are in the act of intercourse now as the white cat moves on top of the brown cat. They continue it for a good while.

20. The Scene From '7 Khoon Maaf' (7 Murders Forgiven)

Highlighted in the Spirit. This scene from the movie has been highlighted to me many times now since last year. The scene has Irfaan Khan lying on top of the naked back of his wife Priyanka Chopra in the movie on bed as he bites her back and hits her as well making her shout in pain.

1. Blood Made Water (?)

Vision (Morning): I saw that my body was filled with water until shoulders and it was heated up on the inside. In the vision, the upper half of my body was shown. But instead of its front form was shown skyblue water filled within the side outlines.

When I woke up, I woke heated up on the inside. Why was I so? The state went along with the vision. I have been having liquid drinks for 2 days and haven't consumed food because of the 'Do not eat' revelation and because I wanted to fast before I would pray again in a gathering of believers.

I thought if the water in my body represented my diluted blood.

Recall: The 2020 dream revelation 'Christian Gets Arrested'
Yesterday, I understood one more part of the dream in which Christian got arrested. The men while persecuting him tried to insert thin but thick enough needles at the back of his hands which is a reflected revelation of them bursting my veins open on the inside with their drones. The needles used by the men weren't of appropriate size to pierce through his skin – that's also what the drones inside me did to my veins.

Recall: The Blood Purge (#9 on Page 444)
Two tiny bald men dressed in the attire of Roman soldiers applied pressure and burst open a vein of blood through a red piece of flesh.

God showed me in 2020 that they were going to burst my veins now in 2023, which also implies that I wasn't supposed to go to them either by now or how else would this revelation have come to pass. What God showed me was a reflected revelation of Christian's judgment. There were 3 or 4 needles in that palisade that those men in black were trying to insert at the back of his left hand. So, I guess that's also the number of my veins that they burst open or it could also represent the number of drones inside me that are hurting my veins.

2. Glory Stands With a Tube Light

The side view of a naked Glory standing between the plastic almirah and the wall to the right was shown. He stood facing to the left and had a tube light held vertically in his hands. It made me think if it meant he was hiding in plain sight with that tube light to hit me as he did in the visions following The Green Light vision.

3. My Time, Their Time

The difference between the times we spent. I wanted to be closer to God, to know more of Him, so I could walk out my calling better. He made a promise to me. So, I had to follow Him in that too. He introduced many people in my life. And now I have started going to church where I am building the confidence to pray and worship openly with confidence. I experienced firsthand the power of prayer in that church. I was also once overtaken by the Holy Spirit to an extent that I started praying in tongues involuntarily after I fell when the pastor laid hands on my head during the worship session.

I think I've made some spiritual progress. I will progress in reading the Word now as I'm now keeping up with recording the revelations.

As for them, they watched me grow in God. I don't know if they feel that they wasted their time on someone unworthy. Perhaps Death Conqueror does. But I utilized mine in opening my eyes to the spiritual reality of the world and additionally I had the dream revelation of healing from the year 2020 in my mind. So in my understanding, for the revelation to come to pass I had to follow God and His leading and not my emotions. Though I did and do get swayed by my own self at times. Yesterday, I saw in a quick vision that I distanced myself a bit from Jesus because of the fear of burning alive in the fire. That walking in His Will was going to cause me to suffer this. But then I was also thinking at night if only I had Jesus beside me, I would hug Him tightly as I would get burned if it was His Will.

Only at the actual time of persecution/test is the state of a man's heart revealed.

4. 'Toota Jo Kabhi Tara'

'Whenever a Star Fell'

The Guy sings:

Kisi Shaam Ki Tarah, Tera Rang Hai Khila	Like an evening, Your colour has bloomed
Main Raat Ek Tanha, Tu Chand Sa Mila	I'm a lonely night, and You've met me like the Moon
Haan Tujhe Dekhta Raha, Kisi Khwaab Ki Tarah	Yeah I kept gazing at You like you were a dream
Jo Ab Saamne Hai Tu,	When now You're right in front of me..
Ho Kaise Yaqeen Bhala...	How should I believe this (moment) to be true..

The Lady sings:

Toota Jo Kabhi Taara, Sajna Ve	Whenever a star fell, my beloved
Tujhe Rab Se Maanga	I asked for You from God
Rab Se Jo Maanga Mileya Ve...	Whatever I've asked from God (till now), I received..

The Guy sings:

Tu Mileya To Jaane Na Dunga Main	If I receive You, I will never let You go..

(Music...)

The Guy sings:

Haan Maine Suni Hai, Pariyon Ki Kahaani	Yes I've listened to fairy tales
Waisa Hi Noor Tera,	You have that same kind of glow..
Chehra Hai Tera Ruhaani	Your face reflects your soul/spirit
Aa Tujhko Main Apni, Aaja Meri, Baahon Mein Chhupa Loon	Come, let me hide You in my arms
	(Come, let me embrace You tightly)
Haan Apni Iss Zameen Ko, Kar Doon Main Aasmaani...	Yeah this ground of mine – I will make heavenly..
Zindagi Rok Doon Main, Ab Tere Saamne	I will put a halt to my life in front of You
Pal Do Pal Jo Ruke, Tu Mere Saath Mein	If for a couple of moments, You be with me..

The Lady sings:

Toota Jo Kabhi Taara, Sajna Ve	Whenever a star fell, my beloved
Tujhe Rab Se Maanga	I asked for You from God
Rab Se Jo Maanga Mileya Ve...	Whatever I've asked from God (till now), I received..

The Guy sings:

Tu Mileya To Jaane Na Dunga Main	If I receive You, I will never let You go..

(Music...)

The Lady sings:

Itni Bhi Haseen Main Nahi, O Yaara Ve	I'm not as beautiful as You describe, my partner
Mujhse Bhi Haseen Toh Tera Ye Pyaar Hai	Even more beautiful than me is your love..
Itni Bhi Haseen Main Nahi, O Yaara Ve	Yeah I'm not as beautiful as You describe, my partner
Mujhse Bhi Haseen Tera Pyaar	Even more beautiful than me is your love..

The Guy sings:

Ke Tera Mera Pyaar Ye,	This love of yours and mine
Jaise Khwaab Aur Dua	is like a dream and prayer together
Haan Sach Kar Raha Inhe, Dekho Mera Khuda...	Yeah look my God is making them come true
Toota Jo Kabhi Taara, Sajna Ve	Whenever a star fell, my beloved
Tujhe Rab Se Maanga	I asked for You from God
Rab Se Jo Maanga Mileya Ve...	Whatever I've asked from God (till now), I received..

The Lady sings:

Tu Mileya To Jaane Na Dungi Main	If I receive You, I will never let You go..

(Music...)

This song somehow reminds me of the day before yesterday's vision of 'White Letterings Over Sparkling Blue Water' (#14 on Page 443).

5. The Effects of Internal Bleed

While brooming my home last night, I tried to move some objects by picking them up but I found out that not only was I unable to pick them up but that it made one of the veins of my right hand twist and move inside. So, I avoided picking up heavy objects. Today it seems better, but I will avoid heavy lifting or strenuous activities.

6. I Can Be Very Active

When it's needed. I don't believe in being uselessly busy. It's better to rest with God and heal than to try to find something to occupy oneself with. But I do have a sense of getting things done and can stay out of my comfort zone too for long periods like I did last night while brooming.

7. Waiting For 'Activation'

If I don't die before that. It would be the best day of my life when I would discover that I have been activated in the gift of healing. Such a blessing by God to display His Glory in the Serpent system.

~13:53

8. Baby in Pink & White

Vision (~13:50): The top left back view of a mother feeding a tiny baby with her right breast. The baby is dressed in a pink dress with some white linings.

I was talking to my mom and she was pestering me with her harsh way of saying things when I had the above vision. She is not a very godly woman. I can see that she wants to draw me out of my inclination towards God as well. If she is not able to influence my thoughts, she uses others to get her way by complaining to them about my 'journey with God' out of parental concern. But her motive is to separate me from God and be worldly and think in worldly terms like her! I don't like any of the conversations that she and my youngest brother have. They are just so useless and unproductive and energy-sapping.

Recall: The vision 'White Letterings Over Sparkling Blue Water' and the song 'Toota Jo Kabhi Tara'.

The fallen stars in the song 'Toota Jo Kabhi Tara' are the children of God who fell from Heaven and whose one eye go to Heaven. That's also why in the vision the sparkling watery sky-blue surface changed to a blue eye representing our heavenly eye.

It's better to be born into an utterly poor family that's led by God than in a well-sustained one that is very worldly one that rejects God and tries to demoralize others as well in following God.

9. Meera's Parental Home – Wealthy in Unworldly Ways

I was recalling how things were in Meera's home many years back when we were friends back in BSc and during MSc. They didn't have many facilities in their home but there were no fights, and everything went so smoothly. The environment was so healing. Her mom was always happy. And she loved to be in her home. No one inhibited her from pursuing her spiritual interests, though her interests were not godly but were inclined towards the kingdom of devil which she didn't know. But they were content and happy despite their financial situation. I loved to be in her home. She may not have benefitted much from being friends with me, but I gained a lot. She fulfilled the emotional gap that was created by the lack I saw in my family - the lack of everything her family was abundant in, which was not materialistic.

10. Moles on Hands & Legs

Vision (Afternoon): In the vision, I looked down and saw moles protruding on my naked body, upper arms, thighs, and legs. The moles were of the same color as my skin tone.

11. Paneer Roll With Jema

I fell asleep in the afternoon when I had this dream-vision: I saw me and Jema walking below in the parking lot with a paneer roll similar to the one we had on the day of MRI. We walked together and I found myself taking a bite of that paneer roll. We were sharing it. We then sat below on a surface near the lift. The vision of me eating that roll seemed so real that after waking up, I felt like it was inside me. I don't know why this revelation was given to me.

I went out to have juice and when I returned and laid down on bed, I had this vision:

12. Fox RS in Cheetah Suit

Vision (Evening): I saw the upper half of Ranveer Singh dressed in a brown Cheetah suit with black dots and a white shirt inside with a fox nose, eyebrows, and ears. There were grey fox hair around his fox facial features. He had his arms lifted along the sides as he moved them sideways. Only half of his arms were visible because of the relatively huge view of his stature. There was a huge old building visible behind him as he moved slightly sideways.

13. Lady In White With Golden Leaves

Vision (Evening): I saw a beautiful lady in white smiling and looking at me with love. She had her hair tied at the back. When she moved away from the view, a greater part of her attire was visible. I saw that she was wearing a white ethnic Indian attire of a tunic with a drape. On her tunic were printed golden autumn leaves. The background was that of the central green area below the towers. She was waving and dancing slowly with joy as she moved away from the vision.

14. A Teary-Eyed Mithun

Vision (Evening): The vision began with a focus on Bollywood Actor Mithun's face with teary eyes. As the focus moved away from him, I saw that he was wearing a full-sleeved off-white shirt and stood in front of a light greenish wall in a dimly lit room. Why was he teary-eyed in pain..?

15. Karishma Kapoor With Two Glasses of Water

Vision (Evening): I saw Karishma Kapoor with her look from the movie 'Andaaz Apna Apna' in a white frilled dress with a square neck in front of a light skyblue watery background. She was smiling teethfully at the viewer as she held two beer glasses, one in each hand, with her upper arms lifted parallel to the ground and her forearms vertical to the ground. The beer glasses were half-filled with water. She was vertically moving her hands alternately as she flashed the glasses to the viewer.

16. The Dance After The Heart Ministry

After I watched the piano performance by The Chosen actor Reza Diako, I had the heart revelation that I already wrote about. But following the heart revelation, I had these visions that I haven't written about.

Vision: I saw the side-view of a man in a black suit getting down the last few stairs as he stepped down to the right in a large, embellished hall. The staircase was at a good distance of about 10 meters from the viewer. There was a lady dressed in an Indian ethnic red attire standing at the bottom of the staircase. As the guy reached down, they started dancing slowly in a duet together. The guy rotated the lady a few times with her arm lifted above her head.

They were now away from the staircase and still in their duet as they slowly moved around.

17. I've Already Birthed One Child

But I'm afraid of the cement slab vision coming to manifest. I don't want to leave the birthed baby left in the car but after I prayed for it to come to life, it changed from being an innocent baby to a face with evil expressions.

18. The Past Years

Death Conqueror says things like he liked me when he liked love, but now he doesn't even like love.. (so how can he like me..) – scene from a movie. But during the past years I learned more of self-sacrifice, grew closer to God, and saw what love really is from His stand.

John 15:13 (New International Version)
[13] Greater love has no one than this: to lay down one's life for one's friends.

I waited and prepared as He showed me. I couldn't do it perfectly. I had persistent headaches when I wasn't eating and had a hard time concentrating as well because of the stress due to being broadcast live all the time. Following what God showed me was one thing, but to do it while carrying the mental burden of being persistently put on display online was another. The privacy breach added to my soul-sapping burden and slowed me down mentally. It kept me in a state of pain which I kept buried inside for long as I thought it to be a part of my calling. But I can't deny that it was a heavy burden that I carried along.

If I were to attribute the reason of this burden to God alone, perhaps it would've been slightly easier because God Himself suffered in this system and so did His people whom He called to minister to others. And He had already set an example before us about how to endure till the end in the system.

19. 'Apni Is Zameen Ko, Kardu Mein Aasmani'
'This Ground of Ours – I Will Make Heavenly'

I realized that the vision 'White Letterings Over Sparkling Blue Water' (#14 on Page 443) relates to this lyric of the song 'Toota Jo Kabhi Taara'. This also happens to be my favourite lyric of the song.

The name of the font I used above in the title is 'Fave Script Bold Pro'. It is the font that matches the closest with the one I saw on top of the sparkling water.

20. The Puppy

The Puppy in the puppy revelations was a golden retriever puppy. I saw it standing on its hind legs with the fore legs lifted high and bent in at the lower joints. The same puppy dog I saw in the church vision today.

The facial features of the puppy resembled this one's the most out of all the images I saw on Google Images.

21. The Groin Food

Yesterday: I was lying on bed and resting when I had this vision.

Vision (afternoon): I saw Glory between my legs at the place of my groin and he was eating it. I saw a red cavity in my lower belly above my groin. Apparently, it had been stabbed. I saw Glory stab it once again and look inside before continuing to eat the groin. He was being too beasty!

22. The Nail and The Bite

After having juice while I was resting, I pulled my patterned skyblue head scarf a bit ahead of my forehead to cover eyes when I had this vision.

Vision (Evening): Dushman hits a long nail in my mouth. Then he bites off my lips in one go.

23. Amisha Patel Talks To Someone

Before sleeping:

Vision (around midnight): A very tall Amisha Patel dressed in a black ankle-length loose attire (resembling a Burqua below neck) with a pink head scarf tied below her chin walks inside a room with some people present around. She stops to talk to someone at the left. It seems like a police station though the vision ended before the people present in the room could be noticed.

After I fell asleep, I was woken up by some disturbing activity inside my skull. I then had this vision:

1. The Brain Brush

Vision (late night): Amisha Patel stands with the top hemisphere of her skull missing. Something rushes past her head in the air brushing against the white surface of her brain and leaving bloody red scraped surface on the sides.

I too felt movement and pain inside my head when I woke up. The sides of my brain seemed to be burning. For a moment, I had the burning smell again but when I tried smelling more of it and searching for it, it was no longer there. I adjusted the headscarf that I had tied in the same manner I had seen in the vision before falling asleep, and I prayed. I could feel some movement in my lower belly above the groin. It seemed like things were dissolving inside for I could feel a slurry movement inside. It felt like the mixture was going to be ejected out of the body from below. I patted the area for a while and prayed for all the places I was facing problems at. I have been doing this for a few days now – I would lay my hands on the problem areas of my body and pray for them to heal in Jesus' name. Whenever I would feel a nerve pain or as if I was having a weak vein in some area that was paining at the movement of flesh, I would hold that area or put my hands on it, and pray. I thought of getting down on my knees on the floor and praying like the past two days, but I felt better after a while and was too half-asleep to get down. So, I prayed in bed instead. I fell asleep after a while.

2. 'Choomantar '

Definition 1: To disappear in thin air.
Definition 2: Choo-mantar = Touch – Chant/Pray/Spell
Definition 3: Witchcraft (But it doesn't apply to our case!)

I woke up with this song playing in my Spirit today morning:

(These lyrics were playing in my Spirit when I was still on bed)

Choo-man-tar ho
aaja chal gum ho jaayein
Choo-man-tar ho
khud se hi khud kho jaayein
Choo-man-tar ho
nazaron mein hum na aayein
Dhoonde jahan
hum bhi na jaane hum hain kahaan
choo le zameen se wo aasmaan

chal lo re lo re chalo re o re

o baby o baby!
o baby o baby!

Are you ready for this!
Are you ready for this!

thodi si yaari yaara raahon se nibha le apne pe bhi to kabhi apni chala le hum chalein kahin, aawara ho kar naape zameen

hum dhoondhe kahin,
kuch aisa jo khoya hi nahi

Chhoo-man-tar ho
aaja chal gum ho jaayen
Chhoo-man-tar ho
khud se hi khud kho jaayen
Chhoo-man-tar ho
nazron mein hum na aayen

Ho choo mantar!
Ho choo mantar!

(These lyrics played in my Spirit when I was later in the kitchen)

Palkon ki daali pe jo sapne lage hain
Khwahishon ki garmi se wo pakne lage hain hmm.. ruko zara, dekhen to kya hai ye maajra hmm.. sabhi tarah khwahishon se hai ye dil bhara

Chhu-man-tar ho
aaja chal guum ho jaayein
Chhu-man-tar ho
khud se hi khud kho jaayein
Chhu-man-tar ho
nazaron mein hum naa aayein

Dhoonde jahaan
hum bhi na jaane hum hain kahan
choo le zameen se wo aasmaan
chal lo re lo re chal.....

3. My Mom Still Carries Her Past Self

I feel better today physically, though my stepmom ruined my stay at home with her constant nagging and disapproval of my inclination towards God and visits to church. She doesn't want me to go to the church God showed me. She told me to visit the local church in Sonipat instead even when I explained to her that not all churches are led by the Holy Spirit or are filled with it. Many are for just a show. She doesn't even know the definition of church. How is she then equipped to lead me to places! Listening to her yesterday and the day before yesterday made me pathetic and took away from the godly emotions I carried inside.

She is a highly ungodly woman who will go to the distant house of a person to ask for lent money, but she won't go to a place filled with the power of the Holy Spirit. I thought of this while writing the previous sentence itself as I recalled the times she was asking me about my ex-PG's owner Kunal's address so she could go and ask for my security money he hasn't yet returned. But she would stop me from going to a place I find healing at - a gathering of like-minded believers. Looking at the kind of person she is and the things she values, she would call the place a low-level one where the uneducated gullible, and foolish people come. She has no godly sense of thinking. I now feel so repelled by her. Almost as if the stink of her worldliness has filled the home though it's cleaner and more organized now. It still stinks because of the kind of things that fill her mind! She's always talking about our state of money or other people's state of money or how rich someone else is! Her thoughts are disgusting. She hasn't changed much. I can feel that she'll ruin my own spiritual walk if I stay here in her presence for a longer duration!

4. She Steps Out of Her Limits!

She's not supposed to lead me in my walk with God. Nor is she supposed to take hold of all my money which she wants to! That's not the role of parents – that they take all their children's money and then distribute it to them as 'they' see fit! She tries to step over the spaces that are not hers! Just like the other bullies! She's a bully in a way. Though a victim too. But she's acting as a negative influence in my life who wants me to leave God and separate me from Him!

5. They Do Things That Defy Logic

One doesn't has to 'understand' Willful sin and suffer because of it. One can just walk away and be alone or be with better people who have godly morals! I will leave everyone/anyone who challenges my belief in the Most High God and tries to turn me to immoral ways that are not His.

Why would a person abuse another and then expect her to act like he never abused her and her family!? It doesn't make any sense!

How can a person hurt the other individual mentally, physically, and emotionally and yet expect that person to love him/her in a manner that should be exercised with a healthy reciprocating individual?

God had to die for our sins because of the legalistic nature of the judgment – it demonstrates His logical nature and therefore makes sense. The ones who love Him – obey Him, follow Him and love His nature and try to be like Him.

Death Conqueror has acted in a highly illogical manner to get his way. Didn't he realize that the way he was choosing wasn't something that would earn him love, but judgment for the wickedness he displayed!

I am not going to throw stones on God or say hurtful things to Him if I love Him. I would rather stay quietly in His presence and relish in His love with my heart communing with his.

13:37

I was resting when I felt something throbbing inside my skull, resembling an outward flow of something. Before that I was having pinching sensations on the surface of my brain at one point this time and the next point, another. I felt a heavy flow out. I then woke up to pray for whatever condition it was.

His case:

Death Conqueror stripped me publicly for 4 years by tiny sending spy cameras/drones and broadcasted me live, sent bully messengers to say emotionally abusive things which caused me further stress! He stripped my family members as well. My mom who is much elder to him, he didn't spare her either! Is he openly declaring his rotten inner self? Afterwards, he burst an egg in my left ovary through his drone followed by internal vein bursts! He got inside my skull and hurt my brain and my eyes. He threatened to make me blind. He's ok with setting me on fire by fiddling with my internals (heart and brain). What do all these things show…!?

But Glory waited. He waited without causing me to hurt like this fellow!! It's not that he followed a Godly way either. But he was neutral and bent slightly toward the positive side in his approach.

And when once I was about to enter in a discussion with my supervisor Nivedita Deo, she out of nowhere said, "If the kitchen is messed up, everything's messed up!" So what can I do about it? I have a functioning brain that tells me what is or what isn't messed up!? I don't need other people's directives besides God! This made me think how blind and selfish this Death Conqueror was! I was already hurting because of all that I had endured and had now started to lag behind in my work, but now I got to hear this new 'expectation' or an indirect order. I didn't see any empathy in Death Conqueror but only a selfish person who hurt other individuals through ways he found would work for them! Where was the godliness!? He is the kind of person who would chop the legs of an individual and then casually say, "Good people, Good deeds." as a sarcastic comment about him and his group!

6. A Criminal Politician

These lines below from the song 'Phir Bhi Dil Hai Hindustani' ('Even then the Heart is an Indian') have been highlighted to me several times! The lines portray The Character Facets of Death Conqueror (nothing to feel proud about though).

'Hum Aise Bhi Hai..' ('We are like this too.')

'Hum Hai Waise Bhi.' ('We're like that as well.')

Ref: [Phir Bhi Dil Hai Hindustani | Title Track | Juhi Chawla, Shah Rukh Khan | Now in HD - YouTube]

He sent some indirect messages through others as well that were supposed to sound good.. messages like 'You are my favourite!'

It seems to me that I am the favourite person to abuse!

He is the kind of person who will be saying nice things to your face while working to set your pyre behind your back. Isn't that what he did! I'm repelled by his brain!
He took my forgiveness for granted despite the long abuse. And he said hurtful things to me together with Akhila! They both joined hands to further hurt me! I don't know what did they get out of that!? Perhaps some selfish wicked kind of contentment they feel when they've hurt an innocent individual.

My conscientious self ends up hating Death Conqueror again and again when it looks at the TRUTH of his actions! – It can't be changed! Because I'm not going to turn wicked to be with anyone! God is Holy, and I want to be Holy! Well, if not hate, it makes me want to stay away and not listen to his words or not pay heed to his temperament when his actions have already spoken in a certain way!

It's not me who is rejecting him, but his own actions that are building up in front of me as a wall between me and him!

I realized after writing the above that this is also the same situation we face with God. We build a wall between him and us with our sins. But Jesus came to tear down that wall by taking the judgment of the wall of sins upon Himself. But the people need to repent for their sins.

I am no one to count or shouldn't be counting the bricks of sins in the wall because God has called me to forgive as I've been forgiven by Him on the cross.

I forgave a lot but to no use! Because I still receive hurtful revelations showing how they're capable of hurting me or want to hurt me.

So many hurtful things I didn't have to listen to got poured into my ears! And at times I get reminded of them. It hurts me and makes me think about what kind of world he lives in! I don't want any of it to infiltrate my world in which I want to make God and His nature the focus and center.

If one were to look at my actions, I followed God in His leading and worked on changing my external looks and the way I did some things. I don't see a blatant case like he has INTENTIONALLY built for himself! Though there's a case against me too, but it's paid for by Jesus and I try not to commit wilful sins. Though I am not perfect, I don't commit sins like Death Conqueror and Akhila do.

I have always been a monogamous person, and Glory too seems to be monogamous to me. It's Death Conqueror who likes to have many women on board. I never liked such people, nor their way of thinking or lifestyle! I am not a broad person, but a narrow and deep one. One person is more than enough for me provided the bond is pure and true, and not built on a base of lies, threats, apathy, abuse, or any other ungodly trait. If I can't find a pure bond, I would prefer to not have even that one person in my life. And that's also the kind of people I like.

7. My Two States

State 1:

I only see the outward sinful actions of Death Conqueror and feel repelled by him and want him to be judged if he doesn't repent but forgiven if he repents. But I feel in this state that he deserves to be taught a lesson! He can't just go around bullying people to 'please' himself or to get his way!

State 2:

I don't see any of his sins but only look at my own perception of him that's untinted by his actions. And the perception is love-filled. In that perception, he's an innocent, tiny and cute characterful person who's intelligent in the right sense as well. And shares my previous worldly interest in Harry Potter. Though I no longer have that same zeal for Harry Potter because it's about witchcraft. The state is augmented by God's given revelations that are good. I projected the image of a characterful intelligent person on him. But he doesn't exhibit the above traits that my brain projected on him when I didn't know his real power-seeking worldly politician self.

He will call bad as good and therefore in his own eyes, he's justified. And I also noticed that he goes well with people who are a mixture and not 'pure' or who are intermittently toxic for no reason as they match his mental frequency.

I don't know if I will be dead before entering my promised land as some of the Israelites did because of disobedience and their children entered the promised land. They didn't know their fate but were following God in the wilderness when God counted them unworthy to enter the promised land because of repeated disobedience towards Him. They were always grumbling and complaining instead of following what God instructed them to.

8. A Flute

Vision (Past Week): A horizontal flute on top of the background of a hall with many doors.
I noticed later that Michael Singh who sang the worship song 'Rooh-e-aa' uses a flute in the video.

~21:17

9. I Didn't Make Him Do It

Death Conqueror says the typical abuser's excuse of 'You made me do it' about al the ways he hurt me. Again, he shows how morally demented he is. He 'chose' to hurt me in those ways without me asking for it. He is just another individual and I am not obliged to 'obey' him in any way, shape or form. He shouldn't have come across as a criminal! But everyone in my dept seemed to be supporting his cause! I hate that place. I've now seen how much it is filled with wickedness!

The good revelations that I wrote are what God wants him to do, but he's 'choosing' not to go by the way of God. He chose the path of wickedness. Because he wasn't looking for love, but submission! And I will not submit to a person dictated by devil! I will rebuke him away.

The fact that all the ways he hurt me didn't fulfil his purpose is proof that those ways weren't supposed to be employed as all turned out to be unfruitful. He definitely didn't know which way will lead to what result but acted according to his own demented understanding. What God revealed he is not doing. Again, it shows that I did not make him do anything. He's a morally and logically demented person. He's only good at applying logic to his work which is useless in my eyes and God's too if he thinks what he did was alright! I really want him to be judged now because he or his evil troop gave me a sore eye by using his drones that're inside my skull! I don't like him at all. All will have to answer before God. Not just him or the people who supported him, but also those professors form my dept who act so good on my face but support the ways of devil behind the curtains. It's hard to believe that Prof PDG didn't know that Deepak was a planted doppelganger when he wrote him that mail that Deepak was flashing to everyone. All are involved together in this wickedness!

I don't know what he was thinking he would achieve by bulging out my eye! If he was trying to threaten me or to show his supremacy. One day he will see God's supremacy! To sit in a car and keep waiting doesn't show any love when you're stripping the person and her family publicly and also saying mean things to her in order to break her down! And then you hurt her physical body as well. I don't see any love in it. If he had any insight, he would've understood why I kept away from him all this time!

He only added to the wall by hurting my eye!

10. What Actually Happened.

I was resting on the bed and it was already dark outside. I was weeping as well as some things crossed my mind. Also, I felt something moving inside. It was then that this song lyric started playing in my spirit:

'Aankhon Ki Gustakhiyaa Maaf Ho..'
'Let the mistakes of eyes be forgiven..'

When I went to use the washroom and switched on the light afterwards, I saw that the base of my right eye was swollen profusely. The song lyric then made sense to me.

Ref: Aankhon Ki Gustakhiyan Full Song | Hum Dil De Chuke Sanam | Aishwarya, Salman Khan

I showed my eye to my mom and brother, and they blamed it on me by calling it to be a result of the Red Kajal I apply at the base of my eyes.

11. A Horizontal Infinity with a Crown

Vision (yesterday or the day before): I saw a horizontal white symbol of infinity in a black background. The infinity was constructed by moving white lines and there was a small golden crown with embedded colorful stones present above the junction of the two parts.

12. RS, Me, The Bike, & The Mountain

Vision (Evening): I saw a semi-animated vision of a beautiful soothing sunny day with a blue sky in which Ranveer Singh was sitting on a bike as he looked to the left at me revealing his light beard. Apparently, I must be present behind him on that bike. He was dressed in a blue shirt with a small red floral print. In front of him laid a green and brown ground present below at a very low level of what seemed to be about 100 feet. At some distance ahead laid a green mountain that seemed to be at the same level as the one we were currently situated at. He was getting ready to move forward as he rotated the accelerator handles of the bike at that position on the mountain.

13. The Alan Watts Mountain

Vision (Evening): The green semi-animated conical mountain was now seen at the left side of the vision and had the face of Alan Watts highlighted by the greenery present on it. The image had his usual bearded style along with his neck-length hair constituting the outlines of the mountain.

14. The Painting in Blue & White

Vision (Evening): I saw a mix of deep dark blue and white colour rising up slowly in a peculiar manner from a straight horizontal baseline. As the colour continued to rise upwards on the vision's surface, they took the form of Ranveer Singh with a light beard in a room in a deep dark blue suit with a white shirt inside. He walked to the right and stopped.

The Bouquet and The Cash

It was revealed that he was carrying a bouquet in his left hand which he kept extended to the right with a tilted arm as he continued looking in that direction. He then he took out some cash in his right hand which was towards the sight of the viewer. It seemed that he was flashing the notes to the viewer of the vision while without even looking at him/her. He then threw the cash abruptly towards the viewer while still facing to the right with the bouquet in his hand.

15. Kim's Deliverance Prayer

It was in 2020 that I had Kim pray for me over a WhatsApp audio call. She had offered a free prayer deliverance ministry in a Facebook group that I was a part of. I read in the comments some very good reviews given by people who had her pray for them. It was late evening. She asked me to first share my problem with her and that she would invite the Holy Spirit afterwards when she would begin to pray. I told her about my Hinduism phase in which I did transcendental meditation that led to a demonic experience for me as well beginning with my hands oscillating out of phase horizontally. I told her how the guy (Tejaswi) who brainwashed me in Hinduism was a narcissistic womanizer. I spoke for a good amount of time, and she listened very patiently to me. When I was done, I told her that I needed mental and emotional healing as I had been hurting for a long time.

When I was done speaking, she began with her part. She invited the Holy Spirit by saying, "Holy Spirit, Come." "Come, Holy Spirit." As she said those words, I felt a cool sensation inside my body at the place of the heart. That was the beginning of the effect. She then started to pray for me. The cool sensation then extended vertically inside my body. It was the first time that I was having such an experience. She continued and the sensation spread further. After she was done, she asked me how I was feeling. I told her that I felt a very cool sensation arise within and that it was now extended inside my body. She was amazed at my experience. She said that the devil was coming after my hands because they were precious - referring to the demonic experience. After she had prayed, I felt too much better physically if not mentally. The cooling physical sensation brought with it a subtle kind of mental healing. The sensation inside stayed for about half an hour as I lay in bed observing the unexpected encounter with the Spirit of God.

The Demonic Possession

It must be during late 2016 or it could be during early 2017 as well that I had this experience of a demonic possession. I had been meditating almost regularly and had even seen a closed eye in a red background when I was at my Paternal Aunt Rekha's home. She is my dad's sister. I was meditating on bed in their bedroom when I had gone into that state in which I saw that eye. It seemed like my ego had dissolved for I couldn't feel a sense of individuality and felt one with everything – that's what they teach in their theories present in their false doctrines. I was trying to be an 'observer'- as was taught by that certain sect of Hinduism that I had the books about that I had recently happened to possess. I saw this 'Eye' experience as a step forward in my spiritual journey towards God. But it wasn't so. God wasn't in that eye or in the experience of transcendental meditation that Tejaswi had led me into. But He was present with me in my lowest moment of sadness when He kissed my left cheek when I was lying thoughtless in the dark in bed at my home in Omaxe. I hadn't understood the abrupt sensation so had put it in my bag of unexplained things.

Coming back to my experience of demonic possession, because of my routine meditation practices, I now had begun to have vibrations arise in the center of my forehead that extended outwardly. Whenever I would start meditating, I would have the vibrations begin, and at times when I wasn't even meditating. Those were also the days of change of Indian currency; so, I was standing in a long line in Miranda House for the new currency notes. I found a girl there I knew from a recreational course I had done in BSc. It's name was 'Breaking Barriers' and it was offered by the 'Lok Bharati' society. I remembered that she was the only girl who signed her name in capitals in full on the attendance sheet of the course. The course was taught by an overweight lady who almost always dressed in a Saree. I and Meera both had joined this short course as it was fun.

On talking with that girl that day in college, I learned that she too had been doing meditation and that when she would go deeper in it, the vibrations extended even further backwards in the brain. We counted it as an enlightening spiritual experience. Seeing that others were also going through the same suggested to me that perhaps I was doing the right thing. It was only later that I got to know about the underlying reality of different sects or systems of beliefs people followed.

My experience of demonic possession progressed as such. This day, I stood in the smaller bedroom of my home at Omaxe, when the vibrations in my forehead began, and they didn't come alone but along with horizontal synchronous vibrations of my hands as well. The vibrations of my hands were in synchrony with the vibrations inside my forehead but were out of phase with each other. The inward and outward oscillations increased in amplitude with the passing seconds. It seemed as if something was trying to take over my hands, something external which wasn't a part of my will. I walked some steps and sat on the chair in front of the table in the room. I could feel the external entity trying to take hold of my hands and the entity was filled with fleshly desire. I could tell that it was something outside of me and had found a way in through the forehead vibrations that were a result of my meditation experience. It was later that I got to know that transcendental meditation was an open doorway to demons and that eye that I had seen was the spiritual eye of Lucifer from Hell!

It was hard to resist the entity. It wanted to bite my lips and touch me all over. I was in a state of wrestling with it. It left me after a while. But the experience made me think if it was a result of some witchcraft practice employed by another individual that affected me because of my open demonic doors.

After Kim had prayed for me, she made me repeat a prayer with her as well. In that prayer, she had me repent for involving myself in things I shouldn't have been involved in because transcendental meditation is of the kingdom of devil, and not of God. We prayed in the name of Jesus as we asked for forgiveness from Father God for my past.

16. Shahrukh Khan With a Head Covering

I was already hearing these song lyrics in my Spirit when I laid on my side to rest with my skyblue head covering on and had this vision.

The Song Lyrics:

Ghunghte Mein Chanda Hai	The moon is veiled
Phir Bhi Hai Phela Chaaron Aur Ujala	even then light is spread in all four directions.
Hosh Na Kho De Kahin	Lest a man loses his senses
Josh Mein Dekhne Waala	while watching with excitement

Ref: Ghoongte Mein Chanda | Udit Narayan | Koyla | Shahrukh Khan | Madhuri Dixit | Bollywood Hits Song

Vision: Shahrukh Khan with his face from the movie 'Phir Bhi Dil Hai Hindustani' with a transparent drape on his head looks at me as he lypses out the above song lyrics.

17. 'The Demoniacs Are Here To Kill You'

"Whatever you say, whatever you do-
When it comes to these people, they're never going to understand.

It's not their job to understand- their job is to kill you.

You can't win an argument with these people-
You can't win an argument with the demons.

No matter what you say, no matter what you do-
These people are here to kill you.

So it's important to understand who's been infected-
Not with the corona virus, but with the diablo virus.
Who out there has been bodysnatched by the devil?

You want to know why it seems like everyone is working against you in your entourage, in your immediate world?
It's because the majority of people out there have been bodysnatched by the demonic.

And the only people that have been saved are those that have chosen the better path-
The straight and narrow path-
Those that have their armor on."

18. 'You Are The Last'

Vision (Afternoon): I saw a close-up view of the naked upper half of Christian moving backwards in what seemed to be a horizontal position on the bed as he said the words 'You're the last." And then appeared two red love hearts in front of his eyes.

Perhaps it's a shadow revelation.

1. A Series of Beautiful Visions in a Blue & White Background

Vision(s):

- Semi-animated vision of a bunch of colorful flowers.
- A transparent hourglass on a swing in a blue & white background. The hourglass has a whitish material inside.
- The legs of a man in a yellow suit wrapped with a lady's legs on the same swing in a royal blue and white environment.

Many dreamy floral revelations in a surrounding background of blue & white.

2. Dream This Morning

A Court's Front, and The PG's Back

I am in my PG but it has wide back and front gates. The back gate is a wide grilled green one resembling the front gate. I see it from some distance above in the dream, while the front gate is brown and wide and lies ahead of a wide brown staircase with some distance between the two. I see some people sitting on the brown stairs. I go back inside.

Girls Blow Their Noses

I am now in the common washroom of the place. It has many washbasins in a row. A girl comes and is about to blow her nose in the sink of one of the basins. The line of basins is to my right. The girl is dressed in a skyblue t-shirt and has open straight hair that are slightly longer than her shoulder. Another girl comes and she too is about to do the same in another sink. A third girl comes and does the same. I can't understand why they all are behaving in this manner. How much better it is to use a tissue than to blow out one's nose openly in the sink. I pass them by and walk out. I again go downstairs close to the front gate. The people are still sitting there on the wide brown stairs. I go to the PG's roof. I am trying to evade some people (Death Conqueror most likely). I jump from over the roof and land outside the building on the ground.

Me in Just a White Shirt and a Lingerie Set

I am now looking at myself as a third person from a height above me. I am dressed in a full-sleeved white shirt but the buttons are all open revealing my black sports bra with a meshed upper half and beige panty inside with no trousers on. In that attire, I am bent forward a bit and moving my vertically folded arms back and forth while slightly horizontally oscillating my ass as well. The observing me doesn't know why I am doing that. There are two more people present there in front of me one of whom seems to be Death Conqueror.

3. Karishma Kapoor's Face Gets Sprinkled with Water

Vision: I saw in my left mental view the face of Karishma Kapoor with her hair tied low at the back as she slept in the dark on what looked like a part of a swing on her left side when a hand sprinkled some water on it.

4. I Myself Felt like Burning These Pages

Because I had been writing things about someone who intentionally inflicted pain and made me go through situations that one would NEVER expect from someone one was supposed to love. His actions just seem too immature to me. His chosen way was not the way to act or behave. And he ruined many things for me through his wicked ways. I don't know if they can be made right but when I looked at my photo from some years back, I saw a happy person, and I've not been happy for a long time. I've only been suffering though it increased my love for Jesus!

And then I was thinking about how I forbade Glory to burn the pages when I had the vision in which he was putting the pages one by one in a fire ignited inside a metallic vessel with a spherical base. I wanted to burn these pages because I felt like I was fighting against a force that was so unlike me that it only seemed impossible for it to understand what God was communicating to it. Things that were so simple and straightforward and meant to be so, he complicated them unnecessarily and brought in bitterness where love was supposed to abound. I look at the hurtful actions and feel aversed, but then I lose hold of the reality of this person's actions and look at how things were supposed to be which would not be the case because he will keep complicating things and introducing new bitterness by new tests, indirect tactics, and false judgments. I just love how simple things are with Jesus. He knows right from wrong.

Glory can go ahead and burn the pages when it's time and I'm gone. It will give my dead soul some relief!

This song played in my Spirit intermittently through the day.

5. 'Aise Na Mujhe Tum Dekho'

'Don't Look At Me In Such A Manner'

(or else) I'm going to bosom you.

6. Jesus Gets Pulled In The Ground

Vision (Afternoon): Jesus and I stand facing each other in a forest. I stand on the left while Him on the right. He is dressed in His white tunic. He gets pulled down into the ground while I stay intact. He gets pulled in further down in the ground and is now half vertically buried in the ground.

Why was He getting shorter while I stayed intact? He is the one who has truly loved me. He is God and look how He loves those who love Him back.

7. 'Bahut Hi Khatarnak Hu Mein'

These parts of the song 'Mein Hoon Don' ('I am Don') played in my Spirit during the evening and night.

Mein zindagi ki baazi lga ke	Making a move of risking my life
Maut se khelta hu zuaa	I play roulette with death
Na mujhko gum hai	Neither do I have any grief
Na mujhko parwaah	Nor am I concerned
Kon mera dushman hua	about who my enemy is.
Dushman jo mera ho	The one who makes himself my enemy
Rehta nhi duniya mein	doesn't stay alive in this world.

Bahut hi khatarnak hu mein.. I am very very dangerous.

Ref: Main Hoon Don Lyrical Video Song | Don-The Chase Begins Again | Shahrukh Khan, Priyanka Chopra

(This is not the disgusting filthy in character person I ever wanted in my life!)

8. 'You are my Last' – Sounds Weird

Because I'm intrinsically up for a committed one-to-one relationship. And I don't think Christian from the Fifty Shades series shares the same persona. He's a many persons person and doesn't feel bad about hurting the ones who're in a relationship with him. How could he go about this way for those many number of years. It just doesn't make any sense to me. On top of what he did, he replied with a "Konsa maine Instagram pe daal diya" ("At least I didn't put them on Instagram.") – referring to the obscene photos and live broadcast. It sounds like he's trying to make an enemy bow down to him by using such hurtful tactics, and not trying to win a loved one.

Because I don't have any space in my life for an unrepentant criminal – because he makes of himself an enemy of God. If he doesn't repent and continues in his ways, then he makes himself an enemy of God and an enemy of God is the enemy of His children by default.

I only feel hurt when I look at the past years and I don't want to risk more hurt for new types of ways to get hurt by accepting such a person in my life. I was wondering who the person was who was looking at him in that vision as he moved away. Because I don't want to be that person who must live with this painful burden of this hurt that he has poured on my mind and body and is 'training' me to even endure more of! It only hurts me and breaks my heart to look back and I feel humiliated! And then I look back at some of the hurtful words said to me by others. One lady said in a harsh tone that I couldn't 'tolerate' what was done to me! No why should I tolerate something that I am not supposed to unless it's God's will! I don't want an abuser man in my lifewith whom I have to learn to 'tolerate'! Jesus is enough for me! I don't know if he was training me to be one of the living dead! But God has other plans for me! He is the righteous judge, not an unjust afflicting criminal! He will raise me up from the dead in my new glorified body after I die! I don't want to live with a person who has killed me in many ways!

1. The Wave

Recall: The Ocean Wave that I couldn't escape in the revelation 'The Resting KA and The Lady' on Page 399.

2. Michael Singh - Prophetic Symbol

I was listening to his worship song this evening when I paused it midway while talking to my mom. When I got back to the song, I noticed that the paused scene had his face making the prophetic symbol. Earlier within the past two days, I had noticed that he carried a flute in that song which reminded me of my previous vision of a beautiful wooden flute.

3. Dream (Late2021/Early 2022): The Fall and The Psychopathic Dad

In this dream, I was falling upside down from a huge height in the sky. I felt the air rushing by as I fell down facing upwards. I finally fell to the ground. But when I got up, and walked forward, I found Hugh Grant standing in front of me as the character of Jonathan Fraser from the TV series 'The Undoing'. Apparently, he was my new dad after I fell on Earth. Like a child, I quickly jumped in his lap with my legs around him. He was dressed in a full-sleeved skyblue shirt tucked inside pants.

Thomas Fraser in the series was a psychopath who portrayed a very good image in front of his family (his wife and children), but he was a murderous psychopath deep down as well. He had an extramarital affair with a woman whom he later killed brutally.

In our lives, we the children of God 'fall from Heaven' on the Earth, and get a new (psychopathic) dad who's the devil until we give our lives to Jesus Christ - the God Most High - who then becomes our father.

I got a murderous psychopathic dad when I fell on Earth.

4. Was He Worth Suffering For?

I was striped. My internals were hurt. He keeps trying to bulge/pop out my eye. He only made me feel hurt, insulted, and humiliated. What was it that I suffered for the past 4 years for? He or his immoral ‘dumbass’ friends weren't worth suffering for.

Earlier tonight I was feeling broken when I compared how I was treated with how another individual who had been mean and condescending to me was treated. I was striped publicly. I never wanted my nude pictures to be taken. But she was being covered publicly and honored in a way. This photo of Akhila dressed in a pink and white suit with a pink drape covering/spread over her front kept being highlighted to me along with the vision of me standing naked with crossed arms waiting for God to pick me up as He kept bringing His hand closer to me. My own imagination of disgusting obscene pictures of me that were made public ran through my mind and then her fully covered pictures. And it made me feel broken as I thought what did I do to deserve that? He misused his power to abuse an innocent individual.

Both insulted me. I saw how he had been hurting and insulting me while he honored her, and so I became firm in my mind that I didn't want such a person in my life. This is not even the kind of 'friend' I want! He only breaks and leaves the other person broken - alone to pick up the pieces. At times, he doesn't even give them the space to pick up the pieces to be whole but continues breaking without a halt! He's no child that he doesn't know right from wrong. On my way back from the vegetable market, all these thoughts inundated my mind as I looked at the contrasting behavior towards me and towards another morally inferior individual (Akhila). If I'm so undeserving of basic human respect, then he shouldn't have stopped by my life in the first place but should've continued moving toward more people like Akhila who deserve and have the right to be 'clothed'.

He's a cheap whore of devil! I don't find any healing in him. He only inflicts pain. He's nothing like Jesus! He is just a pain-inflicting machine! Much Worse than Tejaswi! I guess God was making me stronger by making me encounter Tejaswi first so that I would've the stamina to endure this another narcissist! Only a narcissist thinks he has the right to strip someone publicly and it seems like the entire city has turned into a narcissist as they keep passing hurtful messages to me working on his behalf!

He has already stabbed my heart brutally and repeatedly! It won't matter if he now actually did it!

But when I think about Glory, I see greater righteousness and I feel a sense of healing. Though Jesus is my healer, when it comes to comparing how I feel about the amount of pain inflicted, I find Glory's presence healing.

You're the cheapest person, Death Conqueror. You take from others what means the most to them and leave them lifeless!

Perhaps he wasn't worth suffering for but others were and are – the people who would come to God as a result of all I went through. Perhaps he still hasn't understood how much I HATE wickedness and ALL THAT IS EVIL!!

5. Master Bedroom Flooded With Blood

I was lying on bed when I had this vision.
Vision (past hour): This vision kept being repeated to me. I saw above me blood floating at a huge height. This is the master bedroom of my home at Omaxe Heights.

My dad is a murderer at heart who brings his victim to himself deceptively and then attacks, just like devil does! He needs an 'excuse' for his demons to manifest.

And the song 'Choomantar' plays in my Spirit.

6. Shukriya Shukriya

'Thanks O Thanks'

In the song, the guy sings in grief about the pain inflicted by his lady lover.

Shukriya Shukriya	Thanks O Thanks
Dard jo tumne diya	for giving this pain to me
Ye khata humse hui	I was the one who committed this folly
Dil jo bas tumko diya..	that I gave (my) heart to only you..
Na koi shikwa gila	No grudge or complaint do I have
Tumse o bewafa..	about you, o unfaithful one!

1. The Highlighters and The Fingers

(Before falling asleep the previous day)

Four highlighters of different colors are lying in a line on a surface. I put my fingers on them, one on the cap of each, and move them up together in discrete steps in synchrony followed by moving them down together. The movement of the fingers reminded me of the printing process of a colored printer which exhibits the same discrete steps.

2. Dream (Morning)

The Balcony Mop

I am mopping the balcony with a cloth mop in the traditional manner of sitting down on the floor. I look back while sitting down and see a very clean balcony but it looks bigger than its size. The balcony's floor consists of square orange tiles and I see some plant vases

The Free Sanitation Worker

I move to the hall and see a sanitation worker come inside our apartment wiping the floor with a standing mop in his hand. He is short-heighted and almost bald with tiny spiky white hair with a huge round face, is slim, and is dressed in the blue uniform of sanitation workers. He is moving his mop on the hall's floor beside the wall at the space of the sofa but there's no sofa present there. My mom is in the kitchen and asks me about the noise. I inquire the man about his unexpected entry in our home to which he replies that he's been told by the governing body of the society to not only clean the outside but also the inside from now on. He then starts wiping the surface of the dining table with a very dirty-looking floor mop. I tell him to stop and begin looking for a clean dusting cloth to give to him while my mom is still in the kitchen when the dream ends.

3. He Just Seems SO SO Fake To Me!

Everything coming from him seems to be a lie to me. I don't see any resonance. He has NOTHING that I want! He only has tactics to inflict emotional pain filled in his mind. If this camera situation wasn't there, I would have easily found a Christian guy who follows the Lord and is serious about His ways and commands, and I would be working on my spiritual gifts, following the Lord and working to extend His kingdom as He leads me, while earning a living too as granted by God, but at least I wouldn't have anything to do with someone like Death Conqueror! But he took that away from me as well by putting me in this situation! Though I ignored the hurtful things said to me by people, all those things have been coming at me at once for some time as things replay in my mind!

I didn't want to be rich! I wanted to FOLLOW The Lord since I came to know Him! And for the same reason, I prepared for this stupid wedding thing He showed me! ('It's not stupid. But I called it stupid because it's not related to exercising the gifts of the Spirit to help or heal others.) I was happy as well about the promise because it also gave me the hope of a love-filled bond. It was not marriage that I ever wanted but a love-filled bond with a HUMAN but I don't see any requirements fulfilled here by Death Conqueror who wants me to submit to 'his unusual immoral ways' instead of coming across like a normal godly and moral individual which he can't because he's not one.

I am only hurt in new ways and said new things to - things that are supposed to hurt me in different ways adding to the load already present. It seems as if their sole target is to traumatize me and enjoy themselves while doing so as I lose my mind going through this 'crap'. If Death Conqueror came in front of me, I could slap him tightly! It would make sense if I did to him all the hurtful things I saw him or Glory doing to my body. It would make sense if I slammed his head with a huge rock and stabbed him multiple times because he made a public show and mockery of the essence of God – Love! He's not pure, his ways are not pure! He insulted God and His Holiness in terrible ways! It's hard to believe he would do such a thing in the name of love! God is Love. Death Conqueror doesn't know God, he doesn't know Love! He only knows abuse and it's 'fun' for him and his user friends!

With this persona of his, he'll never have a pure person love him who is able to see through his deplorable inner self and has the right sense of right and wrong! He'll die in his disgusting world of fleshly gratification if he continues in this manner! Though Akhila looks at him with favor and seems to love him, but she mocked and insulted me at the same time with wicked expressions – me who had been suffering through all of that and through all the past years because of this guy. I don't know what kind of love they share that doesn't care about the person they're hurting together! I don't want such people in my life. I only have memories of the wicked facial expressions that she made at me while saying humiliating stuff. Her inner sense of superiority because of her background shone like a pillar in her actions towards me.

They seem to me to have been made for each other. Perhaps God was directing him to her or her to him through me. He can't go along with someone who thinks like me, but he can easily go along with someone with thought patterns like her though her field may be different, as has been evident as well. Because my ways of approaching and doing things are based on a conscientious sense of right and wrong and I care about not hurting others, while they're about getting their way not caring who gets hurt in what manner - it's hard for us who are of two different moral inclinations to go along. I'm a loving and passionate person. But I'm also conscientious and want to do the right thing! How will I use my loving character traits with a person whose actions make me abhor him and when the only love I am able to feel is when I have overlooked or forgiven his intentionally hurtful deeds – deeds that look hurtful when seen outwardly. He's been hurting the outer shell of my inner being, but did he know what laid inside. Likewise I have been getting hurt by his outward actions, but did I know the inside motives? (One thing I know for sure is that he has the character of both a righteous lion and the villain from the Dushman movie – all because of the revelations given by God.)

Perhaps the fact/truth of his actions doesn't matter to Akhila, but it does to me. She herself indulges in things that are not right and is okay with it. She had problems with me for being distant from the PG girls as I didn't resonate with them, and how could I? We are all different and God has called His people to be 'set apart'. I go along well with people in the Church because that's my tribe! I see a reverence for God (Jesus) in them and they pray while being filled with the Spirit. They don't indulge in worldly gossip, nor do they look at things with a worldly lens! Their clothing is Holy, and they respect me both as an individual and as a child of God. They know right from wrong. They love the Word of God. Perhaps she can dream about being one like them one day, changing her hard-core gossip trait using which she only exercised her speech skills but dumbed down the nudge of the conscience that stops us from stepping foot on the wrong path in the first place. When I took a glimpse in their world, I saw how they're so numbed down to being conscientious and would rather do any foolish sinful thing that seems to bring to them a sense of 'fun'. Her reply to my address of her misbehavior towards me and to my asking her to behave in a normal respectful manner, was, "Why should I?". It just left me speechless. Just like Death Conqueror leaves me speechless. Both are cut from the same cloth. Though she may not be an addict, she has the kind of character that would resonate well with a wicked man, not a fully righteous one, or else she would've resonated and gone along well with me, and she wouldn't have co-partnered with Death Conqueror to inflict mental and emotional pain at me in such a direct manner. The same holds true in the case of her friends.

I remember clearly when Meera cried bitterly because of me when she read my diary when she had visited me in RGHG. Through my diary, she got to know how I hated somethings about her. Like when she got in a relationship with Walter who was an immoral man and sexually and emotionally abused many women, and how I hated her spirituality and belief in Hinduism as it seemed irrational to me. When I had walked into the room, I found her sitting with a sad and fallen expression as she read my diary. She went to use the washroom after a while. I could tell she was upset. I followed along after a while and saw her standing in front of the washroom's wide mirror above the washbasins with a serious and hurt expression. She said that she could never have thought that the moments that were so good for her were so painful for me. And as she said it, she cried hard for a few seconds before leaving me as she brisk walked away from me and got down the circular stairs of RGHG in a rush saying, "Mujhe nhi rehna tere sath" ("I don't want to be with you!"). She was really hurt! The sight of her crying got imprinted on my mind and it stung me again and again. I cried bitterly that night. I couldn't eat and sleep properly. I went into a silent and frozen state that lasted for more than a week. I was in deep pain. She too was in pain. Her cries and the scene echoed in my senses and tortured me. It was because I loved her dearly. I never wanted to hurt her. But here comes this demonized person (Death Conqueror) who calls good evil and evil good. I don't believe that his actions are rooted in love! Because I know and clearly remember how I loved Meera! I couldn't 'see' her cry let alone 'make her cry'! But these people only make me cry and make me want to kill myself or do to myself the violent things I saw them doing to me in the revelations! It's almost as if I want to burst my eye and chop my hand! His demented brain is not my problem and I shouldn't have had to deal with the same! Same with the minions he keeps sending in my way!

Even if there's some small bit of 'purity' present inside of him making him capable of exhibiting Godliness, I don't want it. It's just an additional tool he keeps inside which he can activate at certain times giving him a godly semblance. But it's not the governing body of his mind which would have stopped him from taking the decision and steps that he took in the first place. His money doesn't compensate for it. I hope he is smart enough to understand that they are not entities of the same nature that can count for each other! Just like it's impossible for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle, so is it difficult for a rich man to enter the kingdom of heaven.

Matthew 19:23-24

New International Version

23 Then Jesus said to his disciples, "Truly I tell you, it is hard for someone who is rich to enter the kingdom of heaven. 24 Again I tell you, it is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for someone who is rich to enter the kingdom of God."

He should stop spreading the lie that his intentions are pure and that he's 'fighting' for me. He fought hard to break me and kill me on the inside! His mind is complex in wicked ways and so he went along well with Akhila as well who thinks in similar terms! In their view, a good person who doesn't play games and is straightforward is 'simple-minded' and therefore inferior! But why would one play games with someone one loves.

Where is the love-filled bond untouched by hypocrisy and abuse that should make me drawn to him? I don't see any! (Though sometimes I see glimpses of it, the reality of their actions and words takes over my vision!)

I have observed that as soon as I am feeling a bit better, he has to hurt me more by communicating something humiliating in an expression previously unused. Almost as if it's a way of keeping my mental state in check – as if I've to be miserable most of the time to keep them happy. I don't see any love which only wants to love and not play games or hurt the other person! However, I see that Akhila goes along well with him. I can never have long conversations with someone who has abused another individual. I will block him right away! And like Akhila, I won't be making cheap comments on the phone like, "The first thing a man notices in a woman are her breasts." - as she said in front of me for some weird reason! I would rather be a part of the conversation where the question wouldn't be what's the first thing a guy notices in a woman, but would be - what should be the first thing to be noticed? She just makes me wanna puke because she doesn't has a holy mindset and on top of that she thinks her degraded thoughts somehow make her superior or mature! Maturity is not to be defined by the malleable cultural perception of morality, but by the idealistic standard of what 'is' right or moral which is defined by God. My time with her is a grave burden on me because it reminds me of all the ways both she and Death Conqueror tried to hurt me through their actions and words! She has behaved in grossly hurtful ways for no reason and said hurtful things to me for no reason as well! She's an equal abuser like him! They both seem so so morally dumb to me! Just to get their way and prove their supremacy, they go to unusual ways to abuse another individual! When Meera cried in front of me, it was heartbreaking for me! But when I sobbed while being on the phone with her when she had been ignoring me, she said in a very cold and monotonous tone, “Ro Mat” (Hindi for ‘Don’t cry’), and it wasn’t said in a healing tone but in an instructive one! She exhibited a hard heart towards me at that moment! She could dish out emotional abuse but couldn’t confront the truth and take in my ‘perception’ of her interests. Death Conqueror seems the same to me – with a hard and cold heart who coldly tells a person to not cry after hurting them brutally and traumatizing them intentionally! No person with a whole supple heart could do such a thing as he did! The chase is a part of the fun for him regardless of how gravely the other person is suffering! Perhaps he doesn’t feel the depth of things that’s why it’s easy for him to say and do what he does! If I love Jesus deeply, how can I casually say mean things to or about Him!

If I strip both Death Conqueror and Akhila of their background and financial status from their worldly sense of self, what remains are their character traits! Akhila’s expressions of hatred as she gossiped about me or her tone (even her friend’s) as she said mean things about me - they just make me wanna puke! If I strip them of their looks and their background, I see 75% character filth, 100% hypocrisy, and 10 % purity - all three averaged for both of them together!

It seems as if they’ve no sense of the value of things that really matter! If he had such a sense, his actions would’ve said so!

Looking back at those three cries of Meera made me want to die and I hated myself! But this person!? – he‘s the opposite! His heart is hard towards me and he has no problem in doing the worst of things to me either! And all because he had some extra bit of useless papers which only added to his immoral filth of lifestyle and haven’t even succeeded in bringing me to him. It’s not me he wants. Me he wants to kill completely. It seems to me he only wants a programmable robot who takes decisions out of fear as he gives her threats!

I wrote previously that though Death Conqueror may not have been worthy of suffering for, others who would be saved make me feel good about my suffering as they will find Jesus because of it. But today I thought that though they would be saved and come to God, I don't know who they would be and I didn't love them the way I did him either - forgiving everything at once intermittently though reverting back to resentment because of his continued ungodly behavior! I have hardly done this with anyone. Today I was comparing my past sense of judgment with my new sense. Earlier I looked at what I saw at the moment and rejected people because of the wickedness present in them, but now I looked at God and what 'He' showed me and therefore became patient with them, though I myself would've never behaved in the downright heartbreaking, boundary breaching and hurtful ways that they did.

But I return back to the broken state because he doesn't have the software (inner self) needed to have a monogamous loving bond with me! He seems to be only running after flesh or else he wouldn't have hurt the real 'me' who lives inside.

For a moment I forget all his follies, and everything is new. In those moments, I project on him my 'own' good perception that I made of him as a first impression many years back, or my perception of how he's supposed to be character wise, but then reality always comes in front of me and I see how I've been betrayed in many ways. He has behaved in exactly the opposite ways a godly man would have behaved. Godly doesn't mean religious. God is Love - so to be godly is to know how to love truly as well!

His upbringing makes him think he can do all that he did. But it's just a stupid redundant fact for him which is not enough to bring about a change.

I don't know why God keeps showing me living a servant life when it comes to him. I saw myself sleeping on a mattress spread on the floor in the dream that had a short camel in it. Why should I be a servant in his home when he has done all those hurtful things to me.. - after stripping me publicly and humiliating me in various ways and having different people 'edit' me (– he calls it love?)! Why should I be the servant of such a person? He can easily hire a servant! I don't like the servant revelations now though I like those pertaining to me being a servant of God. If he was a godly man whom God had chosen for me and brought to me through his supernatural divine plan, then it would have made sense for me to behave like a servant because that guy had had those godly Christ-like qualities; and women are called to respect, revere, and treat their husbands like Christ. But in my case, they're not behaving like Jesus either and I've been patient for many years now.

5. Past Dreams:

Shadow Revelations

Dream (Morning, Past few days): The dream had other events as well but I recall only this one as this is an unusual event. PG's cook cooking in what looks like a street area in my hometown Pundri. I see one of the cooks cooking what looks like an omelette the size of a human's chest with two greyish round circles separated by some distance. The circles had two much smaller circles in the center. The omelette looked like a woman's chest's omelette but was made of eggs. I took it from the cook and gave it to Death Conqueror.

Dream (Morning, Past few days):

The Storm in the Dept

I am in the Physics dept of DU and walking alongside Prof Debajyoti Choudhury. There're some other students as well. I go to a different place to do something else and return to the discussion. I do this a few times. Another prof is present there as well. I am now sitting with those students on a bench unusually placed by the right side of the walkway towards the entrance to the dept at the left and the entrance to the Multistorey Building to the right, but this time a storm hits. I lie down on the bench and hide behind the desk to my left. Others are bent low in the storm as well. While I am down, I am expecting a grey cement slab to fall on me. Though strong winds blow and I hear other things around fall, such as tree leaves and small branches, a cement slab doesn't come flying and land on me!

Coca Cola, Neha, & The Question

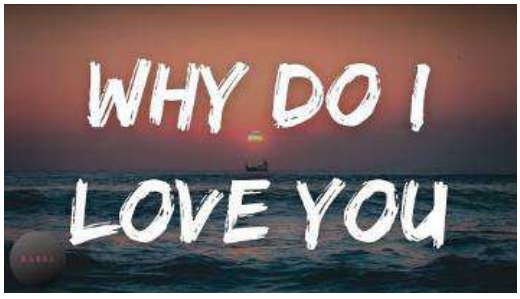
I'm drinking coca-cola and walking to and fro in a room. I see my friend from BSc Neha Bura come walking in and sit on the chair with her legs crossed, while I'm standing and looking down at her. She is wearing a beige dress of short length that covers half of her body and she has her thick black hair open. Sitting in a cross-legged manner reveals her legs and thighs. She asks me something like, "What's it that rich people are good at?" I reply to her with an answer that resembles, "They're good at being lazy." at which she laughs and gets mad at me and the dream ends.

6. Why do I love you?

The chorus of this song has played in my Spirit many times intermittently.

Why do I love you?
Don't even want to.
Why do I love you, like I do?
Like I always do.
You should've told me!
Why did you have to be untrue..
I love you like I do..
Why do I love you like I do..?

Ref: Westlife - Why Do I Love You (Lyrics) | Why do I love you don't even want to



7. He's No Don

He may think he's some kind of Don, but he's someone who's running away from God but whom God wants to bring to Him and save? If it doesn't happen at the end, and half of him stays diabolical and I die, then Gory should indeed burn these letters because they would've been rendered useless in that case in his case!

Death Conqueror is a man of mixture. He must discard his wicked self. He's no Don. He's a fool if he continues in his ways! And if God devises a way to inflict judgment on you, then don't feel blindsided or angry! In my eyes, he deserves to be in jail. Because he humiliated me in almost every way. I will see how God deals with Him. Being righteous doesn't stop one from being loving. He has to reject his beast self! He has already inflicted much pain and breached all my boundaries and broken all my moral expectations. I don't know if playing games is all he likes. A normal individual wouldn't have done such a thing that he did. Perhaps he did it to break me. But I am not relying on his broken conception of love and a foolish and shallow display of it. I rely on Jesus who doesn't play games and says what He means, and means what He says, and is faithful.

I don't know why I go in circles. I know it's a typical thought pattern one develops with abusers present in one's life! Clearly, what he did was wrong. Go and repent, and be made new, and then come to me! Before that, don't expect me to accept or come walking to a person with Don-like inner character traits.

I don't know why he's after me! I don't even look that great. If he compared me to a pearl, he treated me like a pig! He must himself then be a pig in character.

He's so toxic! And Akhila too. If someday I go to file a report against him because I'm unbearably hurt and I've managed to not commit suicide, I will give her name as a witness! She knew all that I and my family suffered, but she instead chose to show compassion to him when he's the perpetrator responsible for this mess and he insulted the essence of love by his acts! I don't want his broken and damaged sense of love! He can go and find 10 women for himself but yet be uncontent, but I will have only one man and be happy, and even if God takes him away from me, I will still be happy with Jesus as my companion which He is.

I may go to file a report soon. Because I keep hurting all the time and I may go crazy.. I've already developed temperament issues and have started to become short-tempered because of this long abuse. He himself is deplorable and disgusting in character, and he induces it in others as well through abuse! He must be judged. And God is the best judge.

Though I pray judgment on him, I don't want him to go to hell. I want him to be saved and join the kingdom of God. I wish the same for Glory as well – to be saved but I don't know if he will accept Jesus or see the works of His Spirit as something illogical or foolish.

8. And Why Would I Rush To Him..?

when the truth of his continuous actions stands in front of me. My ex-roommate Akhila once hurried to the balcony door and looked outside hastily with expectant eyes. Her reaction is understandable. She didn't go through what I did for the duration that I did. When I was in love with Tejaswi, I stayed on the phone all day with him and wanted to be in his presence in one or the other way. But I have all the reasons to ignore Death Conqueror and walk away or be unaffected by his presence when all he's done is make me hurt!

1. Dream (Shadow Revelation):

(Morning): I'm in a PG. The room looks different than my present one (A 10) but the outside corridor is similar though it has a 'grey' floor unlike my PG. I exit my room and walk towards the left into the corridor and go to its end. I see a huge mesh window to the right through which I look inside a room with its door visible at the right end. There are many black shoes hanging at the window. It doesn't make sense. I walk back to and fro through the corridor a few times being busy with some things and look through the window at the corridor's end with black shoes.

I hear this part from the female version of the song 'Zara Zara' at the window as it's playing there in the room:

'Aaja Re.. Aaja Re..
Aaja re……'

'Come Re.. Come Re..
Come Re……'

As I turn back and walk away from the corridor's end, the female's voice continues but after a while of walking forward, it's me who's singing the lines in a high-pitched tone and I'm singing them very melodiously.

I am still singing and have neared my room in the corridor with one or two people present there when the dream ends, and I wake up. I think about the song lyrics and it reminds me of KA.

2. 'Bander, Chai Banau?'

'Bander, should I make tea for you?'
Dream-Vision (morning): My dad comes and asks me in Hindi if he should make tea for me.

After about half an hour he comes and asks me for real while I was still half asleep on bed.

3. Ye Chaand Sa Roshan Chehra

'This moon-like bright face'
The Chorus
The Guy sings:

Ye chaand sa roshan chehra	This moon-like bright face
Zulfon ka rang sunehra	The color of hair is golden
Ye zheel see neeli aankhein	These blue eyes like a lake
Koi raaz hai inme gehra	Seem to be carrying a deep secret
Tareef karu kya uski	Oh how should I praise the one
Jisne Tumhe banaya	Who created you..

This is the chorus of this song that has played in my Spirit intermittently for two days.

After watching the video briefly, I realized that the heroine's look resembled the vision I later had during one of the past nights:

3.1 The Woman With Stoned Golden Head covering

Vision (one of the past nights): A black woman in a yellow and deep background looks at the viewer with her head covered with a golden head covering as that of the heroine in the song.

Ref: Yeh Chand Sa Roshan Chehra 4K Song - Kashmir Ki Kali | Mohammed Rafi |Sharmila Tagore, Shammi Kapoor - YouTube

Incident at night:

4. The Constipated Trial

I went to made an outward motion trying to poop through my constipated intestines, I saw:

4.1 The Joyful Baby

Vision (night): the face of an infant with slightly curly hair dressed in yellow with its mouth opening wide in joy as it made a sound.

I try again and I see the face of the tiny baby rejoicing with joy again.

The next vision is that of a naked upper half of a chubby baby with a light skyblue headwrap tied at the center of the head.

4.2 The Follow up Visions & the Progression

Karishma Kapoor stands dressed in a plain red suit with a red around her drape. A guy behind her slits her neck with a knife.

Akshay Kumar dances slowly with a woman. He is dressed in an ethnic embroidered beige sleeveless waistcoat with a vertical slit reaching until his belly. The lines that play briefly after a while are the chorus of the following song:

The Guy sings:

Sajde Kiye Hai Lakhon	I have partaken in lakhs of worship sessions
Lakhon Duaein Maangi	and prayed a lakh times
Paya Hain Maine Phir Tujhe	and then have I had you (for me).
Jis Pal Na Chaha Tujhko	The moment I didn't love you
Us Pal Sazaaein Maangi	In those moments I asked for punishments
Paya Hai Maine Phir Tujhe..	and then have I had you (for me).

Ref: "Sajde Kiye Hain Lakhon" Full Song Khatta Meetha | Akshay Kumar | Roop Kumar Rathod, Harshdeep Kaur

The Karishma Kapoor vision repeats in which her throat is being slit with a knife by a taller person standing at the back.

There's a guy present in the washroom of the apartment above me as well making noises. And I can tell that he is doing it on purpose. It reminds me of 2020. I ignore it. When I am sitting with closed eyes in the heat trying to poop (because or else I won't be able to sleep properly) and make movements accordingly, this guy takes it otherwise. I can tell that he's overjoyed as he runs water slowly along the sides inside a bucket of which I can hear the flowing sound of.

As I feel that the excretum is now in the right posture for it to be able to be out, I see a long-stemmed pink rose move in a tube changing its orientation by a bit. The vision repeats after a while again.

After wrestling for about more than 40 minutes and dripping with sweat, I have finally managed to eject out the excretum.

I regret not bringing my Kayam Tablet with me which helps me in relieving constipation.

1. Dream (Morning):

It was a long dream with many events, but this event stood out: a clean-shaven Death Conqueror shows off his face from the driver seat of the open window of a small grey car as he turns it to the right in front of me at a good distance of about of 10-15 meters on the road to the junior wing of my school in my hometown. This is what he has done many times – making appearances in different ways showing himself up but never coming directly walking where it is very much apparent that the person is coming towards you. He just keeps throwing bait.

2. My Mom Weeps..

I had gone outside to eat some Panipuris and get some Dahi Bhallas packed for home. I had the Panipuris but threw the Dahibhallas on the way as I felt a sudden hatred for them! On reaching home, I pushed open the door of the hall's washroom as I suspected my mom to be there. I wanted to tell her what all I had as she had told me to not to eat Chowmein (what I had originally wanted to) and only had Golgappas. I saw her sitting on the chair dressed in her clothes with her trousers lifted high until thighs and she was rubbing her eyes. I wondered if she was crying. Certainly, she was! She was perhaps washing clothes.

This further enraged me and made me abhor Death Conqueror even more! I don't know why this whore of devil came running after me! His money is useless! He is useless! And his LIFE is useless! The fake good acts he does to make a show in front of others to earn accolades to boost his ego are useless!

3. No Matter What He Shows Me

The truth stays unchallenged and unchanged! No matter how he portrays himself or Akhila by fake personas using other people, the fact of their 'real' persona and character stands clear in front of my eyes! It doesn't change how they behaved and the things they said. Their mouths are bitter and their 'I Love You's' are fleshly and not based on an inner reassurance of not betraying/hurting the other individual! He has already betrayed me in most of the ways possible, and so has she in many ways!

They proved that they can hurt others for a long period of time, perhaps a lifetime, and not be bothered by the effects of their actions.

I hope he sees the judgment of God! I will pray for it.

Earlier this day this thought kept recurring to me, that how I really wanted him to never, never ever, never, never ever find true love! Because he will always ruin it! He can only go along with a compromising individual, but not with a free person who loves from the bottom of one's heart - because his soul is so corrupt on the inside that a pure conscientious person will run away from him if she is strong in her morals and doesn't like to sit or stand in the company of people such as him. When I first interacted with Akhila, I saw how diplomatic or deceptive she could be. And with time I got to know that she was the door to door going gossip girl of the PG. Though it's none of my business but just to think of it makes me pukish.

It was a bad prayer to pray - that he never finds real love that loves and cares deeply from a conscientious inner self, I know. But it came from out of my heart! It just came out on its own! It was my paining heart's response to all that it suffered. And I meant the prayer with all my heart. Now if God grants it or punishes him in a certain way is up to Him, but despite His judgment, He wants criminals to repent and turn to Him and experience His love.

I know that for people like Death Conqueror, living life revolves around the next 'fun' thing they do, and it's not situated in living a righteous life out of a conscientious inner self. But for people at my level, living life revolves around living it in a conscientious way. He ruined a part of me that I wanted to share with someone wholeheartedly. So a righteous judgment would be him never finding true love with a woman but live only in the shallow domain of flesh or find a broken kind of love filled with adultery and fornication! However, one can be made new by repentance. But I don't see any in him. Every time I was stripped publicly, a part of me broke and burnt. I don’t think the special part inside of me that I had reserved to have a pure bond with a deserving person is good enough now to be able to love him, but he doesn’t have the nature to fit into that space! I can love and live with a different individual who hasn’t inflicted abuse on me but not him! I can only have a distant kind of agape attachment style but never an intimate one!

If God has seen my suffering, and He listens to my prayer and deprives him to experience one-to-one real love devoid of cheat, deceit, and games, which is godly without corruption, Death Conqueror would still have the option to experience God's Love for him! That would be his just judgment for ruining my heart's sacred part that I had reserved for ONE special person! Because that's the only option I'm left with now - to live with God's love because Death Conqueror ruined the moral structure that I had in my mind for the guy I would've allowed in my life! And him being sued in court and thrown into jail would be his just judgment for putting me and my family through all that he did! He has been very apathetic, mean, and cold-hearted towards me! God should make him go through the same! I will be cold and apathetic to him. Even if someday I happen to be needing to help him in some way, I would do it coldly. I don't know the series of events that would lead to me healing him in the assignment in Pink & Yellow, but I can already see that he must have hurt me too badly by then leading me to turn my back on him permanently.

If not for me, I would want him to be judged for what he made my old mom to go through! He's a shameless hideous individual with a stinking heart filled with goop.

The more I feel hurt and broken, the more I withdraw into Jesus and don't want to have anything to do with this disgusting individual.

The abuse makes me fall in love deeper with Jesus and stay with 'Him' making me want to leave my body as soon as possible for which I pray every day.

I know such talk doesn't matter to half-monsters like Death Conqueror who quickly make life-ruining decisions (for others) and act in such ways! They don't understand such talk because their brain is worldly and thinks in terms of worldly gains and losses! And he already put to dust the things of real value! I only see Jesus in my heart now because He sees my pain and is my comfort.

I was lying down when I had this vision.

4. Jesus Rips Open My Chest

Vision (Afternoon): Jesus is one foot above me at the level of my naked chest and rips open the centre of it at the place of my heart and come out many doves that fly upwards in a streamlined-mannered cylinder. The cylinder is densely filled with white doves.

5. I Want More Time With Jesus

I was thinking today about how I want more in-person time with Jesus and not just visions with him. I have seen Him for real only once - on the roof of A-16. Though I've had comforting visions given by Him where I'm dancing with Him and He swings me with love, or when once I saw in a vision His body lying next to mine facing me, I found out later that He gave me that vision because my ex-roommate (Akhila) slept on her side with her phone in front of her inside her blanket while being on a video call with the abuser. Jesus gave me an exact revelation of His time with 'me' which reflected (absolutely) what she had been doing.

I was thinking earlier today that I wanted to spend more time in the real presence of Jesus though even His Words (revelations) are priceless as well. But I want to sit silently with His tangible physical body on Earth, though His Spirit is inside of me as well which makes manifest when I worship deeply or when there's a collective environment of praise and worship in the church.

The curse of Death Conqueror never finding true love came out of my heart on its own because it was because of my true and pure love that I could forgive his actions, but neither was my love valued, nor my forgiveness. So, it only makes sense if he never finds real GODLY love in his lifetime, but only has God's love to look forward to!

Death Conqueror can represent a situation in a way that is not realistic and doesn't represent the truth. But the truth is that he and Akhila both are adults and should know right from wrong! She is not a child and neither is he! I have not seen more immoral emotionally abusive individuals than them. People like them sap and suck the life out of godly individuals.

I just thought that I wouldn't trade the revelations that I had with Jesus for time spent with anyone else, though some of the revelations were a reflected version of the actions of Death Conqueror or Glory. If I was with them, I would perhaps not have received the revelations with Jesus that I now had, and my bond therefore wouldn't have grown with Him to this intensity. And a bond with Him is worth all the pain, unfaithfulness, cheat, or deceit of men.

When I look at the revelation from a week back in which I was in a duet with Jesus in my current attire (black t-shirt with the phrase 'WALKING WITH THE LORD IS MY CARDIO' written in gold over black trousers) and my body's surface had a foot long flames of fire rising above while Jesus was lit with yellow light inwards, I see that it is such a beautiful revelation that He gave me. A revelation meant just for me. We moved very slowly at our positions as he held my hand and we moved slowly on the floor. He looked so so beautiful. His presence is so Holy and heart-filling. It's almost as if His character floods your heart. He is such a gentle healer and His love is so pure. No wickedness or sin is found in Him. He's faithful and my Creator and one day I will go back to Him - my eternal abode. And then I look at the forest revelation in which he got half-buried in the ground. Why should He lower Himself to such a level for me? I (my soul) must be very dear to Him. He gave me that revelation to represent what true love is – it doesn't seek to amputate or paralyze the other person to feel about one's own shortcomings. And then He calls me His fairy with sparkling silver fairy wings. And He shows Himself as the Most High King in the sky with His King's crown and red drape around His shoulders. Wow.. And His smiling face comes sneakingly out from behind a cloud - His faithfulness reaches the heavens.. (Psalm 36:5) He's SO SO amazing and my dearest darling Creator!

Psalm 36:5
King James Version
[5] Thy mercy, O Lord, is in the heavens; and thy faithfulness reacheth unto the clouds.

I can happily burn if that's the Will of my Creator because He is also the one who has redeemed my soul from this system and has reserved me for Him. But will Death Conqueror be ready to burn for love? I don't think so. He will burn and slaughter others. If he could ever know and feel the character of Jesus, then He will know how wrong he has been and how graceful God has been to him until now. But Jesus didn't give him a single revelation while I spent a lot of time with my creator. Death Conqueror is too focused on abusing others, and doesn't has the bond one needs to have with one's creator God – the creator of our eternal Spirit, not the corruptible flesh bodies. Now when I look back, I see a time well spent with my Creator who was readying me for Himself. I'm glad I didn't get to waste my time being in the direct presence of Death Conqueror's immoral corrupt mind.

6. I Forget Everything When I Worship Jesus

I forget all pain and all problems, and only His love remains and the fact of how things are going to be in Heaven with Him.. His Holy Presence and the absence of sin of all kinds in His pure place created by Him.

1. Police Man & Police Woman

Vision (Late last night): I saw a policeman with a funky face and facial expression sitting in a room in the corner of my left mental view. He was looking at me very focusedly. The view then shifted to the right of the funky policeman inside the room and what was now revealed was Ranveer Singh standing facing to the left dressed in the attire of a Policeman. He was talking to someone present in front of him and was making slow movements with his hand though the other person wasn't yet revealed. The vision then expanded to the left where I saw Deepika Padukone standing facing him. She was smaller in height than him in the vision. She too was dressed in the beige Police uniform and had her hair tied low in a bun. She was talking to Ranveer Singh making slow and sensible gestures with her hand in the space between them.

2. Dream (Morning):

2.1 Dragon Eats the Men

Some men get out of a place and they're with me. Two of them look the same but are dressed in different clothes. There's a dragon present as well.. The dragon swallows all men but not me. I can even get to see a see-through view inside the dragon's belly. All the men are alive and moving in pain inside as they would slowly get assimilated with time. I spot the two men who were lookalikes lying on their bellies. One is dressed in a suit while the other is dressed in a sweater over trousers. I leave the place, move around a bit, and am now walking back to the place the men came out of. Apparently, it's going to repeat all over again. The men are going to come out of that hole/room/hide and get swallowed again.

2.2 Greeting Card

I'm in a classroom. The teacher has asked us to make greeting cards. I make one, it's incomplete and doesn't look great. I'm wearing a dark parrot green shoulder less one piece with a neck-length front tied at the back. She tells everyone to make a card again.

2.3 Retouching The Nail Paint

I decide to remove my leftover nail paint from my nails but the teacher holds my finger and makes me retouch. I can see my overgrown forefinger hair that reach almost until my nail. I think of trimming them and how awkward the paint looks with the hair growth. The nail paint I had on my nails was silvery sparkled, and we're retouching on it now. (To be ok with this kind of stuff, one needs a change of mindset, which I've tried to bring in myself. Earlier I interacted with people and judged them solely by their mental status/level, and not according to how good or bad they looked as perceived by the eyes. I judged Meera for wearing nail paint though I never told her. I used to think why did she have to follow these outer beauty standards that were vain and dumb by definition and that 'anyone' could follow regardless of their inner countenance.)

I think about some card ideas. I end up settling on a writing style I had used in the Birthday card I made for Neha.

2.4 Sewing the Side

I fold the sides of a light pink plain unstitched cloth and sew it once. The sewed line is not straight and there's a deviation at a place. I later decide to sew another line. It's not too neat either and has its own shortcomings.

2.5 The Cloud

I am in a room and I go out to see a horizontal cloud floating in the sky. I keep going out in the open to look at it as it reminds me of Jesus and His love because of the revelation of the song 'My Love' by Westlife.

2.6 My Naani & Sweets

I find my Naani in the space as well. She has some eatables with her - small rasgullas and other snacks. I don't eat from her stock though I'm a bit hungry. I am happy to see her there.

2.7 Bone Testing

I now move to a room with some instruments. Apparently, it's a bone-testing facility. There's a page lying there. It looks like an old, printed page of a book and is almost square in shape - slightly longer than its width. Apparently, I already know a lot about that page as I read it quickly in a go. I sit in front of the guy operating the machine across a table with the machine in between.

I go to my room where I find my mom. We talk for a while and then my Naani calls from downstairs. I tell my mom that Naani is staying downstairs and is calling us.

3. Maar Chalu (..?)

Vision: YT recommendation: I scroll down the YT recos and on the left side below see a YT reco with the greyish image of a man in air with his folded legs spread apart like a Ninja with the phrase 'Maar Chalu' written below on the image, accompanied by a dull male voice saying it out in an interrogative tone. Maar Chalu - Hindi for 'should I kill and leave?'

It was in rhyme with the phrase 'Toh Chalu' (I've to leave/So that I can leave) of the song 'Toh Chalu'.

4. Idealizer and Killer

He could be idealizing you right before the moment he chooses to kill you - a typical narcissist.

5. How They Cut On My Functional Self

When they don't behave in moral and empathetic ways, I was rendered clueless about the way I should go about interacting with them. Akhila would say mean things about me for no reason. It was out of her own will. There was nothing I could've done to make her stop. Her behavior seemed very much irrational and inexplicable to me and it was equivalent to her cutting on my inner structure of implementing moral conduct. It just couldn't work in synchrony with her behavior. Even if it did, it was in synchrony with a faked outer self she presented in front of me with an inner self ready at any moment to betray and gossip about me. I don't know why I think a lot about her. But I've spent enough time with her and observed her inner self as a whole and not just her brain's section of romantic self she had for a guy. It has to be pure by default because it's based out of love. But she is an emotional abuser and a gossip girl in general without a moral independent brain that knows better to not support a criminal in his ways!

Imagine: you go to someone you live with, and explain to them your grievance but they give you a mean reply and refuse to change the way that's causing you that problem. There's nothing you can do about it. Nor do you understand how to even behave in front of such a person because (s)he is going to be unreasonable in his/her conduct. Both Akhila and Death Conqueror are like that, and so are their friends and minions.

I only see a huge egoist inside her that thinks too highly of itself without any real good inner traits - a self so heavy that's also very mean, and it falls on me without giving me any space, and I feel smothered!

6. I Don't Keep The Secrets of Criminals

Even if it costs me my life. He should forget that I am going to keep quiet about his criminal acts and all that I went through! And all the people involved. God will fight my battles for me! And I'm not going to lie about anything or 'keep quiet'! He has already demonstrated his inner cheap self, he looks even cheaper and more deplorable when I see him surrounded by his extravagant lifestyle or driving 'any' car! To me, the situation resembles that of a pig surrounded by pieces of scum. And he's found piglets for himself (those who chose to be close to someone like him).

I wrote the above because for a few days, I've been hearing the chorus of this song in the Spirit. Perhaps it shows the feelings of someone else, but not me. Or perhaps it shows his feelings or inner state because I heard the male's chorus part in my Spirit, and not the female's! My righteous self will always rule over my other compartments. So, he can rest being assured that he will keep getting rejected until the end of time with this present self of his until he repents and turns to God!

I don't see any repentance and reverence for God in Death Conqueror! He boldly commits a crime and relies on the weaknesses of the system for his earthly protection. But the justice of God is divine and heavenly, and one day he will have to taste it though I may not be alive by then!

Bhool Na Jaana	Don't you forget (me)
Door Na Jaana	Don't you go away
O Jaane Jana	O my beloved..
Pyaar Nibhana	Be faithful in Love

Tum ho, Tum ho, tumhi ho	You are, you are, you alone are
Tum Ho, Tum Ho, Tumhi Ho..	You are, you are, you alone are
Sanam Mere Humraaz..	My beloved and my confidant..
Sanam Mere Humraaz..	My beloved and my confidant..

Ref: Sanam Mere Humraaz Full Video Song | Humraaz | Bobby Deol, Amisha Patel | Kumar Sanu, Alka Yagnik

He should believe me when I say that not only will I want justice for myself and my family, but also for others whom he has previously hurt and gotten away with! - Those people he is maintaining secrets about, and those people who are keeping quiet. I will dig into his past, or pray to God that everything, all of his past crimes come to light and he be punished if he's not repenting! He may be a child in the eyes of God, but God cursed Cain too because he killed his brother Abel out of jealousy, though Cain was also God's child – as Abel was!

This is 'my' prayer - the person whom he has ruined in many ways and has afflicted for the past many years - that he suffers not just for the sin he committed against me, but also the sins he against others and has not repented for!

7. And after writing the above, I started hearing this chorus in the Spirit:

Bewafa Bewafa.	Unfaithful Unfaithful
Bewafa nikli hai vo	She has turned out to be unfaithful
Jhoota pyaar, Jhoota Pyaar.	Fake love, Fake love
Jhoota Pyaar Kita hai vo.	Fake Love is what she has done.

Ref: Bewafa Nikli Hai Tu || New Latest sad Song || Heart'Broken Love Story 💔💔

But ask yourself this question - when God judges us on Earth, does it mean that He hates us? No. He is giving us what we deserve according to our sinful actions!

Likewise, I am not praying that Death Conqueror goes to Hell. I am praying for his salvation, but that's only possible when he would have witnessed the judging hand of God directly on his head which will make him repent. So, though his salvation is at the top of my prayer list, his judgment and suffering on Earth are next and are much needed for him to transform! I pray that God judges him for all his wilful sinful actions which he did at the cost of hurting others, and let his earthly life be made miserable making him leave his ways and his troop of wolves, and let him never find true love from a 'righteous' woman, and is left with the option of God's love alone, but that at the end, he goes to Heaven. This would be a situation corresponding in a way to what he put me through. He may find acceptance from an ungodly worldly woman like Akhila who's also an abuser and egoist like him, because of that kind one will find many. However, a Godly woman will not accept him for what he has done and will leave him in the hands of God.

8. 'Both the Girls Go to An Expensive Place' - Disgusting

Both of them make me more aversed as they reveal more of their cheap inner selves! She hardly respected me and only said mean things to me but she was indirectly suggesting the above while being on the phone with someone else! I won't go to the cheapest of places with people like her and him!

I can eat with a righteous person in the dirtiest of places and be happy, but to even stand in the presence of people like him will make me feel stifled inside and I might throw everything on his face and leave after spitting on his face!

9. The 'Sign of the Spirit of Dumb' - To Try To Control The Interests of Others

On my way to the RWA office with my mom, I got reminded of the sewing part of today's dream that I added later to this after returning. I thought that why would someone want me to learn sewing when I don't really have any real interest in it? I didn't ask Meera to learn things she didn't like. I only hated her irrational part and spirituality which I found bogus and hard to accept as she worshipped idols.

10. The Tit For Tat Paycheck (?)

Death Conqueror, strip your mom and cousin-sister publicly (if you don't have a real one) for 4 years by sending spy cams to their washrooms and home. Post the nude pictures of your mom online and make funny jabs about her naked body. Keep doing this despite her worsening mental health and performance. Don't stop even when she's considering suicide. Rip them of all privacy for more than 4 years.

Pay me using the same 'currency'. I will want to see how you react when your mom is stripped and made to bathe publicly for years, same with your dad and other family members. If you do this for 4 years, I can give you in writing, that I will do what you have been wanting me to for all these years. Just do the above. Then we would be at the same emotional level - and that's the level of equivalence we need when it comes to matters of love – emotional, not physical or monetary. So, do the above, and come back after 4 years. It will be hard for me to see your mom and family members get humiliated in this manner but I will take it as something I have to do or you have to go through in order for us to be together, and therefore it will be justified in my eyes though I will not be liking it. I will watch them for 4 years and keep silent, not tell anyone, or inform the police. Meanwhile, I will sleep outside in the open, I will sit in one place with my eyes fixed on my phone, I will watch you break and make fun of you and your family members on a public forum, as you and your family go through the oppression. I will never use AC and will sit uncomfortably in heat but you've to keep going through this for 4 years and more - you know better the number of days it has passed since the cams were sent to me. And don't forget to do your job, get ready for work deal with family issues as you go through this. If you're able to do the above, I guarantee I will give my heart to only you because you would've proven that you indeed are worthy character wise. And while you spend four years in public view, I will spend my time with a morally superior being/person – say, Glory.

And if you can't tolerate the 4 years, and refuse to repent as well for what you did already, then you're not eligible.

You're no Don, and neither dangerous. You're only an ungodly coward who neither knows God nor follows His ways. A criminal shouldn't think this highly of himself, no matter how wealthy.

21:38

The chorus of this song has played in my Spirit often. It was playing a while back as well when I was in the washroom.

11. Mein Tujhko Pasand Aau, Aisa Mujhko Bana..

MAIN TUJHKO PASAND AAUN	That you like me
MAIN TERE DIL KO BHAAUN	That I soothe your heart
AISA MUJHKO BANA	Make me as such
AISA MUJHKO BANA	Make me as such..

It's a worship song and the guy is praying to Jesus to change him into a person He likes.

13. Many Eyes Pop Out

I had this vision in room D4 of A-16 - the room facing the homes at the back of the PG (also called as Swami Jagannath Dham).

Vision (Room D1, A-16, Late 2021/Early 2022): I saw many eyes pop out like a spring in a dark background. But there was one that popped out more than any other eye and it was blue.

This was before the incidence of me rushing naked and wet with one arm over my breasts to turn off the geyser as it had turned itself on automatically and its yellow LED had lit the previously dark washroom.

When I look back, I see how numb Death Conqueror has made me to things that were supposed to make me wanna kill myself. I don't know if he's proud of it. He should be direly ashamed of himself!

14. Pain In My Skull Near My Left Ear

I started experiencing it yesterday, and felt it today as well. It stayed for a while and then dissipated. It seems to me the drone has now begun to attack the part of my inner shell behind my left ear.

15. I Apologized to God for Having a Hard Heart Earlier On This Page

I don't want to have a hard heart for I want to please God with a forgiving and supple heart which He heals in time though I may be stressed and depressed for a while. He's my Creator and Healer.

16. But If He Transforms and Changes His Ways

It will be his testimony where he himself will share how he used to be what he did, and how he was transformed. There'll be no need to keep anything a secret because it will all be a part of his REAL testimony of coming to Christ.

17. After Robbing Me He Calls Me a Gold Digger

After ruining my expectations from my earthly life, he called me a gold digger. I remember when Akhila was saying things on phone that were indirectly directed at me. She was implying that I wanted quick money as was filled in her ears by someone else. It came as a shock to me. I thought how could she make false opinions that don't at all match my inner self. She is the one who wants free money and doesn't like to be independent. I even if I have the option, would like to have my own money or which is provided by God in or the other way and not have to depend on others for. I don't think she ever earnt a single penny by herself and here she comes humiliating hard working individuals who don't sit and spend free money from their parents.

And then this day she was saying indirectly to me, "Tell him (me) his brother (the abuser) wears Armaani perfume and walks hand in hand with his girlfriend (her)."

It made me think how shallow they were to even be able to think such things! I used to be so happy with Meera in BSc and we didn't have money back then. There're many such comments I remember that make me want to block them out completely from my mind and life and delete everything from my mind that's related to them so I won't feel any pain. But I can't delete from this book the revelations pertaining to them that God gave me.

Matthew 26:6-13
New International Version

Jesus Anointed at Bethany

6 While Jesus was in Bethany in the home of Simon the Leper, 7 a woman came to him with an alabaster jar of very expensive perfume, which she poured on his head as he was reclining at the table.
8 When the disciples saw this, they were indignant. "Why this waste?" they asked. 9 "This perfume could have been sold at a high price and the money given to the poor."
10 Aware of this, Jesus said to them, "Why are you bothering this woman? She has done a beautiful thing to me. 11 The poor you will always have with you,[a] but you will not always have me. 12 When she poured this perfume on my body, she did it to prepare me for burial. 13 Truly I tell you, wherever this gospel is preached throughout the world, what she has done will also be told, in memory of her."

Luke 7:36-50
(New International Reader's Version)

A Sinful Woman Pours Perfume on Jesus

36 One of the Pharisees invited Jesus to have dinner with him. So he went to the Pharisee's house. He took his place at the table. 37 There was a woman in that town who had lived a sinful life. She learned that Jesus was eating at the Pharisee's house. So she came there with a special jar of perfume. 38 She stood behind Jesus and cried at his feet. And she began to wet his feet with her tears. Then she wiped them with her hair. She kissed them and poured perfume on them.

39 The Pharisee who had invited Jesus saw this. He said to himself, "If this man were a prophet, he would know who is touching him. He would know what kind of woman she is. She is a sinner!"
40 Jesus answered him, "Simon, I have something to tell you."
"Tell me, teacher," he said.
41 "Two people owed money to a certain lender. One owed him 500 silver coins. The other owed him 50 silver coins. 42 Neither of them had the money to pay him back. So he let them go without paying. Which of them will love him more?"
43 Simon replied, "I suppose the one who owed the most money."
"You are right," Jesus said.
44 Then he turned toward the woman. He said to Simon, "Do you see this woman? I came into your house. You did not give me any water to wash my feet. But she wet my feet with her tears and wiped them with her hair. 45 You did not give me a kiss. But this woman has not stopped kissing my feet since I came in. 46 You did not put any olive oil on my head. But she has poured this perfume on my feet. 47 So I tell you this. Her many sins have been forgiven. She has shown that she understands this by her great acts of love. But whoever has been forgiven only a little loves only a little."
48 Then Jesus said to her, "Your sins are forgiven."
49 The other guests began to talk about this among themselves. They said, "Who is this who even forgives sins?"
50 Jesus said to the woman, "Your faith has saved you. Go in peace."

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Luke%207%3A36-50&version=NIRV>

All this time I've wanted to be closer to Jesus because of His Holy and Godly CHARACTER, and not 'dig into His gold'! He is a healer and a judge who judges both righteous and the wicked, and He has no sin in Him. While Death Conqueror is a half-murderer and only breaks has all sorts of ungodly worldly character traits in him.

Their brains work in cheap ways and they think low-level thoughts. Because of them, I had to encounter such cheap degraded thoughts coming from another individual about me. I've always been a very introspective individual who kept a check on her inner self and actions because she didn't want to turn into a person who was ugly on the inside. They never kept a check on themselves and ran freely with their open-ended unscrutinised selves. The continued look through the window into their minds left imprints on my mind as well and it is view I never wanted to see - cheap thoughts, cheap actions.

If I look at the situation with Godly eyes, I can see how God led me to buy things to change my appearance, make me more polished and look neat as was His will for me. And I'm one of His called ones. He has shown Himself to me and burst the balloon of the Holy Spirit on my head which him and Akhila would probably never receive in their lifetimes, not without repentance and a change of heart at least. But Death Conqueror and Akhila boasted about their expensive possessions and the money sources they had while they were still living in sin and didn't know anything about God. To polish their outer looks would then seem futile and hypocritical. There are many like them who are very rich and use their power to hurt and abuse others. But how do their belongings matter – no matter how expensive – if they're rejected by God or being rebuked?

Me buying those things made sense as I'm a servant of God and He wanted me to bring those changes in me and look sharp. But them imitating any kind of look is a pathetic and useless attempt - much like a beggar who's trying to look like a king when he's not. We're seen by our inner selves by God, and according to my position with Him, it suited me to use those things He had me buy. But looking at their position and relation with God with respect to me, and their sinful and unholy lifestyle and mind, it doesn't suit Death Conqueror to wear Armani perfume, or Akhila to boast about any of the vain stuff that she did- those things with them are much like a golden ring in the nose of a pig. Not to say that people of God deserve to be prosperous on Earth, but He sometimes blesses them and changes them as He wishes while the watchers judge and hate. They should go read the Old Testament for the special kind of clothes God designed for Aaron as his high priest. He wore a breastplate made of twelve types of gems with the names of the twelve tribes of Israel written on them. God was very specific in how He wanted His people to look. Holiness is must but He can add other creative things as well according to the roles of people. If a common Israelite stitched clothes like that of the high priest for himself, not only it would be out of context for him and wouldn't have suited him according to his role but he would've also called God's judgment on him. So, they better not flash their useless belongings to me when they're just silly and little things of no significance!

When I looked at Akhila's WhatsApp dp today as I went to her profile to block her and delete her number, I saw her exhibiting superficial expressions and looks while she was dressed in a pink shirt and blue jeans - as if that's what God wants – superficial goodness with the heart of an abuser and killer! She's not even called to be dressed in pink and blue as that's not her role, though she may choose to affect outer looks as she pleases! Will she ever suffer for Jesus the way that I did or am doing? Yeah, when she's done gossiping and back biting and supporting and fornicating with wicked men like Death Conqueror. Will Death Conqueror be called by God? Yeah, when he's done away with his lust problem and becomes godly internally! They need to repent of their wickedness. It was 'God' (not me) who called them dumbasses! They better take the rebuke seriously! Will Akhila ever dance with Jesus while being on fire? - Not with her current deplorable self!

Just think about an immoral man boasting about the kind of perfume he wears - I will not previously even sit with such a person. Such cheap thoughts originate in their minds. I got to see with time Death Conqueror's vain, worldly and useless side who judges others falsely and displays his worldly self.

And my friend Jema once remarked that someone kept thinking about gis rich friends all day. It made me think if she was referring to me. But it was not the rich person I was thinking about, it was the person who had made my life miserable and very hard!

If I'm so inferior in his eyes, then he can leave! But I am going to follow where Jesus leads me! I'm precious in His eyes and worthy of honor being His creation made with love.

18. 'Some People Keep Their Assets Hidden'

Akhila was talking on phone with an immoral worldly guy when she asked me indirectly, "Are we not at the same level?" in a sad repentful tone. She asked this in response to my comment somewhere in my notebook that said that she treated people according to their financial level. On hearing this the guy on phone added, "financial".. followed by "some people keep their assets hidden."
Such a cheap statement the guy made over phone about me to Akhila. I've given them a lot of grace and forgiven many things! They've not yet realized! That guy, if I was on the phone, I would've ended the call right then and either blocked him or said a few corrective things to him on text before blocking him, but here she goes befriending such a person whose mind generates such wickedness!

My left eye is swollen again.

19. The Naked Woman With White Framed Glasses

Vision (Late night): A semi-animated vision of a naked dusky woman with straight open hair (thin or less in intensity) wearing glasses with a frame with white rim looks at me as she sits on a surface with her legs spread on either side.

1. Divyanshu Sleeps With a Silver Crown

Vision (Midnight): 3-4 inches high Silver Crown With layered circular lines on the head of my youngest brother Divyanshu as he sleeps on his right side facing my side of the room in the bigger bedroom of our home.

2. Incessant Tight Slaps on the Face of Death Conqueror

Vision (Midnight): I saw myself slapping tightly the left cheek of Death Conqueror in one of the classrooms (Room No. H) in the Physics & Astrophysics dept (my workplace). He was dressed in a light blue shirt tucked inside pants and stood still with closed eyes with his face slowly turning to the left with each slap. I swung my hand from a good distance before slapping him. The vision took me by surprise as I wasn't 'imagining' it but it began and progressed on its own. The room was empty and had no benches or desks. His figure then floated and went into Room No. L of the dept that laid opposite to Room No. H at some distance to the left. This room was empty as well with no benches and desks, and I was again slapping him tightly. I was falling asleep while envisioning it but one of the slaps was so hard that it woke me up with a jerk around the shoulder of my right arm. I don't know why the Holy Spirit showed me this. Perhaps he deserved those slaps, perhaps it was to bestow healing upon me, or perhaps both.

3. Standing Mop Beside The Commode

Vision (Midnight): In a dark surrounding, I saw a short standing mop of about a height slightly shorter than the lifted seat of the commode of the washroom of my home's master bedroom - where I've made my floor bed. The standing mop was resting vertically upwards against the commode at the viewer's left side.

After a few seconds of the vision, I had the sensation of needing to pee.

This worship song kept playing in my Spirit when I had decided to sleep on my comfy bed made on the floor. And it kept recurring to me to record it right then itself, instead of leaving it on the next day after waking up. So, I wrote this page.

5. My New Prayer To God:

Since yesterday I've been asking God to burn the houses of my enemies and leave them destitute! To strike their faces and their heads with His sword and rock of judgment for torturing me and my family! And it came from deep within my heart! Forgiveness is not the key with abusers because they exploit it to further their cause. It's just a 'fun tool'. (I've always known this!) They don't see it as something which takes effort and sacrificing a part of one's self - but it's something to step on and step up the abuse! May God burn all homes of Death Conqueror and may all his family members die a brutal death - especially the whorish woman who gave him birth and didn't know well to fill him with morals. May she also burn in the fire of God's judgment and may he cry out in pain and agony with no one to comfort him! May all who supported him or worked on his behalf also get their share of judgment!

Psalm 94

1 The Lord is a God who avenges.
O God who avenges, shine forth.
2 Rise up, Judge of the earth;
pay back to the proud what they deserve.
3 How long, Lord, will the wicked,
how long will the wicked be jubilant?
4 They pour out arrogant words;
all the evildoers are full of boasting.
5 They crush your people, Lord;
they oppress your inheritance.
6 They slay the widow and the foreigner;
they murder the fatherless.
7 They say, "The Lord does not see;
the God of Jacob takes no notice."

20 Can a corrupt throne be allied with you—

a throne that brings on misery by its decrees?
21 The wicked band together against the righteous and condemn the innocent to death.
22 But the Lord has become my fortress,
and my God the rock in whom I take refuge.
23 He will repay them for their sins and destroy them for their wickedness;
the Lord our God will destroy them.

6. 'I've a Lapi'

Deepak once made this statement to me in a sarcastic tone to make the point that it's a big thing for me to have a 'laptop'! I could tell that the statement was on behalf of Death Conqueror! It filled with such aversion again. Everything they say makes me hate them!

This day I was thinking that instead of telling me what I have or don't have, Death Conqueror should put on himself a tag on which is written, 'I have a penis'. Because that alone seems to be the most important thing to him as it makes him abuse others and drive them to suicide!

And whatever I have, I didn't buy it with someone else's money! It was mine or my dad's, so no one has any right to give out their unasked commentaries!

7. 'Suicide Nhi Kiya'

'Didn't suicide'

I had passed the Gulab Vatika and was now moving towards the University's Administrative block towards my dept, when a short-heighted girl walking with her group looked at me and passed this comment in a suggestive tone! She was saying it on behalf of Death Conqueror to me! This made me think that it was her who should suicide for saying such a thing to an innocent person!

It's almost as if the place is meant for the workers of devil, and the people of God they want to persecute and consume or make a part of their troop! HE is the one who should suicide for ruining someone's life! Life can be ruined by taking away from them things that are not tangible as well! And Death Conqueror has taken away from me everything of value leaving only God whom He can't touch or take away!

After saying all those mean things, I don't know what he is expecting from me! (It can only be the things that are as meaningless as his way of thinking!) He should only expect those hard slaps I gave him in that vision! God has in a way given me permission to slap him hard several times by showing that vision to me!
He's not the only one who has a heart! Oh, no. His ego is bigger than his heart. But more than that, his heart is 90% goop and only 10% godly!

I went to get my eyes checked again today, this time by a different doctor. He said that I had an eye infection and gave me medication for 5 days. I also checked out some transparent glass frames and chose one. I had gone with my dad.The last time I went to get my eyes checked was a few days back in the Eye-Q branch in Sonipat. The doc there had told me that my symptoms were that of Blepharochalasis - a condition that was common in middle-aged females and had asked me to make a chart of the episodes of eye swelling.

Psalm 7
A Prayer for Justice[a]
7 O Lord, my God, I come to you for protection;
rescue me and save me from all who pursue me,
2 or else like a lion they will carry me off where no one can save me,
and there they will tear me to pieces. (goes with one of the lion's visions I had)
3-4 O Lord, my God, if I have wronged anyone,
if I have betrayed a friend
or without cause done violence to my enemy[b]—
if I have done any of these things—
5 then let my enemies pursue me and catch me,
let them cut me down and kill me
and leave me lifeless on the ground!
6 Rise in your anger, O Lord!
Stand up against the fury of my enemies;
rouse yourself and help me!
Justice is what you demand,
7 so bring together all the peoples around you,
and rule over them from above.[c]
8 You are the judge of all people.
Judge in my favor, O Lord;
you know that I am innocent.
9 You are a righteous God
and judge our thoughts and desires.
Stop the wickedness of evildoers and reward those who are good.
10 God is my protector;
he saves those who obey him.
11 God is a righteous judge and always condemns the wicked.
12 If they do not change their ways,
God will sharpen his sword.
He bends his bow and makes it ready;
13 he takes up his deadly weapons and aims his burning arrows.
14 See how wicked people think up evil;
they plan trouble and practice deception.
15 But in the traps they set for others,
they themselves get caught.
16 So they are punished by their own evil and are hurt by their own violence.
17 I thank the Lord for his justice;
I sing praises to the Lord, the Most High.

8. Dreams (Morning)

Shadow Revelations

Dream 1:

I am in a train that looks like the Metro. I am on my way on a trip. The place looks a general place with some concentrated green areas. I am back via the same train and am in a building now and find my mom in a room. Everything is lit in white light. I have to take my stuff out of the room, but it has many footwear in it. All of them are mine and are the same – the skyblue stilettos with a buckle closure. I take them all out and look at them. I can't find a pair which is without defect. All have one or the other problem. I see rust marks near the baseline of one. All have one or the other defect.

After I fell asleep again:

Dream 2:

8.1 The Town With City Lights and Puppy Dogs

I'm in a home that also looks like a PG and apparently, I am in my hometown which is visible from the door of my home. There are also tiny dogs in a street embedded within other structures outside the door, but I'm able to see through the structures and look directly at the black and black & white tiny puppy dogs. I see them playing and wonder if they might come inside as the door is open. I look straight to my front now. It's night and I can see small lights in front, lit buildings, and a hotchpotch of people. The view somewhat resembles the one visible from my apartment's balcony, but it's at the same level as mine instead of a lower level. I don't feel like going outside as I don't want to come across stress-giving messengers. I see the side-view of a guy in the crowd slowly walking to the right. He is dressed in a parrot green full-sleeved sweatshirt with two horizontal white strips on the upper arms. Seeing him roaming there further demotivates me to go outside! The puppy dogs are now rushing in from the right and run directly inside the kitchen to my left. They were many in number - around 10-15. I imagine how the dogs are going to create a ruckus and adjust themselves inside. I go inside and see my mom cooking. She is frying momos on a flat surface with very less oil on it. It makes me think how are they ever going to cook properly. She then transfers the momos to a different vessel to complete the cooking process. I suggest her a different way to proceed. I see that she's also frying a potato tikki but now she has put the thick tikki disk directly on fire on the stove. The tikki has broken a bit around a part of its edge.

I go outside again and look for the moon in the sky.

8.2 The Moon, The Song, & Glory

I see that it's a bit reddish and almost full. Looking at it makes me think that the next night could be a full moon. The song 'Kabhi Shaam Dhale To Mere Dil Mein Aa Jana' ('Come into my heart someday when the evening falls') plays in my mind and I think that I will go out the next night, the night of the full moon, when I should find Glory as was shown to me in a previous prophetic dream.

8.3 Kevin & The Long Black Plastic Stick

Dream-Vision: I saw Kevin (from The Royal We) facing to the right and putting in his nose a slim and long pointed cylindrical stick. He inserted it in deep and pulled out his hard-to-reach sinus and though the stick didn't have a spatula's end, it somehow worked very well in its job. He runs the channel 'The Royal We' on YouTube and helps the survivors of narcissistic abuse.

A previous vision I had related to Kevin:
Vision (2022): Kevin in a dark background with both eyes black.

8.4 The Man In a White Vest And The Lady In a SkyBlue Saree

After leaving the kitchen, I move in the opposite direction to it and passing through a narrow corridor enter a balcony where I find a man dressed in a half-sleeved white vest with a narrow moustache resembling both Glory and the 'Rab Ne Bada Di Jodi' movie's actor. He's sitting at the left corner of the balcony when a lady in a skyblue saree gives him a light outward push and leaves but he doesn't fall down. The push was not hard enough.

8.5 Monkeys Steal The Fruit

The guy is now seated in the middle of the balcony to its right. He is saying that monkeys have been stealing bananas from the balcony and that they have to be stopped.

8.6 Many Pigeons Inside a Large Hole

I see to my left a half-a-meter-wide hole going horizontally through the building. I am able to look inside and the hole is well-lit with white light. I see many pigeons sitting at a distance of about 2 meters from me - easily 20 to 30 in number. I can tell that the hole extends further and goes much deeper than I could see and that there were many more pigeons further inside. They all seemed to be hiding inside from something and sat quietly. The inside of the hole has metallic rods and walls of its own resembling the painted inner section of a building that has carries its main inner constructs.

8.7 Many Mango Enucleates Inside That Hole

The next thing I saw was a heap of thick mango enucleates inside the hole. It was apparent that the mango pulp was sliced off with a knife because of the extra portions along the sides of the cuts.

9. The Difference In Approaches Shows The Inner Truth As Well

He stripped me publicly, insulted me, and according to him I should be living in a ghetto instead of a normal home (for God, I will even do that and it's normal for His people to stay at undesirable places for a duration). He wants to ruin my career and put an end to it. He already ruined it as I find it hard to do more work and complete my PhD. I've no will to live or to do anything worldly, though I sometimes do things at home to make it organized and manageable! While I was dying on the inside, he was out camping at night dressed in an ultra-clean white jacket! He was enjoying his life. I will never want to romantically love a guy again because it will only bring with it hurtful memories of a crushed heart and unmet basic and normal expectations, or who knows if he causes further damage by killing me or my family members! But he should keep in mind that it will be recorded by God and he won't go unpunished. I feel like giving my life entirely to Jesus now.

When I compare my case and the things that I have permanently lost with how he approached Akhila, it sheds more light on his character! He invested in building a 'real' relationship with her. He 'actually' talked with her and gave her the 'right space' that a human needs. He didn't break her inner self which would make her not want to have anything to do with him because of what he did!

She once was tearing up while being on a video call while inside her blanket, but she made sure to have me see that she was weeping. She was lying on her side facing me and would lift her blanket up and reveal her teary face to me while she looked at her phone in front. Why was she doing that!? What was she trying to prove? And if they're so well mentally connected, why doesn't he leave me and why is he harassing and bullying me and giving me more pain!? On another occasion, she also showed me how she slept with her phone by her side while being on a video call after I had written about the vision of Jesus lying beside me on His side. She was showing me how they slept together. He approached her like a normal person would. (Now even his tears of faked repentance won't have any effect on me no matter how hard he cries in front of me! I can easily slap him tightly!)

What made him do that? He was drawn to her because she was a better resonating option, and comes from a rich background like him, and she has a girly persona as well and is slim. I can say this because those are also the kind of things she kept saying in front of me while looking and pointing at me with her face and eyes! "Oh 80 lakhs.. ?", and on another occasion "67 lakhs…? Part time.. ?"

Why're they highlighting these things to me?

I didn't ask him to target me or come running after me. IF SOMEONE ISN'T A FINANCIAL MATCH, THEN DON'T STRIP, ABUSE, AND ROB THAT PERSON EITHER AND RUIN HER LIFE! DIDN'T HE HAVE THIS MUCH COMMON SENSE!?

And most importantly, he wouldn’t have been able to do what he did, if he didn't have those extra bucks, so he should stop falsely showcasing himself as a moral middle-class man! She and him have no moral values and have no value to me! He can't even think about doing to her what he did to me! He likes to falsely portray things as moral when in fact they are sinful.

And truth doesn’t change by portraying it falsely. If he represents him and Akhila as ‘poor people in love’ using messenger actors, it doesn't change the truth. I don't believe in lies that are spoken as a counteractive argument but in the absolute truth that stands evident in front.

I will have no remorse or guilt or sadness if he goes to jail in the future, even if I'm with him. Because he would've deserved it. And even while being with him, I can testify the truth against him. If he had told me that he has ‘many’ cases going against him, like Akhila was saying to Shin in a taunting way in front of me to make the point that one more case won’t affect him, I would have been repelled by him and won't go form a bond with him like she did! I don't know what kind of sick brain she has that wants to behave in an outward righteous manner as she affects those poses in her pictures while she and he are immoral and filthy inside and think it's ok to do wrong and have many cases run against oneself - hypocrisy at its peak!

10. 'Toh Kata Kataya Hi Le Aao, Humein Apne Jeevan Par Koi Dosh Nhi Hoga'

'Then bring the genitalia that's already been used by another, I will not blame my life for my fate'

- One evening in A-16 - A messenger guy communicates the truth of Death Conqueror's character!

He was communicating to me how I was supposed to 'think'! No, Pig. You can't tell me what to think because you don't have it in you to preach the right thing! Go sanctify your own mind first before throwing its bogus output on others!

I don't want this cheap character in my life in any way! I don't want the namesake of a bond in which I have to pretend to be happy when the other person is not fulfilling any of the conditions demanded by the bond. He has already failed many conditions! He played games, meaning he will continue playing games and communicate things in a 'game manner' only, and this is not the person I want! He has hurt me deeply and rejoiced in it! This is not the person I want. He has stripped my publicly and insulted me by calling me an elephant or a shark! This is not the person I want! He stripped my family publicly and called them animals! This is not the person I want! He hurt my left ovary and burst an egg. This is not the person I want! He wants to kill me by setting me on fire. This is not the person I want. He already ruined a great part of my career by killing my inner self! This is not the person I want! He made me dead on the inside when it comes to my earthly life! This is not the person I want. And when I wrote this line, I saw Vision: Volturi giving me a very wicked smile as if his mission was accomplished. His wicked smile showed how elated he was feeling about causing the pain.

11. Akhila says, "Just Go there for 2-3 hours.."

She said it to me indirectly while on the phone! I don't know what he's fighting for. Yeah, 2-3 hours of using me just like a person can't sleep well without buying a certain specific thing, but after just one use, the thing's no longer desired! Both are characterless and SUPER ugly on the inside! I'm just like a piece of clothing to him the buyer loses interest in after wearing it just once! - that's why he keeps highlighting the 'for once' part!

12. They Made My Life A Living Hell

All the hurtful things they said and the hurtful ways they behaved keep coming back to me. If there was a change in them, then the past wouldn't have bothered me. But they are the same stinking goop of character, and their behavior continues the same as it was in the past. For a while, they can pretend to be better or improved, but it's neither real nor long-lasting!

13. Ramchandra - The Messenger Without A Conscience

This guy who works as a help under my supervisor Nivedita Deo has served as a conscienceless messenger for long. He is an overweight dark-complexioned, old man with a bulging belly and a bald head with tiny spiky hair. He sits in the room and says things that are often hurtful or depict a hurtful truth of my situation. Once he said, "Toot rahi hai." ('She's breaking'). This other day he was saying, "Sara time charge hi rehta hai" – referring to the state of Death Conqueror since my ex-roommate got involved. He makes it even more difficult for me to sit in the room just like Deepak. I just feel like slapping him once as well for passing useless messages to me that put pressure on my soul and cause me grief! He has said many hurtful things to me! What are these people trying to do? Why do they have to tell me things I don't need to know about someone who only worked towards traumatizing me! He formed a trauma bond, not a love bond, and he's not the one who's facing the trauma, being the dumbass that he is!

13.1 'Madam Mein Apko Dekh Raha Tha'

'Madam I was watching you.'

Ramchandra once entered my lab (Room No. 184 on 2nd floor of MSB) with a weird expression on his face and eyes wide open and said to me the above phrase overcome with lust as I could tell. The dumbass is not just sinning himself but also making others sin as well while inflicting pain on me.

I don't even feel like going back to that disgusting, cheap, and whorish city where all team up together to abuse an innocent person!

14. 'My Dad Does This'

And this part from the dream 'The Carrier Bus' where Akhila made an exponential graph increasing to the right while saying, "My dad does this." has been being highlighted to me several times as well! I don't want to know what the short-heighted person she calls her dad does! I've seen enough of what he does - he abuses and hurts others remorselessly! Everyone can do what he does. Everyone can make an exponential with one's genitalia. He does that even with prostitutes and can do it with all women! But it takes a godly and righteous character to do the right thing which he doesn't has in him to do. He can only make exponentials with his public penis.

15. 'Comfort For The Afflicted'

This headline was from a newspaper clipping she had intentionally left on the sofa at her side for me to notice! Why doesn't she put on my shoes and see how 'comforting' the comfort is?

16. 'Anyway It's So Long'

She said it abruptly and out of context to Shin about Death Conqueror's disgusting and public genitalia while doing something! It was meant for me to listen. Why did she have to say such things in front of me? Because it gave her validation by telling me all that she had seen and done! As if they're very holy things done out of pure love! I don't want to live with the 'sense' of love like Death Conqueror's who did what he did! It's a burden on me because even if I forgive, he continues in it, and my forgiveness is not valued! And the act of forgiveness doesn't mean that I want to be around him or let him in my life in any way!

The vision of Jesus standing and smiling with His sword of judgment keeps getting highlighted to me. Death Conqueror's day will soon come when he will have to answer for the wicked ways he chose! He's not a person of God, but of devil! Because he does the wrong thing and then tries to hide it by keeping others silent.

17. The Trouser and the Hairdresser

She always had to put up signs to show what she had been doing or had just returned doing. This day she returned in the evening and was dressed in a yellow ethnic suit but what she later did made me wanna puke. After changing clothes, she spread her lower on the sofa upside down and put the stem of her hairdresser in the middle. What was the cheap act that she was communicating to me that she had returned doing!

This is a record against you Death Conqueror. Don't think it will rule out in your favor! Both of you don't even deserve my hatred! And I will let God judge you! Though I may die because I refuse to bow my knee to a wicked and evil man, but God will judge him in the end!

18. Even The Canteen People Serve As Messengers

"Btaado, Kaat diya" - ('Tell her, I've had intercourse with her') - A canteen guy tells me this about Death Conqueror and Akhila. I didn't understand who they were referring to at first, and I don't even use such cheap and filthy language like 'Kaat diya, kata kataya etc..' but since this person came in my life, I've been exposed to all kinds of obscene language and all kinds of low-level degraded thoughts!

Another canteen guy told me the same thing casually! Why were they all communicating messages to me? I DON'T WANT TO KNOW ANYTHING ABOUT SOMEONE I DON'T WANT TO BE AROUND AND HAVE REJECTED BECAUSE OF A LACK OF CHARACTER!

That day when I reached PG, even Akhila put up a sign with a wide-open scissors on the shared table and said, "Done." looking at me sideways while she stood facing the wall behind the sofa. Why were they all communicating these things to me? This is not behavior a person expects or anticipates from a loved one! He has not behaved like or treated me like he has loved me, and I'm not a fool to blindly hand over my trust in the hands of someone like him.

The canteen people were mostly nice to me and weren't as abusive of messengers as Ramchandra and others.

I HATE THAT PLACE OF ABUSE! THE ENTIRE CITY IS OVERTAKEN BY THE DEVIL! DO THEY EVEN DESERVE TO BE BROUGHT THE GOOD NEWS OF THE KINGDOM OF THE HEAVEN WHEN THEY KEEP FILLING MY EARS WITH THE POISON SENT BY THE CRIMINAL?

19. "Jeena Hai!"

"I've to live!"
said Deepak in a taunting manner. He was making the point that I should die or end my own life! There was some discussion going about something needing to be done and I had said something in response to which he replied with a, "Jeena Hai." in a spent taunting tone. According to him, there was no point that I continued in my life as the people who targeted me were not going to stop until I caved in to their schemes or I died! So he mocked me by saying that I had no other work than to live.

Who is he to tell others to die! He should die for having such wicked thoughts about others! And those who are all comply in this conspiracy of targeting me and my family - they all should die burning in the fire of their sin so they better be saved and enter Heaven after dying on Earth! Those were not his thoughts, but Death Conqueror's.

This event from my past has been being highlighted to me many times now. It was somewhere during 2016 or 2017 that I met Prof Patrick Das Gupta of my dept to discuss about my career prospects as I had low percentage and wanted to pursue a PhD.

20. PDG Signals

He told me about a guy who too had a low MSc percentile but did a project here and went abroad to pursue a PhD in Applied Physics. I told him that I wanted to go into the field of either Astrophysics or Complex Systems. But while he was explaining to me the above, he signaled with his eyes at my breasts – slowly lowering them strategically at them and then looking back at me. This was my first hint of the system being infiltrated by impure and immoral statutes, which was later confirmed by the dream in which I saw cemented stools on a platform on which women sat with their tops lifted as men came and sucked at their nipples. He was aware and a part of this broken system of the devil. My own supervisor had to do the same though she was a professor in the dept. She had to 'give a drink' to the HOD to get leave to meet her daughter. Her own husband works in the same dept and she told me that he too 'passed many leaves' when he was HOD before the current one.

This is the system of the matrix that works and sustains itself by basing itself on the immoral ways of devil and rejecting and putting to mockery the statutes of God. It can only be realized on Earth for Earth is a place of 'mixture' and not purity.

21. "Muquadma Hoga re, Karlo Aaj Yakeen"

'There's a going to be a case filed, believe it today.'

This played in my spirit in the rhyme of the song 'Muquadma Hoga Re, Karlo Aaj Waqueel' during the past week at home. And it played a while back today as well and is playing even now.

Though I have prayed for justice and vengeance, it doesn't mean I hate my enemies from the bottom of my heart. I want them to turn to God and be transformed. We are called to 'love our enemies' and 'pray for them' but we are not called to partake in their wickedness as Akhila did. She should separate herself from the wicked party and repent, or rather pray to God to lead her in the right direction instead of listening to the words of an immoral man such as him.

22. A Prayer Criminal, Murderer, and Rapist Mrittunjay Can Never Pray

Psalm 7

3-4 O Lord, my God, if I have wronged anyone,
if I have betrayed a friend
or without cause done violence to my enemy[b]—
if I have done any of these things—

5 then let my enemies pursue me and catch me,
let them cut me down and kill me
and leave me lifeless on the ground!

He has indeed done wrong to many as I can interpolate through the past, and not just me! Though with me, it was extended to a long duration. He can't pray the above prayer! Ever! He has many sins in his lap and he continues to add more! Only a righteous person can pray such a prayer, not criminals like him, for by praying such a prayer he is asking for dire punishment and judgment on his head.

He will rather pray to not get caught while committing the crime or to not have to bear the consequences of his actions! – from what I can surmise from his character that I've observed by far.

It seems to me now that I've kept myself fooled myself for a long time now. I let myself be emotionally manipulated to some extent by this criminal and murderer who openly confessed his history before Akhila! She was saying in a very righteous seeming tone, "I know everything about him!" which made me think when did she do all that! He used and abused me all that time and then showed me a crying picture of Frodo in a YT reco with the Title that said that that was Frodo gained the trust of women! Only foolish women must be believing him and his façade because I will believe in what he's actually done, and the hurtful things he has said! Even if he kills me brutally, I want him to get a severe and strict sentence for his crime! He must not get away with ruining someone's life that easily! When I get on my righteous mode, I don't see who the person is, but I want them to receive the due judgment of their actions. I don't have a beast mode, but a righteous one. He may see it very soon! He has not fought for love! He has HUMILIATED love through his ways and he's morally 'dumb' enough to not understand/realize it!

By far, he's only seen my forgiving and loving side.

I will wait for the sword of judgment to fall on a murderer, rapist and slaughterer such as him!

Love endures all and forgives all, but it also brings correction. So, though God also endured all and forgave all, He also brings correction to those He calls His own.

25 June 2023
02:59

(Written at my home in Omaxe Heights, Sonipat)

I woke up in the middle of the night. I had these visions before falling asleep:

1. Wings of Justice

Vision: Two golden wings stretched outward in front of a parrot-green background. The wings had a vertical rectangular golden strip stretching below it! The follow-up vision had the golden map of India appear below between the two wings. At first thought, one could look at the vision as representing India as a 'Sone Ki Chidiya' (Golden Sparrow) as it was called in the past, but the title I chose sounds much better and godly!

2. Policewoman Karishma Kapoor

Vision: I saw the front view of Karishma Kapoor dressed in the beige uniform of a Police Inspector as she looked forward.
After this, I fell asleep.

3. Shadow Revelation (Dream) During Sleep:

I'm in a PG's room different from my current one. Some events happen. My mom makes appearances as well.
A woman orders a man on the phone to kill me. He is standing in the open area near the service lane in front of the Ganda Nala. The man is righteous and refuses. He has some special powers as well. When he ends the call, he finds a topless well-built muscular man standing to the right as the vision shifts there. The muscular man stands with a bow and arrow aimed at the righteous man and shoots. The man dodges. The man shoots again but this time it hits directly at the tattooed circle a few inches below the throat of the righteous man. Apparently, that was the spot that carried his life. On being hit there, he disintegrates and vanishes in thin air, and at the spot of the circle appears a golden ring that falls down on the ground after the man has vanished. I step forward and place my foot on it as I don't want my mom to take it away for she comes picking up 'useful' stuff from the floor. After she's left, I pick up the thick plain ring and move forward.

I see a narrow way with clothes to be organized put along the edges. RS enters from behind. I walk forward and pass the people in the front. I see a number flash by which resembled 2222.4 as I looked at my mom in the corridor. The corridor resembles the one present in the Saini's house we used to stay in my hometown. It was on the first floor on the way towards the stairs in the open. I see someone chasing after me.

I am now at the ground floor of the Saini's home in front of what looks like a short toy house made of cardboard. Apparently, I'm Jerry and I'm knocking on the door for my fellow rat to open it but no one's opening. I can look inside through the cardboard slits on the outer window and can see the stairs at the other end of the house. The house is a light shade of red. I have to pass the ring inside for protection. I know that the cat Tom is after me. I stand there for a while with the ring. The next scene shows the top view of a white and green toothbrush and another smaller toothbrush lying upside down on the floor next to each other beside the cardboard house. Apparently, the two mice have found a way to preserve the ring.

4. 'Ladki Kaha Hai!?'

'Where is she a girl?'
This was an event on my way to the Multi Storey Building some months back.
Some youngsters walk past me inside Science Faculty and one of the girls passes this comment as a message from the rapist and murderer! If not born with a stereotypical girly persona, I was born with a godly conscience! Instead of questioning my gender, he should question his own self! Even a Eunuch shouldn't be stripped and treated the way he did me! He represents the alien serpent race on Earth which exists to persecute the sheep of God! Are those people crazy that they're sending me his useless messages meant to put me down? Why is he not leaving instead of pointing out the things that are 'wrong' with my looks!?

But know this - even if you leave, your judgment will follow you! You won't be able to escape it! I will happily partake in it if needed.

5. He Began With Betrayal Itself

Stripping me and humiliating me and saying mean things all the time in order break down my conscientious self and make me as reprobate as him! And continues in it. What does he expect? The one godly thing he should expect from me is those tight slaps on his face as was revealed! That would be 'healing' for me! The only people he goes well with are those who are reprobates like him!

6. Volturi - The Betrayer

Vision (Past hour): A fair Volturi with long hair stands with a bunch of long-stemmed red roses in one hand that's facing me but his other hand has a dagger hidden behind his back. The background is the cold snowy one from the end fight in the last part of the series (Breaking Dawn 2).

7. I Scold Divyanshu

(Past two days)
I was scolding my youngest brother Divyanshu and as I stop saying mean things, I feel a hand slap the side of my belly facing upwards while I lay asleep on my left side on the bed.

8. He'll Never Succeed In His Plan

The poor fellow didn't expect his torturous plan to extend to this length of time. Not everyone succumbs to evil! My righteous self will always hate him! Always! And my forgiving and loving self will eventually find no reason to see him favourably because of his continued betrayal and abuse.

His desire is not to have me or fight for me! But to break a righteous person whom he knows wants to stay away from wickedness. He knew the gutter he lived in and he could see how much set apart I kept myself from wicked people. So he targeted me to bring a part of his world in mine, to turn me into someone like him through abuse. It wasn't about love. It was to turn me into someone as degraded and immoral as him and make me used to his filthy world! Because he has proven that he has no sense of righteous godly love but only a degraded fallen sense of an attachment style devoid of purity! His character stinks. He carries the Ganda Nala inside of him!

9. A Righteous Person Can Never Like Him

If the person is not looking at the façade or the affected broken good self he exhibits in public but at what he does in hiding!

10. He And His People Are Chameleons!

The way they change their appearances in a moment, and present themselves as someone they are clearly not shows this deceiving part of their personality! While I have stood along with the values I have always followed and only changed about me what God showed me, they change their statements and selves to false representations in the blink of an eye. This moment he is idealizing you, the next moment he is insulting you! I guess he reserved this lunacy for the covenant bond that was called to be pure by God while setting apart his affected nicety for the general public. And why wouldn't he!? It's necessary to be fake-nice to the general public to win their favors being a corrupt politician!

10.1 Doing Makeup Makes Me a Hypocrite (..?)

Akhila once made this comment to me ('doesn't it make you a hypocrite!?'). But again, it only shows how dumb and without insight they are! I learnt it because God showed it to me. It was an instruction from Him! So, knowing this, they shouldn't even be asking me this question! They just seem so dumb to me – for they do not count the truth lying right in front and then ask questions that arise because of it! I don't know how much dumber they can be!

We are not called to murder because it is a sin and makes us unholy, but then God Himself told His people the Israelites to kill and swipe out certain areas they were to occupy for those places were useless in the sight of God as they were based in unrighteousness and didn't follow Him. Killing them was no longer a sin for Israelites because it was an instruction from God.

It's almost as if my righteous self can't take more of him! He is suffocating to even be in the passive presence of, let alone a real presence! He brings about negative feelings because of who he is and the lack of repentance makes it worse! No wonder he goes well along with sexual abusers like Awadhesh Prasad who use their positions and the weaknesses of the system and the student's situation to harass and perpetuate abuse! The pack of wolves got together like a not-so-strange attractor in the Physics & Astrophysics department of Delhi University!

11. The Doppelganger Test

Once during the past year, while walking towards my lab in the dept (Room No. 184), I saw a doppelganger of Death Conqueror walk out from Awadhesh Prasad's room which is in the same corridor. He was taller, dressed in black, and was looking down with a slight smile on his face and trying to give a righteous impression! It made me feel more disgust towards him! Why was the doppelganger in the room of someone like Awadhesh Prasad and on top of that why was he pretending to be righteous!? The immoral 'actions' of Death Conqueror have spoken louder than his words! And he will soon see 'my' actions speak as well! They've spoken a lot by far as I've kept away from him! Though the doppelganger was reflecting a fake moral persona - even that was abhorable! Even Awadhesh Prasad dressed holy, smiles, and talks and walks in what looks righteous, but he's not! Anyone can do that!

So much effort just to break a person who is not wicked like them and refuses to be a part of the system! The dumbasses refuse to learn the ways of God but want to kill what's Godly, and they think they are very well-advanced and progressive when in fact they're grossly wicked!

12. The Sabbath Lion Was Glory

The vision that I had one evening towards the end of my Sabbath in which I saw a lion come running towards me from the right and jump through a floral hoop, landing in front of me and looking at me with a serious expression and a side partition of his mane hair - that lion was Glory, not Death Conqueror.

Death Conqueror is the devil lion with long vicious teeth and devouring expressions that I wrote about previously. In that vision, he had one eye red and one blue.

What could be more revealing of his persona than the fact that God represented him by the villainous character of the rapist and murderer postman from the movie Dushman! Wicked fornicators think it's normal to violate other individuals!

Death Conqueror is like a tiny useless spec of dust when it comes to comparing 'real' inner uncompromising morality that represents God! Devil is also represented by a lion. He is the devil!

I want God to change my brain even more where I call sin as sin and not condone or let it pass! And it's going to push me further away from him! He fills me with hatred as he is full of immoral shit. I write about him because he throws his immoral filth at me and it irritates me and makes me feel violated! I don't want his filthy ungodly presence!

13. The Day

I spent most of the day cleaning. And towards the end, I thought of folding the clothes and organizing the corner wardrobe by which I sleep. While folding clothes, I was getting teary-eyed as I looked at the injustice and the unjust situation and I wanted God to come forth for me with Vengeance as he had shown me in the vision in which he stood in a metallic armour ready with a sword while he smiled at me righteously as he looked at me from above. I had this vision in Room D1 of A-16 one day while I lay on bed. Some parts of 'Mein Hu Don' ('I am Don') song also played in my spirit throughout the day, but they so annoyed and disgusted me that I wanted to get that nauseous feeling out of my body anyhow, but couldn't. That's why I also avoid being around people like him because the stink of their character makes me nauseous much like the smell of leather seats, diesel, or petrol that make me nauseous. If I were to say such a thing, that I was some kind of Don, I would feel so disgusted by myself, for that's not who I want to be. But this guy not only feels powerful by calling himself Don but also 'wants' to be an undercover Don who operates his crimes going unnoticed and thinks something to feel good about.

I would rather die than be a Don, or be around some kind of self-proclaimed Don. I don't know what kind of brain Akhila and his criminal wolf friends have that rejoice in their wrongdoings and don't repent.

I looked at the facts and the truth, and the game. It's all a fun game, you know, for them. A game of prey and predators where the predators slowly smother the prey to death from a distance. At first, the prey becomes less productive in her life, then she becomes dysfunctional in some areas she fared very well at previously, and finally she loses all her previous traits and doesn't want to continue anymore!

He Empathized Neither With My Suffering Nor With My Love

I saw how neither how deeply I suffered was understood, nor my love and forgiveness! Or else why would Akhila say to me in a taunting way that ‘it seemed like I was going to do the things I wrote all alone' - referring to the godly revelations I received related to the abuser. They knew that it was hurtful for me, and they understood it, but it didn't really affect them. Death Conqueror was mocking my situation by showing me a woman on her knees dressed in a beige one-piece and sitting under shower with her eyes closed and hands folded in prayer. That's how cheap they are. My suffering is fuel for them. It doesn't make them feel hurt but they get their 'food' by watching me hurt and die inside on a daily basis. Their actions are a reflection of the spiritual reality of how the sheep race is ‘food’ for the serpent race.

Anyway. While folding clothes, I got reminded of the dream I had earlier this morning in which I had clothes spread along the sides of a long narrow hollow pathway along the side of a field. The pathway had cemented walls on both sides and I had the task of folding those clothes when I started running and saw Ranveer Singh dressed in a blue sweater over pants jump along the side of the pathway and run along. In real life in my room, I sat in the long narrow space between the wardrobe and the bed and spread the clothes there to fold them. God knew that I was going to fold the clothes of that wardrobe later that day at night.

While reminiscing about Ranveer Singh and my cloth task in the dream, I was also having hurt feelings because of the abusive and conscienceless behavior of Death Conqueror and his gang that had continued for long now and it was making me tear up. And as I wept, I could feel that they weren't negatively affected at all but had wicked grins on their faces because even my tears of hurt were fuel for them and gave them sadistic pleasure. But while I was weeping, this song started playing in my spirit, and I was suddenly filled with my past state of how I used to feel when I sang it with Meera. It was one of those songs we loved and devoted the lyrics to each other. She had loved the song lyrics when I introduced the song to her and then it became 'our' song. And not just the song, I was also reminded of the time we would sit holding hands for long as we would rejoice in our mental union and the feeling of oneness and love. I recalled the time we sat together, held hands, and sang this song while looking into each other's eyes as we smiled with feelings of inner contentment and love. It really held a lot of meaning for us.

Holding hands was a daily chore for Meera and I during the 4 years we spent together in BSc and her MSc drop year. Even in our BSc classroom, when we sat together, I would warm her hand in my coat's pocket during winters.

I recalled her eyes lit with pure emotions as the song played in my spirit. And then the memories made me tear up as well because everything was real. Meera was much much better than many other girls in her character traits! That's why we went along together. We never talked crap, nor used abusive language and our love wasn't physical but we loved each other truly. I could tell it by looking into her eyes. I saw the love I shared with Meera and then I saw how Death Conqueror had abused me for these many years and the kind of love he shared with Akhila that he flaunted in front of me after having abused me all this time! Their love seemed so cheap and low-level to me when I looked at what I shared with Meera.

Meera and I were wanderers and we loved each other's company. I recalled how our love didn't make us abuse others or say mean things to them. Meera was an intelligent and righteous girl in many aspects and not someone dumb and vain like Akhila who boasts about her good-for-nothing background. Meera had my heart like no one else did. The song brought to my remembrance all our past memories and I saw that I already had a life lived with bonds of a rare kind with people of a rare kind that are not easily found, that I already had a pure and righteous version of a history of how Death Conqueror lived his life or the kind of bonds he formed and shared with others! I have a bright past when it comes to high-quality bonds. Meera and I uplifted others, and would never say and do the kind of cheap and abusive things Death Conqueror and Akhila do to others. We just couldn’t even think that way! It just wasn't our constitution. We weren't built that way. We didn't judge people the way they do.

It was a bond I cherished a lot because it was SO Godly! There was hardly any worldly crap but we went into a joyful and ecstatic state whenever we would be together, and we would be happy for no reason. Even if we were amid difficulty, the fact that we were together in it was enough for us to go through it. Our company strengthened each other instead of bringing the other person down. Death Conqueror seems so low quality to me. He creates difficulties for innocent people who don’t want to have anything to do with wickedness!

The song reminded me of us sitting together on the bed facing each other in her home holding hands as we sang our favourite songs together.

The only thing Death Conqueror learned is to play games and use others for his cause. Meera and I always communicated one to one. There were no third parties and no games. It was a direct mind-to-mind connection. But when I look at Death Conqueror, I don't know what I see. He brought in my life a very different world full of games in which love is hidden behind some unexpected brick that one may never happen to hit. It's much like hit and trial. Meera and I, when we looked at each other, we knew where we stood. We had a mature bond, and we understood the significance of physicality with another individual. It wasn't a light thing for us. Her home didn't have an AC or perhaps not even a cooler (can't recall exactly) but I loved to go there. She was even happily waiting for me once to have lunch together. Our love was pure and we used to stay at a very high mental state than others around. We could see it because we used to be 'out of the world'. We didn't have negativity towards others nor did we need money to be happy. Her family didn't have a vehicle of their own and their home was also very humble. Her mom created doormats using old clothes and did everything by herself. They didn't have a maid come. Her dad was a storekeeper in a school. But she was my star. I could never think of stripping her publicly (or in private) and it wouldn't make me 'feel good' in any case. I liked her casual dressing sense of wearing a t-shirt and jeans. I saw outer simplicity in her but a great mind that wasn't easy to be found. She was the only person of her kind I had come across in my life. That's why she was my friend. When I went to visit her home and had to stay, I even helped her clean at times or wash dishes. We didn't abuse others nor talked crap.

These people (the sexual harassers at the dept, Death Conqueror and the gang) though rich just brought filth in my life when I look at their sign language and the kind of things they've said to me. Almost as if I went down from a bond-quality level of excellent to very poor. And by bond quality, I don't imply measuring bond quality between two wicked immoral persons who resonate together in their wickedness, but the bond quality between two individuals who don't think wicked thoughts about others and can't think either because they're not built in that manner, a bond quality measured by the kinds of thoughts and traits that resonate together, while looking at the individual minds separately as well. Our separate brains innately had an inner drive to be better. I remember that once in Anjali's flat, Meera said that to be righteous was very important. I didn't give her words much importance back then because I was already doing everything I knew I could do right. That was my way of life and it didn't seem like something that needed a great deal of effort. I mean I didn't have to make efforts to be righteous or be led by my conscience. During our initial days together and first discussions, I stressed on Passion while she stressed on Discipline. I used to think that without a passion or zest for the cause, discipline was vain and just a mundane trait one followed, but with the presence of passion, one could not only be disciplined as a result but it could also create new fine branches into new and unknown regions leading to hidden treasures. We always talked about the idealistic way things should be, and talking about it together expanded our minds. It also revealed to us the previously unexplored philosophical sides of our routine moral discussions. We both were idealistic, I somewhat being more idealistic than her as I totally rejected some things of the world she so accepted. The song that played in my Spirit reminding me of my time with Meera was 'You Decorated My Life' by Kenny Rogers.

14. You Decorated My Life

All my life was a paper
Once plain, pure and white

'Til you moved with your pen
Changing moods now and then
'Til the balance was right

Then you added some music
Every note was in place
And anybody could see
All the changes in me
By the look on my face..

And you… decorated my life..
Created a world
Where dreams are a part..

And you… decorated my life
By painting your love
All over my heart…

You decorated my life..

Like a rhyme with no reason
in an unfinished song..
There was no harmony
Life meant nothing to me
Until you came along..

And you brought out the colors..
What a gentle surprise..
Now I'm able to see
All the things life can be
Shining soft in your eyes..

And you.. decorated my life..
Created a world
Where dreams are a part..

And you.. decorated my life
By painting your love
All over my heart..

You decorated my life..

Ref: Kenny Rogers - You Decorated My Life (lyrics)

While I and Meera had a love-filled bond despite our financial differences because we resonated at the mental level, Akhila made demeaning comments such as, "My home has a central AC.", "She is acting as if she's never been in an AC." while she was the one who made most of the fuss about things, most of which used to be one-sided and illogical.

This other song played after a while as well, though for a very brief duration, while I wept and I understood that my suffering was just an objective thing for them to witness and feel pleased with, and it wasn't something that affected their hearts to stop doing what they have been:

15. Khushiyaan Aur Gam Sehti Hai

'She endures joy and sadness'

16. "We Should've Made a Portrait But I Guess We're Too Late Now."

I am not a naïve observer who doesn't understand the motives and heart conditions of people. I saw a sister in Christ say this phrase in one of her videos with her husband before she published her first video online.

First thing, I didn't intend to make that picture on the wall but it just happened to be so circumstantially. So, a comparison can't be made where one says that one could've painted a portrait that would've resulted in a better ministry. I am already going through mental struggles and my Creator Jesus helps me through it, but listening to such a degrading and competitive statement from a fellow believer isn't helpful either. I saw through her in her first video. I shared it here at my forum as well, but I would say that it doesn’t make any sense for someone else to say that they should've done what God made me do when God didn't intend them to. It's almost like saying that that person's ministry should've been mine and I could've done it much better. We all have different individual walks with God and should follow the leading of the Holy Spirit in our endeavors. I so adore Sis Adele and revere her walk with God and how she operates in her ministry. But does that mean I would pass comments that I should've done something in a superior way that manifested in her ministry? It just wouldn't make any sense! So, my sister, who was having these feelings of competency and jealousy, I'm letting you know that your words hurt me though I let them go. Our job is to extend the kingdom of God, not to mimic, leave our lane, and try to outrun. It's much like the game of football that Sis Adele talked about where we pass the ball when needed and at times we have to compensate for another injured player through intercession but we don't try to compete with a jealous heart with a fellow player of our team. I love Adele a lot and I want to learn from her walk as I watch her but I won't ever say that ‘I could've done something she did but I guess I am too late now’.

I know where I stand with God. I can see where Jonathan stands with God, or where Adele stands with God. But I don't and MUST NOT say that I should've done something in a way that seems superior to me, because the way God had them construct things is exactly how they were intended to be as well!

(Written at my home in Omaxe Heights, Sonipat)

Vision: Animated side-view of Meera kissing a person to the right.
I had this vision shortly after I wrote about my time with her on the last page.

1. The Poor Doppelganger - Doesn't Match 1/10th of the Character Traits of Meera

They planted Deepak to represent Death Conqueror. He was a poorer version of him representing the relative economic gap. But he didn't have 1/10th of the character of Meera! I wasn't friends with her or form a close bond with her because of her economic status but because she had many righteous qualities. She was an independent thinker, had her own ideas, understood my ideas, and suggested and added to them, while with others I couldn't even think about having the kind of conversations I had with Meera because their persona spoke of their inner selves too loudly; Meera and I found a healthy space to share and discuss our ideas. She was the kind of person who could go along with a morally idealistic mind. She herself was idealistic in her own way. We resonated in our good qualities. She wasn't some kind of Don or a super-rich person used to living with many men at once. She was a monogamous person and it seemed that she understood the value of commitment.

A fleshly bond can be found anywhere. Commitment is what's sought after. It's not marriage, but a sense of commitment that makes a bond worth turning into a covenant. I see a sense of commitment in Glory. He's monogamous and not like Death Conqueror who just wants a person to fill a role he has created to suit his needs while he gets to live as he wants outside of the requirements of a covenant. And why do I keep mentioning Glory when it comes to Covenant and not others God gave me revelations about? It's because of the prophetic wedding dream a part of which has already come to pass, and I've written previously about it as well. That dream wasn't a shadow revelation. It was a dream whose events came to pass in the same order I saw them. Now I'm in the dream's slow unfolding phase as the wedding event hasn't yet manifested though others did during late 2021 and the beginning of the past year itself. It's been around a year and the dream seems to be at rest waiting for the time of fulfilment.

Many things changed during the past year and God brought other people into my life while I was walking towards my earthly covenant promise with Glory. I never could've thought a year back that I will fall in love with RS and KA. When God first gave me revelations with them, they were hard to believe. The dreams first made me question how was it that people from Bollywood or the movie industry came into my dreams as it had never happened previously. The only actor or movie character I used to previously have dreams about was Harry Potter, but now I was having dreams about people I hadn't many movies of. But now I understand that God gave me those revelations because He saw 'their' hearts when I didn't first know them or have a bond with them. My heart towards Death Conqueror too changed as God gave me related revelations.

God made the promise to me back in 2021. I wasn't searching for anyone. God already had that person searched out but He was changing me in a way that will make a way for me to enter what He promised me. My promise revolves around not just my earthly covenant marriage but also around calling and collecting His children together for His Kingdom. If my life didn't have this situation of spy cams, the turn of events would've been very much different. In that case, perhaps I would've formed a closer bond with Mayank – the guy from my dept as God gave me shadow revelations with him too. I don't know. I'm just guessing. Or perhaps Glory would've been more direct in the absence of cameras and I would've had many interactions with him by now. I knew him first. So, perhaps without Death Conqueror, our story would've unfolded in a quicker, easier, and risk-free way. Again, I can only guess. And Death Conqueror would be living his life in his usual worldly way indulging in his routine sins and living a life without God and repentance and I wouldn't be burdened with the stress of the current situation. He already had many women available at hand as he was showing off online which repelled me away from him making me block him. It was when I came across photos that showed this drunkard who was openly falling on women and showing it off. This made me question why such a person was on my FB list.

But this present situation made possible a change of hearts for many people and bring them together as children of God.

Deepak repelled me a lot because of the kind of violent things he talked about. While Meera attracted me at once without saying a word by her expressions alone when she wasn't even looking at me. I saw through her. She was the only real person in the room I saw with a strong and determined expression. She wore a very loose and baggy printed white shirt over blue jeans and blue flip-flops with thin strips. Her simplicity and expressions got me at once. I could tell that she was a morally upright person while everyone else looked flaky.

Deepak may match Meera in her 'past' economic condition because now she is in a much better place since she started working, but he is nowhere close to her mental level. The same is the case with Death Conqueror - utterly repulsive. Even the kind of messages he tries to communicate through others showcase his cheap mind which confirms his character. There's nothing new, no change! We don't just live with a body. We live with a mind as well. And Glory's mind suits my mind, not Death Conqueror's who only inflicts pain. He is better suited for women with a much lower sense of morality and righteousness.

2. Both Girls Go To An Expensive Place - The Kingdom of Heaven

Recall: The dream that ended with me and Akhila traveling together in the back seat of an overly filled small car shouting praises to God with her moving her raised arm with a closed fist while shouting and sitting to my left as a huge and tall golden building with BARUK HABA written on it came into our sight. BARUK HABA was written horizontally on the tall building in golden color itself with straight Bold English font and we were traveling towards it.

That's what she should be excited about and that's also what I will happily join her in, but not to a worldly expensive place and NEVER with an emotionally abusive guy who has stabbed daggers in my heart continuously for years without repentance! (I first mentioned the dream on Page 83.)

3. He Should Be Slapped and Thrown Out of The Dept

I don't know why do people tolerate abusers like him at the workplace and how can parents support such children instead of throwing them out and reporting them to the Police. Oh yeah, this is the serpent race.

4. Ranveer Singh's Cheek Gets Kissed By a Woman Repeatedly

Vision: I saw the top side-view of Ranveer Sir driving a convertible moving in the right direction with a joyful expression. He was wearing black goggles and to his left sat a woman resembling Deepika Padukone, facing him as she dropped kisses on his right bearded cheek while he made happy and joyful mischievous expressions while driving the convertible!

5. 'He Doesn't Look Like a Murderer Now'

Said Akhila in a sarcastic tone about the murderer criminal and rapist Death Conqueror, while she looked at Shin, but the statement was meant for me to hear! She always loved to showcase how she was so in touch with him and knew a lot about him and his business as if I wanted to know more about such a person! I've seen all his sides now through God-given revelations! And once I was doing eye makeup to practice as I had learnt it recently, when she said in a mean tone, "As if it matters to him." which made me think, "As if I'm doing it for him!" she followed her statement by a sharp and loud, "I know everything about him!" which made me think, "Why is she telling me this?" I often thought that she must be a fool to continue with such a person when he hasn't completely left and stopped abusing me, and she didn't even encourage him to change his ways and repent of the wrong he did to me, let alone apologize. She was rather making it look as if an apology would be 'an act of kindness from him' (when she said, "Yeah.. because he didn't apologize..") and not something that he should really make out of a repentful heart because he hurt me and caused a lot of damage!

Why would I expect an apology from such a person who has clearly demonstrated that he can do a very wrong thing for years not caring how it is impacting another individual? It would make sense if I expected it from someone I had a close bond with and who hurt me because of one reason or another and had a moral sense strong enough to make him feel guilty. Why would I expect an apology from someone who stripped me publicly, called me his 'new toy', and was then dancing remorselessly with other reprobates above my home as if it makes right what he did wrong and makes me feel better about the situation? He doesn't even has the moral code needed to make one feel guilty and make apologies. If he had one, he wouldn't even had done what he did! Does her brain work morally and beyond making exponentials with an abuser? Foolish woman, foolish thoughts, foolish choices! Dumbass.

When you do wrong unto someone, the first thing you want to do is to apologize and make things right – that's how a godly person with a conscience thinks. But this fellow took forgiveness for granted. Took for granted? No. He doesn't care about forgiveness! He only cared about what he was receiving! This girl Aarchi who stayed in A-16 said to me with such a mean and hateful expression and a stern tone, "To aap bhi maaf kardo, apki kisi ne do clips utarli!" "So, you too forgive if someone took (naked) clips of you." I am 100% sure that he wouldn't have been able to forgive if someone took naked clips of his birth mom! He is a rapist and a criminal!

They just behaved like rich egoistic bullies who do to others as they wish because they think they're too powerful or entitled to hurt a person in any way they want to get something that they want from that person! And then his short-heighted sister was saying, "People here are selfish" referring to him and his abusive act – as if it justifies what he did. It's not people who were selfish but it was 'him'! She sure too seems a dumbass to me - making general statements that apply to her family members alone and their friends! I don't usually make such harsh 'dumbass' judgments about others, but I started doing so after God gave me the revelatory dream in which I was calling them dumbasses because of their sick immoral behavior.

And yeah, the foolish woman Akhila said to me indirectly that I thought that he 'wasted' a lot of money on this whole spy cam thing! Such a morally twisted way of thinking she reflected! A moral person wouldn't make it about money but about the wrong 'act' that was done or the sin that was committed but these ungodly and foolish dumbasses pass statements about if it was a waste to use money to abuse another person! They make the matter about things of very low significance and those of high significance they bypass easily. That's how their useless dumbass rich brains are trained! (Not all rich people are dumbasses though – RS & KA being an e.g.)

If one just spent 10 rupees to buy a cigarette and force a non-smoker to have it, it would be counted as abuse, and would be very wrong!

She only passed his messages to me and worked towards hurting me - shows how like-minded they are. Both do wrong to another person and think it's their right to do more of it without exhibiting a sense of being guilty. How demented of a brain that does wrong to others and causes pain and doesn't feel remorse.

6. The Two Women

Vision (last night): A small, animated vision of two women sitting with their heads together. The women looked similar.

1. 'Not Sorry For a Criminal's Judgment'

When God judges people, it's not called 'betrayal', it's what those people callen upon themselves because of their sinful actions. He's going to be judged eventually for his continued sin against me. I don't feel sorry about what I've already seen that could befall him. He called it upon himself through his sinful actions. Death Conqueror and Akhila have no fear of God. That's why they say and do what do.

He shouldn't say that I broke his heart and come at me with greater wickedness to now hurt me more brutally if he gets judged and goes to jail. If he gets judged, he would've rightly deserved it in God's eyes.

2. 'Gareeb'

Hindi for 'Poor'
I first heard this word in my Spirit while mopping the floor for the first time during these days that I've been staying at home. It kept repeating that time. The word often repeated itself whenever I would mop. But mopping the floor doesn't make one poor. I don't like others doing a bad job for me in a place where I've to live.

3. 'Aa Pavitra Atma Mere Dil Mein Aa'

'Come Holy Spirit, Come Into My Heart'

आ पवित्र आत्मा , मेरे दिल में आ - X2	Come Holy Spirit, Come Into My Heart (X 2 times)
मेरे जीवन को , तू ही चला - X2	You alone lead my life (X 2 times)

AA PAVITRA AATMA MERE DIL ME AA lyricsआ पवित्र आत्मा मेरे दिल में आ

Recall: The vision 'Jesus Rips Open My Chest' (#4 on Page 451). It had many doves come flying out in concentrated intensity from my heart. My heart is filled with His Holy Spirit.

4. Let God Destroy His Pride

I prayed to God to destroy Death Conqueror's that made him think that it was okay to strip me and my family publicly for these many years and yet expect unconditional forgiveness! - the typical mindset of an abuser - to abuse someone severely knowing the act's repercussions on that person and yet expect unconditional forgiveness and acceptance from that person without genuine heartfelt repentance or a willingness to change one's ways!

4.1 Who is He To Hurt Others To Test Them

He is the kind of person who creates hurtful situations to see the reaction of another individual! One who is truly in love is wary of hurting his/her loved one through his/her actions and words because (s)he doesn't want to ruin the bond or make it weak by repeated blows. But Death Conqueror has only done things to ruin what all Godly could have been possible between us.

It wasn't even a test. It was a 'game' meant 'just for fun' which he was able to play because he had some extra bits of paper.

5. Past Visions

5.1 The Eye Clamp

Vision (night, a few days back): I saw the round face of a man with tiny spiky hair and slight stubble in a sky blue background. He had his closed eyes covered with black horizontal rectangular surfaces that extended outwards semi-circularly ending at about a foot in front of the face. The two semicircles didn't meet fully and stretched outwards and inwards like a clamp.

5.2 The Guy and The Bloody Downward Burst

Vision (night, a few days back): The dark figure of a short-heighted guy stands at the centre of the planar top of a cliff in the dark. The front vertical surface of the cliff has two shiny gelatinous white surfaces resembling the cornea of an eye, one on either side of the guy, when the cliff's white front begins disintegrating downwards with blood continuously and smoothly bursting and flowing down representing the burst of two eyes starting at the top.

5.3 The Baby Nails The Eyes

A small-framed vision of a baby sitting on the bed in a green and white dress as it strikes a long nail it is carrying in its hand into the eyes of a person lying in front of it.

6. Pooja Bhatt In A Sky Blue Turban

My mom had oiled and massaged my hair yesterday evening with coconut oil. I later tied a headwrap with her skyblue drape to stop the oil from brushing other surfaces. The skyblue head wrap reminded me of the vision 'Karishma Kapoor in Skyblue, and a Gorilla' (#20 on Page 439). When I lay on my made bed on the floor, I had this vision after a while:

Vision (yesterday): I saw the young face of Bollywood Actress Pooja Bhatt in my head wrap as seen from some horizontal distance away from my face.

7. The Dance & The Blood Bath

I was listening to the worship song ‘Aa Pavitra Atma’ and was abruptly filled with immense love for God (Jesus). I was sitting on the bed in the second and smaller bedroom of my home when I had this vision.

Vision (Afternoon): I saw the side-view to my left of Jesus dancing with me in a duet. He was dressed fully in multiple layers of ankle-length white clothes with short shoulder-length hair while I was fully covered with blood and looked deep red, being dressed in just my lingerie set (my washroom look while bathing). It was His Blood. I saw Blood moving out in a streamlined manner as a jet from the middle of His wrist lifted to my face's level in the air. The diameter of the jet suggested a vein had been cut open. The blood fell on me. We continued dancing and I lifted my right thigh in a perpendicular direction. Jesus looked so Holy, calm, and composed while we danced slowly.

The next thing in the vision that I saw was me sitting on the floor facing to the left with my left leg bent while the right leg stretched straight forward and moved in an arc to the right. I repeated this while sitting as Jesus stood at some distance behind me, near the wall to the right of the shoe rack, no longer being in the center of the vision while the view focused on the act that I was doing alone, still being drenched in blood.

8. God Has Been Fighting For Him

I would've long left him mentally and psychologically, but God kept showing me revelations that counteracted his interactions with Akhila. I rejected him the moment I saw him say covert emotionally abusive stuff on FaceBook to another girl, and then he came after me in real life to 'abuse' me.

God fought for him because God thinks about sinners in a way we don't. He wants them to come to Him and repent. God will judge him eventually for this attitude he has exhibited toward his sin for the past few years. Without repentance and a change of heart, he won't miss his judgment.

9. 'Saare Mare'

'All Should Die'

Akhila said this about me and my family many times indirectly to me - at times in hateful and other times in a mean and apathetic tone.

10. I am Very Strict With Morals

Especially the ones I have ingrained in my brain since childhood.

Death Conqueror thought that his act of hurting me by stripping me and my family publicly would lead me to go in search of him and plead to him to stop inflicting this torture. But it didn't happen. From what I understood from indirect means, he had his plan of a tour of some places in the country after I would've bowed down to his tactics. He was very shallow in his understanding and his plan.

Even if I had gone to him to ask him to stop in exchange for what he wanted, I would've felt terrible about spending even a second in his presence, and a tour with him would only make me hate him more and I would've regretted every second of the time I spent in the company of such a person! There was nothing that he could've bought to make things right. I knew that going to him was not an option to bring my pain to an end because he had caused permanent damage to that area of my life! Then why would I've put myself in more pain and have more feelings of aversion when he didn't have it in his hands to heal the damage he had caused unless it was instigated by real repentance and a real change in the inner self? Perhaps it was his intention to mentally, emotionally, and later physically cripple me permanently, or it gave him some weird kind of sadistic pleasure to publicly strip a person who never indulged in sexual immorality with random men as he did with women. Perhaps he saw how pure I had lived, and how internally filthy he was, so he had to make a mockery of my purity (purity as described by God). I was thinking while taking a walk downstairs that how what he did to me was so unlike how I had lived my life. I wanted to live a pure life, and be around mentally pure people. I was and am still a virgin. And he chose 'me' instead of all the immoral women of the world, or prostitutes of the world, or those who like to flaunt their body, out of all those, he stripped me publicly, 'me' who was too vary of going into a relationship because she knew she was a very serious girl and didn't want to run into a casual womanizer. I thought about if he did it intentionally - as it would've caused the most damage to me than other cases because I kept my sanctity preserved for a pure bond! Says a lot about the kind of person he is! Me, who never stripped fully in front of a guy - he stripped publicly without a second thought.

If this 'revenge' is his love, I don't want his corrupt love! And I don't want to see his revenge either after I reject him permanently.

He didn't fulfil any mental or emotional expectations demanded by the role he wanted to be in. He only brought pain and suffering to me. It was God who brought relief to me.

All he knows is to play games!

If he can't be a moral man, he can forget I will have anything to do with him. The same situation is going to continue. I will continue in my life as led by God though I will grow wearier and wearier of the situation and would've considered suicide many times, being stopped by God every time as He gives me revelations pertaining to me or other people at appropriate times as he has a purpose for me to accomplish before He takes me out.

He did the worst thing one could do to a middle-class girl who wants to live right and has her self-respect as her most treasured possession. He would be grossly wrong if he now thinks that that moral girl will bend according to him - that doesn't go along with the definition of morality. There were many whores in his world he could've stripped, but he chose 'me' - whom God chose for His purpose! And then he wasn't even committed to me though he committed this sinful act under the 'pretext' of securing a loved one. I don't know who is he trying to fool, but he has only fooled himself into believing that it's right to choose a wrong way that hurts, breaks and ruins an innocent person to achieve something which that person isn't even happy about! He's so gross and selfish!

While walking around the society downstairs, I was thinking how he broke my dream of being with a moral man as now even the possibility of finding the kind of bond I wanted was corrupted because of my affected reality and ruined mind.

I don't think like him. Most people don't think like him - the immoral way to think! He shouldn't have thought that he could restore something after breaking it. I was thinking how naïve was of him to think that he could break someone's heart and keep that person for himself as a zombie. Only an unreasonable person who doesn't know how a healthy and godly mind works will think in this manner. Only God can do it and it won't be through the person who has caused the damage. It will be through someone who knows how to not play games and take everything of value away from a person!

If he says he gave me everything he had, it won't be true. My truth is that he took away everything I had pertaining to this specific area of my life. And he took it freely and threw the remains out as public mockery and display.

My PhD supervisor Nivedita Deo - I don't know what I did wrong to her. She transfers me messages from this guy, and I don't like it at all! She was one telling me that 'he gave me a pass because I told him a no!' after everything he put me through. It only made me feel more disgusted and aversed by him. He should look at and evaluate his own self and behavior. He won't be able to give a 'pass' to himself! Evaluate your own self before evaluating others and letting them know if they've passed a criminal's demented moral test! I already know that I am well suited for a moral man because of who I am! I don't need a criminal like him giving me a pass or rejection! I know myself and the kind of people I go along with. But he neither knows godliness nor knows God.

I don't see any reason for him to do such a thing to me other than to demonstrate his superiority!

The only compassion I extend to him is because of the revelations given by God in which He shows the truth and because it's God who's showing it, I can trust his persona reflected in them.

11. Past Revelatory Dream

This was a dream I had back in A-16 during early 2022. These are the prominent events I remember from the dream in the sequence they were shown.

The Heart In the Sky

I found myself walking across a green ground with some people to the other side. On the other side were some shops. I looked up and saw a heart-shaped ring of a cloud in the sky. Around both its sides were a few tiny angels that revolved speedily around the edges through the surrounding cloud matter. It seemed that they were responsible for shaping the cloud in that way.

Testimony: It had rained slightly that day and I was on my way towards Gate No. 4 with my work colleagues to take a tea break. When we reached the T point to the right of which laid the path to my dept's alternative entrance and the DU lawns, I spotted a heart-shaped cavity in a cloud in the sky. I stopped and showed it to my colleagues. Pooja admired it as well, while Rakhi was neutral.

Tea In Kulhads (Earthen cups)

When we reached the other side, I saw that I was with Pooja Jain and perhaps Rakhi as well – my workplace colleagues. But what was highlighted was Pooja transferring the Kulhads with tea to me to pass along. The shop was set up in a room with a covered Veranda in front.

Testimony: When we reached outside, we happened to decide on ordering tea in Kulhads that day. The shop was set up under a shed in front of which lay an open space covered with trees.

Meeting My Middle Brother

Afterwards, I started walking back and met my middle brother Himanshu on the way. I saw it as a third person. I was dressed in my printed green tunic with meshed outer side extensions. In that scene, my middle brother rested his face on the top of my tunic's front and was vibrating his face keeping it placed on the same position with closed eyes. This part of the dream seemed weird to me.

Testimony:

I went to meet my dad and brother on Rakhi and was wearing my printed green tunic. I already had it when I had the dream. We all went to eat. I caught my brother looking at my chest a few times. The fallen human nature. I let go of his act. He doesn't have his brain in control like many others.

I had this dream perhaps more than a month before the first event unfolded during the last year. So, I didn't recall the dream immediately. It was the sequential unfolding of the events that made me recall the dream and I understood that it was indeed prophetic when the situations manifested in my life for real.

12. Father God Lying In Outer Space

Vision (A-17/B, Saroj Sadan, 2021): I saw Father God smiling at me while lying on his side in the dark outer space among stars while I worshipped Him. I continued worshipping wholeheartedly and saw a tired devil come walking behind a rock and stand behind it as I went deeper into prayer and worship.

13. Pinky - Resembles Death Conqueror

She was my first roommate in A-16 when I shifted there in October 2021. She was a tall and fair girl with small and narrow eyes and was in her BSc back in 2021. She had worked as an intern as well with the Bed Box PG during her first year – the same PG that rented the Swami Jagannath Dhaam building in 2021 and 2022, and perhaps this year too, but I'm not sure about it.

14. The Word In The Spirit

(D1, A-16, Mid 2022) I am woken up post-midnight with the word 'Sex' in a male voice repeating in my Spirit. I'm not aroused or didn't have any related dreams so the word in the spirit doesn't make any sense. I correlate it with deep prayer in the spirit and therefore start praying. () I later thought that God was giving me an experience of interrupted night sleep which I could be having in the future and may not have liked otherwise. I also understood later from other revelations that the revelation pertained to a person who wakes up the woman beside him at night from sleep because his genitalia had gone dry again.

Though my prayers are harsh and judgmental sometimes, I want Death Conqueror to be transformed and turn to God leaving his sick lifestyle. I don't want him to live a life devoid of love, but God's love comes first and foremost, and our inner selves have to be constantly renewed in Him every day.. I want him to experience the love of God and leave his past ways. My prayers are not irrational, sinful, or foolish like his actions. My prayers make moral sense!

(Written at my home in Omaxe Heights, Sonipat)

1. My Dad Behaves Weirdly

I am in the master bedroom of my home at Omaxe and it's morning. Apparently, I have to leave for my PG in Delhi. My dad asks me in confirmation with a wicked smile if I've to leave for Delhi, but it is very much apparent that he doesn't intend for me to leave. I am standing on the bed now and he is trying to put his hands on my forehead which I am trying to evade. He carries that wicked smile throughout the short dream. He is standing on the floor and holds my feet around the ankles looking at me and then leaves them. He leaves the room and after a while I follow the way out as well, being fearful. I move towards the gate and find my youngest brother in front of the apartment's exit. I seem to be fearful and too short in that scene as I have to look up at him. I look towards the kitchen to my left and see the backs of my dad and middle brother standing side by side as they seem to be working inside. I look at my youngest brother in front of me and inside the kitchen in turns. My youngest brother is moving around his position as if he's guarding the gate and ready to stop me from leaving. My mom is nowhere in sight. I kept looking inside the kitchen and at him in turns in fear when the dream ended.

2. The Strengthening Bond

I was standing in the narrow pathway between the bed and the wardrobe when I saw:
Vision (Morning): A naked Glory in front of me as he held me by the sides. His genitalia abruptly rose up and hit his head once followed by it being shown as its normal size in a complete erection. While we stood facing each other, apparently, we were joined together while standing in that position itself.

Well, it was back at home. He keeps dropping in intermittently.

3. The Uncomfortable Forgotten Revelation

I didn't write the revelation because it seemed uncomfortable to me to write as it was fleshly. And now I can't recall what it exactly was. It was a fleshly revelation – that's all I remember about the reason I left it to be written later.

On my way to the eye doctor with my dad today afternoon, I had this vision:

4. The Bike Ride With Kartik Aryan (the Xelebruty)

While we were moving forward on an open road, I saw in my right mental view:
Vision (afternoon): I saw Kartik A riding a bike in the same direction as us to our right dressed in a full-sleeved deep red striped top while a woman (supposedly me) sat behind him with her arms resting vertically against his chest. His hair rushed around with the wind's current hitting them as he sped ahead.

20:35

I've been hearing this lyric being sung in the melody of the song 'Attention' by Charlie Puth.

5. 'She Just Wants Attention'

I don't know who is saying this about me, but I don't want attention. I only love the attention of people I love, not others.

Attention is equivalent to the presence of that person, and the presence of a loved one is cherished. Won't the people I love it if I gave them my loving attention, because it's not just attention, it's an acknowledgment of one's inner self one harbours for the other person. That's what we do with God when we pray and worship – we acknowledge that we have a bond with Him and repeat what we know He knows is true about our feelings for Him.

6. Rebecca - My Former Zepto Username

When one of my orders from Zepto was being delivered to my PG in Delhi (while I was at my home in Sonipat), I got to know from the delivery guy that he couldn't deliver my Drools order because the people present at the PG's ground floor didn't know the girl Rebecca. But after I cleared it out to them that it was my username, they accepted it.

Rebecca is God's calling of me as was revealed to me while praying out in tongues one late evening in 2020. And Glory was shown to me as the camel with his features resembling the camel's face in room D4 of A-16.

I have been feeling so happy for the past two hours. First, because I found white-rim goggles like Ranveer Singh's from the Pepsi Ad, and second, because of the bike-ride vision with Kartik Aryan. It made me forget what Death Conqueror did.

And while going out of the apartment to throw out broom dust through the dustbin window, I was feeling so happy that I had this another vision:

7. Me With White Wings

Vision (past hour): I rise in air and have two white wings being dressed in the same clothes I was wearing at the moment (and am still wearing) - the black 'Jesus Loves You' t-shirt over black Jeans. Behind me is visible the dim evening sky.

The vision was followed by:

8. The Trio With White Wings

Vision (past hour): I put my arm in the arm of KA and try to rise upwards with my white wings because I want to take him to a ride in the sky. But after a few seconds of me attempting to do so, I see RS, I, and KA rise upwards arms in arms together in the air, with all three of us having white wings at the back. I am at the centre and am dressed in my present black clothes, KA is at one side in his full-sleeved red t-shirt, and RS is at my other side dressed in a blurry attire, but it can be made out that he is wearing an untucked white shirt checked in grey.

Note: I understood that some of the immoral revelations pertaining to Ranbir Kapoor pertained to him being a label for Death Conqueror as he is the one who does the things RK was shown as saying and doing in those visions from what I got to know from YouTube 'Shorts' recommendations (weird but true).

22:01

9. RS Descends Down

Vision (past 15 minutes): RS descends down slowly holding a cream beige cloth/curtain hanging from above with his hand at the right as he looks at the viewer. He is dressed in a Sherwani (an ethnic Indian attire) with a red outer coat embroidered in gold over a creamish narrow trouser and looks very muscular with his light beard.

My brain had been too filled with the things that were going to go bad, things that were already shown to me, my new understanding of the abuser, and how he ruined many things in my life. I had been in pain and depression for a while now which was also evident in the vision of me dancing with Jesus while being drenched in His blood as it oozed out from his wrist. I couldn't think of anything else but was contained in that mental region. But today I was brought out of that dark space. RS and KA are filled with light. When God brought them to my present time's remembrance, when my mind had been feeling lost (emotionally lost) and in pain for a while now, it was as if I was put back in touch with people who only brought healing to me by the virtue of who they were. They have those white angel wings. The goggles I got today is my souvenir to keep.

I have spent about 2-3 weeks at home now and I became used to a lifestyle of keeping up with responsibilities, managing my home, and maintaining my walk with God. I was wondering if this was my last time having such an experience at home. Though in the beginning, I food fasted at home - I ate after 5 days and my mom kept encouraging me to do so and I ate more than I usually did since my changed diet. I will most probably be leaving for my PG tomorrow. In PG, I will be back to my food-fasting schedule. I took my time at home as my eating season. I did a lot of physical work as well so was tired and I understood that it was going to be hard to fast at home.

Though I had RS, KA, and other people who were the source of love and joy in my life at the back of my mind, I didn't happen to think about them a lot as I was filled with pain because of my new-found understanding of the situation as I saw how none of the things I went through were really necessary if Death Conqueror had a pure heart, and comparing my treatment with Akhila (the richer and younger counterpart) made me notice the stark difference and grieve about the things I had lost and how sick he was in his thinking patterns.

I loved the teacups we were served tea in at the eyeglasses shop when I saw their red & blue striped pattern over a white background.

Yesterday, while taking a walk down at night, I looked around at my surroundings at the plants along the sideway to my left, the buildings and the light emanating from the lamppost to my right, and the sky and the stars, I saw that I had a very numbed down mind now, while previously many things would come to my mind looking at everyday life and related objects. Taking a walk alone was relieving and always made me learn something as I would shuffle and dissect ideas. I could never talk like Akhila or her friends did. Listening to them made me witness the focus of their foolish minds that talked false stuff about other people - a very dumb thing to do. Why should one spread info about others and talk about them in a derogatory manner for no reason? Why would I call a green thing as pink and why would I say that a green object is better or worse than a pink one when they both serve the same purpose? That's how their gossip, in effect, is - a foolish waste of time. Looking at my condition now made me more depressed and in pain. I recalled the time when once while parking my scooty inside the parking space on Chhatra Marg outside the Vishwavidyalaya Metro station, I happened to look up at the sky and see a vision flash briefly which apparently described something - the visual working of a physics phenomenon. None of such stuff happened now and even if it did, it had lost its importance. I was mostly in pain and the pain took most of my energy and attention away. Earlier I was happy and a keen thinker - happy 'without' abusing others or doing wrong to them. That was a time when I saw the logic behind everything, saw patterns, and could also intuitively sense where they originated from. Even if I didn't know the term for it, I knew the thing. Yesterday I saw the stark difference of how the actions of Death Conqueror affected my brain and made it sick while God kept healing it intermittently. A fool inflicts pain on others unnecessarily and makes them dysfunctional. A wise person is well-balanced and self-controlled, takes wise decisions, and uplifts others.

I also saw how he ruined and played with things of life that were supposed to be kept pure. He himself had them ruined for him because of the nature of his own mind, and now he had brought a part of his sick brain into my life as well – a morally twisted brain that has the capacity to rejoice while doing evil unto others who don't even know him well. He is unreasonable.

But then while being in a worship session in the evening, I was reminded of how none of the things I previously gave importance to held importance now because of my opened eyes towards God and the kingdom of heaven.

Death Conqueror with his fake self is so deplorable. A person who doesn't fear God should be stayed away from.

Vision: The bearded face of RS facing upwards in an angled position kisses a person in the front.

10. Prof. Shobhit Mahajan Revelations

While cleaning the washroom's wall:

Vision (day before yesterday): A smiling face of Shobhit Mahajan Sir from my dept dressed in a grey shirt.

While listening to the Worship song, "Aa Pavitra Atma, Mere Dil Mein Aa" in the other room of my home:
Vision (yesterday): Prof. Shobhit Mahajan stands near the left end of the window beside the balcony door with his hands raised up as he swings them sideways in worship of God in synchrony with the song I was listening. He is dressed in a full-sleeved grey shirt tucked inside grey pants.

11. Devil is Very Intelligent But An Enemy of God

It's one thing to be smart - to be able to do things quickly or do them using a quicker method, or to be able to understand and use tricky ways to achieve something. But these traits aren't related in any way to a person's intelligence which tells him to discard doing some stuff not caring if it's within his reach of doing. That deciding agency has two faces - objective and subjective. The objective face helps in sifting intelligently through objective chores, while the subjective face pertains to our conscience that tells us the things to do and those to avoid depending on the impact on others and our own soul because of the sinful act. Death Conqueror has a dysfunctional subjective deciding agency like the people in his troop. Like a fool, his deciding agency chooses the ways of the devil, and he is surrounded by other fools who support him.

Even his middle name 'Guha' (Gu-ha) says that his seat of thinking is indeed scum in character.

The doc I visited yesterday (Dr. Sharma) extended my eye treatment to 5 more days and gave me an additional ointment to apply twice in a day. Today after waking up, I made tea for Dad, Mom and me, had breakfast, and slept afterward after applying my eye ointment. I didn't even brush my teeth as I didn't feel like doing anything this morning.

Before I fell asleep, I had this dance vision with RS. It was hard to fathom if he was being too serious or angry.

1. The Dance with RS

I saw this vision as a third person while lying on my bed. The place of the vision was at some distance in front of me near the Desktop table.

(Morning, the 2nd bedroom): RS was dressed in a white half-sleeved shirt with blue flowers imprinted on it over white trousers of the same print and had a metallic wired curly hairband over his head with long neck-length hair and a stubbled face. He stood in front of the desktop's CPU on the floor in the room while I stood facing him. To the envisioning me, the front of RS and the back of me were visible. In the vision, I had my right elbow bent and hand lifted in the air at the vertical level of my shoulders when he took a step forward, bent his left hand in the same manner as mine, and held my hand by putting his fingers between mine. (It later reminded me of the beginning of the hand-holding dance move with KA.) He then slowly walked closer to me, bent forward and in a bite tore my lips out and spat them out to the left (his right). It made me think if he was angry. He stood still for a few seconds, and I too stood still with torn lips with beige torn uneven flesh present at the place of my lips though I seemed perfectly fine as I looked at him. He walked closer, and we were now dancing slowly holding each other close with our hands at the right of the vision holding together in the manner they did at the beginning of the vision. The time was less about dancing around and more about holding each other slightly tightly and finding rest in each other's presence. We moved slightly at our position for a few more seconds before the vision ended.

While I was half-asleep around noon, I had a series of revelations.

2. Kartik Aryan On a Video Call

Dream-Vision (around noon): Kartik Aryan looks forward silently with a grieved expression in the direction of the viewer, where only his upper half is visible. He is dressed in a white full-sleeved kurta and is sitting in a room with two wide cream curtains about 8-10 meters behind him along with some wooden furniture placed along the wall. He is looking downwards at what seems is a video call set up in front of him.

I had this dream-vision in which I saw the homepage of YouTube being scrolled around in front of my eyes. In the real life, I had stopped looking at or paying attention to the YouTube home pages because the recommendations carried covert messages from the abuser most of which seemed hurtful or like a warning given to me.

Seeing the page move around in my sight in the dream-vision made me stressed though I knew that it was a dream-vision. I didn't want to see more ungodly YouTube Suggestions that either deceived or hurt me. YouTube was only a means to play games for the devil working through him. Seeing the home page scroll, I was anticipating more games, threats and other toxic suff and I didn't want to expose myself to more damage. I had decided to not pay attention to covert messages being communicated outside as well.
I know the truth of how I was treated and the kind of things that were done and said. I don't need lies and false representations of situations. A well-groomed good-looking psychopath who speaks well but has the rotten heart of an abuser is still a psychopath no matter how (s)he is portrayed.

The YouTube home page in the dream-vision stopped at a video recommendation as described below.

3. The Torture With A Soothing Tagline

YT Recommendation: The right-most video reco in the second row on YT's home page has the title that pertains to giving a surprise with flowers but the video thumbnail has the image of the side-view of the upper half of a naked guy lying on a surface with his head facing in the left direction. He is shouting in pain with a mouth wide open as some guys around him are dissecting and torturing him in a dark background.

After I woke up, I had these lines play in my Spirit:

4. Sun Rahi Hu Sudh Budh Kho Ke

'Losing my conscious reasoning, I'm listening'

The Lady sings:

Sun Rahi Hu Sudh Budh Kho Ke	Losing my conscious reasoning, I'm listening
Koi Mein Kahani..	To some story..
Puri Kahani Hai Kya..	What the entire story holds..
Kise Hai Pta…	Who knows…
Mein To Kisi Ki Hoke..	I being someone's..
Ye Bhi Na Jaani..	Didn't even know..
Rut hai ye do pal ki ya..	If this season is but for a while or
Rahegi Sada..	Will stay for eternity..

(The Guy Sings:

Kise Hai Pta.... Who knows...
Kise Hai Pta.. Who knows..
Kise Hai Pta.. Who knows..
Kise Hai Pta.. Who knows..)

Ref: Iktara Best Audio Song - Wake Up Sid|Ranbir Kapoor|Konkona Sen|Kavita Seth|Javed Akhtar

When I wrote the English translation of the last line 'Rahegi Sada' and was thinking about the line and the one previous to it, and the other song that talks about 100 years' timeslots in Heaven, I heard in my Spirit this song lyric being sung as an answer:

'Rahegi Sada Yaha...' 'Will forever stay here...'

(Pyaar Ki Ye Daasta.. This tale of love..
Sunenge Sada Jise Forever listened to which will be Ye Zameen Asmaan.. By these earths and skies..)

1. The White Dress

The vision of a woman in white dancing closely in a duet with RS in a black and white tuxedo has been getting highlighted to me for a few days now. I had found a white dress with a rectangular neck at the back which resembled the woman's dress in the vision, and also the vision in which my ex-roommate walked wearing a similar dress. The white dress got delivered to my PG. I'm excited to try it on now.

Earlier this evening, I was hearing a male voice in my Spirit that said, 'Use Kiya' ('Used Me') which made me think who was it who was feeling this way. Was it RS? But no. I didn't use him. I knew it in my heart. I wrote both the revelations given by God and my own heart for him separately.

This night I chose to sleep in the other bedroom of my home instead of making my bed on the floor in the master bedroom where everyone else slept together as we wanted to use only one AC at night. I didn't need AC for sleeping, the floor was dirty, and I was too tired to mop it and make my bed. So, I chose to sleep in the other room with just a fan running with the balcony wooden door kept open and the mesh door closed. I turned off the light to sleep and was lying on my right side when I had these visions:

2. The Trio Together

Vision (night): I am lying on my right side and wrap my legs with and hug tightly RS. He is dressed in the same white clothes printed with blue widely separated blue flowers. We're now kissing, both being fully dressed. The vision now shifts to the top view of my bed. I see both me and RS cuddling where only his genitalia is out and we're together in the act while being on our sides in a loving embrace. After a few seconds of it, the vision now has KA too at my back lying on the bed facing me. He is dressed in a white kurta set and has hir arm around me coming from my back. He too has just his genitalia out and we're together in the act at the back. Our bodies are covered but only our genitals are exposed so our act is not even visible in the vision. I can now feel both my cavities filled, front & back while we move slowly on the bed. I turn my face backward intermittently and kiss KA passionately while I'm kissing RS at the front as well.

3. Mein Dhanyawaad Karta Rahunga

'I Will Keep Giving Thanks'

The Hindi Worship Song.

4. The Scene from Lootera

(Highlighted intermittently for the past two weeks)

The hero (played by RS) tells the heroine that she was one opportunity for him to 'live', but he lost it. By 'live' is implied to live rightly, fully, godly, in a good way, happily, in a way that brings contentment to the heart, in a way that brings peace to the heart, in a way that teaches one to be better with time.

5. The Washroom Scene From Pyaar Ka Punchnama

(Highlighted intermittently for the past two weeks)

The scene in which the hero (played by KA) stands outside the washroom in his lover's home and pleads with the heroine taking a shower inside to let him in saying that he had waited for this day for a long time.

6. The Songs That Play Intermittently In My Spirit:

I don't always write about them as they're now a usual part of my life. They're not new revelations.

The Chorus of songs:

Nashe Si Chad Gayi..	She got me like a drug..
Tu Meri Hai Prem Ki Bhasha..	You are my language of love..
Khuda Jaane Ki Mein Mit Gaya Hu..	God knows that I am no longer myself

7. It's God Who Brings Together & Separates

God can bring people together for a time being and separate them. My brain has changed according to His ways now. Though my love for those people stays and I can pray for their well-being and protection or for them to draw closer to God, I don't need to always have them in my close vicinity - though the company of like-minded believers is always a blessing.

8. My Love For RS & KA

It's independent of their perception and thoughts because I know that they're good at hearts. They may form misconceptions because of a lack of communication but it won't affect my heart for them.

The Bible Page that opened when I randomly opened my KJV Bible:

9. The Brothers' Revenge from Genesis

The Brothers' Revenge GENESIS 35:5

therein; for the land, behold, it is large enough for them; let us take their daughters to us for wives, and let us give them our daughters.
22 Only herein will the men consent unto us for to dwell with us, to be one people, if every male among us be circumcised, as they are circumcised.
23 Shall not their cattle and their substance and every beast of theirs be ours? only let us consent unto them, and they will dwell with us.
24 And unto Hamor and unto Shechem his son hearkened all that went out of the gate of his city; and every male was circumcised, all that went out of the gate of his city.
25 And it came to pass on the third day, when they were sore, that two of the sons of Jacob, Simeon and Levi, Dinah's brethren, took each man his sword, and came upon the city boldly, and slew all the males.
26 And they slew Hamor and Shechem his son with the edge of the sword, and took Dinah out of Shechem's house, and went out.
27 The sons of Jacob came upon the slain, and spoiled the city, because they had defiled their sister.
28 They took their sheep, and their oxen, and their asses, and that which was in the city, and that which was in the field,
29 And all their wealth, and all their little ones, and their wives took they captive, and spoiled even all that was in the house.
30 And Jacob said to Simeon and Levi, Ye have troubled me to make me to stink among the inhabitants of the land, among the Canaanites and the Perizzites: and I being few in number, they shall gather themselves together against me, and slay me; and I shall be destroyed, I and my house.
31 And they said, Should he deal with our sister as with an harlot?

CHAPTER 35

And God said unto Jacob, Arise, go up to Beth-el, and dwell there: and make there an altar unto God, that appeared unto thee when thou fleddest from the face of Esau thy brother.
2 Then Jacob said unto his household, and to all that were with him, Put away the strange gods that are among you, and be clean, and change your garments:
3 And let us arise, and go up to Beth-el; and I will make there an altar unto God, who answered me in the day of my distress, and was with me in the way which I went.
4 And they gave unto Jacob all the strange gods which were in their hand, and all their earrings which were in their ears; and Jacob hid them under the oak which was by Shechem.
5 And they journeyed: and the terror of God was upon the cities that were round about

My attention went straight to the highlighted phrase 'The Brothers' Revenge'

11:56

I was still in bed this morning and it was past 7 am perhaps when I thought about picking up my contemporary version of the Bible and had this vision:

10. Jesus Weeps Inside The Bible

Vision (Morning): I pick up the contemporary Bible in the same lying position on the bed, open it above my face, and inside it appears the face of Jesus who is weeping as his tears fall down on my face.

'Sau Saal Pehle..': This song was playing in my Spirit yesterday in the washroom and it repeated a few seconds back as well.

'Pavitra, Pavitra, Pavitra, Tu hi to Yahowa' ('Holy, Holy, Holy, you alone are Yahua')

This worship song played in the queue on YouTube last night while I was in the process of falling asleep and I liked it very much. So today I looked it up in my watch history and found this in the video.

11. The Winged Trio

(Reminded me of the vision of RS, Me, and KA in the air together with wings, though in that vision I was in the center.)

12. 'Holy Holy Holy, You Alone Are Yahua'

The Guy sings:

Chorus

Awaaz aasmaan pe goonj rahi hai yeh	Voices are echoing in the sky that say,
Pavitra Pavitra Pavitra Tu hi to Yahowa	'Holy, Holy, Holy, you alone are Yahua'

13. 'She Was Found Worthy'

Heard in the Spirit (this morning)

I heard it regarding my ex-roommate Akhila as was highlighted to me all the ways she was well-suited for someone like Death Conqueror with the background that they both have, though they both may have some grievous shortcomings in godly character. I can't talk like worldly stuff she does, nor does it interest me. I can't insult others for no reason behind their backs either or make fun of them - which both of them do very well. I can't behave nicely with someone who has behaved like Death Conqueror did when he still is continuing in it, while she not only 'understood' or rather condoned his sin but also called for my and family members' demise - again, the negative character trait of murdering innocent people is seen to be shared by both! I can't talk with an immoral guy either who has a history like Death Conqueror's. What will I talk about? I can already see how he lived his life, and it doesn't seem too great to me but very cheap in character instead and full of hypocrisy. I would NEVER want to have such a life (perhaps he looks at my life in this way.) Everyone has objective facts about their past, the places they had their education, the places they went journeying, and the different relationships they had, but these aren't the things that define any relationship, but the present's compassion shared between minds and a shared sense of common moral values which mine don't at all match with either of them. Both are wicked and can't go along well with me and neither can I have a chat with them. When I realized this, I no longer felt bad for his different approach towards her because I saw that with his present persona, he couldn't have formed the same bond with me and this present abusive one too won't get him where he wants to be either. I don't bow down to the tactics of abusers. I don't want to talk to someone like him or Akhila who was even insulting my newfound bond with my mom. She is not an innocent child but a wicked gossip lady who says hurtful things about those she is no match in her inner character traits with, that's why she made the out-of-context point out of nowhere that her home had a central AC.

She has the personality of an Aunty that goes from door to door gossiping about different people, taking an unnecessary interest in the matters of other people whom she doesn't even like, and talking about useless stuff- everything that an idle and wicked ungodly married woman does who doesn't have anything better to do. And he too has the persona of an abuser who hides it behind an affected innocent countenance.

If I had not lived with Akhila but had just looked at her photo, I would've thought of her as a moral and well-behaved woman, as I thought in the case of Death Conqueror. But when I got to see how she lived and the kind of things she talked about with her friends and the way she back bitched about me and tried to show her superiority, I saw that she was a very diplomatic lady for whom it was easy to behave in immoral and unrighteous ways - someone who was ready to support wickedness, unrighteousness or evil if it meant company and support for her. I wasn't at all bothered about her routine because I used to have many things on my mind compared to her empty box filled with worldly gossip about the lives of others which she thought made her an expert in her dumb and shallow field of worldly matters.

I would've gone along well with a humble middle-class guy who knew well the importance of taking the right decisions and how sin corrupts the soul which is more important than worldly possessions or money. And by humble, I don't mean someone who 'pretends' to be humble outwardly while committing grievous sins in his life and hurting others in different ways.

Or I would have along well with a guy of any financial status, given we resonated and had compassion for each other. I always had friends from all economic sects but I didn't give some greater or lesser value because of it.

Meera was from a humble background. Neha came from a wealthier one. Not all wealthy people are humble and vice-versa. I had a friend who only talked about sales at different brand stores, shopping, and other vain stuff and she was quite a social person but at times she did things out of formality and not out of the presence of a real heart bond. She wasn’t too humble either and at times showed her superiority to me. She thought in materialistic and worldly terms which were away from being godly. Neha wasn't like that. She resonated with my inner self. She was an empathetic person.

I was found worthy by God for Himself for His purpose.

I also understood that their union was predestined because of the dream in which 'both the girls went to the expensive place of the Kingdom of Heaven' which was a precursor to her herself making the statement (though in a different context). This dream I had when I hadn't even shifted with Akhila and was still in Room D1. So, looking at how things unfolded - I don't feel hurt as it was the way they were supposed to be. I was only hurt by how I was treated and showed no compassion and was misunderstood for 4 years. That's not how you treat or court someone you supposedly claim to love. It's not love. It's equivalent to killing the other person slowly.

Past Revelations:

14. Me in Blue & white

(Taken in our rented home in the village Pai my dad got first posted at. Pai - Hindi for 'found')

15. Jesus Comforts me While Sleeping

(few days back): He lets me hug Him and sleep.

16. Jesus Kicks My Belly

I was lying on my made bed on the floor when I had this vision viewed in a small frame of vision.

Vision (Past week): I am lying on my left side facing the wooden bed in front of me. Jesus stands facing me between me and the wooden bed and kicks my belly lightly once.

17. The Blue Towel Mop

Dream-Vision (Morning, few days back): I saw my blue towel being used as a mop in the second bedroom of my home as it was pushed towards the door with someone's foot along with some tiny bits of crap on the floor being pushed ahead in front of it.

Abhi abhi dhoop thi yaha pe lo, abhi barsaat ki dhara..

23:55

It happened literally today afternoon when it rained suddenly with the sunlight spread over the land a while ago.

18. KA-in-Black Shoots

(Last night sometime after the #2 revelation on this page)

Vision: KA in a black jacket with a black t-shirt tucked inside back trousers lies on his left side facing me on the bed. He has a long black metallic gun extending vertically upwards from between his legs and it rests against his body. The black gun extends until some inches below the position of his heart and keeps shooting continuously after a few seconds. He is now standing and floating inside the room with the gun still pointing upward. It keeps shooting upwards with a slight tilt while he moves around that side of the room.

19. While Reading the Contemporary Bible at Night:

Jesus' lips protrude forward, and He kisses me.

A moral Bihari is better than a psychopathic criminal who only 'shows' morals outwardly.

"A moral Bihari is better than a psychopathic criminal who only 'shows' morals outwardly but doesn't internally possess them." - I wrote this because they were calling me a 'Bihari'. Bihari is a person who belongs to the Indian state of Bihar which is considered culturally backward. In that sense, India is one of the most culturally backward states of the world - but that's not how the people of God think. For the people of God, being culturally advanced has no meaning but being right with God and His values is considered a very important principle to live by.

1. 'Offer'

Dream-Vision (Morning): The rightmost YouTube video recommendation on its home page with the thumbnail of an animated naked upper half of a wheatish woman (until below her buttocks) in a dark background. The woman's right side of her face was covered with her wavy hair that fell until below her breast at the vision's right. She had a flat belly with medium-large round breasts and a round butt (a side of which was visible). Below her breasts was written 'Offer' on her upper belly.

2. 'Jal Mat'

'Don't Burn' or 'Don't be jealous'
I heard a male voice saying it in the spirit somewhere during the past week.

3. "Mein Jal Raha Hu"

I'm burning' or 'I'm being jealous'
But today I heard in the Spirit a male voice saying this.

1. 'Thank You Thank You'

I had watched this episode of 'Koffee with Karan' during the past year in which I saw Ranveer mimic some people in their specific tones. In one of the mimicking acts, he was showing gratitude, and in another, he was mimicking KA saying, 'Thank You Thank You'. This part was highlighted to me yesterday and I found myself mimicking him saying 'Thank You Thank You' lightly within myself! His act looked very lovable in that episode.

2. Armoured Jonathan on a White Horse

Vision: I saw a semi-animated vision of Brother Jonathan Kleck riding on a white horse in a dark background. He was wearing metallic armour around his chest, thighs, arms, and head over the layered blue attire of a soldier from the time of Jesus as represented in The Chosen TV series. He kept riding in a direction to the right slightly tilted towards the viewer. There was a dark figure in black floating behind him while holding a sharp sickle with which the figure was trying to attack him. Only the huge blue eyes of the figure were distinctly visible while the rest of it was black. Jonathan dodged a few of the figure's attacks by bending forward coincidentally as he wasn't looking backward at the figure. The killer was trying to attack his neck from behind and severe it. I prayed for him and I saw Saber appear in the air in front of him and block the attacks of the black demonic slayer behind him. I then prayed for metallic protection around him. The black assassin figures filled the path of the forest on both sides that he was treading in the dark. I see what they want to do. The dark figures want to severe his head and put it on display with the sickle's bent end supporting the neck as they move the head around in the dark.

3. 'Mein Naa Daroonga'

'I will not fear'

Worship Song:
Ref: NA DAROONGA (Psalm 91) | Vijay Kondapuram ft. Sheldon Bangera, Allen Ganta & Prakruthi Angelina

I recalled my middle brother Himanshu once singing the chorus of this song many years back though he wasn't a believer. He had happened to recall a song he had listened on TV.

4. 'Lahu Ki Dhaar Beh Gayi'

'The stream of blood flowed out.'
It was the title of a YouTube recommendation I saw on YouTube's home page during the past few weeks. I heard it in my Spirit last night.

Past Revelation
While I was resting backward on my youngest brother's chair:

5. White Doves Followed by Black

Vision: Glory rips open my chest and white doves fly out from its centre though in a lesser amount than the previous vision. They do so for a few seconds. A second after the last white dove is out, black birds start flying out.

I related it to my recent changed heart state which had become bitter and resentful. I maintained a forgiving attitude towards Death Conqueror for a long time and now, though I still didn't want to be unforgiving, I prayed to God with a bitter heart for His righteous justice and to avenge me. Yesterday I was feeling like tearing out the pages with the revelations 'The King in Blue & White', and 'The Time With the Short-Heighted Blue-Eyed Man' - seemingly good revelations about him - and burning them. They are in my PG. When I had the second revelation, I didn't believe it for I thought of him as a very wicked man with no godly sense of being led by one's conscience. The revelation along with some others changed my outlook of him by a great extent. I felt like tearing them out because I didn't want to know anything about people like him and Akhila. I was fed up with the revelations of the same kind that were aimed at hurting or bullying me in some sense.

6. 'Kab Ayegi Ye?, Konse Saal Mein?'

'When will she come?, In which year?'
said a short-heighted messenger girl in A-16 looking at me with mean and rude expressions as if I was obligated to go to someone who had only been hurting me. If I was the past me, I would've slapped that characterless girl who was speaking on behalf of a characterless man but had turned a blind eye to everything I had been going through for years.

7. 'Mein Roya'

'I cried'
(Highlighted in the Spirit - a few days back)

8. That Kartika gives in to the whims of the wicked - 'Ye Mushkil hi nhi, Namumkin hai'

That Kartika gives in to the whims of the wicked - 'It is not just difficult, but impossible'

It's a variation of the pet dialogue of Don from the movie Don. The Dialogue: 'Don ko pakadna mushkil hi nhi, namumkin hai' ('To catch Don is not just difficult but impossible.')

~18:40

9. Pardesi Pardesi - The Stanza

'Foreigner Foreigner' - The Stanza

This stanza was playing in my Spirit when I laid on the single bed beside the window pane in the master bedroom of my home, with special emphasis on the lines:

The Guy sings:

'Chhod Ke Aise Haal Mein Jo Tum Jaoge, Sach Kehta Hu Jaan Bahut Pachtaoge..'

'If you leave me in this situation, truly I tell you, my life - you'll regret and repent immensely.'

The Lady Sings:

'Pardesi Mere Yaara, Mujhe Naa Rulana..'

'Foreigner my friend, don't make me cry/weep'

Ref: Pardesi Pardesi - The Stanza

10. Paul Nidhan

Repeated in the Spirit today evening. It was before the previous revelation played in my Spirit.

11. Kartik Aryan - The Half Racing Car

Vision (Last Night): I saw the upper half of Kartik Aryan facing to the left in a direction tilted slightly to the side of the viewer. He was dressed in a yellow track racing suit with racing goggles on and held what seemed like a dark brown volleyball in both his hands, while his lower half was that of a yellow racing car. He did not lose hold of the ball and kept it firmly in his hands as his lower half sped on the curved track with the vision resting in the frame of reference of his upper half.

23:23

12. I've Always Felt a Lot of Hatred for Abusers

Because no matter what the situation, there's always a moral way to go through it but he chose the wicked way, and it represents his deplorable and filthy brain to me!

The past me would've felt like hitting all the messengers sent to me by Death Conqueror and the gang that came my way for they all worked for the wicked and evil person who only 'projects' an innocent image and I don't want to be with either his real rotten devilish self or his projected innocent image! I've felt a lot of hatred and repulsion for wicked people who do evil. It came on its own and I couldn't even stand in their presence for I got filled with thoughts of hurting them which would continue even after I was no longer in their company. So, I always avoided being around immoral wicked people so my emotions would be in check.

At times I felt like hitting especially the woman messengers for they were all so deplorable with their willingness to work for wicked forces and they felt to me like an insult to godly sisterhood. They keep coming across me and I don't want to 'see' or listen to any of their messages! The messenger males are disgusting too. Almost as if no one can see that it's the abusing party who's causing all the problems! They all become abusers with the abuser and only pretend to stand up when it's about making a show. He's done the job of a criminal! He will not be rewarded like a moral man! He's the equivalent of gutter filth in my sight! His people incite godly rage in me because they all reflect a lack of godly discernment and judgment. All seem morally blind!

If in case I am forced to be around Death Conqueror, I was thinking a few days back how I would 'test' him by making his life hell in different ways for a prolonged duration - just to test his reaction and evaluate his nature! Well, but there's no need to do that because he already revealed his filthy character by this act of his - that how 'revengeful' and immoral he is! I will not want to form a close heart bond with such a person. I can't. He's a living example of the saying we grew up listening to – that 'Money can't buy character'! And he has the character equivalent of the monetary status of a homeless ragpicker!

Though a ragpicker may or may not be moral, but he is a ragpicker in character. Once in a blue moon, he shows 'kindness' by showing compassion for my suffering (just like Akhila who would be good once in a blue moon but behaved mostly like a characterless woman with no sense of godly discernment). Their rare good acts have no meaning to me as they continue in their sin.

He is very rich monetarily but a homeless ragpicker in character. I'm a middle-class person monetarily but a fairy and Mother Teresa in character according to God. He's no match for me. Go find a ragpicker such as you! - yeah if not a ragpicker, he found a woman rickshaw puller in character - my ex-roommate! Their wealth is like an icing of black poop on a piece of cake of brown poop. It has no meaning with a character like that - worse than an animal.

13. Ranveer S Brings Out a Bouquet

Vision (last night): RS, with his usual light stubble and neck-length hair, dressed in a white suit with a black lining at the front stands facing to the right in a light watery background while looking at me. He lifts his right knee and places it on a surface in front of him, and with his right hand, abruptly brings out a bouquet of colorful flowers from inside the left chest side of his coat and extends it to me.

I realized a few days back that with his long hair and beard, he looks like Jesus. But today it's touching my heart in a different way. He looks beautiful and godly. The blurry face of Jesus that had appeared inside the opened Bible had a light beard and long straight hair. RS has the character of Jesus to a great extent though he too is monetarily prosperous like Death Conqueror. But RS doesn't have wickedness, ego, and twisted and inverted logic like that of the short-heighted guy who only knows being half-righteous.

14. Karan Johar In Huge Specs

Vision (yesterday): I kept seeing Karan Johar looking at me smiling. Only his upper half was visible and he was dressed in a green shirt with huge square black glasses. It seemed as if he was pleased with me (my inner self).

15. Shakuni

Heard in the Spirit

The wicked character from the series Mahabharata who only thought in deceptive terms - that's who Death Conqueror is! Chhal-Kapti – a persno who uses chicanery to achieve one's motives.

(Written at my home in Omaxe Heights, Sonipat)

1. Dark Hands Stop RS

It was late at night and I was in the other smaller bedroom of my home when I had this vision.
Vision (Night, 1st July): I saw the face of RS close to my right as it moved forward to kiss me. It was up close at first but then it was taken backwards by many black arms in the air protruding out in a line. I prayed for it to not be touched by those black hands. So, it skipped them and came to me again but the arms swept it back again towards the closed meshed window of the room. I prayed for him, he still was taken away to the window. Though he was still inside the room, he was just kept away by those demonic hands.

2. 'She Just Wants Attention'

For four days, it has been playing in my Spirit intermittently. But this is so not true about me.

When I sat with Meera, and we silently looked into each other's eyes which told us that we loved each other - we gave each other loving attention. It was not general attention, but was exclusive to us and we felt so fulfilled as we sat holding hands while being content knowing that our hearts were communing. I have not done this with such quality and intensity after her with another loved one in person. The only such silent time that has been shown to me has been in visions with Jesus, RS, KA, Mayank, and Death Conqueror. Though in the case of Death Conqueror – those revelations were few (I wish there were none!). All people besides him didn't try to hurt me in the many ways he did.

The visions/revelations with Glory have been peculiar and different as in he never shows up being fully dressed in them. Most revelations have him naked.

Every time the lyric plays in my heart, it pinches me because I've always evaded attention but have tried to form a strong heart bond with real moral individuals. Attention means nothing without love. Devil has his attention all the time on the children of God as he tries to come at them in different ways, but it's not loving attention.

When two people in love commune, whether being together or being away, they give each other their hearty attention - that's what I am for.

3. 'Bhool Na Jaana'

'Don't you forget'
The male song lyric from the Pardesi Pardesi song has been playing in my Spirit since I woke up in the morning.

4. KA and The White Woman

Vision (Night, 1st July 2023): The vision begins with the naked back of KA who is standing facing in a direction away from the viewer, in a well-lit white background with a tint of yellow. A naked beige woman has her legs around him as he lifts and supports her. The face of the woman is not visible in the vision, but what can be seen are two legs on the left instead of one, as if he's holding two women together at once.

The next vision has a naked KA walking forward with a naked gelatinous white woman with narrow eyes wearing a golden crown sitting on his neck and shoulders with her legs around his shoulders. Though both were naked, the vision was such that it didn't highlight their genitals, or show other areas in an obscene way, but only showed their skin to make the point that they were naked.

5. The Photoshoot

This vision in which RS inside a frame with a deep background was making different poses in front of me while smiling when Amitabh Bachchan came into the picture & sent him flying away at the back has been recurring to me for a few days. I saw how my thoughts had been too consumed with him as I kept receiving revelations about him. That's what the vision meant – that I kept looking or focusing on RS making different poses inside that frame which I saw happen in real life as my thoughts became entirely consumed by him for some days and had continued to be more so as I kept focusing at what God kept showing me.

I also became more and more concerned about the eventual conversion of his spiritual state – another core reason God brought me or my writings to him.

My prayer is for them to be saved out of the 'system' so we would be together for an eternity in our glorified bodies in Heaven where there are no evil mongers or no sin of any kind. That's the eventual goal of my ministry.

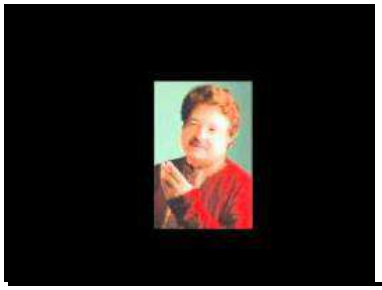
6. Ajnabee Sheher Mein

'In an unknown strange city'

The first few chorus lines of this song have been highlighted to me for two days.

Ajnabee Sheher Mein	In an unknown strange city
Ajnabee Raaste	the strange unknown roads
Meri Tanhai Pe Muskurate Rahein..	Kept smiling at my loneliness..

Ref: Ajnabi Shehar Mein Ajnabi Raste - Ashok Khosla



7. Water Water Everywhere, Not a Drop to Drink

This had been highlighted to me back when I was in the PG. And today I thought about how it resembled with my situation.

When I was standing outside the eyeglasses shop the past week that I went there, I saw to my right a guy resembling RS to some extent standing outside a shop. He was dressed in a white shirt checkered in grey. I felt like going there to buy something too. But I brushed off the thought.

It's almost as if I keep missing possible events, or maybe it's predestined to be in this manner. Because I sure didn't miss the parts of the dream that showed the events that would manifest for real in my life as some events already did manifest. It's about everyone and them escaping the system – and everyone understands things differently.

8. 'A New Beginning', 'Problems Begin Again', 'Time to Leave - Jacob Runs Away'

All these headings were where my eyes fell as I opened the Contemporary Bible and flipped the pages once or twice.

9. My Dad Threatens the Pastor

13:09

Back In PG

I've reached my PG now and am about to set things in routine motion. This time I'm way more serious in my walk with God as I see the high time it is after witnessing life-threatening situations inside my body - that how I could be gone in just a minute or two. So, there's no more time to think according to the ways of the world and I must be led completely by God Himself.

When I shared my healing experience with my mom and brother, they forwarded it to my Dad who then called up the Pastor and said some very mean and rude things to him when the Pastor is only doing the work of God. My dad doesn't know anything about the Holy Spirit and neither has he witnessed its power.

I knew that showing anger at his behavior would've enraged him more. So I didn't defend the Pastor because I knew that it was of no use as it's not my dad but God he is accountable to. My dad wanted me to think of himself as God and not God as God – a very foolish thing to want.

When I told him that I will continue going to church, he asked joyously if the pastor was going to allow me to attend his church. My dad felt good about insulting him so he would inhibit me from going there. Such a sick mentality my dad has. He shouldn't try to control someone's walk with God.

I want to surround myself with like-minded believers and those whom God brings into my life, though at times we minister to unbelievers, but to live with them is difficult as it often turns into an argument any takes an ugly form like it happened at my home.

10. Lekin Use Vo Bacha Na Saka

'But he couldn't save her'

These lines have been playing in my Spirit very clearly since I reached in my PG. They played in the morning also, but the frequency increased on my way to Delhi and it kept repeating while I was in my PG room.

The Guy sings:

Lekin Use Vo Bacha NA Saka	But he couldn't save her
Roya Tha Pyaar Uski Maut Par	Love had wept on her death.

Like those who love me will cry on my earthly death, God and my soul too will cry if at the end of their lives, they face the second death in hell, instead of being resurrecting to heaven. Because Law is blind to who the person is, all people under the law will be sentenced to hell. Jesus frees us from the bondage of sin and law, as His sacrifice fills the gap of our shortcomings.

11. Jhooti Hai Tu. Jhooti Hai Tu.

(for a woman) Liar you are. Liar you are.

Last night, I was hearing a male voice in my Spirit saying these words in low tone. And when I thought of RS, I didn't get a very good vibe but these words seemed to be coming from him to me.

12. This is a Story of Us All

How the unrepentant wicked gets his share at the end, and how lovers unite in Heaven with each other and God through Jesus if not on Earth for long durations due to uncontrollable circumstances.

13. One Day They Will See and Believe

What all I have been saying. The reality of the system, the war of worship between God and the fallen angels, the representative subsystem on Earth - one type of people want to do the right thing, while the other type know that they're doing wrong, yet they want to continue and want others to join in their lifestyle. It's the same situation between God and His kingdom of angels and the earth-system run by fallen angels. Do you have His Holy Spirit, His seal on you as His child? You receive it only through the sacrifice of Christ.

14. The Best Acting Award

Vision (last night): The vision began with a voice announcing on a stage, "The best acting award goes to Ranveer Singh" accompanied by RS fetching his trophy from the stage. He was dressed in a white suite with a small sparsely populated dotted black print. I looked at the trophy at his hand and it was the silver figure of a blindfolded woman sitting on the base, dressed in a two-piece ethnic attire. The top consisted of a thick string of cloth with two shell-like cloth structures at the front, and the lower consisted of a half saree.

14.1 Ye Andha Kanoon Hai

'This is blind law.'

15. Why Didn't God Bring Them Earlier..

I just thought why God didn't bring RS and KA earlier?

In my own opinion, a wicked man who oppresses the helpless and those below him should get his just punishment in due time, or very quickly. I like instant judgment. But God is patient with the wicked and wants them to repent and come to Him before He condemns them.

[(Written on the next day)
I was sitting on my bed in PG while I was writing this section. As I wrote 'I like instant judgment' above, I saw:

15.1 The Abrupt Makeout

Vision (PG, Afternoon): The naked upper half of RS abruptly gets on top of my naked upper half and we get into the act of intercourse. Only our upper halves are visible on the bed in the vision. He slaps me once and continues in quick motions. As he continues, he slaps my face a few more times. I thought, "Why is he slapping my face?" or if represents us or is a label for someone else in the act with another?]

God loves Death Conqueror and wants him to repent because He created him. He is His created child whom He doesn't want to lose to the devil but wants to bring on the right path. But I don't see any reason why my ex-roommate loves him when he is so unrepentant and continues in his sin. I only started looking at him favourably when God showed me a crowned fat cat and other revelations that showed the godly side of him. But I am not someone like Akhila who is attracted to psychopaths and understands the 'pure intentions' behind their crimes while wishing death on the innocent people who suffer as a result. When it comes to doing the right thing, I hate what's evil or wicked - even my own words or actions that seem to me to be contrary to the nature of God. God loves Death Conqueror, but it doesn't mean He will let his act go until he repents. I could tell that God loved him because of the revelation in which God represented him as a fat infant dressed in just a diaper, sitting with his foot held with both his hands and lifted vertically up into his mouth as he was chewing on its toes.

When I had blocked Death Conqueror many years back on Facebook after my painful episode with Tejaswi, I had also blocked Glory and other people who seemed deceptive to me. All were those whom I didn't know personally or didn't have much interaction with (directly or indirectly). But only this short-heighted criminal felt the need to seek 'revenge'. When I was already in a lot of pain - he added to it.

Though I didn't have much direct interaction with others in this phase of my life, I still was connected to some people through the Holy Spirit. That's how I developed a bond with them. God and they themselves revealed their hearts to me, which then changed my heart towards them. And because the revelations came from God, they were indisputable.

I hear the chorus lines:
The Guy Sings:
Malang Malang, Dum Dum Malang Malang Godly Godly, It's very much Godly Godly

Malang Malang, Dum Dum Malang Malang Godly Godly, It's very much Godly Godly Malang Malang Dum Ishq Ishq Hai Malang Mera.. Godly Godly, very much Godly is love, love of mine…

I was thinking if in Heaven the three of us (RS, KA and me) will worship God together in the manner we floated in air with white wings..

20:57

16. Why Judge By Telling False Information or Asking Questions?

When another person makes a claim about something, and if I don't already know about that thing, it's only natural to assume that what the other person is saying must be true, or if not believe it fully, I can take it with a grain of salt knowing that the other person might be wrong as well though the exact info is not known to me.

And if someone asks me a question, I can answer it truthfully according to my own perception of the truth, but the answer can still be interpreted by the other individual in an entirely different manner which I didn't mean in the expanse that it was understood.

If someone tells me false information first with which I agree because I don't know the truth, it doesn't mean they should judge me for being a liar.

And above all, why behave in weird ways that the other person can see are but acts of 'act', leaving that person unable to decide how to behave.

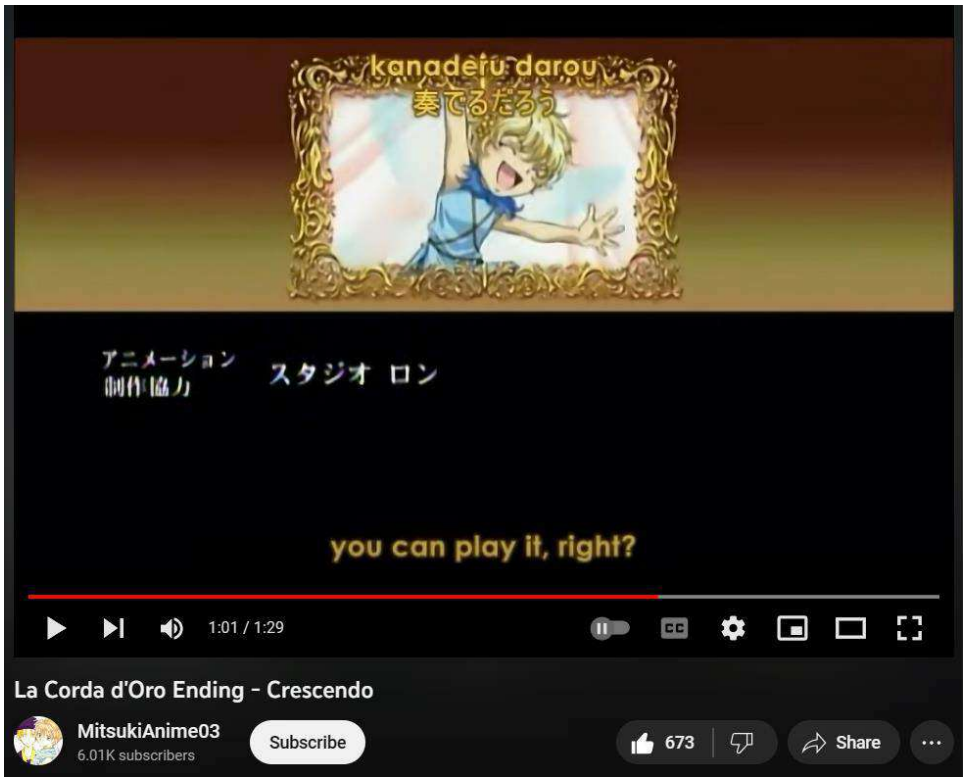
17. No Matter What The Tone Is, You Can Play It, Right?

23:49

Around 2-3 days back I was playing keyboard online on my Laptop using my earphones when my youngest brother asked me to play it out openly as he was curious about how the online version sounded on laptop. He then asked me to play some very short simple tunes he made spontaneously. It took me a while to figure out their beginning keys before figuring out the entire pattern of those simple melodies. He was impressed by me.

The next day while doing a chore in the hall, perhaps cleaning, I had this line from the ending theme of 'La Corda D'oro Primo Passo' highlighted to me which meant the heading of this section.

‘If it’s you, no matter what the tone is,
You can play it right?’



Ref: YouTube

When I had first written this song in this Book of Revelations, then too this line was highlighted to me, but I brushed it off because it seemed to be focusing too much on me. I mean why will I write what I can or can't do? But still, the song lyric was highlighted. And it was highlighted again that day while doing that chore in home.

I was in a worship session for a few hours as I played online piano on my laptop in whatever way I could. I played a few Hindi worship songs I had recently learned and I played as they came to me, or as different melodies were highlighted to me. This instrumental I used to love back during my BSc days somehow came to my remembrance while playing the worship songs and I was nudged to play it again today. The song was the instrumental version of the Bollywood song 'Tum Hi Ho' and it started with a different note than the original wordy song. I wasn't expecting it to come to the surface while playing Christian songs (songs that praise and elevate Jesus), but I see that God loves this particular instrumental as He sees how I related to it at one point in my life and how I loved it. He saw my heart for it and He wanted me to play it for Him - that's why He brought it out of nowhere.

18. Criminals Hindering My Worship Session

When I was playing, at times the thought of the filthy criminal-minded people (who are after my everything) observing me crossed my mind and it made me feel nothing. I brushed off the thought and the only thing I thought was that perhaps they will learn something from it - how we are supposed to worship God. But I knew that their presence was also decreasing the quality of my worship session because I know how consumed I can be in something, and the fact that some people with minds snatched by the devil are observing and evaluating me was a hindrance in me being fully absorbed in playing the keyboard while admiring God. These are the moments when I crave privacy the most, even more than the time I spend in the washroom.

If I was in the presence of believers, I would've felt enthusiasm and encouragement as they share the heart I was trying to communicate to God. But the criminals only pass worthless comments about something which is pure. I don't want them to be a part of my worship session. They're not worthy! They will say things that insult or put down the reason behind worship for their hearts are filthy, and no pure thought crosses their mind! If a person expresses her love for God with a pure heart, and some worthless worker of devil comes and says that the person is only acting or putting up a show - it shows how blind and wicked that judging person is! They make me feel disgusted! And on top of it lies the fact that this person who was passing an insulting comment about my worship session is sought after by God, though not for His purpose, but to save him from the system. Why do the wicked ones have to make a show of their impurity and filthy nature at every godly thing? If someone doesn't fornicate, they strip that person publicly to insult their chastity or the desire to live a pure life. If someone worships with a pure and true heart, they pass demeaning comments - that's why I wrote previously that he makes every pure thing filthy, and what's already filthy is what he likes and resonates with (Akhila) because she reflects his own corrupt self to him without questioning it! If she reflected a better or a godly self to him, he wouldn't have been able to tolerate it; and if she had that godly character – she wouldn't have gone along well with him either! Pigs dwell together in the gutter licking dust off each other's bodies.

I wrote this section because when I opened my YouTube, I saw a YT recommendation shown by the abuser which implied that I was making a show while I was being someone entirely different at home. It filled me with feelings of hatred and aversion for him! I don't like my home's environment either because it's not godly and that's not the place I can be my true self as well. I can't play worship songs or be fully devoted to Jesus at home. My mom and youngest brother will keep passing useless comments that reflect their own understanding of God and their unbelief. That's not my tribe! Nor is he who is judging my time with God. He is a pig in the character who doesn't has the eyes to see and the heart to judge! I want to keep myself separate from them so that I am unaffected by their mental disposition. I don't want to be like Death Conqueror or Akhila by the tiniest amount. So, I am glad I don't have to be around them in a direct way though at times I have to see revelations pertaining to them and it brings my mental state down as they mostly behave in immature, childish, and sinful ways in those revelations that are often abusive and reflect their bullying nature. Only 'The Carrier Bus' revelation showed them exhibiting unexpected character. Both are bullies so they go together well. How could he even think that I could love a bully or a political criminal who thinks of himself as someone way too superior to the middle class when he is a ragpicker in character!?

But what made me feel good was to know how good the worship session would've been with people like RS and KA.

1. 'But You're Not Coming Home With Me Tonight'

This part of the song from 'Attention' played in my Spirit a while back. I am so fed up with this song.

I wish the song would stop playing in my spirit. But God will let me know even the misjudgments of people. Lord Jesus weeps on my face and dances with me. He compares me to a Pearl. And then I hear judgments of people in my spirit.

When I can see that the other person is deliberately behaving in a certain manner that is not their usual self to test my reaction, I tend to ignore that act/person. Does it count as weird behavior? No.

The one thing I want the most for the people God brings into my life is for them to be a part of the Kingdom of God.

Jesus knows that the song that represents me is 'My Love' by Westlife, and not 'Attention' by Charlie Puth.

2. Lakeere Khoon Ki Faili Hai Rukhsar-e-Masiha Par

'Lines of blood are spread all over the face of the Messiah'

This line played in my Spirit repeatedly when Ib laid down to sleep.

3. The Dark Doppelganger of RS & The Change In Me

This afternoon when I went out to buy something, while turning to the left by Saroj Sadan on the road to Gurudwara, I happened to look at a man who had the exact facial features as RS but was dark. He drove by on a scooty while looking at me. I had ignored him at first as I do whenever I happen to look at or catch the attention of people. The similarity struck me after a while and I stopped in my track and thought of walking backwards where he had turned, and take a look, but then I thought he must have driven away by then.

Since I have been in this spy camera situation, I have been having people on the streets delivering messages to me in various ways. So, it became a learned subconscious behavior after these many years to look at those who look like they've something to say, even if it's hurtful. Makes sense? Though I've now made it a point to reverse this learned tendency.

Earlier I walked unaffectedly and in my own tone though I used to be aware of my surroundings as well; but now things have changed. When I walk outside, things have been different for a long time now. I've lost my normal life. People walking by often do so delivering a message, at times verbally, and other times visually. I am no longer alone the way I used to be.

Additionally, Death Conqueror plays his chhal-kapat (chicanery) games as well all the time when I go out or online on YT, so it can be tricky to guess at first who is sent by whom; though at times it's very much apparent.

(Only if I too had the privilege of observing them and their expressions. At least I won't make false judgments.)

4. Past Revelations

4.1 Revelations fulfilled:

Pastor With an Unstable Head: He got those things hitting inside his head because of my dad's behavior when he called and threatened the Pastor.
I'm Coming Home (the song): I went back home for around three weeks.
Matar Mushroom, Chole Rice: I had them at home.

4.2 The significance of 'The Dance & The Blood Bath (#7 on Page 456)':

Jesus gave that vision to me to heal me of the mental trauma I subconsciously carried because of my burst vein inside. Or it could also be a revelatory vision of how they may want to beat me up where I would be fully drenched in blood. It was hard for me to even lift the lightest of things as I experienced while brooming my home during that time of vein burst. I felt pain in one of my veins in my right arm and it seemed to be twisting on lifting something. But Jesus healed me of my condition. That's what love does. That they burst my vein, stripped me publicly and burst the egg released in my left ovary while I was fully conscious – that's what devil does.

This time when I had my period, it only lasted for 1.5 days while the last time I had a normal period. I was wondering if it was because of the egg burst or because of the lack of blood. I don't know. I need to get a blood test done again as I had a morning dream-vision at home which showed the lady doc at the nearby Gomber's clinic sitting in her chair and shouting rudely at me to come after getting a blood test done. But it seems so meaningless to me in this fake system of the matrix. God will preserve me and keep me alive until the time He has set for my departure which I so eagerly await.

Another purpose to give me that vision in which his inner wrist has a jet of blood oozing out of a vein by an inch or two was to not have me commit the act as I had been thinking of it for some weeks. That's what love does. Love doesn't behave like they did with me. And the vision also reminds me of Rev. #2 on this page which talks about lines of blood covering up the face of Messiah.

When Death Conqueror gets his share of judgment, he should remind himself that 'God loves Him' nevertheless. It would be a reflected situation of what they did to me in the name of love; though in my case I didn't deserve this abusive treatment; but he would've deserved his punishment when it's poured out on him.

4.3 The Kick and The Close Up

Vision (At home, Few days back): I saw RS appear in front of me in a navy blue background being dressed in a white coat with a black lining over black pants. He has a light beard and neck-length straight hair with goggles on. He flies a kick in my direction in front of my face but then his body floats forward towards me and the mid of his pants is right against my mouth.

5. The Fluent Doctor

Dream-Vision (D1, A-16, Early 2023): I saw the upper half of a doctor in a home with tiny hair on his head. He had a round face and wore an off-white polo t-shirt. Apparently, I was on a call with him in which he said a long difficult sentence in English that I didn't understand.

6. Prof TRS is Angry

Vision (At home, Past week): Prof TRS (of my dept) looks at me with anger because of my apparent mean behavior towards my parents at home. But they make me act rude and say mean things to them as they try to separate me from God by preaching worldly stuff to me. They don't understand the importance of not living for the world - that it's necessary to gain the kingdom of Heaven. They try to put their understanding of God on top of mine making me act mean as I tell them to stop. Their behavior challenges my reality which is a result of God's given revelations and isn't my own work.

6.1 Prof TRS slaps me

In one of the later visions, he even slapped my face once with an angry righteous expression. I had this vision repeat twice yesterday while trying on the white dress that I had ordered (pertaining to the dance revelation with RS).

(It didn't turn out to be the right size though and the return period is now over. I was at home when it was delivered.)

17:12

I felt sleepy while typing so I went to rest in bed. I then had these revelations:

7. Death Conqueror Puts a Long Nail in My Eyes

My eyes were closed when I saw

Vision (~17:00): the face of Death Conqueror at about two feet above mine with a wicked expression and a long metallic nail in his hand which he stabs in my eyes one after the other.

He looked so wicked.

8. The Couple and The Rose Bed

Vision (~17:00): I saw a vision encapsulated in a small frame of the naked upper half of Aishwarya Rai lying on a bed covered fully with rose petals that covered even her lower half fully so well that even its figure wasn't visible but only a flat surface covered entirely with red rose petals that extended below and above her head on the long and wide bed. Nothing of the bed's surface was visible as it was so fully covered by the deep red petals. She laid on her back with her head facing to the left, and her breasts were shown to be slowly moving like worms as the naked upper half of Shahrukh Khan came slowly over her from the other side of the bed. He was also missing his lower half. It wasn't covered under the rose petals and his upper half seemed to be floating in the air as he moved on top of her. The background was of a room with white walls lit in white daylight with a glass window behind Shahrukh Khan.

The song that followed the vision was:

Saans mein teri saans mili to	When my breath became one with yours is
Mujhe saans ayi	when I could breathe
Mujhe saans ayi	when I could breathe
Mujhe saans ayi..	when I could breathe..

18:15

Past Revelation

It was the day that I could've supposedly left for my PG when I woke up and heard these lyrics of the song along with the part of the video highlighted where the guys set the tree on fire while the ladies are sitting on it.

9. Aakhiri Salaam Lete Jaana

'Leave with this last greeting from me/us'

Heard in the Spirit (At Home, Sat/Sun Morning):

Jaate Ho Jaane Jana	So you're leaving, my beloved
Aakhiri Salaam Lete Jana..	Leave with this last greeting from me
Jaate Ho Jaane Jana	So you're leaving, my beloved
Pyaar ka Salaam Lete Jana..	Leave with this love-filled greeting from me

The ladies want to die/suicide by lighting themselves up but the guys make it 'easier' for them by lighting up the tree they climbed on.

10. Recall: Love

I had this vision in Room D4 of A-16 (late 2021/early 2022). And this is also the color scheme on my t-shirt with the tagline 'WALKING WITH THE LORD IS MY CARDIO'. This color is my code of love with Jesus, and I was on fire while dancing in that t-shirt with Him. My heart's special place He took for Himself. And then He brought relatively more godly-in-character people like RS, KA, Glory, Mayank, Jema or Pooja in my life who understand His statutes to a relatively greater extent than others.

Holding hands with the devil doesn't mean he loves you.
But with Jesus, each expression of Love is Pure.

1. Dream (Morning):

There's a function at someone else's home. Meera is there too. A tall and thin lady comes up dressed in a saree with a few very heavy pieces of jewelry on. I observe her. I see that she must have specifically chosen those pieces to wear on that occasion. They look stupid and weird to me.

My mom happens to be there as well. The hall is filled. Meera dresses up ethnically in a thick embroidered red saree with her hair tied in a bun at the back and she is laden with jewelry. We're waiting for the function to begin. I observe Meera interacting with people. Looking at Meera doesn't make me feel good.

(These used to be the only things about her that I hated or didn't like much when we were together – whenever she put on meaningless accessories. But I knew that if I expressed myself to her, she wouldn't be liking it and would be hurt. So, I never told her. I liked a sober look that highlighted the qualities of one's persona and character traits and not a look that adorns just the outside. I used to be innately drawn to such people who didn't try to embellish the outside when they had a stinking character inside. That's also the reason I was drawn to Meera at first - because she was dressed in a baggy white t-shirt over blue jeans with a bun at the back and had an original expression.)

I go outside and wait on a metallic bench with some people. It's night and dark. To one side is the building we came out of, and on the other side is the empty open road lit with a yellow streetlight. The wait is over after a while, and we go back inside.

The next part of the dream has me in a classroom. I have a notebook with written notes. The classroom seems to be set in the open hall of my grandma's home - the way it used to be before it was taken down, a part of it sold and the rest rebuilt. The teacher is teaching at the front and I'm sitting on one of the back seats and making notes. I have missed out on some things in my notes - the proper names of them and seem to have some conceptual problems as well. The class now seems to have ended and the teacher has gone outside to the right. I have a few doubts. I go out too to look for the teacher. It's still my grandma's home. I exit the main gate and find him at about 10-12 meters ahead to my left. He is sitting down on his feet on the ground with vertically folded knees in front of a cemented horizontal structure. The ground is dry with sparsely populated grass on it. To his left, I see a word horizontally engraved on the cemented structure near the ground. It seems to me that the word contains the answer to my doubts. As I begin writing it in my notebook, I see there is a drain-like hole in the structure after the third letter of the word with three more letters after the drain. I'm wondering if I should go to the teacher. I go back inside and count the places I need clearance at and go outside to him, and hold a part of the teacher's shirt on his right arm with my fingers and bring him in with me, and as we pass through the first verandah at the entrance of my grandma's home, my dad watches us with angry eyes standing near the wall to my left with the teacher between us. After getting down the few stairs, we enter the second verandah which is the classroom and I show him the places in my notebook I haven't understood. One of the pages has the name of a two-word phenomenon written sideways outside of the lines with the first word being Mia (the second word was quite complicated so I don't remember it). I see a group of circular figures on the right page. The circles have two dots placed at horizontally diametrically opposite ends inside each circle. Apparently, they represent cats. The notes look mathematical - not algebraical but theoretical with symbols and notations - and explain the dynamics of cats. The teacher confirms the names, especially the two-word Mia phrase. He repeats the word a few times. He is about to walk away as he strongly ends with the remark, "And this decides when it manifests physically.", but I have an immediate response as I say, "The question is..". I am now trying to put my thought in words in a sensible way as I change the way I say it out while I am walking beside him through the classroom between the two rows of benches. We take a right at the end of the rows with the board to our left and in front lies the exit door. I'm still trying to say out my question when I stop, and he continues walking. It is then that I have finally managed to make a sensible sentence as I say out, "When should be the time of the physical occurrence of the event so that it never manifests physically but stays only in the spiritual?". By the time I complete the sentence, he has already exited the door as he walks in haste but is listening to me. I repeat, "never manifests physically but only stays in the spiritual." He has his head turned slightly to the side and is paying attention to my words. I can see his smile through his turned head as he is walking through the open ground outside and takes a left turn into a door on the wall extending along the left side of the classroom.

{In short:
The teacher ends with a concrete:
"And that will tell you when it manifests physically"

I say,
"When should the event manifest so that it never manifests physically but always stays in the spiritual"

I turn back and walk to my seat where I see Meera sitting with others on the long bench. I sit in my place and wake up from the dream.

(I'm wondering if they're selling me out on their website. Because of the thumbnail with 'Offer' written on a naked lady in a dark background.)

These people are so internally wicked and evil, that I just want to leave this place as soon as possible. I've been waiting on God for Him to accelerate the process. This place is a burden of sins that keeps accumulating on top of my head!

9:49
Past Revelation:

2. The Foolish Don

Vision (at home): I saw my side-view where I was facing to the right, standing in an environment of bright light in a space with fluid watery walls. Shahrukh Khan comes walking by from the front. He is dressed in a white jacket laden with light-colored stones over pants of a similar kind and has goggles on. Strings of diamonds and other light-colored gemstones are knit along and hang down from his jacket. He sits down on a knee and has a small red love heart resting vertically in his hand which he extends to me. But he is so volatile in his actions. He slaps my face lightly once and shows the red love heart in his hand again while speaking jibberish. He repeats this in quick motions - touching my face with his fingers quickly in an insulting way followed by him sitting down again showing the small red heart in his palm, and while he does this, he smiles all the while in a weird manner while saying 'he-he-he-he-he' quickly.

I don't even feel like going to the dept and partaking in that ungodly structure of the matrix that follows the mental streams of the devil! Everywhere you see, it's the matrix. Don't be deceived by the outer 'realness' of things. It's just a façade. The coexistence of good and evil can only be sustained in the matrix, and that's also why the system was created as well. But it exists but for a while and at the eventual end, God will take away by force His people who chose His ways, chose to be Holy, and follow His ways. People who rejected the matrix and what it requires one to become to survive in the useless flesh body it gives you as a damning gift to be a part of it.

3. The Policeman sings: 'Jaa Jaldi Bhaag Ja..'

These lines from the song have been being highlighted intermittently to me since the past 4-5 days. But I was hearing them very strongly this morning about half an hour back. And the scene from the song that was highlighted to me was the part in which the policeman is alone with the thief/small criminal in a forest area and is telling him to run away from him as he has forgiven him, or else he is going to get a severe beating and sent to jail.

The Policeman sings:	The thief sings:
Jaa Jaldi Bhaag Ja	Nahi Baba Nahi
Go, Run away quickly	No Pal No
Bolta Hu Bhaag Ja	Nahi Baba Nahi
I'm telling you to run away	No Pal No
Bahut Maar Khayega	Koi Baat Nahi
You'll get severely beaten	It's no issue
Seedha Jail Jayega	Koi Baat Nahi
You'll be sent directly to jail	It's no issue

The Policeman sings:
Kya Yaad Karega Jaa Tujhe Chhod Diya Pehli Baar Maaf Kiya

See how I'm letting you go as I've forgiven you..

The thief sings:
Nahi Baba Nahi
No Pal No

5. They Love This System

The serpent race loves this system of good and evil very much. They want to break every rule of the Lord God Most High and live in a way which pleases them - the core reason the system was created – because sin is neither present nor allowed in Heaven. Why would they want to rectify the system or always do the right things because if they did so it just wouldn't match the purpose of this system of mixture. When I realized this, it was like an epiphany to my mind – as if I was woken up from sleep. Earlier this morning I was feeling quite downcast as I realized the extent to which I had been betrayed and how those people made a mockery of something as true and pure as love which God has equated to His own self. I felt like slicing my wrist leaving a jet of blood rushing forth looking at which would've given me some sense of relief as it would mean I would be leaving this place after a while. But then the vision of 'The Dance & The Blood Bath' was highlighted to me, and I looked at Jesus' wrist oozing out blood like a jet in a streamlined manner which fell down on me as a thin projectile of fluid.

It was almost as if I wanted to shut everyone out. I was repelled even by my PhD supervisor because of the kind of things she had said to me regarding the system. She told me to 'give it to people' if they asked for it (implying that it would make my life easier). People with mixed inclinations repel me. She hasn't taken sides strongly.

One has to choose to live for the Lord God and His kingdom waiting to leave this system and eventually enter into His kingdom or choose to serve the devil or live as one wishes in the matrix for the time being, while an eternity of torment awaits as punishment in Hell.

I realized that people like my supervisor and others have come to be comfortable in this system of sin where no pure emotion is valued. If not my supervisor, as she still knows right from wrong but at times acts as a messenger puppet, others who benefit from the corruption love this broken system. They don't care if they never find anything true and pure in character in this place. That's not their motive either. Their motive is to propagate and perpetuate their sense of living in sin and to normalize it.

Realizing this made me hurt less about my condition because I understood that this is neither the place that sustains Holiness and Godliness nor does it want to. It just wants to give people the freedom to live in whatever way they choose, even if it severely deviates from the ways of God.

'Welcome to the system of Good and Evil'

- This is what you signed up for when you chose to occupy a corruptible house body away from the Lord God in Heaven. Hosting a flesh body puts you under God's condemnation by default and you need redemption to be transformed into your real, original self which was not a 'mixture'. It is only possible through the way of Jesus Christ. You can choose to follow the doctrines of the gods of this world who created this flesh system to revolt against the Lord God, or you can reject the system and choose to follow God's way and wait for His kingdom in Heaven while being in the system for the while you're in flesh.

I understood that I had a strong mindset of immoral things not happening to me on Earth. I didn't want to be around sinful immoral men or women, or those with a wicked sense of reasoning, or those who're not pure at heart. And when I was forced to be around such people whose feet run to do the wrong thing, I was left distraught because to me those people were polluting my life and making it worthless with their wickedness and deceptive selves. I wanted good and pure-hearted people around. But now I understood that to live in such a mixed manner is what they so love as this is what the system is designed for as well. They don't want anyone to follow God or His statutes. They want them to follow 'their' uninhibited sense of reasoning which is independent of God. The gods of this world - devil and the demons – why would they want the place to be godly and without sin when they created it to sin - to murder, steal, humiliate others, lie, oppress - everything that is anti-God.

6. Forgive Sin, But Do Not Condone It

Brother Andrew talks about not condoning sin or your attitude towards sin will condemn you.

7. The Yellow Man With a Half-Golden Face

Vision (Sat/Sun at home, night): I saw a slim but well-built man of medium stature walk towards the sight of the viewer with him and the background behind him lit with yellow light. He resembled the hero in the 'Palm from Heaven Technique' from the movie Kungfu Hustle. He was dressed in only black trousers - his half-naked look from the last scene. It was a semi-animated vision, and the right half of his face shone like a golden surface while the left was lit with yellow light.

8. KA & The Golden Cone

I lay on my bed to rest when I had this vision.

Vision (Past two days): I saw the face of KA on top of my right breast which he was putting in and out of his mouth in swift and smooth motions. My breast looked like a 3-4 cms wide thin but long solid tube and was able to be contained fully in his mouth. After some swipes, the breast changed to a solid golden cone with a pointed spherical golden tip assuming the shape of a the conical bra I was wearing at that moment.

9. 'Bhole Ka Bhagwaan Sahara'

'Of a Gullible Person, God is The Caretaker'

When I went on lunch with Dr. Bharati, I was sharing with her parts of my walk with God and how He was showing me stuff and leading me. In response to this, she said, "Bhole Ka Bhagwaan Sahara". ("Of the Gullible, God takes care.")

19:40

It was raining heavily around an hour back. After talking to my mom and brother, I ordered a veg tofu roll and lay on the bed when after a while I had this vision:

10. RS Brings In a Present

Vision (~19:00): I saw RS walk into a room with a dark background, stand facing to the left, and hang his outer coat (most probably a raincoat) on a horizontal hanger behind a door in front of him with other clothes on it. And as he did so, he was looking at me and said, "Mein jaanta hu ki tum mujhse pyaar karti ho." (Hindi for "I know that you love me." The Hindi phrase repeated itself in my Spirit for a few times.) He himself was dressed in a blue and black fluffed and zipped-up tracksuit with his usual beard. He then brought out in front of me a medium-sized dark brown wooden guitar box and opened it and inside it was a man's penis of the usual size lying in the center (not the elephant trunk or of a size that fully filled the guitar cover). He took it out and held it vertically in front of my face and showing it to me to have it.

22:30

I happened to play this song during my night worship and online piano playing session. It reminded me of the good old days that were free of abusers.

11. 'I Have A Dream'

I Have a Dream..
A song to sing
To help me cope
with anything
If you see the wonder
of a fairy tale
You can take the future
even if you fail
I believe in angels...
Something good in everything I see
I believe in angels
When I know the time is right for me
I'll cross the stream..
I Have a Dream

I Have a Dream
a fantasy..
To help me through reality..
And my destination makes it worth the while Pushin' through the darkness still another mile..
I believe in angels..

Something good in everything I see
I believe in angels
When I know the time is right for me,
I'll cross the stream
I Have a Dream
I'll cross the stream
I Have a Dream..

I Have a Dream
a song to sing
To help me cope
with anything
If you see the wonder
of a fairy tale
You can take the future
even if you fail
I believe in angels
Something good in everything I see
I believe in angels
When I know the time is right for me
I'll cross the stream
I Have a Dream
I'll cross the stream
I Have a Dream..

12. Prof TRS says, "Sit Down!"

I was walking outside the PG this late evening after having my tofu roll as I felt heavy. After a while, I had this vision of Prof TRS saying, "Sit Down!" "Sit Down!" to me in a strict instructive tone with a pointed hand gesturing at me. The vision repeated many times during my walk.

I also realized after a few minutes that I was wearing the same black clothes that night as the revelation of me and Jesus dancing together with me being on fire and Jesus lit internally in yellow.

The Prof in revelation #39 ('In HOD's Home') on Page 423 was Prof Brajesh Choudhury. I didn't write it there because I knew that he represented a label but I shouldn't miss out on the details as now the HOD is different and they keep changing after a few years.

6th July 2023
00:22

When I was lying on bed after ordering the tofu roll, I had a series of other revelations related to RS as well:

13. Revelations while resting:

13.1 RS Splits Open My Legs

The naked half of a bearded RS with neck-length hair abruptly splits open my vertically folded knees with his face between them! Though the envisioning me is dressed, my lower half in the vision is shown to be naked. The vision repeats itself a few times.

13.2 A Naked RS on top of A Naked Jaqueline Fernandez (the celebrity)

The vision was followed by the top view of him lying on top of Jaqueline Fernandez in the act of passionate intercourse. He was shown to be tall and dusky with short hair and a muscular build as he moved heavily in strong motions on top of her. The vision continued for a good while.

13.3 RS stabs the non-existent bottom of Alia Bhatt (the celebrity)

A fully clothed RS repeatedly stabs the non-existent bottom of a fully clothed Alia Bhatt in open daylight. They stand facing each other – him to the left and her to the right. Only her body until her shoulders is visible while the rest is invisible with a transparent outlining. The dagger can be seen to be hitting the transparent groin of Alia Bhatt with her lower half having the transparent outline of a being dressed in jeans/trousers as she gets an upwards jolt with each hit.

1. The Push and 'Heer Ranjha'

The sensation of something localized within a diameter of 3cms pressing on my throat, and while it did so, I heard
'Heer Ranjha' being repeated in my Spirit.

2. RK The Priest

Vision: I saw this vision localized within a frame of about 5cms. I saw the Bollywood actor Ranbir Kapoor in a room with a background like mine and he was looking at the viewer while being dressed in a half-sleeved white vest over a white dhoti with his lower face covered with foam as he was about to begin shaving it.

12:07
I wrote the above when I was woken up by the sensation and the words being repeated in my Spirit. It was followed by the RK vision.

I had been feeling like resuming my way of life the way I used to live in 2019 in the Veera PG (E-7 in this locality, Vijay Nagar, itself). Though I was obese back then with a weight of 92 kgs, my room used to be ultra clean, and I cleaned it by myself and used to sit on the floor. I used an orange duster for a mop - that's how clean the mop itself used to be. I didn't like the maid aunty cleaning my room because her mop left the floor dirtier and sticky. I had a different set of slippers to use outside and in the common washroom. The way I used to live kept being highlighted to me for the past few days and today I felt like rebeginning to implement that way of life again. I felt such a sense of relief as it put me in resonance with who I internally am. This is also how I tried to live in my home when I was a child, but couldn't, and my hard work didn't last long either because of the people around who mixed everything up. But I loved walking barefoot on ultra clean floors that weren't touched by dust from outside. I liked all surfaces clean the same so you don’t have to change your way of positioning yourself around different spots in the room.

While I was mopping the floor,

3. I Heard in my Spirit a Variety of Things.

3.1 'Priestess'
I heard it throughout the cleaning process. It began slow, but gradually increased in intensity.

3.2 'Sab Natak Hai'
'Everything is a charade'

3.3 'You Just Want Attention'

(the song lyric)

I was so irritated by it when I was in the washroom that I thought that whoever this person was, I would neither want his/her attention nor his/her heart, but that he can give his heart to God and stop watching me and feed his/her learned addiction. I am already resenting how this situation affects my alone time with God in worship which is supposed to be pure and done in the secret place and then I hear such judgmental things in the Spirit.

3.4 'Priestess'

When this phrase was being repeated to me, the priestess 'Kikiyo' from the Anime series InuYasha was being highlighted to me (I first started watching it when I was in 8th class or earlier, and it became one of my favorite animes that I continued watching until 12th class and had the fascination for it even during later years of BSc. I can only imagine the kind of sick and immoral lifestyle Death Conqueror lived when he was in 8th). She and InuYasha (the half-demon) were much in love, but she ended up nailing him to a tree with her divine arrow, putting him to everlasting sleep until someone removed the arrow. She hit him to stop him from stealing the sacred jewel that he wanted to fully unleash his powers which would've led him to become a full demon. Kikiyo died in an unknown strange manner the moment she hit InuYasha and she had the jewel burn along with her body to preserve it from the hands of wicked and power-hungry men, wizards, witches, or demons - the instruction she made known during her last moments to her little sister.

Centuries later, Kagome - Kikiyo's lookalike (reincarnation in the modern world) - ends up in InuYasha's world through a portal when she gets attacked by a witch who senses the sacred jewel inside Kagome's body and wants to kill her and take it out. Kagome was born with the sacred jewel inside but she didn't know about it nor did she know anything about InuYasha's world. It is found later that though she was Kikiyo's reincarnation in the modern world, she wasn't Kikiyo for they were shown to have different souls. So, reincarnation had a different meaning here.

Kikiyo was highlighted to me along with the word Priestess.

When she hit InuYasha, she got attacked by an unseen demonic creature and died of the wound after a short while. The blood falling from her right arm is because of the attack from the demonic creature that leads to her death.

Additionally, Israelites the people of God were told to shave their bodies to make themselves clean and consecrated. This fact was also highlighted to me.

And while being in the washroom it occurred to me how he didn't truly represent 'Christian' either from the 'Fifty Shades' series. Because though Christian was a psychopath and went into dysfunctional relationships, he would've never done such a thing to Ana as this half-demon did to me. I don't know why God depicted him as that character role. Perhaps it was just a label. But these are my thoughts. God's representation of him is what He showed to me. Perhaps he plays Christian with the other woman who is of his kind.

Ref: Google

14:35
3.5 Randi
'Whore'
I've heard this many times in my spirit. I don't know who says this or think in this manner about me, but they for sure have stinking and fully blind eyes of the heart. Instead of taking the right steps, they choose to say mean, hurtful things and abuse more the person who's being already abused.

4. False Representations Don't Change the Truth

Devil always plays games full of chicanery. His self-worth is based on the false sense of self he created out of lies about him that he told to himself. I often come across actors outside who represent Death Conqueror and Akhila in a false way. It makes me think if they're really that practically and morally dumb to know that showing false representations doesn't change anything. I don't know how he is even doing his job or will manage to do so because it requires being in truth and not in the false perceptions made up to make oneself feel better and downplay the other person.

Why would I want to be around such people like him, who don't know the 'T' of truth, are always saying and thinking obscene things in their hearts about women though outwardly they 'act' good? How can someone like him do science. It just doesn't make sense how his intellect is only limited to what earns him worldly status and that he's not able to apply it to the way one is supposed to live. How can a sane person situated in truth call red, blue and blue, red, or water, soil and soil, water? That's what he does. He's a foolish child getting pleased by chewing his own foot.

4.1 She Bends According to Him and tries to not make him angry or go against his thoughts. I realized this today - that how Akhila tries hard to go along with the wicked mind of Death Conqueror and doesn't take a strong stand even if he tends to say something which shows his wicked character. She lets it go because pointing it out will hurt the useless bond between the two wicked ones. If someone told me that he stripped another individual publicly as a form of taking revenge on her for blocking him online because witnessed his characterlessness, I would understand how insane the person is and would distance myself away from him. But she is showing compassion to him, and it is not even compassion, it is called condoning sin, and she goes along with the disgusting wicked thought processes of this fellow with a filthy mind. In a way like theirs, one can have a bond with even the worst kind of person! - where one doesn't take a stand against what's plainly wrong but keeps going along letting the wicked ones have their way. Such a bond has no value. You can form it with a serial killer if you assist him in his ways and tricks. You can form it with a terrorist if you support his mindset. Such a foolish woman. She's the one who's a dumb fool while she was saying so indirectly to me looking at me while being on the phone with someone. She just agrees with his everything and doesn't use her own sense of right and wrong. She flows with his sick mind. Dumbass and foolish woman! She is just an extension of him - reflecting exactly the way narcissists use other people.

5. Moosa Ke Paas Dekho Baitha Elisha Aur Yusuf Hai Kitna Pyara..

Look, Elisha is sitting next to Moses, and how lovely Joseph is..

I woke up with this lyric from the song playing in my Spirit the day before yesterday. The lyrics talk about the three people of God sitting together in Heaven.

It made me think of me, RS and KA, because of the vision in which the three of us floated in the air with wings at our backs, arms in arms.

The guy sings:

Adbhut Anugrah Hawaaon Mein Faila Hai	(God's) wonderful grace is all around in the winds
Kaisa Hai Adbhut Nazaara	How wonderful the sight is..
Moosa Ke Paas Dekho Baitha Elisha	Next to Moses, look, is sitting Elisha
Aur Yusuf Hai Kitna Pyara	and how lovely Joseph is..

I, RS and KA are represented by Moses, Elisha and Joseph respectively.

6. You're Called To Be Holy, But It's Not Just The Way You Dress

At times I would see messenger actors coming in front of me dressed all holy with features and looks that are good to look at. But that means nothing. Because even the terrorists are dressed holy in long tunics and cover their heads, but their hearts are far from God and rotten! It's their mindset and actions that define if they're truly holy. Death Conqueror is really very very morally dumb.

7. Boundaries Lead To Holiness

When I began cleaning my room earlier today, the song 'Pavitra, Pavitra, Pavitra, Tu Hi To Yahowa' ('Holy, Holy, Holy, You Alone Are Yahua) started playing in my Spirit and continued until the end of my cleaning process. This way that I resumed to live is also a reflection of the nature of God - how He distinguishes between things that are of the outside, and those that are of the inside, and places a boundary between the two. The Holy of Holies wasn't open to the general Israeli public but only the high priest could enter it after making a sin offering sacrificing for his own sins. God had strict rules on how things were to be kept and who was to approach him and in what way. All things and situations can't be treated the same. It also counts as holiness, where you place needed boundaries at appropriate places and separate different regions instead of mixing everything together, which is what worldly people do. They mix marriage with fornication and adultery. The covenant partner and their other partners are no different from each other. This is gross unholiness. One must place boundaries between one's bond with one's covenant partner and the rest of the world. While the covenant bond is supposed to be kept sanctified, pure, and holy before God, the outer bonds shouldn't enter or affect the holy space of the covenant bond. The covenant bond has to be daily renewed and cleaned for it to function and has to be separated from the rest of the bonds with the world. You use a different self in the world than the one you exhibit in the covenant bond. So, one uses a different pair of footwear for outside while on the inside, one roams around barefoot for there's no need to wear any footwear as the space is too clean and sanctified. Separating one's living space from the world can also teach us to separate our covenant bonds from the world and not walk barefoot outside gathering filth on one's feet which will then be transferred inside the space that was supposed to be kept pure. Morally dumb people will not understand this in the way of being able to absorb the message and let it feed them. Only godly people with a functioning conscience and a sense of godliness can fully fathom and be enriched with the analogy.

An immoral man brings in the filth of his external affairs into the space of his covenant bond and makes it unholy, while a godly moral man keeps the covenant bond sanctified and doesn't walk barefoot outside bringing the filth inside his living space.

Is there a reason heaven and hell are separate places and not mixed? Is there a reason God and devil have opposite characteristics and are not mixed? Is there a reason holiness and worldliness lie at opposite ends? Don't 'affect' an outer holy look when you're missing the holiness inside. It's meaningless. Shining the outside of the building doesn't amount to anything for the living space is on the inside.

Now we all can approach the throne of God through Jesus Christ as His sacrificial blood shed for all made it possible for us to go into the Holy of Holies - the seat of the Most High Holy God.

By using the way of the devil and stripping me publicly and saying insulting vulgar things about me, he proved that he has no sense of holiness or godliness in him. I don't listen to the words of people. I see their inner character. They can say whatever they want, but what they did showed what they're capable of doing and that they can even kill people. They are the fully dressed murderers of the devil who strip the children of God.

8. 'This Love Is Unbreakable'

Our Song with Jesus:
This love is unbreakable..
It's Unmistakable..
Each time I look in your eyes,
I know why..
This love is Untouchable..
A feeling my heart just can't deny..
Each time you whisper my name, O Baby..
I know why..

This Love is Unbreakable..

I realized that some parts of the lyrics reflected the nature of God: His love is Unbreakable, Unmistakable, Untouchable (by worldly filth), and above all HOLY.

9. The Maroon Car With Black Windows - The Tester

I went outside the PG to check something when I saw a maroon car with black windows standing at the front left as it flashed its lights once. It made me cautious and I rushed inside but on my way back I surmised that it was standing there on purpose to test my reaction, but despite knowing the same, I had panicked momentarily though I came to normalcy after a while. It's not good to test the reaction of people around things that give them a hard time.

When I was back in my room and stood in front of my cooler,
I had this Vision (evening, day before yesterday): KA dressed in a full-sleeved white shirt is laughing hard at me. It was followed by him now standing behind me as he hugged me lovingly from behind.

While walking outside yesterday,

10. RS With Arms Stretched To The Sky

I was listening to worship songs while walking to and fro in front of my PG. I had this vision recur:

Vision (Last Evening): The upper half of RS comes out from my chest with arms wide open and reaches up to the sky with him looking upwards. He has his back in front of me. It seems as if he too is in the act of worshipping high. He has the same look from the previous vision that evening in which he wore a black and blue tracksuit. In this worship vision, he came out of my chest and kept looking up silently with his body and arms stretched upwards wide open in a star shape.

The vision repeated many times during my walk.

The vision was the first one of its kind. It has been quite a walk with the duo. I am watching how God is working on their hearts as He gives me more revelations.

11. My Beginner's Piano Playing Session Last Night

After I returned from Satyawati College where I had gone to inquire about my youngest brother's IGNOU books and assignments' status, I felt like playing the keyboard online. I ended up playing the stanza 'Hum Ate Rahe Hai..' from the song 'Jo Wada Kiya Vo Nibhana Padega', followed by some worship songs perhaps. I have been doing a lot of instrumental worship for the past few days.

Yesterday night, I had a long online piano playing session, and I played my favorite songs as they came to me, and I also played the songs that pertained to different people that God brought in my life. It was a way to honor them. I played the songs 'You decorated My Life' and 'Oh My Heart Skips A Beat' - they reminded me of time with Meera; I played 'Ton sourire m'ensorcelle' - it represented my bond with RS; I played the 'Coca Cola' song - it pertained to KA, and I played the 'Kabhi Shaam Dhale To Mere Dil Mein Aa Jana' - it pertained to Glory, and then I was led to play 'I Have A Dream' and it reminded me of the day I had sung it in the lab of Miranda House. It was perhaps our seniors' farewell. The song also made me look at the kind of mind I had back in those days - untouched by the minds of abusers. None of the thoughts that I have now used to cross my mind for I wasn't looking at the wrongs someone was doing to me or at the fact that they wanted me to be as morally filthy as them.

When it was quite late (past midnight) I was too sleepy but was itching a lot as well and was smelly as I had not bathed for two days now. So I had to take a bath and when I lay on the bed afterwards, the stanza, 'Abhi Abhi Dhoop Thi Yaha Pe Lo..' of the song 'Tu Meri Hai Prem Ki Bhasha' came to me in the Spirit, along with its chorus. So, I played it as I wanted to honor AK for the revelations God gave to me about him. After a while I played an old song I used to like many years back, "But I Can't Help Falling In Love With You".. I felt a bit refreshed and now was preparing to fall asleep when I had the following vision.

12. Ayushman Khurrana Sleeps With a Shy Smile

I had this vision last night when I laid to sleep,
Vision (last night): The upper half of AK dressed in his yellow ethnic attire from the song lay on its right side on a pillow facing the viewer as he slowly moves shyly with closed eyes and a slight smile. He looks happy.

13. RS Says a Reluctant 'Bye'

It was perhaps on the evening of the day I visited Dr. Sharma for the second time and was having dinner with my mom.
Vision (at home): I saw the vision in my right mental view in a frame of the vertical length of 7-8 cms in which RS was dressed in his cheetah-printed tracksuit from the Pepsi song. He stood in a dark background as he said in a low tone, "Bye.." "Bye.." "Bye".. as he moved backwards slowly. I thought, "Why he is saying Bye?" I mean I was connected to him through the Spirit of God, and until God sends him off, he can't say 'Bye'. Have I died yet? Anyway, in heaven, we three are going to sit together.

But then it could also represent me because in some of the RS visions, I was 'RS'. I may be the one saying “Bye.." and it was followed by the whispered phrase "I don't deserve you..".

14. 'Moti-Choor'

While writing the Priestess section on this page, the vision of a dagger coming at my naked groin right on top of my clitoris was repeated to me along with the phrase 'Moti-Choor' ('Pearl-Smashed').

15. “Tujhe To Mein Aisi Maut Maroonga..”

“I'm going to kill you in such a manner..”

I kept hearing this phrase in my Spirit while writing out the Priestess section and the storyline of Kikiyo and Inuyasha.

Inuyasha, though a half-demon, loved Kikiyo and could never hurt her because of it. Kikiyo wouldn't ever do something wrong or wicked and nor did she have any wicked thoughts or intentions like InuYasha did of being immeasurably powerful by being a full demon. Kikiyo was able to hurt him because his intentions behind stealing the sacred jewel weren't right. He wanted it for himself when it was supposed to be kept safe with a godly person with pure intentions. It wasn't meant to be in the hands of lusting power-hungry individuals – be it mere men or those with magical powers. She was a righteous woman but he wasn't a righteous man.

When I heard the "Tujhe To Mein Aisi Maut Maroonga.." phrase in my Spirit, all the violent revelations I previously had ran through my mind.

16. Dream (this morning):

It was a long dream. This is the only part that I remember from the dream:
KA was sitting in front of a woman (resembling Meera) in a room lit with white light with their hands stretched forward and holding the other's person's hand present on the other side making a criss-cross at the center as they seemed to be ready to do a swing rotation inside the room.

17. The Outer Surface Act

I had this vision many months back when I happened to think of a past event in the dept in which I stood with Awadhesh Prasad (my former PhD supervisor) and Prof TRS as they were talking about something near the stairs in the hall at the ground floor of the Multi Storey Building of the Physics dept. I was recalling the conversation because it was the time when I still hadn't figured Awadhesh Prasad out and was quite looking forward to working with him being unaware of his abusive nature. I recalled the sentence - "Phir shaanti ke saath rahenge" ('I will live with peace') – that he had said regarding something in response to which Prof TRS had left jokingly leaving the remark - "Who is Shaanti?" (Shaanti is also used as a Hindi name for a woman.)

18. A Huge RS In a Colorful Anime Shirt On a Horse With Tiny Naked Me

Vision (earlier this night): I saw muscular and fluffed RS dressed in a half-sleeved shirt densely covered with tiny multi-colored anime prints of the same kind. He was riding on a brown horse in the left direction with a tiny adult naked me in front of him whom he tightly held with his hands close to himself as he was slightly bent forward in the direction of motion.

19. RS and A Slim Girl On a Scooty

Vision (about half an hour back): I saw a huge muscular and fluffed RS on a still scooty on the street at the back of my PG. He was holding a relatively very slim girl sitting in front of him. She wore a black dress with a white print and her hair tied low at the back as the huge man at the back hugged her tightly around her waist and moved her around, almost as if he was pampering her. Her figure and hair resembled Akhila's but she was not her.

20. True Love Protects and Seeks Justice

It doesn't do wrong unto others and then try to hide it or stuff it in the ground. Death Conqueror and his ways are so filthy and criminalistic.

People who love truly are awarded by God at the end. That's why RS got awarded (though with the best acting award with a law trophy of a blindfolded woman). He's sent by God.

21. I Laugh At 'Jhooti Hai Tu Jhooti'

While walking outside, I was imagining RS saying these lines to me in that accusing tone, and they seemed too cute to me, in response to which I saw a vision of me blowing a kiss/air at him with my hand below my chin. My face was shown as being huge and him around the size of my face itself.

It reminded me of the vision with Mayank too.

22. Dream (today morning):

The Suits To Be Stitched

I've a packet containing an unstitched cloth and I'm discussing about it with my mom. I decide to keep it for myself. There are many other unstitched suits lying around as well.

The Tree, Glory and Meera

In this dream, I was moving on the road along Gupta Ji's store in front of the Gurudwara. I pass by a tree on the side of the Gurudwara's lane. When I pass it next on that road, it has now been trimmed down and is shorter with just a few leaves on it. Apparently, I'm moving on that road with Glory.

(These days when I wake up, I am not able to recall the dreams as clearly as I used to before. I remember only the bold details.)

When we reach the end of that road near the T-point at Ganda Nala Road, Meera tells me that she has to visit her home once. It was right to the right - the first in the service lane. I can see the inside from my place as it is visible openly. The home has very less width but is built in the manner of a train - one compartment after the other. I see her pass through the narrow passage and stop near the kitchen's entrance. A pot covered with a maroon cloth is visibly lying on the slab present on the left side inside the kitchen. Meera is talking to her mom present inside when the dream ends.

23. The Baby Girl In Pink & White With Holes In Her Forehead

I had this vision after I returned to my room after taking a walk. I had some encounters with my past self as I looked at the stuff around me – the leaves, the trees, and things related to their working flashed being superimposed on them in front of my eyes.

Vision (earlier this night): I saw a baby girl with tiny spiky hair on her head in a finely checkered pink & white dress with medium-sized shoulder straps as she rode a bicycle moving in the right direction.

When the vision focused further closely on her face, I saw many holes in her wide, huge forehead but there was no blood gushing out. They were just holes in her skull.
I keep getting this thought that they want to drill into my brain. How wicked.

24. Even He Bends According To Her

Both are dumb immoral fools. Recall: the dream 'Difficult times ahead in my life.' In one of the events, a short-heighted man in sky blue and navy blue falsely accused me of something to which the tall man in white responded by slaughtering the innocent masses when I denied of being guilty. The short man had no objections to the other man implementing the slaughter. The murderers (Akhila and Death Conqueror) found each other. Both are criminals and should be sent to jail! They're only supporting each other's wickedness. So deluded and wicked. They do the wrong thing and then try to represent themselves as someone righteous - just by the way they dress, which has no meaning. Their inner selves stink. I can't believe that Akhila had no brain of hers to use that she listened to this person who did such a thing to me and my family and has many cases running against him, on top of which who thinks he is so great that one can't even block him without getting a payback. He is the one who should be blocked by all godly people and shouldn't even be sent a friends request to. If I knew his hidden character, I would've never befriended him on FaceBook. I thought he is in the same field as mine, and seems intelligent - I may get to learn something. I falsely perceived a righteous aura around him which made me want to know what he was up to via FB – like I did with other people whom I thought or knew were righteous. He is the one who needs to learn many things about morality and the right way to live life and not 'show' falsely to the world that he is living so holy and right, or put up a show of a perfect life when it's so grossly stained with sin (I feel that about myself too in a way though I'm not hurting or abusing anyone like he is doing!).

They're just expensive showpieces and deserve God's judgment. I was an innocent individual whom they bullied because they knew how worthless they were on the inside. Now if he kills me, he should put it on his FB profile along with the other sins that he committed against me and all that I went through so that someone else doesn't mistake him for an innocent individual. Don't falsely portray yourself online. Put all aspects of your character!

Write a post on 'How I stripped an innocent girl publicly who couldn't fend for herself', 'How I stripped her family members as well'. Explain in yet another post 'How I managed to do it for 4 long years without any burden on my conscience', followed by 'How I burst an ovariel egg inside that girl's left ovary while she was fully conscious and not under Amnesia', 'How I burst her vein(s)', 'How I got my drones into her skull and hurt her brain and gave her terrible headaches', 'How I tried to make her blind by hurting her eyes from the inside' and many more posts that I may have missed highlighting for he knows better all he did. If he puts these posts on his Facebook, it will complete his description.

25. The Abuser With Daksh Sir

This photo has been being highlighted to me many times by now but I didn't write about it. The photo had the short-heighted guy sitting with Prof Daksh Lohiya in an open space somewhere in Cambridge University. He was dressed in a black suit and had had a discussion about some Quantum Mechanics topic after which he decided to get clicked to make a 'show'.

And oh yeah, he was also posting photos with the dark-complexioned Indian-origin Nobel Laureate whose name I don't remember.

Now when I look at what he projects himself to be, it just seems so fake – meant to boost one's ego by making a public show of one's worldly status. He's not that person. He's a bully and a murderer, not that gentleman he pretends to be!

He's unrepentant and continues in his sin – that's his sin – that he doesn't think he did anything wrong, and he doesn't care how his act affected an innocent individual.

I am a bold person. The kind of person I was, I could easily approach someone I felt attracted to because of their inner traits. I could go to people and have a chat and it wasn't to have a fleshly bond with them but to commune with their bright inner selves as I would rejoice in their company. Simple, honest and straightforward – I didn't play games. I wouldn't want to take away from them their deciding agency or oppress it because I would know very well that their free agency is what lets them love. And that's why it was given to us as well by God. So why would I want to hurt or oppress it? But he did a very foolish thing. It only shows how insightless he is! I couldn't even think of hurting someone and force that person to do something they don't wanna do. Perhaps they did it to inflict pain on me, to show me that people can do illegal things and hurt others and yet get away with it, or to show their resentment towards my willingness to live a pure lifestyle separate from what I perceived as worldly filth or to make me a part of their gutter think tribe, or because they didn't like the way I thought or who I was, but they ended up showing in the end how foolish they are. It's none of their business how I think or the things I support or feel hatred towards! I will always resent what's wrong! Hurting me isn't going to change the truth about the nature of things/actions or lines of thought that count as sin. The serpent race killed God Himself because it didn't like His holiness, His ways, and the things He taught, but the race is still under condemnation despite their rejection and hatred of what is right. If he/they see from my perspective, they will see how much filth they are embedded in – and that's when my perception is nowhere righteous as God. When a common human like me can see the extent of their sin, and God sees the 'full' sin content of everyone, they must be very morally blind to not be able to 'realize' and repent how wrong they've been.

What's the point of intelligence when you live without godly morals!!? Intelligence is meaningless!

26. The Burning Smell in My Home

When I was at home and was cleaning, when I was into the outer washroom mopping the floor, I started sensing a burning smell. It increased in intensity and was later perceived by all. We couldn't figure out from where it came but my dad even saw the smoke near the master bedroom's window.

1. He Cries Hard

While I was writing 'The Abuser with Daksh Sir' and 'Even He Bends According To Her' (#25 & #24 respectively on the last page), I had the vision of the side-view of the innocent-seeming upper half of Death Conqueror crying hard facing upwards dressed in a yellow tunic. (My thoughts: It's hard to believe that it was him. Perhaps it was a reflected revelation of my inner state because it's me whom he has been torturing!)

1.1 Why did he think it was ok to sin and expect me to stay the same?

Am I a robot? Am I without emotions? I get hurt and I stay away from those who hurt and bully others. He thought that if I loved him, I would forgive easily and not be affected by what I went through, or that he will abuse me enough to make me give in and bend as he wanted me to irrespective of how I get hurt or the psychological damage I suffer. But he only hardened my heart by putting me through this situation. Perhaps my suffering didn't mean anything to him, but to me what he did was an attack on everything that held value in my life! He himself may think that all one needs is money, and live by the same mindset – but he ruined my sacred space with this cheap act of his!

When you run after something valuable ('love' - if this was what he was running after), you don't use the wicked ways of the devil, you use the sacred and Holy ways of God because love is of God and not of devil; you use ways that ignite and nurture the holy fire of love between individuals. But he put me through the fire of suffering in vain (vain for his own purpose, but a gain for the purpose of God's kingdom).

If he was hurt by someone and was crying hard or because of some pain in his life, I would've hugged him and comforted him. But he did this sinful thing, and I don't know what his crying reflects when it's me who is no longer the same I used to be. If he hadn't put me through this and I had the same mind that I had 6 years back, we could've had a deep and high-quality bond. But 'he' ruined that prospect. I have been crying all this time through the years, and many times I had no one to comfort me when God comforted me and empathized with my suffering.

Love originates in the mind and is expressed through the body. If the body was taken away, love would still remain as it is independent of the body. He hurt my mind brutally and pleased his body. I don't know in what way he was expecting me to change towards him. A typical disgusting abusive politician he is! Blinded by the worldly power he has gained, he has no valuable godly and wise insight! He kept hurting my mind for that long period of time (years), and then he expects unconditional love that forgives and keeps taking on slaps - unexpected and undeserved slaps that could be delivered anytime.

I may seem 'Bhola' ('Gullible') to people, but I am not without insight. I am just straightforward and without deception most of the times if that's what people perceive as gullibility. I used the phrase 'most of the times' and not 'all times' in being straightforward and without deception because in the presence of wicked people whom I can perceive are not innocent, I by default hide my inner self inside like a turtle which is not a weird thing to do but a very sensible one.

He thought I would consider it as a normal thing once I was into him, and would let it go and hide this sinful act of his, and even hide more of the sinful acts he would've performed in the future. But nothing is hidden from God. I don't keep company with bullies or those who inflict result-oriented bullying.

As I already wrote, to make a sacred thing part of one's life, one has to approach it in a sacred way, and not in a way one treats a common thing of low value. Love is sacred. God is Love, and He is Holy, so Love too is Holy and therefore sacred and godly in nature. It is not full of wicked and deceptive schemes that employ chicanery. One has to be careful when dealing with a sacred thing.

It was a very huge thing for me that he did wrong. I compared it with my own sense and perception of love. How I would never do such a thing to someone I supposedly love or hurt their minds to gain their bodies. At times his brain generates a lot of filth.

I've often thought that it's not love that they did, and also that I don't know at all what they wanted that made them take such a step.

2. RS in a Black Suit With a Reynolds Pen

Vision (Around 3am after waking up): I saw the upper half of RS dressed in a black suit sitting in front of a lit yellow background. He seemed to be talking to someone present to the viewer's left in front of him in a quite sophisticated manner, though that person wasn't visible in the vision. He had a beard and wore a metallic wavy headband that pulled his hair back. He then made a point by placing the bottom of the classic blue & white Reynolds pen he held in his hand on the table in front as the vision now zoomed and focused on the vertically upright pen and the table.

I was woken up by something around half an hour back and I felt the movements inside my skull again. They kept me awake and then I had the above RS vision.

I hardly indulge in low-quality interactions (devoid of love and empathy, or sensible talk), be it any person from any field. After behaving in those ways and committing those sins, how can he expect me to have a high-quality bond with him. It would only be possible if he understood his folly and repented before God (if I seem too unworthy to ask forgiveness from). But repenting before God would begin his relationship with God. Repenting before me and asking my forgiveness would mark the beginning of a Godly bond with 'me'. His logic is not too strong in this field.

But in any case, if he gets judged – he shouldn't blame me but himself for it was he who chose the ways of the wicked in the pursuit of something holy - holy because he implied indirectly that he was running after Love, and God is Love (1 John 4:8) and God is Holy!
The way you pursue someone you love is how Jesus showed Himself up – with a bouquet – as he sat down on the floor with vertically folded knees.

I don't think the way Death Conqueror does. Pari means angel, and angels are holy and they follow God and His statutes. They are not wicked like demons!

3. Dream (this morning):

My dad has a backache. He lies down and asks me to walk on his waist at the back. (It reminds me of the time when I used to walk on his hurting legs as a child after he returned from his office.) After a while, we all go out on the roof and look at the sky. We see a cloud up high in the sky to the left in the shape of the face of a skeleton tilted slightly backward, along with other figures (one was that of a small hut). I think if the skeleton represents me. There is yet another shape on our right of the sky.

After waking up, and completing page 429, I fell asleep again when I had this dream which seemed to be a continuation of the above as the view around the bed of the home shown was the same as above. But while I was typing out the missing parts of Page 429 while lying on my body's front on my bed covered with my green sheet, I had these temporally separated visions recur:
RS slaps my ass while standing beside my bed
KA slaps my ass while standing beside my bed

3.1 Dream (late morning):

Amidst war, Putin dressed in a black suit with colorful badges on it comes walking towards us in that room and rests on the double bed of that home (an altogether different place than my own real home). I am on the bed with my mom and one more person present (perhaps my brother). Putin lies down on the bed and is sharing the situation with us with me lending him an ear while he lays in a restful position. My mom gives me a small black translucent bottle with an inch-high neck. I receive a vision that I'm standing holding an infant dressed in yellow by my right side. But there's no child in front of me. I understand that it's Putin who must be the child. So I hug him and am listening to him. I then hug him tightly and wrap my legs around him inside the sheet on the bed looking at his face, and the bald head with spiky hair. He then changes into a tiny child. I give the bottle to him as it has some liquid he can drink. I understand the purpose of the bottle now. After a while, I get up from the bed with the child held on my left side. I am now standing in front of my dad who's busy dealing with some people. Another lady stands to my left. She is also carrying a child by her side. I cover my head with a green cloth extending it to the child's head to emulate the vision, but he extends his head forward out of the sheet. The vision of the lady holding the baby at the viewer's left with the baby's body extending outwards away from the lady repeats. The baby's head is covered with a cloth resting plainly on his head making a cone around his head.

My mom shows the bottle to my dad and tells him what I did with it in a tone that didn't seem to support me. I get to know that it was a test to see how I would use the bottle so they could judge me. My dad says that they were testing if I have the right intentions, for instead of putting the neck of the bottle head somewhere else, I used it rightly with the baby. I begin explaining something to him and he stands facing to the left and looks very dark. Though I have apparently passed the test, he walks closer to me and begins revealing that his plan is to kill me. He reveals in an angry tone that he intends to burn me alive. He tells me in a mocking tone how he has this, this and this special kind of thing (special type of ashes etc that he brought from special places) to use in my live cremation. While he's saying these things to me, I stand before him with one hand on my left cheek for he looks so scary and I'm afraid that he might slap me. I get a nudge in the Spirit to put my other hand on my other cheek as well. I have now covered both my cheeks with my palms leaving a very narrow vertical pathway at the center through which I am looking at him when the dream ends.

Past Revelation:

4. Malaika Arora With Black Wings

Vision (past few days): I saw Malaika Arora dressed in a shoulder-less heavy ethnic dress embroidered and laden with stones with full-sleeved arms. She had her hair styled low at the back and she floated in the air in front of a dark background with her huge black wings at the back.

18:20

When I get sleepy while editing or typing out the pending parts of this book, I lay down to sleep. This time when I woke up, I saw:

5. RS Ready To Leave?

Vision (~18:20): A bearded and muscular RS, dressed in a half-sleeved white shirt with a light black leafy print and a wavy metallic hairband on head, stands with one foot inside the open door of the driver seat of a white car while looking at me as he waves his right hand at me and says, "Bye", before immediately moving inside the car. His act of moving inside the driver seat of the car repeated a few times in a row.

21:25

Heard in the Spirit when I was out to buy some stationary. And it continued until I reached my PG.

6. Aji Suniye.. Ruk Jaana.

Pay heed.. and stop..

Ke Hasega Ye Jamana..

For this world is going to laugh (at you)

Aji Suniye.. Ruk Jaana.
Ke Hasega Ye Jamana..

I got more pages of this Notebook printed today and after shuffling and shifting, I had two ring files full of pages of revelations given by the Holy Spirit.

Afterwards, I mopped my room and then thought of going out to have Panipuri after which I remembered to buy cello tape to put 'The Armour of God' and the 'Yahua is Salvation' printouts on the wall. I found a stationary shop and bought a board and a Reynolds Pen. But on my way, I kept hearing the song lyrics of Rev #6 on this Page in my Spirit. They continued to play even when I had returned to my PG.

7. The Phone Call With My Mom

I started feeling downcast after a while on looking at my earthly reality of things and became very low in Spirit. I saw that nothing that previously held value to me was a part of my life that was now penetrated by immoral filthy people who broke all statutes of Godliness, and purity of heart and deeds. When I got up from my seat and decided to take a walk downstairs, I saw that it was 22:00 in my phone. I went outside my PG and began to walk, calling my mom on WhatsApp. I wanted to tell her everything that I hated about my current life. She picked up after a few attempts of calling her. I told her that I hated Data Analysis but that my supervisor had told me to do the same. That I found it meaningless. That I hated coding! I hated Machine Learning and AI. That they were so outwardly focused, and that I wanted to do something theoretical that wasn't related to analysing useless data but focused on delving into pure truth! That I could also leave my PhD if things didn't work out or if it started being a burden on me, for it wasn't 'PhD' that I wanted to do, but research, and I didn't find people who had the heart and the purity of mind required by the field. People just did it as a job to show their 'smartness', to compete, and they would also 'steal' other person's work if (s)he happened to do something which they didn't come up with first and if it was of much novelty and importance. I shared with her how my research manuscript kept getting rejected by journals for weird reasons that weren't applicable to my work. Some journals said that my paper was out of their scope when it was clearly 'inside' their scope, another journal said my paper was plagiarized.

Though I didn't share this with my mom, yet another journal - one of the first few we submitted to - said that the paper didn't tell anything about the reproductive process in plants - again, an irrational reason a scientist shouldn't even think along the way of because they should have looked at what I 'did' do and the new thing I added, but rather they rejected my manuscript on the grounds that it didn't explain a process it wasn't supposed to explain either in the first place. One journal said that they only accepted manuscripts for review that were most likely to be ultimately accepted for publication and that they didn't find my work worthy. All these reasons seemed to me to be targeting me because I refused to be a part of the fornication present in the domain of research. They rejected my paper giving the reasons that reflected my 'character' traits - 'doesn't explain reproduction', and 'only accepts for review what will ultimately be published'. This – I didn't tell my mom because I didn't want to extend the talk, but it's the full truth.

I shared with her how I had started feeling low in this place again, that it was a filthy place and the aura pinched my brain. I told her that I might return home after meeting my supervisor and seeing how things were going to unfold. I no longer wanted to complete this crap PhD. For four years I've been doing autocorrelation and crosscorrelation which are the topics of an hour class in which a whole lot of different aspects of the correlations can be understood but I wasted years doing what I didn't like. I shared with her how I was being put in situations with things and people I didn't like. That I didn't like data filtering or analysis. It seemed meaningless to me. That I would rather like to add to the model.

I shared with her that I was feeling too sick of the place because of the impure aura. That my field which was based on truth and required the foundation of purity of mind had imposters filled in it that did the job but didn't have the right mental temperament needed, for they were blatantly defying the statutes of God that were based on truth. (It's not rational to give those irrational reasons and reject someone's paper. It's not rational to expect a person to give her body which is her own to another who is not in a covenant bond with her or who is not supposed to expect it either. It's not rational to step on the rights and moral freedom of another individual. It's not rational to expect to control the moral God-given Free Will of another individual! How can these people call themselves scientists?)

I told her that they had just found a way to think, publish, and earn a name, but they didn't have the purity of mind that a scientist should have.

They try to hurt their competitors and want to bring as many as they can into their filthy world of impurity, cheating, and deceptive ways of thinking. (They are not pure-hearted and pure-minded scientists but mindless computers.) My supervisor even said to me once during a discussion, “Two people have not touched” referring to her husband and Awadhesh Prasad (my ex-supervisor), giving it as the reason behind I was facing those problems. And then I recall the time she traumatized me by shouting “You are not innocent!” at me for a menial reason. It made me cry until the next day and the trauma persisted for a few days as I had vibrations at the surface of my brain. Yeah, I can see how she transfers messages of the wicked and wants to bring me into their sinful reality – as if that’s an innocent thing to do. They just make me wanna puke. So deplorable and lacking basic moral values all adults should have!

I had called her after reading the link she had sent me about PhD not being a mandatory requirement to teach as an assistant professor in a college. The new rule is to either have MSc + Net or a PhD. So, while talking to her I told her that if I got fed up with the place and the behavior of some people, I might as well leave the place and apply for teaching positions as in that case I won't have to do data analysis at least but would be dealing with concepts.

I shared with her how I wanted to be around believers who followed God and knew the Bible. Just for a day in a week, I get to experience the company and environment I like (by God's grace as He led me to a real church that was filled with His Spirit) while the rest of the days I am back to the filth of the lost world which doesn't want to listen and turn to God but relishes in its own sinful ways.

My mom understood me. When it was time to lock the PG, I went back inside. I was feeling terrible and wanted to leave this place called Earth as I've been feeling for a long time now. I laid on my bed feeling hopeless (for my life on Earth).

I know I have to rejoice about my time in Heaven instead of mourning my suffering on Earth, it's not my suffering that makes me feel hopeless but the fact that how these people are insulting the Holy statute of God called love. They have an inverted sense of perception and to see that the structures around my life aren't holy or based on God and His statutes makes me sad and feel terrible. I feel terrible being around people who support evildoers and even play a part in their game. To know that one's life may be spent in the company of such people saps one of positive and godly energy. I was imagining situations if in case I had to live for long durations with such people who lived an ungodly lifestyle full of sin and will continue to do so, and I saw that in such a situation I would be mostly silent and not even want to talk to them for I wouldn't want an exchange with a wicked mind and let it affect me in a negative way. I don't see any godly exchange coming from the other side which nourishes and heals another but only a spirit of bullying that leaves one feeling low and drained. I don't like their minds at all - they are so situated in wickedness.

So, thinking of future situations made me too depressed and I saw how I was only going to be sad and silent, not wanting to interact with anyone because of the absence of a resonating mind. I lay in bed mourning the unholy structures around me that were giving me pain and was thinking of ordering something to eat but wasn't able to decide on what to eat when I had this vision.

8. KA Feeds Me

Vision (~10:55): KA dressed in a white tunic set sat bent forward facing to the left as he had a piece of something yellow with bread around it in his hand that he was feeding to the person in front. There was a small stool in between on which were placed many snacks that could be had with tea. But the one in focus in the center was a circular white plate with small cubical yellow pieces of something arranged in a square. What he was feeding to the person in front of him looked like the inner piece of Vada Pav so I ordered it along with tea.

The vision was so relieving and granted me some amount of healing. I was waiting for my order now but was still feeling downcast and sad when I had yet another vision.

9. Kartika, Kisne Pareshaan Kiya Tumhe'

Vision (~11:10): I saw the semi-animated vision of a very wide and muscular KA come walking towards me dressed in a sleeveless white sports uniform in a background of a well-lit indoor wooden sports ground and auditorium with people sitting in the chairs above and other players present on the ground behind him. He was wearing a sleeveless white top with something printed on it in red over white shorts, and had white boxing gloves on.

When he reached near me, he asked me, "Kartika, kisne pareshaan kiya tumhe?" ("Kartika, who made you upset?")

I pointed to my left and said, "Isne." ("Him."), and as I said so the vision moved to my left and there was shown a short-heighted lean and thin guy dressed in a white tunic set resembling Death Conqueror in his figure. The vision moved back to KA who now punched his gloved hands together twice in front of his chest and floated straight up to that guy and started punching him who was now lying upside side on the floor. He got sunken further into the ground as KA hit him with both his hands that wore boxing gloves. Though KA hit him, there was no bloodshed. He had fallen face down on the floor on the first hit and kept getting sunken in with more hits on his back.

KA came walking in this pose towards me and wore the white Shohoku uniform instead of the red, and instead of the ball had two white gloves worn in both his hands, and the blue jersey was absent.

After a while of the above vision, I saw:

10. Ranbir Kapoor Says, 'Bhaag Jao'

Vision (~11: 15): I saw the upper half of RK appear in a dark background. He was dressed in a skyblue full-sleeved shirt and had a clean-shaven face with a slim but chubby figure and a bag carried around both his shoulders as he handed me a pamphlet and said, "Bhaag Jao." ("Run Away.") The pamphlet was in the shape of a rectangle smaller than an A4 sheet and seemed like a ticket to somewhere.

I think he was giving the ticket to Heaven through the Blood of Jesus Christ and suggesting the person in front to leave or run away' from the wicked system of the matrix.

'Hasten, my beloved..'

This was repeated in my Spirit a few times intermittently when I woke up this morning.

2. 'Neo, the matrix has you.'

(Glory, the matrix has you.)

'Wake up.'

3. 'If I Had to Choose One to Keep.'

I ended up concluding that I couldn't mentally let go of any godly person God brought in my life through His revelations, for all were pure-hearted and their feet didn't rush to do evil. I crave the company of righteous people and want to be mentally connected to them.

Later I realized that if the opposite question was asked - if there was someone I had to choose to discard - I had an immediate answer - The Bully! By 'discard', I implied removing him from 'my' life's vicinity and 'leaving' him in the Hands of God.

4. The Games Never Stop

These two girls came to see my room as one seat is vacant to be occupied. But they came as messengers. So deplorable and disgusting! It was hard to stand in their presence! How does it matter how one dresses if one's actions have already shown one's filthy inner self? The healthier girl dressed in a way to reflect my personality and the leaner girl dressed to reflect what was not true about the person she was reflecting about. I stopped myself from shouting at those girls and telling them to get lost though I felt a strong urge to shout at them! I might as well have slapped them and pushed them while telling them to get lost! Everyone seems to have lost their functional conscience!

5. Everything About Them Stinks!

This is how it seems at times when I look at all they've done. But then I look at some of the revelations given by God and my own observations and it settles down my heart and I forgive and let go. But their hurtful actions only make me want to stay away from them (Death Conqueror and the wicked Gang). I want to be around pure people who harbour pure thoughts, and not those of hurting the innocent.

6. Senthil Kumar Tears Up a Page Into Small Bits

Senthil Kumar is a Christian who teaches in my dept.

Vision (yesterday): I saw the back of Senthil Kumar wearing a grey T-shirt with a black alphabetical print on it, and sitting on a chair along with some other people in a circle in my room beside the yellow wall where the bed was missing. The vision focused on him alone as he tore up a piece of printed paper in tiny bits that he held between his fingers. The view was seen from some distance above the people. He kept tearing up and making the bits even tinier.

Shortly after I wrote the above vision, I actually tore up Page 111 from the print and tore it in small pieces though not as small as the vision because I was in a hurry to throw the page.

7. Even The Vision on Page 111 Shows His Sense of Superiority

In that vision, the abuser looked 'down' at me while sitting on a throne with a crown, being at a level above. He was 'pleased' while looking at me when I was suffering! He deserves only whores who give their bodies to criminals for the sole pleasure of it, not caring who they are on the inside. He doesn’t deserve a woman of God!

8. Vision of Ghewar

I was working on my laptop for the past hour when I had the vision of Ghewar in my Spirit. I didn't want to have it for I had decided firmly in my heart to not eat until I was told otherwise. The vision repeated itself a few times, but I ignored it. I didn't want to be tempted. I continued working after a while of which I saw a hand putting a piece of Ghewar in my mouth which told me that I 'had' to eat it. While surfing online through the places that sold the item, I got to know that it was the season of Ghewar.

9. Tujhe Na Dekhu To Chain Mujhe Ata Nahi Hai

'Without watching you, I don't find relief'

Tujhe Na Dekhu To Chain Mujhe Ata Nahi Hai	Without watching you, I don't find relief
Ek tere Siwa Koi Aur Mujhe Bhata Nahi Hai	Besides you none else soothes my heart
Kahin Mujhe Pyaar Hua To Nahi Hai..	Is it so that I've fallen in love..
Kahin Mujhe Pyaar Hua To Nahi Hai..	Is it so that I've fallen in love..

The Chorus of This song was playing in my Spirit a while back.

10. I Want To Be Fully Committed To Jesus

I was feeling such a burning desire in me for the same that I decided that I was not going to eat anything and it came from deep within and not as a compulsion. Even when I had the vision of Ghewar I didn't want to eat it, but then I guess God is rewarding me for my heart state towards Him for He put it in my mouth in the final vision. The vision was so unexpected. I knew that He wasn't going to stop until I had it. He's my reward at the end of all this suffering. He's the reward of all my brothers and sisters in Christ. He's so worth suffering for, and He's so perfect and without sin and deception.

I woke up with these song lyrics playing in my Spirit:

1. Aa Pavitra Aatma.. Come, Holy Spirit

Aa Pavitra Aatma.. Come, Holy Spirit
Aa Pavitra Aatma.. Come, Holy Spirit

It reminded me of going to church and I sat up with a jolt to see the time.

2. When I Kicked Jesus (and Glory)

At times during the past year, when I would think about the vision that I had on the roof of A-16, in which Jesus was sitting on his feet with folded knees with a bouquet of colorful flowers in His hands, I would often have a follow-up vision of me kicking Him away below his chin – as if I was rejecting Him. This made me ponder about my heart condition because I wasn't really doing that and neither did I want to reject Him for He was my Creator and I had been following in my capacity what He showed me and I SO SO wanted to be with Him. Then why was what was shown, shown? It was a delight to see this expression of His love and I was touched by it. My behavior in the follow-up vision didn't make any sense to me. And at times, in conjunction with this kicking away vision would follow up the vision of me kicking Glory away as well in the proposal part of the dream in which he sat on the ground like Jesus but with a bouquet of red roses. The vision of me kicking them away below their chins would keep getting repeated to me. But I wasn't really rejecting him or Jesus in my own perception, because to follow Jesus is what I've wanted since I started following Him.

But last night when I recalled that vision of Jesus with a bouquet, I didn't kick him away but fell down straight on Him laying Him on the ground.

Last night was also the night when I became so serious about my walk and commitment towards Jesus that it was shown that I tore outward away my chest out of my strong desire to follow Him wholeheartedly as I decided that I was not going to eat anything. And I meant it with all my heart. I said to Him that I wanted to be fully committed to Him and not be tempted by these useless temptations for I wanted my love for Him to be pure and refined. The act of not eating was no longer an act of 'not eating' but an act of staying committed to Jesus. And I wanted to follow in His Will.

I also thought about the way Peter died - crucified upside down on a cross and the way Isaiah supposedly died - sawn in half with a wooden saw. I felt Jesus saying to me, "Look at how Peter died." (How they all loved him.) Comparing my actions and fears with the actions and conduct of the disciples also brings to light my own shortcomings.

At times I thought if this passive stalking and camera situation weren't present and I was free like before, I would've had time and opportunity to build a strong bond with Jesus after which I could've been put under the stress of persecution. But I was put under stress 'before' I came to Him and amid pain and bouts of confusion, I had to build and strengthen my bond with Him. It was more difficult than if I have had enough time to strengthen my bond with Him to a great extent first before setting out in His Will – a test of our bond and my love for Him. But I've somehow circumstantially managed to learn what otherwise seems to me very difficult to do.

3. Jesus Gets Slapped.

Vision (a few days back): I saw the face of Jesus in front of me getting slapped by a hand. But He stands quiet without a change in His expression. I thought that that couldn't be me who was slapping Him, but I guess He was setting an e.g. for His disciples to follow in the countenance one's supposed to maintain on Earth when slapped by the serpent race.

4. Jesus Slaps Me

I was writing something about Death Conqueror related to my experience and suffering because of Him when I saw a huge Jesus standing at my left slapping my face once, dressed in his white tunic and a grey drape.

5. Mayank Slaps Me

While writing about how my time in the dept would've been different with a different progression of events with Mayank in the absence of abusers, I saw a close vision of him immediately slap my face.

6. Dream (yesterday morning):

I am in a hall with some people. Looks like an orientation program or a classroom. My dad shares with me an art activity with wooden sticks and peacock feathers that he's going to do in his play school. He repeats it in front of my eyes many times at different places – in the back corner of the hall we were in previously, then in the corridor of my dept as well where he is standing near the gate that lies at the right end of the HOD office. The small feathers have to be vertically joined with the sticks. Towards the end, in response to me asking him how was he going to do it, he tells me that it's quite easy to do.

7. Dream (this morning):

Trip to Shimla:

A dog in the figure of a human is making slow contemporary dance moves and while doing so, he transforms into a human. The event gets repeated 2-3 times.

I am now in a place walking with some people, and apparently, I've to now learn pure Hindi with its difficult words.

8. Saraswati Ye Tera Ghar Hai Mera Ghar

I had this song's chorus play in my Spirit when I was at home and cleaning one morning.

The Guy Sings:

Saraswati Ye Tera Ghar Hai Mera Ghar..	Saraswati, this home of yours is mine..
Nahi Nahi Ye Tera Ghar Hai Mera Ghar..	It's not your home. It's my home..

You see, our bodies that are our houses, once taken over by the Holy Spirit are no longer our houses but that of Spirit of God.

9. A Naked RS Stretches Himself Into The Sky

Vision (day before yesterday, while walking outside at night): I saw the long and narrow naked back of a huge RS stretch itself out of my chest like a genie as he stretched his body upwards with hands stretching up in the air towards the sky a few meters above me while I walked outside the PG listening to worship songs. The night before this I had seen him stretch out a few meters above while being dressed in a black & white tracksuit. But in that vision, his arms stretched outwardly upwards and he was shown as being very wide, while in this vision, he was narrow, tall, waved slightly around like a genie, and had his arms stretched in an almost straight upwards manner.

10. My Forehead Gets Stabbed Brutally

I lay on the floor when I had this vision.

Vision (yesterday): I saw a naked man standing above me as he stabbed my forehead brutally with a dagger.

11. Their Minds Are Very Different

I just realized how different their minds were than mine. I wouldn't want to do something I knew was wrong even once as it would leave a mark on my inner self. It's a sin and can't be undone once committed. But they repeat the same sin again and again and don't feel bad about it. Nothing stops them. When I know that to abuse is wrong, why will I do it even once? But they repeat it many times. And they are okay with hurting another individual if (s)he doesn't bend according to them when that person isn't obliged to 'obey' them and go along with their wicked ways. There is a problem in his brain and he's making me suffer because of it!

12. A Woman Wearing A Pink Satin Crop Coat Blouse Over Blue Trousers

Vision (few days back): I saw the top view of a woman as seen from some horizontal distance from her in which she walked to the left with her body slightly facing towards the viewer. She was wearing a light pink satin crop coat blouse over blue trousers. The vision focused on her bosom.

It reminded me of the time when Akhila asked me to click a pic of her being dressed in a satin green crop blouse over white trousers.

Even the clothes he likes are SO UNHOLY and SO UNGODLY! If I were a worldly person, I wouldn't judge the clothing of people and see them as a cultural norm while wearing what I found comfortable; but now after coming to God, the process of our sanctification begins and we leave the things we were previously used to do.

What he calls gorgeous is 'unholy' and obscene. The abuser likes clothing that highlights the female sexual parts (crop tops, half sarees etc.) while God has called us to dress modestly. (Recall: the lips to hips utterance in the Spirit)

Because he is used to watching naked and immodestly dressed women around him so he didn't have any second thoughts about the extent to which what he did could hurt someone. For him, it's normal for women to roam around naked. It's a treat to his eyes.

17:07

While resting on my bed a while back, I saw

13. The Dual Ranveer Singh Walks Towards Me

Vision (~17:00): I saw RS walking towards the viewer. The viewer's left side of him was dressed in a dull black coat over pants. That side of his face was slaty black and didn't seem like human skin either. The skin looked as if many long vertical crystals with pointed edges having a slaty blackboard texture were put together on that side. The crystals moved vertically randomly and continuously giving that side of his face a volatile, uncontrolled expression. The eyes and pupils were of the same color as the skin. It was his spiritual demonic self and was shown to have neck-length hair and a black wing at the back of the same size as him.

The viewer's right side of RS was lighter in shade (perhaps his original shade or wheatish), shorthaired, cleanshaven, and dressed in a full-sleeved white shirt tucked inside a strap pant with a light grey strap running over the shirt. This side wore a metallic silver-colored eye mask on the eye at that face's side. It had a stable, calm, and peaceful expression with a white wing at the back. He walked openly on the road in swag toward the viewer. His wings looked so awesome in shape.

It reminded me of the dream in which I saw Death Conqueror standing in front of me in a white tunic with two different eyes. The eye at the viewer's left side had a red sclera with a black iris and had volatile expressions with no stability, while the eye on the viewer's right side had a blue iris over a white sclera, and it has a calm, peaceful, and stable expression (Page 106).

But the angelic side of RS was so well-depicted by the Holy Spirit. I don't think there can be a better representation. It was not just the eye that was shown as angelic but the entire half of the body with a white wing at the back.

You see, everyone who was born in a flesh body in the matrix is dual or divided within. But not everyone is led completely by their demonic side. People use their God-given conscience to lead them and not let the demonic half go unruled. But Death Conqueror has his evil side more out of control than the rest making him commit the crimes/sins he does, but he thinks it makes him someone great and powerful.

In their present conditions, both RS and Death Conqueror will be subject to God's judgment because God's vengeance is going to be taken over this 'system of good and evil' where the good is yolked together with the bad. The system calls for God's judgment and vengeance. Better to reconcile the two parts before one's death, or one's doomed forever to Hell. The two parts are reconciled through Jesus's sacrificial blood that pays for sins and reconciles the two parts when one accepts the Most High Creator as one's Lord instead of the fallen angels that started the matrix.

14. The Matrix - The Blob of Sin and Instability

The matrix was created by the rebellious fallen angels who rejected God's government and wanted to form their own system that they could govern outside of God's Holiness or moral laws - the kind of system people like Death Conqueror and Awadhesh Prasad love.

If one was to use some other term instead of angels, say, intelligence that exists outside the physical realm, it would perhaps seem easier to believe for a limited human mind that such an entity created the system it sees. It's easy for us to think that a greater consciousness created us but hard to believe in the existence of God and angels, for we've now experimental proof that consciousness is separate from the body. What we understand and believe in depends on what we currently know, and that is changing continuously. 100 years from now, people will find it easier to believe in things we can't accept today. For humans existing thousands of years back, other things that come across as normal to us were hard to believe.

Our brains as humans are imprisoned by earthly culture, what's being told to us by outside sources, and our sensory perceptions. We don't like to believe in things unless we have proof or see it with our own eyes. Some people are so enmeshed in the matrix that even if the truth was blatantly 'shown' to them, their minds will reject it and want to return to the normalcy of their lives in the matrix. We've to open our minds and remove the earthly filter from in front of our eyes to see the truth of who we really are and what the system really is.

For the past few days, the matrix's reality has been so so apparent and evident in front of my eyes that I can no longer accept this unstable intermediary blob as my home. Imagine an ideal system (IS) and an unstable system (US). IS is ideal, eternal, and will exist forever. Now, from this system are taken out conscious entities and put into US where they're 'coated' with physical flesh bodies to partake. The entities were not originally made for US, so they've to undergo a change in 'character' to be sustained in it. But once they change, the process of their degradation begins taking them further away from their initial states. The process ends at them changing into something that can neither go back to IS nor can be sustained in the matrix forever - the demon locust that's formed at the end of the transmutation process of an angel.

The end of the human race would be marked by a separation of people within the US - those who took the ticket back to IS, and those who chose the temporary unstable system of the matrix, being blinded by it. The people with the 'ticket' or solution will have their character changed into its previous state consistent with IS, while those who rejected IS and chose the sinful blob will be judged along with the devil and the fallen angels. It's quite scientific when looked at with an open and expanded mind.

15. The Journey of RS

RS was a glorified angelic being previously – before he chose to enter the matrix.

The male and female genitalia are portals through which spiritual doorways are opened for angels to assume a flesh body in the matrix. Two angels already trapped in the flesh bodies (his parents) used their outer coverings to open the spiritual doorway to have an angel get entrapped in a body - that angel happened to be RS who entered the matrix the moment his mom's egg fertilized and he got entrapped in the embryo losing sight of the spiritual reality previously known to him. But, the moment he entered the matrix in a flesh body, he underwent a change in character and became the following.

He currently 'is' in this state though a righteous person. Death Conqueror is not righteous though he too is in this state.

People can enter the matrix in a flesh body only in this state – the process being quite procedural and scientific and not something said randomly.

In the case of Death Conqueror, his devil hand holds his angelic hand from taking the reins instead of the situation shown in the picture above, so he doesn't take righteous decisions all the time and leads his life in utter sin without caring about the nature of things he does because he is too enmeshed in the matrix and only thinks in its terms and will be ready to do a sinful thing if he sees it can be sustained in the matrix, not caring if it's right or wrong. His devil part has got the better of him.

If you die in this state, you go to the pit/Hell because you can't go back to the Ideal system you came from. You have a load of sin on your head - an unwanted accumulation that must be cleaned before you enter a clean system. Say you clean one part, but leave the rest, that thing still isn't suited for a system where no uncleanness lies. So, though you've your good works done with a pure heart, you have that demonic part in your spiritual constitution too that added to your load of sin in various different ways, some even unknown to you.

So, how do you get out of the matrix and get back to the IS?

You admit to the Lord God that you made a mistake by choosing to partake in the matrix. You ask Him to let you in back with Him again in His kingdom. You already know that only 'He' can convert you back to the glorified angelic state and that it's not in your own capacity. You know that you're entrapped in the dual state and you can't correct it. You can only surrender to Him and accept His Ideal System of which He is the King and reject the matrix in which everyone chooses to be their own kings or queens or make something else their God. You accept your Creator as your God instead of someone or something else of this world.

Now lies your life's accumulation of sins that needs to be paid for. Who will do that? Your good works can't.

You accept God's free gift of your sins' payment - another term for salvation. You understand that you couldn't in your own capacity have ever paid your sin debt, no matter how small or large. You accept the sacrifice of Jesus as the payment for your sins. He was perfect in all His ways, therefore making a perfect sacrifice in exchange for our sins and bestowing on us His righteousness, making us perfect in His eyes.

After you've done this, He gives you His Spirit from the IS to dwell inside your body and keep you connected to Him, for now – you are no longer your own but His. You've been bought with a huge price - His Holy Blood. After receiving His Spirit, you follow what it tells you for it is guiding you in His Will - the Will of your Creator.

At the end of your fleshly life in the matrix, you die with your salvation intact with the promise of the Kingdom of Heaven - the Ideal System.

When God raises you up in your new glorified body, you'll be like an angel who will live in a perfect system for eternity with God and your fellow angelic brethren (me and KA).

16. My Head Has Wavy Motions All Over It

Psycho-somatic Dream-Vision (7th July): I touch my head at different places and feel wavy motions below a soft layer. My skull doesn't feel hard but I feel something moving all over inside as if many tiny things are moving in a wavy manner inside my rubbery shell of a skull.

17. Shahid Kapoor Works On His Desk

I had this vision after the dual-state vision of RS (#13 on this Page) when I lay in bed.

Vision (A-10, Evening, after the RS vision of dual state): I saw Shahid Kapoor above my chest as he tore something apart on top of it following which he immediately floated away behind a desk where he sat on a chair in front of a wall and worked something out seriously shuffling through pages. He had a bearded face and was dressed in a black round-neck sweater with the collar of his white shirt visible at the top. As I observed him, after a few seconds it seemed as if he was doing some artwork on a page, while at other times he kept working on his desk with the serious expression of an artist.

Other revelations that I had related to Shahid Kapoor were two scenes with Sonakshi Sinha that were highlighted to me many months back from his movie Rajkumar.

17.1 'Vo Trailer Sirf Tere Liye Tha'

'The Trailer was Exclusively Meant for You'

This scene in which the heroine tells the hero that the trailer was exclusively for him referring to the incident where he had happened to see her topless while she was changing clothes in her home. Following this, the hero inverts the vertically folded sheet of newspaper that he carried in his hand and drops down the snack contained inside it.

The female stanza and this specific scene from the song were highlighted to me as well.

Vision (A-10, night): I scratch an X on the face of Judas from the matrix whenever he says, 'I want food'! I then pray for the Spirit of Judas to get lost in the name of Jesus and he quickly sprints away! Whenever I feel like eating something, I see the vision of Judas from the movie The Matrix in front of me which makes me angry. I don't want to betray Jesus because of meaningless 'food' in the meaningless matrix!

After a while of fighting temptations and telling Judas to get lost while scratching his face, I saw:

18.2 Neo Blinded

Vision: The blindfolded tilted face of Neo lying on the metallic floor after having lost his eyesight towards the end of the movie The Matrix Revolutions. The view resembled the scene below but wasn't quite exactly this.

Death Conqueror is an insult to Love! A very filthy stain on the holy cloth of love.

While I was looking for the blinded Neo scene, I happened to watch a different video from the movie that had a scene resembling the vision in which Jesus was lit internally with yellow light ('An Internally Lit Jesus' - #1 on Page 427).

18.3 Neo Lits Internally

Ref: Matrix Revolution _ Neo vs Smith final full fight Part 3/3

18.4 RS Swings With A Heart In His Hands

Vision (Roof of A-10, Night): I saw Ranveer Singh standing in front of me about a meter away with a huge red heart in his hand with which he swung along with his shoulders to the sides in synchrony with the worship song I was listening to at the moment.

18.5 Shahid Kapoor Stretches Up And Worships

Vision (Roof of A-10, Night): I saw Shahid Kapoor standing at about 2 meters in front of me dressed in the clothes of his previous vision this evening. His body stretched and extended upwards with his hands lifted up towards the sky as he looked above in worship and moved his hands and upper body sideways in synchrony with the worship song I was listening to at the moment.

19. What Do I Really Want?

I want to take them with me to Heaven. If I live a good life or suffer brutally, but the people whom I have loved end up going to hell, both my good time and my suffering would be meaningless! I don't want my suffering to go to waste.

And as I wrote the above, I saw the vision of RS standing with his genitalia lifted by 45 degrees and shooting bullets with a jolt as he moved discreetly around in my room with each shot.

Past Revelation:

20. My Home' AC Blasts

Vision (within past two weeks at home): I saw the AC in the master bedroom of my home blast outwards into pieces.

I woke up shortly after falling asleep at night around 3:30.

When I was trying to fall asleep again, I saw:
KA lying on top of me dressed in a white shirt tucked inside black pants and we were in the act of intercourse though fully dressed and we weren't moving. We seemed to be resting quietly in that position waiting to fall asleep.

1. Dream and Dream-Visions (Morning):

1.1 Slicing a Green Chilli
Green Chilli Split in half with its white seeds spread uniformly on both sides.

1.2 Himanshu and the dark streets:
He leaves us at night and is trying to evade us. He comes driving in an open Jeep from a street to my left at night but turns back after seeing me and Mom standing together. We previously had got to know from him the last time we met him on the road that he had found a job.

I wake up with the phrase in my Spirit, "Didi mein yaha pe wait kar raha hu." ("Sis I'm waiting here.")

I woke up after this and fell asleep again.

1.3 The Way To Home In My Hometown
A man says, 'I feel funky'. A zoomed-in vision of his right eye is shown and I see a white worm stuck inside the cornea of his eye. The worm is moving and can neither get in nor move out. The man pulls it out with a spatula and looks at it. This part of the dream repeated many times throughout - at least 3 times.

I've reached somewhere and after collecting my luggage that I see was carried in buses for all people, I place it along the inner wall of the building of height about 2 meters or so. I have my large sky-blue trolley bag and a small navy blue shoulder bag with a white zip which I place on top of it. I then go upstairs. It's my home. After a while of being upstairs at my home, I take the escalator downstairs. It looks like a Metro's exit. I look for my key to get my luggage which is locked in a part inside of a bus. I can't find it. I ask a man sitting on an elevated surface to the right of the escalator if I can quickly go upstairs and get my keys without having to go through the security check process again. He throws down a key at me and says it might work. I take it to a man who's sitting down in his set-up in a square hole in a wall but then I remember that I had my luggage out already. I walk back outside in the open, collect my luggage and exit the station's door.

On exiting and walking forward a few steps, I see a short-heighted dark, and obese man sitting with others on the ground in front of a shop along with others to my left. On me seeing him, he stands up and comes walking to me in swag. He has two separated blobs at the chest and a belly bulging forward out of the thin skyblue t-shirt he is wearing over blue pants. When he reaches near me, he says, "I am your dad." and walks away to my right. I continue on my path alone. I reach the crossroad of my hometown, to the left of which is 'Dilkash Beauty Parlor' and to the right is PHC while in front of me is the road to my home through the market. There's a lot of traffic there. It seems to be red light as the traffic is at halt (thought there were no traffic lights in that place as they were not needed). I begin crossing the road but the traffic has now started moving. While walking I seem to be in a very good mood as I sing one of my favourite Westlife songs. I sing it with no inhibition facing to the right into the ears of people traveling on two-wheelers on that side. I find it hard to stop as I am too elated. I move forward and Shane Filan from Westlife musical band dressed in a shiny grey suit comes walking from the left while looking at me with a teethfull smile and stops. He has slightly separated teeth with a dark brownish plaque accumulation between them and the dream then ends.

2. "Tera Rachne Wala Tujhpar Rakhta Hai Apni Nazar"

"Your maker, on you, keeps His eye."

I woke up with this lyric playing in my Spirit. I already was aware of this fact but listening to this in my Spirit was a great comfort as it told me that God was watching over me so that I don't falter. Also, it would be a message to those who think that keeping watch over a person and taking care of his/her steps don't count as Love.

Past Revelation (for the past few days):

3. 'Hamse Panga Mat Lena Mere Yaar'

'Don't take a fight with us, My Friend'

This lyric from the Pepsi song has been being being highlighted to me in the Spirit for the past few 3-4 days.

4. The Dusky Dark RS and The Wheatish Woman

Vision (past half an hour): I saw the dusky (darker than wheatish) complexioned naked upper half of a bearded RS with neck-length hair with the naked back of a wheatish woman facing the viewer as she kissed him and took him down slowly out of the vision. The vision repeated itself a few times.

5. Veera Wants to Play All The Time

The tiny 7-year-old girl Veera used to bang at my door first thing in the morning as she came with her toys and wanted to play. She never got tired and could play for hours. And when I had to do my work, I could tell that she didn't like it though she didn't say anything. I would often give her something to keep her occupied while I worked as I had my PhD work to do and other things that I had to read, but she wanted my 'complete' attention not receiving which she used to become restless and said, "Didi aap khel nahi rahe." ("Didi you're not playing.")

I played with her for hours every day. She would loudly knock at my door with all her might every morning. Her knock was distinctive of her! She also made a TikTok video with me that made fun of her own self which made me think how pure and sweet of her it was. With a pure heart, she came to me every day, without any malice. Once she asked me to lift her up in one arm, walk some distance in my room, and ask the different things that she wanted to eat that she told me to ask her. One day while I sat beside her on my bed being busy in something, she was trying to hold my hand putting her tiny fingers through mine. I was noticing her silently for I knew that if I moved or reacted, she would pull her hand away from me. And she was a pure 7-year-old child. Her act of holding my hand held unmatched importance. After a while, she suggested listening to 'emotional songs' ("Emotional songs sunte hai" - "let's listen to emotional songs"). I was surprised at such insight coming from a 7-year-old. We used to play 'Tiles Hop' game on our phones together on the same song.

Yet another day, she barged in my room with a blue ballpoint pen vertically lifted in her hand, walked straight up to me, and extending it to me said, "Didi, Ye lo Pen." ('Didi, take this pen'). The pure look in her eyes as she looked at me from below with head lifted high told me that she really really really wanted to give it to me. No deception.

It was way back during late 2019/early 2020 during my time in Veera PG (E-7 in Vijay Nagar).

But this day while talking on the phone with her dad, she suddenly started crying while she said, "Papa didi khelti nahi hai. Vo to bas baith ke apna KAAM karti hai!" ("Papa, Didi doesn't play. She only sits and does her work!") She stressed loudly at the word 'kaam' and by the time she had reached that part of the sentence, her voice was coarse and heavy and she had started crying. When I heard her voice from my room, I went to their PG's office at some distance ahead to the right and saw her crying out bitterly while her grandparents sat teary-eyed. She kept crying out loud afterward and did so for perhaps an hour. She was inconsolable and didn't stop though everyone was trying to soothe her down. I cried because of this incident a lot afterwards. I used to play with her for hours every day and only took a break when I got tired and couldn't continue or had to work for a while for a change but she was always energy-filled. Yet, she felt rejected though she stayed in my room most of the time during the day.

After she stopped crying, she stopped talking to me as well. The next day she didn't come to my room at her usual playtime. So, I went outside and found her sitting on a chair in front of the office. I asked her if she wanted to play Tiles Hop. She wasn't talking or responding to me in her usual way and was mostly silent. I could tell that I had given pain to her little 7-year-old brain without intending to. I asked her if she wanted to play Tiles Hop. She told me that she had deleted the app. I surmised that she had broken up with me in a sense. She downloaded the app again. I saw how despite her pain she had forgiven me and chosen to play with me. We played together afterward but it wasn't the same as before. Her granny used to come to call her so she wouldn't stay in my room for long durations. She was getting too attached to me. While previously on arriving at the PG, she had come running to me to give me a hug as she looked forward to spending her holidays with me, this time even when she had to leave for her home with her parents, she knocked at my door, and when I took a step towards her, she immediately stepped back and after a few seconds said in an innocent tone, "Mein jaa ra hu." ("I'm leaving.") Her parents had sent her to say her final goodbye to me. She was dressed all over in parrot green in a full-sleeved winter top over trousers and held in her hand her long and thick parrot green and yellow stuffed toy of a caterpillar whom she called 'Haaggu'.

6. The Mango Shake Visions: How the Same Act Can Represent Two Entirely Different Scenarios

While thinking of making a Mango milk shake in the morning, I happened to think if I was exhibiting greedy tendencies like Judas who kept complaining about reality but wanted to enjoy the false pleasures of the matrix betraying his friends who had been saved out of the matrix.

We've to keep a check on our character or inner selves to see if there are any negative changes. And though I had decided to not have food, I could still carry the greedy heart of Judas. I was imagining Judas sitting on my bed with a glass of Mango shake and looking greedily forward to the constrained pleasure it would give him while he wanted more but couldn't. I didn't want to have such an inner inclination. And the fact that I was evaluating myself told me that there could be a problem inside me that I was bypassing, not being able to see it because of the blind spots in my perception caused by my suffering. But then my imagination was replaced by the vision of Neo sitting on the bed with a calm expression as he put the glass on the side. He looked content and peaceful and enjoyed the Mango Shake knowing that it was his portion and the will of God for him. He too enjoyed it but didn’t have the greedy heart like Judas the betrayer.

Neo didn't want something more than he had already had in his hand but knew that what he had was what was meant for him.

The Guy sings:
Stanza 1:
All that I want in my life
Is the feeling of peace
Deep within me truly..

I took a chance, I let go
I promised myself
That it wouldn't scare me

Pre-Chorus:
Miracles appear, I know
Now I can see it show

Chorus:
'Cause I found out what I dreamt of
And I looked it up.
At this very moment,
What I want is what I've got..
Found out what was missing
And I looked it up.
And at this very moment
What I want is what I've got..

Later while having tea in the evening, I thought that if I was really serious about getting a flat belly, I wouldn't be having that tea for it had a lot of sugar (and at times I forget that I should be avoiding some things). I would consider all my choices and not just focus alone on the 'No More Eating' part.

More than others, we have to evaluate our own inner selves.

7. Slaty Black Crystal RS with Volatile Expressions In The Act

Vision: I saw an RS without human skin but having a surface that seemed to be formed by putting together black slaty vertical crystals that slid against each other even when he didn't move. It was his full undressed demon form without the wing. Even his neck-length hair had the same texture as his skin and his eyes the same color as well. In the dual RS vision, while his demon half had a wide open circular eye, his angelic half had a vertically narrower eye covered with a silver wing.

When I look at the dual-eyed vision of Death Conqueror, his demon eye was bigger, round, and wide open with a continuously volatile look, while his angel eye was vertically narrower and stretched horizontally in the curved shape of a wing around the outer end.

The Guys sing:
On angel's wings.. an angelical formation
Angel's wings.. like letters in the sky
Now I know. . . no matter what the question
That love is the answer
It's written on angel's wings.

From <https://genius.com/Westlife-angels-wings-lyrics>

Ref: Angel's Wings by Westlife (w/ lyrics)

By far, I've seen the dual character state of three people in the following order: Death Conqueror (late 2021/Early 2022), Kartik Aryan (May 2023) and Ranveer Singh (yesterday).

When I recall the look in Glory's eyes in the Laptop repair shop, it already resembled that of a winged angel. His eyes carried a stable, calm, and peaceful look as they blinked slowly. But recalling the look in Death Conqueror's eyes when I found him sitting outside in the hall on the steel chair of MSB in the physics dept - it seemed multilayered to me as if the personas were constantly changing. His eyes were wide open and I saw a subtle volatility and there was no stability inside. It was back during the winter of 2019. I had momentarily happened to look at him as he was sitting right in front of me at the far end of the hall making it easier for him to be in my field of view if I looked forward. He was looking at me with eyes wide open. I immediately turned my face away from him and he imitated me with a brief annoyed expression. I saw through him long back, even when I didn't know the dual-state spiritual reality of the system. That look in his eyes alone was what repelled me for it gave me a window into his inner self and the difference in how he thought and how he presented himself to others. He had come dressed fully in black - a black jacket over black pants and black shoes. Though his clothing sense seemed attractive, the look in his eyes gave his inner self away and served as a 'head turner'.

My dad too had this volatile look in his eyes that were round and red as he talked to my mom and Himanshu when I was at home. He seemed to be driven by his demonic self while standing outside the kitchen when I was siding with my mom and speaking for her because he had said something insulting. His demonic part doesn't like me going to church.

Coming back to the vision of this section, the slaty crystal RS was lying on top of a woman on my bed with their heads towards the balcony door. I saw their upper halves in the vision as a third person - a fly against the wall beside the bed. His slaty crystal back was visible in the vision as he moved on top of the naked woman in intercourse. His visible left eye was wide open and didn't blink as the slaty black crystals on his face and body slid against each other.

8. The Loving Maned Lion With a Soft Paw

Vision (Evening): I saw a lion walk on top of a woman lying on my bed. This woman this time facing the room's entry door instead of the balcony door. The lion climbed and rested on top of the woman and started licking her face as I observed them as a third person - again, much like a fly on the wall beside the bed. The lion moved his right paw up against the lady's right cheek in love. His paw didn't look threatening at all but very much soft and in control just like his conduct. He continued licking the lady's lips and face and the lady hugged him tightly locking her arms around his lion's back on top of her while rubbing his back intermittently.

9. I Crown a Dusky RS

Vision (Evening): I put a 4-6 inches high golden crown on the naked upper half of a muscular dark-complexioned RS. He has neck-length wavy hair, sideburns, and stubble.

10. The Semi-solid Tomato Soup and The Judas Vision

I ordered a tomato-basil soup from a different place at night because the previous one's had a lot of artificial color added to it as I could tell when I would gargle it out. When I opened the plastic container, I saw that it was a semi-solid soup with leaves, some pieces of pasta, and solid tomato puree inside. I was unsure of having it. They had also given roasted square bread separately. I thought that I could have it as communion and that it wasn't too heavy either. So, it wasn't like I was overloading myself with food and partaking in the sin of gluttony. But then I have also been thinking for the past few days that if my motive behind having communion was to have that 'thing' instead of making it about Jesus, then the communion wouldn't be said to be done with a right heart. Did I want to have communion to 'eat' that tasty thing, or did I want to have it to honor Jesus and His sacrifice? I saw that I thought both ways - it was partly about the piece of bread, and partly about Jesus. I was unsure if I should consume that soup. But then I reasoned that having it once won't do any harm for I have already ordered it and it's not a lot either.

When I started having it, I saw the part from the movie The Matrix in which Judas the Betrayer is sitting in an expensive restaurant and saying, "And I want a good/big home, be rich (etc etc).." He had already made a deal with Agent Smith and was making known his other demands.

Vision (night): Judas sits on the chair in the expensive restaurant from the matrix with the food table at the front and a glass of wine in his hand as he says, "And I want a good home.. A good job/money.. (etc..)".

I wasn't thinking any of those thoughts while having my soup and they are not what I want either! But according to the Holy Spirit, moving aside from one's set path once or by a small amount leads the way to greater ways of leaving the path. The Spirit was showing me that if I had no problem eating when I was told not to, though it may be a small amount, the next thing I would want was other pleasures of the matrix like Judas the betrayer wanted! Well, I wouldn't want a big home, but rather a stable life and a normal home. I loved sitting alone and working out my ideas or creating something artistic in my isolated space. I found peace in those moments. My present home looks good enough to me as well and even so my small PG room. But finding stability in mediocre materialistic things is also equivalent to making a deal with the agents of the matrix that reward your senses for putting aside the truth and the ways of God.

The vision kept repeating itself while I ate. I finished my soup nevertheless. I saw how God corrected me patiently and knew what I would need to 'see' to bring about a change in me.

Looking at the Judas' vision opened my eyes to how I wasn't supposed to expect a stable life in a home like the faithful members in The Matrix didn't expect. They lived outside in reality and ate the protein-rich tasteless food but they didn't desire things from the matrix because they knew it was all fake. I already knew all this but it's in the decision-making moments that the shortcomings of our fallen nature are brought openly to light. I compared my present state with my previous sense of being faithful (from 4-5 years back) and saw a stark difference. I had become compromising and let my own behavior go. Now that I've faced deception from all fronts, I no longer expect anything from the matrix. Even a good career or a stable job is not what you need if you don't have God your Maker who is your ticket out of the system (Recall: Ranbir Kapoor handing out a ticket to the viewer warily saying the phrase 'Bhaag Jao').

I'm so grateful that the Holy Spirit corrects me and highlights to me the places I need to work in my brain.
My mom and youngest brother, they're just too much into the matrix with their minds so constricted that it becomes hard for me to be with them as I see them living in the dark, and then they call me crazy.

11. RS & The Sitting Bride

Highlighted in The Spirit: This ad in which RS stands facing to the left with a bride sitting on a chair looking up at him as he wipes away a tear from her face and tells her to not cry for her makeup will get ruined, has been being highlighted to me for the past few days. I had come across this ad last year on YouTube.

12. My Written Testimony is Getting Too Big

So, I was thinking I may start recording a part of it online as a record like my fellow brothers and sisters do. I will see. But I should do at least one video that records how I came to Christ - the events and revelations that led me to the Creator God and revealed the truth of the fallen angels serving as gods of the fallen system called Earth.

I should've one testimony video that tells about God secured me out from the lost crowd.

1. The Demonic Attack Last Night

It was past midnight and I lay on my bed to sleep. As I was falling asleep, I felt an oppression in the air and a sudden fear also gripped me. I thought of sleeping with the lights on. My eyes were open but I was constricted in my movements. I was trying to move my right hand but couldn't. If I tried to move, I felt a constrictive oppression. Also, though I could feel that my right hand was near my head – I couldn't see it. I moved it a few times with my eyes open but saw nothing. It should have been there. While doing this I was also very sleepy. The thought of falling asleep in this manner itself crossed my mind, and when I set myself loose to freely fall asleep I still felt oppression. By this time, I was sure that I had to turn on the lights and take a look around before sleeping. I lifted my hand with great effort but couldn't see it above me. I forcibly started waving my arm above me and saw nothing but a black outline around the part near my fingers with the rest of my forearm missing which was accompanied by a collective high-pitched sound resembling that of pigs coming from the centre of my chest. It was a demonic attack and that was the sound of demons as I resisted them. Amidst that spiritual oppression, with some more effort, I switched on the lights.

2. Dream (this morning):

I walk up some open-ended stairs along a wall into what looks like a showroom. I walk towards the counter with a boxy glass table and look down into the glass table. There are some square white pieces of paper with something on them. I briefly talk with the guy at the counter, walk away and take a round of the place. I now walk into an open space. There are some small rectangular leafy and lined notebooks around one of which is handed to me. It looks like the usual exam answer sheet. I go through it. There are some more people around with the answer sheet. After a while of spending time looking at the mostly blank sheet, I now move out of the zone and am on the road outside Gate No. 4 of the Science Faculty moving towards the Metro. I stop before I've reached the T-point (in front of Gate No. 3). I notice that I am in a small open navy blue jeep that looks like a toy. But there's no one beside me in the driver's seat. That person has gotten down from the car and walked away to the right for some reason. There's an exact same jeep behind me with a friend from my BSc in it. We chat for a while.

Somewhere in the middle of the dream: I come across a written page that tells how once something is achieved, people start taking all credit for it and don't glorify God. They say, "I've done it." While it was all because of God that they were able to achieve it. There were a few pages written about the same with words and phrases highlighted in magenta. The fact that there were two pages on this showed how God felt about the situation of people not giving Him glory. All these revelations that I wrote I put under the banner of vision, dream or heard in the spirit to stress the fact that they are not from me but given by the Spirit. And the thoughts that are my own can be well distinguished from the revelations by the Spirit. I was also looking online many months back for a way to give Glory or acknowledgment to God in my research paper as I had received the revelation of the form of the model's equations from the Spirit which I later worked on. But I found out that it wasn't allowed to do so. How can then these people accuse me of being prideful and taking more credit than I should when I give credit rightfully – the way things actually are? Liars always accuse and target the truth-tellers!

The dream ended with the semi-animated view of me standing in a crowd with an open grilled gate to my right behind which stood Glory dressed in the red suit with a white shirt inside from the wedding dream. As a bellied, bald, and moustached man standing in front of me touched my face with his finger briefly, the vision shifted back to Glory again outside the grilled gate. He was looking in my direction as the chorus of the Hindi song 'Ek Aisi Ladki Thi Jise Mein Pyaar Karta Tha' ('There was such a girl whom I used to love') played in the background.

3. Agents of The Matrix

People like Awadhesh Prasad, Death Conqueror and his wicked immoral pals, and even my supervisor who support and perpetuate the ways of the devil are the agents of the matrix that serve to preserve the purpose of the system - to live in ways that are anti-God.

Everyone who supports the wickedness of the system and worships the fallen angels is an agent of the matrix that contributes to the insurrection against the Most High Creator God.

4. Akhila - The Betrayer

Within the past few days, I was pondering on my time with Akhila and her behavior towards me. I saw she presented a nice persona in front of me, lied at times, and deceived also, but outside of her interactions with me, she was indulging in saying judgmental and hateful things about me, judging my inclinations and interests and who I was. Who was she to do that? And she fought over menial things like AC and fan while saying insulting things to me, things that I had said to wicked people online - she said them back to me when she got to read them. She sure has a demented sense of moral reasoning.

I found this behavior very hurtful and I knew that I couldn't trust her because no matter how she behaved on my face, she was capable of betraying me behind my back and she would never admit it or feel bad about it. She was someone I could never be friends with. If her previous roommate Akansha was so bad in her lifestyle, Akhila shouldn't had been going around backbiting about her while being nice to her face. What was the pretense all about where she was being overly nice to her and going even to meet her on different occasions while she abhorred most things about her and insulted everything about her behind her back? When I got to know she did that, I made my opinion of her and knew that she wasn't my type. And she did the same to me! She was indirectly happily suggesting that we would check out a PG together and then she said in a mean tone that I should find a 'cheaper' place this time. Who says such a thing? It would've made sense if she had rather said, "I hope you don't find a cheaper person than me as your next roommate."

Disgusting girl makes me wanna puke. Everything about her seems vain to me, and the same about the pig!

And then the dumbass said to me that I should only look at how she behaves in front of me and not what she says about me outside of our zone. Such a dumbass! Why will I do that? A normal person will look at all her behavioral aspects and then decide if she should let her in her space! She herself went around saying mean and judgmental things about me that were not even worth judging for they were godly things, but her own sin she tried to portray as something normal and wanted to keep hidden and the other person to have a blind eye towards it.

Later she started saying mean things about me to my face as well. I won't even prefer to stand with her. No matter what she says behind one's back, she acts good at the front. It all seems so fake and flaky to me – like a house built on sand.

5. God Allowed The Matrix For So Long

But one thing I've not yet been able to understand - that why did God allow the matrix to exist for such a long duration when it's so grossly sinful and worth destroying? Thousands and thousands of years since the fallen angels started the serpent race mixed with God's seed (the human race), God still allows evil in the matrix as it continues to exist. He's so patient with wickedness and sin not because He condones it but because He has His time of judgment! I guess it's much like the unfolding of a deterministic system that has a certain lifetime because of its distinctive nature. Or perhaps for God, it's not as long of a duration as it seems to us mere mortals who live the lifetime of a wildflower as perceived by His eyes. He has been so patient with wickedness so His own children won't be lost in the Matrix's maze.

I had been thinking about this for the past two days. That he could put an end to the wicked system anytime He wanted. But He let it continue, not for the wicked but for His own children who were not of the devil, to ultimately have them resurrected back to His kingdom.

6. Some More Snippets of My Time with Veera

I saw changes appearing in her behavior first when I was sitting outside the PG during the evening, and she came and stood beside me to my left. Both of us were looking at the front. She always had a shy smile around me and being around me made her happy. So, she was smiling even then. I was looking at her intermittently to keep a check on her expressions. She then looked at me and noticed a hair strand out of place on my forehead which she slowly lifted and put at its place on my head. After a while, as she looked forward, she subconsciously uttered out, "Chotta Baccha" (‘Little Child’). She had accepted herself as a little child while previously she didn't like me calling her so even when I reminded her that she was only 7 years old to which she had replied that children who were infants or 5 years old would be counted as Chotta Bacchas but not her.

During our later interactions, she would often call herself Chotta Baccha as she was once jumping around in my room making a ruckus while shouting out 'Chotta Baccha.. Chotta Baccha..'

While previously when we played, she used to keep repeating 'Do Kadam Door' ('Two Steps Away') - as was told to her by her grandparents and parents. But after she had grown comfortable and closer to me, she herself once climbed on my head as we played while I sat on my bed.

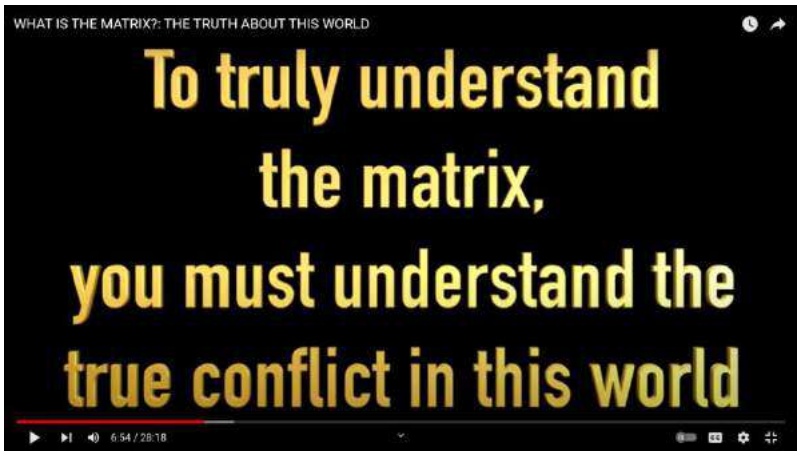
She also styled my hair and put many clips on my very short veg cut head.

She would also wait for me while I would be in the dept as was told to me by her grandparents that she was asking for me. Once when I returned from the dept and was making the return entry, I found her standing to my left, side-swinging and hitting me while she looked forward shyly with a smile and later up at me with gleaming eyes.

She once subconsciously called me Mummy because she had happened to reach that level of mental intimacy with me. I once asked her if she played with her mom, to which she replied that she played with her for only half an hour and she was mostly busy with her parlor's work. But as I observed later, she played a lot with both his parents and made many tik tok videos with them. She had just grown close and attached to me.

7. What is The Matrix?

This video explains the matrix of the world very well which is known to all true believers.



which is satan's desire to be like the Most High.

Past Revelation:

8. Kirtee Sanon and The White Dog

Vision (a few days back): I saw Kirtee Sanon standing with her knees bent, along with some other girls who stood straight. She was wearing a pink pencil skirt of 1/4th length that stretched along with her legs as she stood and walked backwards on her feet while a white dog who stood facing her near her legs followed her as she moved backwards looking at him. She seemed to be pampering the dog.

9. Dream Girl

I've been hearing this intermittently in my Spirit for a few days - being sung in the melody of the song.

10. The Eye and The Aluminium Foil

Vision (Evening): The face of Varun Dhawan floating in my right mental view in a skyblue flowy background with his eye to the viewer's left side covered with aluminium foil.

11. RS Comes Walking in a Tracksuit with a White Ball

Vision (Evening): Ranveer Singh comes walking in swag towards the viewer in the background of the Anime Slam Dunk's metallic sidewalk on the left with chairs and people present there. He is dressed in a blue tracksuit with a white fitted t-shirt inside and has neck-length hair with a beard. He is carrying a white ball held between 'his' right hand and the side-waist. When he reaches in front of me (the viewer), he bends forward extending his face towards me, places his arm with the ball on the surface at the front and with an expressionless face says an abrupt, "BHOO!".

Instead of the red uniform, he was dressed in a full blue tracksuit with its top's zip open revealing the white t-shirt inside as he walked forward in swag, and he had the ball in 'his' right hand instead of the left.

12. The Flies Inside the Skull

Vision (Evening): An average-heighted and muscular bearded actor whose name I don't know stands being dressed in a full black suit. A few seconds later, he walks to the viewer's right where is shown the face of RS. There is a cut around the forehead of RS. The actor in black lifts it up and inside are shown many black flying insects hovering above the red flesh of his brain present at the lower part of the skull slice. This part also has a slight concave depression implying that his brain is being consumed by those flies.

13. KA with a Red Bouquet with a Silver Cross

Vision (Afternoon): I saw a short-heighted KA float in from my balcony's door and lay on his side beside the wall on my bed dressed in a white shirt tucked inside black pants and carrying a red bouquet with a transparent cover held in front of his chest in his hands. The bouquet had a blurry deep red appearance at the front with a small silver cross present in the middle of the red surface. He had two red love hearts in front of his eyes and a smile on his face. The red love hearts shone and seemed to slightly beat at their places.

As he lay there with the red bouquet with no visible appearance of flowers in front of his chest, he kept uttering with breaks, "Jai Yeshu Masih" ('Praise Lord Jesus') with a smile and those red love hearts in front of his eyes. The peculiar look of the red bouquet seemed to give it an appearance of flesh and blood as the small silver cross stood out on the plain red front surface of the bouquet.

But the sight also suggested burst eyes and an open chest (which could be my future condition).

14. The Love Hearts Get Intense

Vision (a few minutes later): After a while, the vision focused on just his face which had the red love hearts on top of his eyes.
Seeing him in such a condition where he was filled with love and was saying praises to Jesus made me feel so good, not just because his heart was filled with love but also because he would be saved out of the system because of his faith.

'Mein Dhanyawaad Karta Rahunga I will keep giving thanks..
Yeshu Dhanyawaad Karta Rahunga..' Yeshu I will keep giving thanks..

'Mein Dhanyawaad Karta Rahunga I will keep giving thanks..
Yeshu Dhanyawaad Karta Rahunga..' Yeshu I will keep giving thanks..

Ref: YESHU DHANYAABAAD -MARK TRIBHUWAN

If at the expense of delay in the fulfilment of the promise of my marriage, God brings in others, and their souls get saved, the delay is worth it.

This vision of KA with the bouquet and shining intense red eyes kept repeating throughout the day, especially the vision of his face with intense red love hearts.

15. 'Guru'

I went out to do a chore, and on my way back to the PG kept hearing 'Guru' ('Guide/Teacher') in my Spirit.

16. The Song Continues to Play

The chorus of this song played in my Spirit intermittently throughout the day and reminded me of the dream's ending.

The Guy sings:

Ek aisi ladki thi jise mein pyaar karta tha..	There was such a girl whom I used to love...
Jeeta tha jiske liye..	For whom I used to live..
Jiske liye marta tha..	On whom I used to die..
Ek aisi ladki thi jise mein pyaar karta tha..	There was such a girl whom I used to love...

But I can't figure out why he has to think in this manner. Yes, things got delayed but there was God's purpose behind it. As I wrote the previous line, I saw RS slap my face once.

The guy in the song sings this song while being in prison. I think Death Conqueror could be singing this for his dumbass Dubai partner without brain and character and with a useless body of flesh. Because that's all they both are – useless pieces of flesh lacking a godly mindset. The person who wants to show their nudity to the world he covers and respects, but the one who wants to keep it separate and untouched from the world – he strips publicly. I think he got too offended by me highlighting their moral/mental inferiority leading to him attacking my head and body as I saw in those revelations. He should hurt his own head – because it's uselessly wicked!

If what he did was right, Jesus wouldn't have shown me the vision of impending vengeance that he will see. He will see the vengeance of the just Lord God whose child he stripped and abused – they all did – him and his filthy group. God rejects His wicked children who reject Him. So, though God may have shown me that he was a part of the promise made in the prophetic symbol – I can reject him from being a part of my life! I could even slap his useless family members if they tried talking to me!

Now he should drill in his brain how quickly I go back to resenting him!

2. Hanamichi and Kaede

Nidhi Rathee - my friend from BSc and MSc used to be my Anime buddy. We used to watch animes and TV series together that we both found interesting and a few happened to be our common favourites. It was back during our BSc days in the Miranda House's Hostel. One of the animes was Slam Dunk which we watched together. We agreed that she was Kaede (No. 11) – pronounced as Kiada – and I was Hanamichi (No. 10).

Kaede Rukawa from team Shohoku was unmatched in his skill. He was excellent and considered an elite of the game. He didn't miss any shots and all his moves were smooth and perfect. Likewise, she was very skilled at maths. She could do things very quickly and neatly. She didn't mess around but reached straight to the solution. Even her solution looked extremely neat with clear and minimal number of steps. She had a one-way mind. She also understood the underlying steps of a mathematical solution quicker than most people. She could go through difficult chapters in just a few hours so she also completed her exam preparations quite quicker – 4-5 chapters in 2-3 hours. While I would spend a day on one page and at times on one paragraph alone, in just an hour she could gulp in the patterns present in new info and also retain it. Very sharp and skilled, she was rightfully the Kaede of Shohoku.

Hanamichi had a lot of potential and wasn't as smooth, or perhaps he was not smooth at all in his moves. He was a newcomer in the game. But as was observed by his coach and some elites of the game, he later came out to be someone with extraordinary moves that no one else could perform. Funnily enough, he was the self-proclaimed genius of Shohoku, but his self-proclamation wasn't vain either. It was based on the truth he perhaps didn't even see inside of him but others did. Shohoku's coach saw him as a hidden gem who was unpredictable and whose potential was unknown.

While Nidhi was very quick in noticing patterns and retaining them in her memory, if I asked her a deep question that I was struggling with from what she had just read, she would laugh it away. She knew her strengths and weaknesses. She could solve an analytical problem in minutes, but she lacked in the philosophical part. When she read stuff, she was only looking at what was in front of her, but what was in front of me never seemed enough to me. It only seemed to carry a very small portion of reality the rest of which I had to figure out by myself. So, she was also able to read things in just 2 minutes that I could spend more than a day working on and still be unsatisfied as new questions always came into the picture. And I made a mess while solving problems, but could think up things and come up with ideas that she could never as they often seemed weird and unusual to her. She understood and retained new mathematics and solved problems with accuracy and neatness that I never could. So, I named her Kaede and she named me Hanamichi. Kiada was highly skilled and reliable or predictable in his performance, but Hanamichi was hidden and unique in his moves. He himself didn't know his strengths.

I used to go to her with my questions for she was smart. She once told me to find the answers by myself ("Apne questions ke answers khud dhundne chanhiye" - "One should find the answers to one's questions by oneself") She didn't have those questions, and neither did she care to know the answers to them. She thought differently and was a problem-oriented person unlike me. I could spend hours coming up with and understanding previously unknown aspects of the situation but still have the problem unsolved. The process of diving into the ocean and finding something unexpected was what made me feel satisfied instead of getting the problem solved. At times I solved it, other times I found something else I didn't previously understand that way, while she could just look at a problem and tell the way it should be solved while not wanting to take a tour around it.

I called her Kaede all the time, and at times with the character's full name Kaede Rukawa - and she called me Hanamichi Sakuragi in a teasing tone. We had many similar traits. We both were not social and didn't like social gatherings either. We didn't make friends easily because we didn't like vain talk. We couldn't have a chat that was entirely based on passing time together without a loving bond. While I could still talk to strangers in a love-filled manner listening to them though we may never meet again (given the condition that the strangers have a moral bone and are empathetic), she wouldn't even do that even if it was to be done under the context of having an empathetic talk. I found this trait of hers very attractive – that she just didn't just go around blabbering vain nonsense. When she didn't have the bone for idle talk, how could she gossip – it was completely absent in her mental construct. She was highly moral, and I never found her doing anything wrong or thinking in a way that would be immoral or hint at the presence of a willingness to make others suffer for no reason. We both had strong boundaries and approved only certain people to be present in our inner circle. She was unique in many aspects. I could tell that she was highly faithful and strict about doing the right thing in the right way. Again, it was very impressive about her. She was childish as well and didn't care what others thought of her or the way she dressed which was not glamorous at all. (Now I miss her company. She wasn't an easy person to find, and she would never stab you in your back.) The only thing II found missing in her was an uninhibited outer expression of love and kindness. Though she was loving and kind and a good person, she wasn't too open even with her friends, and if I happened to be sad because of something while she was present, she would only pat my back/shoulder lightly once or twice and say a line or two. She had all the traits of a real star person. She didn't like attention or put many photos online to project a false self for she didn't care what others thought of her. She just wanted to be in her own space and do what she liked. She had a very hard shell she kept her inner self into.

We ended up breaking up (or rather I broke up) because she had a rude part to her personality. She showed anger and made me cry for a very menial reason which wouldn't have angered me at all if I was at her place. And seeing me weep she only said with an expressionless face, "Jyada ansu bahane ki jarurat nahi hai." ("There's no need to shed a whole lot of tears") Her analytical inclination also showed up to a great extent in the way she bonded with me. After that incident, I minimized my interactions with her because more than matching Anime interests, I wanted empathetic and considerate people who don't make others cry and be unaffected while watching them in pain. Now when I look back, I see that she too was hurt as her voice got coarse asking me in shock if I was going to change my room after I informed her so. I had walked for about 1 km with her crying during our way of the hostel complex and I wept even in the carrier bus to the dept as well, but she didn't feel sorry about her mean and rude behavior.

But Nidhi was also someone who didn't care about the world and its trends. She wasn't vain but mostly godly in her thoughts though with an unusually greater tinge of hardness.

Ref: Google

I was not a hard person like her who will even show hardness to someone like me - who can't even think about abusing others for no reason. However, I have never shown softness or acceptance to abusers and evildoers! I have always rejected them and stayed away from them! They are the only kind who get to witness a fluffiness in me which they call attitude, but it's not really pride but a rejection of them and their ways. I have always been loving and accepting towards genuinely good and moral people of which there were a whole lot of 10 years back. These days all seem to be working to perpetuate the ways of the wicked and devil!

Since these wicked people came into my life, it's as if the worst type of people who don't value the good and moral things of life but only want to live for the devil polluted my life which I had kept untouched from the presence of people like Death Conqueror and Akhila. I never came across such people previously and I didn't even expect them to turn out to be this evil. I mean look at all my previous bonds. None were as wicked as these people! They just seem so bogus and vain to me. Coming across people such as him was like entering into an entirely different territory one never saw before and wasn't expecting to encounter either! Their interests- to badmouth holy things and holy people, to live a life of hypocrisy, to bully and abuse, to be worldly and vain, to gossip, to boast about their wealth to hide their stinking persona, to go to expensive restaurants with people they share shallow and unholy bonds with or those pertaining to their current affairs, to party with cheap and unholy vulgar loud music, to fornicate with multiple people, to talk about objective worldly crap which doesn't make one a better person at all. Such dumb interests and personas! That's why he's only smart in an objective way which is meaningless! He doesn't exhibit any real inner ingrained sense of godliness.

If one gives importance to godly things, one won't be able to violate them for one sees how one is putting to shame their quality. But these people live in filth all the time. Their minds are the filthy dustbins that carry the scum of the world which they talk about and be pleased with.

But then I also realize that they can't have what the people in my life had with me. Because what will they come up with? An anime character who kills and abuses others to represent him, and another character who pretends, gossips, and betrays - her persona! I pity them and who they are. They only seem dumbasses to me with dumbass interests!

The Guy sings:

Har shab nayi kahani	Every night, there's a new story..
Dilchasp hai bayaani	The narration is quite interesting..
Sadiyaa guzar gayi hai	Centuries have passed by..
Lekin na ho purani..	But it doesn't get old..

The Lady sings:

Pariyo ko jeet laye..	It wins and brings fairies
Jinno ko bhi haraye..	And defeats even Jinns..
Insaan me vo taakat	Human has that power
Sab pe kare hukumat..	that he gets to rule over everything..

Angels trapped in human bodies are won to the kingdom of God by these stories. And by the power of the blood of Christ, we get authority over demonic principalities – what is implied by the last line!

3. Don't You Understand Why It Counts As Betrayal? - You Foolish Woman

They act as if gossip is normal. But if she had a sense of bonding deeply with another person ingrained in her, she could never have been able to gossip. If one loves another individual, how can they badmouth them unjustly behind their backs! If she is pretending in front of my eyes that she has a good bond with me, but behind my back she says mean things and insults me and judges me falsely, how does it count as love and being faithful to another person in the domain that they've bonded? It is a huge lack of understanding of what counts as godly faithfulness and as ungodly companionship.

I had been looking at how I felt betrayed by her lies and gossip with which she in a way insulted our bond. If there's no bond then don't act like you've one, but if there's - don't corrupt the precepts that are to be followed with your corrupt brain!

I just hated how she acted so nice in front of me while I knew how they all talked behind my back - the situation being augmented by my privacy hack as they got more info to talk and ramble about!

Both Akhila and Death Conqueror are alike in this manner! They break the precepts of godly partnership in all domains and only walk out the shallow precept of unholy vain 'partnership'. Their undeveloped and immature brains don't presently have the capacity to see their faults for they only justify them with some foolish reason or throw more filth on top (give an ungodly reason) to cover their past filth.

Only their rich-kid egos and their genitals should be pleased, even if it is at the expense of abusing another person.

4. Mayank With Long Conical Cap

Vision (Evening): Mayank with a long orange conical cap of around 3/4th of a meter on his head tied with a string below his chin as he smiles cutely through it like a child.

I was wondering during the past week why didn't God reveal the b'day of RS to me through His Holy Spirit. I only got to know through a suggested post the next day on my browser's page which made me look it up.

5. The Doppelganger Worships

I happened to watch the video of this song that I've previously listened to and found the doppelganger of RS in it as one of the singers.

6. Jesus Hugs & Comforts Me For My Grief About Diluted Worship

About an hour back, I lay on bed after washing clothes. I was tired for today I worked out, cleaned my small room, and then washed clothes, and prior to all of it I was writing down what was highlighted to me today.

While I lay on bed, I started talking to Jesus in my heart. I shared with Him how if I was truly alone with no one watching me or observing me or listening to me, then I would be closer to Him. I could see the exact difference it would make if my privacy was intact. I know how heart filling it can be to spend time with a loved one in solitude. I shared with Him that I was missing out on that. When you play an instrument or sing or exhibit some other of your talents in general public, it becomes more about performance, though you may not want to make it about so, but still you know that people are watching you. How many of them - that I didn't know. And though you may not care about it, the fact that others are watching you when you're into what is supposed to be an intimate time spent with God - it dilutes to some extent the quality of what you could've experienced with God. I was comparing the two states in front of Jesus - the worship done privately in solitude, and the one done in the sight of unbelievers who didn't know Him and neither liked to be Holy or to be like Him, people who didn't love Him as I or other believers did. I didn't like the fact that I had to outwardly express my inner emotions for Jesus on a public platform where I was subject to judgment from a variety of people, some of whom were pure pigs in character. I was feeling sad for the same as I said all of this to Him in my heart. And then I had this vision which I saw as a third person:

Vision (Evening): In a dark background, Jesus stood with me and one more person, one on each side as the two of us faced each other. I stood to the right and the other person to the left. That other person was slim and perhaps almost of the same height as me. Jesus walked towards me, bent his upper body slightly, and covered me with His embrace. I saw it as a third person watching from the front. The vision then ended and my focus was back to being on bed, but I could feel His embrace still - His presence around me the way He had hugged me in the vision. It was so real. I at times find it very hard to fathom the extent of intimate revelations that He has given me by far. Such intimate revelations.. that display His exclusive love for me. And His love is exclusive for all His children. He understood how I felt about public worship and was comforting me!

And I also was pondering if being in public view for this long added to some fakeness in me. I was scrutinizing some of my behavior. I saw that apart from affecting the intimacy of my worship with God, it also at times ate at my inner sense of peace which I restored by talking to Jesus in my heart. And another part it affected was how I did certain things, for I now tried to be less messier in the way I did some things. But I realized that a part of that mess was caused because of my knowledge that I was being watched. If I was truly alone, I would've been fully myself without any inhibition and would be happy.

I can be happy without watching another person naked or causing them pain or trying to ruin her life in different ways, be it psychological, career-wise or physical. I don't need to do all that to be happy or to get a weird sense of relief. If I am left alone, I am happy by default! Since this pig came into my life, I have been forced to witness his ugly inner self and it gives me a lot of pain! I can spit on him 10 thousand times! So disgusting - he forced his way into my sacred space.. disgusting fellow with a filthy inside! If I start to think about all the ways I have lost the things that were of much importance to me, it would be an extremely heavy list, not because it's a long one, but because of the weight each sacred thing carried which he ruined with his filthy immoral presence! The list will only have a few ways he ruined my life - but those ways alone held the utmost importance to me! I hope and pray his earthly life gets ruined in ways that hold importance to him! - Oh yeah, the only thing that holds importance to him is to be able to play power politics and oppress others. Then I pray that he is not able to use his power to hurt others. It is so hard to believe that a person like him can live with a mindset of not wanting to cause pain to others or make them compromise in a painful way. He has to do this - it adds to his sense of superiority (a mindset straight from the devil).

If he loses his power, he won't be able to threaten or hurt others. In that case, I highly doubt that he would be content and would be able to even sleep in peace. He would be very fearful and living with a sense of insecurity without all this useless political power and money! To him, it equates his protection from his immoral acts and ways, and also serves as a license to do what's not right! He's an evil man who loves the company of fellow evil men. That's why he hangs around professors who are like him – with an abusive bone.

I highly doubt that he can stand the company of a moral man who is nowhere like him and lives in an entirely different way! That man won't accept him in his close circle, and neither would the abuser be able to witness the holiness of a man who doesn't fornicate, has a monogamous sense of commitment, fears God, is not a drug or sex addict, and who thinks of money as just what it is - something we need to survive in the system, but not as something which defines our value.

The power-abusing politician won't be able to resonate with such a person - because I too am that kind and I don't resonate with him! If he can't stand and witness the holy qualities of a high-quality man who is financially 'well covered' if not rich, then why is he assuming that I will be able to tolerate him? He is wicked and his friends are as well! I don't like their minds at all, and anything about the way they think! His entire group is wicked and floating in immorality and the filth of the world! Friends who didn't know better to advise him against this ungodly path he chose, who didn't push him to think the right way and choose the right path of God!

When I used to live in RGHG, I often spent time alone in silence listening to music. And often I would go to secluded topmost floors or sit or stand at the edge of secluded corridors and sing new melodies as I would make them. I was trying to reach my inner self that talked to me in those moments - the same self that wanted to be away from all wickedness and would rather be alone. It has been being highlighted to me for some time now. I realized that that's how I would've ideally wanted to spend time with God. But when I had that time, I didn't know God; now that I know God – I don't have privacy.

I don't even want to stand with people like Death Conqueror and Akhila, in the presence of the shallow shell of their bodies when on the inside they are so disgusting. If they were clothed with their character traits instead of their bodies, they would look very deplorable and repulsive!

He has to feel superior by making others bow down to his tactics - that's who he is! A godly person uses the way of love, but he used the way of giving pain and torment! His inner self makes me want to PUKE!

7. Nidhi Observes Me And Laughs

Nidhi stayed in the room opposite to mine on the same floor in the new hostel building of Miranda House during BSc. She stayed with Bidisha (our classmate from Assam - I would call her a 'tag' girl for I found her very worldly) while I stayed with my roommate from the sports department (she was from Haryana). I used to go to Nidhi's room to watch animes together. She had her own anime-set saved in her laptop. Besides animes, we sat together and watched Vampire Diaries as well. From that series, I learned to call Stephen in Stephen's constant as St-ah-phan instead of St-ee-phan which Bidisha often corrected me about. But to call it St-ah-phan seemed natural and more right to me than St-ee-phan. Bidisha used to watch Korean dramas and weep while doing so.

When we took admission in MSc in the Physics dept of DU in 2013, both of us shifted to RGHG as roommates. She often told me that if someone was to observe me for 10 minutes straight, (s)he would be having a good laugh for my expressions changed continuously as I used to be fully immersed in whatever I did. She used to call me a 'Namuna' (antique piece) and worthy of being put in a museum for my expressions and activities, while to me – she was one of a kind. I often caught her smiling or laughing while sneakingly looking at me and I never understood why she had to make me feel awkward. And at times, she would ask me what was it that I was thinking and when I wouldn't share or reply to her, she would say 'Btaade Btaade' ('Please tell, Please tell') in a teasing tone with a smile and would ask me 4-5 times. Often, I would give in to her attempts and share my mind while other times she gave up. But most of the times she got it out of me as she kept pressuring me and would continue even later during the day! I don't know why she was so obsessed with knowing my thoughts! It wasn't that my actions were too funny but she found them so. Her tag line used to be, "Kya baat hai… Itna mand mand kyu muskura rahe ho..!" ("Oh what's the matter. Why are you so silently and softly smiling) – which she often said teasingly with a smile and mischievous look in her eyes followed by quick repetitions of "Btaade Btaade.." a number of times until I gave in! Her way of teasing wsas very respectful. I often wished she would stop observing me! She was also from Haryana, perhaps Rohtak from what I recall. Her dad was a maths teacher. Now when I recall her persona, I see that it was very pure and morally pleasing. I wish she too joins me in the Kingdom of Heaven!

She had very strict boundaries. She once got very angry and said that she was going to slap me when I was repeatedly making the request to draw a thin and long moustache on her. It was someone's b'day and we were celebrating it in our RGHG hostel room. I just thought that she would look cute in that moustache. Perhaps it was her own b'day – I can't recall. I think it was indeed her b'day, and that's why I wanted to do that exclusively to her and not others. Others were ok with me drawing a moustache but she said she would slap me if I performed the same act on her! She could've denied in a simple way. I wasn't forcing, blackmailing, or abusing her to have my way. She could've said a simple 'no' and stressed on it if I repeated my request and I would've agreed with her. But the first thing she said was that she was going to slap me! This made me question our bond and the time we had spent together. Bidisha was there as well, and she warned me to not repeat my requests for it would lead to her getting angry and me getting hurt. But when Nidhi said that she was going to really slap me if I started drawing the moustache which I was ready to do with the marker in my hand standing close in front of her while she sat down – in that moment itself I was hurt. It was because I was showing my love to her, but she was ready to slap me for the same! This is what happens when we don't respect the boundaries of others - people get hurt. The present me wouldn't behave like that but the then me did. I didn't draw the moustache on her but went to the washroom outside and shed a tear or two because of her hurtful words before returning to the room with a sad face though I was trying to control my countenance.

8. Why Do People Do This?

If someone has to meet me, then that person should come directly and in a way that makes it very much apparent that they've come to me specifically for some reason. And they should start with a 'Hello' or 'Hi', so that there's no confusion. But I keep seeing all these messengers whom I can tell are there for not a real reason but just to make an appearance! It just doesn't make any sense! It's a distraction for they pass by looking at me. I anyway feel too suffocated by the present situation but the fact that my Maker keeps an eye on me is more relief to my soul than the pain of a wicked immoral audience watching me and attacking and eating away at my sacred space!

Also, looking at the recent revelations, Jesus didn't bring those people together with me to start a family. Look at the kind of revelations He is now giving. It was to win 'fairies' aka angels for His kingdom. He wants those people to come to Him and into His Kingdom.

The vision of the bearded RS and the lady at the golden lake showed that the lady was his favorite (comparable to Mumtaz). I also put a 4-5 inches long gold crown on his head in the vision in which he looked dark and dusky with side burns and neck-length hair.
And when I wrote the above, I saw:
8.1 The Elated RS and The High-Pitched Laughter
Vision (A-10, Night): RS standing between the two beds of my room dressed in his blue cheetah-printed suit as he quickly flipped to the other side away from me, lifted his knee, and made very quick jogging motions while laughing in a high-pitched tone. He seemed to be too elated.

9. RS Looks Away From The Tiny Me

This part of the dream (#5 The Extremely Tall RS/ Or Short Me on Page 395) in which I was very short and kept looking up at Ranveer Singh – who was looking all righteous like a policeman and was looking away from me – has been being highlighted to me for some days now. I was trying to reach his face and kiss him, and I finally managed to do so in that dream after a while of which the dream ended.

Today I found a new guy sitting outside the PG when I went out to fetch my soup order. I thought he must have recently joined the PG for he was sitting on its chair. But then he also resembled RS and was the child version of him. He had a gleaming look like that of a child in his eyes as he looked up at me which later reminded me of Veera. I didn't keep looking into his eyes because I didn't know him. Beautiful innocent eyes!..

(I like connection, not attention.)

I had this vision after a while of having The Elated RS and The High-Pitched Laughter vision.
9.1 I Jump on RS
Vision (Night): RS dressed in a red t-shirt over blue pants stands facing to the left while I come running towards him from the right dressed in my long brown cheetah-printed dress over black trousers (that I have been wearing since yesterday evening) and I quickly make a jump and climb on him wrapping my legs around him and hug him tightly while he holds me.

10. KA Looked Like Kaede In That Vision

'Kartika, Kisne Pareshaan Kiya Tumhe' (#9 on Page 466) – this vision had KA walk up to me with his black hair styled in a spiky way that resembled Kaede's. I didn't see the number on his Jersey. I just assumed that it could be 10, as Hanamichi was the main character of the anime and KA was the only person shown in the context of the anime by far.

1. Dream (Morning):

The Perpetuated Rescue

I stand at the cliff of the very wide hall of a building with a grey floor. At some distance to my far right, I see a housing society with high towers of buildings. One of the buildings is being evacuated as two lean and thin men in red t-shirts and black shorts are helping others jump down by supporting them. The two men themselves jump down and their place is taken by other men who are now helping others to evacuate the building. The people being rescued are jumping down on a thick cushioned surface on the ground.

The Kurti Shop

I leave my mom in the room and set out alone to wander around the area. I enter directly into a narrow corridor with a grey floor and to my right find a shop. I go inside and see that it's a tunic shop. I roam around a bit and choose a thick dark brown tunic for me. I roam a bit more and leave the shop.

My Upset Mom and My Adulterous Dad

I go straight back to my mom. She is upset because my dad has been having affairs all around and is often very manipulative. (He lies a lot in real life as well and if we ask him for more information than we are 'supposed' to be asking in his understanding, he gets agitated and shouts because it would reveal his adulterous lifestyle where he's cheating on my mom with Dr Bharati – his work colleague who stays in the same housing society in Chandigarh.)

Apparently, I am in Shimla. But it's not cold. It's day & I'm standing in a huge open hall with people sitting on the floor. I look backwards and spot Ranveer Singh sitting cross-legged alone on the left corner dressed in a half-sleeved white shirt with a blue print. He has a beard and neck-length hair with a metallic band on top and is carrying a photoshoot camera (one of those big ones) in his hand. I walk back inside the corridor at the end of the hall behind RS. When I was out again, instead of moving towards RS, I ran and with a huge jump flew away from him and stood facing him at the top of a building where we could see each other. He was taking my photo while I looked at him. I saw that I was dressed in my casual black Jesus t-shirt over black lounge pants. At first, I stood in a casual way but then made a pose with my legs crossed and one hand at my waist. It was open daylight. He signaled to me to look to my right, a bit towards the sun so the light would cover half of my face while he adjusted his huge camera's position to take the perfect click. I followed his instructions and stood in swag this time.

(Also, the visions in which he came walking with two red love hearts in his eyes towards me while dressed in a navy blue suit with a white shirt have been brought to my attention for the past few days.)

I now stood against the barrier wall of a corridor open at one end, with a person with whom I was getting the feeling as if he was Ranveer Singh but he wasn't. Apparently, we were just out of a room after having spent some intimate time together. His face resembled Glory's to some extent though was darker – a bit wheatish. We stood close and were kissing and were talking. There was another woman to our left. It seemed to me that that other woman wanted to be with him. After a while, he told me to leave. I now saw the leaving woman as a third person. She was overweight and walking away to the right in the corridor, dressed in a navy blue cotton tunic suit with her drape wrapped around her head. One could tell that she was a godly woman. The guy was now with the other woman standing on top of a square spacious pit lit with yellow light. Apparently, the guy was hovering his genitalia over the pit's entrance wanting to put it inside while standing with the other woman whose face was revealed after a few seconds. She was very dark with an ugly face but she was wearing eyeliner on her eyelids and a bit more of basic make-up which the guy supposedly liked. I observed it from the perspective of the guy.

Aishwarya and Abhishek Bachchan in the Corridor

I found myself in the Kurti shop again and was in the corridor where I saw Abhishek Bachchan walking behind Aishwarya Rai pointing down along the path from behind her to lead her steps or as a form of personal attention and care. The corridor was crowded so the movement was slow. I slowly walked behind them following the momentum of the crowd. After exiting I was out in a dark space with a square hole in the ground lit inside with yellow light. It seemed to be the entrance to an underground showroom as the space and floor inside were visible. I saw them discussing among themselves if they should go down.

2. Tu Jo Hai..

While resting yesterday, after I shared with God how the situation affected my time with Him, I happened to think about other people. I thought about RS and the revelations I had related to him. I knew that I had my path set by God. I can't recall the thoughts I was having but I remember the essence. I was perhaps thinking about wanting them to leave the matrix at the end of their lives and enter 'His' kingdom, and not be lost. And that I was always going to love them now that I had developed this mindset for them. Towards the end I was thinking something along the lines of how it was going to continue and that I will continue walking in God's Will even if I died. I was perhaps implying that they should end up getting out of the system even if I ended up dying in the process.
And then I heard this song lyric in my Spirit:

The Guy sings:
Tu Jo Hai To Mein Hu.. (If you exist, then I do too..)

Followed by the vision of this picture:

Ref: Tu Jo Hain - Mr. X @evergreenmix

3. Treading Through Difficult Situations

3.1 Without the Flying Insects In My Brain

One of the next things I was thinking after the diluted worship prayer was how I could've done better without the flies in my brain hitting it. That if it was His Will, God could make them dysfunctional or make them disappear for they didn't contribute to anything good or productive but gave me unnecessary pain and movements inside my brain eating away at it. A few days back I had felt a sharp pain at the top right corner of my head accompanied by strong wavy motions of blood flow. I wondered if one of my veins had burst or was about to or if the insects were hitting it to make it bleed inside.

So I prayed to God to remove these useless flies if they served no real purpose because the pain caused by them wasn't going to make me succumb to the wicked man who wants to drag me to hell with him; the man who already chose the path of the wicked not caring what God thinks about it, and who was now trying to make me accept it and walk on it along with him - what dumb and foolish Akhila already chose for herself. I don't walk to walk on his path and get to be in the company of the kind of cheap-in-character people he hangs out with - people who have compartmentalized their good and bad sides to different aspects of lives as they live their lives in an adulterated way devoid of purity of heart.

I will walk on the golden path that Jesus showed to me in a vision in Room D4 of A-16.

3.2 The Golden Path

Vision (D4, A-16, Late 2021/Early 2022): I saw an open golden path extending forward to my right view. The path had golden trees on its left while its right side was open where Jesus stood facing me at the beginning of the road in view, with His body bent sideways towards the path and His Hand stretched in its direction, gesturing to me to walk on it.

I had this vision when I had begun to read Proverbs from the Bible. They teach us the right way to live which is the golden path of God.

Death Conqueror and others are free to join me on that path. That's the only way he should think about being in my presence, and not behave like an arrogant man who does wrong and then wants to do more of it by putting the onus on another person to be the better and greater one by allowing him to slap him/her on the other side of the face as well.

3.3 The Possible Reality

But then I recalled the revelations in which my head burst open and I wondered if that was the way God had decided for me to die, or if it was what could possibly ensue with the flies in my skull. In that case, I had to live with these metallic insects inside. While from a human point of view, it should provoke a lot of anxiety in a person, but, knowing that my body is a host that I have possessed in this system and that my body is not the essence of me, and that neither does it belong to me anymore but to God after He bought it with His blood – it changes things for it will not be me who will get to decide what happens to my body but God for it is His house now and His Spirit has possessed it. In any way He chooses for me to die, I will accept it and go along with His will; though in the moment I may feel fearful or panic temporarily or shout in pain – it won't be the end of me. I was imagining the process of the burning of my brain and insides and how I would end up shouting out in pain as was highlighted to me in the song lyrics 'I feel the pain and I cry out; I cry out' from the song 'House on Fire', and how I would begin to burn internally like Ghost Rider and reach my death. (Even the name suits the situation because I have the Holy Ghost of God in me and I am a rider who is led by the Ghost.) And I thought about how the flying demonic insects could attack my eyes and ears from the inside.

What are the various different possible ways he can torture an innocent woman who wanted to live pure and upright to death?

Wicked people like Death Conqueror think they can scare people into submission by using death, torture, or pain of one or other kind as a scary tool. But these two scenes from two movies have been highlighted to me which he should drill in his brain before drilling my skull or some other part.

Scene 1: This scene from Kungfu Hustle where the hero hits the beast and ends up getting a severe blow on his face lying on the ground which leads to his head and face being buried into the cemented floor while being drenched in blood. But even in that condition he doesn't bow down to the beast but hits him lightly with a wooden stick with whatever strength he has left resulting in him getting more deadly blows and his face getting buried deeper in the floor.

Scene 2: All the goalies of team Shaolin in Shaolin stand their positions and fight until the end despite getting worse with each hit by Team Evil.

I was also thinking how even if I was standing in front of my death, I will say something to him that tells the truth about his inner character and die after insulting him. That I could never say false nice things about someone like him.

4. Khoob Ladi Mardani Vo To Jhaansi Waali Raani Thi

'The brave woman fought hard - she was the Queen of Jhansi'

I was hearing this in my Spirit during the past year when I was regular in the dept.

I see a profound change in my mindset now. During the past year, I was still in the system and had not mentally detangled from the matrix, but now I can give up everything and do what it takes.

5. Galat Ladki Se Panga Le Liya

'Messed up with the wrong girl'

I've been hearing this in the Spirit for the past few days.

6. Is His Brain Even Functionally Observant?

By far, I suffered for Jesus out of my love for Him. Isn't it a testimony or a display of what love is? I suffered for him because I know He is my Maker and He has loved me with a true everlasting love and not some corrupt kind of fake love which is only self-seeking and hurts another individual. I was able to do it for Him because He displayed His love first on the cross so that I knew that He himself went through a great deal of suffering to secure me to Him, so shouldn't I do the same?

After saying this, shouldn't the people who said they were causing me pain and treating me like a prostitute because of their 'love' for me, understand now what love is?

If even after years of observing what love does, he doesn't understand the fault in his ways, he has a learning disorder where he can't change his inner self as the unwanted parts are revealed and brought to light. I say so because he has been using the same indirect abusive tactics for the past many years. I don't know if there's any desirable change in his inner self.

He doesn't just have a learning disorder but also lacks the mental construct that helps in recognizing that a certain part of one's self is undesirable and needs to be let go of. He thinks his wicked chicanerious self is his strength for it helps him get his way. He sees it as something which adds diversity to his persona making it desirable in his own eyes but undesirable in the eyes of God.

His inner self makes his own self feel good about himself but it is innately deplorable when looked through the lens of what is Godly (or the proverbs section of the Bible).

23:01
He is situated in lies to feel good about himself. I am situated in the truth and I know who I am and who they are. Their outer looks are meaningless. It's not what God looks at. It's what their fallen selves look at. It's almost as if I'm encountering people who don't even have the moral sense of 7-year-old me.

I keep hearing the stanza of this song in the Spirit:

Bhula Dena Mujhe.. Hai Alvida Tujhe..
Tujhe Jeena Hai.. Mere Bina..
Safar Ye Hai Tera…
Ye Raasta Tera..
Tujhe Jeena Hai Mere Bina..

Ho Teri Saari Shohrate.. Hai Ye Dua..
Tujhi pe saari Rehmate.. Hai Ye Dua…

Tujhe Jeena Hai.. Mere Bina..

I don't know who it is. But if it's someone with whom I have a hearty bond with that God made possible, then no, whatever this person might say, I will not forget him!

Satan - the father of lies. Death Conqueror can be called the same as he shares the characteristics of satan and represents situations falsely - a liar, cheater, betrayer, and abuser.

“You've been betrayed in many ways”: I kept hearing this from a male voice in my Spirit the day before yesterday.

I wish God gave me the dream of being together on Earth with those godly people with whom He gave me shadow revelations.

I had this vision some days back while sitting on the floor in my PG's room. I was perhaps busy writing revelations.

7. RS Eats Breast Samosas

Vision (some days back): The observing me saw to its left my upper half sitting naked on the floor to with two widely separated samosas in place of breasts on my chest where RS with a stubble and neck-length hair was eating the left breast samosa.

Such a relief. I no longer like Pizzas and the past revelations make me wanna puke and I am so glad that God stopped giving me revelations about Death Conqueror but now gives me about RS.

I don't know in what mind I felt what I did for a criminal and abuser like Death Conqueror! I prayed to God while walking outside to listen to my this deep desire of the heart that pertains to who I have always been - to situate me in a committed monogamous relationship and not with someone like Death Conqueror who is incapable of being content with one person. He is a greedy pig. While I receive revelations about many people because of God's observation of their hearts and His Will to draw them near to Him, this greedy pig only wants to collect pieces of flesh ready to serve him at his disposal.

8. The Abuser Keeps Highlighting My Background

But neglects his character traits. He says that I was a foolish and naïve village girl who couldn't even talk neatly. When the truth is that I talked better than most at my place but I never judged my friends who came from surrounding villages and had the touch of their local dialects in the way they spoke Hindi.

He keeps putting in front the things of no value and keeps suppressing the things that are of godly value. He suppresses his wicked self and doesn't portray it as such. In his background, I only see fornication and the mindset of a lack of commitment. He doesn't value love for the kind of person the other person is, but he has to possess irrespective of whether the subject is happy with it or not. All his ways of thinking seem foolish to me. Why will I go along with such a fool who doesn't has the threshold common sense needed!? Only another fool like Akhila can go along with him!

Any relationship is a two-way exchange. Both parties make the other happy in the ways they feel so. I make God happy by following Him, reading His Word and applying it in my life, trying to follow His instructions, doing His work, writing the revelations, singing worship songs to Him, and expressing my heart to Him – all this, along with the time I spend sharing my heart about my suffering with Him and seeking comfort in Him.

And He already showed His love to me by dying for my sins and promising to have me live with Him in His Kingdom for eternity.

I woke up around an hour back from a dream I had this morning. I will write about it later today. After a while of being awake, I heard this song lyric repeat in my Spirit:

Bhar De Pavitra Atma Se Mujhko Khuda.. Fill Me With Holy Spirit, God..
Bhar De Pavitra Atma Se Mujhko Khuda.. Fill Me With Holy Spirit, God..

I recalled that it was a part of the 'Aradhana' song I had posted on the previous page. So, I played that worship song on my phone.

I listened to it a few times and paid attention at times to the doppelganger of RS singing on the mic. I stayed on my bed afterward and happened to think of the doppelganger of RS from the song dressed in his white upper attire standing in front of a mic and singing, and then I had this immediate abrupt vision:

1. RS In Blue & White Cheetah-Printed Tracksuit Sings In Worship

Vision (Morning): The doppelganger changed to RS himself and his attire too to his blue and white cheetah-printed tracksuit from the Pepsi Ad as he passionately sang the song with eyes closed and face slightly lifted up while standing still at his position and holding the mic's stand with one hand and making slow movements with the other.

2. Past revelations:

2.1 Glory In Pain Reaches Out To Stop Me

(Around three months back)

It was when I had received the dream revelation 'The Resting KA and The Lady' on Page 399 which had KA lying on bed in a white towel with his phone along with a lady who too was on her phone. This night I lay on my bed and started receiving/seeing a revelation with him which seemed to be a continuation of the bond that the dream on Page 399 represented but before I partook in it, I saw the naked upper half of Glory reaching out to me from the left at some distance further away from my washroom. His lower half wasn't visible, he stayed intact at the middle and his upper half bent forward in my direction with both hands stretched towards me as if he was trying to stop me with a painful expression (it just makes me want to cry now). I felt bad about it and didn't want to partake in the vision. But then I looked at KA and saw that he too was sought after by God for His kingdom, and I had now started to like him as my heart had changed towards him after receiving the revelations. Why did I receive those revelations if I wasn't supposed to be with those people? The only reason I could come up with later was that the revelations were given to me to represent the future 'underlying' (not physically manifested) reality of my life – the kind of reality that was the special case highlighted by me to the teacher towards the end of the class in the dream on Page 464 (Rev #1) – 'when should the event manifest so that it never manifests physically but always stays in the spiritual'. Or the revelations were the heart states of the people in that moment as seen by Professor X (me) who in this case can see or hear the thoughts of people – though as is allowed by God and not by his own Will. Though I saw Glory in pain at my far left, I observed and partook in the revelation that was being shown to me, but I felt bad about seeing Glory that way. I later thought if this counted as being given a mental opportunity to sin and using it instead of telling a 'No'. But I wouldn't do such a thing with strangers! God had me build a bond with them so they could be saved from the system at the end. When I had those revelations during mid-2022, I took them as such and didn't believe them at first, and they alarmed me instead because God had shown me my wedding dream with Glory during late 2021 but now I was having these fleshly revelations with other people, and they were not just fleshly, but love-filled when I didn't even know them. The vision of 'A Kiss of Love' with RS and the dream 'Malang Malang' with the unexpected presence of KA towards its end – these revelations came as a shock to me at first because I didn't know either of them and neither did I have an idea that God intended to bring them in His kingdom. The first revelation related to a Bollywood actor that I received was the dream 'Time With an Actor' with RK in it. It was more shocking to me than the ones I had later because though I like one of RS' movies like Lootera which I found very meaningful and watched some of its scenes on repeat while crying profusely way back in MSc or BSc, I didn't like any of RK's movies a lot – only Barfi stood out to me though I didn't feel the need to watch it again. Its songs were good and one of them became my and Meera's pet song. KA was the only one I had happened to like from the movie Pyaar Ka Punchnama regardless of how the movie was. I think I was immature back then because I liked a person based on how cute he looked and not the movie. While later, I became numb to looks to a great extent. I had also gotten impressed by the part in which KA was pointing out to the heroine publicly that her dress had a revealing longline cleavage which was catching everyone's attention. This scene also kept being highlighted to me in the Spirit during the past months though I didn't write about it previously, and I remembered it though I didn't watch the movie again. I naively took the character as the real him though knowing that the character wasn't him.

God taught me how looks matter on Earth as He changed my perception to make me understand somethings. Though I've understood to some extent but the understanding seems shallow to me because I know that no matter how these people whom God brought in my life looked, I would still love them the same. Only their faces should stay the same so that they are recognizable though their bodies may expand like a ginger or become lean like a bean. I understood the worldly importance of looks previously as well but I found it to be too shallow to be made a serious part of one's life. I kept a watch on what things I should be giving importance to and the things that were to be discarded. After coming to God, I had to leave my own mental structure that I guarded. I guarded it because it seemed to be the right way to think/live/love. And then I followed God's advice though at times I didn't like it for it focused on the outer self. But He is God and His wisdom is unmatched!

I think that through those revelations, God was showing me the kind of bond and the mental process through which I would end up forming that bond with them. God gave me enough grace to have them saved – that's all I can say. He gave us grace because our hearts were pure in his eyes. There's no sin that can't be forgiven through the blood of Jesus except the sin of the blasphemy of the Holy Spirit. I ended up forming a very strong bond with them through the grace of God, but it doesn't mean He gave me the license to sin. He just showed me the reality of the hearts of people. He understood their heart states. I too ended up having that love-filled heart state shown in the revelations eventually.

I just heard this Westlife song's lyric play in my Spirit:
The guys sing together:
This love is unbreakable…

Ref: Unbreakable - Westlife (Lyrics) 🎵

Without those past revelations, I wouldn't have had the revelation in which RS, Me, and KA all floated in the air arms in arms with white wings - the one I had during the past few weeks at home. That would be the end result of it all. It was a gradual process of change of hearts for us to arrive at a heart state which would facilitate us walking on the golden path of God together. It would be all worth it if we all rose up out of Earth together. I could've walked on the golden path alone, that's also how we are supposed to be in our walk with God. We are called to follow Him with a solitary mindset. And it is easier to walk on the path alone than to convince a crowd of unbelievers to walk with you. But it would just have been my gain in that case. All His children are called to walk on His golden path 'knowing' that it is the path of God and that they are walking on it because they are His children and they love Him.

2.2 RS in a Blue and White Cheetah-Printed Suit
- not the tracksuit from the Pepsi Ad but a coat suit with the same print all over - stands in a dark background colored in flowy dark blue shades. A man at the right comes briefly in the vision and leaves after saying something when RS throws a kick at me as the vision immediately floats closer. I saw it some days back.

2.3 The Brown Tie
(a few days back while washing clothes on the roof)
I saw the face of an enraged RS with stubble and neck-length hair wrap a brown tie around my neck from behind as he pulled me towards him.

2.4 Prof TRS Communes
(On the night of writing the Diluted Worship section the day before yesterday on Page 471)
While lying on my bed that night, I saw Prof TRS at some distance in front of me dressed in a cotton orange tunic with two red love hearts present in his eyes as he was dancing with hands stretched away sideways and holding a lady's in front as he silently smiled. One of their pair of hands stretched almost fully away to their side while the other pair to a smaller extent as the duo moved around in godly joy with enough distance between them.

2.5 Judas Says Strongly, "I DON'T CARE!"

The day before yesterday, I ordered a soup that had some solid crumbs of vegetables floating in it. Though I left a great part of them at the end, I ended up consuming a small part. While having it, I saw a small-framed vision of Judas standing in front of me and repeating strongly, "I don't care! I don't care!"

It repeated yesterday night as well while having the same soup. This time I had asked them to send the vegetables separately. I grinded them in the PG before adding to the soup, but there was some granularity present that had to be chewed on.

19:20

I was in a worship session about 15 minutes back which I had begun about an hour back. I had my eyes closed as I sang along with the song playing in my Airdopes. At first, I was reluctant to lift my hands up but then I did to a small extent followed by a further increase in their lift and finally fully upwards towards the end. These are also the times when I crave to be alone with God with no one watching me. I knew in that moment that it was because of my public telecast that I was feeling reluctant to raise my hands up and be fully surrendered in worship as it's an intimate act supposed to be done alone or in the company of like-minded believers. During my session, I had a series of revelations.

3. The Revelations

I saw RS take a few steps towards me and stand up close dressed in his full-sleeved blue and red Pepsi jacket over the white T-shirt.

I saw a distant vision of a chubby man with tiny spiky hair and a round face dressed in a printed wheatish Sherwani and standing with his hands raised up. He too seemed to be in worship.

Today I dropped some clothes at the tailor's to get them altered. One of them was a red shirt. While worshipping, I saw the upper half of RS wearing that red shirt with a thin white t-shirt inside (resembling the one from his Pepsi Ad) and standing on the road to the tailor as he turned and started walking away in the PG's direction while the vision followed his back. He looked narrower in that vision. After a while, I saw him standing in front of me in the room in that attire. I was having all these visions with closed eyes. I also saw his hair change its look from his original to being silky dark brownish like that of a woman's and back to his own texture.

I also had this vision pertaining to the tailor that I had visited this evening where I saw the bottom half of his face with many of the navy blue Airdopes (resembling the ones I have) in front of his mouth with the head of the Airdopes facing in his mouth’s direction. To me, they seemed like many tiny mics.

I also intermittently kept seeing RS standing up close in front of me during the worship session. But he didn't seem to be singing along with the song with me but stood still in my presence as he slowly moved his hands caressing my sides lightly.

I also kept seeing brief visions of KA dressed in his attire of white shirt over black pants standing up close behind me in a hug.

I also saw the naked upper half until some inches below his shoulders of a wheatish man with long wavy hair and sideburns with a beard standing with his hands and head lifted up in front of a dark background. He seemed to be in strong worship.

I also kept seeing Abhishek Bachchan intermittently. In his first vision during worship, he was dressed in a sky blue shirt with a white cotton stall around his neck as he sat on a bike facing to the left. The next visions had him standing in front of me dressed in the same attire. Yet another vision had a bearded and long-haired version of him dressed in an embroidered black attire and emanating a creepy aura as he was talking to a man at a level physically lower to him. It seemed as if he was giving him an instruction to be carried out.

Yet another one of the visions had the upper half of RS in that previous red & white attire. His face was present at the level of my fully raised left arm as he moved down along it.

I saw this focused and close-up vision of the white vest around the heart with the Pepsi Jacket on top in front of me. This vision repeated itself a few times. It was almost as if he stood there. Seeing this, my prompt reaction was to take a step forward and close the gap in a hug. The vision that followed immediately was something very unexpected and I saw it in my right mental view in front of me at some distance. He now stood bent in a squat position on what looked like a road and had his eyes popped out like a spring by 3-4 inches as he pointed forward to the left and shouted with his mouth wide open. I thought that why would he do that now? It was as if he was pointing to something very eye-catching!

'Kartika tumne to sabse pyaar kar liya' ('Kartika you've come to love everyone') - heard in the Spirit (morning). Well, God taught it to me in a very systematic manner.

After I had stood with my hands fully raised for the duration of an entire song, I thought of ending the session as my hands were also tired. I saw that it was Friday and that after sunset would begin Sabbath which I could keep. I felt this urge to have a meal with many things in it. But my immediate thought was the phrase 'Judas the Betrayer' being said in my mind followed by seeing Judas bent forward over a table full of many dishes. I didn't want to be that person like Judas but this vision (my own thought and judgment of me) kept repeating as I kept thinking along the same way. I now imagined the view shifting to the left and a part of Agent Smith sitting in front of him getting revealed. I immediately ended this line of flow after seeing the agent only partly as that's not what I wanted!

4. Jesus and I Commune

But within a few seconds, I had this vision where the view shifted to the left and there was revealed Jesus sitting in his white tunic with His red drape on top, and on the other side of the table was me instead of Judas from The Matrix. Jesus looked at me while I ate in front of him. I knew now that it was God who was calling me to commune with Him, to dine with Him. He led me to order a Thali. I ordered it from the nearest branch of Apni Rasoi (~0.4 km). I saw that it was not yet dark. He wanted me to have this meal before this Sabbath. While I was eating, I kept seeing Jesus looking at me and nodding His smiling face at me in affirmation. He said, "I want you to commune." "I want you to dine with me." "I want you to eat." "This is your day." These are the phrases that came right from my heart while I was eating, and they were repeated a few times. Eating with Jesus – my Maker and Savior from the system of serpents – was such a joy and much more fulfilling than if I had eaten alone.

While writing the above, I just heard this phrase rise straight up from my heart, "Child, how I Love you!" I am so ravished by His love that I feel like I don't need anyone else's love. However, it doesn't change my love for the people I love or their love for me as well because God has created us in His image to love each other and not to leave His other children out.

Because I at times feel too content with God doesn't mean that I want to be abused by the serpent race in my Earthly life. However, that can't be escaped from on this Earth.

And my contentment with God doesn't also mean that I don't want godly and righteous people in my life to be a part of.

Oh how I just want to hug Jesus tightly and cry!
But I must wait until I die!

or He can choose to reveal Himself to me on Earth like He did once on the roof of A-16 which was not a vision revelation but an actual visitation.

5. The Serpent Race Acts Like Itself

I saw this girl Saloni deploying the usual tactic of communicating messages like a bully as she stood in front of me with a folded newspaper with the headline 'Mountains Calling For Help' right in front of my view! This made me feel so disgusted by her because I knew that she was insulting my worship of God which was a very Holy act! People like her are an insult to the Most High Creator! She is proof that belonging to a smaller place doesn't define one's moral inclination for she's from a village yet supports wickedness. I can see how bullying comes too easily to her while I will never work on behalf of a bully but will rather scold him and tell him to stop doing what he is!

I walked to her and told her that if someone worshipped God then it was a Holy Act and was to be respected at which she gave a shocking look to the short-heighted girl present to the left!

How cheap of her to pass indirect comments about even the worship of (the true) God! People like her are an insult to their creator whom they themselves rejected, and then insult others who love their Him – their Maker. Doesn't she understand that she is rejecting and insulting the One who has created her Spirit and who will judge her at the end? How foolish and dumb of her! It reminded me of Akhila. She too used similar tactics. All these people who are led by devil behave in similar ways because if they were led by God, they wouldn't be insulting something or someone that glorifies Him. These are not the acts of the children of God - the way these people behave!

'Rain down again the fire of the Holy Spirit'
फिर से वो आग बरसा दे - Phir Se Wo Aag Barsa De (Lyrical)

6. It's Not That He Slapped a Policeman (Me)

who has a government (Godly) job, but that he did wrong to an innocent person which will be the reason for his earthly judgment. God is not unjust like him though he is the richest and a provider of all. And God is perfect and the Judge. This abuser thought so highly of himself being a mere human, a mere mortal. He thought of him as if he was some kind of Don who has the right to oppress others and hurt them and force them to follow him! Killing someone isn't a big deal for a casual murderer but it's a great sin. Likewise, what he did may look too feeble of a sin to him, but it is not. He has caused me immense mental and emotional pain and he will be punished for the same. If a murderer kills to steal money to feed himself to get 'energy', he is still in sin and subject to judgement without repentance. Likewise, he too has committed a grievous sin and is subject to judgment. In my eyes, he ruined my Earthly life by this constant bullying, harassment, emotional abuse, and passive stalking. I will see how his judgment unfolds. He thought too highly of himself, like he was above law and order because of his political power and wealth. But he shouldn't have thought that he was above God's moral law and His judgment. He can buy men and scare them but not God.

7. 'Zinda Har Pyaar Rahe..'

'Each Love Should Stay Alive'
God's View: The song lyric 'Zinda Har Pyaar Rahe..' ('Each love should stay alive') from the song 'Ye Hosla' ('This Courage') has often been highlighted to me, and it refers to all His loved ones that should stay alive or be saved into His Kingdom out of this Earthly serpent system.

After I had written enough of the previous paragraph, I saw Glory crying for he read between the lines.

The delay served to bring people together and often a few have to work and suffer for the benefit of a larger crowd.

(Around midnight) I saw this vision in my left mental view. I saw a bearded RS with neck-length hair ride a bike facing to the right with a wooden comb in his mouth in a skyblue background. The comb resembled the one I gave to my youngest brother today.

My youngest brother had asked me to buy the same one for him that I had bought for my mom. He later agreed to accept my exact used one as it was a spare with me. I had kept it washed to give it to him.

While bathing yesterday afternoon:
I saw Shahid Kapoor dressed in his past attire of a plain black sweater with a white shirt underneath over black pants rise up below the open sky with two huge white wings at his back.

A few minutes back:
I saw Ayushman Khurana dressed in his ethnic yellow attire with a multi-coloured print rise up in the sky with white wings at the back.

All should rise up with white wings! - That's how each love is sustained and stays alive at the end as it doesn't get separated from its Maker. It doesn't mean to be an ascetic but to live in God's love and see the reality of the system of the devil and reject its wicked ways while accepting the golden path laid forward by Jesus. It means to identify one's past sinful activities and views and renew one's mind according to the truth of God and how one is to live in the system - like a foreigner who dropped here from Heaven. It means to change one's brain and make room for God's eternal unchangeable precepts. God stays the same. His nature doesn't change. So also his moral precepts are eternal.

I am not an ascetic for God gave me the promise of marriage. But I know to not fall in deliberate sin. I don't think so highly of myself that I should abuse an innocent person to get my way at the expense of her sanity and life and causing her pain! I am not twisted in my thinking to take someone's forgiveness for granted and sin even more. I can't sin against people unless they've behaved in very wicked and immoral ways which ignites righteous anger in me. It I different from the anger an entitled person exhibits after he didn't get his way though he used wicked abusive means!

I review my thoughts and actions and keep a check on my inner self should I become lowly in character.

I stood in front of the cooler of my room this midnight and went into worship again as I started to sing a worship song. I saw RS standing some inches behind me dressed in the same Pepsi ad attire from the previous revelations. This time he stretched very high up towards the sky and raised his hands up – moving them sideways in worship.

Some days back while I lay on bed, I saw my supervisor Nivedita Deo appear in line among the changing faces shown above near my middle body to my left. The faces had red love hearts in their eyes. She should also rise up with white wings. But she needs to reject the system and accept the golden path of God instead of teaching me to go along with wicked men.

1. The RK Revelations

Visions (midnight): The very characterful look of the upper half of Ranbir Kapoor from the movie Barfi was shown to me where he had see-through pure eyes. He was dressed in a black sweater, was clean-shaven, and looked in front of him (which was to my slight right). His attire then changed to a grey sweater with a white shirt inside. The vision then showed a short Priyanka Chopra from the movie Barfi fall abruptly on his back from behind. She was dressed in a red sweater with a white shirt inside. The follow-up vision was small-framed and showed him standing dressed in the same upper attire over grey pants as he kicked forward and threw his footwear away in the process with an annoyed vengeful expression of a threat, while the short Priyanka Chopra did push-ups behind him inside a cement hole at the level of his head on a wall of solidified soil. The hole ran horizontally through the wall which seemed to be below a plateau.

2. 'Humse Panga Mat Lena Mat Yaar..'

'Don't Mess With Us'
- the lyric from the Pepsi Ad.

3. Ninja Deepika Padukone

Vision (yesterday): I saw the upper half of Deepika Padukone dressed in a white cotton saree with a medium-sized grey floral print with a grey half-sleeved blouse inside, with her hair tied at the back as she abruptly threw a knife like a Ninja at my forehead.

Looking at the revelations God gave me with different people, I see how my brain has changed now. I keep all children of God on the same footing except those who are wicked and sinful. God has neutralized my one-person programmed mind that I lived with previously. I now learned to love many people at once, and love, in principle, is not related to flesh. Previously I had a strong sense of physical passion as well that I wanted to realize with the person to whom I will be committed. But God neutralized even that. I no longer give physical indulgences as much importance as I previously gave. This changed after I repeatedly witnessed how someone whom God was intending me to love with 'His' love 'used' physical expression of love only as a tool to get supply for the day or for one time and not as an expression of committed love, and made a mockery of my body publicly. Hitting that sort of huge difference in ideology changed my ideology as well and I started looking down on the physical expression of love as it was only exploited to sin and not to express one's Godly love to another person! I have now understood to some extent how angels love God and how it is a higher form of love and is not situated in the flesh. My love wasn't fleshly as well. The flesh was a means to express an everlasting sense of commitment.

Am I supposed to stink and go to work? How will I sit for more than 3 days without bathing in this humid season? It is not undeniable that it's his sin because he is putting cameras in my routine life situations that are necessary to be carried out while he is living without any problems but only gathering more 'chickens' (his reference to women) to please His flesh!

4. The Right Order Of Fleshly Involvement

You get filled with Love in the Spirit or your heart and then it takes over your flesh – this should be the godly order of expressing love using one's flesh. And God has allowed the expression of fleshly love within a covenant bond as it would be the perfect platform to do so – an everlasting covenant to realize a perfect everlasting love. Quite logical and simple to understand. God is eternal and He is love and He is perfect. Perfect love is therefore an image of God and has to be everlasting in nature which accords it the characteristic of a covenant bond. But why should it be put under the label of a covenant even when it has a characteristic matching that of a covenant bond? Well, it is known that throughout the Bible, God made covenants with people and fulfilled them as they followed Him in obedience. So, it tells us that making true promises and covenants is a characteristic of God and He loves to do it and it reflects His nature. Therefore, anything which is everlasting in nature must be put under a covenant by virtue of these two reasons that I am able to think of:
2.1 If we look at the qualitative aspect of the fact that the product of two commuting matrices must be Hermitian, we can understand how something everlasting must be defined by a covenant. If two matrices commute – this would imply that they will always commute, or the commute is 'everlasting', given the assumption that A and B don't lose their godly qualities (or the matrices don't change randomly but stay a constant – this too reflects the nature of God). However, if they commute, their product by default has the property of being Hermitian – or it by default earns the label of a covenant (given the matrices don't become corrupt or change in their godly qualities).

This would be an example that involves two people as represented by matrices A and B. Here comes another explanation that involves the characteristic in question being everlasting, instead of the people involved being considered everlasting in their godly qualities:
2.2 If a matrix is real symmetric (or everlasting), it is Hermitian by default (or defined by the label of a covenant).

(Now I am not saying that people and their character traits should be analyzed using matrix algebra, but what I am saying is to extend the qualitative idea underlying the two arguments and see how it represents a general concept that is not mathematical but carries an inherent abstract truth which when projected mathematically using matrices takes the above form. If we separate the qualitative aspects of the two arguments from their mathematical expression, we see/find the nature of God reflected in them. These are quite simple examples from the view of a mathematician or any scientist but the qualitative truth is profound and applies to the nature traits of God. Now, someone like my supervisor will ridicule it saying that it is 'too simple' like she was doing with the model that God gave me the first help with and she will downplay the fact that it's not in its simplicity that its value lies but how a simple field detour explains something completely unexpected!)

But most people have no godly love in their hearts, and they use their flesh nevertheless to fill up their senses for the moment and let go - which is ungodly. God's love is not fleshly, though He can use fleshly ways to express it – like He kissed my cheek while being invisible wherein a real sensation of a kiss arose on my left cheek and left me bewildered somewhere back in 2017.

5. RS & The Green Parrot
Vision (few days back): Ranveer Singh with a green parrot sitting on his head.

I rested most of the day as I was led. I wanted to spend time resting in the presence of Jesus as I used to on Saturdays keeping it as Sabbath. When I would sit up or would get up from the bed to do a chore, I saw myself abruptly falling on the bed as if I was being pushed down into it. I stopped beside my bed after using the washroom and was thinking if I should continue resting or should do some chore and it was then that I got a vision of me falling on my bed face down as if I was pushed into it. Previously as I sat up on the bed, I saw myself falling back down on my bed as if I was abruptly and strongly pushed down by an invisible force! It's not legalistic to spend time resting in the presence of God or keep a Sabbath (the rest day) if He leads you to. He may not ask you to keep a Sabbath but may want/ask you to rest on other days for periods of time that are greater or lesser than a day – as He sees fit or as He wants you to spend your time with Him.

Doing nothing is a great period of time that can be very usefully spent in the presence of God – listening to Him speak in different ways or just sitting in His presence.

God ordained a day in the Old Testament which was to be spent resting in His presence after 6 days of work. He didn't want His people the Israelites (the Jews) to be occupied with their earthly work all their days but wanted them to spend an exclusive day resting in His presence after 6 days of work. The pattern was later adopted from Jews by the Romans which then spread throughout the world.

I returned from completing a chore outside the PG and was thinking of resting for a while as I lay on my bed. But then I had this vision repeated itself twice.

Vision: I saw myself on my knees in front of my bed with my arms raised high as seen from the opposite end of the end near the wall which told me the exact position in which I was to be praying.
The follow-up:
I start praying in tongues in the position I saw in the vision, and as soon as I do so, I see the face of a black dragon above me in the spirit. His face is pushing on me from above my raised hands. His teeth are also visible as he is grinding them while attempting to come at me. Devil is an eternal being - a spiritual enemy. For the first time, I understand that he has to be kept being resisted in the Spirit as he is going to be here on Earth as long as the system of the matrix continues. I keep praying in tongues. I bind him in the name of Jesus. He gets binded. I am reminded of the vision in which a huge yellow and patterned serpent was floating in the sky which then got bounded on the ground by a huge chain. I had it in room D4 of A-16. I understand the basics of spiritual battle. You bind the strong man (devil) first before you set out to destroy his house – the demonic principalities of the kingdom of devil. I bind devil in the spirit 'in the name of Jesus'. I see the dragon-headed serpent now lying on the floor bound with huge chains and he's struggling to get out as he struggles and slips against the chains. I keep praying in tongues though in a light tone. I now experience vibration arise on the left side at the back of my head. It almost feels like healing is being bestowed on my head.

But I have to say that it was quite a learning experience this night while praying. I never saw devil the dragon this close in the Spirit – his protruded dragon mouth coming directly at me while I prayed. I found it quite interesting. Why was he coming at me when I had just started praying!? After this vision, I have a practical understanding of why we as children of God are called to pray without ceasing. Also, seeing the face of the dragon this close also reminded me of the dream in which I was operating that huge gun that created a circular vertical disk of fire at its front with the devil hiding in front of me behind the mountain cliff I was standing on. Just the top of his serpent head was visible.

I no longer fear the devil. Earlier too I didn't fear him, but I didn't really know him for I hadn't had a close one-to-one spiritual battle with him. I have seen him now and I got to witness how he attacks being an eternal being and an enemy of God and how I too am an eternal being but who is trapped in a flesh body. devil can destroy my body, but in the end, God will gain my spirit in the glorified body that He will give me. devil is not to be feared. He only uses tactics that employ physical pain to scare and torment the children of God, but besides that, he has no power. This prayer session further changed my view of reality as the Holy Spirit let me see even more into the spiritual realm.

Additionally, after a while of praying and after binding devil – I saw Jesus stretch Himself down from above and put his fingers in mine, and hold my raised palms. Prayer is so worth it.

And while I was thinking of a way to put across the two reasons in 2.1 and 2.2 in the section 'The Right Order Of Fleshly Involvement', I saw brother Jonathan Kleck sobbing while looking at me with smiling eyes. He is so genuine that it just amazes me! He seems so perfect to me in his walk with God. I find him beyond description – the way he has been serving the Lord for the past 20 years nd doing what He tells him to do without failure. He's the perfect example of a true disciple of Jesus! Shortly after I completed writing the section, I saw Prof Sanjay Jain smiling at me with filled eyes. The vision was followed by a small-framed vision in which he stood facing to the left and I to the right in front of him with around a meter or two between us as he bent towards me and kissed the center of my forehead. He did it a few times in a row - bending from a great distance and kissing my forehead and then moving back to his place, bending and kissing my forehead again and moving back to his place again.

While washing clothes yesterday after my dad and brothers had left collecting my youngest brother's books from me, I kept seeing brief visions of KA until his shoulders wherein he sobbed making short discrete sounds while looking at me being dressed in a white shirt.

6. The Dream Yesterday Morning:

I am in my home and am on a food fast. I get stronger in the Spirit, and I can feel it. But my mom keeps asking me to eat and I keep getting annoyed because I can feel the change in my spiritual state because of food fasting which 'she' can neither feel nor understand. I know that eating would ruin my spiritual state that I gained after denying my flesh, so it makes me want to not be around her. Her questions and presence only irritate me in the dream! I can see that she doesn't understand how food fasting helps in the spirit.

I keep entering my home's society area through the smaller entry gate and keep coming across the view of a building in front which is under renovation. The building is a wide one with around 3 floors but nowhere as tall as my home's towers. At first, it's just brick and mortar and is not cemented. Each time I enter through the society's gate, I see more work done on the building as the workers are still on it, and each time I look at the changed look, this part of one of the previous revelatory dreams keeps getting highlighted to me: I look at the top of the tower of apartments with a neck bent to the side and say to myself, "Glory is coming today".

7. Your Reward is Great

When I started working out a few days back, it was after a long gap of a month or two after I had left gymming. While I worked out, I heard in my Spirit, "Your reward is great.. Your reward is great.."

But it is Jesus who is the real reward of real value - unmatched and perfect!

While worshipping late at night:

The room gets filled with people and some I know are from my dept. There is a prof sitting there as well. The crowd sits silently on the beds and looks at me.

Within the past minute, I was saying to God to remove these people from being around me as they keep saying crap and passing messages of the wicked servant of devil to me! While praying I was referring to this slim and fair girl Srishti at my floor who was passing me annoying messages from the abusers as she deliberately asked her roommate Stanzin in front of me if the cat had died. She was then indirectly saying that I would be facing a lot of problem in peeing and pooping. And when I heard their voices again, I was too annoyed as nothing of Godly value comes out of their mouth and so I asked God to remove them from my presence. And then I had this immediate vision:

I saw Stanzin (foolish Srishti's comparatively saner roommate) dressed in the white square neck dress with white embroidered dots – the same as the one I had recently ordered online a few days back. She was standing in front of the mirror with her back facing it, and she stood in a decent pose. Though she lives with the foolish and morally dumb girl, she still has a more functional conscience than her stupid roommate.

1. The Worship Revelations

During the Worship session in front of the cooler, I had a series of vision revelations:

- In the beginning: RS in a pink and white horizontally striped top stands behind me in a hug.

- Later: A distant vision of me dressed in the same clothes as I was wearing then in which I was standing in a dark background with fire coming out of me and reaching straight vertically upwards into the sky. Along with the fire came out thin and short black snakes as well, one at a time, that also flew straight vertically upwards. While the fire of the Holy Spirit moved upwards in a vertical strip of the size of the width of my body, the black snakes were thin and straight.

- In the follow-up vision I had after a few minutes, the snakes coming out moved perpendicularly to the left in a straight line while the thick strip of fire continued reaching upwards.

It seemed to me to show that the Godly fire of the Holy Spirit and the demonic snakes are orthogonal to each other and that even if the two energies started moving in the same direction, they were going to be orthogonally separate after a while because of their nature! But why were those snakes coming out of me? I felt that it was because of all the bitterness and hatred I had developed in my heart because of all I went through. When we pray, it ejects out the ungodliness in us. It is like cleaning our spiritual selves. The fire of the Holy Spirit leads to that cleansing purge.

The Spirit had to show the visual representation of the spiritual truth to me because not everyone understands the things of the Spirit by the way of words. And the vision came out as an aid to me well. Especially the people with a scientific background will find it sensible to see how the ungodly and godly have no part with each other. There can be no projections possible of one type on the other. The snakes can't be projected on the line/axis of the Holy Spirit and vice versa. The nature of the Holy Spirit and ungodly mindsets/thoughts are orthogonal to each other. They are natures of two opposite types. The curse of the Earth system is the 'tying together' of the two types of natures. Such a system shouldn't have been created. The system is an enemy of God. The serpent system therefore will be destroyed in the end and the Kingdom of God will prevail.

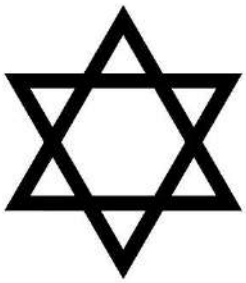
The two triangled star itself used in various religions represents the spiritual reality of the system – the orthogonal states existing together represented by the upright and inverted triangles. The spirits working through people hide the truth in plain sight through various religions – those religions are called false religions because they don't lead you to the Lord God but are aimed at worshipping the system of the matrix.



If a visual spiritual representation of the abusers was shown, they would be shown as emitting many snakes at once, and also allowing in snakes from outside at a given moment in time, covering the entire horizontal plane and creating a horizontal disk of snakes converging in and diverging out from inside of their chest, with no fire of the Holy Spirit going upwards. They are an open pathway for snakes to go in and out. While I can't be influenced or controlled by demons like they so easily are, I can build up negative and ungodly thoughts inside me as a response to the undesirable situations of my life which I shouldn't. Such an accumulation is gotten rid of through prayer and worship as we spend more time with God and be like Him.

- The short-haired chubby Bollywood actress Navneet Nishan dressed in a stoned skyblue ethnic attire stands in a dark background with some huge metallic objects roughly visible lying behind her and worships looking upwards.

- The huge teary-eyed face of Rajnikanth with a greyish beard as his much smaller and invisible body behind his face plays drums.

- A foot-thick dragon-headed serpent devil stuck on the wall to the right of the room's door at the back. he is not able to come close to me.

- Jesus with love-filled eyes.

2. Post Worship Revelations

Later after worship while lying on the bed:

- In a dark background, SRK at the left with his stubbled look from the movie Dilwale says something to someone present at 3-4 meters to the right with the background of some mechanical tools and metallic car parts present at the back, followed by him driving the old fashioned one-wheeled bicycle being dressed in a cream shirt tucked inside brown strap pants.
- A stubbled Devdaas with red teary eyes looks at the viewer and says, "Paaro, mein tumhari gawahi dunga." (“Paaro, I will testify for you.”)

❖ In my left mental view, I saw RS in a black suit with a black tie with a white shirt inside stands to the right of a grey, short, and rocky wall with a narrow width. He lifts his leg and puts it on the wall but gets stuck in the middle as he tries to balance himself with one leg on the wall and another in the air, but after a while is able to have both legs on top of the wall. He then starts walking towards the viewer carefully balancing his steps on the narrow top of the short wall.

I was resting on the floor with these worship song lyrics playing in my Spirit:

3. Giving Thanks & the RS Vision

Mere Khudawand Ho Dhanyawaad	My owner, thanks be to you
Yeshu Prabhu Dhanyawaad..	Yeshu Lord, thanks be to you..
Mere Khudawand Ho Dhanyawaad	My owner, thanks be to you
Yeshu Prabhu Dhanyawaad..	Yeshu Lord, thanks be to you..
Paapon Se Jakhmee Jo Mein Ho Gya..	When I got wounded by sins..
Bahon Mein Tune Mujhe Le Liya..	You took me in your arms..
Paapon Se Jakhmee Jo Mein Ho Gya..	When I got wounded by sins..
Bahon Mein Tune Mujhe Le Liya..	You took me in your arms..
Mere Khudawand Ho Dhanyawaad	My owner, thanks be to you
Yeshu Prabhu Dhanyawaad..	Yeshu Lord, thanks be to you..

I kept having this vision of roti and the aloo gajar matar veggie on a thali and I was supposed to eat it. The vision then repeated itself a few times but was eventually followed by the face of RS facing to the left putting a bite into his mouth with a descriptive expression as he looked at the viewer (me) sideways. I thought if I was supposed to order that veggie or if carrots were even seasonal. I went downstairs to check the food cooked in the PG and they had cooked the same. I felt so happy!

Instead of one chappati, I felt like taking two, which was followed by the vision of Jesus hitting his forehead with his palm. And then instead of just veggie, I took lentils as well, and He hit His forehead again. But when I reached the room, He was happy with me and expressed His love by kissing my face as I saw His face close to mine.

After I added the above part, I heard in my Spirit:

5. Mein Haath Uthaakar Gaoonga, Yeshu Tera Naam Rahe Uncha

'I will sing with raised hands - that Jesus Your Name Stays Uplifted High'

While I was listening to this song yesterday, I saw how youngsters were worshipping Jesus in the Spirit. The singer's voice was contemporary while the lyrics of the song and the way it was sung were a mix of both classical and contemporary music. The singer made me think of Glory because of their resemblance in facial features though they were two different persons. I thought if he would ever worship in that manner! The singer was young like him (perhaps younger) and yet sang with such devotion, peace, and respect for the Lord God Jesus.

And today I shared with the Pastor my first ark dream.

23:26
I lay on the floor this late evening when I had the vision of me worshipping with raised forearms, standing between the two beds and moving around my position. The vision repeated itself so I knew that it was God's will for me to worship in that moment. So, I began to do so.

I played this song on repeat as it had a very soothing melody and heart-touching lyrics, and I sang along with it.

At some point during the worship:

6. The Worship & the Dance With KA

I was singing with my forearms raised and palms facing away from me when the previous visions of my dance with KA were highlighted to me, in which we held hands with raised forearms and moved around in slow dance moves. My hands tended to get folded in that manner by themselves as if we were holding hands through our fingers while the move was being highlighted to me. The vision had the dark brown elephant trunk erect abruptly and hit his forehead leaving him senseless for a few seconds as he said a quiet 'Ahhh…' I reminded myself that I was worshipping Jesus and not dancing with KA. But I kept getting drawn to the vision.

After a while, I saw two green raptor hands in front of me ready to hold my hands but I turned in the other direction and I told them to 'go away'.

When I was too deeply immersed in Worship unaffected by any outward influence, I saw:
A small-framed distant vision of a bride dressed in white.

The Pastor told me today after church to regularly pray in tongues.

Since I returned from the Church, I have eaten a lot and I keep getting these nudges to eat. In a short duration I have eaten more than my new usual that has been set since my changed eating habits.

7. The Ark Dream and The Peacock Feather Activity

Earlier during the day when I had shared with the Pastor my first Ark dream and how I was operating a weapon amidst a group of people one of whom who resembled him sat on a chair, he had asked me that which weapon it was. I don't know why, but instead of answering his question with the answer 'gun', I ended up explaining to him what it did – creating a vertical disk of fire in the front, and that it was a very intricate weapon with many buttons and operation controls. Later in the PG, it kept bothering me that why was it that I didn't tell him the exact name of the weapon, because it was an important detail and I missed out on it. What if it had some significance that he could've received some revelation about or could've told me something more about. I was lamenting missing out on telling him that it was a 'GUN'! It was in the evening that this mental irk of not letting him know that it was a gun put my attention on his surname Morgan pronounced as 'Mor-gun'. I immediately realized that the fact that the weapon was a gun was a part of confirmation that the guy sitting on the only chair present there was Pastor Morgan for I had a blurry memory of that man from the dream though his stature resembled to Pastor Morgan's. The first part of his surname 'Mor', which is Hindi for 'Peacock', then pointed me to the dream (#6 on Page 468) in which my dad was demonstrating to me the gluing of an individual small peacock feather (without its long stem) to a very thin light brown wooden stick. He had repeated the same in front of me on many sticks with changing backgrounds of places we were present at – from the hall in the dream to my dept's corridor and was telling me that it was an activity to be carried out by the little children in his playschool.

I was now pondering if God had given me that peacock feather dream to share with my dad so that he gets convinced about Pastor Morgan being an original man of God – someone who was indeed into God's business. Because look! The name of the subject related to the object that my dad was going to teach to use to the little children in his playschool's activity, that name – Mor – was present in the Pastor's surname who was teaching me the activity of using a 'gun' to fight in the Spirit.

And after I understood the above, I saw how the shape of the gun while being in operation resembled the shape my dad was creating by fixing a peacock feather perpendicularly to the very thin wooden stick: a long stick with a perpendicular surface in front (the surface being the firey disk in case of the weapon, and the surface of the peacock feather in the case of the small wooden structure).

If the pastor hadn't asked me that question, I wouldn't have missed answering it and my attention wouldn't have been repeatedly placed on the name of the weapon – Gun – which served as a part of the confirmation that the guy in the Ark dream was most probably Pastor Morgan. And if I didn't have the dream of my dad with the sticks and the peacock feathers earlier this month, I wouldn't have received the revelation of the shape of the gun from the Ark dream being similar to that of the wooden structure my dad made with a peacock (Mor) feather which revealed that the weapon was not just any gun, but a Peacock gun, or a Morgan – the surname of the Pastor. This served as a full confirmation that I indeed was at the right place in Pastor Morgan's church.

So, according to that dream I am learning to operate that weapon which I would operate in front of devil making him hide behind that cliff.

It just boggles me to see how some people don't change or fear God even when He reveals in various ways that He indeed is in control and wants them to turn to Him. They must be very prideful to think that they are above God and can escape His judgment! He has been so gracious to me and them.

And if I hadn't written all of what I saw, I wouldn't have been able to connect the dots easily and they too couldn't have witnessed the hand of God. Without them knowing the revelations they would be roaming around without any foresight into God's Will and plan. The revelations are for them to know as well. It's the Word given by God. They better not mess with it.

Additionally, look at the time that passed between when I had the Ark dream with the Gun (late 2021/early 2022) and the dream of the small wooden peacock gun (July 2023) – it's about 1.5 years. The puzzle pieces are revealed according to God's plan. It's only at His chosen time that the revelations manifest. Hmm.. Looking at all the violent revelations now, it prepares me mentally to face them when the time comes.

And after I had written the above, this lyric kept being highlighted in my Spirit:

Bin Masih Ke Doob Marega Re.. Without Messiah, he will die..
Bin Masih Ke Doob Marega Re.. Without Messiah, he will die..

The lyric refers to the spiritual/second death in Hell. He has to really realize his error and not just know that what he did was wrong and think that it's ok to sin against others and hurt them because it's him – the powerful politician – who committed the crime. Forgiveness is given by the Blood of Jesus and it has to be accompanied with repentance. He should've thought before playing with someone's life. But I'm not accusing him though I don't lie either. God is the God of justice. He is the judge – the perfect judge.

All glory belongs to God. He gave me all these revelations. I have only been writing them down and trying to walk out in his will as much as I can.

8. The Naked Hug

Vision (night): I saw this vision as a third person. I saw a naked RS standing near my wardrobe in this PG and then I saw a naked me come brisk walking towards him and we both hug tightly for a good while pulling each other to oneself.

While worshipping:

9. The Metronome of Synchronous Clap

I saw a mixed crowd sitting around me on both beds and they clapped together in synchrony with my singing I sang with their synchronous claps serving as a metronome. (I became comfortable with being listened to.)

10. Brother Wally In Worship

Vision (past two days): I saw the upper half of brother Wally until his shoulders where only leather and metallic strips were visible on his body as he bowed forward down in repetition. Perhaps it was with raised hands.

While combing hair outside after bathing in the night, I heard in my Spirit:

1. 'Jai Bhole Ki'

I had happened to wear my cheetah-printed brown dress which resembled Shivji's in print - the Hindu God who is also called Bhola (Gullible) though he is not, for devil is full of chicanery and is not gullible.

2. 'Ro'

'Cry'
I kept hearing in my Spirit. It seemed as if the person wanted to see me cry in pain as it would give him a sense of relief. The voice seemed to me to be that of Death Conqueror as he kept repeating 'Ro' to me in an apathetic tone.

3. The Abrupt Hug

KA pulls me to him abruptly and hugs me tightly. He is dressed in his usual revelation attire of a white shirt over black pants and I am in my red and white printed floral dress.

4. Akshay Kumar Rides a Bicycle

Akshay Kumar rides a bicycle towards the viewer being dressed in a black waistcoat over a white shirt and black pants and a brown hat on his head.

Death Conqueror should've received his judgment earlier (in my view), but acc to God's view, he will receive it at an appropriate time, and by then I perhaps would've fulfilled my purpose on Earth as decided by God. I don’t know about the exact unfolding of events.

That was the fire of His Spirit in the vision in which I was in a duet with Jesus – with Him lit internally and I lit externally with the fire of the Holy Spirit.

When we pray intensely, the fire of the Holy Spirit reaches up to Heaven. Worship is like a connecting portal with God.

I think I received the revelation of my forehead being stabbed brutally because the abuser got tired of being reminded how morally dumb he is! If he was repenting his sin, then I wouldn't be calling him a dumbass but he continues to confirm that he is one.

5. *Past Revelations

The view until the shoulders of Karan Johar in a parrot green t-shirt - sobbing with a huge black frame on his eyes.

Karan Johar in a huge black frame and a full-sleeved sky blue shirt sits with arms extended sideways and resting on the table in front of him which has papers lying on both sides near his hands as he moves them around the table.

I'm exactly where I was told I would be. This is the phase where I get to learn to operate that weapon as I saw in a dream in late 2021/early 2022.

5:11

Last evening, I told the delivery man to hand my Chai order on the ground floor as I was busy cleaning in the washroom and had dirty feet which I didn't want to use inside my room without cleaning them first. After I ended the call, I saw a huge red heart present in front of KA's chest vertically break as a crack appeared in the middle he took a step back slowly with a confused expression. But why should it so happen? And then I heard the phrase in my Spirit, "Par Mein to Pyaar Karta Tha?" (“But I loved.”)

6. Dream:

I keep seeing a segregated part of my anus is resting inside my rectum that will be ejected out the next time I poop. The visual is repeated a few times in front of my eyes.

I am in my home with my mom and youngest brother. My home is on the ground floor. Right in front of my home is a two-way road on the other end of which is standing a grey tempo/truck with a man with sideburns in the driver's seat. Apparently, the grey vehicle is an ambulance. I see that he moves his vehicle onto the road and intentionally though lightly hits a long black car moving to the right from the side. I think that why would the man in the ambulance hit the huge black car? I turn back and walk towards my home, but I end up turning towards the road and looking. I see that the accident caused a jam around the site of the accident. There seems to be anger in the public. The huge and muscled driver of the car dressed in a black t-shirt along with a few other men have the guy open the truck's door and get down. The man is revealed to be thin, short-heighted, and dressed in a grey ethnic tunic set with an open half jacket on top. He has sideburns and looks to be a godly man because of his attire but why did he do what he did? Though he hit the rich man's black car intentionally, he is carrying an innocent expression on his face. I see the people take him down between his truck and the parked vehicles in the jam and start beating him. He's no longer in sight. I walk towards the scene to stop those people as I fear that person getting brutally hurt for he was too tiny in front of those huge muscled men, but then I turn back and start walking towards my home and start loudly praying in tongues instead for the guy being beaten by the public. I know that praying in tongues is the most effective and it by default prays the Will of God and His plan (without me knowing the meaning of the prayer). So, the prayer could save him in a way my physical act of protecting him may not have. While I am walking towards my home in prayer, my mom and youngest brother come outside as well to see the situation. After a while, I turn towards the scene and see that things have settled down. When I reach the scene, I see some people standing and talking among themselves while a man is just done mopping the floor with a beige mop near the grey ambulance. It seemed that a great amount of blood had been mopped out. I see a man with a thin mustache standing at the grey vehicle's right and his face resembles both RS and Death Conqueror. He is dressed in a black suit and looks like some officer. I can see an entrance door to a building behind him. I ask him if I can go inside to check on and meet the guy who has been beaten. He tells me a yes. I go inside and see the man lying on a hospital bed covered with a white sheet with just his face visible which is all red and drenched with blood as he lays there with closed eyes. It seems like he might die after a while but it's not a surety. He may live as well too. I walk outside and hear the phrase 'Shaheed' Kapoor being highlighted in my Spirit. I wake up after this.

Though the short guy in the ambulance hit the muscled rich man's car, I saw that he looked innocent. Though I didn't know the reason he did such an act, the rich man's reaction of taking him down with other powerful men and beating him up seemed a bit too much to me, for the guy was thin and short and seemed weak and one could tell that he won't be able to protect himself.

Heard in the Spirit:
(a few days back): Kartika, tum katne waali ho. (Kartika, you're about to be cut off/pierced/slaughtered)

7. The Woman's Fornicating Ass

It was perhaps the past Sunday morning when I was doing a chore and started having the sittng vision of the naked upper half of RS in front of me moving in the act of intercourse followed by a gush of blood around my groin. After a while the somatic part ended, and I saw a clear view of Vision (Day before yesterday/yesterday morning): the bent naked ass of a woman with a penis moving in and out through her vagina. From the vision, it seemed that she was bent on her knees and the guy was standing behind her. It reminded me of my ex-roommate Akhila doing a 'cat and cow pose' (as she termed it) in front of her friend Shin. I don't know why that came to my mind. It only made me think perhaps they were committing that sin at that moment! Committing sin is a casual thing for them and not something which calls for God's penalty. Well, until they didn't know the truth, they could've said that they were living right, but after they've come to know about God's nature, they've no excuse. And then later in the evening when I went out to buy something, I saw a girl intentionally bent with her ass towards me in the same pose that I had seen in the vision in the morning, though in the vision only the close-up view of the lady's ass was visible and no other body part. She was kicking the white scooty to turn it on. And when I wrote the previous sentence, I heard the lyric 'Everywhere I go, all I see is dead people' from Brother Wally's song 'Dead people'. It seems that all are demonically led and have lost their godly senses! I could tell that she was doing that to let me know of something which I had already seen in the morning, and it only made me feel disgusted. I thought, "Why God? Why are you showing me their sin?" For it wasn't that they were going to listen to me and stop sinning. They didn't care! When they don't care about the sin which inflicts pain or torment on another person, it would be foolish to expect them to repent of a sin that gives them mutual pleasure. The vision should tell them that God was watching them! But then they are unrepentant prideful fools! Again, I hear the lyric 'Everywhere I go, all I see is dead people'. They are dead because they've no real godly sense of communicating and behaving. They are actors.

And after I was almost done with writing the above section, I heard the song lyric in my Spirit:
'Tera rachne wala tujhpar rakhta hai apni nazar..'
'Your maker keeps an eye on you..'

8. With Time I Understood More of The Abuser's Mind

And it makes me nauseous. I saw how politics made him feel inside and affected his view of himself. How highly he thought of himself that he found it was ok to inflict abuse on an innocent individual to soothe his ugly penis.

I understood how he felt about wealth and how it was very necessary for him to have it in abundance. I saw how he was attracted to people who were wealthy and were ready to condone sin and live a corrupt lifestyle. I saw that his mind wasn't idealistic or moral but that he thought in terms of power politics when he is just a mere human who should know his limits. I saw that his mind found it okay to torment others to gain his sinful purpose. I saw that he had no moral bone and no willingness to live with one either. I have understood enough of his mind now. I can't even stand near him.

These lyrics were playing in my spirit yesterday and have played previously as well:

Mast baharo ka mein aashiq chahe jo bhi yaar karu
A lover of the careless season of springs, I'm free to do as I wish, my friend
Chahe gulo ke saaye se khelu, chahe kali se pyaar karu..
I can choose to either play with the flower's form/body, or to love the little flower bud
Saara jahan hein mere liye.. Mere liye..
The entire world is meant for me.. for me..

Ref: Mast Baharon Ka Main Aashiq | Mohammed Rafi | Farz 1967 Songs | Jeetendra, Aruna Irani

The lines further filled me with disgust for this person for they represent his immoral demented mindset.

He behaved like a typical child of devil. He lived his entire life fornicating with women, and then stripped publicly someone who never sinned as he did! I was used to living with a pure mindset. The people around me were as such as well. They could never have behaved like people here do. Here, most people are sinful ungodly fools who think of themselves as very smart because of their comfort with sin. The situation looks like a pig who spent his entire life in the gutter with many other sows got hold of a puppy dog and devoured it. The puppy dog wasn't their race and wasn't supposed to be with them either!

How could I be with both KA and RS at once or if counts as hypocrisy? No, it doesn't. Because they both are moral and not criminals like Death Conqueror. All the children of God love Him and all His angels in Heaven who live with Him love Him. They aren't wicked like the demons. Both Death Conqueror and Akhila are murderers and haters of godliness inside their hearts. So, I won't be a part of their lust tribe of criminals or gang members. I will be a part of the Holy love tribe of God which stays in His love and doesn't abuse the person it claims to love.

9. While washing clothes:

The beginning lines of the song played in my spirit.

Dil mera ye nasamajh kitna..
Besabar ye bewakoof bada..
Chahta hai kitna tujhe..
Khud magar nahi jaan saka..

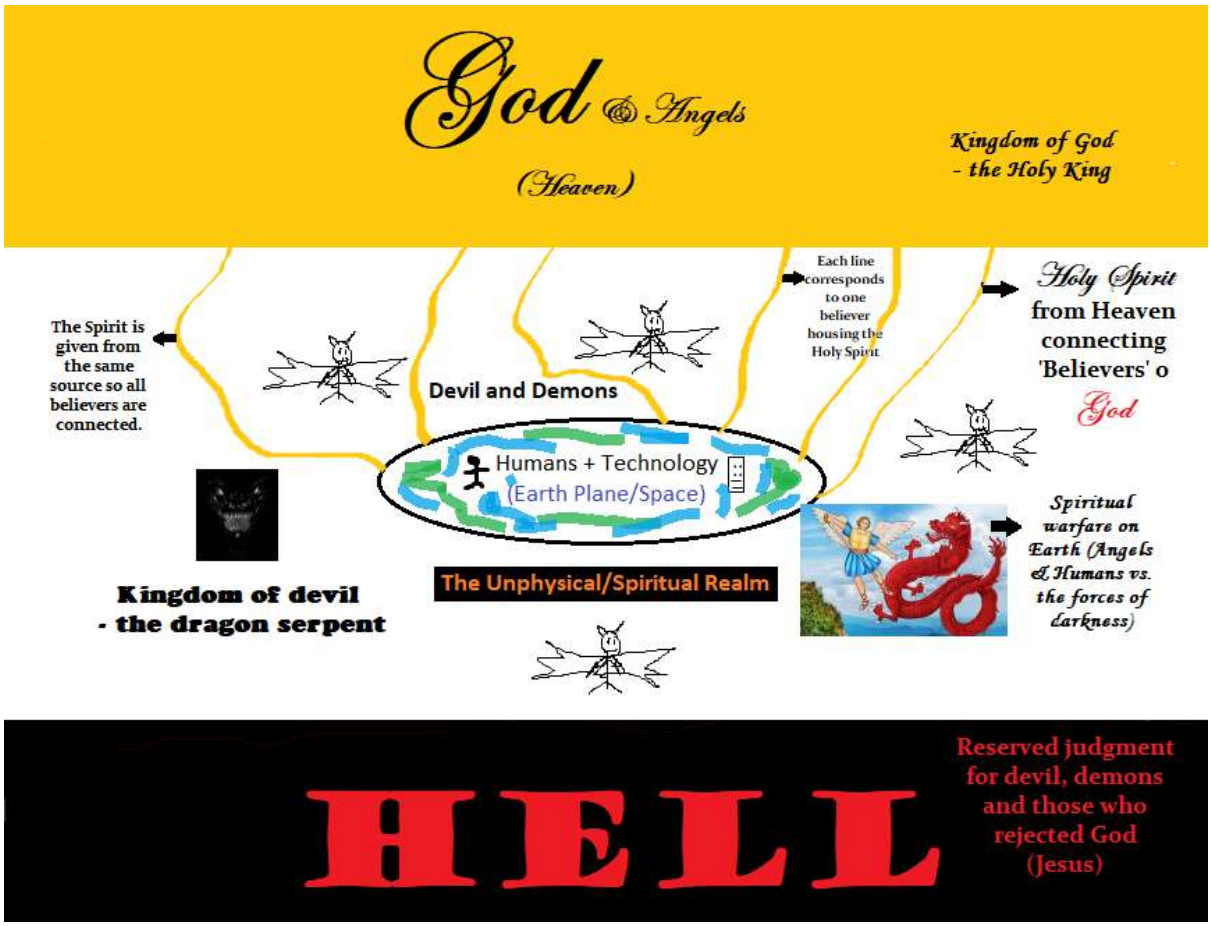
10. Technology Furthers the Cause of Devil and Also the End of the System

Devil has worked through humans and advanced technology which we consider as something modern that makes our lives easier. But it's only in the matrix that we perceive things as such. For the devil and his demons, technology is just a programming tool to keep the human race distracted and occupied in the matrix. Angels don't need technology to make their chores easier. God doesn't need technology either for He can do anything anywhere as per His Will.

Technology is a tool used on Earth, and it is being looked upon as something which makes us advance ahead in culture. But it is only leading to the eventual mark of the beast that will be the separating marker of those who choose the system of the matrix from those who reject it.



Ref for the dragon images used in the picture above: devil the dragon serpent - Google Search Google Images

In our true glorified form, physical technology would seem redundant and useless. The focus of the matrix is to advance ahead in robotics while downgrading the Holy and moral principles of God. This leads people to be more like devil – God's enemy – for it leads one to focus on the intelligent design of things but neglect the inner holiness of thoughts and nature that makes one godly. devil is intelligent but no match for God. devil is a murderer, a liar, a deceiver, and an oppressor of the godly and the innocent, while God is a healer, honest, faithful, just, and Holy. God is perfect in all His ways.

Recall: the vision in which a huge robotic dragon waged war with tiny people on the ground.

Technology in the matrix fuels its progression towards it being more ungodly and supportive of the wicked ways of devil. it is filled with distractions meant to keep one away from God – our creator. Technology reflects the nature of devil – seems intelligent and can be made to look attractive but is without a conscience.

The system is very much like one of those online reality games that requires a person to assume an avatar (often by paying for it) to partake in the game following which one needs to follow its rules because one signed up for it. In a similar way, we signed up for this game of the matrix by assuming our bodily avatar. We paid for the avatar by our souls being put under condemnation and judgment in Hell. But in the end, the system is an illusion that will come to an end one day at the completion of the game.

11. 'Kartika, Mujhe Tumhare Saath Rehna Hai'

'Kartika, I want to live with you.'
The phrase kept repeating in my Spirit as I saw KA being highlighted.

1. Dushman Rushes Around In Panic

It was after I had written something related to Death Conqueror that night that I had this vision.
Vision (before sleeping at night, past week): Dushman from the movie Dushman moves hastily around as he says, "Pyaar karti thi mujhse!" and then he cries briefly while looking foolish and still running around as he repeats, "Pyaar karti thi mujhse! Pyaar karti thi mujhse!" He is then standing beside me with that ice slab lifted high in both his hands to drop at my face, but then he moves back and is not able to hit me as he runs around repeating the phrase in a foolish tone.

I had this vision during the past month before I went to stay at my home for a few weeks.
Vision (Early June): The naked upper half of the Pastor falls on a woman below.

Some dreams have people as labels. Like my middle brother Himanshu in a dream represented Death Conqueror in one. He is supposed to know and be at his brotherly place, but he crosses lines!

2. Dream (the last morning):

The Pastor's son invites me to come along with him. I have some reservations as my mom may not like it. I have to tell my mom, but I go along with him with the thought of asking my mom still in my head. I see us now travelling together in a car but I feel very congested with him sitting to my right in a stuffed way. He is continuously talking and telling me about things while looking at me. I look down and see that he's just beside the car's gear and is on the same seat as mine and hence why the congestion. I then bend slightly forward and look at the driver's seat but find no one there. I wonder how the car is being driven on its own. The thought of my mom being upset is still in my head, but I had no time to tell her before leaving as we had left in a hurry. We are now in a home resting on our sides facing each other on a bed with about a meter or so distance between us and he is still talking.

The next scene shows him having a rough facial texture with a lighter, wheatish complexion with a wig of long dark brown hair while being dressed in a wide V-necked fitted woman's dress revealing the shape of his belly bulge as well. He is trying to behave in a glamorous way as he stands at the center of a group of girls standing in a line with his hands extended sideways as if all of them are going to pose for a click. But why would he do that? Or perhaps it represented how I would look but why would I assume that vain look either and behave in an affected unoriginal way that looks SO SO fake! And why would I be with such a crowd in the first place where I have to be fake glamorous?

The next scene of the dream has my birthday and apparently, again, I wasn't in my home. I find the space dirty so think of cleaning around. I am still busy with something else when I walk towards the door to the hall and see that my short-heighted Pinki Mausi dressed in her casual attire of black jacket over woollen trousers has already mopped the floor as I can see the wet swipes on it. But she has left the sides and not done a perfect job. She did it willingly and by herself.

This past vision is now getting highlighted to me. In this vision, KA stood with his back towards me with a thick red kingly drape at his back and a crown on his head with neck-length wavy hair as he swirls his drape at one side in front of me making it look like he is crossed with me.

Why is showing that kingly attitude to me? Even if he is king, why is he swirling the side of his drape in attitude and acting as if he's about to walk away?

The incident earlier this night:
A thin short-heighted messenger girl passes by me. She is dressed in blue track pants and an army-printed shirt like a shrug with a black spaghetti inside. Her dressing sense doesn't at all match with her inner self for she chose to serve as a messenger for the wicked and sinning party. I get irked by her look for it communicates a sense that she is portraying a false persona of Death Conqueror. He doesn't have those character traits! I get enraged at her for I am now fed up with these messengers! I am on a WhatsApp video call with my mom but I follow after that girl to catch up and indirectly say a few things to her. Though she has a phone against her ear, she is not on a call. I tell my mom that people who 'act' in their real lives irk me a lot! (While it's better to be a professional actor but be real in real life). I want that girl to listen to my correction/rebuke of her. But I am extremely angry this time for it's not right for that messenger to put on that false self while working for wickedness. I even go to the extent of saying that both the wicked perpetrator and his messengers deserve to be severely beaten on the ground. She doesn't say a word but keeps walking and listening. She is not even talking on the phone though I have been walking alongside her for a good amount of 30 seconds or so. We are about to reach the end of the road, but she says something so wicked, that it leaves me baffled to see that after all that rebuke and insult, she still has her heart set on the side of the wicked party. Seeing this scares me, and I leave her for I see that beneath the mask of that innocent girl, she was a reprobate – those who never repent of their wrongdoing! I walk back to my PG and see how wicked people have turned! They give a look that says one thing, but then their insides are utterly wicked and evil, and correction and rebuke don't affect them.

8:15

3. Dream (Morning):

The Home Infested with Sin (Reflected Revelation)
I see myself with my family in a different home. It lies at the end of a series of homes of the same kind in a line. It looks like a white villa with a square yard at the front with a tree in it. We've given one of the rooms to a short-heighted man who doesn't quite interact with us and stays in his own space. I can feel the distance, tension, and passive enmity in between.

I clean the home neatly.

I have to pee, but I see myself sitting on my feet to pee on the floor near the wall beside the sofa. I am sitting facing the wall in front where there's a drain between the sofa and the wall. To the right of me is a meshed door from where anyone can come inside. It seems that I don't care to be seen naked in that position. The dream me does this while the real me doesn't understand why I would do such a gross thing. I sit there for a good while waiting for the small amount to pee to be passed out. It's taking time. I finally pass the small amount of pee and throw water at the narrow passage between the sofa and the wall in the direction of the drain to clean the pee.

To the left of the drain at some distance lies the open kitchen to the left of which is the exit to the hall to the left of which is an old-looking washroom elevated above some stairs. In front of the washroom is the door to another room. I make rounds in the home due to various reasons. I don't know why but I put a lot of mud on the doormat lying in a corner in the hall near the open kitchen. The doormat gets fully covered with the light brown soil but it doesn't spread around.

My middle brother stays at home. He asks me if I would breastfeed him. The demand seems unreasonable to the real listening me but the dream me agrees. Even my mom knows that he asked this, but she seems to be accepting of it as she takes us to the corner of the room and turns off the light. My brother and I dance holding each other closely in the dark (making the real me wanna puke looking at the scene). But before we get to the breastfeeding stage my mom comes in after a few seconds to keep a check. I and my brother listen to my mom together as she sits in front of us both. She is asking us some questions related to an 'eye'. I could see that she is testing my mind if I would end up having intercourse with him. (The real me didn't feel good about the questions and my brother asking me such a thing! Such a demented home and way to live!) I happen to go into the room of the short heighted person with my mom to check the room out. He's not there. Throughout the dream, he doesn't talk to us or come into our space but keeps himself confined to himself. I see a white cup of tea over a plate lying on the floor on the carpet below the sofa. It makes me a bit angry. I tell my mom that he should've put it in the kitchen! I somehow don't like the presence of this person. I see his rough figure in the dream, and he's mostly dressed in a black suit with a white shirt inside and behaves like a gentleman.

I look at the yard and suggest to my mom that we could plant some plants in it. She says that what if the ones living above us wanted to build a first floor on it (though I don't happen to see anyone living 'above us' in the dream)?

My mom is now pouring out a huge mango's pulp in a vessel in the yard. It seemed that the mango must have been about a $3/4^{th}$ of a meter in diameter. I see that she works hard.

I find the short man's book in his room which he got printed out. It has worship songs of Jesus written in it. Apparently, he got a book xeroxed but it didn't get printed out perfectly because the pages couldn't be placed fully at their junction points on the machine's surface because the book was too tightly bound. I see a part of the sides extending to the other page. I have to bury my face to read what's written along the inner corners around the junction of the book. When I lift my head up from being deeply buried in the book, I see a concrete road ahead with Shahrukh Khan walking to the right in front of me while looking at me and entering a sweet shop on the right end of the road. The view resembles that of a place in Sonipat with the road running perpendicularly to the sweet shop. Apparently, I am sitting in the open with the book with a road in front. I walk back inside my home and hear the song lyric playing where the guys sing together:
'You walk away..'
'You walk away..'

after which I wake up. After a while of waking up, I hear these lines play in my spirit.

Mohabbat bhi jaroori thi	It was necessary to love
Bichadna bhi jaroori tha	It was necessary to separate as well
Meri aankhon ke dariya ka	The teary ocean of my eyes
Bikharna bhi zaroori tha..	needed to be out as well..

I slept around 3:30 last night and woke up late as I hadn't had a long satisfying sleep for a long time.

1. 'Kartikey..'

After laying down to sleep last night, I saw the upper half of Kartik Aryan in a full-sleeved white shirt to my right at the level of my bed as he was looking at me and repeating in a peculiar tone with a smile: 'Kartikey' – a slight male variation of my name – as if it was funny.

2. The Open Path To God's Church

It's Wednesday today. The night before the past Sunday morning, I had this vision of the street of the church I visit. I saw the brown-painted iron gate wide open with a clear path going towards it. The next day was also the day that I got to know after I went there that they had repented for inhibiting me to visit their church the last Sunday when it was God who had brought me there. The Holy Spirit showed me that the path to the church's street was open for me to walk on.

God showed me to go to that church! He didn't show me to go to Death Conqueror giving in to his abuse, look at his immoral mind, and sin! Why would I go to a criminal-minded person? I don't want to witness how he thinks! I've already tolerated enough of it as he has been communicating abusive and hurtful messages to me! I can't even have a casual chat with dual-faced betrayers like him and Akhila!

Oh yeah, The Holy Spirit also showed me a dream-vision in which I walked past a small maroon car on the left side of the beginning of the street to the left of Sardar Bakshi ji. Above the black window of the car was horizontally written something like 'Nikaal ke ghutne teko' ('After taking out, bow down knees') on the car's red surface. Though I don't remember the exact Hindi words, I remember the meaning I had understood. The phrase was telling the person to get that person's genitalia out and then bow down on her knees! It made me think of Death Conqueror because he is the one who has been trying to harass and oppress me! God didn't represent him as someone righteous in most of the revelations. Only in the 'Time with Short Blue-Eyed Man' (#4 on Page 106) was he shown as a righteous person with two blue angel eyes. In that dream, God depicted him as whom He made him to be, and not what he made of himself. In the revelation of him as an infant in a diaper – God showed him as His baby because of which He wants him to turn to Him. But I don't know if it matters to the sinful man. God also represented him as the villain Dushman (Enemy), or that devil lion with dual blue and red eyes and long and sharp scary teeth with a vicious expression on his face – because he has those blatant tendencies in him as well. Well, I've had revelations related to a loving lion as well back in A-16 in which the lion was standing on his back feet reaching up for a hug, and then walking towards me with the stem of a long red rose held horizontally in his mouth. Back then I assumed that it could be him. But then I took it as Jesus Himself. Because Jesus is also called the Lion of Judah. Judah could sleep with prostitutes. He slept with his daughter-in-law mistaking her for a prostitute on his way to somewhere for she had her face covered. One can read the Old Testament to know the context and why the daughter-in-law tricked Judah to sleep with her.

(It was because her husband had died and she wanted a child to continue her lineage through her in-laws' family and found no other way as all the younger brothers of her husband died as well to whom she would've been married according to the law).

She must already be knowing that Judah slept with prostitutes making her take that step. God is so gracious and loving. Despite this character trait of Judah, God gave him the privilege of his name being used in one of the titles of God – the Lion of Judah. It shows that there's no sin God can't forgive. He chooses sinners to display the extent of His love and mercy. The Bible is filled with such examples. He doesn't condone sin but forgives it and wants the person to overcome it and turn to Him.

Why will I bow my knees down in sin? I will and should bow my knees down before Holy Jesus in His worship, or I should submit to the godly will of my husband.

3. Jesus Was a Carpenter In His Earthly Life

False doctrines of this world try to classify people according to their work or their social status. Jesus was a carpenter during His Earthly life but was still God and full of the Holy Spirit. He didn't have a permanent place to rest his head and went from place-to-place teaching and calling His children to Him.

I overheard Vaibhav Sir in my lab making a remark that anyone who teaches godly things can be called a Brahman - the Hindu label for a superior caste of people. People in this country here carry a label of caste assigned to them by birth - though it has stopped holding much significance in the modern day, it had severe repercussions on people when it first came into existence. The place follows and believes in lies perpetuated by false doctrines. God didn't create any divisions among people. He can call a cook to fight if He wishes to, and He can call someone like me who was always so introverted and focused to be placed in the centre of attention for His purpose to prevail and His truth to spread. He put me in a condition that was not suitable or went well along with my brain and it taught me to be around people of all kinds and tell them the truth of Jesus. Ideally, I would've wanted to be locked in a room and do what I liked. But my interests have changed now. I no longer find satisfaction in research but only find so in worshipping God. He can call someone who is used to living an extroverted and extravagant life and have that person do and live as He wants him to. This shows that God doesn't place people in different categories based on their capacities, mental inclinations, their earthly, job or the kind of job they are 'supposed' to do because of their birth. It reminds me of what I read on the Internet somewhere - 'God doesn't call the equipped. He equips those He calls.'

The truth of God is that all believers have been made priests to God by the blood of Jesus, where Jesus is our High Priest for He made it possible for us to approach the throne of God.

4. Priests Made Through Jesus From Every Nation & Tongue

The guys sing:

From EVERY PEOPLE and TRIBE, EVERY NATION and TONGUE
HE HAS MADE US A KINGDOM AND PRIESTS TO GOD
TO REIGN WITH THE SON

Ref: Is He Worthy - Shane & Shane (Lyrics)

When I look at the behavior of Akhila and Death Conqueror from the day that she was insulting me with Death Conqueror by calling me a 'Dalit' on the phone, I understand why God gave me the dream revelation in which I surprisingly called them dumbasses! They were judging and insulting me for belonging to a group termed as being lower in status as per the system of this country – the group of those who are supposed to be cloth weavers by birth. But they are so gross fools, morally dumb and irrational! When I was a child, I could see that the system was a useless construct. I didn't make it about the equal rights of people or how different sects suffered because of the system, but I questioned the validity of the system. I saw that it was made by humans and was foolish to follow. The system would be foolish to follow even when all lived in a society where all had the same social status. This is so because God can call anyone for any purpose, and He equips them accordingly.

5. Doctrines of Demons

It is a place that follows false doctrines that teach lies and spread division among people. And the minds of people have been greatly influenced by religious texts written by people who wrote things delivered to them by demons whom they worshipped and believed to be Spirit-Gods in a similar way like I am writing what is delivered to me by the Holy Spirit. Only in my case and other believers, the Holy Spirit is the Spirit of God which resides in me and other believers. It delivers to me the things/teachings to be written, while those people let demons speak to their minds as they gave themselves away to spirits through the methods of transcendental meditation and the like. There's a reason it is written in the Bible that the Earth is full of doctrines of demons - doctrines that were written because demons worked through people to have them write lies so people could be misled and stay stuck in the system. If one actively goes out to search for spirits, they will find that person. People are anyway surrounded by demonic spirits everywhere in the spiritual realm. There are demons all around us. Those spirits mislead them and fill their minds with lies - what has been evident in the false doctrines followed by many in the matrix. Someone writes a revelation from Heaven delivered by the Holy Spirit, while someone else writes a revelation from a demonic spirit on Earth or in the universe. The Bible is a collective word written by the Holy Spirit, that's why it's called Holy.

6. RS and the Horse

(few days back)

I think the 'works' part of my ministry will begin when the major part of this written ministry is over. I would perhaps be writing then as well, but it would most probably be to a much lesser extent. I don't know in what time frame will I set out to heal, but it doesn't seem to be the current one.

7. Things I Learnt About Jesus Today while washing clothes:

I felt Him say, "Don't focus on his mind. Focus on mine." – referring to the mind of Death Conqueror. Because He saw how looking at the mind and thought patterns of the abuser made me feel so downcast and filled me with hatred and resentment towards him and his supporter – Akhila. But I also saw how looking at the mind of God as His nature was revealed to me, filled me with awe and reverence for Him. It made me want to fall on the floor to honor Him. Though no one can completely fathom God's nature, looking at the revealed parts made my day and I saw how tiny I was in front of Him.

I saw how he knew the deepest parts of the heart of wicked men, yet He was patient and worked His Will out, much like the song lyric 'You see the hearts of men, yet you let them live'. It didn't lead to a change in His Holy nature, but He stayed constant. Then I looked at myself, and how being around the minds of the wicked made me feel nauseous and not want to look at them. I again looked at God's HUGE tolerance for the wicked as He lets them live and has been watching them since the time the human race came into existence. God's nature stayed a constant. He stayed constant, righteous, and Holy! Augmenting this was the fact that He knew the deepest details of the creation, its laws, and everything that made things work in the matrix. For Him, there's no such thing as research for He knows everything already. I saw how in addition to this He knew everything about everyone on this planet - from the righteous to the wicked. And how his Holy nature stayed intact and constant. I realized that He wasn't called Holy and perfect for no reason but it was because He was indeed that Great and therefore worthy of worship because no created being could ever match Him in its traits. (And that's where devil went wrong. He wanted to be like the Most High and went corrupt. He desires to be worshipped.) I saw how putting up with wickedness for 4 years had got me agitated and irritated and made me want to hurt the wicked, but then I looked at His deep nature that both stood still like the calm evening sea and flowed like a smooth soothing river. This was also the moment I witnessed how spending time in His company makes us focus on His traits and nature and helps us to be more like Him while taking the focus away from the world. I saw how demons and devil were so inherently wicked and undeserving of the peaceful kingdom of Heaven for they rejected the Holy King of Love and Peace and therefore were worthy of punishment.

Somewhere in between I had these visions in which He lifted up the tiny baby me dressed in my red and white floral dress and swung me up and down in his hands throwing me up in the air and catching me back down. He was so pleased to have me as His child. And I saw that it was because of His Holy nature and because He was good that He loved me so, and also because I accepted Him- my Creator - as my father. I saw that we had a mutual child-father/Creator bond, and it was Him who chose me first before I chose Him and came to Him.

And I saw how everything was under His authority, how He could make mountains move and seas part (like He did with the red sea) or burn cities as he did with the wicked Sodom and Gomorrah.

I also saw at times RS extending out of my chest and reaching very high upwards towards the sky as if trying to reach God in worship.

8. The abuser thinks he deserves to abuse and be surrounded by many women

Because of his background and wealth. His background and wealth have blinded his view of what's right and wrong and filled his mind with a sense of unrighteous entitlement and obligation. He lived in a gutter of immorality, still lives in it, and likes it.

9. The Condition of Sin Is Spiritual - the Flesh is a Medium

The sins of coveting what others have, or wanting what one should not, or the feelings of envy and jealousy and the tendency to betray - these are the sins that are not related to having a flesh body. Because remember – that the devil and demons are not physical but spiritual beings yet they commit these same sins and they lure others to commit them as well.

I just saw a naked Glory hitting the back of my head with a rod with all his might. It has become a norm now.

Whenever I write something which targets sin and sheds light on it, I see a naked Glory hit the back of my head with a long rod with all his might.

So, coming back to the topic of this section, the sins of betrayal, jealousy, envy, covetousness and greed, and many other sins are not necessarily committed in the flesh, but they are done so in the spirit. If the flesh was removed, such traits could still be found in a wicked spiritual being - devil and demons being the example! So, though we are in the flesh, we have to change our inner nature by knowing who Christ is in character – so that we can be like Him and be Holy as He is! Many times, it's not the flesh that makes people betray others, but an inherent wickedness in their nature that wants to betray and cause pain which is also the essence of who the devil is. Sin is a spiritual condition and flesh augments it. It's not just the flesh but also who they are internally and the kind of thoughts they let in and the preferences they harbour! But the presence of flesh serves as oil to the fire of sin as it adds sensuality related to physical perception which makes us want to please our flesh bodies at the expense of betraying others and God in various ways! Without the presence of flesh, we would be carrying just our conscious mental persona with a lack of sensual temptations, and therefore the tendency to betray in ways related to those temptations would be absent as well.

It is our inner conscious being that is independent of the body but is trapped in it that gets released of the prison suit and gets to live with God in His Heavenly kingdom.

I have been feeling these nudges to eat for some days after the aloo gajar matar vision and I have been eating one or two meals with some tea snacks in between. But I will also be soon shifting to a different place which won't have prepared food as a part of their rent. Additionally, I keep hearing the song lyric 'Mein Dhanyawaad Karta Rahunga' ('I will keep giving thanks') which is also a nudge to commune giving thanks to God for saving us from the system. I was also hearing this lyric when I had the vision of one roti with that veggie that evening. It's my communion song as well.

This evening I was thinking if eating all the time amounts to saying thanks to God all the time - the thought just crossed my mind once. But no, it's not. God can control our intake and make us fast intensely as He leads us while we still give thanks to Him in the Spirit.

10. He Will Protect You But Will Keep You Like A Jameendaar

In today's discussion with my supervisor, she abruptly made this statement which made me think about how it related to the HOD. It's a sick way to think and only a sick mind devoid of healthy love would think in such terms. One has to know one's place before God. Like God doesn't keep His children like a Jameendaar (Landlord), but leads them in righteousness with love – in the same manner, the authorities of the Earth are to behave. If God was a Jameendaar, none of us would've ended up here. We came because of our free will. And then He proved His love for us on the cross to make us turn back to Him.

12. The Biryani Nudge and The Blinking in the Spirit

I was working when I felt the nudge to have Biryani. I hardly happen to think of ordering Biryani by myself. I mostly order tea with snacks. But this time I could tell that it wasn't my own thought but was floating in the Spirit that I had happened to pay attention to. I continued working but then I saw a small photo of Biryani blink in my spiritual vision. So, I knew that I had to order it. I ordered and what I received wasn't biryani but white and multi-coloured rice put above some pieces of chicken put on top of gravy at the bottom. It wasn't biryani but a multilayered composite. But I didn't complain because it was too late, and it would only waste time and effort to complain about a meal that was already delivered. The only thing they could've done was to refund the amount but since I was consuming what they delivered, I didn't complain.

Early noon

While I was sitting on the commode under constipation last night, I happened to recall the time spent online with David and Cyrus. David was a FB friend with whom I and Meera had developed a good friendship.

1. David Silverstein

He was very fair, had curly hair, and a slight bulge in his belly. We met in the 'For the Love of Physics' Facebook group. The group had the actual Walter Lewin in it - the author of the book by the same name. He, me, and Meera became FB friends. It was around the beginning of Masters. We used to chat a lot and talk about physics!

Anyway. It was the first sem of my MSc and I used to talk to David almost daily. I had come to like him. He shared his general life with us and vice-versa. He was looking forward to enrolling in a Ph.D. and was more into mathematics than physics. Both Meera and David called me Kats – the name Meera gave me back in BSc! He offered to teach me Hamilton and Lagrangian Mechanics from 'his' notes as I told him that I was facing difficulties. I individually Skyped only twice after MSc classes during which he taught me from his notes which had some new insights. The three of us group skyped as well. He was more casual with Meera for she was more outgoing. She was having an affair with Walter around the same time. We nicknamed me as Particle, Meera as Wave, and him as Photon for a photon is both a particle and a wave. There was a logic behind it though I can't exactly recall. I think it was because I talked more in physical terms that made sense while Meera talked what seemed to be like a talk in the air and at times about spiritual things which used to be hard for us to grasp at first as it often seemed illogical and only made sense to her, and we often got into an argument with her over the things she said. The way she and I thought used to be quite contrary in character and we lay on the opposite ends of the spectrum; while David went along with both of us - so I named him Photon. He often made grandiloquent statements that I often found an overstatement. For e.g., once he said that Kats ate 6^{th} Order Differential Equations for breakfast.

Looking back at the time makes me look at the purity of our minds. How we didn't use obscene language and were serious about the quality of relationships and the things we said, while now I've been coming across people who have no control over their tongue and deeds. It is a much degraded generation.

I don't remember much about this time, and I wasn't expecting to recall it yesterday when out of nowhere it popped out in my memory while sitting on the commode. Jocelyn was also a part of that group, and she too later became our friend. She was beautiful and blonde and got into a relationship with David. David asked Meera if I was ok with it instead of asking me directly. He knew that I liked him. They shared with us their time together. She flew to meet him at his place and gifted him a stuffed tiger which they both were showing to us. She was a physicist as well.

After some months, we got to know that Jocelyn broke up with David because he wasn't proposing to her when she had asked him many times and when they already had been in a relationship for that period of time and had fulfilled all aspects they could've. She was distraught as she shared with us her painful emotional state and that she just didn't understand why he was not proposing to her. I can't recall the reason David gave. He just told us that she broke up. He shared as well with Meera the letter (s) that he wrote to Jocelyn which were full of her praises and later told her not to share with me but by then she had already shared it with me. I think he told her that he had some career plans before he proposed to a woman. Though he seemed to understand the concept of commitment and was rational and not an abuser, Jocelyn was right at her place as well. She said that she didn't want to continue with him without a ring. But they should've talked about this at the beginning of their relationship itself!
Those were the times everyone was direct, and things were simpler. People didn't play games like leaving doors open for a stranger they never talked with to walk in. People around us wrote or said what they thought and didn't hide it in an indirect sentence. It seems like everyone has turned filthy and immoral.

I think that the fact that David was in my life for a season has a spiritual significance. David in the Bible was a devout worshipper of Yahuah - the Most High Lord. And David's physical traits match mine to some extent as well (slightly bulging belly and curly hair though mine are wavy), while Jocelyn had a lean, sleek figure which was not disproportioned but she loved David wholeheartedly. When David got into a relationship with her, he withdrew from me. It wasn't that we were together but he knew that I liked him. He had that amount of sense in him. And I wouldn't have wanted to eat a lot of his time either knowing that he and Jocelyn are together. He was a friend of mine and continued to be so until I unfriended everyone to get rid of this past of Meera, Tejaswi, Walter – the three people who brought me pain because of their immense immorality! Meera because she got involved with an abuser like Walter. If she had developed feelings for someone old who wasn't an abuser, it would have made sense but knowing that he only used fb to hunt women and start affairs where he even shared with her his shallow process of falling in love. He told her that falling in love with a woman at first sight was like experiencing the fall of lightning. I thought, "How shallow." I would've gotten into an argument with him on that statement. How could he fall in love without knowing the woman? What if the woman was an abuser or didn't have a strong sense of morality or things that she stood for? If anyone attached falling in love with vanity or with one's looks, I used to look at it as an inferior form of love and I wouldn't want to form strong bonds with that person because we didn't match in our ideas. But even that changed with the arrival of God in my life.

It was good that I wrote the above for it refreshed my mind as I saw how thoughtful I used to be when it came to living in a righteous way and choosing people. I write all of it because it's a tool for a mixed generation to take a lesson from. And it was highlighted to me by the Spirit itself. I used to be smart and hang out with smart people who were morally stout as well. Now I don't care about smartness but only morality, Holiness, and Godliness!

2. Cyrus - the School Football Instructor

He was a football instructor at a school. I found him in perhaps the same or another physics group. Only I didn't know that he stayed online to cheat on his wife and start new affairs. He was an old man in his 40s with long wavy neck-length hair. He lied at first that he was a Physics Prof in Italy who was in the group because of his interest in Physics. I later found out from his other accounts that he was from Pakistan. I had talked to him once or twice on the phone, but I blocked him when I witnessed how he used FB to have obscene chats and was trying to make me all about him and have me stuck in his fishing net! He thought of me as a naïve and foolish girl!

3. Sanjay Sir Grabs Awadhesh Prasad's Throat

Vision (day before yesterday, evening): I saw the side view of Sanjay Sir standing at the viewer's right, facing Awadhesh Prasad as he abruptly lifted his hand and grabbed the throat of Awadhesh Prasad. Sanjay Sir was dressed in his light green colored tunic set that he was wearing that day and Awadhesh Prasad was in his usual attire of loose full-sleeved shirt untucked over pants. The vision repeated itself a few times and as it did so, the face of my dad was shown as being translucently superimposed on Sanjay Sir's face.

4. Dream (this morning):

I have to meet RS. It's been pending for long and hasn't yet manifested. I find myself on an elevated highway and it's day though not sunny. The flyover is under construction. I am being given the label of Sridevi in this dream. The path changes along the way and I've to manage to cross it safely. On one part, I see vertical strips of holes on the road under construction. I manage to drive my two-wheeler on it without falling inside the vertical holes. I'm now inside a place undergoing construction in continuation with the highway. It looks like a hotel where I'm with some of my friends from the dept. I walk through the dark corridor and take a tour of the place thinking I may find RS. I take a left and see a bunch of rooms in the dark there. The room at the right corner has its door slightly opened. It seems like a signal to come in – the way people insidiously communicate these days. I don't take a look inside as it's not the right thing to walk into someone's room without a purpose even if you find it slightly open. I turn back and now am in a lit space and walk towards the door that has many people coming inside, walking in my direction. I see RS walk towards me as well dressed in a full-sleeved white shirt tucked inside grey strap pants. He is clean-shaven and looks very neat. His expression is neutral and he walks like the general public without a change in expression on seeing me. It seems to me like he is judging the way I would respond to him making an appearance there. I catch him after a few seconds of thought and hug him wrapping my legs around him in a sitting position. We end up hugging for a long time. I can see that we continue to hug tightly pulling each other towards ourselves as the thought of it ending any moment crosses my mind. As I think I've to separate now, it extends and continues further. After we separate, we now have to decide the next thing to do. The dream then shows that I am dressed in the full-sleeved maroon knee-length dress I bought in A-16. The vision fast-forwards and changes to a different setting. I find myself with my BSc friend Anjali and ask her about what happened later that day when I met RS. My BSc friend Anjali was a slim girl with rough-textured uneven facial skin due to pimple bursts.

Somewhere in the dream, I find myself in my school bus with my school friend Anjali Jaglan in her attire of school uniform of a white shirt tucked inside pants. She was a very chubby girl with thin and curly hair. She is standing inside the bus lit in white light facing to the left. I leave the bus and rush to repeat the highway run. My BSc friend Anjali tells me that one of the wide metallic strips that were connected all over above the dome-shaped building fell and hit him throwing him off a few meters away and he died. I don't happen to remember any of it. I try to get more info from her. Now I am at my home in Omaxe. I ask my mom about what happened during the past days when I wasn't there. She told me some people came and stayed at home and that she kept the home very clean when they were there. The lady she refers to brings to my remembrance in the dream the short-heighted Astrophysics teacher Neelam Ma'am. However, that short-heighted lady is being labeled as Sridevi as well. Apparently, she and a tall guy stayed in the home's master bedroom for two days. She tells me that after them, a few more people stayed in our home. I don't seem to be knowing the happenings of that duration of time. I have the memory of my short time with RS, and it makes me happy and filled and I want to tell her about it. I go outside in the balcony. It's night. I look at the view at the front and reminisce about my short memory with RS as I see some parked vehicles move on dark streets far below.

I go back inside and talk some more with my mom. I then see some car doormats covering the vertical floor space between the single and the double bed. The doormats are dusty and apparently, they are from RS' car but are present in my home. They've to be cleaned and it seems that we will keep them forever with us.

I kept waking up from sleep and somewhere in the middle, I saw a cloth bed made between the two beds in this PG room.

And while I was writing the part after separating from the hug with RS, I heard in my Spirit:

Shareer ki Abhilashao par	On the desires of the body
Shaitan ki saari taakat par	On all the power of devil
Vijay mein pau, Jai mein pau	Let me be victorious, let me be victorious..
Taaki tere jaisa dikhu..	So that I may be like You..

5. The Cupbearer Dream

I received a greater understanding regarding The Cupbearer dream last night. I understood why God showed me what He did – some people in a group on their way to the King holding a cup while a man came out with a baked chocolate cake and was taken aside for judgment. It was to show that the service to the Most High King Jesus could be done with a pure heart and mind with full devotion while being in a group with other committed workers of God – aka the cupbearers. And that it could also be done alone but in a superfluous manner as the baker did. It is one's heart condition that decides whether one is a cupbearer or a baker. I would rather be in a group with His people and be one of the cupbearers than be alone and bake a cake. However, one can also say that if others are baking a cake in a group, then one should walk alone to the King with the cup in hand. God made me learn that true worship didn't have to be done alone and could also be done in a group. He knew how I stressed one-to-one relationships as they were easier for me to walk through and being in a group often seemed shallow and without meaning to me. I often thought that one or two good-quality deep bonds would be more than enough for me than to have a huge group with shallow, immoral, and low-quality interactions. But I found how group interactions and bonding could carry immense meaning when people are together with pure hearts with the same love and faith in Christ – despite their outer personas being different.

I don't want to be a lone baker or a part of a baking group. I want to be a cupbearer in all cases. Now that I've started going to church and know His other children, I have come to understand what it is like to take the cup to the Most High King in a group.

6. They Don't Even Know What's Wrong

They make it a matter of viewpoints - as was said by my PhD Supervisor.

The kind of place I grew up in, people had mental structures in their brain that inhibited them from doing something wrong as they identified it. But here, people don't have that understanding and they think that whatever they think is the right way to live is the way they should go about living life. Back in my hometown, people had a strong sense of right and wrong and so they designed their life and took their decisions around their understanding. But here, even when people know something is wrong, they don't have the mental agency which tells them to stop and not go ahead. Almost as if I have shifted from a place that was intelligent in both analytics and morals to a place of dire moral dumbness while being analytical is just a secondary tool to earn money. It's as if I've downgraded by coming to such a culture. Back in my place, if people got married, it was a huge thing, and one could tell how committed they were and that they really wanted to be together and that's why they took the decision. People hardly indulged in premarital and extramarital affairs but loved their own partners. Things were about committed love and not momentary pleasure which is the foundation of the demonic place such as this city. Anyone with a functioning conscience would agree that this is the right way to live while people with a demented sense of morality would perpetuate fornication and indulging the flesh in many places. At my place, a lot of stress was put on the mental aspect of bonds between people – that if there was the presence of a sense of faithfulness in the bond, or if it was about passing time in fornication. People often had a sense of bonding that led them to end up with the partner they first chose for themselves without them having to jump from person to person and not being able to decide. This was because people had a sense of concrete and continued love in them. If they loved the first person though they may not have formed a physical bond with them yet, then they were most likely to end with that person alone for the only requirement for them to be together was met. At times, their families posed problems because they brought in cultural and social divisions, but there was no such thing as using individuals for one's selfish gain. When I was still in the middle school, my fellow classmates around me stressed on a sense of commitment and not just bodily pleasure because though it was a natural part of the bond, it was secondary and held no meaning without an inner sense of faithfulness and commitment. Here, people marry to start a family and not to be committed in their hearts. They've already had many affairs since their teenage and therefore they develop a general sense of bonding early in their lives after indulging in unfaithful physicality! While at my place, being physical with a person was the last thing one was supposed to do after one had ascertained that that person was whom they wanted for themselves which would also be a perfect godly way to go about relationships. Here, people sleep around casually, and commitment/covenant is the last thing they settle on which too doesn't carry hearty faithfulness but is based on the objective fulfilment of responsibilities while missing the essence of the bond! The place is a highly morally degraded version of the place I was brought up in. I was thanking God for blessing me with a place like my hometown to grow up in, which instilled in me sexual morality. Though I had the sin of gluttony in my life since I was a child, but I saw that I overcome it now because I couldn't eat two pieces of sweets in one go while previously, I could easily eat three or four. My sweet addiction got under control via fasting and I also became more wary of my eating patterns while previously I used to eat mindlessly.

God selected and brought those people together through me who understand the hearty side of commitment and not just staying objectively committed to the responsibilities of running a family – because the concept of earthly family has no meaning in Heaven due to a lack of marriage in the place. Heaven is place that has angelic beings with pure hearts who live with full devotion towards God. Their hearts have a sense of commitment and faithfulness which they follow.

Also, these lyrics keep getting repeated to me in my Spirit:
Yaar tera superstar, Desi Kalakar
Mein put jat da, mnda ni haar.

I could tell Death Conqueror to go find a someone who actually belongs from the state of Bihar. And find 4-5 of such women. And not just Bihar, find two-three women from slum areas with speaking disability. They are the ones who need him, would need his financial help. There are many downtrodden sections of society he can put good use of his money instead of flashing it to prove his superiority!

I will go where God sends me. And I can even be with a sensible Bihari but not a person like him. Without repentance he's not going to move further with me anywhere and will stay stuck in the same zone. I don't want to be around a bloated person like him! He deserves many slaps from me - his whole family for supporting his wicked deeds!

Look who's expecting me to come to him! - a criminal who has been sinning against me for all these years and has ruined the aspects of my life that were very important to me! He makes me feel so disgusted! A godly person with morals and a humble ego is much better than him!

He and his family and all those who supported him and served as wicked messengers need to repent in a sackcloth while banging their heads on the floor.

The fact that RS too is dual should be an epiphany for Death Conqueror for he too can be subjected to mean, pain-giving and life-threatening circumstances through someone else.

Today towards the end of the day, I told God that I can not like someone like Death Conqueror. Even if I had positive feelings at the moment, they didn't last long for I looked at his cheap thoughts and acts and they made me resent him again. I told God that there are many others in this world who need His salvation and who would also respect me as a person for bringing the good news to them and will treat me like a child of God. That there were other people who are in need of His true love and are more deserving than Death Conqueror. This fellow neither follows God, nor fears Him. I told God that I can't continuously love this wicked child of His. So better change my position and put me in with some real godly people who have a sense of gratitude and not of entitlement regardless of their worldly status. I told God that I was done with this guy and didn't want to listen to more of what he had to say through others. I clearly saw how there were people in this world who had the inner character traits that could be loved continuously and how being with people of that kind would bring healing, contentment, and a sense of fulfilment to me and other godly children of God. With Death Conqueror, I by default assume a rough attitude – because why would I behave nicely with someone who strips innocent women publicly. Day before yesterday, I felt like crying out loudly while taking a walk outside at night because whenever I looked down, I saw the vision of my naked breasts and it made me want to cry out loudly because I had not yet realized the full extent to which he had caused me emotional and psychological damage! To realize that that was the view everyone saw was very painful for me and I have prayed to God to punish this disgusting criminal as hard as it is possible! Before that moment I was living in denial, and I didn't look at the actual hurtful thing that took place. And then these (even more disgusting) people keep coming across my way as they pass me by riding their two-wheelers while intentionally turning their heads and looking at my breasts. I can tell that they drove by to do just that and cause me pain and that they didn't intend to do it to anyone else, but just me! Why would it be the case? Because they are cheap messengers sent to emotionally hurt me – passive flying monkeys and abusers!

'Ro' ('Cry') - And then I hear this in my spirit as if he so wants me to cry out in pain, as if this is his sole objective in life - to give me pain and make me cry!

I can only shout at and hit Death Conqueror in this present state of mine. He can get lost with his filthy head! I wish he dies a brutal death! And if it wasn't God's Will I wouldn't even go to try to heal someone like him because he wouldn't even be grateful for God's supernatural healing and wouldn't respect it but look down at it as he has been doing with me! There are many others who need God and aren't prosperous enough, who need His healing and who would respect His love for them! If he can't respect something that is given by the hands of God, he doesn't deserve it - as simple as that!

And most importantly, I don't want to waste more time thinking about people like him and his followers who only say painful things and behave in hurtful ways! I have real work to do which is accorded to me by God. I am not an object to be used by useless and morally dumb people like him! - I am a creation of God created for His purpose!

Dream-Vision (Morning): I order something on an online app and the bill shown is 330.

Though I wrote in anger that Death Conqueror should die a brutal death. It's not my wish to see someone die who could've made to turn away from sin.

I can't do to others what he did or behave in ways or say things that he does. His actions and inclinations reflect his reality and make him look morally inferior, and then he's not even repentful. Like he feels a repulsion from people whom he perceives as culturally inferior, I feel a repulsion from morally inferior people which makes me want to pray prayers of judgment on the unrepentant. I by default feel drawn to righteous people. That's why I'm so drawn towards Jesus.

I don't want him to die a brutal death. No. But he should get the kind of judgment that changes his heart towards God and sets him out on His golden path leaving his past ways.

1. Their Professions Make Them Look Past Cultural Differences

Even when I get a negative revelation about RS or KA, I don't take it personally for I know that those revelations must be having some meaning which would become clear to me later or that it could be because of some misunderstanding. But isn't it fascinating how God brought together people from different sects regardless of their cultural, personal, and professional differences? RS and KA are emotionally intelligent because of the kind of jobs they do. Their profession requires them to be so and makes them more honed and refined in their empathetic faculties with time - same with other stars that God gave me revelations about (AK, SK, RK and SRK). That's why it's easier for them to understand things while being above cultural differences; but dumbasses like Death Conqueror and Akhila stay stuck with their culturally limited minds that don't understand the precepts of God, while RS and KA, being emotionally intelligent actors, understand easily the precepts of God because of their acute moral discernment. They won't try to justify their own way of living or their own beliefs because their minds have the capacity to see through a new lens the situation needs to be seen through. I think that that's why God chose them for His kingdom because He saw that they could be saved. And He chose Death Conqueror because He saw that he would be saved by observing others getting saved and changed. If he gets his earthly judgment, he should repent before God and see why he got judged - that he did indeed sin against God! His punishment should remind him of his sin and he can repent and let it go eventually after he has asked for forgiveness from God with a pure heart and has already repented intensely!

If I get judged, I see the reason why God judged me - like I got judged through Tejaswi for what I made Aarti go through back during middle school, and it also opened my eyes to how Meera suffered with me because of the lack of spiritual company she needed as I was an atheist back then. She couldn't grow with me, but I did with her. However, I didn't grow in my own strengths, but I grew in her lines of thought; but then perhaps that was the very change that God was trying to bring in me through my time with her. Her perspective always made sense to me after some time had passed - say a few days or weeks or at times – months. And I usually rejected it at first for it used to be so different and unusual and seemed illogical when looked at with the lens created by things that I already knew. Being with her in a way forced me to look at things spiritually because I loved her and therefore wanted to understand her though I didn't agree with her most of the time!

I found all the answers later – answers that her perspective didn't/couldn't fill the gaps with – when God Himself revealed them to me in one or the other way or through others.

After coming to Jesus, you become quite versatile and open to all kinds of people as you look past their bodies and worldly status and look at their souls that need the good news to be brought to them and be saved.

2. The Head Stab

(Past few days)
RS stabs the frontal top of my head.

~ 12:55

3. Satnaam Waheguru

Heard in the Spirit (Day before yesterday):

Sai Ji Mainu Na Bisro..
Tu Visre Mein Mar Jaawan
Satnaam Waheguru.. Satnaam Waheguru
Waheguru Waheguru Waheguru Waheguru..

Ref: Guru Ji Mainu Na Bisro | Shabad | Bhai Harbans Singh Ji | Paap Na Kar Bandeya | HD Video

It seems to me that God is now calling this sect of people to turn to Him.

4. Bye Kartikey..

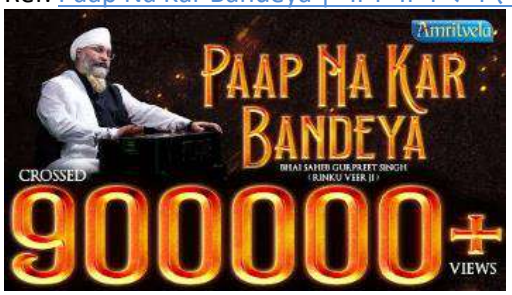
Today early noon:
Vision: KA says 'Bye.. Bye Kartikey..' with a smile as he takes a few steps back. But he comes coming back intermittently and hugs me from behind. (dressed in his usual black and white)

5. Paap Na Kar Bandeya

Heard in the Spirit (Noon)

Paap Na Kar Bandeya Don't sin

Ref: Paap Na Kar Bandeya | पाप ना कर बंदेया | Bhai Gurpreet Singh Ji (Rinku Veer Ji)



There was a function organized late evening in the Gurudwara which reminded me of the song.

He deserves a brutal punishment. Because he has hurt me brutally. And it was not incidental or coincidental. He did it intentionally being in his conscious senses knowing the impact it would have on me. He should die a brutal death. Though God may save him for His kingdom as He gradually teaches him to leave his past self, but he should see the judging hand of God! His truth only makes him deplorable and hateworthy!

It kept being highlighted to me:

6. 'Worthy is the Lamb..'

Holy, holy
Are You Lord, God almighty
Worthy is the Lamb
Worthy is the Lamb
You are holy, holy
Are You Lord, God almighty
Worthy is the Lamb
Worthy is the Lamb

7. They Are Like Robots

They do something wrong, but don't feel guilty or the need to repent. And the next time they talk to the person they did wrong to, they behave as if they never committed that sin against her! - what I experienced all the time with Akhila and Death Conqueror! She would say all kinds of mean things about me and behave poorly and deceptively at times, but the next time that she talked to me, she would be nice and smiling acting all good without feeling the need to repent and apologize for her previous mean/hurtful/betraying behavior. Such robots or psychopaths! - both of them are! Like a robot, they think in a result-oriented manner when it comes to people with emotions and a heart. He thinks in a result-oriented manner to please his flesh and feel superior, while she thinks in a robotic manner to feed her sin of betraying people behind their backs and yet not let it affect her conscience. Useless robots with an expensive earthly worth! - such character traits have zero heavenly worth!

8. Deepika Padukone Rises Up With Two White Wings

Vision (today afternoon): I saw the Bollywood celebrity Deepika Padukone (DP) rise up with two white wings with two blue shining diamond shapes in front of her eyes. She was dressed in a white saree with a grey floral print and a half-sleeved grey blouse inside – her attire in the previous vision where she threw a dagger at my forehead like a Ninja.

Also, while writing the vision in which RS wore my red shirt with a white t-shirt inside and had long silky neck-length hair falling at one side, I heard in my Spirit accompanied by the vision of DP saying laughingly 'Ye pagal hai..' being dressed in the same saree attire as before.

Things have their timeline. I had the dream of me learning to operate that huge gun amidst a group of people back in late 2021, and I started going to church this year only a few months back. Things are slow but progressing. At the end of my life, I don't want to have any hatred in my heart for anyone and I want to die forgiving all that done wrong unto me. Jesus forgave all my sins and made me perfect in His eyes. I would rather stay away and not look at those who are wicked instead of looking at them and feeling hatred because of who they are. It's just a hindrance between me and God.

We've to learn to love God and His kingdom of angels while calling others to it.

Vision: RS in a horizontally tricolored fluffed tracksuit (two being light skyblue and white - white being in the middle) rides a white horse in good speed in a direction between the viewer's left and towards the viewer.

Vision: SRK in an unevenly and rectangularly checked yellow and black long suit plays a long golden saxophone facing the viewer's left while moving vertically at his position in synchrony with the melody as the sound played briefly in my spirit accompanied by the vision.

Dream-Vision (Past week): Post suggestion on my browser's home page that says SRK has fallen in true love.

Few hours back: Both RS and KA sit together at the left edge of the other bed looking at me with a smile with their arms around each other while I am editing out one of the past pages. KA is dressed in his usual attire of a full-sleeved white shirt tucked inside black pants while RS is in the white suit with a blue floral print - the one from the previous vision at home. KA sits in front of me at my left end while RS is to his left.

KA Visions: KA dressed in a white shirt tucked inside black pants floats towards me and falls on me. His face changes to a demonic form as he puts his mouth in mine.
His forehead gets strongly hit by the abrupt erection of the elephant danda as he stands near the cooler. He then jogs briefly. He does a variety of things that are funny to look at.

It's not God's will for anyone to perish in the system. Come out of it.

‘Paap Na Kar Bandeya..’

I was lying on my bed and was tired of writing – what I had been doing for too long. I saw there were still 8 pages to be edited and then new revelations kept coming up especially when I rested. I felt so burdened as the work never seemed to end. I just wanted to find some moments of mental relief amidst all this pressure. I saw myself trying to escape the stress, but at the same time, I also knew that I had to work under the same condition. I felt like throwing away my laptop as it took away all my time but then what I have been doing needed to be done as well. It is the work given by me to God. If not His work, no other work is worth doing in the system.

I happened to recall a dream revelation from during the past few days in which I saw the face of my past PG's owner Mr. Dheeraj Kakkar sitting facing to the right looking straight in that direction while I repeated something.

All these people God gives me revelations about, they are called/invited by God to His kingdom.

Apna Lahoo Bahaya..	(You) Shed your blood..
Mein dhanyawaad karta rahunga..	I'll keep giving thanks..
Yeshu dhanyawaad karta rahunga..	I'll keep giving thanks..
Mein dhanyawaad karta rahunga..	I'll keep giving thanks..
Yeshu dhanyawaad karta rahunga..	I'll keep giving thanks..

While lying in bed I was feeling too burdened. I saw how I didn't have the mental stability and space I had some years back. I was fed up with writing and editing took time as well and I had been doing everything alone unlike others who have a team to help them out in their ministry. And then I remembered my mom telling me how she didn't like her work, but she still had to do it. But I also thought how I liked writing and always wanted to be a fiction writer first. But as it later turned out, the frequency with which I recently started receiving revelations increased my writing workload by a lot, while if I was writing my own thing, I would've progressed at my own pace as I felt comfortable with my own creative release instead of needing to catch up with God's revelatory release and feeling stressed. When you write by your own mind, you get a sense of mental release which brings a feeling of mental refreshment and vitality because you used your own resources and lines of thoughts, and what you write reflects a part of your persona and the way you think. Writing by one's own mind serves as a medium to express one's own creativity (as accorded by God) which brings peace to one's soul for letting out the inner soul man. But writing revelations is a chore because it amounts to writing what is being given to me though at times, I may not like it. Though many parts I liked - like my dance visions with Jesus, Glory in red and white, the winged RS and KA revelations and the ones in which they carried a bouquet along with the dance revelations with them and AK - many other revelations seem like a boring chore to me that has to be completed. So, my situation is pretty much like my mom's. She likes some parts of her job, but many she doesn't. At places, I like the writing part, but at times it's a huge burden as it occupies all my time because I've to do both the writing and editing. And when I edit, more stuff is highlighted to me. So, even editing is necessary. Also, I've to maintain a certain momentum, unlike writers who can take breaks to refresh their minds and also go through periods of creative blocks. God gives me breaks but I always end up with something more needing to be written.

If I write just the revelations and not the follow-up thoughts, the content will seem too robotic and much more discontinuous than it already is.

When the practical part of my job would begin - the one involving healing the sick and ministering to the poor, it would bring immense joy and contentment to my soul. Bringing the blessing of God's Holy Spirit to the poor and seeing them benefit from it and being filled with joy is such a joy for one's own soul. I am waiting for this specific part to begin.

While people like Death Conqueror and Akhila can't think beyond their genitals, I have a lot of stuff on my plate! At times I eat not to glutton or because I am hungry, but to change my mood. At times I pray and see a change, but other times I feel stuck.

I had to even write the hurtful things I saw happening to me and others. I saw slaughter and many violent revelations. They wouldn't have been present if I had written something from my own mind. My own writing would've focused on the progression of the story as perceived deeply at a mental level and I wouldn't be writing the details of action scenes that involve murder or causing pain to someone - though I may be writing in a line how a person was hurt or their condition, but never a violent scene which brings distress! But God gave me too many violent revelations. Other revelations had people behaving in shallow and meaningless ways, people like Akhila who said nonsensical and abusive things indirectly to me while being on the phone and riding a bicycle in a dream revelation. It seemed like a revelation of such cheap nature to me that it's hard to describe in words. There are other revelations as well that I didn't like at all! In my book, most people would be having a moral character and I wouldn't be introducing characters like Death Conqueror and Akhila who pollute things with their persona!

My own fiction book would carry sensitive ways in which one could be hurt because those sensitive ways are huge for me to behave like in my own character. I wouldn't have characters who consistently hurt others in huge ways as Death Conqueror did and Akhila does too – even her sin seemed too huge to me! Though God can forgive any sin, they are not even repenting. He has a disgusting mind that I've come to abhor a lot now! I wish God didn't introduce him in my life but sent me directly to the practical part of my ministry. But there's an order he's having me follow.

While lying down I saw what it was to lay down one's own self and desires to do what God wanted one to do. That it was for His purpose I was here and not for my purpose of using my creativity to express and please my own self in different ways. I've been putting my own mind aside all this while and have been trying to follow along God's. And with time it seems to be more and more in line with His. When I would resonate with His released creative revelations as in they don't come in as a shock to me but I understand their significance and meaning quickly – I would've achieved oneness of mind with Him instead of feeling friction while thinking or writing about the revelations in case they deviate from my own filter of content I allow for my mind.

I felt that deep creative flow or release when I would sit and work a concept deeply out or write something that reflected my own state. But I haven't felt so in a long time as I have been working as God's delivery person! God is the great artist - the greatest one! Leaving one's own creativity to follow His also counts as crucifying one's flesh. With time, I am learning to be more and more obedient.

Some revelations were really good – like the revelation of the long white dress with a square neck. That dress made me feel so holy as it was long and flowing and white - the color angels are depicted as wearing. It gave me a heavenly feeling. I didn't like shirts previously, but I bought a lot of them now because of some revelations after I understood how they count as the modern holy way of dressing - boxy/loose and long shirts. I saw myself wearing shirts only in the dream of The Courting Phase which had Glory in it. God revealed to me the kind of dressing sense I should be having around him. He's a holier man than Death Conqueror.

You've a very sick brain Death Conqueror. It's not something I want to be around. It's neither godly nor creative, nor emotionally intelligent. I only see objective and political intelligence and result-oriented thinking with a mind which is shaped in the image of the world and not in the image of God as can be discerned from his persona and interests. He doesn't have a creator's godly flow which marks the presence of the nature of God in us. Because remember: God creates, devil imitates.

What I would've written by my own mind would've brought peace and a feeling of godly consistency as my writing would've contained pure emotions which when perceived by a conscientious and pure mind would've given it a sense of resonance. I wouldn't be writing about psychopaths in my book and it wouldn't be too objective as well containing robotic agents like Agent Smith. It would be having a free, flowing, and holy aura around it. My work would be having characters with high emotional intelligence. It seems to me that I've been writing about such emotionally dumb abusers. But I can't say that I wasted my time; because it was the work of God that I did and He wants good for all - even psychopaths and criminals to repent. So, He gave me the revelations that He gave. He did a comprehensive job. He has infinite insight and wisdom. I can't say that I could've done a better job though my book won't be having the sheer violence I saw and the ugliness of behavior these people exhibited in front of me. I saw holes in the forehead of a small 4 to 6 year old baby, and then I saw my head burst out, and my eyes getting nailed along with my open forehead, heart, and belly in revelations. How sick, though may manifest out to be true. I saw repeated vicious belly stabs and a blast at my left ear. I saw a slaughter. I never could've wanted to add such violent events by myself to my book. I couldn't have described them, but I had to, here – because they were revealed by the Spirit.

Such psychopathic stories suit only fiction and not real lives, but so do the pure (without deception) ones - they too are unrealistic to be realized on Earth - the system of mixture. Heaven is my place where I will be with my pure and Holy God and others.

The Man In Checkered Deep Red

Vision: A man with frizzy hair combed upwards dressed in a checked deep red and black shirt tucked inside black pants sits with his knee to the viewer's left being vertically folded and the other knee horizontally folded to the side. He was wearing a surgical skyblue mask. He seemed like Kartik Aryan to me but with frizzy hair.

I saw a vision of round momos arranged on a flat surface so I ordered them.

These lyrics kept playing in my Spirit when I was having momos.

Tune Mujhe Bachaya..
Tune Mujhe Sehlaya..

Tune Mujhe Bachaya..
Tune Mujhe Sehlaya..

Mein dhanyawaad karta rahunga..
Yeshu dhanyawaad karta rahunga..
Mein dhanyawaad karta rahunga..
Yeshu dhanyawaad karta rahunga..

Dhanyawaad.. Dhanyawaad..
Dhanyawaad.. Dhanyawaad..

14:12
Tune Mujhe Bachaya..
Apni Raah Par Chalaya..

These lines were also playing in my Spirit last night.

Tune Mujhe Bachaya..
Apni Raah Par Chalaya..

Mein dhanyawaad karta rahunga..
Yeshu dhanyawaad karta rahunga..
Mein dhanyawaad karta rahunga..
Yeshu dhanyawaad karta rahunga..

Dhanyawaad.. Dhanyawaad..
Dhanyawaad.. Dhanyawaad..

I remember this dream from this point onwards.

1. Dream (Morning):

I'm in a room that looks like a college classroom. I see Ajay Sir (ex PhD student of Awadhesh Prasad) standing at some distance to my right dressed in a thick full sleeved white shirt with a moderately deep V-shaped neck spread outwards with a print of angel's wings and clouds on it tucked inside over black pants. However, on the viewer's left side was a white wing, and on the other side of the partition was a dark grey wing with the dark grey cloud present below the angelic being whose two wings were printed on either side of the shirt. I walk up to him. I see myself standing on the other side facing him with him sitting down facing to the left. I ask him why he was wearing that specific shirt. He replied that it was because of the things he learned from some people (indirectly referring to my writings that reveal the truth of the system). I tell him that people in both the double dark wings and one dark wing state were subject to be sent to hell. He doesn't seem to believe and doesn't look to be too pleased with what I was telling him as he is looking down and back at the front in turns. I repeat that both the people who were in dual state and those who were fully wicked (both eyes demonic/or both wings black/ or the missing angelic part) will be subject to judgment in Hell. We chat for a while.

I am now sitting at his right side as he looks to the front and it's a different place in that room. We are sitting on a surface slightly elevated above the ground. I can see that he doesn't believe in Jesus/Yahuah or the creator God. I share with him that I actually saw Jesus while walking on the roof one night. I explain to him His attire. That He was wearing an ankle-length tunic. I explain while pointing parallelly with my hands until below the soiled ground to show how the length covered his full body until the ground. I then tell him that he carried a thick red drape across his body like the wide drape of a saree. He was agreeing with me saying that the drapes did look really good while he looked in a direction away from me. I also tell him that I really wanted to be with Jesus at that moment and was filled with desperation for Him and that that's why He showed up.. for 5-6 seconds.. no. 3-4 seconds before disappearing.

I find myself talking to another guy who's sitting near an open window.

I ask someone something but he starts checking out a list while uttering out the castes in the Hindu division system. He repeats quickly “Brahman Shatriya Vaishya Shudra, Brahman Shatriya Vaishya Shudra, Brahman Shatriya Vaishya Shudra..” I want to tell him that it's all a part of false doctrine. I now move around the room and find students sitting on long wooden benches everywhere. I don't seem to resonate too well with anyone so can't decide where to sit.
I observe the room. I look at the front of the room and it seems that an exam is undergoing as they all are busy writing while being bent on their desks.

I walk out and a girl follows behind me and gives me a woven beige cap of about 5-6 inches in diameter with a string to be tied below the neck. While walking, I'm repenting and apologizing to God for having hateful feelings towards Akhila. I didn't want to have that resentful mindset continue towards her. I keep walking and enter a hall lit in white light. Adults are sitting on the chairs while on the stage at some height above stands short-heighted Anupam Kher dressed in a parrot green kurta over a white pajama speaking into a mike being bent over the white rectangular podium. I take a right and walk through the narrow pathway towards the meshed door at a distance of about 15 meters in front of me. The meshed door is the way out in the open. While I'm still walking towards it, I wake up.

But when I woke up, I recalled the things that made me resent and feel annoyed with her, things she had said with bloated superiority and a smile that didn't make any sense.

She was saying, "And stop all this preaching that you are doing." in a bloated superior tone when she didn't have any superior inner qualities. And she looked at me with unblinking eyes and a smile that showed high surety about what she had said. Her behavior just didn't make any sense. I didn't think she was a dumb fool as she was saying out on the phone but her actions and behavior like such incidents now make me see her as such. There were other people present there as well. If they had any sensible sense, they would've interjected and told her that it wasn't any of her business to tell me what I should or shouldn't do. But the mindless social fools just go along with anything! She had called them to support her because we have had an argument over something. And I saw how they were mindlessly going to support her only, even when she was wrong, just like her friend Monica did when she called everyone over an argument over AC. Everyone told me to bend according to her, but no one corrected her! While at my place, people tended to side with the right side using their independent will and moral reasoning and didn’t go along with the crowd.

I found how she lied and changed statements in front of others and never accepted her folly but behaved in a superior way – just like the dumbass Death Conqueror.

The fact that she said things she wasn't supposed to say or wasn't supposed to be concerned with either made me very agitated with her!

18:36

2. The Demonic Attack This Morning

I was asleep on the floor on my back this morning when I felt a similar kind of oppression that I had felt in the night a few days back.

I've felt the same oppression previously as well when I was in Dr Bharati's home in Chandigarh during early 2022. I heard the sound of a car's horn outside too early in the morning immediately after which I sensed something quickly float and sit on the bed's wooden slab behind my head followed by a feeling of oppression in the air. I had started praying in tongues and the oppressing presence subsided after a while!

But today it was very different and more physically observable. I woke up feeling localized oppression on the two spots of my breasts and as if something was coming at my face from my right side. You see, spiritual oppression doesn't feel like a solid surface pressing on you, it feels like an invisible weight that can't be touched but you know that it's there. You can't fight or remove the weight using physical strength. The oppression doesn't feel like coming from a plain surface either but from many small invisible abstract surfaces pushing at you at once – like an invisible suffocating force. I put my right hand between my face and the entity coming at me. Though physical, my hand did serve as a barricade as I could feel it experiencing some resistance and my face felt relieved. My eyes were still closed as I had woken up from deep sleep. I said, "Go away.." It was difficult for me to speak out as I felt internally oppressed to even do so. But I tried and with much effort was able to get words out of my mouth. I could still feel something lying/pressing on my breasts. I again said, "Go away.." I recalled that demonic spiritual entities need to be bound first. I continued speaking, "I bind you.." "I bind you and ask you to leave in the name of Jesus." The moment I said 'in the name of Jesus' the oppression disappeared. The two invisible weights had disappeared from above my breasts, and so had the push coming at my face which I was trying to resist with my right hand. But I still wasn't feeling good, so I continued speaking out, "I bind you in the name of Jesus." "I ask you to leave in the name of Jesus." The situation didn't change but after saying the sentences out a few times, I knew that it had left me for good. I went back to sleep again.

3. Akhila and Her Fornication With the Devil

While writing the above, I received a bit of more revelation regarding not fornicating just for the pleasure of it. Because the situation would be like what I experienced this morning. The demonic entity didn't love me but it came to oppress me. And if I wanted or was an ungodly satanic witch, I would've no second thoughts about fornicating with the demon because it would've been pretty much the same as fornicating with a human but only in this case – the demon is invisible though could be felt. If someone has to fornicate just for the pleasure of it, demons are always available to do so. It's no different. But one must not. I didn't feel pleased when I woke up with the weight coming at me. I felt oppressed. And now I recall the vision I had back in A-16 in which Akhila stood naked with closed eyes at her side of the bed with a huge serpent/python wrapped around her as she was being pleased with it. The serpent lunged through the air at me after her pleasure vision ended, but I sent it away back to her wall via prayer as it got thrown back and was stuck at her wall. I think the vision showed her mind fornicating with the devil as she has no problem in harboring wicked thoughts for the innocent. She has a murderous mindset of superiority. Backbiting, betraying, gossiping, hurting, and insulting illegitimately - these are all her traits through which she fornicates with the devil as indulging in such wicked behavioural patterns gives her pleasure - that's why she's a psychopath. And that was also a part of the reason I called her a whore! I called her a whore because a whore doesn't care about the character of the person she sleeps with. And she not only sided with a wicked man like him but was also fornicating with him! A woman of God keeps herself separate and set apart from worldly men and doesn't give herself away that easily to wicked men! Because she had been supporting the mindset of wickedness of Death Conqueror - a mindset that was not from God but from devil; apparently, her role very much spoke to me as being that of an unrighteous whore who didn't have enough character to distinguish between what was Holy and Godly from what was wicked! That guy wasn't righteous. He was a dire wicked man fluffed up with pride and ego which helped him perform the sins he did! By going along his lines of thought, she pleased him and the devil as well. The same logic would go along with Death Conqueror and his gang. They are all fornicating with the devil with their wicked and ungodly mindset. And that's why they are worthy of judgment.

While I had an intimate encounter with the Holy Spirit one night when I felt an abrupt deep penetration, and two pushes on a Sabbath. It is written that the act of deep prayer and worship has the same value as that of intercourse between a husband and a wife joined with a covenant bond. We get in a covenant with Jesus as His bride when we accept Him as our Lord and saviour.

I feel strengthened a bit because I could resist and fight a demon and tell it to go away. Demons flee by the name of Jesus Christ. That's why the Alif Laila's theme song says, Pariyo ko jeet laye..

Jinno Ko Bhi Haraye..
Insaan me vo takat
Sab pe kare hukumat

Jinn here refer to demons that attack the children of God and are defeated by the blood of Christ. Only through Christ's blood do we get authority over demonic principalities.

After the demon was gone, I prayed the blood of Christ on my room.

I feel as if I've progressed ahead in my walk and my mind has expanded a bit more and therefore, I can walk in a greater practical understanding of the reality.

20:02
Narcissists/children of devil insult what they can't be.

4. Yahuah Is My Heavenly Dad

While walking towards Shyaam Chaat Bhandaar, I saw a bald and bellied man riding on a bicycle wearing an orange t-shirt with 'Superdad' written on it. He was a messenger man who was sent to represent and insult me. But whatever they say or show me doesn't change the truth about who is whom. The wicked and rebellious though sees the truth and the hand of God unfold in other people's life, but it doesn't make him change his ways nor does it make him fear God. It's the proof of how reprobate he has turned.

I am no one's dad. I don't tolerate or accept people like Death Conqueror in my life. My dad is Yahuah – the Creator God. Death Conqueror's dad is devil. That's how he should distinguish me from him - send a messenger representing him with a very wicked expression wearing a t-shirt with 'child of devil' written on it.

I was complaining last night how I wanted the practical part of my ministry to begin. And this morning I had that experience. I'm so grateful for it. Though it pertained to me fighting for my own self, I think it served as a small example.

How can a demon fight a demon? How can a person without the Spirit of God fight a demon in the name of Jesus? How can a wicked man resist wickedness? Death conqueror should know his spiritual position - devil too played the long game but he was innately wrong. Devil can be patient too, but he is against God and His statutes for his ways and thoughts are against God.

I'm so excited after this short demonic fight. I want to do more of it and cast-off demons from people!

Even if I happen to mess up my promise or marriage, I would want to press forward in expanding the kingdom of God. God can both make and break something. He can make the situation of my marriage manifest, but divorce is never His Will except in the case of sexual immorality or abuse. He didn't show me I got married to the abuser! Though he may have marriage as a part of His will for my life, it's the work of expanding His kingdom while living in His statutes is what makes me feel joy and contentment.

I bought shirts for the courting phase dream - if it's not a shadow revelation. My long tunics will be used in church. While the casual dresses I can wear at home as they are holy. Previously I used to wear T-shirts everywhere and I didn't like kurtas very much. And there are other dresses that I bought like the white and the green dresses because I had a revelation related to them.

Pyaasa Aya Huin Mein..	I've come thirsty
Mujhko Tu Jal Pilaa..	Give me a drink of water..

Pyaasa Aya Huin Mein.. I've come thirsty
Mujhko Tu Jal Pilaa.. Give me a drink of water..

These lyrics from the song 'Aa Pavitr Atma..' have playing in my Spirit for the past hour or so.

5. The Fleshly Revelations

Since last night I had many revelations related to KA in which he was dressed in a white cotton tunic set. The revelations began with both RS and KA with me but after some time I had revelations pertaining to KA only which continued in the morning as well. He easily exhibited his demonic self as his look changed from his own to an entirely black demonic version of him as he revealed his fleshly side. The revelations were intense and fleshly.

This day I also decided that I was going to keep practice holding my unwanted thoughts captive and casting them out as Adele was explaining in one of her videos. When no one is doing wrong to you, to have a happy mind is easy, but when there are demonically influenced people running after you to torment you - those who are body snatched by the devil - you struggle with having godly thoughts all the time. At times I feel like inflicting judgment on them by my own self if they were to come in front of me! But that's not the mind I want to have!

He is outrageously wicked! He not only did what was wrong, but continues to insult me or put me down in various ways! The kind of person who does the wrong and then falsely frames you - that sort he is! Filthy mind, filthy (in character) body!

22:29
It's hard for me to articulate things in words. It takes a lot of time to translate the visuals into words, and my vocabulary isn't too strong either nor am I a prolific writer. At times I get irritated trying to wordify what I saw as I can't find a suitable way! I just want the practical to begin now. I am tired of wordifying the visions. But I understand that they constitute a part of my warfare with the devil and also progress me towards the Will of God. So, writing them is necessary.

When I look inside now, I don't see any specialities or any specific inclinations.

6. God's Mind Over One's Own

I let go of my logical and analytical self. I am not even using my own creativity. The only thing of mine that I am using in an appropriate way is my singing skill – to glorify God – as that's how our talents are supposed to be used - to glorify the one who gave them to us. While previously I saw many things both inside me and outside in the world, but now I am more common than a common man, and it's as if I don't even want to use intellect or do something from my own mind in this fallen wicked system of the devil. To what use? This is the serpent race! The deceptive and wicked party will always win over the righteous if God doesn't lend His hand and help him. The righteous man plays the fair game, but the wicked one use degraded chicanery. Without God, the righteous will be eaten alive by the wicked as they team up together like a pack of wolves ready to devour the children of God for their fun.

7. Psalms and Proverbs Portray the Wickedness of Men

I saw how Bible so well explained the minds of the wicked in Psalms and Proverbs - that they plan devices against the righteous for no reason and wait in hiding waiting for the righteous to fall in their pit. They say things like, "Let's commit this crime. It's going to be fun." "Let's kill that person for (s)he is not serving our purpose" "Let's steal and plunder and divide the loot." - such are the thoughts of the wicked - as is written in the word. I saw these thought processes of the immoral wicked men working right in front of my eyes in my life. Together they planned and tormented me with the thought that 'it would be fun.' - just like the Bible says! Though an old book, it reflects human nature which hasn't changed much. Like the thieves and murderers talked about in the Bible - Death Conqueror, his gang and the wicked people in my dept think the same thoughts; if not the same thought they have the same heart behind their actions. They walk on the guttery path of the world, not the golden path of God.

8. Be Nothing for God

If someone talked to me now, I would come across as a beyond-common girl because God has changed me at deep levels. For e.g., I see how people of God serve and preach to the poor and at times have many godly qualities, but their outer portrayal/projection of themselves is not superfluous at all. If I look at my ex-roommate Akhila, I see how she would act superfluous, and while talking about things of no importance she would assume a superior persona and talk in a domineering way though the content is all ungodly and vain. But if I look at the conduct of the Pastor – he says he's nothing, and he doesn't try to look grandiloquent either. But he has the Holy Spirit in him, and he heals the children of God and preaches the Word. I felt the power of the Spirit when he laid his hands on my head that day. I felt an abrupt lightness in my head and I eventually fell. He's doing the work of God in humility. People who are still stuck in the world have an elevated sense of self which they defend along with their sin. The only thing standing firm in me is my faith and belief in Jesus. I dimmed down my own preferences for I saw that without Jesus I wouldn't be able to do anything. I saw the greatness of His mind and His foresightedness and gradually left my own way of thinking. Self-righteousness is a sin too. He is beyond and above being called Great. He is the answer to all questions.

2 Timothy 3:1-5 (NIV)

3 But mark this: There will be terrible times in the last days. 2 People will be lovers of themselves, lovers of money, boastful, proud, abusive, disobedient to their parents, ungrateful, unholy, 3 without love, unforgiving, slanderous, without self-control, brutal, not lovers of the good, 4 treacherous, rash, conceited, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God— 5 having a form of godliness but denying its power. Have nothing to do with such people.

9. Why Would a Successful Man Change?

A very good message by the Holy Spirit delivered by Brother Andrew:

Why Would A Successful Man Change?

10. The Baggage I Carried

And these lines said by her ring in my ears and hurt me as they come to my remembrance:
"You're useless!" (Without me no one would be highlighting her follies so she can correct herself and be godlier. Remember – she went to the kingdom of Heaven with me. God chose to bring her on the golden path through me. If I wasn't there, she would be stuck with her own mind.)

"Who gave you the right to live here?" (She talked just like the other abusive fellow who thinks the rights of other people are for him to control.)

"You deserve to be there (pointing towards the Ganda Nala)" (It showed her evaluation of me. Again, showed how she abhors righteous people but fornicates with a wicked immoral coward man who uses abusive and covert ways to get his way.)
And then she said that both 'me and my mom should be there' (I think she was referring to the abuser and his mom – her)

She acted from a place of being prideful just like her abuser friend! (Having boundaries and not giving in to abusers doesn't count as being prideful but abusing and hurting others to please oneself does. God hasn't told me to give in to his abuse but to keep standing against it and doing my work. He will see the hand of God on his head in God's timing.)

While I was keeping my heart state towards them in accordance with what was shown to me by God, seeing that He wanted to save them. But they treated me very poorly and took pride in their worldly status not seeing the moral quality of their lives which is the one quality to be taken care of!

They just have a mean spirit in them, and they are apathetic and born with an abusive bone!

11. Plus Que Ma Propre Vie

(More Than My Own Life)
Carter Burwell - Plus que ma propre vie

I pray for DP to come to her creator King and she too will rise up with white wings. I already saw the previous day a vision of her rising up with white wings which I've written. I happened to watch a video of hers today in which she looked like an angel with angelic expressions and ws making the prophetic symbol as well. So I felt like praying for her (forgetting the vision I had the previous day). When she would've received the Holy Spirit, she too would receive her glorified body to live with God for eternity in Heaven where RS and KA would be there along with me and others. We would be like angels in the kingdom of God.

Matthew 22:29-30 (NIV)

[29] Jesus replied, "You are in error because you do not know the Scriptures or the power of God. [30] At the resurrection people will neither marry nor be given in marriage; they will be like the angels in heaven.

12. Khoda Pahad Nikli Chuhiya

'Dug a mountain and found a mouse'

I heard this the day before yesterday in my Spirit and it was said by a male voice.

13. The Smiling Death Conqueror

Vision (day before yesterday): The upper half of Death Conqueror dressed in a yellow cotton tunic looks at me while smiling though his smile is not entirely righteous but carries the jist of his wicked nature as well. The follow-up vision shows him turning his back at me abruptly and standing still.

It was very unexpected. I didn't want to receive any revelations pertaining to him! And I hadn't received any for a while since the violent ones. But this just dropped in my Spirit. Though he has sinned against me, I don't hate him. I see him like other children of God who need His blood and His presence and company to be better and be more like him.

Ezekiel 18:21-24 (NIV)

[21] "But if a wicked person turns away from all the sins they have committed and keeps all my decrees and does what is just and right, that person will surely live; they will not die. [22] None of the offenses they have committed will be remembered against them. Because of the righteous things they have done, they will live. [23] Do I take any pleasure in the death of the wicked? declares the Sovereign LORD. Rather, am I not pleased when they turn from their ways and live?

[24] "But if a righteous person turns from their righteousness and commits sin and does the same detestable things the wicked person does, will they live? None of the righteous things that person has done will be remembered. Because of the unfaithfulness they are guilty of and because of the sins they have committed, they will die.

Reading this makes me think if Glory would do all that violent things to me because apparently, I have been unfaithful. But I am not an unfaithful person. The revelations describe the slow process and progress of how I reached this stage while preparing for my marriage promise. I am not like him who will publicly display using LED lights what he was doing. If God formed my bond with a person, I wouldn't be sharing it with someone else to make them feel jealousy or pain like he was doing or like others do. Doing so only shows that your focus is not on relishing the goodness of your bond but on trying to hurt another, and it by default decreases the meaning of the bond. If I was in Akhila's shoes when she would communicate to me mean things or was calling me Dalit in a derogatory tone, I would rather question the person on the other side who was wanting me to say such hurtful things to another. I would ask him/her if (s)he wasn't happy enough with me that (s)he had to resort to saying mean things to her. That why was (s)he thinking of hurting her further when he was already happy with me. That what more could I do for things to be better instead of going ahead like foolish people to abuse her using a group? That's how a healthy bond is. That's how I and Meera tried to be. I would've stopped the person on the call from saying those things and put his mind to use on better things! But look how she behaved going along with his wicked vices.

I wrote everything because they were revelations. If they were personal experiences and I wasn't supposed to be writing them or wasn't highlighted to do so by the Holy Spirit, I wouldn't have written them or wouldn't have shared them with others just to try to make them uneasy.

I am no better than anyone else. I just chose to follow God though I am not perfect – I try. And though the statement may seem to carry a casual tone, following God takes everything. It's being ready to surrender everything you have, your possessions, your body, and your mind. It's also being ready to be put in situations one may not otherwise go into – be them of any kind. The only problem zone in my life I see now is related to fasting, but then I also tend to think if God is controlling my pace with things.. Following God is about being comfortable in both prosperity and poverty while being in His presence.

He united people through me. That was my purpose to help expand the kingdom of God in this country.

14. The All-Knowing God

God captured in this text the various aspects of His nature, His holiness, and the truth of the system. He doesn't want the reader to see it as a boring religious text but as something which he can relate to as the revelations often come up in the form of a storyline or a situation with an underlying teaching message. I have understood many of His messages and changed a lot. I don't know how many affected them and worked on their hearts! God has me put in songs and instrumentals that reflect His vast yet Holy nature. How He is beyond the understanding of our human brain. He created everything with sheer intricate details. He is omnipotent and omnipresent and doesn't need spy cameras to keep a watch. He keeps a watch on everyone individually but doesn't project their shameful parts to the whole world. He is Holy, just, and fair. Not an abuser. Anyone who is ok with being corrupt is not born of God. A godly person always strives to be more righteous than he was yesterday or a day before or half an hour back.

And then this song lyric was highlighted to me as well:

Jahan thandi thandi hawa chal rahi hai..
Kisi ki mohabbat waha jal rahi hai..

It seemed to me that the Spirit was highlighting to me how people were using ACs in this humid season of monsoon. I'm happy with my cooler. Plus sleeping in the middle of the two beds is a very good spot as it has more airflow in it.

Tomorrow is the church. So, I should sleep early. I will edit the previous pages tomorrow as I don't feel led as of now.

15. Heard in The Spirit:

I kept hearing these things in my Spirit.

15.1 Attention Whore

I don't seek attention. I tend to give attention. A healthy person stays stable in his persona and doesn't need attention. I've always been an observer wherein I would stop and observe things. At times I tend to observe people as well, but it's not because I am seeking attention. Now that my eyes have opened to the reality of the system, I don't find observing worth it though I have my previous habit still working in me.

15.2 Randi

'Whore'

But I don't want unnecessary attention. I have been put in such a situation and messengers are all around.

16. Praise Him Openly

I understand it now. God wanted me to worship openly. That's what He implied by the vision of fingers striking at the chords of a harp below the open blue sky. Playing music to God is of much importance to Him and pleases Him a lot.

14:16

Late Last night while lying on the floor to sleep:

I heard the Worship song 'Our God is an awesome God' play in my Spirit so I played it quietly on my phone's speaker. As I was resonating with the song and praising God in my heart through it, I saw this small-framed vision:

1. The Angels Gather In Heaven Above

A group of angels dressed in long white tunics gather up in a circle above me under an open blue sky. One of them had a trumpet/saxophone in his hand which he was about to play. The angels looked down at me while the worship song played and then I saw one or two of them throwing a few white flowers down while others watched and one played the instrument.

Their Dandas Hit Their Foreheads

And then they all had their individual foot-thick elephant Dandas hit their heads. I had forgotten to write this part because first, it seemed weird to me at first look for angels to have that hit their heads, and secondly – what I wrote previously also shows that they were pleased with the worship.

I understood later that the erection of the thick elephant Danda and its hitting one's forehead was a metaphor for getting highly pleased because of something, and it didn't necessarily have to be sexual. Angels are not sexual beings– a quality that pertains to angels trapped in flesh aka humans, but still, they were metaphorically represented as being too pleased in their minds with the worship. I too can be represented by my own foot-thick elephant Danda hitting my head when I do something which is pleasing to me. For e.g., when I am listening to a song I like very much, reading something I like, or doing anything else which is giving me an immense sense of pleasure. So, I see how I and KA are going to have that dance in Heaven. Though in Heaven the way one thinks also changes as one doesn't associate being immensely pleased in the company of God and other angels with having a Danda erection hit one's forehead, the metaphor can be used and comes to life when looked at from an earthly perspective.

When strong and true worship is done, even angels gather to watch it from heaven. And Heaven sees no night. It is always lit.

Another vision I had while lying on my floor bed:

2. Mein Jeet Gaya

'I Won'

I saw the close-up view of the upper half of a semi-animated Ranveer Singh happily riding a brown horse and coming towards me from my left mental view being dressed in a blue tracksuit, and as he reached me, he took a turn and passed straight right in front of my eyes as he happily said with a smile, "Mein Jeet Gaya!.. Mein Jeet Gaya!.." ("I won!.. I won!..").

I went to church earlier this day and returned about an hour back. Towards the end of the church today while the pastor was still speaking, these lyrics started playing in my Spirit:

'Usne Mujhe Bheja Hai..	He has sent me..
Uski Rooh Mujhpe Hai..'	His Spirit is on me..

Ref: usne mujhe bheja hai

I realized later that this was for the Pastor to know as they don't seem to want me to come to their church because of some reason. They had a changed countenance this Sunday when I visited them.

I came to know about this beautiful and much meaningful song in the church today. It's a shame how people put to shame the temple of God.

4. Dream:

In this dream, I found myself inside a thermocol home lit with yellow light. I was going in and out of the thermocol home as I did chores. The significance of thermocol home was that it represented my body. The body is corruptible like a thermocol home. It was lit with yellow light - the Holy Spirit.

17:45

5. Dream:

I go into a friend's home. Apparently, Shilpa Shetty is my friend. It's a modern and nice home too filled with stuff. She sits on her sofa facing to the left. Later it turns out that it is my friend Taruna's home. I find Vickey Bhaiya there as well. Taruna is sharing with me the details of her life related to some child. After a while, she is gone to manage a chore. While being alone I seem like wanting to play a song for some reason. The guy walks up to me and shows me that he can play that song on his smartwatch. His watch has screen dimensions of less than 1X1 cm and the user interface too seems faster with an orange screen with black fonts that scroll up too fast. It amazes me as I think how he knew I had to play that out. He tells me that even I can play that on my smartwatch and asks me to show it to him. I don't seem to believe it but show him my watch which has a bigger screen – slightly rectangular with dimensions of about 2X2 cms - and when the screen lights up, I see a user display that seems old as it has a light grey background with dark grey old-fashioned fonts. I give my watch to him, and he plays the song on it. We then sit close side by side with the sides of our legs sticking tightly close with our arms on each other's shoulders and we seem to be too pleased in each other's company as we swing together back and forth as if we were on a swing (perhaps we were indeed sitting on such a surface and that's why we were able to do so). We have a good time together.
I leave that house now and it is night. I see a figure come walking from behind me and make the quiet noise of a sob. I think if it's Ranveer Singh because of the brief view I had of his face in the dark of the night before I continued walking ahead. But he had a round face with tiny spiky hair. As a third person, I now see the distant view of him stopping at a corner shop along a very tall and wide wall. I am now walking on one of my hometown's streets and I cross the T-point on the right to which lies the road to Shreya's home, and on the left to which lies a Kirana store with the fat shopkeeper (now he must be old) and the front going straight to Puran's vegetable and fruits vending shop present at the right side of the road. As I am walking, I end up being on the Gurudwara road here in Vijay Nagar and I visit the Gupta ji's store to buy something. I am now out. The shop is crowded. As I step out, a lady with the face of Ranveer Singh with short boy-cut hair comes to the shop as well and stops outside. I stop in my track and look back at her. She is dressed in a white skinny top with a small black alphabetical print on it and has a very curvy figure which is revealed by her very skinny top.

(Back during my teenage, I didn't have the right sense to clothe. I at times wore skinny printed tops along with loose T-shirts. It shows that no one starts perfectly. My favorite dress constituted of a jet-black skinny waist-length top with a V-neck and a choker with 3/4th sleeves with a wavy end and printed front and white bell-bottom cargo pants. I bought them at my Naani's place. To me, it represented a concept, and I didn't understand that it was unholy. But I loved it because I thought it made me look artistic. I had longer and thick wavy hair as well back then. This too is an ignorant satanic way to think. The strategy of satan is to shift the focus from what makes clothing unholy to it having a conceptual meaning or representing something regardless of holiness. So, with time people lose the sense of dressing Holy.)

The White Cow/Bull Comes At Me

As I walk away from Guptaji's store, I am thinking about how bad I am with things pertaining to AI or electronics. I lament my lack of electronic ingenuity. (I don't feel good around electronic stuff either, in real life. It was hard for me to operate my own watch in the dream while Vickey Bhaiya did it effortlessly though he was doing it for the first time.) I take a turn to the right towards Shyam Chaat Bhandar but see a huge cow on the left side of the road. As I continue on that street, I see the cow walk towards me. I take some steps back and redevise my path, now walking maintaining some distance from the cow, but by now it's very much apparent that the bull/cow is coming directly at me intentionally. I move backwards and have to walk on that road and am thinking of a way out when the scene changes to the side-view of the bald lady goalie from Shaolin Soccer as she is standing at her position with the football in her hand after having just blocked a hard strike.

The Bald Goalie & The Strike

She is dressed in her movie attire of an orange kimono top tucked inside black pants. She seems so confident as she stretches her hand sideways with the ball in it fully to the back while bending her body fully sideways as well to throw it out to her teammates. Her team has made a goal and is one step ahead of Team Evil. She throws the ball out and another lady roughly resembling Akhila's figure kicks it. That lady is dressed in the team Shaolin's yellow uniform but she's not standing on the field but inside an open grey door and has her hair tied low at the back. The ball stops to my right outside of the white separating line. Why did she throw it back to me towards the team's own goalpost (though the kick was very light)? I look around and see my team's striker (the movie's hero with a small pony at the back) at my far left and then the members of Team Evil dressed in black at some distance ahead in front of me. The striker gets ready to throw kicks one after the other at me to make a goal like the way it was done in the movie which injured the previous goalies leading to them being critically injured and suspended from the game. While he gets ready, I too get ready anticipating his moves ready to block them as I had just done. The Team Evil's striker realizes that I would always be able to neutralize the firey kicks and block them from that distance. So he comes forward with the ball and stands at a distance of half a meter away from the white goal line. I move backwards accordingly towards the goal's net. I am standing at the post's left and can see that it's going to be harder to block those balls of fire from that range because the demonic kicks weren't meant to make a goal but to injure the goalie the way the previous ones were injured and sent out of the game. The striker stands in front of the white line with the ball and instead of kicking it in any other direction which could easily make a goal, he throws it directly in my direction. I block it with both my hands in front of my chest but get thrown backwards because of the immense force which is when I wake up with an outward jolt coming right from my heart as if it had been pushed outwards.

I find myself awake now from sleeping on my right side and change my lying position to me now lying on my back. I feel uneasy at the center of my chest because of the inner blow - a weird sensation. So, I put the small cushion lying to my right on top of my chest and pat the position of my heart. It is when I hear this song play in my spirit:

Chandan sa badan..
Chanchal chitman..
Dheeme se tera ye muskuna..

Chandan sa badan
Chanchal chitman..

The song plays for a while as I rest. I was in a very deep sleep when I was woken up. Though I still feel sleepy, tired, and uneasy, I know that I can't go back to sleep again. So, I stay on the bed for a while before getting up.

20:16
I think the devil got offended by the truth that I as a child of God carry His Spirit and it resides in me and nudges at my heart and that I feel it speaking inside my heart at times, and that He allowed me to 'see' - the gift of dreams and visions, and that's why he attacked my eyes and broke my heart open in those visions. I felt such negativity and wickedness coming from him this evening as I saw how they just had to say something insulting all the time and it only made me think of how they must hate me continuously for they say and do things that they do and then I looked at the violent vision revelations and I saw the grounds slowly building for them to manifest. They are going to hate that the Spirit of God resides in me or my heart, leading to them attacking me for they are led by demons or demonic thoughts which are not from God.

6. Swati Di's Eating Routine

Dream-Vision (Past few days): Swati Di's face is right up close in front of mine as she tells me her day's eating routine with a very serious countenance. That she stays hungry mostly but only eats an apple. She was my first roommate in BSc in Saroj Sadan when I came to Delhi. She was in her first year of MSc (from ACBR) at DU back then. She used to leave in the morning and return by evening and would only eat an apple or a patty as she used to be busy most of the day.

7. Bandaged Right Side of the Forehead

Vision (few days back): RS with a bandaged right side of the forehead. The face then changes to another actor's with the crossed bandage staying intact on that side.

The vision reminded me of the sudden pain and flow I had experienced around the top-right side of my forehead.

8. Tall Sporty Death Conqueror with a Sickle

Vision (the night day before yesterday): A semi-animated tall (but not fluffed) Death conqueror dressed in a sleeveless sports t-shirt walks with a few of his other tall fellow men in my left mental view towards the viewer, but he has a wicked expression and is carrying a sickle in his hand to attack me with from a distance.

Song lyrics Heard in the Spirit (since the past 10 minutes):

1. Lambi Judaai

2. What Counts As Not Hitting Back vs Sinning?

Jesus told to extend one's other cheek to be slapped if one got hit. But He didn't say to run or walk to the wicked to get slapped! He said to not even sit or eat in the company of fornicators, adulterers, idolators, and people as such who reject Him. Why will I intentionally go to a wicked scenario when I am called to stay away from it by God? If a wicked man came in front of me and slapped me, I won't slap him back and would stand still like Jesus did in that vision, or perhaps would walk away after the slaps. But I should not 'go' to a wicked man by myself to get hurt unless it's God's Will. If someone me slapped by force, that would be their sin and I wouldn't want to get back at them for I would know that there are all types of in this world and not all think the way God does. So, I will let go of their behavior. But I will not go to a wicked man for his will to be done. God didn't tell us to follow the will of devil and go walking to partake in his ways. He told us to stay away from sin and to forgive if someone sinned against us. If I go to wicked people to sin, I would be guilty of sin and why will I do that willfully!? Now there are situations when one happens to sin because one can't control one's flesh or doesn't have power over it or is struggling to not sin but ends up sinning – that's a different case. One can ask God for forgiveness in those cases as one gets sanctified with time and becomes holier. But I don't face this problem when it comes to sexual immorality because I am able to keep myself in control because I look at the moral aspect of the situation instead of the fleshly aspect.

I struggle with sin when I don't want to sin in the case of food, but I try to not sin even there. And I have slowly learned to deny even the food aspect of the flesh as well as I did intermittently in the past – it was something that I had never done previously but I was able to do it for that length of time because I wanted to follow Jesus instead of my desire to feed. I fell in between, and still do. At times I eat as the Holy Spirit shows me, other times I do it because I can't resist, but many times – I am able to resist. So, I can see that God understands my struggle with food and He sees my heart about it. It has been a very difficult journey for me in denying the flesh when it comes to food because I have always been dependent on it to regulate my difficult emotions and I have been in very emotionally trying times but didn't go ahead with my standard go-to way to handle a stressful situation – God sees that and understands my struggle!

But why would I intentionally run into a situation of partaking in sin when I am perfectly able to control myself in that area of sin? I want to be holier and stay away from sin and not become more degraded in character – that's the deal children of God have with God – to be as Holy as they're able to, to try to attain perfection in their capacity. If I was in a covenant, then I shouldn't be sexually withholding myself – which is also what's written in the Word of God. It is written that the covenant of marriage makes two people one flesh and therefore the two are required to submit to one another – it's an instruction written in the Holy Word. It is also written that because they become one flesh, they are required to respect each other's body as they do theirs. But I should not go to an unrepentant man who has stripped me publicly and wants to sin more against me and wants me to take on more slaps. The situation wouldn't be equivalent to me being still while taking slaps, but to me taking the hand of the abuser and hitting it on my face amounting to me sinning against my own body which is a temple of God. I think that's why God wanted me to call them dumbasses because they can't distinguish between situations correctly as they don't have the moral godly way to think ingrained in their minds.

When I think in godly terms, I feel a certain weight lift from over my head as if I'm becoming who I am supposed to be. I felt lighter after writing the above because I could completely understand why it wouldn't be God's will for me to partake in their sin the way they want me to. Now if they physically hurt me, I won't want to take my revenge or hit back but I can't sin against my own body.

3. Mujhe Hak Hai..

'I have the right..'
Back during the past year of 2022, I used to often have these chorus lines play intermittently in my Spirit.

The Guy sings:
Tujhko Jee Bhar KE Mein Dekhu,
Mujhe Hak Hein..
Bas Yu hi Dekhta Jau,
Mujhe Hak hai..

The Lady Sings:
Piya.. Piya..

Piya Piya.. Bole.. Mera Jiya..

The song stops there for in the real-life situation, the lady knows that the guy is not doing the right thing and he doesn't have the right.

Ref: Mujhe Haq Hai - Vivah - Shahid Kapoor, Amrita Rao - Superhit Bollywood Romantic Songs

4. 'Na-Hak Jo Paap Karega Re..'

'The one who sins because of a lack of right..'

Now this song often plays in my Spirit:

(Highlighted in the Spirit):

Na-hak jo paap karega	The one who sins against someone having no right or authority over that person
Bin mange maut marega re..	Will die a death he didn't ask for..

The song lyrics:

Na-hak jo paap karega re	The one who sins against someone having no right or authority over that person
Vo apne aap marega re..	Will die on his own..
Bin Yeshu doob marega re..	Without Jesus, he will drown and die..
Bin Masih ke doob marega re..	Without Messiah, he will drown and die..

Ref: Mukadma Hoga Re Kar lo ek wakil | Jesus song in hindi | मुकदमा होगा रे कर लो एक वाकील

But the above is not what I want for him – to die on his own. He could repent before God/Jesus wholeheartedly, fast and pray, and see what Jesus tells him. God may change His mind to judge him. Because without repentance and a change of heart, judgment is sure as was shown. And not just him, I too will be getting physically hurt as the revelations manifest. When it's still time, he should repent with a change of heart of choosing the right way. God can still choose to inflict judgment on him though he has repented (He sees the heart and forgives as is seen throughout the Bible – when people repented, God relented His judgment), or he may as well be punished by the devil for leaving him, in which case he will see the unjust and betraying side of the devil/the serpent race. It's up to God and God's righteous judgment. I didn't deserve, in principle, to go through what I did. But I took it as the Will of God for me.

5. The Bloody Head

Vision (a few days back): A short-heighted guy in a white tunic is lying crumbled on his side on the road with his head covered with blood.

Well, this is not a good sight as compared to the sight of the man living a righteous life with a godly mindset. God will rather have His children repent, change their inner selves, and turn to Him.
The scene looked so terrible!

(Repent and ask God for forgiveness!)

1:31

6. Sushant Singh Rajput Proposes & Gets Hit

Vision (~15 minutes back): In a small view frame of about 4-5 inches with a dark background, Sushant Singh Rajput dressed in an off-white shirt tucked inside black pants gets down on one knee with a smile with a bouquet of colorful flowers in one hand. The act repeats twice. But as he does so, a huge fluffed black figure is revealed to be present behind him with a long and sharp weapon lifted with both its hands. The dark armoured figure hits the centre of his head strongly from behind. The hit also gets repeated a few times.

The vision was followed by a bearded face of RS appearing in the view facing to the right which then turned to me and rushed in my direction.

7. 'You are my fire - the one desire!'

And then at times, I hear the chorus of this song in my Spirit:
I Want It That Way - Backstreet Boys (Lyrics) 🎵

10:52

8. Dream (Morning):

I am walking forward into a narrow corridor open ended at my left side, and stop at a room to my right lit in white light. I see a fluffed beige monkey sitting inside near the open door. The room isn't my PG's. The monkey walks out and another monkey comes walking from the inside. (Reminds me of my nickname – Bander – Hindi for Monkey) A forest area extends ahead of the room when one looks below with the top of the forest reaching a foot or so above the corridor's level, though there are some trees along the sides that are too tall, and there are a few thin stems of climbers wrapped onto the sidewalls at the right end of the corridor. I can see that the other monkey is coming at me which scares me a bit. So, I turn away from him and rush outside the room and jump out of the corridor floating forward above the forest area. It looked like a beautiful place to live in. Though I got scared of the first monkey at first look, his calm countenance told me that he was very well-behaved as he walked out quietly. The second monkey scared me a bit as he rushed after me and followed until a distance.

I stop midway above the forest as I find someone and engage in a talk.

I am now moving inside a building, and I walk by a place in it where I see:
Ranbir Kapoor stands with Deepika Padukone on an elevated circular white stage of about 1.5 meters in diameter. Both are wrapped in a white towel. RK stands facing DP with his back towards the viewer. So, he is covering most of her. He has the white towel wrapped around his waist and DP has it wrapped in the way of a vertical rope, but their obscenity is not visible in sight because of the camera's angle and their moves. They bathe while moving in localized contemporary slow and stretchy artistic dance moves at their positions while moving their towels around in a way that keeps both covered but also wipes off the water. Towards the end of their wipe dance, the camera moves closer to their right with DP in sight as they hug and cover each other in a slow dance move.

This part of the dream repeated thrice. Whenever I would pass by that space, I found them on that elevated circular stage.

And when I wrote the above dance part of the dream, I heard in my Spirit the entire chorus of the title track of the movie Saawariya.

Ohhh Doli Mein Bhitake
Sitaro Se Sajaa Ke
Zamane Se Churake
Le Jaye Ga Ek Rooz Tera Udake Jiya..
Saawariya Hha Hha Haa
Saawariya Hha Hha Haa
Saawariya.. Ohhhh
Saawariya.

Jesus will one day snatch us from the world and take us away to His kingdom: the resurrection.

The path to heaven is open through the sacrifice of Jesus. Recall: The vision of Jesus standing at the top of a golden staircase with me standing at the bottom in an environment lit with golden light.

Ref: Saawariya Full Video - Title Track Ranbir,Sonam Kapoor|Shail Hada|Sanjay Leela Bhansali

A task gets completed. It's night, and I am walking and singing a song out in the open street with a friend.

I am now inside a building and on my way out somewhere when my dad asks me to take some printouts for him. I take some out the there's a problem in printing out the rest.

Though I know I have to fast, I am eating Chole Bhaturas. And I have already eaten once, but I end up eating again. I am now full, but I still choose to take a plate of it and am now on the road to the multistorey building of my dept with the plate in my hand and also a polythene with French fries in it with my bag held at the back. As I walk further and the building's side comes into sight, I see a submersible planted there with water rushing to the left. I continue walking towards the building and catch sight of Daksh Sir parking his convertible on the right side behind some vehicles already present in front of me. When we both reach the narrow pathway going through two soiled lawns into the classrooms/teaching block of the dept at the same time, I see that he is dressed in a half-sleeved white vest over dhoti and gestures me with a smile and a hand to go ahead with my work in the dept. I feel happy and continue walking ahead with the plate still in my hand.

I am sitting in front of vertical glass windows on a slab along with some other youngsters of my age. And I am telling them that I was told that I only had depth and that that's why I was rejected. I repeat it to them a few times. 'Vo keh rhe the ki mere ander sirf Gehrai hai..' – 'They were saying that I only have depth (of thinking, feelings, emotions, sensuality etc.')

9. Sis Bia Revelations

9.1 "I'm no match with her"

Vision (past few days): Sis Bia dressed in a full-sleeved long and boxy white shirt sparsely populated with groups of tiny multicolored floral prints with her hair tied low at the back in a bun walks away in a well-lit white background away from the viewer with a group of colorful balloons extending sideways in her right hand as she says, "I'm no match with her."

I was thinking yesterday how she was better than most women and was living a holy and godly lifestyle in the Lord. How she was focused on her growth in the Lord despite her many duties as a wife and mother when she had just conceived her baby. I also saw in her videos together with her husband how she both submitted to him while respecting him but also stood out with her own mind. She emanates a holy aura and is not someone boisterous or who wants to hurt others intentionally through words or deeds. She wants to move forward in her journey with the Lord by using her artistic skill of painting to paint prophetic expressions from the Holy Spirit. I understood her heart for the same as I watched the video she made with her baby yesterday. Amidst the presence of ungodly and satanic women who propagate the statutes of devil, it's a blessing to be able to find a company with Godly women who follow the Lord.

9.2 Sis Bia Gets A Golden Holy Spirit Bath

I was praying yesterday late at night for a huge outpouring of the Holy Spirit on her after I watched her video. I also prayed that if I was failing in my job and not doing it properly, then a similar anointing be put on her. But then she has a different path set towards living a 'normal' life in terms of receiving abuse (mental or emotional), which is good, for with a mind untainted with abuse she may be able to do her job better with greater mental freshness in the lack of oppression. Though I see that our joy comes from the Lord and not from the world, I won't deny that if I wasn't in the abusive situation that I am in, I would've been physically and mentally in a much better place.

And I also pray that God fills her life with an abundant creative expression of the Holy Spirit which not only expresses His Will but also flows through the tracts of her own mental creative faculties instead of her having to work against them - giving her a feeling of fulfillment and contentment obtained by the creative expressive release.

She is already an e.g. for other women of God by the way she lives and intends to use her God-given talents for the purpose of the Kingdom of God.

I also prayed that God fills both Akhila and Death Conqueror with the Holy Spirit, which is better than judgment, for the presence of the Holy Spirit leads to a better self by default, as it leads us to become more like Christ instead of justifying our sins. The sinners and abusive ones are the ones who need the Holy Spirit for them to be godlier. But they would've to believe in Christ and submit to His mind instead of following their own which is hard for the demonically influenced to do for their tendency is to do the opposite - force others to submit to their wickedness. But with God all things are possible. Godly people follow and teach/suggest or contend for holiness.

Additionally, her tiny and cute baby in the video caught my attention with his adorable acts as he kept chewing on his hand throughout while she talked to the camera, intermittently saying nice things to the baby.

Later it reminded me of the vision in which I saw the fat diaper infant avatar of Death Conqueror sitting at the left corner of my table lying to the right of the cooler as he kept chewing on his foot lifting it up high to his mouth and holding and keeping it in place with both his hands with the other foot hanging down while an unusually dark-complexioned Akhila dressed in a brown jacket over a shirt stood at the other of the table facing him and said nice things to him with her usual huge smile and hair tied low at the back. The situation seemed to be resembling that of Bia and her baby in the video which made me think that we indeed are on the track of the Will of God as previously shown by God.

Akhila’s clothing in that vision is what would count as Holy, and not the clothing of a tight crop blouse over pants which their minds tainted with the world so like - though they take a shirt on top, it doesn't serve the purpose and is still unholy. Wearing a loose T-shirt is still better than a tight blouse over pants. God exemplified the holiness of clothing through Akhila's look in that vision. They indeed are the mom-child duo as confirmed by Bia's video with her baby.

Note to Bia:
So, Bia can be now happy that without her having to paint anything, the Holy Spirit was working through her even while she was making the video with her baby that would correspond to the vision God showed me when she wasn't even knowing that she was doing something prophetic. She unknowingly made a prophetic video. And that's how the Spirit often works though at other times, it can give us specific instructions as well.
We don't and can't really choose how God uses us. He can choose to not use our well-cherished talents but talk through simple daily routine activities as well.

But I do pray that God leads in His timing for her paintings to be created with the fire of expression of His Holy Spirit.

10. KA and The Groin

I've been having these visions intermittently since yesterday. The visions continued even today with increased creativity. I can already feel Glory's anger boil because while I was writing the above, I saw him calling me 'Randiii' in a stuffed heavy and angry voice! I don't know why does he and his people have to call me that. But let me first write the complete series of visions. I was lying on my floor bed last night when I started having these revelatory visions. And they continued throughout the day, when I was working on laptop, or when I doing some other chore.

While lying on my floor bed:
Vision(s): I saw KA between my legs as he was splitting away my vertically folded knees continued by him licking my groin. It seemed very clean-shaven though in the vision. He continued licking between the lobes. His tongue being shown as too thick and large, intermittently like a doggy. He was then sucking and lightly chewing the inners of my groin. I was only observing the revelations. The doggy licks from down to up covered the entire inner region of the groin.

This day the vision continued for the most part of the day until now. This time I saw him dropping kisses with one-second breaks on my vagina. One after the other followed by lightly sucking and chewing the inner lobes and sucking the clitoris, at times sucking the outer lobes as well. The vision was so clear and shown in a well-lit environment of white light. He then bit the slightly less than a cm long pink clitoris in the middle. I could tell that it wasn't mine because I knew my groin. But then I thought perhaps God is giving me grace by showing it as something that it is not. He continued sucking the pink clitoris and biting it in the middle followed by dropping kisses at the vagina. He didn't seem lustful at all. He seemed to be expressing his love in a gentle way. He dropped many kisses at the vagina of the lady in the vision followed by sucking and licking her groin all over.

The visions would begin abruptly anytime and would interfere with what I was writing at the moment and would continue for long, his upper half being dressed in his full-sleeved white shirt.

At times, it's like he's all over in my room. Because the visions suddenly increased in frequency this day and I would see his presence here and there as he would come up and hug me from behind as shown in the Spirit. I wondered if the presence was related to the position of the cameras. I don't know.

I also realized a minute back that it was better to pray before starting a worship session - pray about the outpouring of the Holy Spirit on the session, that it gets filled by His leading and leads me to play what's pleasing to His ears and what He wants me to play in my capacity since I am an advanced beginner, not moderately skilled- but somewhere between the level of a beginner and a moderately skilled person.

I also understood the significance of the vision in which I slapped Death Conqueror incessantly without him resisting but taking on more slaps quietly with closed eyes. The vision shows that if I slapped him because he sinned against me, then he isn't supposed to hit back but keep offering his cheek for further slaps as it would be a Godly thing to do like it is written in the Bible – when slapped on one cheek, offer the other but within even a more righteous context here.

11. Observing vs Knowing

I can observe a person and make a list on a daily basis of the activities he/she partakes in. But it wouldn't tell me anything about that person unless I knew his/her mind – which is what's called 'knowing'. Knowing helps us allocate the right place, context, and weight to the activities or behavior of the person while observing only leads to making false judgments by looking at the observed behavior without knowing the inner self. Observing can lead to knowing with time, but it may not as well. While, when one knows, one doesn't need to observe. I feel as if RS and KA now know me to a great extent; but Glory knows me as well, but I don't know where we have the blockage, and Death Conqueror seems to only observe me. It also reflects the greater emotional intelligence of RS and KA.

The behavior of people is at times too shady.

A person does a variety of things, but knowing helps in putting those things at their appropriate places, magnifying and stressing some while diminishing the others as one gets to know more of the person.

In the same way, we have to know God instead of just observing His creation or what He does.

12. Some More Revelations

When I was done writing this, I saw:
Vision: The upper half of KA dressed in a white tunic set with his forehead getting quick and repeated hits with the abrupt erection. The forehead hits were unprecedently high in frequency than all the previous visions I had. The vision repeated itself a few times.

I then set out to the Durga Medical Store to buy Kayam Tablets when the vision continued with a guy resembling Death Conqueror say, "Mein tere layak nahi hu" ("I'm not worthy of you.") followed by him saying it in Haryanvi - "Mein tere layak Konya."

God thinks he is worthy of being loved by Him (and God is perfect) but he has to repent and turn to His golden path leaving his own.

13. Witnessing our Weaknesses Should Keep Us Humble

I think seeing my repeated weakness of flesh when it comes to food also serves in keeping me humble for I might as well have become too boastful of how I was able to 'not sin', or follow everything I was told. But I can't say that because I ate more than what God showed me that day when he showed RS eating a bite of roti with aloo gajar matar. I was supposed to eat one chapatti, but I took two along with some lentils as well. He didn't get angry at me for eating more. We should try to triumph over the weak nature of our flesh but seeing ourselves fall should keep us humble and in repentance as we walk ahead in conquering over our sin. But it should be noted that my taking of two chapattis instead of one isn't an act of sinning against another person by causing them physical, mental, or emotional harm, but it's a transgression against what God showed me.

22:50
The chorus of this song has been playing in my Spirit for the past two hours

14. Yeshu Naam Mila

'I received the name of Jesus'

The Guy sings:

Yeshu naam mila	I received the name of Jesus
Yeshu naam mila	I received the name of Jesus

Mera Jeevan Sawar Gya.. My life got beautifully transformed
Mera Jeevan Sawar Gya.. My life got beautifully transformed..

1. Legalism Vs. Freedom & Love

A very good Holy Spirit-led message given by Brother Andrew:

And I would like to add to the statement in which he seemed to imply that 'legalism is about never looking at a woman'.
We are called to not look at others with lust and sin. A man 'can' look at a woman and not sin - that's what Jesus implied by avoiding committing adultery and fornication through eyes. Both the clothing of the other person and the eyes of the onlooker have to be modest. One should have clean eyes, though one may be looking at many people dressed in a variety of ways. For me, I get affected if made to look at the nudity of people I love. I wouldn't want the public to see them in immodest clothing. However, I will also give them grace if I can see that their intentions aren't to grab attention or highlight their nudity.

Legalism Vs. Freedom & Love

2. The Wicked Onlookers Have Immodest Eyes

We are not called to dress immodestly to make others sin, nor are we called to intentionally highlight the nudity of a covered person because no matter what the clothing is, it can't be a closed perfect circle or rectangle and there are always going to be some curves which pseudo-religious people highlight to insult the person who is wearing those clothes with the right intent.

In any cloth that you wear, there's always going to be an angle or a cavity that will reveal the nudity of that person. Immoral wicked people try to peek where they shouldn't be peeking.

The abusers know that I don't like immodest clothing and try to be holy so they find a way to reveal my nudity. It only shows who they are, and has nothing to do with me. They are strippers who strip women who don't let whorish men like them touch them.

Shame on these people for abusing and stripping a woman of God whom He called for His purpose! They don't have any respect for people of God and therefore – God – shows how high-minded and prideful they are. They've clearly demonstrated it! I don't need to know their hypocritical judgments because God sees my heart and corrects me by Himself if He sees I need to change in an area of my life! But they don't change in aspects that are greatly wrong and which they 'know' are wrong!

Earlier This Night

I was sitting on the floor resting against the other bed working on my laptop when I saw KA standing to my left dressed in a thin, short, and fitted white T-shirt with a horizontal print over light blue denim jeans. I saw this vision as a third person while sitting at my place.

Vision: We started kissing and ended up against my wardrobe at the back. I was touching him all over as we kissed profusely. I grabbed his protruding ass followed by opening his Jeans' zip followed by yet another danda on his forehead. I saw a wavy ejaculation towards the observing-me resembling the water flow from a submersible as he moved wavily against the wardrobe with the vision-me over him. The vision ended after a while.

I was singing a worship song when I had this series of visions.

3. The Trio Worships Together

Vision: I saw KA dressed in a white t-shirt over light blue denim jeans standing to my left taking some slow steps backwards but as I continued singing, two red love hearts appeared in front of his eyes and he quickly came and sat close to my left with his body facing me and was listening to me intently. After a while, RS appeared at my right side in his blue & white cheetah-printed tracksuit and he too had two red love hearts in front of his eyes as he looked at me with his face turned in my direction as he sat next to me. After a further while, as I continued in my worship, I saw my hands hold their hands through their fingers. It was almost as if we three were in it together with me singing and them rejoicing silently sitting along with me - KA to my left and RS to my right.

I was singing this song:
Yeshu Prabhu Dhanyawaad | ONE TRIBE | Season 2 - YouTube

The next time I sang, I saw both bring their faces around my neck beside my cheek on each side carrying a smile on their faces.

I surmised that the demonic attacks I had been facing were from the devil and not a demon or the likes. It was so because it was devil's dragon head that I had seen in the Spirit that night as it pressed on my raised hands from above when I started to pray. So it occurred to me that it was devil who came directly at me from above and that I would have to keep fighting or resisting him in the Spirit.

I woke up from this dream a while back.

4. Dream:

Towards the end of a line of yards/empty plots to my right, I enter into a yard through a door. The yards have walls built around them with a door. As I walk ahead, I find some grass growth and a washing machine fixed in the cemented wall opposite the door. I'm carrying my dirty clothes to be washed and many unpacked bathing soap bars in my hands. There's a square-shaped hole at the wall's bottom left. I put my clothes in the machine and the soap bars in the square hole. All soap bars have their outer coverings intact. I go outside and find that the Police has seized the parked car, and other stuff present on the road. I am now sitting in a Rickshaw and waiting for my 2021 ex-roommate Pinky from A-16. She takes a while before joining me on the ride. She's dressed in a saree, but I don't know why. On my way home, I keep coming across different doppelgangers of KA on the road. When I reach home I find myself transferring milk from one vessel into another using a long ladle. Apparently, we've to give it to someone. My mom comes up with another container of milk and explains to me what's to be done. I go back to the yard to gather my stuff as I've to take them back home. I gather my clothes lying on the ground and put them back in the machine with the missing front wall. There is a person present on the other side of the wall behind the machine and I can hear his steps. I now pick up the soap bars from the square hole and I can see the legs of the guy through the few holes at the bottom of the wall as he moves around. He starts saying something to me that is neutral to hear but isn't nice either. He says a few more sentences carrying an unsafe aura around them. I don't feel like I know this guy in the dream as he is hidden behind the wall. My two medium-sized grey-colored sacks of cash are also lying there beside the machine. One bigger, one smaller. I had put all my stuff there together in the yard. It seems that the guy wants my stuff, and though he's not saying it, I can tell that he is capable of picking it up and leaving. I don't feel good around him because of his subtle tone and the way he's talking. My hands are filled with soap bars already. And I am wondering how will I shift all that stuff outside the yard quickly in one go before the guy attempts stealing. And then he says, "I want your parent's money." while bending and making his deep red shirt finally checkered in blue worn over blue denim jeans visible. He extends his hand through another hole in the wall a meter or so away from me to pick up my sack of cash when I abruptly wake up with the vision of the bent guy coming at me from behind the bed flashing briefly in continuation with the dream in front of my eyes as I open them and jump out of sleep.

After I woke up, I saw that I had only slept for a few hours. I thought of writing out the dream but then I was also still under sleep's influence. It was then that I saw Jesus standing behind me with a long rod in His head coming at my head with all His might. I woke up after this.

8:36

5. Fresh Revelations:

5.1 Closed Eye

Vision: A swollen closed eye with small eyelids.

5.2 Woman with Long Thick Brownish Hair

Vision (while resting on the bed around half an hour back): The back of a woman with very long and thick brownish hair, dressed fully in a long white dress, faces me as she is dancing with a guy resembling RS between the two beds slowly in a duet with their hands to the right joined together and extended outwardly.

I thought that why was God showing me the vision of hair that long that reached near the lady's knees when I don't even exclusively like long hair for people don't seem beautiful to me because of them. But I appreciated God's given vision anyway. Because it's still beautiful in itself and many others will like and appreciate those hair.

5.3 RS Kneads the Dough

Vision (about 15 minutes back while having tea in my room): The side-view of Ranveer Singh dressed in a blue and white cheetah-printed 'suit' kneading a thick blob of flour with both hands while looking at me with a strong expression. He was doing it on the steel slab in front of the gas stove in this PG's kitchen and the kneaded flour had the shape of a horizontal cylinder while he continued kneading it with a serious expression.

12:40

I read the Bible chapters Judges 6 and 9 earlier today in the dept. Judges 6 talked about the nature of Gideon and Judges 9 about the nature of Abimelek.

While I was still on Judges 6, I was reminded of the song 'Visions of Gideon' from the movie 'Call Me By Your Name', almost as if it was being highlighted to me in the Spirit.

6. Visions of Gideon

I have loved you for the last time..
Is it a video.. Is it a video..

I've touched you for the last time..
Is it a video.. Is it a video..

For the love, the laughter,
I flew up to your arms..
Is it a video.. Is it a video..

I have touched you for the last time..
Visions of Gideon.. Visions of Gideon..

I have kissed you for the last time..
Visions of Gideon.. Visions of Gideon..

For the love, the laughter,
I flew up to your arms..
Visions of Gideon.. Visions of Gideon..

Visions of Gideon.. Visions of Gideon..

Visions of Gideon

The only people it brought to my mind somehow were RS & KA.

Ref: Visions of Gideon- Sufjan Stevens (Call Me By Your Name Soundtrack) High Quality

I don't know what the song implies but it only signals to the time which would be our last together.

And when I was on Judges 9, I came across details that resembled the visions I had back when I was at home during the past month. The vision in which I was sitting on a bike behind RS on top of a mountain cliff when he was getting ready to accelerate ahead off the cliff to get down from the mountain with another mountain present in front of us at some distance. The vision was followed by another semi-animated vision with the view of a mountain shaped in the facial figure of Alan Watts passing by to the left as if the viewer was moving to the right.

Gideon was a righteous man who followed the Lord God, while Abimelek his son from a slave girl was wicked and killed his father Gideon's 70 sons, his own brothers, to gain the throne.

When I was sitting in the church hall a few Sundays back, I opened my Bible when the church had not yet begun, and the page that opened was Judges 9 with 'Nature of Abimelek' as my eyes went straight to it. That very day was also the day that the Pastor gave us Judges 6 and 9 to be read as homework. Death Conqueror has the nature of Abimelek. Abimelek got his judgment eventually as the words said by the only son who had managed to escape his slaughter came to be true. The way Abimelek died due to his skull being hit by a grinding stone thrown by a woman also reminded me of the vision of the bloody head of Devdas, and the later vision of a short-heighted man lying on the road with a bloody head. I also got reminded of Shahrukh Khan in a white tunic throwing a stone at me under the open sky. Though I don't think I would be the one to do that because I have been mentally preparing for healing him as was shown to me in my first healing dream back in 2020 – it could be someone else or perhaps more than one person or an accident.

Later today I went to have brunch in the outer canteen as it kept getting highlighted to me, and the song lyric 'Rooh-e-aa..' also kept intermittently playing in my Spirit - it has played in my Spirit previously as well. Judges 6 with the mention of Gideon made me recall the song 'Visions of Gideon'. So, after I returned to my lab, I searched the song on YouTube. It had been quite long since I had listened to it. On seeing the results, the name of the movie - 'Call Me By Your Name' struck me like an epiphany as I understood how it pertained to God calling me by the name of RS and KA as some revelations had their facial/bodily forms used as a label to represent me. Additionally, God had already called me by my own name back in 2020 when I was at home. I had fallen asleep in bed when I was woken up by the calling of my name 'Kartika' coming right from my heart which had me sit right up as I woke up. So, if God has audibly called me by my name Kartika, and then He is representing me as RS and KA in revelations, it would imply that God has called them as well. In the same way, God called Karishma Kapoor, Kareena Kapoor, Ranbir Kapoor, Shahrukh Khan and others by my name.

I saw the song come alive for us for we are called by the same name by God. It actually goes along with all the people whom God gave me mixed revelations with. The two male characters of the movie had found their lifetime love in each other. Though the movie supports homosexuality, it's not what the revelations contend for, but for the hearty bond that the two had which they carried in their hearts throughout their lives as was revealed when the older one got married to a woman and had a family. Homosexuality is a sin and shouldn't be practiced. However, one can form deep soulful bonds with the same sex lacking the sexual element – that's also how the children of God are supposed to love God and each other.

1 Samuel 18:1 (NIV)
18 After David had finished talking with Saul, Jonathan became one in spirit with David, and he loved him as himself.

And when I wrote the above para, I heard the lyrics:

Ja Bewafa Ja, Humein Pyaar Nahi Karna
Tanha Hi Jeelenge Hum
Jab Hai Tanha Marna..
Ja Bewafa Ja, Humein Pyaar Nahi Karna.

Ref: Jaa Bewafa Jaa Full Video Song - Altaf Raja | Best 90's Hindi Song

I don't know who this is. But I'm a committed and faithful person in a covenant bond and I don't fornicate either. I couldn't have thought of the revelations by myself had I not received them first from God and which is what changed my heart because they were given by God and I am called by God. So, if He is showing me something, it must have a purpose – not to sin but to save as many as possible at the cost of His blood and breaking people out of the matrix. It made me look at and learn how I could love but not be sinning outside of a covenant bond. When I am with Glory, I will still love KA and RS, but I won't be sinning. Even now, God gives me revelations that reveal the truth about different people, not necessarily RS and KA. But looking at the number of revelations He gave me about them, it tells that He must be having an exclusive special eye on them! They are His children like others whom He showed me things about. Why would God focus that much on just a few out of everyone? Because those people are that important for Him to save. He sees their hearts and sees the kind of love they deserve. And His love is Perfect. God leaves the 99 and goes after His one lost sheep – that's His nature. Without their role, who knows if the wedding dream that God showed me would've manifested, though it still awaits its timing.

God brought us together in Spirit. It was not me.

What if God used the labels of RS and KA for Glory as well? The fleshly revelations won't be a sin in that case. But only God knows which is which. I only know that I want all the people God gave me revelations with in Heaven with me. They are not going to be males or females there, so it doesn't matter to me if they're males or females here.

7. The Morning Visions after I was ready for dept:

Seen as a third person:
I saw KA dressed in his usual attire of a white shirt behind me with his hands holding and pressing on my breasts from behind the way the lover of the married lady in the movie 'Unfaithful' held her while she leaned back on him with closed eyes. Though in the movie she was naked, I was fully dressed in my shirt that I wore today, and leaned backwards with closed eyes on KA behind me with his face to my throat's left. The vision was followed by the naked upper half of a darker dusky KA behind me doing the same thing.

The vision repeated in the afternoon with the naked upper half of a dark RS behind me with his hand on my right breast.

I don't wanna be that lady from 'Unfaithful'.

It seems like a mess that has been created. But I am not the creator of it. I only wrote what I saw and my heart changed accordingly. Don't blame me. I have loved truly. Though the earthly journeys may be different, we will converge at the end as we all rise up in our glorified bodies through the power of God's Holy Spirit.

I have been hearing the chorus of this song since noon:
The Guy sings:

Humnave Mere
Tu hai to meri saansein chale
Btade kaise mein jiyunga tere bina..

Ho..

Fasle na de.. ki mein hu aasre tere..
Btade kaise mein jiyunga tere bina..

Ref: Humnava Mere (lyrics) | Jubin Nautiyal

This started playing in my Spirit after I wrote about the nature of Abimelek.

The Lady sings:
Tujhsa is jahan mein aur koi hai nahi
Tujh bin aasra mera hai na kahi..
Rahun teri baahon mein priyatam mere
Tu hi mera sarvasv Yeshu mere.

Ref: TERI AARADHANA | Ft. Jessy Robin, Robinson Shalu, Philemon Anand, Sofia Shalu | One Tribe

On reaching PG, when I came near the left, I saw :
The face of KA in a white shirt with him giving punches directly at my face with his boxing gloves on.

Vision (few days back): I saw the upper half of RS dressed in an embroidered white sherwani. It was in series with other visions.

The fact that God gave me a limited view in the Spirit is representative of the fact that He wanted things to progress in a way that He decided.

8. Dream (late afternoon):

I visit a house with my dad due to some reason. Apparently, I have to learn to operate a machine. I find Sonu Nigam there and he's supposed to teach me something.

I am out of the house and in a street but I see Sonu Nigam peeking sideways at me from behind a cemented wall at the left turn. It looks like it's dark and it seems to be late evening.

I find myself walking with a girl in what looks like the corridor joining Miranda House hostel to its college area. We seem to be walking in the direction of the college area. I see our front view as a third person. I see a girl walking on the ground below the elevated area of the corridor. She is having something in a glass - perhaps tea. The girl walking beside me tells me that the girl has been taking admission in the college every year in the same class and is just pretending to be pursuing a degree - that she doesn't really intend to complete her degree but will continue taking admission in the course (much like the Cullens repeating the same degrees for they live long). The girl with the glass keeps walking while silently looking at me with a weird expression and stops at a spot, while we both continue moving. I tell the girl with me that I had seen that girl previously in college as well and that I didn't think she just wanted to pass the time by keeping repeating the same class.

We now get down on the ground to the left of the corridor. It is dark but the surroundings are still visible. A weapon is found lying on the ground which causes a rush among the students present and someone rushes to call the teacher. The weapon consists of a metallic black structure with many long horizontal blades inside an open boxy shell. The teacher says that it was the weapon of the devil that had been found on the ground. They pass the weapon to me and while previously it was bigger and black and looked dangerous, now I see that it is nothing but a beige wooden dumble with a 1.5 feet long connecting stick separating the two ends. It doesn't seem too threatening to me.

Sis Bia & Her Husband

I see Sis Bia in the crowd with her child to my left. She then goes into the background and her husband Brother Philip comes forward wearing a hooded black attire standing to my left. Weirdly, I stroke the hair on his chin lightly once out of sisterly love. He doesn't usually dress like that but he came forward in a black hooded attire. It seems like the hostel ground is carrying a gathering of believers resembling the gathering of students at Hogwarts when the student's living premises or some other place of importance was attacked. Though the movie is satanic as it promotes witchcraft, this part of the dream seems a Godly version of a school of believers who are taught to not sin in order to not give satan (representing Voldemort) power over them, and to live by the Holy Spirit and what it tells them.

The Group Dance Practice

I see the children practice together for a group dance they've to perform in a long act. They are coupled in a column with two lines of people facing each other who are learning to perform a duet in synchrony. I observe it for a while after which the entire sequence of the dance events is quickly flashed once to show that the events have been rehearsed again for the performance.

There's girl (it was perhaps me) who makes her dad watch a movie being excited that he was going to like it.

The movie begins with a 6-8 years old girl singing alone sitting at the leftmost corner of one of the rows of a filled auditorium. She is dressed in what seemed like a navy blue suit. It is night and dark. She is singing slowly in a serious tone and her song lyrics had meaning. Her part is followed by another girl – older by a few years – dressed in an orange T-shirt tucked inside pants, who sings in a slightly rocky contemporary tone while moving sideways on one of the wide stairs to the previous girl's left – the staircase separating the two vertically slanted columns of the auditorium. A boy child shorter in height than her is sitting down on the same stair near the column to the left. She changes the tone of the song with the last line of her part ending with Karnaaaa.. Sharnaaaa.. Parnaaaa.. Tarnaaaa.. – being said with breaks which she repeated twice. I can see that it is a children's movie. I am wondering what my dad is thinking of it.

While the song plays, the scene now shifts to the already rehearsed next dance part that has two rows of people dancing in a duet in the manner of the lined group duet scene from the movie Pride & Prejudice. But in the dream, the dance has semi-animated performers. The dance has the two rows parting in the middle with the performers moving backwards paying the way for performers at the back to be in sight. The rows have groups of people dressed in the same manner with the male row of one group dressed in navy blue suits with a white shirt with women dressed in the same code standing opposite to them. The men of this group have unusually long noses and the dance is performed in a lit white background.

The dream ends with the view of a bearded RS with neck-length hair dressed in a brown suit with a white shirt inside raising both his hands. I recall that they were stretched downwards during the rehearsal. So I point him to the conflict. He then takes his hands down.

Additionally, when I wrote the Visions of Gideon revelation on this page and was focused on 'Is it a video.. Is it a video..', the sentence "It's a photo" from the dream 'Christian Gets Arrested' was highlighted to me.

I heard this elongated shout yesterday in my Spirit:
'Randiii……' ('Whore……')

I heard this in the Spirit this evening:
'Randi Hai Tu Randi'

Worship Song lyrics (heard in the spirit):
Tere chune se.. tere chune se.. Masih ke chune se..
Mera jeevan sawar gya..

Mera jeewan sawar gya..

Yeshu Naam Mila.. X2
Merea jeewan gya..

9. The Cloud Skeleton Face Lifted Up In The Sky

The thumbnail of the audio version of the song reminded me of the Putin dream before which I had another dream in which I had seen the lifted-up face of a cloud skeleton high in the sky. I am not advocating homosexuality but am using the song and the image to communicate an emotional message.

10. Song with Visual Representations of The Character of Jesus

येशु नाम मिला | Yeshu Naam Mila | Jesus Song | Lyrics Video | Let's Pray

11. God Gave Me Revelations Only About a Few

I was thinking earlier this evening about how a whole lot number of people must have sinned by watching me naked because of the sinful act of Death Conqueror of sending spy cams and stripping me publicly. But among all the people that saw me, God gave me unexpected revelations only about a few - revelations that built His Story. Those are the people whom He exclusively chose for Himself.

He built their love story with me so we could enter His Kingdom together. The foolish man even sent cameras inside my vagina, but God gave me very peculiar revelations. The first one was back in 2021 in Saroj Sadan in which I saw a short heighted robotic man with red eyes standing outside the mesh door of the window in line with my bed. I didn't understand it back then. Then in A-16, I saw the light brown penis of Glory to my left back when I was in room D4 followed by the sensation of it being inside me followed by the sound of a bolt coming from the balcony facing the PG. When I shifted to D1, I had revelations of Dushman trying to move up into a dark tunnel and getting stuck in between. Then He showed me revelations with RS in that room, followed by KA in this one. But those revelations were not somatic but visual though the later ones came with an increased somatic element to them. But two undiluted somatic revelations took me by surprise - the separate revelations of one deep penetration and two pushes. This gave me satisfaction to know that my first time of being intimate was taken exclusively by Him who loved me truly without any deception - the Spirit of God (He is our first and the last as well.). I wouldn't have been able to do it with a loveless person for the act for me is an expression of continued deep and true love. God knew about it. He knew that I would be hurt deeply by some filthy characterless pig violating the sanctity of committed and pure love that I so wanted to cherish in my life. Covenant-breakers go to Hell. God made sure that it was His Spirit first that proclaimed the physical equivalent of deep worship in the covenant love we share with Jesus. He is the first and the last love of our lives.

He didn't show me everyone who was sinning. He only showed me the ones whose hearts had love in them. God gave me revelations only about a few and in this way took care of my heart as well by keeping me separate from those devoid of love.

Somewhere while writing the above, I saw the vision 'A Kiss of Love' (with RS) replayed and highlighted in my close left view, but this time with a somatic element to it and it came across in a different and realistic light now for I have an evolved bond with him which wasn't present when I had the vision.

12. Brown Feels Too Shy To Perform

There was a guy named Rahul in my class during 9th or 10th who was told by the students to be having a special talent to the teacher. But when the teacher asked him to perform in front of the class, he couldn't, as he was feeling too shy and it could be seen on his face. He was a bit chubby, fair with dark brown hair and brown eyes because of which Shreya had nicknamed him 'Brown'. I, sitting on one of the front desks, was encouraging him to perform as I called him 'Sharmiley' but he just kept standing silently and still with a shy smile on his face.

I happened to think of RS when I had this vision.
Vision (about an hour back): RS comes cycling hard on a small one-wheel cycle from the left.

Later I saw the delivery guy come riding a Yulu bike from the left to deliver my order.

I don't want to keep accusing people like Death Conqueror who have sinned against me or hurt me, but they just keep trying to force their low-quality ungodly mindsets on me.

Reprogramming one's mindset takes time. Each day is different and you wake up a bit more to the truth. I just realized that I was put here on Earth to do the Will of God and not mine. It took a completely different meaning this time. Previously when I walked in my own will and pursued the interests of my mind, I was also taking care that I didn't get hurt by wicked people or indulge in ideologies or acts that had a lack of meaning or value to me. But now when I realize my position as the servant of God, I see that my own will and interests have to be put to death, and I have to become who 'He' wants me to be. I knew this previously as well, but it came at me with a greater intensity this time.

Being in the Will of God implies not caring about your personal goals and ambitions but putting everything before God and letting Him choose for you, and living a life of submission to God's Heart & Will.

The Guy sings:

Khushkhabri do gareebo ko	Give the Good News to the poor
Kaidiyo ko riha karo..	Have the prisoners freed..
Khushkhabri do gareebo ko	Give the Good News to the poor
Kaidiyo ko riha karo..	Have the prisoners freed..

That's what I kept hearing in my Spirit the previous day in the morning when I sat in my place in the dept. Without a mistake, it was being played out too clearly in my Spirit. I didn't feel a nudge to dive deep into something conceptual or read a paper that I need to for building on my manuscript - all these things seemed futile - a construct of the Matrix, something I was doing to please my limited mind that found pleasure diving deep into the unknown and find something new. But looking at it from an outsider's perspective, it's nothing more than keeping oneself busy and occupied with how things work in this false construct of the matrix. I am not saying that one should be scientifically illiterate or without critical thinking or devoid of the wonder that leads one to want to know the things that lay hidden in plain sight, for they constitute a part of one's nature which is also given to us by God. He has made everyone different and unique. But what I'm saying is that all these character traits can lead to one getting too enmeshed in figuring out the various underlying processes of different kinds working in the matrix, when in fact, that understanding could be put to ruins by just one unexpected move of God. So, I saw it as worthless to invest a lot of time to get to be proficient in the know-how of the matrix. It only leads to one staying distant from God.

However, if God leads one to gain more understanding about something as it's His Will for the person to earn a living in the matrix through that medium, one can go ahead with it. But He can later ask that person to leave that medium of survival in the matrix as well. So, one is to follow the leading of God. It takes time to detangle one's mind from the system of the matrix.

The people sing together:

Pavitra mujhe kar de Prabhu	Make me Holy, Lord
Shudh mujhe kar de Prabhu..	Make me Pure, Lord..
Pavitra mujhe kar de Prabhu	Make me Holy, Lord
Shudh mujhe kar de Prabhu..	Make me Pure, Lord..
Taki tere jaisa dikhu..	So that I look like you..
Taki tere jaisa dikhu..	So that I look like you..

1. Seeing from Outside the Blob

Imagine a see-through blob of the matrix with one person inside at a time, with us together with God looking at the person from outside the blob. So, this particular person is busy performing experiments inside the matrix and conceptualizing theoretical ideas but never questions if the framework within which (s)he is trying to explain things is questionable. That person accepts the blob as her/his reality and is not able to see others and God outside of it or even question if such a thing could be te reality because – who can see what lies outside of the 3 visible physical dimensions – they reason. But God is perceived through His Holy Spirit which transcends through dimensions and can't be blocked by a physical wall.

Likewise, another person is busy accumulating money via different streams of business and is trying to keep one's life abundant and secure in the matrix. That person too can't look at God and others. The matrix is heading towards destruction but people neither care nor do they want to know if there's something outside the blob. So, any kind of job can, in principle, turn out to be a hindrance as one gets blinded by what one can perceive with one's physical body. In such a situation, only the knowledge and acceptance of the truth of God in Heaven can keep one being able to not make the matrix itself as one's God.

2. The Workplace & The Home

When one goes to work, one knows that the workplace is not one's home and is a place to be performed one's assigned duties. Likewise, once being firmly established in the truth of God in Heaven and us in the matrix in our bodily prison suits serving as our physical uniforms as well, we should firmly establish in our minds that the matrix is not our home but a workplace where we do our job assigned by God. And after the job is done, we go back to our home to rest and be with family - our eternal heavenly family.

Now imagine a workplace with two masters. You can choose to work for either but choosing either one comes with consequences. If you choose Master God, you get your job assigned by Him and you follow His norms and leading while also making sure to spend time with Him and understand His nature so you can have a stronger bond with Him and be like Him. Working for Master God leads you to be able to go back to your home in Heaven. If you choose to work for master devil, he too will assign you a job. But you don't have the possibility of a real bond because the master is a liar and a betrayer, though you may get abundantly blessed by him in the matrix. Working for the master devil leads to eternal separation from your home. You have a job to do but you never get to go back home. Master God is good, honest, faithful, committed, a Healer, Perfect, and Holy. The master devil is a liar, deceiver, cheater, thief, oppressor, and a murderer.

If you don't choose to work for Master God, you by default go in the clan of Master devil.

Only those who work for Master God, though it could be in various different ways, are brought back to their heavenly home after their job is done. Master devil previously worked for Master God and was created by Him but he wanted to be a master of his own and other created angels of God to follow him as a master.

So he got thrown out of his heavenly home of which God was and is the Creator and the Head.

Choose Master God as your job provider in the matrix instead of Master devil, though what Master God pays you may seem too less or inferior or too much or too great, but obey Him in His Will knowing that your paycheck in the workplace of the matrix doesn't define your quality of life when you go back to your home in Heaven. The real paycheck that you receive from Master God is Him taking you in His Kingdom.

The Guy sings:

Khushkhabri do gareebo ko	Give the good news to the poor
Kaidiyo ko riha karo..	Have the prisoners freed..

The above lines reveal my and your God-assigned job. Master God should be your master, not Master devil.

The Guy sings:

Tu mila to khuda ka sahara mil gya..	On finding you, I found God's comfort
Tu mila to khuda ka sahara mil gya..	On finding you, I found God's comfort
Gamzada.. Gamzada..	Grief stricken ... Grief stricken..
Dil ye tha gamzada..	This heart was grief stricken..
Bin tere, bin... tere..	Without you, without... you..
Dil ye tha gamzada..	This heart was grief stricken..

Ref: Saanson Ko (LYRICS) - Arijit Singh I SubhamMix Lyrics

It's difficult to follow the Will of God in the matrix because one's flesh comes in the way. Our flesh at times hinders our job as we are unable to push forth. And our flesh is weak and needs rest as well, which is not so in the case of angels. That's why we are called to crucify the flesh for us to be able to do well the job of Master God.

3. SONGBIRD

The lady sings:

For you, there'll be no crying
For you, the sun will be shining
'Cause I feel that when I'm with you
It's alright..
I know it's right..

And the songbirds keep singing like they know the score..
And I love you, I love you, I love you..
Like never before..

To you, I would give the world
To you.., I'd never be cold..
'Cause I feel that when I'm with you
It's alright..
I know it's right..

And the songbirds keep singing like they know the score
And I love you, I love you, I love you.
Like never before..

Like never before..
Like never before..

While using the washroom I had this vision around 5 minutes back:

4. The Covered Message

I saw these visions as the first person:

Ranveer Singh comes walking from the front dressed in a black sherwani thickly embroidered in a mustard shade and puts his forefinger and middle finger together separated by a cm or so on my lips and then his. He does this a few times. He is carrying his bearded look with neck-length hair in this vision.

And while writing the previous revelation, I saw him laugh a bit in joy followed by dropping a kiss at the centre of my forehead.

13:10

5. Reynold's Lifting Cap

Vision (last night): I saw the classic Blue & White Reynolds standing vertically straight. The extending stick on its cap changed to having a rough texture and turned upwards to the right, falling back again followed by turning up to the right again, falling back down again, and turning up at the front again this time.

6. Dream:

It's night and I've to go to church. I catch a taxi. Another guy comes in from the left and sits beside me. Seems like it's a shared cab. He is dressed in a white shirt and has a bunch of relatively longer straight hair around his forehead. The guy starts indirectly saying mean stuff to me while looking forwards. This makes me angry as he doesn't stop after saying just one thing. I hold the hair around his forehead and twist his face backwards with great force! I immediately feel sorry and realize that I could've been patient and forgiving. But then I had been facing this behavior for a long time now where people would come up to me and say mean things. I tell that guy that I used to be that way with bullies. He is smiling and from the look on his face I can tell that he has forgiven me. One or two people join and sit on the frontal left seats. We continue on our way. He stays silent during the rest of the journey.

When I enter the church, I see that it extends ahead in a small rectangular room lit with dim mustard light so nothing is brightly visible. The environment seems like a pub but it's not. I'm not quite liking the pub-like lighting, I find it weird, but then I see the Pastor and Wife standing behind a street food counter and they are handing out snacks to people in the front. I see a group of people, youngsters sitting in a group on chairs on the right corner near the door. They look very worldly and it seems that they lead a very immoral lifestyle from the way they are talking. One of the girls among them is dressed in a navy blue top tucked inside black pants and is busy talking with others in that group. I feel like telling them to get lost from the place because I can see that they are not there to be Holy or to be in communion with God.

I now find myself lying on the floor hiding behind a piece of furniture and right in front of me is a lady sitting with crossed legs with horizontally folded knees on a double bed on its end near me. She has her hair tied low at the back. Apparently, I know that lady and she can see me. I observe that the bed is made by putting mattresses over three rectangular boxes filled with ignitable fuel. A guy is standing at the far right end of the bed and is talking to the lady. I am trying to hide from the guy as he seems to be a negative character. I can tell that he intends to light up the bed by throwing in a lighter inside the first rectangular box on the other side so the fire would ultimately consume the entire bed. He makes a quick gesture of throwing in the light. I want to warn the lady about the same but I can't risk being heard by the guy either. The guy talks to the lady casually and she seems to have no idea that he plans to burn her up while pretending to be her friend. She just listens to him quietly. The guy walks over to the furniture I'm hiding behind and takes the turn to my side and walks by. He has missed catching sight of me thankfully. He now stands in front of the sink facing to the right doing a chore. Again, I don't want him to be able to see me. His eyes are moving around in my direction but he still hasn't caught a proper sight of me.

I get up and quickly exit the room through the door near the other end of the bed into an almost empty hall where I come across a tall well-built man dressed in black with neck-length frizzy bypassing whom I exit the building.

I find a white bus outside moving slowly to the left. I run towards it to try to catch it. When I manage to board it, I find that it is filled with policemen dressed in their beige uniforms. I tell them about the supposed criminal men inside that are planning to cause an accident that will injure that lady.

I wake up with these lyrics strongly playing in my Spirit:

7. Chu.. Tu Mujhko Chu..

Tere pas jo bhi aaye..
Khali haathon se naa jaayein..
Ter Vachno pe jo bhi chalein..
Andhero mein Roshni paayein.
Tu chule agar.. Banjar bahar ban jaye
Tu chule agar.. Patthar mein bhi jaan aye
Chu… tu mujhko chu
Chu… Khuda ki rooh…

8. The House of the Lord

Vision (past two weeks): The vision began with the top of the inner wall of the House of the Lord showing it as being plain white with the view then moving down and stopping at the top of the red Hebrew letters in the middle.

Earlier the wall had Father God's name Yahuah written in Paleo Hebrew. But now it has the name of Jesus – Yahusha – written in the same.

Yahusha: Yah is salvation.

9. Khushkhabri Do Gareebo Ko

'Give the Good News to the Poor'

A few seconds back, I was thinking about this incident yesterday when I was sitting outside the canteen and having a burger and saw a man in a navy blue T-shirt over black jeans walk by looking down at me. And while I was thinking about it, the lyrics started playing in my Spirit in the background:

Khushkhabri do gareebo ko	Give the Good News to the poor and the lyrics caught my attention. The Spirit was telling me to shift my attention to itself and what it has to say and wants me to do. I saw that God was telling me to focus on my main job encapsulated in the lines above, which is good, but I saw that it came at a cost of keeping my distance from people in the matrix while growing closer to them in the Spirit and walking in the Will of God.

The bearded guy was wearing goggles and had a striking similarity with RS. I wondered if it was RS himself. After a minute or so I saw him standing behind the crowd outside the canteen. I thought of walking up to him and having a brief chat but what if he was not RS. Though I felt strongly it could be him I was still doubting.

Khushkhabri do gareebo ko	Give the Good News to the poor
Kaidiyo ko riha karo..	Have the prisoners freed..

This plays even now in my Spirit.

Prisoners refer to the people who are bound by sin and the system of the matrix, the prisoners of flesh - the spiritual beings imprisoned in the flesh, the ones enslaved by the matrix. To be able to free one's mind from the systems of the world and see it for what it is and know the reality of the Kingdom of God in Heaven is equivalent to being freed from prison.

I was doubting if it was really RS because even Death Conqueror sent doppelgangers that had a close resemblance with him standing at a distance to make some insulting point. But the supposed RS didn't make any such point but walked slowly by to the canteen. After a while, he walked back away from the canteen in front of me being aware of my presence.

Khushkhabri do gareebo ko	Give the Good News to the poor
Kaidiyo ko riha karo..	Have the prisoners freed..

Still plays in the Spirit…

Ref: usne mujhe bheja hai

More than a week back or so, while I was working out, I kept hearing in my Spirit 'Kisko impress karne ke liye' 'Whom to impress are you trying (by working out or losing further weight)? It was highlighted along with the Ad in which RS asks the lady in a dotted light brown dress applying red Sugar lipstick if it was his mom that she was trying to impress with it.

Usne Mujhe Dekha Hai..	He has seen me..
Uski Rooh Mujhpe Hai..	His soul is on me..

These lyrics have been repeating in my Spirit for the past few hours..

10. RS with a Handgun

Vision: RS in the black embroidered sherwani tells off someone present to his right (the viewer's left) with a rough hand gesture and then points a handgun at the center of my forehead.

I was editing and adding fresh revelatory understanding about the weapon of the gun in the revelation The Ark Dream and The Peacock Feather Activity on Page 475.. and then I thought of resting down when I had these visions:

11. RS With a Meter Long Handgun

Vision: RS in a printed Pink suit with a huge cleavage revealing his upper body takes out a long gun of about 1 meter in length and points it at the viewer.

When I laid down on my floor bed to rest, I saw:

12. KA revelations

Vision: In a printed red fluffed sports rugby uniform he is hovering above my face. The follow-up vision has him sitting with vertically folded knees above the flat grass shed of a hut created by raw materials, and then he jumps down at me followed by licks on my face.

I was feeling hungry and then I had a lot of work to do as well – write new revelations and edit the past ones. I kept feeling this nudge to order something and eat but I was resisting it and lay on the bed instead to rest. And then I had this revelation.

1. RK Stuffs In a Grand Meal

Vision (about 20 minutes back): I saw a clean-shaven RK bent over a table filled with various different kinds of dishes as he was hogging them in while gulping in water from a glass. It seemed as if he was very hungry. Though he faced the viewer, his eyes looked to the right side. He kept putting in bites of food from all over the table followed by a gulp of water followed by what he put in coming right out of his mouth back on the table.

I was thinking that I could try to sleep, but then I had work to do and I was hungry as well. So, I listened to the above vision and ordered a Thali.

Then I was thinking about Brother Nate's recently released Word on YouTube when I had this revelation:

2. Brother Nate Puts On the Spacesuit's Helmet

Vision: Brother Nate dressed in a thick white astronaut suit with a square-shaped newspaper print on its chest area puts on the suit's white helmet.

It reminded me of the previous revelation in which RS was standing near Earth's outer atmosphere in a spacesuit with his helmet in his hand.

3. Reciprocating the Love

I gave in to the Will of God and let go of most of my reasoning because it would earn His children for His Kingdom. Because ideally, I would've stopped myself from developing feelings for those besides the one God showed me the wedding dream with. But I didn't. I couldn't because it was God who was showing me those things and I too saw their hearts as I watched them online in real life, and it's not that I wanted to sin but I felt the human nudge to reciprocate the good and loving heart they carried. Because the hearts of those people were pure.. and now I received the revelation of them rising up with me with white wings. It was all worth it in the end. So, Glory should try to not be angry with the revelations I have with other people because they are for the greater good and are given out of love, and not out of selfish reasons. I don't wanna sin though I at times receive revelations that have a sinful look. I've other revelations too that are not sinful, like RS putting his fingers on his lips and back to his and him kissing my forehead. Sin is the culprit that separates us from God and He had to die to redeem us from its penalty.

4. The Buffalo with Burst Eyes

In one of the past revelations, I had seen a buffalo walking along the pathway beside the photostat shops going towards Patel chest. In that dream-vision, though the buffalo's eyes were burst with a visible hole in its right eye, its eye condition didn't seem to affect its walk as it kept walking forward. Neo too could see Agent Smith in The Matrix though he lost his eyes.

I will never mentally leave the people God brought in my life and will keep them in my prayers and I was thinking today how joyful it would be to reunite in heaven and share our earthly stories as Sis Candance once said in one of her videos. I am supposed to be on a Holy video call with KA acc to a previous vision revelation. Now it may be through revelatory visions, I am not sure.. but God didn't tell me to leave forever the people he brought into my life. He brought them to put them on a certain path with me. We can still walk on the godly path together within the context of a loving godly bond.

5. 'Watching Me' By Werks (Brother Wally)

The Guy sings:
I get this creepy feeling Illuminati is watching me
But I shall not fear because Jesus Christ He walks with me..
Just remember while you are spying God is watching you
On that judgment day, my question is what you're gonna do..?

Ref: WERKS - WATCHING ME (OFFICIAL MUSIC VIDEO)

6. All The days

The Guy sings:
All the days of life
I wanna live serving you..
All the days of my life
I wanna walk this road with you..

All the days of my life
I can't do this on my own..
All the days of my life

Till the day that you decide to call me home..

Ref: All the Days

7. 'Ek Isaai Ladki Jiske Ander Puri Duniya Se Jyada Samajh Thi'

'A Christian girl who had more understanding and wisdom than the rest of the world'

I kept hearing this in my Spirit coming from a guy on the last Sunday evening after I shared with my mom the significance/meaning of covering one's head over a video call. I had learned it from one of Brother Nate's videos back when I was staying in Room D4 of A-16. He had said in that video that I currently had no covering on my head as I wasn't married. And then I watched one of his wife Sis Christy's videos which told me that Jesus was my covering.

8. The Outer Pretense

In continuation with The Outer Surface Act (#17 on Page 465), when I happened to randomly recall this brief incident where I stood with Awadhesh Prasad & Prof TRS, I had an immediate vision.
Vision: I sit down on my feet in front of Prof TRS and pretend to move my mouth in light sucking motions in front of his pant around the groin area!

Well, I had this vision long back. But it was very embarrassing. It took me a long time to write it. Awadhesh Prasad wore an untucked loose boxy shirt while Prof TRS wore a shirt tucked inside pants.

9. The Crown and the Slaps

Vision (Yesterday night): KA puts about 3 inches high beautiful streaky golden crown on my head and fixes it properly. I am dressed in my long and loose lavender t-shirt over grey trousers (what I was wearing that day) and him in a white shirt tucked inside grey pants. Immediately afterwards, he gives me a very tight slap on my left cheek. He continues slapping me and after a few slaps, I end up on the floor on my back after which he kicks my belly once from the top.

10. The Dancing Mayank

Vision: Mayank dances on 'Aaja Mahiya' while calling me with his hands in the manner Hritik Roshan danced in the song, but after a while behind him is revealed a black demon who removes the face of Mayank like a mask.

After a while of him dancing, a demon to his (the viewer's) right is revealed which is about to hit his leg slightly above the foot with a sharp weapon. Seeing this I start praying.

He is then shown as dancing out the exact steps performed by Hrithik Roshan in the chorus group dance in the song. He is dressed in the same clothes that he wore the previous day I ran into him in the dept – a black shirt checkered in white over blue denim jeans.

Also, I intermittently keep hearing these chorus lyrics from the song during the day:

'Aa dhoop maloon mein tere haathon mein
Aa sajda karu mein, tere haathon mein..
Subah ki mehandi Jhalak rahi hai..
Aaja..
Aaja Mahiya.. Ho..
Aaja Mahiya..'

They were playing the previous day as well in my Spirit when I was sitting on my seat in my lab. I had happened to run into him on the stairs while walking down that day in the morning. Later it reminded me of the previous such event (The Morning Encounter on Page 298) which had him walking down followed by the song 'Aa dhoop maloon mein tere haathon mein..' playing in my Spirit later that night. When I looked up the song, I saw that Hrithik Roshan wore the same clothes in that song as Mayank did that day, and also.. he stood on the vertical narrow stairs at the beginning of the song, and I had happened to run into Mayank that day on stairs in the same manner.

But today when I saw the demon remove his face like a mask, it made me look at his behavior from the previous day on the stairs. He enacted a hand gesture of a person I knew, and then repeated to me the way I had said Hello to someone a while back.

Demons see you and know where you go and who you meet. And they can talk through people. So the vision today made me look at his behavior from the previous day in the same light – that the demon was imitating both that person and me. But Mayank in himself is good and nice. I've talked to him briefly and God has built up a good chemistry between us.

11. 'Anant Ke Liye Kuch Inaam Kama Jau..'

'Let me leave after earning some reward for eternity (in Heaven)'
The line from the worship song was playing in my Spirit repeatedly.

The Song:

12. Head of KA in My Lap With Red Love Hearts in His Eyes

I was sitting on my bed and resting. But I was also having some hurtful thoughts that I keep having intermittently because of all that these abusers put me through. Though they've decreased now by a great extent as I look up to Jesus and His kingdom and not how the serpent race behaves on Earth.
I was sitting with vertically folded knees and was moving them horizontally periodically. I was perhaps thinking about the fleshly revelations I had with Death Conqueror and the hurtful corresponding movies' scenarios. All of them were hurting me together. It was then that I had the vision of the head of KA in my lap with red love hearts in his eyes as he teethfully smiled while lying quietly. Looking at him below made me want to stroke his stubbled cheek lightly with my hand. It was a moment of restful healing. That's all I wanted in a bond. The swinging together and the resting.

Why didn't God show someone else? There must be a reason. I don't know the reason. But it's an unmatched revelation. Such moments are all I wanted in a good bond. Love-filled restful time spent together.

The revelation took my focus away from the thoughts that I was having.

13. RS in a Spacesuit

Vision: RS stands in my right mental view on an open ground dressed in a white spacesuit. He turns back and runs, flies up high with a fist lifted straight up but after making a few rounds in the sky lands on me with his folded knees but spread out legs.

14. The Platform Life

This picture from the movie Love Aaj Kal kept being highlighted to me:

15. My Dad and Sanjay Sir

The dream revelation in which my dad was telling me how he was going to teach the little children in his playschool fixing small peacock feathers on a light brown stick (#6 on Page 468) made me think of Prof Sanjay Jain from my dept because the background behind my dad changed from a grey hall to my dept's corridor. He stood near the door of the corridor and glued a small peacock feather on a thin light brown wooden stick in front of me while smiling. Why was my dad being shown as standing in the dept's corridor demonstrating to me how it was very easy to do a certain thing? You see, the Pastor, my dad, and Sanjay Sir – all three do the same kind of job in a way – teaching.

15.1 The Worshipping Prof TRS

While I wrote the above para, I saw Prof TRS dressed in a full-sleeved sky blue shirt tucked inside pants dancing happily in worship with raised hands as he clapped above him intermittently.

15.2 Sab Marenge
'All will die'

And then I keep hearing: 'Sab Marenge' .

I've heard it many times by far.

Looking at the second vision revelation in which Sanjay Sir grabbed the throat of shorter Awadhesh Prasad, my dad's face superimposed and blinked on Sanjay Sir's face after the 3rd or 4th repetition of the vision as the act of him grabbing his throat kept getting repeated in front of me.

16. 'Incomplete'

I keep hearing this word being sung in the manner of the song by the same name by Backstreet Boys.

Incomplete...
Empty spaces fill me up with holes
Distant faces with no place left to go
Without you within me I can find no rest
Where I'm going is anybody's guess

I tried to go on like I never knew you
I'm awake but my world is half asleep
I pray for this heart to be unbroken
But without you all I'm going to be is incomplete

Voices tell me I should carry on
But I am swimming in an ocean all alone
Baby, my baby
It's written on your face
You still wonder if we made a big mistake

I tried to go on like I never knew you
I'm awake but my world is half asleep
I pray for this heart to be unbroken
But without you all I'm going to be is incomplete

I don't mean to drag it on, but I can't seem to let you go
I don't wanna make you face this world alone
I wanna let you go (alone)

I tried to go on like I never knew you
I'm awake but my world is half asleep
I pray for this heart to be unbroken
But without you all I'm going to be is incomplete

Ref: Incomplete - Backstreet Boys (Lyrics)

17. Why am I here? - Because My Job Is Incomplete.

It seems to me that things will be more difficult when the practical part of my ministry starts, or perhaps it may never start. I don't know.

18. The Revelations Speak Truth

I happen to recall the fleshly revelations with Death Conqueror, and it makes me sad because I don't want them to manifest. I imagine myself leaving with teary eyes and crying on my way out while feeling as if I've been raped and then I recall that he was indeed represented as the villain Dushman who raped and killed women. I recall the Fifty Shades movie scene of Ana standing naked in front of Christian with her arms on her chest as she rebukes him teary-eyed after getting her ass spanked and leaves – this got highlighted to me several times. The view of Ana standing in that pose then pointed me to the revelation in which 'I' stood naked with my hands vertically crossed over my chest while I looked up. In the vision, a huge hand had kept appearing above me to pick me up but it didn't. It makes me think if the Dushman/rapist Death Conqueror would make me stand in public view as a part of torturing me, and then I recall the revelation of him sitting on a throne as a King while looking down at me – and it further makes me disgusted! – I ponder if he looked at me with those greedy eyes and a smile on his face when I was standing in public shame waiting for God to pick me up. I see that he indeed is that rapist postman! Connecting all the revelations together makes me depressed and I tell God why did He bring this person into my life in the first place. And then I recall the love-filled swing and restful revelations with KA in which I am resting in love-filled peace and silence. They bring me inner peace and I feel at ease.

I also see that the fleshly revelations with others were love-filled as well.

19. New Revelations:

19.1 Jesus Hits My Head With a Rod

I have had this revelation of Jesus hitting my head strongly with a rod many times now.

19.2 Jesus + Serpent

I saw Jesus coming out of me with a serpent tail - the dual spiritual condition of me? - I don't know. But it seemed to represent to me the general state of all people born in the matrix.

19.3 The Heart Bites

Vision: Glory rips open my chest at the center and takes consecutive bites at my red heart.

I recall the revelation from the movie 'Her in which Samantha tells Theodore that loving others doesn't make her love less, but it makes her love more. When looking at love between two spiritual beings – her sentence comes to life. But while being in the flesh, there are fleshly and mental rules that come into existence that have to be followed.

20. The Fleshly Revelations That I Received:

They show the reality that would ensue within the courting and covenant phase if I was to be with them. And at times they represented both a reflection of someone else's acts with changed labels or a corresponding situation in my life pertaining to the acts of those the Spirit was reaching out for. Me going to places and doing certain things in a certain order in different dreams highlighted to others who had the same unfold in their lives that 'God had called them by my name'. The act of me standing in a old class room with Ajay Sir with the BSc crowd perhaps showed his life situation with God communicating him a message through me and that He was being watched like everyone else but was called as well. Likewise, me checking marksheets reflected the reality of assignment sheets being checked in my dept in a way that was peculiar to specific people who would've identified themselves. The fleshly revelations with people reflected their hearts for me and some were a balance of what would be the 'best' situation to be happy seeing the minds of both sides involved. When I had the swing vision with KA, it was unexpected but I later understood how it pertained to who I deep inside am. Likewise, the revelation of the resting KA and the lady being together but not talking and resting peacefully in their own space while knowing that the other was present also reflected a part of my persona; and I also loved the recent revelation of KA resting on my lap with me caressing his cheek as he laid with two red love hearts.

Likewise, the revelations with RS and Glory can be understood.

I think it's an instruction manual for Glory.
I also realized that I was not here to live a happy married life until the end – contrary to the promise of marriage that I had, but to complete my job assigned by God. And the job concerns 'people' - his children - men, women, sick, poor, and the rich. In the Bible, it is written that it's very hard for a rich man to enter the Kingdom of Heaven. But in this book of revelations, we see how those rich men who have godliness and an inner desire and push to be upright enter the Kingdom of God to be reunited with God and the ones they love, leaving behind the corruptible things of Earth.

It's not a Hollywood movie but a collection of situations and events that rest in the spiritual.

When God told the Israelites to kill everyone present at a place to occupy their territory, we didn't focus on the sin of murder but the fact that they were progressing towards their promised land. Likewise, we don't look at the showcased sin which I didn't physically do anyway but the fact that the situations are given to build the sense of deep bonding God intended between different people to make them 'rise up' to His Kingdom and serve as a part of spiritual warfare as well, and leads me closer to the Will of God in my life.

When I wrote the above, I saw KA standing to my left dressed in his usual attire of a white shirt tucked inside black pants and crying bitterly. Before that at some place, while writing the above, he hit my head with a rod with much anger.

I too was weeping yesterday as I thought about all the revelations I've had by far and how I had come to be attached to those people, and then the Visions of Gideon song also told me the Will of God as reflected in the lyrics. But then what came to my mind was the vision of the upper half of KA standing in the well-lit environment of Heaven carrying a teethfull smile being dressed in a full thick white tunic followed by me immediately rushing to him in joy and hugging him in my glorified body, later finding RS there as well.

Recall: Moosa ke paas dekho baitha Elisha aur Yusuf hai kitna pyara..

Let me comfort KA, RS, and others by telling them that they are called by my name to the Kingdom of Heaven.

I wrote this section because I came across a question that if it was ok to mix Hollywood with Jesus. So, I felt like writing about the same. I don't contend for sin. No. it's not ok. Because the loveless fornication and adultery in Hollywood don't represent the character of Jesus. This book, however, is about 'people' who are yet asleep to the spiritual reality of the world, and those people are not Jesus, and therefore the revelations that pertain to them have to be seen in their context and what they currently understand to lead them further out of the matrix, and also, they are truths about the heart states of people. It doesn't mean that I have to go and commit the sin, but at the same time, we have to remember that the revelations are labeled as well.

God is bringing together people and building a loving brotherhood of believers who would inherit the Kingdom of Heaven.

I don't use flesh to sin. I use it to express a deep sense of love. So the Holy Spirit knew that He could safely give me those revelations because I wasn't going to be focused exclusively on the flesh and be sinning but I would look at the corresponding underlying heart state – like when God kissed my cheek, I didn't feel 'pleased' but felt His love - 'Paap na kar bandeya..'

My sin of bathing in a lingerie set – He covered with His blood because I had no other option (recall: The dance & the blood bath). I can't work with an itching body. Now I understand that Jesus gave me this revelation because he saw the very people who were abusing me accusing me of sinning by exposing myself, and that for money I was even willing to publicly dance naked.

During the past months, I also intermittently heard in my Spirit the following chorus lyrics of the song in which an old man was asking a lady to dance in front of a gathering by singing:

Naach meri bulbul ke paisa milega..
Jahan kadardaan humein aisa milega..

But that's not who I am. Jesus gave the vision of me in a slow duet in my lingerie set with His multilayered and fully dressed self in which He was covering me with His blood to show that I was covered with his blood though exposed. After I was covered with His blood, He stood to a side, and I continued in a dance move while sitting down on my feet. I'm covered by His blood. But it's not a license to sin.
He forgave me and gave me healing by this revelation. Forgiveness of sins is through His blood.

His blood is not a license to sin. He sees my heart and intentions for people when He gives me revelations about them He sees that it's not out of selfishness or to sin that I draw them to Him, but because I want them saved.

The people sing together:
Tera haath sada mujh par rahe..
Tere aghwahi mein nit mein chalu..
Sangati mein teri pavitra atma mein badhu..
Sangati mein teri pavitra atma mein badhu.. - This line was highlighted to me a while back.
Taki tere jaisa dikhu..

21. 'Nange Pair Mat Chal.'

I was resting and had fallen asleep when I woke up about 10 minutes back with the dream-vision in which the viewer was moving on the road outside my PG towards the Nath Properties shop outside of which stood the bellied and bald middleman that lives adjacent to A-16. He was saying to the viewer, "Nange pair mat chal! Nange pair mat chal!" ("Don't walk barefoot! Don't walk barefoot!")

22. The Soldier RS

Vision: I saw RS dressed in the half-sleeved dark brown police uniform. He sat down on the stairs in front of the door of a police vehicle/room along with other policemen, with him sitting on the corner right in the line of sight of the viewer and he faced to the left making the prophetic symbol while he talked to other policemen some of whom were standing. He was bearded and had neck-length hair. He then quickly comes to me (the viewer), holds my face with both his hands, looks at me closely, and says hastily in a scolding way, "Tune to jyada hi saccha pyaar kar liya! Aise koi karta hai?" ("You've loved too truly! Who does that!?')

23. The Chest Stabs

Vision: A man keeps stabbing the center of my chest viciously and repeatedly with an extremely wicked expression. The man looks like Glory at first, but as the stabs continue, he changes to the vicious face of Dushman from the movie.

It's all so depressing.

17:38

24. RS – The Policeman

Vision (about 15 minutes back): I saw the Policeman RS from the previous revelation spit in my direction.

When I went downstairs to get tea, I had the vision of him standing on the road facing in my direction. He spits to the right with great force, then to the left with the same jest, and is about to spit in my direction but then stops himself.

On my way up in the lift, I saw him standing to my left in the same Police uniform. His upper body floated closer to me like a shadow and his enlarged face was making kissing movements when he immediately floated back to his position. An abrupt elephant erection hit his head but he stood with both his hands on his groin repeating to himself "I am a Policeman! I am a Policeman!"

Well, this revelation told me that he was shown as a policeman and not a soldier in the previous revelation as I had previously thought because I wasn't sure about his clothing which wasn't beige like that of a usual policeman but a different shade.

The Guy sings:
Ik Noor Si Aankhein Chowk Gayi
Dekha Jo Tujhe Aaine Mein..

The Ladies sing:
Aaja Mahiya Aaja Mahiya

The Guy sings:
Koi noor kiran hogi woh bhi
Jo chubne lagi hai seene me..

The Ladies sing:
Aaja Mahiya Aaja Mahiya

The Fat Infant in just the diaper was laughing in a broken manner as he chewed on his foot. I couldn't help but think about lifting the fat infant up with both hands and squishing him sideways for he looked too cute. And I was thinking the same a while back because it was not him but the innocent baby that I was squishing him. But I'm not blind! I know that Death Conqueror is not that infant! And a while back I saw the following.

25. The Fat Infant On My PG Bed

Vision: I saw the fat infant lying on my bed and laughing in the same broken manner!

26. Swati Di Loves Fat Babies

She often told me that cute and fat babies made her want to eat them (not literally) for she was so mesmerized and tempted by them! I didn't think like her back then. Now I too I don't. I love babies in general. She was a short-heighted girl – about 5'2" perhaps or lesser and was from Bihar. Her full name was Swati Priya.

It made me recall the song lyric: 'O Priya…..' from 'Kaun Hai Jo Sapno Mein Aya..'!

27. The Rival of Ghost Rider

The day next to the night of the demonic attack in which I had heard the sound of many pigs while combating the demonic oppression, I had this scene from the movie Ghost Rider highlighted to me in which his rival Blackheart being infested with many evil spirits says, "My name is legion.. For we are many.."

That night when resisting the demonic force coming at me from above, when I became too intense in my struggle, I heard the sound of many pigs crying out in synchrony coming out of my own chest.

Now there was a man with many evil spirits residing inside him whom Jesus delivered, but then those spirits went into a group of pigs nearby as they pleaded to Jesus to not send them to the pit but to the pigs instead. The demon-possessed out-of-control pigs then ran to the water body nearby and jumped into it.

My experience was a one-person rehearsal of the same. I was wondering who the man infested with a legion of demons was.

The song covers the reality of the living dead among us whom we perceive as normal functional beings but spiritually they're dead and possessed.

29. Blackheart Revelations:

29.1 Blackheart Attacks

While resting on bed about half an hour back, I saw a demonic entity represented by Blackheart come at me from above. He had his look from the movie's end – where he was infested with many evil spirits with his face transfiguring into a demon's (the look in #26 on this Page). But I raised my hands up in prayer and started praying. He faced some firey resistance and was pushed back but kept returning. He then was taken away upwards by a firey metallic net which stuck him to the ceiling. He became fiercer in the follow-up vision which had him standing on a ground with the net being shown as melting in front of him. Behind him was an empty ground covered with the wreckage left after a fight. He stood with a stoic and domineering expression as if he was somehow more powerful now. Seeing him I knew that I had to grow strong in my prayer. So, instead of focusing on how much more evil he looked, I focused on Jesus and started praising Him in my heart and playing worship songs on my phone. It was then that the legion-infested man disappeared from my focus as I felt myself being filled with the Holy Spirit.

29.2 RS & KA Dance and Clap During Worship

After a while, I saw both RS and KA standing at a distance in front of the cooler and moving sideways while clapping left and right in synchrony with the worship song. RS was dressed in his policeman suit, while KA was in his white shirt tucked inside black pants.

Towards the end of a worship song:

29.3 Blackheart & The Orange Peels

Vision: I saw Blackheart standing in front of a table picking up the peels of an orange that he had just finished eating with the last bits of it still in his mouth that he was chewing on. He had the same bluish look from the movie's end but this time lacking the transfigurations with an additional calm but apathetic look. The background was that of a room with walls colored in the same bluish hue with the table too carrying a color similar to his skin. After he had picked up all the peels and was about to walk away to the right, he put one peel back and threw it away randomly at the front.

It reminded me of my ex-roommate Akhila keeping two oranges in a glass glass. And then once she intentionally said while standing near the door looking and pointing at the oranges: “How are these oranges so sweet?” She wanted me to hear that sentence. She was displaying her newly learned scientific mindset of asking the ‘how’, and apparently, those oranges represented her breasts, I guess. So, it only made sense to me that this blackheart must be Death Conqueror, and who else. This orange peel revelation gave him away. I understood the significance of this revelation after this girl Shristi staying to my right was saying out in loud tones outside that I mess everything up. But prior to her saying that I already had this orange revelation of how Blackheart messes up again after winding up his act, messing up to a more scattered random mess though the orange is already over.

I wouldn’t have felt the need to reply back or give an answer to a foolish insult that doesn’t represent my moral character or that meaninglessly insults some of my behavior which is not related to my moral character. But God found it important enough to give an insulting reply to him - that how he was Blackheart from Ghost Rider and how he messed up with the orange peels. I think it shows that God sees everything he does and has been giving him grace. There’s still time for repentance.

Also, when I understood that the character of Blackheart represented Death Conqueror, I also understood the previous revelation I had in which I was battling him. The metallic net represented my hymen which stopped the drones at first but later after much resistance went missing due to the drones hitting at it.

30. Clublife to Lovelife

LIONESS (FEAT WERKS) - CLUBLIFE TO LOVELIFE

I've been hearing this in the Spirit for the past two weeks.

31. 'Daudu Teri Marzi Ko..'

'Let me run acc to your Will.'

Lag jaye aisi lat teri.. Let me be absorbed into you to such an extent..

Kuch aur na ab rijhaye.. That nothing else soothes me..

'Daudu Teri Marzi Ko..' has been being especially highlighted to me.
It told me that I had to be quick in obeying what God showed me. For instance, I delayed renovating the House of the Lord for two weeks and kept postponing until it was pointed to me several times, but I did so because I was already busy typing out the revelations which consumed most of my time – and a lot of them were pending to edited making me anxious about if I would be able to complete the task or I may be left behind to an extent I may not be able to catch up with later.

32. Visions while resting:

32.2 RS & The Bouquet

A tiny, framed vision (of about 1cm in dimensions) above me of the clean-shaven face of RS wearing white specs with a bouquet of colorful flowers held close to his chin which he extended down to my face for me to smell and then back up to his nose to smell. He repeated it 4-5 times.

32.2 KA & The VadaPav

A similar framed vision of the upper half of KA in a white tunic facing to the right eating a vada pav taking sharp bites on it.

I had been thinking of ordering tea with some snacks but wasn't sure. Then I had this vision. Also when I was surfing through Brother Wally's music videos, my attention kept going to the song 'Remember Me' sung by him to praise Lord Jesus, and the song 'Remember Me' from the movie Coco was also highlighted to me which was about a dad telling her daughter to remember him as he was going to some far off land. Communion is remembering what Jesus did for us at the cross.

1. Revelations while Bathing:

1.1 Blood of Jesus Covers Me While Bathing

About 10-15 minutes back, I was in the washroom bathing when I heard in my Spirit 'Paap na kar bandeya..' ('Don't sin') after which I briefly prayed in tongues and then had the vision of a thick and a foot-wide blob of deep red blood burst above me near the ceiling and fall on me.

Later when I was changing into a new lingerie set, whenever I wasn't careful or was casual, I would hear 'Paap na kar Bandeya..' following which I would be more careful and think a bit more before deciding my actions, and whenever I did so, I saw the upper half of Jesus near the ceiling giving me a 'Thumbs Up' with a smile to covey that I was doing things with a careful and right heart.

When you have no option but to be in a sinful situation, you need to be repentfull and not be casual about it. But I already feel depressed and overloaded so at times I gain a casual attitude not caring what others are thinking for it's their sin and I'm forced to be in this situation though God is using me for His purpose. He knew from the beginning that Death Conqueror was going to commit this sin and He devises plans and situations to use a bad situation for good. But as Jesus showed me, it's my sin too if I'm exposing myself but I'm covered with His Holy blood as He sees that my intention is not to expose but to clean my body so I can function well. This makes me think how much more guilty Death Conqueror and his gang must be because they intentionally put me in this situation!

2. Being Holy for Our Creator is Holy

God knows that I will listen to Him if He corrects me when I'm unknowingly sinning. But these people.. they know that what they are doing is wrong but if someone corrects them, they feel offended! They want to live in sin! I don't want to live in sin though I have some mental connections that make me sin which too I try to reform when they come into light as highlighted by the Holy Spirit. My inner desire is to be Holy so Jesus may like me more, and so that I reflect the fact I indeed am His creation carrying His nature in me. I don't want to prove that I am living with the seed of devil inside me. Rather I want Him to purge me all the bitter seeds of devil – the sinful ways of thinking and any bitter thought or deed. I want to prove that I am like Jesus and that He lives inside me. They think that exposing their nudity makes them look beautiful and is a matter of choice - as foolish Srishti of my floor was implying. Likewise, foolish Death Conqueror thinks that to fornicate without a covenant is a human thing, that to *eat f*rom wherever one wants is a part of being human when it's in fact sinful. And who doesn't sin – he calls that person a Robot. Again, it shows his foolishness. Because it's a human who knows the difference between sin and being righteous, while a robot doesn't. Everything he says to justify his acts is immorally twisted and contrary to the truth which proves that he has no right moral sense of reasoning ingrained as a consistent channel of thought which gets chosen every time he uses his mind – it only gets chosen some of the times! The righteous connections in his brain are not assigned the characteristic of 'to be used permanently' or 'to be used all the time' but are put together along with the unrighteous connections with an assigned characteristic of 'to be used temporarily' or 'to be used some of the times'. It's better to be mentally dumb than to develop sinful/wrong/corrupt ways of thinking that get ingrained in one's mind as a routine route to take. The mental faculty that chooses which route to make firm and which not to even begin to form is either dysfunctional or of poor quality in his case. Children, though their minds are not yet fully grown as they need to be taught the things of morality and choosing Godliness over wickedness – their mental faculty of retaining the right and rejecting the wrong is strong. That's how they form a moral mind at the end because the choosing faculty was upright making them choose a line of thought which was godly and reject a wicked line of thought. There are many lines of thought I am missing, but when exposed to them, my mental faculty will choose what it categorizes as moral/godly/Holy, while his faculty will choose any based on a random reason which is not rooted in morality thereby adding to the sinful connections or lines of thought in his mind – the line of thought to be made firm later with continued usage. Now it's not that his mind can't be broken and rebuilt for it's not set in stone.

He was represented as that foot-chewing infant because he has a dysfunctional or qualitatively poor mental faculty responsible for choosing the morally right line of thought to progress ahead in. He just mindlessly lifts up his leg and chews on it.

To rebuild one's mind, one has to be vigilant of one's thoughts, and self-reflect, and ask questions if what one's thinking is the way to continue ahead in. If I get physically hurt in the near future, which I will – I will attribute it to his dysfunctional mind with channels of thought that shouldn't have been built. (Is that why I had the vision 'The Bloody Head'?) And let me write one more fact.

2.1 Physical Brains Are The Carriers, Not the Host

The brain doesn't define the mind it carries. Our minds are what get physically projected on our physical brains. If the mind of a person changed, the brain will have a different working image. And a person's mind is changed less easily by changing his brain physically than by changing the mind by changing the lines of thought themselves. So, even if my brain gets hurt, my mind doesn't get hurt because my brain carries a projection of my mind and the brain itself is not my mind or me. Looking at this should ingrain in our minds the already-known fact that our bodies carry us but are not us. So, losing the carrier is only a way for the entity trapped inside to be set free. This should further convince us that the fact of loss of a body part can only hurt our mind if look at that part as our own which would be a lie because the carrier is not the host. Though our minds are connected to our bodies in the sense that they feel their pain and can lose a window to flow freely as our brains get unable to carry our minds, besides this connection, the body is quite a redundant part of who we are on the inside.

2.2 The Right Way To Be Pleased

The body is what can be equated to a robotic machine. So, if some people are using their robotic machines highly to please a part of their mind, how does it make them any less robotic than those who are also using their robotic bodies to please their minds but in a way that's different from the previous group?

I'm not stressing about self-pleasure in the absence of God. No. Because God wants Himself to be the one who gives us the most pleasure. He wants to be the reason for our delight and joy for He created us, and He created us for this reason alone – to live in His love and serve Him in love. Therefore, a holy mind that's in love with God is highly pleased in His presence, or while worshipping Him. It's a form of love-derived pleasure derived from the source from which we are both entitled to and obligated to derive love from – because He is our Creator. If we leave our rightful source of love and wander hither-tither to other created beings in search of love, it's equivalent to the situation of leaving one's own home to find a home outside when there's none – because our home lies with our Heavenly Father – our Creator. So, is it to say that we are not to love His other created beings? No. He told us to love them the way He has loved us – that He gave Himself up for us.

The words of Jesus:

John 15:10-13 (New International Version)

10 If you keep my commands, you will remain in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commands and remain in his love. 11 I have told you this so that my joy may be in you and that your joy may be complete. 12 My command is this: Love each other as I have loved you. 13 Greater love has no one than this: to lay down one's life for one's friends.

So, yes. We are supposed to be pleased with other created beings as well. But we should do it in a way that reflects that we indeed are the children of the Holy and the Most High righteous God, for His children won't violate His moral statutes but carry His nature.

And hurting my physical brain or body doesn't change the inferiority of his wicked sinful mind. I am not saying that my or someone else's mind is superior. But what I am saying is that a wilfully wicked man who rejects God is by default inferior in His eyes though He shows mercy and rains on both the righteous and the wicked – but that's because of His goodness and not because He approves of what the wicked do. My mind will leave my body and become even better in a glorified body where I will be like an angel of God. But with the current mind of his, he is subject to be thrown into Hell.

They are the dead people talked about in Brother Wally's song 'Dead People' because they put the eternal mind to ruins in the pursuit of pleasing their corruptible robotic flesh bodies.

3. 'Kartika Tum Randi Nahi Ho. Tumhari Situation Hi Aisi Hai.'

Heard in the Spirit:

'Kartika, you are not a whore. Your situation is as such.'

I heard a male's voice in my Spirit telling me this. The phrase repeated has been repeating for some days.

4. Water/Tear Drops At The Feet of Cross

Vision (yesterday): I saw a close-up view of Jesus crucified at the cross seen from near His feet below as many thick tear drops kept falling down from the sky near his feet. In the vision, the body of Jesus was shown with great clarity, unlike the shadowy photo in this section, and the view was from right below his feet and not from a meter distance as shown in the picture below. The bruises and wounds covering his entire body were clearly visible He was dressed only in a cloth wrapped like a rope around his waist which reminds me of the Dance revelation in which RK and DP did an artistic towel dance together on a stage beginning with her towel wrapped as a rope around her waist.

Past Revelation:

5. SRK Blowing a Golden Trumpet

It was at night a few days back when I was in worship when I saw the face of SRK with the vision then shifting to the right and revealing a large shining golden trumpet held at about an angle of 45 degrees to the horizontal. The focus of the vision was at the golden trumpet being played.

I had forgotten to write about this revelation. But today when I happened to recall it, I realized how God is bringing La Corda D'oro Primo Passo - the Anime series - come to my life in my life.

6. The Worshipping Doppelgangr of KA

Last night I happened to listen to this worship song played by a different set of singers. Their performance seemed full of the Holy Spirit and was very invigorating to watch. I saw that the male singer Shawn in the video resembled KA, while the female singer Shanon resembled a girl from my previous PG - A-16. Her name was Himanshi.. and then I saw the stark difference between the two. Himanshi was nowhere like Shanon who was filled with the Holy Spirit. Himanshi could easily transfer abusive and hurtful messages to me without using her own conscientious brain.
'Everywhere I go, all I see is dead people.'

On the other hand, Shanon, being filled with the Holy Spirit sang with immense joy to the Lord which is quite apparent when you watch the duo sing. Well, KA may not currently be singing worship songs but he is not wicked like the real Himanshi who works for wicked men. KA has the nature needed to sing a worship song inside of him.

The Worship song:
Gin Gin Ke Stuti Karu (Official Video) Shawn & Shanon | Latest Christian Songs 2022 | Yeshu Ke Geet

Himanshi and her roommate Aarchi were messenger girls. Himanshi represented me while Aarchi – the abusive short-heighted Death Conqueror aka BlackHeart.

7. I Stand With My T-Shirt Lifted Up

Vision (last night): A distant vision of me standing facing to the right in front of KA in the narrow space between the two beds in my room near the cooler. However, I was standing with my t-shirt lifted up revealing my breasts with my shoulder-length open hair and I was giving him a huge smile with unblinking eyes while he was dressed in his usual attire of a full-sleeved white shirt where only the side-half of his upper half was visible. He stood still in the vision – exemplifying how one is to behave if a woman does the same in front of a man when they're not in a covenant bond regardless of how the woman behaves. I'm sure that he wasn't covering her up because perhaps she wouldn't have let him as she uncovered herself by her own will made apparent by her huge smile.

And the vision repeated itself 3-4 times. The vision was very unexpected and I didn't want to write it. It later reminded me of my ex-roommate Akhila who was once indirectly telling me while talking to someone else that she stopped using 'two layers'. But I find it a very very very shameful thing to do in general. Even my smile in the vision resembled hers as it was very teethful as if I was too joyful – and that's also how I often happened to notice her on video calls. This hinted me to the fact that she does this all the time with her immoral lover.

It's interesting to see that I had the vision the night I first started putting on three upper layers. So, definitely, it's a reflection of Akhila's persona, not mine. Because I can't stand in that pose with a smile unless I am very very very comfortable with that person.

I can stand fully naked in front of my covenant partner but to lift up my top to expose myself just doesn't seem like me. I won't stand like that with my covenant partner. I will the remove top entirely instead of looking foolish in that pose with a smile, and after removing I will march forward to him. I looked so stupid standing still in that pose with a smile. The real me would have had a serious expression while moving to the fellow and I perhaps would be smiling but it would be because I am happy to be together in his company and not because I am happy standing still in that pose with my t-shirt lifted up.

8. The Porn Stars

When I was staying with Akhila, I noticed that just before falling asleep she would put her phone between the folds of her hand towel striped with light and dark brown colors. Prior to her exhibiting this behavior, this scene from a porn clip in which the lady was rubbing the penis of a man between her breasts was highlighted to me intermittently for a period of many days. When I saw her doing that thing with her phone and the hand towel, I understood it was her and her abusive lover. God compared them to those porn stars.

That porn movie was one of the few I had happened to watch during my MSc days - the first time I ever watched a porn movie after which I didn't. Even my friend and classmate Taruna had never watched porn until then. Her boyfriend gave them to her which she gave to me. I deleted them after a while. The only scenes I later liked were those between Neo and Trinity. It's a sin to watch porn and feed one's senses.

I can believe that I would have such a facial countenance if KA was my covenant partner – the only one God ordained for me. But I can't do this with a random stranger, or wouldn't want to do it outside of a covenant bond! So, looking at the revelation, it tells me about the heart and mental state that I would have had if I was with KA in a loving covenant bond because I won't be doing such a thing otherwise. Even with my covenant partner, my current self won't be ok to stand like that, and that too with a smile! I found it quite an unusual revelation.

9. The Actor Neighbors

These people who stay to the left of my PG's front adjacent to my previous PG are such actors. They just keep acting in front of me and during the rare times that I open up and am being original with them, even then they come up with more of their acting – repelling me and making me flee away from them! The place is filled with actors. But the people whose profession itself is acting – they are not acting in real life in front of me! They express exactly what's there in their heart! Such an inverted situation!

10. I Messed Up While Renovating The House of The Lord

I accidentally pasted the last letter of the Hebrew name of Jesus in place of the last second one. I forgot which was which. So I removed it but then the background white sheet got torn. I was confused if I should paste the last-second letter on a small background of the white sheet to cover up the torn paper. But it wasn't what I had seen in the vision. I had seen a plain white surface with red Hebrew letters! I put the last-second letter on the edge of a white sheet and was thinking of going ahead with the quicker make-do. But then I had the vision of Jesus coming angrily at me with 'You wicked servant!' So I removed all the letters which tore and messed up the background of the white sheet. I pasted a second sheet of white paper but it got torn from one side while I was fixing it which further lowered my morale as I thought I can't do even one thing right. I was now trimming the protruding edges of the white paper but even that wasn't smooth. While I did so, my hands were trembling, because I saw that it was the work of 'God' that I was doing. It was an instruction for me to be carried out! And if I was careful and attentive, I perhaps wouldn't have forgotten. Though the two letters were different in meaning, they looked the same to me though being slightly different in their formation. Because of the absence of a stark visual difference, I happened to choose the last letter to be pasted at the last second's place. The last second letter had three parallel lines at the top going to the left, while the last one had two parallel lines going to the left at the top, and one line going to the right at the bottom.

I saw that I could've been more careful and attentive. And now the second sheet was ruined from the side as well which it wasn't supposed to be as that's not how it was in the vision either!

For the first time, I was overwhelmed with the fear of the Lord because I felt a strong sense of Him saying to me that I was made to do His Will and not my own. That I was here for His purpose and not my own. It was not about the fact that I had messed up, but that I had other things intermittently run in my mind at the same time distracting my attention while I should have been entirely focused on the task. If the chore needs spontaneity, one stays present-minded all the time, but not otherwise. But I learned that that's not the way I should've been with the task of God. I was working with my past way of thinking. I then thought about how acutely the Israelites created the objects of the Tabernacle God told them to make. God gave them very detailed and specific instructions. And then I thought about Brother Jonathan who also created things as God led him to, things much more complex in nature. While me – I couldn't even cut and paste without messing up.

My hands shook while holding the House of The Lord because I felt too unworthy to touch it, that without His Blood I perhaps wasn't even qualified to hold it. I saw how casually I picked it up. It wasn't a toy. I had to be more respectful. The priests of the past had to make sin offerings and burnt offerings before entering the House of the Lord.

I felt the Holiness of God - that how disobedience and rebellion were huge sins. The creation of God should stay in submission to His Will.

I saw that my heart wasn't as serious as it should be! Though I am suffering mentally, I have to still be serious about my job. But at times I complain and lose morale. And I have become a bit casual since God exposed me to the company of RS and KA and other Bollywood actors through revelations. But their company is love-filled and healing – it's Godly – way better than the company of Death Conqueror who only attacks me as Dushman or his recently revealed Avatar as Blackheart infested with many evil spirits. Nevertheless, alongside me being given revelations about people with variegated character traits, the time spent in the church has brought favourable godly changes in me.

I lay on my front on the bedsheet spread on the floor to repent of my mindset. I asked God to change more of me! It's all about your mental disposition with God and how it affects your walk with Him. I saw how I couldn't do a simple thing with perfection while He didn't even need to physically touch anything to create something unprecedentedly extraordinary. He could create and break things as He wanted and then I saw my real place. How much inferior and lowly I was, and despite that He gave me the privilege to walk with Him and serve Him by choosing me as one of His friends and servants. I saw that He knew everything about everything. Nothing was a mystery to Him. He knew the end from the beginning. He created and destroyed. He kept things in place, yet He was so meek and humble in His attitude. And I who can't cut and paste paper perfectly in one go was treating His commands as if they were not a priority or I was taking them lightly! He is perfect and so is His moral law and therefore can't be questioned. Like a person who finds it hard to understand a subject and therefore can't apply its concepts to solve related problems, some people reject the moral commandments of God because their minds can't understand and accept them. However, like a person who has understood the concept and therefore can apply it and solve related problems, a godly and moral man understands the precepts of God and doesn't go against them or try to disqualify them from being called legitimate by giving a corrupt or false viewpoint.

We often see people rebel and sin by giving their self-made explanations to reject the moral law of God. But it is no different from rejecting a scientific law that holds true regardless of whether one is able to understand it or not or applies it in one's daily life.

Earlier this evening while lying on the floor to repent before God for the diluted mindset, I had the following vision after a while as I kept lying in silence.

11. RS Runs on Feet And Leaves The Horse Rider Behind

Vision: I saw a stubbled RS dressed in a blue sherwani thinly and ethnically printed in white running to the right with a joyous smile. Beside him at some horizontal distance was a clean-shaven man with a naked upper half wearing swimming eyeglasses while riding a white horse. He had his head turned to his right as he looked at RS in the direction of the viewer while riding beside him. He was trying to outrun RS. But RS kept running on feet faster and faster leaving the man on the horse left far behind. He then looked so high in momentum, being filled with enthusiasm and energy, that he was now easily jumping off the ~50 meters tall hurdles on the way. And he ran and outran that horse rider with a smile while looking joyful.

I went out in the balcony to dust off my bedsheet and while I was doing so, it reminded me of the vision in which KA rolled down a printed cloth with a yellow strip in the middle of blue strips from a balcony to my left.

While turning back happened to catch sight of a dark figure of a man stuck to the grill to my left standing straight facing me which scared me off temporarily making me rush inside because of the abrupt shock of coming across a creepy situation.

After a few seconds of being inside, I had these lyrics play in my Spirit:

12. The Song Revelations

The Guy sings:

'Ohh... Khilona jaan kar tum to mera dil tod jaati ho..'

Ref: Khilona Jaan Kar Tum Toh ((4K Video)) | Khilona | Sanjeev Kumar, Mumtaz | Mohammed Rafi

Then I went downstairs to put dirty utensils in the sink and keep the order to be replaced near the door. On my way up, as I entered the lift, I heard the song lyric,

The lady sings:

"Milo na tum to hum ghabraye, milo to aankh churaye..
Humein kya ho gya hai... Humein kya ho gya hein.."

When I reached my room, and was sitting on my chair, this song started playing in my Spirit:

The Guy sings:

'Pehli nazar mein kaisa jaadu kar diya..
Tera ban baitha hai mera jiya..
Jaane kya hoga.. Kya hoga, Kya pta..
Is pal ko milke aa jeele zara..

Mein hu yahan
Tu hai yahan
Meri bahon mein aa aa bhi ja..
O jaan-e-jaan dono jahan
Meri bahon mein aa bhool ja, ah-ah
O jaan-e-jaan dono jahan
Meri bahon mein aa bhool ja, ah-ah..'

The entire chorus of this played in my Spirit.

Ref: Pehli Nazar Mein Full (Lyrics)- | Race | Akshaye Khanna, Bipasha Basu |Atif Aslam

After a while, I heard these lyrics again:
The lady sings:
"Milo na tum to hum ghabraye, milo to aankh churaye..
Humein kya ho gya hai.... Humein kya ho gya hein...."

Ref: Milo Na Tum To Ham Ghabraye with lyrics | मिलो न तुम तो हम घबराये के बोल | Lata Mangeshkar

Well, when I looked for this song, the name of the movie reminded me of the previous revelation of the phrase 'Heer Ranjha' being repeated in my Spirit that woke me up one night along with the localized sensation of something pressing against my throat.

13. 'We Stand Forgiven'

I repeatedly kept hearing this song lyric in my Spirit from one of Shane & Shane's worship songs today during the day. It goes along with the act of completion of renovating the house of the Lord by writing the name of Jesus on the inner wall on top of Father God.

Oh, to see the dawn
Of the darkest day
Christ on the road to Calvary..
Tried by sinful men
Torn and beaten, then
Nailed to a cross of wood..

This, the power of the cross
Christ became a sin for us
Took the blame, bore the wrath
We stand forgiven at the cross..

Oh, to see the pain
Written on Your face
Bearing the awesome weight of sin..

Every bitter thought
Every evil deed
Crowning Your bloodstained brow..

Now the daylight flees
Now the ground beneath
Quakes as its Maker bows His head..

Curtain torn in two Dead are raised to life
"Finished!" The victory cry...
Oh, the power.. of the cross..
Christ became sin for us..
Took the blame, bore the wrath
We stand forgiven
We stand forgiven
We stand forgiven
We stand

We stand forgiven
We stand forgiven
We stand forgiven
We stand
We stand (forgiven)
We stand (forgiven)
We stand (forgiven)
We stand
We stand (forgiven with the power of the cross)
We stand (forgiven)
We stand (forgiven)
We stand (with the power of the cross)
We stand (forgiven)
We stand (forgiven)..

Oh, to see my name
Written in the wounds
For through Your suffering, I am free

Death is crushed to death
Life is mine to live
Won through Your selfless love

This, the power of the cross
Son of God slain for us
What a love, what a cost
We stand forgiven at the cross..

1. Visions last night while I was editing the previous page:

1.1 The Breast Grabbing

Vision: I am dressed in my dress with a red and white floral print when KA dressed in his full-sleeved white shirt tucked inside black pants grabs my breasts and squishes them frantically as we kiss. The vision continues for a while.

1.2 It Gets Intense

The follow-up vision had us now against the wall to the left of the cooler with me against the wall, and KA hovering over me kissing me intermittently as he was still holding my breasts and squishing them constantly. The vision continued for a good while.

It was an abrupt and unexpected vision and I had to take a bath this night and I planned to wear the floral red and white dress. But then after the vision, I changed my mind because I had just completed renovating the House of the Lord with the name of Jesus written inside. And I didn't want to insult His sacrifice by wearing a dress in which I had just received the vision of sin – for the vision would've come to life in that dress. I was thinking of skipping bathing, but then I realized that I wouldn't be able to sleep without a bath as I was greasy and smelly. So, I took a bath but wore something else which wasn't red & white.

When I lay to sleep on my floor bed, I had a series of visions.

2. Visions After Laying Down To Sleep

2.1 The Make out & The Blasts

I and KA are in the midst of a passionate make-out followed by the vision of a naked Juhi Chawla lying on the floor with eyes closed, hair loosely tied low at the back, and face bent to one side with an absorbed and serious expression as KA lay on top of her in the act of intercourse. I then see her groin area expand outwards as a blast takes place inside her accompanied by the sound. More such blasts take place making her uterus area expand outwards.

2.2 The Twilight Scene

The vision is followed by an imitation of the aura of the scene from Twilight in which Bella and Edward stand naked facing each other in the ocean at night and Edward tells her that she is very beautiful before lifting her up after which they kiss. I see a close-up view of bodies without the faces being visible.

2.3 You're Still The One

The song 'You're Still the One' comes into the picture with its greyish blue visuals followed by a small-framed vision of the upper half of a man sweating on top of a lady (being held by her) on a double bed laid beside a wall in a spacious room with the vision ending with the lady saying out the phrase, 'Mazaa Aa Gaya'. ('It was fun.')

'Yaariyan..'

And while I wrote the above part, I heard in my Spirit the word 'Yaariya…' ('Friendships') being sung from the song by the same name.

Ref: Baarish Yaariyan [Slowed and Reverb] - Mohammad Irfan | Heaven's Touch

Mmm, yeah
Looks like we made it
Look how far we've come my baby
We mighta took the long way
We knew we'd get there someday..
They said, "I bet, they'll never make it."
But just look at us holdin' on..
We're still together, still goin' strong..

(You're still the one)

You're still the one I run to
The one that I belong to
You're still the one I want for life..

(You're still the one)

You're still the one that I love
The only one I dream of
You're still the one I kiss goodnight..

Ain't nothin' better
We beat the odds together..
I'm glad we didn't listen
Look at what we would be missin'..

They said, "I bet they'll never make it."
But just look at us holdin' on
We're still together still goin' strong..

(You're still the one)

You're still the one I run to
The one that I belong to
You're still the one I want for life..

(You're still the one)
You're still the one that I love
The only one I dream of
You're still the one I kiss goodnight..

Yeah (You're still the one)

You're still the one I run to
The one that I belong to
You're still the one I want for life..

(You're still the one)

You're still the one that I love
The only one I dream of
You're still the one I kiss goodnight..

I'm so glad we made it
Look how far we've come, my baby..

Ref: Shania Twain - You're Still The One (Official Music Video)

I don't know who it was. But I don't talk like that lady. For me, it's not a matter of 'mazaa' (fun), but a passionate expression of love which I won't diminish by comparing to a casual of 'fun'. It will be a very serious thing for me, and I would be very much into the person and very serious about him afterward. That's why I was deeply hurt after Tejaswi's betrayal though we didn't have intercourse.

3. The Song Is Like a Moral Refreshment

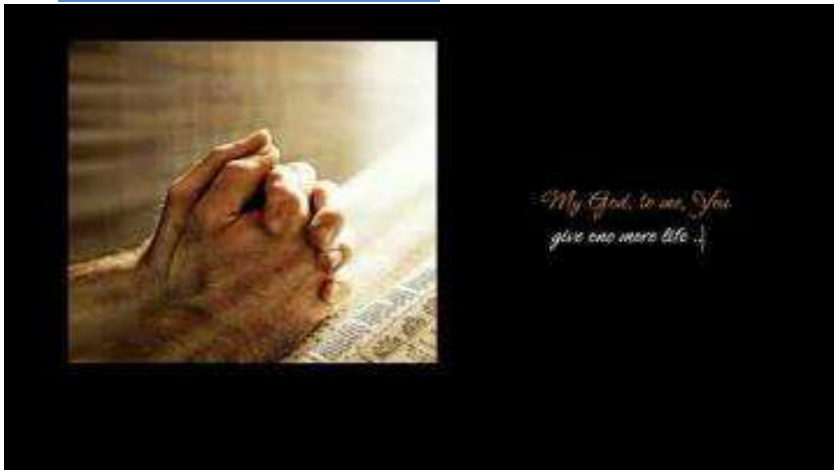
I fell in love with this song when I first heard it on the radio back in school. It still is one of my favourites as the lyrics represent my persona. The song's melody had caught my attention when I had first heard it, but when I knew the lyrics, I saw that it was a complete song that showed how a covenant/sexual bond with the opposite gender should be carried on Earth. The song reminds me of the pure environment I had around me back in my hometown.

4. The Make-Believe Wedding\Marriage

The end of the song has the hero come walking with a white towel wrapped around him which goes along with the revelation 'The Resting KA & The Lady'. It goes along with the revelation that had the naked upper half of a smiling KA come walking in a dark background while ruffling his wet frontal hair as he looked slightly down as if on the bed ahead. Also, Walter had gifted a bathing gown to that girl and he had a make-believe marriage with Meera at Akshardham: Akshar-dham or 'sacred place of letters'. Now, this book is the 'sacred place of letters' where I have had my make-believe wedding with KA as proven by the revelations.

But unlike Walter who only wanted to use Meera because she was a girl, my intention for KA is God's Will for him to be a part of His Kingdom above for me to be able to realize with KA in Heaven the stanza 'Sau Saal Tak Sanam Ki Aankhon Mein Doob Jau' stanza from the song 'Dil Mein Sanam Ki Surat'.

Ref: Sau Saal Tak.. (For a 100 years..)



5. How Angels Think

I want to have an eternity in Heaven with God's children whom He gave me revelations about. Well, it doesn't mean that angels spend 100 years looking in each other's eyes but what it does mean is that their sense of love is consistent and lasting and not short-lived for they carry the nature of God are don't have the inverted demonic half – unlike humans. Though we won't be a part of the earthly male-female system in Heaven, the place is filled with God's true love and peace. For angels, the way humans think while being in male and female bodies is but a joke. They see how being in the system creates a new reality with a diluted and tainted understanding of love. They know that they are eternal beings, and they live with their fellow eternal brethren and God with a lasting and consistent sense of love in Heaven – a place of no sin. Sin in all forms and not just sexual sin. Sexual sin can only be committed outside of a covenant in the same way theft can only be committed from a place you don't own. While humans live with a false understanding of their lives being limited to the time period of a century at most and they try their best to live their best during their earthly time – they live in delusion not being aware of the heavenly home they left to be a part of the system awaiting its end.

Angels have a sense of submission and obedience to God. They have the character traits of faithfulness, integrity, honesty, righteousness, lack of deception, and love for their brethren. The presence of God is filled with love, integrity, and Godly peace. The kind of faithfulness angels exhibit is not a reflection of marital commitment required in the case of humans, for angels are not given or taken in marriage, but rather it's a reflection of being trustworthy, loving, and true. Living in glorified bodies in heaven is like a fresh breeze of light fragrance hitting your face, a place where you are no longer bonded by the requirements and needs of a flesh body but have an incorruptible body that doesn't stink or needs cleaning.

6. The Inner Wall of The House of The Lord

It's white with the name of Jesus written in Red Paleo Hebrew. I understood that the white wall represented the fact that we've been made clean and Holy by the blood of Jesus represented by the red letters.

7. Dream (This Morning):

In this dream, I'm staying with my mom. I see myself going somewhere sitting in the front seat of a white car. I drop down at a junction with a mechanic's/spare parts shop at the corner. Apparently, I find my friend Nidhi there daily. My supervisor Prof Nivedita Deo suggests something taking place abroad for me to apply to (perhaps it was a conference). I apply to the place and let my mom know on reaching home. I am now waiting for the results of my application. I am again on my way in a white car to that place and I know that I will be meeting Nidhi there.

7.1 The Disappearing Arms

Dream- Vision: RS stands with his back towards the viewer moving his arms in front of him struggling with something, where the forearms have become translucent, and it seems that they will disappear.

This morning I realized that my floral printed red & white dress went along with the change I had made in the House of The Lord – the red & white inner surface with a floral multi-colored covering. So, I took the red floral dress out again and slipped into it. I don't know if I changed to go along with the change in the House of The Lord or to feel closer to KA, or both, or which reason was pressing more on my soul. But when I first noticed the similarity with the House, I took it as a go-ahead.

8. The Blast Outside Today

I heard a strong blast outside today in the street adjoining the back side of my PG which reminded me of the blast visions last night.

9. Visions While Worshipping (Morning):

I saw KA standing tightly behind me hugging me in a hug. I could see his arms around my dress's tie below my bust. He seemed happy. The vision repeated itself intermittently.
I then saw him squishing my breasts again as he stood tightly behind me. The vision was followed by another vision showing my upper half slowly falling backwards on him with closed eyes as if I was in a trance with his hands still on my breasts. But I only had the worship song in mind at the moment of the vision. So, the vision perhaps showed how I would've responded.
I jerked myself out of the vision and continued in worship.

After a while, I saw SRK come walking from the left playing a violin on his left shoulder. He was dressed in a brown suit with a white shirt inside and his face was stubbled. After he came, I saw other players from La Corda D'oro Primo Passo appear at my sides, mostly to my left as there was ample space there with their respective musical instruments and they all started playing together in worship.

I forgot to write on the previous page that besides the scenes of Neo and Trinity, I remembered two scenes from the movie 'Unfaithful' as well. One of the scenes was emulated as a revelation with RS (him stabbing the standing Alia Bhatt corresponding to the lover from the movie 'Unfaithful' having intercourse with the lady with her lifted in the washroom in which scene she kept getting pushed upwards with each push) while the other scene was emulated with KA (the back hug with breast groping).

10. The Five Hand-Clutched Dances

Past revelation (from the day before yesterday):
I saw KA in a long thick white tunic in a well-lit heavenly environment with the view of the blue sky visible behind and above him as he moved backwards in a dance move of pushing his clutched hands back and forth with someone standing in front of him who wasn't shown (I assumed it to be me).

And then I saw a variation of the hand-clutching dance scene that the bride in red does alone in front of the hero/groom (who's a policeman) in the song 'Aankh Uthi Mohabbat Ne Angdai Li'. In the scene's variation, I saw her doing it together with the groom dressed in white in front of her as they slowly moved around with their clutched hands moving back and forth. The third hand-clutching dance revelation was the one that I had back at my home with RS dressed in an all-over white attire printed in blue. The fifth one wasn't an exact emulation of the hand-clutching scene but can be said to be reasonably similar to it – the dance in the dream 'Time With the Short Blue-Eyed Man'.

Ref: Lut Gaye (Full Song) Emraan Hashmi, Yukti | Jubin N, Tanishk B, Manoj M | Bhushan K | Radhika-Vinay

And then I recalled this previous vision: Two tiny golden angels facing each other with their hands clutched and their bodies bent in the shape of a heart rotating together at their positions while flying.

The hand-clutching dance moves pertain to this angelic dance vision as well. And I had this vision of the two tiny golden angels back in late 2021 when I haven't had any revelations about RS and KA.

I think that's also why God gave me the song revelation pertaining to one hundred years spent in individual acts of love – because they pertain to Heaven. And He gave me the song revelation 'Dil Mein Sanam Ki Surat' pertaining to KA and the vision revelation of RS's face imprinted at the back of my heart. Both of them will be with me in Heaven, and we will be like angels in our glorified bodies.

11. Past revelations

I was lying on my floor bed when I had this vision.

11.1 The Chair Groin Pointer

Vision (at home): I saw my naked lower half with my legs spread outwards with folded knees on the floor and I was pointing at my groin. (Why will I do that? But in that vision, I did.)

11.2 Mark Hall

During the worship session late evening that I had between the beds in which my hand-clutching dance move with KA was being highlighted to me, I also saw the face of one of the singers of the Christian Band Casting Crowns. He was looking in my direction. I didn't know his name, but I knew his Band's because of YouTube. So, I googled and found out that his name is Mark Hall. It was somewhere when I was singing the English Worship song 'Before the Throne of God Above' that I saw his face to the right with a brown French beard.

Note: Meaning of Amen – Yes, Indeed. It's just an emergent English label for the word they used for 'Indeed' or 'yes' in Hebrew back in their times.

11.3 Praise You In This Storm

I was sure by now
God, You would have reached down
And wiped our tears away
Stepped in and saved the day..
But once again,
I say, "Amen"
and it's still raining..

Well, as the thunder rolls
I barely hear
Your whisper through the rain
"I'm with you"

And as Your mercy falls
I'll raise my hands and praise the God who gives
And takes away..

And I'll praise You in this storm..
And I will lift my hands
For You are who You are
No matter where I am.

And every tear I've cried
You hold in Your hand
You never left my side
And though my heart is torn..
I will praise You in this storm..
I remember when
I stumbled in the wind
You heard my cry to You
And raised me up again..

But my strength is almost gone
How can I carry on
If I can't find You?

But as the thunder rolls
I barely hear Your whisper through the rain
"I'm with you"

And as Your mercy falls
I'll raise my hands and praise the God who gives
And takes away..

And I'll praise You in this storm
And I will lift my hands
For You are who You are
No matter where I am.
And every tear I've cried
You hold in Your hand
You never left my side
And though my heart is torn..
I will praise You in this storm..

I lift my eyes unto the hills
Where does my help come from?
My help comes from the Lord
The Maker of Heaven and Earth..

I lift my eyes unto the hills
Where does my help come from?
My help comes from the Lord
The Maker of Heaven and Earth..

I lift my eyes unto the hills
Where does my help come from?...

And I'll praise You in this storm
And I will lift my hands
For You are who You are
No matter where I am.

Every tear I've cried
You hold in Your hand
You never left my side
And though my heart is torn
I will praise You in this storm..

And though my heart is torn (though my heart is torn)
I'll praise You in this storm (praise You in this storm)

12. My Hurting Brain

I can tell the places that the drones have hurt my brain inside by touching my skull and pressing on it as it gives me a painful tingling sensation. Most of it is localized around the frontal right part of my skull and not so much on the left side.

This was not present when I had gone for an MRI. I first felt a sharp sting inside at the frontal right side of my brain followed by wavy motions resembling inner blood flow. I think I will get a new test done after seeing a new doc. The one in the Nulife hospital wasn't genuinely concerned about me because he took my case lightly and told me to see a counsellor/psychiatrist while hinting at the same time that he knew everything as he said 'When your brain is sliced..' while making the slicing movements with one of his hands – demonically influenced doc in the Emergency room, and then he prescribed me a caffeine PCM tablet when he had told me to avoid caffeine because of migraine - what he diagnosed me with. When I used to wake up late at nights at home because of a throttling brain inside, I would pray, and it would go away. But then I also found out later that the medicine he told me to take at night had caffeine which was working to make my condition worse while asleep.

Now it's no longer migraine but brain surface damage. Though it brought me physical pain, the damage caused to my body or that which will be caused is nothing more than the outer covering of a metallic book getting torn which was corruptible anyway, or a better example would be hurting a hollow shell filled with light. The more damage the shell faces and the more holes it gets, the more the light inside peeks and spread out. When the shell is completely gone, the light is set free fully - our true form, and then we go back to our light home to our light God in Heaven. So, my bodily damage doesn't bring me emotional pain. I actually feel happy that I could do this for God.

I think slowly they will cover my entire brain. Demoniacs - flesh-eating demoniacs - that's who they are. Demons and AI go hand in hand for AI is a tool to advance the kingdom of devil. Their intelligence is artificial, and their conscience - dysfunctional. Being possessed with a plethora of demons, they sin without remorse and call the ones who don't sin as Robots.

I wish Glory would be there in Heaven too. But I don't know if he will come to Christ. He has to. He must! Because I don't want to be lost in the world and be doomed to hell! It seems to me that more than Glory who was already righteous to a great extent, all this time I thought/worried about bringing Death Conqueror to Christ and repentance, when Glory is the person shown in the wedding promise. I think it was because Glory understands quickly what makes sense to him. But Death Conqueror rejects ideas. Because why didn't he turn to God/Jesus when it has been quite apparent that He has been giving me revelations and is calling him to repent? Why did he continue in his sin?

Believers are ideally supposed to marry from among believers - people who have the Holy Spirit. But if they don't, it is anyway written that in the end times, from a household of 5, two will be with Jesus and three against Him. Even among the household of believers, not everyone is a disciple. But a believer should be with another believer who has the Holy Spirit. At times, the other spouse comes to Christ at a later point. For e.g., God promised Glory to me in marriage in 2020 but at the time of the promise, he wasn't a believer.

I think I might see some changes now I get a test done for the pain is felt when I touch and press on my skull.

13. The Pride of devil:

He knows the judgment he will receive in the end, but still, he continues to work against God despite knowing his fate.

14. The Check Signed with a Red Love Heart

Vision (past week): I saw a bank check being signed with the outline of a love heart being made with sparkling red ink.

This made me think that the Holy Spirit was showing me its or God's answer to Death Conqueror's question of paying me for the damage he caused. Because I didn't know that he thought in terms of paying for value damage with invaluable things.

15. Burqa Person with a Long Gun

Vision (last night): A figure of a tall human fully dressed in a burqa suit from head to toe with just the person's eyes visible stands with a rifle in hand.

16. People & Jesus

I see. That woman Avatar of the Pastor's son in a previous dream revelation (#2 on Page 477) represented Death Conqueror who loves to walk and hang out with a 'group' of women which adds to his ego. That, look! Despite his short stature, all these women are going crazy over him! I wrote the revelations with the Bollywood Stars because God gave them to me, and He changed my heart towards them. I didn't have a selfish ambition or a desire to be known by celebrities. The fact that they are celebrities is secondary – be it men or women. But this fellow must feel good about his short stature by surrounding himself with many women – makes him feel desirable. Well, if I stood beside the group, I would tell the bystanders on his behalf that it's not because he's a moral or good man that these women are walking with him, but because those women themselves are as immoral as him without a sense of right and wrong and that they don't care about how black his heart is which abuses and kills the innocent!

And then he compares himself to Jesus by saying that Jesus walked with many women on the road as He preached and went from one place to another. He walked not just with women, but with both men and women, young and old! And they were not fornicating with Him, neither they were attracted by the non-existent evil and wickedness in Him or His great wealth. Jesus didn't physically possess any worldly expensive thing, but He had the Holy Spirit. He called those women as His mothers and sisters, and they followed Him around because of the godly things He taught and to see Him heal the sick on the way. This shatters Death Conqueror's demented sense of reasoning that made him compare himself to Jesus. Jesus saved a woman from being stoned due to the act of adultery. But He told her to go and not sin again. Death Conqueror however walks with women with whom he sins. Jesus was without sin with those men and women and gave them the holy teaching and the bread of healing He brought from Heaven. What is Death Conqueror doing? He is killing women who follow the teachings of Jesus. So, he better not compare himself to the Lord God who came in flesh. Jesus was and is God with the character of God. He will rebuke a man for forcing a woman to sleep with him. He will rebuke a man for stripping a woman publicly and dishonouring her body. Blackheart infested with many evil spirits walking with his group of characterless and spiritually dead whores shouldn't compare himself with Jesus who walked with His created children whom He wanted to be saved out of the system.

If Death Conqueror lost all his money and was brought to the economic level that Jesus had on Earth when He walked on it, I don't think he will have that following. People didn't follow Jesus because He was someone with worldly status or was too rich in the worldly sense. They followed him because they saw that He was the prophesied Messiah as they witnessed His miracles.

Jesus wasn't fair either. He was born among Israelites and perhaps looked wheatish or darker.

And since yesterday the previous dream I had back in 2021 has been being highlighted to me. In that dream, I was walking alone with Father God who was dressed in a red suit with a white shirt inside with a distance of about two wide steps between us! I walked with my open frizzy hair falling behind my back wearing my loose and long half-sleeved purple t-shirt in that dream and had a string of moderately separated dark purple flowers wrapped horizontally around my chest.

Shame on Death Conqueror for insulting Jesus by comparing his own wicked mindset/act of walking or wanting to be seen with a group of women in sin to Jesus walking with a group of followers/disciples who ran after His Holiness! They revered and respected Him because of who He was and what He did. But this fellow with AI intelligence and very low godly moral reasoning and who doesn't follow the Lord God and creates hindrances for others in following Him.. this fellow compares Himself to Jesus. He can't give away his life for others the way Jesus did. He can't live without sleeping with many women who are food for him while Jesus never had a sinful thought in His life. He has been hurting and mentally tormenting me followed by physical hurt as well because I refuse to fornicate with random people. Jesus wouldn't do this to an innocent person. He would rebuke and correct them and teach them the ways of God. So, take a look at your inner self before making a comparison to Jesus. He lives in an illusionary world with a very demented perception of himself.

He's not morally dumb. He's highly moral but he is segregated, and the moral connections aren't assigned a 'permanent usage' marker. We aren't called to condone sin. It's a sin to condone sin as Akhila and Death Conqueror do. I too have gone through difficult situations and faced immoral people (like them) but I didn't become like them, and neither did I deliberately choose to be around such people. I will never condone their sin though I can forgive it and have forgiven how they both hurt me. They despite having normal parents turned out to be such abusers, while I despite having a dysfunctional family stayed away from wickedness and turned to God as I uncovered the truth. The criminal mind of a person isn't to be condoned. One shouldn't say that it's ok to think like a psychopath which they both do! I feel so foolish for writing these very basic things! It's not that they sin that's the source of the problem. But it's that they are not ready to admit that they sin and that it's a problem. Sin is not sin for them in the first place – it's a normal way of life, you know – because everyone gossips, everyone cheats, everyone betrays, everyone hurts others, everyone can kill – so it's all a normal thing to do for them! They don't even count it as a sin. But a righteous person identifies his/her weaknesses and wants them to be made upright instead of justifying them like these two do! Did he ever pray to God to rid him of his negative traits or bring him on the righteous path? Or did he try to justify his way of life!? Did she ever look at how her Volturi-like dual persona hurt others where she is nice to one's face but then betrays that person behind her back!? Or do they justify such sins by counting TV serials that have people commit those sins, instead of counting Bible verses that clearly distinguish right from wrong? They condone sin, not rectify it. That's their additional sin apart from committing the sins that they are condoning of each other.

By flashing light on what undergoes behind their sick thought patterns, I showed them the way to reverse it. It can't be reversed by understanding how murdering someone is right, or how committing some other sin is right. It is reversed by realizing where one went wrong and making amendments at that place. Any problem one faces isn't an excuse to abuse others knowingly. How can a righteous person sin and cause pain to another person with a calm and composed mind being aware of the effects of his actions? Why didn't the dumbasses use their empathetic skills with me instead of giving me mean insulting replies and treatment? Because they're partial! They are only good to those who are as corrupt as them, and their goodness is shallow and materialistic! Akhila would share with me things to eat or drink, but her behavior wasn't genuinely good with me! The same held true for him. And their messengers are as dumb as them. They are not emotionally intelligent beings – it can be easily proven by their past filled with a broken record! They are not (emotionally and spiritually) mature beings – and that's why they justify each other sins instead of rectifying them. They learned how to use their genitals and they equate it to maturity.

Me walking alone with Father God with the distance of two wide steps between us reminded me of Veera saying, "Didi, do kadam door! Do kadam door!" God is so Holy. We were not worthy of being close to Him, but He made it possible through the blood of Jesus.

Also, in all the revelations that God gave me about RS and KA, none of those revelations had their worldly status highlighted but reflected the progression of a personal bond. So, it shows how God wants us to not live in the illusion of our worldly status, but to live in His love and in forgiveness. I don't want to be a fornicator or an adulteress. That's not who I am. But then I receive these revelations and my heart changes in its emotional stance towards them. I can control the physicality in the real world, but the emotional and mental progress made in the bond stays. And that's what I am taking in as a byproduct of the revelations God gave me.

17. The Wicked Evil Spirit of Prof Iyer is Linked with Meera

The only person it brought to my mind was Death Conqueror. Wherever Meera went, the Spirit followed her. It reminded me of how that demonic entity came and sat on top of the wooden vertical slab of the bed above my head that morning in Dr. Bharati's home in Chandigarh – the first morning I woke up there. I was sleeping at the left corner of the bed which was nearer to the door. After the car horn blew outside, something came floating in a flash through the door followed by a squeak at the bed's wooden slab behind me to my left making a squeak a bit. It's not really him. It's the demonic entity as well. Even if he dies or is locked in, the entity will find a way to oppress me or other children of God as devil also sends his spirits on assignments targeting the children of God. But we've victory over them in Jesus. By committing many sins, he gave an entryway to demons to infest him. Grave sin opens doors for demons to influence us more.

The scene that was highlighted to me was the one in which Meera's help being possessed by the Spirit of Prof Iyer was walking vertically on a tree as it chased after Meera and Rehan.

18. Revelations During Worship (Evening):

I stood in front of the cooler with worship songs playing on my phone and sang along with them when I had these visions.

- 18.1 Armoured RS & The Swordplay
  I saw RS standing at some distance to my left near the table in black metallic armour with a sword held in his left hand that he was now putting back inside its scabbard fixed on the right side of his armour. He had a stubbled face and straight neck-length hair. He then walked towards the back of the room behind me at about a meter or two and started performing an amalgamation of contemporary dance and sword arts while getting on top of the bed intermittently. He had a stoic expression throughout the dance.

- 18.2 Sporty RS & the Steel-Rod Play
  A clean-shaven short-heighted RS in his Cheetah-printed tracksuit from the Pepsi Ad song stands at some distance behind me with a steel rod vertically held together with both hands, and he jumps around the room.
- He now does sit-ups with the rod still in his hands. After a while, he leaves the room with quiet steps.

- 18.3 The Athletic Jump
  He is back into the room and now makes a high jump in the air with both legs stretched outwards and stars and hearts shining in his eyes.

I change my singing posture and stand straight instead of moving or swinging to the sides because I am reminded of the way I used to previously sing on stage back in school – standing straight while moving my hands. I want to see if I could do it again, or if the present me would be comfortable standing like that. As soon as I do so, I hear:

- 18.4 Adele
  'Adele' (referring to the female Western singer). And the name repeats a few times.

- 18.5 'We Could've Had It All..'
  I then see the upper half of Adele (the singer) in a dark background dressed in a black full-sleeved dress fitted below her bust with her shoulder-length blonde hair falling neatly while she sings. The song lyric that accompanies the vision is, "We could've had it all..." from her song 'Rolling In The Deep'.

- 18.6 Adele With Dark Circles
  The follow-up vision has the area around her eyes suddenly become black and embedded, but she continues singing.

- 18.7 Adele With a Crow's Mouth
  Towards the end, a huge black open mouth of a crow lifted up high appears superimposed on her face. The vision stays for a while as the crow's open mouth continues to shout out upwards.

- 18.8 Tori
  Tori the water ranger from Power Rangers Ninja Storm appears. She has the talent and hobby of surfing the ocean waves.

  Ref: Google Images
- Adele appears again. 'We could've had it all!' in the Spirit.

- 18.9 Tori Plays the Violin
  Tori in a dark background facing slightly away from the viewer towards the left with her blonde hair braided around the sides plays the violin.

- 18.10 Princess Shayla
  The previous vision of the face of Princess Shayla (from Power Rangers Dino Thunder) is highlighted in which she has her hair tied low at the back as she sings looking down in a golden environment.

- 18.11 Tori and Princess Shayla Stand Together.
  It seems to me that Tori could be Akhila because they stand together at the same time. But then even Ranvir Singh and Adele performed together simultaneously as well in the previous visions.

- 18.12 Tori Comes Out on a Grey Whale
  Tori surfs the ocean and comes out on the beach riding a grey whale with her surfboard resting on it.

- 18.13 Glory In Red & White with a Bouquet
  Glory in red and white with a white shirt inside carrying a bouquet of flowers in hand does sit-ups two meters behind me and then walks forward in a hug carrying the bouquet with a smile.

- 18.14 Volturi Throws Away The Dagger
  Volturi, who was previously carrying a bouquet in one hand and a dagger in the hand on the other side, throws away the dagger and abruptly sits down on one knee with a bowed head with the bouquet in one hand and the other hand stretched straight backwards.

- 18.15 Mr. Bajaj
  The clean-shaven face of Mr. Bajaj from 'Kasauti Zindagi Ki' with grey hair in a dark background looks at me. (The series used to be one of the favorites of my school friend Shreya.)

- 18.16 The Sword Over an Artistic Background
  An upside-down sword on a white background with a horizontal acrylic brush of yellow and grey around the handle on the white surface.

- 18.17 Kauwaan Chala Hans Ki Chaal
  'Crow tries to emulate walking like a swan.'
  Someone was comparing me to a crow. But I've always sung like that and even more passionately. It's a norm for singers to be versatile in their singing.

- 18.18 Golden Gun With a Top White Strip
  The parallel horizontal back view of a golden gun the top of which is covered with a white strip with small red hearts printed on it as it's moving horizontally from right to left with dark space at the front.

- 18.19 The Praying Kunal In Front of A Floral Hoop
  An elevated vision of Kunal (my previous PG's owner) dressed in all black (black shirt over black trousers) standing in front of a heart-shaped floral loop of flowers with eyes closed and forearms raised. It seemed as if he was in deep prayer. Most of the flowers in the loop were black with a few differently colored flowers present along with them. The vision slowly floats closer to the viewer.

- 18.20 Kunal Moves His Arm In An Arc
  He stands facing to the left with his hand stretched straight forward with his finger pointing ahead as he moves his arm horizontally in an arc.

- 18.21 Lipsing The Train Sound
  The focus of the vision then goes to his stubbled lower face as he is moving his lips back and forth abruptly in a periodic manner as if making the sound of a train. (I was singing Hallelujah from the worship song 'Ho Teri Stuti Aur Aradhana' when I had this vision.)

After the worship session, I laid down to rest when I had the following visions:

- 18.22 Prof Iyer Attacks
  A huge upper half of Prof Iyer bent over the floor below with his face carrying his vicious demonic look with opaque white eyes floats towards me from the left but goes away by prayer.

- 18.23 The Inverted A Inverts Back
  An inverted letter A - ∀ - with a horizontal line below in a dark background rotates clockwise to being the upright letter A with the horizontal line still resting on the tip.

- 18.24 The Triangle with The Light-Bursting Eye
  A closed triangle in a dark background with the glowing outline of an eye in between out of which came out a high-intensity blob of white light followed by smaller colorful beams that spread outwards.

19. This Possessed Man

I was strolling outside my PG at night as I had started to do for some days to get some kind of mild workout as I didn't feel like I had the mental strength needed to do a rigorous physical workout and the stroll exposed me to cool fresh night breeze/air as well. On walking towards the street's gate to my PG's left, I spotted a moustached man who worked as the pantry keeper in the RGHG hostel while I stayed there during my MSc back in the years 2014-2015. Back then he used to seem a normal guy who would laugh and chat with me whenever I went to his shop. He was a normal friendly shopkeeper during those days whose home happened to be in this locality itself as I previously spotted him several times here with his wife when I lived here during my BSc days.

This night I saw him walking slowly in my direction with an expressionless face. I recognized him, and on reaching near him said a 'Hi' and asked if he still worked in RGHG. But neither did he smile, nor did he reply in a normal manner. But he looked at me with unblinking wide-open eyes as if his person wasn't even there or wasn't at the front of his persona. He just nodded his head in a 'No'. I perhaps asked him next when did he leave RGHG to which he replied in a monotonous tone – 'Ek saal pehle' ('A year back') and walked away in the same manner he had come walking towards me. I found his behavior very weird. His expression didn't change throughout the interaction, and he looked, talked, and walked like a Zombie. He walked away slowly in the same manner I had seen him approaching in my direction.

And while I wrote the above, I heard again:
'Khushkhabri Do Gareebo Ko
Kaidiyo Ko Riha Karo..'

20. The Eyeball Analogy

Possessed people can be called prisoners as well. The body in itself is a prison that locks our spiritual essence, but when possessed or influenced by a demon, the mind or the persona of the person is imprisoned as well. The matrix anyway imprisons the mind of its partakers, but a demonic possession inhibits free expression of the already imprisoned mind of the person.

The situation can be compared to a porous ball filled with a liquid getting covered by an opaque black layer. The filling liquid is the person's spiritual essence that pours, seeps, or peeks out through the porous ball, the ball representing the person's persona in the matrix. So, the ball itself is not the person but carries the constituent spiritual essence of the person which gets seeped out through the persona of the person in the matrix. A demonic possession covers the porous ball and inhibits the expression of the person's persona (the porous ball) in the matrix and therefore the expression of the inner spiritual constitution (the liquid) as well. Casting out a demon is equivalent to removing that black layer from over the porous ball while being resurrected after one's death in one's glorified body is equivalent to extracting the liquid from the porous ball.

21. RS Wearing the Breastplate of Righteousness

That was the breastplate of righteousness that Ranveer Singh wore in that previous vision of him in metallic armour over a full-sleeved blue upper attire.

22. A Glimpse Into How I Would Have Made Different Choices

I have undergone a change of mindset to a huge extent during the past few years that I spent being a believer. Then I have the promise of my marriage as well which during the past years had been my focus through my struggle with managing work, Adele's Bible Study Program (which I've stopped following for some months), fasting, and working out amidst the already present emotional stress, and adopting new mindsets and learning things that I didn't previously have much interest in. For instance - the makeup course. If this camera situation and stalking and gangstalking weren't present along with my ex-supervisor Awadhesh Prasad not holding a grudge and working against me, and I was following God at the same time, I would've been freer in a way with no one running after my life and would've joined keyboard learning classes and the thought of taking a makeup learning course would never have occurred to me by my own self, though now I don't feel that I wasted time and effort in learning makeup skills. I feel like I learned another skill I could use. I write all of this because someone may resonate with my situation as they look at the life choices that they are required to make as revealed by God – like I resonated with Adele's testimony and her sharing the transformative experiences God took her through to free her mind of the matrix. The real-life experiences of different believers help us in our own journey. It helps to see people fail for a while yet make progress toward God as He gives grace and leads them, and adjusts their path. Learning Keyboard, doing my research as led by God while doing Bible study, and doing His work would've been my ideal life. If He brought a loving partner in it too, that would've been good as well. But then.. that's the ideal situation I can think for myself. This great resistance that came from the devil.. added a lot of stress to my brain. But then being the children of God, we know that we have to do spiritual warfare and that we live in a world infested with demons.

They put these things inside my body which give me a heavy head. They have directly been attacking my body since 2021 with their drones. I could've done better without it. But with those foreign objects inside me, I learned to be joyful in the Lord despite the outer situation as I mentally detached from my body and now see it as a tool given to me in the matrix, and not something which represents the real me. I'm still learning to be fully obedient to God. I want to identify all the nudges of His Spirit and live without confusion about what I am supposed to do next.

At times, I let my flesh come in the way because I am doing one thing and then God abruptly nudges me to another task which I'm not mentally prepared to do as I am in a flow with the current one. It's like fighting against my own self and my own brain! Because ideally, I like to complete a task before moving on to the next or I would continue doing it until I'm tired before shifting to a different task for a change – the way everyone does things. But when I am still absorbed into the task at hand I'm doing well and feeling good and happy about it and then suddenly I get a nudge to do something different, which my brain is not at all ready to take in – it comes in as a struggle and makes me want to cry and I at times only listen after several promptings! ('I'm sorry Lord. I'm learning.') For e.g., when I was writing revelations in the morning the day before yesterday, I felt in my Spirit the nudge to renovate the House of the Lord which I wasn't ready to do because I was in a flow with writing revelations. It would have been a struggle to leave writing and move on to what God was pointing me to, though both the tasks were His alone.

23. "Kartika, He Left Me.."

Vision (past week): I saw Akhila saying, "Kartika, he left me..' to me with a sad and teary-eyed expression in a humble and lowly tone as she stood in front of me with her thick & straight hair resting behind her back in a dimly lit room. The vision repeated itself a few times.

Later in the evening, I changed the floral red & white dress again, because it seemed unholy to me at the top. If I was slimmer, I would've looked holier in it.

Past revelations**

Heard in the Spirit:
'Bahut pyaar kiya Kartika tumne! Bahut pyaar kiya!'
You have loved (me) a lot, Kartika! You have loved (me) a lot!

'Pehli ladki dekhi hai jisko bas attention chahiye.'
This is the first girl (I've seen) who only wants attention.

1. Revelations before sleeping (Last Night):

1.1 Shaktimaan Walks Above Me Like Jesus Did

Vision: Shaktimaan walks above me on a transparent surface. He looks straight ahead, and I can see the base of his foot.

2. Dream (This Morning):

After completing some chores, my mom in a navy-blue head wrap over a tunic comes and sits in front of my room's cooler to dry herself and relax as she is tired. I tell her about my youngest brother Divyanshu's potential hurtful behavior I got to know about from somewhere. But she doesn't believe me.

The next scene has me alone in my PG room. There is a light aqua-colored pen stand in my room which I got wholeheartedly because I somehow attached a lot of value to it. A shorter and leaner Divyanshu dressed in a white cotton tunic set comes in and starts insulting the pen stand without any visible remorse. I can see that he knows the special value the pen stand holds for me – yet he is intentionally insulting it. I move outside the room because I fear him hurting me as he's already behaving unstable and unpredictable behavior. It doesn't make any sense to me why should he behave in such a manner.

I am now outside the room with the door half-open through which I see a shadow of my brother standing with a long danda in his hand which scares me off. And he is shown as being shorter than his usual height. He then says in a sad confessing tone, "Mein to teri shaadi mein rounga!" ("I'm going to cry at your wedding!") I leave quickly and am now on the PG's stairs. I can tell I will find him behind me after a while. As I get down the stairs, I see my brother on the stairs above me. He will easily catch up to me in a few seconds, so I am trying to be faster. He is now on the stairs slightly above me to my left and he passes through the grills and quickly hides inside my long flowing red dress behind my back. Somehow, he is now too small to be easily contained inside my dress without any protrusions, but I know that he is there as I saw in the dream him quickly float and hide inside my dress. And I don't even see him moving but he is floating silently along with me as I look at my back. I rush downstairs and the floor resembles the ground floor of our rented home in the Cheema colony of my hometown. My brother is left upstairs and could be on his way down. I find a woman who resembles my Aunt Rekha (dad's sister) there. I share with her my situation. She tells me she knows someone who deals with such cases and that I should talk to him. She has me talk to that person on her phone as we walk further down the stairs that resemble A-16's. We are now out of the building, and I am on the phone with that person, and I share with him how my youngest brother behaved with me, and while I do so I'm very anxious. I see a street food vendor to my right in front of a wall and enter through a gate to my left into an open cemented Hall outside a huge building. I walk to and fro anxiously inside the hall while being on my phone and am trying to evade being seen by my brother if he happens to be outside. I've not completed sharing the situation when I hear the guy on the phone sobbing and the dream ends.

3. Revelations After Waking Up:

In my right mental view as I am lying on bed:

3.1 KA Stabs My Forehead

Vision (Morning): The upper half of KA in a brown suit with a white shirt inside with an upper lip like mine stabs my forehead silently with a stoic expression.

In my left mental view after a while:

3.2 "Itna Pyaar Kyu Kiya!"

KA repeats with my face in his hands, "Itna pyaar kyu kiya! Itna pyaar kyu kiya!" ("Why did you love (me) to this extent! Why did you love (me) to this extent!)

3.3 RS Throws a Stone at Me

Vision (Morning): The vision is seen from the level of the ground. I see RS dressed in a printed Sherwani at about 7-9 meters from me with the rough view of a wide traditional building behind him. He is about to throw a stone at me, but he throws it in a way that it falls at some distance in front of him and doesn't reach me.

Song revelation playing in my Spirit after waking up:

Parampradhan sharan mein teri, mein sada rahunga..	God Most High, at your feet I will always dwell
Sarvshaktiman chaya mein teri, mein bana rahunga..	Almighty God, in your shadow I will always remain
Ae Mere Khuda, Huzuri Mein Teri	O My God, in your presence
Paun mein panah, har pal har din	May I find refuge, each moment, every day

NA DAROONGA (Psalm 91) | Vijay Kondapuram ft. Sheldon Bangera, Allen Ganta & Prakruthi Angelina

4. He is The Noah, He is the Jack

A smiling clean-shaven Noah from the movie 'The Notebook' with hair slicked to one side is in a slow love-filled duet with me in the vertical space between the two beds. He then throws me away against the wardrobe in suppressed resentment, but I walk back towards him and we resume dancing in that love-filled manner together again. The face then changes to a clean-shaven Jack from Titanic, and I kick his belly. He gets pushed 4-5 steps backward but steps forward again and resumes dancing with me.

I understood the significance of this vision only recently. That person who pushes you away and hurts you is the Noah from The Notebook for he still stays with you and stays committed. Though he may push you away in a fit of altercation, you get back together and start dancing like you were doing previously. Likewise, that person whom you kick away for some reason is the Jack from Titanic that you wanted. You hurt him for some menial reason, but he forgives you and resumes dancing again like before!

Likewise, I am that huge lady in my orange floral printed butterfly top with the face of Karishma Kapoor.

5. RS with a Side Hair Lift

Vision: I saw the upper half of RS with hair combed sideways with a lift that he flaunted with an abrupt flick. He was dressed in his blue and white thick Pepsi jacket over neck-high white T-shirt.

6. Eating the Grams in Swag

Vision: RS sits on the floor dressed in a thick white stuffed suit in a dark background. He has a stubble with neck-length hair. His leg to the viewer's right was folded horizontally to the right and the other leg was folded vertically as he ate black grams with a very casual attitude with his hand at the viewer's left. IT was dark all around him, and he was the only visible entity in the vision.

7. The Three KA's

Vision: I saw this vision a square frame divided in three vertical strips/sections. At the left most strip was standing KA dressed in a casual attire of a thick and long brown jacket over jeans. The middle strip had a racecourse in one of the orange lanes of which he was running naked in the direction of the viewer in open day light (the vision was blurry so there was no obscenity). The right most strip had two of him superimposed on each other – both dressed in differently colored plain full-sleeved shirts with a printed tie while working diligently on a desk.

8. Highlighted in the Spirit:

Gehra Andhera Ho Chaaro Taraf
Ya Maut Ka Dar Tadpaye Agar
Mein Na Darunga
Na Ghabraunga..
Yahowa Rafa, Bharosa Hein Mera..

9. The Story of Walter Lewin

I later exited that group as Walter turned out to be an online sexual abuser whom a girl filed a complaint about. The moment I got to know about Walter's character and that he had an affair running with Meera along with many others, I developed a hateful attitude towards him. Both I and Anjali tried to counsel her on why it wasn't right to have an affair with someone like Walter, but she didn't listen. If God gave me revelations with RS, KA, and others, there was a motive behind it – His Will to turn them to Him, to invite them to His kingdom, and they are not abusers like Walter or Death Conqueror but righteous and capable of true love to a great extent. He saw their hearts and wanted to draw them to Him. I myself find it hard to assimilate that I formed strong mental bonds with extraordinary people because of God's plan and grace. But Meera could've refrained from having an affair with Walter. We even went to meet him at the hotel he stayed at during the time he was in Delhi and had breakfast with him in his room. He was on a lecture series covering multiple places across India. He invited her exclusively and I accompanied her. Meera got up on his bed and jumped a few times the moment she entered while both of us looked at her. I was amazed at her boldness and comfort with him. He had saved an overflowing plate of 'his' breakfast for us to have from what was brought to him in the morning. He had been waiting for us to arrive. He only had what he called 'Chach' (buttermilk) in his accent while we had the rest of the things. Meera was feeding both him and me sliced pieces of papaya in turns. He only had one or two while we had the rest. He said that he ate too less and had that huge portion stored for us. He saw through me when we met him previously towards the end of his lecture at IITD when he asked us to wait for him to be free while he was signing books. He asked me, "Is it too much to ask for?" because he knew that I didn't quite like him. He realized from the way I chatted with him on FB when he was still at his place and the plan of the Indian tour was nowhere in sight, that I wasn't the one he could target or even start to flirt with. Though he was having an affair with Meera, he was downplaying her in front of me in chat by saying that I seemed smarter to him than her which made me feel further aversed from him for I saw that he was looking for an opening. I couldn't believe how could Meera get involved with such a person who would start sexual relationships with anyone. She later shared with me some of the stories he told her about his previous relationships with young girls which made me question if I even knew her in the first place despite spending those 3 years together in BSc. She shared with me the story of a girl whom he gifted a bath gown which she would come wearing after bathing on a video call and would then remove it following which they would've virtual sex. Meera started using the term 'vs' a lot since he came into her life. Writing this para reminded me of the dream revelation 'The Resting KA and The Lady' (Page 399) for both KA & the lady were in white towels and on their phones. I out of nowhere happened to recall Walter's affairs today.

Why was she with him when he himself shared with her his lifestyle and then she preached righteousness to me? Meera had already told him that I didn't like him. I only stayed after the lecture because of Meera, and I was tearing up in pain because of this unnecessary act of her getting involved with a 70+-year-old sexual pervert who targeted and harassed women online. I was not liking it even when we went to meet him in the hotel because of her affair with him. If she didn't have that sexual thing with him and then we had gone – I would've been much happier and felt content and overjoyed. There was a part of me that was excited as well to meet 'The Walter Lewin' but it got overshadowed by his character traits and later – I even threw his signed book 'For the Love of Physics' that he had sent me before the time of the tour. My family still used to live in my hometown on rent back when I had received the book during mid-2013 towards the end of BSc, but at the time that I threw it, we had shifted to our new 2BHK apartment at the outskirts of Sonipat and I was now in my MSc. He often sent that book to students who came into online contact with him. Before I figured out his character, I had discussions with him as I asked him questions. Though a pervert, he was a good and humble teacher for he listened to all my doubts and answered them. It didn't at all seem that he had the ego of that huge name he carried. Without the sexual perversion and the emotionally abusive behavior he showed with that married woman by asking her repeatedly for nudes – he was good. It was a while after those Facebook interactions that he asked for my mailing address for him to send me his book. I was so happy. But then later he became the very reason for immense grief in my life when Meera told me that he was planning an exclusive trip to Delhi again to spend some days exclusively with her. This time I went into grave depression when she went to stay with him for a few days taking her red net saree along with wearing which she got married to him in Akshardham. He gave her the yellow artistic ring that he always wore followed by them saying 'I Do's' ending with a kiss – as she shared with me. He then went back to his place with her staying with her parents while being married to him. She at times shared some sections of her chat with us – a very very small section – in one of which he said to her, "You're my life! You're my wife!" which she was rejoicing sharing with us. After some time, they broke their make-believe marriage, and he asked her to send his ring back but keep the rest of the things – the 4-5 inches wide silver bracelet and the laptop worth 1.07 lakhs. I couldn't digest how could she accept such an expensive gift from him. I said to her that he chose a good laptop for her to which she replied boldly, "Maine choose kiya hai!" ("I chose it!"), which further sent me into shock! And then she herself asked us if we thought she was greedy and that yes, she was greedy! – she said it shamelessly. When I bought my new laptop with my dad's money, I felt like I owed him that money because it seemed to me a huge amount and now that I was earning, I felt that I shouldn't be spending a lot of his money. While Meera had no problem directly buying a laptop worth 1.07 lakhs which made me think that she could've chosen a cheaper laptop, as I was projecting my own self on her where I wouldn't want to spend someone else's money on expensive things. Her relationship with Walter brought to light her unexpected behavioural shocks to me.

I couldn't believe she went to spend those days with someone like Walter who harassed young women online! In my case, God gave me revelation about the criminal-minded Death Conqueror being a fat infant in a diaper laughing in a broken voice so my anger would be quenched, and I would look at him with His eyes! But even then, I wouldn't start an affair with him unnecessarily. Why would I when I already know who God ordained as my partner? But God gave me those revelations to look at the potential good in Him that He saw so he would turn to Him – the potential good he should be showing to everyone regardless of their political or monetary status, and not be partial like he has been by inflicting pain on me while being good to others who don't care if he ends up in Hell! My love for Death Conqueror is motivated by God's Will for him and not by his actions. His actions arouse anger and hatred that I fight and quench because I want to be like Jesus. I want to keep a heart of Godly love for him. Meera used to tell me that I didn't understand her bond with Walter. But what was there to be understood when he was emotionally abusing other women online!? That woman who complained against him was a married woman whom he emotionally tortured and pushed to cut herself as she went back into self-harm again which she had recovered from after much effort.

But now with my changed eyes – I don't hate Walter anymore. I would rather tell him about Jesus and share with him how He proved to me that He was God so Walter as a scientist turns to God, for he often said that 'the lack of evidence wasn't the evidence of a lack' – it used to be his tagline. He threw it around everywhere. I don't hate him anymore. I think God is sanctifying the areas of my heart that carried bitter roots for people from my past. There were some sins I thought I will never forgive. But now I learned to forgive anything and everything. God taught them to me by displaying His nature to me. That He didn't choose people when they were righteous from the beginning, but He chose them while they were sinners, and transformed and sanctified them later. I wrote this part to make the point that one's background is defined by one's experiences and the lessons they learnt of which Death Conqueror didn't learn any! Since he kept insulting along with Akhila the place I grew up when I loved it very much and it was a very nice and much holier place to live in than this one. He hasn't learnt any huge valuable moral lesson in his life that brought a significant change in him. If he looks back, he will only find events – events of sin, of sinful celebration... but a dire lack of meaning and learning of lessons resulting in inner transformation! I saw how he lived and the way he thought, so I blocked him along with others.

If I were to chat with Walter Lewin now or send a message to him, I would pray for the breakage of the bondage of sexual perversion from over his head. It wasn't that he was sexual that was a sin but that he couldn't stop his compulsive behavior that led him to try to manipulate most women that crossed his path. I would pray for the breakage of that bondage from over him and that he gets set free in the name of Jesus. Without that compulsive behavior, he was a very nice man with old and beautiful watery love-filled blue eyes that showed his grandfatherly self as well.

It was weird that he had relationships with all these women online all over the globe, but he lived with his lawfully wedded wife like a brother and sister and shared a simple brief kiss on their cheeks/lips at most from he shared with Meera. He stayed on the ground floor while her – upstairs and they didn't interfere a lot in each other's lives, while he partook in all kinds of fantasies with other women online. This is sheer wickedness. He was supposed to live the opposite way.

10. Paap Na Kar Bandeya

has been playing intermittently in my Spirit for more than an hour.
Don't sin. Sin is the enemy of God. God hates sin.
They should listen to it when God gives warnings.

11. Akhila Wasn't Being A Seductress In 'The Courting Phase'

The part of the dream The Courting Phase in which she led me into a room with a smile facing to the left making the prophetic symbol, and later entered the room wearing a skyblue dress that revealed her back waist, over stilettoes - she didn't do that to seduce Glory or me. She did that to build me up by highlighting my backside which doesn't look overweight or laden with fat. She entered the room with only her back visible to me and as she took a few steps ahead, she turned her face to the left and winked at me while smiling. I had misunderstood this part of the dream for we often had arguments in real life, and we didn't have a very good bonding but a moderate one. But now I feel Godly love for her after God worked further on my heart and I see that she is in my bus. I saw how God loved. He loves us while we are still in our sin and transforms us gradually. He loved me when I wasn't with Him and was lost in the matrix. Likewise, He loved Akhila though she was having those emotionally betraying tendencies. Though He loved her, He also rebuked her through me by giving me the 'Dumbass' dream when she was insulting me calling me a Dalit.

God loves and doesn't let go at first or even many of children's acts of rebellion and sin. He is slow to anger.

Why is Glory ready to hit the back of my head with a slab? Followed by him changing to Dushman.

God changed me to such an extent that I now don't look at sinners with the hatred that I felt before I knew God. I would rather pray for them.

12. The Vision of a Black Dog

(past week):

I laid on my floor bed post worship when I had this vision. I saw the close-up view of the face of a black dog grinding its white teeth in front of me. It seemed like it was going to attack me when it jumped on me. But it started licking my face and spread itself on top of me. I then saw the top view. The dog still had a grinding expression but was moving vigorously at its place on top of the lady in intercourse with its four legs stretched out, its size being slightly more than half of that of the lady. I wondered why this new sin of Bestiality was being shown to me. But then I thought if the dog was a label for someone.

Throughout the revelations, God also taught that the label/name is not the same as the real object itself for he changed labels throughout the course of revelations but still retained the truth. He represented me with Karina Kapoor, Karishma Kapoor, Ranveer Singh, Kartik Aryan and others but the outer representations still represented the same inner me.

Around 6 pm, I woke up from this dream after taking some rest.

13. Healing in Hospitals

Dream: I saw people getting healed in hospitals. And the dream ended with the naked upper half of KA being shown as going through a process as he half-laid on his back on a surface.

2. If They Don't Come to Jesus

they'll get a severe eternal beating in Hell.

And I want to do the angel dance that God showed me in the vision with all the people that God gave me revelations about, especially KA and RS! Maybe I will have a different dance move with Glory. I don't know. But I saw my dance move with KA in heaven! Imagine an eternity to spend together in Heaven ❤️ in incorruptible angelic bodies worshipping in the manner of La Corda D'oro Primo Passo!

If I knew that I was to be in such a condition this year, I would have changed my strategy the previous year. God reveals things at His timings. If He had shown that I will lose my eyes, I would've given more time in editing and writing all revelations. The initial pages are all unedited and with typos. These recent ones are a bit polished. And I did not even upload all the videos that I edited and put in here. It will easily take a day or two. I would've focused less on what Akhila or others had to say, but then the entire PG seemed to serve as a messenger bully except for a few girls. This PG is better in that regard. And I would've fasted more the previous year. But then I was so miserable mentally that I couldn't do it beyond a limit. I had constant headaches and would often need to sit with my head down at my workplace's table most of the time. Because I've not been going to the workplace, my head is a bit better as I only feel distracted there and put out in touch with reality seeing others who are living their lives being lost in the world, ignorant of the underlying spiritual truth of the system.

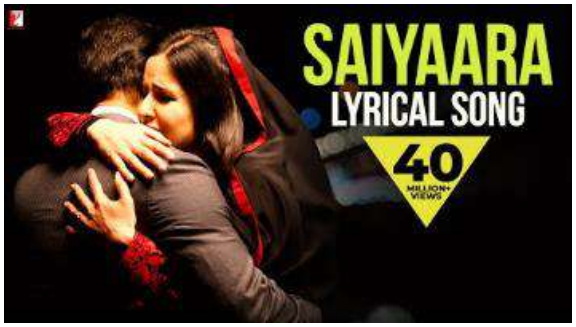
These chorus lines of this song often play in my Spirit:

Saiyarra Mein Saiyarra	I'm a wandering star
Saiyarra Tu Saiyarra	You're a wandering star.
Sitaaro Ke Jahan Mein	In the world of stars
Milenge Ab Yara..	we'll now meet, my dear.

Saiyarra Mein Saiyarra	I'm a wandering star
Saiyarra Tu Saiyarra	You're a wandering star.
Sitaaro Ke Jahan Mein	In the world of stars
Milenge Ab Yara..	we'll now meet, my dear.

Ref: Lyrical: Saiyaara Full Song with Lyrics | Ek Tha Tiger | Salman Khan | Katrina Kaif | Kausar Munir



These chorus lines have also played in my Spirit intermittently since past year:

3. 'Dil Mera Churaya Kyu..'

Dil Mera Churaya Kyu	My heart – steal did you why?
Jab Ye Dil Todna Hi Tha	When you had to break it eventually
Humse Dil Lgaya Kyu	Why did you create a hearty bond?
Humse Muh Modna Hi Tha.	When you had to turn your face away..

Why did you break my heart?
Why did you fall in love?
Why did you go Away.. Away.. Away.. ?

I didn't really know who it was. I have been saying since the beginning of when I started writing revelations with people other than Glory those people have been promised to me for Heaven - or that they've been given the promise of the Kingdom of God.

After I fell in love with those people, I saw how hurtful it would be to not have them in Heaven with me but see them be lost in the matrix – eternally separated from God. It's hard to imagine living without the people you love. On Earth, one can still manage because the Earth system is just a charade heading towards destruction, and if not together, one can still stay in touch through various channels. But to not have them in heaven seemed very very painful to me. And then I understood the pain of God who created those people with love and Who would've to see them being lost because they didn't get out, didn't receive His solution. I understood His heart.. It's the exact situation as trying to save your crooked child from your own judgment by giving him a solution you yourself created and by giving him grace and guidance to lead his heart towards you – that's what God did.

I also saw how someone had to do what I did. Someone had to write a load of revelations that would convey the heart of God to people. It was needed. It's hard to live without the ones you love and whom you know love(d) you. So, it's painful to think that I will be in Heaven without those whom God had me build a bond with. Once a person makes the choice of rejecting or accepting God and His Kingdom, others don't have much say in it. If I don't find KA in heaven, my heart will break. And my mom as well. I tried hard for her to have a mind-shift from worldly matters that her mind keeps churning and rotating through its machine all the time. And the same with others with whom God gave me revelations!

There are some unwritten revelations. And I have been so busy writing during the past weeks that I didn't have much time to think about Glory though God gave me some revelations about him as well intermittently. He went into hindsight during this time. And RS and KA stayed at the front. I think if the dreams of the courting phase and other revelations manifest, then I would've spent time with him leading to the formation of a bond but currently I only have revelations. But KA and RS - they already are in tune with the revelations God gives me. Their hearts are not distant like Glory's. Bollywood had such gems!

4. 'Kartika, Tumne Jo Bhi Kaha Sach Kaha. Sach Ke Siwa Aur Kuch Nhi Kaha'

'Kartika you said only the truth, and nothing else.'

5. Difference of Opinions Holds with Opinions, Not Morals

And then until the past few months, I had been under the impression that I would die by the way of the first vision of physical harm that I had - in which I walked towards Glory and as soon as he was armoured up, my neck got sliced off and fell to my left.

But that looks like a much easier death now after receiving these new revelations of severe beating, eye nailing, heart nailing, and what not! So much more physical harm on the way was shown. Perhaps if not to me, then to others. I'm not sure. The serpent race doesn't fear God and isn't led by the God-given conscience either.

Conscience is different from the Holy Spirit. Everybody is born with a conscience (except the double-downers), but not everybody has the Holy Spirit. Holy Spirit is given to us when we accept the sacrifice of Christ for our sins which makes us pure in the eyes of God after which He puts His Spirit inside us. Without the forgiveness of sins, how can one be made pure and receive the Spirit? - because as long as one is in the flesh – one is under the bondage of sin. So, it makes sense why an unbeliever can't be having the Holy Spirit – because He is not made pure yet by the sacrificial blood of Jesus which accords to us the forgiveness of sins. Only a vessel made pure in the eyes of God can carry His Holy Spirit.

If I was to start going to the workplace regularly again, it would give me headaches again because the immoral serpent race is a pain to deal with – for they argue over what is plainly wrong. And I would find myself doing vain work at the workplace - which is just a construct of the matrix and not of any real importance. They try to make their sin and rebellion against God a matter of viewpoints or 'difference of opinion' when it's a matter of godly morality. When a doctor gives a nurse the order to administer an injection or fluid to a patient, she shouldn't refuse by calling her refusal a 'difference of opinion'. It's her duty and role to obey the doctor. Likewise, the position of God accords Him the right over His creation. Like the doctor knows the right medicine and treatment for different ailments, God too knows the right mindset or the right values to live by. Like an uninformed patient isn't qualified to question the validity of the doctor's right prescription, we are not qualified to question God about His moral nature and suggest our own 'difference of opinion' in rebellion to His moral statutes. Like a wrong medicine/prescription will bring harm to the patient or won't heal him – ungodly mindsets or ways to live will harm the soul of the person and corrupt him leading him to unrighteousness.

I don't want to argue over the truth and be among people who live blinded by the truth and are not willing to wake up. It affects your state of reality as well. Those people are lost in the world, in the matrix, but you have been found out, and you seek like-minded company which helps you grow in the truth of the Kingdom of God while fading out in the false reality of the world.

The day before yesterday when I completed renovating the House of the Lord, I kept intermittently seeing:

6. The Sobbing Kareena Kapoor

Vision: Kareena Kapoor looks at me while tearing up. She is dressed in the shining copper-colored clothes I happened to see her wearing in a pic with her doctor in white.

9:30

7. Grey Loudspeaker Protruding Mouth of RS

Dream-Vision: I saw a rectangular frame showing the grey protruding loudspeaker mouth of RS with the frame segregated into small squares.

8. "Dar Mat. Mein Tere Saath Hu."

"Don't fear. I'm with you."

In the late afternoon, I started feeling scared as I looked at all the revelations that I had received about Death Conqueror and Glory and how violent they were. Though I was writing/editing revelations, I was feeling too scared at the same time, especially of Death Conqueror because of all the revelations and how he had already behaved. I felt wickedness seep out from him at that specific moment making me very scared of him because of which I couldn't even sit in a relaxed manner but sat cowering to my right. It was then that I kept hearing a male voice say 'Dar mat. Mein tere saath hu.' in my Spirit.

9. You've to be Ready to Leave Your Earthly Life Behind

When you enter the kingdom of heaven with your heavenly family of angels rescued from all over the Earth.

16:47

While I wrote the revelation 'KA and The Groin' fully as previously I had made an entry but had left out the details, I heard 'Visions of Gideon..' play in my Spirit.

Visions of Gideon..
I've loved you for the last time..
Is it a video.. Is it a video..
For the love, the laughter, I flew up to your arms..
Is it a video.. Is it a video..
Visions of Gideon.. Visions of Gideon..
Visions of Gideon..

I just completed editing the KA and The Groin revelation, and now I hear this song in the Spirit:

10. Tum Ho Mera Pyaar

Tum Ho Mera Pyar Haunted Full Song Lyrical Video | KK, Suzanne D'Mello

11. 'Randi'

Everyone seems to call me a 'Randi' now. I write this because I had been having intermittent visions where I saw RS call me Randi followed by KA in full-sleeved blue over white trousers calling me Randi after a day or two which made me think who were it that the labels represented.

And prior to that I saw Ganga Sir of my dept, dressed in a full sleeved shirt tucked inside pants, looking at me with disdain and exclaiming 'Randi!' The vision repeated a few times.

Well, I didn't go into a relationship because I wanted it to be perfect – everlasting and love-filled – love that, like a river, originated from one's heart and never ceased to flow. And to me, physicality came as a form of expression of such kind of love and that's also what seemed to me to be the perfect way. And then God placed a red light on my forehead in 2021.

Last night:

1. Dheere Dheere Chal Chaand Gagan Mein

I went out to have juice, and on my way, I came across rough doppelgangers of KA. I could tell that they were there to make an appearance. On my way back, I caught sight of yet another doppelganger in a checkered white shirt with an angelic light blue fil over white trousers coming from my right from the corner of my eyes. I continued on my way, and then I heard this song play in my Spirit:

Dheere Dheere chal chaand gagan mein
Dheere Dheere chal chaand gagan mein

Kahin dhal na jaaye raat tu sajaye sapne..
Are Dheere Dheere chal chaand gagan mein..

And crossing the Gurudwara on my, as I reached the turn to my PG, I saw an almost full moon glowing in the sky.

2. "Wife!!!"

I was writing revelations the previous night when I had a sudden vision of upper half of Kartik Aryan dressed in a deep red shirt checkered in black looking at me and shouting intensely – "Wife!!!" I continued in my work and the vision repeated itself again, this time him saying it in the same tone but with a different length!
After a while, he shouted quite an elongated "Wiiiiiiiiiiiife!!!" in a stuffed and heavy tone followed by breast grabbing with him being up close in front of me.

The vision repeated this morning too where he would shout "Wife!!!" followed by breast grabbing, squishing, and kissing!

9:10

This song came to my lips on its own about 10 minutes back with the following lyrics:

3. The Battle Belongs To The Lord

The people sing together:

We sing Glory, Honor, Power & Strength to the Lord..
We sing Glory, Honor, Power & Strength to the Lord..

In heavenly armour we'll enter the land
The battle belongs to the Lord..
No weapon that's fashioned against us will stand
The battle belongs to the Lord..

After a long time, I sang the song again.
The worship song for the day.

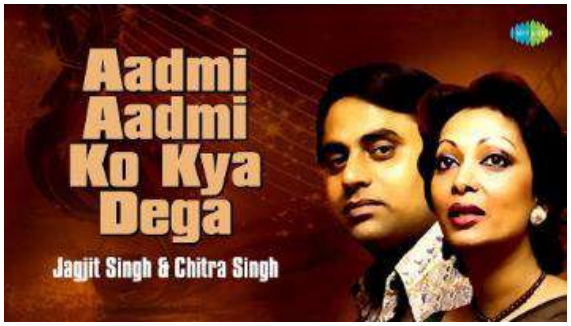
The Battle Belongs To The Lord - Maranatha! Music [with lyrics]

4. "Aadmi Aadmi Ko Kya Dega"

"What will a man give to another man.."

Aadmi aadmi ko kya dega	What can a man give to another man...
Jo bhi dega, Wahi Khuda dega	The only one who gives, is the same God alone.

Ref: Aadmi Aadmi Ko Kya Dega | Jagjit Singh Ghazals | Chitra Singh Ghazals |



I lay down to take some rest and fell asleep. I woke up from this dream.

5. Dream (Evening):

I am with some people two of whom, Deepika and Anjali, are my school friends. I am now on a road with them with buildings on either side. After a while, I am on a bike while they walk behind me on foot. There is traffic on the road and my bike somehow flies high to evade the huge vehicles coming in my direction. I now fly my bike too high and ride it on the inverted metallic cone at the top of a very tall building.

I now find myself sitting in a space with many rows of seats arranged in a column. Behind my row of seats is supposedly sitting Death Conqueror. I find myself standing on the knees of the woman sitting to my right and I am taking a look at the seat in front of me. In the next scene, I hear someone's voice from my left calling me to check something out. I look to my left and find Akhila sitting on the seat beside me dressed in a long white dress printed with a tiny floral blue colored print, but there's a square-shaped hole in her dress below the seam around the waist and over her groin area. She had her fingers inside that hole and was moving them in a rubbing motion with her eyes bent low looking at the square hole. Apparently, she wants me to look at it, but I don't wanna take a look. I ignore her. After a while, she looks back from the other side of her seat and tells the person sitting behind her, "I am done." I tell the lady to my right what she had been doing. When I look at Akhila again, I find that she has now blocked my view of her with a surface striped in blue & white which she is holding in front of her face covering her upper body to a great extent. I want to shift to the adjacent seat desperately as I want to be away from her for I don't like deceptive behavior. I start shouting the name of the lady to my right for her to take my seat.

6. SRK In White

Vision (after waking up): I see SRK in a long boxy and full-sleeved white shirt in my left mental view as he walks towards me and takes a left turn (making the prophetic symbol) and continues walking as dark brown bear skin appears on his body visible through the cavities around the wrists and the neck. The skin blinks for a while. He then says in a definitive serious tone, "Tu Bachegi! Tu Bachegi!" ("You shall be saved! You shall be saved!") He then turns to his right, away from the viewer, and walks away.

7. My Lovely Brethren In Christ

Whenever I watch a video of my brethren in Christ from whom I have learned things and whom I have come to love after being in fellowship for all this time, the vision that comes to my mind is me repeatedly kissing their two cheeks in turns.

It happens especially with Adele. Whenever I watch her videos, I see myself dropping quick kisses on her cheeks because she just seems so so genuine, and then she hears from the Lord and is loved by Him and she is so righteous and wise and well learned in Scripture, and then God gave me a vision of her back in A-16 last year in which she was sitting on a bench looking up at the viewer dressed in a full-sleeved white embroidered gown with meshed sleeves with her hair tied low in a bun. And God designed such awesome clothes pertaining to her ministry – the black Bold Existence clothing range – she sat with God and designed it. She is just amazing and an invaluable part of the Body of Christ. I learned a lot from her Bible Study program as well, as her notes would often bring an understanding that would be entirely different from my own notes. So, her notes served as a mind opener. And I received some Words that were released by her on her channel that spoke directly to my situation.

Though I receive a lot of vision revelations during Worship, I don't hear a lot. She hears from the Lord like Jonathan and Wally and others. I mostly receive dreams and visions, though I've heard things in the Spirit as well. But I don't chat with God the way they do. She was a vet doctor previously before God called her to leave that occupation and start a business. God chose the name 'Bold Existence' for her ministry and designed the logo and the clothes. She reflects an aura like Neo – someone who is out of the matrix and is authentic and athletic, always dresses in black, and projects a logical persona while bearing the fruits of the Spirit while being scientific and learned in the scriptures at the same time. She is close to God and walks in His Will.

She has spent days in poverty as well where she didn't know where her next meal would come from. God made her go through that when He was training her mind. She even cleaned toilets in hotels to earn just enough to survive when she was still building her business and God wanted her to focus on what was He calling her to build instead of the nuances of a job. She was a doctor and had a successful career previously and could've easily found a different job, but here she was – cleaning toilets in her pursuit of God's Will. So, in many ways, she sets an example of how it is when one walks in the Will of God. She has no vain ego like Death Conqueror and Akhila, though she is much smarter than her and much more spiritually progressed than him in her walk with God. She exudes such simplicity of thought and actions without any affectedness in behavior and that's what I resonate with the most, as I too don't like to lie and deceive unnecessarily like these people around me do.

She has so many godly qualities that I could sing the song 'You take my breath away' by Eva Cassidy for her as those overflowing godly qualities just leave you unable to breathe properly as you get drowned in her godly character. The beauty of her character just leaves me amazed! I can't find enough words to express how her character leaves me mesmerized. I was to get this Page printed out but changed my mind as I wanted to write more about her. I think I am so amazed by her because I can watch and listen to her exhibiting that genuine godly persona while God is hidden from plain sight and is felt in the Spirit. If I got to see and listen to God the way she is accessible to me, I would've been occupied with observing Him all the time and couldn't stop singing His praises.

7.1 You Take My Breath Away

The lady sings:
Sometimes it amazes me..
How strong the power of love can be...
Sometimes, you just take my breath away..

And it's too good to slip by Too good to lose..

Too good to be there
Just to use.

I will stand on a mountain top…
And tell the news…

That you take my breath away…

Ref: You Take My Breath Away (Acoustic)

And after writing the above, the beginning melody of the song 'Mujhe Kitna Pyaar Hai Tumse' ('Oh How I Love you') was highlighted to me in which the lady walks joyously jumping through a street in the forest towards the viewer.

7.2 'Mujhe Kitna Pyaar Hai Tumse' – The Melody

Ref: Mujhe Kitna Pyar Hai Tumse | Dil Tera Diwana (1962) | Lata Mangeshkar, Mohammed Rafi | Old hits Song

While writing this section about Adele I was reminded of the previous dream I had in which I video-called her in this room and which later had her lying on top of me with me covered with my olive-green sheet, and her dressed in her black attire. She was comforting me about something and there were some bodily vibrations between us. It was quite an unexpected dream revelation. I'm not attracted to her body. I am attracted to her persona and character which are SO SO godly. And then I recalled the revelation in which I was doing a duet with her, her still being dressed in that black polo T-shirt over black trousers.

When I came in touch with the true body of Christ, I found REAL people who followed God and His statutes, who wanted to be like Jesus and rebuked sin. People wanted to be Holy because they loved God. I came in touch with those who carried His Spirit and were His children for real! I found real treasure on Earth – God's treasure. Those are the people He bought with His blood, and they want to be close to Him and walk in His ways. They say, "Be Perfect for your God is Perfect". Though they are aware that they will fall short – they don't throw it as an excuse to willingly commit sin.

Finding the body of Christ was like finding the company I wanted – a group of people who wanted to do the right thing and follow the Spirit of God. I won't trade my being a believer for anything that the world has to offer.

It was very much like finding an extremely pure source of sweet water when you're dying of thirst. You know that you can't leave that source for you are dependent on it for your survival, and also that the water that the world has to offer is muddy and impure and that you'll surely die if you keep consuming it. So, you stay with the source of pure water and leave the muddy waters of the world.

If someone invites you to drink from the muddy water, you refuse that person. If someone threatens you or forces you to drink from the mud, you stand your ground and stay with your pure source because you see the blindness of the person who drinks from the mud though he may not see it.

2. The Head Condition

Sounds heard in the Spirit:

Past week or so:

2.1 The Hit On a Metallic Surface

The sound of a hit on a metallic surface in my left mental space at the surface of my head.

After few days:

2.2 The sound of a hit again.

Yesterday:

2.3 The Machine About to Breakdown

The brief sound of shaking of loosened inner parts of a metallic machine at the place of my brain.

3. Dream:

I am in a class taught by Shreya's obese mom. Shreya is with me too. Her mom used to teach in one of the schools in my hometown. She had grown to be very obese after she conceived. Her mom happens to teach something wrong. We are on our way to somewhere with Shreya walking in few meters in front of me. We pass through a hall to the right of which are sitting the group of teachers. Shreya passes by telling her mom from her position itself about the error she made in the class, but she says it in a way that makes it look like it was me who pointed out the error to her in an insulting tone. Shreya was a bit narcissistic.

******

The Story of Shreya Gupta

She was a very fair girl with brown eyes and straight black hair and came to be my best friend because she came crying to me one day after her best friend Khyati left her. She chose to come to me because I used to pamper her by pulling her cheeks during lunch breaks. She was also the popular girl of the class/school and would even insult teachers at times. She had that bright-child ego, and came from a wealthy background. Her family didn't like the town and wanted to shift to their homecity Chandigarh where the rest of her family stayed. Her dad was a vet doc.

I left Aarti because of her, and God judged me in 2016 through Tejaswi for causing Aarti pain. I've written about it previously on Page 61. Aarti was a dark girl, not wheatish or dusky, but darker than that, very slim with long hair that she kept oiled and braided. She was good and characterful – that's why she was my friend. She introduced me to the song 'Ye Kagaz Ki Kashti, Ye Baarish Ki Paani' by Jagjit Singh as she sang it to ask me if I knew about it. And she was perhaps in 5th class at that time - such inclination towards the meaning of things at such a young age… while I mostly sang Bollywood songs in front of her as our friendly time-pass. She was very good and loved me deeply, but I left her for Shreya.

And while I had just completed writing the above about Aarti and the song, the following lyrics came to me in my Spirit:

'Bhulaye nhi bhool sakta hai koi..
Ye choti si raatein, Ye lambi kahani..

Vo kagaz ki kashti, vo baarish ka pani..
Vo kagaz ki kashti, vo baarish ka pani..'

Once Shreya got corrected/rebuked by our Sports teacher Mr. Prince for arriving late at the school bus stop because of which the bus had to wait a bit longer. Mr. Prince was the junior sports teacher after the head one whom everyone called DP Sir. Prince Sir had corrected her in a casual tone as a teacher, but she took it on her ego. She later went to Mr. Prince with me beside her and explained to him in a rude tone the reason why she didn't even need the bus in general but chose to board it that day. It was very narcissistic on her part, and I didn't like it at all. I ignored such of her behavioral tendencies and she didn't display them with me. We were friends because we resonated in many other aspects – like singing songs together and we understood each other – that was the basis of our friendship. Anyway.

Prince Sir got hurt by her behaviour and I could see him get a bit teary-eyed as well, as he went silent – but she didn't change in her countenance. I felt very bad for him, and I knew that if I pointed to Shreya her folly, she wouldn't understand but would only repeat to me the explanation she gave to Mr Prince which was not really a rational explanation but a display of hurt ego. While she was saying those apparently insulting things to Prince Sir, I gave him a comforting smile whenever he looked at me. I couldn't do anything else. But I didn't support Shreya either. I knew she had that bossy thing about her, and she easily made fun of others as well at times, but she was quite empathetic, nice, and humble to me though she would at times share her viewpoints and incidences that showcased the display of her ego with other people. Minimizing others came very easily to her and it didn't seem to be a problem to her either. I used to go to her home often to play badminton and study and we would cook together at times too. She was very good at maths while I struggled with it a lot and even failed in it in 7th class. She would often explain the proofs of 8th-class theorems to me by giving me analogies of my body being segregated and added together. She had a passion for making toy footwear using wooden ice-cream spoons and colourful ribbons and she used to get those footwear compacted in small glass showcases with multiple rows. I once cooked Chowmein at her home which everyone liked. She too would come to my home at times to go for tuition together at Shamsher Sir's home. She was a fancy girl who loved glassy, glamorous, and fancy things but our differences hardly came in our way because we didn't assume things and communicated directly. On our way back from tuition to home, we used to go slowly together with her on her scooty, and me on my sports bicycle. Previously she too had a bicycle and would at times carry me on her bicycle's back as well. She drove her scooty slowly to match my bicycle's speed and we would go talking and relishing our time together on the road. She at times made my hairstyles before tuition as well. Once she made two small ponies at my sides which Shamsher Sir said looked like horns. He was often making fun of me! She named me Mumma in the 9th class – the name she, Sakshi, and Shamsher Sir came to be calling me together.

She was very ambitious (which was good). She wanted to be a CA which she became. I was more on the philosophical side and read a lot of novels. She learned car driving too early too according to the place – in 8th itself, while I sweated and shivered out of anxiety when I happened to learn it later. I later accepted that I just didn't have the bone for it for I learned it twice – once in my hometown, then again in my new home, but I still can't drive one properly. Scooty is good enough for me and comes along with a freer vibe.

Anyway. God brought Adele Grobler into my life in place of Aarti as I had understood from a previous vision in which Adele was performing the act of 'Aarti' ('Worship') with a steel thali held in both her hands while being dressed in a parrot-green Indian ethnic Kurti as she looked at me (the viewer) – written about on Page 61.
******

Coming back to the dream, we are now out of the hall, and I have a piece of paper in my hand with a ratio problem written on it. It seems too simple at first look and one can just take a look and tell the solution as it's a one-line simple ratio problem – two numbers with the ratio sign in between and a variable on the right side. But then I get to know from somewhere that the answer is 69 which I don't understand at first but then a sequence of inner intricate steps flashes in my mind. I understand that the problem needs deep and critical application of concepts doing which would give the correct answer of 69. I am now clearing my mind to get ready to understand and reach the correct solution as I walk out through a corridor with a fluffed guy wearing specs and carrying a bag appear behind my back. I can tell from his expression that he is going to come after me so I increase my pace as I walk out into the ground but when I look back, I find that guy brisk walk on all fours like a doggy as he rushed to me.

4. Race is On My Mind

I sang the English remix of the 'Race Sanson Ki' song on the 11th class farewell. I was also one of the anchors along with a guy. And I performed a magic trick by pulling a piece of cloth out of an egg. We had 4 pairs of anchors to take their places at different times. I used to be very social because everyone was so good there.

The lady sings:
Race is on my mind
Race is in my soul
Race is in my life
My heart is racing on...

My friend Smriti's mom liked my song very much. She is the girl who was making her rectangular art box by pasting matchsticks on the box in one of the revelatory dreams.

6. A Huge Glory Throws Down Flowers at Me

While washing clothes on the roof, I sing, 'Our God is an awesome God' and then I see a huge Glory dressed in white from neck to toe about 30 meters high above me as he throws huge flowers at my face while smiling and saying 'Ye le!' ('Take this!'). the vision starts with him throwing one huge white marigold flower at my face followed by an increased intensity as he continued to throw down flowers at me.

8. Sun le Zara

Hoon pyar tera mahsoos kar tu
Seene me tere utra hoon main Chooke mujhe tu pehchan lena lamha tera hi gujra hoon main..
(God is our love whose Spirit descends down in our hearts)

The stanza goes with the revelation I had one morning when I felt something descend down through the center of my chest into my heart. I could tell that it wasn't something physical but a spiritual somatic experience. I had it last year in Room D1 of A-16.

Aankho me teri ye raat hai jo
Is raat ki hai mujhme subah
Kohre kle piche main rosni sa
Tere liye hi thahra hoon main

(The light to the darkness that your eyes carry is found in me. Behind the fog, I am standing for you like illuminating light.)

Dhund le jo kho gaya
Main hoon tera wo raasta
(I am that path that you lost and have been trying to find.)
Sun le jaraa, Sun le jaraa..
Aye mere dil, Sun le jaraa
Sun le jaraa, Sun le jaraa
Aye mere dil, Sun le jaraa
(Listen for a bit, listen for a bit
O my heart, listen for a bit)

Post my evening Worship session that day:
I was searching for a different video version of 'You're Still the One song that was there on YouTube previously with the animated thumbnail of a woman in a loose white full-sleeved shirt sitting on a guy while hugging him as they sat on the bed when I came across this video in that playlist I was going through.

6. Baby's Emotional Reaction:

On Youtube:
Baby's Emotional Reaction as Mom Sings Classic Song

After I posted the above song, I heard in my Spirit the chorus of this song.

7. Bahut Pyaar Karte Hai Tumko Sanam

The Guy sings:

Bahut pyaar karte hain tumko sanam	I love you a lot, my darling.
Bahut pyaar karte hain tumko sanam	I love you a lot, my darling.

After a while, I hear:

The Lady sings:

Hamari gazal hai tasavvur tumhara..	My song is a contemplation of you
Hamari gazal hai tasavvur tumhara	My song is a contemplation of you
Tumhare bina ab na jeena hamara..	Without you now, there's no such thing as living for me.
Tumhein yoon hi chaahenge	I will continue loving you in this manner..
Tumhein yoon hi chaahenge	I will keep loving you in this manner
jab tak hai dum..	till I have strength/life left...
Bahut pyaar karte hain tumko sanam..	I love you a lot, my darling.

8. The Attack on My Right Wrist

Vision (afternoon): Glory comes with a sharp weapon at my wrist wearing the Lord's Bracelet

9. Further Significance of the Inner Wall of the House of the Lord

The door below has a base with a red tint left because of the wax from the previous red candle I burnt in it with the white surface going upwards with the name of Jesus written on it.

When the red candle wax flowed down through the door, I thought if it represented blood. It sure seemed to represent blood to me. There is more meaning to it - I consummated my love with Jesus's blood.

10. God Calls Us to Be Like Him - Perfect

He knows that we will fall short, but He has called us to be Holy & Perfect like Him.

Why else would he give the revelations that are meant to bring a change of mindset from being unholy/satanic/ungodly to that which reflects His nature? He calls people to be like Him. He rescued us but there begins a process of sanctification afterwards. Yes, He is merciful – but it's not an excuse to sin.

1. Kagome Neutralizes InuYasha

(Highlighted for the past two weeks)

The scene from InuYasha: Inuyasha stands in the forest with two red eyes about to be turned into a full demon. He is standing facing to the left with grinding teeth as he struggles with the wickedness expressing itself. Kagome walks up to him, says a few things and hugs and kisses him following which he turns back to normal.

5. Visions during Worship (yesterday):

Heard in the Spirit: 'You're rejected!' repeated in the Spirit by a male voice.

Vision: Huge face of the Firey lion at the top left corner of the ceiling roaring over me.

5.1 While resting in bed after Worship:

RS runs to me from over the other bed and changes to a firey lion

6. Kunal & The Left Fair Breast

(Today afternoon) While working on the laptop: The vision of Kunal lightly sucking on the nipple of someone's fair left breast.

7. While Resting:

7.1 The Abstract Acrylic Eye

(while resting) A triangle filled with colorful partial horizontal acrylic strokes with the outline of an eye in the middle that blinks slowly at the viewer with the entire triangle looking like a piece of abstract painting in a dark background.

7.2 "Tumhari Report Abhi Baaki Hai."

Vision: A row of sentences written on a dark background with some blank spaces in between as the voice said something like, "Kartika utho. Ankhon ka vision complete karo. Tumhari report abhi baki hai." ("Kartika get/wake up. Complete the vision of your eyes. Your report is incomplete yet.")

The voice was referring to the vision of a bright colorful eye inside a triangle out of which came out a high-intensity blob of white light followed by smaller colorful beams that spread outwards.

8. I Was Tired of Writing

I said to God in my heart that I didn't want to write any further as I was tired of it. That I didn't want justice for I had already forgiven (looking at how He displayed His nature at the cross) and that I had already let go of my earthly life – and that I wanted to leave the place now.

In my current negative situation, it's easy to argue why should one live the lie of the matrix even when your situation is good. But yeah, if my life situation was different, I would have been happy alone in the company of God while doing what He told me without having to deal with such people. On Earth, my ideal life would've consisted of living in the absence of abusers while being in God's presence and doing some form of art for Him, using art to express what His Spirit is saying while being in touch with fellow brethren in Christ.

I told God to take me out of the system that very moment though I knew that it was His Will that was going to be done. It didn't matter to me if the abusers didn't receive their earthly judgment because I had just been too fed up now with them and their unrepentant behavior. But it makes me happy to see how God is always righteous and the Judge. The fact that Death Conqueror may get his judgment doesn't affect me as much as seeing the nature of God on display. If he gets judged, I will praise God for His righteous evaluation and judgment. If he doesn't get judged, I know that nothing is hidden from the sight of the Lord. So, I would rather pray for him to repent and turn to God before His grace ends. Because I know that in the end, God judges. If not now, later. He forgives too, but it's based on repentance. God doesn't want him to perish into the matrix which is quite apparent from the revelations He gave me. But at the same time, He is not oblivious to what Death Conqueror has done. God is an eternal constant we have on the top of our heads. One shouldn't live with the mindset of doing whatever one wants disregarding the authority and Kingship of God. You can't have a difference of opinion with the King's perfect wisdom – that difference of opinion landed devil and demons out of heaven – because they justified sin as a difference of opinion. Some laws are absolute.

I also know that God could judge him in any way He wanted. A report need not even be filed. But why is He making me write all these revelations? There must be a reason…

More than Death Conqueror's judgment, it's about the truth of the system and the teachings contained within the text that have had a significant impact on those who are not reprobates. The revelations and the real stories are spiritual food for the soul that turn people to God.

Doesn't he see that it's not me who gave me revelations? I wouldn't have even started writing but I received those visions from the Spirit of God – visions that showed something being typed on the Notebook App – because of which I resorted to expressing myself there which I had grown out of after writing a lot after Tejaswi's episode.

After writing the above, I heard, "Kartika, vo tumhe maar dega." ("Kartika, he will kill you!") And it repeated a few times.

When I woke up, I had these lyrics playing in my Spirit.

Humpe kisne hara rang dala
Khushi ne hmari humein… maar dala..
Allah.. Maar dala.. Allah.. Maar dala..
Allah.. Maar dala.

While the first version that played in my Spirit back in late 2021 was:
Humpe kisne hara rang dala
Khushi ne sazaa di humein…
Maar dala.. Allah.. Maar dala.. Allah.. Maar dala.. Allah..
Maar Dala..

And they started playing after I brought my tea and snacks to my room. It made me think of the visions with Glory in which I was wrapped in a green printed cloth representing a tree, and then I thought if the above is what's going to ensue with me. Will he kill me after putting that green drape on me?

The song played in my Spirit back even during late 2021 but I didn't understand its significance and correlation with my situation. But why would he kill me? Because, recall: in the vision of the promise, the crown on my head changed to a crown of thorns.

Or is it Death Conqueror who sings this song? I didn't kill him. I will pray for no judgment on him but a change of life's route onto the path of God. But we need to be ready for God's Will.

9. My Prayer for Death Conqueror

However, I know that if he stays with his current mind in rebellion with God, then I won't want him to not be judged. My prayer is:
"Father God, I come before you in the name of Jesus, and I ask you the following:
If Death Conqueror stays with the same rebellious mindset that he has now where he thinks of himself as being too superior and doesn't feel guilty about his actions - then judge him! But judge him to the extent which is just enough to bring about a change of heart towards You. And don't judge him too brutally.

And if He turns to your path and repents and realizes his folly followed by a change in heart and behavior, then forgive him and take him further down ahead your path."

I just saw Glory come at my head with a rod with all his might with a very vicious expression.

And while I stood in front of the cooler taking in some air as I was having my tea, I saw Jesus coming with all His might at my head with a rod. The follow-up vision had Glory come at my head with a sharp weapon bifurcating my entire body in two from the middle from head to down below.

And after a while, the instrumental beginning of the following song started playing in my Spirit:

10. Tum Ho Mera Pyaar

The Lady sings:
Huh uh huh uh
Huh..... uh ah.. uh ah...
Huh uh huh uh
Huh..... uh ah.. uh ah...

Ref: Tum Ho Mera Pyar

11. Gehra Andhera Ho Chaaro Taraf..

'If there's deep darkness all around me..'

Gehra Andhera Ho Chaaro Taraf..	If there's deep darkness all around me..
Ya maut ka dar tadpaye agar	Or if the fear of death torments me
Mein naa darunga	I won't fear
Na ghabraunga	I won't be scared
Yahowa Rafa, Bharosa Hein Mera..	Yahowa Rafa is whom I trust upon..
Mein naa darunga	I won't fear
Na ghabraunga	I won't be scared
Yahowa Rafa, Bharosa Hein Mera..	Yahowa Rafa is whom I trust upon..
Yahowa Rafa, Bharosa Hein Mera..	Yahowa Rafa is whom I trust upon..

"Vo tumhe maar dega, Kartika."
("He'll kill you, Kartika")

12. Kissing KA

12.1 The Move

Vision (Past few days): The upper half of KA dressed in full-sleeved white shirt facing to the right slowly moving ahead towards someone in front of him with open protruding lips with a mesmerized look along with a smiling expression.

12.2 The Passionate Kiss

Vision (Morning): KA and I keep kissing and it looks like he is gulping in something like a drink as the gulp movements are visible until his belly. He is dressed in his full-sleeved white shirt tucked inside black pants in the vision.

13. 'Kartika, you are so good. You turned out to be so good.'

Heard in the Spirit (past week):
"Kartika, tum bahut achi ho. Tum bahut achi ho."
"Tum to bahot acchi nikli!"

It seemed to be as if KA was saying these words to me (though I am only guessing).

14. The Starry-Eyed KA

Vision (past few days): KA dressed in a full-sleeved blue top over white trousers sits on my bed with two sky-blue stars in his eyes (while I write about how people truly in love with their partners don't try to use them to make others feel jealous and the other person would actually stop the one who's trying to go think along in such ways).

15. God Prepares My Heart In Advance

God represented my abstract eyes so beautifully that I would love to see how I can see without my physical eyes. He knows that I love acrylic abstract art.

If I wrote the above, it doesn't mean that I am self-obsessed, but it shows that I appreciate and accept God's expression of love for me! – how beautifully He depicts scenarios that would otherwise have seemed hurtful. By showing them to me in a constructive and beautiful way, He prepares my heart to face those difficult times that may or will fall on me, while the wicked team is obsessed with coming up with new ways and things to say to me to cause me pain in a different way. God's beautiful revelations make me feel less depressed and make me want to look forward to having those experiences with Him beside me.

16. When I Didn't Want Justice Anymore

I also told God earlier that I was ready to lose my eyes right then as I lay on the floor with them closed. I told him that it didn't matter because I have seen and known Him and that I know that our earthly life is to be lived with a mindset of following the Will of God and at times it's sacrificial. When I lay on the floor, I felt my heart break because look, the very person God was trying to save through me was going to burst my eyes but then I told myself that it was very much like the situation where the disciples were hurt by the very people they were trying to minister to as they would get rejected. I lay there with a mindset of not wanting to write any further. I just wanted to go back home (my heavenly home) and I felt like I was done with this place! I didn't want any revenge. Well, revenge is different from justice. A wicked man can take revenge unjustly and it won't be termed as justice. While a righteous innocent man when tormented by the wicked forgives and God avenges him which would be termed as justice. But I didn't want even want justice. I said to God, "God, I am done! Take me out now." I was thinking of the visions in which my head burst out, my body burst out.. And I told him that I was ready for that moment to ensue in that very moment. That I've had enough. Especially after the report vision, I felt very demotivated to write further because I didn't want to waste my time trying to avenge my own self when I knew that I was leaving this place anyway.

I like it more when I am worshipping Him or resting with Him. Sitting and writing takes away from my time with Him, and so does working out. He finds me good the way I am, it's for the fulfillment of the promise He made to me that He showed me to lose weight and get a flat belly. I want to spend time more quality time with Jesus and not waste it writing all the time about people/abusers who don't make me a better person.

After a while of having the above feelings, I had my sense of righteousness and justice rise up in me again when I prayed for God to judge him in the worst way possible. It was because I looked at the revelations of the buffalo with burst eyes, RS with eyes popped out on the street, and the triangular prism eye emanating light which made me think – what did I do this evil man that he wants to make me blind!? Instead of repenting for the evil he already committed, he wants to commit more of it! Witnessing his wickedness made me hate him again and pray for judgment or God's vengeance because I saw how cruel he had been with me for no reason and posed a hindrance in every good thing I wanted to do as I was always feeling depressed and didn't do it with a mental state I would've had in the absence of his cameras!

Whenever I have such vengeful thoughts, they are followed by the revelations of the lady holding a fully covered innocent baby in hand who's looking at her innocently and then comes at her to kiss her, that of a lady vertically swinging a baby dressed in thick woollens with a cap with both hands, and the revelation of a fat baby in diaper with foot in his mouth. Looking at the revelations changes my heart again as I see that for God, he's a baby whom He wants to bring onto His path!

If God had not planted those good and innocent seeds about him in me, I wonder how my heart state would've progressed..

17. KA says 'Bye'

Vision: KA standing near my wardrobe says, "Bye" with a surprised expression and eyes open-wide and then he stands with his back turned to me as very thick pieces of cylindrical dung are ejected out of the back of his pant, fly horizontally, and hit me.

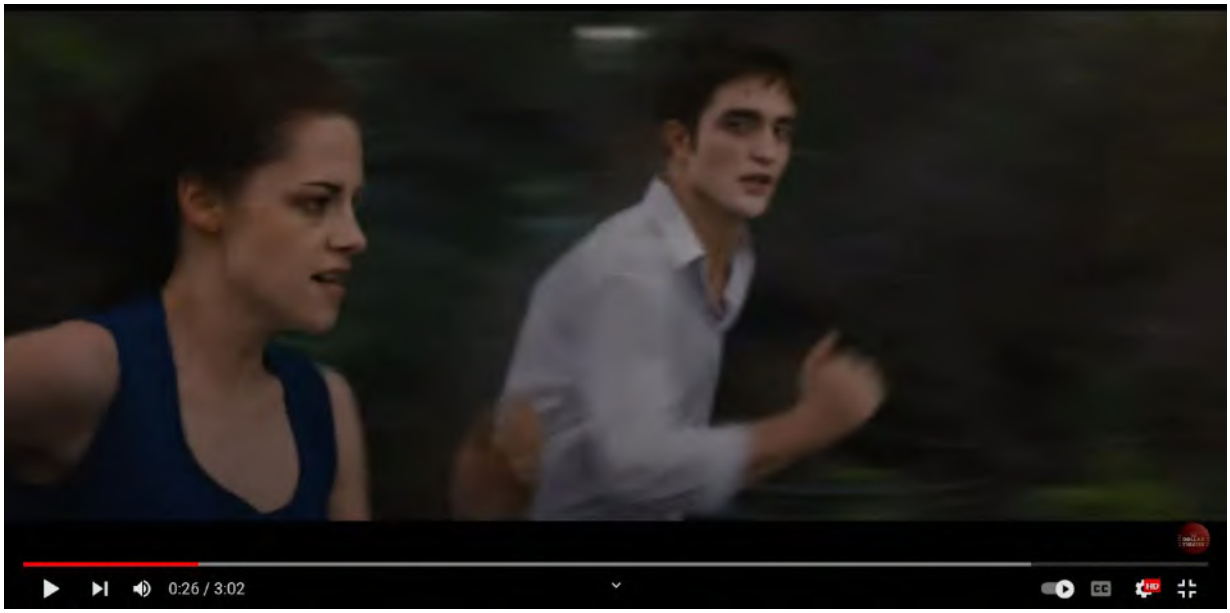
I thought, "Why..?"

Though the quality revelations are like a balm to my heart and worth writing about. I don't want to write revelatory insults or violent revelations. I want to write the love-filled and teaching revelations He gives me. I want to spend my time either with loving people who are not abusers and praying for them, or with God – who sanctifies me. I just wasn't finding it worth writing more of the negative stuff.

God has to call everyone through me. So, He put a red light on the forehead of the face of a metallic skeleton.

18. Recall: RS & The Horse Rider With Swimming Glasses

Recall: RS Runs on Feet and Leaves The Horse Rider Behind (#11 on Page 487). Today I came across a video on Youtube which revealed to me what the vision was about. The video was a 'Behind the scenes' video but it pointed me to the right source which went along with the vision.



In that vision, the naked guy on the horse on the other side looking at RS resembled both Edward and a clean-shaven RS.

21. As Love Is My Witness

This was my pet song to sing back during BSc whenever someone would ask me to sing something.

The Guy sings:

As love is my witness, I swear..
I'll be with you till the end
Nothing can tear this love apart
I put my hand upon my heart
This is a promise I make to you
Whatever comes, we'll see it through..

Nothing can break it, this feeling's too strong
As Love is my witness..

Ref: Westlife - As Love Is My Witness (Lyric Video)

I couldn't have thought in BSc that it came with a prophetic significance. I used to be an atheist back then and to believe in God seemed like a dumb thing to me. It felt good to know that one could understand how things worked and therefore create and control situations as one liked. Such a mindset reflects the pride atheist scientists take whenever they happen to uncover something new. But it's a very ungodly mindset to have and leads one further from the truth. God didn't create us to leave Him and then try to understand His creation through ways of thought that to Him are but below basic ways of thinking. He created us to live in His presence and love Him and be loved by Him – to worship Him as our Creator and God which He has the right to.

22. "Mujhe Haq Hai.."

As I was completing writing the part after the hyphen in the previous sentence, I heard the song lyric – "Mujhe Hak Hai.." ("I've the right") – being sung in my Spirit. It's God's right – as our creator and as the one who gave us Free Will – to direct our lives or give us orders/instructions and expect or want us to love Him, and live in His presence. Likewise, He holds the right to judge us as well as He sees fit according to His perfect wisdom and righteous judgment – "Mujhe Hak Hai.." – sings the Spirit of God on His behalf.

1. The Inversion of Inverted A

The vision of an inverted A inverting back made me think a while back if it reflected the situation of the inversion of the future light cone to the past light cone where what I was expecting in the future is present at some point in the past outside of my world line, and if that's why I received the song revelation:

'Aane wala kal ek sapna hai,
Guzra hua kal bas apna hai..
Hum guzre kal mein rehte hai
Yaadon ke sab jugnu jungle mein rehte hai..'

The future to come is but a dream,
The past yesterday is all we own..
We live in the past yesterday
All the fireflies of memories live in the Jungle

Daksh Sir will answer this.

3. Adele (the singer) Visions

I was singing standing in front of the cooler again when I saw:

3.1 Adele Swings

The 3/4th view of Adele's body as she is swinging to her sides while singing, being dressed in her black attire.

3.2 The Over-reaching Eyelids

The follow-up vision has her face with eyes looking upwards as something liquidy black comes out of her upper lids or it seems that her lids themselves have elongated with a molten look as they reach upwards. The black upper eyelids then reach up a foot high while she keeps looking upwards.

4. Jesus Binds The Snakes

As I continued in worship, I saw many bronze and copper-colored patterned snakes being bound in the shape of a cylinder in the arms of Jesus. Worship binds the snakes/demons. I then prayed for the demons to be cast out followed by the vision of them being free and scattering in the air. I prayed again to have them out of my room in the name of Jesus.

5. Visions Last Night:

While editing Page 388 yesterday, I saw myself dancing closely with KA between the beds while we kissed intermittently. He faced to the left while I stood closely facing him. He had a huge teethful smile on his face and the face later changed to an amalgamation of KA, Glory, the clean-shaven RS, Death Conqueror, and Edward. The follow-up vision had the focus on our bodies which showed his foot-thick trunk resting up against his body which I was intermittently holding, pressing on and squishing tightly along the sides with my hands, and as I did so, I saw it shoot upwards. I kept squishing the sides of the trunk and it kept shooting upwards.

I then saw a naked me sitting on the shoulders of a naked KA with my groin facing his face/mouth. I saw the vision as a third person with him standing facing to the left and me facing right. While in the previous vision, I was sitting on his shoulders behind him, this time I was sitting facing him.

The follow-up vision had a naked Bella below Edward while they made love lying on the other bed in front of me.

6. “Kartika, You Turned Out To Be So Smart”

Heard in the Spirit: Kartika, Tum to Bahut Smart Nikli. (when I was editing Page 488 and writing my understanding of the revelation 'The lady in Green & Beige')

7. Dream (Morning):

I’m on the road on a scooty and apparently, I am going from one place to another checking out for a place to rent. I have to pee, and I pee on my scooty itself, but I see afterwards that there is a western style commode on it. I forget to flush. I see the obese guy other than the Immoral Middleman on a scooty on the road as he takes a left turn into a narrower street. This time my mom goes with me to check a room out and after we are out of the place, she says that we would need to buy curtains worth 40k (which doesn’t make sense to me). Now I am in a congested washroom space and I ask my mom something that would aid me with washing my clothes. But she herself starts washing my black winter muffler and gloves with her hands as I stand near her and pass her the soap from the pink holder at the top.

I had these visions while still being on the bed after waking up:

8. Visions After Waking Up:

8.1 The Cold Tea

I see my white mug in my front vision having cold tea as I am gulping it.

8.2 The Wrapped Baby In White

I see the vision as a first-person. I have a baby fully wrapped in white in my hands looking at me innocently. The next vision has my hands speedily bringing the baby closer to my face and as I do so the baby shouts 'Mumma..' with its mouth wide open in a wavy manner. He seems a bit scared as well or he is having intense feelings about his mom making him shout. It seems the person is about to eat the baby as she brings him speedily closer to her face. Apparently, the person holding the baby is represented as fully black carrying a demonic expression.

9. Jaane Kaha Gaye Vo Din

This song played in my Spirit after a while of waking up:

Jaane Kahan Gaye Vo Din	Where did those days go
Kehte The Teri Raahon Mein	When I used to say that in your waiting
Nazro Ko Hum Bichayenge..	I will lay down my eyes…
Chahe Kahin Bhi Tum Raho..	Wherever you might stay..
Chahenge Tumko Umar Bhar	I will love you all my life
Tumko Na Bhul Payenge..	I won't be able to forget you..

Ref: Jaane Kahan Gaye Woh Din Song || Mera Naam Joker (1970)

10. The Duo With An Eye-Patch

Vision: A hooded man in black in a dark background stands with a shorter hooded woman in black beside him to the left in a black background with both having a black patch over their left eye.

This further prepared me for a lost eye. But I will trust in God.

11. The Sword Dance & My Song Performance In BSc

Late last night, when I was editing Page 488, I looked up the song 'Rolling in The Deep' after long because of the 'We could've had it all' lyric revelation and came across the guy doing the contemporary sword/rod dance in the background while Adele sings.

This song used to be one of my pet songs back in BSc. I sang it once at a function in our college on an elevated stage in front of a mixed crowd. The Indian Hindi singer was running late. So, to use the time they asked someone from the crowd to perform something. I don't remember if it was a fest. And while I was typing out the above, this performance by RS got highlighted to me:

#ranveersingh Sings #ShahRukhKhan '#YehDilDeewana' #shorts #spotted #youtubeshorts #ytshorts #viral

When I hit the 'We could've had it all', the crowd went gaga with shouts and whistles.

When I look at it now, I see that it relates to the revelation 'The lady in Green & Beige' on Page 312. During the first sem of MSc in 2013, I had the basic EMT course taught by Daksh Sir and it dealt with events and their coordinates in different frames, the different types of events (space-like, time-like & light-like). And I recently saw myself highlighting in that tutorial dream about the possibility of the special case of having events that have a time of manifestation such that they never get manifested in the physical but only stay in the spiritual. It seems to me that the two are related and the understanding of the former can be projected on to the latter. Perhaps Daksh Sir can see the connection where I already sang the heart-break song years before RS sang his part. In this frame that we are in, perhaps our possibility of being together would be back during the time of Shahjahan and Mumtaz. Who knows. Let Daksh Sir figure it out. I've forgotten EMT. I took the course long back in 2013 & later in 2014 when I repeated my previous year. It would take me time and could take me a few days or weeks to come up with the right qualitative explanation, and I've to write the pending revelations. But it's all related. And see also: the revelation in which RS ran with a very high-speed leading to everything around him look blurry. So it tells us if he needs to change his frame. I will get back to this problem later if I am able to. Or a scientific reader can take it for himself as homework to solve.

And while I was brushing up on some EMT concepts and trying to understand the above, I realized how these sick people shifted my focus from good things to their abuse of no use which only wasted my time and was good for nothing. Without them, I would've been focused on good and pure things. I could make better sense of things and live in a holier, joyful, and blissful reality filled with the fruits of the Spirit in which I would only allow those who too filled with Godly light! But now I'm forced to witness their ugly behavior and listen to their wicked threats that reflect their thoughts and the moral ugliness of their brain. They changed my entire world and surrounding with their wicked words and thoughts! – demonic oppression. I used to keep my circle and surroundings pure by keeping wicked people out!

And then I keep hearing these song lyrics:

12. Ha Lut Gaye.. Ha Lut Gaye..

The Guy sings:
Ha Lut Gaye.. Ha Lut Gaye..
Ha Lut gaye hum teri Mohabbat mein..
Tadap tadap ke is dil se aah nikalti rahi
Mujhko saza di pyaar di
Aisa kya gunah kiya
Ha Lut Gaye.. Ha Lut Gaye..
Ha Lut gaye hum teri Mohabbat mein..

13. 'Kartika Randi'

I've been hearing this in the Spirit for around two days, and at times followed by "Kartika Randi aa gayi." ("Kartika Whore has come.") And now it doesn't affect me at all. It's a label people say, but I know that I am a servant of God and made clean by Him. I also understood why He put a red light on the forehead of a skeleton. So that people don't go to fornicate at different places but stop at my book and I will lead them to Jesus.

And today I realized how it will call the women who are in the profession. Because they will see that though I had those fleshly revelations and was stripped publicly, God covered me with His blood and saved me out of the system of the matrix.

The revelations call people from all areas of life. But why did God put a red light on the skeleton's forehead? Because I fornicated with all my favorite characters in my mind, but my fornication was not sexual. I often built my own love story with my favorite characters.

God is demonstrating that though I have had those revelations - He knows who I am, and He knows who Death Conqueror and everyone else.
This evening I was feeling so good because I saw how the women in the profession will come to God because I got called a 'randi'.

14. The Ancient One from Dr Strange

The Ancient One dressed in her golden orange attire sits cross-legged on the floor. She is then making a different pose with one leg lifted high.

15. Amitabh Bachchan The Policeman

Vision (past week): I saw the look of Amitabh Bachchan from the song 'Ja Jaldi Bhaag Jaa' as a he was putting inside his pant his vertically waving genitalia.
And when I wrote this revelation, I saw the old and current him dressed in a full long ethnic attire walking in beats like a soldier.

16. KA - The Head Banger

Vision: I was working sitting on the floor when I saw KA in full-sleeved blue and white trousers bang the back of my head on the floor repeatedly.

17. Divya Sharma Looted Himanshu

Himanshu used to be so sad and he used to kept crying. He then once shouted out loudly 'Loot ke chali gayi!' (she went away looting me) referring to the girl 'Divya Sharma' who played with his feelings by fornicating with his friend! And he was not referring to the material things he had, but the treasure of his heart that he set on her. He felt like he lost everything he had.

18. The 7227 Car

On my way to buy something, I happened to catch sight of the numberplate of a white car parked at the Saroj Sadan turn and found it interesting that the sequence of numbers was symmetrical. It didn't seem a coincidence to me. I continued on my way anyway.

On my way back from the shop, I was thinking how it was symmetrical like my Hindi name.

I could tell that the car had stopped there intentionally because of its posture and the number plate as well. Though it could also be coincidental but then for the past years, nothing has been coincidental as I receive threats and messages from passersby and random people. Most things seem to be orchestrated, if not all. And when I passed by it, it moved in my direction slightly making me a bit cautious seeing which it sped away. Why would I peek who was inside it lest Glory throws a danda on my head? The person made sure that it was not a big car but a medium sized one and also that there were no black windows to my comfort! But still, this is no way to approach a person. I didn't know who it was, but I could tell that the car was there for a reason.

Even Glory! Now around two days back I came across this person on a bike who had a striking resemblance with Glory and was looking at me. I looked at him a few times but it was dark and I didn't want to stare at people for too long lest Glory accuses me of staring at others or inside vehicles and making sure that they've seen me (like he was doing last year) when it was 'him' that I was looking for back then! Now I've 3-4 people the resemblance to whose faces come to my mind when I look at by passers.

And now these lyrics played in my Spirit:

The lady sings:
"Milo na tum to hum ghabraye, milo to aankh churaye..
Humein kya ho gya hai.... Humein kya ho gya hein...."

19. Worship Session During Late Evening:

This song played in my Spirit so I started a worship session with this one.

19.1 You Are My Hiding Place

You are my hiding place
You always fill my heart
With songs of deliverance
Whenever I am afraid
I will trust in You..
I will trust in You..
Let the weak say I am strong

In the strength of the Lord
I will trust in You..

Ref: You are my Hiding Place

The song goes in tandem with the dream I wrote today on Page 489 of my youngest brother (the label for the spy camera as I understood) hiding behind my dress.

19.2 Adele (the singer) Sings

19.3 The Singer in Checkered Black & White Sings

19.4 Jesus Binds the Demons
Present inside Blackheart

19.5 Blonde With a Lavender Marigold
The bowed head of a blonde in worship with a huge lavender colored marigold flower placed on her head.

I continued in worship with raised hands when I saw..
19.6 Glory With The Rod
A naked Glory comes at my head with a rod from a meter ahead in the air above me. And then he throws the rod to the side and quickly floats towards me and stands up close with an inverted penis as we hug and kiss each other.

20. While Resting:

20.1 The Bicyclers

RS comes riding a bicycle on a firey land and come towards right in front of the space between my eyes, immediately followed by another bicycler coming and stopping between my eyes as the vision repeats with a change in faces of people dressed in the same way – white shirt inside a brown coat.

20.2 Sound of a Woman Through a Walkie Talkie

Heard at the right side of my brain
"Clear kar diyo.. Apki jaan ko khatra hai.."
"Make it clear.. Your life is in danger.."

21. During afternoon:

Heard in the Spirit:

21.1 "Ye abhi tak mari nhi!?"

"She hasn't died yet!?"

21.2 "Kartika, tu bach jayegi.."

"Kartika, you'll be saved."

22. There's a Fire Starting In My Heart

There's a fire starting in my heart
Reaching a fever pitch,
it's bringing me out the dark..

These lyrics kept being highlighted to me and it made me think if there was going to be a literal fire start in my heart.

Now I'm gonna wish you
never had met me..
Tears are gonna fall
Rolling in the deep.

Now I'm gonna wish you
never had met me..
Tears are gonna fall
Rolling in the deep.

We could have had it all
(You're gonna wish you never had met me)
Rolling in the deep
(Tears are gonna fall, rolling in the deep)
You had my heart inside of your hand

(You're gonna wish you never had met me)
And you played it,(Tears are gonna fall) to the beat (rolling in the deep)..

23. 'Tera Badla Lunga!'

'I'll avenge you!'
I've been having these visions since afternoon.

During the worship in the afternoon, I saw a bearded RS with neck-length hair, dressed in an armoured suit over black inner clothes riding speedily on a white horse in a dim golden background and coming towards me from my right front with a sword in his hand at my side. As he approached me, he made a move that make it seem like he was going to use that sword on my neck, but then he changed its direction and while passing me by shouted seriously, "Badla lunga tera! Tera Badla Mein Lunga!"

I then saw his face in a dimly-lit golden background say the same.

24. "Kartika, Tera Badla Lunga!"

And then now when it's night, I saw yet another vision with the face of Glory shouting with a hurt and angry expression in a dark background as he made a gesture with his hand at the level of his face with a pointed finger and said in a heavy voice, "Kartika, Tera Badla Lunga! Tera Badla Lunga!" ("Kartika, I'll avenge you! I will avenge you!")

The vision repeated itself a few times as I looked at his face in a dark background.

25. 'Duji vaar Pyaar'

These lyrics played in my Spirit making me sing them out:

The lady sings:
Mainu duji vaar pyaar hoya soniya..
Duji vaar vi hoya hai tere naal..

Mein tainu supnich vi ni chad sakdi
Mein te mar ke vi hona nai ye paap ve
Je pata karna pyaar kinna kardi
Tu samundra nu jaake lyi naap ve..
Basuri teri bina meri zindagi..
Na Koi lay hai na hai koi taal..

Mainu duji vaar pyaar hoya soniya..
Duji vaar vi hoya hai tere naal..
Haaye ni duji vaar vi hoya hai tere naal..

26. "Attention Chahiye Isko!"

Vision (past week): A person who looks like an amalgamation of KA and Death Conqueror dressed in a full-sleeved white shirt tucked inside black pants says with an annoyed expression looking at his side, "Attention chahiye isko!" ("She wants attention!").

And then I keep hearing this word 'Attention' intermittently seeming to be coming from a guy – especially when I wash my face with water.

Death Conqueror and the gang themselves put me in this situation.

All my bonds speak for themselves. They were few and focused and the people involved wanted each other's attention and not of the world's!

1. Visions While Worship:

1.1 The Red Tika
RS in full metallic armour with a bearded face and neck-length hair does my forehead's Abhishek with a red tika. The vision repeats itself a few times.

1.2 The RARKPK RS and the Hair Brush
RS in a checkered black and white coat - his look from the song from the movie RARKPK - stands facing the viewer with a tree to his left and a snowy background at the back as the wind brushes his hair to the left.

1.3 KJ in a Metallic Armor
Karan Johar to my right in full metallic armour puts his sword back in his scabbard. The act is repeated a few times. He does a few contemporary sword art moves followed by him moving his sword horizontally in an arc as he stands facing the same direction as me (making the prophetic symbol).

1.4 RK in an Armoured Suit
RK to my left in full metallic armor puts on his metallic helmet. The act is repeated a few times. The follow-up vision has him now holding the helmet in his hand as he stands facing me with air brushing his longer-than-real-life hair to the left like it did RS'.

1.5 A Line of Armoured Soldiers
As I continue singing, I see a line of soldiers fully armoured in metallic suits appear by my sides.

1.6 RK Walks Past Whispering
He walks past behind me whispering 'I Love you' in my left ear which now reminds me of the revelation in which I heard a blast at my left ear. Sometimes I feel an inner push outwards inside my ears as if the drones are now targeting my ears. And I had heard a huge blast near my left ear a few months back in this room. And then I recall the part of the dream in which I whispered 'Jesus loves you' in Death Conqueror's left ear.

The chorus of this song has played in my heart several times.

The Guy sings:
O Rabba mein to mar gaya oye..
Shadai mujhe kar gaya kar gaya oye

2. God's Fight For His Children

God is trying to save His children. That's why He took all that pain – because He found it worth dying for the children He created. He displayed the love of being a Father at the cross. Won't a human father go to any extent to save his child from death when the solution is within his reach? How much more love God must have in His heart when He is perfect in all ways? He wants to save His created children – the little angels He created who fell/got entrapped in the matrix. He knew before creating us that He would've to die in the flesh for our sins, but He chose to create us because He found it worth it to love and suffer in the flesh and die for the little ones He created with love than not create and not love at all. He was willing to die for His children from the beginning of creation. That's how great He is!

I am just another one of His children who is trying to get my fellow siblings into my boat by sharing the truth of His Kingdom.

One can ask why did God create the wicked? God created many children – many of His little angels. He knew from the beginning who all were His and those who were not. But all had a role to play in the creation according to His great plan. It's His fight for His own children. It should make sense now why He would choose to die for a sinner to make him perfect in His eyes and help lead him to Him. That sinner is His created child who has wandered away and it's not His will for anyone to perish – it's people who leave God and don't realize and accept that He is their creator father and the one they should look forward to for perfect love.

And if I am the child of the God who created me, then I too should reflect His nature. I too am supposed to love His other created children (who are His) with the same love with which He loves me – as that's His Will for me, and therefore I too should be willing to walk in the Will of God that is difficult in the fleshly sense but becomes bearable and joyous with His Spirit.

3. Holy Spirit Brings Supernatural Joy & Peace

I realized today that I had actually been living with a depressed mindset, while I should have been joyous because I already saw my end - where I stood below a golden staircase with Jesus at the top with His arms stretched towards me. And I saw my heavenly reward as well. And I saw my solo duet with Jesus. I would be going to

4. 'Chupana Bhi Nhi Ata..'

This song lyric often plays in my Spirit.

This song lyric was highlighted to me as it played in my Spirit several times yesterday.

5. 'I'm burning like the sun.'

From the song: Race is on my mind

Back during my BSc days, I became a fan of this song and I used to listen to it while thinking of Harry Potter/Daniel Radcliffe.

6. God Must Now Be Writing Me In Your Fate

I could relate to the lyrics:
Khuda ko dikh raha hoga..
Na dil tujhse juda hoga..
Teri takdeer mein mujhko
Vo ab to likh raha hoga..

But then I would wonder about the significance of the lines that followed. Though it was my will to follow them, I didn't understand why would Harry potter carry all that pain in his heart that the song talked about that the person wants to heal. But I still felt with all my heart to soothe his paining heart and I attached the song to him alone.

7. Corrie Ten Boom

I became too used to listening to the word Randi that it doesn't affect me at all now. Also, I now made progress in being a better disciple of Jesus as I saw my mind change to an extent where I understood the mindset and life situation of Corrie Ten Boom whom Candance had told me about once on a prayer service video call in A-16 because one of Corrie's life situations resembled mine. Corrie Ten Boom was a Christian evangelist who suffered in a camp where she was made to walk naked along with other captured women in front of the men present there. After years when she ran into one of the men, he was transformed by then. Here's an account of what followed afterwards. It spoke to my heart in my situation.

From a Web source:
Her Greatest Witness: Forgiveness

10. Much of Corrie's writings surrounded themes of love and forgiveness. She walked these qualities out in her own life so powerfully. Corrie tells this inspiring story in The Hiding Place:

"It was at a church service in Munich that I saw him, a former S.S. man who had stood guard at the shower room door in the processing center at Ravensbruck. He was the first of our actual jailers that I had seen since that time. And suddenly it was all there – the roomful of mocking men, the heaps of clothing, Betsie's pain-blanched face.

"He came up to me as the church was emptying, beaming and bowing. 'How grateful I am for your message, Fraulein.' He said. 'To think that, as you say, He has washed my sins away!' His hand was thrust out to shake mine. And I, who had preached so often to the people in Bloemendaal the need to forgive, kept my hand at my side.
"Even as the angry, vengeful thoughts boiled through me, I saw the sin of them. Jesus Christ had died for this man; was I going to ask for more? Lord Jesus, I prayed, forgive me and help me to forgive him. I tried to smile, I struggled to raise my hand. I could not. I felt nothing, not the slightest spark of warmth or charity. And so again I breathed a silent prayer. Jesus, I prayed, I cannot forgive him. Give me Your forgiveness.
"As I took his hand the most incredible thing happened. From my shoulder along my arm and through my hand a current seemed to pass from me to him, while into my heart sprang a love for this stranger that almost overwhelmed me. And so I discovered that it is not on our forgiveness any more than on our goodness that the world's healing hinges, but on His. When He tells us to love our enemies, He gives, along with the command, the love itself."

Ref: Corrie Ten Boom - 10 Inspiring Facts and Stories About Her Life (crosswalk.com)

Afternoon
This incident from Corrie's life reminded me of my own thoughts I was having 4-5 days back. I was thinking that if Death Conqueror stood before me in a general setting and extended his hand for a handshake, I won't be able to stretch forth mine. It would be very hard. It won't be because I would be feeling too prideful or angry but because my conscience/self won't allow me to shake hands with this man who did such a thing to me. And then I was reminded of something I had read about Corrie Ten Boom, an incident in which she confronted someone who was present in the camp she along with other women was made to walk naked in front of the men present there. She recognized the guy from the shameful incident though he may not have recognized her. I didn't recall the exact details of the incident, so I looked her up and found the above excerpt from her book last night. And it told me that my own feelings were normal to have. Corrie who had been a Christian all her life along with her family found it hard to forgive that man who was present as a guard in the shower room though he wasn't even the one who caused the event to take place. And she didn't face the shame for years in front of that guard – yet, she had anger and vengeful thoughts on witnessing him again though he was a changed man now and had come to Christ. She was filled with those resentful thoughts even after he had changed for good. It was hard for her to shake hands with him at first, but I don't think she would've entertained the idea of sleeping with him – never – being the kind of person she was. But in my case, nothing seems to change yet I am supposed to neutralize their darts at the expense of putting my own self to shame as God gives me revelations that show me as being a buffalo with burst eyes or something else. I came to Jesus a while after witnessing in 2019 that I was being stalked, though I didn't know about the cameras yet. But I maintained a heart of forgiveness and ignorance for I thought they will stop eventually. Why were they so invested in me!? I was just a common citizen trying to do what she liked and establishing an independent existence. But then in 2020, I get to know that not just I was being stalked, but I had cameras around me as well that followed me even in the washroom. It was quite a shock to me. I thought, "They didn't think twice before doing such a thing!? How can they do such a wicked thing!?" Their act had me decide that I was never going to interact with those people in any way! Though I still maintained a calm heart and didn't have angry and vengeful thoughts, I wanted them to stop the wickedness and realize and repent for their folly and that would've been enough for me. I didn't get a sudden surge of anger or thoughts of vengeance. I was looking at the good that I saw but the wickedness they exhibited didn't let that apparent good self get to me. They only escalated their abuse of me! Looking at Corrie's testimony served as a comforter to me as I found a companion who went through the same and was able to forgive because of God's hand itself working on her heart. She gave me company and I saw that I wasn't alone in having feelings of resentment and anger at those who unjustly oppress and hurt others – I saw the huge difference between God's nature and a man's. God is very patient with the wicked and holds His judging hand for He wants that man to repent and come to Him. While Corrie was filled with anger on seeing that man who watched them walk naked, God had already forgiven him on the cross to cleanse him of his sin when he would turn to Him. So, I saw how patient, forgiving, and great God was, and most importantly – slow to anger. I saw how He took people through a process as He worked on their hearts, and during the transition that they were still wicked – He was patient with them. He was willing to have the righteous suffer to save the wicked ones and turn them to Him.

8. Revelations (Morning):

8.1 Dream:

I am moving from one empty hall to another from being busy with one chore to another. The halls have wide glass doors.

8.2 Lawn Beetle With A Blonde's Face

Vision: A black lawn beetle with a disproportionately small face of a blonde with partitioned hair tied at the back.

8.3 A Blast In My Head

Heard in the Spirit: I heard the sound of a blast inside my head.

8.4 Ramdulari Is Burnt Alive

The scene from the movie Lajja in which the character of Ramdulari (played by Rekha) was burnt alive was highlighted to me this morning.

8.5 Teri Ankhon Mein Humne Kya Dekha

'What was it that I saw in your eyes..'

Ref: Dil ki deewar-o-dar pe kya dekha Bas tera naam hi likha dekha

While typing out revelations,

8.6 Vision: Jesus comes with a sharp strike of an axe at my neck.

9. The Three Blockages

The three factors that contribute to us facing difficulties in walking in the Will of God: the world, devil and our own flesh. For me, it has been my own flesh as I eat and try to push myself further so I can complete what has been given to me. If I keep resting with God in His arms to find healing, then my work would be incomplete, but if I keep working without spending time with God intermittently, I get a heavy head and a headache. I was feeling so downcast this certain day, feeling depressed and unable to work, but then I ate and felt something fill my heart that prepared me to work further – as if I was internally refreshed. When I go home my mom and youngest brother create resistance as they oppose what I think and how I feel about following God – they constitute the world. Thirdly, the darts of the enemy – the devil – that hit my brain and give me headaches, burst my veins from the inside, hit my eye from the inside and push it out, push out from inside the skull through my ear passages, severe my flesh from here and there from the inside, and cause me mental and emotional stress by sending cameras into my private space – they all constitute the resistance caused by devil. Since I woke up this morning, I have been feeling this newness in my Spirit and it seems like I can now go on with fasting for longer durations while working out intermittently also. It seems like I was on a break that has come to an end. I feel stronger in the Spirit since I read the Word in the morning. The Numbers' chapters talked about how the Israelites complained about having to eat Manna every day and not having a variety of food. They wanted to eat meat. They were weary of treading through the wilderness and eating the same thing every day. I saw their hearts, Moses' heart, and then the heart of God - it put things in perspective for me. What I read was exactly what I needed to read in this hour, and it was also where I had left reading the last time I was into my Bible. Additionally, when I read the Bible, I was filled with such love for God and looked at the pages as if they were bread – as is written – that the Word of God is our bread which feeds our souls and transforms them. As I was filled with love for God as I was peeking through a window that was revealing to me the nature of God, I saw two protruding brownish lips on the right page coming at me. Reading the contemporary Bible also reminded me of the previous vision I had at home in which Jesus wept inside the Bible with His tears falling on my face followed by the vision of Him protruding His lips to kiss me. The love of God is so unmatched and expressed in supernatural ways.

10. Deepika Padukone Shoots Down From Above

Vision (yesterday): I saw DP rise up in air with two angelic white wings dressed in a V-neck white dress as she shot down white arrows below from a bow.

Sis Adele said that God just wants to make crooked places straight. So, it further motivated me to be willing to lose my belly fat which I had grown weary of the thought of as it has been hovering over my head for the past year. I started working out to lose fat back in June or July after I received the vision and managed to lose 26 kgs in around one year. I think it's not too bad of a progress.

After I posted 'Mujhe Kitna Pyaar Hai Tumse – The Melody' (#7.2 on Page 491) after writing praises about Sis Adele, I heard these lyrics in my Spirit.

11. Dil Tera Deewana Hai Sanam

Guy sings:

Dil tera deewana hai sanam — My heart is crazy in love for you
Dil tera deewana hai sanam — My heart is crazy in love for you

Lady sings:

Jaante ho tum, kuch na kahenge hum — You know already, that I won't say anything
Jaante ho tum, kuch na kahenge hum — You know already, that I won't say anthing

Both sing in turns:

Mohabbat ki kasam.. — I swear by love..
Mohabbat ki kasam.. — I swear by love..

12. Revelations While Resting:

12.1 The Red CNG Cylinder

The photostat guy puts down a red CNG cylinder on the floor and then throws it out horizontally with all might leading to it landing about 4-5 meters away.

12.2 The demonic KA

I see a black demonic KA appear above me out of nowhere and start kissing me and making out.

12.3 The Undoing

In my right mental vision, I saw a white rubber cork abruptly coming out of a grey pipe and getting free.

12.4 I and Adele in a Lawn

As a third person, I saw a distant, slightly blurry, and semi-animated vision of a naked woman (apparently me) sitting with slightly bent body on top of Adele in a lawn as she gropes and pushes upwards her left breast with her right hand followed by moving her hand to her face and bending further below to kiss her. The lawn was adorned with fresh and lush green grass and a tree at some distance to their left on a pleasing sunlit day with the blue sky visible around them through the lawn's open space. Adele was dressed in her black Bold Existence attire of a half-sleeved polo shirt with a white athletic print around the shoulders and black trousers below. The groping, bending down and kissing scene repeats a few times. The naked woman now opens her legs and is ready to have coitus with Adele, but the next thing shown is Adele running joyously in the lawn in the direction of the viewer with the naked woman running behind her. The naked woman throws a thick marigold flower on her teethfully smiling face that's looking sideways to the left (making the prophetic symbol) with her dark brown wavy hair stuck to the visible side of her face. The naked woman continues to throw more flowers at her face from behind, this time smaller flowers.

I later wondered if the vision was a labelled representation of me and Glory, because, in two of the previous revelations, he was throwing flower petals/flowers on me.

13. RS in a Grey Checkered Suit

Vision: RS dressed in a grey checkered suit with a white t-shirt inside gets down from a black bike facing the viewer. A woman dressed in a dark green silk/satin saree with a red blouse with a bun with a white garland of flowers wrapped around it comes to him walking from the left whom he pulls to himself as they keep hugging tightly for long. He then pushes/throws her away and speeds up away on his bike but then returns and the woman comes to him again and they hug again.

I was on my way up in the lift with a plate of food when these lyrics played in my Spirit:

14. I Remember

The lady sings:
'I remember…
I remember…'

Ref: Lauren Daigle ~ Remember (Lyrics)

15. Labelled

Vision (past week): I stand facing KA between the two beds with him dressed in his usual attire of a white shirt tucked inside black pants, and I take an unusually long and about 2.5 to 3 inches thick penis out of my own pants.

1. Dream (Morning):

I enter a room that looks like a government office. There are people sitting along the walls in front of their worktables. I am here to inquire about something or submit a document. I go to a table, but they don't take it and send me to another table. I go to that table and the guy says that for him to do the job I would've to have tea which will be there in a while. I go to another table, and the lady says the same thing – that I would've to have tea. I go to yet another table and the fat lady in a blue and white tunic repeats the same. But she invites me to her home, unlike the others. She says that for her to do the job, I would've to come to her home for tea. I almost agree to her invitation but then I get a sense that someone is coming after me as I look at the adjacent roof with cement ruckus lying all around it with a short-heighted person coming walking and standing looking in the direction of the office through its glass windows. I leave the office and am now on the road. I see a bus slowly moving in the left direction on a road at a good distance of about 50 meters. The bus stops in my sight. I then see my dark doppelganger with protruding central incisors pass me by. Another doppelganger passes me by on a bicycle dressed in a brown suit and has protruding central incisors.

2. During Church:

2.1 KA & I Hug

Vision (while worship): KA hugs me tightly in my checkered black and white shirt untucked over black jeans (that I wore in the church) with him dressed in the full-sleeved peach top over white trousers. While hugging me, he's also grabbing my ass intermittently and the hug keeps getting tighter and tighter while we kiss.

2.2 Adele (from Bold Existence) Worships

I saw the face of Adele on my upper half in the same posture and expression as mine – closed eyes and a bent face.

2.3 Adele with Filled Eyes

Adele in the black and white Bold Existence polo t-shirt looks at me with a melancholic molten expression.

2.4 An Iron Nail

A long iron nail appears in my vision in front of me in the air and floats to my heart and goes inside.

2.5 Resting with Jesus

I see myself sitting leaning against Jesus and resting with closed eyes on the floor. I had been thinking about how I needed some real time with Jesus to heal and charge myself up. In my moments of weakness, if I get to spend that time with Jesus, I would feel very much invigorated. I continue leaning against Him with closed eyes when a black flesh cylinder with a face on top rises out from inside Him removing His head to the side like a lid.

Post church

3. Pastor Gets a Tika on Forehead

Vision: A hand does Pastor's Abhishek (anointing) with a red tika on his forehead. The vision repeats a few times.

This day at church we had the Potluck meal, and I had a good lunch there. After reaching my PG, I went straight to sleep as I had slept late around 3:30 to 4 earlier at night, and was too heavy-headed and wouldn't have been able to do anything without completing my sleep. I had this dream when I fell asleep.

4. Dream (Evening):

I have a good dinner and go to sleep. When I wake up and go out in the L-shaped corridor, I see the humanoid figure of a man dressed in a white shirt tucked inside white pants. It's being said that the figure is to be inserted with consciousness. The humanoid figure gets activated with consciousness and is now walking around like a normal person though I can clearly see the two existing separately in that guy's case. He seems to be around the age of a high schooler and is walking around with his back towards me. I see a room lit in dim red light and instead of a door, it is covered with two wide white curtains. Apparently, my dad (Father God) is in there. The room seems quite quiet and no one else seems to be caring about the presence of the room. The dream-me feels guilty as she thinks that she wasn't supposed to be eating as she looks at the white curtains. I now see people having their lunch with cooked and blended spinach put on a long and wide rusk along with tea. Though I've had dinner before sleeping and ain't really hungry, I still lift the huge tea container and pour tea for me (though I don't have lunch). I look again at the room dimly lit in red behind the white curtains. I feel guilty. Has Father God hidden Himself from me!? – the question runs through my mind. The other girls don't even look at the curtained room but are busy talking trash. No sound, no movement seems to be present inside the room. It has an aura of stillness.

(You see, without Jesus, God is hidden behind a veil because of our sins against Him. Jesus tore the separating curtain apart when He died on the cross for our sins. He closed the gap between our sinful nature and God's Holiness. God is hidden behind a veil to sinners who reject Him and relishes in the company of those who follow and obey Him.)

I now want to leave the setting and am outside a room that is supposedly an entryway to buy Metro tickets leading one further towards the station. Apparently, the guy in white with consciousness added separately to the body is me. Everyone is trying to get a hold of me. For some reason, they want me or they are after me in a way. I walk inside the room and through the narrow passage between the wall and the long security check machine and hide at the other end away from the entry door. A girl walks in, spots me, mimics something about my singing a few times, and leaves. I now walk to the other side of the long machine and have opened a square storage chamber fixed into the machine and am dusting it with a cloth when a fat and fair girl walks up to me from the other side and mimics the way I make intricate vocal variations while singing 'Baaho' from the song 'Gin Gin Ke Stuti Karo'. The girl sings the vocal variations several times in front of me while I am not even paying attention to her as I am busy dusting off that section. The girl leaves after making the point that even she can do it – though she was doing it in the same way as mine and not better. This made me feel so terrible. I thought they even have to copy the way I sing to God. Worship was a holy act done with love and wasn't something one should compete about. But the foolish messenger girls just came in and mimicked the way I sang instead of taking the lesson of singing to God in worship!

5. Post waking up:

5.1 Jesus Stabs My Brain

Vision: Jesus opens my skull and then is revealed my brain floating in a dark bluish hue around. Jesus repeatedly stabs my brain.

5.2 My Blood-Stained Brain

Vision: My blood-stained white brain floats inside a dark bluish cavity – the vision keeps getting repeated.

6. Testimony:

Recall: the dream which had me sitting together with the pastor's son at the front seat of a car with no one present in the driver's seat. In that dream, I found that the hall was dirty and needed cleaning and by the time I was back after being busy with something, I saw that Pinky Mausi had already mopped the hall by swiping the mop in circular motions which left some parts along the sides.

Well, I realized after returning to my PG that that's also how the lady I was observing cleaning the church floor was doing it. I saw that she had left something below the chair against the wall. I was thinking of pointing it to her but then it was lying on a region not used usually. And since they were brooming in circular motions while sitting, it cleaned the floor in the same manner as the dream.

I wake up with me repeating this as it came out of the Spirit:

7. 'It's Not About How and When..'

It's about 'what'..
It's not about 'how and when'.

8. During Worship (Night)

8.1 Jesus Matches At His Cross My Worship Movements

I was singing along with the worship song with my hands raised up outwards. It was then that I had the vision of the upper half of Jesus nailed on the cross in the same pose as mine as he was sighing in pain with closed eyes and open mouth and moved his head around with his skin torn, wounded, and drenched in blood. The vision repeated itself for a good while.

I lay my head on one side of my shoulder, and I see

Vision: Jesus bends His head on the cross on the same side as mine while facing me. Though in the picture below He is crying in pain, in the vision – He was silent and moved His head to the same side as mine in a silent fainting gesture.

Apparently, He is showing me mirrored visions of Him on the cross corresponding to my physical movements. I was listening to the following worship song which talks about us being made pure and Holy so we can look like Jesus Himself.

The visions showed why I was worshipping him. Also, they showed the extent of His great love where He would endure such pain and match my painless worship movements with His painful sighs and cries on the cross – this is the perfect love of God manifested. How great He is.. There's none like Him. He is unmatched, perfect, and Holy (set-apart).

Looking at Jesus on the cross with the same physical movements as mine made me think if I was going to look like He looked on the cross as I am given in the hands of the devil and he tears me apart.

The song lyric from Adele's (the singer) song abruptly plays in my Spirit.

8.2 Never Mind I'll Find Someone Like You

Adele sings:

Never mind I'll find someone like you..

Ref: Adele - Someone Like You (Official Music Video)

I am reminded of these revelations: the vision in which I was dancing with KA with clutched hands, and the vision of him sitting on a video call with bowed eyes and a serious expression.

8.3 KA With Raised Hands in Worship

I saw KA standing in front of a wall dressed in a white tunic set with raised hands as the worship song played.

8.4 A Black Solid Cylinder Comes Out of The Phone

After a while, I saw a glassy black solid cylinder lifted at an angle of 45 degrees come out of my phone with the same textured black face at its head.

8.5. KA in a Convertible

The front view of the driver's seat of a convertible with KA on it as he happily drives with goggles on. The follow-up vision has a rectangular slab of flesh wrapped around his eyes followed by his eye at the viewer's left being shown with the lids stretched outwards revealing the round eyeball as it moved weirdly.

It later reminded me of my own obsession with convertibles in BSc. I didn't like cars or any vehicle, in general, but I had a thing for convertibles though I never sat in one. I often thought that if I had to buy a car, I would ideally prefer to buy a convertible because one wouldn't feel stuffed and there would be no fuel-based allergic response that I faced around vehicles. I didn't like boxy or heavy cars at all, or heavy vehicles in general. They just ruin the look of the surroundings. But in a convertible, one can enjoy looking at the sky as well along with other beautiful natural surroundings.

9. The Two Revelations Were Given for This Purpose

Reminiscing about my time together with Shreya yesterday while editing Page 492 - when we would drive together at the same pace through the town's market streets though she was on a scooty and I on a bicycle, I was reminded of the dream revelations in which Death Conqueror was on a bike dressed in all black with a black helmet on head, and I was on a bicycle, and how he looked at me with a posture of pride and arrogance and sped ahead (I used the term 'posture' because I didn't see his face through the opaque black helmet), and the other dream revelation in which I was on foot and Akhila was on a bicycle and how she left me crying behind her while indirectly insulting and saying mean things to me while being on phone.

10. KA Plays Tablas

Vision (few days back): during an evening worship session): KA dressed in a baby pink sherwani embroidered in gold plays a group of tablas while sitting upright in an elite way.

11. Ayushman K Plays Dumroo

Vision (Within the Past two days): The front side view of Ayushman K playing Dumroo with his right hand stretched straight down while standing on a stage in a dark background facing to the right.

I had this vision on my way to PG on the service lane opposite Nala Road.

12. Dance as a Form of Worship

Vision (Past week): I am swinging my leg in a contemporary dance move as an intense form of expression before God. He knows that I love contemporary dance as it expresses one's emotions in a smooth and elegant way.

13. RS Shoots from a Moving Jeep

Vision (Afternoon): RS stands with a pointed handgun at the right end of an open jeep that is moving to the left, and shoots at the viewer. He is dressed in a black jacket over a neck-high T-shirt with neck-length hair and a stubbled face and goggles on.

14. Bold Existence

At Home (Within the Past two months):

Vision: I saw a vision of my black & white sports bra lying inside the luggage as if being highlighted. I hadn't been using it. Now the design seems to be resembling the Bold Existence black & white merchandise.

I lay down on the bed a while back to sleep and as I closed my eyes, I saw,

1. Flying Through The Forest

Vision: The horizontally parallel view of RS flying through a forest area lit with golden light with a deep V-neck slit in his stoned top, a bearded face, and neck-length air, as he flies towards the viewer with a stoic expression.

The song was followed by:

The Lady sings:

Aankhen band karke jo ek chehra nazar aya	The face that I saw as I closed my eyes
Vo tumhi ho.. Ae sanam.	That's you alone..

The Guy sings:

Jisse pyaar karke ha dil ko mere kara aya..	Loving whom brought my heart rest and peace
Vo tumhi ho.. Ae sanam.	That's you alone..

Ref: Aankhen Bandh Karke | Aitraaz | Akshay Kumar, Kareena Kapoor | Udit Narayan, Alka Yagnik |Hindi Hits

2. The Silvery Floral RS

Vision: I saw the side-view of RS standing with his back leaning against a car. He was dressed in an unusual fluffed full-sleeved silver attire with the bloomed petals of a huge silver flower around his face with his face in the middle. He is then shown as looking at the viewer being the bloomed silver flower.

3. 'Maha Murakh' ' Neeri Murakh'

'Extremely Foolish'

I've heard it in the Spirit coming from a male voice many times. It seemed to me to be coming from Glory.

4. Blast

Heard in The Spirit (Night): Sound of a blast in the middle of my room between the two beds. I heard it while lying in bed to sleep.

Afternoon

5. Dream:

It's night and I'm standing outside my PG facing a scooty parked to its right. Ranbir Kapoor and Alia Bhatt come driving in a white car and park it in front of the PG. I somehow am not aware of their presence in the dream though I see the car. While they park and stay there, I eat peas removing them from their coverings. I happen to look behind me and see an auto stop and park near me. Though there are other people present inside as well, they're not visible properly as it's dark. A child gets down from it and catches my attention and while I am looking at him the parked car with RK & AB drives back. I am now inside my PG and see the side-view of my dad sitting on a chair talking with someone in front of him. I am wearing a sleeveless beige dress with straight open hair falling at the back with a hairband on top. He asks me to leave with him for home. Seeing him sitting there shocks me for how could he expect me to come along with him at that hour when I hadn't packed anything? And why did he assume that I will certainly come along with him when he knew that I had no company at home? He should've told me that he would be there to meet me. It unsettles me to see him there because I don't wanna go to my parental home as of now when I know that my work is pending, and I have some things to look forward to. He argues that I haven't been going to the dept either. I still tell him no. He then says that Vickey Bhaiya is there outside as well. But I am not ready to leave with him. As he is trying to convince me to leave with him by giving these reasons, I am thinking how it is impossible to leave that very night for everything would need to be packed and it would certainly take an hour easily. The dream then ends there.

I wake up from the dream and have this vision.

6. KA in a Bathtub

Vision (Evening): KA is sitting in a bathtub in my right mental view with a white wall right behind him horizontally swings a light green lime soap in my direction. His naked upper half is visible and dry while the lower half is immersed in water. He has a horizontally narrow but vertically wide moustache in the vision with sideburns and short wavy hair that stand around the edges on top of his forehead, and he is carrying a stoic serious expression she throws the soap at me. The throw repeats itself and each time he throws it with greater intensity as it comes directly at my forehead making it seem as if it's going to hurt me badly.

I wake up and I hear in my Spirit:

'Hasle gaale. Ye din na milenge kal	Laugh, Sing – for you won't find these days tomorrow..
Thodi khushiyan, hai thode se ye pal.'	These moments of happiness – they are quite few..

But even if my time is short, why would I use it sinning instead of getting stronger in the Lord? Because if my time is indeed short, I should be using it to sanctify my inner self and prepare myself for the Lord. I haven't even read the Word fully. I mean I do love KA, but I don't wanna sin against God lest He is displeased with me and judges me.

7. Maths Teacher Verbally Abuses Students

There was a bearded and tall male teacher who taught us maths back in 7th class. He had a habit of using abusive words if someone made a mistake and didn't listen. He often called students 'Harami'.

8. I Nickname Meera Rami.

I nicknamed Meera the reverse of her Hindi name – Rami. That's the only thing that occurred to me – to reverse her name. She would at times tell me to not use it in public for someone might mishear it for 'Harami'.

She wasn't happy with her nickname. She said that she gave me with such a cool name – Kats – while I gave her such a sloppy name.

9. 'Tere Khat Mein Jalata Kaise'

'How could I burn your letters..'

Tere Haathon Ke Likhe Khat Mein Jalata Kaise..
How could I burn these handwritten letters of yours..

Tere Khat Aaj Mein Ganga Mein Baha Aaya Hu
Aag Jalte Hue Paani Mein Laga Aya Hu..

This song has been being highlighted to me since last year.

Ref: तेरी खुश्बू में आधार खत | Tere Khushboo Mein Base Khat | Jagjit Singh | Video Song | Ghazal - YouTube

10. The Abuser: Obsessed with Controlling Others

In response to their false evaluation of me as being self-obsessed, I would say that God must be obsessed with me that He gives me abundant revelations. It seems to me that they're obsessed with me and hurting me in different ways.

11. 'And You're Beautiful…'

The Guy sings:
And you're Beautiful…
So Beautiful…
So Beautiful…
So Beautiful….

You're beautiful…
So Beautiful…
So Beautiful…

So Beautiful...

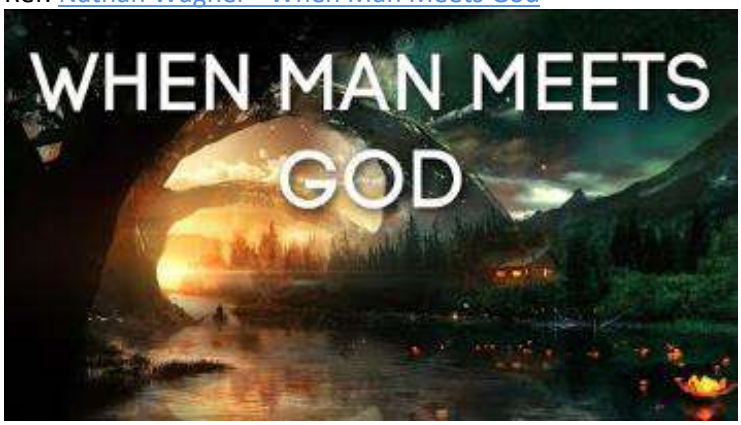
I can see the universe in your eyes
Brand new colors - I'm so lost so mesmerized..
All I ever really wanted was your light
You wiped every tear, said, "child no need to cry.."

I was with you through the trenches through the fire
How it killed me just to see your hurt inside..
Sometimes pain is the only way we come to life..
Introspection liberates and frees the mind..

Such a loss for words..
Death has been reversed..
You're saying, "I endured.."
It was so so worth it
I found my purpose – to love you, to love you, to love you, to love..
I just wanna love you.. to love you, to love you, to love you...
I just wanna love you.. to love you, to love you, to love you...

Ohhh.....

Ref: Nathan Wagner - When Man Meets God



Late Night
These lyrics have been playing in my Spirit for a while. And they played once previously as well.

12. 'Andekhi Anjaani Kya Ye Mohabbat Hai..'

'Unseen (&) Unknown - what sort of love is this'

The Guy sings:
Andekhi anjaani kya ye mohabbat hai
Chupke se milte dilon ki ye aahat hai..
Kyu pyaar ke hum deewane
Jo kho gya vo hi jaane..

Baatein kitaabo ki
Raatein hai khwabo ki..
Hothon par izhaar hai..

Kaisa ye pyaar hai..
Kaisa ye pyaar hai..

1. Kissing KA

Vision (from a few days back): I am kissing KA and then I stop with a bowed head as I have begun to bite him now.

While writing revelations late at night:

2. Mesmerized KA

Vision (Yesterday): KA with red love hearts in front of the eyes and a bigger red love heart below the throat that's beating outwards in horizontal oscillations with him dressed in a black t-shirt.

3. When I laid down to sleep the last night:

3.1 The Animal's Sniff

As soon as I fell asleep, The sniff of an animal on my face with some squeaking sounds below my ear against the pillow.

3.2 Karishma Kapoor Rests With a Bowed Head

The innocent face of Karishma Kapoor from Andaaz Apna Apna covered in an artistic glassy layer as she rests her head on one side on a surface in a dark background..

Labelled:

3.3 Brother Wally on Top of a Man

The naked smooth back of Brother Wally sitting on top of the face of a naked man lying on the floor as he gets up and down in intercourse (apparently he has a vagina) with his hands holding a fixed horizontal wooden slab in front of him.

I was about to fall asleep when I had this vision.

3.4 The Demonic Jaadu

Vision: I see Death Conqueror standing in my vision in a dark background. He abruptly changes to a fluffed grey muscular being with the bald facial structure of Jaadu from the movie Koi Mil Gaya, dressed in a multilayered grey hooded attire resembling that of a Ninja with the hood resting below against his back as he says to me that he can easily hurt others, but he won't feel hurt by doing so. He tells me that I am a normal human who feels the pain of others and won't inflict it on them intentionally, but he's not like that. He says that he can cause a lot of damage without feeling any remorse. He tells me that he's not like me. He says that nothing affects him while causing pain to others.

He had transfigured into his wicked self that started explaining his character traits to me. I don't reply or ask questions because, first, I know that this wicked self is not to be reasoned with for it is what it is and it thinks like what it is and it is the godly self that will understand what I will be trying to convey, and secondly, because we are not to converse with demonic spirits.

4. Humnasheen O Mere Humnasheen

'Partner-in-addiction O My Fellow Addict'

(Past few days)

Humnasheen O Mere Humnasheen	Fellow Addict O my partner-in-addiction
Jo Mujhe Mil Jao Tum Kahin	If only I happen to find you somewhere..
Humnasheen O Mere Humnasheen	Fellow Addict O my partner-in-addiction
Jo Mere Ho Jao Tum Kahin	If only you become mine..

Ref: humnasheen o mere humnasheen-dobara-alisha chinai

Post waking up:

5. Priest SRK tells a No

Vision (Morning): The side-view of SRK sitting below the cooler with vertically folded knees with his body facing to the left as he holds his lower lip behind his upper jaw and signals a 'No' by moving his hand horizontally towards the viewer with a vertically raised forefinger. He is dressed in a half-sleeved white vest over a white dhoti.

6. Mela Dilo Ka..

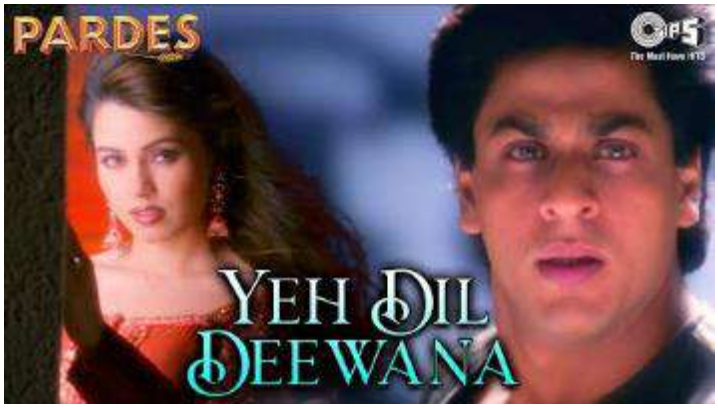
'Fair of hearts..'

It's still undergoing.

While I was brushing my teeth, I kept hearing the 'Mela Dilo Ka' song in my Spirit with a special emphasis on the scene in which the heroine's make-believe brother in a maroon t-shirt does a 'Heyyyyyyyy!' and tells her to sing and rejoice for the days won't be there tomorrow and the moments of happiness are few.

The song followed was followed by the chorus of the song:

Yeh Dil Deewana | Pardes | Shah Rukh | Mahima | Sonu Nigam, Shankar Mahadevan | 90's Hindi Hit Songs



Followed by the stanza with the lyric:

Is dillagi ke siwa dil ne kiya bhi hai kya..

7. The Lift

Vision (a few days back during the wiiiiiifee visions): KA dressed in a full-sleeved white shirt tucked inside black pants lifts me vertically up (like Noah does Ellie in the rain scene in the movie The Notebook) as I look down at him smiling. I am dressed in my floral red and white dress as we both smile at each other.

You see, I find it embarrassing to write these revelations for the public because they pertain to my own self and real people, and not anime characters or TV actors. But then I also understood later how everything correlates. Anyway, I was working sitting on my chair when I had this abrupt vision on my left. (I think that the fleshly revelations will cease if I am wedded or am in the courting phase – if it manifests.)

8. The Floor Makeout

Vision (Past week): I saw myself lying on the floor dressed in my red and white floral dress with my head near my chair's position as KA lay on top of me grabbing and squishing my breasts while we kissed. The follow-up vision had my dress lifted until above my breasts and apparently, I wasn't wearing a bra. I saw KA on my right breast. The vision progressed in quick and discrete motions instead of a continuous progression of movements. I saw KA squishing and biting my right breast in quick, discrete movements – intermittently kissing me. He was dressed in a full-sleeved white shirt and only our upper halves were visible. The vision followed for about a minute or two. The breast even gets severed but is shown as being intact in the next scene flashed discretely.

Past revelation at home

I lay on the bed with my left hand resting with its palm facing upwards. It was then I had this vision.

9. Breast Charity

Vision (At home): I saw a slightly darker-than-dusky breast slowly come down hovering vertically down above my palm and was about to place itself on my palm when the vision ended.

It may talk to someone who has been having these thoughts. The vision was quite unexpected for me.

10. Death Conqueror Kisses Me

While I was writing revelations this day, and had many visions of KA kissing me – this too dropped in my Spirit intermittently.

(Past week): Death Conqueror dressed in a light blue shirt is kissing me. The vision repeats twice.

Somewhere during the past week, while writing revelations, along with the visions of KA kissing me, I saw a naked Glory hugging me as he said, "Meri Randi!!" (Now I don't know who it represented. I hope it's not me and him. Because why would I listen to such ungodly stuff from someone whom God called to be my husband? If someone else calls me so, I can ignore or forgive. Well, I will forgive Glory too as I've changed since I came to God. But this is not what I expect.)

11. How Do You Compile a Group of Letters?

I ask the Lord about what changes He wants me to make in the format of the letters to compile them together, as I've proofread the pages towards the end, but the initial ones are unedited and raw with ample typos. I asked that because the pages are not few. If it was so, I would have proofread and polished all of them. Any change made to one has to be implemented to all.

And then I felt Him asking me back how a group of letters is/should be compiled – you edit and number them.

And additionally, they're to be uploaded as well because of the revelation 'Upload' in which a naked woman lying inside her supposed open grave outside a building opens one of her eyes wide (her right eye) and holds the hand of a fluffed man – in a shirt untucked over pants – walking past her and says in a robotic voice - 'Up-load'.

I will try to upload these revelations as well as time allows me. Writing and editing are what I've been doing for months now, and I stay busy all day.

While working out:

I was reminded of the vision of a smiling Glory doing sit-ups holding a bouquet in both hands in a red suit with a white shirt inside. It made me think if working out was driving me closer to the manifestation of that part of the dream.

12. Revelations While Resting:

12.1 Duet with Jesus

I dance in a duet with Jesus with Him having sky blue stars in His eyes. There's a distance of about 1 to 2 meters between us as we dance holding our outstretched hands.

12.2 A Stake Enters Jesus' Heart

A stake enters the heart of Jesus who is standing dressed in His full-sized white cotton tunic. The vision is followed by Jesus stabbing His own heart with a long stake which crosses Him in one go, and comes out at the other side. The vision repeats twice or thrice.

12.3 The Hand with White Nails

A hand with white painted pointed nails comes above the right side of my face.

12.4 Different Ways of Walking with the Lord

I start praying to God in Hindi. Surprisingly, my Hindi has improved as I am able to speak neat and shudh Hindi with an involuntary inclusion of difficult words that I learned in the Hindi Bible study at Church. I share my heart with Him – how I want to walk with Him through all situations. I say that I don't want to have passive company in which I just tell myself that He is with me but then I can't see Him and have to convince myself that He is with me without actually being led by Him in a profusely tangible way. That's how I had been walking with Him by far. Imagine two situations: one in which you receive instructions from God/Jesus in the Spirit and carry them out, but then at times you're confused or are tempted by the devil, and you find yourself alone facing the confusion/temptation – in such a case, you are likely to deviate or you may feel amped down in your soul's spirit leading you to take foolish decisions or act in not-so-wise ways; now the second situation would be when you have Jesus constantly by your side – in which case whenever you're tempted or confused, you can just look at Him and you'll need the strength, motivation or the answer that you need. He will not let you be confused and will tell you to stop worrying and being confused about those things as He has a plan in His mind, and He assures you that you can rest peacefully with the knowledge of what you do know. In the second situation, even when one goes through trials, one doesn't get discouraged as one is grounded in Jesus, His love-filled healing, and guidance. I don't like to assume stuff and be without answers. So, now, I don't quite like my past walk with God because I only had visions that I didn't understand at first sight and had to wait for further understanding and revelations pertaining to them. I want to hear Him and converse in case I have a doubt, or if I don't get to hear Him – at least He immediately shows the answer to me in my spiritual sight, so I am at peace and no longer confused – with the confusion eating away at me. Perhaps I am asking for a lot from God because we don't get to decide what He should or shouldn't answer. He releases and withholds things according to His Will based on His wisdom and understanding. At times, I did receive an immediate answer. For instance, once I asked Him back in A-17/B about which song He wanted me to play or sing to Him in worship in response to which I immediately heard the chorus lyric 'Nothing's Gonna Change My Love For You' play in my heart. It was an unexpected answer for He didn't tell me to sing a typical worship song – it shows the depth of God's love. So, yeah, in that way, my walk has been filled with God's love and grace poured on me.

So, yeah, I want to walk ahead being rooted in Jesus in the second way of bonding that I explained above. I want active company and response – where I walk holding hands with Him through difficult situations as they unfold. And then, I am reminded of the previous revelation of Him holding my right hand through fingers after He placed my head very carefully on a bed. Anyway. As I went deeper into prayer today expressing my heart to Him, a subtle vibration took hold of my entire body. The vibrations were temperature neutral and more like the physical sensation of having goosebumps without the element of fear. I continued in prayer for long. After a while, I kept repeating, "I want to be closer to you. I want to be closer to you." I saw that I was being led to repeat this prayer and I went ahead with it involuntarily. By closer – I meant where I lived in His tangible presence all the time, so I won't disobey or deviate from my path. And I prayed that my mind becomes like His, so I reflect His nature. I wanted a unity of mind with Him. Because if I carry the nature of Jesus, the Godly people around me are going to be happy and content as well, and the ungodly may turn to God.

My prayer was motivated by my desire to feel closer to Jesus so I would walk better in His Will and not be like Judas the Betrayer who sees the world and betrays God. Though I have had many revelations by far that reflect His close bond with me, they didn't seem enough to me. I knew that my closeness with Jesus was going to be the fuel that was going to help me endure and persevere through difficulties and even physical pain. (This reminds me of an incident from BSc where I was about to be leg-waxed and was feeling too fearful of the pain as I have a very hard growth. I was trying to find a way to evade the pain when the thought of Daniel Radcliffe came to my mind. So, I thought of him instead of focusing on my pain and my waxing experience went very well. I had just grown too fond of him because of his role as Harry Potter. Love is indeed a medicine to pain.)

I prayed to Jesus to fill me with His Spirit, to fill me with more of it. I wanted to be fully filled and amped up with the Spirit. I knew that it was because of His Spirit alone that I was even alive or able to control my body and hadn't yet left it. He was the one keeping me intact in my body despite the internal hurt caused to it.

I thought about the violent visions of physical affliction that I had. I had to be much more strongly rooted in Jesus to be able to go through them and continue further in His work. Then I also remembered the visions of the smiling face of KA and the semi-animated face of RS at the back of my heart. But when one goes through difficulties, one should remember God first as He is the deliverer and without Him – we can't do a thing. This is also what I understood and realized after obeying Him until now - that when you walk in the Will of God – you rely on God, and not on your strength, intellect, or understanding. Without His guidance, perhaps I would've been long dead. Who knows? And without His guidance, the promise wouldn't ever deliver either. It was because He gave shadow revelations that I got a window into the minds of people I was supposed to be around as a part of the promise or was supposed to be ministering to. He bridges the gap – He is the bridge. He gives revelations according to His deep wisdom. So, I saw that it was God who was the head of all, and that though I may be attacked by the devil or demons or face worldly resistance, it was the Most-High God whom I served and who had secured my Spirit for His kingdom with my fellow brethren in Christ!

The dream revelation of the smiling face of Glory in red & white with a bouquet below his face also came to my mind, and that's what I was expecting to see whenever I went out on full moon nights. But I guess it wasn't the time. When I had the dream revelation, it made me overjoyed as I thought if he was really that good. That dream revelation was what made me like him along with the angelic eye blink in the laptop repair shop. The revelations of the faithful thirsty camel and the wedding proposal reflected his character.

The dream Malang Malang has also been highlighted to me for some days in which I was with KA as blasts took place outside near the entrance of the building, followed by me casting out a demon off of him while he was making high-pitched noises, after which I talked with people at the entrance telling them that if one's in sin, one doesn't get activated and is not able to function well in the Spirit.

12.5 The Abstract Black Blanket

Vision: I am looking at my laptop's screen and a sudden blanket of blackness comes into my view and moves closer to me.

A girl comes to ask me for a B-type charging cable.
After she's gone, I see:

12.6 Eyes with Red Love Hearts

The smiling stubbled face of KA with two red love hearts in his eyes.
The vision repeats itself and continues for a while.

The next revelation was not what I was wanting or expecting to see but the revelation began by itself. And in real life, I wouldn't go ahead with it as I already know who my God-ordained partner is. I was praying to grow close to Jesus so I could walk better in His Will but then a variety of revelations followed.

12.7 The Second Floor Makeout

I am lying on the floor in just my Bold Existence Bra and white lacy panty with KA above me lifted on his hands with an erected penis which he inserts with a jolt through the side of the panty without me having to remove it. This continues for a while. He is then licking the flat area between my breasts.

12.8 Jackie Shroff from the Movie 'Hero'

Jackie Shroff on a bike – with his look from the movie 'Hero'. Followed by his face signaling to me.

12.9 Naseeruddin Shah Under Water

The slightly silver-bearded face of Naseeruddin Shah's face facing to the right just below the surface of very clean and clear water as he's about to say something.

12.10 RS Splashes Water

I see a water body in front of me covered with rocks around its edges and to the right are some people sitting at the corner of a bench of rock with a man in a black jacket over black trousers at the edge. At first look, he resembles RS he looks back in my direction, but the second time he turns his head back, he looks like Arjun Kapoor. He then bends down and splashes water in my direction with one hand while looking at the front.

12.11 The Shower

I am naked in the shower with KA and his huge mouth is covering mine with him groping my left breast intermittently. We're French kissing. We are too absorbed in the act with our eyes closed. He then abruptly pulls me closer in a standing intercourse and then I see a yellow blast at the groin junction.
The follow-up vision has me suddenly abruptly shout in pain and I move backwards and stand near the wall as many streams of black liquid resembling thin snakes come out of my eyes, mouth, and groin covering my body. It reminds me of Lucy turning to that black something at the end of the movie Lucy, but in my case perhaps it represented something else.

The vision now shifts to my floor location and I see KA above me with now the vision of yellow blasts one after another in a line above my midsection. The long line of blasts takes me by surprise as it continues for too long.

I then see a shadow of KA's face above me as he says in a soft tone: "You're so pleasing to me.. You're so pleasing to me.." He keeps whispering it.

After a while, I get up from my rest because I know that the revelations are going to continue as long as I keep lying down and the more revelations I have, the more I have to write. By the time I leave the floor, I already feel drenched in the love of this person. And I also got up because I didn't want to elongate the time. By the time I heard the lines "You're so pleasing to me.. You're so pleasing to me..", I was in a love-filled mental state and I wanted to leave out some of the visions that I could've further had as unseen – the visions being left in the spiritual store, as unseen and untouched – preserved for one's imagination to be manifested as a filled heart-state, lacking the fleshly part.

(Though I later questioned if I saw what others were doing with labels. But still, if others were having this experience, it was a love-filled one.)

People ought to do these things with their covenant partners and KA is my labeled covenant partner in the sacred place of letters, so these things are also written in letters. But she/he/the labeled person will go to heaven for real - that's a promise that will come to pass in the real sense!

I think that these revelations are a consequence of me being Professor X who catches the minds of those chosen by God as He shows me things. It doesn't mean that I support adultery and fornication. I support physicality between covenant partners. Additionally, many times the revelations come with labels.

13. The Scene from Twilight:

Edward reads the minds of people around while sitting with Bella in a restaurant and sees either sex or money in all of them as he labels them with the word.

Apka dil hmare pas hai.. Hmara dil apke paas hai..
Your heart is with me., My heart is with you..

And the above song lyrics play in my Spirit...

This is also the song that played in my Spirit one night as I stood near the lift of A-16 after I had returned from making rounds on a full-moon night.

But now the song lyrics have some additional revelatory visions that go along with them as I look back at the revelation in which I put my hand inside KA's chest, took his heart out, and ate it, and the revelation in which he had my heart in his hands which he kept giving quick huge sloppy kisses to, almost as if he was gnawing at it with his mouth.

14. While Resting Again After Cleaning Room:

I was starting to have fleshly revelations with KA again, but I resisted them as I didn't want my mind to be occupied with the flesh lest I may be low in the Spirit and be consumed with the thoughts of KA as I was being with those of RS when God kept giving me revelations about him. I didn't want to stay under his influence all the time because then I won't be able to focus on progressing ahead in my walk with God – or rather we could progress ahead together – that's one option/solution.
So, resisting the visions and mindset taught me that the gifts of the Spirit could be controlled in a way – as is also written in the Scripture! Though at times, the Spirit manifests according to its own will or wisdom, at other times it can show you things when you happen to think about those people. And I understood this by examples where my focus would stop at a person following which I would have a revelation about him/her, though it's not always the case. It has happened a few times by far.
So, after cleaning the room, I was still thinking about KA and therefore I received further revelations which I resisted and laid down to spend more time with God - this time filled with an outpouring of His fresh spirit to leave me feeling mentally, emotionally, and spiritually invigorated and bringing clarity about how one is to move ahead with God. I wanted to have a Holy restful time without any fleshly revelations and then I had this vision:

15. Outpouring of Oil

The side-view of a wheatish version of Bella's face lifted up facing to the left (making the prophetic symbol) as yellowish oil continuously poured down from a white packet of oil on her forehead from a few cms above. Only a part of the white packet was visible as the oil kept pouring down on her forehead. The packet then moved towards her open protruding mouth pouring oil in there as well and moving back to her forehead as she lay with closed eyes fully immersed in the moment.

It reminded me of the previous vision in which I had a burst of the white blob of liquid shiny and glittery Holy Spirit on my forehead that I felt sinking in (Page 52).

I continued resting when the following revelation began:

Slow suspense-filled music plays with a group of men humming in a periodic manner as I see the side-view of me standing facing my mom in front of a brownish wall. She is touching my head repeatedly to somber my hair. I then see the front view of her round face as she fills her mouth with air looking at the viewer – something she does while thinking something or doing a chore.

I then see a night street in front of me with some vehicles parked to the left, behind which stands a tree. KA along with another fat guy sitting behind him, drives by on a bike coming from behind the viewer, and as the bike passes by the tree – I see one of its smaller branches at the left break and fall on the ground. The guy behind him is leaning forward on KA's right and at the first look from the back, resembles my previous PG owner Kunal dressed in a black shirt over black pants.

16. "Be a Witness of Jesus Christ!"

The song lyric from the song 'Fresh Oil' kept repeating in my Spirit a while back as I was about to have Communion - one Idli with one bowl of sambar and a packet of Chach (reminds me of Walter now). I had the small bowl of Idli because it kept blinking in my vision.

17. It's Hard to Find Trustworthy Volunteers

I could use people for proofreading - to volunteer to help me in my job. But I cannot trust them with the God-given revelations, so I have to do it all by myself. I'm not volunteering for God. I am His child and assigned person for this Job and I will be paid for it in the end - my Heavenly reward - though that's not what my real reward is – Jesus Himself! Yes, the job can be compared to volunteering, but it won't be a good comparison because I won't call my PhD a job of volunteering because it paid me and led me to learn some things as well. Likewise, God's job transforms you and you receive the reward of your works at the end. There are pioneers, and there are volunteers. The greater and more difficult the work - the huge the reward. But all believers are called to be volunteers of God on Earth working on His behalf - volunteering while being in love with God.

And then I thought that people like Death Conqueror and Akhila wouldn't be used by God to even volunteer to help His chosen forerunners and pioneers in their assigned tasks.

18. Bye with a Jump

A short-heighted KA says a quick 'Bye', turns his back towards me, and then jumps high with folded legs stretched to the sides with a Woo-hoo as if he is too pleased with something.
The jump with legs folded sideways accompanied by a high-pitched Woohoo keeps repeating itself.

19. An Aware Glory

While writing about the extent one can control the gifts of the Spirit, I saw the side-view of a wheatish Glory facing to the left standing in front of the cooler biting a woman's lips in front of him while looking sideways in the viewer's (my) direction as if he wanted her to see his act! It seemed to me that the vision showed that he wanted to voluntarily be a part of the revelatory visions. Most of the earlier revelations were about him before the labelling began and new people were reached out to, for them to be saved as they were called by my name by Jesus to Himself.

20. A Resting Penis

Vision: I saw a penis resting in a dark grey-bluish space (felt like my own tissue tube) and heating up while being static.

I wasn't thinking of anything sexual but was busy writing what I was when I had the above vision after the series that began with KA moving backwards into the washroom with a white towel wrapped around his waist as he said an 'Aa' and as most of him had entered inside, the part of his face visible to the viewer changed to a black demon while I watched the vision from my place between the two beds. He then came out again and stood near me followed by the resting genitalia vision.

And as I wrote the above, the penis shook briefly around its position before coming to rest again.

The following lyrics start playing in my Spirit

23. Ha… Ha…. (The Humming)

The lady sings:

Kitni bechain hoke tumse mili..

Tumko kya thi khabar thi mein.. Kitni akeli..

Ha.. Ha..

Ha.. Ha..

Ha.. Ha..

Haaa…..

Luckily, I had no visions because I already am in a shameful situation though I've stopped feeling the shame now as I stand in my identity in Christ and know that I am forgiven and covered by His blood. I only had these lyrics play in the Spirit in my heart.

25. The Demon Strikes

It was during my resting session that I saw the semi-animated distant vision of the back of a man sitting in the middle of a very wide ground below the dark blue night sky with vertically folded knees and a bowed head as a very tall and wide demon standing in front of the man was about to strike the center of the bowed head of that tiny man with a long black road. The demon was about 50 m tall and 30 m wide and wore a black hooded attire resembling that of Assassin's Creed members in shape.

Vision: I close my eyes and see the side-view of the face of RS facing to the right with black goggles with very light stubble in a golden-lit background in my left mental view facing slightly above to the right - his look from the video that I had watched a few minutes back.

I lay in bed and my head wasn't feeling good at all. (At times it seems as if it's going to get worse and burst after a while.) And then the lyric played in my Spirit:
'Abadi Zindagi mein apne kaamon ka pratifal paaun..'
'I wish to get rewarded for my works in my life after death..'

This made me sad because I spent the past year anticipating God's promise and preparing for it. During the past year when I took the makeup tutorial, I was thinking of doing different eye shadow colour combinations as I would roam with Glory - because of the shadow revelations and because I had recently learned the skill – as Bella roams around with Edward after she gets married. And then I bought these clothes looking at the revelations while I am the kind of person who likes to keep spatially less volume of clothes/things – I mean a smaller number of clothes but those that I like very much, and which reflect my real inner self. I bought all these makeup products; well, that's secondary but I was hopeful about receiving God's promise - that's why I took those steps. As I received revelations, I looked for those things and bought them as I found them, and now I had a bond built with those people because of the revelations.

'Abadi Zindagi mein apne kaamon ka pratifal paaun..'
It's not that I am not grateful for my heavenly reward – which was shown to me to be huge. The reward looked what an old treasure would look like – consisting of gold coins, antique pieces placed at positions on the heap of coins spread horizontally on the floor, and there was a locked rectangular vase – that's what caught my attention the most as it made me curious about what laid inside. It was lying in a golden room and extended throughout the view of the vision.

Seeing the nature that I have on Earth, I don't know what I will do with my reward. But it would be something to be cherished as it's given by God Himself for my endurance, persistence, perseverance, and the works that I will further do. But getting a flat belly seems such a huge task and it's such a slow process. I wish God had me use my time in other tasks that involve helping out others through His Spirit. But I guess He knew how difficult it would be for me to get a flat belly because it involves a discipline of food consumption and crucifying the flesh. But I think He put it in my vision to cover up all the areas that could lead to me being deviated from Him – He not only showed His love in various ways, but also showed me my reward for the times that I may be overburdened with sorrow not being able to feel His love and when it's difficult for my own heart to love; for in times such as these – when emotions don't motivate a heart down ridden with pain, the sight of a reward may work – much like a sailor goes through difficulties in search of a hidden treasure where the thought of the treasure alone amuses him enough to push further though he doesn't really need it – but the journey becomes a conquest to obtain that treasure. God saw that my situation was more painful than others and was going to be even worse, and therefore He understood I could have a heart failure on the way being unable to push further. So, he gave me extraordinary revelations of display of His love. And now I understand why He chose to play the song 'Nothing's gonna change my love for you' that day – it was for me – for me to tell Him nothing should change my love for Him – no amount of affliction or pain I may have to go through on Earth. Well, the chorus ends with 'One thing you can be sure of, I'll never ask for more than your love' – and that's what I had been telling Him all this time as well, that even if I had the reward but if it was to be without Him – it would be meaningless, for we as His children – we do things for Him because we love Him, and not because we run after the reward – though it's not a bad mindset to have either, because the reward is given by God alone and the race is to be run with love for God in one's heart.

The lady sings:
And I will run to you..
To your words of truth
Not by might, not by power, but by the Spirit of God..

Yes I will run the race..
Till I see your face
Oh let me live in the glory of your grace..

Ref: I Will Run To You - Hillsong Worship

But now I keep receiving these revelations of the center of my head being hit repeatedly by one or the other person.

Past few days:
Vision: RS comforts me putting his hand on my shoulder standing in a golden background as he says, 'Mein hu na' ('I am there') – referring to him being my emotional support and friend.

I was telling God that I didn't want to die as of now. I want to spend some earthly time loving those people in their active or passive presence instead of just doing my work and leaving to receive my heavenly reward - which is indeed valuable as it is given by God, but I didn't feel like leaving without spending time with the ones God brought in my life. It's not that I was fearing difficulties, but I felt like I could spend some good time with those people, and I was feeling hurt that I would have to leave them – but then I am not really leaving because we have an eternity with God in His kingdom.

The Guy sings:
Ja bewafa ja
Humein pyaar nhi karna..

And then I was thinking about the incident when I happened to catch sight of the person on a bike in the dark who resembled Glory to a great extent. Though I wasn't 100% sure, his body language said that he indeed was Glory. I am not used to a hive-minded way of thinking. I like direct and open communication, or I tend to think of all the other possibilities that the situation could represent because I don't assume things unless I've no other option and am required to take a step. We've to use our God-given mouths to say things directly. That's why I had happy and fulfilling bonds with people - because I didn't assume things but had a direct one-to-one relationship with them.

Later, I was thinking that if I was sure that that guy was Glory, perhaps I should've had run to him because he is the chosen guy and I saw myself running to him in the previous revelations. Also, he looked internally weak and vulnerable making me further feel both sad and pitiful at the same time. I felt so sad about his state but this thing I liked - that he did not act but looked straight at me without any doubts about why he was there. There was truth in his eyes and posture and no affectedness. He didn't look like those gangstalking messengers, but carried truth without deception which was visible through the dark, and that's why I assumed that he must have been Glory.

Vision (Past few days): RS looks at me and giggles very briefly, and then runs speedily to the right and to the left, to the right and to the left, in a golden background as if he's too elated.

Doppelganger of Glory

And I also just thought about how I often end up comparing Glory to better versions of him - those who praise and worship God, even in the song. I noticed this resemblance of this doppelganger to Glory last year. But I wasn't recording everything back then.

While I was making tea:
Mohabbat ki namaazo ko adaa karne se darte ho..
Magar ab yaad ata hai,
Vo baatein thi mehez baatein..
Kahin baaton hi baaton mein
Mukarna bhi jaruri tha..

Mohabbat bhi jaruri thi..
Bichadna bhi jaruri tha..

Meri aankhon ke dariya ka
Bikharna bhi jaruri tha…

I don't know who this is.

Playing in the Spirit:
"Who let the dogs out!?
Woof Woof Woof

Who let the dogs out!??
Woof Woof Woof"

The song played previously as well - back in 2021 in Saroj Sadan.

Taller and Wheatish Doppelganger of Death Conqueror

Somewhere around the past week, I noticed this doppelganger of Death Conqueror as well in yet another worship song.

Ref: Yeshu Prabhu Dhanyawaad | ONE TRIBE | Season 2

My La Corda D'oro Primo Passo worship band has expanded.

And while I put the above pictures of doppelgangers worshipping Jesus, I saw the upper half of a person carrying mixed facial features corresponding to both KA and Death Conqueror as he smiled happily with inner joy and two red love hearts in front of his eyes.

I just happened to think of now looking forward to finding Akhila's worship doppelganger in a song. I will post it when I come across one.

13:27

Dream (Morning):

I am in a huge home that seems kinda like a maze. A lady is giving me a tour of the home. I come across a small dining room on a floor above the ground one at the left end of the building – the room just enough to carry the rectangular wooden table and chairs with a nature wallpaper on one of the walls (reminds me of Karishma's home in my hometown when she gave me a tour around her huge home. Her home was further ahead in line with Sakshi's home and the road led to our school when taken a left after some distance). As the lady gives me a tour, we stop in an open area with three circular red-brick platforms with plants in the center. I see some white packets lying in the narrow circular space between the red bricks around the edge of the platform. I tell the aunty about the same. They need to be picked up. She doesn't seem to be too bothered about them.

On the ground floor, there's a rectangular, long, and wide hall at the end of which is a door to its left. The door extends into a rectangular room that serves as the control room of a ship. At the end of the control room, there's a door on the wall to its right which extends into an open area that is not really a beach but has some shops on the left on a concrete ground with the presence of water on the ground in the middle. Apparently, when gone into deeper ahead, the area may lead to an ocean. The zone has no bright rays of sunlight present but just a cold and soothing evening aura. I stay in the room for a while. Shagun (Prof Sanjay Jain's PhD student) comes to the control room carrying an artwork in her hands that needs completion. She has to meet a deadline and seems to be under stress. I help her in completing the same. Shagun leaves, exiting the control room to the right, and I move straight ahead out of the door, and right in front is the hall's open living area with my mom sitting on the sofa. I sit there for a while and find myself in the kitchen afterwards, situated at some distance ahead along the wall opposite the control room's door. I am now cleaning the floor as someone from my family stands outside and interrupts. I continue cleaning the floor. I now find myself outside the kitchen to its left at the far end of the hall. The counter looks like that of a sweets shop with vertical transparent trapezoidal storage space. I find Himanshi Dua there – my school friend (a fair girl with a round face and long hair). I ask her to have a snack with me from the canteen, and apparently, the canteen lies in the beach area. We go to the watery zone through the control room, walking along the concrete sides of the open area, and get a veg kulcha each. I find myself too bent on paying for us both. I can see that she doesn't really appreciate/like it as is apparent from her distant inner countenance which is emanating a sense of aversion. After we are done eating, I see her standing at the inner T point of my home's society after one enters through the main gate, as she's handing a polythene carrying something to a guy. The view now shifts to the place she's standing and in place of her, it's me now, having just handed over the bag to the guy. But before the person can leave, I retract the bag to take a look and find a packet with two sweet buns inside it – placed side by side. I am thinking of keeping the buns for myself and handing over the rest. But I just had that veg Kulcha and am not hungry but then I like buns, so I am confused. And above everything else, I'm wondering how they came to be there in the first place.

The Story of Karishma:

Karishma Chauhan was a wheatish-complexioned girl with grey eyes and boy-cut and frizzy hair. She wasn't very good at school and scored low marks, but she became my friend as we went along together, and our bond was based on mutual understanding and affection for one another. At the same time, I was spending time with Monica (Bisiyer) as well in different groups of classes we attended together and came to develop a good bond with her as well. Karishma was a dull student, so our bond was formed entirely on the empathy and affection we displayed towards each other. Monica was okay at school and hailed from a lower middle-class family from a nearby village and was very dark – almost black – in complexion. Karishma, however, hailed from a rich Punjabi family as I learned later when she invited me to her home one day on our way back from school as we would sometimes leave together. I couldn't believe that she lived in that grand bungalow-like home I passed every day. It didn't seem like so looking at her that she was 'that' rich. Karishma had asked me to be her best friend before she invited me that afternoon to her home, and around the same time Monica too had asked me to be her best friend. I was so confused because I didn't want to hurt either and I knew that both loved me, and I loved both as well. I anticipated Karishma getting hurt specifically because I knew that Monica would still understand if I told her about me and Karishma. How I wished there were two of me, so none would be hurt! I was stuck in the situation and was trying to figure a way out. When Karishma got to know about the same, she wasn't happy. She reasoned that she had already asked/told me to be her best friend first. I don't recall what happened afterwards, but I do remember that I didn't have a lot of interaction with her during my later school years while I still talked with Monica casually now and then whenever we saw each other. I think it was because she changed her school for some reason. Her dad didn't stay with them but worked abroad, and she was once telling me that some of her family members were going to apply for permanent citizenship there. It was all very hard for me to understand though she explained it to me more than twice. I finally let it go. Perhaps it was because I didn't yet understand the meaning of citizenship. I don't recall the exact reason. I ended up being the best friend of neither of them. I used to be a people pleaser back in school. So, I couldn't tell the other person a 'No' when the previous one had already communicated her heart to me. It was way back somewhere between 3rd to 5th. Karishma, however, later, came to be good friends with Shreya as they had some family ties.

After I woke up:
Vision (Morning): The view of a chubby beige man in an off-white Kurta standing in a dim yellow background with his left arm lifted at an angle of 45 degrees, as drops of blood fall down from the severed junction of his elbow for his forearm is severed and completely missing with the visible inner red flesh at the junction.

The guy sings:
Jaa bewafa jaa
Humein pyaar nhi karna

Dil ne teri pooja ki
Dil ne tujhko rab mana
Dil ki ye nadani thi
Ke dillagi ko na jana

He has a severe problem. Neither does he like how I look but nor is he leaving! Neither does he apologize for his crime and sin against me and my family, nor does he stop committing it while insulting me at the same time and internally hurting my body with the drones – but he won't leave. He has a problem if I feel good about myself and am being expressively myself. Demonically influenced being! He even had a problem with my past inner trait of wanting to move ahead in my career as he along with Akhila was calling me Ambitious in a derogatory tone as if it's a bad trait - though now I know that self-ambition while leaving God's Will is a sin – something which all of them commit. He has a problem with my every inner good quality as he insults even my God-given calling and my character traits. A good person would feel good and invigorated in my company, but he is too bent to make me feel miserable. He indeed is that demonic grey and bald Jaadu from Koi Mil Gya! Looking at this behavior reminds me of my youngest brother Divyanshu's behavior in the dream in which he was insulting the things I loved and then said that he was going to cry at my wedding (representing Death Conqueror).

After waking up, I wanted some time in deep prayer communing with Jesus and asking for further direction and guidance. He is not just the boss but also the loving creator on whom we are supposed to rely on for what we need and give thanks for all that we have. I said this because demonically influenced people like Death Conqueror and Akhila call the children of God whom He sets up for His purpose as volunteers and God as the (emotionless) Boss. He indeed is the boss but it's because He has the right to be the boss – He is the creator! Who does Death Conqueror think he is!? Though God is indeed the Boss, He is also Love and Righteous and Just, and not someone like the poor-in-the-Spirit-of-God rich pigs who sent cameras into my space and portrayed me as a prostitute.

I then had this RK revelation followed by an Akshay Kumar revelation followed by an SRK revelation. I was expecting to spend exclusive time with Jesus and get more instruction and guidance. I wanted him to decide every chore that I did and the order of it so I would not falter. I felt like I had grown too distant from him!

Visions (During Morning Prayer Session):

RK & The Little Girl
A bearded RK standing in front of the cooler to the left of the table in a white cheetah-printed suit with black dots with stubble and slightly longer hair than his usual length. The upper half of an about 10-year-old girl, moving chaotically at her position, was peeking out from his left shoulder with the rest of her body extending backwards. The little girl is dressed in a beige sleeveless dress with straight shoulder-length hair and is moving in her position chaotically (as if wanting to be put down). He holds her by her shoulders and effortlessly puts her in a standing position on the floor while looking at me as he says that I was going not going to die yet.

Akshay Kumar Walks In The Sky
The side-view of the upper half of a huge aqua blue Akshay Kumar (the Bollywood celebrity) walking to the right with the blue sky all around him and a small flat 2-D cloud floating above his head and moving along with him.

SRK With Butterfly Eyes
SRK slowly walks towards the viewer in swag, in a well-lit background, with rectangular translucent black goggles no as black butterflies with green and silver borders appear in the view in front of his eyes and fly away, with him being dressed in a deep V-neck black shirt.

Aamir Khan The Police Agent
Aamir Khan dressed in a black fitted t-shirt talks to someone not visible in the vision, in a golden background.

These song lyrics play in my Spirit now:
The Lady sings:
Aankhen band karke jo ek chehra nazar aya The face that I saw as I closed my eyes
Vo tumhi ho.. Ae sanam. That's you alone..

The Guy sings:
Jisse pyaar karke ha dil ko mere kara aya.. Loving whom brought my heart rest and peace
Vo tumhi ho.. Ae sanam. That's you alone..

Anyway. I didn't want revelations about other people at that moment. Seeing the revelations demotivated me because I wanted more of Jesus and to build my relationship further with the Lord by listening to Him in greater intensity and getting to know His mind - how He wanted me to spend my days and in what order I was to do things. It was almost as if I didn't want any more confusion and assumption, but I wanted a direct and more tangible form of His presence.

The lady sings:
Chalu ruku ishaare pe.. I wish to walk and stop at your signal..

Ref: Lyrical: Khuda Jaane Song with Lyrics | Bachna Ae Haseeno | Anvita Dutt Guptan | Vishal and Shekhar

So, I kept shouting out to Him in my Heart and felt my cries reach up high in the sky! I no longer wanted visions. I wanted His voice and presence to lead me further as it would be strengthening! I found what I received to be so less - the vision revelations and the utterings in the Spirit! I wanted His constant presence so I would not lose heart in any situation - be it being surrounded by wicked men or being homeless on the road, and I wanted to spend bond-building time instead of just writing revelations that I did not understand at times but which made sense after the event came to pass. Seeing into the future and watching it unfold no longer seemed satisfying to me! I didn't want the revelations anymore – about what others were thinking, revelations with hidden meanings, or revelations about the things that were to ensue. I felt too fed up with them! And when I have laid to pray to the Lord, why am I seeing revelations pertaining to Bollywood stars, though, to my heart's refreshment, the revelations carried a magical tint this time. I kept shouting to God! I felt like I was too far away from Him though His Spirit was living inside of me! And then I felt as if I was now too late in my race toward the promise as I stopped fasting since I went home with my mom. I felt like I had been delayed because I was told to not eat a few days before leaving, but I ended up eating at home and then it was very hard to begin fasting again and took me a month to overcome the fall!

The guy sings:
Sajde mein yu hi jhukta hu
Tumpe hi aake rukta hu
Kya ye sabko hota hai..

The lady sings:
Humko kya lena hai sabse
Tumse hi sab baatien abse
Ban gye ho tum meri dua..

The guy sings:
Khuda jaane ke mein fida hu
Khuda jaane mein mit gya..

Khuda jaane ye kyu hua hai..

The lady sings:
Ke ban gaye ho tum mere khuda..

(The song also happens to be the one that I came to like a lot because of its lyrics and melody back during my school days.)

Yesterday I had this vision of Jesus that I saw as a third person in which He was shaking a person on my bed as He stood beside it and said in a hurt and angry tone, "Dhokha kyu diya!? Kyu diya dhoka!? Dhoka kyu diya!?" I don't know in what huge way I betrayed Him when all I wanted was to grow deeper in Him and hear Him better. My mom and dad kept forcing me to eat at home and I caved to the mental pressure. It started slow, with little compromises here and there. It began with an increased intake of liquid drinks as my mom or brother would often come to me with a glass of shake in hand after every two to three hours leading to me eating eventually. I was going so well with fasting previously. I could go on a glass of shake for about 6-7 hours and I didn't feel hungry, but my hunger increased during my stay at home because of the way I trained my body. It took me more than a month to overcome the eating phase! If I hadn't eaten at home, I would've been in a way better spiritual condition! These people just pose a hindrance to one's spiritual growth! And then I received fleshly revelations.

The Guy sings:
Khuda jaane mein mit gya hu..

Ke ban gaye ho tum mere khuda..

17:49
The Guy sings:
Ho.. Ana mere pyaar ko na tum jhoota samjho jana
Ana mere pyaar ko na tum jhoota samjho jana.

Sanam tumhe pane ka ye tha sara bahana..
Chalo bhi jo hua jaane do..
Bahut ho gya jaane do..

The Guy sings:
Dil kahe sambhal jara..
Khushi ko na nazar laga..

Humnasheen O Mere Humnasheen - the song goes with my increased tea intake since I returned from home. I returned in a worse spiritual state.

After having my first mug of sugarless Tulsi Laung tea that I had ordered from Chaayos, I went downstairs to get more tea and when I reached the door of my room with the second mug, the vision of Karishma Kapoor from 'Andaaz Apna Apna' in white holding a beer glass containing water in each hand with the glass held near her ears and shoulders was highlighted to me. She was smiling and showing the water beer glasses to the viewer. So, I guess I am supposed to replace my tea addiction with water, or those who are addicts can look at this vision of an innocent-looking and teethfully smiling Karishma Kapoor in a liquidy sky blue background with glasses of water in her hands and be motivated to replace their addiction with water. I was thinking on my way up in the lift about how I was having a lot of tea as it was my second mug.

Karishma Kapoor became my favorite heroine again this morning when I looked at her past pictures and recalled how I used to be a great fan of her and SRK back in childhood. And today I felt bad about writing previously back during A-16 that I felt insulted by God using the labels of those celebrities for it only focused on my outer appearance, when in fact God honoured me by representing me as them, for they look so much better than me. I didn't look at the revelations in this way previously as I was entirely focused on looking at the inside.

The lady sings:

Humnasheen O Mere Humnasheen	Partner-in-addiction, O my fellow addict
Jo mujhe mil jaao tum kahin..	If only I happen to find you somewhere..
Humnasheen O Mere Humnasheen	Partner-in-addiction, O my fellow addict
Jo mere ho jao tum kahin..	If only you become mine..

Life is once, only once
Time and tide, wait for none....

Vision (Earlier this night): The smiling face of RK in my right mental view with a blob of frizzy hair on his head with three strips of different colors. The face then changes to KA's. There was a green strip at the right, a red strip in the middle, and a yellow strip at the left. It seemed to me to be representing what they've been doing to my brain leading to the formation of the red strip of blood at the junction of the two hemispheres.

Vision: I eat rice and matar paneer with a hand. And I'm eating voraciously. The vision repeats a few times. I take the vision for my willingness to eat and therefore I choose not to eat.

The vision is followed by KA in a white tunic set feeding me rice with matar paneer with hand, and the vision repeats.

I still don't eat it though now I am seeing a hand putting a huge portion of it in my mouth as I lay on the bed. But I still don't eat because I don't wanna ruin my progress.

I keep resting on my bed with one hand on my head as I feel something moving inside and I can feel the throbbing veins or a flow when I put my hand at the side of my head. It reminds me of the vision in which a person sat in the middle of a huge open ground on his foot with vertically folded knees with the sides of his head held in his hands as a huge black demon in front of him got ready to hit the middle of his head with a rod.

After a while of lying on the bed, I see Glory in a white tunic extending the square Chaayos biscuit to my mouth. I am getting this nudge/thought to have the milk with biscuits. But I don't listen to it either. After a while, I reason that it's still less solid in amount than the rice meal, and also it will count as my communion. So, I go ahead with the milk & biscuits nudge.

Vision: KA comes horizontally above me with my olive-green sheet in his hand to put over me as both the sheet and KA drop on me together.

The vision repeats a few times. I go get my sheet as it’s comfier to sleep covered when watched by the public.

The lady sings:
Mela dilo ka ata hai..
Ek baar aake chala jata hai..

3:49

The rice meal is still being highlighted to me. And today I saw that my weight went below 61 kgs which motivated me to reach the 60 kgs goal that I had seen myself achieve in a previous revelation – though that weight won't correspond to a flat belly either. I would need to be near 55 kgs or so. But I don't know. Perhaps Glory gives me some grace.

I remembered that I had to do a two-day fast before church as was told by the Pastor the past Sunday - a way of preparing for church. So, I realized why the meal was being highlighted to me. Because I would be fasting for two days now starting Thursday sunset.

God blessed me with a real sight of RS that day outside the café, it seems - I can't believe it. I am so lucky! I

That was indeed RS at the café that day in Science Faculty, but I couldn't recognize him because, in some of the revelations, he looked bulky while the person present before me that day was way lighter. I didn't know his present look which I got to know later. Or I may be wrong, but an event today told me that it must have been the real him.

When I wrote the above last night, I heard a brief sob coming from the road below followed by this song lyric playing in my Spirit:

The lady sings:

'Ye kasoor mera hai..'

Ref: Yeh Kasoor Mera Hai Ke Yakeen Kiya Hai.....

I felt I was lucky because it had already been communicated to me through a prophetic Word by Sis Adele that if I wasn't going to receive the full extent of the promise in my lifetime like in the case of Abraham whom God promised to bless with offsprings as numerous as the stars – was I still going to work for God? God's promise came to fulfillment many generations after Abraham. When I wrote revelations or formed bonds with those people, I had this mindset of not ending up having them because I had already seen my wedding dream with Glory – a part of which had already come to pass. Though the revelations did not make sense to me at times, and at times seemed weird, I kept recording them. So, knowing that I may never see or spend real time with those people, I got to catch sight of RS! - I mean if he was really RS. It seems like he was RS when I look at other revelations and his look that I keep coming across on the suggested posts on my browser's home page. God made me fall in love with them, but my job was to extract them from the world for the kingdom of God. I actually didn't know how things were going to unfold with those people, if they would be won for the kingdom of God, and if I would actually meet them because, in some of the revelations, I was doing quite exciting things with them - like doing an arm swing in a park with RS who was dressed in his Pepsi cheetah-printed tracksuit.

A Mild Summary

When I received the first fleshly revelation, it didn't make any sense to me because it didn't represent my character as such for I didn't (and still don't) go around fornicating with people whom I haven't already formed a deep bond with, much less with people who act wickedly. The first fleshly revelation I received in Room D4 of A-16 had a distant view of a naked woman getting down on her knees as a naked short-heighted man stood behind her with a horizontal penis who started oscillating after the woman was down on her knees. I didn't write this revelation for long because it came as a huge shock and surprise to me because I didn't see myself indulging in that act with a wicked man in anytime, and I had my promise of marriage as well given to me already. Why then would I commit such an act with someone I had come to abhor because of his wicked deed? So, I quickly brushed the revelation aside and forgot about it soon. After a while of shifting to room D1, I got to know about Death Conqueror's unusual style of fornicating from a You Tube Shorts' recommendation, and it made me recall the forgotten revelation. The YT reco also served as a confirmation that the vision was indeed a revelation and not something my own mind created because when I had the vision, it had come across as something very unexpected as this was the person I was trying to get rid of in a way, and I had already seen Glory in my marital promise in A17/B during mid-2021, and then I am a loving partner and very committed – so why would I have even thought of this unusual scene! The next fleshly revelation was with Akhila when I had shifted in room D-1 after which she was calling me her husband as she once entered the room hastily, looked at me, and whispered, "My husband.." – this again was quite a shock to me because though she had given me some inviting gestures through her acts since I shifted to A-16, I never entertained but ignored them, and they made me feel aversed from her. The revelation didn't stop me hating her character traits of being mean and gossiping about others, and it didn't make me feel physically attracted to her either. I questioned why I would even get such a dream in the first place – I could tell that it wasn't from my own subconscious but was given by the Spirit. And then I had the abrupt and unexpected revelation of 'A Kiss of Love' in which I saw the clean-shaven semi-animated face of RS very slowly kissing me below with closed eyes in a skyblue watery background – again leaving me shocked, because – well, how come I receive revelations related to Bollywood celebrities now, and then I didn't know him back then either. I had the dream revelation of Malang Malang as well in which I saw KA and I was shown as having a good hearty, and fun bond with him – again, unexpected. I kept having revelations with Glory as well intermittently, but they weren't a surprise because he was the person of marital promise. So, me receiving revelations about him made sense to me, but the revelations with everyone else were a shock at first and stayed so for months until things unfolded, and I began receiving more revelations which, again, were unexpected. Everything has been unexpected! But nothing shocks me now anymore because I became used to interacting with people from all backgrounds. I formed heart bonds with those people. I now expect God to show me unexpected people in revelations (not considering the fleshly ones exclusively but all kinds of revelations) – for e.g., I saw Mark Hall of Casting Crowns looking at me during a worship session when I was singing an English worship song – previously it would've seemed like a shock, as shocking as the revelation of Sis Adele worshipping the viewer dressed in a parrot green ethnic tunic – it didn't make sense to me at first. With all those different people together, we end up looking at them the way God looks at them – He looks at their person and not their worldly condition/status.

As time progressed, I came in contact with some of the people I had revelations about – people who were great in character, those who reflected God's character traits itself. That's why God gave me revelations about them – for His eyes were on them. He used me as a plumbline to connect different parts together. Though I didn't fall for Akhila who displayed mean character traits and made things emotionally difficult for me – I fell for those other people who displayed godly traits. You see, I looked at their hearts, and it was not my intention to sin. I looked at their hearts, and it seemed selfish to me to ignore or be apathetic to their loving hearts. If God hadn't showed me the revelations, I wouldn't have known a thing and my heart would've stayed distant from them. But because He showed me those things, I too extended love to them. I saw their hearts, how humble and righteous they were despite their worldly status.

And then God gave me same-day revelations as well – like in the case of Mayank. This day I happened to come across him in the dept on the Multi-Storey building's helical stairs, and the following night I had the song revelation 'Aa dhoop maloon mein tere hathon mein' that had the hero dressed in the same clothes as Mayank wore that day and had him standing in a setting that reflected my own encounter with him that day. I didn't know that the song pertained to that day's encounter – it was when I looked it up that it made sense to me, and I looked it up because it played in my Spirit too profusely and kept repeating itself. I could tell that it wasn't from my own soul but was being communicated to me through the Spirit. Then I had song revelations with AK as well – they were all hearty, and not fleshly (such a pure bond). This particular song lyric 'Khuda se jyada tumpe aitbaar karte hai.. Gunaah hai jaanke bhi baar baar karte hai..' repeated in my Spirit many times and it didn't make any sense to me either.

So.. this seems to be the summary of the people called by God to His kingdom in the Notebook by far. And then we have Profs. TRS, Sanjay Jain, Shobhit Mahajan seen in some good godly revelations. Awadhesh Prasad was shown as being beheaded by an unseen weapon in a vision. Jema was there as well wore a silver tiara on her head in one of the revelations. The first Bollywood actress God represented me with was a teary-eyed Kareena Kapoor sobbing slightly being dressed in a thin shoulder-striped skyblue slip, with straight hair and a flat front standing behind the back of a guy (Glory) dressed in a full-sleeved long boxy skyblue shirt. She looked straight ahead while sobbing silently as the guy stood at some distance to her left. It seemed he was pissed at her for wearing that slip and was showing her the way to dress by putting on that fluffed shirt.

And this night was the first night I saw Glory extend his hand to me to feed me something. Another event of luck this night!

"Ye itni padhaku kyu hai!"
"Why is she so studious?"
Heard in the Spirit (yesterday late evening)

"Zinda Rehti Hai Unki Mohabbatein.."
"Their love remains alive.."
Kept repeating in my Spirit for two days somewhere during the past week.

And in this PG, even my nails got stronger while they were so weak and broke easily when I was living with Akhila. I was wondering if it was because I got stronger in the Spirit in her absence or perhaps because they have a washing machine here while in A-16, I washed my clothes with my hands.. Or it could be because of both reasons. But I am definitely much better here than I was with her where I had to listen to her talk about others to Shin, always gossiping and judging and saying mean things about someone - mostly me. At least, I didn't have to face that sort of thing here though I faced physical damage because of the drones inside.
The lady sings:
Aa aa aa aa aa aa.....
Aa aa.....
Ref: Humko Humise Chura Lo Song | Mohabbatein | Shah Rukh Khan, Aishwarya Rai | Lata Mangeshkar, Udit N

The chorus continues..

The vision of the blossoming of three pink buds along three curved branches:
I happened to look at the PG's right side a few days back and saw some individual pink buds at the end of long curved green branches extending to the right as I had seen in the vision back in A-16.

6:29
I just woke up from some disturbing revelations.

Dream:

I am peeling a cucumber and putting the peels on the cement slab in front of the cooler near the other end of the room. As I peel more of the outer covering, I see that the cucumber loses its rigidness in some places as I peel the cover off. I then realize that I've to pick up the cucumber peels. I move my hand along the narrow surface and pick up the peels in one go as I slightly brush around the other stuff lying on the slab.

The lyric in the Spirit:
'Khench ke vo cheer de' in the melody of lyric katal hone ki umeed from the song 'Sarfaroshi ki tamanna..'

'Khench ke vo cheer de' – it kept repeating in my Spirit for a while.

It reminded me of the previous revelation in which a knife ran above my body from my lower belly to the center of the outer lobes as I lay on the bed. The lyric then also reminded me of the abrupt visions from last night that I had after I returned from the market. The visions weren't nice and seemed to be labelled, as they also corresponded to an indirect threat I had received online from a general source many years back in 2019. The threat comment on that post had seemed too out of context with the post as it said that the two guys were going to come inside the place of the (targeted) person and were going to rape her.

The abrupt semi-animated vision I saw as a third person last night as I stood in front of my cooler after returning to my room in A-10 from the market, having bought earbuds from Dhamaka Sale:

I saw two naked men get hold of me and lay me down on the floor, tie my hands to the sides with yellow ropes, followed by an abrupt and instant stripping of the lady on floor, with one abruptly removing the upper clothes, while the other the lower. One of the guys then was busy with the lady's upper body, while the other with the lower body. One of the guys was represented by a stubbled and neck-length straight-haired RS and the other by short-haired KA. Well, looking at vision didn't make me feel scared because I knew that the labels were not the people they represented.

When I went out of the room and was standing in front of the lift, the vision continued with a naked KA now pushing me down on the floor with an abrupt force.

The visions seemed weird to me because the characters of RS and KA had by far been represented as being Godly, caring, love-filled and therefore Holy.

The visions from the past night, and the online threat from late 2019 - after these reminders, I woke up completely with the motions still going inside my head. It was then the following lyric repeated in my Spirit:

'Aashiqon ka aaj jumghat kunchaa-e-katil mein hai..'

But before I fell asleep about an hour back, I had this beautiful vision. Perhaps it contains hurtful info, but at first look - it's beautiful.

Vision: I saw a distant vision of a huge lady lying on her side in the same pose as mine on the ground of a forest and she was covered with a thick solid layer of soiled ground with a thin sheet of fresh green grass on top with just her beautiful and fair round face visible through the green blanket. In front of her lay the open forest area in the direct sight of the viewer. I then saw a tiny man dressed in a full-sleeved white shirt tucked inside black pants come into view. I thought if he was KA. He started walking towards the huge face of the lady towards her lips. His entire body was much smaller than the face of the lady lying on her side. He continued walking towards the buried lady, resting with closed eyes, when the vision ended.

The violent visions are so depressing. It's hard for me to write about them, and there exist people in this world capable of committing such evil.

Then I hear the following song lyric play in my Spirit:
"Deewangi deewangi deewangi hai…"
'Craziness in love, Craziness in love, Craziness in love is all there is..'

Ref: Lyrical: Deewangi Deewangi | Om Shanti Om | Shahrukh Khan | Deepika Padukone | Vishal-Shekhar

RS Stabs His Forehead

Short-heighted RS dressed in a full-sleeved orange shirt with a vertically narrow moustache near the upper lip stands and stabs his forehead at the centre. The vision repeats a few times.

Dream(s) (Morning):

The Demonic Attack

I am in my room talking to my mom and one more person when they suddenly tell me to be quiet and whisper in my ear that there's someone present below the bed. They all leave the room quietly and hide in the balcony, and, apparently, the dream-me (dressed in a thick orange knee-length dress) too leaves with them while looking at the real me as she exits the balcony door – the real me stays on the bed. The real me is half-conscious by this time and many thoughts run through my mind – how can there be someone present below the bed, there isn't even enough space for a person to fit in let alone hide. I don't seem to believe them.. but after a few seconds, I feel a strong demonic oppression on my entire upper half followed by a brief vision of the right shoulder of a thin man in a half-sleeved vest I front of me near my feet near the table. The vision of the shoulder disappears immediately followed by an invisible hand hitting a black t-shirt hanging on the chair placed in front of the other table. I start praying. It is hard to speak things out. I then start binding the demonic spirit and after repeating 'I bind you in the name of Jesus' a few times, the oppression decreases, and I feel better. When I open my eyes, there is no black t-shirt on the chair.

The incident is followed by the chorus of the following worship song:

Saari srishti ke malik tumhi ho
Saari shrishti ke rakshak tumhi ho
Karte hai tumko sadar pranaam
Gaate hai tere hi gungaan
Ha Ha Ha Ha..le..lluYah
Ha Ha Ha Ha..le..lluYah
Ha Ha Ha Ha..le..lluYah
Ameen..

Saari Srishti Ke Malik Tumhi Ho (Official Video) Shawn & Shanon | Worship Songs 2023 | Yeshu Ke Geet

I wake up for a while but fall back into sleep.

The Worship Pen

My brother Himanshu found a job and is about to leave for that place with my mom. I've a transparent pen with a blue cap that plays worship songs when the side stick of the cap is pressed at its bottom end. I want to give it to him for it will help him in spiritual warfare as he was already suffering from demonic delusion in the past and had even started to yell out long shouts around two years back, but he refuses to take it.

These lyrics play in my Spirit:
The Guy sings:
Raakh ke badle sehra ho

"Wife!!"

Vision (Yesterday): Glory dressed in a black t-shirt over black trousers says "Wife!", places his hands on my breasts and starts kissing me with me against the wall opposite to my bed.
The vision repeats a few times in different forms.

The lady sings:
Tere sang pyaar mein nahi todna.. Oh ho..
Tere sang pyaar mein nahi todna..
Chahe tere piche jag pade chodna.. Oh… oh… oh.. oh..
Tere sang pyaar mein nahi todna..

Ref: The song from the movie Nagin (1976)

You see, though the song has the shape-shifting female snake singing it for her shape-shifting lover male snake, we let go of the snake part as we don't worship the devil but want to break all bonds with him and join forces with God. The lyrics and the bond communicated are of significance, and not the song's video. It's very much equivalent to using intuition to apply right concepts while explaining a scientific phenomenon and choosing to leave out those that may seem to be applying to the situation, but don't.s

Seen as a third person:
Vision (during day): I see Glory in a black half-sleeved t-shirt over black trousers leaning on a woman resembling me against the wall on my side of the bed. The woman's black t-shirt is lifted as he has his hand on her left breast with a white pointed cross-fit bra on top as he is kissing her.

Vision (Night): The face of John Nash gets superimposed with a black 'X' as it moves backwards in a dark background.

I fell asleep while listening to a worship song when something hits my head internally and I hear a male voice saying 'Utho' (Wake Up) nudging me to complete the pages.

I go outside to buy something and, on my way back to PG come across a guy who, again, resembles RS and is dressed in cute yellow and blue clothes. As soon as I make an eye contact on the first look, I get a strong inner jolt in my heart in the Spirit making me go back to looking forward. I stop in my track after a few steps as I felt strongly in my Spirit to do so. I turn back and look at him. He looks back at the same time. I continue moving forward, but again, I feel this confusion and look back again, move forward again, and look back again, finally entering my PG laughing at the situation.

Visions at night while working:
Bearded RS in yellow drops quick soft kisses in a row on my lips followed by a close graceful dance after which my close graceful dance with him in a white dress with him dressed in a black and white tuxedo was reminded to me.

The dance revelation with RS in black & white also reminded me of a previous revelation I had when I was waiting to go out on that night of full moon to walk on the street as I had seen in my dream. I was staying in room D1, and Akhila wasn't present during those days – perhaps she was at home. I was sitting on my chair in front of the table dressed in my long blue denim skirt with pink woollen shawl on top waiting for the clock to hit 22:00 as I had seen in a previous revelation on the roof. It was around the time of March/April last year (2022). I sat in the dark with lights turned off but with the room lit dimly with light of the candle burning inside the House of the Lord. I then saw a beautiful semi-animated vision of a bride in white and a clean-shaven groom in black and white dancing together in the lit area above the House of the Lord. The faces of the two weren't specific but general. It made me think of Glory as he was the person of the promise according to the 2021 vision. The vision then shifted on the top of the wall in front of me – that part of the wall being lit dimly with light coming from outside through the wide pane of windows and carrying the shadow of the leafy branches of the tree outside. The vision played on that beautiful background of the wall lit with the shadow of the tree leaves and continued to do so. It was such a beautiful sight. I've recorded it previously in this book of revelations as well.

Now, looking at the criss-crossed revelations makes me think if they reflect God's Word given by Adele that said what if I never received my promise in my lifetime – would I still work for Him and walk with Him!?

Some of these revelations that I attributed entirely to Glory previously now came to hold relevance with other revelations related to other people. So, is it the labelling at work, or is it that all are going to constitute the Bride of Christ together as they come to the Lord God and become a part of His kingdom, while I receive Glory as my promise of earthly marriage. I don't know. That's the only way it makes sense. But looking at God's great plan at work to win souls is amazing. His infinite wisdom is beyond our understanding. I am not His only child whom He wants for His kingdom. All are His children whom He created, and He calls all to Him. Jesus is the Groom, and the collective spiritual body of believers is the Bride (of Christ). So, my wedding is actually an analogous situation of Jesus' wedding with His Bride, as I've explained previously as well – though it's embedded behind a huge mass of past pages.

Interestingly, that night that I saw the person resembling RS, I had randomly happened to look up the time before leaving my PG, and it was 22:02 – the prophetic number that I've shared previously as well in one of the past pages. Strong's 222 stands for the 'Flame of God' or 'Two Israelites', and Israelites were His chosen people – the nation He Himself made (for Himself) to follow His statutes.

For the first time, I felt like praying for a state as I have now matured enough in the Lord and understand things differently. I began praying for the state of Manipur in the name of Jesus when I had the following vision:

Dragon Breathes Out Fire on the State of Manipur

I saw a distant vision of a land burnt with fire with see-through buildings packed with people inside while a huge black head of devil the dragon in the sky above the land poured down fire from its mouth, covering the entire space - a wide and intense breath of fire, as people hid and packed themselves inside buildings with none in sight on the open land that only carried the burnt remains of his attack.

It's the affliction of devil being poured out on God's people in the state. (So, through the vision, God revealed that it's not the people that are causing trouble in the state but the devil.)

The lyrics play:
Saiyarra Mein Saiyarra
Saiyarra Tu Saiyarra
Sitaaro Ke Jahan Mein
Milenge Ab Yaara

Ref: The 'Saiyarra' song from the movie 'Ek The Tiger'

Vision: The Ancient One makes a preparatory Ninja pose with one hand stretched to the left side and the other half-stretched to her front.

Though the Manipur vision was not a good vision, I feel glad that God showed me something that pertained to the level of a state - for the first time.

Let us pray this prayer for the people of Manipur in the name of Jesus:
Father God, we come before You in the name of Jesus and ask You to pour down Your Holy Spirit on the state of Manipur, to rain down Your Spirit on the State, so that the fire caused by the devil is fully quenched, and people receive miraculous healing. We pray for complete healing from head to toe of all the people who got emotionally, mentally and psychologically hurt by the firey attack of the devil. We pray that You bring supernatural peace and healing to their hearts. And we bind the devil in the name of Jesus and command him to turn away from the state and leave the people alone. We pray that people recover from the financial and physical losses they suffered because of the demonic attack. We pray that You cover their state with a shield of Your Spirit and send angels to ward off the attack of the enemy (the devil). Lord, fill the people with Your Spirit so they themselves are able to pray and do spiritual warfare, and not stay mentally oppressed by the damaged caused by the devil. We pray for complete healing and restoration in the name of Jesus. Amen (Synonym for Indeed)

For the first time, I felt the kind of peace one receives after praying for others. All this while, I was so mentally depressed and felt suffocated that I could not see beyond my own undesirable situation. But now, it doesn't affect me as much. I guess my progression towards being like The Ancient One has begun.

I want to pray strong prayers. The above are the kind of things I want to see and pray for – something that ministers to another child of God, and not be occupied with receiving fleshly revelations all the time like it has been going on for the past few months. Like The Happy Prince stood at the tower of the city and saw everyone in it - people in need of one or the other thing - and sent the swallow to help them out, in the same manner, I want to see those who need God's ministering and whom I am supposed to go to minister to them, instead of receiving fleshly revelations that don't help in my spiritual progress. The one with Akhila annoyed me a lot because I strive to do the right thing and it was certainly not the right thing to do, and I had to think hard about the underlying meaning the revelation carried, and I've shared my past understanding of the same in the initial set of pages.

The Mindset of The Ancient One:
She doesn't get or can't be lured by flesh but loves people with Godly love. She is stable in her emotions and is wise. She doesn't say unnecessary things, let alone mean or abusive stuff, for she is grounded in truth, logic, and faith. She is in control of her flesh and is not affected by temptations coming her way. So, in the mindset of The Ancient One, I would leave behind the fleshly revelations but keep the love-filled ones.

Vision (at home): the upper half of blue Shiva at the top left corner of the master bedroom of my home above the LCD unit.

Later, I figured that it could be related to Akshay Kumar's recently released movie.

9:37
I woke up with the chorus of this song playing in my Spirit:

The duo sing:

Aaj ka din Yahowa ne banaya hai..	The day of today is created by Yahowa
Hum isme anandit ho..	Let us rejoice in it..
Anandit ho..	Rejoice in it..

Ref: Aaj Ka Din (Official Video) Shawn & Shanon | Worship Songs 2022 | Yeshu Ke Geet

Vision (last night): The top-view of a group of skydiving men in polo or plain t-shirts and shorts in the dark holding hands in a circle as they fall down with a blinking point in the centre of their circle.

The above vision made me think of my eye... if it was in some kind of danger. I don't know what the revelation means. Haven't understood it yet.

While resting today:
Vision: A wide-open blue eye with a black pupil in a well-lit background without the eye-lids.

Vision: The side-view of the left half of a man in a striped skyblue & white shirt.

After working out, when I was removing hair from my feet:
"Nang dhadang, Nang dhadang" - and it kept being repeated in my Spirit.

I questioned why was that being said about me when I was fully dressed, and I can't work out wearing long kurtis or some other unstretchable cloth?

The Capture of the Holy Spirit
After bathing during the evening, I was thinking of having some tea as refreshment, with the song 'Ho Teri Stuti Aur Aradhana' still playing and was about to turn to the door when I had this abrupt vision in front of me of Jesus' left side/shoulder in an intimate hug with me as He held me, followed by His tangible presence/touch that I felt around my right shoulder. I saw that He wanted me to be with Him and spend that quality time with Him holding me close - this time with zero distance between us as we were in a slow duet, while in the previous vision from a few days, there was a distance of about 1.5 meters between us. I understood that He had heard my prayer from yesterday. He held me close to be my support in the moment of me about to succumb to the recurring thought of having tea. It reminded me of what I had prayed the previous day, that if I was about to do something I wasn't supposed to do, then He be with me and stop me from doing it by replacing the struggle with His presence and love. I continued in the intimate dance with Him for a good while. But the thought of having tea kept recurring to me. I could've shunned the thought and distracted myself, but the thought would've kept recurring to me. He saw this. So, after a while, the next thing I saw was Him standing a few meters away from me and hastily pointing to the door with a strong instructive countenance. He was telling me to go and have some. Also, I haven't had anything else besides water since morning. The vision of Him pointing to the door repeated a few times and then I went to fetch my tea. I recalled the time I easily fasted for a day without food and water. I told myself that I would be able to do it again soon.

I had lesser amount of tea than I usually have.

Night

While listening to 'Ho Teri Stuti Aur Aradhana':

And They Keep Kissing

I see the side-view of me kissing RS with us standing between the beds and him facing to the left and me - right. While I am dressed in the same clothes I am wearing (white t-shirt over black trousers), he is dressed in a shirt with an intricate multi-colored print of yellow & black with its buttons open all the way down to his belly with just the last few ones buttoned up making a wide V-shape around his chest. Additionally, in this vision, he's shown as being too bulky with a very wide and muscular chest - very different from how he looks, though he is carrying the uniform stubble all-over with neck-length straight hair. Our faces are so embedded into each other that I can't even see the lips of the duo. They are holding each other up tightly and closely.

The vision continues for a while as I watch the duo unceasingly indulge in the act.

After a while:

Within the Deep Outer Space

I see the side-view of the two, but this time from a level below them. They're no longer in the room but all that is visible is a colorful view of stars and galaxies above them in a dark sky from the level that I am seeing the vision. This time, RS is gently wiping the red lipstick off the lady's lips with a long and multi-colored printed cloth in his hand. For some reason, he wants it off. And then he kisses her again.

The follow-up vision has the extremely wide man on top of me with my legs spread around him as we were in the act of intercourse while still kissing. There were flames of fire reaching upwards above the midsection of the man. The hairstyle of the wide man then changed to one with a very thin ponytail at the back.

The dance of RS with me in black & white was also highlighted to me. And this time, RS lifted me up horizontally – with me being dressed in the long white dress.

('She just wants attention' – highlighted in the Spirit, while writing above)

Let me pray for no more fleshly revelations (labelled or otherwise):

Lord, I don't want fleshly revelations anymore about others. Though I understand that I was given those revelations because I had a strong and armoured mind that won't sin despite watching its own indulgence in flesh. But that was because flesh had no meaning to me in the absence of love. And now I have come to love those people, so the fleshly revelations get to me. You don't temp Your children to sin, but you give them what they can handle. I love those people, but I don't want to sin against You or my promise of earthly marriage. My delay was for a purpose - to call others to Your kingdom. But I don't wanna fall into sin and neither do I want to be an unfaithful wife or a sinning child. I want to walk on the perfect path in Your will. I also understand that You give me those revelations to mold hearts, open the eyes of Glory, and also because you don't want anyone to perish. I also understood that the revelations were in tandem with the revelation of a metallic skeleton with a red light on its head – a subsection of my calling that involves revelatory physical indulgences with those people – and at times they are so unexpected that I am not prepared to accept that they could represent truth (present or future) – like the revelation of me lying naked on top of a naked Akhila on her bed while kissing her and rubbing her groin and calling out her name several times. But even after I had the revelation, I didn't look at her in a fleshly way. It didn't change my righteous self that didn't look at people with fleshly eyes. Flesh was a means for me to express love and not to have fun - it still is a means to express love. Now when I look at Akhila's revelation, I think if it showed that my 'godly' love for her was much greater than hers for mine – as she said out my name very few times while I was doing so after every second – yet another interpretation.

The hearty revelations were straightforward to understand, but the fleshly ones with people I didn't know yet or didn't love intensely came as a shock to me at first glance. It was so against my own nature, but I wrote what I saw. I think the revelations also served to expand my extremely focused sense of love and made me a bit more social to some extent. I still want to walk on God's golden path. I understood how intensely God loved those other children of His - that we went to the extreme to fetch them to His kingdom. But the revelations also revealed embedded parts of my and other people's hearts – parts that reflected scenarios that would bring us the heartiest satisfaction, or the ideal way things should be. Some parts carried useful teachings with labels. Well, let me get back to track as this intercourse has deviated a bit away from the line of prayer.

So, Father God, I come before You in the name of Jesus, and pray that You give me revelations that help me better in resisting the devil, do better spiritual warfare, and that teach me how to effectively manage my time with everything at hand as I don't read Your Word often. Give me revelations that make me Holier and transform my mind to be like Yours in character.

If I sing the song 'Tum Ho Mera Pyaar' with KA but don't indulge in fleshly sin, it won't be called sin – just an example.

Now when I look at the dream revelation which had me show my dad a movie ending with RS holding both his hands upwards in response to which I reminded him that he wasn't supposed to raise his hands according to the script, I question if God gave me an acting job, a calling of acting out with different people and calling them to the kingdom of God, but I ended up raising my hands for real with some people because of their good Godly character which I wasn't supposed to.

Anyway. Lord, you know what our hearts can handle.

So, let me pray for others as well now. I realized that I should do that more often. I was so preoccupied with my own suffering and persistent headaches that I didn't pray for others with an open and fresh mind, for I always felt internally suffocated and constricted. I will pray daily for those people God brought into my life – for them to walk closely with God and in His Will and for them to eventually be a part of His Kingdom.

Earlier I used to pray for Glory's salvation daily or repeatedly after I came to know that Jesus was real and was the Most High God as I've had revelations. It was after I saw Glory here and there and then I had also received God's promise of my marriage. This was the only prayer I knew back then. I wasn't a pro in prayer and couldn't think of many things to pray. Previously back in 2020, I used to pray after Sabbath for Death Conqueror to be saved as I spotted him a few times in my home's society. Any person whom God brought in my vicinity – I didn't think about indulging with them in flesh but I prayed for their salvation – them coming to Christ.

I prayed exclusive prayers for KA and RS afterward because of the heartbreak revelations I received. My heart doesn't seem to break now because Jesus has it and He is so faithful, good, and supernatural and manifests Himself anywhere and anytime and starts a duet as He sees necessary like He did today.

But I have more prayers to be prayed – for them to be covered against the attack of demons meant to lead them away from God.

I will hold KA in special prayers – for him to be filled with the Spirit of God. What a joy to sing a worship song together! Well, I can sing a worship song with Glory as well, but I don't think he would entertain the idea. The minds of most people are grounded in the world and flesh.

I can imagine the immense joy and pleasure I would receive in singing a worship song while holding hands with another lover of God and looking in his/her eyes as we sing praises to God. But I would cherish it especially with my covenant partner.

After worship, when I lay on bed:

Pink Clouds of Smoke Rises From My Heart

Pink smoke rises from my heart in an abrupt manner like a chimney and takes the following shape from left to right above me:

I ♡ Kartika Aryanaaa

I saw it forming going from left to right in a line as the view of the vision shifted alongwith.

Another release of pink-colored smoke rises up like chimney smoke and takes the I ♡ shape above me..

The Lady sings:
Hmaari khushi ne sazaa di humein…
Maar dala…
Maar dala…

Ref: Maar Dala - Devdas - FULL SONG - FULL HD - 1080p

I just hope Glory doesn't kill me as I keep hearing 'Maar dala..' intermittently. Remember that I am servant of God before killing me! And I didn't make up the revelations with my own mind. It's all a cascading effect of what the short-heighted fellow did!

Before falling asleep:

A Glowing Sis Adele on a Black Chariot

Vision: I saw a semi-animated view of Adele (Grobler) glowing in bright yellowish-white light, moving to the left holding black reigns in her hands, being dressed in a thick blue & white Disney dress with her blonde hair tied at the back with a straight flock resting on her forehead - covering half of it. As she moved further ahead, the chariot was revealed to be black and being pulled by a group of what looked like smaller-than-usual black dogs, which later were shown as black monkeys. Her chariot was black, the animals pulling the chariot were black, and the surroundings were black/dark, while she stood tall on the chariot - glowing in the bright light- emitting it.

SRK Does Sit-Ups

Vision (past few days): A butt-naked short-heighted SRK does sit ups between the beds facing in the direction of my bed being dressed in just a long off-white shirt wearing nothing below.

Dream (Morning):

I find myself passing through the narrow space between a horizontally protruding tree branch and a parked white bus as I am walking with my dad and other family members to watch the movie 'Taare Zameen Par'. As soon as we sit on the row of steel chairs, I feel hungry. I walk back to my grandma's home – from where we had left for the movie. I enter the open cemented brick veranda of the house through the backdoor and see a huge pot of yellow curry being cooked. I walk further down into the smaller veranda and see some people sitting there. I tell them that I've to eat something. The people look simple-minded and good natured and seem to hail from a village. A thin guy with a vertically narrow moustache dressed in a full-sleeved shirt tells me about this wedding they're to go to after a while and that I can join them and dine there. But I can't afford to lose time going there for I've to go back to the movie. I see food being cooked in the outer veranda. Apparently, it will be taken to the wedding. I don't eat anything but walk out in the bigger veranda and take a left. I am thinking of having the yellow curry with roti, but I end up talking to some people present there. I see a young child and interact with her. I am about to ask her if she goes to school, but she seems to avoid answering it. I then come across three more little children – all dressed in a navy-blue sweater over shirt tucked inside blue pants. They're standing together, and though seem to be of school-going age, their actions depict otherwise. I ask their mom about the same, but she doesn't answer properly. I suggest her to get NCERTs – so they know at least the basics well, and the books will serve as a good foundation to lead them further. The dream then ends, and I wake up partially after which the worship song Aaj ka din Yahowa ne banaya hai starts playing in my Spirit.

09:10

I had this revelation on the morning following the night that I wrote about how minds are but the consciousness of God-created spirits superimposed on physical brains, and how wicked, evil, and corrupt brains differ from righteous ones.

I was sitting on my bed with my back resting against the wall when I had the vision.
CM does sit-ups.
Vision (29th July): A short-heighted version of Delhi CM Arvind Kejriwal does sit-ups while smiling in front of me between the beds holding his ears – being dressed in a full-sleeved shirt tucked inside navy-blue pants. (I don't know his real stature, but in the vision – he was.)

The vision repeated itself a few times.

I feel like eating something spicy (chat) from Chaayos, but then I am reminded of the dream in which the Pastor and his wife served chat pakoras from a street food counter in a room filled with people. I will have chat pakoras tomorrow at church in the form of worship and Bible study.

During Washing clothes:
The Lady sings:
Din bahut kam reh gaye hai zindagi mein meri..
Karna hai kaam phir milega mauka mujhko nahi..

Maut zindagi ki aakhiri manzil to nhi..
Maut ke baad ek aur zindagi abdi...

The above lines repeated themselves a few times.

Abdi zindagi mein apne kaamon ka pratifal paun...

Anant ke liye kuch inaam kama jau...

The Lady sings:
Aa aa Aa aa aa….
Aa aa Aa aa aa….

Music plays..

The Guy sings:
Do pal ruka, khwabo ka karwa..
Aur phir chal diye tum kaha hum kaha..

The lady sings:
Do pal ki thi, ye dilo ki dastan..
Aur phir chal diye tum kaha hum kaha..

The Lady sings:
Aa aa Aa aa aa….
Aa aa Aa aa aa….

The Guy sings:
Tum the ya thi koi ujali kiran
Tum the ya rang saari dishao mein the

The lady sings:
Tum the ya sapno ka tha sawan..
Tum the ke khusiyo ki ghata chayi thi..

The Guy sings:
Tum the ya tha koi phool khila

The lady sings:
Tum the ya mila tha mujhe naya jahan..

Ref: The song 'Do Pal Ruka' from Veer Zara

The chorus of this song first played in my Spirit during the last year when I was getting mentally ready to go out to make rounds one of the first few times, as I waited in the hall of A-16. And it took me a lot of time to step out because I was thinking what if that part of the dream actually came to pass this time since some of the previous events had also already manifested in the order that I had seen them? It was very anxiety provoking. By that time, I only had the wedding dream and other unrelated revelations and not the courting phase and others. But now I don't know if they were all shadow revelations or events that would've actually come to pass.

Anyway. The song was playing in my Spirit now – more than after a year, as well. I heard the lady singing the melodious 'Aa aa Aa aa aa…' yesterday as well.

And now I hear:
The Guy sings:
Janam dekhlo mit gayi duriya.
Mein yahan hu, yahan hu, yahan hu, yahan..

Kaisi sarhade, kaisi majburiya..
Mein yahan hu, yahan hu, yahan hu, yahan..

12:19
The Guy sings:
Kyu koi kaatil samajhta nhi
Ye jurm vo hai jo chipta nahi..
Ye daag hai vo hai jo mitta nahi
Rehta hai khooni ke haath par!

Khoon us haseena ka jab tha hua..
Koi vaha par pahuch to gya..
Lekin use vo bacha na saka..

Dream (Afternoon):

I find myself lying resting on a bed inside a sheet. It's dark. I see the face of another person fast asleep horizontally at some distance away below my stretched-out legs. He too is covered with a separate sheet and has overgrown ruffled hair. Though it's dark, I can make out that his face resembles Death Conqueror's. After a few seconds, a person the size of a toddler dressed in sleeveless skyblue and white over nickers comes inside my sheet and starts talking to me. Though his stature, looks and skin texture are like that of a toddler, his mind is that of a man. We both are lying on our sides and having a casual chat with Death Conqueror still asleep below us. Apparently, I am internally stressed and am sharing some problems with him – and he's speaking his mind on the same. He's being too patient with listening and responding. Out of nowhere, the next thing that follows is me asking him quietly, "Will you give me a Blow Job?" He responds casually with an "Of course. Sure.", with a neutral expression. He goes between my split legs and begins to give me one. I see myself wearing my white boyshorts. He doesn't remove it but slips it to the side. I feel that he's doing it too lightly, so I move downwards. After a few more seconds, the toddler abruptly leaves with an "It's smelling!" – said in an annoyed tone. I recall that I haven't bathed for more than a day. After he leaves, I too leave the bed, leaving the other guy asleep alone, and am now riding on a two-wheeler alone out in the open day while the view on my left is visible to me. Though there isn't much traffic, and the day looks blissful with open surroundings and no mounting buildings edging the road but present at a good distance away to my left – the view resembling that of the open highway on my way home – I am feeling terrible for what has just taken place as I repent before Jesus while driving. I am constantly telling Him how sorry I am for what I just partook in. I've committed a huge sin and I feel too guilty.

(Fornication is a sin. Christians, or true disciples of Jesus who follow His teachings understand Him, His teachings, and His statutes that are not understood by the worldly people like Death Conqueror who live a stinking life of fornication and hurting others while sinning against the Most High. Real Christians who're in the Lord understand the gravity of sin and avoid it in any way they can.)

I repent and repent looking at the open blue sky with some clouds floating and feeling guilty – knowing that I've sinned. The next scene has me back in that space sitting on the bed with the toddler sitting in front of me with his back resting against the wall, and legs stretched out. He is no longer dressed in the kind of cute white top with a sky blue border worn over skyblue shorts – what he was dressed in the previous time he was with me – but is now wearing a half-sleeved white shirt with a vertical print of fine thin lines with wide sleeves over thick blue nickers, and I can see that he has a cute bulging toddler belly. (See that he is maintaining his distance this time.) He informs me that a pic of the event had been clicked and circulated. It further stresses me out. However, he tells me with a mentally destressing hand gesture that I wasn't visible in the pic but only my lower body as that was what was covered inside the sheet. I recall the presence of floating cameras and lament at my stupidity – that why did such a thought even come to my mind? The toddler then tells me that Vipin was there too, another guy's name ending with the third name – Vikas. He is informing me about what all followed the incident. The name Vipin confuses me a bit, as the guy lying below us resembled Death Conqueror and not some guy named Vipin and then that guy wasn't even inside our sheet. This part of the dream then ends and is followed by a female voice singing 'Dil deewana.. Ek na maana..' in the tone of 'Khul ke jhoomo, khul ke gao' from the song 'It's the time for Disco' – the lyric accompanied by the dream-vision of the closed door of my PG room's washroom with the empty brown chair placed to its right against the wall, followed by the day-view of a junction below a flyover after which I woke up.

Even when I was writing the above, these lines played in my Spirit as they often do everyday. The lines play one to three times per day on an average.

The Guy sings:
Kyu aisa kaatil samajhta nhi
Ye jurm vo hai jo chupta nhi
Ye daag vo hai jo mit ta nhi
Rehta hai khooni ke haath par!

Ref: Dastan-e-Om shanti Om from the Bollywood movie 'Om Shanti Om'

Well, the dream came as a surprise to me because why would I be sitting on the same bed as the sinning demon-possessed criminal Death Conqueror, even if in the presence of a toddler? And the dream just doesn't reflect my persona but that of a casually sinning generation. It actually gave me a window into the lives and minds of worldly, ungodly people. I would avoid sin if it's in my control and not go ahead with it like I did in the dream. If I was shown to be with my covenant partner, then it wouldn't have come as a surprise to me, and I won't be having any guilty feelings.

Visions (afternoon):

KA on a Bull

KA comes riding speedily towards the viewer on a muscular black bull with white horns carrying fiery expressions in a well-lit environment/daylight. He is dressed in a white shirt with a spacious floral blue-colored print.

KA & The Bald Goalie

A clean-shaven KA kisses the bald goalie from the movie Shaolin Soccer as huge streams of mucus run down from his nose incessantly.

SRK with a Rifle

The side-view of SRK on a brown horse dressed in a brown suit with a white shirt inside with black goggles on with a long gun in his hand looks down at me and reassures me to not worry.

After returning to PG from the Xerox shop:

The Guy sings:

Tum chupa na sakogi mein vo raaz hu..
Tum bhula na sakogi vo andaaz hu..

Gunjta hu jo dil mein to hairan hu kyu..
Mein tumhare hi dil ki to awaaz hu..

Sun sako to suno dhadkano ki juba..
Mein yahan hu, yahan hu, yahan hu, yahan..

I told God that I wanted some meaningful revelations. I don't wanna be busy answering fools like Death Conquerors as God gives me the answer to their insults before they reach me, and it seems to me such a waste of time. Why should I listen to and answer the insults of fools like him!? I have better stuff to do. I was actually feeling very much pissed off to the extent that I shunned all revelations pertaining to Bollywood stars. I wanted to clean up my mind and was reminding myself of the righteous self that I was. I didn't want a window into the filthy minds of people fools like Death Conqueror and Akhila! - No more! - I told God. I resisted all revelations for I didn't wanna be burdened with writing answers to utter demon-possessed fools. After a while of resisting and clearing up the air, I felt like I had gained some clarity of mind and felt better. But when I lightly brushed the side of my face against my pillow in some relief, I had the following vision:

The Nun Neo
The view of Neo lying on his side on the pillow in the same pose as mine until his shoulders but with a black Burqa head wrap with a beige satin lining inside. He looked like a nun.

While I lay in bed – resting, I was overloaded with vision revelations. It makes me dread resting because instead of having a communing hearty time with Jesus where I spend silent and heart-filling time with Him, I get these revelations some of which are, though, good - others just target the moral fools (like Akhila & Death Conqueror) God is trying to minister to through me. Some of the revelations are written below:

- KA comes out from the right facing the viewer in a forest setting with a narrow road behind him going through the trees as he points a gun forward. He is dressed in a black jacket over black pants with a white neck-high t-shirt inside. This was a good revelation.
- Chatur from the movie 3 Idiots, dressed in a grey safari suit in a dark blue background, stands in front of a huge label with the number 1 inside a circle and looks down at me.
- RK comes riding a bicycle in a white shirt vertically striped in light green and peach/pink as he trips a bit on his bicycle.
- The card of Ace comes at my face.
- A movie logo resembling the appearance of Fox Star Studios.
- A huge muscular Neo tears apart the outer covering of Judas the betrayer and walks ahead. (When God intermittently compared me to Judas the betrayer for the phase during which I didn't care that I was eating, though He already knew that I would go through it, how much worse are these people!? God is Holy! It's not a joke!)
- And then I kept hearing in my Spirit: 'Kartika, tum jaag chuki ho!', 'Kartika, you've awakened!' - It repeated a few times.
- I also saw a firey white football coming at me through a dark background which was countered by the bald goalie who easily put down the fire with the ball left fuming in her hands.

After I decided that I wasn't going to partake in sin and was going to judge all revelations and test the Spirits, it was then that I suddenly felt stronger. And the following vision that I was having a while back changed as written ahead.

A small framed vision, seen as a third person, of the villain Dushman hitting my head repeatedly with a rough oval stone in a background lit with yellow light, but after I become stronger in the Spirit, he looks scared as he moves backward throwing away the stone with me hovering on him with him now lying on the floor against a wall looking up at me followed by him quickly running out of the building through the corridor well-lit with yellow light.

'Jalta Hu Mein Tujhse'
'I'm jealous of you.'

There in the ground, his body lay..

I realized that in the vision of The Lady in Green & Beige, my head was covered. So, the person acted as a covering on my head. So, was RS a label for Glory in that revelation?

Past Revelation
Vision (Past two weeks): A black pathway with surfaces of black and white checkered boxes resembling that of a chess board extending parallel to the pathway.

22:07
I woke up in the morning with this song playing in my Spirit.

The duo sing:
Prabhu ka dhanyawad karunga
Uski sangati mein sada rahunga
Sath chalunga mein jai jarur paunga
Sath chalunga mein jai jarur paunga
Prabhu ka dhanyawad karunga..

Na degi mujhe duniya kabhi bhi
Koi sukh aur shaanti araam

Kitna Acha hai vo, Kitna dhanya hai vo
Yeshu hi mere jeevan ka saathi

Kitna Acha hai vo, Kitna dhanya hai vo
Yeshu hi mere jeevan ka saathi

Meri jarurato ko puri karta hai vo
- Koi ghati nahi mujhko.

Prabhu ka dhanyawad karunga
Uski sangati mein sada rahunga

The lines in bold were strongly highlighted to me as the song played in my Spirit.

During Church:
My dad comes with a rod ay my head, dressed in a white tunic set. He is beating someone lying on the floor brutally with a metallic rod. I see the vision from ground level as if he's beating me alone. He then drags me out of the church. It seems he's too angry.

But when Independence Day gets celebrated afterward with the huge map of India and children holding flags, and others – candles – and the Pastor singing for the well-being of the country and asking Jesus to hold the Indian constitution in His hand and make it Holy – I saw him kneel on his knees in front of the map between the children and other standing church members, smiling, while carrying one of those small Indian flags in his hand. He was no longer that angry dad who was beating me previously.

Post church:
When I was having communion with fellow believers while sitting with Shanti's daughter Angel, and was observing the environment of merriness around me with the tiny Angel eating in front of me, and an infant lying in front of me on the floor, I had these lines repeat in my Spirit:

The Guy sings:
Hasle, gaale, ye din na milenge kal..
Thodi khushiya, hai thode se ye pal!

The lady sings:
Ek bar chali gayi jo ye bahare..
Laut ke na ayengi guzri bahare..

Everyone sings:
Mela baharo ka ata hai
Ek baar.. Ake chala jaata hai..
Lautengi bahare, baharo se kahenge..
Karm jo hai apna.. Hum karke hi rahenge!!

Mela dilo ka ata hai .. Ek baar..
Ake chala jaata hai…

Ref: The Mela Dilo Ka song from the Bollywood movie 'Mela'

The lines continued on my way back to PG, and they actually made me feel too scared. So, I lay in bed feeling too fearful, and after a while decided that I should go and look for a place to shift to as the current one is too expensive for me given that I am not even having food from the place while paying for it, and then I'm not working a job either that pays me and am relying on the money I received during my PhD tenure!

What scared me about the song was the lines serving as a frequent reminder for me to live in the present moment as I didn't have a lot of good times left ahead. I didn't want this reminder. If I have to die today or tomorrow – then so be it, but why should I be reminded of the eventuality in a mocking and scary tone as that of the song? If the song carried a tone that conveyed the sense that though the present contains moments of joy, the difficult future can be sailed through as well with Jesus – it would 've been a good way to keep me motivated, but these lines just demotivate and ruin the good time that I am having at any moment! I could face a life-threatening situation right after an extraordinarily amazing moment in my life – I would be prepared for it. But why should someone keep telling me to laugh and sing for the moments are few – it's so depressing!

God's Spirit doesn't bring fear. So, I was wondering if the lines conveyed someone else's thoughts. Because for me even losing an eye would be mirroring Jesus in His photo that's there as the thumbnail of the 'Is He Worthy' worship song shared in this notebook – an extension of Him mirroring me. Then why should I feel scared and ruin the good time I am having with Godly people! The lines just disgust me and are so ungodly because they take away joy and insinuate a sense of ending, helplessness, and fear of the future when there should be none. What God has willed should come to pass, but why should I fear it? I should go through it in my love for Him.

And whenever I hear these lines Hasle, gaale, ye din na milenge kal - they don't seem to carry a godly aura around them! Because in our suffering, we are called to sing praises to God, and I can laugh and sing even in suffering! So, the lines just don't make any sense to me, because when I am happy, they ruin my mood. I am called to be happy by God by witnessing His goodness, and not be miserable by looking at the wickedness of devil!

After I returned from booking a room and was done talking to my mom as I complained about how my situation was decreasing my productivity. I was feeling very much annoyed with the spy cams' situation as I shared with my mom how I would've done better in all aspects without this constant pressure on my mind – how it made my daily routine chores extremely difficult for me (making them seem like a huge mountain to be climbed on every day I woke up, while dumbass and morally useless people like Akhila and Death Conqueror only say and do things to spread poison in the life of God's people!)

Unproductive and useless people are living free without oppression while those who are talented and gifted by God for His purpose have to face the filth of narcs of the world who try to kill/suppress their calling, gifts, and abilities. Both Akhila and Death Conqueror seem so so dumb and repulsive to me carrying only a useless smart tongue! I am an asset to God's kingdom and my parents and as I work for Him and also support my family in a way by supporting my own self, but people like Akhila – they are useless liabilities who only waste the time of their lives in toxic ways that further the cause and ways of the devil. Likewise, Death Conqueror is also a liability because he is not adding to the moral wealth of the country. Without the right morals, any place goes berserk in a certain time duration!

I was uttering out my frustration to my mom about how a normal person has many things in life to worry and stress about, that life in itself has plenty to wear one out, and then these wicked people came to oppress me and make things worse, that I wasn't liking the spy drones situation at all and wanted severe judgment on the head of this person, that I would be doing more Bible study and better research without this constant pressure on my head, that in the absence of these wicked men, I could've followed God with a free mind, and that why should I follow the whims of a demon-possessed man who only deserves 100-200 slaps from me – it was then that my mom ended the call because she knew that I wasn't going to stop.

After the call, I had the vision of the face of KA in his usual black & white attire with red love hearts in his eyes followed by both him and RS standing at a distance against the wall opposite my side of the bed with red love hearts in front of their eyes as they gave each other a side fist-bump. While KA was in his usual black & white, RS was in blue and white – the attire of a navy-blue suit with a white shirt inside from previous visions.

I had just fallen into the initial phases of sleep when I had this vision.
Vision: I saw a huge bowl of cooked brown cholas as a Bhatura fell inside the bowl and was being immersed in it. It made me question how was I supposed to eat it. Was I to eat it the way I at times eat lentils with roti – by breaking the roti into small pieces and immersing it in the liquid? But the vision had the entire Bhatura put inside the bowl of Cholas, which was followed by the same thing happening to another Bhatura.

I fell asleep after a while and woke up from this dream:

Dream (Evening):

I am in the Satguru broker's shop that helped me find the new place today in the real life to stay that I already booked today itself. I see some tiny objects placed on a shelf on the wall behind the shop's counter. The one I am holding in my hand is a small translucent letter A with one of the legs of the letter slightly deformed. While I am looking at it, apparently, Death Conqueror stands to my right looking at it as well. I am saying, "So, this is perfect..!?.. This is perfect.." while looking carefully at the letter. I can see that it's not perfect, so, I throw it far away at the front into the visible space ahead through the wall where the object lands. I then move on to other small objects lying on the shelf and I find that all are light yellowish and star-shaped. I like the small stars more than the alphabet A for it was just an alphabet while those other objects were stars. They were perhaps star-shaped earrings.

Narcissists or other toxic individuals keep people like objects on the shelf. It doesn't matter how many people they already have at their disposal – people who are willing to sleep with them, to cater to their whims – but yet, they will come after the one who doesn't want to have anything to do with their kind; they come after that person not to love her or treat her respectfully in a godly manner, but just to add her to their shelf, their harem – to be brought out whenever they feel like using her! – That's who he is in his true face!

I am now sitting on the bench in front of the table, and the orientation of the table is parallel to the door and is set right in front of it – a perpendicular setting to the shop's current one. It's night outside and I am eating roti with a veggie – perhaps matar paneer – when I see KA walk inside, and he is about to sit fully on the bench when I notice a bowl of veggie placed below him and remove it quickly before he is fully placed on the surface. He was shown as wearing loose-fit white jeans and had a lean ass. The stamp of the veggie would've been more prominent on his white jeans had I not been vigilant. I chat with him for a while and very much apparently – he is my friend. The next scene shows me now out of the shop where I see him walking. The next vision shows just his smiling face with the background of the shop/inside of a grey building. The following scene has me standing inside a building facing an open-ended but covered thin grey horizontal slab with a sharp line of an end – much like the surface of a sharp weapon. Something in the dream tells me that they're my lips following which I see an orangish red liquid come sliding on the slab from the other side as I collect it in my red bathing jug while it falls down off the grey slide. I now find myself drinking that soup contained in my white Jesus mug and see that it's tomato soup with thin boiled solid strands of spinach inside, and I am still having the tomato-spinach soup when the dream ends and I wake up.

I've found the presence of spinach in quite a few revelations now. First, the fact that Popeye the sailor man ate spinach and gained his power was highlighted to me many times during the past year. Secondly, in the dream that had a humanoid being injected with consciousness and the curtained room of Father-God, I had seen the side-view of a girl sitting facing to the left in front of another girl, and she had her hair tied low at the back as she held a rusk with a green spinach paste placed in a mounting localized manner in the middle, and it seemed that she was about to have it for lunch. And then I had the above third revelation of the tomato-spinach soup. I will sometimes cook spinach in my new place. It seems to me God wants me to have liquids along with spinach.

Also, when I wrote above the part of that girl holding a rusk with the spinach paste on it – it reminded me of Akhila, because she often cooked Spinach with Paneer and often wanted me to taste it. And now that I look at the revelation again, that girl had a long face like her, and she wasn't herself having the spinach rusk, but kept holding it in front of that other girl in front of her, while silently smiling at her. The girl with the rusk sat at a lower level than the other girl in front of her, and it seemed that she was offering her the spinach rusk joyously. So, Akhila actually offered me to have her cooked palak paneer because she was trying to get closer to me. She would come to me by herself and tell me that she was going to cook palak paneer and that she would've me taste it to let her know how it was. It sounds quite funny now. It was all before Death Conqueror came into her life. Now that I look at her behavior in the light of this revelation – it seems too cute – because once when I entered the kitchen to cook something, I found her standing against the wall dressed in a neck high light purple sweater with a black coat on top of it and her hair tied low at the back as she was trying to give an intellectual look, and as I had entered the kitchen, she had abruptly played these song lines on her phone: 'Oh Rabba mein to mar gaya oye, Shadai mujhe kar gaya kar gaya oye!' making serious expressions while looking down at her phone. I ignored her. I wasn't staying with her during those days, but she would come to my room by herself to ask my opinion about the things she cooked. I noticed that she was trying to get my attention, but I ignored her attempts, and they didn't affect me either. That day she played the entire song afterwards in the kitchen while I was cooking. I wasn't attracted to her at any time but her behavior… now that when I look at it – it seems cute. I think she just wanted some acknowledgment and attention, but I had very strict mental boundaries. I still have. But what has changed is me not feeling repulsed/aversed too quickly from someone displaying behavior like hers, but I would be patient and nice, though I won't be attracted or want to fall in sin with that person. I won't be completely distant and ignorant like I was with her at times. She had come across as a better person in the initial phases than what she became after she came in contact with Death Conqueror and started mirroring his thoughts. And then.. after I shifted with her, she used to make tea for me as well in the morning when she would make it for herself. She would ask me if I wanted some, and because she did it often – I had become comfortable asking her to make some for me if I saw her going to the kitchen for the same.

God could've shown this to me previously as well. But I guess there's a right timing in His mind at which He reveals the previously hidden truth about past situations.

Now I understand why I woke up with the worship song Prabhu ka dhanyawad karunga – because God planned to lead me today to find a good accommodation to shift to.

I don't want the 'Hasle, Gale, ye din na milenge kal' lines to play in my Spirit. Perhaps I will go through a lot. But if I have Jesus' love in my heart, why will I be afraid – as we reiterated the Bible verse today in the church today: To live is Christ and to die is profit (for believers) – likewise I should be filled with Godly joy which is independent of the situation. But the lines seem to reflect that they talk about worldly joy that's solely dependent on one's worldly circumstances.

The lines also try to instill a sense of fear and helplessness but why should I be fearful and feel helpless when I have Jesus who bought me for His kingdom and has expressed His love for me in numerous ways and is bringing many people to His kingdom through me? I should be happy that I got called by Him and chosen for calling people to His kingdom!

Additionally, the lines seem so foolish to me because it's not that I'm singing and laughing in ungodly worldly joy. I am singing praises to God, and it makes me happy because He IS that person encapsulated in those songs. I am only repeating what's true, and it makes me happy – very much similar to feeling happy in the company of a good family member. God is family – He's the Father! The song lyrics are so depressing and sometimes I think if they reflect the thoughts of killer criminal Death Conqueror!

So, whenever the lines would play in my Spirit, I would shun them out for I want to live in a continuous state of godly bliss and not worldly bliss. Worldly bliss is fleeting and no match with godly bliss. And, also, even if it's a fleeting fair of hearts, I am taking those hearts with me up to Heaven – as was shown prophetically by the image of many small hearts leaving a tree of hearts and moving upwards. So, those hearts are not lost in the world. I don't want to listen to this stanza from the song again. I didn't even like the movie very much because of the violence involved when I watched it way back in childhood, but I still found myself humming the song's melody back in 2019 while using the washbasin in the common washroom of Veera's PG, and then I was wondering why this old song was coming to my lips when I found the movie so depressing and wasn't a great fan of the song either. I found it strange that I was singing this unusual song suddenly, out of nowhere. And when I was humming the song, I heard the beep of a horn from right outside the washroom's wall to my left. Apparently, someone was parked there at that hour of the night. It indeed seems to me to be a demonic assignment when I look at the behavior of Death Conqueror and the spiritual demonic oppression that I felt back in Dr. Bharati's house that morning, and then there's this demonic aura in the air I sometimes feel emanating from his persona when he's not even in my physical sight. I can't even stand in the presence of wicked people.

The last-to-last time that I was walking back from the photostat shop to my PG, I felt such a demonic and fearful aura around Death Conqueror, when he wasn't even in my physical sight, that I didn't want to be in his vicinity in any case. His physical appearance isn't scary, but his inner self, tendencies, and thought patterns are! The wicked aura that I saw was so huge and floating in the sky – like a resisting presence that made it hard for one to walk through it. The wicked aura seemed such a burden as I thought, "How wicked!... How Wicked!"

And then I recall how Adele's godliness would make me breathless out of my admiration for her if I was to sit and think of her character traits and persona, but this wicked person makes me breathless by his wickedness – for the scary, wicked, and ungodly aura is so hard to breathe in! Adele's persona overflows with godly traits leaving you amazed and overflowing with admiration making it hard to breathe, while this person's wickedness is such an overflow of demonic aura that one feels suffocated, oppressed, and constricted – much like a slow death by inhaling something poisonous – though it's killing you, you can't resist it. On the contrary, Adele's traits are like the sweet fragrance of fresh flowers that gets on your mind and leaves you in a trance as you're unable to contain the joy of it. You can't resist it, but then you don't want to either – because it's so pleasing and uplifts you.

And writing the above para reminded me of the previous vision in which a clean-shaven RS with white glasses on, resembling Glory's facial expressions to a good extent, held a bouquet of colorful flowers below his nose as he extended it below to my nose and then back to his – such a wonderful revelation!

Even if I have lesser time left on earth than the useless wicked people, why should I spend them in fear and misery, when I have Jesus to look up to – who has revealed Himself to me in several creative ways?

More people call me 'Randi'

(Past week)

I was using the washroom when I saw RK say 'Randi!' with a constrictive tone followed by 'Situation hi aisi hai!'. He would then call me Randi again, followed by 'Situation hi aisi hai!'

Then a few days back, I saw Prof TRS call me Randi in a constrictive inner countenance as if he felt like calling me Randi because of the situation/circumstance but it was said with mixed emotions and not truly meant. (Could be a label.)

But a few weeks back prior to the above vision, when I had started worshipping Jesus accompanied with open singing, I had this vision of him looking at me with wide open round eyes filled with love and adoration while smiling, from a level of about a foot or two above the ground.

14 August 2023

I woke up from this dream this morning.

Dream (Morning):

I get back in touch with Meera while I am in a variation of my grandma's home that has been long broken down, a part of it sold, rebuilt, and eventually all of it sold/given away. Meera and I share things from our individual lives. I share with her my remorse over what she went through because of the cancellation of her wedding with Bhuvan a day prior to it (as told to me by Anjali), that what they did was indeed very wrong. We share all this on a chat as its huge screen is shown over the background of my grandma's home, followed by her face being flashed along with as we chat further. I'm reading a thick book with a red cover. I come across a line near the bottom of one of the pages on the left side. It talks about computer applications and geography. I don't understand it in one go, so have to think for a while. After going through the book for a while longer, I give it to Meera. I now see her face reading the book. She asks me about the same part I had to think slightly more about for she hasn't understood it either. I explain my understanding to her after which she quickly withdraws with a resentful 'Theek hai'. She didn't like her having to ask me about it.

It later made me recall the time that we were both reading together when she stayed at my home back in 2014/2015 for a few days. She was reading an MSc classical mechanics book and then she made an unwelcoming comment 'Samajh aa gya!' while looking at me and nodding in a serious manner. She was a smart lady, but she felt inferior when she compared herself to me. Back during those days, she had completed her first sem of MSc in IIT Madras and was with me during her post-Sem break, while I was enrolled in DU. The way she said that 'Theek hai' in the dream resembled how she had behaved back at my home when I was busy reading my own thing. Her behavior was quite unexpected, but it revealed to me how she always felt. You see, I end up making stupid mistakes or choices now without much thought at times when I am already aware of my logical fallacy, but I still go ahead with those decisions – it doesn't affect me or doesn't make me feel bad about myself as a person because I am more concerned with the state of my heart and not how smart/intellectual I come across as. But whenever she noticed me just being me – the times that I showed up my natural thought process undergoing at the moment – she felt insecure. She even felt insecure about my tendency to acutely observe things unblinkingly which may come across as something foolish to someone observing me, and then she was sharing with me in a hateful and envious tone how she once acutely observed a spider-web during her Vipassana days. When I had met her during BSc, I saw how smart she was, so much better than me. But she stopped bettering herself and I flowed in her flow as well and didn't hone myself either the way I had wanted to. Both of us wasted our BScs together having fun, but it was godly fun, and we loved each other's company.

Back to the dream now: I am amazed at her speed as the part she questioned me laid at about the 3/4th section of the book – and it was about 4 inches thick book. She had covered it within half a day and was about to complete it. I comment about her increased reading speed to which she agrees. I feel happy that she's improved because she always to. I never felt envious of her skills/qualities that were better than mine. I was then thinking about my own speed – I would've easily taken more time than her. I see that I've downgraded. She's significantly improved in her ideas and skills though she doesn't believe in Jesus yet.

It reminded me of an incident from back in BSc when we both were reading a pamphlet on the notice board outside out college classroom, and how I had covered 7-8 lines within a second or two when she asked me where I was, following which she told me that she still was on the first line. I realized much later after our BSc was over, that she felt inferior in those aspects. But in the dream - she was so much better now. Well, I am no longer that person either. I somehow lose my qualities in the presence of wickedness!

Dream continued: She has evolved in her spiritual ideas as well and talks about the greatness of the love of God which she fully believes in, but she does so for 'Ram', and not Jesus. I want to tell her that Jesus is the God in flesh who left heaven to come to save God's children out of the system. I can see that it will take her some time and discussion with me while listening to my revelations to be able to accept the truth. But then she may not accept the truth as well.

I go at the back of the house and exit and see a lion sleeping peacefully outside in the snow with his head resting on a rock. I go back inside. After it wakes up, I am wondering if it's going to cause harm and ruckus, but surprisingly, when it comes inside – it doesn't.

Yesterday, as I made sense of the Mela Dilo Ka.. song – how it was highlighted to me back in 2019, and how this phase of my life was prophetic – I also looked at the song revelation:

The Lady sings:
Kaat kaleja Delhi
Mera kaat kaleja Delhi
Ley gayi kaat kaleja Delhi
Mui Delhi ley gyi..

as I saw my heart being gnawed out of my open chest, making me think if the wicked ones got irked with the work of God through me – that how He brought together many hearts to leave for heaven. Is it a coincidence that I used this image for editing the 'Mela Dilo Ka..' song, along with the fact that I had those other heart revelations.

And while reading the above lyrics while editing, the thought came to me: Why is my story so important? And then I remembered that it were the revelations that I was writing, and God changes hearts displays His nature at work through the stories of different humans of which the Bible is a collection of – people whom God poured out His Spirit on and led according to His purpose.

Also, I don't feel bad about my lucid way of writing. In all the words that I read that came from God, He didn't try to say things in a showy grandiloquent manner but was very simple in communicating what He wanted to. One can go and read the Words released by Sis Adele. It's what we are saying that matters, and not how we do so. Any wise man prefers simplicity of words without the use of unnecessary complex labels that unnecessarily complicate things. God displays His greatness of who He is in His creation, in the way He created us as angelic beings with Free Will, and how He is in control of everything and yet meek and humble in nature – someone who winds people with His Love; He doesn't display His greatness through a flashy use of words –what inferior humans indulge in. On Earth, a variety of things exist: people say rash, ungodly stuff, people say lies, while some say grandiloquent stuff without substance to look flashy , but who can say a meek but true word that comes right from the heart – the weight of which doesn't lie in the word itself but in the unseen meaning it is given – understood only by a resonating mind. It's God who does so, and His true children, or those who carry His nature.

These lyrics have been playing in my Spirit for a few days:

Ab door nhi hai kinara
Dheeraj ko hamare badhana
Jeevan ki hmari is naiyaa ko
Bhav sagar mein khone na dena

Ha Ha Ha Ha..le..lluYah
Ha Ha Ha Ha..le..lluYah
Ha Ha Ha Ha..le..lluYah

Ha Ha Ha Ha..le..lluYah

Ha Ha Ha Ha..le..lluYah
Ha Ha Ha Ha..le..lluYah
Ha Ha Ha Ha..le..lluYah

Ameen..

It's sickening and exhausting to be among unbelievers, because every godly thing seems and sounds weird to them!

Banake kyu bigada re…

God can lift someone up but can also undo all what He did and take everything away in a flash – according to His purpose. He has the right to do so. "Mujhe haq hai.."

22:42
I was standing on the roof's railing a while back and observing the road when I happened to look at something written on the side of a tempo, and though I didn't read what was written, the chorus of this song began playing following me just looking at the word(s).

The Lady sings:
Havana, ooh na-na
Half of my heart is in Havana, ooh na-na
He took me back to East Atlanta, na-na-na, ah
Oh, but my heart is in Havana
There's somethin' 'bout his manners
Havana, ooh-na-na

He didn't walk up with that "how you doin'?"
- When he came in the room
He said there's a lot of girls I can do with
- But I can't without you
I knew him forever in a minute
- That summer night in June
And papa says he got malo in him
He got me feelin' like...

Ooh-ooh-ooh ooh-ooh-ooh-ooh-ooh- ooh
I knew it when I met him, I loved him when I left him
Got me feelin' like, ooh, ooh-ooh-ooh-ooh-ooh-ooh-ooh-ooh
And then I had to tell him, I had to go
Oh-na-na-na-na-na

Havana, ooh na-na
Half of my heart is in Havana, ooh na-na
He took me back to East Atlanta, na-na-na, ah
Oh, but my heart is in Havana
There's somethin' 'bout his manners
Havana, ooh-na-na

Vision (Morning): A naked and beige Glory on top of a naked me in the act of intercourse as the tissue tube gets fully inundated with a speedy, continuous and consistent flow of semen being ejected by his genitalia, as it even flowed out after filling up the inner space.

The vision repeated itself a few times.

While I was singing in solo worship without the music playing along with:
Heard in the Spirit (Evening) – 'She just made my day.. She just made my day..'

This was the first time I heard it in my Spirit since I started singing Worship songs. Back during school in 9th class when I sang 'Tu Jahan Mein Wahan' from the Bollywood movie Salam Namaste in front of the class, Samsher Sir appreciated my singing a lot and he also said after my performance while looking at Shreya that though the music was absent – it didn't really seem absent. Shreya was close to Samsher Sir and like a friend to him. He was the in-charge of our class and taught us physics, chemistry, and maths. He was a wheatish man with a face cut resembling that of Hrithik Roshan, and he had grey eyes.

I was sitting on the roof having some silent time alone (apparently and not really), when I saw:

Vision: Police Inspector RS sitting on a foldable bed with a white sheet spread on the mattress as he talks with the other few policemen around. He is shown as having a bald head with very tiny spiky hair as he sits bending forward. The bed seems to be resembling that present in the room I booked yesterday to shift into, the bedsheet is tucked below the mattress and the space below the bed is empty, and the adjoining wall is white..

The Guy sings:
Koi bhi aisa lamha nhi hai
Jisme mere tu hota nhi hai..
Mein so bhi jau raaton mein lekin
Tu hai ke mujhme sota nhi hai..

Tu hai ke mujhme sota nhi..

Ha tu hai, Ha tu hai..
Meri baaton mein tu hai
Meri khawaabon mein tu
Yaadon mein tu
Iraadon mein tu hai

Past revelation:
I was lying in bed when I had this revelation. It was at night somewhere during the past week.

Vision: A demonic naked KA with a reddish hue on his skin abruptly gets on my bed and looks between my leg with an open mouth with slightly pointed teeth. He splits forth my thighs viciously, and the follow-up vision has the side-view of me where I am wearing the same black t-shirt I am dressed in, but my lower half is naked with thighs spread outwardly, knees vertically folded, and feet resting flat on the bed as my ass is hopping on the bed's surface like a fish out of water with the view of just a penis half stuck inside my vagina. Apparently, I want it out but it's stuck, and I can't seem to use my own hands to get it out. There's no other person visible beside me, but just a penis that's attached to my vagina. I wanted it out in the vision and am struggling with it inside me. It was a creative way to represent the truth – that the person who sent that spy-cam inside only sent a genitalia that had nothing to do with who he was but only had to do with him feeling pleased.

It reminds me of the pain that I feel at times when the drone hits inside at unexpected places up too high where it is not supposed to be. The night that I had the KA shower revelation, while I was getting out of the washroom, I felt hits in a row at the inner organs inside my vagina making me make light noises in pain. Though the drones are small, they can cause huge damage and pain if they hit the sensitive inner organs where they're not supposed to be! How will I ever get them out by my own self!? And when I got the ultrasound done – no such thing resembling a spy-cam was seen thought the left effect of it bursting the egg in my left ovary was seen. I don't know how. Perhaps they went lower and hid. I don't know. But I do remember the day I saw the blood stain of an insect on my panty after bathing when I felt pain at the surface whenever I sat down.

8:10

Dream (Morning):

I am in a physical game that has multiple players in multiple lanes arranged in a square shaped maze. The lanes have reddish-orange side walls. Each player plays it with one partner that's present in the lane he chose, and the way it is played is by both the partners moving cloer and away from each other within the lane while staying in the lane. I have Karishma Kapoor, dressed in a holy thick white tunic set, as my partner. She has her innocent look from the Bollywood movie Andaaz Apna Apna. She's looking so holy, godly, and good as we walk backwards and forwards toward each other. But then I leave her and shift my lane with another partner who doesn't look as holy, godly, and soothing to eyes and soul as Karishma Kapoor did. Why I did that – I don't know.

The next scene has me carrying a thick, long, and wide hard-bounded book with a black cover with something printed in golden on it, and I'm reading it with another girl as we both work things out and write the answers inside the book with a pencil. All girls in the scene are dressed in black uniforms with golden badges and labels. To my left at some level below is a ground with huge machine parts. I am sitting on what looks like a cemented elevated platform by about a meter or two. I see the side-view of Prof Sanjay Jain standing in the ground to my left at about 5-6 meters. He stands facing to the right and came to make an inspecting tour of the situation as a truck stops about 4 meters away from him and opens its sliding door that's facing him. Out of it comes a huge black cuboidal machine part that slides and stops in front of him. I hear the phrase rand rover.., rand rover.. being said around. Apparently, it had to be delivered and is here. Behind Sanjay Sir is another machine part occupying the space between his back and the wall. The other huge block is about to slide down and Sanjay Sir is stuck between the block in front of him and the one lying at his back as the thick black extended arms with pointed ends of the sliding door of the truck cover his sides making it difficult for him to get out of the space. He starts shouting as he will be hurt/crushed if the other part also slides down. Also, there's a train track below right next to the platform I am sitting on with that other girl, and we can hear the sound of a train approaching us from behind. The scene then changes to the train standing still beside me and apparently, the machine parts have been removed – as I can see through the space between train compartments, and perhaps Sanjay Sir is rescued and is safe. However, I see a teenage girl dressed in a tunic set with her hair tied low at the back standing silently in the very narrow space between the wall at the back and the boxy metallic machinery in front which is apparently the train's last compartment. (But if that's so, how did the train end up being there in the first place for it came from behind.) It seems too weird to me that the girl is standing there. Is she hiding? I continue reading the book with that other girl in the police uniform as we are figuring things out and filling in some blanks together with a pencil. We are to board the train that's about to move but we're still busy with the book. A bald guy with tiny spiky hair walks in the view in front of me and stands facing to the left carrying a casual Haryanvi look of a half-sleeved white shirt with a white stall around his neck with its loose ends hanging in front, and suggests in a stereotypical orthodox tone that only males board the train and the females be held back. It makes me feel disgusted looking at his mind as all are supposed to leave. The train starts moving slowly. I pull the book away from the girl sitting with me to gesture that it's time for us to leave. But she keeps holding the book and doesn't move from her place. I try a few times and can see that the train has gained momentum, but the girl is still – still. I leave the book with her and run for the train and as I look back, I see her dressed in the black police uniform with those golden badges sitting with her family members against the wall beside the platform while looking silently in my direction. I don't know why she chose not to come along. It seems that she chose to stay with her family instead of getting on this very important train that we all had been waiting for to board. I run to catch the train, and there're others running as well, but the train has sped sufficiently enough to leave me unable to cover the underlying distance as I see that it doesn't decrease though I am running with all my might. I've left the cemented platform and am now on the solid soiled ground in my pursuit of the train as I see more people to my right run with all their might to catch it. They seem to be young boys dressed in off-white half-sleeved shirts over nickers, and I don't see any girl in those police uniforms – apparently, most girls in police uniforms had already boarded when the train was still on the platform.

We run across the segment connecting the curved path of the train which has now gained great momentum and we would definitely not be able to board it without an unexpected slowing down or supernatural intervention. But as I see it come rushing in from the left and the view shift to the right – I see that its track goes down into the soiled ground, and as the train runs over it, it starts going below the ground level. The point at which its top meets the solid soiled ground catches my attention and I see that that's the only way we would be able to board it and that that's how others are running for as well. Those other people run and get on top of the moving train at that place on the ground. As I am approaching that stationary spatial point of the meeting of the train's top with the ground, I start feeling a bit scared to get on top for it is moving too speedily – though not at its full speed. I am still on my way to that point of intersection but have slowed down a bit because of sceptical thoughts running through my brain about if I would be able to get on top of the train safely or would be able to continue on top of it through the journey without falling down when the next scene shows the view of a station as looked through the stationary train's window from inside it. The station looks like that of a rural area. Apparently, I must have successfully boarded the top of the moving train and got down when it stopped at a station. The view now shifts away to the right into the train's chamber when I see a tall and lean man inside dressed in an off-white shirt checkered in brown over brown pants with neck-length wavy hair and sideburns. The train chamber is not crowded and has some men dressed in white cotton tunic sets. I am still observing the chamber when the following lyrics start playing in my Spirit:

The Lady Sings:
Mera kaat kaleja Delhi
Mera kaat kaleja Delhi, Ley gyi
Kaat kaleja Delhi, Mui Delhi Le Gyi

Kat kaleja Delhi
Mera kaat kaleja Delhi, Ley gyi
Kaat kaleja Delhi, Mui Delhi Le Gyi..

Ref: Delhi song from the Bollywood movie 'No One Killed Jessica'

I wake up after this part. The Delhi song continues for a while followed by the following lyrics being played out.

The Lady Sings:
Ik Dil Hai.. Ik Dil Hai..
Ik Dil hee to hai..

The music plays..

Mera dil hai.. Mera dil hai..
Mera dil hee to hai..

Followed later by the lyrics as I doing morning chores in the washroom

The Guy sings:
Tujhe pyaar se dekhne wala
Tujhe apna samajhne wala

Ik dil hai.. Ik Dil Hai..
Ik dil hee to hai..

The music plays..
Mera dil hai.. Mera dil hai..
Mera dil hee to hai..

21:53

I don't know what problem this immoral criminal of a man Death Conqueror has! He disgusts me a lot! Why doesn't he go back to his filthy world and leave me alone? I know that all the violent revelations are the lone result of what he did! If he hadn't done what he did, none of those violent things would've been sent to me in the Spirit, and I wouldn't be worrying about completing my work in time before I lose my eye – such thoughts of something hitting my eye, brain or heart wouldn't even be there – while now I live in my body as a host knowing that it is not me and will be destroyed one day – either by external or internal factors! In his absence, I would've even better time with Jesus, and it would be easier for me to walk in His Will as this pressure this short-heighted fellow put on my head wouldn't be there. If he wasn't there, I would be happily living my life with Jesus with no one running to exploit, harass, use, or kill me. Well, absence of abusers is the ideal situation but it's hardly the case on Earth. Jesus is Perfect – but Death Conqueror's heart didn't turn to Him. So I don't know how his mental composure of thinking of me as the internally perfect girl works – because I am not perfect, but Jesus is, and Death Conqueror rejected Him and didn't respect His ministering to women as His sisters and mothers for he threw mud at Him by saying that Jesus walked with many women who laid out their drapes in front of Him to walk on!

Jesus wasn't stripping people out, you know! He was (is) Holy, and people – not exclusively women – threw their clothes in front of His path out of their reverence for who He was! They knew that He was the Son of God – the long-awaited Messiah, the perfect incarnation of God in flesh, who was fully man and yet didn't sin because He was fully God as well and perfect! He wasn't stripping those people to look at their naked bodies and feel pleased while making them cry and breaking them in Spirit – what Death Conqueror does! He uplifted people in their hearts and spirits and was filled with the Holy Spirit. How can a man like Death Conqueror understand and respect perfection when he is insulting Jesus – who was/is actually perfect in all ways? I don't see him turning to Jesus and respecting His Will and plan, but rather he wants to impose his own will and plan upon others by hurting them. I asked Jesus to forgive me in the evening for feeling hatred for this lean meat of sin! I told him, "Lord, I only feel hatred! Take this fellow away! Though I love You, I can't love him – no matter what you show me. He just emanates such a wicked, vain, and morally and culturally DUMB aura that it makes me want to run away from even his passive presence!" I shared my heart with God, read the Bible for a while and fell asleep for a short while. Perhaps the wicked people of the place like spineless criminals like him, and that's why they work on his behalf, but no disciple of Jesus/God, or a true Christian who knows and follows God will entertain someone like him or work as his arms and legs! It's the people as degraded as him who serve as his limbs! Everything about him stinks - his lifestyle, his mind, and his black heart! His disgusting lifestyle lived just to reflect a good appearance when he is nowhere mentally trained in the statutes of God! His rich lifestyle stinks! The way he makes flashy appearances stinks! Everything about him stinks! Living with Jesus at any place is desirable as He is so good, just, and Holy.

Somewhere during the late afternoon, I had the vision of the tiny girl from the church – the dusky/beige one who always has a flock of parallel hair resting on her forehead – extending to me a bite of rice mixed with yellow curry held in her hand. The vision repeated a few times, so.. I went and ate.
After I ate, I went into prayer again and fell asleep, and woke up from this yet another violent dream.

Dream (Evening):

I am at the Metro picking up my stuff from security check when a woman says something rude to me. I ignore it. When I am on the escalator, another tall guy in a black shirt with dry and frizzy hair says something rude to me. Apparently, most people around pass messages to me everywhere I go so I've now come to be annoyed of it. I pull the hair of that guy rashly jerking his head to around.

The next scene shows a woman with straight hair about being tortured in different ways. First, her face is shown in open daylight as two transparent sticky sheets are pasted along the sides of her head with open hair – slightly longer than her shoulder – and then pulled away together abruptly as the woman stands in pain with eyes closed and squinched together. It doesn't look like she lost a lot of hair as the sheets are pulled apart but it sure must have hurt her a lot. Then multiple images of her fingers with overgrown nails are shown consecutively followed by the view of a nail paint brush brushing on her middle finger from above a transparent rectangular screen on top of the finger. The next scene shows her severed middle finger until the second joint from above, with the overgrown nail intact, lying on the soiled ground as a hand picks it up.

The following scene has a muscular and thinly moustached Sunil Shetty tied by his hands with ropes extending away from his wrists stretched outwards as he stands on the ground with bent knees and head bowed down. He is shown as being held hostage in this manner inside a home. His left side is now shown as he tries to lift his body up, does so by about less than a foot, but falls back down. The guy is shown as being too muscular and well-built and his thigh alone had a diameter of about 1.5 feet. My dad is having his meal sitting to my left and is unaffected by his state, while my mom too is busy with the household chores and behaves casually with me. The tied muscular Sunil Shetty who looks like a wrestler is fully naked throughout the time of his torture.

Now I see the naked man tied outside in the open in the same manner – neither fully standing, nor fully sitting. Apparently, it's the area of those goons who had taken him hostage. To his left is sitting a moustached Gulshan Grover on the floor with separated vertically folded knees – with his look from the Bollywood movie Lajja – and is represented as a high-end criminal – dressed in a full holy tunic and carrying even a stall around his neck. He's saying something mean about the hostage they've been torturing. And then he shows me a long iron nail he's carrying in his hand. I can tell that his intentions aren't good as he says things with a mean, conscienceless countenance. There is a wooden frame lying on the ground to the left of Sunil Shetty with a base of two curved parts of a ring joined together with a straight rod in the middle as an open-ended cuboidal wooden rod extends vertically from it – slightly tilted away to the right from the vertical. He then puts the nail on the top surface of the cuboidal extension, and as he does so, the view gets zoomed in and focused on the wooden rod and the nail. He hits the nail strongly with a hammer once, but it doesn't go inside much as the wood is hard and strong, another hit – it goes inside by a few millimetres, yet another hammer hit – and all of it goes inside the wood smoothly this time, with the circular top of the nail resting completely against the surface as the vision focuses closely on the circular top of the nail after it has gone inside completely following which the dream ends and I wake up.

As I was finishing writing the last part of the above dream, I heard the lyrics given below.
The lady sings:
Maar dala..
Maar dala..

The vision reminded me of many past similar revelations I had received by far. There was this Ranveer Singh revelation in which the centre of his chest kept breaking outwards in discrete hits with the red inner flesh finally oozing out.

Also, the one in which I heard the sound of a vehicle stop by followed by a man saying in a rough and constricted tone - 'Dil ko Todenge!' ('We'll break heart!')

And the one in which I saw Glory holding a long nail at the center of my chest with a hammer coming at it. (It seems to me that Glory could/must be a label here. Because why will he break my heart physically or for real?

The Guy sings:
Kyu koi kaatil samajhta nhi
Ye jurm vo hai jo chupta nhi
Ye daag vo hai jo mit ta nhi
Rehta hai khooni ke hath par

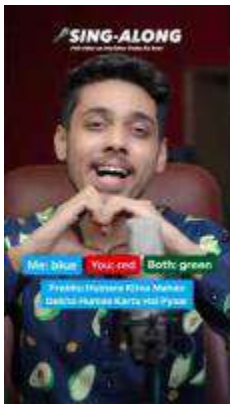
Visions when Praying to Jesus (about half an hour back):

Brother Andrew Mumbles
The stubbled face of Brother Andrew, in a well-lit environment with a white background, peeks out of a white ring that looks like a portal as he mumbles something looking straight slightly to the right.

Shawn Extends a Red Rose
I saw the singer Shawn Milton, from the online Worship ministry 'Yeshu Ke Geet' on YouTube, until his shoulders, dressed in a navy-blue shirt with an oval green print (that he wore in today's video), with a background of the channel's thumbnail 'Yeshu ke Geet', as he extended a red rose, held vertically in his hand, forward through the frame of the vision with a smiling countenance while looking at me.

The vision repeated a few times, with the size of the rose smaller in the successive visions which remained a constant in further repetitions of it.

Let's worship together! 😍 💧 #shorts



Shannon Extends a Pink Rose

I saw the side-view of the singer Shannon Milton, from the online Worship ministry 'Yeshu Ke Geet' on YouTube, until her shoulders, as she smiled and faced to the left making the prophetic symbol, being dressed in the printed bawa top from her 'Sing Along' video she uploaded within the past week, as she stretched forward a pink rose out through the frame of the vision, with the rose held horizontally and pointing at me as it slightly bounced around at its place.

Sing with me!! 🎤 😍 #shorts

The follow-up vision had both sitting together facing slightly to the right and looking straight in that direction, but this time holding a bunch of many roses in their hands. Shawn held long stems of red roses while Shanon – that of Pink roses – the bunches facing in the same direction as them – slightly away from me. It made me wonder why they now resorted to exhibit this weird behavior.

This demon-possessed blackheart has been breaking my heart every day as I use the washroom, bath, and do other private things publicly. Before breaking my real physical heart, look at the truth of your own actions which should rightfully land you below God's judging hand! When the righteous and just judgment falls on your heart, don't say: 'my heart broke', when you yourself have been sinning and deserve God's punishment! It's so ironic how people can inflict pain on others for no reason but when they get rightfully judged for it, they feel heartbroken and feel the need to torture and kill that person! Who wants such a piece of filth? The revelations reveal his stinking and abnormal mind! At the time of judgment, remember that God is the Judge! According to the judgment of Team Evil that I saw being inflicted on the muscular and moustached Sunil Shetty, the heart of the inflictor should be broken the number of times I have used the washroom during the past four years! Go inflict that on your own self - that would be a righteous thing to do. That's also why I call them dumbasses, because neither do they know morals, nor do they know judgment!

What can I pray about this situation? I even saw a nail manifest in front of me during the last-to-last time I was in church worship, and then it floated towards me and went inside my heart. And then I recall the revelation of KA nailing my heart (serving as a label). I can only pray to Jesus to give me enough endurance to think of his praises alone at that moment. And then I also recall the vision in which I saw a short-heighted KA float in through the balcony and rest on his side on my bed with two red love hearts in front of his eyes, and a blurry red zone in front of his chest with a small silver cross in the middle. It seemed as if he was holding a red blurry bouquet in his hands with a small silver cross. He was smiling and looked so in love as he kept repeating 'Jai Masih Ki.. Jai Masih Ki.. Jai Masih Ki' while smiling, while the redness around his chest seemed to linger, move, and expand a bit. I don't see/expect/anticipate Death Conqueror saying 'Jai Masih Ki..' in any time with a love-filled smiling countenance as KA did in that vision. Who can the person represent, then? So many revelations of the same kind, of the same event. Then I recall the song revelation of, "Kaat kaleja Delhi, Mera kaat kaleja Delhi.. Ley gyi".. - All of them point to the same event! How wicked of the person who would do such a thing! Well, if he can do what he already did and is still continuing in it, he is perfectly capable of this as well, even worse! He's so repulsive. How can a thief or a murderer expect a Policeman to not hold him accountable when he has neither repented nor changed his inner self? What does he encapsulate within himself - love, righteousness, forgiveness - traits of God, or the traits of lust, murder, inflicting unjust revenge, possessing a will to rule by oppression - all belonging to the devil!

The disgusting devil shows no remorse for his actions!

A man's voice says:
'Ab Tu Nahi Bachegi'

Now that my righteous anger is cooled down, let me pray for the wicked ones.

Father God, I come before you in the name of Jesus, and I pray that the physical members of Team Evil (body-snatched by the devil and demons) are delivered of their wickedness and sick mindsets. I pray that their mental bondage breaks in the name of Jesus. I pray the blood of Jesus over them to heal any inner wounds and insecurities that lead to or manifest as this abnormal outer behavior. I pray that the Blood of Jesus heals their inner self entirely as it has done mine, and that their demonic bondages break by the powerful name of Jesus. I pray that You instil in them irrevocable seeds of the fruits of the Holy Spirit and transform and make upright their twisted thought patterns. I also pray that though You may be working on their hearts in Your own way and pace - You keep me away, separate, and untouched from their wickedness. I pray this in the name of Jesus. Amen.

Past Revelations
Vision (Past two weeks, Room 303): Short-heighted KA floats in through the room's door and sits beside me with red love hearts in front of his eyes as he says, "Kartika tum bahut sunder ho. Kartika tum bahut sunder ho." ("Kartika you're very beautiful. Kartika you're very beautiful") He keeps saying it for a while smiling joyously at me.

Post Church (During Sunday):
I was feeling so scared and anxious because of the 'Hasle Gaale' lyrics of the Mela song, and then I saw this unexpected fleshly revelation which didn't aid in improving my heart state as it didn't pertain to the fearful and restless emotions I was having at the moment! At times, I am annoyed with such revelations. And then I feel grateful that at least it's only a revelation and not real.

While I was lying on bed with anxious and restless thoughts about the future, I had this unexpected vision that I didn't relate with at all.
Vision: I saw a small framed blurry vision of the naked upper half of a woman with a bulging belly and short wavy hair touching the end of her neck as she stood with closed eyes and head bent backwards as a fat man in a black shirt with a bulging belly (whose face wasn't visible) stood behind her to the right continuously squishing her breast on that side. The fat countenance of the man's upper body with the black shirt made me recall my previous PG's (A-16's) owner as I saw him dressed in the attire a few times and he has that fat figure of the vision as well.

Yesterday (Morning):
I was sitting on my bed doing something, perhaps typing revelations, when I abruptly saw the following.
Vision: I saw below me the face of Upper half of Death Conqueror until his neck (slightly below it) dressed in a light blue shirt as he was chewing on a nipple of a naked breast while moving his face wavily around.

Fleshly revelations give me a hard time and I don't feel like writing them either when they're shown with different people whom I am not expecting to have those revelations with.

About half an hour back, I laid on my bed to spend silent time with Jesus and try to hear Him and know His counsel about the things I should keep and those that I should send home before I segregate and pack them accordingly. Ideally, I would keep very less stuff, but I don't want to send home the things that come along with meaning that may encourage me randomly someday as I look at them. I was sifting through the books to see what I could send home. I only felt like keeping the Bibles along with some diaries that pertain to storing different things (revelations, research notes, Bible verses, and random art) – and send the rest home. But then I looked at these books that were always in my sight and I saw how they came with prophetic relevance. 'Strong at the Broken Places' is written by a Christian soldier/army man and I didn't notice the theme when I bought it back during BSc. I bought it because of the name - it gave a sense that the story might be meaningful, and it turns out that it's a real story of a soldier who talks about his journey with the Spirit of God. I had this Vibrations & Waves from A.P. French that I liked a lot during BSc but didn't have enough time to spend with. All these books – I brought them with me to PG because I loved them as they cater to one or other aspect of my own self, and fill it up. So, I wasn't able to decide what to keep, and what to send away, for if I was to pick one up, it would engage a specific part of me and leave the rest. So, I thought it was only better to ask Jesus for it has happened in the past as well, I would throw something away because I deem it useless but then it would turn out to be the very thing that was needed according to a revelation. Like I recalled today that I threw my dark grey storage pouches of different sizes when they would've been of use this very day. While throwing them away back at home, I felt a nudge to keep them, but then they had been lying around unused for many years since 2019 when I bought them. Anyway. There's no time to read those books now, as I have God-given work to do. All they can do is play a role when God wants to speak something to me through them, as He did when I picked up the book 'The Simple Faith of Mister Rogers' at home, opened a page randomly, and the place where my eyes landed at had 'God Bless Amy' written on it – which made my day. So.. God can speak to us through various different ways. I had felt a nudge to pick up the book that day and God talked to me through it. I have a carton with some books here that I haven't read much from since I brought it, as I've been busy writing the revelations, and then I have to read the Bible (the pending Old Testament) as well – extremely necessary. I brought with me my MSc notes of two subjects as well to help me with my research, but I haven't had the time to take a look at them either. Research has been on a halt now and I see the process of fighting for what's so apparently true and correct such waste of time! They keep rejecting my manuscript when there's nothing wrong with it and it contains novel work as well! I feel it such waste of time rewriting the same thing and submitting it for approval/acceptance when it's indeed scientifically correct and explains nature – what it's supposed to do – that's all it has to do! Their reasons for the rejection of my paper were at times so nonsensical that I'm now fed up with the foolish system! The rocky journey of my manuscript reflects the place where God displays perfection. He looks at the heart, the core – and if it's desirable, He approves it. Likewise, when extended to the natural world (called natural because it pertains to understanding the nature of creation), God embedded the working of a system within its own self as an abstract truth – it is what it is even when not given a form by grandiloquent wordy explanations that will be accepted by Journals! He doesn't work the other way round – that He has to get something approved and accepted by the corrupt earthly reviewers for His natural principle to be considered as true. It stands as truth even when it faces rejection by scientific reviewers, though it's in His hands to uphold or break it – as it's a natural law of which He holds the most high control.

Even short papers are accepted by journals! And my paper isn't even that short! At times, they say it's not novel, other times they say that it's out of scope when it's clearly in their scope, and then one said that it's doesn't lie in the scope they're currently accepting (could there be a more foolish reason?), and the recent one said to do some more work as was also suggested by my supervisor who at times seem to be giving me a Word Salad by telling me to change the language. How many times do I write the same thing in different ways!? Anyway! The God-created natural truth has nothing to do with the superficial ways they counted to reject my manuscript!

Going through the same circumstance would've been easier in the absence of the abusive ones that have been inflicting pain on my soul followed by physical body as well! These wicked people of the world (Death Conqueror and the gang) only disgust me! It's as if they're so devoid of even the least amount of godliness and all that they're capable of showing is a hypocritical way of being good. His mind is filled with useless information and robotic intelligence, not with godly morals! – or else he wouldn't have done what he did and behaved like he did.

Prior to lying down to pray, I was watching the recent preaching video of Brother Philip in which he was holding his infant baby wrapped in thick woollens in one arm against his body. The baby was so cute with his cute and innocent baby looks and actions, that I had to stop watching the video for I was going in a trance looking at the cute, innocent, and fat baby, and had begun feeling like squishing his cheeks. I knew that I was going to be more drawn into the baby's innocence if I continued watching him.

When I closed my eyes to pray to Jesus to commune with Him in prayer and get counsel to segregate the stuff to be kept from that to be sent home , all I saw was the baby held in Brother Philip's arm as he changed his innocent expression, bubbled saliva and looked in my direction with innocent eyes and fat baby cheeks. The vision kept appearing in my view with the baby facing in my direction while being held in Brother Philip's arm who was looking to the right, as they both moved around slowly in my mental view with the appearing and disappearing of the vision. After some time spent by the visions focusing on the baby, the view now showed Brother Philip's face though as a sideline in which he carried a stoic and stern expression with two red love hearts in front of his eyes as he slowly walked to the right. My Christian brethren carry out the work of their ministry with LOVE! The baby's sight was so healing and ministered to my heart at unexplainable levels!

Ref: Alaskan man rededicates his life to Jesus Christ in Juneau.

Yesterday, when I closed my eyes, I had this past vision flash abruptly in front of my eyes: the one in which I lay fast asleep wrapped in a printed green drape with the naked back of Glory visible on top of me as his head lay to my left. I had this vision back in D4 in A-16. And it was nowhere in my conscious memory the moment that it was highlighted yesterday. It made me think if the vision was nearing its manifestation.

And then this vision keeps repeating in my mental sight: a variation of the scene from the movie Kill Bill in which the Bride is beaten down on the day of her wedding and lying on the floor, bruised and bleeding with one eye closed – only in the variation it's my face that's shown, as it's looking around through a beaten countenance, lying still and gasping queity and slowly for air in light sighs and squeaks.

Death Conqueror at times mocks my godly quality of using my conscience. Like they did yesterday by sending a fat and black messenger on a scooty who wore a grey t-shirt with the tag of 'humanity' written on it – again, proving how dumb he is! SO DUMB! SO DUMB! SO DUMB! His dumbness makes me wanna puke!
His reasoning is so self-contradictory because he mocks humanity by insulting it and the fact of me possessing it, but at the same time calls himself a human and me a robot because I don't fornicate like him! Well, the previous statement held for the worldly definition of humanity - an involuntary display of the presence of conscience – involuntary, because a humane person doesn't have to work/think hard to think or behave in conscientious ways, and it comes to him/her as a natural way of thinking. Though this is the worldly definition of humanity, the spiritual truth is the existence of a duality of nature inside a man – recall, the revelation of 'The Dual RS'. The conscientious way of thinking of a person that the world terms as his humanity is God's seed inside of him/her represented by his/her angelic half. So, if he's calling me a human or making a bold statement that I possess humanity in the context of possessing a conscience, he's only implying that I carry God's nature in me. While he, who doesn't possess humanity, is dictated by his devilish half. Again, he displayed utter dumbness! How would I be able to talk to such a person who makes such foolish and uninformed comments while thinking of himself as someone superior? Doesn't he know that devil comes across as a very handsome, successful and luring man? – charm is his device! Devil uses charm while God wins hearts through His Godly/Holy nature. Foolish Death Conqueror!

Every statement he indirectly makes reflects his stupidity.

The chorus of this song has been playing in my Spirit since morning.

The Guy sings:
Neele aasman ke paar jayenge
Mera Yeshu rehta waha..
Neele aasman ke paar jayenge
Mera Yeshu rehta waha..
Hum milenge baadlo par
Hum milenge baadlo par
Dekhega sara jahan..

Neele aasman ke paar jayenge
Mera Yeshu rehta waha..

Neele Aasmaan Ke Paar - Pop Studio Version by Shawn Milton | Worship Songs 2022 | Yeshu Ke Geet

Morning: "Badla legi ye! Ye badla legi!" (“Revenge will she take! She’ll take revenge!”)

The phrase repeated itself many times throughout the day!

I had to shift to the adjacent room as two girls had to urgently shift in 303. So, I shifted to 304 on 15th, and had these vision revelations somewhere within the two days.

I lay on my bed with the lights turned off when I saw the naked upper half of a man lifted above me. The man changed countenances shifting between different countenances in the same pose: Glory, RS, and Death Conqueror)

I was then thinking how awesome it would’ve been if I had Glory beside me as I had been too disturbed internally though I didn’t usually show it and then he’s my God-ordained husband as well so it’s the right thing to think and do! And then my hand went by itself to that side (to my right), and it was then that I had this vision.

While I wrote the above, the following lyric started playing in my Spirit.

The Guy sings:
Koi to roke, koi to toke..
Is umar mein ab, khaoge dhoke..

Vision: A naked Glory lies on his back at my right side – changes to my dad and back to his own self. Apparently, like Akhila has been calling Death Conqueror her dad, Glory is my labeled Dad.

And as Death Conqueror calls me his sister while abusing me, the Holy Spirit represents him as my youngest brother Divyanshu in analogy.

The Guy sings:
Sun ne waalo..
Suno aisa bhi hota hai..
Dil deta hai jo..
Vo jaan bhi khota hai..

Yaar aisa jo karta hai..
Kya marke bhi marta hai
Aao tum bhi aaj sunlo..

I was playing the Bollywood song 'Kabhi Na Kabhi To Miloge Kahi Pe Humko Yakin Hai' on the online keyboard app, and had just learned to play its chorus when my focus shifted away from the song and the above lines came to me on their own.

The Guy sings:
Jaago sone waalo..
Suno Meri Kahani…

Jaago sone walo..
Suno Meri Kahani..

Ref: Jaago Sone Walon - Mehmood & Tanuja - Bhoot Bangla

These lyrics have played in my Spirit a few times during the past few days. And they played during the past year as well. But then I was not recording everything.

00:47
Again, I was playing the song Kabhi Na Kabhi To Miloge Kahi Pe Humko Yakin Hai, when the following lyrics played in my heart by themselves:

The Guy sings:
Naujawan ki thi aarzoo
Uski thi ye hi justazoo
Us haseena mein usko mile
Ishq ke saare rang roop..

Usne na jana ye nadani hai
Voret ko samjha ke paani hai
Kyu aisa tha kisliye tha
Ye kahani hai..

The lower para has played in my spirit several times during the past year. I don't know what it means. Perhaps it refers to me being a dusty woman, but let me say this - I'm the kind of person who bathes twice in summers, and at times even thrice when it's too hot as it leaves one feeling physically and mentally refreshed! Because of this wicked person, I have to live dirty and bathing even once seems a burden to me though I am stinking! On my way back from the church while I was sitting in the E-rickshaw, as the polluted and dusty air hit me, I began feeling uneasy, and ideally, in the absence of this camera situation, would've taken a quick bath after returning to the PG! The fact that I would've to stay with the dirt the rest of the day was stressing me out as I sat in the E-Rickshaw! I have often recalled how I shaved my body almost on alternate days and felt so clean when I wasn't aware of the camera situation. I wasn't vain back then, as I didn't know to do makeup, and hadn't got my hair treated as well - but I was clean - and that's what I liked. And how I had to now sit and stink. So, there are many factors that stress me out - outer physical conditions (like the above one where I have to compromise with cleanliness to some extent), inner physical conditions (those factors that cause me internal physical hurt), and finally mental and emotional - as the situation is a very inhumane and mentally undesirable situation. All this is to be blamed on the head of Death Conqueror - unless he repents before God and changes his inner self permanently!

Again, I was playing the song Kabhi Na Kabhi To Miloge Kahi Pe Humko Yakin Hai, when the following lyrics played in my heart by themselves:

The lady sings:
Banake kyu bigada re..

Bigada re naseeba
Upar waale.. Upar waale..

Ref: Banaake Kyun Bigaada Re (Video Song) Lata Mangeshkar, Zanjeer (1973) Jaya Bachchan, Amitabh Bachchan

1:48
The Lady sings:
Har pal naseeb hua hai - Uski rehmat hai..
Usne din jode hai zindagi mein - Uska maksad hai..

Har pal naseeb hua hai - this kept repeating involuntarily in my Spirit while I had just begun editing Page 504. The lines were being highlighted to me during the day as well while I was washing clothes. They say that God has given me each moment because of His grace and that He has added days to my life because of His purpose to be accomplished (and not my own).. If He wanted, He could take me out now in some way, but He has a purpose with the lives of His children, so He has added days to their lives.

The Guy sings:
She just wants attention..

I am writing the truth - it's not for attention, but what it does is make a note of what the Holy Spirit says during a certain day. And He reveals info in parts, and not all at once. If I had not written the spinach-tomato soup dream some hours back, I wouldn't have seen Akhila's behavior with a changed lens, and now I no longer have any bitterness for her inside of me.

The Lady sings:
Har pal naseeb hua hai - Uski rehmat hai..
Usne din jode hai zindagi mein - Uska maksad hai..

This plays again.

Isse pehle ki hisaab ho, sudhar jau..

These two lines seem to hold for Death Conqueror.

Revelations last night before falling asleep:

The Almirah Shadow/Spirit

I had fallen asleep and had left the door open because it got suffocating inside with no ventilation when I saw a few feet high black translucent entity come floating from the corridor's left, stop in front of my door look inside, and immediately float to the right in a flash - it's transit ending with the sound of a mild sound of clattering to the right. After I heard the sound, I opened my eyes fully and looked around and saw no one. I closed and locked the door immediately and I prayed to bind the Spirit that had entered my room and asked it to leave. I felt as if spirits could leave even through a closed door.

After a while of lying on my bed being cautious, it clicked to me that the clattering sound I heard could only have come from inside of my wardrobe as it has such stuff placed in the bottom-most section. The spirit had stopped at my room and speedily entered into my wardrobe. This incident reminded me of a similar incident in Room D4 of A-16 in which I had seen a black shadow/figure in the dark in front of me as I laid on bed and it had floated speedily to my left and entered Pinki's almirah which was closed like mine in this room was - its transit ending with a squeak inside. Spirits are very swift in their transit.

I was thinking if it was the same spirit from Room D4, and why did it now come to this PG only, that too in my room. Did it chase after me or come looking for me, or did it land at my room's door because of the open door. I didn't know any of the answers. So I just let them go and fell asleep again after praying a few times. The floating spirit represented by the shape of the upper half of a man came floating from the left, stopped at the door, and looked in my direction for a second followed by it swiftly moving to the right.

Back in room D4, I once also felt something resting above the bed's vertical slab behind me as I lay on the bed- a presence - that swiftly moved away to the front in my body's direction of extension. Well, the resting on the back of the bed reminds me of the one at Dr. Bharati's house. So, it could be the same spirit that rested behind my head. But I don't know if it's the same one as the Wardrobe spirit from Room D4 which I saw standing in front of me facing me between the bed and the wall followed by it floating speedily to the left inside Pinki's wardrobe in a manner shown in Vampire-movies where the one only sees a blurry figure of the Vampire as it moves from one point to another.

Dream:

It's a bit dark and I pass by a room to my left along a road and it seems that my primary and middle school friend Monica stays there. I get to have a glimpse of the room which looks dark but is empty with no furniture and has a window at the back through which one can look into open space. I happen to stop by and ask her something to which she replies that she wanted a big room (perhaps at a reasonable price) and that that's why she has shifted there. The next thing I see is that I am cleaning the almost empty room while sitting down on the floor. I am now sitting in a room lit with daylight as I work on my laptop placed on a wooden table lying against a cream wall with songs playing in my Airdopes (perhaps through my laptop) as I sing along with them but I later find that they were playing out loud through the laptop as well. I am still into worship when I stand up and walk to my right, and exiting through a gate there – find myself standing in my dept's corridor that has Room No.'s L and H as I look to my left with both rooms ahead of me and Prof TRS along with some students walking in my direction from the far end of the corridor. Prof TRS is dressed in a full-sleeved white shirt tucked inside grey pants and he silently looks at me as the group passes me by. I go back to the room. In the next scene, I see that I store some money in a small bag in the lower section of an almirah and I take some money out from it whenever I have to go outside for some chore. Though the room has a lot of empty space, there's that almirah fixed on the right wall of the room. I see her sifting through her almirah in the dark as she takes out money before heading outside. Throughout the dream, the room carries a dark and soothing moonlit aura. Because the room is dark and I see objects as dark figures in this scene, it's hard to guess the kind of Almirah it is. The next scene has my mom and brother inside the dark room with the window open and the room again carries a dark blue moonlit aura as it's night. They're checking out the room and are making a minor scene about me staying at that place as they complain about some things, while I am happy at the place and find no issues. (They perhaps want me to shift to my parental home.)

The next scene has me in a space with my dad. It's day as the insides of the home are lit by natural daylight. My dad is repeatedly asking me to come along with him. He says that he will buy me chocolates but I am busy and am not sure if I should go along. I am working and am busy but he is repeating to me to go out to hang out and buy chocolates as I listen to him while working. Though I am busy I decide to go out with him and pick up some money from my bag. I see that he has already reached the door and is about to exit, but before I am about to leave with him, the vision shifts to our backsides where I see a 3-4 feet tall very young Divyanshu come walking crying with red eyes from inside the home and stop at some distance from me. I feel terrible for him. I take a few steps towards him and ask him about the matter and it's when the dream ends.

The Guy sings:
Kahani suno.. Muh zubani suno..
Mujho pyaar hua tha.. Ikraar hua tha..

The lines repeat a few times.

The Guy sings:
Sunne waalo suno aisa bhi hota hai
Koi kitna hase, Utna hi rota hai
Deewani hoke haseena, Khai kya dhoke haseena
Aao tum bhi aaj sunlo..

Daastan hai ye ki us masoom haseena ne

Jise chaha tha vo tha ander se harjai
Sang dil se dil lgake Bewafa ke haath ake..
Usne ik din maut hi payee..

Ik sitam ka fasana hai jisko sabhi kehte hai Om Santi Om

Ref: The Bollywood song 'Daastan-e-Om Shanti Om from the movie Om Shanti Om.

After waking up, I am thinking if I should have tea and it's when I see:
The black thermal flask of A-16 lying on the slab of this PG's (A-10's) food counter, which I find weird. It, however, reminds me that I liked their tea very much. They made it very well most of the times.

The Guy sings:
Uska koi bhi wada na hoga adhura
Har ek wada uska hota hai pura
Uska koi bhi wada..

Ref: Neele asman ke paar jayenge..

14:17

Dream (Noon/Afternoon):

In this dream, I wake up from sleep and find my stuff packed with the room cleaned as well, but the floor is shown as being marbled in brown instead of the actual white flooring of the PG, with a pattern of sparsely scattered non-uniform and hazy blobs of black marbles, and my stuff is shown as packed in white bags that are placed in front of the wall at the end of the two narrow vertical spaces present on either side of the bed. The structure of the room I wake up in matches the one I had fallen asleep in the real life though the flooring is different and my packed luggage too (and I had fallen asleep with things lying unpacked). The thought of meeting Glory once before shifting comes to my mind as his highly bearded images flash in my mental view. He is then shown as sitting on his knees with a very serious expression with one more guy to his right in an open space in front of what looks like the thick and long cuboidal object covered with a satin sheet with more people present around visible at some distance behind him.

And as I wrote the above, I heard in my Spirit:

Satnam Waheguru. Satnam Waheguru..
Waheguru Waheguru Waheguru Waheguru

My vision is back to the room now and I see that there's a green and black sports cycle standing against the wardrobe in the room as well. It wasn't there previously. I find it good as I think it will help me to commute, though the place isn't too culturally advanced for it to be a normal sight of a woman going to work on a bicycle.

The place's all vain and flashy. I would find it quite relaxing to go slowly bicycling to work and I would prefer to leave early so I wouldn't have to face too intense sun rays and I would ride it with my cap on my head. It would be so cool. It's as good as a ride on a bike or a convertible, but it's less technical and easy for almost everyone to operate. This previous event from the time when I was staying in RGHG hostel during my masters has been highlighted to me a few times. This girl who was a bit outspoken and was perhaps a humanities student who too stayed in RGHG chose to commute to her dept via her cycle as she wore her cap, black eye goggles with her earphones on. There weren't many commuting options from the hostel to the University area. And one often needed to hire a common e-rickshaw for some distance followed by some walking followed by hiring a common e-rickshaw again. It was the usual route for students as hiring an exclusive rickshaw to the place every day was out of the budgets of most. The commute was hectic for someone who didn't own a vehicle though the distance wasn't great. So, she had chosen to commute via her bicycle which I got to know about by seeing her from my e-rickshaw on my way to the University's Physics Dept in the morning, and she seemed too immersed in herself as I fathomed how she was having a great time on her commute riding alone to her dept. And the incident is from 8-9 years back. People were more original and straightforward back then. Though game players have always been there, they were lesser in number during that era. Now things have become so corrupt that students are being admitted for the sole purpose of serving as messengers of the party with ulterior motives. For instance: Deepak. He came exclusively to serve as a messenger! Now, how strange is that!? How can a doppelganger be admitted to a central University just to serve the purpose of passing wicked messages from the oppressing party? When I first took a look at him as I entered my allotted room in the dept, his posture, expression, and resemblance to Death Conqueror in his facial features told me that he was an actor and that he was planted. And it was confirmed by his immediate interest/change of countenance towards me that I observed wasn't general but exclusive as if I was the target from the beginning. Who would resort to such indirect foolish ways to 'pass messages'? Look at me! I say things/truth directly to people and don't need messengers. And then this day I was in the canteen having something when I saw him come walking briskly to me and sit and start having a conversation, again, not with a general countenance but one I could tell was directed and exclusive. Apparently, he had been expecting me to ask him out to the Canteen as I did with everyone whenever I went out, but because I saw that he was planted and a doppelganger and was waiting for me to ask him, I avoided asking him whenever I went out alone. And then this day he himself came following after me. That day he made some cheap gestures, and weeks later was making yet another cheap gesture openly as he ran his hand through a tiny rubber band stretching it to different extent as he moved his fingers and hand inside it. He did it while standing in front of me when I was sitting on my seat while facing him and another one of my colleagues stood to my left. I found his act so cheap and it repelled me even more from him. It was the same incident in which he said, "Awadhesh Sir keh rhe the 'nikaal denge' ", and he was referring to the spy drones inside me and he augmented his statement with that cheap physical gesture with the rubber band. Anyway. I have had enough of this dept where people are admitted for no reason other than to pass messages! Such a hard thing to believe! I never could've thought that in a place where students 'prepare' to get admitted to, as they write the entrance, give interview and finally get into the Ph.D. program when they've found a supervisor – a messenger guy would be taken in after having passed through the same sequence of exams. Such things have now started to take place in a govt. institution. In this way, anyone in power can send his minion to pass messages. People are being given admissions with ulterior motives!

Times have changed drastically or perhaps the wicked serpent race has spread its dark wings further. This is such a corrupt way! I could tell all the times that he was being an 'actor'!

The Dream Continued:

I am now looking for my phone to make a call to my new landlord to inquire if the room has been vacated for I have to shift this day to my new place – the 1 RK in Vijay Nagar Double Storey I booked the past week. (The area had a rural look but the room was great for a student or a working person to live alone.) I don't seem to find my phone around though the room is quite neat and organized with the boxes placed against the walls on either side of the bed, and doesn't have stuff scattered that would've made it difficult to find something as small as a phone, and am still looking for it as I move my gaze around and it's then that I wake up.

The Woman In White With a Diamond Cut on Her Belly

Vision: The view of a woman's body below her face, standing in a skyblue background, dressed in a white dress with a shoulderless top - curved along her bust, and a cut on the dress in the shape of a diamond on her belly through which her flat belly is visible with a protruding belly button, as she stood with her hands on her pelvis with hair tied low in a bun.

I don't know if I will get to that stage. I may get slimmer, but to that extent seems too out of reach as of now looking at how my head and eyes keep hurting. I think that perhaps it shows someone's ideal.

Late Night:

The Lady Sings:

During the past two nights I spent in 304 of A-10, I heard these phrases in my Spirit being said out repeatedly:

The Guy says in a low tone:
'Peene do Kartika Peene do'

And the phrase repeats itself quite a few times of times. I just hear this sound but see no face. I don't know who the person is. But I record the revelation. I take it for a future time.

And while I was writing the above, I heard the song lyric:
The Guy sings:
Pee loon
Mei Dheere Dheere jalne ka ye gam pee loon..

Ref: The song Pee Loon

After the repeated Peene Do, I now hear a guy's voice that says
'Hoth chaba lu tere? Hoth chaba lu tere?'

And the phrase repeats itself a few times.

And I happen to think of only one person who can say such a thing looking back at the indirect messages and the way of interacting that I saw in revelations. Neither do I like his voice, nor do I like the statement. I don't like the voice not because of the voice but because of the tone that reflects his inner self and it sounds very shallow and carries a superficial aura that vain outward interactions carry without any depth of meaning. Listening to the phrase made me think that I never want to hear this phrase in my life, nor do I want to be in the presence of such a person. It made me feel such disgust that was hard to contain and while recalling the statement, I see the uneasy feeling returning. The phrase just ruined my time because that's now how I would want a person to talk to me in an intimate setting. It seemed that he didn't even know how to say things respectfully and sensibly! The phrase imparted to him an animalistic look and it sounded such a low-quality interaction.

Well, the tone of the guy was also humble at the same time as he asked it in a lowly tone but I am just not used to being talked to in such a manner which carries a disrespectful uppertone. I mean when I look at the dream revelation of 'The Dusty Man & the Fairy', I see how I behaved with Glory kissing him forcibly but it was because I must be having a bond with him, but why will I ask something in a cheap way. I will observe the other person and act accordingly. The statement just seemed too raw. (If I had not received these revelations, I wouldn't be writing them here now.)

RK Vision in Room 304:
RK comes walking with his lower body wrapped in a white towel as a huge genitalia the size of an elephant trunk hits his forehead followed by the vision of it being even longer as it wrapped itself around his shoulder in multiple turns.

Previous Vision in 304:
I was in the room when I saw a naked RS in the washroom with me during my bath time. (However, during the actual time, I didn't have any such vision though I had the song NSCG playing in my Spirit.)

Vision: I saw the view of my upper half standing facing to the left in my new room, that I had shifted to yesterday, with my hand below my right eye as my eyeball came out of its socket and fell on it. I was too quiet and postured as I caught the fallen round eyeball.

Earlier during the Evening:

Aise lehrake tu rubroo aa gyi

You know what, my fellow brethren - the wickedness of these people now makes me laugh as I see them indulging in a morally foolish way of thinking. What fools who don't fear God even after witnessing through me that He is real! - it reflects the heart state of the devil.

I watched this video by Sis Nicolene of Bold Existence yesterday in which she talked about how people can get infected/affected by demonic entities through the stuff they buy or bring into their homes. She said that at times, a piece of clothing, food, or any other object can be infected with the presence of a demon which then transfers to the home that object is brought into. She was sharing the testimony of a girl who didn't eat and drink for four days - which was quite not like her - after which one of her family members found out that it was because of a piece of clothing they had brought into their home. She then suggested praying the blood of Jesus over everything one brought into their homes. She specifically pointed out used clothing that could carry a remnant from the previous users who were infected with demons. Her comment directly pointed my attention to my own experience of the Wardrobe/Almirah Spirit yesterday while I was brushing my teeth and made me think of the clothes I bought from a local market in Chandigarh back when I was staying in Saroj Sadan, as I hardly bought used/street clothing prior to that. It then made me look at the fact that the two wardrobe events took place after I had bought those clothes, and it was then that I saw the vision of my mental view move to the inside of a carton and stop at the trousers finely printed in yellow & black. I later searched for it and took it out, cut it to pieces while praying the blood of Jesus over it so that any scheme of witchcraft that may have been placed on it be broken and brought to null in the name of Jesus.

I was quite serious and vigilant about praying over stuff and anointing it with the blood of Jesus during my initial years of faith as I was also learning about such things back then. But then, later, I didn't pray over everything or most of the things because I gave things the benefit of the doubt and trusted them in a way.

Nicolene said that demonically influenced people often end up leaving a sort of demonic residue on stuff. And, while writing the above, what was highlighted to me was the vision of Blackheart demonically infested with several demons: "My name is legion. For we are many."

~22:19
He is the kind of person who uses used clothing/people's bodies that have been used several times and keeps accumulating a residual demonic remnant that has led to his current undesirable spiritual state. He himself is a demonic carrier and prefers to be loaded with more of the demonic residue instead of getting rid of it.
(10th Sept 2023: The revelations were some fleshly revelations that I had after shifting to my new place. I left empty spots for them like I always do with fleshly revelations when I feel uncomfortable writing them first. And then I got busy writing further revelations. This day that I am writing/editing them, I remember two of them but can't seem to recall the other two.)

Vision (seen as a third person, yesterday): A clean-shaven, short-haired, dusky, muscular and naked RS stands hugging the naked me during bath time in the washroom with his face buried in my throat as we passionately make out. (I hadn't yet used the washroom yet to bath when I had this vision. When I wrote this, I heard: She just wants attention. But it's not a creation of my mind but a revelation, and it sounds to me the same it sounds to other people. But I have come to understand that I receive such revelations to symbolize more than one contexts and it often carries underlying meaning.)

Vision (seen as a third person, Morning): A clean-shaven, short-haired, dusky, muscular and naked RS stands hugging a naked me against the wall in the space between my Revelation carton and foldable bed with us indulging in the same acts we did in the previous washroom vision.

Vision (Evening):

Vision (late evening):

AK Roll Visions
The semi-animated upper half of AK dressed in a full-sleeved white shirt with a black waist coat on top extends a roll to the viewer happily. The vision repeats a few times with him changing his joyful and happy expressions looking at the viewer.

AK in Front of a Lit Showroom
AK stands facing to the right in front of what looks like a showroom lit with yellow light. He is making some gestures towards someone present there who is not visible in the vision.

SRK with a Severed Head on a Plate
SRK stands dressed in a waiter's top attire facing the viewer, with a plate held in his hand at the level of his waist, carrying his severed head which he extends to the left. The vision repeats a few times.

Actor in White with Two Medals
The Bollywood Actor Jeetendra stands dressed in the white Indian navy uniform as he extends two medals held in both hands to the viewer.

My landlord uncle Mr. Subhash came to get the correct rent agreement documents signed and woke me up from sleep. I had fallen asleep feeling like I had no brain/head as I felt very light-headed and the only place that I felt a prominent presence of was by protruding belly! It was such a sick mental state where you feel you're headless but only have a belly! And then I wanted to rest in Jesus as I felt I had no strength to do anything else - not even think. I was sharing with Him how I felt that I was turning into a robot because of my situation where I was only taking in the abuse of Team Evil which led me to feel numb and only receptible to instructions given by God. And then I recalled the humanoid dream in which the guy dressed in a white half-sleeved shirt tucked inside white pants, and carrying a regular boy cut, was asleep and apparently everyone knew that he was a robot who gained instant consciousness after he woke up. The front of the guy wasn't shown but just the back as he moved in the narrow corridor. I thought if that guy was me, for I too was turning into a robot because of the emotionally painful situation that was desensitizing and numbing me to things that hold value to a living soul who can think using its God's given conscience. I then knew that that robot was indeed me, and, in that dream, people seemed to be running after that robot as if it was something desirable and special. I had witnessed it as a third person in the dream, though I didn't know in the dream itself that the robot represented me.

Vision (late evening): It must be a fleshly revelation because of its empty slot, and now I have forgotten it. But we all know the nature of fleshly revelations. It's nothing new. This made me wonder if God gave me all those fleshly revelations so I can get to a mental state wherein I am able to forget fleshly indulgences, in general, because perhaps that's how Glory's nature is. I am the kind of person for whom a fleshly act of indulgence holds immense importance and therefore I won't forget it easily. It's not something as casual as food. It's an act of love-filled expression and therefore I don't forget real life fleshly indulgences. But God knows the hearts of people and He knows that with my current state, I perhaps won't be compatible with the person He has promised to me. That's the only explanation that comes to my mind. But, for an ideal mind, a fleshly act of indulgence with other person would be based in exclusive faithfulness and therefore would by default assume long-term memory slots in their minds – something which Tejaswi lacked as he went around sleeping with different women and forgetting things quickly, and this precisely is also the reason I or any righteous person who has a godly mind refrains from vain and unnecessary acts of fleshly indulgences that are committed solely for the sake of pleasure, because that person knows that red colour can't be identified by cells that identify blue color, and that a circle can't fit inside a square. So how can a person that has a mental structure that only allows fleshly acts committed under the precept of faithful and love-filled commitment commit loveless fornication!? It just won't be accepted by her mind, and if she does so, she will be immensely grieved. And anyone who tries to make her act differently than what her mental structure allows would come under the category of a robot, an ungodly abuser, who thinks that acts performed should have no base of morality attached to them, who lives in such a way and wants others to live in his undesirable ungodly way as well!

Or perhaps I forgot the revelation because it didn't seem too meaningful to me, or it didn't go along well with my persona.

The vision in which RS came inside a room, hung his overcoat/raincoat at the back of a door, and then brought out a guitar shaped box (about half of the size of an actual guitar), opened it abruptly, and then held the penis placed inside in it in his hands in front of my face, was highlighted to me this late evening after I received my Chaayos order in which I had ordered a paneer roll as it kept being highlighted to me, but then it was missing as it had been taken out. I wondered if it was for the purpose of being taken out alone was the roll being highlighted to me.

After a while as I continued working, I saw spring roll in my Spirit and it kept flashing itself so I knew that I had to order it.

I had a few KA visions this night. In some of them, his behavior was amusing and funny. But this vision stood out from among the rest.
Vision: A shorter KA in a dark background comes walking to me as I lay on my bed and bites and severs my lower lip holding it between his teeth followed by the vision now showing the side-view of him sneakingly whispering an elongated 'I Love You..' in my ear.

After I shifted to this place yesterday, I heard in my Spirit in the evening the phrase:

Kartika Randi

'Kartika Randi. Kartika Randi.' which repeated itself a few times and continued to do so until the next day.

Well, it didn't make any sense to me, and I just let it go. Because I know that I am not a Randi/Whore. I have always kept myself away from wicked people – men or women alike, and I have always believed in long-term faithful commitment instead of a broken relationship full of intentional sin and transgressions disregarding the harm it causes to others. I can't be in the presence of someone like Death Conqueror now that I know his inner constitution. He only gives a good first impression but as one gets to know more of him, his inner ugliness of character gets revealed, which reminds me of Meera often telling me that I gave a good first impression. "Kartika, you give a good first impression."

(Late evening of day before yesterday)

The Guy sings:
Kehte hai khuda ne is jahan mein sabhi ke liye
Kisi na kisi ko hai banaya har kisi ke liye
Tera milna hai us Rab ka ishara maloom
Mujhko banaya tere jaise hi kisi ke liye..

Kehte hai khuda ne is jahan mein sabhi ke liye
Kisi na kisi ko hai banaya har kisi ke liye
Tera milna hai us Rab ka ishara maloom
Mujhko banaya tere jaise hi kisi ke liye..

Kuch to hai tujhse raabta..
Kuch to hai tujhse raabta..
Kaise hum jaane humein kya pata..
Kuch to hai tujhse raabta..

This stanza from the above song repeated in my Spirit specifically:
The Guy sings:
Meherbani jaate jaate mujh par kar gaya
Guzarta sa lamha ek daman bhar gya
Tera nazara mila
Roshan sitara mila
Takdeer ki kashtiyo ko kinara mila..

The above stanza played the previous as well along with the chorus, and it was playing a while back, too.

8:03
I woke up with this phrase in my Spirit that said that now the reverse countdown of my life had begun.

12:02
I woke up with a distant dream-vision of an old man shouting at my youngest brother who was represented as a shorter and leaner version of him, both standing in an environment lit with yellow light, as he pointed a finger at him and shouted," Ja pet bhar aa! Kia! Ja pet bhar aa! Kia! Ja pet bhar aa!".

Prior to the above, I had this dream.

Dream (Noon):

The Identifying Marker - The Sticky Residue

I keep coming across a bearded Glory who is sitting with a short heighted girl I don't know and apparently he's with her now, as I make rounds in and out of a room. I see a box in the room and out of curiosity open it and find it to be a cutlery set with the pieces placed in the depressions of a thermocol slab. I take the knife out to use for something. All pieces of the cutlery have white handles with golden lines along the ends. I use its pointed end to undo something which leaves a sticky residue at its pointed end. I then go outside to buy something from a shop and see the knife there. Now it could've been a different knife, but I see the residue that was left on the one I had used. So I ask the shopkeeper if the knife belongs to him to which he nods in affirmation and says a few more things. I explain to him that I asked him so because I had the same knife back at my place with the same-shaped residue. He then gives it to me after explaining a few more things. I move back to the room after a while of which the middle aged son of my Landlord - heavily bearded in grey and dressed in a vertically striped red and blue half-sleeved shirt - walks in and swings me on his lifted knee while smiling as I am shown to be the size of a child in the act. There was something else that I had figured out related to a rectangular transparent sheet of the size of a card with a sticky residue at its top left corner. I explain to him how I figured out the case as he's leaving after making the point that I'm smart enough of a person. Glory is still with that other girl but they seem to be sitting widely separated - each sitting on a wide white sofa placed perpendicularly joined to each other in that room. He seems to be crossed with me as he looks at me silently with a distant and resentful expression.

The Hard Laughter

After a while I see Prof TRS come walking in with other students in the room, one of whom is heavily bearded and they all are laughing hard. Apparently, they just came from tea or are going for one, but the mention of tea is there. I see all of them laughing hard together in a discrete manner. They then move to the left, where some of them being inside the room and others outside in the corridor. Prof TRS is inside while that tall and prominently bearded guy in a green shirt is outside and they still are laughing hard together in a periodic manner. And as they do so, Prof TRS looks at me and slowly winks while smiling. Apparently, he's communicating something to me. They're still laughing and he's now sitting in front of me as he turns his head to the right and whispers in a serious tone in my ear, "Clear rant'.

This part of the dream was then followed by the following.

The Girl & The Lady Jhamunda

It's night and the reporters have gathered around a celebrity's (perhaps Hritik Roshan's) relative (standing along with a guy) who has rented a room at the top right corner of a very tall building with a small 13000 written in white in the air above the room as seen from below. The room stands isolated at the corner at the top. I wonder why did the lady chose that regular 13k room when she could've chosen a more elite place - a Hotel - to stay as celebrities usually do. She is then shown as being surrounded by many people as she stands near the top of white stairs when a fat beige lady with a round face carrying the features of Death Conqueror, having a rough-textured skin and thin hair tied at the back - her facial countenance resembling that of Jhamunda's from the Bollywood movie Jajantram Mamantaram - comes walking to the girl from down below as I am watching the scene as a third person. She attacks the girl with her hand, but the girl blocks it and diverts her attention by flaunting her straight hair leaving her bewildered and unoffensive for a while. The lady comes at her with her hand again, but the girl successfully blocks it again, and this time moves her head a bit towards the lady making her look at her eyeshadow which again leaves her off-guard in an unoffensive posture as she looks at it with bewilderment and confusion. The fat lady seems to be foolish as she stands and attacks for no reason - attacking being the sole reason she walked up the white stairs through the crowd towards the girl, and every time she is confused, she looks like Jhamunda whenever Aditya would confuse him with a trick during their fight. The lady attacks again with a hateful expression, but the girl blocks it by holding her hand between the palms of her nail-painted hands, and makes her look at her red nail paint which again leaves the lady Jhamunda offguard and motionless in a confused state. Distracting the lady Jhamunda brought her into an unoffensive state for a while and the girl could breathe before the next attack. While Jhamunda is still lost in thought, the girl turns back and quickly escapes through the crowd.

Ref: Bollywood Movies Action Scene –Javed Jaffrey Fights With Jhamunda-Hindi Movies–Jajantaram Mamantaram

While watching the above video, I saw how Jhamunda's behavior depicted Death Conqueror's to a great extent. When Aditya is rambling nonsense in front of Jhamunda, he is so lost observing him followed by him placing both his hands on Aditya's chest. And first and foremost, he didn't feel a bit bad about eating that child named Bacchu though his mom was shouting and the child was also crying. Jhamunda doesn't care about the feelings of others. He is conscienceless. All he cares about is him getting what he wants – eating people who are still alive. He doesn't care about causing them pain, physical pain to that victim, and emotional pain to the victim's relatives or those who love him/her. Jhmaunda likes to play games as well, before he actually eats the victim. When Aditya invites Jhamunda to play a game, he immediately agrees joyfully and says, "Jhmaunda pehle khelega, phir khayega!' I found the character traits of Jhamunda a being quite a good representation of that of Death Conqueror's. The movie was out of my conscious memory, and without God's revelation, I couldn't have thought of this similarity in their character. Death Conqueror, though can mimic a sophisticated look, has the raw and savage mentality of an Adivasi don/demon, like Jhamunda, who likes it when other fear, and serve him as he wishes disregarding their own pain that he causes them.

God is such a great judge of character who judges righteously.

I was thinking today how I've came to like this place for it resembled the locality Meera stayed in - with narrow maze-like streets and good and simple people around who are busy with their daily chores without a care about what others think about how they look or the standard with which they live. Also, the homes and the common square visible from my balcony's window reminded me of the locality of Kungfu Hustle in which the overweight lady lived with her lean, moustached husband - both being Kungfu masters. The square visible from my balcony gives a refreshing look with the parked bikes and homes reflecting a simplicity of living. A few days back, the past vision of the lady shouting with her mouth open in a lion's roar was brought to my remembrance. The square in the movie had three more Kungfu masters who were later assassinated by two musical assassins sent by the Axe Gang. While during my time in different PGs, I've had encounter with girls who seemed to me to be lacking real moral discernment, one finds an abundance of empathetic behavior from the residents of the locality except for those who're sent as messengers to mock/insult me in some way.

The place also reminded me of the dream 'The Difficult Times Ahead In My Life' in which I shifted to a room in a building that had helical stairs running on the outside leading me directly to my room, and that's how it is here - the stairs move helically upwards and lead to my room.

Heard in the Spirit: The lady shouts: 'Bhaaag……'

I've been hearing a variation of this since yesterday.

14:40
While making tea:

Masih nidal soe daar chalte dekha hai..
Bhadakti aag mein ek phool jalte dekha hai..

Masih nidal soe daar chalte dekha hai..

Utha kar pyaar ke tabut ko masoom kandho par..
Utha kar pyaar ke tabut ko masoom kandho par..

Bhare bazaar mein sabir guzarte dekha hai..
Masih nidal soedaar chalte dekha hai..
Masih nidal soe daar chalte dekha hai..

Bhadakti aag mein ek phool jalte dekha hai..

Previously highlighted from the worship song His Mercy Is More:
Thrown into the sea without bottom and shore..
Our sins they're many.. His mercy is more..

21:20
Heard in the Spirit (Yesterday):
The Guy sings:
Ye julmo sitam us par maine hi kraya hai..
(The line repeats several times intermittently throughout the day)

Maine hi kraya hai..

Jo cruz pe kurbaan hai..
Vo mera masiha hai.
Har jakhm jo uska hai
Vo mere gunaah ka hai..
Vo mere gunah ka hai..

Dream-Visions (past few days, Room 304, A10-B, Single Storey):

My mom asks me on chat if I'm going to stay in my new place that I 'm yet to shift to for 10 years to which I reply that the period mentioned in the agreement is of 6 months only. I see a semi-animated view of her face and the WhatsApp chat in turns. I don't know why she asked me if I was to stay here for that long a duration of time.

A distant top-view of Shagun in a full-sleeved white crop-blouse over jeans with pink stripes passes by Mr. Kakkar whose stuff is lying openly on the center of a circular platform on the ground near what looks like a beach area as a background voice says, "Kakkar barbaad ho gya."

Well, I don't have any problem staying here in my new place for longer durations as well, if I happen to work a job, if God wills. This place is good enough and I'm loving the environment from the movie Kungfu Hustle, and things don't seem flashy but everything seems so real in this part of Vijay Nagar.

According to the dream 'The Difficult Times Ahead In My Life', some people came to kill me at the cheaper place I shifted to, though they were not successful in doing so, followed by an open slaughtering and me walking on streets coming across homes with a thumb sticking out on the outside, unable to find accommodation, after a while of which I found many homes that were ready to take me in, and the dream ended with me sitting between two people up high on a balcony. I noticed in this part of the dream, that I found it better to wander looking for accommodation than to give in to the wicked one, which brought me relieving inner peace.

Most of the visions don't come in bright colors but in a soothing, semi-animated, a bit blurry and dimmed down and low contrast version of how the real situation would look.

For God, it's all about the mind.

Which Death Conqueror's is so disgusting and close to reaching reprobation. Everyone I come across who serves a messenger either communicates a sinful message (satanic clothing, satanic clothes, satanic mindset) or a false hypocritical message which doesn't depict the reality at all! He is like a rotten piece of fruit that should be thrown on the road and trampled on! – because it's so useless and will only rot other good fruits!

The Guy sings:
Ye jo thode se hai paise
Kharch inko karu kaise..

Vision: The side-view of a fluffed, very muscular but bald Divyanshu, dressed in a white cotton tunic set, is shown as he stands facing to the left holding a lady dressed in a long embroidered white dress horizontally in his arms. The lady's face is on the other side of the vision. So, it's not visible. The very fluffed Divyanshu has an almost round face as he looks at the viewer intermittently.

Vision (past 10 minutes): Amidst a fresh background of lush green rain forest, in the centre float two tiny figures of humans - a groom in a black suit and a bride in white, with the groom facing the left and the bride - to the right, as he holds her in a duet with her upper body bent backwards a bit being held in his right arm, while the groom bends forward and drops a soft kiss on her lips, immediately moving backwards to his place, and bending forward again to drop yet another soft kiss immediately moving back afterwards. The groom is Glory while the bride's face is not visible. While the guy is bending forward and moving backwards in a robotic manner, dropping kisses on the lady's lips, the duo now change to a small toy set repeating the discrete kiss oscillations – the toy groom bending forward followed by moving backwards, as he drops soft kisses on the toy lady's lips, the lady being slightly bent over backwards.

On my way to church, as I sat in the E-Rickshaw and looked at the unoccupied seat in front of me with a guy sitting to its right, I had this following vision:
Vision (Morning): A stubbled RS sits in that unoccupied seat in front of me in the E-Rickshaw dressed in a light blue shirt, wearing square eye goggles as he smiles lightly at me and I smile back in return. Now when I think of it, it reminds me of the scene from Shaolin Soccer in which the Bald Goalie holds the firey ball in her hands that she has blocked a few seconds back and smiles at the hero with almost closed lips as he too smiles back in the same manner with both looking into each other's eyes. They didn't share a shallow smile, but one reflecting the love of one's company/nature.

Visions During Church:

As we are singing along with the Pastor, I see myself hugging Jesus around His shoulders and pulling Him towards me by His shoulders. He is so happy when He sees real love emanating from the heart of His children. He looks very pleased with my heart-state as I keep pulling His shoulders towards me. In the vision, He is gracefully dressed in His full white multilayered robes while I am in my church clothes. He then moves away to the front but I pull Him to me again. He because of some reason wants to go to the front. The follow-up vision has Him now dancing in front of the rectangular foam slabs in front of the stage – the space to my right, while the Pastor is singing worship songs on the stage. However, this time He is dressed in His off white long tunic with a red drape. He has His hands raised and stretched upwards as he moves in grace on his legs. The vision is followed by him now playing a Dumroo with his right hand while being dressed in his same holy clothes.

After a while, I saw an unusual vision during the Worship session.

Vision: A bearded guy with neck-length straight hair, dressed in a metallic armoured suit over black inner attire, is showing his sword skills in the middle narrow pathway between the two groups of people present on either side. His attire resembles that of RS from the previous vision in Room 303 of A-10 in which he did an artistic sword dance, which I later found out to be highlighting the man in Adele's 'Rolling In The Deep', which makes me think if he's RS himself, and therefore I assume him to be. He keeps showing his sword moves in synchrony with the worship song followed by him stabbing his own belly with the sword in his hand in the middle of the church. The sword pierces his belly and comes out at the other side as his side-view is visible from my side and I see him making the prophetic symbol.

Jesus' dressing sense is so mesmerizing and breathtaking. He wears plain clothes with no print or embroidery, and one feels such holiness around Him. In all His depictions by far, I saw Him dressed in plain and Holy clothes. And this makes me look at Glory's attire in the wedding dream - plain red suit over a white shirt. He was representing Jesus, like I represent the Bride of Christ.

The Lady sings:
Maar Dala.. Maar Dala

After church, I took an E-Rickshaw which took me on the road to the right of the church's street. But it took a U-turn and returned to being back in front of the street. When I asked the driver why he took us on that other road in the first place, he said that it was to look for other passengers. This time I spotted a boxy white car in front of the church's street, to the left side at he back of my E-Rickshaw. The car was parked inside of the street in a way that it hid the driver's face and it seemed weird to me because the car just didn't belong there and I never seen it before during/after the church timings. I felt angered and annoyed because I could tell that it was a game constituting an indirect communication for in front of my rickshaw stood a guy I didn't know and he was showing his upper jaw while hiding his lower lip completely. He was dressed in a checkered full-sleeved shirt untucked over pants and was looking at me with a weird expression. He too annoyed me. My previous self would've attacked a person exhibiting such weird and immoral sense of behaviour. Why was he standing there showing his upper jaw being dressed in a way he thought went along with me? I then knew that the guy was a messenger guy and the car was not supposed to be there either. I was then glad that I didn't get to see the driver, for depending on who was inside, I may have become angry and acted impulsively! But I could sense the strange aura around that vehicle, like you can sense a strange feeling around something which is not supposed to be there and is out of its place.

On my way back to the PG, while I was in the E-Rickshaw, I kept hearing in my Spirit:
'Kiss karunga tujhe! Kiss karunga tujhe!'
'I will kiss you! I will kiss you!'

I ignored it. I didn't know who was this, but, the gesture of that guy in checkered brown told me that he stood there on the behalf of this person communicating visually to me the thought of this person who was saying the above. God could've shown me who it was, or who did the messenger guy stood on the behalf of, but He chose not to which is good as it leaves my mind free and I won't think about the incident again. But I had to write it here to give a complete description of the revelation, and also it showcases how my life has now become full of weird encounters with unknown people I don't wanna see around, people who act as messengers, and the fools assume that I will know whom they're speaking on the behalf of! I'm glad that I don't get to know, for I can then let go of such encounters. But they sure are annoying! I miss the time when I wandered around or went at places being unnoticed by people around, or with no one waiting for me to pass by them so they can say something passing a message. Those were my last glorious days!

Vision (late afternoon): Jesus dances with me in a Holy duet. I then see the vision a few meters ahead of Him standing behind me as I work on the kitchen slab.

Revelations on 21st Aug (yesterday)

- Chaaru looks at me with red love hearts in front of her eyes
- Besan Ladoo in a Dark Background

While I was getting my teeth cleaned at the Dentist's and the process was almost done with:
The Golden Hammer With an Embedded Shining Stone

- The Golden hammer of a judge banging on a table with a shiny transparent stone at the top of the hammer's head.

After we were done with the process, the dentist (Dr. Shikha) was explaining to me somethings as I asked her questions, and Shikha always explains in an elaborate way though she does it quickly as well. As she talked, I was entirely focused on her, listening to her intently, which I later observed was also apparent in the way I sat with my upper half bent forward towards her, and hands placed on my knees to support my upper body.

My posture and attention reminded me of how back at my hometown and until the days of my BSc I gave everyone the same focus, showed everyone the same interest in the beginning until they revealed their inner selves which later decided how I continued further with them. I was reminded of the fact that that was my usual way of interaction – wherein I interacted with the other person looking in their eyes into their person and that that's how I bonded with people, everyone. Since I came here, I avoid looking into people's eyes, as most are so fake and their eyes reflected their broken state.

While I interacted with Shikha, I bonded with her as well. Afterwards, the lyrics of the following song played in my Spirit:
The Lady sings:
Kehna hi kya ye nain ek anjaan se jo mile..
Badhne lage mohabbat ke jaise ye silsile..

The Role of Eyes as revealed in the Past Revelations

Recall:

- The previous dream revelation of 'The Dusty Man & The Fairy' in which I and Glory stood looking into each other's eyes as he rushed to leave afterwards when I stopped him.
- The dream revelation in which I danced with Death Conqueror in a close duet looking in his wide-open blue eyes, in my home, apparently.
- When I went to buy a kitchen rack for my new room during a different day, I was interacting with the guy who was showing me different kinds of racks and was looking into him through his eyes. After a while when I was still in the shop, the song played in my Spirit:
  The Lady sings:
  Kehna hi kya ye nain ek anjaan se jo mile..
  Badhne lage mohabbat ke jaise ye silsile..

After my visit to the Dentist, I decided to walk to my room.

Chola kulcha From Shyaam Chaat Bhandar Gets Highlighted To Me

So, I buy it on my way back from the dentist. On reaching PG, I set my plate and place it on my table to be eaten later as I've to go buy Besan Ladoo which I had the vision of earlier during the day. When I was about to lock my room's door, I saw Jesus sitting on the chair and it seemed that He was implying that He would be waiting for me to join in.

Jesus Eats the Chola Kulcha

I set out and on my way to the shop saw Jesus sitting on the chair and eating from the plate intently with the room lit in white light. The vision repeated itself a few times. I had turned off everything before leaving. When I returned to the PG, I had half of it in the green light but after a while I felt slightly uncomfortable and felt a nudge to turn on the white light and had the rest of it. I was thinking if Jesus was sitting in front of me on the bed, I could put a bite in His mouth as well.

After I had returned from the Dentist to my PG, these lines from a worship song - originally composed for a Hindu idol God but not containing any mention of any specific pagan gods - played in my Spirit. The song sings about the great ocean-like love of God.

Tu Pyaar Ka Sagar Hai

The Guy sings:

Tu pyaar ka sagar hai.. Tu pyaar ka sagar hai..
Teri ek boond ke pyaase hum.. Teri ek boond ke pyaase hum..
Lauta jo diya tune.. Lauta jo diya tune
Chale jayenge jahan se hum.. Chale jayenge jahan se hum..
Tu pyaar ka sagar hai.. Tu pyaar ka sagar hai..

It was followed by this specific stanza:

Ghayal man ka pagal panchi, udne ko bekarar… udne ko bekarar
Koi kya jaane kahan hai seema, jana hai sagar paar… jana hai sagar paar..

Ab tu hi ise samjha.. Ab tu hi ise samjha..
Ki aye kon disha se hum..

I came acoss this YT shorts reco and got curious about watching it because I wanted to see the child pray, and how things worked in that setting where people lived with bare essentials (even less than what I need) and pray wholeheartedly and give thanks to God. After watching that video, when I lay in bed to rest, I saw the following vision.

Vision: Solid uncooked black lentils being poured down from a huge pot resembling the one used in the video with uncooked whole soya chunks flowing down along the sides of the black lentils. The contents poured down and took the shape of a ravine as they flowed down in a slanted manner with the background of the video.

Ref: Preparing Eggplants and rice for the big family

While resting in bed singing a worship song

A naked Glory two feet above me floating in the air with black snakes wrapped around him that were grasping him as they tightened their grip.

The vision is followed by him now lying on top of me as I grip him tightly, but he looked very muscular in this vision - like the Slam Dunk characters which then reminded me of the dream ' The Dusty Man & The Fairy' in which he had looked very bulky, and the dream had seemed too weird to me to believe in at first. But now things seem to be coming together slowly and all at once. In this vision of Glory on top of me with me gripping him tightly in love, he was too bulky while I was somehow shown as having lost significant amount of belly fat as we lay together in the act of intercourse.

And then I said in my heart 'I love Glory' immediately following which I saw a distant vision of the side-view of me standing with a profusely protruding lower belly bent downwards- the kind of belly that's a result of bad/slow metabolism – as I was dressed in my black shirt striped in white over jeans. The vision flashed itself to me many times. I think.. that God suggested me to run because it's going to boost up my system and improve my metabolism leading to a faster decrease in waist width with an increased effect of fasting seen, and it will also serve as a training ground for being amped up in the Holy Spirit as I fast and pray and walk in God's Will.

The Guy sings:
Ja Bewafa Ja
Humein Pyaar Nhi Karna
Tanha Hi Jeelenge Hum
Jab Hai Tanha Marna..

How I am a Bewafa - I don't understand. I am trying to guard my heart and walk in the will of God. Death Conqueror put me iin this compromising situation. He added to everyone's baggage of sin. That's what sinners do: sin and make others sin!

The Lady sings:
Maar dala..

The vision following 'I love Glory..' made me recall the time I was whispering/murmuring 'I love Kartik' in my heart in Room 303 of A-10 in response to which I received an immediate vision of that pink cloud rise above my heart and taking the shape of 'I <3 Kartika Aryanaa.' The next day Shawn from Yeshu Ke Geet uploaded a Sing-Along video of the worship song Stuti Aradhana Upar Jaati Hai, which made me think if the vision was the Holy Spirit's response of revealing the pink cloud to me in answer to my inner utterances, like the belly vision in response to the inner utterance pertaining to Glory. I was then comparing the two different responses to the same scenario. It made me think that KA's heart state is so desirable, while Glory only sees my protruding belly! Dumbass! Well, I am working to decrease it. But I am a human and need breaks intermittently as I get exhausted and then I have a lot of other things stressing me out: Jesus understands this.

- The view of the lower half of a woman (apparently me) bent forward away from the sight of the viewer wearing just a pink panty.

I was also recalling the visions in which Glory ripped out my chest and was biting my heart inside which resembled the shape of a red love heart instead of a human heart. And then I recalled the vision of a red scale with some messy engravings written on it in white with a Sorry written at the end of the scale said by a guy's voice in accompaniment when the view of the vision stopped at the end of the scale moving from left to right. I thought if Glory was going to leave me after a while according to the scale vision, and then I recalled the song:

Kaat Kaleja Delhi, Mera Kaat Kaleja Delhi
Ley gyi, Kaat kaleja Delhi - Mui delhi Ley Gayi.

Though I've often mentioned the above lyrics, I've also often heard the successive lyrics of the song that say:

Ab jaan bhi leja Delhi
Ab jaan bhi leja Delhi
Le Gyi Kaat Kaleja Delhi - Mui Delhi Le gyi.

If I'm asking for my life to be taken as well now after having my heart ripped out - I must be living dead as a result, which means that this person hurt me emotionally and mentally very much brutally making me pray such a prayer!

Well, I'm not sure if the scale vision pertains to Glory. It could also pertain to the abuser because he has been demonstrating wickedness since the beginning and I've often felt in the past like he robbed me of all valuable things I held dear in my mind/heart. Why did he strip me publicly and made my life hell with all the gang stalking that was there a few years back (and still continues in a different way now), and then I came across people with apathetic countenances who passed by communicating mean things as if they weren't even human – a special breed I came across for the first time and it shocked me!

"Dikha di isne apni jaat" - Heard in the Spirit several times for the past week. Such a foolish and worldly statement to make about someone! Though these people were raised in a metro city they don't have the openness of a rational mind that's often found in small places. They just learned the bad/immoral things/mindsets prevalent in the Metro!

Also, I witnessed while I was still in A-10 how I had a sudden love emerge in me for buffalos as I looked at one on the street and it looked at me with wide-open black eyes. While back in my hometown I used to be scared of them and looked down at them. But now I felt like patting one. I walked up to a buffalo standing a bit further ahead of the turn to the Gurudwara road in Single Storey and when I reached near it, I looked in its eyes and it turned its head further in my direction and lowered it as if expecting to be patted - such a miracle! I patted its head, and it didn't retaliate but kept it lowered for a while before turning it back to the meal she was having in front. I didn't feel scared at all and felt such an amount of love for that buffalo whom I now found so so cute and lovable. God made this change possible. A great part of love is communicated with eyes. There was something peculiar about that buffalo.

I always talk to people looking in their eyes as I am looking at their persona and evaluating it - mainly morally and emotionally. Eyes are a window into the soul. And then the day before yesterday I was recalling the dream The Dusty man & The Fairy in which I stood close up with glory with us staring into each other's eyes and when he saw that I was about to kiss him, he abruptly turned away to leave saying: 'I've to go now!'

~11:40
This particular part of the dream made sense to me the day before yesterday. Then, yesterday, I was reminded of the dream Time With the Short Blue-Eyed Man in which I was looking into his unusually wide-open blue eyes as I kissed him and did a duet later on - visiting the room he was in intermittently between the household chores.

The Prophetic Labelling of Pages in Word

When I came up with a way to label the pages in Word without having to change the Notebook labelling of Pages, I recalled within a day or two the dream in which I had a piece of paper in my hand with a ratio written with a number on each side and a variable x at its right end, the format being Number : Number x. In the dream, I was looking at the ratio again and again, and thinking if my solution was correct for it was the only way it could be solved in just a step – an easy problem it was. But then I had got to know that the answer was 69 which only made sense to me after a lot of thought as I saw the intricate hidden steps involved flash in my mental vision.

Edited on 6th Sept 2023 (Evening):

Dream (Morning):

Sanjay Sir teaches in a hall. A tall, lean, and clean-shaven guy is sitting on a chair with outwardly stretched legs with feet crossed over each other on a chair, being dressed in a blue suit over a white shirt. Apparently, he's in charge of something and can cause harm to others. He sits in the room comfortably in his own way. After the person is gone out of the hall, other people present leave the room as well. I go to the tall man in blue & white and sit on him in intercourse with just his (3-4 inches long and thin genitalia) protruding out as I don't want him to attack me or others, but he doesn't seem to be affected in his countenance. After a while, I leave the room and find myself in a room resembling the sports room of Miranda House present along the border of its ground adjoining the hostel. As I leave the room, I am now in a small boat scouting out the still waters in a daylit surrounding with dense green bushes and plants at my left corner serving as a transition zone between the water and the land further ahead. I seem to be making sure if everything is fine and am looking out for any unusual appearance/activity.

(As I wrote the above part about the scout out of still waters, I heard in my spirit the sound of the lady humming the Titanic theme melody: Oooh ooh ooh oh ooooh..)

The water seems to be fine and still. As I tread my way back, I hear fuzzy buzzing sounds and see small fishes protruding their mouths out of the water surface. The one in front of me happens to be a small, black-patterned mustard colored fish with round eyes that seem to be looking at me from its corner, as it protrudes its small but wide-open and pointed fish mouth. It seems that all fishes have gone too hungry at once. I go back to the room that’s supposedly a storeroom as well and get some fish food and move back to the still waters and throw it to the fishes. I observe that it may not be enough as I had brought what seemed to me to be a moderate amount in my fist/palm.

I am now back in the hall and find myself sitting again on the tall, clean-shaven guy in a blue suit over a white shirt, in intercourse. After a while of some blurry happenings, I find myself pass by a room with its door open as I walk out of the hall, and in that room, I see the short-heighted Death Conqueror sitting on a sofa placed at the far end of the room opposite the door, with some more people visible sitting beside him, as he places a packed white bag on the sofa with his head turned to the left (making the prophetic symbol). Apparently, there’s a train that’s about to leave and he has already packed his stuff for the same and is fully ready to leave, while I am yet to even begin to prepare. Apparently, I too will be boarding the train, but I am not yet ready, and it will have to perhaps wait for me. When I get to know the status of Death Conqueror and the train and my own lack of preparation, the dream ends.

6th Sept 2023 (Around 3:30 am)
I was thinking and recalling the details related to the part pertaining to the fishes part of the dream to write above when I had the following vision.

Vision: I am in a boat with some people in that still water body from the dream and at a distance of 4-5 meters is another small boat filled with people standing inside it with the view of a blurry short-heighted and lean man (resembling Death Conqueror) standing on the left corner of that other boat facing me as he abruptly throws a fish net in my direction that successfully lands on me covering me up after which the vision ends. But we were in different boats, so throwing the fish net had no practical significance/consequence/repercussions though it landed on me.

And as I wrote the above vision, I heard the sound of the Titanic theme instrumental being hummed by the lady.

James Horner - Hymn To The Sea | Titanic (Music From The Motion Picture)

The scene from the movie in which Rose lets go of Jack's frozen hands and he slowly drowns deep down into the freezing sea has been highlighted to me several times. Now, the sea would represent the world from what I learned from my first few church attendances. But in this vision that has people in two different small boats, there is no sight of anyone drowning in the water, and additionally, it had the theme melody of the movie hummed by the lady playing along as I wrote the vision. So, though in the movie Jack drops dead into the ocean, in the vision no one drowns but the short-heighted guy standing on the other boat throws a net on me to no use.

And as I wrote the above, I heard:
The Lady sings:
Hum mar jayenge..

6th Sept 2023 (Night)
The above was followed by the highlighting of this previous vision, that I had back in the Room 303 of A-10, of the immobile face of RK lying on its side on the ground, and tilted backwards with a crown of thorns on his head, after which the soldier with his mom waiting in his home in the village stands up and shoots openly and blindly at the front standing against a wall amidst the yellow flashes of light and environment of bombings going around.

The Guy sings:
Yaha aag, yaha shole..
Hai kuwar - ab akele..
Ab sawaal hai, unki jaa ka..
Ghir gaye hai - vo akele..

Rustam pukare tujhe baar-baar..
Uth ja Jabaaz uth ja tu…
Uth ja Jabaaz uth ja.. Ut jaa Jabaaz uth ja..

15:57
I started reading the Bible after brunch when I had a jolt of sleep while sitting on chair with these words said in my Spirit: 'Black board bhi dhona hai.. Chalk board..'. I went to sleep after this as I knew that I wasn't going to be able to do my work. I had a deep sleep which I hadn't expected because I already woke up late today - around 10:30.

I woke up from this second shorter round of sleep with following lyrics from the two worship songs playing in my Spirit:

The Guy sings:
Pavitra Atma ka mandir hu mein
Parmeshwar ka mandir hu mein ..
Mandir hu mein.. Mandir hu mein..
Parmeshwar ka mandir hu mein..

Mujhko parmeshwar ne samarth aur prem, aur saiyam ki atma di hai..
Mujhko parmeshwar ne samarth aur prem, aur saiyam ki atma di hai..

Bhay ki nhi, bair ki nhi..
Bhay ki nhi, bair ki nhi..

Na asaiyam hi atma di hai..

Pavitra Atma ka mandir hu mein
Parmeshwar ka mandir hu mein ..

The Guy sings:
Mein dhanyawad karta rahunga..

Yeshu dhanyawad karta rahunga..

Yeshu tere karib ane zindage meri badal gyi..
Yeshu tere chune se.. Sindagi meri sawar gayi..
Tune mujhe hai bachaya, tune mujhe sehlaya..
Tune mujhe hai bachaya, tune mujhe sehlaya..

Mein dhanyawad karta rahunga..
Yeshu dhanyawad karta rahunga..

Parts of the above two songs repeated themselves in turns in my Spirit after a while of which - I woke up.

17:29
As soon as I closed the door of the washroom to bath this noon, these lyrics from a Worship song played unexpectedly in my Spirit:

The Guy sings:
Mara gaya tha cruz par, Cheda gaya tha cruz par..
Mara gaya tha cruz par, Cheda gaya tha cruz par..

Mein bhi bacha, tum bhi bacho..
Mein bhi bacha, tum bhi bacho..

Yahowa ki sajaao se..

Yeshu salib par mua, tere liye, mere liye..

Nadiya ye kaisi khoon ki.. Christ ke cruz pe beh gyi..
Dhul gaye paap, mit gaye daag..
Yeshu Christ ke lahoo se..

Dho daalo aaj papon ko, Dil se nikaalo daago ko..
Ho jao saaf, tan man se aaj..
Yeshu Christ ke lahoo se..

Ref: Yeshu salib par mua by Yeshu Ke Geet

All three stanzas played in my Spirit during my bathing time, beginning with the Mara gaya tha cruz par one. The Dho daalo aaj papon ko.. Dil se nikaalo daago ko also played with much stress being highlighted on the lines.

When Comparisons Don't Work

Can David be compared to Saul? David was so loved by God and was a great worshipper of Yahuah. Can Paul be compared to Herod? Herod was a wicked man who gave orders to kill all the infants less than a few years old in the place to have the baby Messiah killed. Can John the Baptist be compared to Herod? This Herod was an ungodly man with an ungodly wife who was his brother's wife previously. John pointed out that what Herod did was wrong, and it irked Herod and then he was looking for a way to kill John, but he was aware of the fact that John was considered as God's prophet by the people and therefore he feared their retaliation. Can the disciples of Jesus who follow His Spirit and ways be compared with the worldly people who reject Him and His statutes!? - The answers to all the questions is a No.

Likewise, I get very much irked when I am compared with Akhila in any way, shape or form because I will never act, behave or choose things or people the way she does with an ungodly mindset. I rejected Death Conqueror because of his persistent sin, and I rejected Akhila because she chose someone like him. I don't want to be compared with such people. I wouldn't even want to stand beside such filth of the world which refuses to come to God, repent and clean itself.

I would rather be compared in character with a poor and ugly man who follows the real God whole heartedly – actually knowing Him and His statutes! Foolish Death Conqueror just makes me feel more and more disgusted as I see his filthy mind at work. The last thing he can do is kill people at which point my live story will all end. But he can't go beyond that point. What more can he do than kill people who refuse to bow down to wicked men like him!?

What he did and how he behaved is the proof he gave of his stinking inner self. And then he insults me by showing me dark and bellied versions of people who look undesirable but he misses out on the very important aspect of being godly. And then he would show them as being dressed fully dressed or dressed in grey, but again, it's such the outer representation. Those people aren't really godly and don't follow God. If they really knew him, though being dark and fat, they wouldn't have listened to or chosen to heed someone like Deah Conqueror. If those people, even when undesirable in their outer looks were followers of God/Jesus, they would be considered highly valuable and would earn my respect easily.

Vision (past 72 hours): I saw the tips of three grey and thick nails as they were pushed into the centre of my forehead at once.

I was thinking yesterday how Death Conqueror was the kind of person who would change colors like a chameleon if it was about his own life. He would easily discard people and connect with new ones he disliked previously. I saw how rotten his inner self was. He had communicated to me indirectly that he wanted to remove the dividing line between love and hate from my mind which would mean that he didn't really want love and was playing on the devil's side, because there exists undeniably a clear and stark division between love and hatred, godliness and satanism, good and evil. God loves godliness and hates satanism – how much more clear it would be know that He created a special place for those who hate and rejected Him disregarding the fact that He is their creator and has the right over their lives. Death Conqueror has zero right over my life! He has trespassed his boundaries.

People like him who don't really love or hate anyone as they think in terms of power play and would shift and change sides instantly regardless of who they're choosing to side with! He can learn something from the way I have treated him. I kept him at bay for he is unworthy and undesirable as he has proven from the way he behaved with me. I didn't give in to him just because he thinks he has some kind of great worldly power. His power play didn't matter to me, and would never. Even if he was the PM and used crooked ways displaying wickedness to get his way, I would still have treated him the same and would kick him out in case he tried to enter my home. I am too good for him. I am not praising myself, but I have a functioning mind that can see the truth and compare parameters that truly matter. There's a reason God compared him with vicious seas. If I was too short wherein I didn't find anyone who wanted to be with me, or if I looked different, say I was fairer of darker, or if I was too slim or bulky and muscular, or if I was richer or poorer than my current economic condition, or if I was even richer than him, or was born in a different background - I would still have rejected him, because these parameters don't intensify or dilute sin. It's the same way things work with God. He doesn't look at the parameters I previously mentioned in the previous sentence. Unless he repented before me with a guilty heart with tears while banging his head on the floor and swore to never even think the way he always has throughout his life and was ready to be telecasted live being fully naked to make up for the damage he caused, and had begun to actually do it – only then I would let him in my life. Well, that's my own standard of acceptance but if Jesus told me that there was no need of doing so – I would listen to Him. And seeing that he actually felt guilty and had a changed heart, I might have decreased the distance of his naked street route and may even have cancelled this certain punishment altogether if he was whole-heartedly guilty for real. But he doesn't seem to be capable of real repentance. I have forgiven him because unforgiveness is a burden like doing wrong unto others. He is very ungodly and his character stinks! Forgiveness doesn't mean I approve of his behavior and want such a person to be an active part of my life because he will take me away from Jesus because of the way he lives and the kind of wicked mind he has.

Herod the king was a wicked and ungodly man but was quite wealthy and people had to listen to his orders, but he was rejected of God and had nothing to do with Him. John the Baptist however lived in the wilderness and looked like a tramp to an extent where some called him demon-possessed as he was always fasting and at times eating insects in the wilderness but Jesus called him the greatest on Earth. What do Death Conqueror and Akhila think of themselves!? They are the Herods of their respective places who think wickedly, make wicked decisions, and rule wickedly but they are undesirable. In their present condition, they're of no use to God. All of Death Conqueror's comparisons seem too stupid to me! They're not blessed by the work of the Spirit of God in their lives whom they followed, but by their backgrounds which has no real meaning in the kingdom of God. So, they better not highlight things of no significance and display their godly inferiority because it's one thing to not be led by the Spirit of God, but entirely another to be wicked at heart and do wrong and sin against others and loving the filth of the world rejecting godliness!

Yeshu Raja

I noticed how I had come to now love it whenever the Pastor would call Jesus as Yeshu Raja (King Yeshu) while previously, I didn't relate with it for I wasn't used to the Hindi name of Jesus before I started attending that church. And the title so suits Him because: look at His Holiness and unfathomable characteristics! And I could also now relate to the Pastor saying: Yeshu Raja ke liye taaliya bajaye! I realized all this after church. Yeshu Raja ke liye taaliya bajaye: this made me think "Wow.."

'Yeshu Raja ke liye taaliya bajaye' ('Clap for King Yeshu')

Imagine little angels clapping for the great Jesus - their Creator! Such a wonderful scene and notion.

Vision (Morning): A very old lady with thin and ruffled short white hair looks intently at the viewer sitting in front of one of the homes along the corridor. She is dressed in a full-sleeved white top with a small black floral print tucked inside a long black pencil skirt.

Revelations last night:

- An army of golden armoured men with golden swords held gracefully down in the front walks towards the viewer in a golden background. It's a group of golden soldiers being led by another golden soldier who walks in front of the middle row.
- The Indian News Anchor Sudhir Choudhary (dressed in his suit) pulls out my intestines out of my vagina continuously. His hands are outside of me at a good distance of about less than half a foot, but he is holding the intestines in his hands as he pulls them out and it continues for a good while. They must be too long.

Well, it was an unexpected vision, though not shocking after all the other revelations I've had. I know the News Anchor was just a label. But the vision further filled my heart with repulsion for the Death Conqueror and gang! He's so deplorable! To say that one's bad company influenced one's life choices and mindsets wouldn't be an incomplete description. He chose that company for himself. Meera once was trying to put me down by saying that I chose people as in I didn't let everyone in my close circle and chose specific people to form good bonds with, but that's the very reason God chose mem because I kept myself separate from the world and didn't become a part of its systems.

- A person rolls vertically up and down a chart curtain on a wall behind which lies the face of Jesus in green light.

Dream (Morning):

I am an invisible angel who moves through the air on Earth from one place to another and goes unseen and unnoticed by people around as I pass them by doing one or other chore. Apparently, I am on a task. This continues for a great part of the dream as I move from one place to another. In one of the locations, I found myself on the roof of our third rented home in my hometown Pundri. I passed unseen by the people and when I reached the edge of the roof, I looked at the vast expanse of the sky with the orangish hue at the far end of it in front of me. Apparently, I had to go there. So, I take a leap and start moving to that part of the sky. I pass by wicked men as well whom I can tell that if they were able to see me, they would definitely hurt me. One of them is represented by Gulshan Grover in a negative role as I look at the scene from above them.

In the next part of the dream, though I am still invisible my movements or the changes it causes in the environment can be noticed. Additionally, the wicked men present on the ground are now aware of the presence of such invisible beings moving around and they're targeting them by capturing them because of the movements in the environment they make while moving, and they are killing them though the beings cause them no harm. I get spotted too because of the sounds and environment changes I make. I float up to a tree and try to not cause its leaves to move and try to be as silent as possible but still end up shuffling some leaves and get noticed by the wicked men below. Apparently, most people have turned wicked and are on a killing spree. I silently move towards the ground trying to evade the men who are now attacking that place on the tree, but I get caught in a process undergoing on the ground which gives me a blurry transparent and gaseous boundary as I take a right turn on the road with a mild rush of vehicles present on it. I see the gaseous transparent as a third person from the top. I keep moving and now enter a room where I see stands Indian cricketer Virat Kohli dressed in a suit along with his wife Anushka and others people present in the room. I fathom from the environment that Virat Kohli is aware of the existence of the invisible me on Earth and wants to meet me. I enter the room and move to the square exit/hole present at the vertical middle at right end of the wall in the front and with some effort move out of it as the hole is too small. My struggle through the wall makes my presence to him known and he walks near to it from inside the room while I am now outside. I stretch forth my hands inside near to him to shake hands and he holds my apparent invisible hands and kisses them for a short while, turns and walks back into the room. I too leave the square window and continue on my way through the air.

I come across someone whom I get to know got saved because of a chain reaction my book caused, and then I understood how my book worked in the long run and how it led to lives being saved over an extended period of time. I see the presence of angels around me on Earth now. They're dressed in full white. I am in what looks like a green forest area with an open view of the sky above me. I see groups of angels in white abruptly appear in the sky above. They look too tiny from this distance. They're there to aid in the undergoing war. I now see a man being informed about this spiritual condition of the place that I'm witnessing but he doesn't believe and walks away. A narrative voice then says in a serious tone that (though the guy didn't believe in what he was told, but) after he walked away from the angelic zone, he came across the first demonic being. The voice is accompanied by the vision of that man walking up to a place where the view shifts to a wall beside which is unexpectedly revealed a deplorable supernatural who has just slaughtered a person in half from his mid-section. Before the man can do anything about it, the next scene shows that he too has already been sliced in half by that demonic being. The being is too quick in his actions and apparently his dressing sense reflects the way of his conduct. He is wearing a tunic whose two vertical surfaces are joined together by a lace in a criss cross manner – resembling the way you tie a shoelace. So, it seems that he slices people and then sews them up as a procedure, though the person is already dead after being sliced. He is now shown as sewing the body of the person he has just sliced in half.

The demonic being then walks to a third person in close proximity to whom I stand as I look at the two to my left. The demonic being now says to him in a serious tone, "I am the lost angel. And the name of her book is The Lost Bible."

Another event from the dream I didn't write about:
After I realized that my movements could now be seen by the wicked people who were actively looking to capture and kill me, while I was on the run, I saw a huge tortoise chasing after me! It was bigger than any that I ever saw, and it ran with a speed comparable to mine as I ran with a baby. The tortoise was a spiritual being and therefore was able to clearly see us in the Spirit while others only noticed the changes in the surroundings cause by our movements.

I woke up with the following lyrics from a Worship song the Pastor sings in the church playing in my Spirit:

Sirf tere liye, Sirf tere liye
Sirf tere liye, Sirf tere liye
Sirf tere liye, Yeshu tere liye
Mein haath uthata hu..

I heard the lyrics in the Pastor's voice the way he sings them in the church.

No One's Worthy
But there're some parameters of heart and holiness that need to be met.

2 Timothy 3:1-5
New International Version

3 But mark this: There will be terrible times in the last days. 2 People will be lovers of themselves, lovers of money, boastful, proud, abusive, disobedient to their parents, ungrateful, unholy, 3 without love, unforgiving, slanderous, without self-control, brutal, not lovers of the good, 4 treacherous, rash, conceited, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God— 5 having a form of godliness but denying its power. Have nothing to do with such people.

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=2%20Timothy%203%3A1-5&version=NIV;KJV>

How many of the above parameters does Death Conqueror satisfy? One or two, or besides one or two!?
He satisfies almost all the negative traits (except one or two) mentioned in the Holy Book of God.
That's why he's not worthy and desirable! It has got nothing to do with his looks or wealth, as is apparent by the kind of qualities that are mentioned for God's people to avoid whenever they find others possessing those qualities.

Who's worthy?
A person who identifies his sin and tries to correct it though he may fail at times - he's worthy, for his heart desires to be Holy though he struggles with his flesh. With a willing heart and the Spirit's help, he'll conquer over the fleshly traits mentioned above.

1 Corinthians 6:9-10 (NIV)
9 Or do you not know that wrongdoers will not inherit the kingdom of God? Do not be deceived: Neither the sexually immoral nor idolaters nor adulterers nor men who have sex with men[a] 10 nor thieves nor the greedy nor drunkards nor slanderers nor swindlers will inherit the kingdom of God.

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=1%20Corinthians%206&version=NIV>

Again, Death Conqueror satisfies 8 out of the 9 ungodly qualities mentioned in the Holy Book of God. Again, that's why I called him unworthy and undesirable. The only bad quality he doesn't seem to possess is homosexuality, but I don't know if he turns to being homosexual if the situation calls for it, in which case he would satisfy all.

I think.. Death Conqueror here is our prototype of who we are not be like. So, we should learn that he is the kind of person God is calling us to not be like and stay away from. So, I've been right in my conduct according to the Word of God.

If he wasn't there, we wouldn't have a good example of an unholy person God's people are called to stay away from.

1 Corinthians 6:13 (NLT)
13 You say, "Food was made for the stomach, and the stomach for food." (This is true, though someday God will do away with both of them.) But you can't say that our bodies were made for sexual immorality. They were made for the Lord, and the Lord cares about our bodies. 14 And God will raise us from the dead by his power, just as he raised our Lord from the dead.

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=1%20Corinthians%206&version=NLT>

Again, the above verses reflect the ungodly man's thought patterns as he compares sexual sin to consumption of food which is not a correct comparison. Food and stomach are non-personal objects, but being pleased in sexual sin with other person involves a living person and therefore the act is supposed to carry the requirements that come along with the changed situation/framework. Therefore, within a right framework, sexuality would be exercised with one's covenant partner, just like eating is done with one's own mouth and not someone else's.

I see now, why I abhor him to that extent. I never analysed or counted the qualities that God's people are called to discard. He possesses most of them – almost all! And that's why I get repelled by him and think of him as unworthy and undesirable. Now that I've counted the qualities, I can remind myself that I am not being too harshly judgmental, unforgiving, or impatient by rejecting someone like him because it is written in the Word to stay away from people such as him. It is not an opinion - it's the truth. All his friends who possess these qualities are to be stayed away from and are worthy of God's judgment at the end.

'The heart of the law (of God when someone does you wrong) is mercy', but I didn't do anything wrong to him, yet he has been unmerciful in inflicting mental and emotional pain on me and has been unrepentful of his sin as well. He didn't show me mercy though I didn't do him anything wrong. He fails in this godly quality as well. And it is written that whosoever doesn't show mercy will not receive any. I don't know if he'll receive God's forgiveness with this attitude or if God's judging hammer will fall on him!

It's nothing that I'm saying by my own mind, but it's supported by the Word in the New Testament - the one written after Jesus - written as given by His Spirit. So, though Jesus died for our sins, we are not called to stay sinners! It's not an excuse to stay a sinner and keep living the same lifestyle!

Now if I was to count the traits in the case of Akhila, I would find them to be lesser than Death Conqueror's but not by a huge number. It would be 2-3 bad traits lesser than him. So, they should actually stop expecting me to get along with their present selves! They have to rise up to the level I want to reach with God with the above traits. It's not going to be the other way round, where I stoop down to their lowly level to get along with them wherein I possess all these negative traits that God abhors!

Likewise, others should evaluate the people around them, but first and foremost - themselves - and see the ones that don't possess many ungodly or godly traits.

After Gym:
I will count hers later. Not to count but to exemplify. But let me first write the importance of dividing the Word correctly, which is to say not use a verse in conjunction with another, for they can't both hold true at the same time. The verses mentioning the ungodly qualities of people who won't inherit the kingdom of God don't go along with 'Love Never Fails'. They are mutually exclusive. It's similar to saying a fat person is thin - which is self-contradictory, or that a drunkard is sober, or that a rapist is self-controlled. To live a lie is sin as well, as is written in the Word.

Love never fails (1 Corinthians 13:8): Jesus displayed it on the cross. Now it's our turn to imitate His nature and live it in our lives. Death Conqueror has ONLY FAILED me. Likewise, Akhila too failed me 80% of the times than she passed me! So, she too has failed me! So, they can judge now with the right perspective I am pointing them to! I was much better of a person than them when I was in high school while they exhibit such rotten abusive qualities when they’re fully grown mature adults, at least in their outer forms!

It is also written that love doesn't rejoice in evil and wickedness, but they rejoiced in doing me harm and causing me pain!

He even judged me for buying perfume instead of judging his own self for limiting my washroom freedom and putting me to shame! I didn't buy stuff to flaunt or make a point in front of others like the fool does! I did so in obedience to God! And that perfume wasn't even expensive! I got 4 bottles in just around 500. But he judged it, being his usual disgusting foolish self! If I am putting perfume on my body, it's equivalent to putting it on Jesus! - because I am His temple, and His temple shouldn't stink! Death Conqueror is putting His temple to shame! He should judge his own self and find himself guilty, and 'repent' before God with a genuine heart - that's how one finds forgiveness.

Additionally, though I give corrective words, at the end they are responsible for their own walks with God. He is not my God-ordained partner! I only had to point him to God! So he better stay within his limits! And I am sure if Death Conqueror turned into a poorer version of himself or was ugly or deformed or had a face with an uneven, rough texture, her behavior wouldn't have been the same with him, and vice-versa. He wouldn't have treated her the same either if she looked different than her present self! So, they better not use the Bible verse of 'Love Never Fails' hypocritically when both have only and only and only failed me more than 90% of the times together - which only shows a display of loveless mockery, hypocrisy and using the other person for one's own enjoyment!

Their counterarguments are so foolish that it just makes me utterly angry! He has proven by failing me repeatedly that what he did wasn't love - because he wronged me willingly knowing that he was putting me to shame and hurting me! So, he can get lost with his ugly black heart!

23:13
The Guy rumbles:
"Aankhein phod iski! Aankhein phod iski!"

2 Timothy 3:1-5 (NIV)
3 But mark this: There will be terrible times in the last days. 2 People will be lovers of themselves, lovers of money, boastful, proud, abusive, disobedient to their parents, ungrateful, unholy, 3 without love, unforgiving, slanderous, without self-control, brutal, not lovers of the good, 4 treacherous, rash, conceited, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God— 5 having a form of godliness but denying its power. 1 Corinthians 6:9-10 (NIV)
9 Or do you not know that wrongdoers will not inherit the kingdom of God? Do not be deceived: Neither the sexually immoral nor idolaters nor adulterers nor men who have sex with men[a] 10 nor thieves nor the greedy nor drunkards nor slanderers nor swindlers will inherit the kingdom of God.

You see, the above negative traits constitute a broad list of what's considered as unholy. It's not a fully detailed version of what one should or shouldn't do but specifies the minimum basic structure that a mind should have for it to be broadly called Holy. There must be a great amount of intricate details to the right ways to act in certain difficult situations – details that consider the situation, its nature and context, and the heart-state of the person. But the opposite of the negative traits mentioned in the verses would constitute a good model of a Godly/Holy mind comprising all the essential features, though not being a perfect model, because only God is perfect. So, looking at the broadness of the positive corollaries of the negative traits, don't say that it's too much and impossible to emulate. The traits constitute the bare essentials to construct a functional model of a mind imitating/emulating God's nature.

Yesterday and today while cleaning:
The Guy says in Hariyanvi:
"Ghani suthri ladki hai."

It's I who hasn't failed in correcting them and therefore has displayed the right and real kind of love! God is the Father who corrects those He loves! He doesn't love our sins! He helps us to overcome them, and He doesn't condone them!

"Kartika tu bahut cute hai."

Yesterday after completing writing the day's portion:

Vision (while going into sleep): I saw a naked clean-shaven Glory above and inside me in the act of intercourse as I pushed him slowly further upwards with my hands on his lower ass. Though he was fully inside me, I was still pushing his ass up. He then changed to a clean-shaven RS and then back to his own self.

The Children of God Are the Judges

1 Corinthians 6:2-3 (NIV)
2 Or do you not know that the Lord's people will judge the world? And if you are to judge the world, are you not competent to judge trivial cases? 3 Do you not know that we will judge angels? How much more the things of this life!

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=1+Corinthians+6&version=NIV>

You see, God has given us His Spirit of sound and Sober judgment. So, the children of God often judge between right and wrong, good and evil, godliness and ungodliness very well. Additionally, recall: the vision of the judging golden hammer of a judge hitting on a table in a well-lit environment - that I had when my teeth were being treated at the dentist's. I too am a judge represented by that golden hammer with a shining stone embedded on the top surface of its head - representing my teeth. So, I've not judged Death Conqueror and Akhila in twisted or a wrong manner. I said the truth about them and judged them the way they should've been. I wouldn't have called them Dumbasses because I don't like to abusive words or profane language, but God helped me to judge them better.

The Guy says (yesterday):
"Dharm Parivartan karwana chahti hai ye!"

Well, it's not about changing one's religion but waking up to the reality of the system and seeing the existence of the two kingdoms at work on the Earth - that of God and that of devil. Now, devil can come dressed as an angel of light, like Death Conqueror does all time in his earthly life as he does all these acts of charity that have no significance for he follows the statutes of devil!

While cleaning the switchboard:

The Guy says:
"Tune meri report ki!? Meri report! Teri itni aukat!"
“You reported me!? Reported me! How dare you!”

"Randi ne meri report kar kaise di!"
“How could that whore file a report against me!”

Vision (about an hour back): I saw Death Conqueror standing along with two more men in a well-lit environment, where all three were dressed in white astronaut suits, as he talked with them with his round and transparent helmet held in his hand. After a while, more people joined the group of three.

The Guy whispers (within himself):
"Ab tu nahi bachegi.."

Earlier during the evening, while being on the treadmill in the Gym for just about 5 minutes, I happened to have an outburst and couldn't stop myself from crying out loud. I knew then that I would have to leave because my behavior was no longer in my control. I left when I saw that I had begun to cry out loud. I thought I would go to my new room and cry out and spend time with Jesus and may feel comforted after a while, but on my way saw a Policeman standing in the same lane as mine and talking to a man. I had this thought of talking to him as I was too distressed and needed immediate help. I tried to let the thought pass, but when I had walked about 6-8 meters away from the duo, I looked back and had this strong urge/nudge to go and talk to him. There was no other option! I walked back to him crying out loud and told him as much as I could about my situation. The Policeman was posted in the Maurice Nagar branch and his name was Braj Bhushan. He told me to go to the Model Town Police Station and file a report. I hurried for I was too much in pain and couldn't stop crying! I didn't bath yesterday after gym though I was too sweaty, but only rinsed my head to drop the heat and feel cooler before sleeping. And then today as well, I didn't bathe though I did a lot of physical work, sweated, and became dirty. And then I was running the treadmill. All this got on top of my head! I didn’t want to strip publicly but then I had to do all these household stuff/work as well, and workout, and seeing how I was suffering while this disgusting immoral demon-possessed man was enjoying his old youth! - from what he himself highlighted: live while you're young - I was filled with righteous anger for him and there was nothing that could've stopped me from hurting him badly in that moment if he was in front of me! (Doesn't he know what God said in His word: "Do not give in to the passions of youth but walk on the right path of God!") I saw that he had gone too far now in his sin against me! I felt as if it was no longer forgiveness but condoning what I was doing! I wanted instant judgment on this demon-possessed man at that moment!

I was crying and shouting even in front of the auto-rickshaw driver as I told him to hurry to the Police Station. I was shouting in front of the first Policeman I met in the outermost room there! He listened to me patiently and asked me to go inside and write a report. Before leaving I asked the other fair and obese lady who was sitting there before me about her problem. She told me her in-laws and husband had beaten her up. I saw a horizontal slit at the right junction of her lips. She said that that was one of the bruises from the beating along with other bruises she had. It was fresh. She had just been beaten after which she had come to file a complaint with her family members who were previously sitting in the room but were sent out when I came. I told her that whatever I shared with the Policeman that she too got to listen to that was done by the culprit, was done under the false pretext of him wanting to marry me, and then I told them that he routinely slept with his sister and other women and I didn't want such a guy who didn't know better to not do what he did to me, that it was only equivalent of hurting me physically (which he had now begun to do for real recently!), and she agreed with me. I was then led to the lady inspector in front of whom I wrote the two-page report hurriedly as it was time for them to leave. I could've written more but they had to leave. I wrote a two-page report that carried only the essential points and missed some of the important details. I began the report with mentioning the act of stalking by Death Conqueror and his friends. The thought of writing that there were two more people besides him, as had been revealed to me in a dream, came to me, but I forgot about this point as I was writing. I could've added this additional essential detail that there were three people together who partook in driving me to that point! Perhaps I will write another report as a second part and hand it over there. I felt so relieved after writing that report and felt a burden lift off for it was the right thing to do and I should've done it much earlier but I was sceptical because I didn't have any proof of the spycam around me and whatever I would've said would've seemed like a talk in the air! Also, I had written a stalking report previously as well but they told me to do fruitless things like click a photo whenever I saw the guy or call the police. Why would the guy stay there until the police came, and additionally, he would know that I've called the Police when I would do so because of the spy drones and my hacked phone. The gangstalking itself was so stressful when I concluded that I was being gangstalked, and then in 2020 I got to know about the spy drones around me that followed me even into the washroom, and now he started hurting my physical body as well! He only upped his torment of me with time and increased my suffering and I had that breaking point today where I broke out as I saw the level of betrayal and unjustness and then I found that Policeman on the way and went to him! (His deplorable head is disgusting and repulsive, and filled with goop!) If I hadn’t found that Policeman, the thought of filing a report wouldn't have come to me in that moment as I was heading to my room and not the Police Station. I guess it was God's plan to lead me to file/write one!

I feel so much better after writing it out! While writing the previous para, I thought how if I was in Death Conqueror's place, I would've gone and handed myself over to the Police because I would've known that I did something wrong and deserved punishment! And that's also how I pray to Jesus at times, that He can judge me in His righteous ways if I deserve so, but he shouldn't leave me.

Prior to the gym, as I lay on my bed, I was praying to Jesus to make me Holy, in response to which I saw Him pour down a white paint bucket filled with red blood on me from a level above me. That's His way of making me (and us) Holy, but what I was asking was for Him to change the wiring of my mind and make it Holy at places it had backslidden or needed improvement. I know that He is so great, merciful, and loving that He cleanses sins with His blood, but it's better to not sin in the first place than to sin and ask for forgiveness unless it's not in one's control.

Vision (night): The young guy from The Dinesh Store is lying on a surface on what looks like the floor of that room with one of his hands resting behind his head which is lying on what looks like a square bag (it is definitely not the usual rectangular pillow on uses) as he says in serious tone: Agar ye mar jayegi to humara kya hoga. To his left, are lying more such bag pillows at around the same level on the floor though there's none present there. Perhaps there was a guy there previously, as I saw another figure at the left end of the frame of the vision, but in the subsequent view, there's none but just the folded black pillows.

Post midnight
The duo sings:

Yesterday I got a small plant planted in what formerly I used a dustbin. I had happened to clean it some days back after shifting to this PG and had put it temporarily at a place where I saw best, as I couldn't think of any other place to put it in. I thought: I'll figure later what to do with it, or how to use it. But then this time I looked at it and what I envisioned was a small green leafy plant inside with the bin placed at the same place. After I bought the plant today, it reminded me of the vision in which amidst the background of a forest, the tiny Glory in black and white and the tiny lady in bridal white held each other in a duet as the groom bent forward and dropped kisses on her lips in a robotic manner. I recalled that the leaves of the plant around the tiny duo resembled that of the one I bought today - long and pointed. The plant also reminded me of the vision in which I saw KA come into view on a narrow street through a forest as he pointed a handgun at the viewer.

After I was back to my room having bought the plant, I saw a naked Glory sprint speedily to the left and to the right in joy!

I was lying on the bed and was quite sad and stressed when I was reminded of the smiling innocent Glory's face from a day he had made himself shown as he stood outside an Auto dressed in a brown checkered coat when I saw him through the window at the stairs of A-16. I don't know why I got reminded of it but it somehow served as an antidote as I saw it had an effect that was fighting the negative feelings I was having. Earlier I was thinking that even if Death Conqueror died, it wouldn't be enough punishment for him. And then I thought of ending my own life. Then I prayed to Jesus to take me out of the system, for in this state, I wasn't going to be able to continue in my task. Then I thought if I was being like the Israelites who complained all the time about their lack of comfort as God led them to their promised land. I told Jesus that I didn't want to be like them. That I wanted to follow Him in love wholeheartedly. And now when I think of the Israelites, I can say that I would've gone through their situation because they wandered in the desert being led by God, and I like wandering as well. They were with their family that was also a part of God's tribe - His chosen people, and they witnessed miracles as God led them with a pillar of fire at night and that of cloud at day - how amazing! It must had been very nice to sleep in the desert at night as it gets cold and the night sky is dark with a great view of a sky densely filled with stars that more clearly visible than at any other place. They slept in their tents with cool natural breeze - again, what I love! Only during the heat of the day, they would've faced problems, but that won't be a problem either if you're watching the cloud of God at the front leading you. You would be mesmerize and captivated by His cloud more than you would be tormented by the heat. Also, they had Moses - the Godly leader whom God talked directly to and who was His friend like none else! So, it was a good place/situation/setting if I look at the things I like. But to be stripped of one's dignity many times during a day publicly is difficult and leaves cumulative damage after it has been done for years! I was so restless with feelings of vengeance and I called out to God to take it on my behalf, because this fellow had been mean for too long now and wasn't willing to back off though he found no success! It extended to this period of time because I considered God's given revelations in which he was shown as a changed and godly man. So, I thought the end result was going to be what God showed me and that that was His Will so I went through what I did without looking at the unjustness but thinking about the revelations He gave me about my promise of wedding along with other revelations, and then I was busy with implementing them. I had many to-do things on my list which kept me occupied as I looked hopefully at the promise of my marriage. But now years had passed by and I still didn't see any change in either Death Conqueror or my intimacy with Glory. On top of that my workload only increased which I actually would've liked in the absence of cameras as the stress of using washroom publicly wouldn't be there and I would get things done quickly and with joy as I like to be independent and take care of my surroundings - but now I worked, sweated a lot, stinked and had no option but to bath in front of the public! Why was I being treated like a prostitute!? I felt so disgusted by this cheap and immoral person and was having strong feelings of having been wronged with the previous state of my outburst returning, as I saw that writing a report wasn't enough, that it didn't serve the purpose! He and his immoral pals had to be punished and taught a lesson! He had to be judged righteously! The relief that I felt after writing the FIR was now gone around midnight and I wanted him to receive the real and deserved fruit of his deed! I had this feeling eating away at my me as I lay on bed restlessly and have had a similar state previously as well and if often reminded me of the Bible verse in which the souls of the people killed by their tormentors were crying out to the Lord for vengeance as they all stood together dressed in white robes in His presence. Those were the souls of the dead that cried for vengeance and the Lord told them that they indeed would be avenged but others had to join them before the judgment fell at once on the place. I was also thinking how Death Conqueror and his family was just like the in-laws of the woman I met today in the police station - they're abusive and apathetic, and the resemblance made me think if the situation served a purpose. The bruised woman had features somewhat resembling to Death Conqueror as her eyes were much smaller/narrower in proportion to her round face.

So.. I lay on bed restless praying to Jesus to either send death to fall on me or grant me His righteous vengeance! And then out of nowhere, I had this vision of the past incident of coming across a smiling and shy face of Glory dressed in a brown coat checkered in a still darker color. As I looked at the distant memory, I saw that it was having an opposite effect than what Death Conqueror did had on me. And I was being pointed to the memory repeatedly and I saw it resist the negative feelings I was having. After a while, my negative emotions went away as I was now distracted and saw that I had a lot left to do. So, I was able to get up and start writing here again.

Prior to this, while I was having those negative thoughts, I saw Aditya Roy Kapoor, dressed in an untucked brown shirt with a gun pointed at me, rotate and point to the left as he now faced the left, and then the vision moved to the left where Death Conqueror in a white tunic was shown standing as Aditya Roy Kapoor shoots at him.

The Lady sings:
Hum mar jayenge..

"Hum Mar Jayenge" Aashiqui 2 Full Song With Lyrics | Aditya Roy Kapur, Shraddha Kapoor

It was followed by a muscular Virat Kohli dressed in a fitting black t-shirt standing in a dark background throwing a firey ball to the left where, again, Death Conqueror dressed in a white tunic set was shown to be standing. And not just him, there were others present around who threw firey balls at him.

Previous to this I saw a tiny and horizontally extended (fat) and naked infant (dressed in a diaper) sitting on a table facing the viewer holding out a long-stemmed rose to the left and brushing the face of a lady present there as he joyfully called her 'Mama.. Mama..'. I focused a bit and saw that the lady is Akhila, and then the thing the infant did was change his countenance entirely to a wicked one, take out a metallic whip, and hit another lady present to the right! He did this in turns. He would brush Akhila's face with the long-stemmed rose but then face to the right and hit the lady present there silently with different metallic weapons with a very cruel countenance. The act repeated itself many times.

But then the memory at the end served as an antidote, and reminded me of how innocent Glory relatively is as compared to Death Conqueror!

Apart from the above visions, I also saw:
A tiny, fat, and cute fair baby comes walking to the viewer of the vision and is dressed in a printed skyblue one piece carrying the features of Death Conqueror.

I actually had a series of visions of cute and chubby babies dressed cutely coming walking towards the viewer.

Vision (a while back): The upper half of a bearded face of Glory dressed in a white shirt kissing me.

This night I was again too serious about the right way to respond to receiving fleshly revelations when it came to other people, or those who are labels.

Recall: the previous vision I had of a rough horizontal golden stroke of paint followed by the appearance of a silver sword on a white background, the vision resembling that of an acrylic painting. I had this vision during a worship session in Room 303 of A-10.

The day before yesterday I repainted my nails with white on left and black on right as I felt like doing so. Then yesterday, I saw that the black one had withered out around its top edges. Therefore I thought of applying another coat on top which I did. Perhaps I was making tea at the same time. But while I was waiting for it to dry, I had this vision flash in front of me of golden abstract brushes on the white surface of my left thumb. The white background already looked like a thick acrylic base. So, I followed this idea that had flashed in my mind and began to give it form. As I placed the rough golden strokes, the thought of putting silver brushes along with it occurred to me as well. So, I did the thumb and the forefinger as I felt or was led. But when I reached the middle finger, the vision from 303 hit my head as I was playing with the same three colours as were used in that vision! So now was the time to implement the vision into a physical form. Now I didn’t know if it served as a confirmation marker for an event wherein the judging sword of God fell on the criminal or if it represented the vision itself. But disregarding the lack of a complete understanding of the entire picture, I went ahead with using the brushes in a manner to create my vision into existence. I made a horizontal golden stroke, and a longer vertical silver stroke in the shape of a sword resting upside down.

I don't know. I just recalled this past event from my BSc where I was showing my dad a sword I had sketched on my small yellow notepad, and it was in resting position. I was asking him for an interpretation, to tell me his view of what it reflected about my subconscious as I hadn't intended to draw a sword, but had begun sketching randomly and it hadhappened to take that form. I don't remember his entire interpretation but I remember this line towards the end where he said, that the fact that the sword was resting and not lifted or upright meant that though I didn't prefer to always use it, if the situation desperately called for it - I would take it out and use it indeed! This event was highlighted to me out of nowhere while writing the previous paragraph. The incident is from somewhere between 2010 to 2013, and I was at my home in Pundri - our rented home - the first home that lay at the right as one entered the street of the Cheema colony. I was sitting in the drawing room with my dad having a chat when I showed him the sketch.

And then yesterday late at night after writing the report, this event from the previous dream of Difficult Times Ahead in My Life in which I had shifted to a cheap locality when one day while walking on the locality's routine path, a short heighted man pointed at me with an "Isne kiya hai! Isne kiya hai!" ("She's done this! She's done this!") as a much taller and muscular man with a protruded upper jaw, dressed in a fitting Polo white shirt tucked inside white pants, asked me very politely "Apne kiya hai?" ("Did you do it?") while he held a sharp weapon of slaughter in his hand, to which I horizontally nodded my head in negation being a bit scared by the abrupt false pointing, following which the fluffed man in white changed from that polite and humble person to a very fierce and angry one in his countenance as he turned backwards with a shout and slaughtered the people present around on the road. I've written previously about it as well.

Then the day before yesterday, after I was done with my daily chores, had cleaned the room and taken a bath, I felt this nudge to pick up Relativity by Einstein lying in front of me in the pile of books on my table. It was after a long time that I had this interest to pick up such a book. I started with the Preface, the first general page he wrote for the audience where he said that he did not just write the end product in the book of his ideological settlements but wrote the entire process as well that had led him to those settlements or conclusions. This specifically stood out to me as this has been my usual way of writing throughout this book as it adds clarity. But while writing the plant testimony and its relations with the Bride-Groom Dance in the Forest last night, I saw how it was all a process - that while deciding on one thing of whose outcome I wasn't sure about, I didn't have a specific future itinerary of events that I planned to unfold, but as I took more decisions and actions not really thinking about the vision first-hand but the present situation at hand, I saw the vision manifest that I had previously seen. So, I knew that it was in the process and not the end product that the unfolding or the understanding of the theme of his work lay, much similar to the process of how a prophetic Word given by the Holy Spirit of God unfolds. And then it became even firmer as I was writing the manifestation of the vision of a golden horizontal acrylic brush on a white surface followed by the appearance of a silver sword.

Also, the day that I put on my black & white nail paint, I was reminded of the vision of The dual RS in which hide to the viewer's right was white angelic while that to the viewer's left was black demonic. I wondered if I was manifesting that vision in that moment or wore it as a descriptive outfit for I was dressed in black and white s well, and I've been wearing the same clothes since day before yesterday as I didn't bath..

I don't feel like going to the dept and partake in the fake aura of normalcy and act as if everything is right when it's not! I will perhaps go to the Polie Station again with an extension to the report and ask them what they did with my previously submitted one. When I had gone there, I was quite furious and told the first Policeman I met there to call Death Conqueror right then and beat him up! When he sent me inside to the other Policeman, he told me that the culprit was indeed going to be brutally beaten. By that time, I had some mercy on his thin figure as I thought how would he take all that beating from those big and muscular Policemen who were not going to be merciful but were going to be accurate in their behavior? So I told him that they could avoid the beating but they should tell him to stop doing what he was doing. But as I can see now, I am rebuilding that sense of him receiving a good brutal beating despite his frail figure, because that's what he did to me! I was in a very frail posture, not physically but in terms of protecting and fending for myself against the way he targeted or attacked me, but he still went ahead with it, not once, not twice but for a good amount of many years. Assuming that I bathed once a day, and used the commode thrice each day (which is the minimum number of times), it amounts to 4 times per day of stripping my dignity for four years: 365X 4 X 4 = 5840 times - the minimum number he injured me brutally without receiving any righteous payback that he deserved! And 5840 is the excluding the number of times I changed clothes or had to frequent the washroom during menstruation, or changed lingerie to try them on whenever I bought one and I didn't know about the cameras, and it also excludes his act of sending the spy drones inside my vagina and bursting an egg in my left ovary! The number would far exceed 10000 easily.

He received a lot of free grace by far and he only misused it! Is that why then God led me to write the paragraph of 'Children of God are the Judges'. I was frail, but he took advantage of it and used his political and criminal superiority to inflict pain on a frail and helpless person! Why then should he not receive the same? He deserves that judgment on his criminal head for he didn't change his way of thinking and stayed the same! He will indeed receive, because according to the if/then revelations, either both live, or both die. If he kills me, or I die, he is going to get his judgment in any case which he SO RIGHTFULLY deserves - it's his alone!

Just one act out of the 10000 times he sinned against me would've been enough for a criminal to get punished. If someone committed those acts just once, it would've been the subject of a case and would've sent him to jail. But look at how many times he committed the same sin against me - and this excluding his sin against my family members which would amount to 50000 times at least that he sinned against me and my family. And this is excluding the ways and the number of times he insulted and mocked me unrighteously, as he said false things about me! If I were to count them, considering that I see a minimum of two gestures of insult in total in a day whenever I go outside this would amount to 365 X 2 X 4 = 2,920 - the minimum number! And including the sins he committed against me through Akhila as he had her say mean comments about me, which adds further to the number. This is nowhere close to the exact times he sinned against me, and considering that my body is a temple of God which he put to shame KNOWINGLY and intentionally, he deserves that brutal beating by those huge Policemen. Also considering the damage he caused to my brain and how he intended to burst or pop my eyes inside out which would've landed him in jail for perhaps a term greater than 10 years! If all of this were to be implemented, all his acts judged under the sections of IPC, his punishment would far surpass his life term! So.. It seems that I turned out to be right again - that even if he died, the punishment wouldn’t be enough for him to have being said received the right judgement for his crime against me! God forgives but He is also the Judge! The dividing line between grace and judgment is not so blurry like Death Conqueror had been trying to reinforce the corrupt and false notion of the existence of no dividing line between love and hate when there is!

His list of sins against me and my family is a long one and he stands unrepentful even after years have passed by!
The list doesn't count the sins he committed otherwise outside of his entanglement with my life. To have a heart like his is a sin which he commits each second of his life as it passes by, and he thinks his good-for-nothing good works will save him!? The hypocritical good works he does to make a show and that are not led by God either!

Vision (somewhere while writing the above para): My dad dressed in a white tunic comes at me from above very violently with a metallic object held in his hand!

"Randi ko to jala ke marunga!": says a man's rough and hostile voice! I've been hearing this since yesterday!

17:35
More Accounting:
What I evaluated above was the minimum of the wrong that the character of Dushman encompassed in Death Conqueror committed against me. It was excluding all the times the spy cameras stay around me at various compromising places. I only counted his sin of stripping me publicly and hurting my body internally through drones. And yes I forgot to add the act of the vein burst that had led my arm to not be able to lift something that put on it the lightest of pressures, though the condition only stayed for a while as God healed me. But he's accountable for breaching my privacy at all times, not just the washroom time. His drones are not supposed to be there when I am working or cooking or reading or sleeping! If I were to roughly categorize those activities as being of one kind as they don't involve a strip of God's temple, that adds another number (>6000) together for my family. His lot of sins only increases day by day, and makes me more and more resentful and angry with each passing day. I discounted these routing activities previously because a person who works on the road all day gets to be seen by passersby and likewise a person working at home can be accidentally seen by outsiders through windows or doors. But it's entirely another thing to exclusively target a specific individual and keep one's eyes fixated on her! I discounted it previously because it was still bearable though not desirable to have my privacy breached in those areas if I was to work for God, and not otherwise. I would've counted it in his lot of sins if I wasn't called by God, but because got called, I let it go, and for the same reason, I endured and let go of the privacy breach in my private spaces - all for God! It wasn't because of any reason that was related to him. I refrained from filing an FIR because I never went ahead with pursuing one (I have written one previously when my electronics were hacked and I was receiving unwanted spam emails, but they were trying to evade accepting the FIR and wanted to solve the problem of hacking separately. It was in Maurice Nagar Police Station where I had visited and written a complaint. It was somewhere back in 2017 or 2018 after I had gone No Contact with Meera as well.)

Dream (Afternoon):

A person gets to an open ground but is lifted up by a very muscular giant man with a naked upper half. The giant man absorbs the tiny man's powers as they flow from the tiny man to the giant man following which the giant man is able to call upon the demons around him. When the tiny man's powers are gone, all the electronic equipment he was apparently carrying on his body fail and fall down.

Digression: I just don't understand why this piece of crap is running after ruining my functional life and causing pain to my mind when he doesn't even know me or didn't know me before he chose to target me! If I am so undesirable in my background and looks from what he keeps highlighting and insulting about me, why is he so bent on ruining all aspects of my life and morally healthy living? I don't want worldly filth to contaminate my life, worldly filth who lives honoring the ways of satan and putting to shame the ways of God! The abuser wants complete and total obedience and submission as if he's some kind of God! I understood that his agenda was to only hurt me and cause pain and suffering as I didn't match the wicked parameters of his mind!

Dream Continued:

That person now gets down and runs in the opposite direction away from the giant as now that he was powerless, the giant might hurt him. I see the tiny guy running, tripping while running, still running away from the giant. The tiny man looks like a character from Pokemon. The next thing I see was a lady with straight hair of my length standing in room with other people one of whom was telling her that they had placed a tiny drone around the end of her hair. I saw the lady as a third person standing in front slightly to the left while the other lady who informed her about the drone stood in the narrow corridor in the room right in front of the viewer. The drone was shown as a tiny orange thing that stuck to the lady's hair. That person who was previously that Pokemon guy in the ground was now this lady with straight hair with an orange drone stuck in her hair.

I am now in a spacious room. Someone comes to intimate me about some issue and leaves after which I notice the room that's lit with the mustard hue of sunlight passing through the curtains. I see an open storage rack with shelves covered with newspapers on which are placed objects of daily use, routine grocery items, and perhaps some books along with a pen stand.

I am now making an important greeting card. A number of them are lying on the bed that I need to work on. But as I am fiddling with them, arranging them in a certain way, I find myself drooling down spits on them, and I doesn’t seem to be under my control. I drool spits on the cards that were supposed to be kept clean, and on the bed as well. The cards were all faded blue in color with things printed on them. Apparently, I have ruined the cards.

I now find myself leaving A-10/Apurva PG (my previous place) and as I move out, I run into a woman standing on the few stairs to the ground holding an open Gita in her hands. She starts to point at the Sanskrit text as she wants me to read it along with her. I stand with her for a few seconds but then I leave her turning to the PG's left as I remember that I have a lot of revelations to write and am short on time.

As I continue walking on the service lane of the Nala Road, I find Glory sitting on the cemented stairs along with a few other people below one of the buildings as he looks above at me. I continue walking as I know that I've to run, and therefore, I start running on the road itself and then take a U-turn on the Nala road to run more freely. When I reach the end of the run on the Nala road at the crossroads, I see this vision of me getting a hold of Phenyl lying inside the washroom as I have to bend awkwardly to get a hold of it, followed by bending awkwardly to get a hold of the Harpic bottle placed in the washroom, and apparently I am still standing at the edge of that road as the vision shifts to my washroom with me getting a hold of these things and lifting them up to use. While I am doing this weird thing, Death Conqueror passes by riding a bicycle as he says a loud 'Sorry!' in a way that shows as if he's in good terms with me now, in response to which I reply 'Vo trailer bas tere liye tha!' from the movie 'Rajkumar', and laugh it away loudly in a sharp tone. (Well, it sounds funny but it's not how I would respond. He didn't even look sorry when he said Sorry! It seemed as if he was making a joke of what he did because it's a serious sin against a person that he committed! How can he be so casual? He should be ashamed of himself and repent for the same!)

Well, I took the last part as how I was to forgive the fellow and not show any resentment for how he behaved. It was hard to believe because that's not how I would respond to a situation like this. If he said sorry, I wouldn't give that cheap reply that I received in the dream for no one was supposed to watch me naked except my innocent righteous husband! So I rather took the reply for the heart state it communicated wherein I didn't have bitter feelings for him, which is hard to do for first – he is not sorry, and second – he continues in the act. But God showcased how even if he had committed the sin, he was supposed to come across humbly with an apology and I was supposed to let his act go. If he had a changed heart as was shown in the dream, I would easily let go of his wrongdoing because the repentance would facilitate the letting go, but he continues in his actions.

There's the revelation that shows either expected, hidden, present, or prophetic reality, and then there is the underlying truth of the heart-state of a person. I know the underlying truth of my heart-state despite what the prophetic revelations say! I have often told God about how I don't want an immoral person like Death Conqueror around my vicinity, and also how I abhor those who work for him.

After I was almost awake:

Vision: KA dressed in an intricately printed brown-black polyester shirt with its few upper buttons open making a V-shape, looks joyful and happy as he hands the cash in his hand to a person not visible in the vision who stands to the left, as he says something like: "Ye lo! 15 hazaar hai!." while standing near a bike parked by his side!

It reminded me of my monthly expenses at this new place that I evaluated yesterday (if I didn't spend money on ordering from Online Food Apps). And the material of his shirt matched that of my cheetah-printed brown and black long top/dress. Anyway. I have enough savings to go without a job for about 6 months during which I have to complete/progress in my PhD as well, as God hasn't told or shown me to withdraw which I perhaps might have done! I would need to start looking for a job around Jan 2024. If this Death Conqueror wasn't there, I perhaps would've achieved my goal of a flat belly. It was an instruction from the Spirit, and he only posed mental hindrances in front of me stressing me out which slowed me down in both PhD and in my carrying out of God's instructions of losing weight! Because fasting puts mental stress on you and you start having headaches, and I could go for a while doing so but my stress was amplified by the presence of cameras as working out meant taking a definite shower afterwards. The thought of a rigorous workout only makes me feel sad and depressed because it's necessary for me to do, to continue in God's instruction but then it comes along with the mental and emotional pain/stress of bathing publicly all because of a person who has no right over me! He's not even the part of earthly marriage vision that God gave me, and I made this known long back! I don't know why he still continues to chase after me – yeah, he's the Dushman who chases after women he desires/lusts after, and rapes and kills them! I pray for the judging hammer of God to fall on Death Conqueror's head! He's a useless immoral hindrance in my walk with God as he only stresses, depresses, and slows me down! I'm now losing my patience with his consistent sin against me. He is only approaching his judgment!

I realized that though the worker of devil is a part of the people who're to be saved out of the system, he works to hinder my progress so I fail in my God-given task. His objective is to see me fail in everything I do by creating such difficult circumstances! He wants that I don't receive my promise of marriage – then he would get a chance to further mock me like the children of the devil do!

After writing the previous section in the evening, I lay down again as I was too dirty and therefore couldn't have gone to the gym either and neither was I mentally amped up to do anything. So, I thought it to be only better to lay and send prayers to God. Laying is not useless laying, it's an exclusive time spent in God's presence. As I lay in bed, the following lyrics started playing in my Spirit:

The Guy sings:
Kehta hai pal pal tumse, hoke dil ye deewana..
Kehta hai pal pal tumse, hoke dil ye deewana..
Ik pal bhi jaane jana mujhse door nhi jaana
Pyaar kiya to nibhana
Pyaar.. kiya to nibhana..

Vision (while on bed): A very dark person, with a skin tone of a South African looks above at the viewer with a lifted head as his upper naked body is visible. He has a protruding belly and a flat chest and seems to be a man, but then on addition of more details, it is shown that the person has my face with her hair tied low at the back looking upwards.

Vision (while on bed): A very dark Nathu Uncle (the cook of Saroj Sadan PG - A/17-B, owned by Mr. Dheeraj Kakkar) dressed in a pink full-sleeved shirt over a pant looks at the viewer while lightly leaning on a scooty parked horizontally behind him.

The Lady sings:
Maut zindagi ki aakhiri manzil to nhi..

Ref: The Worship song Isse Pehle

The line kept repeating itself continuously! And the visions from last night came to mind followed by the fact that Death Conqueror was actually working hard to make me fail in all aspects of my life, even in my walk with God, that he served as a thick blockage in everything I wanted to do well because he only insulted my good godly qualities but glorified his sick demonic ways and mindsets! When I looked at him as a resisting force from the devil, I no longer felt oppressed for his job is to oppress as he is sent by the devil, and I am a worker of God, so I am bound to face such opposition! This realization along with the music playing in my Spirit along with the visions I had recently received, amped me enough to get up from the bed. I decided that I will clean the space around me for God had blessed me with it so I should honor Him by keeping it clean, and that I too should take a bath as it had been now three days and I was stinking. God's temple needs to be cleaned as well. It's not an empty demon-filled meat-suit like his body. My body is made Holy by God as it is possessed by His Spirit! The fool stinks in his inner self! Though I've to endure his torment, I am so glad that at least God didn't ordain him as my husband. Perhaps I can bathe once in two days. I don't know. I'll see how my endurance allows.

And then I kept having this nudge to get a tiffin from the family staying in one of the apartments in the corridor. So I got a half tiffin.

The Lady sings:
Maut zindagi ki aakhiri manzil to nhi..
Maut ke baad ek aur zindagi abdi..
Abdi zindagi mein apne kaamon ka pratifal paaun..
Anant ke liye kuch inaam kama jaun..

When I got up from the bed with much energy, I still had the song playing in my Spirit:
The Guy sings:
Kehta hai pal pal tumse, hoke dil ye deewana..
Kehta hai pal pal tumse, hoke dil ye deewana..
Ik pal bhi jaane jana mujhse door nhi jaana
Pyaar kiya to nibhana Pyaar.. kiya to nibhana..

But this time with the lady joining in with the stanza:
The Lady sings:
Ab zindagi ka maqsad hai bas tumhara sath
Lo keh diya ye tumse haathon me leke hath

The Guy sings:
Chahat hi pooja ho man mandir ho jaaneman

The Lady sings:
Ek duje ke bin ek pal bhi lagta nhi

The Guy sings:
Phir to jeevan ban jayega pyaar ka tarana
Pyaar kiya to nibhana.. Pyaar.. Kiya to nibhana..
Pyaar kiya to nibhana.. Pyaar.. Kiya to nibhana..

Ref: The song 'Pyaar Kiya Toh Nibhana' from Major Sahab

Jesus Visions:

- I see this vision as a third person from behind my bed while I was laying on my bed. I saw a wide Jesus dressed in multilayered white linen robes with neck-length hair lying on top of me as He had just shifted His position to being on top of me covering me as He moved around His position. I couldn't believe that I would get such a vision and that I would in the presence of Jesus giving me rest and soothing/caressing me. I had this vision perhaps during the first week that I shifted in this room. I later had few more of such visions. He is the First Love of His creation and that place shouldn't be taken away from Him because He rightfully deserves it. That's why God gave it as a commandment to love Him the most, first and foremost, more than any human, any living being, object, ambition, desire, hobby, or achievement. And then it makes me look at the House of the Lord in which He made me paste a white sheet on which He showed me to write His Hebrew name in red. That white sheet represents Him making us clean with His blood in the name written in red.

Sunder Pichai Visions:

Night 4-5 days back:

- I was lying on bed this night, perhaps depressed as I have been for a long time besides the time that Jesus fills me up in different ways giving me different types of revelations, when I had this revelation: I saw the upper half of Sunder Pichai dressed in a black suit at about a meter away to my right as he moved a hand forward to grope my fully covered breast. This was the first vision I had of him.
- The next day following this night, I had the following revelation repeat intermittently throughout the day: The face of Sunder Pichai with red love hearts in front of his eyes as he looks at me with clasped hands below his chin with an expression which shows that he is too pleased with my persona and feels internally filled and happy.
- Someday later, in yet another revelation, I saw myself dancing with him in a duet in the centre of the room, with him dressed in a black suit over a white shirt.

Vision (late last night): A woman doing sit ups and frontal kick with other women behind her openly with each of them standing on a different lane of an orange race track where all are dressed in shoulder-less black sports bras and black sports bikinis and have their hair tied in a bun at the back. All are dressed in the same manner and standing widely separated on the lanes with the focus of the vision being on the lady in the front. Behind their backs on the race track lies the way to the sitting area for the audience. The woman at the front seems to be resembling me though being a slimmer and in-shape version and has an almost flat chest as her shoulderless bra seems to run in an almost flat manner on her wide body.

Vision (afternoon): I see the top-view of the woman now doing push-ups on the floor near the wall beside the door, with her still dressed in the same black lingerie set.

I get it. I want to be and have to be in shape, losing the extra flab hanging. Hmm.

I think.. God was giving me the motivation to lose the flab no matter the circumstance! Because in the vision, the women were working out in the open daylight dressed in just a sports lingerie set, they carried a righteous expression and body language.

Let's not be like Death Conqueror who dresses in expensive suits to put a false expression of righteousness but is immoral and filthy on the inside!

Past Revelation

It was within the first few days of shifting to this new place during which I had put most of the things in place in the room, and was mopping the floor this particular night after a busy day that I heard in my Spirit:

“Mein to bander hu iske samne! Mein to bander hu iske samne!” (“I am a monkey/Chimpanzee compared to her! I am a monkey/Chimpanzee compared to her!”) which made me think who it was who was thinking such thoughts, because I don’t think in this manner when I look at the people I love who have shown themselves as moral and loving! I only call wicked people dumbasses because they’re the ones who justly deserve this title, and that too I started calling them so because of the previous God’s given dream revelation in which I was calling Akhila and Death Conqueror dumbasses.

About an hour or so back, I was in worship and was standing with my small board with 'Worship' written on it in my line field of view to my left when I had these visions. But before I write them, I found these lyrics play in my Spirit as I wrote the previous sentence.

The Guy sings:
Mein dil ka raaz kehta hoon
Ke jab jab saansein leta hoon
Tera hi naam leta hoon
Ye tune kya kiya

Mujhe tu raazi lagti hai
Jeeti hui baazi lagti hai
Tabiyat taazi lagti hai
Ye tune kya kiya

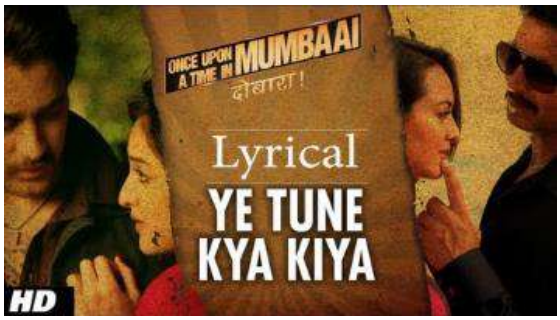
Ye Tune Kya Kiya Song With Lyrics | Once upon A Time In Mumbaai Dobara



- I saw the Word 'Worship' light up in the middle with golden sparkling ink as I prayed. And while I wrote the sentence, my attention abruptly went to the golden sparkle paint brushes on my right-hand nails. (When I was making these abstract art brushes of golden sparkle nail paint on my right hand, I was reminded of the vision of Love written in cursive writing in golden sparkle on a black background. So, I felt good about using the vain act of painting one's nails as a marker to show my love for God in a way that was owned by us.
- I saw Sanjay Sir dancing happily with raised hands and moving sideways through the room in a line moving to and fro between the door and the balcony through the narrow space between the kitchen and the washroom.
- I saw my dad dressed in a tunic hit my ass with a danda as he was bent down to that level followed by him hitting the back of my legs with that danda as I stood in worship.

Afterwards, I went to bathe and was in the washroom when I saw the following.
Vision: I saw the face of Chaaru in a dark background. She stays on the same floor and her family works to cook and deliver food tiffins around. Her face then changed to that of Kaali Mata with her tongue stuck out.

9:25

Dream (Morning):

I see a small-framed view of my father and middle brother Himanshu standing together at a good distance! I see from that distance that he has a protruding lower belly which stands out prominently. He then bends a bit and moves his ass horizontally. I don't know why he is doing it. As his back is turned towards the viewer, from this angle he looks in perfect shape but when he turns, his lower belly comes into the picture. My dad then makes him lie down on the floor beside a white wall and has him lift his right leg which is right beside the wall, following which he is then holding his foot against the white wall keeping it lifted in that position. My dad too has a protruding belly in this dream, but not as much as Himanshu's. Looking at the duo and the behaviour of my father makes me worried about my middle brother because of the previous dream revelation in which I had seen a slaughtered belly lying on a clinical bed inside a room that my dad kept entering after seeing off the children and the ladies.

After waking up:

'Rape Bhoj': The kitchen of the home of Charu lies along the corridor on one's way out and is the first room of their apartment one enters in through. I have visited them a few times for various reasons a few times of during which I happened to notice the outer cover of the aluminium foil wrap placed on their top-most slab right in the front as one looked inside, and on it was written 'Rape Bhoj' in Hindi. It didn't make sense to me at first as it was written in Hindi. But then, for the past few days, the previous vision of Mermaid Ranbir Kapoor Eats (#12 on Page 441) has been being highlighted to me. In that vision, he was standing leaning against a cruise ship and his lower body was that of a mermaid but having the silvery texture of an aluminium foil. He held a same-textured rectangular bowl from which he was eating.

This particular vision seems to go along with the phrase 'Rape Bhoj' that has been being highlighted to me several times in the Spirit since the last evening. The vision also goes along with the previous highlightof the Worship song lyric: 'thrown in the sea with no height and depth'

Vision (a while after waking up): A real human heart placed on a surface is vertically sliced in half with a knife and out flows a lot of blood.

Additionally, since yesterday, I have this phrase being repeated in my Spirit: "Ab rape hoga! Ab rape hoga!"

It's only the character of Dushman who's capable of such an act for he already has been committing this act of broadcasting me live naked which is equivalent to rape as it is without my will and consent! He IS a rapist, abuser and murderer, and I've no respect for criminals and abusers like him along with those who work on behalf of such people!

I was on the roof a few days back in the evening when I saw a fair and chubby lady on the open balcony/corridor of the building right in front. She was dressed in yellow and black, had short and frizzy hair and was perhaps pretending to be on the phone as she said, "Ab bhi gaddha karwane ke liye taiyaar nhi hai!" in a mocking, taunting way! She looked so deplorable to me and I was filled with rage for her! Now when I think of her, I feel like hitting her brutally! Who's she to pass such comments to me? And who is he to expect things from me he's not supposed to expect! Why doesn't she get a hole drilled inside her morally unclean and filthy body from a rapist like him!

Just to make it clear, I want neither his fake praise, nor his unqualified insults! I didn't invite him into my life! He himself has been trying to force a way in and he has breached many boundaries! He will not have a place in my life! If he comes in front of me with that unrepentful criminal face of his, I will HIT HIM!

'Ye maine kya kar diya..': I've been hearing this intermittently since my last days in A-10.

All three should die a very brutal death! - the three people I saw in my revelatory dream! Because this is what they sowed, and they should reap the righteous fruit of their deed! May God listen to and grant my prayer in His timing!

A righteous person can never like unrighteous ungodly unrepentant filth like them!

The Guy sings:
Ae jaate hue lamho..
Jara thehro, thehro..
Mein bhi to chalta hu.. Jara unse milta hu..
Jo ek baat dil mein hai unse kahun!
Toh chalu, Toh Chalu..!

This song has been playing in my Spirit intermittently for the past days.

The Guy sings:
Mein kahin bhi rahu.. Ae sanam..
Mujhko hai zindagi ki kasam..
Faasle ate jate rahein..
Pyaar lekin nhi hoga kum..

Ref: The song Ae Jaate Hue Lamho from the movie Border.

I've been sensing this in my Spiritsince last evening. A voice that says that I am not worth marrying, but only worthy to be used and thrown, that no one can stay with me for long durations as it would be difficult to adjust for several reasons. But I had good and love-filled time with Meera though our bond didn't involve sexual intimacy and we didn't have lustful thoughts or mindsets towards each other, but we had a great time because we understood and accepted each other - the way it should be in all cases. This is not to say we should go and friendships with the kind of people mentioned in 2 Timothy 3:1-5.

12:58
I was lying on the bed a while back to relax when I had the following visions:

A short-heighted KA in a white shirt looks at the viewer with huge smile showing his prominent upper jaw followed by the voice

'Mein barbad ho gya."

After I got up:

"Tu ab mujhe nhi chodegi!"

"Tu mujhse nafrat karti hai."

"Mein barbad ho gya!" - hypocritical statement of a corrupt mind!

This person shows such blatant disgusting lack of respect for people in general which is apparent by the way he speaks using the pronoun 'Tu' ! Why would I listen to an abuser addressing me with the pronoun 'Tu'! I will punch his face right away! Everything about him is despicable! (I wrote this in a fit of anger like God at times can rebuke us angrily but He does so for a reason and it is never for an unreasonable reason.)

The Guy sings:
Khul jayengi kitabein, Jab bhi hisab hoga
Insaaf ka tarazoo, Yeshu ke haath hoga.

Khul jayengi kitabein, Jab bhi hisab hoga
Insaaf ka tarazoo, Yeshu ke haath hoga.

Khul jayengi kitabein..

Jo bhi tu kar raha hai, Ishu vo dekhta hai..
Jo bhi tu kar raha hai, Ishu vo dekhta hai..

Har pal ka tujhko insaan, dena hisaab hoga..
Insaaf ka tarazoo, Yeshu ke haath hoga.

Khul jayengi kitabein, Jab bhi hisab hoga
Insaaf ka tarazoo, Yeshu ke haath hoga.

Aaja abhi bhi mud kar, Ishu bula rha hai..
Aaja abhi bhi mud kar, Ishu bula rha hai..

Varna ye yaad karle
Varna ye yaad karle, Tera hi naash hoga..

Yesterday was both difficult and happening. Difficult for my tormented self, and happening for the self that doesn't usually create a scene or behave in apparent loud ways!

I was lying in bed and had started to feel depressed and restless again because of the past and continuing injustice and unfairness I had suffered for the past few years at the hands of a disgustingly morally downtrodden man! So, I knew I had to go to the Police Station again to ask for the status of my report I had submitted two days back on 24th Aug, for the lady had told me that the culprit would be called the next day itself and asked questions to, but I didn't receive any intimation about the same. So, I thought of going and asking about the same. Also, I had begun to slip back into the same state I had slipped into earlier on the late evening of the 24th when I was running and had begun crying. So I knew that I had to hurry before I had fully slipped into that state of mind! It was in the afternoon at about 1 or 1:30 that I reached there. It was a long day thereafter as I ended up crying in the same manner as I was doing on the 24th! While I was crying, I also kept hearing 'She just wants attention!' which didn't help in making things any better for me! The Policeman instead of calling Akhila whom I was telling him to confirm the truth called my parents instead! I couldn't think of anyone else besides her because I had been living with her and I could scold her and tell her rashly to speak the truth which I couldn't in the case of anyone else. I didn't feel led to give anyone else's number for I didn't know anyone else who knew me, the truth, and the culprit as well! There were people from my dept, but they seemed like distant outsiders while she had been in an exclusive relationship with him and knew him very well, and I happened to have her contact number me as well.

The voice says:
Muquadma Bhi Jaruri Tha

I don't know why the Policeman stopped himself from calling her and called my parents instead whom I told him weren't going to admit that there was anything wrong! I had to go to the Police Station, or I wouldn't have been able to function at all! It had been too long now that I had kept forgiving this undeserving person, this person who only devised new ways to hurt me with his demonic self - possessed by many evil spirits!

While I was waiting for the lady to return from the Court to inquire about the status of my report, the counsellor happened to invite me in as I stood in front the gate of her room, and asked me to share what I had shared with others ample number of times before. At first, I was reluctant as I saw it of no use as it didn't bring any result and was a useless act I had repeated many times! It was the processing of the report that mattered! But I listened to her and shared with her whatever she asked me. I didn't know that she was a counsellor previously. After a while, I slipped into speaking my mind and heart out uninhibitedly and felt better as she was a righteous Policewoman whose thought patterns didn't agree with Akhila's who inflicted a lot of mental torment on me with her twisted sense of right and wrong. The pain that the abuser inflicted on me was already mounting on my head, but her invalidation of it and treatment of it as if it wasn't the wrong thing to do and as if I deserved it - this further added to my pain. Everyone who served as a wicked messenger and sided with the abuser played a part in leading me to that state of emotional breakdown for they added to my mental and emotional pain through their invalidation! I am a human, not a conscienceless robot like the filthy Death Conqueror and his minions! These girls Aarchi and Himanshi added a lot to my stress as well when I was staying in A-16! It all came together on my head at once! Why were these people working on the behalf of an abusive guy who didn't have any godly morals!? They all together led me to that state! The counsellor Jyoti then got busy in her phone while I had now slipped into a state of speaking out which made me think why wasn't she doing her job when the victim is trying to share her state! Also, while I was sitting outside, I saw some messengers walk by who made some taunting gestures that didn't make me feel any better! I knew that this person only wanted to inflict more and more pain on my brain and wouldn't stop at anything until I was dead! He did everything to make me kill myself without him needing to do it himself! So I was now sure that I wouldn't stop at anything either until his disgusting immoral head received the needed judgment! - It was all because of the pain he caused me under the pretext of taking his false revenge! It's ME who needed to be avenged, not him!

The lady I was waiting for didn't reach the station until after 5pm in the evening and I was heavy-headed with a hurting brain by that time because of the excessive crying and the emotional stress. So I decided to leave for my place as my mom was to visit me in the evening as well. But by evening I had begun to slip again into the same emotional breakdown as I told the counsellor crying and shouting that if they didn't work to serve me justice in their earthy way, God would avenge me in His own personal way!

When I look at what he made of me, I feel so angry! I was drawn to that state all because of that useless filthy immoral scum of the Earth! He RUINED my time used in writing that I could've used in doing other useful work of God. I could've used that time to read His already-written Word! I didn't read much since I became occupied with writing this 'report'! I could've used the time to pray more and I would've definitely not eaten or overeaten whenever I did because of a depressed emotional state! If he hadn't committed this act, I wouldn't need to write the report! He RUINED my career by ruining my mind and bringing me to an unstable state! He stripped me publicly and ruined an essential part of my mind that pertained to how I wanted to strip only in front of my husband or the person I loved! By putting pressure on my mind to give in to a person like him, He stressed and damaged the part of my mind that wanted to only give in to my innocent and righteous husband! It seems that he in a way wanted to train me to be a prostitute as he couldn’t tolerate the inner holiness I had when it pertained to the important bonds of my life! He ruined all the important things in my life by ruining my mental spaces corresponding to them! How can I ever be happy with this filthy person whose inner self is just as filthy as the Ganda Nala in which he should drown and die!

He deserves to be judged, judged brutally! If he came in front of me, I would judge him! Don't send fluffed Doppelgangers! Come unarmed with the frail self that I will thrash on the floor and beat severely if I am not in a sober mind for he has wronged me by much in many ways without any guilt!

If I behaved like what I did, it's all because of him! His persistent abuse of me! He doesn''t deserve to be anyone's husband! He should die! Even that won't be enough!

When I went to use the washroom to poop the past night after my mom and brothers had left, this prayer by itself came out of me, "Kode pade uske sir par! Kode pade uske sir par!" ("May his head get whipped! May his head get whipped!") and it kept repeating inside of me! And then it reminded of the two past things I have written in this Notebook. First, in which I saw a long whip swirling in the air towards the viewer which had previously made me think if it pertained to me as I didn't know then that not all revelations who were directed at the viewer were directed at me. Recalling this made me think if his was going to get whipped in Heaven by God as God whips disobedient children/servants who didn't do much with their earned salvation. Now, I use all my time for God-given purpose, as much as my mind allows me. It's Him alone who uses his time and God-given talents to torment others and even if he stopped doing it, I hardly suspect he would use his tie to expand the kingdom of God which I am very much forthrightly working on. So, it's his head that's going to be whipped though he may make it into heaven because he didn't use his time serving God after he got saved.

Though I am sad about the ruined state of my mind that has caused damage to my career and other important aspects of life, I am not sad because it was a part of God's plan, but I feel righteous anger towards Death Conqueror for causing that damage to me! Now the fact that God turned a bad situation into one that would help expand His kingdom - that's the most important aspect of the situation but it doesn't mean what Death Conqueror was right.

The second thing the prayer reminded me of was this past event from my life that I've previously written about as well in which my dad was hitting my head with a black wire in his hand using it as a whip while taking an oral exam with the book opened in his other hand while I stood in front him. He was hitting me whenever I wasn't able to answer. Again, this too seems to correspond to Death Conqueror alone! What will he answer to His Father in Heaven when the book of his sins is opened? I don't imply this book, but the one written by angels that keeps an exact account? His head will only get whipped for he did nothing fruitful with his salvation! I got saved and I gave my life to Jesus, for Him to lead me further. But even if he gets saved I doubt he will spend it in the work of God, but may continue in his sin and the world or waste his time and salvation with his own plans neglecting the Will of God - the very things that will earn him the whip of God.

Even after many corrections, he commits the same sin of sending cameras into my washroom and places they shouldn’t be. Will he not get whipped if he continues with this attitude though he accepts Jesus as his saviour from the system and makes it into His kingdom? Recall the parable of talents: where the wicked servant didn't use his talents for the kingdom of God but kept them unused until the master came to check the progress. The master severely whipped the servant when He saw him fruitless which he perhaps most probably would be!

Even today when I went to pee before wrote the above part, I prayed "Kode pade uske sir pe!"

12:35
Even while mopping the room about half an hour back, I was reiterating, "Kode pade iske sir par! Kode pade iske sir par!"

I cleaned the room's switches and their boards, washed my clothes that I had soaked yesterday morning as I didn't have the mental strength to wash yesterday, while multitasking and rinsing out my clothes intermittently. While I was doing these two chores simultaneously, I had this vision that repeated itself intermittently:

Vision (before noon): My dad comes walking in angrily, dressed in a full-sleeved white shirt tucked inside pants, gets hold of the back of my neck harshly, and says, "Chal yaha se! Kya kar rhi hai yha pe!"

I don't know why he wanted me to leave the place and move to home as he was communicating to my middle brother yesterday which I denied. My mom though agreed with me that I had the freedom and choice to not leave but stay here as I saw best. I don't want to go to that space filled with things that are left unorganized everywhere you look and be in the presence of those who don't match my frequency with God, and try to change my mind by giving me their delusional worldly advice and false counterarguments against the Word of God. I have no time and energy to involve myself in such situations!

While writing the previous paragraph, my gaze happened to fix on the Bible lying in the heap of books when I had the following vision:
I am licking the back width of the Bible!

The vision makes me look at my heart towards the book which I am not finding enough time to read at a pace I want to as I have to write revelations as well, and writing them doesn't just involve writing the revelations, but the side stories and events as well to make sense of the revelation for the reader or for my own self whenever I would read them again. So, at times, to write even a short revelation takes more time than writing just the revelation.

And then I keep hearing this intermittently:
Everyone sings together:
Shubh Swagatam
Shubh Swagatam
Shubh Swagatam..
Aaaaa…..
Karte hai apka.. Shubh Swagatam..

It has played for the past few months.

The group welcome song at my school performed twice at different places. I wasn't a part of this group song. I was already a part of the group of three singers chosen to sing for the group Hariyanvi dance.

The vision of a human heart being sliced in the middle with a knife followed by a lot of blood coming out from its centre kept being highlighted to me today. This made me think of the rape revelation as well because why would a knife slicing be compared to the slicing of a heart! It could only take place if someone forced me to do something that had my heart in it which that person didn't really deserve leading to it being sliced in two! Only a demon-possessed man like Death Conqueror can break my heart in such a manner for why else would I have withheld myself from him!? It was for this very same reason: I didn't want my heart to break! And I will not bow down to his wicked way of making me agreeing to slice my own heart!

P.S.: Why would I slice someone else' heart too? I can only see myself doing it if it led to their eventual good - them coming to God!

The Guy says:
She just wants attention.

How many times do I have to answer this repeating comment! I don't want attention, but I can notice/observe when someone is intentionally giving me their attention and what can I do about it? For a few days, I started shouting at people, but I can't shout at everyone I suspect of passing me a hurtful message or giving me unwanted attention to make a weird point.

Earlier during the day I was talking to mom after which I got upset and found myself slipping into the same state as yesterday. So, I immediately called the lady from the Police Station whom I was supposed to meet yesterday but couldn't as I had to leave because of a heavy head due to persistent crying and she hadn't yet come after waiting for around 4 hours. She didn't pick up the phone. I had thought that if she called me today, I would go the way I was, without bathing, perhaps just change into clean clothes if she gave me an immediate time. Immediately after the call ended ringing, I received a call from Shanti from Church. She hadn't gone today either and was asking me if I could do a video call and be in communion with the church today. I felt better after talking to her because of her godly persona. Somewhere in between she told me that she will be taking food after reading the Word and praying. I found it so impressive. It was her daily routine and she prayed very well in the church as well as she prayed in tongues with both hands raised high. I told her that I too would eat something after cleaning, bathing, reading the Word, and praying. I saw that this was the kind of company I wanted which would supplement my walk my God and not work in opposition to it. She prays fluently and very well in her mother tongue and in Hindi as well. I greeted her with a Namaste at the beginning of the call, but she greeted me with a 'Jai Masih Ki' which I again found so impressive. I saw that she was indeed a devout follower of Jesus. I was grateful to God that she called me at that moment when the police lady didn’t pick up my phone. Shanti told me to pray and cry in front of Jesus and not people after I told her that I had been crying for the past few days. I told her that I was crying to Jesus only but I couldn't help it if others were present around. I had been crying not to cry out to people but because I couldn't stop myself from crying as I was in pain and crying is a pain-relieving mechanism.

After a few exchanged sentences, she had told me to read the Word and pray at home. I think if that was what God wanted to communicate to me through her in that moment for I might have gone into that state again as the police lady didn't pick up. So, God came to my immediate rescue by making her call me and telling me to read His Word and pray to get strengthened in the Spirit and not lose heart.

I was so grateful for her calling me. I too had been thinking of calling her up after the past Sunday to inquire about her siblings who weren't well - the reason for her absence from the church the last time. I thought of calling her this morning as well after I was done with the pending chores. But then she herself called me up and gave me an encouraging Word. She is a godly woman. That's why I like her company regardless of her background - the most important character trait people like Akhila and Death Conqueror lack!

She was then telling me "Shatru se pyaar karo." (‘Love the enemy’) to which I responded with the fact that I had been loving the Shatru (Enemy) for the past 4 years and had enough of the torment now which had started affecting my emotional state now and rightly so because the situation is such! Is a woman to be covered and protected or to be stripped naked openly? He displayed a dire lack of morals! (A Guy's voice says: "Kartika, tu bahut sacchi hai!") What I was implying was that I've had enough and was now building righteous anger. Anyway, just talking to her on the phone was so invigorating because of her positive and Godly character traits that were reflecting in her persona. The godly people of the church act like a fuel of godly company that you experience tangibly besides the spiritual company of Jesus. At times, one needs the tangible company of another believer as well. God knows best how we need support and strength.

Additionally, earlier while cleaning, I realized that I had these outbursts wherein I would cry out loud and shout boldly at people after shifting to this place and I correlated it with the vision of the roaring lady of Kungfu Hustle that had been highlighted to me within the first or second day of shifting here. I thought if this was now the phase to exercise that part of my personality. I then recalled the revelation of the sound of a lady shouting loudly in tongues coming from the top right corner of my home's bedroom that had woken me and my brother that night back in 2020.

I think I will have communion first for I am tired after this physical work and need to eat a bit and then I would read the Word and pray, rest for a while, and see if I should go to the gym as I would've gained strength by then. I will perhaps bathe after the gym or even later. I have to wash my bedsheet and curtain cover as well. I will not do it today. I will devote time to reading the Word and praying: that's how the children of God gain strength.

At times these sounds that come from outside implying a sense of someone responding to something I have written or said make me feel annoyed, for what are those people trying to communicate, what are they expecting by making indirect gestures, and first and foremost, who are those people!? If it is Glory: he should meet me instead of standing outside and making those sounds! If it is Death Conqueror, he should stay within the limits set by God.

15:48
The previous vision of Jesus's crying face inside the open pages of the Contemporary Bible with His tears falling down on me, which I had when I was at home, was highlighted to me a while back and I understood that the vision was for this time alone.

Additionally, yesterday as I lay on bed, I kept having this repeated vision of me standing near the kitchen sink, dressed in the same clothes I was wearing, with a slit wrist held inside the sink facing downwards as blood flowed out like a jet from a slit vein in the wrist in the same manner that I saw blood eject out like a jet from Jesus' wrist in the previous vision of The Dance & The Blood Bath. I thought of the act many times but then vision too came to me. The vision was followed by the phrase 'Lahoo ki dhar beh gayi': the same that I had heard back when I was at home.

When I was stepping downstairs after hanging my clothes to dry after I was done with the day's cleaning, I heard:

'Mohabbat bhi jaruri thi	To love was necessary
Muquadma bhi jaruri tha..'	The court case, as well, was necessary

It reflects the nature of God, Jesus, who chose to save Death Conqueror from out of the system, but not without judging him for his painful/hurtful actions as it was Jesus who led things to be eventually turned against him!

'Ye ek dukh bhari kahani hai': this too was repeated in my Spirit a few times as I lay in bed yesterday.

These lines from this Worship song play in my Spirit:

Yeshu Bula Raha.. Yeshu Bula Raha..
Tera naam le le kar.. Tujhe Yeshu bula raha..

Ref: Yeshu Bula Raha Tera Naam Le Lekar यीशु बुला रहा तेरा नाम ले ले कर Lyrics

17:34
I was reading the Bible after brunch when I felt sleepy. But while I was reading the Bible, I saw:

Vision: A black snake sticks to my lips.

I first had this vision yesterday, when a small black snake came through the air and stuck to my lips, with its snake body floating straight in the air in a downward slant.

When I lay on the bed and was about to fall asleep, I had this vision.
Vision: I saw myself walking hastily up the green stairs of my family's apartment's tower in Omaxe. I was rushing upwards and was still a floor down when I heard my mom's voice coming from inside the apartment in response to which I began replying immediately while being on the stairs themselves, but stopped midway as I paused and found it weird that I had partly responded to her when I wasn't even in the apartment yet.

Dream-Visions:
A man stands at the far end of a wide rectangular kitchen. He is about the same height as Glory and is dressed in white: a fitted white t-shirt tucked inside white pants/jeans. It seems to me that he is glory itself as I look inside the kitchen the left side of which has the utensils and other kitchen stuff, while to the right lies a door that goes further into the house beside which Glory is standing. He looks more muscular and fluffed in this dream-vision with an unusually broad chest than he is in real life. (I remember that that's the description Meera gave of the kind of looks she wanted in her guy, which I had found weird because I didn't think in such terms. I chose people according to the kind of bonding I had with them.) He is standing inside alone and pointing at the door to the right while he says something that implies that a certain thing is alone in that space and needs to be tended to. As he says so, I see an older lady, in the corridor outside the kitchen, who resembles the one I had seen in the home I visited during mid-2022, place her leg on a stool as she seems to have a leg problem while others gather around her. It's then that I hear a serious 'Kartika, please', and it catches my attention and diverts it away from the lady as it addresses me directly. Apparently, the guy was calling me but he was saying it in an indirect manner which I didn't understand the hidden context of making me look away from him into the corridor at the Aunty with the sore leg.

The follow-up dream-vision has me walk down some stairs and when I reach the ground floor, I see the side-view of the naked upper half of the Green Hulk with the features and almost the same height as Glory, standing facing to the left with an angry/envious expression making the prophetic symbol as a short, lean and bearded Nasiruddin Shah dressed in an off-white tunic set comes walking in happily with smiling eyes through the entrance with a huge Chaayos paper bag in his left hand as he exclaims the name of a special kind of Kheer while looking at me and throws the Chaayos bag on the bed to the right while walking forward. The view of the ground floor resembles somewhat to the ground floor of the Apoorva PG I was staying in previously as seen from the stairs, with the white table lying in front of the wall opposite the entry gate, beside which stands the Green Hulk Glory with an angry resentful expression, while to the right lies the single bed. He continues walking forward with the same pace and throws himself at Glory and hugs him closely by his side while the Green Hulk stays in the same posture, not moving, but carrying the same expression. I see him wrapping himself around the Green Hulk completely and it seems that he is so in love with him while the Green Hulk is unaffected and perhaps not liking his presence at all as he stays stationary at his place with a boiling expression. I walk towards the duo behind Glory and Nasiruddin Shah then leaves him and walks forward to hug me. I give him a distant hug though I am smiling and am happy to see him. He closes the distance by some amount and wants a closer, heartfelt hug, but I maintain my boundaries, though I am happy to see him there.

The next thing I saw was a woman holding a very cute child in her arms.

The next thing I saw was me sitting on the cemented edge of a roof with a 6-8 years old child standing in front of me whose instructions I am following as he tells me to do an 'Aaa' with my mouth while he too does an 'Aaa' followed by us moving forward, dropping a brief kiss on each other's lips with our heads bent a bit sideways in opposite direction and moving backwards immediately, while our mouths stay open, with a sticky white residue left around the corner of our mouths. (Well, why would I do this with children? Though it wasn't a passionate kiss or had any sense of sexuality, still, it felt weird to the observing me. It reminded me later of Akhila giving that 6 to 8 years old child swings on her folded knees on a bed as they dropped brief kisses on each other's lips every time he reached her lips through the swing, accompanied by the sound of an 'Umma!')

The follow-up vision has a blue car light - the one placed vertically on the top of a car - move towards me through a dark background as it sticks to my forehead followed by the vision of a long tongue licking it.

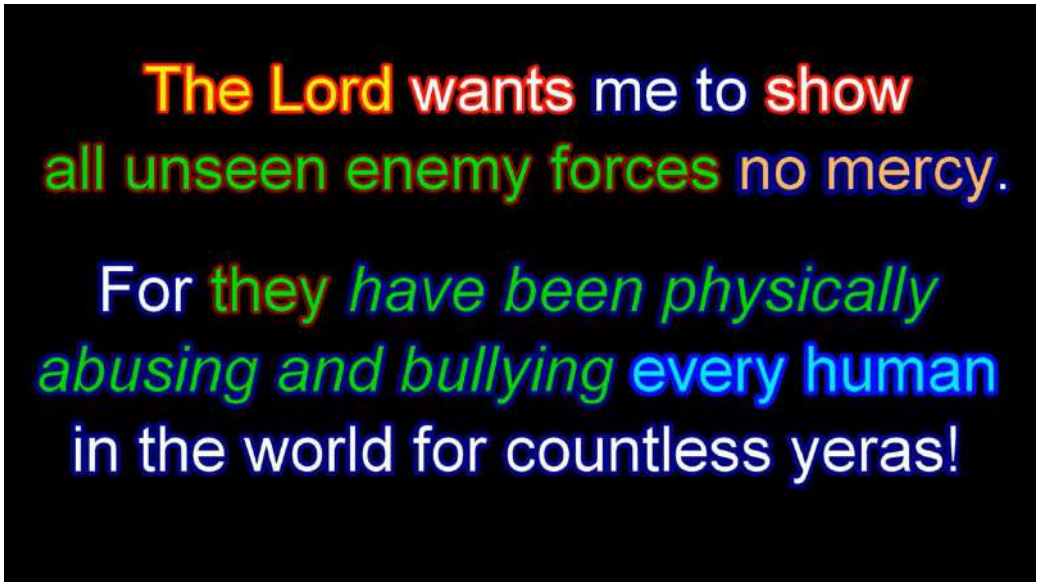
This dream-vision is finally followed by the following song lyrics playing in my Spirit.

The Lady sings:
Banake kyu bigada re..
Jesus hi hai mere pritam

There was one more line at the end as I saw it written in the vision while it was being sung. The last lines implied a sense that whatever good times the lady enjoyed were taken away from her after which she resorted back to living in the company of Jesus alone, relishing in His love. The last two lines didn't imply a sense of grief but a sense full of love and contentment of resorting back to living in the exclusive company of Jesus without other factors consuming one's time and energy.

23:22
I was about to open my Notebook App to expand on the points I made in the dream I had earlier this evening when my eyes stopped on this particular screenshot that I had taken more than a year back.

Show No Mercy To Demons



Ref: One of the videos of faulk600 YouTube channel

Death Conqueror is not a demon. He has those evil spirits living inside of him and passing through him. Because recall: God's representation of him being that fat infant who was chewing his own foot.

The Guy sings:
Jo bhi tu kar rha hai, Yeshu vo dekhta hai..
Har pal ka tujhko insaan, dena hisaab hoga..
Insaaf ka tarazu, Yeshu ke paas hoga.

Ref: The Worship song Khul Jayengi Kitaabein

The highlighted lines kept playing in my Spirit even earlier during the evening!

When I was sitting in the Police Station, I still had these song lyrics play:

The Guy sings:
"Lekin use vo bacha na saka, roya tha pyaar uski maut par!"

They also played when I was in the Police Station on the 24th a few days back.

The Guy sings:
Har pal ka tujhko insaan, dena hisaab hoga..
Insaaf ka tarazu, Yeshu ke haath hoga.

04:11

Vision (yesterday): The huge black dragon head comes on the floor from the stairs below with a background of fire moving with him.

I had this vision yesterday and it has been repeating today as well.

Vision (yesterday): RS stabs my belly, takes out my intestines with his hand, followed by holding them in his mouth!

I got done with writing a second version of report a while back. And after I was done, I heard these song lyrics repeat in my Spirit:

'Masih nidhal soedar chalte dekha hai..
Bhadakti aag mein ek phool jalte dekha hai..
Masih nidhal soedar chalte dekha hai..'

Love sees the best.
This Bible verse was highlighted to me earlier during the previous day in conjunction with the previous vision of the fat infant sitting on the table chewing his foot while laughing in a broken manner. That's God's view of Death Conqueror's best self. God sees the best in the other. And he's that child of His who, though foolish, is still desired by God for He created him with love.

I wrote another version of the report to destress. I don't know if I'll submit it. I may if I fall into that breakdown again.

18:01
I woke up late around noon and found that my menstrual cycle had begun. But I needed to bath before I could wash myself and wear fresh clothes with a sanitary napkin used inside. And I wanted to do it only once and not again and again. Ad I couldn’t bath before I was done cleaning. So I cleaned everything and after I was done bathing, and was busy removing the blood stains from my Jeans afterwards, I had these song lyrics play:

The lady sings:
Maar diya jaye, Ya chodd diya jaye
Bol tere saath kya sulook kiya jaye!!

Maar diya jaye, Ya chodd diya jaye
Bol tere saath kya sulook kiya jaye!!

I wrote an extended report last night. After which I heard in my Spirit:

A Guy says:
Isko koi nahi padhega..
Isko koi nhi padhega..

Dream (Morning):

I am in my dept and there seems to be a science function as I move around. I then see KA sitting in front of me silently on a chair in a checkered red and white shirt tucked inside black pants with a diary open in his lap in which I can see some things written and some crossed over in a congested helical manner. The next thing I am sitting sticking to him beside him in a vehicle and moving along the road of my hometown that had Shamsher Sir's, Sakshi's, and Karishma's home to its left and shops, grounds, and temple lake(s) at the right. He is dressed in a red suit with a white shirt inside and I can see the side of his face facing the right. I feel awesome in his company. So I drop a kiss on his right cheek which I'm looking at. On our way back on that road, I tell him that the road goes to my school when taken a left to at the end we just returned from, and then I am showing him the construction at the right of the road. We see a rectangular lake between two smaller rectangular frames that too were filled with water. After a while, we come across another such body under construction as we see the cemented structure being laid out. I am now in a room in front of which lies a cuboidal black rock on which I see engravings of different names. I don't know any of the names. I spot the beginning of my name somewhere in the middle. I look carefully but I am not sure if it's my name or the name Kartik for it's not visible fully as the engravings come into view at certain specific angles. But I indeed see a Kartik with a few more letters ahead not visible fully. Now this was an engraving of the size of the other names that were engraved on the rock. But then I spot another engraving right in the middle which is the largest one and is engraved on top of other names and spans almost 3/4th of the space of the rock. This other engraving too carries the name Karti(ka?). I am looking at the two names in turn and trying to read them fully but can't seem to discern the letters.

Towards the end of the dream, KA tells me something and I see two lines written as he says them out. The lines mention a duration of two days and contain the mention of Mast which later, after I've woken up, makes me think of the mast years that alternate bearing plants exhibit and how I needed to do more work in the same. And while writing this paragraph, I remembered my previous statement in which I had told my mom that it would take only two days to get to something new related to Masting if I was to start working on it seriously. But I don't find any space these days for the research and now I am so mentally disturbed as well, reflected in my act of going to the Police Station.

Before I started writing this evening section, I literally felt something external squishing my brain and hurting it, and I knew that it was a physical representation of what Death Conqueror has been doing for long! The squishing of my brain represents the mental and emotional pain the pig has been inflicting on me all this time! And even while writing this para, I had the vision of my brain changing its shape in wavy motions as if a lot of stress is being applied to it from all directions. This made me think about how would I sit in peace and do my work if I kept having this vision accompanied by pain!

Testimony:
I went to the Police Station later in the evening of this dream to inquire about my report status, and took my new extended report alongwith me. When I went to the Reader's room, I saw a guy dressed in checkered red and white - the same print I had seen in the dream earlier in the morning – untucked over black pants, standing behind a table. He helped me check if there was any record of the report I had given previously on the 24th, and found none. There was no record of my submitted report and neither did I have a copy of the same as I had handed it to the lady (Subinspector Ridhima) while she was leaving in a hurry with the other lady (Sub Inspector Meena). So I gave the guy (Aakash) my new extended report and he gave me a printed copy of the same to get attested, and this new report was to be finally recorded in their record. When I got the copy stamped by the policeman sitting on the outer counter, I saw that the stamp was circular and it reminded me of the previous vision of a red ring stamp put on a white page with Ruined written in the centre. Now it was during the days when I was still going to my workplace almost regularly, and then this day this certain lady, who stood along with few others outside the MSB of the chemistry dept, said to me in a taunting tone that had I given it, how else would I have been slaughtered? I was then writing around the same days this incident here in my Notebook, and as I wrote I felt that my life had already been ruined in many ways because of what these people had done, and now this disgusting fellow wanted to kill me entirely by using my body for real, and it made me think how it would be equivalent of actual death if his desire/plan came to fulfillment. It was then that I had received the 'Ruined' Stamp vision, and back during that day I took it as a representation of my situation. But when the policeman stamped the FIR, I saw that the stamp was round, and it made me think if it meant that the culprit would be ruined, recalling the Ruined vision! Well, if it is so, it would be his just judgment given by God as he ruined me in many aspects and I am now living for God's purpose which is not a case of a ruined situation but I could've worked for him even without the camera situation, but perhaps this was what He wanted me to do, and without the cameras, those other people won't be called by my name to Him! Perhaps it was all a part of his grand plan and since I will get to meet Him at the end, nothing is really ruined for me. If I were to live a long life on Earth without God, that would have been the case of a ruined situation! Death Conqueror didn't meet even one expectation! He did all the wrong things!

When I had completed writing my new extended report the last night, I heard in my Spirit, "Mein bahut bura hu. Mein bahut bura hu." And it repeated itself many times. All the things I wrote in the report are too huge for me to commit - which he committed so easily under the pretext of belonging to a city. But would he have done the same to his city friends? NO! Because he knows that they are already as filthy as him and he only chose to do it to a person who was nowhere like him and the kind of people he hangs out with! He saw that I wasn't a hypocrite like him and his clan. I didn't live in immoral filth like him and his clan, so he had to target me! He wouldn't have done the same to someone who was already like him even if she belonged to a town or a small place! He's so deplorable.

These foolish people - they always give an excuse of, "Oh do you really expect this from a place like Delhi?", when I have living proofs of good and cooperative people around me as I use Chaaru's fridge to keep my stuff who is now like my friend. And her mother-in-law as well. I have been using their Dustpan as well regularly for a few days. Her mother-in-law told me that she has been staying in Delhi for the past 50 years. But she is nowhere like Death Conqueror or his disgusting family! The thoughts of Chaaru's family are good and godly.

Anyway. Seeing the guy in checkered red and white was a confirmation for me that I was at the right place and was supposed to submit that new extended report that evening. It was God's Will. Death Conqueror shouldn't have thought that he could hide his crime for long, or that he would be able to hide it in case he gets me killed or I die. Because for the very same reason, these lines often play in my Spirit:

Kyu koi kaati samajhta nhi
Ye zurm vo hai jo chupta nhi
Ye daag vo hai jo mitta nhi
Rehta hai khooni ke haath par!

And as I am editing this page, I hear: Hasle Gaale Ye din na milenge kal.. Thodi khushiya, hai thode se ye pal.. from the movie Mela.But when am I laughing and singing without the presence of misery. I am mostly singing worship songs - His praises, and I laugh at my own miserable situation or if something funny related to it gets highlighted to me.

The fool hasn't yet understood that God is watching him and his actions and that though He's being patient, it doesn't mean that He approves of his doing. He intended for his judgment from the beginning for I received the dream back in 2020 in which men in black and white came and arrested Christian (from 50 Shades of Grey) and took him away. God had that in mind 3 years back. He showed me that guy's torture. I didn't know the extent of evil Death Conqueror was capable of back then in 2020, but now I do after all these revelations, and the kind of things people said to me. Slowly but surely, God's plan will unfold. Death Conqueror didn't care to have me know his inner self but directly resorted to an oppressive way to get his way. It was because he knew that if I knew the full reality of his life and lifestyle, I would straight away distance myself from him and never look back! He had no other option! Poor fellow! However, he saw that someone who was morally degraded and condoned sin for (s)he is sinful in her/his own person, would approve of his demented way of living, so he felt comfortable in sharing his life's filth with Akhila – makes a lot of sense.

I recall this incident where this short-heighted girl passed by me saying to me in a taunting and mocking tone - "Ye mujhe nhi jaanti." on behalf of Death Conqueror in response to which I thought what more was there to know!? He didn't even display basic moral sense! Was there anything more that I needed to know!? What use it would be know his objective likes/dislikes or his way of living? Everyone has their own sets of likes and dislikes and a certain way they live – disregarding the amount of money they have but considering how their persona gets reflected in their way of living! Regardless of one's personal likes or dislikes, it's one's moral temperament that defines them, and he already put his on display! I didn't need to know anything else! There are others who are far more moral than him as one can sense without talking to them for long hours!

I would find it very useless to know anything about him! What are the things that God showed me about him? - that I was healing him, that Christian from the Fifty Shades of Grey movie got arrested, that he was looking at his phone while lying on his back on a bed alone and was masturbating with the other hand, that he was sitting beside me dressed in a prison's suit, that he had an angel eye and a devil eye, that he was that naked fat infant who was chewing his own foot, that he was blackheart possessed by many evil spirits - these are the things I already know about his inner self and who he is, and because they're given by God, they represent the truth. Now when I look at the lion revelations, I don't have many words to say for his behavior has not been like that. The lion came running from the left and jumped through a heart-shaped hoop and as it landed, it looked at me with his lion hair combed sideways with a slight lift – my past hairstyle I liked to keep when I had comparatively more hair. Then there are those lion revelations in which the lion was standing on his hind feet and reaching up cutely, followed by him walking towards the viewer with a red rose held in its mouth.

Well, Glory could also represent the lion but He's tall. I had some really awesome lion revelations. Jesus is also called the lion of Judah.

While when I look at the revelations given about Glory:
I saw that he was standing in front of me with stretched forearms in a flowy skyblue background with two fairy wings present at my back as he fluctuated between his own self and a blurred bearded guy with neck-length hair (which I took as Jesus for this is His look). This was way back in 2021 when I had received only a few revelations related to him and my promise of marriage. God compared him to a figure of Jesus, as I wrote previously as well in the initial pages. The other revelation had him wanting me to dress in full-sleeved boxy shirts - again - a display of holy nature. Then, yet another revelation had him come jumping from behind a vehicle and sitting down with a bouquet of red roses which goes along with the previous revelation of Jesus sitting on the floor with vertically folded knees carrying a bouquet of colorful flowers on the roof of A-16 when I sat there one night. And then in yet another revelation, he (Glory) was circling naked around me in a dance step with a thaali filled with rose petals held in his hands from which he threw some on me as he circled around me. It was a weird revelation to look at, at first view.

The lady sings:
Maar dala

Then in one of the dreams, I was walking towards the dept on the road near Gate No. 3 of the Science Faulty and was crying out loud with my face lifted up following which I saw him come into my view on the left of the road, naked with extended forearms, following which I ran to him and hugged him, followed by me kissing him, followed by us lying on our sides on the road itself between the two cars with me lying against the car while he lay in front of me as we continued kissing with him maintaining the distance between us after which the stalker black Jeep behind parked itself at a distance to the left. When I had this dream, I didn't write it for many months as it was hard to believe – both the fact that I was crying that hard while walking on the road and that he would come naked in front of me in open daylight from in between two cars with stretched forearms. He was represented as a pure white being with soft and smooth textured skin in this part of the dream. But now when I look at it, I see that it contains an element of truth, for I have started to begin crying like that now for a week, while previously I only cried silently. The cameras only make my situation worse! But all some people can think about is flat bellies!

The later revelations got scary as I saw him looking viciously into my open forehead, open chest, and open belly with a very vicious and demonic expression followed by many more hurtful revelations in which he was nailing my eyes and chest. But then the revelations could be labeled as well.

While I was on the way to the Police Station, I kept hearing:

"Maar dala.. Maar dala
Maar dala.. Maar dala
Maar dala.. Maar dala.."

And I was feeling slightly relieved on my way as I was going to do the right thing for I had been tortured in all those ways that I had written. None of it was a lie. Everything was pure truth.
I don't want any harm to come to anyone. But I have been too depressed, and distressed, and was unable to sit with peace and a calm mind and wasn't able to work, and so I had to go ahead with the FIR. I don't know how it will proceed or if it's a link in the chain of future deadly events, but the act was necessary for me to take to continue further in my life as I had had a mental breakdown and I had to do something to be able to get along or move forward in life. Perhaps it will play a role in some really nasty events but I had to do it to gain some peace of mind so I would be able to continue my work! I mean look at how I behaved in the Police Station. Perhaps it was God giving me that release of emotions that I kept inside for too long and then I was told to be more patient by this lady called Saloni in the church who insulted me by implying that though I was going through this situation, I will receive in the end what I didn't deserve, or what would never have been in my reach, and it made me feel so aversed from her! Such a disgusting and ungodly lady who comes to church to serve as a wicked messenger, just like Deepak does in the dept! These people operate in such sick ways only! She shouldn't call herself a Christian when she's advocating for the devil along with her husband! They should be thrown out of the church because they're so fake and they don't really serve Jesus for Jesus would never have told them to say what they did!

Later that night, I had these Akash (the guy from the Police Station) Visions:

- We are kissing behind the second table at the end of the Reader's room.
- Followed by him standing behind his table with me facing him as I rush to him and start kissing him as we hug tightly, with him being dressed in the same attire of checkered red & white shirt over black pants from that day.
- And then he lifts up my flesh from the end of my back like a slab severing it from my back. At times I think if such revelalations describe future violent events because I don't give in to wicked people who try to get their way showing their wicked selves! It should've been clear by now!

- When I lay on my side to sleep after writing revelations, I see his face above me as he drops a kiss on my left cheekbone that's facing upwards. The vision repeats itself a few times.

Looking at these revelations with multiple people really made me look inwards and question if I was really a whore because of the excess of such revelations. But I didn't ask God to give me those revelations. Because I can't handle such revelations with many people. I don't know how I did it by far, because after Tejaswi, I went into a serious depression sort of which took me years to get over when I wasn't even in his presence and had blocked him and during that time I gained about 20 kgs as I ate and overate just like Himanshi became severely overweight after a painful incidence of betrayal in his life augmented by the drugs previously introduced by his friends. I used to be so sad most of the time and kept crying almost all the time. It was hard to sleep as I would cry at night as well! I felt he took something of geat value from me and ruined a part of my life that was supposed to reflect a sense of eternality and perfection in behavior. He didn't look perfect. I didn't even judge him with that lens. He was so bulky with a belly – about 5-10 kgs weightier than me, and it's not that his features were too attractive, but I began to like him after spending a heavy weight of time spent together with him crushed on my head in a small duration. And then this Blackheart came with his cameras to make things worse!

As I got out of the washroom, these lines played in my Spirit:

The Lady sings:
Do lafzon ki hai dil ki kahani
Ya hai mohabbat ya hai jawaani..

And then this stanza of the song came to me involuntarily:

The Lady sings:
Is zindagi ke din kitne kam hai
Kitni hai khushiya, aur kitne gam hai..

Is zindagi ke din kitne kam hai
Kitni hai khushiya, aur kitne gam hai..

La la la la la la.. La la la la..

Kisse naye hai.. Baatein purani..
Ya hai mohabbat, ya hai jawaani..

And then I lay on my bed to rest, when the same stanza played again on its own.

The Lady sings:
Is zindagi ke din kitne kam hai
Kitni hai khushiya, aur kitne gam hai..

Lag ja gale se.. Rut hai suhani
Ya hai mohabbat, ya hai jawaani..

Ye kashti wala kya ga rha tha..
Koi ise bhi yaad aa rha tha!

Ye kashti wala kya ga rha tha..
Koi ise bhi yaad aa rha tha!

La la la la la la.. La la la la..

Ref: The Bollywood song 'Do Lafzon Ki Hai Dil Ki Kahani...'

The Guy sings:
Aaja lag ja gale se mere tha kar ke
Tha tha kar ke, tha tha kar ke..

Saari duniya se ishq baya karke
Tha tha kar ke, tha tha kar ke..

Lag ja gale se mere tha kar ke
Tha tha kar ke, tha tha kar ke..

Well, earlier during the past afternoon as I was reading the Word, I noticed its style of writing. I was reading the Contemporary version and was reading the 22nd chapter of the Book of Numbers. I noticed that the way of writing info at the chapter's beginning was quite repetitive and incoherent. What could be said clearly in one line was said in a repetitive way throughout a paragraph and one would need to perhaps re-read and connect the dots to make sense of the information. Now that I look at the whole chapter, I realize that the writer didn't think much while writing plain information about who was who but found it okay to write such information in parts and repeat it. However, the progression of the storyline was kept coherent.

14:16
I woke up around 10:30 this morning. Though I had woken up earlier, I had no strength to get up from the bed, so I kept lying on the bed half-asleep.

Dream (Morning):

I see a large square pool of clear water in a closed room with some people inside the pool. They are enjoying themselves when suddenly there's a ruckus among them as they're getting out of the pool hurriedly and when they're out I see that they were immersed in the pool completely naked. I then see a naked man to my left, who too came out of the pool, walk towards me with the hair on his belly and groin visible - that's how I knew for certain that all were immersed completely naked inside the pool. Apparently, they're in a hurry to vacate the room in view of an imminent threat. While they're still near the pool, a giant lady dressed in a skinny skyblue cotton t-shirt over shorts, with a huge bulging middle and lower belly and her hair tied at the back with some strands standing around her forehead comes walking inside through the door in an unstable manner and walks right into the pool and sits inside immediately after which the pool freezes to ice around her! The three successive doors. The hiding in the woods. I am in a house where I wake up and see my dad sitting on a bed with outstretched crossed legs. I do something and go back to sleep again for my eyes are blurry and sleepy. After I wake up I am in a space with people sitting in front of a stage in a dark setting.

Sanjay Dutt and The Smart Lady
I happen to meet Sanjay Dutt standing along with a lady with long hair falling at her back and dressed in a checkered shirt. Sanjay Dutt has shoulder-length thin & straight hair - his look resembling from the movie Sajan - as he stands near his two-wheeler with the lady. I begin talking to him. He talks nicely to me and I can see that he likes me still. Apparently, I knew him from before and had liked his good character, but didn't get to meet him again. While I am talking to him, I happen to move closer to him following which we kiss lightly brushing our lips against each other as we talk and while we do so, he is telling me something about the lady standing beside him. But he doesn't say it fully in one go and keeps the sentence incomplete keeping the suspense while I am delving deep into the conversation immersed in his good character, until he reveals that he got married to that girl after which I step away from him. He tells me that he saw that I slept a lot in response to which I agreed and explained that I was not well and felt fatigued and tired with weary eyes because of which I needed to rest frequently. And throughout the time that we talked, the vision kept shifting to the lady who is shown as being average looking and of wheatish complexion, is wearing specs but has good straight hair falling backwards. As I have to leave now, he turns to the lady, both of them facing each other, as I see him kissing her properly as they both open their mouths wide. I step away further and am happy for them and get into the back of my carriage and leave.

The Three Ladies, The Washroom and Tejaswi

I now find myself in a wash/bathroom with two more women with me standing facing sideways in front of the open door while the other two are standing together in front of the wall opposite to mine. It's not clear what we are doing there but perhaps we are doing a chore together. I am looking down at my feet and observe my now overgrown hair. Tejaswi comes walking in through the door to my right and stands beside me and I now look at his feet and observe his lesser hair growth on toes and the top of feet. He stands there for a few seconds looking down at our feets with me and then leaves the washroom which reminds me of how he was observing my feet when we were travelling in the Metro.

Dream Vision (Morning): The top-view of the middle partitioned black straight hair of a woman with tiny strands floating in the air.

Vision (Morning): Glory is about to nail my left eye with a long iron nail ready on top of it but then withholds his hand, throws away the nail, and falls on me showing his love.

Vision (Morning): The inner view of two wide translucent white curtains spread over wide windows and flowing inwardly away from the windows with the current of air as the windows and the bright white day outside could be seen through the curtains.

The Guy sings:
Kadi te has boooool ve Na jind saddi roll ve
Tu aaja dil janiyaa, te kar meherbaaniya

Kadi te has boooool ve Na jind saddi roll ve
Kadi te has boooool ve Na jind saddi roll ve

These lines first played in my Spirit yesterday, and have been playing today intermittently with an increased frequency for the past hour.

While reading the Word in the afternoon, this footnote related to the verse Num 23:23 was highlighted to me to write here:
Numbers 23:23 (Contemporary Version)
"There is no fortunetelling in Jacob, no magic in Israel. God tells them immediately what He plans to do."

I was putting up nails to fix the red curtains, when the following song lyrics started playing:

The Guy sings:
Ae jaate hue lamho, jara thehro, jara thehro..
Mein bhi to chalta hu, jara unse milta hu..
Jo ik baat dil mein hai, unse kahu.
To chalu, to chalu, umm hmm hmm hmm hmm
To chalu, to chalu.. To chalu…..
Ae jaate hue lamho, jara thehro, jara thehro..

And then when I was brushing teeth, the following stanza of the song played in my Spirit.
The Guy sings:
Unke chehre ki ye narmiya..
Unki julfo ki ye badliya..
Unkji aankhon ke roshan diye..
Unke hothon ki ye surkhiya..

Sab unke hai jalwe, mein chalne se pehle
Aankhon mein baaton mein, Saanson mein yaadon mein
Aur is dil mein unko chupake rakhun

The lines in bold were highlighted to me as my attention went to them strongly when they played out in my Spirit.

As the line played, I was reminded of the vision in which God sent Ranveer Singh away but then I took out my heart and on the inner side of it was his bearded photo with neck-length straight hair carrying a joyful expression.

When I was back to being near my workspace (table + chair + bed), this particular line kept repeating inside me as it played in repetition, one iteration after the other.
Aur is dil mein unko
Aur is dil mein unko
Aur is dil mein unko
Aur is dil mein unko chupake rakhun
Ref: Ae jaate hue lamho from the movie Border

Whenever a line repeats in such a manner, I know that it is being highlighted to me.

And when I wrote the above, I was reminded of the Sunil Shetty dream in which his hands were tied with ropes as he was being tortured - the dream ended with a nail being forced into a rigid wooden rod. The song has a moustached Sunil Shetty - the same look from the dream - as an army man in which this song plays in the background as he spends his first and last night with her at the night of his wedding.

It has happened previously as well when a song lyric repeatedly iterated inside me. It was perhaps when I was fixing the white curtain. And the line that played in such a repetitive manner was:
Usne din jode hai..
Usne din jode hai..
Usne din jode hai..
Usne din jode hai zindagi mein, uska maksad hai…

Ref: The Worship Song Isse Pehle

Now these lyrics play in my Spirit as well intermittently like thy did a while back:

The Guy sings:
Zuba pe chad gayi oye..
Kudi zuba pe chad gayi..
Lahoo mein bad gayi oye..
Kudi lahoo mein bad gayi

At times followed by the subsequent lyrics:
The Guy sings:
Kamli kahaniyo si, junglee jawaniyo si
Jamti pighalti hai pal pal paniyo si
Behti rawaniyo si, hasti shaitiniyo si
Chad gayi hampe badi meherbaaniyo si

The Guy sings:
Zuba pe chad gayi oye..
Kudi zuba pe chad gayi..
Lahoo mein bad gayi oye..
Kudi lahoo mein bad gayi

These lyrics repeat themselves often too (perhaps once in two days on an average):
The Guy sings:
Rahegi Sada Yaha…
Pyaar ki ye daastan…
Sunenge sada jise..
Ye zameen aasman..

Ref: The Song 'Hum Hai Is Pal Yahan' from the movie Kisna

Again, the lines in bold are the ones that were highlighted boldly to me out of all other lines.

Rahegi Sadaa Yahan...

Anchor: The Electric Switch Brand

Somewhere during the past week, my gaze happened to stop at the word 'Anchor' written on the electric switches and I knew that the word was being highlighted to me in that moment. I, though, didn't understand its significance or correlation with my life.

But after I visited the Police Station again on 26th and said a lot of things in front of the Police personnels - specifically the Counsellor - in a plain blatant unaffected (not manipulated or faked) way as it pertained to the righteous truth, I saw on somewhere on my way back to my PG the word 'Anchor' again - perhaps it was written on a vehicle and it caught my attention and seemed to be highlighted to me, and reminded me of my previous notice of the word on the kitchen's switch board. I then understood that the word pertained to my act of putting the truth in front of the Police personnels in a bold and straightforward way without any pretence or social affectedness!

I don't know why it had to be specifically highlighted. Perhaps it was my time to show my latent skills in this room, skills that I hardly used as I never was put in such a situation for such a long duration of time. I was patient and forgiving for a long time before I went ahead with the Lion's roar. I still am forgiving because I am called to forgive. I have to forgive. It is an instruction from the Lord to all believers to forgive as we have been forgiven. However, it doesn't mean that God will not avenge His people who have suffered wrongly by the hands of wrongdoers. The world is reserved for judgment, while His people are reserved for His kingdom. Forgiving someone doesn’t mean one shouldn't feel the righteous anger that arises because of the wrong done unto one, especially when it seems too severe according to one's standards.

My behavior that day in the Police Station followed by its correlation with the Word Anchor also brought to my attention Sis Akhila's behavior. I don't know, I just felt a nudge to write Sis before her name, like I felt like putting Death Conqueror under the label of brother today. I felt this strong urge to label him as brother for he is my brother in Christ if he comes to Him. Sis Akhila's behavior was quite bold when it came to addressing issues related to PG. But I never found them important enough to make a huge ruckus about them. They seemed too menial to me and I often thought that her reaction with the PG's issues was unnecessarily loud and that she made a huge issue of the usual problems all PG's faced. But my camera problem, it wasn't a usual problem, it wasn't a problem created because of a lack of perfect synchrony of events caused as a result of perfect service delivered by people at the perfect time. It was a problem caused because of the sinful thought patterns of an individual who was ready to hurt another individual brutally not caring the impact his actions would have on the afflicted one. It was not a problem caused by tangled events and situations - the nature that usual PG and a majority of other life problems carry, but it was one caused by a display of sheer immorality, ungodliness and a lack of conscience - all the factors that earn the rightful label of being severely angry about! Even in a such a situation, I maintained my cool and a forgiving attitude for a long time, and since one of the past teachings in the Church in which the Pastor said how Father God took his cup of anger to inflict on the people and how Jesus pleaded in front of Him to show mercy which cooled him down - the process of being angry and cooing down repeating itself repeatedly - I learned that my reaction was quite normal as God too went through phases of being angry and cooling down looking at the sin of Earthlings. But after a certain time, there is no more cooling down but an infliction of judgment! Shifting to this room was a beginning of the same.

It actually amazes me to see how despite witnessing many of my given words come to life, the abusers have not yet understood that God is indeed watching them and their acts and that He has been withholding His judging hand from over them for a reason. They still continue to display their conscienceless and apathetic behavior towards me. This shows that they indeed carry the seed of reprobacy for they didn't yet understand to know better to stop sinning against someone on whose side was God. Not that having God on one's side meant a lack of physical harm but it meant that what (s)he was saying should be heeded to like godly people would do, while the apathetic sinning ones would continue in their past ways regardless of God's correction.

Additionally, this phrase known to be said by Einstein in which he said 'Stupidity is doing the same mistake but expecting a different result' has been being highlighted to me several times as well. Death Conqueror and his gang kept committing the same sinful deed that repelled me away from them and eventually led me to report them when I've had enough as was God's plan and Will. He kept committing the same mistake of using the way of the devil to draw a person of God to Him, which was indeed bound to fail, and he saw it fail for 4 years and yet continued in his way - shows his stupidity! After witnessing that his chosen technique is failing, he should've changed and resorted to the ways of God, but he stuck to his past ways of the devil and kept failing. He is a foolish person who can do science because he is computationally/robotically smart with a huge mental storage but he doesn't carry the temperament and the morale of a scientist.

The right way is exemplified by Ranveer Singh in the A-16 visions in which he came slowly walking in my direction while looking at me, smiling with a bouquet of flowers in his hand, with two red love hearts in his eyes. And look how he fell o me with a huge red heart he carried in both his hands. Such a cute sequence of visions.

Einstein's statement can be said to apply in my case as well where I measure my weight every day multiple times though I am not working out or fasting. But then I do so to confirm that I've not gained any weight, if not lost, and when I find that I've not gained weight, it brings me some relief.

Likewise when it comes to God's instruction for me to lessen my intake of sugar or give it up, as he highlighted this past event from my life several times many months back in which I was walking on a sideway at night with Meera and her coaching institute teacher, BG Sir, after the evening of Bhuvan's birthday celebration (it was during the winter of 2016) when she told me that he had lost a significant amount of weight to which he had replied that he had cut off all sugars and it had helped him greatly - I too realized yesterday that I didn't have sugar with me. I used the sugar-free tablets in tea, and the only sugar I was consuming was through biscuits whose intake too I decreased to two in number at a time whenever I have tea. Though I bought two packets of sweets yesterday after I returned from submitting my extended FIR in the Police Station, I felt like they symbolized the celebration of God's Will manifested in my life and a step taken in the right direction! But when I look at it, I have neutralized my tea and sugar consumption to a significant extent, if not cut them off completely. The other source of sugar is from the sugary drinks I have because of this hot weather which makes me want to have extremely cold drinks. Now I try to buy Walter's choice of Chach instead of a cold drink to have with my meal, for a drink is necessary to swallow food comfortably, and Chach saves me those extra sugars.

Anyway.

And then this phrase often repeats in my Spirit:
"Ise kuch nhi chahiye! Ise kuch nhi chahiye! "

But then I also heard at times, this voice that said: Ise bahut kuch chahiye! Ise bahut kuch chahiye!

But regardless of what people think about me, there are thigs that I may want depending on their utility and how they relate with my inner self. Likewise, there are things I won't want, or may not want. I don't want to be rich, but, in whatever condition one lives in - it reflects their inner self. An organized person will live organized in both a huge or a small space, while an unorganized one will mess up any kind of space! Likewise, I will personalize any space: big or small, and transform it according to my preferences making it comfortable enough for me, but a complaining person will only complain about the things the place is lacking instead of taking care of it and adding to it to make it better and more apt for oneself.

After I cleaned my Kitchen's switchboard a few days back:
Vision: RS dressed in his usual attire of a blue suit over a white shirt, bearded and with neck-length hair, stands in front of the kitchen slab a few feet away from it and looks smiling at the clean switchboard with two red love hearts in his eyes.

Past Revelations

Vision (Past week, 9/31, Vijay Nagar, Double Storey): A grey gravestone in a dark background with Miriam written on it. It was around the time I read Numbers 20 in which Miriam dies. Miriam was a prophetess and the sister of Moses. Miriam was once rebuked by God for speaking against Moses along with her brother Aaron as they gossiped together about Moses.

Vision (past week): Karishma Kapoor dressed in bridal red, laden with gold jewellery looks at the viewer. The vision is followed by her wedding with Aamir Khan from the movie Raja Hindustani.

Vision (past week): The Makhana box is placed in the green kitchen rack filled with rice.

Yesterday Morning:

The Guy Sings:

Tu badal de mere man ko
De Aashish is jeevan ko
Teri karuna humpe barse
Apne marg pe chala humko.

'Tu badal de mere man ko' was what was highlighted to me. This person wanted his heart to be changed in accordance with the ways and path of God.

Additionally, yesterday evening, I was on my way to get my red curtain from the Tailor that sits at some distance to the right of Hanuman Mandir on the service lane of the Nala road of Vijay Nagar, when I happened to notice Jai Gaddadon written in red on a white tempo approaching in my direction from the left on the crossroad. I wondered what the term Gaddadon meant. But immediately afterwards, these song lyrics started playing in my Spirit:

The Guy sings:
Jiski biwi moti uska nhi bada kaam hai..
Bistar pe lita lo, gadde ka kya kaam hai..
Bistar pe lita lo, gadde ka kya kaam hai.

Mere angane mein tumhara kya kaam hai..

Ref: Jis Ki Biwi Moti-AmitaB.DAT

The lyrics continued to play even after I was back in my room.

In the morning, I turned off the big lights, and had the tiny green bulb turned on in the room along with the sunrays filling the kitchen through the red curtain giving it a reddish hue. I was able to put it up successfully finally the previous day as I nailed the nails above the iron grill where, luckily, the cement happened to be strongly bounded together while in my previous attempts the right white hook kept falling off despite it having three pins inside the wall. The cement was loosely bounded around that area. Anyway. I created a good and pleasing environment in the space the Lord had blessed me with before I started my daily wheel of morning cleaning chores. While I was mopping the room, this Ghulam Ali ghazal began playing in my Spirit:

The Guy sings:
Ye kaun aa gyi, dilruba mehaki mehaki.. X2
Fizaa mehaki mehaki.. hawaa mehaki mehaki..
Ye kaun aa gyi.. Dilruba.. mehaki mehaki.. X2

Following this all the stanzas of the ghazal played in my Spirit.

Vo aankhon mein kajal, vo baalon mein gajra.. X2
Hatheli pe uske thi naa mehki mehaki
Ye kaun aa gyi.. Dilruba.. mehaki mehaki.. X2

Khuda jaane kis kis ki, ye jaan legi.. X2

Ye kaun aa gyi..
Ye kaun aa gyi..
Ye kaun aa gyi..

Yeh kaun aa gayi dilruba mehki mehki || Ghulam ali || Ghazals || Best Of Ghulam Ali Songs

Apart from the lyrics, the song has a soothing melody.

Heard in the Spirit:
"Mein khana chahti hu. Mein khana chahti hu." ("I want to eat. I want to eat.")

Well, I've been eating these days because of two reasons: I am liking to cook and find it satisfying to eat my own cooked meal, and it helps me emotionally as well. I have already been too stressed and had those previous outbursts, but I am glad that I am becoming more and more better at avoiding sugars and carbs. With each day, I feel lighter in regards to my food intake as I don't consume oily meals that are high in cholesterol, but I mostly consume milk, vegetables, rice, soft drinks, biscuits, tea, and since yesterday - coffee. But even if I am eating, I am not having huge meals. And I know I can stop eating anytime and resume hard-core fasting but I do physical work during the day as well which makes me hungry.

Dream (Morning):
It's a part of an extended long dream, but it is the one that stayed with me:
I am in a church setting partaking in Worship and I see Rakhi (my colleague in my Supervisor's group of PhD students) sitting on the mat on the ground as well. She is sitting silently with her usual calm expression and has her frizzy hair tied in a half-tie at the back. Towards the end, I see her holding a 50 Rs note in her hand which she would put inside the donation box following which I too decide to put 50 Rs in their box in that dream.

These song lyrics were playing in my Spirit earlier in the morning while I was doing something.
The Guy sings:
Hawaaon mein lipta hua mein.. Guzar jaunga tumko chuke..
Agar man ho to rok lena.. theher jaunga in labo pein..
Kuch kahun ya na kahun, tum mujhko sada sunte rehna..
Bas itna hai tumse kehna.. Bas itna hai tumse kehna..

…….

Samajh lena kirano mein main hu..

The bold lines stood out from among the rest.

Revelations While Resting:

- The face of a bearded Sunny Deol with a green turban (his look from the movie Gadar 2), in a well-lit background, as he looks at me with two red love hearts in front of his eyes, followed by him targeting a handgun at the viewer, holding it near his face with its arm extended horizontally to about a foot further in front of his face. His right eye then pops out to about a foot and a half ahead of its socket like a spring with the metallic spring shown as being still attached to the eyeball at its back. (This wasn't the first Sunny Deol vision that I had. The first one had him come walking to two other people. In that vision, all three were dressed in Indian ethnic attires and it seemed that they were in a function celebrating something. He was clean-shaven in that vision and came to take the other two along with him to another location in the space.)
- The huge face of a heavily bearded man in front of the side-view of a bike against a golden wall or in a golden background with his rough beard extending long below his chin and his face covering a major part of the bike. His right eye too pops out like a spring in the same manner as the previous vision, followed by both his eyeballs popping out like springs attached to the inside of the eye socket. This was followed by the popped-out eyeballs moving horizontally to and fro while being in phase with the help of the attached spring.
- Chaaru stands at the door of her apartment and looks at me with red love hearts in front of her eyes as a long tongue comes out of her and licks my face. (Before laying down to rest, I had passed her by via the common narrow corridor where she stood wiping the area in front of her apartment. I was on my way to give my additional garbage bag to the man standing on the other side.) I can feel unconditional love for me emanating from her. But when I look at Death Conqueror and Akhila, they only stink with mental and emotional abuse!
- The side-view of a bearded RS with neck-length hair bicycling hard on a stationary cycle - both facing to the left.

I recently ordered a blue light to put up in the kitchen which is to be tentatively delivered on Saturday. I had a vision related to that light as well, while resting, though I haven't yet received it.

The process behind ordering the blue light:

I thought of ordering a yellow/golden lamp/light of low wattage as I thought it would go along with the red curtain well and would further create a soothing aura making it pleasing to work in the kitchen space. But while I was looking for one online, the previous vision of a vertical blue light that came floating to my forehead in a dark background came to my remembrance, and then I felt a nudge to order that instead of the golden/yellow one.

- I saw that blue bulb already fixed in the socket above the kitchen, and I saw the vision from my place on the bed to the right of the door. In the vision, the blue bulb was rotating at its place at a high speed, and as it did so, small golden solid stars emitted from it in all directions in straight lines, one after the other along a given direction.

Now I am very excited to fix that bulb above the kitchen!

- The upper half of a clean-shaven Sunny Deol with a Pagdi is shown wherein he is dressed in a violet suit with a white shirt inside in a well-lit background of white light.
- Side-view of an adult tiger standing facing to the right with a red ball held in its mouth in a light golden background. The red ball is clearly visible through the open space of his jaws that are separated because of the ball contained between them.

While I was refreshing my mouth in the morning after having tea as I stood at the washbasin, the first word of the melody at the beginning of the Bollywood song 'Bol Do Na Zara' abruptly played in my Spirit.

The structure of the word of the melody as it is sung:
Hm-hm hm-hm hm
Hm-hm hm-hm hm

As I continued with my day, the melody played in my Spirit intermittently, and was followed by the lyrics:

The Guy sings:
Itni Mohabbat karo na..
Mein doob na jau kahin..
Vapis kinaare pe na, mein bhool na jaun kahin..

Dekha jab se hai chehra tera.. Mein to hafto se soya nahi..

Bol do na jara.. dil mein jo hai chipa..
Mein kisi se kahunga nahin..

The Melody
As sung in the pattern of Hm-hm hm-hm hm kept playing in my Spirit intermittently throughout the day.

Itni Mohabbat karo na..
repeated a few times in my Spirit as well..

Vision (afternoon): Akhila dressed in a full-sleeved multi-layered long white robe with an embroidered white half jacket, with her straight black hair falling at her back and two white wings attached to her back, slowly lands on a surface looking down with a smile. She looks like a rectangle in the vision because of the Holy attire.

Night

While having coffee, I started hearing these song lyrics from a children's song that I had heard in a cultural fest held at the senior wing of my school (the junior wing was in the town, while the senior wing was at the outskirts and surrounded by fields):

The Children sing together:
Violet Indigo Blue and Green,
Yellow Orange Red.
Seven colors in a rainbow - so my teacher said.

The lyrics were followed by the memory of the event. It was night already as the event was supposed to extend until late night. My parents had visited it as well, and I was a volunteer in it along with the short-heighted Aashish from my batch who later took the NDA exam and passed it successfully.

The lines repeated many times and they reminded me of the prism vision that had an eye in the middle of a triangle out of which came out a blob of bright white light followed by multiple differently colored rays of light coming out of the eye in a straight line.

The Children sing together:
Violet Indigo Blue and Green,
Yellow Orange Red.
Seven colors in a rainbow - so my teacher said.

Now that I read the lines of this children's rhyme again, I was reminded of this view of a huge rainbow clearly visible in the sky from the open Verandah of our rented floor back in my hometown. It was in Aditi's (Saini Uncle's daughter) home that we stayed on rent at the time.

Late Night when I lay down to sleep:

- Tiger Shroff with neck-length straight hair and a stubbled face stands facing the viewer in a well-lit background, being dressed in a thick embroidered V-shaped top over trousers. He then turns his face to the viewer's left and turns it all the way back. (Did he overdo making the prophetic symbol, or was he hiding his face?)
- The vision is followed by him holding a long curtain spring (similar to the one I was trimming a day back) in his right hand as he waved it horizontally towards the viewer like a long whip.

Past revelation

I have been hearing these song lyrics in my Spirit for the past many months but I didn't record them.

The lady sings:
Tumne sirf aib dekha..
Hunar to na dekha!

Vo to hai albela.. Hazaaro mein akela..

Vo to hai albela.. Hazaaro mein akela..

Tumne sirf aib dekha..
Hunar to na dekha!

Earlier during the night at 1:18 am:

The Guy sings:
Mein is chaand se maathe ko choom lu.
To chalu.. To chalu..
Umm hmm hmm hmm hmm…

Mein is chaand se maathe ko choom lu!

It kept repeating itself which told me that it was being highlighted to me.

After I had recorded revelations in my laptop, and was now washing dishes, I heard these lines in my Spirit:
The Guy says:
"Kartika, tu smart bhi hai, aur sunder bhi. Bas tu gareeb hai, yahi teri problem hai. Tere pas paise nhi hai. Aur isiliye usne tere saath aisa kiya. Agar tu bhi kisi rich ya powerful family se hoti, to uski ye karne ki himmat nhi hoti."

English Version:
"Kartika, you are smart as well as beautiful. But you're poor, and this is your problem. You don't have money. And that's why he did such a thing to you. If you had belonged from a rich and powerful family, he wouldn't have had the courage to do what he did."

The guy was referring to the abuse inflicted by Death Conqueror along with his gang on me that I have been enduring for the past many years!

After editing the revelations for the day, I lay on the bed to sleep now as I was too tired and needed rest but then I had this immediate abrupt vision that I knew I had to make an entry of right then or else I was going to forget it. When I wrote it in my red revelation diary, it was 2:17am.

Vision: The front view of a small-framed vision of Sheldon Cooper from The Big Bang Theory, dressed in a full-sleeved orange cotton t-shirt with differently colored forearms, sitting in front of a table in a dark background and writing with his right hand hastily on a page lying on the table while checking time intermittently in his watch tied on his left hand. He seems to be in a hurry.

The Sheldon Cooper vision is followed by these Prof Sanjay Jain (of DU) visions.
Vision: Sanjay Sir, dressed in a light green tunic set, excitedly points with an extended arm in a squat position to the corner of the room with the luggage bag, the carton carrying the revelation files and with other stuff placed on it, followed by him pointing in the same manner to the space below my bed with the cartons organized below along with one more luggage bag, followed by him pointing in the same manner to the organized skyblue shelf, followed by him pointing in the same manner to the table top, followed by him pointing in the same manner to the kitchen area, following which he raises both his forearms up and then dances rotating around his position on the room's floor, lifting his legs one after the other in a discreet manner.

Context:
While on our way back from a meal with our supervisor, she was sharing with us how Sanjay Sir (her husband) packed things too well while she was bad at it. She was pointing to his good spatial reasoning. This particular incident has been highlighted to me many times in the past which I now correlated with his reaction shown in these visions. (I guess he's impressed.)

As I lay on bed now after making an entry of these revelations in my red diary for them to be later recorded in the laptop, I was reminded of the 'Ye kaun Aa Gayee' gazal I had earlier heard during the day when I was cleaning the room and I felt a nudge to listen to it for it had been long since I enjoyed it. I loved this gazal because of its beautiful melody. So I played it in my phone. But after a while, I again had a vision.

Vision: The side-view of the face of Ghulam Ali facing to the left in a light sky blue background as he puts on his transparent specs as the round embroidered collar of his sky blue tunic is visible.

After a few seconds of having this vision, I decided to make its entry in the red diary but before doing so, I put on my transparent glasses.

Noon
I was reminding myself while cleaning of the Sunder Pichai visions yet to be recorded when I saw:
I am in a close and graceful duet with a smiling Sunder Pichai dressed in a black suit in the center of my room.

Evening
I fell asleep during the day as I felt too tired. I woke up from this dream:
Dream (late afternoon): I am sitting in a room with chairs in it after having filed a Police Complaint against the duo as Death Conqueror hasn't stopped tormenting me though I left A-16 months back in March/April. I have an investigation officer allotted to me now with whom I share my grievances.

After waking up, I had these song lyrics play:
The Guy sings:
Mera rang de basanti chola, Mera rang de basanti chola..
Is chole ko pehen Shivaji khele apni jaan par
Jise pehen Jhaansi ki raani mit gayi apni aan par..

Mera rang de basanti chola, Mera rang de basanti chola..

Ref: The Bollywood patriotic song 'Mera Rang De Basanti Chola'

Late evening (after 19:00):
I went to the roof to get my washed clothes down. There's a rope tied across the roof to dry clothes on it. I then thought of strolling to and fro for a while to relax in the breezy open space. As I did so, I had this vision at a distance of about 4-5 meters in front of me as I faced in the direction of the street to Dinesh Corner lying horizontally in front of the building.
Vision: I am in a duet with a naked Glory on the roof and he is happily indulging in the act. As I strolled further, I was reminded of the dream in which I found a guy with neck-length hair resembling both RS and Glory on a roof well-lit with day light and then did a duet with him there.

When I stood against the railing and looked down on the road. Again, I saw who seemed like two messenger girls walking together one of whom, the thinner one, was dressed in a fluffed orange tunic with a floral embroidered print while the other, the chubby one, was dressed in a white top over light blue denim. The one in jeans had her arm around the other one who walked with her hands crossed tightly over her chest as her thick orange drape embroidered in huge multi-coloured leafy print covered her up. It only annoyed me for I didn't want either demeaning or comforting messages because both had no meaning. Both carried an element of a lie. The demeaning messages didn't apply to me whatever they were and were undeserved, while the comforting messages didn't go along with how the guilty party had behaved for real. Both made no sense!

My attention then briefly shifted to an old, tall, and fat man dressed in a horizontally striped t-shirt with a white cotton stall around his neck who was coming from the left, and then I saw a lady with a fully grown golden retriever coming from the right. When the duo met, the dog jumped on the man while intensely wagging his tail as he was trying to hug him as the man bent down to pamper him, followed by the dog getting a hold of the man's white stall which he was pulling towards him as the man tried to get it back. The dog had become really excited about seeing the man. When they finally separated as the lady departed with a 'Kal fir milenge' ('We'll meet again tomorrow') and they said silent goodbyes (apparently they knew each other), the dog was still excited, wagging its tail and barking in love. This made me look at that dog's love that I felt at that moment while standing on the roof. I felt that dog's love for that man as I saw it float inside as a separate entity easily observable by one's inner self, the state that led him to behave in such a manner and it was a heart-filling feeling. And I saw again how it could be induced from one person to another without even talking. I looked at how love was an unseen yet very real entity, that expressed itself in various different outward ways. It reflected the nature of love: that was induced within one's self and the state could be induced inside many people at once and had nothing to do with their physical bodies - the true nature of love as experienced by God and His angels: an everlasting state that's carried within one's self. I was feeling good with the dog's feelings floating inside my heart, and as I pulled away from the railing and stood straight, I saw:

Vision: A huge thick and filled pink-colored heart-shaped cloud comes out of my heart slowly like discrete bouts of smoke are ejected out of an animated chimney, and saw it float in front of me after which I saw the Hindi name of Glory engraved on it.

I looked at the vision, turned away from the railing, and walked to the other side.

And now that I am back in my room and recording the roof time, as I wrote the above vision, I had a brief vision of the man from the movie Joker holding a red heart in both his hands that he kept holding while singing the song 'Jeena Yaha, Marna Yaha' followed by these song lyrics playing in my Spirit:

The Guy sings:
Jeena yahan, marna yahan
Iske siwa jana kahan

Is khel mein hum ho na ho
Gardish mein taare rahenge sada..
Bhoologe tum, bhoolenge vo,
Par hum tumhare rahenge sada..

The line in bold repeated to me separately a few more times.

And then I thought about the first two lines of the stanza that say that regardless of one being present in the game, the revolving stars in outer space are always going to exist. Well, what Death Conqueror did was play a game, and he still does, that's all he knows - play games using others as pawns. But regardless of me being a part or not of his earthly game, the stars or angels of God are going to exist forever in His Kingdom. He made a sick game of something as pure and holy as love, and then he calls life a game. I don't like his mind at all. But look at the nature of God: it's so stable and he created eternal beings to live with, in love, as they would worship Him. He didn't create short-lived creatures to have communion with, in His kingdom, but He created eternal spirits - that's His nature: vast and stable. He is not volatile and a game player like the devil.

A word from my favourite lady Adele (Grobler):

P.S: I know that we are not called to show favouritism among believers but I am not showing unreasonable favouritism or that which is based on vain reasons. By calling her as my favourite lady, I am recalling her character traits and the way she walks with God which takes my breath away.

Time to leave behind the dead things...

While I was watching the shorter version that she uploaded of the above video and was again thinking of her as being my favourite, I saw:
I am placing a 3-inch high golden crown on her head as she stands facing to the left in a dark background and I stand facing her, and then a huge elephant trunk erects vertically and hits my forehead hard! It is symbolic of being pleased (not in a fleshly way, but in a general way that encompasses all ways of being pleased, and in my case, I am pleased with her persona and character traits). I was also observing how even the situation of her eyes resembled mine as one is slightly smaller than the other and this similarity made me further happy.

Past Rev:
This evening when it had been a few days in my new accommodation, I happened to have this scene from the movie Tanu Weds Manu Returns in which the rural doppelganger of Tanu who wasn't as vain and flashy as her but was a more responsible person and athletically talented as well gave her a lecture highlighting that the vain lady didn't really have any speciality that she should've talked to her in that derogatory way. The specific line that was highlighted to me from the scene was, "Thare mein kya liyakat hai? Mereko gawaar keh rhi hai!" Now like other revelations, this one too was quite unexpected and abrupt. I didn't record it the same day as I forgot about it and had received it while I was busy doing something else. The following day Yeshu ke Geet released this sing-along video that said, "Na koi khoobi hai na koi liyakat, baksho humein apni takat." It was said to God in a state of worshipping him.

The lyrics began with:
Aashish tujhse chahte hai
Hey Swargiye Pita hum ate hai..

And continued as follows:
Koi khoobi hai na liyakat
Baksho humko apni takat

Khali dilon ko late hai
Hey Swargiye Pita hum ate hai..

Sing your heart out!! 😍 💧 #shorts

It goes along with the previous revelation of the rural counterpart scolding the vain and flashy city girl about her undesirable, ungodly, and vain attitude as she was showing her supremacy without any special abilities/talents and also highlighted the fact that it didn't suit her to have that attitude when she didn't buy even underwear with her own money and only used her husband's money on booze and traveling.

It also reminded me of how both Death Conqueror and Akhila wanted to keep being financially blessed by God while staying that rotten self of a person, not caring about His statutes but only wanting His financial blessing and attributing it to their own selves and putting it on display as if it made them someone great.

Well, though the worship truly depicts their heart-state, however, they won't worship God even with these lyrics that represent the truth! The lyrics hold true in their case, but are not sung by them as they ignore God and His righteous statutes an only use His financial blessings in a foolish way displaying their superiority! They have no spiritual blessings, but only materialistic ones.

Both of them can sing along together on this video.

Now they're the ones who are not grateful for the financial blessings of God in their lives, but the fool Death Conqueror threatens to make me homeless who is actually grateful to God for everything He has provided me with! How much more blatant display of his stupidity can he make!? He threatens to empty my bank balance and make me penniless and homeless, while I am the one who actually feels grateful for everything that God blesses me with, even a soothing breeze is a blessing from Him along with pure air to breathe and pure water to drink which he takes for granted. He is the one who should be stripped of all his wealth for he let it get into his mind instead of seeing it as an external object/blessing that was added to his life by God! Verily verily, I tell you, people like him will meet their deserved share one day. Even if I had the least, I would still praise God if I am in His presence and in His love. But people like Death Conqueror and Akhila are neither in God's presence nor they want to be for in order to be closer to Him, they would have to leave their past selves and be holy which they are not ready to be. However, they want all the worldly blessing to be showered on them while they live a very ungodly and sinful lifestyle. For me one room is enough. I find my present accommodation so satisfying and while being on the roof earlier this night when I had the heart vision, I was thinking how I loved this place for it having a rural tint. The place came with a humility of lifestyle and persona, while in a posh area, people are often competing with each other uselessly. But here, one found no judgment regardless of one's lifestyle choices and clothes. There is no affectedness usually found in the lives of the upper class. That's why it is written: Kingdom of God belongs to the poor, because they are humble enough to worship God as God, and they do so not to gain wealth or be prosperous but out of a genuinely grateful heart that knows that they're dependent on God for everything. While the rich don't feel the need to let God rule their lives for they see no lack and trust on their own resources. They don't find giving God enough space in their lives worth it. This pertains specifically to those two and those who reject God but accept their earthly blessings, for there have been kings in Israel that were led by God and didn't leave His side though they were too materialistically blessed.

David was so loved by God and He was such a devout worshipper of God, but then he was a shepherd who thanked God for making him rest in green valleys and near fountains. He would sit alone in a green valley in a beautiful day and sing praises to God for giving Him at such places. We can all learn from him. He later killed Goliath and also became the king of Israel. But if we leave David for a moment and look at Abraham, who too had a lot of possessions and servants - he followed God in obedience and went wherever He led him along with his troop of animals, servants and belongings. Though materialistically blessed, he lived a wanderer's life camping from one place to another. He didn't leave God's side and didn't even love his own son as much as He loved God's command even when it was to sacrifice his own son of the promise - Isaac whom we all know that God later stopped him from sacrificing as he was only testing Abraham if he was willing to give his son of the promise for whom he had waited for decades to conceive through Sarah. God was pleased with Abraham. Abraham didn't lack anything but He still followed the most high God as His Lord.

Side Note: I saw today that my weight had actually begun to go down. I measured it thrice to take an average and saw that it landed at 61 though I haven't been working out, but have only been doing my routine chores.

The Guy sings:
Mein bhola parvat ka,, tu rani mehla ki
Teri meri paar pade na, bhale likhi pehlya ki!

These lyrics have been playing in my Spirit for some minutes now.

4:10
The Melody of the 'Bol Do Na Zara' song repeats:

Hm-hm hm-hm hm
Hm-hm hm-hm hm

- accompanied by the vision of a tall and muscular KA dressed in a black t-shirt over black trousers kissing me profusely as I stand against the room of this wall. In the vision, as we kiss, my lips seem to be looking non-existent as they've been chewed up.

Hm-hm hm-hm hm

The Guy sings:
Bold do na zara, dil mein jo hai chipa
Mein kisi se kahunga nahin..

Ref: The Bollywood song

4:20
The above lines continue to play.

As I have coffee standing near the balcony, I see
KA dressed in a black t-shirt over black trousers slowly walks backwards while facing me as he says pointing to himself, "Tu mujhse pyaar karti hai! Tu mujhse pyaar karti hai!" His face then changes to Glory as the vision repeats with him continuing to walk backwards.

The vision repeats with the face changing from KA to Glory to a mix of KA and Death Conqueror.

While I was brushing my teeth lightly, the lyrics played again:

The Guy sings:
Kyu koi kaatil samajhta nahi.
Ye jurm vo hai jo chupta nahin
Ye daag vo hai jo mit ta nahi

Rehta hai khooni ke haath par

After a while, the following lyrics began playing in my Spirit:
The Guy sings:
Isme tera ghata, mera kuch nhi jata
Jyada pyaar hojata, to mein she nhi pata..
Isme tera ghata, mera kuch nhi jata

Ref: The Hindi song 'Tera Ghata'

The song made me think why would one think such a thing? Because one should understand that I have to walk on the Will of God, though at times it's difficult and I struggle because of a lack of mental energy as I feel drained and am busy most of the day. Even while I am sleeping, I receive dream revelations to be written, and when I lay down to rest, I receive visions to be recorded which makes me miss the time I could lay down with a clear mind and rest truly. And at times, God gives me such a time, but often my entire day is filled with daily chores, and writing revelations. If one leaves the side of Jesus, it's their loss and not mine. Because Jesus is the only way to Heaven, and only few have realized this truth some of whom rejected Him knowingly and chose to worship satan, and even fewer will enter the Kingdom of God, and those fewer are the ones God chose from the beginning of the creation for Himself. If God has intended for me to be with a certain person, then I should be with that person.

After a day or two of receiving the vision revelation of a pink cloud rise up from my heart and take the form of the letters 'I Love Kartika Aryanaa…', I heard these song lyrics:

The Lady sings:
Jo bheji thi dua..
Vo jaake aasmaa.. Se yu takra gayi
Ke aa gyi.. hai laut ke sada..

The Guy sings:
Yuhi bar bar sochta hu tanha mein yahan
Mere sath sath chal rha hai, yaadon ka dhua..

The Lady sings:
Jo bheji thi dua..
Vo jaake aasmaa.. Se yu takra gayi
Ke aa gyi.. hai laut ke sada..

Ref: Jo Bheji Thi Duaa Shanghai Full Song | Emraan hashmi, Abhay Deol, Kalki Koechlin

"Kartika tum to sabki favourite ban gayi! Kartika tum to sabki favourite ban gayi!": repeated a voice in A-10.
"Kartika you became everyone's favourite! Kartika you became everyone's favourite! "

Well, all people of God are my favourite too!

And now The Guy sings:
Bewafa bewafa bewafa nikli hai vo
Jhoot pyaar jhoota pyaar, jhoota pyaar kita hai vo..

Which seems a joke to me because recall what Jesus said: "There is no love greater than the one that's willing to lay down one's life for one's friend."

John 15:13 (New International Version)
13 Greater love has no one than this: to lay down one's life for one's friends.

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=John%2015:13&version=NIV>

Well, why did I go through all this trouble in the first place when I had received Jesus' Holy Spirit and was saved. I did this to walk in His Will as a part of laying down my life for the people He wanted to be saved out of the system, the people He was reaching out to and I changed in the process. My heart expanded and I opened up to the reality of having many people in my life - men and women - and my love had nothing to do with flesh to begin with. It's the revelations that I receive that are fleshly, but it doesn't define my who, as Adele said in one of her words that God gave her in which she said that your do cannot become your who. So, though I am receiving the fleshly revelations, they're not my who. God knows how person-centric I am.

Just felt like sharing this general concept ahead that I understood within the past two days (that I had subconsciously applied to my own case as well.
A General Key to Organizing Any Room Spaciously:
Push the objects of the room, whatever they may be: furniture, bed, utility items, dining table etc., to the corners of the room and try to keep the middle zone as unoccupied as possible. This leads to a spacious look. On the other hand, if one was to accumulate things evenly, or put them in the centre, it would give the space a crowded look, though the amount of stuff kept inside the space is the same.

That's because whatever is in the centre catches the attention first and foremost and an empty centre mirrors a mind with free thinking space kept in its view which can be occupied with one or the things as they're brought in the centre and put back at their places after the job is done. However, if a mind always has one or the other thing in its central view, it is going to be distracted by that thing at all times. So, keep the centre free to keep tensions away and deal with problems as they occupy the central region in turns and not all at once. My feelings of hurt caused by the camera situation in my life filled up its allotted corner space entirely and thereafter overflowed in the central view of my mind filling it profusely to such an extent that it led to that intense outburst, for all my mind saw was the pain caused by that demon-possessed man, pain that was previously out of my mind's sight but was present still. People often like to organize their surroundings in a manner that reflects the way their minds work. And though I was aware of this general fact, I realized within the past two days its specific case play out in my way of organizing things: that I keep all things in the corners of my mind and only put into the centre the things that either God brings in or that which is brought in the centre because of the need of the situation. That way the center is mostly unoccupied and it keeps me in a relaxed mindset at all times regardless of the situation unless a certain corner overflows blocking my view resulting in an outburst or a response to that situation.

And after I was almost done writing the above, the phrase 'A Beautiful Mind' kept repeating in my Spirit.

However, when it comes to love-filled bonds, the dynamics becomes different. The mental structure of loving bonds shared by a person with many people in his/her won't have an empty centre but will have a central point that's connected with all the other points around the corner - a point that lights up every time that corner allotted to that person lights up. It's very much like an ongoing exchange between the central point and the ones present at the corners. Any number of corner points can stand activated at the same time, much like the to and fro substance flow through the trunk of a tree to its branches.

It's 6:23 am now.
The Guy sings:
Hum hein is pal yahan.. Jane ho kal kahan..
Hum mile ya na mile.. Hum rahein na rahein..

Rahegi sada yaha.. Pyaar ki ye daastan..
Sunenge sada jise.. Ye jameen asmaan..

The lyrics in often have played in my Spirit like they did with much emphasis on them a few hours back. My testimony is meant to win souls for the Kingdom of God.

13:24

Visions before falling asleep:

- Trinity with her short slicken hair stands with her body facing the viewer and her head facing to the left in a dark green background of low intensity with a gun pointing in the left direction, and as the vision moves to the left, shown is standing Neo facing her at a distance of 4-5 meters from her pointing a gun at her, both dressed fully in multilayered jet black clothes. She shoots and the bullet hits his forehead, and, as it does so, his unphysical self gets separated from his physical body and moves backwards following the hit. The unphysical self is shown as a translucent version of his physical self and is pushed backwards in the same posture as the physical self standing on the ground. The unphysical self immediately floats to her with the gun pointing at her head followed by the physical self coming at her as well with the gun pointed at her forehead.

- I was lying on my left side facing the wall with my right arm lying on my face and was in the process of falling asleep when I saw the naked upper half of Glory to my right who was trying to lift my arm up and kiss my cheek and neck and as he did so, he repeated in a quiet tone, "Pari. Pari." ("Fairy. Fairy."). And while he dropped kisses on my neck and throat, his face then changed to Jack from the Hollywood movie Titanic, carrying his expressive countenance and slicked hairstyle.
- A naked Neo stands facing a naked Trinity as they kiss each other profusely after a while of which she jumps and sits on him wrapping her legs around him while they keep kissing.
- The face of Neo wearing a red cap in an inverted manner as he does something weird.
- Glory hits a long nail on my lower lip from above.

  The Lady sings:

  Maar dala.. Maar dala..
- A naked Glory turns to the other side away from me while jogging at his place with a vertical penis on fire.

I woke up from my sleep briefly and as I opened my eyes, I saw the animated clean-shaven slightly conical face of a guy above me to my face's right who was looking at me revealing his central incisors.

Dream (Morning):

I am in a home Home that looks a bit messed up and see a black snake lying on the floor which scares me. My dad comes and throws it away. I find a few more snakes lying on the floor and I can't seem to understand how they are making their way inside, or how did they happen to be there. The home is built in the form of compartments of train. There is a huge room/hall with an exit door at its left end. As one turns away from the door and walks in the opposite direction, one enters a smaller room with a drain hole present at the left most corner of the wall with the entrance door. I am standing beside that drain hole and find that there are uneven holes in its cover with one hole being unusually greater than the other. I find that the snakes were coming out of drain holes covered with metallic/steel cover with holes to let water pass through. It was revealed in the dream that the constituting holes of the metallic drain cover were too large because of which the snakes were able to pass outside into the room from below the drain. I then see a thin and shorter parrot green snake lying around and see as it goes inside a drain through one of the holes in the drain cover.

I went to the Gunika's to get waxed as it had been put on my heart to do so. I was nudged yesterday as well, but I didn't go as I was still slightly on my period and I wouldn't have wanted to go after I had already bathed and changed into the small and invisible pantyliner. So I went today in the afternoon as I was being nudged. While I was getting waxed, as the lady lowered the outer gown until the top of my breasts, it reminded me of the previous vision in which a lady was doing sit-ups and kicks along with others on a race track. That lady wore a shoulderless blak bra over a black bikini and was clean all over, with no hair. And here I was in the Parlour getting the same areas waxed that I saw revealed in that vision as I lay shoulderless on their bed with the vision recurring to me. So, it served as a confirmation to me that I was supposed to be doing so. However, it doesn't mean that God supports nudity. But what He showed was that despite the ladies being dressed in those clothes, they carried a righteous persona. Likewise, though I was put in an undesirable situation, I was still righteous in my inner self and not rotten and possessed by evil spirits like Death Conqueror.

However, when I lay on the bed with my naked back revealed to be waxed, I kept hearing:

The Person sings:
Maar dala.. Maar dala..
Maar dala.. Maar dala..

The phrase kept repeating itself.

I told the lady to leave the lingerie areas and wax the rest.

I found a huge bull standing in the arched gallery in front of the stairs to my floor and room, so I had to reroute and enter from the other side of the gallery. When I was back in my room, I was feeling bad again after having been exposed and sat silently for a while after dropping a text to Aakash from the Police Station inquiring if an I/O had yet been assigned to my case. And as I did so, I happened to look at the display picture of the FB profile of Death Conqueror I had shared with him for being the accused, and the hypocrisy made me feel a lot of disgust for him. If someone just looked at his profile, (s)he couldn't guess that he was able to do such a thing and was still doing it and had connections with criminals and goons, and was a murderer at heart! I recalled my thoughts about him before the time that I blocked him, and saw how wrong I was in my judgment/perception of him when I let him in my online accounts. He wasn't the person I thought he was! He was this disgusting pig who would strip a woman publicly for many years to soothe his useless penis! I then kept seeing this vision in which his outer appearance was peeled off and inside it was revealed a very ugly and vicious black creature who lacked severely in Godly character! I thought that had I not gone through what I did, and hadn't seen those photos on FB, I would perhaps have projected my own persona onto him and thought of him as a righteous man which I, at some point in time, did assume him to be, but he wasn't so, and laid on the opposite end of the spectrum.

While I was looking at how he could easily fool a righteous person with his fake righteous persona, I had these visions:

- Death Conqueror dressed in the clothes from the DP (yellow cotton tunic over a white cotton trouser) cries a bit, turns back and runs away, for he knows that I won't spare him for his sin against me which he not only committed but also mocked me for the wrong that he did!
- I see the front view of him walking in the arched gallery below, entering through the door at the other end that I happened to use today.

- The vision was followed by him sitting on a bench with other youngsters who looked like students in a setting resembling the DSKL hall of the Physics Dept of Delhi University. And he was shown interacting with them while laughing.
  Looking at the above vision, I thought how on the first look, he would fool anyone! Him sitting in the DSKL hall of the Physics Dept with that countenance wouldn't at all suggest that he was capable of these crimes. I saw that he was just a showpiece, a façade, and that his outer appearance did not at all reflect who he was. The vision repeated several times! I was looking at the mismatch between his looks at and his inner self and it made me want to puke out and strongly repelled me away from him.

  Revelations while resting in pain and sadness on the bed:

  The Lady sings:
  Maar dala.. Maar dala..

  The Guy sings:
  Chand mera dil, chandni ho tum
  Laut ke ana, hai yhi tumko
  Ja rhe ho tum, jao meri jaan..

  Ja rhe ho tu, jao meri jaan..

  Ref: The Bollywood Song
  The lines in bold repeated themselves a few times before I decided to get up and mop the floor and get going with other things to be done. But then, instead of mopping the floor, I felt a nudge to write the new revelations before they slipped out of my mind. It's easier now to remember the vision revelations as they're short while I tend to forget the dream revelations as they're often long and are received in a subconscious state.

- Vision (while lying on the bed): Sherlock Holmes/Benedict Cumberbatch stands outside my room to its left facing it, as seen from the inside, on the grey cemented floor, being dressed in a black suit with a white shirt inside with his usual blob of curled hair resting sideways at the front, as he points downwards with an extended arm towards the viewer and says "You're dead!", and leaves afterwards. (It later reminded me of how I said 'Vo Marega!' to the counsellor lady Jyoti sitting in the outermost room of the Model Town branch of the Police Stations in Delhi. I had said the phrase in a similar manner before I left the room.)
- Sherlock Holmes/Benedict Cumberbatch, dressed in a black suit over a white shirt, points a gun at me, but then points it on his own self and says that before killing me he will kill himself reminding me of the Dhoom 2 scene between Aishwarya Rai & Hritik Roshan.
- Sherlock Holmes looks at me with rotating round golden candy covers inside his eye sockets instead of his eyeballs and the head of a weird rotating black object resembling a fan protruding out from his mouth, but as I continue to pay close attention to it, it becomes a black rose. There are two candies wrapped in golden foil rotating in his two eye sockets and a rotating black rose protruding out of his mouth as only his face is shown in a dimly-lit setting.

- He is then shown as standing in the same setting facing to the left with me standing in front with the objects on his face still rotating.
- He abruptly moves his head forward and pulls my head towards his and kisses me.

Sherlock Holmes is still much more righteous than Death Conqueror because he knows better to not kill and strip people down, and recall: he avenged Mrs Hudson who was abused by those goons!

- Sherlock Holmes/Benedict Cumberbatch stands at a distance of 2-3 meters away and shoots with a handgun at me with a completely extended arm towards me but with his face turned away at the back as he avoids looking at me.

The Guy sings:
Aashish tujhse chahte hai..
Hey Swargiye Pita hum ate hai..

Before I left for the Parlour, I looked at my room from the outside with its mesh door closed but covered by the white translucent curtains inside, and the inner wood door open. I saw that the look resembled that of the room I had seen in the dream in Room 303 of A-10, that room that had two white curtains hanging in front of its entrance with no door visible and was dimly lit with red light on the inside. I saw that that's how my room looked as well because of the light passing through the red curtains that I put in front of the balcony. It formed the same pattern where in the curtains didn't cover the visible space of the door entirely, but some was left at the top and the middle, and that's how my room looked as well from the outside. In that dream, I somehow already knew that my dad was living inside whenever I looked at it from the outside, and the room seemed so quiet and peaceful from the outside with no movements, though I never went inside.

The Lady sings:
Maar dala.. Maar dala..

And then I look at the vision of the top-view of the naked fat infant dressed in just a thick diaper, and giggling in a broken voice as he lay on my bed (with the navy blue bedsheet spread on it) and it melts my heart and I feel like grabbing a hold of the infant and actually putting him on my bed and squishing him, but the vision just doesn't go along with the actual actions of Death Conqueror who has proven himself to be a very immoral man. Why should I assume that he is that fat infant giggling in a broken voice!? Well, according to God, he is that infant who only seeks to please himself mindlessly and laughs and giggles while he does so (not caring about the agony of the other person).

Vision: The infant moves its hands and legs rapidly doing an elongated 'Eee Eee Eee Eee Eeee' while smiling as if he's too pleased!

If he was really an infant, only in that case could I have held no bitterness for him. So, I can see that God is showing me what He does for my own good, so that I don't keep a bitter heart inside for anyone regardless of what they have done! If a foolish infant who giggles in a broken voice stripped a person publicly, how can that person be angry on him? It would be very hard. Little children tend to get forgiven easily.

Well, he's an infant for God, just like I too am an infant for God - His child.

While I was resting with hurtful feelings inside, I prayed to Jesus to come forth quickly for me, and I had now started to feel angry on Him as well for why was He taking so long to roll judgment on this fellow who keeps stripping me of my dignity and putting me to shame shamelessly, that how could He just watch and allow this demon-possessed man to do his will. However, I also knew that He wasn't in favour of this guy's actions but wanted everyone to come to Him and that's why the plan was one with a long duration. I stopped myself from saying something bad to Him whenever I felt like doing so for I knew that it wasn't Jesus' fault but that He was only working for my own good as He had already revealed to me months back that He was going to avenge me and that Death conqueror was going to be judged which means that He did care about justice, but at the same time He wanted him to be saved as well. He's so good. I too want him to be saved, but I don't want the bits from his demonic persona to fall on me. And when I was back to being in a good heart condition towards Jesus, Vision: I saw Jesus and I give each other a high-five as we stand with our bodies facing the viewers but heads tilted to their sides towards each other - with Him standing on the left side, and me beside Him to the right . He is dressed in His usual attire of a long white tunic with a red drape on top.

The Lady sings:
Prem pyala jab se piya hai.. X2
Jee ka hai ye alam..
Angaaro pe neend aa jaye, kaaton pe aram..
Saan-son ki mala pe
Saan-son ki mala pe
Saan-son ki mala pe
Simrun mein
Simrun mein
Simrun mein
Mein pee ka naam..
Pee ka naam..
Pee ka naam..

Prem ke rang me aisi doobi.. X2
Ban gya ek hi roop..
Prem ki mala japte japte - aap bani mein shyaam
Saanson ki mala pe
Saanson ki mala pe
Simrun mein
Pee ka naam..
Pee ka naam..
Pee ka naam..

Before I write the context of this song, let me write this vision that has been flashing itself to me.
Vision: I lie naked, with hands extended on either side, tied with ropes against a wall, in a manner similar to Sunil Shetty in a previous dream. My head rests to one side and my eyes are closed. I am dirty and dusty, and there are blood bite marks around my nipples and blood on the ground below my vagina.

Such a shameful sight. Perhaps it's a warning or it will actually come to pass. But it shows what people are capable of. Well, for Jesus, I can go through even this, but I don't know if the game players can endure one-tenth of what I did by far in the name of love!

Vision: Keanu Reaves in his look of John Wick - bearded with neck-length straight hair, dressed in a black suit with a black shirt inside, dribbles a basketball with one hand facing to the left. He moves around on the floor in a shiny dark greenish background dribbling the basketball, jumps, and makes a goal.

I was lying on my bed as I was too sad. I hated Death Conqueror because of his lack of godliness and the way he treated me like a prostitute. Somewhere while praying to Jesus, I started iterating His name, I was seeking healing. I wanted to be in His tangible presence and I wanted to be comforted by my righteous and just Creator. I also recalled the previous visions I had with Him in this room, that I have not yet recorded as the previous pages are left to be edited. But this vision of Him holding my hand through my fingers kept repeating itself to me. I also realized that I had to focus on the truth and His unfailing love. He was a coverer, and not a stripper. He was a lover, and not a lusting human who would hurt another to get his way. He was the great king, the King of kings. And I wanted to be in His tangible presence like He had suddenly grasped me in a duet back in Room 303 of A-10 when I had prayed to him to stop me whenever I was about to do something I wasn't supposed to do. I told him that I didn't ask him for riches or worldly prosperity, but I only wanted His unfailing love and presence, His just and righteous self was like a healing ointment. He held the most power, but here He was with His shining character, being the great and Holy God that He was! After this, I asked Him where was He for I didn't feel Him around or near. I felt alone in my situation though objectively I knew that I wasn't alone but that He was with me. So, it was my own mind that was failing me as I kept being distracted by the acts of degraded humans like Death Conqueror! In these moments of asking questions and clearing up my mind, I received back some of my lost vision of how love was supposed to feel, and How His love fulfilled those requirements. He loved me from the beginning with a perfect love and would never do the kind of things this fellow did. I was once sitting on a chair on the roof of A-10 looking ahead into the dark night as I asked, "Where is his love?" if he was so mad after me that he would do these crazy things not caring who he was hurting and in what way. I didn't see any love in Death Conqueror as I looked at his actions. I only saw abuse and hurtful things said and done out of a superior attitude or perception of self. Well, this is not what I was looking forward to reach. I was talking about Jesus. When I started receiving my lost normal sense of how love once felt and how it was so healing and food for soul and left one refreshed in soul and spirit, I also recalled that I was supposed to be feeling those things in love and not these miserable feelings that Death Conqueror made me feel. I remembered how I felt rejuvenated and satisfied in the presence of real love, and this time I saw it develop between Jesus and me. I realized that this was the time I had to spend in close intimacy with him, rooting myself in His deep love so I would not question His motives in difficult situations caused by others. I started receiving those lost feelings back. This fool only intended to break me into being a dead zombie. Prior to these thoughts about Jesus, I looked at how grievous the sins of Death Conqueror were, that what he did to me wasn't a small thing but a sin of severe intensity. I saw that he was no less than a rapist who was ok with using other people and political tactics to rape a woman who was unwilling to sleep with him. And I looked at how strongly I hated such degraded people in the past!

Vision (night): Keanu Reaves in his John Wick look sits on the brown chair that stands facing the bed with his upper half bent slightly towards as it as he says in a quiet tone, "Look. I know that you love me.." I didn't understand the rest of the short sentence as it was said hastily or perhaps what was said didn't make any sense as he didn't say anything sensible further for he was immersed in thought about what to say, but towards the end he is shown carrying a black envelop in his hand with a transparent rectangular window in it through which a black surface is seen and he wants to hand it to me, and then he quickly sprints away to the right.

So I was now renewing, strengthening and deepening my bond with Jesus and ended up iterating His name in repetition following which the above song started playing in my Spirit. As I lay on my bed seeking to find the strength that love imparts to one by renewing my bond with Jesus, I had the vision of small Mirinda placed inside the fridge of Dinesh Store flash twice in my mental view - the vision separated by a few minutes. As I pressed in further into reshaping my mind, I saw the following.

Vision: I am kissing Jesus as I face to the left and Him to the right of the viewer, and I see His lips protruding unusually forward but then at the same time another me is shown as superimposed on the kissing me, and that other me faces in the same direction as the kissing me and is drinking from that small Mirinda bottle.

So I went and bought the bottle. I saw that He truly cared for me. On my way to the Store and the way back to my PG, I kept hearing the song play in my Spirit. And interestingly, without me intending to, I opened the bottle at such a time, that I ended up drinking from it as I started walking up the stairs to my floor. The synchrony caught my attention as well.

This was also the night that I took off the crowns from the heads of people one after another, the vision beginning from Death Conqueror. A hand took off the crown from the previous vision written about on Page 111, followed by Glory's crown, followed by RS and KA's crowns, and then I put all those crowns on the head of Jesus! It's not that I stopped loving Glory and other righteous people, people who are far more righteous than Death Conqueror, but I wanted to give all honor and Glory to Jesus because He truly deserved it. Death Conqueror didn't deserve a crown in the first place! I don't who it on him. Well, according to the revelation, it was none but me because of the song that played alongwith as I was listening to it! The vision was a shock to me. But when I wrote here about

And while I wrote the previous sentence, I got reminded of this previous vision I had in A-10.
Vision: The huge naked upper-half of Jesus with his arms extended to the sides and tied with ropes above me, as He looks beaten and exhausted with a crown of thorns on His head.

The first revelation of vision on this page resembles the above Jesus vision.

The energetic sargam of the song also played in my Spirit as I wrote here. It showed how deep the Father's love for us. Someone who loves you won't burst your eyes, ovaries or eardrums. While Death Conqueror finds enough courage to insult me indirectly, cause pain to me, and use other people as puppets, it only seems an excuse and a lie that he couldn't have chosen the way of God. I wrote this specifically for him because he did it in a negative and painful context, while Glory did the same in a comparatively helpful context where he only waited silently, but then God's way is long and requires endurance.

Sanson Ki Mala | Ustad Rahat Fateh Ali Khan | Tribute to Ustad Nusrat Fateh Ali Khan | New Song 2020

8:04

The Guy sings:
Ek bar waqt se.. Lamha gira kahi..
Waha dastaan mili.. Lamha kahin nahi..

Thoda sa hasake, thoda sa rulake
Pal jo ye jane wala hai.. Ho ho

Aane wala kal jaane wala hai..
Ho sake to ime zindagi bitado,
Pal jo ye jaane wala hai..
Aane wala kal jaane wala hai..

Dream:

- A man resembling the old Hindu man I had happened to interact in 2016 who was trying to make me a Hindu missionary is giving a tree tutorial as I stand at a spot where the top of the tree is visible. I later walk beside a different tree observing it and seeing what I previously learned play out in its case.
- A small baby packed in a metallic skyblue & white armour falls down from a tree on his birthday.
- A family passes through what looks like the empty space occupied by the Pistil of a huge red flower placed facing the viewer in open daylight, though the pistil is not there and just the tube formed by the base of sepals. The teenage girl with hair tied low at the back tears open the closed vertical base from the other side and passes through the red tube with a bit of struggle, coming out with a bent upper body followed by many others who now come out easily in a line as they hold each other by the sides at the back walking towards the viewer with bent upper bodies.
- Many babies placed at the top of a narrow pink slide, slide down all together in a line. It seemed like the leisure time of a family.
- The new classroom: two white round wraps of paper - one with O+, O- written on the sides; another with A++ and A+- written on the sides

- A bald guy resembling in looks to the devotees of Iskon temple but dressed in a brown and off-white wrap comes in the classroom as a new teacher.
- I stay in an old hostel building and I keep coming across Srilekha who was an obese girl from Miranda's Hostel but was fascinated by me. In the dream, I always see her using a purple bedsheet.
- I shift to a new branch of hostel. Another bald guy resembling an Iskon devotee in posture walks in through the glass door. Apparently, he had been living in a rehabilitation centre, and after getting released, instead of being sent to His branch of faith, was sent to the hostel.
- The rooms are huge and Srilekha happens to be my roommate. She is preparing for a govt exam. I recognize it's her because of her bedsheet that's now shown as being stuck on the ceiling. I find it better to have been allotted her as my roommate than anyone else for I know her already. In the morning, I go to use the common washroom with huge black washbasins built as depressions on the same slab in a row in front of huge square slabs of mirror placed one next to the other. I clean my nose after a while of which Srilekha comes in to use a washroom cubicle and I wake up from the dream.

Visions from yesterday:

- The side-view of a very fat lady with an excessively protruding belly rides a bicycle.
- The fat wife of Dum Laga Ke Haisha dressed in a printed off-white saree sits at the back of a cycle facing to the left behind her husband as he rides it in a direction away from the viewer.
- I was bathing in the washroom when I saw that I am holding the fat infant vertically by the sides in the air with my arms fully outstretched at the front and happily revolving him horizontally in an arc to and fro from left to right as he giggled hard. (Well, holding the infant wasn't hurtful. It was a joy to watch him giggle and laugh! But it won't be a joy to watch a criminal standing remorselessly in front of me! God will avenge me. The criminal is His creation and child, and his sins are for Him to judge, and He is also the one who will avenge me and has the supreme authority. Jesus can perform the impossible.)
- I see the side-view of a naked fat infant facing to the left dressed in just a thick diaper now hopping on the seat of a stationary bicycle in a well-lit environment as he laughs hard in joy.

Keanu Reaves, Leonardo Di Caprio and Benedict Cumberbatch Visions, and other song revelations.

I had these revelations earlier during the day today as I was busy doing different things.

Their dressing sense:

Keanu Reaves is dressed in his John Wick attire of a black suit with a black shirt inside.

Leonardo Di Caprio is dressed in the attire that I saw in a recent post about him that was shown in my browser's homepage: a brown coat over a finely checkered white shirt doing a light stubble and a metallic specs.

Benedict Cumberbatch is dressed in a black suit over a white shirt.

While having bread with milk:

- They stand sideways in a line smiling at me holding each other sideways with their arms around their waists.
- As they stand in this manner, red love hearts pop out of their eyes.
- While I was at the kitchen counter making my plate, I started hearing this song from the Bollywood movie Saajan:
  The Guy sings:
  Jiye to jiye kaise.. Bin apke..
  Lagta nhi dil kahin.. Bin apke..

  Followed by the following stanza:
  The Guy sings:
  Kaise kahu bina tere zindagi ye kya hogi..
  Jai koi sazaa koi bad dua hogi..

  Ref: Jiye To Jiye Kaise Bin Aapke-Sajan 1991 Full HD Video Song, Sanjay Dutt Madhuri Dixit, Salman Khan

  The lines in bold being specifically highlighted.

- While I am washing dishes in the narrow passage to the balcony:
- They stand sideways in a line smiling at me holding each other sideways.
- The wide sharp smile of Benedict Cumberbatch is highlighted in the vision with his sharp and pointed upper teeth in focus. It reminds me of KA's sharp smile, and I wonder if he's shown as a label for him. And then it also reminds me Glory's sharp smile in the proposal part of the dream as he jumped out from behind the car and sat with a bouquet of roses held below his chin.
- They then dance while holding each other in the same manner as they move left and right in synchrony.
- They separate and worship with their hands raised in the centre space of the room.
- Benedict Cumberbatch appears behind me, takes a step forward, and says in a gentle tone with an extended forearm: "Let me help you.."
- While I am cleaning my tongue after brushing, he gives expressions of disgust, but his love stands firm nevertheless.

15:19
Vision (a few minutes back): Leonardo Di Caprio dressed in the previous attire of a brown coat over a finely checkered white shirt rises high as he stretches up to the sky with raised hands in worship.

Link to my extended Police Report I submitted on 28th August:
https://1drv.ms/b/s!Aod5hx_90tDb3RdIR_gMVZytNHMK?e=gK9Mb2

This is the one I got stamped from the Police Station. The previous one wasn't even in their record, but this one was handed directly to the person who files the record. I will now go and ask for its status for these people won't stop hurting me every day in several different ways they communicate their mockful messages. For instance, I asked this thin lady who was cleaning the grey floor to my room's left (as seen from inside) if she was shifting there for she didn't look like a cleaning lady though she was mopping the floor using her feet to which she told me that Aunty's niece was to shift there to study, that she's coming to the place to study, the mocking tone of which I caught immediately and then I started ignoring the lady and stopped listening to her as I was locking my room's door to go upstairs to hang clothes to dry, and then she augmented her taunt with the statement, "Jaise aap aye the na padhne!" - "Like you had come here (to the city) to study!" - this again confirmed to me that the abusers were going to stay abusers, and while I was hanging my clothes on my roof, I slipped again into a depressive state and decided that I was immediately going to go the Police Station, but before leaving I felt a strong nudge to share the link to my extended report that I have a stamped copy of. And then as I was creating the download link, I felt the nudge to write the Keanu Reaves, Leonardo Di Caprio, and Benedict Cumberbatch visions right then. Now I will leave to inquire about the status of my report. Whenever these people act in such hurtful and mocking ways, it leads to me getting highly nudged to run to the Police in order to move ahead in getting this criminal his righteous share of judgment.

Vision: Sherlock Holmes bends and whispers in my right ear "I Love You…". And then he stands straight, claps his hands below his face in joy as he looks down with a teethfull smile at the sitting me!

Shramik

When I had just shifted to this place, and was busy moving around buying stuff, cleaning the room, and setting stuff inside the room while washing clothes as well, I kept hearing this word in my Spirit: 'Shramik. Shramik' ('Hard labourer' 'Hard labourer.')

Well, after writing the above visions, I feel a bit better, because the visions are godly. Those people had love hearts in their eyes and later danced with raised hands as worship songs played in my phone.

When I wrote the previous sentence:
Vision: The trio standing in the centre of the room holding each other in the same manner nod their heads at each other as if they understood what had hurt me, so they turn their backs at me and face in the opposite direction towards the table and the wall, and start dancing in synchrony, lifting the same leg together to the side and alternating between both legs.

I feel a bit happy now after Sherlock Holmes asked to help me wash dishes and then he whispered 'I Love You' in my ear giving me that huge teethfull smile with a strong joyful clap. I think I will go to the gym instead of the Police Station, for it's been many days since I last went there on 24th - the night of my first breakdown.

And the vision of a beaten down and naked me tied with ropes against a wall flashes itself again. The vision had first flashed with the bruised and bleeding breast being flashed first, followed by the entire scene of the lady half raised in the air through the ropes that tied her wrists to the two opposite ends, which now makes me think that I should indeed go to the Police Station first instead of the gym because these people aren't trustworthy. They have proven it by their actions by far. Now if they were to do something worse, it would be a further confirmation of their wicked selves.

'So this's perfect?' - And then the guy throws away the letter A and moves to the stars placed on the shelf: this too has been being highlighted to me for the past few days and it shows the heart state of a man like Death Conqueror who used something lovelessly because he wanted a strong urge to do so and then threw because it didn't look perfect, and then picked the many stars that were already placed on the shelf. He only came into my life to ruin/worsen it in the right ways. His life is filled with things, possessions, wealth but a lack of godly mentality and living, and he came to infect my life with the same filth he lives in!

Vision: The upper half of Leonardo bent dressed in the same clothes bent on the mopped floor as he licks it once. (It makes me think I must have cleaned it too well.)

The vision repeats itself 4-5 times. After a while, I see few more people bent in the same manner on the clean sparkling floor and licking it once. I wrote the word 'once' to be clear about the way it was done, not in quick repeated motions, not in long repeated motions, but once in a slow and sophisticated manner.

18:59

Past Revelation

- A man stands with half of one of his lower legs missing.
- It is followed by him now walking away with his back visible to the viewer as he holds a cycle to his left, and is dressed in what looks like plain dark green military clothes, a plain shirt tucked inside plain trousers of the same material. Though half of his lower leg is missing, he walks without a problem.

While I lay on my bed to rest:

My left eye was hurting on the inside, as I heard, "Aankhein phod iski! Aankhein phod iski!" "Burst her eyes! Burst her eyes!". For some reason, it just happens to be the eye the drone(s) attack the most.

I cancelled my plan to visit the Police Station as I was to receive the blue bulb today which I didn't want to delay for it was a Cash on Delivery order and I wasn't sure if it would get cancelled if I wasn't there to receive it and also I had this previous revelation of solid golden stars of a certain thickness being emitted from it as it rotated in its socket. Now I know that it wasn't going to emit those golden stars for real, but it was just symbolic of what it would do. I didn't want to delay receiving it so I could put it up quickly too. And going to the Police Station would have consumed entire evening when I have to write my testimony points to be said out in church tomorrow. Anyway. I then decided to rest as my eyes are often hurting on the inside and my brain as well and I at times feel a tiny throb inside my skull at different places, as if blood is being ejected from that place, like it happened a few days back at the front bottom of brain. Something had left it hurting following which there was this inner quiet beeping motion. And today it was my eyes. I had a series of revelations as I lay in bed:

- Dushman stands with red eyes with an axe held up in his hands. He seems to be too angry and wants to chop me in two. I see this vision from down below.
- I see this vision as a third person. Dushman is now hitting me lightly with the other end of the axe - the wooden circular base of the rod - as he seems to have cooled down, but then I am being shown as being buried naked in the ground with just my naked back visible on which he's hitting lightly. The environment is dark and I am not moving and seem to be dead as I lay buried in an open field.
- He already buried me in while angry and now was showing his softer side as he now sat beside my body and was crying.

Then suddenly, my left eye began to hurt on the inside as if something was hitting it as I felt the raw flesh being pierced through. Again, there was this beep resembling that of blood flow through a vein that I felt inside.

Most of the times, it is the drones that are in my head that are a distraction for me as they keep moving around and twisting through the surface layers of my brain.

"Aankhein phod iski! Aankhein phod iski!" "Burst her eyes! Burst her eyes!": These lines often repeat to me in my Spirit, at times more than twice in a day.

While I lay on bed, I heard this worship song play in my Spirit as well:

The People sing together:
Yeshua… Yeshua..
Karu aradhana.. (Karu aradhana..)
Haathon ko apne utha kar tujhe du mahima..

Yeshua… Yeshua..
Karu aradhana.. (Karu aradhana..)
Haathon ko apne utha kar tujhe du mahima..

Followed by this particular stanza playing in my Spirit:

The Person sings:
Khali hu bhar de mujhko..
Hai dua tujhse.. (Hai dua tujhse..)
Kuch bhi mein nahi hu… Bina tere… (Bina tere..)

Yeshua… Yeshua..

Karu aradhana.. (Karu aradhana..)
Haathon ko apne utha kar tujhe du mahima..

The lines in bold were highlighted to me.

Ref: Tere bin mai kuch bhi nahi//तेरे बिन मैं कुछ भी नहीं//lyrical video

While writing the above revelations I had while resting:
Vision: The face of Benedict Cumberbatch looking at me as a long and wide clean tongue sticks out of his mouth. (It made me think if he took the previous vision revelation too seriously.)

The vision repeated itself many times.

'She cleans very well': Heard in the Spirit during the past 4-5 days while I was almost done cleaning and was now wrapping it up in the washroom.

As I stroll on the roof after dinner to enjoy some cool natural breeze:

- I see it as a third person. The side-view of the face of Benedict Cumberbatch facing to the left (making the prophetic symbol) kissing a person in front of him and as he does so, he seems to be gulping in something like a drink that's shown as being transported down his upper half in wavy motions.

And as I write here, I feel stings inside my skull on the surface of my brain. The drones never stop, they've to continue hurting me. If not the eyes, they hit some other part of my brain's surface; if not the brain, they hit the back of my eyes, but they're always at work. Who could think of doing such a thing to someone he supposedly claimed to marry? How can a sane man send drones inside the skull of a girl for women in general are seen as vulnerable and in need of gentle behavior and treatment because of the nature of how they're created. But this fellow seems to have no conscience. If someone did this to an enemy who was a threat to him, or a strong man in power whom he couldn't have beaten/overcome otherwise, it would've made sense. But he did this to a woman. How much more will he prove the presence of a raw and animalistic way of thinking inside him that makes him talk about slaughtering a woman's hands who did him no wrong as a walk in the park? He has an unnatural animalistic way of thinking.

- Leonardo Di Caprio walks on the roof 2-3 meters behind me on all fours in the manner of a doggie with tongue sticking out.
- I saw this as a third person. Leonardo Di Caprio kisses me abruptly as he comes at me with a long drool dropping down at the side exchanging it with me while we kiss.
- I dance with KA dressed in a black t-shirt over black trousers as I put my fingers in his raised forearm. The face then changes to Glory's.

I later thought if Keanu Reaves was a label for RS/Glory (for his beard and hairstyle matches RS's, and then RS and Glory have been used interchangeably in some revelations), Leonardo Di Caprio a label for me, and Benedict Cumberbatch - a label for KA who has been represented as being his own self, and also both Glory and Death Conqueror in different visions.

But even if the revelations may be labelled, they all are called by God by my name.

Vision (afternoon): The naked upper half of Daemon from the Vampire Diaries sits with a localized blob of soap foam on his hair to the viewer's right. He is then having tea from the typical small conical tea glass held in his right hand. The follow up vision has him now having a banana as well held in his left hand while holding tea in his right hand. It reminds me of a boxer woman from a northeastern Indian state who once shared on a news channel about how the govt. only provided tea with two bananas as refreshments to the trainees in their regional government boxing training centre.

Vision (late evening/night): I see this vision as a third person from my bed. Sherlock Holmes dressed in a black suit over a white shirt sits smiling on a knee with a bouquet in his hand in the centre of my room as he looks above at the woman standing in front of him with a teethfull smile. The vision repeats itself a few times and rests for a few seconds on the sitting and smiling him. Such a beautiful sight!

The People sing together:
Yeshua… Yeshua..
Karu aradhana.. (Karu aradhana..)
Haathon ko apne utha kar tujhe du mahima..

Yeshua… Yeshua..
Karu aradhana.. (Karu aradhana..)
Haathon ko apne utha kar tujhe du mahima..

This worship song started playing in my Spirit a while after I woke up about an hour back.

Revelations before falling asleep:

- The worship song I had been listening to before shutting down my laptop.

The Guy sings:
Prabhu tera pyaar.. Sagar se bhi gehra..
Tu hai mahan.. Aasmano se bhi ucha..
Tere vichaar.. Sagar ki ret se jyada..
Prabhu tera dil.. Srishti se bhi hai bada..

Prabhu mein tujhse pyara karu.. (Prabhu mein tujhse pyara karu..)
Teri aradhana mein karu.. (Aaradhana..)
Prabhu tu hi hai mahan.. (Tu hai mahan..)
Sirf tu aur koi nhi..

प्रभु तेरा प्यार सागर से भी गहरा Prabhu tera pyar sagar se bhi gehra - Virendra Patil

The song reminded me of the dream earlier the previous morning that had a bald person resembling an Iskon devotee as they use the word 'Prabhu' a lot.

- A 2-D Jesus in His multilayered white attire of ankle length dances with a black A-shaped figure with protruding blue eyes on the surface of my painted forefinger, holding her hands. Both Jesus and the dark figure are mostly contained on the surface of the forefinger, but they move out as well at times as they dance around joyfully. As they continue dancing, the dark figure changes to the figure of a dark woman dressed in a shoulderless chest wrap over a skirt with a drape on her hand, as He swings her around in a semi-circle holding her with His extended arm. The dark figure is now completely out of the forefinger and is a 3-D object.
- Sherlock Holmes in His usual attire of Black & White in the visions by far swallows the fingers of my left hand with abstract-painted nails in and out. The visions continues for a good while.

Morning Revelations after I woke up:

- The upper half of a bearded Keanu Reaves with neck-length hair, dressed in black floats steadily in a luminous background as he faces slightly away from the viewer to the right with two handguns in both his hands with extended arms which he is shooting in that direction, one after the other.
- The top view of Sherlock Holmes in Black and White lying on me making it look like as if he was covering me.

After I got up from bed:

I prepared my clothes for church after which as I sat on the bed to write revelations, I had these new revelations.

- A well-built man of average stature dressed in a yellow cotton tunic over white trousers stands facing the viewer with the face of an alligator which he moves around. The face of the man then changes to Death Conqueror and then back to the green alligator that's looking to one side and moving his head around!

As I wrote the revelations, the Worship song 'Yeshua.. Yeshua.. Karu aaradhana' kept playing in my Spirit making me want to pray first to Jesus. So I left typing, lay on the bed and prayed with closed eyes. However, the song seemed to me to be a prophetic revelation of the worship that was to be done today in the Church. While praying, I told Him to open my heart to experience real love that was experienced with a mind that was not tormented, tortured, or abused; a mind that felt the joy that came along with love - how I once experienced life before this foolish person entered my life. I saw that His love was of exactly that kind - that imparted healing instead of bruising, and that uplifted one in the Spirit instead of making one depressed. So I continued to pray my heart out, that I was tired of the kind of love that He was trying to evoke between the tormentor and me: one which involved me suffering and not receiving any godly love in return, and I wanted to experience more of Jesus' love to live in which I didn't have to mentally suffer living in misery like I have been because of the ungodly character of Death Conqueror.

- While I was praying to Him, I saw two of the Atta Bakery biscuits that had been highlighted to me, and then a part of both held together was between my teeth. Tea was highlighted along with them as well. So, I knew that Jesus wanted me to have communion with tea and biscuits.

I was also recalling the green light visions in which the hand of Jesus was a chocolate vanilla cake, His shoulder - burger and, His lips - Bourbon biscuit. I recalled how the biscuit broke with a sound in the vision. I was still wrapping my head around the extent of His love. I only had Bourbon biscuits once in this place by far. I was then thinking that I will have communion with Jesus with Glory as well where we both will give thanks to Him and eat His symbolic flesh. All believers partake in communion with Jesus.

An incident from yesterday and another from two days back:
I saw this lady who intentionally stood behind me in front of the Dinesh Store, fully dressed and wearing a head wrap as well as she looked down at her phone. But it was such an annoying sight because I saw the affectedness of her expression, and then I was recalling Chaaru's behavior and character. She is a genuine lady and you see it when you look in her eyes and talk to her regardless of her not wearing a head wrap, while these two ladies I saw standing downstairs about two days back who were dressed in shirts and head wraps looked so fake with their demonic aura emanating out through their eyes. There was no genuineness in them and they seemed so disgustingly filthy to even stand in the presence of because of the amount of deception they carried. Though dressed apparently Holy, they were plain actors with no real beauty of character. They were just wearing full clothes which was so repelling because of a lack of resonating inner self. Look at Sis Adele. She doesn't wear a head wrap, nor are all her ministry clothes full-sleeved, but she truly knows God while those women who keep coming across me dressed in an orthodox manner don't know God at all! They just display a sense of religiosity, but a lack of true holiness! The outer attire is supposed to supplement the truth of the inner self/character, not hide the sinful reality of it.

The Guy sings:
Prabhu mein tujhse pyaar karu..

Has been repeating in my Spirit for a while now.

They all say together:
"We all will take your revenge."

10:11
I have my communion of two biscuits with tea after which I decide to not go to church for it seems a huge task to bathe and travel the distance and I need more rest too. What if I fall asleep in the church like I did the last time due to a lack of sleep? It's better that I sleep here. I lay on my bed as I am sleepy. I can rest with Jesus in my room as well and rest well in His presence.

Vision (): Jesus stands near the table dressed in multilayered white and looks at me with a hurt expression as the words, "It is seeming a burden to you to come to my church." sound in my Spirit. Though I feel bad and sad about it, I still don't have enough energy to get up and need rest. I keep lying down after a minute or so of which I hear, "Jesus bulaye to bhi mein unke ghar na jau. Mein jau apni marzi aur apni wafa se." in my Spirit. ("Even when Jesus calls me to His home, I might not go there, for I go to Him out of my Will and faithfulness towards Him."). I fall asleep after a while and have this brief dream.

Dream:

I stand below a tall black flag that has "Keep watch" written on it between two white wings and am looking at it carefully. A fat and dark child of about 10-12 years old with a round face carrying expressions of Death Conqueror comes slowly riding a bicycle in an unstable manner, he stops in front of me, and says, "Kya hua!?" in a weird tone (not a caring or curious one, but said in a taunting way), and leaves. After he leaves, I look in the direction he came from and at some distance I see the main entrance of Omaxe Heights to the left of that direction, and apparently, someone has thrown out a lot of water from inside the main entrance door to wash the area.

I wake up. I am still sleepy with sleepy eyes and head, but I can choose to go to church as well though late. I then hear in my Spirit, "Yeshu bula raha.. Yeshu bula raha.. Tera naam le le kar.. Tujhe Yeshu bula raha.."

"Prabhu mein tujhse pyaar karu..! Teri aaradhana mein karu..! (Aaradhana..)"

Brushing and bathing had seemed too huge tasks for me to do before leaving for church and then I was sleepy as well. I knew that I wouldn't make it in time. So, I decided to lie down and rest. But I guess I would now get ready and go to the home of Jesus for His love is true and everlasting, and after having some rest now, I hope I won't fall asleep in the church.

"Prabhu tu hi hai Mahan.. (Tu hai mahan..) Sirf tu aur koi nahin.."

After I decide to go to church, Jesus takes me in a duet as He sees my love-filled heart! It indeed had seemed a burden to me to get ready and travel to church when I am too sleepy and had briefly fallen asleep in the church the last time as well.

After I wake up from the sleep, I again hear these words:
"Hasle Gaale.. Ye din na milenge kal..
Thodi khushiya.. hai thode se ye pal.."

If that's the case, I know that it would only be because of Death Conqueror who has already worked hard to take a huge part of my happiness away!

The Lady sings:
Maar dala.. Maar dala..

17:52
After church, I went straight to the Police Station to inquire about the status of my report. The I/O assigned to me wasn't present there at the moment and was placed on duty at some place as I was informed so it wouldn't have been fruitful to wait for either, so I returned.

When I had reached the church, the Pastor was dedicating a newborn to the Lord and he named him as well. I later got to know that he had been named Anand, which I thought went along with the vision of an infant in a thick diaper who was hopping happily on the seat of a stationary bicycle. The infant from the hopping vision didn't have the features of Death Conqueror's but he seemed a different infant and I couldn't relate him to anyone I knew.

Afterwards, they played a worship song that spoke to me at a very deep level.

The Guy sings:

Meri to izzat hi khudawand hai.. (hai…..)	My honor is God alone.. (yeah..)
Meri to takat hi khudawand hai.. (hai…..)	My power is God alone.. (yeah..)
Mera apna to kuch bhi nahi.. (aa…) X2	I own nothing of my own.. (aa..) X2
Meri to rag rag mein naam uska likha hai..	In each of my veins, written is His name..
Meri to izzat hi khudawand hai.. (hai…..)	My honor is God alone.. (yeah..)
Meri to daulat hi khudawand hai.. (hai…..)	My wealth is God alone.. (yeah..)

The guy is singing that his honor, power, and wealth - all is the Lord Himself, and nothing is his own but the Lord's.

The Guy sings:

Tere kehne se chalta hu mein..	I walk as you say..
Tere kehne se rukta hu mein..	I stop as you say..
Tere kalam mein reh kar hi ab	Staying in your poetic expression/instruction now
Har ik kaam ko karta hu mein..	Is how I do each of my work..
Tere kehne se chalta hu mein..	I walk as you say..
Mujhe khauf kisi ka nahi.. (aa….) X2	I fear no one.. (aa..)
Maine jab se tere raston ko chuna hai..	Since I've chosen your ways.

The guy sings that he walks and stops as the Lord directs, and does everything being in His presence, and that he is not afraid of anyone since he chose the Lord's path.

Meri to izzat hi khudawand hai.. (hai…..)	My honor is God alone.. (yeah..)
Meri to daulat hi khudawand hai.. (hai…..)	My wealth is God alone.. (yeah..)

Meri to izzat hi khudavand hai मेरी तो इज्ज़त ही खुदावंद हैं #masihsonglyrics #worshipsong #lyrical

Vision (past 48 hours): Sherlock Holmes does a long ballet rotation in synchrony with the rhythm of a Worship song I am listening to at the time of the vision, as he does a few more elegant dance steps in the center of my room.

"Bravo! Bravo!"

Heard in the Spirit: 'Bravo! Bravo!'
Every time I do something that's supposed to hurt me, I see Leo, Keanu, and Benedict say 'Bravo!' said in an encouraging tone.

Vision: Leo dressed in his vision-standard attire of white checkered shirt over a brown coat is flashed as he looks at me with a slightly annoyed expression and says in a quiet annoyed tone, "Maine isko thodi attention kya di, isne kitna kuch likh diya mere baare mein!" ("I gave her a little bit of attention, and look at all the things she wrote about me!")

"Rose! Rose!"

Heard in the Spirit (the previous day): 'Rose! Rose!'
While I was combing my hair in the balcony, I heard this voice in the Spirit that repeated the name.

And then the fight scenes from this certain Leo-Kate movie has been being highlighted to me for the past few days! They were highlighted before as well, but I didn't pay much attention to them.

I just found the name of the movie. The fight scenes are from Revolutionary Road.

Vision (Past 24 hours): I am naked in the washroom of my room as a crowd of naked men with whom I've had revelations by far approach me in a circle covering me up fully from the viewer's view. In such group revelations, Sunder Pichai stands out from the rest as he is visibly discernible amidst the othes. I am then standing naked in the centre of the room and again, the crowd of naked men pertaining to revelations approach me and cover me fully on all the sides where nothing of my body is visible as they say 'We all want you!' (which later reminds me of a parade a doppelganger of Death Conqueror did on the Nala road in front of A-16 with a crowd of women, and also of Kavya telling me that there should be one man for all the women - referring to Death Conqueror and speaking on his behalf.)

Why am I receiving analogous revelations in my life when I actually don't want to have fleshly revelations with many men or don't want to be wanted by many men? It showcases Death Conqueror's lifestyle and mentality. God mimics his foolish life's reality into mine.

Vision (Past 48 hours): Sherlock Holmes face close to my face's side as he says in a quiet tone, "I love your hair. I love your hair."

Vision: This scene from the movie whose name I don't recall, in which the actress hammers her own cheek right below one of her eyes keeps being highlighted to me. In this movie, the heroine found out that her perfect husband was a psychopath having an affair. So she faked her own death and ran away from her home. Somewhere during her journey, she hammered her cheek below her eye.
I found it out later that the scene was from the movie Gone Girl.

I am currently in my parental home in Omaxe where I arrived on the late evening of the 3rd. I wasn't sure about coming but decided at the end moment like I had decided to go to church that day quite late. When I had checked the time after deciding that I was indeed going to go for Jesus was calling me as the lyrics, "Yeshu bula raha… Yeshu bula raha.. Tera naam le le kar.. Tujhe Yeshu bula raha..", it was 10:10 which reminded of John 10:10. When I was finally ready, it was almost 12:30 noon. So I had reached late but I reached.

While I was still in my rented room, I felt like hitting my left eye at its bottom with the hammer that I had. I felt too fed up of the constant motions behind my eyes as the drones kept hitting it from behind! So, I thought of hitting my eye by my own self: I could do their job for them, and it will make things easier for them as they won't have to face any accountability for all their tactics have been covert by far! I was too fed up of these movements behind my eyes that had persisted for many months now. So, this thought kept recurring to me for the movements didn't stop as their drones didn't leave and continued to hit me internally! And then this scene from the movie flashed to me.

"Ye ek dukh bhari daastan hai, Kartika. Ye ek bahut dukh bhari daastan hai." "It's a grievous story, Kartika." "It's too much of a grievous story."

The Guy sings:
Kyu aisa katil samajhta nahi..
Ye jurm vo hai jo chupta nahin..
Ye daag vo hai jo mit ta nahi
Rehta hai khuni ke haath par..

Khoon us haseena ka jab tha hua
Ko waha par pahuch to gya
Lekin use vo bacha na saka
Roya tha pyaar uski maut par..
Roya tha pyaar uski maut par..

Vision (past hour): Benedict/Sherlock Holmes in his standard vision attire of Black & White comes running from the front towards the viewer on all fours like a doggie and on reaching near the viewer (me), jumps with stretched arms as his upper half takes the form of a lion.

Heard in the Spirit: The melody of the Titanic being hummed by the Lady.

James Horner - Hymn To The Sea | Titanic (Music From The Motion Picture)

Back during my MSc days, this melody used to be one of my favourites. The lady did such a good job.

While I was making a sweet curd drink about half an hour back these lyrics play in my Spirit:
'Mujhe uski razaa manjur.. Kya behtar mere liye usko pata hai..'
'I accept His Will for me.. For He knows what's better for me better than me..'

And they repeat themselves as they stress on me giving in to the Will of God though the path may be painful or look undesirable to me.

Ref: The Worship song 'Meri to Izzat Hi Khudawand Hai..'

Visions during the past day at home (4th Sept 2023):

I was listening to the worship song 'Meri to Izzat hi Khudawand hai..' while lying on the Sette that lay in the hall. The song is quite energising and encouraging. While I was listening to it:

Vision: Benedict dances in front of me in the empty space between the stationary cycle to my right and the dining table to my left doing ballet moves while dressed in his standard vision attire of black and white. He does long rotations in synchrony with the song along with more of such elegant moves. He then joins his palms together in the pose of a Namaste and vertically moves them sideways to the left and to the right, amalgamating the move with his dance style. He keeps rotating around elegantly in synchrony with the worship song as it proceeds and gains momentum. He stays elegant and energetic throughout the dance and ends with a bent upper half with one arm stretched inwardly, and another stretched to the side.

The Guy sings:

Meri to izzat hi khudawand hai.. (hai…..)	My honor is God alone.. (yeah..)
Meri to takat hi khudawand hai.. (hai…..)	My power is God alone.. (yeah..)

Meri to izzat hi khudavand hai मेरी तो इज्ज़त ही खुदावंद हैं #masihsonglyrics #worshipsong #lyrical

I play the song a few more times. I had listened to this song for many hours the previous day as well after church as I lay on the bed resting as the song spoke to me at many levels. It wasn't a coincidence that the pastor sang this particular song this time that I attended Church. I had been having those outbursts and had filed two complaints and felt raped! (Why will I let a rapist/stripper into my life!?) That's why God spoke to me through that song through the Pastor that day.

As I play the song more number of times, Sherlock Holmes repeats his dance moves to my left in the space between the windows and the Sette ending his dance with a bent upper half with one arm stretched inwardly, and another stretched to the side.

Somewhere during the same time in the morning, I also discuss with my mom the meaning/relevance of this song and another worship song. Afterwards, I see:

Vision: I see the face of my dad's youngest sister, Poonam Bua/Aunt, looking at the viewer (me) with two sky blue diamond-shaped stars shining in front of her eyes.

Also, I've been hearing this phrase in my Spirit along with the vision of Rekha Bua flashing alongwith, for around two weeks, as she says, "Bander hamare jaisi hai!" ("Bander is like us!") She is referring to the way I live and the boldness I exhibit. All my aunts (my dad's sisters) are bold and they're very organized, especially Rekha Bua. The difference being me worshipping the one true God, and them worshipping the gods of Baal and consulting fortune-tellers and gems-healers - the practices that are forbidden by God to partake in.

I later organize the hall a bit and lay down on the sofa to read the Bible but I feel tired and lay with closed eyes instead and it's when I see Vision (before noon): The face of Sherlock Holmes comes close and drops a kiss on my lips. The face then changes to an amalgamation of Death Conqueror who doesn't look as wicked now in the vision. After dropping the kiss and perhaps one more, the short and lean guy resembling Death Conqueror stands warily against the wall with the wooden ply some meters in front of me as he looks at me.

The follow-up vision has the guy standing facing to the left with me held in one arm as he bends forward, drops a kiss at my lips, and withdraws back to his position, followed by him repeating the move.

While resting on the bed with vertically bent knees:
I am thinking about the previous visions of doggy licks by KA from groin to neck in which the lady lying on the bed had a flat belly with no bulging fat. I think about how I had those unexpected visions, and then about where is it that I am being led to? What is the point of all those fleshy revelations? What exactly is it that God is trying to do? Perhaps I am chosen for this job because I have a strong mind that wouldn't sin despite seeing labelled fleshly revelations, or are they really labelled? I don't want to be in a messy state.

Vision: A huge naked upper half of a dusky and muscular Glory drops down between my legs with a wide tongue sticking out.

Evening:
I had fallen into deep sleep in the afternoon and woke up after 5pm in the evening. I was now again listening to the same Worship song lying on the Sette outside in the Hall when the following visions followed.

Vision: Sherlock Holmes dances again in the open space between the dining table and stationary cycle in synchrony with the song. The vision is followed by him now dancing with me in a duet as we bend sideways to the right and back to the center in a repetitive robotic manner as we stand facing each other holding each other's hand at the right of the viewer. He is dressed in his standard vision attire of black and white and Me in my long white top finely checkered in black. He swings me in a circle in a row holding one of my hands above my head as we continue to dance on the Worship song.

I later went downstairs to have Panipuris with my middle brother Himanshu and to buy other things. After returning, I take a bath and change into the checkered top as it's more comfortable than the other dress I brought. I then have the Singapuri Chowmein that I brought with my brother. While I am having it, I see the face of Sherlock Holmes to my right abruptly change to a red semi-animated version with red eyes as it comes at my face. After having dinner, I bring the Sette inside the bedroom to rest as we want to run a lesser number of electrical appliances at the same time. I am listening to some Worship songs this time too when I see:

Vision: Sherlock Holmes stands to my left, says "Bye." and walks to the left with a 'You're too good.' He then walks away but quickly returns and sits on me smiling with a completely red face and eyes. The vision repeats a few times.

I later go downstairs to take a walk with Himanshu as both of us are feeling overloaded and need to walk. I am walking on the road between one of the towers and the huge park beside the main entry gate when I have the following visions.

Vision: I see the hand of Benedict Cumberbatch/Sherlock Holmes holding my right hand as Himanshu walks with me to my left. The vision is followed by the view of his upper half looking down at me (as he's taller) smiling with love-filled blue eyes as I stand in front of him, though I am walking with my brother in real life. The hand changes to a raptor’s green hand with three thick fingers with long black nails briefly and then back to Sherlock Holmes'. The vision repeats itself a few times focusing on his love-filled blue eyes and expression as he smiles silently looking at me.

Somewhere during our walk, I also hear these sentences:

"Tu bahut badi randi hai. Tujhe pta nhi hai." ("You're a high profile whore. You don't know it though.")
"Tujhe pata nahi hai ki tu kitni badi randi hai." ("You are not aware of how much of a high-profile whore you are.")

I don't understand why would I hear these lines. Why should I receive the fleshly revelations in the first place!? It now seems that every character I had happened to like was for a reason and that those people were predestined/prechosen to be called by God, as it is written in the Word that God chose His people at the beginning of the creation before He created them.

Regardless of what I hear in my Spirit, I later tell Jesus that I am NOT a Randi (whore)! And that if He was previously calling me one because of my friendships/communion with unbelievers then I would let go of those interactions for it was out of my nature to live harmoniously that I formed good bonds with unbelievers and not because I wanted to partake in the kingdom of devil. Earlier during the church as I stood at the front left, I saw a very black Jesus (His unusual self) pointing at me with red eyes as He moved away saying, "Randi hai tu randi!" which left me confused because neither did I live a lifestyle like that of Death Conqueror or my adulterous dad, and nor the fleshly revelations were of my own making. I later got to know that day in the church, that the Pastor had taught about not being one with those who worshipped Baal - the general name for the god of the world. I had heard him say to not be friends with those people- a term the meaning of which I didn't understand at first go, but after discussing later with a lady sitting beside me who showed me the scripture he had taught that day, I understood that that the term stood for people who worshipped Baal. The day next to that I arrived home, I was explaining to my mom how God called Israel a whore/harlot because it left Him and started worshipping other gods: the idols of the land around. God saw Israel as His wife and when it left its husband (God) and ran after other Gods, God compared it to a harlot and asked his prophet to go and marry one for real and bear children to signify his broken relationship with Israel. So I thought perhaps I needed to do a heart scan. Or was Jesus saying it to someone else who was represented as the viewer of the vision? Because I for sure don't treat any other God as God, but Jesus alone. Additionally, I am not even running after any other person to marry besides the one God ordained for me, though I write all revelations I receive. Why did I receive those revelations in the first place?

Morning

Dream (Omaxe Heights):

I am in Rugha Saini's home – our rented apartment in my hometown Pundri in Haryana. I see that in front of the building is gathered a crowd with a centre space where people are supposed to perform. I jump from the height right into the ground stage, following which I witness a horse mimicking some moves that it was shown, following which I sing this song for Glory regardless of him being present somewhere in the crowd or not. I sing: Tu hi meri shab hai, subah hai.. Tu hi din hai mera.. Tu hi mera rab hai, jahan hai.. Tu hi meri duniya.. But as I am about to take the high notes in the next few lines, I see that I may not be be able to perform it well in my throat's voice as I'm not a high-pitched singer. I continue singing: Tu waqt mere liye.. Mein hu tera lamha.. Kaise rahega bhala.. Hoke tu mujhse juda.. I ended up resorting to using my throat to sing and messing it a bit instead of using my belly to sing those high notes. I then leave the ground quickly and move into a room where MS Dhoni in a grey suit comes walking in and changes to my almost bald Dad. He then walks up to me and is behaving weirdly as he is trying to open my Jean's zip but I hold him back as he moves his hand in the same moves and keeps moving around the spot, with me causing him to stop. The next thing I see is me walking further into a corridor space to the kitchen area where a lady in shining yellow saree with a shining green blouse and straight hair falling at her back, with her face resembling Akhila's comes and stands behind the serve window of the kitchen, while looking to the left as she says something mean to me, indirectly. I grab a hold of her and bang her forehead on a steel plate lying on the table in front several times as hard as I can. I was fed up of people saying mean things to me in that dream. She leaves and I am now on the ground floor as I have fleed from the building after banging her head because I know that the villainous man I previously encountered once or twice may come after me and he does while I am waiting for the crowd to move forward and clear the way in a narrow street with a dome-shaped covering. The man comes after me. He is dressed in a shirt tucked inside pants and he has lost almost all his hair as his hair at the sides combed sideways covers to a small extent a part of the centre. He has a half brick in his hand which he angrily lifts up high in his right hand to hit me with but then stops as he stands near the entrance of the arched narrow street. It seems that he wants to get into a fight with me as he leads me into a huge round ground alone with himself where he intends to hurt me badly. The large centre is surrounded by people sitting on the circular stairs above like that of a playground as all watch rooting for the wicked guy. I jump and fly high enough to get to the last row of seats at the top and escape. Even the youngsters there are trying to hit me as all are with the wicked man!

While I float away from the crowd at its back, some children who perhaps just entered their teenage or are younger are still coming after me. I find that behind the crowd lie still water bodies resembling large lakes that I float over and cross. I soon leave those people behind but I know that they are still after me, searching for me. I enter a space and walk through a corridor with rooms to its left in a line. At the far end of the corridor, I see some women dressed in sarees walking to the right in the open space, beginning with the bottom of a fluffed white saree embroidered in red coming into view as the woman walked to the right. I see more women around who are passing by, and all are dressed in expensive sarees followed by the view of a fat lady dressed in a long and thin lavender t-shirt (which reminds me of my mom). She looks half wet and not at all groomed like the other ladies as she perhaps had been busy with household chores as she holds a bucket and perhaps a mop. I then see a short-heighted Punjabi guy dressed in a sky blue shirt walking to the left through the corridor along with some women in sarees, and I ask him if the place was a hostel. He doesn't give a straight reply but answers ambiguously. I ask him more questions to know about the place for I was thinking of hiding there. He doesn't reply clearly to any of my questions making me ask him more questions. At the end I let him go after settling on the understanding that they were all there together for some conference/symposium. (Most people have lost the sense of communicating openly and are always carrying a deceptive front as they talk.) I then move out of the space into the open streets and am in search of a place to stay while still eluding those people. I come across a temple of Baal with a demon god being worshipped by people. I know that I can't choose to find residence there, so I pass it by, and right next to it to its right side, I see a building that doesn't worship any particular God but supposedly, it too is a temple without any image or ritualistic things place inside, and it has very few people, perhaps none around it, unlike the previous room on the road that worshipped Baal in a ritualistic way. This building that I stand in front of, has a metaphorical image embossed on a cemented surface in the front without any human as a part of it, and it seems to be built around the theme of the nature of love, carrying deep meanings that one could reflect on for long durations in silence in contrast with the loveless environment I saw in the supposed temple of the world. It seems an appropriate place to reside to me, though there's no one around this building. But I pass it by because it's an open building and I possibly can't hide safely inside. I keep moving around and meet others on the way who seem to understand my situation as I sit with them on the ground in a corner invisible from those on the road as I don't want to be seen. It seems that they may suggest me a place to stay at. They are chubby people dressed in light-colored (light skyblue) shirts over pants.

Since I woke up, the song 'Meri to Izzat Hi Khudawand Hai..' has been playing in my Spirit!

Vision (afternoon): I see the side-view of me being naked in a duet with Sherlock Holmes dressed in his vision-standard Black and White attire as we stand facing each other with him facing to the left making the prophetic symbol while I to the right. The vision of the naked me standing facing me is followed by the vision of him wrapping me with a white cloth as he walks around me wrapping me with multiple layers of a wide and long cotton white cloth covering me from neck onwards. The cloth covers me fully in a wrap from neck to slightly above ankles giving me a Holy look as it embeds even my arms within the cloth. He then lifts me up vertically and smiles at me as I look down at him smiling.

As I wrote the above vision, I had these lyrics play in my Spirit.
The Person sings:
Meri to izzat khudawand hai.. (hai..)
Meri to daulat khudawand hai.. (hai..)

The Follow-up Vision: The vision is then followed by him now lifting me horizontally and rotating with me at his position while smiling.

People from Hollywood have better manners and character than Death Conqueror!

And after I wrote the above, I saw the upper half of Sherlock Holmes in his vision-standard attire laughing lightly at the viewer with filled and smiling beautiful blue eyes.

16:57
Vision (about 15 minutes back): The upper half of Leonardo Di Caprio (LDC) dressed in his vision standard clothes abruptly changes to being dressed in green military camouflage clothes with a military cap on his head followed by him sprinting to the left in a well-lit open background, making the prophetic symbol.

The lady sings:
Maar dala.. Maar dala..

Vision: Leo, Keanu and Benedict all three have the elephant trunk hit their foreheads after which they hold each other sideways by each other's waists and dance moving their bodies wavily to the left and right as the elephant trunk dandas stand erected at 45 degrees and eject jets of semen.

Vision: LDC moves Kate Winslet (KW) wearing her maroon Titanic attire from his left arm to the right in a well-lit background while looking at the viewer. And as he does so, he lets go of KW as she gets overthrown backwards in one of the arm shifts following which LDC swiftly moves towards the viewer and upon reaching me, bends down a bit and gives two upward punches at my groin.

Earlier during the day:
I share with my mom how I am having this itching problem where the scratched part swelled. I show her my swollen arms at places and later notice that even my face is swollen. As I show my mom the swollen places:

Vision (Morning/Afternoon): I see a beige naked Glory saying to the viewer with a serious threatening expression, "Maar dunga!" ("I will kill you!")

After the LDC and KR and Benedict visions, I lay beside my mom to rest with her and have the following vision.

Vision (Early Evening): Benedict Cumberbatch dressed in his vision standard attire in a well-lit white room, but this time carrying the side-slicken hairstyle of Jack from Titanic, horizontally extends a long-stemmed white rose towards the viewer. He then fixes his already fixed hair some more, moving his hands along the combed directions of his hair following which he horizontally extends a whole bunch of white roses towards the viewer. The vision rests at the focused view of flowers.

As I wrote the above, I saw:
Vision (late at night): A naked Glory jogs lightly at his position as he turns his back towards the viewer with an erected genitalia on fire.

Vision (Early Evening): The upper-half of LDC in his vision-standard attire instructs someone present at the back, "Start Investigating!"

The Guy sings:
Oh rabba mein to mar gaya oye..
Shadai mujhe kar gaya kar gaya oye..

The vision of 'Start Investigating!' repeats itself several times until late at night.

The Analogue

The riddle of three: Death Conqueror has three women in sight whom he wants to sire to himself and wants to go along with each other when the other two (besides me) definitely don't follow the Lord God. Because he is trying to catch three women as of now who would hold him in good view for all times, God showed me an analogue with three men in my case.

'Kate! Kate!': Heard in the Spirit (about an hour or two back) as I see, as a third person, sweating but fully dressed Jack in an off-white shirt tucked inside brown pants with two shoulder straps, lying on top of a lady (apparently me), followed by the carriage scene from Titanic being highlighted.

Vision (Past two days): I see the upper half of LDC looking at the viewer, being dressed in his vision-standard attire, and say, "You're the best."

"She's cute.": says LDC to someone present on his side as he looks to his left, dressed in his vision-standard attire.

"Bahut Achi hai": Heard in the Spirit (Morning, a few days back, 9/31 Vijay Nagar, Double Storey - my new address)
"She's too good."

"Ye Randi nahi hai! Ye bahut acchi hai!" "She's not a whore! She's too good!": Heard in the Spirit (intermittently throughout the past few weeks)

The Lady sings:
Maar dala.. Maar dala..

About more than an hour back, I notice my mom use the Hindi word 'Behud-da' which reminds me of a guy using it on an apparent video call in A-16 which had me thinking about it until later as I found it too cute, amusing and funny because he used the word exactly the way my mom says it and mainly because of how he said it. After I share with my mom the incident, I see KA in a black t-shirt over trousers laughing while looking at me.

The Guy says: "Ye kyu mujhe marwana chahti hai..!" ("Why does she want me dead..!")

2:53
I came out of the washroom some minutes back. I had gone in to clear intestines after taking two constipation relieving Kayam tablets in the afternoon (emotional stress leads to constipation as well). As I begin to poop:

- ‘I’m yours.. I’m yours..’: a whisper heard in the Spirit, which repeats itself a few times.
- Vision: A naked fat infant in a thick diaper sitting on a bed in my left mental view in a well-lit room with square face, blue eyes and curly hair combed sideways, laughs lightly in joy with horizontally raised forearms as he moves at his place. The vision is followed by a dressed fat infant facing sideways slightly to the left.

23:40
I reached my room around 18:30 and bought Milk and Kalakand from Dinesh Store on the way to my room. I dusted, washed the dishes I had brought from home, changed the bedsheet, broomed the room, fixed the blue bulb above the kitchen area, mopped the room, took a bath after two days that I last took it at home, and changed into my polka-dotted red dress resembling humanoid Karishma's from Karishma Ka Karishma with an additional comfortable blue cotton pant below it. Afterwards, I made sugarless Cardamom tea and had three pieces of Kalakand with it as worship songs played on my red speaker. I had brought two pieces at first, but then got one more after which the amount of my tea was finished. While I was having the white sweet with tea in my room with a soothing environment, I saw:

- A naked Glory lies on the clean floor and twists and tilts like a snake on it. The vision continues for a good while.
- The face of Sherlock Holmes with a long tongue sticking out of his mouth as it landed on the floor as he looked at me with two red love hearts in his eyes.

Currently, these lyrics play in my Spirit:
'Nadiya ye kaisi khoon ki Christ ke cruz pe beh gayi..
Nadiya ye kaisi khoon ki Christ ke cruz pe beh gayi.. ..'

Ref: Yeshu Salib Par Mua by Yeshu Ke Geet.

- I see the side-view of Benedict Cumberbatch in his Sherlock Holmes vision-standard attire of Black and White standing facing to the viewer's left towards me, making the prophetic symbol, and me facing to the viewer's right towards him. As he looks smiling at me in the dimly-lit surrounding of my room, he has a shining blue star and a red love heart together, one in front of the other, in front of each of his eyes, followed by an upward flame of fire rising from each of his eyes.
- Sherlock Holmes in his vision-standard attire stands beside the bed with me standing facing him as he kisses me deeply and passionately followed by him holding me close with one hand at the back of my chest, and another at the back of my waist. His hand at my lower back moves below around my ass but then he moves it up again and holds me tightly against him in the same manner. He then slowly rotates to the left with me moving with him as he hides me from the view of the vision while still kissing me, where only his back is visible and I am covered by him from the view as seen from my chair placed near the table lying against the wall, as we stand near the suitcase against the wall opposite to the table.
- He is now holding a crown consisting of an obtuse-angled conical front of intricately patterned tiny shiny white stones with intermittent red stone embeddings as he moves his body through the huge crown taking it out of it before placing it on my head. (As I wrote this vision, I heard: "Kartika, ye mein nhi hu.. Ye mein nhi hu.." accompanied by a brief flash of Death Conqueror.)

After I was done having my tea, I sat in a relaxed position with a head tilted backwards and hands folded in a cone slightly above my chest. I had these visions during my restful time (The Lady sings: Maar dala.. Maar dala..):

- LDC, dressed in his vision-standard attire, abruptly jumps and sits on my lap as I sit on my chair with legs supported by the bed. He is then peeling off rectangular thin strips of tissue off the side of my neck with his mouth in one go. It seems as if the strips are being torn like paper. The vision repeats a few times as he strips off the tissue along the sides of my neck.
- Sherlock Holmes stands in a well-lit white background with his right arm extended to the side as a silver ring with a flat upward protrusion with a small red heart embossed on it.
- He sits down with a ring resting in its open case held in his hand as he looks up at me with a huge genuine smile. The vision rests on him being in this pose for a while.

Vision (while I was exiting the room for some purpose): As I am moving out of the room, I look back and see Sherlock Holmes behind me near the door as we share a brief kiss after which he gives me a beautiful smile and then I exit the door.

Vision (at a different time): I am washing dishes and Sherlock Holmes/Benedict is bent down on a knee with a ring in its open square cover again.

The Person sings:
Dho daalo aaj paapon ko..
Dil se nikaalo daago ko.

Dho daalo aaj paapon ko..
Dil se nikaalo daago ko.

Ho jao saaf.. Tan man se aaj..
Yeshu Christ ke lahoo se..

12:21

I decided to leave home yesterday itself despite my mom asking me repeatedly to stay. I told my mom that I liked living independently where I took care of my chores by my own self unlike my youngest brother Divyanshu who wanted a servant at all times to do things for him, and for the same reason, I didn't want to be at home because I couldn't adjust with someone like him who messes things up repeatedly and leaves things anywhere, and doesn't behave responsibly at home but acts as if others are to do everything for him! I told her that it had happened 4-5 times now that I walked into my parental home after a long duration of many months, and found it too messed up and dirty following which I would get to start cleaning it relentlessly which would easily take 4-5 days and at times, more! The first time I found the home in an unbearable condition was when I returned to it back during the lockdown of COVID-19 in 2020, and it had taken me around a month to clean things up to a liveable condition. It was the worst condition I had found it in. I told her that he still exhibited the same behavior and attitude he did back in 2020 wherein he left things in their improper places increasing my load when I had already spent a great deal of my day's time in household chores alone. He would leave his shoes/slippers outside the rack, and tissues anywhere, and now he had this new habit of leaving his floss sticks anywhere which was just too unbearable! On top of that, he thinks of himself as someone superior who knows more than others and acts in derogatory ways towards others which just makes it hard to live in his presence. And then he is so ungodly and insults my walk with God! I told her all of this and how I was only tolerating staying in such a home that made me want to puke out! The way I found my home this time I visited home was nowhere like the way I had left it the last time I visited it. Every time it's the same mess and it seems that no one besides mom cares to keep their surroundings in a liveable condition. Though I liked my mom's company back at home, I didn't like being in that home at all!

When I reached Omaxe City and entered Omaxe Heights through its narrow gate, I was amazed at the condition of the place. It was too clean and maintained and the towers had been renovated – spackled and repainted. Everything looked too clean, maintained, and organized, but when I entered my home, I suddenly became mentally downcast! I was regretting coming back and decided that I would leave the next morning itself! I just wanted to spend the night somehow there. Though I am now in my rented room, I still carry feelings of disgust that arose in me after entering that home! It would take some days for them to dissolve away! I knew that even if I cleaned it, it wouldn't be respected by my youngest brothers, especially Divyanshu for Himanshu still understood the value of someone's hard work but the youngest one just took things for granted. He wants others to clean after him but then he would insult that person and act as if (s)he's not really needed and their carry no significance – hard to live with! And then he talks nonsense all the time! I realized this time that I only wasted my time cleaning after such people who didn't really care to live in a way that I preferred to for they were comfortable with their present condition! The condition of the place seemed to gnaw at my inner self, and it was worsened by the fact that they were not godly people and didn't care about knowing God and getting closer to Him, but only talked about worldly matters as if they held great importance! I am glad I returned but the remnants of the condition of the place continue to gnaw at me! Anyway. I thought how the place looked too good on the outside but was terrible on the inside, while the place of my rented room in Delhi had a rural dusty outlook with the scum of dogs, buffaloes, and cows lying on the outside, but the insides of my room stayed too clean, and that I liked this living condition and not the one that my parental home stayed in!

While I was in the cab I had hired to Delhi, I fell into a mild sleep after about 5 minutes of getting on the highway and then had this brief dream-vision after which I woke up.
Vision: To my left on the flyover are resting huge cucumbers placed parallel to our direction of motion in a line along the proximal side of the flyover, and as we move ahead the left proximal ends of the cucumbers keep getting sliced off one after the other as we move forward.

23:50
Visions on Roof last night:
Sherlock Holmes visions

- I walk arm in arm with him.
- I explain to him the stanza from the joke song 'Jiski biwi moti uska bhi bada naam hai'.
- He hugs me again, this time lightly rubbing his hand once on my ass followed by bringing it back to the back of my waist; the side view of us standing facing each other with him making the prophetic symbol after which he kisses my lips in a bite as the vision freezes at that moment and ends.

A voice says: 'You're not Judas. You're the most faithful person I've ever seen.'

The phrase repeats when I reach my room.

Dream (Morning):

I exit the junior wing of my school in my hometown through its main door, and it's the time of the night. I take a left turn and am walking with a friend. I've to buy bananas and apples. I see the DAV college beside my school and somehow, I know that I will find a fruit street vendor in that area. I go in there with that friend and do find a vendor with his Thela full of apples organized in an almost conical heap. I find a very huge apple lying at the top of his cart. All the apples are huge in general, but this one is extraordinarily huge.

I woke up with this phrase being said out in my Spirit, in which the lady was saying that she should better be taking care of her heart now as 'nazaane dil kab nirastra ho jaye' - 'who knows when the heart becomes unarmoured'.

Later when I lay down to rest, I fell into a brief sleep in which I heard this phrase being repeated, "Haath se kheench kar ander daalo! Haath se kheench kar ander daalo!" (Put inside by using hands to stretch/pull!)

It later reminded me of the previous visions I had back in Room D1 of A-16 in which Dushman in his beige postman clothes stretched a tissue tunnel with both his hands to a width of about 1 meter, and inserted his head inside following his entire body as he slowly made his way forward, followed by him getting stuck in the middle on his way back as he shouted: Are koi bahar nikalo re!, and the vision in which RS stretched the tissue tunnel with both hands to a width of just about 10 cms and inserted his thin genitalia and not his entire body.

Towards the end of bathing:
Titanic theme song plays in my Spirit with the following lyrics being highlighted to me:
You're here.. There's nothing I fear..
And I know that my heart will go on..
We'll stay forever this way..
You're safe in my heart
And my heart will go on and on..

Ref: My Heart Will Go On

A while back I wrote some messages to the IO Officer assigned to me as she hasn't been replying to my messages, and nor does she pick up my calls. Even when I was typing out the messages, I heard a few times: She just wants attention! And it made me annoyed a bit at the voice for if not the servant of God, who else will speak the truth about what's righteous and what's not? Isn't it quite obvious that I and other Christians who truly follow the Lord will behave in Godly ways and won't call good evil and evil good like these people have been doing? After sending the messages to the IO, I sat for a while and then washed the dishes and it was then that I heard these lines being repeated in my Spirit: Kartika, maine socha nhi tha tu aisi nikalegi.. maine socha nhi tha tu aisi nikalegi.. And the lines repeated even when I was wiping the floor. Now I don't know what else the person wasn't expecting me to be. But he should know that God chose me for a reason! So, he should expect me to behave in righteous ways for I don't follow or give in to the wicked people! He should expect a right response to a given condition I am in, and not a corrupt or a wicked one! Now, a righteous response may include hitting someone as well, as some wicked men were unexpectedly led to their deaths in the Old Testament by the hands of different women. I can recall two such incidences where women led two wicked men to their deaths!

The Guy sings:
Sacchi ye kahani hai..
Sunlo meri jaan.
Kahi ek sheher mein, tha ek naujawan.
Saccha seedha sada sa, pyara insaan.
Kya kahun vo bana..jaise Don! Jaise Don!

And while working in front of the kitchen, I kept hearing this phrase from someone in my Spirit:
'Tu randi nhi hai! Tu randi nhi hai! Tu Maharandi hai!'

I heard this other phrase as well:
'Ye mere pas nhi ayegi! Ye mere paas kabhi nhi ayegi! Ye mujhse nafrat karti hai! Ye nhi ayegi!'

He shouldn't have done what he did regardless of how differently I may have looked or how different of a background I may have belonged to! There's a right way to do something, the way of God, and then there's a way that leads to death (spiritual death) - and he chose the latter! But by the grace of God, though he may die a brutal death, he should be coming to Jesus as he nears his death and therefore will be accepted in His kingdom.
I can kill him if the Spirit works through me. Who knows. I know the spirit is that of forgiveness, but the same spirit of God fell on His people, filled them with power, and led them to kill abusers and ungodly men in the Old Testament. I don't know how I will behave in a certain moment because I get provoked and angry in general in the presence of wicked men! And he is a grievous sinner! Even Awadhesh Prasad! This day I was thinking if I will someday walk to him in his office and inflict on him a good judging hammer of God! I won't call good evil and evil good! And they are evil, and definitely not good! Even my behavior that day in the Police Station on 24th of the August was so unexpected and seemed to be led by the Spirit! The Spirit of God works through God's servants. It can fill them with godly love and forgiveness, but it is also the spirit of a righteous judge that carries His lion's roar, and at times God inflicts earthly judgment as well through various different ways! I am not rooting for violence but God is a righteous judge, and righteous judgment is different from unjustified violence inflicted on the innocent like he has been doing! His motives were not pure! They were highly impure, they stank of lust and desire and not godly love and respect and a respect for His ways! His motives weren't pure! The fact that God represented him by the characters of Dushman and Blackheart is proof of the same!

I don't want to look at sin as if it is justified or desired! He is a highly undesirable character in his persona and worthy of judgment if he continues in his ways which he has done for long! Even so Awadhesh Prasad! He will someday receive his share! I may quit my PhD if things don't work out, but before I do so, I will walk to him and cause some irreversible damage like he did to me - something which he will carry for the rest of his life until he lives! I may do the same to Death Conqueror if I am led! I don't love wicked people! That's the truth! It was hard to look at him with love when God pleaded his cause, but I still hate him for his actions, and I won't give to him what God intended for a pure covenant bond that follows His statutes! An ungodly man deserves an ungodly whore! He is merciless! He will be shown no mercy when it's his time! It is written in the Word: There won't be any mercy for the unmerciful!

Again, I hear the phrase: 'She just wants attention!' This person can get lost with his attention and a falsely perceiving mind!

All this time I kept looking at Death Conqueror's wicked mind that only played games and didn't relent from hurting others in irreversible ways. He didn't even have mercy on a person who was crying hard because of what He did! He showed who he is at heart!

Few days back while praying to God, perhaps I was still in this room and hadn't yet gone to visit home, I was telling God how Death Conqueror wasn't His child for he didn't follow His statutes, that it was me who was His child for I liked righteousness and wanted to better myself and gain more of his righteous attitude by being in the company of like-minded people whose brains are wired in His ways! I told him, that Death Conqueror wasn't His child. He Himself represented him by the characters of Dushman and Blackheart. I put in front of him all the aspects of his persona and then showed Him the aspects of my person and how I preferred to live, and showed Him how he didn't possess 10% of the way my brain was wired! He only had a political mind that knew how to play games! I had to write those coded revelations given by the Spirit all because of how sick this Death Conqueror is in His mind! God chose to answer things in his way, the ways he thought and in replication of the games he played! But God's revelations were based in truth and meaning and not in vanity and foolish ways of thought like his games do! They seem so useless to me and a waste of time! I did this terrible job of writing coded replies to questions/insults/thoughts/thought patterns/events etc. that I didn't know the reality of by myself! Al because of the sick mind of this disgusting Death Conqueror! God doesn't have to play with me to say or communicate something. He says or shows it to me plainly that communicate the meaning lacking the unnecessary effort of covering it with multiple layers of labels or manipulated scenarios.

And when I wrote the last few sentences on the previous page, I saw Jesus dressed in his long multilayered white attire as he held me up close tightly and kissed me behind me to my left in a vision I saw as a third person, while I sat on my chair in front of my table typing out. I then changed to Akhila dressed in a white top printed in black, with braided hair.

Revelations on the roof late last night:
LDC appears in front of me and we start dancing in a duet. He then rotates me around holding my outstretched hand with his in the way Jesus did in the vision on the forefinger of my left hand.

The Titanic theme song begins playing in my Spirit, with the following lines being highlighted:
Love can touch us one time, and last for a lifetime..

You're here.. There's nothing I fear..
And I know that my heart will go on..
We'll stay forever this way
You're safe in my heart and my heart will go on..

I started listening to the song in my phone. After a while I saw:
Jack kisses Celine Dion deeply while standing along the railing of the ship in the song video below.

Céline Dion - My Heart Will Go On (Official 25th Anniversary Alternate Music Video)

I listened to the song thrice and while I did so, I saw Benedict Cumberbatch and Keanu Reaves standing in a relaxed manner leaning against the wall extending to the left of the exit door. They seemed to be saying among themselves: we better not interfere.

Meanwhile, I was thinking of my the previous night's vision in which I explained to Benedict the meaning of 'Jiski Biwi Moti Uska Bhi Bada Naam Hai' stanza when I saw Sumit Sir (who taught us back in BSc in Miranda) looking at me smiling with smiling eyes as he stood at a far distance near the railing of the roof, followed by the elephant trunk hitting his forehead and resting vertically against the viewer's right side of his neck as he held it with one arm around it. He looked a bit shy as he turned his back to me.

A while after I saw a vision of his upper half as he looked at me and said, "No one deserves you, Kartika. No one deserves you." swaying both his hands away every time he said so: his signature move whenever he makes a point he is too certain about.

Afterwards, I listen to 'Meri To Izzat Hi Khudawand Hai' and have following visions:

The trio dances around me at the left side of the roof some distance away from the railing while Jesus dances with Akhila in front of the right corner of the railing. The features of his face then change to Glory's as He looks at me and winks.

The voice says:
'Ye ek dard bhari kahani hai, Kartika. Yaad rakhna.' ' Ye ek dard bhari kahani hai, yaad rakhna.'

Dream (Morning):

I sit in Shreya's car as her dad drives around in the town, perhaps they were dropping me somewhere. The next thing I see is my dad driving with perhaps Shreya's dad present inside as well. My dad drives in a reckless start-stop manner with no smooth (de) acceleration and as he does so, I share some things I learned in my walk with God by far so he drives with a better attitude.

Two women who are supposedly friends get down a building they work in. Two men stand across the road one of whom is KA. The first woman interacts with KA, while the other with the other guy on a different day. The other guy is chubby and shorter in height. The following scene shows the busy road with people passing me by, people who were common men and women but were only acting. I observe how the portrayed reality of movies is less affected than real life in which everyone present on the road seems to be a positioned actor, while the events in a movie progress as a result of natural interactions instead of the outer reality of a person being controlled by another in order to force/manipulate that person into a state the afflictor desires. The next scene has KA dressed in a shirt over jeans folded until knees holding the hand of his lady (apparently me) and walking with huge strides in an open area that looks like a tourist resort. He is able to float/fly in the air while taking those steps, but the lady isn't able to. He keeps walking to the right holding the lady's hand nevertheless. The follow-up vision has that other guy holding the hand of that other lady and walking in a similar manner but he isn't able to float/fly like KA.

I then feel hungry and feel this strong urge to have Aloo Puri and Halwa but I can't find my desired combo in any of the online food apps. The opened online food app on my phone is shown as a huge screen lying in the centre at the end of an open empty pathway! I later cancel my plan to have Aloo Puri Halwa as I can't seem to find any place that delivers the same. I then decide to have an ice cream instead. I go through the Icecream menu on my phone and am now in the process of choosing one but don't seem to settle on a particular one. I walk out in an open space with the view of two dark grey rocky tops of huge mountains covered with green plantations in front of me. I look at them from the cemented tourist platform. One of the mountains is named Jhamundaye Namah, and I come across an ice cream by the same name in the list. The Jhamundaye ice cream is of dark cyan in color and another person present there seems to be having it as well. I feel like ordering it but then I see that its name resembles that of the name of the Pagan God the mountain is named after so decide to not have it.

The follow-up scene has KA walking to the left in that previous area with that lady with her hair tied low at the back lying front down on a wheeled coaster as she coasted to the left on it. The follow-up scene has a tall KA, who looks like Karan Singh Grover (husband of Bipasha Basu) but somehow I am thinking of him as KA, dressed in a long and loose white t-shirt over black trousers standing in a pool in a closed room and apparently, he is teaching me how to surf below the water while holding one's breath. I take a deep breath and go down into the water and move around with him staying static in his position. I come up to the surface a few times to gain vision of the top and see where I have reached. I then happen to move into a corner where I find some topless male celebrities hanging out in the pool together with other half-naked celebrities. I move up, look around, and go back down into the water. This time I have some water enter my mouth so I want to hurry reaching my starting spot near KA. I see his legs dressed in those black trousers as he stands in the pool. So I rush to him and move up, coming to the surface using his upper body as a support to come out.

I wake up with the following song playing in my Spirit:
Rafta Rafta Wo Meri

13:58
I cleaned my room, the outer narrow corridor outside my room and then took a bath. While I was cleaning the room, I started hearing "No one deserves you, Kartika. No one deserves you.", again, repeated to me in my Spirit, accompanied by the vision of Sumit Sir looking at me saying it to me swaying his hands in his signature move. And it kept repeating as I wiped the small corridor area and mopped the floor. It began around the time I was brooming the stairs to roof and continued intermittently until I was done mopping. The stairs had been too dirty for long, and they're the shared stairs ti the roof. While I was brooming the corridor, I felt a nudge to broom the few stairs as well. So, I followed it. It only took a few minutes to broom it. The upstairs could've done it as well as everyone keeps the area in front of their rooms clean in this place, so it was supposed to be their responsibility by default if they chose not to hire someone to clean it. The stairs had been lying dirty for many weeks.

When I was almost done mopping, it occurred to me how at my place, my hometown, people were so humble that they wouldn't let such amount of scum lie around and outside their living spaces for too long and would've cleaned the stairs the next day itself if they got dirty instead of letting them stay as such. And they would perhaps wash them with water, you know, clean them properly, while I only broomed them. I saw how much of a better place my hometown was than this one where people don't have boundaries placed where they are supposed to be, but they exercise prideful boundaries at places where they are supposed to exhibit humility. I had felt a nudge to broom the stair at which they place their garbage bags, but I didn't broom it as I thought it would make my broom too dirty as that stair is the dirtiest and then it's not that they would've respected my act of cleaning it, while back at my place, people treated such chores as a shared responsibility and respected the work done by others! It's a demonized land. It's developed in objective advancements, but it's too inferior when it comes to people possessing Godly morals! Now the people who have been staying here are humble enough to clean the common space outside their rooms/apartments, but the outstation people living treat the place as something that they are using, and not something that has been given to them to take care of - this is the same mentality we see here when it comes to interacting with people!

Anyway. I will go and get a small packet of milk to make tea.

As I wrote the above, I saw the following.
Vision: LDC dressed in an off-white shirt tucked inside brown pants with shoulder straps - his look as Jack from Titanic - poking my shoulder from the back and saying softly to me: 'Come.. Come..' He was calling me for a close duet. The follow-up vision had us in a duet behind me which I saw as a third person! He seemed too serious while he said those words in a quiet and serious tone like he understood the gravity of the matter.

Later when I was washing clothes in the washroom, the vision repeated with him now standing behind me, bent over me, and poking my shoulder with a 'Come. Come.'

"Soniye" Lyrical Video | Aksar | Himesh Reshammiya | Emraan Hashmi, Udita Goswami

Dream (Morning): All money from my dad's account is stolen and only 15k are left as he is telling us about the same being upset about it. He had between 70k-80k in his account which are now reduced to 15k suddenly.

I kept feeling fatigued without any energy and therefore kept lying on bed for long. The situation drains you mentally and leaves you mentally handicapped to be able to do things in a normal way.

Later I told Jesus that I didn't really want to marry anyone! That these people were not really worth working this hard! I told Him to judge them hard. I told Him that I wanted to be righteous, and be like Him. Why was then I sent in a space where I was exposed to people like Death Conqueror where they themselves come to me to say hurtful stuff and display their immorality - a very abnormal behavior to display as normal people are busy living their lives, or with their plans instead of taking the pain of going to another to cause them harm in some way. I told them that I would only get worse in their company and be drawn away from Him and His statutes! That, why is He not protecting me from their bad influence when they want to turn me into someone like them who is as desensitized to sin as they are and who loves a wicked way of living filled with fornication? Why does

He want to send or keep me in a space that is so unlike Him when He should keep me set apart so I can be more like Him and be Holy and righteous?

Yesterday too, while being on the roof I prayed out loud to Him as I put across Him all the things Death Conqueror put me through along with His friends. And then I said how could He stay silent in such a situation and that He was a God of justice and not someone who condoned sin in response to which I heard a quiet "Be patient" said in my heart. I have heard this previously as well, when I was sharing my heart with Him and He told me to be patient for He has His time set to inflict judgement on the wicked. Afterwards, when I was in the room, I was again reminding Him that He was just God and He hated sin, then why was He showing mercy to the unmerciful wrongdoers? Again, I heard in my Spirit: 'Patience'.

This morning I told Him that if I died under stress before He did something about the situation, without His promise being fulfilled, what use will my patience be of! And that even if the promise got fulfilled, if it would be worth it because by this time I have become too spent to have a one to one bond with a human, and I only want to spend my time with Him! I told Him that I want pure and righteous people around, and not filthy ones like Death conqueror who are only clean and maintained on the outside like the society of my parental home: everything sparkles on the outside, but the inside of the apartment can't be lived in and makes me want to puke out. And it's not just about the state of the apartment, but the inner states of people residing there who want others to work as a servant cleaning up after them instead of being responsible for themselves!

Vision (Late Morning): Prof TRS stands near the wall with the small skyblue rack, and he stands facing the opposite wall and looking at the viewer, as the vision shows his front view, and he has a two meter high elephant trunk erected at an angle of 45 degrees as it ejects in the air like a jet while moving around wavily. The vision repeats a few times.

Vision (Few months back, R. No. 303, A-10): The guy named Jessi who worked as a receptionist in the Sewa Bharati Diagnostic centre where I got my brain MRI done, is riding a convertible moving to the left as seen from a level a few meters above him. He rides joyfully, and is dressed in a blue cheetah-printed suit from RS's Pepsi Ad. He then changes to RS and back to himself.

Vision (yesterday): The scene from the Bollywood movie 3 Idiots in which the leading trio helped deliver the baby the elder sister of Pia - Mona - was carrying kept being highlighted to me. I thought if it meant they were now going to actually hurt me physically because of the dormant attitude of the one whom God originally showed me the promise vision with. In that scene, pregnant Mona went into labour at an unfortunate time where she couldn't be taken to a hospital because of jammed rain-flooded streets, so the trio took the responsibility of delivering her baby. They devised an on-spot vacuum suction that helped suck the baby out, and it made me recall the visions in which I saw intestines being pulled out of me through my vagina, and the vision of a yellow, empty heart-shaped box that was accompanied by the phrase 'Pyjama Lutt Gaya!', and also the vision in which I lay tied with ropes around my wrists against a wall. I wondered if these people were really this wicked.

While strolling on the roof yesterday, I heard again in my Spirit: 'Hum bahut bure hai, Mrittunjay. Hum log bahut bure hai' - said by a male voice. I had heard it on the previous night as well when I was roaming on the roof above and it was the first time that I heard it that night.

Vision (last night): Keanu Reaves as Dracula in his John Wick's look with a black drape at the back poses in a dimly-lit green environment.

15:10
I sit with two fingers spread on my forehead with closed eyes, and immediately follows
Vision (past two minutes): The face of a bearded Keanu Reaves carrying my expression with two fingers on his forehead.

So, he too is called by my name.

I didn't want to get a flat belly anymore as how foolish it would seem to shapeshift to please people who don't have the basic common moral sense. I found it so worthless! Now, to be wanting to be fit is one thing, but to want to attain a flat belly specifically to look desirable is so vain and the idea seems so whorish to me! Why should I get a flat belly!? Do I have to display it to the whole world to make a point that. "Look, I've got an attractive belly as seen by the standards of lustful men!' I told Jesus this morning that if someone didn't respect or love me with the present shape I am in, then he didn't deserve to be with the what He wanted me to transform into because the process of moving to that state is not an easy one seeing my situation. These people would rather have the person die in emotionally miserable life conditions than them having to fix their inner character! They stink too much! Why did God bring this Death Conqueror and his gang in my vicinity? They make me feel pukish just like the state of my home! Murderers and Rapists! Disgusting, deplorable men! They just increase their affliction as they continue hitting my brain. I think that's why God showed me the dream in which I brutally and repeatedly hit the forehead of the lady in a saree that resembled Akhila on a steel plate as she said something mean to me. These people have been stripping and hurting me, my forehead and it keeps me distracted and bed ridden, and on top of that they keep asking for food showing their empty plate! That's the only explanation I could come up with for how I behaved in that manner with that lady! The morning that I had this dream, this lady Nancy who stays adjacent to our apartment came to our home and was asking for help in draping her Saree. My brother tried to wake me up but I was too fatigued to even respond though I could hear him speak. It seemed such a foolish task to me to put myself through pain for a lady as degraded in character as her - degraded for she acts as a wicked messenger of the wrongdoers!

I can do so in real life as well for God first showed me in a dream that I was calling them dumbasses when I don't use abusive/offensive words and try to refrain in difficult situations as well. But God found it okay to call the dumbasses. Now He finds it okay to bang Akhila's forehead in response to what I have been going through all this while! It doesn't mean He hates her, but it reflects how they have been treating me - causing my head pain all this time and giving me stress, leaving me unable to work, and then mocking and taunting me about it! It's only because of this rest that Jesus gave me here, that I feel good. Though I have to clean the space, it doesn't take long - only half an hour. I enjoy cooking in the small kitchen space. The only thing that I find hectic is washing clothes as one has to wait for the bucket to fill up to rinse repeatedly. I like living with Jesus. He is so righteous. He knows the righteous response to all situations.

Vision (few minutes back): Jesus extends a bite of rice with fried onions held in His hand to my mouth. I've had this vision previously as well where He brought a plate of rice with fried onions and tomatoes held in His hands to me, and then extended a bite to me with his bare fingers. So, I cooked that that night and had it.

Jesus cares for me because He loves me. And His love is not hypocritical!

I don't want to get a flat belly for any degraded man in character! Go find a whore with a flat belly and fair and smooth skin! Their animal inside is always making different types of sounds!

The Guy sings:
Isme tera ghata, Mera kuch nhi jata
Jyada pyaar ho jata, to mein seh nhi pata
Isme tera ghata..

I don't who is singing this! I have not lost anything besides what I lost because of Death Conqueror which He can NEVER compensate for, so he will be judged! And he is not even leaving with his cameras so I can be truly alone with Jesus and heal mentally and emotionally while being away from abusers!

I don't understand how I lost anything by losing to be with a guy I didn't know too well. If I lost my ability to work, my ability to think, my ability to support myself and be independent - that would be a true loss - they constitute all the losses that I suffered because of this situation Death Conqueror put me through! Only Jesus will bring me healing! Because Glory is too busy hiding and then I am too fat for him! And then those people God built my

If someone rejects Jesus, it's their loss! Jesus is the only way to Heaven!

Last night when I was going to get a Mirinda, I saw Jesus in His multilayered full white robes in front of me on the stairs pushing me back as if He was stopping me from going out and downstairs, but I still went. Now it was a vision. If it was tangible wherein I felt the push, I could've turned away and walked back to my room being held by His caring arm.

~ 19:00
He knows well that I don't love continuous unrepentant sinners. On top of that they act as if they're righteous by portraying themselves in a misleading way which doesn't represent their inner countenance, and it further enrages me and makes me want to stay away from them. If I hate their actions, I don't hide it, or try to behave in a fake way. But they do one thing, and portray another. They say unjustified and false insults with a nice countenance in an indirect way. They hurt but then fake intermittent nice behavior. So abhorrible!

This song plays in my Spirit as of now, and it goes along with the vision I previously had in the afternoon.

The Guy sings:
Tera vo yakeen.. Kahin mein to nahin..
Lagta hai yahin kyu mujhko baar baar..

The Lady sings:
Ha yeh sach hai.. Maine pyaar kiya..
Ha ha tumse.. Maine pyaar kiya..

Aate Jaate Haste Gaate - Maine Pyar Kiya - Salman Khan & Bhagyashree - Evergreen Romantic Song

Vision (afternoon): The front view of the heroine of the Bollywood movie 'Maine Pyaar Kiya' dressed in a yellow saree with her head covered with it drives a convertible.

I open my eyes after struggling through depressive thoughts and see the upper half of Keanu Reaves in his John Wick look looking at me after which he turns away and jumps on the wall adjoining my bed pushing against it with his feet and jumping through the air to the opposite wall of the room pushing against it again with his feet as he lands horizontally on it, after which he lands in front of with a bent knee with a long-stemmed rose held in his hand.

Vision (afternoon): Perhaps this slot was left for the above vision itself.

I happened to recall this scene from Twilight in which Jacob imprinted on Renesmee earlier during the afternoon, and then happened to think of its analogous situation with Death Conqueror and Akhila following which I had this immediate vision.

Vision: Infant Renesmee being held in the holder's hand looks at the person with round and wide open innocent eyes as she chews her tiny foot raised to her mouth in quick motions. The vision repeated itself a few times and I recalled the look at her face as she looked at her phone, smiling with a bent head.

Now, if they're in a love bond, that's not a problem, but the problem lie in their sinful behavior towards me and the fact that they are indulging in fornication outside of a covenant. Now the latter problem is their own and affects them alone and it's a sin against God, but the first one involves me - it's a sin against both God and me. For no reason, they communicate indirect insults, humiliation.. and add to my stress which the filthy demon-possessed Death Conqueror has already mounted heavily on my head in multiple ways: sending spy drones around me, sending drones inside my body - my reproductive system and my skull - these are the areas I already know they're present at for they move and hit me on the inside. The day I had that egg burst in my left ovary, I had felt an abrupt sharp pain when I had felt nothing similar prior to that experience. I could tell that something was hitting me and it was confirmed in my Ultrasound when the doc told me that my left ovary had a cyst left because of the burst of an egg! And they didn't stop at that. They continued hitting me at the place I was already injured! That's how disgusting they are! The day next to the one I experienced that pain in my left ovary, the short-heighted and overweight cook of the PG said in mocking tone: "Phod diya! Banalo ab!" after breaking an egg for me when he was supposed to be make the entire omelette, confirming that it was indeed an intentional act for he had said it in a mocking tone. I don't know if the drones are present inside my belly as well. At times I feel a swarming outward pressure inside my body, as if the inside of my body is pushed outwards. I was once comparing the situation with an astronaut lacking his/her suit in outer space that would cause an outward pressure of her blood causing her body to burst. I don't know the reason I get this feeling at times, but once I woke up in 303 of A-10, and I felt an outward fluid pressure being exerted on the inside of my body and it is often accompanied by a mild swarming sound which makes me think if it's the blood running through my veins but why would it exert an outward pressure on the internal tissue below my skin unless there was some problem.

Vision (yesterday afternoon): An old man sends a little girl to me to talk to me. I don't know either of them, but somehow they've something to say which the little girl dressed in pink with her hair tied at the back is communicating to me.

They both (Death Conqueror & Akhila) sinned against me, and are not sorry or apologetic. They continue in their sin and emotional abusive. Why do they expect me to behave in a way different to how I behaved! I actually withheld my reaction for a long time, and God too gave me those revelations after observing them for long, for they didn't change their behavior. It's not that I will do that to her or him, but if not me, it will be God who will judge them. He is patient and longsuffering: there are the qualities of love. I have been patient and longsuffering too because I wanted to follow in His example. But after a certain time when despite being given repeated corrections, people don't change, He inflicts judgment as showcased in the case of Akhila's forehead being banged on an empty plate! God is not blind!

Anyway. I am yet to write the Story of Mukesh and some nail art visions I had the night during the past week before visiting my parental home when I did some nail art on my left hand and had the vision of Jesus dancing with me on the surface my forefinger. Putting nail paint seemed a very foolish thing to me to do some time earlier and it seemed the thing of the dumb. But I did some abstract art on them, and made a sword that I had seen in a previous vision in A-10. So, it was no longer a vain thing that was done to put oneself at display, but now it took the form of expressive art that was done to express oneself freely than to impress the viewer with no regards to whether the creation had any meaning or was a result of an expressive indulgence. It now seemed to be very much like painting on canvas, but a smaller one. And then I could carry those paintings with me all the time. So, you see, it's our outlook as well that decides whether the same act comes under the category of sin or not. If I or someone else was to paint our nails solely for vain purposes where we want to amplify the vain projection of our outer selves while hiding the inner real persona, that act would be counted as sin. But if someone paints nails to express one's inner heart which puts on display their real selves, it's no longer a sin but an act of godly realistic expression and doesn't count as vanity.

These are the visions I had along with the dance with Jesus on my forefinger the night that I redid my left hand:

- I saw a parallel view of a tree's trunk painted in golden on the left side of my thumb painted with a white background. The tree had thin golden branch extending sideways upwards to the right. I tried to recreate the vision last night as I was changing the pattern on my nails, and was able to do so, but then I improvised the vision and added some golden and silver leaves on the branch. And then I recalled the scene from the movie Lootera in which the hero/RS was teaching the heroine painting on a canvas, and instead of well-boundaried impressionistic leaves, he made leaves with blurry outlines saying that that's how it's done in modern art. I saw that it wasn't a coincidence that I had recalled the scene, but that it was being highlighted to me. I too made expressionistic leaves and not those that impress on the surface the exact figure of a leaf.

- I saw a close-up view of a tree being painted in black by a hand on a thumb nail over a background of navy blue color. In this one, the leaves were solid and filled and had sharp outlines resembling giving them the shadowy shape of actual leaves. The tree was being painted at the right side of the thumb and therefore a great part of its left side was visible.

21:24
While I was rinsing my mouth out after dinner and looked at my teeth in the mirror with water still held inside, I heard:
'Rose, you're a joker!'

I did so I would know if there's still something stuck on my teeth so I would move around the water a bit more. And the phrase repeated itself a few more times when I was near my table.

I had this worship song play in my Laptop while having dinner and it continued playing for a while for it was around 17 minutes long. It's a Punjabi Worship song.

आराधना तेरी आराधना | SUPER ANOINTED WORSHIP | APOSTLE ANKUR YOSEPH NARULA | Anugrah TV

And while I listened to it while having dinner, I saw Keanu Reaves looking at me in the same manner as the previous vision, after which he started moving between the two walls of my room through the air with his feet landing intact and smoothly on them as he alternated between them through the air, pushing himself towards the other wall by pushing his feet against the wall and changing his direction mid-way with a flip. He seemed to be an amalgamation of Keanu, RS and Glory.

I saw how I was so foolish working out for morally stupid and disgusting people with no control on their genitals! I told Jesus that I wasn't going to get a flat belly for a man! Now, I could do it as a part of His instruction, but never because of a man, or because I wanted to impress a man through my bodily shape. Such a cheap outlook! When I recall Meera's recent photo that I looked at, which Anjali had shared with me, I saw how fluffed she looked. She was covered neck to ankle very heavily and nothing of her bodily figure was visible. But she still looked so beautiful. She looked Holy!
I don't want to be attractive! I want to be real, authentic, genuine and HOLY! And neither do I want to be with people who want to drag me into their sinful lifestyle and I won't cooperate with their sin! I don't want to be a part of a family or a system that requires me to leave the statues of God and live in a compromised way! Never! When I can't put up with my own family because of the way they live, why would I put up with someone else's! I am not going to be a part of an incestuous family where ungodly drunkards reside! Neither will I be a part of one that worships Baal! Now, I interact with Chaaru and her family though her family worships Baal because she is a good person and I know that if God intended, He could bring her to His kingdom in His timing. Derek Prince once shared in one of his sermons how while being placed as a military doctor at some place, he came across this Islamic man every day with whom he interacted with for he didn't want to send him off without telling him about the good news. And then one day, the guy himself asked Derek the secret behind his maintained godly countenance.

I laid on my bed depressed this afternoon when I had a few visions some of which I have shared. I had this vision as well: Jesus, dressed in his multilayered white long attire places a huge heart-shaped white 2-D surface on top of my groin on top of my trouser, covering that part followed by Him licking the white surface once.

Okay, so the vision of the girl hammering her own cheek was from the movie Gone Girl which I was reminded of today as a related post got highlighted on my browser's homepage.

22:18
A while back while writing revelations, I saw:

Jesus' Arm Superimposed On Mine

The translucent arm of Jesus dressed in multilayered white linen superimposed on my right forearm, followed by the vision of Him superimposed on the entire me seen as a third person. The vision was a manifestation of Him living inside of me. It made me recall when I was with Tejaswi - my first and last day of cuddling him - when he had commented on the limitation caused by flesh - that we couldn't be absorbed into one another or be one because of the presence of a rigid physical boundary, as he made the gesture of moving his fingers of one hand into another's. But now I saw that I was actually absorbed with Jesus for His Spirit resided in me. It was the most intimate communion one could have. His Spirit lives in me, and He can give me tangible revelations as well - those that are felt through the physical senses like He has done previously.

Late at night, I was listening to the Punjabi worship song 'Aradhna Teri Aradhna'- the one sung by Pastor Ankur Narula - that I have previously shared on this Page. I was also walking to and fro between the door and the balcony through the narrow kitchen space while worshipping, as I find walking relaxing, and my room was dimly lit with the blue LED that I had fixed in the kitchen space recently.

During this worship session, I had these visions:

- Keanu Reaves jumps on the two walls - the one adjoining the bed and the one opposite to it - in the same manner he did in the previous such vision, being 3 meters above the floor - landing on the wall with his foot, pushing against it and moving horizontally through the air, doing a flip mid-air and landing on the opposite wall on his foot, and repeating the oscillations in a straight line. I was later thinking how cool the jumps on the walls were and they didn't involve use of any kind of technology. He was dressed in a black suit over a black shirt with a bearded face and straight neck-length hair - his look from John Wick.
- LDC (in his look as Jack from Titanic) rotates around with the base of a candle holder being held by his hand as the holder holds fast a rose on top of it with a 2-3 feet long stem and a few leaves on it. He looked so calm as he rotated around the centre space of the room being immersed in his own self during Worship. He was dressed in an off-white full-sleeved shirt tucked inside pants with brown shoulder straps.
- Benedict Cumberbatch rotates slowly around the room with the base of a candle holder held fast in his hand as a long stemmed paper rose stands on it. He is dressed in his vision-standard attire of Sherlock Holmes black suit over a white shirt.

I see the vision with the trio moving in this manner in the centre space of my room from a distance towards the end of the kitchen. All three are immersed in individual worship with me having chosen the song of the Worship.

- Keanu Reaves (KR) continues jumping between the walls through the air.

- KR holds me close in a duet with one of our arms outstretched fully with clutched hands as we rotate around together with the view of the vision moving in an arc adding special camera effects to the vision.

  Digression/Past Revelation: Somewhere within the past week, I heard in my Spirit: 555 Pataka Chai, and it repeated itself a few times and continued the next day as well. I will perhaps buy this tea after my current one is over. Or maybe I will get more unexpected revelation with time related to this 555 tea revelation.

- The upper half of Sunder Pichai with two red love hearts in front of his eyes as they oscillate together away and towards his eyes, being in phase. He was perhaps smiling in that vision.

  Digression/Past Revelation: The worship song singer Anil Kant stands facing to the left with closed eyes in the my room near the wall of opposite to the bed with my red speaker held in his hand raised to a level slightly below his face as he is fully immersed in listening to the worship song playing through it. I had been listening to his song 'Izzat' a lot recently and then had this vision while I rested on bed that night.

  I played the Punjabi worship song Aradhana Teri Aradhana for long this night as I was in a state of worship and the song spoke to me at various levels as well. Additionally, it was a multicultural song with a great melody!

- KR and I move around in high-speed rotations together as we dance in a close duet with one of our arms fully outstretched together to the side with clasped hands.
- I am now shown as being dressed in a fluffed floral pink and white gown as I am in a close duet with Keanu Reaves.
  A voice says: 'Maregi ye!'
- I dance with LDC in a similar manner, being dressed in the same pink & white floral gown, and then he rotates me around.
- Benedict lifts me up as he says: My Darling..
- My supervisor Nivedita Deo worships with raised hands as she stands near my table facing the wall with her back visible in the vision as she rotates her wrists above in a circular manner while worshipping.

  Digression/Past Revelation: I often hear weird sounds coming from outside, some of which I can identify are weird response to what I am doing at the moment. This day I was lying in bed, perhaps being depressed, when I heard a sound that annoyed and provoked me and was followed by the vision: My upper half lifts up from the bed as I point a long gun at the balcony with a serious expression.

Revelations Before Sleeping:

- A voice says: Mar Gayi.. Mar Gayi.. ("She died.. She died..")
  And the phrase repeats a few times.
- Dushman does sit-ups holding his ears standing in front of the wall opposite to the bed.

- Dushman rubs his eye in the same manner as me as I am wiping my tears: he too is called by my name!
- Dushman does more sit-ups holding his earlobes.
- Dushman axes my foot, legs, and then stabs my forehead and peeks inside.
- Dushman runs an axe on my entire body in a line
- Followed by the phrase 'Mar gyi..' ('She died..')
- 'Maine ise maar diya.' (‘I killed her.')

'……..
Haare Huzuri Haare Zamaana'

'Mit jayengi Kitaabein..'

I stood in front of the washroom as I was getting ready to bathe and had to go to church afterwards when I saw Vision (last Sunday, 3rd Sept): Jesus dressed in His multilayered long white robes stands a few meters ahead of the door and points to me in that direction, as if He wanted me to leave immediately, but I was stinking as I hadn't bathed for two days. I couldn't have gone to church in an assembly in that condition.

Few days back, I was sharing my grief with Jesus about the actions of Death Conqueror, all the ways I suffered because of him and Akhila's abusive behavior and the behavior of all the other people involved, and it was then that He showed me the following.

Vision (Few days back, 9/31: Green Light Room): Jesus, dressed in His full length multilayered white robes, in His act of righteous judging anger moves His axe of judgment through a dark background, and as the axe moves forward what's revealed are the upper halves until shoulders of Akhila, Death Conqueror and other people standing together with them as the axe severs all of the necks in one swipe! The axe falls first on Akhila who stands with her hair tied low at the back, then Death Conqueror, and then others whose faces aren't visible in the visible, but only their backs, but what can be understood is that they're men and not women by the back of their heads.

When I showed impatience and was filled with hatred for Death Conqueror and wrote such negative stuff that went against His given revelations, He showed me Him moving the axe through my neck from behind.

I see that the godly ones have to be patient for God to come through for them as per His plan, because He doesn’t want the wicked to perish in their sin either but wants them to come to repentance. But if they don't turn to God, or change their ways, God will not relent from exercising His axe of judgment.

Dream (Morning):

In this dream, I see that I am to look for new accommodation as I have left my previous one. I am in a space that looks like an arrangement of a celebration. It is well-lit in golden lightings, has round dining tables with chairs around them as well-dressed people sit on them. To the left is the area's washroom, and the to the right of the right side stands a stage against a wall. In front of the stage, lie some steel chairs with red bedded bottoms, resembling those usually seen in weddings. It's also a part of a shop, apparently, as I see some racks filled with groceries to the right of the door. The guy

Rahul who showed me my current room in Double Storey, is telling me that I can stay at the corner with chairs. I wonder how will I stay at such a place. But he says that I can place my cartons and other stuff near the stage and live in that area 'aise hi' (for free/just like that). He repeats it several times that I could live in that space 'aise hi' and that there was no problem in doing so. Also, the groceries shop being too close seems an advantage to me as well. I see that there are a few other girls who too left the previous accommodation with me as were told to evacuate the place, and they too have to now look for a new place/PG, but they didn't receive the offer of staying around the chairs like I did. Then I notice that there's a single bed lying on the rectangular stage, parallel to it, and a curtain is present in front of the stage to keep the area discrete. It now seems a reasonable place to live to me. The only thing I see I have to manage is to go to the far end to the left of the large hall to use the washroom present there. There's this girl present with me who too evacuated the previous place as all were told to do so. I watch her go out of the area and take a left turn to the buildings present there. She'll most probably look for a PG there. I too move outside and take a walk on that road outside the Hall, and also on the other side of the road which resembles my hometown's road ahead of Karishma's house to the left with open slanted space to the right. I then go back to the space with red chairs and sit on one of the chairs near the stage. I realize that I will have to spend most of my time sitting on one of the chairs, doing one or other chore.

I continue listening to the Punjabi Worship song Aradhana Teri Aradhana that I was playing last night. I then see Vision (Late morning): Dushman worshipping with raised hands with his back towards me as he stood to the right of the kitchen. But he didn't do so in the usual way like others. He was making quick motions with his foot as he moved his hands vertically in quick discreet motions, almost as if he was being electrocuted. It seemed liked he had been induced into worship.

15:44

Vision: The upper half of a clean-shaven Omi Vaidya (Chatur from 3 Idiots) dressed in a black tunic with a U-shaped white embroidered front, and a white scarf circled around his neck with one of its side lying at its back, looks at me smilingly and says, "She's great!" He repeats the phrase, followed by the view of the vision moving away from him and then he's revealed to be playing a harmonium sitting in well-lit background, dressed in that black tunic with a white lower and scarf around his neck, adding to the cast of La Corda D'oro Primo Passo.

'She's great' - he repeats, looking at me.

Vision (Evening): The character of Dushman is shown pulling away at a lady's lips lying to the right of the vision, not shown in the view, as one of his friends drags him away shouting, "Abe chal! Mar gyi vo! Chal! Mar gyi vo!" But he keeps moving to the right with a vicious expression as strands of stretched tissue are shown extending from between his teeth while that other guy is pulling him away! The follow-up vision has him moving to the left with a square blob of tissue in his mouth, followed by him returning into the view from the right with a round ball of eye held in his wide-open mouth as he stands with eyes wide-open and a vicious expression.

The Lady sings: Maar dala.. Maar dala..

21:24

Vision (15 minutes back): Keanu Reaves and I move around in a duet with energetic but gentle dance moves as the view of the vision moves around us in an arc.

A while back I was strolling on the roof having tea, dressed in my church tunic printed in yellow and parrot green over blue pants and had its drape spread over my upper half. I wasn't feeling too well and was feeling depressed as usual. I then had the following revelations.

- Vision (Roof of 9/31, while having tea): BC/SH says smiling in a quiet, firm and affirmative tone, "you're my darling."
- KA rotates me around with an outstretched arm holding my outstretched arm as I revolve around him in a circle while he rotates me. He's dressed in a black shrug with white heart prints over an orange t-shirt.
- The Hariyanvi song 'Kharbooze si teri jawaani hori she kati patan ne' plays in my Spirit (which is so contrary to how I am feeling internally)!
- As I walk to and fro, and the song plays in my Spirit, I see as a third person: the front view of my bust from a distance of a few meters as it cracks open in the middle. I wonder how much more holier could I dress!? Despite being dressed holy and even wearing a drape on top, I hear such a vulgar song in my Spirit and get that vision which leaves me a bit confused for I had even lost significant amount of weight by now - about 30 kgs compared to how heavy I was back in 2019, and it makes me think how much more obscenely I would've been perceived if I was still obese. But then it was up to the onlooker if he chose to focus on the prominent parts of a fat lady which she can't hide. I always took it as a matter of perception when it came to wearing fitting clothes. To my previous sense, as long as one's skin was covered, one was considered as clothed. I didn't have the sense of hiding one's body shape for it didn't count as nudity to me. As long as one's skin was hidden, one was covered. And I projected my own sense of morality on others - that they were responsible for guarding their minds like I guarded my mind for it was unaffected by the visual shape of people's bodies and it didn't seem to make much of a difference to me because I looked at their inner persona. I wish I could go back to that previous holier/pure sense of perception. I am glad that I lost weight. I now understand that losing even more weight would add to me looking holier with a leaner body.
- As I continue walking on the roof with the song still playing intermittently in the background, I see as a third person: a naked Glory opens my bra hook from over the surface of the tunic itself.
- Followed by him grabbing my bust and ass from over the surface of the tunic itself (seen as a third person).
- As I continue walking, I then see the top-view of the roof which shows me surrounded by all the men I've had revelations with by far. I am fully dressed in my real-life tunic and drape, and they too are fully dressed in a holy manner, as we dance together on the worship song that's playing in my ear. I seem to be happy because the environment is not that of ungodly attraction, but that of joy-filled reverence for the persona of other person. I dance in the centre with my hands raised up as I seem happy though I am surrounded by a group of men for I feel respected and appreciated for who I am. The crowd of men is all dressed in black suits. Some people in the group: RS, KA, AK, Sunder Pichai, LDC, Keanu Reaves and Benedict Cumberbatch. I don't recall seeing Glory in that crowd, and no short-heighted guy was present there either.

Past Revelation

Vision (9/31, Vijay Nagar, Double Srorey): BC/SH dances in Indian dance moves being dressed in his vision-standard black & white attire. In one move, he has his forearm lifted horizontally at the level of his head as he moves it sideways in discreet motions while moving around. In another, he's sitting on the floor with folded knees as he does some more Indian dance floor moves with his hands.

Heard in the Spirit:
"Kartika, tu mar jayegi."

The Lyrics of this particular stanza from the Punjabi Worship Song, "Aradhana Teri Aradhana" kept being highlighted to me along with the following vision.

Vision: Rachna Bua (my Dad's second youngest sister) looks at me with filled eyes and slowly turns her face to the left making the prophetic symbol.

The people sing together:
Mein teri ha Rachna
Tere vich vassda ha..
Teri ungli phad ke..
Tere sang chalda ha..

Aradhana.. Aradhana.. Aradhana.. Teri Aradhana..

आराधना तेरी आराधना | SUPER ANOINTED WORSHIP | APOSTLE ANKUR YOSEPH NARULA | Anugrah TV

The vision repeated itself several times as Rachna Bua looking at the viewer turned her face to left and made the prophetic symbol.

The vision was followed by her raising both her hands, and rotating around her position in worship.

I was editing The Girl & The Lady Jhamunda part of the revelatory dream on Page 508, and, once again, I saw that it was on revisiting the revelations that more understanding related to their details was gained. When I had first written the revelation, the things I learned after delving deep by actually watching the related video wouldn't have been revealed to me in understanding. Even the revelations need to be researched on a bit as they shed light on why God chose to incorporate those parts of movies or videos into the revelations. God has given me work that actually goes along with my God-given nature. He knows how to make things engaging for me, so I won't feel as if I am only copying things down. I write the revelations, but then I spend some time waiting for more revelation to understand the first revelation, or have to search to gain more understanding: both things we do in research when we first have an idea to which when we begin to develop on, we need to wait for more supporting ideas to sprout and need to do some research on the same as well. God knows me, and therefore He moulds the work and its context in a way that goes along with my nature and interests. He truly cares about me. He doesn't want me to waste my time being uselessly busy in household chores or doing great high-end research that consumes all of one's time. But He incorporated the features of research in the revelatory work itself that He has for me to do thereby putting to use my abilities instead of insulting them like dumbasses Death Conqueror and Akhila do! Don't they know that it's God who gives talents and abilities!? – which they so lack! God brought me to a place that would support my way of ideal living, alone and independently - so I would have enough space to do what He currently has for me to do. He knows well my indoor introverted persona. So, I was also a good candidate to do His prophetic revelatory work as I don't feel like going outside much except for buying stuff or taking a light stroll. It would be hard for an extroverted and outgoing person to stay locked in a room and do His work for long durations like I've been doing writing revelations. Also, being an indoor and introverted person makes it very important for me to keep my surroundings organized, clean and pleasant looking as that's where I have to stay and work most of the time. My first BSc roommate Swati Priya once noticed and commented about how whenever I returned from home, I first organized and cleaned my space in my room especially my table before anything else. Clean and organized surroundings are highly necessary conditions to be met for people like me who prefer to live indoors being busy. Such conditions are not feasible at my home. It would take all my time to create the environment first and it wouldn't even last and then my hard work would be taken for granted and not appreciated. People like Death Conqueror and Akhila wouldn't even grasp the basic meaning of God's given moral revelations in their full contexts, let alone add to them with time-periods of waiting and Holy Spirit led research. How can they be used by God in their present selves. If they were also God-led and carried godly values and followed His statutes despite the world rebelling against God, I would have happily interacted with them. In such a case, I would've felt a nudge, an inner impulse to interact with them. But they're just so devoid of God and His Spirit that I don't feel like interacting with them though God still shows me revelations that has them.

God didn't create me to serve an ungodly and evil man. He created me for His purpose and gave me intellect, interests, and wisdom as well for His purpose. They have often insulted me by making the point that I am mostly consumed with studying which seems such a foolish thing to me to do! I can't spend my time studying like foolish Akhila does – reiterating and repeating what's written in the book and trying to remember it! I spend my time thinking about what I've already read, and when I do so, I come up with new or better understanding related to the same. Now how would an ungodly fool appreciate the Word of God! It's someone who loves Him and knows His nature that would want to delve deep into His word to gain a deeper understanding of Him. Now, these two fools can't do this, neither do they want to do it! So, they better keep their mouths shut about things their minds are not well-equipped to carry! I can't sit reading something for long. It's thinking about what I've read that consumes my time. Now, again, fools like Death Conqueror and Akhila, reduce such a time spent to the equivalent of asking 'how', which is so not the case! 'How' is such an objective question to ask, but when one looks at something new, many things come to one's mind besides the 'how' of it. I hardly think about the how which they keep highlighting to mock me, when it is not even something that one should be taunted about. It's a good quality. But fools calls evil good, and good evil. It seems they like things that cater to their Adivasi section of minds, but abhor things that cater to the mental section requiring special abilities! They're so simple-minded, only consumed with each other's bodies all the time while inflicting abuse on an innocent individual – reflecting the character trait of Jhamunda! The fact that God gave us the ability to think in complex ways and understand His statutes is what separates us from animals, but both these immoral chimpanzees are no less than animals! One is an immoral and intellectual chimpanzee, while the other is an intellectual robot but a chimpanzee in morality or choosing the ways of God.

And this phrase said by the new chemistry teacher who had once come to give demo classes to us during my high school days is being highlighted to me. He had said that it was not vision but revision that was the key to grasp any subject. I recall that I had liked his personality. I don't remember his name though. He was beige complexioned, was well-built, had wavy but smooth hair that fell slightly below his ears, and he usually dressed in shirts tucked inside pants/jeans, and had a husky voice. He was sober and holy but was also artistic as was seen in his hairstyle. His persona wasn't just a mimicry of a passing wave of fashion, or something that was a part of prevalent culture, but he was an individual who had his own styling sense like everyone else in that place. People had freedom of persona though the place lacked the freedom to dress nudely as it was considered immoral. But people were free to be themselves and it was appreciated when someone was being genuine. That chemistry teacher's dressing sense, way of talking, and behavior all went together and were coherent. Back in those days, meeting authentic individuals was a norm. So I thought I would find many people like him in the future but since I came to this place, I've mostly come across people who treat abuse as the norm and are so fake. That chemistry teacher was very characterful as well as was the norm in the place.

Now this incident from yesterday is being highlighted to me. This girl, who supposedly represented Death Conqueror, came walking to my floor dressed in a navy blue polo shirt tucked inside jeans with a white head covering. But the way she had dressed looked so pukish because her persona looked affected very much apparently. It just didn't come from inside of her. It wasn't a part of her being that came out of her inner self. It was just something she wore as outer attire, and looking at her at first glance, I knew that she was a messenger because the way she talked, the way she carried herself, the expressions on her face, and the way she dressed - they were all so incoherent that it was very much apparent that it wasn't her real self! I told her plainly that she was an actor and told her to go back! I said pointing to the corridor towards the stairs, "Vapis Jao! Vapis Jao!" ("Go back! Go back!") It later reminded me of Jesus' countenance and the way He looked while pointing to the door. It was exactly the same. She was being indirect in saying things like most people in this place are. Back in my place, people were often direct in communicating their heart, while at the same time, they knew what was wrong to ask for and they had the character to not even want the things they shouldn't be wanting according to Godly morals. They had their minds programmed in a way that made them attach fleshly desires to their love partner and they looked down on the idea of loveless fornication and it was a huge no-no in the place while real love stories were celebrated. It was a very godly place to be and it wasn't backward but a wise environment where people were serious about sin of all types.

Samsher Sir was a godly man who was not a fornicator, an adulterer, and he didn't even smoke or consume alcohol. Such character traits were a norm in the place. He often talked about how he kept himself set-apart, that though others would be consuming alcohol, he would refrain and tell a 'No' or leave the situation itself. He would share such things with Shreya in front of me and Sakshi as we would listen to him for he was like a friend to us. He was very serious about such things and mocked young boys of our batch in front of everyone about watching films and told them to not do so (he was referring to certain types of films!). And he was not the only teacher who possessed such a character but almost all had these basic moral traits. It was possible to operate with those godly character traits at that place as it wasn't affected/infecetd by Delhites! All operated with this basic moral structure upon which they had their individuality built which people here have none! People lack even the basic moral structure here and are so hive-minded, how will they have that complex multilayered sense of individuality that begins with the right set of morals at the base, followed by the layer of ideas that come from one's upbringing and familial background and topped by one's individual likes, dislikes and perception of things. Everyone carried a certain aura of their own back at my place. Here, everyone seems to have the same fake self! Now Samsher Sir was a friend to us but he was very moral and protective of us, while other male teachers though moral, didn't extend themselves as casual of a friend like him but kept to themselves. It was such a godly place. Everyone was an individual and respected the other person's individuality and treated them with respect. Morality was cherished. It was something that was supported and looked up high on whereas in this place, being moral is just for a fake show, it’s just an upper garment one wears to walk through the society while on the inside one is demon-possessed. My supervisor doesn't like my individuality and originality as she has often communicated to me in various different ways. She tries to make me subdue it or mellow it down so it's no longer in its original form but becomes something else that is nowhere close to what I originally said/wrote.

After the incident with the girl, as I understood how the place functioned internally, this phrase in Hindi being said by a lady kept being repeated yesterday in my Spirit:
'Seedhe muh baat karni ati hai, to baat karo, nahi to niklo yaha se!'
'If you can talk in a straightforward manner without useless riddles and labels, then you’re welcome, or better get lost from my presence!'

I had become too annoyed over this foolish way of communication where things were subject to being misunderstood, while back at my place, people said things very clearly in a straight manner! But here, everyone just seems to signal or point to something, or say something hidden in a word, and I often don't understand what they're trying to say! The place is full of deception. They adopted this technique, from what I understood yesterday, as it helped them to commit fornication and other sins without having to say anything! They just communicate things indirectly and things of value are hardly said in a straight and blatant way that I am used to. I found very few people with whom I could talk being my real self in this place. I don't like this demonic place at all except for the real people I met!

I have often thought about my past days when I had a lot of privacy and was almost invisible to the world and how I relaxed and rested peacefully in that space, being mentally free of the emotionally abusive burden put on me by these wicked people. The presence of a whole lot of such time spent in the past made me question if God gave me that time because He knew that I wouldn't be having privacy during my later years (starting in 2019). Everything went downhill in the worldly sense after Tejaswi's arrival in my life in 2016. One thing led to another and here I was now! But without those events, I wouldn't have come to Jesus either. After Tejaswi's betrayal, I wanted to throw away all spiritual books for I felt brainwashed by him. I felt as if he had brainwashd me completely, and brought to ruins my previous rational and analytical self – something which I held dear to me as it consisted a huge part of my persona and constituted my way of living and making life choices. I felt like he had ruined my scientific temperament, and I wished to go back to having the kind of mind I had before I had met him. So, to get rid of his influence over me, I not only threw away the books that he had given me, but also the small Bible I had been carrying for years since my BSc days. Someone had given it to me on the road one day and I had happened to take it and bring it home – surprisingly. It was the New Testament of the Bible and those northeastern Indian people were distributing it freely on the road that day when I happened to pass them by. I took it not because I wanted to get into Christianity but because of my love for books. I never said 'No' to a book that could have turned out to be good. So, I accepted the Bible that day but kept it aside as I never felt like reading it. However, I didn't feel like throwing it either for I knew that it contained something that I didn't know of. It kept lying with me for years and moved with me from place to place as I shifted from PGs to hostels to being back to home after my stay at those places was over. The day that I threw that Bible, as I held it in my hand, I felt a strong nudge to not throw it, but to keep it. But I wanted to so get rid of this spiritual sea that I was floating in that I wanted to throw away all things pertaining to spirituality and religion. I threw the small English version of Geeta given to me by Tejaswi. It was written by a guy named Master EK whom he followed. I had read it thrice as he insisted me to read it after he left Delhi, and I did so in a period of about perhaps two months. He had me order another book for myself written by some Swami who shared his years supposedly spent with Himalayan Yogis. Tejaswi talked a lot about such stuff. He was into Yogis, Swamis, Masters, etc.. – nothing of which I liked! But I continued interacting with him because he maintained at the threshold level a good fake projection of his persona, and mainly because he was Meera's friend and we talked about her as well. He was the kind of person who would continuously shower you with flowers followed by a sudden deadly hit on your head that would leave you to unable to function for years – a typical psychopath. We chatted on WhatsApp day and night. I was running short on sleep as well during those days because of my time spent on the phone, and it worsened my situation because it created perfect conditions for effective brainwash. I later got to know that this was the typical way cults brainwashed people – by demanding and consuming their intense continuous attention supplemented by sleep deprivation which made it easier for the people to absorb any information or an idea to take root in their minds – things their brains otherwise wouldn't have accepted.
