Page 1. First three-day fast

02 February 2022
21:54

Well, I'm feeling happy about successfully completing my first proper three days fast, where I didn't have food at all but had only water. The first two days I had half a mug of tea once. And the third day I didn't even have the tea. However, it wasn't as intense as it was supposed to be as I didn't pray and worship as should have been because I was focused on not having food and also on observing how it unfolded because I NEVER did such a thing before. Before I knew God, I used to think that foolish people fast.

I feel so good. And on top of that what's making me happier is knowing that I could've gone more days without food had I had some kind of light substitute in moderate or less amounts. But I wanted to keep it to three days this time to observe how it would go.

And this morning I felt SO SO calm in my mind. It was unusual. Yes. Fasting sets you aside from the world. The distractions vanish and you become sort of more awakened to your existence that’s separate from your body. We all know it's a part of crucifying the flesh so that we can become more aware of our spiritual senses.

I did start to experience slight pain in bones\joints today towards the end of the day, but I think it wouldn't have been there if I had gone on a fruit and water fast and not worked but only rested. But sometimes we should try hard-core fasting too!!!

The next time I will only have water and nothing else and will rest for the entire three days keeping my eyes and ears open to what God has to say, waiting for Him to respond, as I watched in a video where a sister in Christ shared how she waited for the Lord to respond for long durations of time initially when she took her walk with God seriously. This time that I fasted – I worked and watched other videos as well; the fast wasn't entirely about God. But – glad to see that I made it at the end. And the next time it would be easier. The fast sort of broke my dependency on food, as previously I used to get hungry too quickly or before the daily meal hours. My body had become used to eating a lot. So – that broke. I think, that with more fasting, more of such negative bondages/addictions will be broken and it will help me in hearing from God better too.

Though God did talk to me during the three days by showing me some things that at first looked funny to my present self, but would have looked quite serious to the self that I was some years back. And I understand the gravity of what God showed me. But we have to keep in mind the Word of God too, and use that in tandem with what God shows us. So, he showed me something which would be wrong in a sense if I were to follow the Word of God, which implies that it wasn't meant for the present but future when it would be deemed right in God's eyes.

And that vision repeated many times which means it is important, and I guess that's how my state would be at that moment seeing someone at the brink of being all spent out (or dying – as depicted by God) and me rushing to do the will of God in that moment which would also be my true inner state. For instance, a month or so back, God showed me that I was hovering on His Spirit like a free butterfly. But that came true for real as my inner state after a while. So, my desperation to save that person out of love - that God showed me – would also come true for real in time.

God designs scenarios for people according to what they can digest or the deep things that they understood once and held dear to their hearts. Though they might have forgotten those things, or the things might have slipped to the back of their minds with time – God sees the heart, and also the subconscious, and it pleases Him to see that someone understands things that aren't a characteristic of this world. So, He often grants those things or creates those situations to make them come true for that heart. The same thing couldn't or may not have pacified someone else in the same way. But God sees that it would pacify 'you' and also in what way, and therefore He gives an appropriate gift to you.

He will draw things out of your subconscious and use them to motivate you or help you in certain ways. He knows best what would be of help to you in different situations. And what would give you the ultimate satisfaction. He draws things out of your subconscious that you might have forgotten, and He uses them to unravel the path forward in future – and you see that He is actually pleased with the things you believe in and wants you to walk in them.

With more fasting, you hear Him better. And I'm sure that with my coming rounds of fast, I would be doing even better. And I would be able to focus on God instead of observing how the experience is going with me. The third day of fasting was unusual. First, I had some unusual physical changes, and second, I had all distractions and thoughts dissolve away.

The physical changes included sudden heightened heart rate twice (don't know what caused that, perhaps a lack of glucose?), paining legs towards the end (that was because I was on foot a lot, like the usual days: washed clothes, took a walk on roof etc.). At the end I was feeling as if I never fasted, though I still didn't have food yet.

And the three days seemed so easy to have gone through. It didn't feel at all that I hadn't eaten. But I did end the fast like I had thought I would when I decided on Sunday to end it on Wednesday night.

I will perhaps do a 21 day fruit and water fast next. Or may be a three day no food or sweet drink (at all) fast.

But I do feel that though I fasted, my focus wasn't on God as much as it should had been. I was thinking about everything else! And working, watching and listening to other people; Don't know if God is happy with that kind of fasting. But at least I tried and made it through. And it feels that I am further in my walk with God. More spiritually awake, less affected by the environment.

The next fast is going to be a one day one on Sabbath. I will get some fruits to make up for the lost nutrition and also because I don't want to have paining bones the next time I fast.

But I am also amazed in a way at how could I even focus and work while not eating for three days. While previously I would lose focus one or two hours before my food time and my belly would start grumbling! I am sure now the fast was necessary. My belly didn't grumble as much as it did when I ate regularly, and at the end I feel that my dependency on food is also weakened by a great extent! Plus I lost 2 kgs in just three days. Woah! Should do more of this.

The next time I would make it about God and not about observing the changes and doubting if it would go as intended or expected.

21:05

Well, I overate since morning. And I could tell that much of it wasn't out of hunger, really. I was craving eggs after breakfast. Don't know, perhaps my body had enough of carbs since the last meal the last night. And then I had a breakfast which again was mostly carbs. Later around noon I wanted to not have carbs and was strongly craving egg toast. So, I cooked it. I ate it not because I was hungry but because I was STRONGLY CRAVING egg toast of some kind! I could feel that it was a consequence of fasting.

And then later today I was reminded of a vision I had some months back where I saw an egg toast being cooked and it was the only thing in that vision. And I could tell that it wasn't my own thought but it was definitely from the Holy Spirit. Because I wasn't thinking of eating eggs at all and I am not crazy for them either. But suddenly after fasting, my body wants eggs, not carbs! And I don't know if it has germinated bcz of my own self or is planted in me by the Holy Spirit to fulfil the nutrient deficiency via eggs alone.

The vision from months back now makes sense! Now that I've started fasting and will be doing more of it, God is suggesting me to consume more eggs when I am not fasting instead of plain rotis, rice, or the usual veggie they give which again is mostly carbs.

Even now I am not hungry. But I want to eat egg toasts of one or the other kind. Suddenly, after fasting my bent towards food has changed! Wow…. God told me the solution to make up for the nutrient loss long back! I have to rely mainly on eggs now, and fruits too. But God stressed mainly on eggs. Idk if it was a directive vision, or a helpful vision or a vision depicting a change in my mindset. But in any case, it's supposed to go in tandem with the extensive fasting schedule that I am going to follow. Good God!! God cares about me. He showed me months back what I would be doing when I would be fasting, and in a sense, it's good that He showed me this long back. Because I can confidently say now without any doubts that the vision was a confirmation of what I'm supposed to do 'now'. Back then I wasn't doing such a thing (fasting) and therefore didn't feel like consuming specific protein-rich diet. So I can't say that my vision was induced by my own reasoning or thoughts. It was a directive and suggestive vision by the HS.

Okay. I was feeling a bit confused, actually confused a lot, because I didn't know if I was really walking in the Will of God or doing what He wanted me to do, though I am trying to keep things intact from all ends. What's happening now is also a good confirmation of that. That I 'am' walking according to His plan. I don’t know if I'm too slow. But definitely not as quick to change as the first disciples.

I remember telling Himanshu about this particular vision on phone but I hadn't understood the significance or the contextual meaning. I was telling him that God wants me to eat less fast food and eat healthier and that too in less amount. That's what I had made out of the vision back then. I was eating a lot of fast food, sugary and fatty sweets and similar stuff. Then I have this vision of just an egg being cooked on a flat surface above fire, the white and the yolk visibly separate. Just an egg. Nothing else. And I was quite confused. I told Himanshu that perhaps God was trying to tell me to eat less and change mentally the way I eat, making it more like John's - who ate humble things living in the wilderness. Well, now the meaning of that vision is clear. God was hinting towards this time when I would have reached a stage where I am ready to fast and actually complete a long fast. Because earlier I could only fast for a day on Sabbath and that too looked so difficult to me - someone who NEVER fasted before and always slightly or hugely overate, NEVER underate!

And now God brought me to a stage where I am comfortable with long fasts and He has given me the direction/solution to cope with the resulting physical conditions too. The next time I go on a long fast, I won't end it by eating any kind of bread/roti, but with egg toast of some kind. Yeah, I get it why He suggested that. Because even most fruits are mostly sugar (though natural) and aren't filling. Eggs are kind of rich in everything but carbs, and are filling.

Well, that was about the egg vision. There're other dreams and visions as well. Waiting for fulfilment. I don’t know how God will bring me to a place where I become comfortable or used to those things too. Well, God has His own ways. <3

I just don't want to be slow in following His Will. But so far, things seem to be going according to what He showed me. An incident here and there confirms what He showed me some time back and I get reassured that I'm walking on the right path, perhaps in a zig-zaggedy manner, but still, on the path He set out for me.

And then He gave me a promise long back without me asking for it. He must have some plans with that too. Because God always makes promises which are a part of His Will and brings about a fulfilment of His plan in some greater way.

And then during evening though I wasn't hungry but I wanted to eat the eggs I had kept mixed with some veggies inside fridge. So I went and had them before the usual dinner time. I had a few extra things too. But I started towards kitchen craving initially those eggs only. Ok. I get now. God will guide me further.

The Word that has left the mouth of God doesn't return void. So, if God spoke something over someone, it will come to fulfilment in its time.

I woke up from a dream this morning where somewhere in between of it I kept repeating two sentences to everyone I happened to meet. It was as if I wanted them to know this and it was the most important thing they should be knowing.
The first sentence I can recall: "Eleutherians worship the light"
But the second one I have forgotten, but it involved a word starting from 'A' to represent those who are moral, or follow the precepts of God.

But I'm sure of the meaning I was trying to convey. And it was that those who live according to their personalized version of freedom regardless of morality worship the 'light' - which signifies Lucifer/Devil/Satan - whether they know or accept it or not.
But those called by the word starting with an 'A', worship God. I will try to search the word I was repeating. But I have a feeling that I might find it in somewhere in the new teachings of Brother JK. Because he talks a lot about licentious freedom and then the true moral freedom which is of God. But I don't really know the meaning of the 'A' word.
If I don't find it his videos, I will perhaps get to know about it later in one or other way.

Found this on the Internet and found it helpful:

For Believers
Now, the first lesson for believers is: give God the glory. Give God the glory for your confession. If somebody asks you how come you're saved, don't let your last answer be, "Because I believed. Because I confessed him as my Savior." Let your last answer be, "Because He who is in me, is greater than He who is in the world." Give God the glory for your salvation. Give God the glory that you have heard and confessed the truth. That's the first lesson for believers.

From <https://www.desiringgod.org/messages/test-the-spirits-to-see-whether-they-are-of-god>

For Unbelievers
And then there's a lesson for unbelievers. And the lesson for unbelievers is this: you must cry to the Holy Spirit. You must call out to him, "Don't leave me!" Have you ever thought what that prayer signifies? "Don't pass me! Don't pass me! Open my eyes too. Soften my heart that I may give confession that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh. Don't leave me, Holy Spirit!" That's the way an unbeliever should pray. "Come break me! Make me open. Free from my unbelief. Help my unbelief."

The 'A' word in the dream seemed to be a word from Strong's concordance. It sounded weird, like all Strong's words are.

Page 4. God - The Beautiful First Love of Everyone

06 February 2022
23:30

I just realized something very important which might set things straight for some like it did for me:

When I was broken because of narc abuse and my belief in everything good was shaken, I didn't know God. But now I do. And I just realized that "He" is the true first love of His creation. That's how He created us to be. We by default have this ability to love because God gave it to us and it's "Him" that is supposed to be that pillar that NEVER breaks or always supports, and plus He's true and Real unlike devil because He is the perfect God that has loved us with a perfect love! So if even if I lose everything in this world, I would still have God, the most important pillar and cushion I need to have. And He is eternal and there forever, for real; and His moral precepts never change! He is the unchangeable God.

No one can take Him away from me - that's the most beautiful and strengthening part; and it has been possible because of who He is. God will never leave you not forsake you (Deu 31:6).

If people didn't think of God as a boring concept, or too spiritual to be realistic, or someone who is like some sort of 'Fun Police', they would see that He's actually very humble, gentle, righteous and filled with LOVE, mercy and forgiveness. Just imagine talking to someone who doesn't talk crap and worldly stuff, is slow to anger, is compassionate, has authority over all creation and is also a healer - that would be God; He's not a boring spiritual old man. In fact, He's Spirit, and if we look at it in a non-stereotypical sense - He's the highest technology possible, beyond the comprehension of any human or angel. So, he's not only the perfect and the best indestructible being, but is also beautiful. THAT is my and your God! Not some boring old man whom people see as 'spiritual' in a stereotypical sense.

So, knowing this, how can we cry, or I how could and why would I cry that I got thrashed by a lying child of devil!! - no matter who it is!! I've got God. And He's eternal. And my time here is short!

The moment you realize your eternal reality with God is the moment things get set right for you. The order of things have to be in proper place and the things and people of this world won't be able to 'touch' you.

Somehow tuning in to the reality of me an eternal being trapped in a degrading body where the eternal me belongs to God and is His beloved creation actually opens my eyes to a fresh and the right perspective. I wish I had known God before. He talks to you through things that affect you the most - that's how He's able to bring changes in people - because He knows their hearts and minds.

Like He's been talking to me through different songs since morning. Some I heard inside me out of nowhere; some I happened to listen to. I can't believe He's so amazing. Though God is eternal and ancient, He's like a wind which is always fresh and which leaves you rejuvenated.

Page 5. Act of Faith Based On My Own Understanding

21:45

Well, many times you don't really know if you're actually doing the Will of God but you step out in faith. So, it was one of those attempts for me. Because God had been highlighting the number '9' to me, in my Spirit. Well, at first it was just a 9. But the second time, it was a 9 with the top of 9 formed in the shape of a heart and there was an orange hue around.

And so I stepped out around 9 making sure I would be out at '9' and I was wearing clothes I was wearing in a dream He had given me, two incidents of which have come true in the same order. So, I was thinking perhaps the next incident He showed me would come true this time and that's why He wants me to be out. But it turns out that I was wrong. Things are always so unexpected with God.

I think He was testing me. Or giving me some initial courage before I finally face the situation He showed me. And also, everything from God is received in faith.

But I feel happy that I wasn't as anxious as I thought I would be. And that I actually went out. In that dream, He showed me that I went in a certain street, an unusual one, out of nowhere and it was night time. Well, I don't trust my memory that much. Perhaps I am missing out some info. But I tried to do as much as I could make sense of everything together.

It's training time and also the time to walk out in the Will of God and receive His promises. Seeing how bad I'm going with fasting, it's taking forever to move ahead in His anointing where I would actually perform the assignment He has for me, while also being a part of something beautiful. I don’t know if the assignment part will come to fruition later than the latter part. But definitely the latter part is that which God wants to manifest in our lives.

The assignment or the first dream that showed me what I would eventually do was from long back. And I think that that would be at the end of it all - when I'm even more mature in my faith and understanding of Him. We all walk at different paces with things. For me it seems like a looooong journey before I carry out His ultimate Will!!!

Well, for the number 9, it could also mean the ninth hour. Anyway. But I would really be ashamed of myself if I missed some instruction or misunderstood it as a prophecy. But the dream was definitely prophetic and not instructive. Well, the incidences so far have come true without me following certain instructions. So I am hoping and expecting that the rest of it will also come true if I just follow my internal nudges and do not resist them. They are perhaps the Spirit poking from inside.

I'm so slow!!!!! :'(
I wish I could tread this road faster and be at the level God wants me to be. But I'm just not willing to give up on my bad eating habits!! They are a must to get away with.

Anyway.

But there's one very important thing I have to remember and walk in. I don't want Jesus to shut the door in my face like He would when I would have lost the key to approaching Him - Love!! No matter what one goes through - one has to walk in Love, or hold tight to the inner core of Love which is fuelled by His Spirit. If you lose touch with it, or lose it, Jesus shuts the door while turning His back towards you and locking you outside - if I'm interpreting correctly. He did this at the end of the 3rd dream in series with the above one. And then the vision focused on the locked door, as if I need the key to go inside. I must not lose the key. And even if I will at some point in future, I will find and pick it up again. I may get so focused on the external as I interact with more and more people as I try to walk in the Will of God that I may lose the key the key to which lies inside. That's a caution one has to take. To not lose the key to Jesus while walking in His Will.

Jesus locked door right after I told my middle brother that 'he never got perfect'. Apparently I had been trying to turn him to faith in that dream. So my first interpretation was that if one's not perfected by his faith and His Spirit, Jesus will lock that person out. So that had me scared, because I've degraded a lot internally since the last narc!! Though I still am not at the negative end or the dark side, but I definitely have degraded.

I don't think I will lose my key of Love!! I will NEVER lose that key!! I misinterpreted!!!!!!!!

10th Feb

I was chuckling thinking that perhaps I should've made '9' rounds like some people in the Word did things 7 times as God told them!!! :D

Of course it didn't have to be so! I didn't receive any instructions. I just went out by my own understanding and mind!

Well the pink shawl and the blue denim skirt was from the dream but the rest I chose as I felt like or felt nudged. But at least I tried though I may not have remembered everything.

But one thing is for sure - what God has willed will happen in the way He spoke it.

Page 6. Nate and Christy - 'Pioneers, the future is in your Pen'

12 February 2022
00:27
I am watching a Word by Nate & Christy on the YT channel Read & Listen. And these words have struck the chord with me:
'This tension will make you feel uncomfortable at times, (the tension he's talking about relates to going deeper in the secret place) but it's harpooning you to the future you're the representative for. That's right, God is planting you in the future and you'll learn to navigate that line between what is coming and what you see. This tension will cause you to feel deeply dissatisfied and unable to settle in the wilderness and it will uproot all places of potential apathy in your life, but the good news is that YOU WILL SEE the goodness of God and the breakthrough you've been praying for.'
This struck a chord because I too have slowly learnt step by step the ways of God. At first, something I couldn't at all have known by my own self was told to me in a dream, and that happened to be true as was confirmed on a call I received the following day. So, that was a lesson that told me that God communicates through dreams and reveals info or future.

Afterwards, God revealed to me my eventual assignment. Though there's still a long way to go to be at that level where I would fulfill His Will and my job after having made the necessary changes in me.

And then slowly, over time, I kept 'seeing' stuff which kept coming true. So, it taught me to expect what I have seen to actually come true as I had enough evidence now to believe in it. Without this experience, I would be faithless regarding seeing future. It took a long time to get accustomed to it - perhaps about an year.

And now I 'm learning how to walk or settle in the present knowing what is to come, and the choices I should make accordingly. So, the words above - 'God is planting you in the future and you'll learn to navigate that line between what is coming and what you see' are right on spot with my present situation.
I'm learning to walk that line where I know what's coming and deciding accordingly how to navigate the present. I don't get badly affected now by negative revelations related to me!

A few months back I had a vision of long tubes (looked fleshy) suddenly popping out with eyes at the end!! I thought what could that possibly mean!? Sometime later it was clear to me as I had an incident with geyser in the washroom!! Anyway! I couldn't believe that 'THAT' was what I actually saw!! I take negative revelations easily now. I don't know if it's making me less empathetic, because the negative revelations won't affect me much even if they pertain to my family. But I do see some kind of inner strength being developed in me where I no longer get too frightened on receiving bodily harm. That vision of my 'death' doesn't scare me at all. Can't say for sure though what lies ahead, but I've a rough knowledge of the significant events. I hope I don't fail myself in between. But there's something that gives me strength and makes it internally clear that what I see in the mirror is not me and what I see around is not permanent. And therefore I don't have to perceive the persecutions or difficulties of my time here too gravely.

And I must not slide back in my routine reading of the Word.

Page 7. Spirit of God - The Middle Man

17:28

The Spirit of God has His own amazing and beautiful ways to keep you updated about the states of people He wants you to be updated on. I find it quite touching how He connects you to those He wants in your life. Also, it also shows the Father cares enough and actually a LOT about your personal life and relationships so much so that He tells His Spirit to communicate to you regarding the same.

If two people have the Spirit of God in them, Then God will use His Spirit to keep both of them in touch though they may not actually be in direct contact in the physical world. However, if only one has the Spirit of God, then the one who has Him receives valuable information about the person God intends to give it about. And it's quite touching that God doesn't necessarily convey objective information but will most often communicate the state of the heart of those He wants you to know about. It is a process He uses to fulfil His Will by bringing you in alignment with His Will and transforming your heart.

And the Spirit reveals it by portraying the revelation in beautiful ways which also reflects how God wants you to see a particular situation because that's the absolute reality of it. Since it's coming from God, you know better to not form your own perceptions but believe what God has told you and let your heart be touched and affected accordingly.

22:22

On third of Feb, I realized something which I hadn't all this time that I had this notebook. It was a like a sudden understanding of something which laid right in front of your face all the time yet you wouldn't have understood the meaning until the time God chose to reveal it to you. It was not a coincidence that I bought this notebook. The notebook is prophetic and I had it for many months now. And it goes along with other visions that God showed me. Ok I don't feel like posting the picture here as of now, a lot of work. I would do it later.

Well, I would upload the pic her rn.

I had bought this long back and had been using this all this time. But on 3rd Feb it's prophetic meaning was revealed to me. And it also goes along with two other visions from the Holy Spirit that I had. One had a butterfly hovering on a white ball of light. Another had a lady with butterfly wings standing facing a guy. Both were fully dressed in white. I couldn't see if the guy had wings too as the lady's back and the guy' front were visible in the vision. Also, I couldn't really make out the facial features of the person standing facing the lady. But whoever it was, the face quickly turned to someone else's face (that I've seen) and then back to the blurry initial.

This must mean that the butterfly hovering on the Spirit of God represented by the white ball of light is equivalent to the lady with butterfly wings facing that person which again is confirmed by the revelation of the meaning of the front of this notebook at the appropriate time. If the later two scenarios are just another version of the first one which has the Spirit of God in it, this must mean that they constitute the Will and plan of God.

I've now three revelations by God of the same scenario.

I was just molten looking at this notebook when I realized the meaning.

He is truly happy because the butterfly freely came to him and so he has the butterfly, and the butterfly is freely hovering around him and not going anywhere else.

Well, the fact that the butterfly is 'green' is also not a coincident. God can be so amazing and above it all, knowing way before we can even think of what He has in store for us and giving us related signs and confirmations!

And the fact that I happened to feel a strong urge to write this this particular time is also not a coincident. I look at time I started this page, and it says "22:22"

Isaiah 22:22 (New International Version)
I will place on his shoulder the key to the house of David; what he opens no one can shut, and what he shuts no one can open.

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Isaiah%2022%3A22&version=NIV>

I was about to do something else at that time but I felt a sudden urgency to write about the notebook here.

23:31

Well, I don't really exactly understand how Isaiah 22:22 fits here but I've a vague idea. The same is explained in the recent Word by Nate & Christy that I also wrote about in the previous few pages.

Isaiah 22:22 usually refers to having the authority to open and close doors that no one else can shut or open besides the one with the 'key'. So, perhaps in this case, it means we've the authority to open new doors and no one can shut it because God has given us the 'key' to the house of David.

I can recall, actually I remember it quite vividly!! When I was in that other PG, and I was lying on bed with lights off and was thinking what could a certain incidence mean. I asked God in my mind something like - "God, what does that mean?" And right then I felt that something entered in my brain from above my forehead. It's hard to explain the sensation, but what followed right after that was the image of a huge key forming in my mind on its own. Again, I didn't understand it. But I'm hoping one day it would all make sense.

Well, the incident was thinking about was something which happened when I was back at home and had just turned to faith and started keeping Sabbath too. On one Sabbath night, I and my youngest brother were woken up by a loud sound of lady shouting something in an unknown language (I would realize later that she was speaking tongues). I can roughly recall that I had that key vision around the night that I had met that Pastor and his son that the cook of that PG had called for me to meet and ask about water baptism. Yeah, it was on that night alone I guess, or somewhere within the following few nights. Coming back to what happened back at home, that loud voice was coming from the top right corner of our room and from "inside" the room. We both woke up and after a while it stopped. Though we didn't talk much then but the following morning I asked him again, and he agreed that he too had heard it and thought that it was coming from a nearby apartment. But it was coming from inside the room. He just twisted the reason to what his mind could believe not being ready to accept what was the actual reality.

So, that night in PG, I was asking God about that same incident, about the meaning of what the lady was shouting in tongues. And suddenly I had that sort of blanket enter inside from above my forehead after which the image of the key formed. I still haven't understood well the entirety of it.

So, that was about Isaiah 22:22. Yeah, I just recalled that it also signifies new beginnings from what I have been watching in prophetic words on Read and Listen YT channel and also some videos by Nate and Christy. 22:22 signifies authority in God and new beginnings as well I guess.

I also watched a video by Brother Nate on seeing the numbers 22:22 or 22 again and again and the things God usually communicates through those numbers.

So I guess we've the key to open new doors that NO ONE can shut! - Because of Isaiah 22:22.

The time is at hand.

That pic on the notebook melts my heart EVERY single time I look at it, seeing what it represents!! Or I can say… that it instantly lights me up!!!

I will now try to implement for some time what Sis Adele taught in the video I watched today and then sleep.

Page 9. Prompt Obedience; Importance of fellowship with other believers

I guess demons spiritually attack everyone when you try to focus on Jesus and pray. They don't want you to pray focused.

And most importantly, one should obey God when He asks you to do something! Like I again felt a strong inner push to come to this notebook and make some changes though if I was to follow my own will, I would've rather waited until tomorrow as I was close to falling asleep. But it kept recurring and I could sense a displeased Spirit of God. So I took my laptop and did what I was feeling strongly being pointed to.

Idk, God gives importance to details which most people would ignore. And you have to obey Him when He asks you to do something because He's God.

I'm glad that I didn't resist the intense pull to write the previous page suddenly coming out of nowhere at a certain time which happens to be 22:22. Certainly, it was God pushing me to write that and I'm glad I followed the leading of the Spirit, though it may be a small act. Still, I'm learning prompt obedience despite me feeling uncomfortable or eventually not caring about the perception of others. This should happen more often. When God puts things on my heart, and I don't resist to do them out of my own reservations. This is teaching me to follow God in obedience irrespective of the path. Yesssssssssss!!!

It's very important to listen to other believers who're also walking and living in the truth because it keeps you in touch with reality. Or else, you may get swayed by the cares and burdens of this world, or even your perception of the kind of life you've in this place. It's important to remind ourselves again and again, and it also constitutes a part of 'freeing one's mind', that the life we think we have here is not really real as we only see the delusion of devil in this place and the truth of God has to be sought in His Word or in prayer and Worship without which you're living an absolute lie, like I was at once.

Listening to brother JK has helped me tremendously in setting my mind right and right on those things that are the truth of this fallen world. The more I listen to him, the more I become grounded in reality. The world is a 'spirit cooking' place for real, though I haven't watched that video yet.
But we must stay in touch with those whose eyes are opened to the world they live in and how it is all much like the movie 'The Matrix'.

Ways to know if you're being devoured by the Devil:

1. Does your teacher downplay the crime of sin? The deluded teacher tells you: just go ahead and do as thou wilt.
2. Are you seeking Jesus to become wealthy or to become better off? - Do you believe in the 'Prosperity Gospel'.
3. Are you looking outside of the Bible for extra Jesus adventures? (Don't listen to false prophets like Amanda Grace.)

---> False teachers and prophets have been sent from hell to deceive you, drag you in sin and leave Jesus and His commands and the way of life He wants for us.

4 things affecting our culture in a very very bad way (much like in the Sodom and Gomorrah kind of way):

1. Refusing discipleship
2. Being rebellious to God's order - in home, ministry or marriage
3. Being disrespectful to older people - this also relates to refusing discipleship because it's the older people who correct and disciple us.
4. Gossiping

I am feeling an urge to write about this dream here. I don't know, but the dream and the later ones made sense to me in a certain way and this feeling of writing about it has been recurring to me since yesterday, though I'm not quite sure but perhaps for a few days. And today it has been coming to me since morning again and again and making me feel overwhelmed as I realize who Jesus is on the inside and how He has loved us and would save us though we may not be aware that it was His hand that saved us, yet without our knowledge He works for our best.

So long back, can't recall exactly when it was. But it was certainly before I shifted in this PG or even the other one - not sure about the latter one. Perhaps it was when I was still at home. In that dream, I was surrounded by water everywhere and sort of flying few meters above it, and was trying or struggling to stay above and not be drowned. But I eventually fell inside facing upwards and I could feel the water gushing in my mouth. Then suddenly, I saw someone standing on the surface above who was bending downwards to reach out His hand to me. It was a rough figure, I didn't know or couldn't think of who it could be. But I certainly sensed that He was reaching downwards and before His hand could even enter the water, I woke up.
After that I've had two dreams in which I saw myself locked inside in a space with different animals. In the first one, I saw two animals of the same kind. I saw two bulls/buffaloes (?) approaching me; and then there were two gorillas inside. Well, there were other animals as well but these two are the ones I've the perfect memory of being 'two' in number. In another one as well I saw myself locked inside and there was a room to the right and when I went inside it was filled with animals and birds; I didn't focus enough to see if there were two of each. Well, I'm taking this second dream with a grain of salt. But the first one, I do know had meaning because of a follow up Word by Sis Adele which helped me understand the significance of being locked inside by God and waiting.

But the thing that has me overwhelmed is the sight of that figure who was reaching down to get me out. Jesus pulled me out of the waters and put me inside the arc.

It didn't make much sense back then, but makes now after the other two dreams and that first drowning dream had been coming to my mind since yesterday out of nowhere. And today looking at everything together, I felt so touched by God. God saved me from the flood (or hellfire?), and made me His treasure safe in the arc. Well, the same holds true for other saved believers as well, but this is the place where I'm sharing "my" personal testimony and journey.

The first dream of the inside of the supposed safe zone or arc was in this PG from what I can recall. Because a few weeks after that Sis Adele released a teaching and sharing Word regarding navigating the duration of the aftermath of flood wherein God has shut you in the arc and you don't know how long would it take for the waters to go down and you to walk on land again, but you just wait in hope and patience having full faith in God.

Just wanted to write the record of the drowning dream here because it's precious to me!

Page 11. We're the Servant Warriors of God

Watching a little bit of the last episode of Fate/Stay Night gave me a headache as it also reminded me of the vision I had that I shared with Blue. And after watching that little part, I was wondering if it was a coincidence that I landed on that page. (Edit: Below is the video I was referring to above.)

Fate/Stay Night - Saber's last moments

When I take into account everything, some parts just don't fit in. But I will not rely on my own understanding.

But I witnessed today that I can no longer handle intense animes. It gets too heavy! And if it resembles somewhere with the reality of what is or what is to come, then it's all the way more emotionally distressing. I don't want to think about or be concerned with how things end (here on earth). I will only look at the journey that God takes me through while I'm here. If I was my past self, I would be completely swayed by the emotional burden of what I saw. But it doesn't seem as grave now because we don't actually die but go back to the place we actually belong after we've completed our assignment, like Saber! But it does affect you when you think about those you'll leave behind. God shows only some parts of His plan, not all. So we can walk in faith with Him without knowing for certain all things to come but trusting God that His plan or Will would eventually be fulfilled.

But I also just got reminded of why I don't want to watch any series of such kind. Because they draw you into an illusion and you get consumed by that and no longer keep God in the centre. This world is meant to be the place where people worship themselves by making themselves the centre of everything - their life and decisions, independent of God. The system was started by devil for the same purpose where people would forget God and live a life independent of Him and even if they do happen to believe in God then it would be one or other form of devil himself and the belief too would mean to receive one or the other kind of worldly 'comfort'. The system was started by devil to make the option of living a life independent of God available to people, but he didn't warn them that their illusion would just be but for a while, and that at the end they were eventually going to deal with the consequences of choosing the wrong path away from God.

If you want to be your own God, this is the place to be, and the end lies in eternal hell fire!

And yeah, any TV series of any kind would seem too heavy to me now because I can see it is bringing a delusion over my mind. People didn't have to deal with distractions of such kinds during or around the times of Jesus. So they were able to be better set-apart. Because one place wasn't connected to other and therefore couldn't be affected by the cultural nuances of other places. But these days, the few morally downtrodden people just need a TV telecast to influence the whole world. But the times have also made it possible to shake and save more people out of the world.

We've to be grounded not in the reality of the world but in the reality of God and our kingdom purposes and assignments and job; everything else is delusion.

findtruth88: Healing Marriage; The Process of Unfolding of a Dream; How did Jesus Handle Narcissists?;

19 February 2022

Today's fellowship:

1. findtruth88 (Healing Marriage)

1. Take the step of faith
2. Invest your time
3. Be willing to be discipled
4. Respect those who've already gone through what you're currently going through and come out of it successfully
5. Take advice from those who received an answer from the Lord for their situation resembling yours
6. Don't listen to the advice of those who don't stand on the Word of God and therefore didn't receive their healing or answer
7. Doing 4, 5 and 6 above will help you in not being doubleminded
8. Be patient while waiting on God

2. (Visions and dreams may be known, but the journey is unseen)

One should not act according on one's own understanding and Will when it comes to the fulfilment of God's plan in one's life. But, one should only take steps when God nudges or pushes or directs them to. In some cases, the person whom God revealed His plan to would need to act according to God's good will not heeding their own emotions or understanding of things regarding a particular situation. The person in intermittent communion with God would wait on God to lead her steps leading to things slowly falling into place according to His timing and plan.

Though heeding God's answer or direction at times may not seem to lead to instant results or success, but they do fulfill a purpose in creating grounds for the next instruction following more of which would eventually lead to the fulfilment of the final revelation that God showed you. So, if God has shown you a situation and you're following some internal nudges or at times very much apparent directive answers from the Lord, you shouldn't expect to see the situation that God showed you but know full well in your heart that this particular unseen or unexpected situation is also a part of the path that would lead to what God did show you.

As you follow along the nudges of the Holy Spirit, and as time passes, you start to see and understand how things are falling into place to lead the 'seen' situation to be manifested in your life. Never disregard the nudges of the Holy Spirit. That holds for me because I'm the one who's facing problems in cultivating prompt obedience. Or it could also be that I've acted the way I was supposed to in God's eyes, and that's why He framed those situations the way He did for the fulfilment of His plan while also keeping safe.

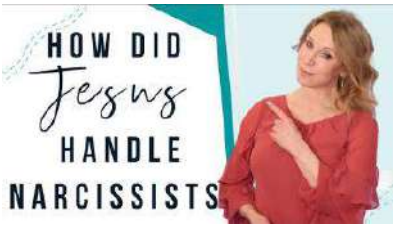
3. (How did Jesus Handle Narcissists?)

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=_tiQH4ikrDc>



When narcs bully or hurt us, we should say, "God will handle this."
But we also have a blueprint to follow according to what Jesus said and did.

1. He ignored them

   With their pious attitude and their constant correcting, the Pharisees were always looking to stir up trouble to criticize Jesus. (All narcs point out your flaws to make themselves look good.)

   [Matthew 9:10-12 (NIV) 10 While Jesus was having dinner at Matthew's house, many tax collectors and sinners came and ate with him and his disciples. 11 When the Pharisees saw this, they asked his disciples, "Why does your teacher eat with tax collectors and sinners?" 12 On hearing this, Jesus said, "It is not the healthy who need a doctor, but the sick.]

   Jesus didn't take the bait. The Pharisees were trying to create a smear campaign and Jesus chose to ignore them. Instead, He focused on His mission.

2. He called them out

   The Pharisees were a hypocritical bunch that Jesus took several opportunities to call out. One of them is:

   [Matthew 23:29-30 (NIV) 29 "Woe to you, teachers of the law and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You build tombs for the prophets and decorate the graves of the righteous. 30 And you say, 'If we had lived in the days of our ancestors, we would not have taken part with them in shedding the blood of the prophets.']

   Narcissists are classic scoffers and judgers. They're all about the image. So, if you wanna be like Jesus, when it's time, don't hesitate to call out narcissistic behavior. Just be careful. Because we often think that because we call something out, then that means that thing's gonna change. It often didn't for Jesus, and it won't for us either.

3. He cut them off

Jesus wasn't opposed to going No Contact. For as many people as Jesus helped, He walked away from several more for many reasons. He taught the same mindset to His disciples as He was preparing to send them out to minister to the world.

[Matthew 10:12-13 (NIV) 12 As you enter the home, give it your greeting. 13 If the home is deserving, let your peace rest on it; if it is not, let your peace return to you. 14 If anyone will not welcome you or listen to your words, leave that home or town and shake the dust off your feet.]

[Matthew 10:16 (NIV) I am sending you out like sheep among wolves. Therefore be as shrewd as snakes and as innocent as doves]

You might ask, "What about prayer? Didn't Jesus ask us to pray for our enemies?" He sure did. But you've to be careful. If you struggle with any form of co-dependency, it's likely that you continue to try to 'love' the narcissist, but in reality, you're simply perpetuating the evil they're causing.

[1 John 5:16 (NIV) If you see any brother or sister commit a sin that does not lead to death, you should pray and God will give them life. I refer to those whose sin does not lead to death. There is a sin that leads to death. I am not saying that you should pray about that.]

So, when referring to the sin that leads to death, the Bible is referring to a sin that a person is wilfully and habitually continuing in. Narcs rarely show any genuine repentance. So be careful of how you're loving and even praying for this person. Don't let the narc distract you from your purpose. Call out their evil behavior. Cut off the relationship when necessary.

Page 13. God's Love For His Angels

20:40

It wasn't man that God loved and died for to gift salvation and eternal life to. It was the angel trapped along with a demon inside man that God loved too dearly to lose hold of. God doesn't love the fallen nature of man. But He loves the angel inside him to the extent that He was willing to be born in flesh and be nailed to receive the judgement on man's behalf.

God found it worth it to go through all that He did in order to have the angel reconciled back to Himself nullifying or inverting the demon part.

God's angels that He created with His eternal everlasting love are too precious to Him to lose in the world because they happened to take devil's bait and be born in the flesh system of an angel and a demon unequally yoked together inside a host body. He wanted man to become whole again - by undergoing a spiritual conversion to being fully an angel - the definition of being 'born again', where one is no longer half angel and half demon as one had been born as a consequence of being in flesh, but is born again spiritually as a whole angel. Being born again is not a physical phenomenon. It's a spiritual process one undergoes as one turns back to God and receives the gift of salvation through Jesus Christ with a contrite heart, now fully changed in the ways of His life and thoughts as one now wants to reflect the glory of God through his changed self. God's Spirit works on the heart of man and gets rid of the old nature. The demon inside is inverted back to being an angel and you're no longer divided within. Your eyes get redoubled and you become who you were initially called to be.

To glorify 'man' and what he does is foolishness. We all are born divided in this fallen world. The angels inside is who God is running after as He brings them to Him while they're on earth and converts their hearts.

God is not in love with man with the fallen nature that he's born with in this world. This is evident from Him sentencing all unconverted men to hell. God is in love with the angel trapped inside of man. That's why He's written in His Word that love sees the best in each other. He saw the best existing inside of us and chose to sacrifice Himself for the same in order that best part may return back to Him and not be doomed to hell.

[1 Corinthians 13:7 (Amplified)
Love bears all things [regardless of what comes], believes all things [looking for the best in each one], hopes all things [remaining steadfast during difficult times], endures all things [without weakening].]

[John 3:3 (NIV) Jesus replied, “Very truly I tell you, no one can see the kingdom of God unless they are born again.[a]”]

Page 14. Waiting on God

20 February 2022
11:40
God wants those whom He has given assignments and promises to walk according to Him in His timing for their own good and safety.

There is a time of seeing when God shows you the things that're to come, and there's a time when they actually come. We shouldn't try to hasten the process as we desire. But we should wait on God for His good timing.
I will not risk. I will wait for God to direct my steps.

If it's not according to God's Will, I won't be able to perform even the things He has called me to. So, one should wait on God. Meanwhile, I will grow in the knowledge and understanding of the Word.

If we want to be blessed by God, we've to move according to His nudges.

I wanted to spend time quality time focusing on God listening to soaking Worship instrumental music, but I had a catharsis instead listening to it.
I started feeling deeply hurt and then the emotional feeling extended to my entire body. So I ate something and drank and felt a little better. Though my head is still heavy from the experience. I was expecting to go deeper into the presence of God and feeling at peace. But the stillness of the music ended up drawing out the buried feelings of being hurt. Then I listened to Sis Adele's Word on not acting on one's feelings of being hurt but giving it all to God and let Him avenge you as He struck Nabal. Seemed it was for me. Adele said that we've to be blameless before God and not avenge ourselves.

Also, looking at two of God's recent visions was also a relief. One was really heart touching. I will write about it later after it has come to pass. The other one was weird but funny too. I just want to see my reaction in real life about the second one. It was really funny and I wasn't expecting that 'God' will show me such a thing. But I won't write about it when it comes to pass. I will just make the comment in real life at that moment that God had already shown that to me (if I remember to make the comment).

Edit:
23:58 (9th Nov 2022)
The vision highlighted in pink and black was later on manifested as a confirmation when I was drawing a tree in the paint app for my PhD Thesis and later on for my model's diagram. Only in that vision I was asleep with my mouth slightly open and not smiling as is represented in the diagram (but that could represent my inner state of sleeping).

Page 15. Receiving the Sword of the Spirit (the Word of God), and Slowly Learning to Walk with God

19:10

I have the sword of Spirit now! That's what I would understand by God highlighting this particular song to me. And this also goes in tandem with a previous vision where I was standing in brown (supposedly dirty) full clothes (resembling in shape to Saber's) with a sword in my right hand. And it didn't actually make sense to me at that moment though I understood the meaning being standing firm with the sword of the Spirit while being dressed holy and walking in the ways of God. I hadn't thought or seen anything related to Fate/Stay Night or Saber for months when I had that vision.

And a few moments back God was highlighting this song to me.

The Flower Of Carnage - by Meiko Kaji

The Flower Of Carnage.mp4

He highlights things by playing them at His will inside me, or by a vision. I am not good at discerning His voice as of now, but I am doing ok with instructions given via visions, or things highlighted via songs, or the state of things being shown in visions or dreams as I have obeyed the instruction shown in a vision. But I am not good at hearing His voice or discerning if it's Him or my own mind. Discerning visions that are from outside of your conception and things you see as result of your own imagination is easier than discerning the voice of God amidst many things going inside.

Because seeing something out of nowhere that definitely couldn't have been conceived in your own mind stands out alone, but voices get intermingled.

I have also learnt the importance of asking God questions with time as I've received instant answers. Once I received in the form of a song that played in my heart, the recent one I received as a vision with very clear answer to the question. Though I hadn't understood the surrounding that I saw around the written answer, it made sense when I was actually in that place and I realized what the vision had meant. So I waited until the time the written answer God showed me would be fulfilled at that place and then went to perform that which I had questioned God about.

It could also be that He makes us ask questions, so He can give concrete answers without having to say a lot.

I've also understood the nudges of God as the great inner push to do something though you may not be willing to do it by your own reasoning or will. Somewhere within the past week or so I came back inside after taking a walk on the roof, and I felt this strong inner kind of direction to go back there. I couldn't understand the origin of it or why would this 'thing' wants me to go back towards the end of the roof. But I obeyed despite not wanting to go, and then I saw my specs lying there. I wasn't having a feeling that I had forgotten something so I should go back and look - that's different. It was something 'telling' you to go back and making it very much significant in your thought process or whatever you would call it, and such a directive push can be clearly discerned as being different from being a result of your own thinking.

The same thing I felt when I went outside one night as I had to obey God's answer to a question I had posed the last day, but I didn't clearly know where I was supposed to go though I had my own understanding. I stood for a few moments at the front gate and was confused about where to go. I turned to my right and looked in the street to my right that followed and saw no one there. But I didn't also feel a push to go in and rather there was a repelling sort of negative push which felt like I wasn't supposed to go in that direction. So I turned back and came back inside. But I did obey God in the part where He had shown me the time at which I was to leave when I was roaming on the roof though it wasn't the same time that I went downstairs and outside, I did that when I felt comfortable and felt that that was the time God was highlighting as I spoke something earlier to someone.

Later on I understood somethings about that incident and that it had fulfilled the purpose that God intended it to. So, I'm relying on these directions from God as they are also in good and safe timings.

Learning to discern God's directives and instructions is a process for me, and seems like a long one. There are some who heard His voice very clearly when they got saved, like Brother JK when he was called to his ministry of uncovering the one up one down truth of the spiritual condition of this world.

If I go out and act according to my will, it won't be good for us.

I think I understood what the number 9 meant after reading this week's devotional by Sis Adele.

But at times I do feel quite anxious at obeying God promptly as I don't know what lies ahead when He plants these directions in your brain. It's a process to come to a place of discarding the comfort of knowing where you're going and what you're supposed to do before you set out, and learning to trust God blindly because He has His own reasons for keeping certain things to Himself and revealing only some to us when He wants something done.

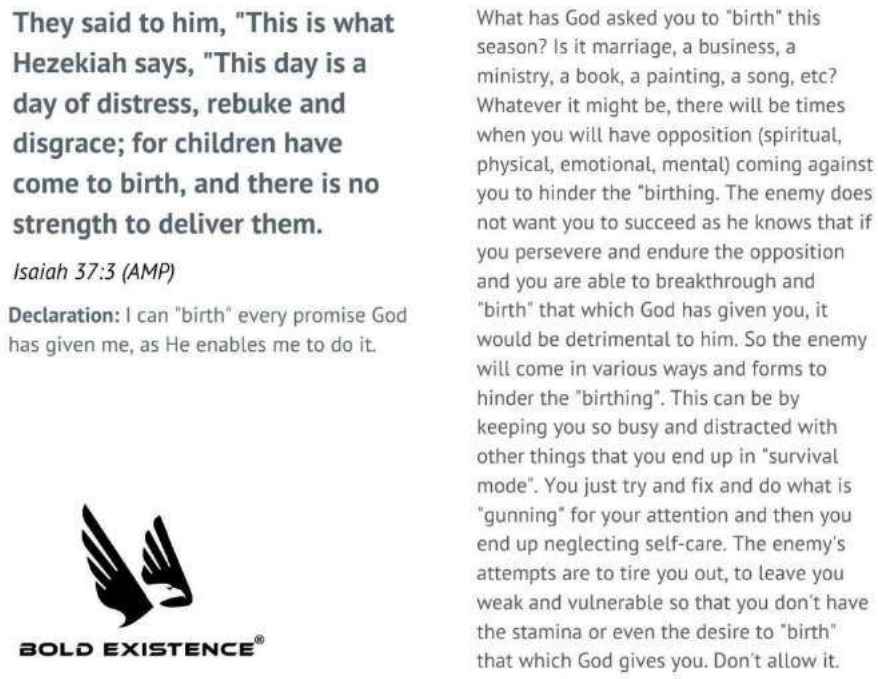
It's a process of changing your mind according to the ways and the Word of God and undoing the worldly programming. Sometimes you need to do one thing first before God will reveal the next to be done. I just want to be attentive enough when God speaks because He can speak anytime He wishes and we have to pay heed to Him because He doesn't speak in vain as what Sis Adele also said in the video I watched today.

I really respect and admire Brother JK's obedience to God, like how prompt he is and does things at the moment's notice like he built and completed that epoxy floor before the arc event as God had instructed him to though it was very brutal to be burdened with that heavy a work to be done at such a short notice. I want to be like that, too.

For me I get stuck with my own presumptions and fear of not knowing what lies ahead. So, I have to learn from Brother JK and walk accordingly in my own walk with God, with full faith in Him and not fearing the next step.

I can go out and do what I want, but I won't, until God pushes me out. Waiting for the next directive. We've to beware of devil and his schemes as well and God knows them too well. devil always opposes the will of God and is out like a roaring lion seeking whom he may devour. You've to be beware of that and keep safe in your place waiting on God. Don't give devil a door to come inside.

We've to rest in the knowledge of God being a shield around what He's spoken and not let our human reservations or fears overtake us though they do sometimes, and that's ok. We can pray to God to give us strength during such times. We don't have to overdo or try harder because that would be of no use. What God spoke, He will watch over it to perform it and it will definitely come to fruition. And we shouldn't try to make things quicker or slower. We just have to be restful at our places doing our work knowing that the good Will of God will be fulfilled because of Him (and not because of our special efforts) in His timing.



This is a very encouraging devotional I received today. We just have to keep in mind that the devil has been a thief and a loser from the beginning. Adele is right. The enemy's attempts are to tire us out, and to leave us weak and vulnerable so we don't have the stamina or even the desire to "birth" the promise that God has given us.

When I was an atheist, calling this way of starting new things according to God's purposes as 'birthing' them would've seemed too weird to me. But now I've got accustomed to it and all other believers use it too. And I understand now why is it called that. It is so because when God speaks something over your life, there's always a time-period between the time of spoken Word and its fulfilment and during that time-period takes place the 'formation of the baby' and then comes the time when what God had spoken actually manifests in our lives which is called birthing. So yeah, it makes sense in a way. Because God's spoken Word is the seed that starts the formation of the baby or forms the grounds and creates circumstances to lead to the vision spoken by God. The time in-between is very much like caring for a baby in formation as you listen to God's instructions and follow specific rules, avoiding somethings and doing what God tells you - doing all this eventually leads to a time when what God spoke has become ready to be 'birthed' in our lives. It's not too weird after all, it seems.

Page 16. 'No More Eating'

13:59

Late last Night I kept having thoughts of eating noodles though I didn't really want to as I already had dinner; I mean I could've resisted it and went to sleep. But the inner push seemed too weird to me as it was recurrent. So I just went ahead, cooked and ate. And sometime later as I happened to murmur this worship song while lying in bed, I happened to utter 'No more eating' in synchrony with the other 'No more' verses of the song, and I could tell that it didn't came from my own mind but was quite unexpected. I understood that God had now commanded me to 'eat no more' after overfeeding and treating me the last time.

And now since it is an instruction this time, I feel scared to even touch food because it has been instructed by God, and I have to 'obey'. Though I was feeling hungry an hour so back, I resisted as a fear dawned upon me. Fasting is very much necessary in your walk with God.

Well, but I can drink for sure, so I had tea in the morning and I can have milk and juices. And I will not eat until God tells me next to resume eating. I think or am expecting that He will only tell me to eat a little bit when my dependency on food has been broken as I had been feeling really downcast for two days with a heavy head and I tried to soothe myself with food. But it didn't work as well as was needed, and I kept returning to the same downcast state of heart and mind. But, today I feel a little better though I have not had breakfast and lunch, and it tells a lot about how things 'really' work. God knows that using anything else other than His Spirit and having fellowship with Him will not help in me being uplifted in spirits. So He commanded me 'No More Eating'.

I will continue like this until He instructs me or shows me when and how to eat and in what measure.

God understands the struggles His children face, and uses right situations to bring a change in them in order for them to be in closer fellowship with Him and to be walking in the Spirit.

The last time I fasted for three days it was a personal endeavour, but now it's a command. I didn't feel any fear of eating the last time, though I didn't eat as I wanted to stick to what I had determined in my heart. But this time, I am fearful. Also, I only had tea once in a day for two days, and water on all days. But this time, I will only drink all sorts of liquids and not eat anything, as I want to stick to the phrase.

Also, many weeks back when my roommate had still yet not returned here, I happened to look at her uncovered bed as I was about to leave the room to get some food. And it wasn't a usual act of looking, but rather I happened to focus on the written part on the mattress and kept looking until I understood what was written and it was - 'Real Comfort'. I understood that God was telling me that real comfort was found in Him and not in food as I had been trying to deal with the negative feelings because of the current situation by depending on food. But apparently, telling me that 'He' was the one who provided 'Real Comfort' and not food wasn't enough. Though it kept recurring to me, that depending on food is just an illusion, because real comfort comes from God and my behavior also was making food as an idol as I was relying on it more than God to cope, I still couldn't change my inclinations. But God finally gave a command yesterday to bring me to the place of 'Real Comfort'.

Yesterday when I was on roof hanging my shawl on the wire to wash it in sunlight, I noticed that I had just uttered 'Open your mind'. And a few days before that, I kept having visions of my head, represented by a golden but spiritual form, being cracked open at the top and what seemed like white light being poured in it. And even a while back I was feeling this struggle which came along with visions of a structure trying to break free.

God is communicating that we've to open our minds to receive His treasure of Holy Spirit, which is to say, we've to undo all aspects of thinking that we learnt in this world if we want to walk in the truth. Opening you mind is very much like your spiritual being opening itself to the reality of God's power and how faith harnesses it through the Holy Spirit. There is a golden spiritual being inside of all of us. And we all should crack open our 'minds' and receive God's outpouring of His spiritual gifts. Opening one's mind doesn't just pertain to receiving gifts from God, but mainly undoing all worldly programming and walking in the knowledge that God can perform a miracle anytime and anywhere as He leads you in His path.

Opening one's mind doesn't come easy to those who've become used to the worldly patterns and have accepted it as the only reality. We shouldn't try to be logical when we walk with God. It's a walk walked with blind trust and full faith in Him. He will cover you up with a 'real armour' out of thin air when situation calls and it's in His Will.

Sis Adele:

Turning of the Tides

I heard the Holy Spirit say: "The tides are turning".

The Lord then prompted me to look up the meaning of "tides" and "turning", these are the definitions He highlighted to me:

Tide – Alternate rising and falling, a powerful surge of feeling or trend of events.

Turning – Move so as to point in a particular direction, in a different position in relation to its surroundings or its previous position, fold or unfold.

The Lord then gave the following two scriptures:

Psalm 118:16 (MSG) – The hand of God is raised in victory! The hand of God has turned the tide.

Psalm 56:9 (TLB) – The very day I call for help, the tide of battle turns. My enemies flee!

God said the following:

"I am turning the tides in your life. That which was high will be brought low. That which was low will be brought up. I have spoken these things multiple times and now it is here. Seek Me and ask Me what this means personally for you, child of Mine. It is time and it won't delay. My justices are already at work in the earth.

I will continue to expose the wicked and arrogant man among you. When I move you or tell you to separate yourself from a situation or a group of people, do so, and do so without delay. Otherwise, if you remain, you might be caught in the middle of My justice being poured out on them. I never speak in vain. So if you heed My words, you will remain safe.

Do not defend a wicked man. I am the Lord your God. Rather stand up and fight for the powerless, the righteous, the orphan and the widow. Do not allow the corruption in the world to taint your heart. Know My ways and follow My instructions. I won't leave you helpless when you adhere to My principles. I am moving swiftly in the earth now.

You will find you might struggle to catch your breath sometimes due to the pace things are moving at. Do not concern yourself child with the shortness of days. But rather come and ask of Me how you can steward your days well. There is no time to waste. Stay in tune with Me. Come to Me as often as you can during each day so that I can wash you and refresh you and refresh you. Keep standing firm against the onslaughts of the enemy.

Remember, I have already given you the victory. Learn to see differently. A renewed perspective will help you in the coming days. Wait on Me and continue to wait on Me. I will always show you the way to go when you commit your course to Me. Receive the joy and hope which is found in Me. I love you."

Here are the other scriptures the Lord gave with this word:

Numbers 16:21, Jeremiah 51:45, Amos 5:24

Be blessed

Page 19. Last Night's Weird Experience

18:58

I had a very weird experience last night. I can't recall exactly though when was it, but I do remember being half asleep and feeling a weird restless emptiness in the place of my heart. It felt so empty, well, not really empty, but it certainly made me too restless. I never experienced this before. It felt like something outside of me had taken a place within, it didn't feel like my own state. I kept tossing and turning but it wouldn't go away. Don't know if it was a part of spiritual warfare. Though I experienced some a night before when my roommate wasn't there for the night. I woke up and heard a woman's voice singing a song I didn't understand the lyrics of in a weird tone. It came from my left side from above the dressing table. It was late night. After she stopped, a guy downstairs (most probably watchman but not certain) walked around singing that same song (I recognized it bcz of the same monotonous tone), as if the spirit which was in my room had now taken hold of him.

Then after a while I heard the sound of a quick breath from the same spot. I was ignoring all of it. And there were also songs playing in my earphones in a low volume. When the Book of Psalms begun as the narrator was speaking, "The Book of Psalms", I heard a panic stricken very short high pitched shriek from the same spot. Apparently, the same spirit was manifesting in that spot.

Anyway. And yeah, I also faced a lot of what felt like spiritual oppression coming from that direction. And I automatically started praying in tongues though I was half asleep. I have now faced this thing multiple times, where I face some sort of attack during night, and then I start praying tongues which I happen to resort to by default now whenever I face this kind of struggle. And the next morning I woke up feeling so tired. I think I will from now on sleep after praying and covering the room and myself with the spiritual blood of Jesus. I just go directly to sleep. We can't ignore or pretend as if warfare isn't real when demons are on the loose to carry out their own assignments.

Coming back to last night, it was nothing like something that I've experienced before. There was a throbbing emptiness inside of me but it wasn't my heart, though the feeling was manifesting in that spot. It was a little emotionally painful too; didn't understand the cause of it, and it came out of nowhere. God has often played songs in my heart to communicate certain things to me, the meaning of one of them I understood later after an incident happened and I realized that one particular song that had played on its own in my heart right after I got out of bed when I was staying in that other PG actually represented the thoughts or state of heart of someone that God was communicating to me about. Because that person did that thing after a few days or perhaps a week and it was quite unexpected. And the song was in future tense (as was the original song). I hadn't understood why that particular song would play on its own when it was long back in childhood that I had watched that movie and wasn't a great fan of that song either. But it wasn't about the song, it was about the literal meaning of lyrics. God plays the related lyrics though they may not make sense in the context of the song or the lines that follow, but the lines that God plays are the ones He's been communicating to me. The first such playing of lyrics that I can recall is the one that I mentioned earlier here, and it was somewhere during the last year before I had shifted to this PG. God also makes me feel a certain way in my heart when I can clearly see that the feeling isn't mine but pertains to that same person. Sometimes my heart skips a beat, like a quite apparent but unexpected jump that stands out. I've learnt from experience now that God is keeping me connected to that person. However, I'm not sure about last night's incident. And plus, these demons have to attack you (it feels so oppressive, literally like an invisible evil presence you're wrestling with as you pray) when you want to sleep peacefully and you feel so tired afterwards.

I love the Lord.

Page 20. Gen 6 and my small House of the Lord

27 February 2022
12:54

When I was reading Genesis 6 to make my notes few weeks back, I was filled with an overwhelming feeling of hurt and sadness as I was getting an inkling of the extent to which the heart of God was grieved seeing the extent of wickedness that had taken hold of mankind on earth. The feeling stayed for some days, coming and moving back into the shadows intermittently.

Reading in order to understand the Word deeply and write your understanding of the same helps in understanding the heart of God than just reading it objectively and leaving it. I could feel the grief and pain in God's heart that He felt at that time. Then later on when I was going through Sis Adele's notes, she too was grieved by God's pain and expressed her sadness. I felt good and strengthened, seeing that there are others as well who understand how seeing wickedness prevailing in mankind affects God, where at one instant He had to decide to destroy all life on earth.

When I read Genesis 6, I had wanted to cry for the pain that God experienced, but I withheld the outer expression.

God has a heart, a very good one, the perfect and the best indeed, and therefore His grief and pain is pure too. It's not some adulterated form of pain that a doubleminded man feels. Therefore, a wicked doubleminded man can't also understand the agony and pain that others go through.

I also want to write about the small House of the Lord I made out of a coffee cardboard cover. It was something I just felt like making and I enjoyed making it. And I don't know if it's a coincidence that I had made it. But after I made it, I had a dream on night where God was singing over me and was walking wearing red suit with white shirt inside (is this prophetic as well?) and with many many garlands of flowers (and this.) around his chest. It was to showcase the House that I had made. The dream went like this. There was this song playing. Then it showed me walking in a long purple t-shirt with one or two garlands around my chest with 'few' purple flowers widely separated apart and then the whole dream shifted to my left side where "GOD" was walking in swag wearing the outfit I described above and the entire focus was on 'Him'. He showed Himself as an old man in that dream and had many many many CROWDED garlands of flowers of various colors around Him. OFCOURSE, GOD HAS ALL THE GLORY!!! And it was apparent in that dream!! But the voice that was singing the song was that of a 'young man' who was singing that I could call on 'His' name and Father God who was walking like a celebrity wasn't the one singing it. I didn't get to see the one who was singing.

I had pasted the four-letter Hebrew name of the 'Father' with red paper inside the temple. I guess that's why He showed up dressed like that, because I also pasted floral wallpaper outside the temple. Father God acknowledged and gave value to the small temple that I made. I hadn't understood the concept of 'Son of God' too well back then, so I wrote the name of 'Father God' inside the temple. Also, I didn't have personal experiences and encounters with Jesus too which I now have and which has led me to grow closer to Him.

Though I know that it's us who are the temples of God as His Spirit dwells inside us, but I just made it out of love for God, and Father God honored it by wearing that outfit.
And after I shifted to my current place I had a vision of a glowing flower having a glassy structure on it which too was glowing and the whole thing was rotating and it looked so beautiful. The glassy structure resembled in its print the paperweight that I have. So I put the paperweight outside the supposed door and I understood the glow as the light that comes from inside, and so started putting a burning candle inside.

Sometime later I stopped putting a candle and didn't do so for a few months, but now I feel like putting one inside again. I won't call the small House a tabernacle acutely constructed with specific instructions and details. It's just been a random act of love from my side and God liked it as He showed me in that dream.

Also, after the wall behind got a black covering because of once intense burning of the candle inside which had led to the whole room filled with smoke and had also blackened to an extent the inner walls, I had a vision where the inner door wall was covered with the same blue floral blue wallpaper that I had used on the floor inside. So I ordered it again and pasted as it was shown to me in the best way I could to mimic what I remembered from the vision, and it covered most of the blackened part inside.

I think I will I put on the inner wall right to the middle wall the Hebrew name of Jesus because it's Jesus who saves. But it's just a feeling that I'm having to put Jesus' name after watching Brother Wally's video today which was all about 'Jesus is Salvation'.

And then after the attached wall had been blackened, some days (weeks?) later I covered the blackened part of the wall with the same blue floral wallpaper because the wall looked too bad. I started random and towards the end it started to take a form and I ended it with what 'I' understood as the 'fist of God'. But my motivation was to cover the black wall. Later on I understood it resembled a human face with a weird nose and a bouquet as well. But I tend to see it as the 'fist' that I originally thought of.

All of a sudden I felt this song in my Spirit this afternoon and it has been recurring since then. Though I try to resist, it keeps recurring.
God has lead me to do other things in a similar manner as well, so I think I should listen to it without much thought. If God puts something in my Spirit and keeps repeating, I should listen to it. I haven't listen to this song for more than easily a decade; perhaps that's why it felt too weird when it came to me this afternoon.

I think God is reinstating in me some of the lost things. A sense of eternality? We gotta learn to be grounded in the reality of us being eternal beings walking in God's everlasting love. And many times it's about the aura that a song carries, and not so much about the specific lyrics.

The normalized satanic thought patterns in the world have created an image of God's eternal precepts as being naïve, foolish and of no value!! People mock at the idea of what's pure and right!

Wow.. it didn't even seem like it was an 8 minute song, and it only had 2 stanzas.

And I felt something pass through my heart as I listened to the first violin stroke. It has a good opening.

It's necessary to have the right mindset when you stand firm against the devil. And that includes having a sort of constancy in character which is lost in the present times but is reflected in old songs. At many places in the Word, we see use of particularly stringed instruments to worship God, praise Him and sing songs to Him.

<<Sur (The Melody of Life).mp3>>

Sur (The Melody of Life).mp3

This part of the song actually reflects how God is to be worshipped - not with vain words that just leave one's lips, but with a heartfelt melody that originates from deep within the heart.

The use of stringed instruments also relates to the use of a part of animal intestines in making those instruments back in the days of OT. And it explains why Harp - a stringed instrument - is the instrument of God's choice; the strokes come along with a sense of depth as the strings are made of intestines. (I learnt this info from Brother Wally's video - The Human H.A.A.R.P Project)
We are human harps, and when we sing to God from a place of deep intimacy, it is a metaphor for us playing the strings made of our intestines (representing the depth of our singing), and the melodies sound to God like strokes leaving a stringed instrument .

Page 21. Gratitude

22:04

Well, I usually pray quite random prayers. And this afternoon while walking on the roof, when I wanted to pray and started praying, I started praying gratitude prayers, thanking God for everything. And it actually seemed quite unexpected to me because it came on its own. Almost as if I was drawn to pray and thank God for doing this great work in my life, as if something had been accomplished or brought near completion, and therefore I was drawn to thank God for everything.

It's an inclination that originated by itself as I'm feeling a sense of completion of something. If I've interpreted correctly, the Lord gave me a sign of 'Victory' yesterday. I'm getting a feeling of completion of this particular phase/part.

God had shown me something that was to come to pass in my life, and I've been waiting for the same. He didn't give me a specific time, but it was my own understanding that it should happen in February because of a vision which I might have misinterpreted. I many times don't understand what God shows or flashes to me. Like once I happened to see a '669' (guess it was few weeks back), and I didn’t understand until I came across Isaiah 66:9 which says the below.

(NIV)
Do I bring to the moment of birth and not give delivery?’ says the Lord.
‘Do I close up the womb
when I bring to delivery?’ says your God.

And I can roughly recall Isaiah 66:9 coming at first to me as I asked what 669 meant. But I brushed it aside because it seemed too weird to me and didn't even look up Isaiah 66:9. What God has been working on to build according to His plan will definitely come to fruition or will be 'birthed'. The above verses are often used to signify the 'birthing' of a promise that God has been working on to manifest in your life.

When God has done all the work, won't He bring it to completion? When He gave form to His promise by creating situations and circumstances, won't He deliver the promise? He would.

We should be thankful to God for gifting us with a thing of value, even during the 'transition' phase that we go through before we've birthed the promise, as we can be sure that what God has spoken "will" come to pass.

Though we are saved by grace, we've to watch our thoughts and actions as well and sanctify. And I for sure need sanctification because of some intrusive thoughts and feelings I started having due to narc abuse. I have to stand firm with my sword of the Spirit. I can see a lot of filth inside me and I want it out.

I think when I was shown '669', I was thinking or worrying about my actions - if I was doing or acting in the way God wanted me to in following Him. I was worried if I had to some things that I wasn't doing and I didn't know what more to do, as I'm trying to move forward with God in the best way I presently can, given my intermittent changing moods. I wish I was more stable but with everything that has been going, I felt I could've done a better job in following God in the absence of it all, where I didn't have to think about abusers trying to shipwreck my happiness in wicked heartless ways. I was perhaps thinking if everything was going the way it was supposed to. Then God flashed me 669, and it can't mean anything else other than Isaiah 66:9. God reassured me. Sometimes He reassures you. He's so good. He cares.

This increased my confidence in God. And then I keep assuming stuff and keep convicting myself of disobeying God. I don't want to be in this place. I want to be at a place where I clearly know God's instruction and it's not fused with my own thoughts, and therefore I would know for sure if something was to be done, like the way I followed what I saw with my temple and one more thing in my room. Those visions were easy and obvious to understand. But many times, they're not easy to understand or interpret, though I'm further ahead in my walk with God.

I know the scenario God showed me, but I don't know when to expect it. All I know is that I'm changing according to God's Will. He's been working on my heart like He's worked on yours.

And today I've been feeling like thanking God for this work in my life and on my heart which has changed my disposition towards Him and led to me wanting to change according to His ways and nature.

I am following a reading program offered by Sis Adele. She sits with the Holy Spirit and makes notes as highlighted and then shares her notes. She doesn't act like a teacher of 'men', but she just shares her notes revealed to her by the Holy Spirit. I don't think that's unbiblical. Also, God told her to start that Discipleship Accountability course. And it has talked into my situation a few times now, where what I wrote here in my Notebook was later confirmed or explained in more details in her notes. Also, her understanding has helped me in understanding more things related to the kingdom of God, like spiritual warfare, transition period and how God works. She doesn't sit and preach or talk over men. She just uploads her videos and notes on internet.

The third main scenario God showed me in the dream I mentioned above happened during night time, so I go out during night hours only. The first two scenarios already came to pass on different days, though they were part of the same continuous dream. I have to follow God's instructions and timings, and not my own.
I don't know better than God that I should try to replace 'His' Will with my supposed 'better reasonable timings' expecting His plan to be fulfilled. His plan will be fulfilled the way 'He' has shown to me, and not otherwise.

The focus of the first two scenarios wasn't very much on the day or night part of the day as they were shown happening inside with me eating all the time. I was wondering why I'm eating that much continuously, I mean quickly after the last time I ate, I would again come across food and eat some. I guess because it represented many days, and while all this was going, a certain person appeared twice in two different outfits, but both the times it was a quick glance and ignore kind of situation. And that's how it happened to come true, the first scenario being during late evening hours, and the second during late afternoon hours, and I happened to come across the person wearing those same outfits shown to me in the dream. That's how I knew it was a prophetic dream. The third scenario shown was specific in the part of the day - it was night and I went out and I again came across that person but this time it wasn't a glance and ignore situation but I actually received God's promise.

But I didn't expect that there was going to be a long duration of time after the second appearance for the third one to manifest the way God showed me, and that there would be many incidents in-between which I didn't see in the dream. There was no month highlighted in the dream. The first two scenarios took place within the past two to three months. The first was on the late evening hours of the day I pasted the 'apparent' fist of God on my wall to cover the blackened part. Later on I recalled that I had actually 'seen' that person in exactly that outfit in the first appearance in my dream, and later on after few days he made the second appearance in the outfit I had seen in the dream. Now I'm waiting for the fulfilment of the third incident that I saw, and I guess there was meant to be a period of time needed for the situation to manifest.

I want to be in a state of mental clarity, knowing well what is to be followed and what are my own thoughts. I don't want to overlook things like I did Isaiah 66:9 when in fact it was the right interpretation of the number God flashed to me.

I actually related this situation with what I read about the transition period of Noah in Adele's notes, where he didn't know how long he was to stay inside the arc. God revealed to him the duration of rain, but not the duration before he would actually set his feet on land.

20:14

Many times people commit horrendous sins first, going to even the extent of murdering others, before they finally learn their lesson as they get healed by the supernatural power of God and then they realize they were powerless from the beginning, and that it was only because of God's good grace, merciful and longsuffering nature that they were able to dish out the abuse that they did in the first place, and then they have no words to say. They just don't look at you and leave without even expressing any gratitude as they're filled with shame. They can't say a word to you as they realize the extent to which they've lost. But while they were previously out dishing out abuse they felt all powerful and above it all, as if they had power over everything. But at the end of it all, they won't have a word to say. That's how you kill the enemy with the sword of the Spirit - by 'healing' them with God's good Will and then they're left speechless as they look at everything they did to you.

Page 23. God answers instantly sometimes

Yesterday I suddenly realized how not-so-normal it is to have God answer you instantly when you ask Him something, as I realized that He's not obligated to answer. Who am I or anyone else that the God of the heavens and the earth should answer them when they ask Him something (though He answers instantly or communicates directly with some people). I've been taking it for granted and treating it like a usual and casual thing when He answers or shows me something. If I took it very seriously, I would be considering my own thoughts, behavior and actions quite seriously too.

After Sis Adele released the Word 'Turning of the Tides' in which God had asked to ask Him what it meant personally for each one of us, I was praying and asking for more revelation about the same. And God showed me that Sis Adele was being used as a literal mouthpiece by Him. And yesterday I had this realization that how grateful I should be because God answers and that it's a big thing. Though it's a norm for many people, but still I'm very much grateful that He answers in His own chosen ways even though I may not understand the meaning in some cases. I think I will start to do better as I grow in my knowledge of the Word.

And then I looked back at all other past instances where God had answered instantly or given some sort of revelation. I felt grateful.
I never thought in my entire life so far that God would show me things, even less that He would kiss my left cheek during my lowest moments few years back. It all just seems so unbelievable yet heart touching at the same time. God wants an intimate personal relationship with His children. He's perfect and amazing and the source of all good things.

Philippians 4:8 (KJV)
Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things.

I was trying to find the scene of Lion's roar in Kungfu Hustle that God highlighted to me somewhere within the past few weeks, and I found the one that matches the closest to it. And as I was watching the video below, when Lana talked about 'roaring boldly in authority', I felt it helped me understand in some ways the significance of what I had seen - the bold roar because of God's work on our hearts.

Page 25. Satanic Fleshly Music

12:16
Today I happened to pay attention to the thumbnails of few mp3s I had been listening on a music app. I was felt with utter repulsion and disgust, because all the thumbnails promoted satanism. Earlier I was focusing only on the contents - the music or the lyrics. Some of the lyrics were good and could be understood as Godly.
And in fact I kept humming inside those few godly verses of an entire song whenever they played, as if they were the only parts that were highlighted and touched my heart.

But today I couldn't keep those songs in my playlist because they were stinking of idolatry. Suddenly there was a repulsion inside me and I got rid of them all, even though I may have liked some godly lyrics of a song wrapped in an ungodly thumbnail belonging to some ungodly movie. Earlier, listening to an entire ungodly song for those few godly verses in the lyrics seemed worth it and I still love those few godly verses.

Perhaps I would convert few mp3s from YouTube.

And I experienced a similar thing the day before yesterday. I went to the roof and some ungodly song was being played loudly through speakers at the roof of the adjacent building, I just couldn't listen to it though others were dancing at it. Earlier I would've felt neutral as I ignored a lot of stuff, but that day it was like poison to my ears and made me cringe. It led me to think if the people who were dancing on it were so morally blind or had gone so or were so desensitized that they couldn't see that the song actually stank.

I can clearly see what is worldly and what is godly now. Even liars repel me. I could see when someone told a lot of lies in a row. Devil is a liar and so are his children.

There is world on your left, and there's God on your right. You've to choose a side because both are in opposition.

These lines from Sis Adele's notes made a lot of sense to me:
'God does not expect us to give everything to everybody until we ourselves have nothing, no, God wants us to have things too, we should just not have selfish hearts that are not willing to share.'

Many times people give to others because of their own abundance but that doesn't mean they have a selfless heart. God emphasizes on the need to not have a selfish heart though you may not be sharing your 'last bite of bread' with someone who's only testing you or wants to deplete your resources. It's important to have a selfless heart irrespective of what or how much you give.

After I've shifted to the other room, I've decided that I would be out every day. Though I've not really received anything from God regarding this, and I only know the end of the cyclic itinerary, and I really think this has come out of my brain. But if we look at what God has been pointing out through different channels, I can guess something about the end game.

The setting and the time. We need to look at the songs and the prophetic symbol and other things highlighted by God.

The lyrics of a song the music of which I wrote about in here previously could answer the day (in 'my' understanding) and the time of day was already shown by God in that dream, and the event is highlighted in the prophetic symbol.

But I don't know if I should go out every day, as I haven't received or understood anything related to it, but I will certainly be doing at the date and time above.

I just hope I am not trying to 'help' God like those people I've read in the Word so far by trying my own plans. I'm only acting on my own understanding. But that's also what they did at certain times in their walk with God towards their promises.

22:08
Is the symbol above a bold declaration or statement? - That the impression highlighted will definitely come to pass? Though I have no doubt in God's spoken Word over me in that dream, but I was only pondering if the image above is a bold declaration or perhaps another stepping stone in moving towards what God showed me.
Also, I was thinking a few days how the accidental fall of a few burning candles made two depressions on the top and how they give it the look of having two eyes. And today morning I shared with my roommate how the whole thing looked like two eyes above and a mouth below which is emanating light. But I was actually thinking if I should remove the paper weight as it seemed an 'extra' addition to it. And without it, the door would perhaps give a better look of being a mouth filled with light. But I noticed this evening as I was staring at the pic after returning to my PG after work that the paper weight actually gave it a glow in the middle which gave it a 'nose'. How amazing and unbelievable is that. Almost as if God is putting things together with time and they're gradually taking a form.

Without the paper weight, it wouldn't have a nose. I had felt like removing it in the morning, but I didn't as something stopped me and it just didn't seem 'right', not that I was focused on what the paper weight was doing in the middle but I was only concerned about capturing the light coming out of the door in a better way but something in me made it seem as if 'this' is how it was supposed to be. So, I let it be.

Moonlight Candles: (Another confirmation)

I had felt a strong urge to buy a lot of thee candles some months back in that other PG.I didn't focus on the name but I just felt compelled from within to buy these as I was still learning and growing in identifying the nudges of the spirit. My own reasoning was that perhaps these would be useful during economic collapse and that's why the Holy Spirit is pushing me to buy these but I wasn't sure of the reason. I just knew that I had to buy them.
Because I felt a strong compulsion to buy these, I bought. And it goes along with the lyrics of the song too.
But I noticed the name of the brand - Moonlight - today only.

So, we've some sort of picture or idea of how things should unfold according to God's plan or Will.

I was also thinking if I was supposed to continuously eat or eat within very short intervals or overeat during this phase as that's what I was doing in that dream as well. I hadn't understood why would I do so, eat when I am already full. Because I can recall feeling full in that dream and yet, eating.

And even now I can resist and sleep, but it's as if I 'have to' eat. Why is it that after overeating and not doing any physical exercise for a few months now, I'm still the same at weight scale, only a little less weightier. Almost as if I'm losing weight slowly. Because I measured today morning, it was slightly less than yesterday. Now the way you know if you're on the decreasing end of your weight is by looking at the fluctuations of the scale when you stand on it and as it settles on a value. If the fluctuations are shifting towards the decreasing end as you measure each successive day, you're on weight loss. And it just doesn't make sense to me.

Page 28. Prayer Meeting with Brother and Sisters

22:42
Yesterday morning I had a zoom prayer meeting with Sister Adele, Sister Candance and Brother Mike. I was so rejoiced at their sight because I could see their persona reflecting on their faces - good people with noble and gentle hearts.

I had my camera off initially as I was feeling a bit nervous at first, but after listening to their voices I was all good as I felt comfortable around them.

When Candance told me that I was a beautiful, beautiful daughter of God and told me that the first thing she noticed was my eyes and smile, I didn't know how to react to it as I wasn't expecting it as I usually don't focus on outer attributes of people but I knew and could see that she was referring to the joy that was all over my face. Later afterwards the meeting I was thinking I could've given her some compliments too as I looked at her beautiful persona shining out from within. But then I usually keep stuff which seems personal to me inside when it's the first time I am getting to interact with someone. So it didn't occur to me to mention that to her that their beauty was shining out more fervently as they have been with God longer than me and are also well versed with the Word. They were so encouraging. They gave me very helpful advice and encouragement.

Brother Mike told me that one should be kind in the Godly way and not in a worldly way which has people pleasing inbuilt in it. That we've to learn to build thick skin but a soft and kind core inside. Yeah, I think I need to work on that, because not only I sometimes get resentful towards the people who're inflicting undeserved abuse on me, but it makes me hate everyone for a while like today and I don't want to be like that. I've to keep wearing the armour of God because I can see that those thoughts are temporary as if arrows sent by devil. I don't want the wickedness of an evil person affect my relationship with God. Plus Adele told me that God had been preparing me my entire life for this and to take courage. This also made me feel that what I'm going through isn't just a scheme of devil but could be understood as a form of worldly persecution coming from devil through a certain person as God uses this situation to bring His sheep together.

This is my calling and I've to learn to walk in it with my heart guarded and the full armour on. I can see I've not been guarding my mental gates and taking care of some stuff.

Thank You Jesus for bringing the body of Christ together at such a time as this, so they could be united and work together in a better way.

Yes, our beautiful, beautiful God has all the glory as He uses us in various ways. We should never forget to thank Him for being kind and merciful to us and for choosing us to use us for His kingdom purposes. There couldn’t and shouldn't be any work that seems better than the one He assigns to us.

It was a wonderful experience to connect face to face with my fellow brother and sisters who've been in fellowship with God for long and are well versed with His ways.

I want to keep myself in the Word every day for some time as I don't want the things that lie ahead to affect my building of a relationship with God. I've to change my thought processes as well. Once you break out of the matrix, it takes a while to adjust to the new understanding of how things really are, and this world is nothing but merely an fleshly illusion that people are living forgetting about the existence of God. Some of God's sheep is lost and scattered. It's the responsibility of shepherds to bring those that can be brought back together to God.

So, this is my prayer for today - that God will use His mighty hand in bringing His lost sheep together back to Him in unexpected ways. I pray this in the name of Jesus. Lord, let it be so.

I'm feeling as if I've nothing to lose in my walk with God as God already does everything needed to bring His plan to fruition and has already bought us. We walk in victory in any case. Because God did all the work to buy us back to Him and now we have to walk in His will and do His Kingdom work.

Page 29. Spending More Time with Open Ears

06:48

God talks through many ways. It has happened a few times that I've woken up with some a song lyric playing inside, though I may not be knowing the full song. And to hear the lyric or a particular verse once is one thing, but when it keeps repeating like it did today, I take it a sign to look it up as it is drawing up my attention again and again. At times, I would just focus on the particular verse being repeated or highlighted and try to understand how it applies to my situation. But it just occurred to me that I should actually be praying for me to receive more revelation regarding the verse/lyric instead of forming my own conclusions.
I did pray, but the kind of prayer I prayed would be like asking a question once or twice and then letting it go irrespective of whether I received an answer or not.

But I want to now switch to what Adele was talking about. Sitting for long, perhaps an hour with my ears open to God while keeping my attention fixed on Him. It will also help me in learning not being so easily distracted and keeping my gaze fixed on God.

Page 30. The Reality of Human Condition (God-created Spirit from Heaven trapped in satanic flesh on Earth)

10:10

I want to write here the English meaning of the lyrics of a Hindi song that I woke up playing in my head few days back and kept recurring to me that day throughout. I shared the song with my younger brother and an Aunt as well who had come to visit me.

The lyrics describe our state and how we're fallen and how God makes a way. The words from man I've highlighted in red and black, the words from God in red and white. The song: Aye Khuda (Lyrics)

What sort of hollowness has taken residence in the heart.
Now to sin has become the second nature.
I only am the one who fell out of blessings (Context - when I was in heaven)

Chorus: (context - painful emotional groaning)

O God,
I've fallen, I've fallen.

As I got separated away from you
I was looted, I was looted. (Context- It was like being looted of everything)

O God,
I've fallen, I've fallen.

As I got separated away from you
I was looted, I was looted. (Context- It was like being looted of everything)

What sort of hollowness has taken residence in the heart.
Now to sin has become the second nature.
I only am the one who fell out of blessings. (Context - when I was in heaven)

O God,
I've fallen, I've fallen.

As I got separated away from you
I was looted, I was looted. (Context- It was like being looted of everything)

O God.. O God... (Context - groaning in emotional pain)

What a huge amount of sin you've taken along to walk with
As if wealth alone is your God.

Every second you spend like it's nothing,
In the shadow of sin you kept walking

(Unstoppable) like a flowing ocean,
You kept walking in your own ways.
Your own will you fulfilled every time.
You are your own culprit.

Chorus: (context - painful emotional groaning)
O God,
I've fallen, I've fallen.

As I got separated away from you
I was looted, I was looted. (Context- It was like being looted of everything)

Stanza 1:
Why do you attach yourself to this world?
One day it's going to pass.
Whatever you gather here,
From your fist is going to slip.

Each person is made of dust

And in dust alone everyone returned.
Know that this is the reality
Why do you turn your face away from the truth.

No matter what desire you fulfil
Your inner drive won't come to a still. (Context - you need to stop running after your desires, and pursue Me, because no matter what you gain you would want more because of this inner nature you've. So, put an end to this now itself and look at Me.)

Your being will be erased
But you won't be able to fulfill the desires of this heart. (Context - because human heart always wants more. So, come to me not heeding the desires you gained from and in this world. Even when you die fulfilling the desires of your heart, your heart still won't be fulfilled)

Chorus: (context - painful emotional groaning)
O God,
I've fallen, I've fallen.

As I got separated away from you
I was looted, I was looted. (Context- It was like being looted of everything)

Stanza 2:
If you think that you're fallen
Take My hand, and get up.
I'm standing at the door of your heart
Let Me in and in your life. (Context - Make Me your own).

You say that you're surrounded by darkness,
Of your path I'm the light.
I took your sins on Me,
In My eyes innocent you're.

Show Me a face,
Have Me meet a person,
Have Me hear from a heart,
Which didn't receive a wound.

Chorus: (context - painful emotional groaning)
O God,
I've fallen, I've fallen.

As I got separated away from you
I was looted, I was looted. (Context- It was like being looted of everything)

22:37

Jesus - the KING of GLORY - all glory belongs to HIM alone!!!

So, is what I happened to understand yesterday a coincidence.

God always plans first and His Word definitely comes to fruition, nothing is ever a coincidence with Him!

Jesus is the King of Glory and the three times I've seen God, once as Father in my dream that I wrote about before, and twice as Jesus in a vision and in real, all the three times God was dressed in red and white.

I had a vision in the previous PG where I saw Jesus walking forward. As always, it wasn't expected. Then in this PG, once when I was walking back and forth on the roof, as I turned the other way, I saw a figure dressed the same as I had seen in my vision - Jesus, fully dressed from head to toe in white with a red drape on one shoulder, while God the Father was dressed modern and walking in swag.

And as I was about to march towards Him, He disappeared. This was a few months back.

23:14

Ways in which God communicates are many times literal. Note the one time attire of God the Father that I saw in my dream. I wasn't expecting that the same would repeat in a different dream from a few months back some of the events of which have already come true in the same order it was shown to me.

After my meeting with Aunty where I was showing her the bracelet with a heart and was eating with a table in front of me, I had gotten up, started walking to my left leaving the scene behind, and had entered a room which looked like a gathering of people and then I too had become a part of it. I can roughly recall I was wearing the blue floral kurta in that gathering. The next thing that I can recall that happened after the gathering is what I've already written about before and I was wearing different set of clothes, that I've already described before, in this next event that was shown.

I am feeling like a foolish person who has been trying to make come true one event of all that were shown to her, by revealing info here and there, not really focusing on the fact that the rest of the events that already came true did so on their own without any special efforts from her side and that there's an underlying order that needs to be followed by the events!! I need to rest in God.

It seems foolish because one doesn't try to force make come true something which is supposed to have been revealed by God, because one can rest being assured that the Word of God accomplishes what it set out for, and that what He has spoken indeed comes to pass with 100% certainty. So, to reveal related info to related people and try to manifest the Word sent by God would of course seem foolish, because it alters the definition of prophecy.

If someone sees a certain event coming to pass at a certain time involving certain people, but then the person tells or reveals to the people related to the event the things that are to be done, and in what manner and at what time, and they do as was told to them, is it still a prophecy then? Perhaps it is, but seems like a manufactured one. That's why I feel foolish!!!

But then the prior events happened without me trying for anything, so it makes me think that perhaps God already had it planned for me to reveal the info in various different ways like the symbol in the previous room I was staying in that I happened to make and it just happened to represent three different things at the same time. And then I kept seeing a rose's impression above my temple in this new room, and it kept recurring to me and kept interrupting me when I was sitting, working or doing other things. So, I made that too. Now, in this new setting of the room after we shifted the furniture around, that rose has now become a hidden rose. It's gonna come across as quite unexpected when the almirahs are gonna be moved.

All these things that I happened to make, I was prompted from within to make, and it was only in the case of the symbol in my previous room on this floor that I realized much later that it actually represented an event from the dream I have been writing about here on this page and previously on other pages too. And then, the rose too was a result of persistent prompting. All these things are sort of unexpected for me because in that dream God just showed me what He did and I have since then been witnessing things unfold, some events already having been come true, and one being confirmed through these various different altars sort of that I've made. Seems as if this event is of major significance in the entire dream as this is the one that was manifested as the impression on the wall on that other room when I wasn't even intending to make anything similar. I was just going with the flow while making it without any particular form in mind, and as it started to grow, I thought I would end the impression by making it look like a fist which in my mind represented the 'fist of God', or could also represent the power that fist of God has, as to make a fist of God would be like making an idol which is prohibited and is a sin. And again in this room I happened to make a rose on the wall as I kept seeing it again and again, and therefore took it as an instruction to be followed and this too relates with the event that the symbol in that other room represents.

I couldn't have thought for myself such an event, but it's the grace and goodness of God because of which He wants and has spoken things to be in a certain way and therefore that's how they're bound to happen irrespective of my own thoughts about my worthiness. Plus, narcs keep trying to instill thoughts of unworthiness in you as they're led by demons and don't want you to receive God's best for you.

11:45

I've learnt some important things from my own walk with God by far and the bible study program I've been following.

And the most important one is to have unshakeable faith in God irrespective of how things may look on the outside. I realized that I still had the tendency to lose heart on seeing things around in the natural quite different from how I expected them to be according to my own reasoning and what God had shown me. But, a few minutes back today I realized that it's God here we're talking about and who's the author of everything and He can be trusted with 100% confidence. This made me joyful again!! I don't want to be like Sarah or Hagar who didn't trust God and take Him for His word but went into despair, like Sarah who ended up making some foolish decisions in order to 'help' God bring His promise to fruition.

I rejoice in the Word of God and His nature and will not let my human reasoning and how things look on the outside affect my inner state.

20:09

Somewhere in the beginning of this year, I had a vision wherein I saw a huge silver colored metallic '2' with a small blue and a small silver star engraved at the top curve of 2. I didn't really understand what it meant. I prayed and the only thing that I could think of was '2 blue stars', '2 silver stars', '2 stars'. And I couldn't get to a concrete conclusion.

Somewhere within the past two months I went on the roof to dry my clothes during day and as I was hanging them, I saw in front of me in the far distance a blue star shaped balloon flying high as it rose above the tree at front. Then came from beneath and behind the tree a silver-colored star shaped one (I actually recall the exact order, that if it was the blue one first or the silver one but from my recollection it could be the blue one that I saw first. I'm not sure though). And then came another blue balloon. And in that moment, I understood what the vision stood for. It really made my day!!

Sometimes God will show us sweet little things just to establish our faith strongly in Him - that whatever He says or has shown will definitely come to pass in His own timing. It was such a sweet surprise from God in the sense of interpretation of that vision.

Page 35. Why We Need to Live Up to a Standard in Holiness?

God is the one who set the standard for His people to live up to - His righteous ways that lead to the way He wants us to live our lives and be a part of His kingdom.

We can't use the cultural norms and standards as an excuse to not live according to the standards of God, and at the end everyone is going to be held accountable for 'his or her' own conduct.

If one is not living up to what one is supposed to, God removes that person from the position he was previously accorded after a certain period of grace. If God is mindful of His people living to a certain standards according to the role accorded to them, we should also be mindful of our own conduct and if we're living according to the righteous standards of God.

In this world of devil, we see exploiters, molesters and chronic sinners accorded with honor despite the shameful deeds they do. And they will accuse us of being too judgmental and picky or rejecting people for 'mild' or 'no' reasons when you have a huge valid reason to exercise strong boundaries with them. And then they try to justify their evil deeds by statements like 'you shouldn't expect the best'. But, this is not the case with God. Though initially we may have been sinners, after we know Christ and are saved by His sacrifice, we've to live right and Holy.

God judges people according to their conduct and expects them to live up to the standard of what they're called for. If they don't do so, God will remove that person from that previous position and give it to someone who can steward it better. The right conduct, qualities and character are necessary in our walk with God. So should we too learn to change our minds and try our best to live up to the expected standards.

Though the world cherishes wickedness and sin, we're not called to degrade our own conduct. We've to be holy and righteous in the sight of our Holy God. Our situations and problems are not an excuse for us to resort to idols (things other than God) to make ourselves feel better. Though the situation you're facing may be very much difficult for you to mentally tarry through, you still are to live denying your flesh. This is what I have been struggled with as I found comfort in food to cope with and to distract myself from the prevailing situation.

We've to heed a deaf ear to those who excuse an ungodly way of living with the phrase 'no one is perfect'. God has His eyes on His own people first whom He has chosen to go out in the world for a specific purpose. If they aren't able to perform well, God gives grace and helps and strengthens too but if He sees that you're not able to fulfil very well what's needed, He will give you what you 'can' do amidst your circumstances.

Since we know the living God for real, we should be very much concerned about our conduct and state of heart in our walk with God. The world neither knows God, nor likes His ways. It only hates Him and His precepts. We're not called to be a part of it.

And the above certainly is a proof and an answer to those who make claims like God allows disobedience and a lack of character unlimitedly as we're justified by His blood and therefore can live as we want. No, we can't. The above is a proof that God has standards set in place and will act and make decisions according to His perfect judgment and wisdom. Though at some point in time one may have been strong or desirable for a certain role, but if that person fails to perform beyond a certain period of grace, he's going to be removed from that role. And this is how it should rightly be!

16:25

A few days back I went to a farewell party meant for my Juniors and had iced water and other soft drinks there. It reminded me of the vision I had a few weeks back the meaning of which I hadn't understood back then. The aura looked like that of 'celebration' by the way an ice cube fell into a glass of water. I thought what would I celebrate with a cold glass of iced water, or why would I party at all. But after that night, it makes sense.

All glory to God. God is not a liar and is faithful.

Also, recently I had an incident which showed me that I was supposed to be eating all this time because had I not, that incident wouldn't have happened and it hadn't made the required impact it made on that person that it meant to. 'No More Eating' holds for the times to come, then, just like the phrase 'The Servant Girl' does. Though I still am a servant of God but am purging my mind of the world and learning to coexist without getting myself stained from the world and hope to be quick in action in the coming future while being led by the Holy Spirit.

The supposed 'Assignment' that I talked about in some of the first pages is related to a dream that I had during my time at home somewhere between 2020 and the time I shifted back to this city in March 2021. God revealed it to one or some of my fellow brothers and sisters too (as I got to know). And I just happened to call it an 'assignment' (though it may not be called that), because this is the first dream that I had regarding something God will have me doing for the kingdom of God. It had me laying hands publicly on the head of a short man on his sick bed and praying for his healing as I was standing behind him with my hands on his head. And after a while as he didn't get healed, I whispered something (a particular phrase) in his ear (let's see how it goes after that in the real moment). Though I know the outcome, I don't want to reveal it and I only revealed up to the point those fellow brethren know. But this is the first 'kingdom work' dream I had, so I happened to call it an assignment.

But amidst all of this, understanding this dream taught me patience and forgiveness because though things may look one way at a certain time, they've a purpose for the times to come. I learnt that the fulfilment of this particular dream plays a huge part in my own sanctification as I am learning to not be angry and unforgiving to people who're doing me wrong - that's how you get sanctified, when you don't get angry by your wrongdoers but are able to forgive them as you understand why you went through what you did. The understanding of it melted my heart today and I didn't feel any more hatred and anger inside of me.

In that dream, after I whispered that phrase in his year, the screen to my right now had a change, while previously I had prayed verbally, then looked at the screen, then prayed in tongues, and looked again, but there was no change. After the screen changed showing the motions of a normal person, he got up from the hospital bed which was laid in open, and got down from it, and I was smiling as he was healed and now up. Then I moved towards him to my right, while he was looking straight. Amidst all this, I heard the sound of a girl's voice that said a few times, "Is se shaadi honi thi' (She was to be married to him). When I stood close to him, he looked away to his right with an expressionless face and then walked away in front of me. And then I turned to the other side, walked a few steps ahead and said to the people present there - 'God did this', after which the dream ended.

I whispered in his left ear, "Jesus Loves You", after which the machine to my right showed a normal variation of whatever it was measuring. I felt prompted to write this here now. And when I was about to write the above, I recalled that I had bought that t-shirt imprinted with the phrase 'Jesus Loves You' long back in A-16. But when I had bought it… I can't really recall why I chose that particular t-shirt. I was looking to buy some Christian t-shirts and liked that only on Amazon back then – out of all the Women Christian t-shirts I happened to take a look at. Though now, there are many more styles available that I like.

While I wrote the above, I had a vision in which I saw Glory wailing silently with an open mouth. And then his upper body came close to me and kissed me. Please don't cry.

Now I can understand why he walked away after he got healed, seeing the voices that said, "Isse shaadi honi thi" "Isse shaadi honi thi".. He walked away because he was already set in his mind by that time that he will not look back as he must have already left me. And I had perhaps become a full-time worker of God by then who was now healing others through His Spirit (because I didn't see Glory around in that dream). So, if they now want to chop my hand(s), keep in mind that I had both my hands intact in this dream because I saw them placed on his head. Perhaps they will want to chop them after I perform the act. This will only, again, show their selfishness and cowardice.

While I was writing the above, I heard in my Spirit the following lines from this song I've posted later in this book.

"If I happen to be separated (from you for some reason)
Never Mourn For Me..

Recalling my love (for you),
Don't Wet Your Eyes..

If You Look Back Turning Your Head
You'll Find my Presence There..

On every step you place your foot on,
My presence will accompany you.."

Don't Wet Your Eyes For Me...mp4

God's gift of healing is given and meant for everyone and not just for one person.

19th May 2023 (Friday)
Later these lines were also highlighted to me.

The grief of my loss has been present in your sadness and grief..
The grief of my loss has been present in your sadness and grief..

My love has given accompaniment
to you in every birth..

If you even take a birth..
My presence with be with you..

On every step you place your foot on,
My presence will accompany you

My Presence.. My Presence..

These lyrics too go along with the event above. Because not only the above event is like a birth for him, but even his spiritual rebirth will have my presence as well.

Rev 18:23
23 And the light of a candle shall shine no more at all in thee; and the voice of the bridegroom and of the bride shall be heard no more at all in thee: for thy merchants were the great men of the earth; for by thy sorceries were all nations deceived.
24 And in her was found the blood of prophets, and of saints, and of all that were slain upon the earth.

23 And never again will the light of a lamp shine in you, and never again will the voice of the bridegroom and bride be heard in you; for your merchants were the great and prominent men of the earth, because all the nations were deceived and misled by your sorcery [your magic spells and poisonous charm]. 24 And in Babylon was found the blood of prophets and of saints (God's people) and of all those who have been slaughtered on the earth."

Page 39. No Substitute for Prayer and Fasting

21:34
With slowly getting on with my routine of food fasting and consuming only liquids while also having been sat for hours praying and trying to focus, I realized there was no substitute for this. This is something that we need to do if we have to get on our walk with God as He wants it and as we are supposed to.

I had never spent a lot of time in prayer before, but now I'm learning to pray with focus and also to identify the faults in my own thinking when it comes to God, like how we are to see ourselves - that we are not self-sufficient beings that can take our own decisions but we are reliant on God for everything like little children and therefore we need to be thankful for everything.

I was trying to wrap my brain around how great God was, how glorious and marvelous, and the extent of His power, and who 'I' was - a 'created' being, created by HIM, and who is UNABLE to create anything except which God has already given me the means and power to. God created everything out of nothing and we are nothing but His created beings, powerless in ourselves and though some may boast about some of the things about themselves, they are nothing, literally nothing without and before God.

We need to know who we are, not individual humans but created beings reliant on God for everything but Whom people have chosen to neglect and have chosen to make their own illusive bubble of reality.

Without prayer time and asking and seeking God to change and humble you and open your eyes to His ways and your ears to His Voice – where you sat for hours without hearing but yet still seeking and praying – you can't really get the extent of the real reality that nowhere resembles what the world looks like on the outside.

I am excited to see how I change with time. Because today as I was sitting at my seat at the workplace, I got a temporary mindset of how it was to be completely on the side of God where you had no doubt in your mind and no ill will and no resisting thoughts because of spiritual warfare. And you clearly see where you don't want to go mentally as it would be wrong, the state of being in total control of your mind because you know that God sees everything and searches the bones and marrow of the human heart. I want to purify my heart and mind to that extent. Currently it's stained because of the evil narcs I have been facing whose behavior was tending to make me think evil things out of a vindictive heart but I didn't want to have those thoughts. It's really the refiner's fire, where you go through undeserved abuse by the morally stinking wretched, yet you are able to keep a forgiving heart while not expecting them to change, and knowing in your heart that it's for God and His love for you that you don't want to be like the narcs that are hurting you. When someone abuses you for long for no reason, it only human to hate them and try to take your own revenge to make things even, or become hard hearted oneself, but not so for the children of God. God uses difficult circumstances to refine His children. And then I think of the words of the disciples of Jesus who while they were persecuted prayed to God to forgive their persecutors as those people didn't know what they were doing - that's something we as children of God and disciples of Jesus can learn from.

God already showed me the extent to which these evil people will stoop, so I already know and can prepare my heart in advance and resolve to not let it affect me negatively and be like them but continue in my walk with God with the fruits of His Spirit. That's my goal for myself. I am not anyone's judge who will sentence them at the end, it's God. I can judge their actions though mentally if they're right or wrong and pray accordingly, but to give a sentence for the same is God's job. And I will not bow down to these people who are led by devil, and that's what God's Will is. Jesus' disciples faced a lot of difficult and trying times, but they didn't succumb to the pressure or persecution, rather they endured the beating until their death and that's how we are supposed to be - let God use the persecution inflicted by the enemy for our own refinement and not succumb to the demands of the devil. We obey the Most High God, not disgusting satan and his minions.

There's no substitute for prayer and fasting in crucifying one's flesh and developing a relationship with God.

Something off topic for a while now - in the fulfilment of a prophecy, all the parties involved have their own roles to play, like I know mine, and if the others understand and get to know theirs, they should also prepare accordingly and take those steps that "God" wants them to take as THAT is His Will for them to do, like His Will is for me to go about a certain way and not any other way. Likewise, others when they've known and understood "their" roles, they should take heed and do that which is needed. Because he will perish without doing the Will of God if he knows what it is. Instead of going about the thing in a way one thinks is right in one's eyes and expecting the other person to follow in that, we've to follow how 'God' wants a certain thing done.

Page 40. Helmet of Salvation

Today for the first time I actually understood the meaning of helmet of salvation as a suit-piece in spiritual warfare.

Like in a war, the head of a person is the most important part to be protected than other parts as any severe injury can lead to blackout or death, so our souls too need to be protected in order for us to not be killed immediately which would be equivalent of eternal death in Hell.

By wearing the helmet, we protect our main body part responsible for keeping us alive and our firm belief in the salvation through the blood of Jesus Christ equates to our soul being protected from eternal death as it is covered under the blood of Jesus. Though our physical body may die, our soul can't die (end up in hell) if we are wearing our spiritual helmet. Apparently, spiritually, you can be killed mainly if you're not wearing the helmet and not otherwise. If you're not wearing your breastplate of righteousness, or carrying the sword of Spirit, or wearing the boots of peace, or the belt of truth, or not carrying the shield of faith, it leads to you facing many other difficulties as you fall into traps of devil, get tempted or fall into sin as your heart is open (for 'attacks') without the breastplate, can't fight the lies of devil without the Sword of Spirit (Word of God), get unstable in your walk without the peace given by the Gospel (as you know where you're heading towards - eternity with God in heaven), get shamed without the belt of truth as your clothes don't stay firmly in place, and can't deflect the lies and other attacks of enemy without the shield of faith. Therefore, the absence of each piece causes a lot of strife in the spiritual war we face daily. However, you can be taken out completely if you're not wearing the helmet (because if you don't have the salvation of Christ, if you die in your physical body, you're spiritually dead too).

And I would just like to add a little bit more about the dream I had after I had made the house of the Lord in which God appeared to me as Father God as an old man -

How I comprehended that the old man walking in many many garlands was Father God was because He resembled an actor famous for his 'Father' dialogue in which He says that He is our Father in relationship and His name is King of kings, and I thought how true that statement is!! God is our King of kings and He is also our Heavenly Father!!!

14th May 2023

I wrote the above as I was led to after I saw a person who resembled Glory to a great extent riding a bike on the other side of the road, dressed in a red V-neck t-shirt as he looked at me with lips perched in the shape of a kiss.

Some months back, when my Sabbath was about to be over, and I had rested the entire day, I saw a brief vision that told me that keeping the Sabbath was like obeying the ways of the Lord in Love. And whenever I think about it, it reminds me of His goodness and His nature - who He truly is and how He really judges the hearts of people. No one is as good as our GOD!!! He is a Righteous judge of everything and everyone and deserves a HOLY church, because He is Holy!!! I see this vision after I had kept the Sabbath as my reward for it, and I still cherish it and will ALWAYS!!!

Therefore, I would encourage the keeping of the Sabbath, though Jesus is our Sabbath and our eternal rest, it pleases the heart of the Lord when we keep His commandments. However, if one is led by the Spirit to work or do a certain thing on the Sabbath, one should go ahead and do it. And if one is led to rest in the Lord with focus on Him and do nothing else, then one should rest alone. Jesus fulfilled the Sabbath for us and He is our resting place, but He loves it too when we keep it.

It was towards the end of 2020 when I was watching a YouTube video on 'missing stars' and other things suggested by a friend. The video had caught my interest because of its seemingly scientific bent and the idea of missing stars just seemed hard to believe at first. But then I searched about it and found that what that lady was mentioning had indeed happened and there was no explanation found for it.

Somewhere in the middle of watching that video, I started seeing a white 'Y' on a white disk, and the 'Y' was glowing in soothing radium Pink in a dark background. I didn't understand at first what that meant. My first thoughts were it may stand for God's name Yahweh or Yahusha. But after a few weeks, I found out as I watched more videos on the matter that it actually meant 'Nail' in the Hebrew that the Bible was originally written in. The Hebrew name of God used in the Bible, even way before Jesus came, consisted of 4 letters which are read from right to left and mean 'Hand Behold Nail Behold'. Even the name of Father God that they used bore witness to His future coming as Jesus when His hands would be pierced by nails. This is the way He chose for Himself to sacrifice Himself for our sins.

God took the judgment of our sins upon Himself by coming into this flesh-system as fully God and fully Man - Jesus. His sacrifice was an expression of His LOVE for us as He wanted us to be guilt-free before Him. He forgave our sins and still stood as the righteous Judge by suffering for our iniquities in return, so we can have eternal life with Him in Heaven in our 'new glorified bodies'.

After my belief in the Messiah (the God who saved us from judgment in Hell) was strong and I had proof for myself, I wanted to follow Him and His ways as much as I could. The same friend of mine shared once about 'Sabbath' with me in 2020. I hadn't yet read the ten commandments or even the New Testament completely, but I was on my way. I started keeping Sabbaths seriously from the point in time I got to know how they were kept and that they were given as one of the ten commandments.

Towards the end of one of my Sabbaths, I thought of calling on the name of God and seeing if something happens (it was during the year 2020 itself). I started calling on the name 'Yahuah' repeatedly and continued for a while after which I started seeing a rotating globe covered completely with black serpents wherein the rotation was from left to right. And then fire streaks started going around that globe as if it was being destroyed. The vision ended there. I didn't know what it meant until I came across the ministry of brother Jonathan Kleck on YouTube in the middle of 2021 - again suggested by the same sister and friend.

After watching his ministry, I understood what my globe-vision had meant. The earth is home to the serpent race (or devil's race) and this system is not of the One Most High God who is above it all - the creator of everything. This system is headed towards destruction by fire at the end.

Well, I had to start working out (because of something God had shown me). And because I resumed it after many months, the next day I couldn't even move because of muscle cramps, though the following day after that I was better and could resume the workout routine. But because I wasn't eating anything but consuming only drinks, I started having pain in my legs and therefore couldn't walk properly for the next one or two days. Afterward, I noticed yesterday that though I had resumed working out, my muscles had started loosening and that's why I had started feeling weak and had even difficulty walking. Yesterday I felt as if my legs had become sticks with no substance as I felt weakness. So I ate yesterday and didn’t feel bad about it. And today as well. I will start consuming protein-rich drinks so I can continue working out. I am trying to maintain a balance between physical work and eating, eating at instances when I feel like I should so that I can go on. But it's definitely quite constricted as it seems to me.

Anyway. I am glad I made progress in reading the Word and will soon be completing Exodus and moving on to Leviticus. Though I am going slow, taking the time to think about the Word and how it reveals the different aspects of God's nature and also looking at the notes that I have from the DA course helps in having an engaging and quite revealing experience of reading it. If I was just to read it in one go, it wouldn't be as much rewarding as it is when I am writing my own understanding and also going carefully through Adele's notes. It is definitely an extensive program.

Page 45. God uses His Body to correct itself too.

God will sometimes lead you to people in the body of Christ to witness with your own eyes how to deal with a situation that you're struggling with and how they're doing it better than you. God can tell you what you need to do directly too when it's the thing that would work with you. But sometimes He would lead you to actually watch it happening as someone else is doing the same thing that you are struggling with. In this manner, God uses His body of true believers who're strong in one area to correct and help those who are struggling in that area.

I learned from two ministries that 'instructions of the Lord are fluid and that we are called to be fluid' according to how God wants to use us in a certain situation. After I listened to some videos and had this 'fluid' statement stuck in my mind, I set out to do as I felt I was prompted and led one day in accordance with a vision I had previously. I had a certain outcome in mind when I set out, but as it progressed, some unexpected things came in between, and then I was prompted to go a different way and now had to act in accordance with those things. After experiencing it in my own life, I understood what the 'fluid' statement meant as I now had experience with it. And today as I was listening to another brother, he also testified of how God asked him to do something quite hectic which he couldn't believe at first, but he did it.

Now, for the sheep, who mostly only listen to the messengers while sometimes being led by the Spirit themselves too, the lessons such as above wouldn't be there, but lessons of a different sort are meant to feed their Spirit. We all learn things and listen to others as is required by our calling and purpose and according to the character God wants to develop in us in order to fulfill through us what He wants. I was struggling with how to deal with those who insult or hurt people to their faces without feeling any remorse or guilt but actually see it as something prideful. I was feeling a lot of contempt for such people because they did it intentionally without any regard for if they were doing the right thing or were wrongly hurting others. But then I happened to watch a video in which I saw someone face a similar situation and his reaction to it just blew my mind and answered my dilemma and then I knew how I was to see the situation. Therefore in this manner, God taught me what I was struggling with and changed my character to an extent. If we keep rejecting others because we think we don't want to heap a lot of teachers, we may miss out on a chance to have our questions answered in a straightforward way that we were meant for us and that God wanted us to witness as He knew that that is what would have really affected and changed us. Yes, we shouldn't heap teachers unto ourselves out of itching ears, but we shouldn’t reject others too because we are too prideful and think we don't need to learn from anyone because we will be taught directly by God. Yes, God teaches and answers directly too, but at times He would lead you to those who are doing it better than you and shed light on your own shortcomings and therefore answer exactly what you need to change. Don't reject such chances and corrections of the Lord. So we need to divide the Word of God correctly when it comes to 2 Timothy 4:3.

I learned an aspect of the Love of God directly from watching a fellow believer practicing it when even in the face of humiliation he maintained his demeanor and showed them the truth about their actions. I am glad I watched that video. We should always keep an open heart when it comes to the betterment of our own character and becoming Christ-like. And often God will use other people and experiences to bring about necessary changes in us. On the other hand, we also have to watch ourselves and make sure that we don't tear others down with our false perceptions and judgments of them. When we do this, we hurt those we are judging, and quick false judgment is not an act of love but of self-righteousness.

As I have been following some ministries, not only I have grown by listening to them, but I have also witnessed their own growth as well and how they correct themselves when they understand something about their past behavior, and it truly blesses my heart to witness that also. It also leads to the development of a love-filled bond between the members of the body as they learn from each other and from God. The body is supposed to edify itself as different parts of it receive different impartations and revelations from the Spirit.

Page 46. What does it mean that the Kingdom of God is within us?

Believers well advanced in their walk with God may know and understand this well. But I'm writing this here for those who are at a stage in their understanding that I was at some time back as I was still learning to see things differently and how God, though being the creator of everything and King over all creation, is hidden from the knowledge of most people, and yet there are those who walk in close fellowship with Him and follow and obey Him.

The Kingdom of God is not apparent when you look at the world with eyes of logic and rationality and when you think along the lines of you being nothing more than a mere mortal who will live for a hundred or so years and then die. Though yes, we are mortals when it comes to being in our flesh bodies, our inner being is eternal. So how is the Kingdom of God seen in this world which is running after more and more and higher and higher worldly status of one form or another?

The Kingdom of God is made manifest to us more and more when we receive God's Holy Spirit inside of us. It is the most intimate form of union God formulated for His children to be led by Him, and that's also part of the reason that it is written that blasphemy against the Spirit of God won't be forgiven (Mark 3:29 - but whoever blasphemes against the Holy Spirit will never be forgiven; they are guilty of an eternal sin."). Through the sacrifice of Jesus, it was made possible that we receive a part of God inside of us - His Spirit, which wasn't there in us when we did not believe. After we believed, we entered into a covenant with God and He gave us his Spirit to dwell inside of us as His mark of possession of us, which also marked us for redemption from this world (Ephesians 1:13-14 13 And you also were included in Christ when you heard the message of truth, the gospel of your salvation. When you believed, you were marked in him with a seal, the promised Holy Spirit, 14 who is a deposit guaranteeing our inheritance until the redemption of those who are God's possession—to the praise of his glory. Ephesians 4:30 - 30 And do not grieve the Holy Spirit of God, with whom you were sealed for the day of redemption.). When we received the Spirit of God, we were marked as citizens of God's kingdom in Heaven in our new glorified bodies (Philippians 3:20-21- 20 But our citizenship is in heaven. And we eagerly await a Savior from there, the Lord Jesus Christ, 21 who, by the power that enables him to bring everything under his control, will transform our lowly bodies so that they will be like his glorious body.)

Because of God's Spirit that dwells in us who believed in Jesus as our savior from this dying world, we now witness the spiritual gifts of the Spirit, which allow us to experience God in this place and follow His instructions communicated in different ways - dreams, visions, promptings of the Holy Spirit or even the voice of God heard through His Spirit. (1 Corinthians 12:4-11 - 4 There are different kinds of gifts, but the same Spirit distributes them. 5 There are different kinds of service, but the same Lord. 6 There are different kinds of working, but in all of them and in everyone it is the same God at work. 7 Now to each one the manifestation of the Spirit is given for the common good. 8 To one there is given through the Spirit a message of wisdom, to another a message of knowledge by means of the same Spirit, 9 to another faith by the same Spirit, to another gifts of healing by that one Spirit, 10 to another miraculous powers, to another prophecy, to another distinguishing between spirits, to another speaking in different kinds of tongues,[a] and to still another the interpretation of tongues.[b] 11 All these are the work of one and the same Spirit, and he distributes them to each one, just as he determines. **)

In this way, those who listen to the Spirit as it manifests in different ways, and follow in obedience, are living their lives in communion with God while they walk on this earth. But those who are lost and only look at the outside don't know the work of the Spirit in those who have it inside them. The lost ones, therefore, are blind to the Kingdom of God and they only think with a worldly perspective and look at things without the knowledge of God.

Those who walk with the Spirit of God keep going on their journeys as they're told and the Will of God manifests in their lives. Sometimes, their walk may have very much apparent miracles that can be 'seen' by eyes, but the work of the Spirit is not always visual and is mostly internal, though the Spirit perform many miracles too through His people according to God's Will and purpose. The Spirit of God is not seen with eyes, and therefore those who don't have it don't believe in it either because they don't see it (1 Corinthians 1:18 - For the message of the cross is foolishness to those who are perishing, but to us who are being saved it is the power of God.). But those who have the Spirit inside of them, not only hear from it and follow it, but also cherish it as they know it makes them belong to God and marks them for eternity with Him.

In this way, the Kingdom of God lies inside of us while we are on Earth, as we are not of this earth but sojourners, each walking out His own calling as laid by God for the edification of His Kingdom.

Matthew 13:9 - Whoever has ears, let them hear."

Matthew 13:1-8 - The Parable of the Sower 13 That same day Jesus went out of the house and sat by the lake. 2 Such large crowds gathered around him that he got into a boat and sat in it, while all the people stood on the shore. 3 Then he told them many things in parables, saying: "A farmer went out to sow his seed. 4 As he was scattering the seed, some fell along the path, and the birds came and ate it up. 5 Some fell on rocky places, where it did not have much soil. It sprang up quickly, because the soil was shallow. 6 But when the sun came up, the plants were scorched, and they withered because they had no root. 7 Other seed fell among thorns, which grew up and choked the plants. 8 Still other seed fell on good soil, where it produced a crop—a hundred, sixty or thirty times what was sown.

Matthew 13:17-23 -17 For truly I tell you, many prophets and righteous people longed to see what you see but did not see it, and to hear what you hear but did not hear it.
18 "Listen then to what the parable of the sower means: 19 When anyone hears the message about the kingdom and does not understand it, the evil one comes and snatches away what was sown in their heart. This is the seed sown along the path. 20 The seed falling on rocky ground refers to someone who hears the word and at once receives it with joy. 21 But since they have no root, they last only a short time. When trouble or persecution comes because of the word, they quickly fall away. 22 The seed falling among the thorns refers to someone who hears the word, but the worries of this life and the deceitfulness of wealth choke the word, making it unfruitful. 23 But the seed falling on good soil refers to someone who hears the word and understands it. This is the one who produces a crop, yielding a hundred, sixty or thirty times what was sown."

Jesus is looking for hearts that Love Him because He is their God and creator (and not because of how good or bad their living conditions or circumstances are), and because they understand His good nature and why He created them (to Love and obey Him and His commands).

(Matthew 22:37 (NIV) 37 Jesus replied: "'Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind.'[a];
Mark 12:30 (NIV) 30 Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind and with all your strength.'[a]

Luke 10:27 (NIV) 27 He answered, "'Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your strength and with all your mind'[a]; and, 'Love your neighbor as yourself.'[b]"

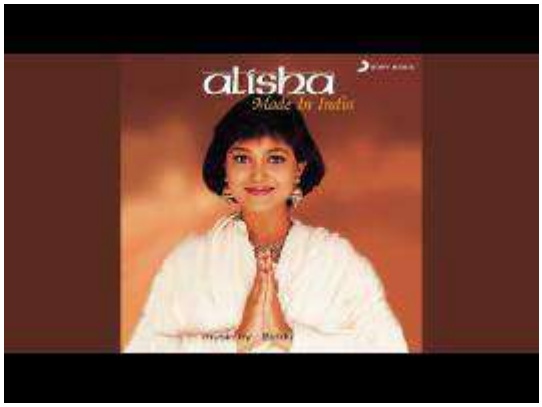
God wants Hearts that are 'Made in India'

Made in India (The Mother Of All Mixes)



It's hard to understand from our human perspective what Godly perfection is because of our fallen nature/understanding of right and wrong, but God is our standard to examine and measure our hearts.

A perfect God is calling for imperfect people to Love Him with all their hearts, mind, and strength, and He wants to make them perfect in His eyes through his blood sacrifice on the cross for their sins, and then later on work on their hearts to make them holier with time as His Spirit works on their hearts. (Once a sinner is not always a sinner in God's Kingdom, we can choose to stop sinning and become Holier as we get to know God more in our walk with Him.)
Hebrews 2:10 (NIV) 10 In bringing many sons and daughters to glory, it was fitting that God, for whom and through whom everything exists, should make the pioneer of their salvation perfect through what he suffered.

However, we are also called to be perfect as our God is perfect. This is to say that we shouldn't willingly sin and avoid sinning as much as we can, and run away from it. Matthew 5:48 (NIV) 48 Be perfect, therefore, as your heavenly Father is perfect.

But when we do fall, God gives us grace and as we repent with our entire heart, He forgives us.
2 Corinthians 12:9 (NIV) 9 But he said to me, "My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness." Therefore I will boast all the more gladly about my weaknesses, so that Christ's power may rest on me.

God is calling the lost for His free salvation through Christ's sacrifice who was resurrected from being dead three days after His burial. where in those marked by the indwelling of His Spirit shall be resurrected like Christ. (Romans 8:11 (NIV) And if the Spirit of him who raised Jesus from the dead is living in you, he who raised Christ from the dead will also give life to your mortal bodies because of [a] his Spirit who lives in you.)

1 Corinthians 6:14 (NIV) 14 By his power God raised the Lord from the dead, and he will raise us also.

Earth is not the place where we live our true lives, but it's a temporary abode we stay at because we left heaven (as angels) and came into this system. Our true lives are set after earthly death, to be spent in one of the two places - Heaven or Hell.

Jesus is the 'only' way back to Heaven, because our sins are forgiven through His sacrifice , and when it's time we'll get resurrected through the power of His Spirit, in the same manner He was resurrected back to life through the same Spirit of God after His death on the cross. He came here to get the lost back to Himself to spend eternity with Him in Heaven.

Every soul that walks on Earth came from heaven and needs Jesus to get back there.
Acts 4:12 (NIV) 12 Salvation is found in no one else, for there is no other name under heaven given to mankind by which we must be saved."

John 11:25-26 (NIV)25 Jesus said to her, "I am the resurrection and the life. The one who believes in me will live, even though they die; 26 and whoever lives by believing in me will never die. Do you believe this?"

John 3:36 (NIV) Whoever believes in the Son has eternal life, but whoever rejects the Son will not see life, for God's wrath remains on them.

1 John 2:23 (NIV) 23 No one who denies the Son has the Father; whoever acknowledges the Son has the Father also.

John 8:24 (NIV) I told you that you would die in your sins; if you do not believe that I am he, you will indeed die in your sins."

John 5:23 (New International Version) that all may honor the Son just as they honor the Father. Whoever does not honor the Son does not honor the Father, who sent him.

1 Timothy 2:5 (NIV) 5 For there is one God and one mediator between God and mankind, the man Christ Jesus,

John 10:25-30 (NIV) 25 Jesus answered, "I did tell you, but you do not believe. The works I do in my Father's name testify about me, 26 but you do not believe because you are not my sheep. 27 My sheep listen to my voice; I know them, and they follow me. 28 I give them eternal life, and they shall never perish; no one will snatch them out of my hand. 29 My Father, who has given them to me, is greater than all[c]; no one can snatch them out of my Father's hand. 30 I and the Father are one."

Isaiah 44:6 (NIV) The Lord, Not Idols
6 "This is what the Lord says—
Israel's King and Redeemer, the Lord Almighty:

I am the first and I am the last;
apart from me there is no God.

Romans 10:9 (NIV) If you declare with your mouth, "Jesus is Lord," and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved.

Our belief in Jesus' sacrifice on the cross for our sins saves us from the judgment in Hellfire, which is reserved for devil and his angels who refuse to have their creator God as their 'Master' but want to do as they will without any consideration for if it's in compliance with the moral law and Will of the Creator Lord God.

Matthew 25:41 (NIV) 41 "Then he will say to those on his left, 'Depart from me, you who are cursed, into the eternal fire prepared for the devil and his angels.

(Vision)
A few months back when I was in the other room, I had a sudden vision that showed my face on its side lying on bed with my eyes closed and having red eyeliner on the lower lid (Edit: I assumed it was mine though it looked very different because who else could it be, and also because the complexion matched mine). I couldn't believe it at first. Because I've hated vanity after a certain time of my life. And I kept the vision aside, waiting for further revelation. Within a period of a few days, I happened to listen to the version of a song that had a girl with her lower lid colored red. The version is given below.

「Nightcore」→ Innocence - (Nathan Wagner)

Innocence -
Nightcore - Nathan W

So, it was the confirmation for me. Still, I wasn't ready to go ahead with it because the idea just repelled me.

But certain things kept recurring to me within the past few days, and now it seemed to me that I had to go ahead with what God had shown me. Also, God brought some lines of a few songs to my attention again and again and kept bringing them up again and again for many days to make a point and make me understand the different ways something can impact others. So, I went ahead and ordered it (because I didn't want to stick to my way but His way). Today, I remembered suddenly what I had read in my bible study notes some days back - that God needs to have blood in His eyes to see through for us to come in His presence because of our sinful nature. And it made further sense to me, and it actually made me excited about symbolically putting the blood of Jesus in my eyes.

I received the eyeliner today and put it on. Though the first time that I had seen the vision, it was quite unsettling for me, now I feel okay with it, though I'm having a slight burning sensation in my eyes.

I just can't believe how can people put vain stuff on their faces and bodies - it's a form of self-worship. And the more someone had put shiny/sparkling stuff on them, the more repulsive I used to find them. Though I always tried not to judge them as I talked to them I knew that if I were to go ahead and act according to my true persona, I would definitely hate it. The friend that I made on the very first day of college many years back was because of the reason that she didn't look vain at all but authentic (only later on I would find her true colors and character - that she was an emotionally abusive psychopath).

A while back I remembered how God told Hosea to go and marry a harlot and bear children because that's what Israel had become (a philandering harlot) whoring after other gods, and so God told His prophet to go ahead and do an unholy thing that would represent Israel's broken relationship with God. So, I could attach some meaning to my case as well (but it is supposed to work in more ways I guess).

God told Hosea to do what He did because of His anger with Israel, but to put the blood of Jesus in eyes represents His reconciliation with mankind, representing Him shedding His blood on the cross as His way of reconciling with us by forgiving our sins and accepting us in His Kingdom. God looks at those who believe in His sacrifice through His blood that He shed on the cross.

Now would be a good time to cross-refer to some of the things I've written in the past. And also, it goes along with the Word given below. We're building on our God-given assignments which are like building an ark for us like Noah. The dream that I wrote about on Page 10 now makes sense. In that dream, I was inside a structure with animals of different kinds, wherein I saw some of them approaching me in pairs (which had me scared). Below is the Word that may be helpful for others as well who are called to build according to their own purpose.

Like Noah, You Can Build The "Ark" God Gives You Even If You Build It Alone - YouTube

For me, I know in which direction I've to build currently, and it's related to the promise God gave me; the fasting may be meant for both the promise and the assignment, but it's definitely for building up my Spirit Man (the more you deny your flesh, the stronger your Spirit Man grows - What Does the Bible Say About Flesh Vs Spirit?). When I'm done with building the recent revelation, God will reveal the next part, like He's been doing. He so far revealed three things that would help me prepare for my promised land (we need to remember that Israelites had to meet God's conditions and follow in obedience before they entered their promised land). The three things were revealed at different times and the last one was revealed when I had successfully incorporated the 2nd revelation as a part of my life. Now I'm working on the 3rd condition I need to meet. I incorporated the 1st revelation in my life at the very last though, when I realized what they meant (talked about on Page 48).

Anyway, I'm working on building my own ark and I hope it's going as God wants because I have only received good signs and confirmations from Him.

I hope my brothers and sisters will be encouraged by the video and also by knowing the fact that they're strong enough to stand strong in the face of the enemy (satan) and keep building what God has given them.

Also, I've now successfully learned fasting food for longer durations and living on eggs and drinks alone (it goes along with Pages 2 and 16).

The first of the three revelations mentioned above is described on Page 48. At that time, I didn't understand what it meant, so I kept it aside. In the second revelation, God showed me that with beautiful feet I stepped on the border/boundary of my promised land. It was relatively easier to understand. So after I understood it, I tried to make them beautiful as much as it was possible according to godly standards and with the tools God provided. I used 'godly' instead of 'worldly' in the last sentence because, in the vision, the feet shown were not 'decorated' but very much clean as they stepped on the border. It was much before the bloody incident that took place with my middle brother who is now much better and working a job with a lot of mental stability. When I went home to meet him after the incident, I also happened to find the tools there needed to attain what was shown in the second revelation. And I felt a strong urge to keep them with me but I didn't understand why I was feeling so as I was sifting things out to throw and keep while organizing his room. (Edit: Even the bloody incident with my brother was a move meant to push me forward in God's plan. Romans 8:28 (AMP) - And we know [with great confidence] that God [who is deeply concerned about us] causes all things to work together [as a plan] for good for those who love God, to those who are called according to His plan and purpose. - the verse was highlighted in this context by a brother) I only kept the one I liked the most and threw the rest. After I had returned to my place, within a few things I correlated the silicon socks I had thrown with the vision I had long back. So I ordered more, as I only had one.

The third revelation I don't want to write here. The first revelation meant that with red eyes, my promised land would be drawn closer to me, because the vision was close to my face as I laid with my eyes closed. Only I understood it later - a few days back, and it also represents the blood of Jesus as was revealed and confirmed by the Bible Study notes. The Bible Study program that I am following is also used by God to confirm things to me and tell me that I'm on track as I often find exactly in it the things I have understood within the past few days or just a day back or even the same day. However, sometimes one understands many days later the context of things one has read or seen and relates them with other things one has seen. And that's what happened with the first revelation in my case. I had the vision and the confirming song first. Many months later I came across the line - "God needs blood in His eyes". And some days back I understood that the vision was related to it and that therefore I needed to buy it and put it on.

And yeah, threats from the enemy (satan) are as always persistent, but we as children of God are called to walk in the Will of God and build according to what He shows us. Satan comes to steal, kill and destroy (John 10:10), and he keeps confirming his nature again and again.

He keeps threatening that your entire family will be killed, or this will be done or that will be done - but we're not afraid of him as children of God because though our flesh may die, our souls are saved by the blood of Jesus and will get to go back to Him after we die in flesh bodies. We already know that stealing and murder are what satan does, he doesn't need to remind us of that. We also know who God is, that's what we need to keep reminding ourselves of.

Apparently, the unfolding of the testimony of my journey to my promised land is also a part of my service/ministry to the kingdom of God. There's a HUGE miracle associated with the end of it which will fulfill what I shared with Blue (well, it seems huge to me but it is not so for God).

One evening I was thinking about God's promise, and then God showed me what was going to unfold, and seeing His timing of showing me that, I could understand that He was showing me that in that moment in order to tell me that if I really wanted it and was willing to go ahead with it, then what He showed me would be the definite end of it - wherein I would protect God's promise (to me) and leave this place (and in this way fulfill my promise to God in return - it goes along with the video on Page 11). And I accepted it at that moment without a thought, and God saw my heart. I was happy about it. It's a part of God's plan and purpose and would bring Him glory. Now I've understood that accepting that vision is my promise to God in return, after carefully watching that video on Page 11 again. Previously I was too overwhelmed by it, so I couldn't really watch it properly or understand it properly while relating to my case.

(Edit:

Things will happen at their appointed pace. There'll be a time when I would be out on my foot alone on road too, telling people about Jesus, and following the same is when what I wrote about my healing dream on Page 37 would come to pass.

Standing with Jesus and Butterfly sitting on the White Ball of the Light of the Holy Spirit

Many months back when I was still in that other room in this PG (D4), I had two visions nearby in time. In one of them, I saw the common orange and black butterfly sitting on a ball of white light while flapping its wings. I understood the white light as the Holy Spirit. And the butterfly most I understood represented me. After some time (days), the other vision had me actually standing facing Jesus where I had two fairy wings, and both of us were dressed in white. Then the face of Jesus momentarily changed to someone else's and then back to Jesus. Later on I related the two visions.

I just went back and surfed through the initial pages of this notebook and found that I had written about these visions previously on Page 8. I could recall roughly that I had written about them somewhere before, so I went to my Facebook account and looked if I had a post written about it. And though I didn't find these visions written there, I found the post where I had written my understanding of the two visions as Jesus wanting and willing me to come to Him 'Freely' and not out of fear or obligation. Later on, I had a third revelation (which is mentioned on Page 8 only), and then these visions made more sense to me. And now I can understand them even better.

Well, I will first write about this event from my school when I was still in class 1 or 2 which kept coming to my mind again and again and which now makes complete sense. The vision from my memory of a girl named 'Sakshi' who was dressed as a 'fairy' wherein she was saying that 'I am a fairy.' kept coming to my mind. This memory was from a fancy dress competition in school when I was still in class 1. Her name 'Sakshi' means 'witness'. God created us as angels (fairies). So her saying that she was a fairy actually represents who we truly are in our inner essence - angels/fairies trapped in flesh. To be one with Jesus, we need to convert back to our original nature of being. This goes with the vision where I had two fairy wings flapping and I was standing facing Jesus. Previously I didn't understand why was I seeing Sakshi sanding dressed as a fairy again and again where she was saying she was a fairy. But recently I connected the dots and recalled my previous visions from many months back and understood the context. She was 'witnessing' that she was a fairy.

(And in that fancy dress competition, there was a boy named Abhishek who was dressed as a tree and saying out "I am a Tree". This was also highlighted to me though I didn't write about it.)

The way to convert back to our original nature is through the guidance of Jesus Himself as we follow Him and in His Will in obedience, and at the end of our lives we will be resurrected back to eternal life with Him in our new glorified bodies in Heaven.

Apparently, this process of being one with Jesus in spirit is accompanied by the physical manifestation of me changing to looking like a fairy in the physical world where 'Glory (name of my promised land)' represents Jesus, which goes with the second vision in which the face of Jesus changed to that of 'Glory' momentarily and then back to Jesus'. This represents that when I have sufficiently become like a fairy in the physical world, this would also mark me coming closer to Jesus represented by 'Glory' (Jesus is also called the King of Glory and Grace).

Jesus has been showing me stuff one after other in His proper timing about the things I need to do and the changes I need to make and also revealing to me in advance the events that are 'Nearby' in time, so that I would prepare according to those 'Nearby' events.

Anyway. Though I have made some changes in my looks which may not look 'Holy' to some people as the changes are glittery and sparkling, but everything I bought came with a spiritual significance. The red eyeliner/Kajal represented the blood of Jesus that I as His daughter, servant, and prophet has to put in her eyes out of my Love for Him and to represent Him and How He puts His blood in His eyes to look at us and forgive us of our sins. In the evening of the first day I went to work with the red eyeliner on my lower lid, as I was lying on my bed, I had a quick vision wherein I saw a sparkling green eyeliner on the top of my eyes put in a winged manner. I could not believe God showed me that and if I really had to go ahead with it. Because I had never been a make-up person as I felt it took our focus off our inner selves. So the idea repelled me. But it was from God, therefore I still kept it in my mind and waited for further revelation as was with the red eyeliner. Then on the day of Raksha Bandhan when I was relaxing in bed in my home at Omaxe, I was happy as my dressing scheme resembled a tree, and I had now become comfortable with the red eyeliner and actually enjoyed putting it on as it represented the blood of Jesus and therefore also made me feel closer to Him because putting it on meant that I was representing Him. So I thought at that moment that perhaps I could go ahead with the green eyeliner too which I had seen in another vision. Also, I didn't want to repeat the delay I made with the red one because I hadn't understood the spiritual significance yet. So I went ahead and ordered the green one that day. After some days, I was listening to one of Sis Adele's videos in which I heard that Jesus was the Olive tree and we were branches grafted in Him. This made me recall that the sparkling eyeliner that I had ordered was also Olive green and therefore the sparkling green colour I saw on my top eyelid now made sense. It also goes along with the third revelation I wrote about on Page 8 where a green and black butterfly is approaching a cute baby who's blushing as she does so.

God's ways are higher than ours. And He is the King of all wisdom. Though in this phase of my life, religious people may judge me by calling me a hypocrite as they say that a servant of God is putting all this make-up on while she is supposed to go and do the Kingdom work of God in His service, I know that there's going to be a time when I would be out walking on roads/streets dressed in my long pink cardigan and with my yellow shawl as a head wrap when I would tell people about Jesus, and in the same outfit what I wrote on Page 37 would come to pass.

So, this temporary apparent outer fairy business doesn't seem long-lasting to me. In this phase of my life, sure this is what I am supposed to do and this is the sweet Will of God for me. But in the days ahead, there are other things that would take place. There's going to be healing of the sick and I think during that time period I would most probably be without any make-up as I saw myself dressed in pink and yellow and walking on roads in my flip-flops. I had been thinking that being a part of the healing ministry of God would actually complete my representation as a fairy of Jesus wherein I will perform miracles through the Holy Spirit of God. I know that if God has shown something to me (the visions of the butterfly on White light and that of standing facing Jesus), it is of much importance and that I've to take it seriously. Jesus has connected my walk with Him in the Spirit with a physical counterpart of my walk with 'Glory'. I mean He relates Him and I being together in Spirit in different ways by swapping Himself with His promised person to me in the physical realm.

While being half asleep this morning, I had yet another vision that made me understand further what the vision with the orange-black butterfly meant.

[Edit: I was thinking that even these changes that I made in my looks were equivalent to me giving way to God's righteousness and not my own, as I did things that I wouldn't otherwise do because I was repelled from them and didn't see any beauty in them. It is also a test for me if I would go against my own notions of right and wrong and go ahead with God's Will. When I saw the red outfit (that I am wearing today) lying on the bed this noon (I had put it there), I noticed what was written on the tag behind - Rebel Mode. I hadn't noticed it before. As I was thinking about it, I understood what it meant and how it related with the coming phase in my life as I thought about the event which He had shown me was 'Nearby'. He showed it to me so that would go ahead with it in His Grace because I by myself otherwise would not have been okay with it as it would go against the statutes of God, though I would eventually be in a covenant.

Then last night He kept bringing this song to my mind which stood for how quick the coming phase (covenant or otherwise) was going to pass (good or bad) and that I was to live it to the fullest in the short time we would be having here, which would also be a testimony of how God can work in one's life, and then I would leave this place and go back to Jesus.

Religious people often think that it's only about what we 'do' for God. But more than that, it's about how much our hearts desire Him and His presence and Love, and how we cherish in that. That's why He didn't make it just about healing others during my short time here on earth. He made it about sharing a loving bond with another person as well. Though I love my fellow brothers and sisters in Christ, but God wanted the world to see the physical counterpart of the union of Him (His Glory) with His church (the bride of Jesus), so that they know that God is about Love and is a Healer and also a warrior and protector, peacemaker and longsuffering in Love reflected by us being His 'Ambassadors in Christ' as we suffer in this place.]
Just checking in to write about yet another miracle that happened more than an hour back. I had received my set of black eyeliners today which I had ordered because of yet another vision in room no. D4. I could see a lady with a sleek and apparently bony face sleeping with black liner at the top and red smudged one at the bottom. So I thought that I should go ahead and order that as well since I took a lot of time to get the red one. And I chose the brand 'Blue Heaven' because it reminded me of me always looking at the sky above which my God's heaven lies. It seemed to have a spiritual significance too, and it was there in the vision. I don't think I have to sleep with it on me every day, because that may not be good for my eyes, but I will definitely do it once (apparently today). Or I will see according to how God responds or instructs me further. But I tried it today because I thought I would get to practice applying it a little bit because I had never applied any by my own self until today. In my lifetime as an adult, I have done makeup only a few times, and that too others did it for me.
,,
The miracle that happened was this: After two failed attempts, I could successfully apply the black eyeliner to the upper lid of my right eye. But when I moved on the left, I knew I couldn't use my left hand and with my right one, it seemed too difficult because of its positioning. Miraculously, as I started to apply it, after a thin application at the base, I could tell I won't be able to do it well. But my hand moved on its own and in two quick strokes, the liner was applied with the same thickness as that of the right eye. I just had to do the minor finishing details afterward. But the movement of my hand (or rather fingers) was so abrupt, that it amazed me. It was literally a miracle to witness my hand move on its own quickly and finish the job in two strokes for the eye it was supposed to be uncomfortable with. This was also a confirmation that it was God's Will for me to apply it, so He took care of it because He could see that I wouldn't be able to do it.

Around a week back, God showed me the top vision of a sky blue shoe and its buckle being tied. At first, it looked like a school shoe but in an unusual color. The vision was only until the front end of my foot joint, so I didn't know how it looked at the back. I forgot after a while how it looked exactly and went ahead and searched online for blue flats with a buckle closure at the back. I didn't find the color I had seen, though I found many other colors in a style similar to what I remembered from the vision. So I went ahead and ordered a grey flat ballerina as it resembled sky blue under certain lighting conditions. Then a few days back, I was thinking that if God has shown me something certain, I should go for that only, and not what 'looks' similar to it. So I searched for the buckled flat more. Also, the closest in color and style had gone out of stock in my size on a shopping site. I had it in my cart to buy later. I thought I messed it up and bought the wrong product and that what I was supposed to buy was now unavailable. But then as I was about to start working out the last time, after I had again surfed for what I remembered I had seen, God showed me the side view of the footwear, and then I knew that I had been looking for the wrong product all this time, and that it was indeed the school shoe I had first seen (because school shoes are round at the front instead of pointed), but in color blocked sky blue color with block heel and a golden buckle fastening with the same blue strap. Then I recalled seeing a similar product on one of the websites and me brushing the thought aside that that was the product God had shown me as back then I hadn't seen the side view but only the top view, that too incomplete.

I was thinking because I put the effort in looking for it, He showed me properly how it looked. I am hoping I will find it in God's proper timing. But because He repeated and showed it to me more clearly the second time, I can tell it is important. Well, I may not want it for me. But God wants it for me. So, I will go ahead and look for it later and I know I will find it when it's time. I was thinking that God is so good and peculiar about things He wants us to have, and in His eyes, those things are what would suit us the best. I found that such shoes were called as 'Character shoes' by some brands, and by others as 'Dance shoes', and as 'Ballet Heels' by yet others. God is SO SO peculiar and choosy. Wow. He doesn't just choose anything for their children.

Others may also be having such shoes, but for me, they are meant for a certain purpose I suppose, which only God knows currently.

God Touches My Heart Every Time with His Revelations as I Understand them

The vision of an orange-black butterfly hovering/sitting on a white ball while flapping its wings made sense to me after God gave me yet another vision which I hinted at on page 50, and after understanding what it meant I was so touched by God allowing me such an extent of closeness with Him in Spirit. I had the second vision related to the first butterfly one as I was lying on bed during the morning of 19th August. It may seem quite late in our own timeline as we may tend to think that why is God revealing the meaning after these many months. But each one of His revelations has a purpose and is well-timed according to His infinite wisdom. The vision focused on my lower face where the texture of the wings of the orange-black butterfly I had seen in the vision appeared on my lips which made me understand that my lips are the butterfly wings as the butterfly is hovering on the ball of light (Holy Spirit) and then we can understand how the vision relates to the physical counterpart as God replaces Himself with the Promised Land every time He gives a related revelation. Prior to that a few days back, as I was bathing in the washroom, I saw the upper lid of my light purple soap holder start flapping slowly on its own (it was quite unusual, it had never done that before), and I was quite shocked to see that. It resembled the flapping of butterfly wings and I knew that God was communicating something to me through it. Afterward, as I had the second vision I mentioned above, I put everything together.

And in the vision in which I was standing facing Jesus, I was wearing a white sleeveless gown and my hair was tied (the vision only had three fourth of our bodies), and Jesus was fully dressed in white. I had two medium-sized wings that were flapping and both of us had our forearms stretched towards each other as we were standing close caressing each other's forearms lightly. The vision had my back in front of my vision, so I couldn't see the front of my face but I did see a blurry face of Jesus as it was in my vision's sight and I could tell that we both were happy and smiling at each other. And then suddenly Jesus was replaced momentarily with someone else. I understand that God has been showing me all these things because He wants me to understand that I have to treat the promised land in a similar manner as I do Him in heart and spirit, and that's why He shows me a parallel between my relationship with Him and how it is supposed to be with the Promise. This vision may not pertain to the present but will hold true for the near future as I become the fairy Jesus wants and is leading me to become (of course a Holy Fairy).

People don't usually think of God as someone who would be so enmeshed in and concerned about our lives, and even more so give us revelations in such beautiful and creative ways which may be hard for religious people to understand and accept. But God knows the way in which we would understand things that we otherwise may not have. It also shows our lives hold immense meaning to God as He uses us to fulfil His purpose and reveal to the world who He truly is - not an orthodox God who can be put in a box. His wisdom and understanding are infinite and His thoughts and ways much higher than ours. So, sometimes we have to put our human emotions aside as we rely fully on God's sight of our situation and how He wants to use it for good.

There's one more experience with God I had that I felt was quite personal and intimate and therefore I didn't write about it anywhere until now. But I think His children need to know the creativity of God and how He loves us, and the incident has been recurring to me for some time to be written about as well. Once as I was lying in bed I suddenly heard a sound of a burst of balloon saw the sparkling white burst of His Spirit over my head as it sunk inside my forehead. I guess God was so pleased with my character that He expressed it in a way perhaps humans would understand the best. I could tell right then that I had something special with God because it was Him that had been observant of my thoughts and who I am (not me of Him) and He was pleased with what He saw though I didn't know about it. I only knew the things about Him which He showed me or let me know. But He knew 'everything' about me and He loved me. God is our Creator who has loved us unconditionally. And it is for a reason it is written in the Word that Humans/Man looks on the outside but God looks at the heart. This experience with God is still another testimony that God cannot be boxed in and is infinitely creative.

And this evening I gained further understanding of the vision with Jesus I have written about above on this page. The vision where I was standing with Jesus with our forearms together, the background was all sky blue and flowy and nothing else was visible. And now I understand after further revelation that it represented me using the washroom as I bath during these times with only my arms exposed and the white gown that I was wearing was skinny and sparkling which again represents the same scenario as does the sky blue background. And then I saw the upper lid of the light purple soap case flap slowly some days back while bathing and it gave me a sense of wings and I didn't understand what it meant.
But this evening I understood that God was pointing to the vision wherein my wings were flapping as I was standing with Him (apparently in water). Wow. God is so great. I feel so strengthened that I have not been alone but Jesus has been with me all this time there covering me on one side. (Edit: I actually now look forward to using the washroom as I know Jesus is there strengthening me with His presence.) It also goes with yet another experience I had when I was in Room no. D4. Again as I was bathing I happened to touch a piece of clothing to the left of the tap unit. I was shocked. I ran my hand at that place again but could only feel the tiles. Back then I used to bath with the light turned off. But I knew for sure that I had touched a piece of cloth where there should only be tiles and that someone was indeed there (through the tiles? - well, God can do anything). It reminded me of the incident of the woman with the issue of blood, who touched Jesus' robe in faith and was healed of her sickness. I felt so grateful that God gave me the opportunity to touch His clothes (though it was accidental and I didn't mean to but He orchestrated it). I almost felt like He was making the Bible alive for me as I was going through similar experiences written in it. And then in the same room, I had yet another vision after I was done bathing and was putting on clothes and as I was doing so I was thinking that my love for God is not real love if I only love Him when my circumstances are ideal, and that I will not let this situation affect my bond with Him. Right then I Jesus looking down from above with a serious expression as He had stood from His throne some steps behind Him. He was listening to my thoughts and paid careful attention to them. And when I started employing boundaries while bathing as I used my denim skirt, I saw Him giving me a thumbs up in a very humble manner which told me that this is what I was supposed to do. And besides that I have had a lot of other experiences with Him. I took a photo of the spot on the roof where I had seen Him standing as I had turned to that side. He showed Himself up just for two or three seconds and then disappeared. Pray without ceasing means to be in continuous remembrance of Him as we keep Him in our hearts and keep an open ear to what He is saying to us and not ignore it.

Then yesterday early morning, as I was half asleep but had my earphones on and a certain song started playing, I felt something sink inside my heart starting near the end of my throat. It was internal and I knew it was God. It was SO real that it woke me up temporarily and I feel that it's very much important to be written about, because most people don't really know who God is and they are only living in religion and grey areas. And later on, I understood that it represented the line in the song which had the person singing 'I have sunken down in your heart'. It made a lot of sense to me as God/Jesus has given us believers His Holy Spirit to live inside our hearts. But God made the experience alive for me. It only shows His goodness and Love and How close He wants to be with us whom He has created with LOVE.

00:58
I was refraining from writing the aspects of my personal walk with God that I did above because I know the polluted and dirty minds of people and how they pervert everything pure, and I didn't want the aspects of my walk with God to be perverted and thought of in an ungodly way by those who are far distant from Him and don't want to do anything with Him. But it's not just about how I would feel if some people degrade in their minds what's pure, but it's about the truth about God being written and those who have the right ears will hear the right message.

The burst of the Holy Spirit was so bright white that it left me blinded for a few seconds as it covered my entire vision in the spirit and covered most part of my forehead. God can demonstrate His Love and how He is pleased with you in various different ways. And the way He chooses is often for a reason. But we as humans with our corrupt minds degrade and pervert the real outlook or perception of a certain situation instead of looking at and understanding the meaning intended.

Within the past two days, I had a very disturbing dream at night, but I knew it was prophetic because there were a few events that matched what the Holy Spirit had already shown me. As that dream ended, I woke up sharply at 3 am.
I won't write everything because I know that I saw in parts and if I try to write everything I saw, it would seem quite disconnected because the dream was a shortened version of an extended time duration, like two other prophetic dreams, one of which contains the event contained in The Prophetic Symbol (Page 26) pertaining to my wedding.

1. Standing Against devil and Deflecting the Demon Insect Army

; the other dream had me in an arc with animals towards the end of which I went to a congregation of people where I saw someone I perhaps facially knew and he was sitting on a chair while the rest of the people were either standing or sitting on the floor. There I learned to operate a weapon that formed a round wall of fire. The weapon represents praying in Spirit as a part of Spiritual warfare. As this other dream progressed, I saw myself standing outside a building at the top of a supposed mountain hill where all the people I previously I saw were locked inside safely while I was out with the weapon I had learnt to use and was using it against an army of flying insects that were approaching the entrance. They were deflecting away from their trajectory towards me because of the weapon and right in front of me I saw half of the face of a huge serpent peeking above the mountain cliff, it seemed as if he was hiding in war because of the weapon that I was operating. Well the person sitting on the chair of that building, if I think about it, most closely resembled a pastor I met last year in that other PG. And that building should be his church (according to my understanding), because where else would I learn to pray that strongly.

2. Dream Regarding Difficult Times Ahead In My Life

Coming back to the dream from within the past two days, I saw many events in it which will seem disconnected if I try to write them. But I indeed witnessed open bloodshed (slaughter). And towards the end of the dream, I saw someone come looking for me (don't know who it represented but he was not 'very' old), and I was going through the streets seeking shelter and was turning away from the homes that had a thumb sticking at front. As I moved further and above the streets, I found homes that did not have a thumb sticking out like the previous ones. And finally, I saw a lady dressed in a white saree sitting in a home with a middle-aged man and a woman, one on each side. Apparently, it must be their home. The woman was dressed in a checkered orange and black saree (as was discerned from the distance I was watching the scene as a third person) and the man in full sleeved shirt and pants. The entire balcony was blocked by a thick and long aquarium of green water (don't exactly know what it represents), as the three of us were sitting behind that green aquarium (whatever it represents) with the lady (in white) in the middle with whose words said in a grave manner in silence the dream ended. She was saying that she had to pay a huge price for 'destruction' (and I am not sure whose destruction she was referring to), and then she said that he left and went away, after which I saw a wooden chair hanging above (could mean someone died).

[Edit (10th Dec 2022): Somewhere within that dream, I laid hands on top of a woman who was behaving arrogantly and out of her mind. I talked to her and said a few things to her as she moved about haphazardly with me moving along with her with my hands/palms still on her head.(Edit (9/2/2022): I put my hands on her head and said, "Tujhe pta hai? ki bhagwan ne mujhe dusro par hath rakh ke unhe theek karne ki shakti di hai." Somehow this line was being highlighted to me so I wrote it here.) After a while she was smiling and was restored to normal. I (the one watching the dream) understood that this was the case of demon possession. She looked at me with love and gratefulness, and to show the same offered me some things in her palm - perhaps those were the only things she had. I looked at them and then at her, and saw how happy and at peace she was after being delivered, and then I took those things from her palm. So I know how I need to proceed when I come across this situation. There's a time your gifts get activated according to God's plan and you kickstart in your path of progressing the Kingdom of God.]

It's so confusing. But then the other dreams had seemingly disconnected events and were confusing too. And the one dream that I have been following and keeping a track of (apart from other events) only made sense as the events I saw passed in time in the same order I saw them. So things I see aren't always clear but as they come to pass as I follow the nudges of the Spirit, their meaning becomes clear.

3. A Word About Fornication

Anyway. Just want to write a few words about what constitutes fornication according to God's standards. Apparently, He showed me that I was guilty of fornicating with my roommate because she is an ungodly person who belongs to the world and I was being honest with her trying to make grounds for honesty which I shouldn't have. According to God, I have fornicated with her through my conduct. (Edit: In my dream, I was lying on top her and 'pleasing' her using my 'hands' which would imply my 'actions', and I was doing it during most of the duration of the dream, while she did it very scarcely and not continuously like me.) So I repented and have now changed my attitude. And then this is something related to the person He promised me. When I was in D4, God showed me in a dream that a white camel that somewhat resembled the promised person was lying looking half dead and thirsty with no movement whenever I looked down. And when I understood it and received further revelation (after I had shifted to this room) from God which I took as instruction, I went rushing to the building I thought I had to go to. Then sometime later, I saw a vision repeated twice (and many times afterwards) where I saw a tall man lying on top of a short-heighted woman. From my understanding, God wouldn't show me a random person doing this kind of thing, He would only show me someone who is related to me in some way. So I understood that He was referring to the promised person here because I didn't get to see their faces but the top view. I didn't know back then if God was showing me a present or a future scenario or something that would come to pass after the promise has been fulfilled, but I took it as it came from Him. But then according to God's standards, I was also guilty of fornication with my roommate though I never actually did anything with her and my thoughts are also in check with people, and whenever I abruptly get an ungodly thought which I know I don't wanna have, I take it as coming from the enemy and I rebuke it. So I can say this about the promised person that he is guilty of fornication in God's eyes - whether he is really doing stuff or not. And even if he is fornicating for real, he is accountable to God for the same. God has forgiven me of everything, so I don't keep any unforgiveness in my heart because that's what I am called by Him to do, and also it's not that God is unfaithful to me. Only God is called good and faithful and that's why He keeps His promises and though we sin and fall during the journey, He still has to be true to His Word because He is God and is perfect- that's the perspective we need to have. And also it's not that I have to find perfect love in this place (though previously I would have been hurt by it, now I have learned God's perspective as I found perfect love in God). Only God is perfect and we all fall short and He gave me the promise that He gave me for a reason - a story that would make a testimony and draw people to God. I am looking forward to my real home in heaven with God because He is the one who died for me and is faithful.

We are called to not be a part of the world and not expect it to understand us or try to form a bond with it. I think I was trying to do all this with my roommate showing only my good side regardless of her behavior, knowing that she belongs to the world. When God showed me fornicating with her while calling out her name expecting her to be right and true in return, I was SHOCKED. I thought I would NEVER do such a thing and go against His statutes and am not even attracted to her (because I don't get drawn towards people in a sinful way, but keep a check on my dealings with them according to my bond with them and what would be the right thing to do). But it wasn't the act but the accepting attitude towards who she was and treating her like a righteous person which she was not - and that's how I fornicated and that's how it looks to God when we act as if the unrighteous, lying, gossiping ones are righteous when we ignore what they're doing at other times and we act as if they're all so good!! It told me more about how much I needed to change my perception and attitude when dealing with ungodly people because I don't want to be fornicating in God's eyes. My eternal bond is with Him, and I won't let anyone (even if it's the promised person) cause me to have a hard heart or a heart of unforgiveness which will cause a blockage between me and God. Since I found God, I have been feeling that I found ALL that I needed, and to know Him for real is such a joy knowing that He created me from scratch and even came into this system to get me back to Him and Has a place prepared for me in Heaven. And when I worship and sing songs to Him in my heart, He's so happy and I've seen Him dancing (in a Holy and graceful way - moves that are actually meaningful as He understands my heart for Him.) I think it's for a reason He gave me 'His version' of experiences with Him that I will be having with the promised person later. Because He is the first love of everyone and He made sure that I got attached to Him first before any other human, that's why He showed me and did what He did. He did it so that I would enter the promised land without a heart of idolatry being already strongly grounded in my identity in HIM and How HE has loved me.

4. Fornication With My Roommate

Dream (Room D1, Mid 2022): I saw myself lying naked on my roommate on her bed with us lying on the opposite side of the bed, with our faces below the fan. I was kissing her calling out her name and was using one of my hands to rub her genitalia to please her. She laid down below me and used her hand on mine too while calling out my name but with a lower frequency than mine. I was the one doing it most of the time.

5. Tall Man Short Woman

Vision (Mid 2022): A taller man lying on top of a short-heighted short blunt haired woman who had her legs spread and moving.

People may think the moves of God that I wrote about on Page 52 as evil and unholy. But it is because they have not understood the proper meaning and context. The fact that I happened to touch Jesus' clothing when I was in the washroom doesn't reflect an obscene situation - in response to some people who did not take it quite well as I could tell from their response (in my real life, not the online one). We have to keep in my mind the fact that Jesus is our creator and God, and is perfect and HOLY and has NO sin in Him. It's devil who is full of sin and rebellion.

Jesus was there to not only show me that He was with me as God and my creator but it was also a test. Even if I had not touched His clothing, God is still omnipresent and knows and sees everyone where ever they are - washroom, restroom etc. He sees everything and knows all our deeds and even our thoughts. The fact that I did happen to touch His clothing there only reflects the fact that He wanted 'Me' to know and remember that He was with me in my situation (as my God in whose will I follow) and that I should not lose my heart because of what I was going through. It was also a test in the sense if I would be angry at God for showing up unexpectedly in that space. But we need to keep in mind that He made sure that He showed up in a way that did not make me feel ashamed or embarrassed as the light was off and I couldn't see anything or anyone. However, if the washroom was well lit, I am sure He wouldn't have shown up. Perhaps He could see that I needed some strength to go through that situation. He knows the support we need and the places we are hurting better than any human. (Edit: Perhaps through the vision of me standing with Him alone with fairy wings, He was making home the point that I am not a prostitute that the people who have sent cameras to my personal place are treating me like, but that I am a fairy of Jesus and that that's how I should see myself, and that's what He was reminding me of by flapping the upper lid of my soap case when I happened to look at it.)

Even His expressions of a butterfly hovering on a ball of light and the burst of Holy Spirit on my head were 'Pure' out of 'Godly Love' unlike the fleshly sinful expressions that human minds are accustomed to. I can understand what God was conveying through those expressions. He could have used those expressions with a man as well to show His Love. But it would have depended on how well the person who is receiving revelations from God receives them.

A godly fleshly expression has two parts - the flesh which is used to communicate the expression and the intended abstract meaning or emotion. God is not flesh. God communicates directly the intended meaning or emotion. (Though sometimes He can use fleshly expressions too like I once had the sensation of a kiss emerge on my left cheek when I was very sad and at perhaps the lowest moment of my life - this was most probably somewhere in 2017). If someone is used to use fleshly expressions for fleshly gratifications alone, he or she is most likely to relate all fleshly expressions with sinful fleshly gratification. However, a person who is used to and understands the abstract part of the emotion or the heart intended, that person is going to look at the same fleshly expression with a different lens which is not sinful. Most of the times, it's our eyes that need correction. If God had given an ungodly person (man or woman) the same vision of a butterfly hovering on His Spirit, it would not have been received well and the ungodly person would not have understood it at all to any extent. So why would God use such expressions with those who will not see and understand His pure heart intended and will only insult Him in return? I love God and therefore I understand Him. People who don't love God will see even His pure expressions of Love and joy for us as evil. His burst of Holy Spirit on my head was also His pure expression of His Love for me, like the expression of His Spirit sinking in my heart. He wants a deep relationship with His created children and can use a number of ways to show His love to them according to how they understand things.

I heard two people around me in real life curse Jesus because of what I wrote on Page 52. We are sons and daughters of God, not His brothers and sisters. He has created us. The children of God are brothers and sisters among themselves and are supposed to treat each other like that but they make an open mockery of it. He doesn't promote fornication or adultery in any way, shape or form. However, devil is the king of lies and lust, and tempts people into sin.

This is for unbelievers who don't know Jesus - Everyone (man or woman) who has the Holy Spirit of Jesus inside them constitutes a part of His church. The collective body of church is called the bride of Christ. We can discern His character from the fact that He calls the entire church as ONE body as His bride and not many bodies like the false gods of false religions do. He calls the spiritual body of His Church as His bride because He is her 'provider' and is in a blood covenant with her to forgive her of her sins and has given her His Spirit so that she can be resurrected to eternal life in Heaven after she dies in flesh. In Heaven, there's no such thing as marriage as there we would be like angels, and angels do not marry or fornicate or reproduce. They have glorified bodies. He bought the church to Heaven with His blood shed on the cross - when He has shed His HOLY and precious blood in such a painful manner and has formed a covenant with believers through it and given them His Spirit, He can call the collective spiritual body as His 'bride' whom He loves and therefore gave His life for.

I had to write this page because people around me were having false impressions of who Jesus is and they misunderstood my experiences with Him. My experiences are deep and intimate but not sinful and sexual in nature. Ungodly and shallow people of the world do not understand real things therefore they see filth even in a pure situation.

Within the past few days I had a vision, where I saw Glory in black (black t-shirt and black trousers) throw some pages that were in his hands into a round metal vessel below which had a fire with some other stuff burning in it. I didn't know what it meant, but if I look at a song that has been highlighted to me a number of times now, I understand that those pages were letters (I felt a deep sense of heartache). Don't burn what's true unless you're fully in truth and are not being misled by what you see in front of your eyes. We don't walk by what we see because often it's not the full reality. We walk by faith and we believe in what we don't see, being the children of God that we are.

(Everything won't make sense to everyone. But he who needs to hear what's needed will know what is being said.)

Fornication is not always being sexually involved with someone you're not supposed to be involved with. How God sees fornication revolves around trying to 'please' someone you're not supposed to be pleasing. For e.g.: when people worship idols instead of God, they are not indulging in any sexual activity, but still, God has called idolatry as being equivalent to fornicating with other (false) gods. This is so because in their act of idolatry, people try to 'please' those other objects or idols that they treat as 'God'. Fornication in God's terminology stands for pleasing someone/something whom/which you're not supposed to be pleasing (not necessarily in an actual sexual way). We are not supposed to please demons and devil by worshipping them. If people do so, they fornicate against God (Jesus in Flesh). The sexual act of pleasing someone you're supposed to be pleasing is 'one' form of fornication, and doesn't constitute the entirety of the definition.

That's why in God's eyes I fornicated with my roommate, because through what He was showing me, He was conveying that I was trying to 'please' her when I was supposed to not have anything to do with her because most of her traits are ungodly. Sometimes it can take a while or a number of expressions given by God to understand what He's trying to convey. In yet another e.g. of a vision from last year where He showed me a 'light' being of white color standing but whose tongue was flesh and was sticking out quite big and moving in a swirling manner which gave a sense of anger (as if something not so pleasing was being said). After watching a Word, I understood that it meant that I was 'judging' how the Holy Spirit was working. That was the 'tongue of judgment' which He represented by a literal expression though the act was mental. Likewise, me trying to make peace with my ungodly roommate was represented by Him as me 'literally' fornicating with her which had the implication of me trying to 'please' her.

We should therefore be very careful that we don't fornicate in any way with people or things, trying to please others in one or the other way when we are not supposed to.

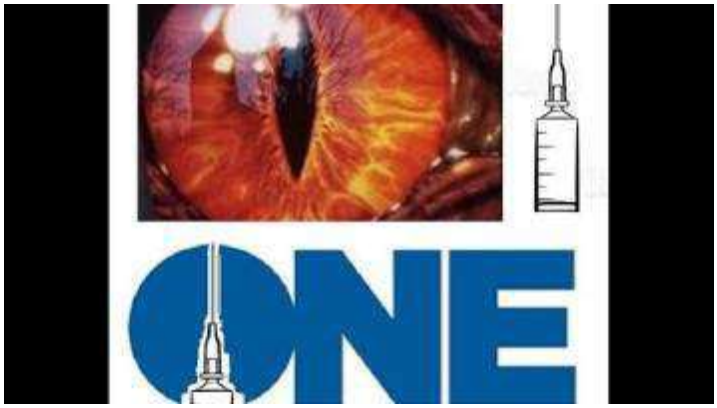
I had found a word similar to the 'A' word that I talked about on Page 3. It was in one of Brother Jonathan's videos some months back. But I did not write about it in any of the pages here. Now he's released another video with two 'A' words in its title. The second word Aletheuo (Strong's 226) is the one that most closely resembles the word I saw written in the e-sword app in my dream. And Alethes (strong's 227) seems to be the Word that I saw because of the way it is pronounced (al-ay-thace').

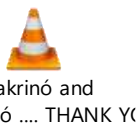
aléthés: true.
Original Word: ἀληθής, ές
Part of Speech: Adjective
Transliteration: aléthés
Phonetic Spelling: (al-ay-thace')
Definition: TRUE
Usage: unconcealed, true, true in fact, worthy of credit, truthful.

From <https://biblehub.com/greek/227.htm>

The video:

anakrinó and alétheuó .... THANK YOU For Allowing me to Show You the TRUTH..





'Eleutherians (immorally free people) worship the (false) light - Lucifer/Satan/Devil. But alethes (truthful) worshippers worship 'God' - the one true God.'

After I returned from work, I could sense that it was not going to be workout day. Later in the evening, that's how it turned out as I didn't feel a nudge to work out today (or move further in my journey towards the promise made by God). He too wanted me to rest with Him and spend quality time with Him, worshipping Him in my heart and Spirit. If during my time with Him, I happen to come across worldly people who don't know Him or more so don't want to know Him, I ignore them, as it disturbs the tone of my time with Him. Besides there's nothing worthwhile to talk about with those people, and God listens to our conversations. So I stay away from worthless chatter.

I learnt partly today to shut the world out while being watched, and be alone in the presence of God. It would have been effortless in the absence of these cameras and if I had known God before this 'camera situaiton' in my life. But God understands my situation and therefore helps me in developing the right attitude slowly to be still in His presence where the world is shut out and though I'm being watched, it's redundant and both of us are alone.

I often think that had I known God before I met those emotional abusers in my life, I perhaps would've had a stronger bond with Him because then I would've gotten to know Him before I faced all this stress and the unfavorable external circumstances I'm facing, and therefore would've known Him with a freer mind and would be definitely happier. But then I remind myself that God's love is supposed to work as an antidote to the mental stress I'm going through and that's why He showed me the things that He did - so that I would be strengthened during this situation because of His love. Though things may seem to get better for a while, they will get worse, and he showed me the coming painful times as I wrote on Page 53 (the revelation is given in His proper timing), like He showed me the future good times when I was in D4, and those times haven't yet come to pass (I looked thin in that dream). So, I can tell that the worse things yet to come are still far away in time. But He showed them to me so I may be ready and my heart be prepared in time, like He prepared my heart for the good times by showing stuff to me at His appropriate instants.

At the end of it all, I am so looking forward to seeing Him face to face when He'll step down from the golden staircase and stand in front me in the same manner that He showed me in the vision in which I had two wings flapping. (Vision) The staircase vision was another vision that I had when I was standing on the roof during winter and was getting some sun. I was still in D4 back then. I was standing with my face towards the sun and back resting against the wall. Then suddenly I saw a golden staircase at the top of which Jesus was standing and I was at the bottom. He had His forearms stretched towards me and was waiting for me to walk upstairs. But I wasn't doing so (I don't know why though). Perhaps I was reluctant because it was 'God' that was standing with His forearms stretched towards me. Then His arms stretched further and his hands reached down to where I was. But I still didn't hold them. Then finally I saw that He Himself had come downstairs and that both of us were standing with our forearms together and He was smiling and seemed happier than I was. I was looking more towards the expressionless side though my happiness was slightly visible. And the vision ended there. I understood that the vision pertained to me meeting Him after I've left this place (sandbox of devil). At the end of it all, it's going to be worth it. The journey to heaven is going to be bittersweet.

I am feeling a bit awkward writing these revelations from the past few weeks that I've not yet written about anywhere. But there needs to be a record because God wants it to be told as a story of love that people will watch, read or listen to and be drawn to Him as a result. Many people know that Jesus Christ was crucified but they refuse to believe that He was and is God and is still living and that He is 'Love' and is filled with grace and mercy. People get bored by scriptures as they sound like bogus religious words to their ears because they are failing to grasp the underlying message of God's Love and only looking at it with specs of religious 'do's and don'ts'.

So I will now write about the new revelations that God gave me and how I responded and what I did regarding them and how the state of things are as was shown to me today in a dream during the day when I was sleeping.

It was a non-Sabbath but still, I was drawn to rest with God that day in my PG accommodation. It could be two to three weeks back.

1. 'Nearby' : The Unbuttoned Unzipped Black Denim

Vision (Room D1, Aug 2022): An unbuttoned black denim jeans with its zip open as explained below. I was half asleep and I had a vision where I saw the part around the belt of a black denim jeans. The vision contained just the front upper portion of the jeans and nothing else could be seen. The button was open and on it was written 'Nearby'. The vision started with its focus on the button and as it moved away from it, the front part of the jeans came into the picture.

I woke up and I knew that it pertained to me and that I had to prepare according to this event. I knew that I would be nudged and led by the Holy Spirit when it would be the time. So I didn't just hurry and went along with B-Wax. I was waiting for more revelation(s) related to it. Nevertheless, I refrained from wearing those jeans until I was ready.

After some days (perhaps a week), I had yet another vision which was quite unexpected and disappointing as well at first.

2. Naked Open Thighs and a Small White Cow

Vision (Room D1, Aug 2022): I saw a vision that had huge animated thighs of a woman who was sitting with them open. The vision focused only on the lower half of her body and was parallel in sight to her thighs (the animated vision had clean legs with no hair). In the place of her bikini area was green animated grass. It was quite confusing to me at first. But I kept watching as was being shown to me. That woman kept sitting in that position and after a while, a small white cow came out of nowhere walking in between in her thighs near to her bikini area, stood there for a while and started grazing (the size of that cow was quite small compared to the woman). The animated vision ended there.

I did not really understand in that moment what it could mean. But the succeeding day I understood what it meant. God was showing me how the minds of people work and what would draw the 'cow' out and towards the 'grass'. When I understood it, I couldn't believe that I had to put 'grass' in order for the 'cow' to show up. I recalled my past times with my ex-best friend and thought I never needed to be shown grass for me to show up. If I love and admire someone, I just go casually and spend my time with them and I don't play the bait game. I was starting to think why was the promised land so cheap that I would have to put grass in front for the cow to show up. Why can't the cow just come out and show up on its own as I looked forward to spending time with some people in my life in the past - solely for the reason that I wanted to spend time with them and I never tried to manipulate or deceive them. I was quite open and honest.

After this vision, I knew that I had to go and get waxed and put grass in front. But I still waited for more revelation as I knew that I would be led to do so at the right time by the Holy Spirit. I kept the vision to a side inside my mind.

3. The Promised Person in Orange and Black

Afterward, I had a quick vision where I saw the promised person show up in a light orange t-shirt and black jeans resembling those that I have. He looked at me with expectant eyes in the vision. This told me that it was me who was supposed to be wearing those clothes when I would see the promised person next. In some of the past events from a prophetic dream that took place in real life, I saw the promised person wearing clothes in an order that was shown to me in the dream that has the event contained in 'The Prophetic symbol' (written about on Page 26). In that dream, he just showed up out of nowhere at my right side twice in two particular sets of clothes as I kept walking forward as if I was on a journey in time. In both appearances in the dream, he was looking at me. Though during the real events, we never really looked at each other. This was a slight detour from what I intended to write on this page but I wrote it to describe how literal the reality God shows to me is. In this vision, where he was dressed in orange and black; again, it seemed as if he had shown himself up out of nowhere and it looked unexpected and the vision was momentary. So now I knew the clothes that I was to wear. I had already told the Salon's aunty that I would be coming to her within a few days to get waxed.

Yesterday, because of an unexpected function adjacent to my PG where I was supposed to be meeting Glory, I went ahead with the Bikini waxing part (because of the 'Nearby' vision above) when I went to the Salon to get my parcel which was delivered there. I covered my face because of the cameras and was feeling quite embarrassed afterward (because of being telecasted live by the evil bullies) and though I didn't have any emotional reactions while the Salon Aunty was waxing me, I was teary-eyed later.

Yesterday, nothing of the sort that I was expecting happened. (Edit: However, when I went out wearing my set of light orange and black clothes at night, I came across what was shown to me in that momentary vision of the promised person showing up in light orange and black, though the 'button' vision I wrote about didn't come to pass and I could tell later that it was also not the time because of the surroundings and aura of the environment.) But today, when I was sleeping, God showed me in a dream the current state of the situation.

4. The Pearl, The Watery Distance, The Glass and The Man

Dream: In this dream, there was a huge shell of a pearl (the size of a chair perhaps) inside which instead of a pearl was a woman's genitalia (Edit: God compared it to a pearl because He saw it pure in His sight as the woman didn't just go throwing herself off on random people and had strict boundaries in her life which she knew she would only give up for a person worthy in character with whom she would share a lasting bond, and God saw it and loved her for the same). In my vision in that dream, to the left of that 'symbolic pearl' stood a man who was bent slightly with his head and hands inside the open shell (Edit: The man was wearing a white striped shirt and what looked like grey pants as bottoms). There was a side narration being voiced out in a serious tone alongside it. The voice said that the man was supposed to stay close to the pearl (as was being shown). In the dream, the man then got (forced) drawn away as the space between him and the pearl got filled with bubbles and water and a glass wall appeared separating the waters and the man. The man was sticking to the glass and looking inside, and as the separation happened the voice said that the man was forced out because of degradation of mind, and pride (which led to him being unable to access the pearl and only being able to watch it from a distance). This made sense to me later during the day.

Anyway. Writing all of it is also a part of the process. It's as intriguing and baffling as the scene in the movie 'The Matrix' where Neo goes to meet the Oracle and she tells him to not worry about the vase (which he was about to break), but because of Oracle's mention of the vase, he ends up looking at it and breaking it. The Oracle then asks him if he was wondering how she knew that he was going to break it and that the more important question was if he had still broken it had she not mentioned it. In the same sense, if God didn't give me the revelations that He did, which made me take certain steps that in turn led to the fulfilment of what He had shown me, would the things He had shown me still would've manifested? This is how God works, beyond our comprehension. Actually, He already knows the choices we are going to make as He foresees the future and therefore reveals things to us according to His infinite wisdom and foresightedness.

Additional Comments:
It's already 1:08 am (the new day is already here). I was practicing applying winged eyeliner on my eyes today as I want to be quick when I have to go to work. I successfully did the job but it took more than easily 30 minutes. But when I tried later this night after the workout, I was quicker (10-15 minutes or so). I will be even cleaner and quicker in applying it the next time as I've learned some helpful strategies.

5. The Research Model Diagram

Also, I completed the Model Diagram for my paper on Friday, and it and something I read somewhere else (on Thursday) made me realize that even making the model diagram was prophetic, as according to what God has shown me, an event will happen when a certain condition is met. (Edit: I referred to it on Page 44 as the reason for having to start to work out and implement 'No More Eating'. Though I eat sometimes, it's quite lesser than before. But I have been eating properly for a day after the waxing accident. Now that I feel better, I can resume the 'No More Eating' regime. I interpreted it later as No 'More' Eating, where I don't have to eat more but can eat only reasonable amounts. Also, for a few days, I have been thinking that it goes along with 'Resource Budgeting' - my paper's model. I have to make a body model based on the budgeting of resource. All of it fits together.) The vision that He showed me was much like a 'model's' schematic of the middle body in X-Ray vision. Now I have the schematic that I have to create in real life. (Edit: If He showed it to me, I am certain that it will manifest as I continue working towards it.) Like I have created the model diagram in my research work, I have to complete the model diagram of how I am supposed to look in my life too, without which He is not going to pass me into the event He showed me. Creating the 'model' diagram is necessary to pass the review (need to work out consistently for that and lose a substantial amount of weight). How prophetic and similar the situation. I will complete the diagram in His proper and appointed timing.

Page 59. When Jesus Placed His Hand On My Knee

On the night of the 30th of this month (yesterday), I was having a dream where I was alone in a room and it was almost dark and I could feel a demonic presence there - the same sensation that I always had whenever I sensed it previously - filled with mental heaviness where it is difficult even to breathe and also to pray. I began trying to pray, and it was hard to utter out words in that dream. I saw a figure in white flash twice as it moved around quite quickly in the dream. I knew it was Jesus. As I said, "Father Yahuah" as the beginning part of my prayer, I felt a hand come from beneath and which placed itself on my knee which was near to the end of the bed towards the House of the Lord and it woke me up. That particular night I had my orange exercise mat laid on the floor in front of the House of the Lord as I had thought I would work out in the morning. In that dream I was filled with fear and seeing the figure passing by quickly in that dream reassured me that Jesus was near. But I knew I had to pray if I had to fight the demonic presence or oppression. As I started praying and had just finished uttering with much difficulty "Father Yahuah", I felt someone place three-fourth of the length of their fingers (pressed together) on my knee which woke me up and as I gained consciousness out of that dream, I could still feel the hand as I was making the transition from the spiritual dream to the physical tangible world. The hand was there for some milliseconds further after I had woken up which told me that the touch was real. It led me out of the dream and made itself known to me.

I didn't understand the meaning and significance of it at that moment. But today I did as I read the Verse of the Day. It often delivers to me what I need to hear and know and something that relates to my situation. The Verse was this: "Come, let us worship and bow down. Let us kneel before the Lord our maker, for he is our God. We are the people he watches over, the flock under his care. If only you would listen to his voice today!" I understood that Jesus was telling me to bow down and pray as He called my knee to the orange mat that was spread on the floor. It was like the touch of a hand whose fingers reached you from below. So I understood today that He was communicating to me that He was there on the mat and that that's where I am supposed to sit and be on my knees and pray. If I had understood this yesterday, I would have done it. But after I was woken up by the touch of that hand, I tried to fall asleep again. After a while, I saw the fire flickering in the House of the Lord which made me curious to look inside and when I did, the entire base of the candle holder was on fire and it was reaching out high. I made a video of it until it died down and then I read a chapter in Leviticus. When I woke up, I was still feeling a bit scared, but after watching the fire in the House of the Lord and reading the Word laying on the mat I felt good and suddenly felt sleepy as I finished that part of Leviticus. I knew then that that was what I was supposed to do as I was now suddenly sleepy while previously I couldn't sleep and was thinking about what should I do as I couldn't sleep. Because reading that part of Leviticus kept recurring to me, I went ahead and read it while being on the orange mat, and when I was done, sleep suddenly took over me, and went to bed.

Today as I understood the meaning of the touch of that hand, I was so touched by God's presence and the ways He shows up to His children and cares for them.

Page 60. God Sees the Heart and is Graceful but He Doesn't Make Exceptions

A few days back, a scene from a movie was flashed to me which had the actress spray some liquid on the actor because he was asking her to do something immoral publicly. I did not really understand at that moment that why was that scene being highlighted to me. Yesterday, someone () behaved in a certain manner in my real life. Still, I did not understand it. Today a scene from a Hindi song was being highlighted to me repeatedly along with a phrase being said by someone, and the phrase had the same immoral thing that the girl in the first scene mentioned on this page was told to do. It was then that I understood what it all meant, and I was wondering if I was really supposed to do that. I knew it wasn't Godly and also that it wasn't God telling me to do that thing but the Spirit was revealing to me things of another mind as the middle man. As I was thinking about the act in the Hindi song and the phrase, after a while, the Holy Spirit highlighted to me the spray vision again. This told me that that was what I was supposed to do if confronted with such a situation. However, when I was watching the Hindi song, I had a worship song playing along with - 'He Will Hold Me Fast'.

This reminded me of yet another vision with Jesus that went along with the lyrics (and we have to keep in mind that Jesus replaces Himself with the promised person when He is revealing something to me). (Edit: In that vision, I was dressed in orange and black.) And then came to my mind the dream written about on Page 58 which had a person drawn away from the symbolic pearl because of 'degradation of mind, and pride'. Everything is now connected. When a person who was supposed to be close to the symbolic pearl and 'hold the other person fast' behaves in an immoral manner like in the spray movie scene, then the other person (me) can respond in a similar manner as the girl did using the spray, or rather the one with degraded mind, and pride, would be drawn (forced) away (situationally, circumstantially, or literally too if God wants to display His Glory too apparently) with a wall of water (goes together with the spray in the movie scene highlighted in the vision) as was shown in the dream.

I have to be fairy-like, while the promised person has to be Jesus-like. Of course, both of us are going to be missing the mark, but God's grace catches us and keeps us firm in His hands. (I have to be Jesus-like too because I am part of His body and am bought by His blood, but the fairy wings vision tells us the areas we need to focus on specifically individually. Resembling fairy looks is a part of my journey towards the promised land while resembling the character of Jesus constitutes the walk of the promised person.)

This is a journey of transformation, and I am going to record it here.

Page 61. Why I started Writing Here

04 September 2022
18:13
When I was in D1, I had a quick vision where I saw a short line being typed in what looked like the Notebook App. I was able to identify the App it because I had used it previously as a part of self-healing and expression after I had a 'what seemed devastating at that moment' experience with a reprobate who worshipped devil (back in those days, I used to be an atheist).

Anyway, the line that I saw being written went along with 'not feeling well' (can't recall exactly). I couldn't understand the meaning of that vision. But then after some days, because I was reminded of the Notebook App and because of me having walked further ahead with God, I thought it would be good to write about some things. I can remember writing a page (I deleted some of its contents afterward) where I had written how I wasn't feeling well at all and that that day I felt pain in my entire body. After I had written most of what I had to, I recalled the vision and understood that that page was what the vision meant. I was supposed to be writing that. Additionally, in that vision, the line that was typed was deleted right afterward, exactly what happened too. I wrote how I was not feeling well, and after writing a long related paragraph, I deleted the entire thing because I found it too negative and soul-sucking. So I understood that vision later on.

The second vision that followed some weeks later related to Notebook had 'I love you.' being typed on it and the line stayed there and the vision ended. And today, suddenly, I had further revelation related to that second vision. When we write our true feelings about God, it is like writing a letter of love to Him. That's why He showed me the second vision. Though the first vision had me writing and complaining about my own suffering, the writing developed later in the direction of who God is and how I got to know Him and have loved Him (and the ways He has revealed Himself to me). When I had that vision, I understood that God wanted me to write it here, in response to which I wrote my own version of it towards the end of Page 19.

The line in the first vision was 'I can't take it anymore..', and right after it was written, it was deleted. And this line was what I wrote on that page also adding more details with it, and after I had written a long page, I deleted that entire thing.

Anyway. The third revelation I was talking about before leaving has Sis Adele in it. But first I need to write an incident from my past in middle school. For the past few years, I had been quite heartbroken and angry at myself for hurting a past ex-friend long back in School whose Hindi name meant 'Worship' in English. After the experience with that reprobate I mentioned at the beginning of this page, I understood how Worship felt after I left her because I couldn't say 'No' to some other girl who came crying to me asking me to sit with her because her best friend had broken up with her. I didn't want to leave Worship but I felt a lot of pressure as that other girl was the popular girl and most people obeyed her as she was a bit on the narcissistic and controlling spectrum (yet she was respected by the elite people of the school because she was consistently one of the toppers). I couldn't tell her a 'No' because she came crying to me (it was back in perhaps 6th of 7th class in middle school). I took my bag from my seat where I was sitting with Worship and went with this other girl to sit with her as she had chosen me as her new best friend by herself (circumstantially though). I looked back at Worship sitting at our bench towards the end of the class and there she was with her head down on the desk and I could tell that she was crying. I felt terrible. I didn't think much about it after some days as I was now forming a bond with this new girl. But still, whenever I happened to come across Worship, she wouldn't even look at me (not because she was mad but because she was deeply hurt), and another friend of mine (Monica) often told me that though I may have found a new best-friend in that popular girl, but Worship still considered me alone as her best-friend. This was the situation even after a few years had passed since I had left Worship. Though I was told of her situation by Monica, I always brushed it aside and thought that why can't just worship be happy and focus on her work and the things she has to do? Why is she thinking about me and wasting her time? Why can't she just let it go like I have? I never had the guts to tell her that I didn't want to leave her but did so under pressure, while she was hurting and had me alone set up at the place of her best-friend in her mind. I saw it as a valuable thing that she had given me but at the same time I used to think that she shouldn't be just 'that' committed (in a sense) to me. I let go of her. And then in 2016, when I was repeating some Masters' papers, I met the reprobate and was left suddenly out of nowhere and wasn't given any explanation. In my mourning process, I was reminded of Worship and I finally understood her pain. She had that in her even when she was that young. I saw how I had left her suddenly and didn't give her any explanations, and how she suffered for years and only saw me alone as her best-friend. I was heartbroken when I understood what I had done to her. One late evening as I was returning from work and was in a common cab, I remember thinking of her and how she was crying alone with her head down on that desk with no one to comfort her. And I couldn't hold back my tears. I wept and wept. I asked God for forgiveness. I knew that God had judged me rightly through that reprobate (though he wasn't a child in 6th class, he was a full-grown man).

Though I had repented before God of how I treated Worship, I still carried a burden of it somewhere in my heart. I just couldn't make myself forgive me. I saw how similar our situations were, mine and Worship's. Worship had lost her father long back when she was still a toddler and lived with her mother and brother. She even took me to her home once after school as we often returned together after it was over. She did not share a close friendly bond with any other person besides me and her family, and I didn't understand it during my time with her. I was special to her. When I met the reprobate, I had spent many years feeling like living in the absence of a mother (never had a good bonding with my step-mother), and had only a few people as my friends. I gave him the 'special' spot like Worship had given me. When I was left abruptly, it was much like what she went through. Both of us formed a bond with another person (Worship with me, and I with that reprobate) in a sense of depth that was a result of our lack in some other area, and when that person failed to act according to the requirements of that spot, it wasn't the bond that was shattered, but the source that gave rise to that depth was wounded.

I couldn't just happen to forgive myself for not understanding Worship at that moment (but then I was also a middle schooler and didn't understand the way she got attached to me because of her nature and family situation). Then it was one of those (moonlit) nights that I was going out at the same time to receive God's promise (I didn't know back then that I wouldn't be receiving it at that time but that I was making spiritual grounds for receiving it in the future). That night, I had returned after making some rounds on the street around my PG, and I was sitting on my bed. I then had a vision where I saw Sis Adele dressed in a Green Indian Kurta and she was performing the act of 'worship'. The vision was repeated to me many times. I did not understand what it meant, again. But today I suddenly received more revelation about it. God was telling me that He has not only forgiven me but also has someone in the body of Christ who actually worships the 'One True God' and that she is my new version of the lost friend in Worship. So I can let go of the Worship that I hurt and lost in class 6th. Also, Worship was a good person but she followed the false religion followed by her family and worshipped a form of devil. And God was reassuring me that I am now with people who actually worship Him and that now I know them. I think He may have represented Worship with a certain member of the body of Christ because He wanted it to be personal and therefore give me the healing I needed so that I can forgive myself, and also because Sis Adele's ministry is what I have been following diligently for some years now and have happened to be boosted in my walk with God because of it. God healed that spot in my heart and I no longer have to carry that burden.

Interestingly, the name of the girl who came to me crying relates to excellence and beauty, while the name of her best-friend who left her meant 'Glory'. Glory left 'beauty and excellence' which made her come to me crying because of which I left Worship and got separated from the one who truly loved me. Isn't this the same as what happened to us? God of (Glory) cast devil (who was once known for his beauty and excellence) out of heaven, and devil made us leave Worship (of our Self-Existent Eternal Creator - the one who has loved us truly and perfectly). devil lost his glory and, in turn, made us leave Worship (our True Love - Beloved God).

My Heart is touched; the weather is changed and Everything seems Beautiful.

Whenever God's Heart is touched by something that I'm thinking, or have said, or a certain way in which I've behaved, He plays these lines to me. I understood it after a while. The first time He played them to me was many months back.

He was touched when I stopped being compliant with my roommate's devices and was direct and straightforward.

The message is that it touches God's heart when we follow in His ways of righteousness and in alignment with His Will.

Page 63. Vision of a Demonic Army

21:33

I had this vision last year before I shifted to this PG and was still staying in the adjacent one in a small single-seater room. It was around a year back. I've been reminded of this vision many times now for a few days. When I had this vision, I was still quite new in my walk with God and hadn't yet started writing anything related to it.

Vision: I saw a demonic army with short and tall demons of different types, not just carrying weapons but they were also armored (wearing helmets, breastplates and other protective devices - implying a strong and prepared demonic army).

Also, for two days, this song has been coming to me whose lyrics go like this - "Be careful that life doesn't give itself over to death. Peace is getting lost and the country (kingdom or body of Christ on Earth) is in difficulties (danger). Revive the (pleasing) desire to get beheaded in your hearts, my dear friends."

I will definitely food fast now because of this, and pray, and try going even without drinks if I am able to.

Page 64. When Ungodly People Shipwreck Our Faith

00:04
Somewhere within the past month, I had this dream where I was inside a ship that had other people in it too, though they were not in the same chamber as mine but were kept separate.

There was another ship at a distance and I could see some people on the deck. I saw one of them throw something towards our ship, which left a hole in it making water gush in. I and another fellow then started working towards fixing that hole. After a while, another blow was thrown at us leaving more holes. I was then talking with that (or a different) guy in my ship and asking him about others who were there in the other chamber(s) of the ship - that they should be kept safe.

The person in that other ship resembled one of the bullies in my real life. He was there in that other ship with his own group of people. I did not understand the dream the same day, but after watching one of Sis Adele's videos in which she briefly talked about how devil shipwrecks our faith, I understood it better, and I think that now would be a good time to write about it.

The people in that other ship represent those who have been sent with an assignment to cause problems in our journey in our ship of faith.

We don't journey alone on our ship. There are others too in our ship for whom we are responsible. The guy on the other ship throwing bombs at us leaving holes in our ship, or actually shipwrecking us, represents the lies and doubts that ungodly people instill in our minds which shake our faith (or shipwrecks us as was shown literally in that dream). The attacks from the other side are quite real and put us at risk. However, not everyone sees the attacks and the places where holes have been made (as most people were kept safe at a different place on the ship), while we (I and one or two more fellows) were outside witnessing what was actually going around, and were responsible for keeping things safe and in check.

We've to be on the lookout for such attacks or bombs, and not let the doubts infiltrate our minds that the enemy is throwing at us in the form of lies, false rebukes, or misleading us using deception.

I wrote three different pages on the same day. I didn't write them together because I wanted them to be written separately as they have different and apparently unrelated info.

09:22
I have been now reminded of this many times for a few days now - back in the days of High school I was reading one of the main characters of a novel (forgotten the name of it) having breakfast at a gathering, and though there were many delicacies around to relish, she was having bun with milk. For some days, God has been pointing towards it, and the fact that I too love having bun(s) with milk. In a way, He was pointing out the prophetic relevance of some parts of that novel.

And He's been also reminding me of another one that I read around the same time I read the above one, in which a girl recorded her journey through difficult times and war in a diary, which was then many years later found by someone else which led him to know the truth about the place. The name of this one I remember because I had wanted to own it someday - The Diary of Pelly D.

This Notebook is much like a diary that will serve as an ark for others and will sail them in faith safely over troubled waters as things get worse in this sandbox of devil.

Made me feel like God was almost preparing me my whole life so far for what I'm going through now.

(In 'The diary of Pelly D.', the storyline revolves around the rivalry between a few families that hold the best gene pool. And it reminded me how it represents the condition of narcs.

For power-hungry, wicked and evil narcs, it's all about the genes as they want the best gene pool in their line. But, the Kingdom of God is about Love, as genes don't matter in glorified bodies and we understand that it's God who allows us to do certain special things - in fact, everything that we are able to do.)

Page 66. Logicians Call You Unscientific, Believers try/Want to Look Smarter or More Scientific; Word of Correction - What Do You See?; Pink Correction Pen; Do Not Judge Another Believer's Walk with, Love for, or Worship of God

1. Be Godly, not Logical or Blindly Believing. Faith is different from Superstition or Blind Belief.

As a person who grew up without the knowledge of the existence of God, and who kept a skeptical approach towards most things, I now know how logicians or scientific atheists view those who are believers. Whenever I approach a non-believer and start sharing the truth about this world with them, they look at me with biased eyes. They think that I am promoting a specific religion and that because I am too enmeshed in it (as is apparent by the expression of my inner countenance), I am irrational and orthodox too. They think that the right mindset is that of encouraging all routes of thought when it comes to God, and most liberals attribute 'dumb acceptance of unproven beliefs' to religion and therefore reject the notion of religion itself - like I once used to be.

Why am I writing this here and not repeating the truth of salvation through the sacrifice of Jesus Christ? Because God knows the hearts and beliefs and ways people think, and that they are more likely to relate with someone at a personal level first before they come to accept the truth which to them seems strange at first. If I write things in a religious sense in a preach full way, it only shows arrogance and unfriendliness - one of the reasons perhaps why God appointed me for this - because I make things personal and therefore rightly point out their true relevance and importance. How do you draw the hearts of people towards their Creator? It's not by preaching. It's by leading with example, where your own weaknesses are at the front too and people see you fall and yet repent and get up again and start again as you follow God.

Coming to the title of this page, when I listen to believers talk about things trying to make a point that they can be scientific and smart too like the people in the field, it makes me witness how they are neglecting the fact that God didn't love us because of how full of knowledge or understanding we are, or how well we are able to grasp difficult concepts. His love is unconditional and the same for His children whom He bought to Himself with His blood. Sometimes, while listening to believers, I get the feeling that they are trying too hard to look scientific or smart to a mark. And this attitude arises more in response to a situation where they see a believer who is in the field of logic. I just want to clear out the fact that it is irrelevant what our individual professions are. I am not good at many things, but when I see others being good at things that I am not as good at, I don't try to dilute their skill but accept it rationally. I have heard one or two refer to my work as false science, because of their own reservations. I wasn't offended but was rather pointed toward the state of their hearts that made them say so.

On the other hand, those who are fully convinced of their atheism and creation-out-of-nothing mindset see me as being too much of an irrational acceptor of beliefs, and therefore as someone who is not so fit for scientific work.

I did not write the above because I am negatively affected by either of the sides, but because I want to point out the error in thought on both sides.

2. What Do You See?

And this is a word of correction for those who strip people with their eyes and minds and then are also quick to point out their perception of how a person could be dressed more modestly. The hypocrisy of such people will be their own trap to a degraded mind and a spotted soul. Yesterday, I witnessed some people stopping in their tracks to have a good gaze at another person standing at a distance. They were making the point that whether they are drawn to sin is dependent on how that other person looks. But I want to add here that there are two factors at play here. One is how that other person is dressing, and another is your own inner countenance. When you look at a fully or modestly person, do you strip them with your eyes, and then later go and insult those who are not so modest in their dressing once, or do you maintain your grounds despite the outer surroundings? The latter part is called being Christ-like in one's inner self. Dressing modestly should be inspired by one's inner good character, and not by a will to just 'look characterful' outwardly while one is out doing all kinds of immoral things but putting on outer garments of righteousness to fool and deceive and mingle along with the righteous. Such are called the wolves in sheep's clothing.

3. Pink Correction Pen

Some months back, I was drawn to buy a correction pen with a pink-colored body. I understood then that the Holy Spirit was leading me to buy that pen as I couldn't take my eyes off it and was looking continuously at the pink-colored one though I wasn't in an urgent need of it. I received an instant revelation as I was looking at it - the point being emphasized was that correction has to be made in love and not anger, spiteful rebuke, hidden sarcasm, snide comments, or direct or indirect taunts.

4. Do Not Judge Another Believer's Walk with, Love for, or Worship of God

I see some people judging one of the lovers of God expressing love in a personal form of Worship. They call it false worship and they not just think that, they want you to know that that's what they think. This is not a Godly thing to do - to judge another person's loving bond with God and call it false. When God is rejoicing in the love and worship of that person, and is pleased by it, it is quite evil and judgemental to call something pure as false. Yes, we shouldn't be hypocritical in our praise and worship of God, but neither should we try to challenge the bond of another person with God because of our lack of understanding or perception of their case. How would we feel if others whom we see as loving brothers and sisters call out our true heart-felt worship as 'little' false worship? God is not pleased with such false inter-judgements going around within His body.

And lastly, I see worldly smart people around who see themselves as 'wicked-smart' and think that their ways are higher as they work and get them what they want most of the times, I see them thinking of the sheep of God as being gullible or too simple-minded. They not just think it, they say it too to the sheep. Well, as the sheep of God, we're called to be innocent as dove and not have any ill-will, and have agape for our enemies though hating what is evil - these traits are not a mark of gullibility but being a child of God. Without them, you won't qualify to be a part of His Kingdom. His Kingdom is not for people who say one thing but mean another, or those who deceive others, or who constantly frame false situations to trap the innocent. His Kingdom is for the pure-hearted, whose outer conduct resonates with their pure inner self, and not for the ravenous wolves who think rape and murder with a fake smile on their face and see this ungodly duality as part of being smart.

Worship Song - Before the Throne of

--> 'Before the Throne of God Above'

Lyrics:
Before the throne of God above
I have a strong and perfect plea
A great High Priest, whose name is Love
Who ever lives and pleads for me

My name is graven on His hands
My name is written on His heart
I know that while in heaven He stands
No tongue can bid me thence depart
No tongue can bid me thence depart

When Satan tempts me to despair
And tells me of the guilt within Upward I look, and see Him there
Who made an end of all my sin

Because a sinless Savior died
My sinful soul is counted free
For God, the Just, is satisfied
To look on Him and pardon me
To look on Him and pardon me

Hallelujah! Hallelujah!
Praise the One
Risen Son of God!

Behold Him there, the risen Lamb
My perfect, spotless righteousness
The great unchangeable I Am
The King of glory and of grace

One in Himself, I cannot die
My soul is purchased by His blood
My life is hid with Christ on high
With Christ, my Savior and my God
With Christ, my Savior and my God

Hallelujah! Hallelujah!
Praise the One
Risen Son of God!
Hallelujah! Hallelujah!
Praise the One
Risen Son of God!

Hallelujah! Hallelujah!
Praise the One
Risen Son of God!
Hallelujah! Hallelujah!
Praise the One
Risen Son of God!

12 September 2022
21:42

When God wants me to work out, He plays the line 'Life Goes By Fast' - this plays at the beginning of the workout video I follow.

Previously I didn't know why this line was being highlighted by the Holy Spirit to me again and again. Later on I recalled and realized that it is a part of that workout video and when the Holy Spirit plays it in my heart is when I am supposed to do workout according to God's Will. Like a few minutes back I was planning to change clothes and sleep after perhaps praying for a while, but just after I had taken my night clothes out of the wardrobe, the Spirit played the line 'Life Goes By Fast' to me, so I knew that I had to obey.

Interestingly, the outfit of the trainer in that video constitutes of two garments colored red and white. I realized this too later.

So, I took my workout trousers out of the wardrobe instead and though it's going to be easily more than 1.5 hours task of working out and then clean the self up, I am all set for it because I love God (Jesus). While I was on the roof praying to God recalling all the nice and sweet things He had acted in response to my love and worship of Him, I was feeling too touched by His gestures. I was thinking that I would do anything I have to on this earth to get to Him in Heaven at last for real, and this workout is a part of that - obeying and walking in His Will, though it may not be comfortable for me, it's what He wants me to do, and because I love Him, it seems to me a good thing to do.

I had been following this workout video since last year when I was in that other PG. Then I stopped for a while, but now God highlighted this particular video only for me to follow. Nevertheless, after I am done with it, I usually follow up with some additional short exercises, and sometimes a relaxing procedure.

Revelation 20:4 (New Living Translation)

4 Then I saw thrones, and the people sitting on them had been given the authority to judge. And I saw the souls of those who had been beheaded for their testimony about Jesus and for proclaiming the word of God. They had not worshiped the beast or his statue, nor accepted his mark on their foreheads or their hands. They all came to life again, and they reigned with Christ for a thousand years.

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Revelation+20%3A4&version=NLT>

An event that is to come to pass in time is often marked by the earlier passing by of a similar event that serves as a prologue or a confirming marker of what is to come. Near the end of the days, the bride of Christ (the body of true believers) will be beheaded for her faith in Her God and her refusal to be a part of the beast system and worship it. What I wrote towards the end of Page 49 is the confirming event that is to take place at the end of my life. As the body of Christ gets beheaded, she will stand in the arms of her savior and God (Jesus) - this is why the Holy Spirit gave me the vision where I was standing face to face with Jesus (vision written towards the end of Page 57); the vision pertained to what I would be facing right after I would leave this place.

Many centuries before Jesus was crucified as our Passover Lamb (through whom we 'pass' from Earth to Heaven), the Israelites had to slaughter a Passover lamb (as instructed by God) when they left Egypt.

Exodus 12:21-23 (NIV)
21 Then Moses summoned all the elders of Israel and said to them, "Go at once and select the animals for your families and slaughter the Passover lamb. 22 Take a bunch of hyssop, dip it into the blood in the basin and put some of the blood on the top and on both sides of the doorframe. None of you shall go out of the door of your house until morning. 23 When the Lord goes through the land to strike down the Egyptians, he will see the blood on the top and sides of the doorframe and will pass over that doorway, and he will not permit the destroyer to enter your houses and strike you down.

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Exodus%2012&version=NIV>

Isaiah 53:7
He was oppressed and He was afflicted,
Yet He did not open His mouth;
Like a lamb that is led to slaughter,
And like a sheep that is silent before its shearers,
So He did not open His mouth.

Likewise, before the body of true believers (the remnant) faces persecution in this system during the end of days and is beheaded (which in itself would be a precursor for her to be with her Loving, Eternal, Perfect and Holy God), there's going to be a precursive beheading as the bride would walk towards the Glory of God (God's promise to me) as she would refuse to be compliant with the system (or the opposing enemy) and this would be the marking precursor to the beheading of true believers at the end of days.

Page 69. Holy Spirit - The Ever-Present Comforter

19:33

Around 5-10 minutes back while I was surfing YouTube, I felt this nudge to listen to the song 'I Cry' by Westlife, or rather the song was being highlighted to me. I thought why would I want to listen to this song? I definitely didn't want to cry and was feeling okay. And then after a few minutes, I went in the direction of thinking about something and ended up tearing up, after which the instance of the song being highlighted to me was highlighted to me. I knew then that God was pointing to what was coming, and not what was at that particular moment when He highlighted that song to me.

Instead of writing the above in the comments section of the song itself, I thought I would record it here, as this also marks one of the ways I (we) relate with the Holy Spirit. We develop a strong and intimate bond with the Holy Spirit of God with time, as it not only knows our future moments of being low in the heart but also comforts us and leads us to come out of it.

70. Call of Duty - Ghost Outrider

18:48

On my way back from work, I happened to suddenly glance briefly with extreme focus at a Doritos packet in a basket hanging outside a shop . As I passed by it, I knew that it was being highlighted to me by the Holy Spirit and the next thing I thought was to buy it though I don't like the texture of Doritos very much (I find it okayish). I didn't even feel like eating it, but I understood that it was for a reason that it was being highlighted to me. So I asked the old Uncle at the shop for it. As I was paying for it, I happened to look at yet another Doritos packet hanging right in front of me (a smaller one). And I knew again that this too was being highlighted to me by the Holy Spirit. So I went ahead and bought it too and put them both inside my bag.

After I reached my PG, I had some snacks and took the packets out later to empty my bag. After a while I happened to pick one up not with the intention to eat it but just to look at it. The first thing my eyes went to was the place where was written 'Call of Duty' on the upper right corner of the packet. Also, there was a picture of a ghost-persona on the packet and beside it was written - Ghost. When I had read the phrase 'Call of Duty', I understood that God was communicating to me that I was called to my 'duty' by Him. It's our duty to serve in the kingdom of God. As I read 'Ghost' written below, it didn't make a lot of sense to me but I moved on to the second packet I had bought nevertheless to look at it. There also I found 'Call of Duty' written on the top right corner, but below was the image of a woman dressed in a war suit and beside it was written 'Outrider'. I put the two packets side by side and together they said - 'Ghost Outrider'.

For two days I've been watching short videos from the movie Ghost rider where the Ghost rider makes the unrepentant (evil) souls feel the pain they put others through and sends them to Hell. I could sense during the past few days that it was not by my own will that I was watching those videos but because I was being led to them and that a message was being highlighted to me.

We who have the Holy Ghost inside of us are called by God to perform our 'Duty'. It's our duty to perform the Will of God on Earth. We are the 'Holy Ghost' carriers who are out riding along the path the Holy Ghost takes us on as we perform the Will of God.

Additionally this early morning I had a dream where I saw a follower of God was beaten brutally to an extent that he was not able to stand up. Later I saw him lying at a place where other followers of God were, and God dropped by there and looked at the beaten follower who was still lying and was unable to stand up. He said that it was normal as He walked by Him and left the place. That's how we are supposed to see our persecution in this place. Because God Himself was brutally and unfairly treated in this satanic (beast) system and He already said in His word that we should expect to be treated like He was or even worse because a servant is not greater than His master. It gave me a lot of encouragement and strength to know that it was normal in God's eyes for His REAL followers to suffer as a result of their non-compliance with the system and their walk with Him.

“There is no God.”

They are corrupt, and their actions are evil;
not one of them does good!
2 God looks down from heaven on the entire human race;
he looks to see if anyone is truly wise,
if anyone seeks God.
3 But no, all have turned away;
all have become corrupt.[b]
No one does good,
not a single one!
4 Will those who do evil never learn?
They eat up my people like bread and wouldn't think of praying to God.
5 Terror will grip them,
terror like they have never known before.
God will scatter the bones of your enemies.
You will put them to shame, for God has rejected them.

Who are the evil dumb? They're the ones blinded to the reality of their evil actions - who without a reason hunt the innocent or rally with those who are after the innocent.

God will judge them in His timing. They think they can hide in the beast system because it supports evil like them, but not so when the King pours down His righteous judgment upon them.

The evil dumb are always smiling, hiding their goop-like character using their smiling skin mask. They shout lies when confronted with the truth, and act in violent ways to prove their false innocence.

They are not willing to admit their folly publicly, and they think it makes them clever and superior. But they don't know that admitting one's guilt is the first step toward God. Without it, you can't begin to repent before Him.

The evil dumb think their cleverness and deceptive ways are higher than the pure conduct of a child of God. They not only frame God's children into unpleasant situations but also mock them by refuting the existence of God or mocking God Himself.

Is there any hope for such when the time for judgment is near? Nope - unless they admit their guilt before guilt, really realize their folly, and turn away from their past ways.

They think of their deceptive ways as being higher, and bring God down to a level of apathetic observant inactivity. But God sees all and everything, and sees their evil hearts and has already rejected them. So they can only marvel in their wicked ways during their short time here on earth as God's righteous judgment awaits them.

I pray to God to bring upon me the same that I brought upon others so I may realize my folly and repent of it and bring a change in me and be what He wants me to be. The evil dumb never pray to God and think that the harm they put others through will never fall on them. They're wrong. Because they're unaware of who God is, and His plan for His children.

The evil dumb are the goop of this earth - the agents of satan who carry out His will as they don't care if what they do is morally right or wrong in God's eyes. They don't see themselves in evil light as they think that what they do is the norm and therefore feel protected in this satanic system. Their consciences have gone numb and they've turned to being reprobates - unable to repent and change their evil ways.

Everything that comes out of their mouth is without character, and they can't hold their tongue from speaking ungodly things, lies, and illegitimate insults about the innocent children of God. They openly insult or mock the ways of God and admit with their mouth that they don't want to change. This will be to their own destruction at the end.

The evil dumb when called out for their behavior change or upgrade their tactics in order to look even cleverer in their own eyes, but they are still the evil dumb in God's eyes who have chosen to neglect the ways of God but go further in hiding their deceptive ways and manipulations in order that those who see them for who they really are, find it difficult to call out their upgraded evil tactics out of the fear of looking foolish or like an overthinker. However, God sees the intention of the heart and knows the thoughts of one's mind. The upgraded tactics of the evil dumb are still seen by God and are still considered evil, filthy, wicked, and deplorable. The increased wickedness, cleverness, or subtlety of their tactics doesn't make them right. What they do is still wrong, and they fail to recognize it, or rather they don't want to. They choose to go further in the evil path they started on to be even better at being evil dumb - but they're only moving towards their eventual destruction.

There is nothing to be learned from the evil dumb. They will make you corrupt like they are in their hearts and minds. Stay away from the evil dumb and avoid looking at them for even the expressions on their faces reek of deception. Avoid hearing anything they happen to say around you, for all their words reek of deception. Avoid any conversations with them or listening to them, for they have nothing good to say as their hearts are filled with black goop - whatever lies in the heart comes out of the mouth.

Surround yourself with like-minded people of God who know and fear God and be always ready to help those who are new in their walk with God as God calls and leads you.

The evil dumb are the agents of satan who do his will on earth and have lost their own sense of right and wrong. Keep them out of your sphere.

Page 73. We're called to Hate What's Evil.

20:01

Should we have a love for demons, the devil, his ways, and his kingdom? No. Should the fact that they are 'gods' of a kind and have power in their own realm enthral us? No. Should ungodly people in power attract us? No.

Hate what's evil from the bottom of your heart - as that's how God sees evil. And it would be apparent in how He is going to treat this serpent system towards the end of it - it will all be burned up in fire.

We're not called to love everyone, nor should we want to. God's love is rooted in forgiveness based on repentance or being incognizant of what's truly conscientiously right or wrong. If one does wrong while he doesn't know that he is doing wrong, but later on learns about it and realizes his sin as a result, and therefore repents and changes his ways - he is forgivable in the eyes of God, and God is actually more pleased when such a person repents and turns away from his sin than He is because of a righteous person who doesn't need to repent.

Luke 15:7
7 I tell you that in the same way there will be more rejoicing in heaven over one sinner who repents than over ninety-nine righteous persons who do not need to repent.

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Luke%2015&version=NIV>

Luke 15:10
10 In the same way, I tell you, there is rejoicing in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner who repents."

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Luke%2015&version=NIV>

If one does wrong, not knowing one's wrong and never realizes it because one never received correction or never happened to understand how one was wrong in those aspects - it is still forgivable in God's eyes. God gives grace in such situations. These two types of sinners are whom God died for on the cross to take upon Himself the judgment of their sins in order that they may be guilt-free in His eyes and revel with Him in His kingdom realizing that He is their God and First Love. These two types of sinners have mouldable hearts and minds and have the capacity to be more righteous with correction and self-introspection made possible by the Holy Spirit in their lives. But, when one knows one is wrong, and still does wrong wilfully and enjoys in it and causes harm to others in the process, and never repents and is actually unwilling to ever repent but wants to keep continuing in the same sin - that's a part of being a reprobate and reprobates are rejected and hated by God which is also why He turns His face away from them though their record of sins is still being kept.

This third type of sinner is so hard-hearted that his hard heart didn't get molten even by the self-sacrificing act of God on the cross for his salvation. He wilfully rejected God as he doesn't like to be under authority and wants to live as he pleases doing every wrong thing under the sun in a discrete way keeping himself safe from being caught using clever means, power or oppression. He has sold himself to devil and follows his ways and works as his agent. His fate is doomed. He will not be a part of the assembly of the righteous in the kingdom of God.

God's act of self-sacrifice was also a divisive act meant to separate good hearts that understand love from the evil hearts that don't care anything about it. If your heart doesn't change or melt at God's self-sacrifice out of His love for you, you don't deserve God and won't be with Him in Heaven - that's why He made it a condition for people to 'believe' in His sacrifice knowing that it was God who came in flesh and died for their sins, and repent and change their hearts towards Him, in order for them to be with Him in Heaven.

One should not expect to be on good terms with God when one lives a life coming closer each day to reprobacy, not receiving correction, and changing one's heart and ways.

What's even more deplorable about such people is how they 'act' righteous despite the things they do. If one is killing people or raping women in daily routine, and then later on goes outside and acts as if he or she is so righteous, acting as if he's so so good despite his sin, it is all the way more deplorable to God.

If one knows one is guilty of grave sins, one should not 'in principle' act like one is fully righteous. But in a fallen system, acting righteous and good is an inherent part of being deceptive and 'clever' and is considered good (while it is wickedness in God's eyes). Even the righteous know they are not perfect and yet they live in repentance and pray for forgiveness of sins unknown to them. The evil dumb however know how wicked they are and yet they see themselves as if they are pure gold, as if there's no one else like them, and they adore themselves like they're so unique and worthy of respect and honor. The evil dumb have a very high view of themselves, they're proud like a god and think no one (not even God) should be telling them what to do (or they don't receive correction from the Word of God). Will God accept proud wilful sinners who think they are the gods of their own lives seeing God as a hindrance who reminds them of their unrepented continual willful sins? In a fallen system, such people are revered and accepted - not so in the Kingdom of God.

When one belongs to the dark side, one shouldn't 'in principle' be putting on a 'good' act as it further makes them deplorable and repulsive! But in a fallen system, it is considered a clever thing to be both wicked and yet have purity in some hidden corner of one's heart - that's an incorrect way of looking at things - a lie from the pit of hell. One can't be both wicked, and righteous. A righteous person hates evil and vice versa.

How disgusting it feels to look at a person who knows right from wrong and yet doesn't care about or even want any forgiveness for his continual sins? And when such a person acts as if he is pure gold, it makes him look even more aversive! Wilful evildoers who don't fear God are the black goop of this earth - not the treasure.

Don't have anything to do with such 'acting' hypocrites who will act like they are worthy of all the good things and yet their thoughts, behavior and character are equivalent of the dirtiest filth in the eyes of God.

These acting types observe carefully the children of God and copy their traits - not really embodying them but just putting them over themselves like a cloak while they remain the same filthy-in-character person on the inside. They are the ones who are called by God as wolves in sheep's clothing - they're deplorable wolves who go around acting like they're some sort of a celebrity and thus deserve to be obeyed and respected while their inner selves reek of abuse, oppression, slander, lies, deception, a readiness to cheat, betrayal and murder.

Do you take your thoughts and words lightly? Don't. You need to change from your inner core and become a new creation in Christ as the Holy Spirit works on you as you stay in repentance in all humbleness towards God.

(Morally dumb people are referred to as the evil dumb here.)

Declaration
I hate what's evil and it draws me away.

Luke 15

The Parable of the Lost Sheep

15 Now the tax collectors and sinners were all gathering around to hear Jesus. 2 But the Pharisees and the teachers of the law muttered, "This man welcomes sinners and eats with them."
3 Then Jesus told them this parable: 4 "Suppose one of you has a hundred sheep and loses one of them. Doesn't he leave the ninety-nine in the open country and go after the lost sheep until he finds it? 5 And when he finds it, he joyfully puts it on his shoulders 6 and goes home. Then he calls his friends and neighbors together and says, 'Rejoice with me; I have found my lost sheep.' 7 I tell you that in the same way there will be more rejoicing in heaven over one sinner who repents than over ninety-nine righteous persons who do not need to repent.

The Parable of the Lost Coin

8 "Or suppose a woman has ten silver coins[a] and loses one. Doesn't she light a lamp, sweep the house and search carefully until she finds it? 9 And when she finds it, she calls her friends and neighbors together and says, ‘Rejoice with me; I have found my lost coin.’ 10 In the same way, I tell you, there is rejoicing in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner who repents.”

The Parable of the Lost Son

11 Jesus continued: “There was a man who had two sons. 12 The younger one said to his father, ‘Father, give me my share of the estate.’ So he divided his property between them.
13 “Not long after that, the younger son got together all he had, set off for a distant country and there squandered his wealth in wild living. 14 After he had spent everything, there was a severe famine in that whole country, and he began to be in need. 15 So he went and hired himself out to a citizen of that country, who sent him to his fields to feed pigs. 16 He longed to fill his stomach with the pods that the pigs were eating, but no one gave him anything.
17 “When he came to his senses, he said, ‘How many of my father’s hired servants have food to spare, and here I am starving to death! 18 I will set out and go back to my father and say to him: Father, I have sinned against heaven and against you. 19 I am no longer worthy to be called your son; make me like one of your hired servants.’ 20 So he got up and went to his father.
“But while he was still a long way off, his father saw him and was filled with compassion for him; he ran to his son, threw his arms around him and kissed him.
21 “The son said to him, ‘Father, I have sinned against heaven and against you. I am no longer worthy to be called your son.’
22 “But the father said to his servants, ‘Quick! Bring the best robe and put it on him. Put a ring on his finger and sandals on his feet. 23 Bring the fattened calf and kill it. Let’s have a feast and celebrate. 24 For this son of mine was dead and is alive again; he was lost and is found.’ So they began to celebrate.
25 “Meanwhile, the older son was in the field. When he came near the house, he heard music and dancing. 26 So he called one of the servants and asked him what was going on. 27 ‘Your brother has come,’ he replied, ‘and your father has killed the fattened calf because he has him back safe and sound.’
28 “The older brother became angry and refused to go in. So his father went out and pleaded with him. 29 But he answered his father, ‘Look! All these years I’ve been slaving for you and never disobeyed your orders. Yet you never gave me even a young goat so I could celebrate with my friends. 30 But when this son of yours who has squandered your property with prostitutes comes home, you kill the fattened calf for him!’
31 “‘My son,’ the father said, ‘you are always with me, and everything I have is yours. 32 But we had to celebrate and be glad, because this brother of yours was dead and is alive again; he was lost and is found.’”

Page 74. The False Church and the World - Both are A Whorehouse

27 September 2022

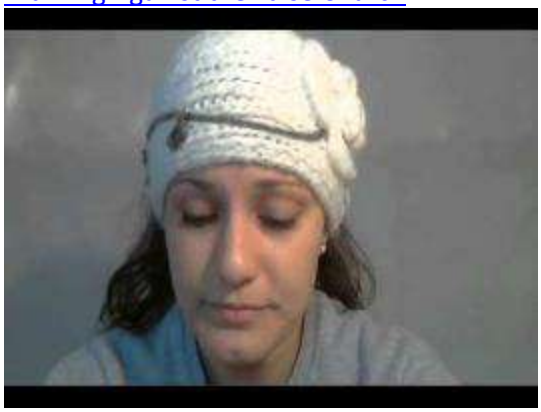
I found this video in my side YouTube suggestions today. Sister Marilee (Brother Andrew's wife) talks here about her dream in which God showed her the 'true' condition of the worldly 'church system' and what it really is.

Warning Against the False Church



Video: Sister Marilee talks here about her dream given by God regarding the condition of the worldly church.

<<Warning Against the False Church.mp4>>

I would now like to write my own dream from God about the situation of the city I live in. This dream is from many months back, but I have not written about it here anywhere. God showed me a residential locality. As I moved along the street, I saw that the ground floors of many homes of that locality had no doors but had transparent curtains through which one could see inside. It was night and what I saw was many people sleeping together and the scene looked like that of a whorehouse. God was comparing those residential homes with whorehouses as there were no boundaries between people and there was a subtle 'immoral liberty' in the air that one could sense, an open acceptance of people sleeping around with random people and being okay with it, and even doing group sleepovers. I was being flown around in that dream and didn't walk all the time. I felt quite unsafe in that locality and sat myself near the top of a very tall building where I couldn't be seen. However, when I happened to look inside that building through its window outside which I was sitting on the wedges coming out of the wall, I saw a guy who said something to who seemed to be his parents, and then went inside his room (whose window I was peeking inside through), locked himself in, laid on his back on his bed and started fornicating with himself while looking at the screen of his phone which was in his other hand.

This dream was shocking to me as it showed me how rampant sexual immorality was in the place - to an extent where even the 'residential areas' were seen as whorehouses by God because of their openness to fornicate and not seeing it as a sin. People are called to be one flesh with their covenant partners and not hop around from one person to another. The scene of looking at many people sleeping together through transparent curtains was too disturbing. Those people had lost their sense of healthy and godly boundaries and didn't feel any shame in even covering themselves up by putting up doors. The transparent curtains symbolized that the fornication occurring within the locality was 'seen' or known by everyone and was accepted. People didn't want to hide that they were fornicating with many people at once because no one had a problem with it.

This is an ungodly condition of the worldly city I live in, and the city needs to repent of it. We are called to pray for our cities and nations, in order that they may repent before God and their hearts are changed as they get to know Him.

The world is likened to a whore by God, while the church is His bride. The bride is not to live by the ways of the world and thus be a part of the whorehouse. However, the worldly church system is so deeply embedded in sin that it itself was likened to a whorehouse by God as shown to Sister Marilee, and we are called to not be a part of it as it leads us away from the righteous way of living as we follow Jesus.

The true church of God constitutes those who have His Spirit inside of them and who live by the Spirit as they are led.

I watched this video a few days back and saved it to put it in this Notebook later. In this video, brother Jonathan talks about his experience with his son where the devil entered his son which made him start growling (starts at the mark of 3:30 seconds into the video).

Here it Comes .....Past Obvious.mp4

(Most church members may already be well versed with such info) The spiritual reality manifests through people in our lives. I too have seen the devil staring right at me through people. How did I know it was the devil? I was once talking to my PhD supervisor in home with her sitting facing her in her home and suddenly her expression changed. Almost as if her facial features bulged out. There was an extremely apparent wickedness on her face (her eyes and entire face). The expression changed from being normal to a very wicked one and she had never looked like she was looking in that moment before. She was quickly swirling her tongue on her lips like a serpent as she was staring at me (she did it twice). I could tell that the entity staring at me through her was very wicked. Later on, I realized that the devil had entered inside her and was staring at me through her.

If you surround yourself with willful sinners and relish in their company, the devil will find a way in your life as well and eventually into your mind corrupting it and making you numb to sin and accepting of it. But if you resist the devil and the people he works through, he will flee as you don't give in to his ways and the temptations he is trying to lure you in. However, he will still try to have a grip of you and bring you into his clan. If you're continuously resisting him and keeping your mind in check, he may not be able to work through you in such a case, but he will work through others to create problems of different intensities for you in your life.

Devil the adversary of God and the children of God tries to lure the children of God through one or the other means or different temptations. If he is not bale to 'win' you to his clan, then he will use others to torture you in one or the other way - because he doesn't has any better work to do than to mislead and deceive the world as he is in constant rebellion against God, and this is his rebellious system that we are born into. We (the children of God carrying His Spirit) are like beacons of light in a world of darkness.

The fact that the main God of one of the false religions is also called a 'deceiver' is not a coincidence. Devil is the great deceiver of this world who keeps the world in the dark, away from the knowledge of God.

Devil has a plethora of false doctrines circulated in the world related to God. He himself created this 'system of a down' where two opposing sides are unequally yolked together in a body, and then he spread this false doctrine through his agents that one needs to balance one's good and bad deeds in order for one to find salvation - the Great lie of one of the false religions.

Why would one create a spiritual system where both good and bad sides exist in a person, and then make it a condition to balance their outputs or have more of the 'good' output than the bad which is not even possible because of the innate spiritual condition of the 'system of a down' in which the person is born? His lies have been made naked now.

God created angels to love and obey Him. He did not create the 'system of a down'.

James 2:13 (English Standard Version) 13 For judgment is without mercy to one who has shown no mercy. Mercy triumphs over judgment.

By far I've talked mostly about the forgiving nature of God and how He give us grace and how we (who will be saved by faith by grace at the end) often have unknown unrepented sins. And yes, forgiveness is indeed the great and the main aspect of God's nature. He would rather give you time to have you repent of your sins before Him and change your ways and turn to Him than to right away inflict judgment.

But I also have written here about how God judged me for betraying my best friend 'Worship' more than a decade later I had wronged her. I did not see my error, and did not repent of it, but what I had done was grievously wrong in God's eyes as I had caused her immense emotional pain. He was patient at first, but eventually He inflicted me the same emotional pain through someone else that made me realize how I had wronged her and led me to repent.

On Page 73, I wrote about the kind of sinners who unknowingly commit sins that they don't know are sins and are forgiven by God. But it's God who decides according to His perfect judgment the sins that one needs to repent of and the ones that need to be judged. My sin deserved judgment in His eyes, which led me to repentance. It was the case of His perfect earthly judgment - eye for an eye, tooth for a tooth.

Leviticus 24:19-20

New International Version

19 Anyone who injures their neighbor is to be injured in the same manner: 20 fracture for fracture, eye for eye, tooth for tooth. The one who has inflicted the injury must suffer the same injury.

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Leviticus%2024%3A19-20&version=NIV>

However, He judged me to lead me to the realization of what I did wrong and therefore to repentance, to have me understand His nature of that of a Righteous Judge, and ultimately to have me turn to Him. Often He would refrain from earthly judgment on reprobates as it doesn't lead them to repentance and turn them to Him though their end lies in the pit of Hell. At times, He does inflict His righteous judgment and wipes out cities at once (like He did with Sodom and Gomorrah). But the judgment of evil is certain, if not now on earth, then later in Hell.

He died for sinners who had the potential to turn away from their previous wicked ways and saved them from His wrath. Even they faced indirect judgment in the form of their sins being placed on their God Himself. How much more God must be angry towards those reprobates that inflict pain upon His sheep/children and try to lead them away from Him?

Another e.g. of God's righteous judgment would be when one inflicts tremendous mental and emotional pain on an innocent person and does it willfully and is unrepentful and leads the tortured person to end their life. In God's eyes, the right judgment for such a person would be to have him experience a heartache of an intensity which would make the guilty party want to end his life (thereby making him repent and making way for him to turn to God). (Edit: I didn't write this paragraph out of my own mind but according to what I had understood from two dreams I have written previously about.)

God has kept me alive and I'm happy because of His revelations and His work in my life. But He knows the impact the same hurtful situation would've had on me had I not known Him or wasn't close to Him. So He has His righteous judgment waiting for the oppressor(s) at His appointed timing - where they would end up doing what I would've done had God not been there for me. When they taste that, they would know that it was the work of God in their life and also that they deserved it in His eyes making them repent for their evil. (Edit: This is not a hateful paragraph. But it describes the situation for exactly what it is. God knows which one of His haters are redeemable because their hearts are still moldable. So He would rather make them go through situations that He knows would bring them to repentance and to Him.

God showed me exactly how it would be for an evildoer when the work of God is openly brought to fruition. He showed it to me many months back. It would be equivalent of the top of his head being sliced off with the sword of the spirit thereby putting an end to his evil self.)

God is forgiving, as He showed in His act of self-sacrifice on the cross. But He is also the righteous judge who judges everyone and no one can escape His righteous judgment as it falls upon them. His judgment comes like an inescapable force that one can't avoid as it is 'forced' circumstantially upon the guilty party and they can't do anything to avoid it.

Hebrews 10:30-31

New Living Translation

For we know the one who said, “I will take revenge. I will pay them back.” He also said, “The Lord will judge his own people.” It is a terrible thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

From <https://mail.yahoo.com/d/folders/1/messages/67476>

The righteous fear God and carefully watch their conduct, the wicked ones do not fear anyone and go without control along their evil schemes. They don't know God say in their hearts that Who is God to judge them.

Another e.g. of God's righteous judgment would be when one has spent his lifetime torturing daughters of other people, then God would have his own daughter face His judgment because of his refusal to change his ways and an unwillingness to repent. (Edit: This is evident in the way He struck the firstborns of Egypt as it was oppressing Israel whom He considered His own firstborn and stopping it from leaving the land and worship their God.)

Numbers 14:18
New International Version
18 ‘The Lord is slow to anger, abounding in love and forgiving sin and rebellion. Yet he does not leave the guilty unpunished; he punishes the children for the sin of the parents to the third and fourth generation.’

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Numbers%2014%3A18&version=NIV>

We shouldn't feel bad when God judges guilty and wicked according to His perfect judgment. We should rejoice in His perfect nature and even pray for Him to judge our own unknown sins so that our limitations may be brought into the light and we can bring about change in ourselves.

1. God's Mercy is 'More' than the Sins of 'His' children. 'His' Enemies and the World are Reserved for His Judgment

Today as I was still lying on my bed as a part of complete fasting and rest, I had this Worship song play in my heart - ' His Mercy is More'.

His Mercy Is More - Shane & Shane (Lyrics + Scripture)

His Mercy Is More - Shane & Shane (Lyrics

Video Worship Song: His Mercy Is More

He forgives those whom He loves and puts their sins behind as He looks at them, and wants to bring them to have the right heart towards Him by putting them through different situations (sometimes extremely difficult).

We can pray that God has mercy on 'our' enemies, but 'His' enemies would be judged rightly by Him. Though many who once were His enemies are also brought into His kingdom as they repent and change their ways.

(I often pray that God would bring the wicked people in my sphere to repentance and make them turn to Him. But it's not something that's in our hands. God knows which one of them is redeemable and would eventually be a part of His Kingdom.)

We as children of God, who love Him and whom God loves, can rejoice knowing that His love and compassion-filled eyes watch over us as we walk in His Will.

What Love could remember,
No wrongs we have done;
Omniscient, all-knowing,
He counts not their sum.
Thrown into the sea,
Without bottom or shore…

Our sins they are many,
His Mercy is More.

What patience could wait,
As we constantly roam;
What Father So Tender,
Is calling us Home.
He welcomes the weakest,
The vilest, the poor..

Our sins they are many,
His Mercy is More.

Praise the Lord..
His Mercy is More..
Stronger than darkness,
New every morn'.
Our sins they are many,
His Mercy is More.

Praise the Lord..
His Mercy is More..
Stronger than darkness,
New every morn'.
Our sins they are many,
His Mercy is More.

What riches of Kindness,
He lavished on us;
His Blood was the Payment,
His Life was the Cost.
We stood 'neath a debt,
We could never afford..

Our sins they are many,
His Mercy is More.

Praise the Lord..
His Mercy is More..
Stronger than darkness,
New every morn'.
Our sins they are many,
His Mercy is More.

Praise the Lord..
His Mercy is More..
Stronger than darkness,
New every morn'.
Our sins they are many,
His Mercy is More.
Our sins they are many,
His Mercy is More.

19:24

This one verse encapsulates the nature of God as being both merciful and the perfect righteous judge, and also captures the entirety of the two pages (76 and 77).

2. devil - The Master of Illusions

Devil is a master of illusions. He can come in front of you in various deceptive forms trying to look like someone e is not. His deception sharpens as he observes you more and thereafter comes across you with related new illusions.

People led by him act all the way the same as well. Their agenda is to deceive you and lead you out of your walk with Christ. Those agents of satan change their looks as they observe you more thinking that this will aid them in deceiving you.

This day they pretend to be one thing, the next day they pretend to be something entirely different. This is seen mainly in the way they dress as they observe you and want to embody the qualities they see in the way they dress. Even their dressing sense is meant to deceive you and doesn't reflect who they truly are.

Children of God don't feel the need to copy aspects from other people's personas in order to deceive them. This is a peculiar tactic used by the devil and his minions.

An ungodly person may dress in a way to highlight the non-existent aspects of their persona. I have observed people who hate me for no reason dress in a way to make the point that they are filled with a sense of deep love. But in that act they are being deceptive, so how can they be deeply loving at the same time when they are putting an innocent person down for no reason.

Such is the hypocrisy and deception used by satan's agents.

We don't try to falsely highlight the non-existent parts of our beings or put others down if we feel secure in ourselves.

How can someone who insulted you for no reason once then, later on, make the claim that they love you when they haven't repented of their previous put-downs or don't even feel that they did anything wrong? It's all a sham that people led by the devil use to keep people confused and stuck in their trap. They want you to be there acting according to them irrespective of what they do to you, and when they do do you wrong again, they want to be instantly forgiven without repentance only to repeat that same behavior again. They don't have godly love, my friends. If you tell them about the gospel, they feel annoyed. They don't care about the love of God but only want to ignorantly elevate the devil and themselves.

Jesus has called us to live authentic lives in Him without a trace of deception while keeping our hearts and minds guarded. Devil copies whatever God does but is never able to outdo Him, because he doesn't really has the qualities or character traits of God and is only putting up a show by putting them over him like a cloak to make a false impression.

That's how agents of devil (those led by him) rob the children of God of their space and identity when they happen to live with them - by falsely portraying themselves as having qualities they don't have. If anything, they are immensely good at very quickly catching the character traits you have which they then try to copy to come across as a better version of you when in reality their inner being is entirely different and rather bent on the vile side. Sometimes we need to stay with such people for a while, and it can be exhausting if our eyes are not focused on our God.

But if one's strong in one's identity is Christ, no deception will work on you or will be able to deceive you.

It may seem like a mild message or a message of no importance. But just think about how it is when people are constantly putting up an act to look like something they are not while revealing their true colours intermittently as their wickedness shows forth - this is one of the branches of what it is to be a wolf in sheep's clothing. Deception in any way is wicked.

Choice between Two Kingdoms

Choice between Two Kingdoms.mp4

Video: Choice Between Two Kingdoms
(30th September 2022

Children of God are under the rule of their Rich King (Lord Jesus) who blesses them with heavenly riches though on earth they might be poor. The people from the other kingdom, however, are lured by earthly riches offered by the devil which deludes them into falling for evil practices as they follow their Poor King (satan/devil). Devil may look rich on earth, but he is poor, and can't resist his eventual fate of being judged in the lake of fire. The judgment will be forced on him and his followers despite what they may want for themselves.

Jesus was poor on earth (He became poor for us), but He is the King of kings and holds all authority and power over all creation. He sits at His throne in Heaven and looks down on His children with eyes of Love and Compassion, as they repent of their wickedness and evil ways, and follow Him.

Follower of satan, or those belonging to the kingdom of darkness, are blessed by satan with earthy riches but their fate lies with him as they chose to follow the enemy of God - the great deceiver who deceives the world and keeps them in darkness away from the knowledge of God, and keeps their minds shackled in the worldly system.

God wants us to understand the difference between real and false riches. Consider yourself rich if you are favored by God though you may not be rich in money or possessions. However, if you are rich in the earthly sense but God is far away from you - you're poor.

No one can escape the judgment of God - rich or poor. But God shows mercy to a contrite heart.

This is an important one to watch (can talk to some specific people):
Watchman v. Shepherd

Video: Watchman v. Shepherd

Watchman v. Shepherd.mp4

The watchman and the shepherd need to work together and not work alone. Let all anguish dissolve between the watchman and the shepherd as both are called by God to perform their duties. Let not one smear another but accept each other with their past as they both have been washed by His blood, made new creations in Christ as they left their pasts behind, and have been appointed for their tasks. The revelations given to both of them hold importance and one should not put down the other.

30th Sept 2022 15:40

God wants both the watchman and the shepherd to work together for the edification of the body of Christ, and not abandon each other or cut one off from the group because of individual differences which are of no real importance in the eyes of God as they cause ungodly division.

*Page 79. Beware of devil's Tests that You Don't Need to Pass

It's not just God who sometimes tests our decisions as He puts us in certain situations, but devil also does the same by creating a fake situation using his agents. God tests you though He already knows you and your heart, and he has the right to put you in different circumstances as your Creator. But devil tests you because he doesn't know you and wants to know more about you so that he can use the new information in his future plans against you.

Often devil also tries to guilt trip the children of God into lending help to a false situation. He does that to rob them of their resources when God has provided them with just enough. It's God who provides, be it through any resource. Some of the children of God, He trains them by providing for them on a daily or monthly basis where they don't have excess money in their bank accounts like the worldly people. God does this to rid them of the world and not rely on money for their survival but Him alone. He does this to build their trust in Him with time. But devil sends his agents to indirectly steal (in a sense) from the children of God by sending people to them to ask for resources.

Holy Spirit is our guide. If God (the Holy Spirit) is not leading you to help someone though it may look like they need help, you don't have to help them. It is for a reason that He is not leading you to help them. Devil's agents often come in the guise of needing help to test you and depending on your response they level up the next deception they plan to use on you. Beware of such tactics that can put you in a compromising or undesirable position that God doesn't want for you.

For e.g.: Let's say that God showed you in a dream or a vision that you were to do something using a possession that you have, or an event that will come to pass with certain things on or around you. So you go ahead and keep those things aside as you know that you would be needing them, or you buy other things that God showed you had in a dream (like I bought my red Relaxo flipflops) as you know that you would be using those things when those events come to pass. And suppose you make it known to a friend or share with a colleague what God showed you. After knowing God's plans for you, devil will try to disrupt them by using various tactics. And playing on your conscience is one of them. He may try to guilt trip you in handing over the things that God had you set aside for a future event to his agent who comes in front of you as someone who needs help, or he may have call yet another one of his agents to ask for money for a social cause when God clearly provided just enough for you for that day or month. We may feel like giving out our resources in such cases out of a good conscience or because we don't want to feel the guilt of not helping a needy person, but we've to listen to the prompting of the Holy Spirit first instead of our own moral inclination in that situation. If you are being drawn away by the Holy Spirit from such people though they look needy, do so in obedience to God. We need to be prudent in helping others.

And remember, the burden of the world belongs to God, and we are called to walk in His will and do things that are in our capacity and that what He wants us to do. The above can also be understood as discerning between 'a good work and a God work' from how Sis Adele puts it. Additionally what may seem good work to you may as well be the devil's ploy to distract you from walking in God's Will. devil doesn't always come upfront as an adversary but also as a falsely meek needy person needing help - in whichever way he is able to engage you or get to you.

So, be aware. Devil's tests are of no importance. We have to follow the promptings of the Holy Spirit and be led by it. God already knows our hearts though He still puts us in trying situations to develop character in us.

20:18

Within the past 2-3 months, I had a brief vision where I saw Jesus standing in His armour with a sword in one hand slightly lifted up to the side. It seemed as if He was ready to climb on the horse (to his right) and make war. As He was standing there, He was looking at me and the look in His eyes was of both joy and vengeance (over the serpent system as He is the Great Judge). He had a slight smile on His face as He was looking at me, and He looked glorious in His armour all ready to bring judgment. The vision was above my line of sight and I could see almost half of Him as He was looking down at me with a smile as He knew that this would be good news for His Church. Prior to this vision, I had another vision when I was in room D4, where I had seen Him standing beside His horse and He looked quite calm as He was smiling. The vision had only His upper half and in my line of sight. Though He was dressed in His warrior armour, the expression on His face was that of a gentle and loving Creator.

He gives the same message to different people in different ways. He had brother Jonathan go to a place with a statue of Jesus on a horse with His sword lifted high.

Though I had mentioned this vision at other places on YouTube in comments, I had not written it down here.

He looks so beautiful even in His armour suit.

Then somewhere during the last year towards the end of it, when I was still in room D4, I had a vision where I saw a very fat sheep (looked animated) walking alone on a road towards me which was surrounded by heat and what looked like fire. The sheep looked quite happy as it was walking merrily in its own rhythm. But the surroundings looked unfavourable. God will judge between the fat sheep and the lean sheep.

Page 81. 'Perfect Inner Alignment' for the key to work; 'No More Eating'; Dream of 'First' Healing Miracle

1. 'Perfect Inner Alignment' for the key to work

I noticed that while working out my gaze would often fixate on the keyhole of my almirah right in front of my eyes. I knew God was speaking something to me through it. Yesterday I happened to have the key to my almirah in PG. It hadn't worked previously in locking the almirah so I didn't bother to know its whereabouts. But I had been seeing it lying on the shared table for some time (placed there by my roommate) and thought of trying to use it again. But this time I tried a bit longer to find the related problem. I pulled the small inner metal slab a bit towards myself. It was a part of the lock attached to the base of one of the inner slabs of the almirah. The almirah didn't lock though the key was working otherwise and rotating fully through the keyhole when used with the almirah's door open. The problem wasn't with the key, but with the inner metal slab, I figured out. After shifting the lock's metal slab a bit, I tried to use the key with the door closed, but it still didn't work. I shifted the metal slab more towards myself and tried to lock the almirah, still the alignment wasn't right and it didn't get locked. I shifted the slab even more towards myself, and this time when I tried it, the door locked as the key worked. It took a few attempts to shift the slab further and further towards me which made the key work for its purpose. After the key had worked, I was reminded of the previous vision where God showed me a 'clean' X-Ray vision of a female's middle body wearing only a lingerie with a thin front which was also in X-Ray vision. It served as a model for me to achieve (the vision was first referred to on Page 44, and later on also towards the end of page 58 in a greater detail). As I looked at the X-Ray vision of the middle body, a translucent X-Ray image of inverted male genitalia appeared on top of the thin lingerie and started blinking (disappearing and reppearing). God made the point from that vision that that 'model' was the 'key' for the "key" to work. I also understood it as the "condition" set by Him. The incident yesterday with my almirah's key is representative of the same. I kept shifting the inner metal slab more and more towards myself and after a few attempts, the key worked and the door was able to be locked. Likewise, I will keep working out and shifting my protruding belly inside more and more (while taking care of my diet alongside) and after enough attempts, it would have the 'right' or the 'perfect' configuration needed to unlock the reality embedded in that vision.

I could not have imagined that God would ask me to do such a thing. But as it is, we all have our different walks and tasks assigned by God which in the end work towards His 'greater' plan.

2. 'No More Eating'

Now regarding the 'No More Eating': if I consider the daily average of how I have been eating since I started to make efforts to implement the 'No More Eating' while trying to reduce weight, I can safely say that what I've been eating is almost half of how I used to eat. I have gone a duration of time without eating also, surviving only on drinks, and it was very difficult and I had a headache all the time. Then I resumed eating a bit and now I eat in moderation because I started having blackouts as I stood up from a long duration of sitting or lying down. And I also changed my routine and am working to change it further so I am able to implement more of the things as the Holy Spirit leads me to. And I believe that the 'No "More" Eating' did not mean for me to not eat at all but to not eat 'more' but healthy and in moderation in such a way that I am able to loose weight and achieve what was shown to me. Because without eating I won't be able to keep muscle mass and do strength exercises which use body weight as weight, so definitely I have to eat but not 'more'. And I definitely don't eat like I used to - 3 full meals and snacks once and sometimes other things in between also. God's instruction for me is to consume 'eggs' during night as they don't have carbs but would fill me and would give nutrition. God opens doors and brings/reveals 'keys' to us to different closed doors in His own timing, and not ours so that we don't "run ahead" of Him and His timing. Like I had the key since the beginning, but what I needed to do for the key to work in locking the Almirah was revealed to me months later.

Some people may ask that why is God requiring me to change my looks? Isn't love unconditional, or not so much about looks? But, I have understood the reason behind what He showed me to do in two ways. First, when we come in the presence of God, we've to apply the blood of Jesus, or else we are despicable in His sight because of our sins, or we can also be despicable in His sight because of an unrepentant heart. Second, most people have an ideal of how they want their partner to look. Though one may fall in love with another fellow who doesn't look like his/her ideal, but if that other person made efforts to achieve that ideal or looked like it, it would lead to things being even better between the people involved. Jesus first showed His not-so-groomed and very humbled version to me, so I would know that He's not about vanity. Later on, He showed Himself shining as the glorious King, and also in His armor suit with straight shiny hair. He looked amazing in both because His inner self shone the same in all His appearances. He looks immensely beautiful in anything He chooses to show Himself up in.

3. Dream of 'First' Healing Miracle

I had yet another dream before I understood the meaning of the 'fairy' vision with Jesus I previously wrote about. In that dream, I was bringing first aid to someone who needed it as she had a localized skin condition. I was then asked to 'try' to heal it, and then I laid my hands on her and prayed to God in the name of Jesus and I saw it getting healed, and then I moved away quickly saying with a feeling of relief that I was a fairy of Jesus - this comment that I made right after the healing in the dream didn't make sense to me until I had understood the fairy vision in real life and had written about its meaning here. After understanding the vision with Jesus, I also understood why I said that statement in my dream.

After that healing incident, I found myself standing with some guys who were talking very nicely to me and I felt that someone was making brief appearances behind my back as I could sense some movement.

Page 82. devil Deceives, but the Holy Spirit Reveals

12:41

I now often see people (both men and women) I encounter in the world mimicking what they got to know through the revelations of the Holy Spirit written here by me. If God has given you revelations about something, the devil and his minions work together to make it fail. In my case, men led by devil will copy the revelations which relate to the promise made to me by God, while women will copy my own (good) traits and the advices given to me by God for 'me' to follow in obedience, or they may exaggerate themselves in a manner to make people stumble from their God-ordained trajectory. In this manner, the devil targets both me and God's promise as they try to lure us away from God's trajectory for us. And I can see that these people are only copying those things as they catch my attention because they resemble the 'content' of the revelations.

I observe them for a while thinking why would they present themselves before me in that manner? Are they making a point? If so, then what is it? And then later I find out that often it's all a deceiving 'test' meant to judge my response or reaction. But even when they perform these tests, they are subject to making false judgments because they can't know my thoughts while I happen to observe something, because it resembles the revelations given to me. In this manner, though the devil tries to hinder in God's Will, he is not in the leading role because he only forms his plans and next moves according to what he observes, and his observations may be wrong as well because his mind works in an ungodly manner, and will definitely fail when you keep your breastplate of righteousness on because of which even when you are not falling for his tactics, he is still inclined to perceive your behavior falsely and therefore form a doomed-to-fail future move.

But, the revelations given by the Holy Spirit are exact and accurate and perfectly describe the way that things actually are. There is no room for misunderstanding or deception in a clearly communicated revelation. In a sudden revelation when I was still staying in Room D4 with my first roommate who was quite ungodly and worldly, the Holy Spirit showed me that she was standing at a distance of a few meters from the promised person. She then showed him her flat belly by lifting her top, and he face lit up and he looked quite enticed and happy as he nodded to her bending his head quickly to both sides. At that moment, God hadn't given me the revelation talked about on Page 44. But still, this revelation didn't quite make sense to me, because she and the promised person didn't know each other and the revelation was unexpected. That girl used abusive language 'all' the time, she not only talked crap using foul language with her boyfriend but also went out at nights with other men, about which even one of her friends staying in the PG once rebuked her on, to which she gave a casual reply that it was fine and her boyfriend was ok with it. That girl was very emotionally abusive and made snide comments about me for no reason and was very harsh and unempathetic to people who are genuinely good, but was 'apparently' good to those who were just like her - abusive and worldly. However, she was slim and fair.

[Edit (11th Nov 2022): 'She was revealed to me by the Holy Spirit as being a white blue blooded alien - the other race. She was not God's sheep. Perhaps I wrote about it previously as well. That was the first revelation I received about her. And the later revelation was what I wrote above.]

So God previously made the above point to me to make me understand the importance of getting a flat belly which I otherwise wouldn't have stressed on. And many months later, He revealed to me the 'key' in the revelation first mentioned on Page 44. Some time (weeks or months) after that revelation, He also showed me yet another animated vision, where only the middle bodies of a group of women walking in bikinis could be seen and all of them had flat bellies though slightly bony. And they were walking in a glamorous manner swinging like a pendulum. And the next thought that the Holy Spirit revealed to me was someone thinking 'Fairies' in his mind. And I understood again why I 'had' to do what God had told me.

From the above paragraphs, we understand that devil's tactics fail as his tests will fail if you're wearing your breastplate of righteousness which will make him misunderstand or misinterpret your reaction or response. However, the revelations given by the Holy Spirit represent the truth meant to help and guide us along the way.

As devil's minions get to know more of God's revelations, they copy and try to entice and seduce you by using the tactics they think will work according to their understanding of the revelations. But if someone's wearing the breastplate of righteousness, it won't work on him or her.

No righteous or godly person tries to lure or seduce someone whom God has ordained for another, but there are devil's minions with 'NO' sense of right or wrong who are fools enough to poke their nose into God's plan (like my roommate - who can be very insulting and condescending at times for no reason but can also put up a show of being nice. If she was righteous, she wouldn't poke her nose in my business, but here she was, copying everything - me and God's revelations for some time now).

*Page 83. Some Dreams and Visions I never wrote about (though some may have been written about previously briefly)

08 November 2022

1. A Filled Wooden Boat Sailing on Water

Vision (Room D1, Mid 2022): Boat filled with many people. (This notebook is an Ark of faith that will sail many through rough waters and to the Kingdom of God). The boat vision is related to the dream (will write about it later) ending with a HUGE golden building with 'BARUK HABA' written on it.

2. The Pearl Path

Vision (Room D1, Sept/Oct 2022): Beautiful dark blue night path going backwards with white shining blobs on very fine-branched bushes on the sides of the track. The scene then changed to 'Love' being written in pearl white on the same colored (dark blue) night background and immediately changed to 'Loved', thereby ending the vision. (Goes together with two revelations of the Holy Spirit - one where God was so pleased that I had a burst of Holy Spirit on my head, and another vision within the past one or two months where I saw a drop fall on my head. When the period of being pleased is over, the person leaves you, and you go further forward in the next things God wants you to do.)

3. The Short Light Brown Camel

Dream (Room D4, Oct-Dec 2021): Towards the end of the dream, I went inside a home with some people amidst volatile outer environment as it didn't seem safe. I then found myself sleeping on a mattress on the floor inside the room right behind the main door of the supposed home, and my youngest brother was there too but he was sleeping on a different mattress on the floor. The surroundings looked quite organized and clean. We could hear the intermittent sounds of the volatile environment coming from outside. To the right of the door was a pane of many glass windows that covered a large part of the wall. There was a knock on the door after a while. Instead of opening the door, I opened one of the windows and saw the bodily puffed up character from CID named 'Daya' ('Kindness' in English) peeking through the window to talk to me. He said, "My wife's daughter… my mom's daughter Divya is sleeping. Have to meet her." As I was listening to him, I was smiling inside as I looked at him. Perhaps he didn't recognize me. I then turned back and walked forward towards the end of the room and then turned right into a room that looked very much messed up and like a zoo as it had birds flying and animals walking openly. I walked to my right and saw a wary light brownish short camel passing by in front of me (the color did not represent the skin-color of a person, but we can understand how it is related to the context of the situation if we read further). The room supposedly represented an ark as there were animals and birds moving in a ruckus and no longer being caged like they were in the first ark dream. As I continued walking in that direction, I found two people (a short-heighted guy standing with a short-heighted girl) standing there and asked them if 'Divya' was there. And they nodded their heads as they were smiling and pointed to a niche in a supposed book rack towards their right. The niche was filled with stubble. I took it out and found the small head with very sparse and thin hair of a sleeping infant peeking out of the niche. The dream then ended. (I don't know whose child it was but the fact that it laid behind that stubble to me represented that it was being formed separately in an unconventional manner). This is the second ark dream that I was referring to on Page 10 (Jesus Saves; Dream of an Ark).

4. Jesus Dancing with His Bride

Vision (Room D4, Oct 2021): Far-sighted vision of Jesus in a close slow duet with His bride alone in a HUGE room decorated with flowers.

5. Dancing with Jesus Amidst Bright Sunlight

Vision (At my sitting place in the Dept, Sept/Oct 2022): At a distance vision of Jesus's huge left arm (hiding most of the wall behind) dressed in full-sleeved off-white cotton and moving slowly, as if in a duet, inside a room filled with soothing yellow light coming through the window behind His arm. I had this vision while listening to a Worship song. Oh, how His presence is filled with deep peace and you feel truly and deeply loved!!

6. Jesus Lifting Up His Child In His Arms

Vision (Room D4,): Jesus quickly rushing towards me (and He was very huge in size compared to me), and the next thing I saw was Him lifting a fat infant (who represented me) up high in His hands and pampering her. He did this in response to my thoughts going towards being idolatrous as I was tending to (about to) put my whole heart in one direction. So, He immediately rushed towards me and lifted me up high as His child because He is the one who is supposed to have my (our) whole heart as He is my (our) Creator. He was smiling hugely and looked SO SO beautiful as He looked at me as His child in both His hands.

7. The Jealous Lion

Vision (2021): A jealous lion landing fiercely with a thud on top of the Bonnet of the car that I was in with Glory right in front of us. I again was going into an idolatrous mode focusing entirely on Glory in that vision and about to create an isolated reality of love devoid of the Him. So, He came right in and reminded me who He is to me!!

8. The Crowned Fat Cat

Vision (Room D1, Sept/Oct 2022): I had this vision a few days after I scratched a tiffin's cover lying in the kitchen with the image of a cartoonish cat and 'Hello Kitty' written on it . In that vision, an innocent-looking fat and light brownish cat was standing on its back legs wearing a crown with straight forelegs (looked as if she was standing like a human). By far, the Holy Spirit has shown me four visions related to the thoughts of this child of God since 2020, and one healing dream which will come to pass and which is not a thought (the assignment in pink and yellow).

Related dreams and visions by far

1. A Naked Fat Infant

Vision (2020): A naked fat demonic infant (with completely black eyes) lying in a dark background. It may imply the person being heavily demonically influenced and not necessarily demonically possessed because he was still represented by the image of an infant by the Holy Spirit which would mean utter inner innocence shadowed over by demonic influences. It represented his 'spiritual' state and not the physical one.

2. The Striped Green Dress

Vision (2020): Animated vision of the upper body of a woman with straight hair dressed in a green dress with very thin shoulder strips;

3. The Whisper & the Healing

Part of a dream (2020): The Assignment of Healing in Pink & Yellow (Page 37)

4. Vision (2021): Guy dressed in a white shirt and black pants falling in an endless-in-sight vertical pit – representing a deep fall;

5. Part of a dream (2021): Inside the ark represented by a room

6. 'Dream-vision' (2021) : A short-heighted guy dressed in a black and white striped prison suit sitting with legs folded behind and staring at me to my right as I was half asleep on my bed;

7. Part of a dream (2021): A short-heighted guy lying alone on bed and masturbating (with a speed I never thought was possible) while looking at the phone in his other hand ; (I was sitting outside near the room's window wearing my pink-striped white collared kurta with pyjami from school days - don't know why that particular outfit was shown though; additionally, I was sitting on the ledge in the Indian Toilet Style on both legs to balance myself).

8. Vision (2021): Representation by the character of a villain in the Hindi movie Dushman - the vision had his face burning in anger and jealousy looking at a rough background scene which had a woman serving something in a plate to another man.

9. Vision (Room D4, 2021): He was forcefully raping a woman on her knees (Edit on 19th Nov, 2022: It was a quite far-sighted but well-lit half-animated vision where one couldn't make out the features of the people involved, but the figures could be well discerned. It now looks to me him not actually raping the woman but that that's rather just his style of doing things, because if I pay close attention to the beginning of the vision, the vision had a naked tall exhausted woman fall on all four and had a lean shorter naked guy behind her who started moving, and then the vision ended.)

10: Vision (Room D1, Aug/Sept/Oct 2022): Face colored with silver paint and making weird expressions

11. Vision (Room D1, Sept/Oct 2022) : Vision of neatly groomed eye brows with forehead and blurry eyes which seemed to have no makeup

12. Vision (Room D1, Sept/OCt 2022): Fat cat wearing a crown (described above)

13. Dream (Room D1, Late Oct/Early Nov 2022): Will write the details later but he behaved like a 'good boy' in that dream, and it was prophetic. It was an unexpected revelation because I had been preparing according to how God had been counselling me in my walk towards His promised person 'Glory'. But then He revealed to me in this dream a snippet of my time with the fat infant. It was a good revelation.]

This guy whom God once characterized as having the character of the villain (of a Hindi movie Dushman) was represented by that character in that vision only and not any other. So I would think that he had acquired or incited those traits in that situation as negative emotions paved way for demons to whisper themselves in his ear. He will 'continue' to have this certain part of his character for a while (because of vision in the 8th revelation in the above list) though it will dampen (change) with time. This negative character trait will eventually change, and that's why he was shown to me as being inside the ark in #5: being inside the ark represents being 'saved'. Though currently, he may not be having 'all' the required traits, but God is looking at the 'great' potential, and the fact that he was inside the ark implies that God's work on his heart will come to fruition. Though he is currently sinning, he is important to God and will be saved (after some events) as I've understood. God is working to 'save' him which will be the result of the change in his heart/character. God looks at the gold inside of a person and will go to any extent to bring that gold forth by helping that person bring about a change in his other negative character traits through different situations and circumstances.

9. 3 dreams related to things/events that are to take place prior to the event represented by the prophetic symbol in room D4 (a face, a fist, and a bouquet - together in one symbol). The prophetic symbol is the event that will come to pass when God will have me go out at night to search for it.

10. Vision (March-June 2022): Huge 'LOVE' in 3D bold translucent capitals being on fire in a black background.

1. Vision (Room D1, Mid 2022): A figure of a man on fire with no visible features who is burning in a firey rectangular basin, and as he tries to get out of that fire, he falls back into it. He gets out and without completely getting out quickly gets himself back into the basin. There was no one else in that basin, but just fire, and the man was on fire - this is the nature of sinful indulgence where the sinner just burns for the sake of burning, and the 'basin' is practically empty being equivalent to 'just' being on fire - ungodly satanic indulgence which is worshipped by idolaters of the flesh system who idolize and worship human genitals. - present character of 'Glory'. And such idolators not just worship satan's system, they make a public display of it as if their loveless acts are something to be proud of and a good thing to do. I prayed to God that I did not really like or want to follow in His Will for me with this ungodly person whom I have come to abhor, but I know that what He has spoken will unfold. And I also prayed to Him that my own will doesn't include being involved with two people at different times, but I would rather have only one to keep (the one previously sinner who turns to Him and has a pure heart) after His consideration, but again, I prayed and also know that it's His Will and not mine that be done in the end. Perhaps that's why He replaced this 'Glory' person in a few visions by Himself, because He knew that I won't otherwise be motivated to work out what I have to for His purpose to be filled here. Months after the dream that had the event which is symbolized in Room D4, this year He replaced Himself with that event as I sitting on roof and was filled with love for Jesus, so that when the event comes to pass, I would know that it's Jesus instead of that person and so I would go along with it, without considering who is present in place of Him because considering the actual person would make me not want to walk in what I am supposed to be walking in. And the walk is equivalent of saying yes to Jesus as it would lead to unfolding of events that are a part of God's Will and would lead me to my final abode in the end.

   I would rather die for a sinner who has a pure heart and later repents and turns to God, instead of an ungodly and vain person. As I recall that vision mentioned first on Page 49 and relates with the content on Pages 11 (Saber leaving for Avalon (Heaven) after completing her task) and 68 (beheading of the bride of Christ), what comes to my mind is that perhaps it was only about protecting that other person in the moment so that God is glorified through the miracle. But what God has spoken will unfold - He doesn't waste His breath (as said by Sis Adele).

In the dream where I saw a huge white camel lying whenever I looked down, the camel was lying in front of a 'train' which was at rest and had its doors open. People were entering and leaving it, but the train was at rest. Almost as if the camel needed to be given water after which the train could leave. After seeing that white camel there for many times in the dream, as I kept going to the roof and looked down, I saw two girls walking towards me at my ground level. One had short kinda frizzy hair, and I pointed that camel to her, pointing his condition. I thought she may help him, because somehow I wasn't able to go down and give him water as there was no way, and also whenever I came across the scene of that camel from my level above, I wasn't carrying any water with me. That girl just stood there as she was giving me a shock smile and the dream ended there.

Vision (Room D4, Late 2021/Early 2022): Hand of a raptor (green with three raptor-like fingers) over my side trying to (spiritually) muzzle me.

Page 84. The Place Where I Saw Jesus Standing Earlier This Year

I was walking to and fro on my PG's roof at night earlier this year, and as I reached at the rail facing the road, I turned around and as I did so, I saw Jesus standing behind and near that shed. Seeing Him I couldn't decide for a while what should I do. As I decided that I would brisk walk towards Him instead of running, He disappeared. I was thinking of Him before and as my longing for Him became too intense, He showed up. This is how it has been Whenever I really want His presence or am too overwhelmed by who He is and can't hold it together, He makes a brief appearance in a vision or for real. Hi appearance on the roof was for real and not in a vision. Though I've seen Him appear in front in a vision momentarily when I was meditating on Him, thinking about Him as a part of growing closer to Him and developing a stronger bond. Your bond with God truly depends on the state of your heart towards Him.
I'm so grateful that He loves me enough to not let me fall into sin in the first place as He immediately makes a move and brings me into the right mind by showing up or via other means - like He prevented me from having an idolatrous mindset towards a person as I was approaching it and made an immediate move and reminded me of Him, and me as being His child.

I realized this while walking on the roof this evening - that there are people God never corrects as they are unsavable or rejected of Him (reprobates). Then there are some to whom He points out what they're doing wrong and therefore brings them on the right path, and then there are those whom He doesn't even let fall into sin and comes to their rescue at the right moment. I fall in the last two categories and so do all 'His' children. He corrects me on the things that I am already doing wrong, and at times prevents me beforehand from going into a sinful mindset. This is Love - where God will care enough to come to your rescue 'before' you sin as He doesn't want you to sin (He loves you enough to come rushing to you as His eyes are on you and what you do). At other times, He is patient and highlights the sin that you're already committing so that you can change it. How great He is. I am just amazed and enchanted by Him. My beautiful and Lovely King - praiseworthy and deserving of it all - all the Praise and Glory!!! Yes. I will give Him glory because I am His creation and He loves it when we do it out of our love for Him.

I took this photo on Jun 16th but I had seen Him there earlier than that. I just happened to think of clicking the photo in June.

19:41

I had seen the close-up vision of the face of a woman lying on her side wearing a red eyeliner and it didn't resemble mine at all when I had the vision (Page 48). But I nevertheless took it as an instruction and incorporated it in my life after many months as I wasn't ok at first with it, and now after having lost almost 10 kgs of weight, I noticed today that my face resembles that vision. It looks very different than it used to when I was obese, so I couldn't have even fathomed back when I had the vision that the face was actually mine. But that vision has manifested to a great extent now. It almost gave me a bit of subtle joy to see things manifest and unfold as I saw months back. So I know now that the belly vision would also manifest, along with others.

Ecclesiastes 3:1-8 (Tree of Life Version)

A Time For Everything

3 For everything there is a season and a time for every activity under heaven:

2 a time to give birth and a time to die,
a time to plant and a time to uproot what is planted;
3 a time to kill and a time to heal,
a time to tear down and a time to build up;
4 a time to weep and a time to laugh,
a time to mourn and a time to dance;
5 a time to scatter stones and a time to gather stones, a time to embrace and a time to refrain from embracing;
6 a time to seek and a time to lose,
a time to keep and a time to discard;
7 a time to tear apart and a time to mend,
a time to be silent and a time to speak;
8 a time to love and a time to hate,
a time for war and a time for peace.

Edit:
10:36 (11th Nov 2022)

Additionally, in that vision, the hair of that woman were open and kinda straight but wavy and frizzy and thin and much lesser in volume than what I had at that time. And after going through a period of time, I noticed yesterday that my hair have gained that texture and shape as I have lost a good amount too. It was because of the hair and the slimness of the face that it wasn't apparent that it was me at the time I had the vision. But things fall into their place in their time. So we need to keep walking in faith. It's not about what God promises us, but it is about if we love Him enough to continue in His commands and walk through what He has set out in front of us as His Will.

The promises God makes to us are good and they are to bring us some kind of joy and relief which He wants for us to receive from His hands, but the promise itself as an object would be of no value if God wasn't a part of it. Of course, His children are to be loved by us the way He has loved us, but any promise (either it involves a land - as in the case of the Israelites, or a person - as in my case) wouldn't be of as much of value as it gains when given by the hands of God.

As I also shared in one of my FB posts, the promises of God are our true inheritance and anything else no matter how huge or great it may be that we may want to attain for ourselves will not bring us to a place of True Rest. True rest lies in God's best for us. And true rest signifies the state of constant inner communion with God in heart as you rest in a state of peace and contentment as you do things you ought to do. In other words, the inner rest that God has ordained for us brings true contentment and rest to our restless hearts.

13:20

What applied to me on Page 58 also applies to the bully. - 'separating the do from the who and looking at the heart instead as God works on it'

I received an encouraging Word from Sis Adele on 31st August which related to my situation and what I had recently done a few days back on 27th August. I am sharing a part of it here below.

"You need to learn to separate your “who” from your “do”. What you achieve for God from your own human point of view is not the same as how God views that achievement. You might be wearying and tiring yourself out at the moment because you think your efforts have not been enough to achieve what you think should have been achieved on this pathway God has you on.

The apostle Paul achieved chains and prison for his efforts. And yet he said in Philippians 1:12 (NIV) - Now I want you to know, brothers and sisters, that what has happened to me has actually served to advance the gospel. Paul separated his “who” from his “do”. He understood that effort and achievement viewed from his perspective does not necessarily align with God’s view of achievement of that effort. Paul understood that even though he poured himself out constantly and laboured continuously for the Kingdom of God, and reaped chains and prison as achievement or result for his effort, that achievement and result had great benefit from a Kingdom standpoint and not a worldly one.
Do not become distracted with your efforts and the result of those efforts. Trust God with your efforts and the works you do for Him as He is the one who works in you to accomplish all things for His purposes, His way, in His timing. Even if your results of your efforts might not look like much to you, in God’s eyes it is pleasing and achieves much in His Kingdom as you operate from a position of obedience, willingness and submission to His will and way. Keep going.

Page 87. Who Did Jesus Die For? - Key to Real Love

13:28

Wasn't it those sinners who 'knew' that they were sinners and therefore needed God's forgiveness, as they loved Him. God gave Himself completely over for them so that they be saved and changed.

Luke 15:7
New International Version

7 I tell you that in the same way there will be more rejoicing in heaven over one sinner who repents than over ninety-nine righteous persons who do not need to repent.

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Luke%2015%3A7&version=NIV>

Therefore, a demonic child who turns to God and gets saved is FAR more valuable than a righteous child who goes corrupt later or never feels that he needs God.
God had his heart set towards sinners as His purpose in coming to Earth in flesh. He LOVED them while they were still sinners, and He died for them still while they were sinners.

Isn't He far happier when a child of His who was pursuing wickedness at first turns to the right because of a change of heart caused by His love for his child? Doesn't that establish and make firm the REAL creator-child relationship between Him and his previously wicked children?

God's heart is filled when a child of His turns to Him and is renewed because of the same.

It's a love story of God and His children who turned away from wickedness and turned back to Him.

Page 88. Spiritual Significance of Names

13 November 2022
13:41
At times a person may not exhibit the characteristics implied by the meaning of his/her name, but the name still may have a spiritual significance because of the person's role in God's plan.

The promised person is named 'Glory' in meaning, but his character traits don't resemble those of Jesus, though some of them may be resembling. But his name has a significance because of his role in God's plan as I spiritually represent the Bride of Christ. Likewise, two people from my workplace who were shown to me in a dream as looking at things with their right eye, spiritually represent the lean and fat sheep of God, as they physically are one lean and another fat as well.

Does the fact that the name of the promised person is Glory (though he may not be having the character traits of the King of Glory) diminish the significance of the demonic infant God wants saved? Didn't God die for that child of His too so that he is set free form his bondage of sin?

And is it a coincidence that Jesus is called the Lion of Judah who 'conquered death', and the meaning of the name of the demonic infant happens to be the same - one who conquers death (which is a result of turning to God and witnessing an inner change). Again, we see the spiritual significance of names.

Though I may have written significantly more about my revelations related to 'Glory', but that was because I was still learning and understanding how things work in the Kingdom of God and it took many words to make sense of things from a human point of view with a limited understanding. Now I have a greater understanding of God as a person and the spiritual gifts He gives us and how He uses His children to bring about 'His' plan to fruition. So if I were to write the same info now again, I would perhaps write it in a more concise manner and not get easily overwhelmed as I receive revelations, because God has strengthened and matured me and I can face situations without having a lot of associated negative emotions.

What Does the Bible Say About Jesus Conquering Death And Hell? (openbible.info)

2 Corinthians 5:8 ESV
Yes, we are of good courage, and we would rather be away from the body and at home with the Lord.

1 Peter 4:6 ESV
For this is why the gospel was preached even to those who are dead, that though judged in the flesh the way people are, they might live in the spirit the way God does.

1 Corinthians 15:54 ESV
When the perishable puts on the imperishable, and the mortal puts on immortality, then shall come to pass the saying that is written: “Death is swallowed up in victory.”

1 Corinthians 15:20 ESV
But in fact Christ has been raised from the dead, the firstfruits of those who have fallen asleep.

1 Corinthians 15:55 ESV
“O death, where is your victory? O death, where is your sting?”

Matthew 10:28 ESV
And do not fear those who kill the body but cannot kill the soul. Rather fear him who can destroy both soul and body in hell.

Matthew 5:29 ESV
If your right eye causes you to sin, tear it out and throw it away. For it is better that you lose one of your members than that your whole body be thrown into hell.

2 Corinthians 5:1 ESV
For we know that if the tent that is our earthly home is destroyed, we have a building from God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

2 Timothy 1:10 ESV
And which now has been manifested through the appearing of our Savior Christ Jesus, who abolished death and brought life and immortality to light through the gospel,

2 Timothy 1:10
New Living Translation

10 And now he has made all of this plain to us by the appearing of Christ Jesus, our Savior. He broke the power of death and illuminated the way to life and immortality through the Good News.

Its' a SERPENT WORLD ====WAKE _

Yess!! It's a serpent world. And so many people are still running after their flesh when we are called to lose it. With each passing day, I become more and more aligned with the fact that I don't belong here. And I know that by the time I have reached the time of my departure, I would have come out of this world mentally entirely knowing what it really is and that God saved His people out of it whom He wanted saved.

Our job here is not to live like we are gonna live forever so we have to build a life here. We live like astronauts on Earth waiting for our time of redemption, and praying for those we love - that they too are able to escape the system. But often some are too blinded that they just don't want to change their perception of the world as their source of entertainment and see it as what it really is - a hidden demonic reality with angels trapped in flesh.

I also learned with time to not give too much importance to roles that people are supposed to fulfill acc to their place. We see people failing all the time and it's the norm here - and most of the time their immoral behavior is intentional and not something beyond their control. While I gave up my expectations from 'official' roles, at the same time I also learned to love unconditionally the people to whom I may not be related with a title.

It doesn't bother me now if someone is keeping up to the standards they ought to fulfill while I previously I won't even get involved with those people whom I observed to be without integrity. Because at the end of it, I have come to understand through various channels that this place is a sham and our only job as ambassadors of Christ is to proclaim the gospel and get people out of this cannibalistic system. If a person ends up getting up saved at the end but suffers a terrible earthly fate or feels his/her life just got ruined bcz of some or the other reason - then whatever they went through was all worth it.

I lost all care about what others are doing irrespective of their supposed place in my life - because I've also come to accept and understand that they are also a creation of God and therefore not someone great that they should be placed on a pedestal where they are supposed to fulfill standards they need to fulfill. That way when they sin against us or God, we can easily forgive them. I learned to trust in the Lord with all my heart and not in a man or woman. I learned to trust in His faithfulness, love, and compassion. He gave me some physical experiences so that I know that I am loved and valuable in His sight and am not judged by the vain standards an ungodly man judges. He knew the pace at which I would be progressing in His Will, so He did what was necessary so that I have my own experiences with Him to cherish irrespective of what another ungodly created being does or how high he thinks of himself that he would try to publicly mock me in a way by showcasing his immoral acts right in front of my place. It hardly had any affect on me bcz I had the same experiences given by God who has loved me eternally and not by another person in a moment of temporary fleshly gratification.

JESUS is my Eternal Love who is waiting for me in Heaven and who secured me with His blood, and not any man or woman, and He is 'forever' faithful. He is the First, the Last, and everything in between, and anything else we receive or if we happen to receive love from another person - it's all because of Him. If the person God promised me slept with 2000 women and he did it right in front of my eyes, I would still be not moved as I know that I would be held close to Jesus in His arms and be comforted by 'His' love which is REAL. And if He wants to tie me up with someone with the character of a pig, I would still go ahead with it, because Jesus is my Husband first (and also my Creator), and I change, morph and walk acc to His Will (and not to please another man), and am loved by Him with an infinite and everlasting love which the children of the serpent race will never get to experience. (Hosea married a prostitute as instructed by God). I don't love Jesus bcz He gave me sparkling revelations of Himself. I love Him irrespective of how He revealed Himself to me. Though he also made the point that it's ok to look shiny (though not necessary). And 'He' wants to morph me into looking a way that is compliant with His plan. And won't I do it if I love Him? He is the potter and I am the clay. He can change me as He wants as He has the right to do so.

I now wish and want to see in the spirit all the time, through and disregarding physical bodies, and not be deceived by what we see with our physical eyes - that way we will always be witnessing the truth.

Hosea 1:2 (New Living Translation)

2 When the Lord first began speaking to Israel through Hosea, he said to him, “Go and marry a prostitute,[b] so that some of her children will be conceived in prostitution. This will illustrate how Israel has acted like a prostitute by turning against the Lord and worshiping other gods.”

One of the events of the prophetic dream of main significance written on Page 53 had me passing by a long white car from a distance and shouting at it as I passed by it. And the person inside was supposedly the demonized infant talked about on Page83. I shouted at the person inside and turned to the other side and walked away in anger. But I never actually did it in my real life. But I did it in that dream, and it signifies that though I may not have shouted externally or even internally, my demeanor or behavior was equivalent of that. I recently happened to come across a short clip recommended on YouTube (a fun video of a mom and her child) but the title was related to 'shouting in sign language'. After that, the shouting event from the dream on Page 53 kept catching my attention in my mind as it kept recurring to me implying that I did do that, not by actually shouting but by having a resentful attitude that resembled hatred, and that's also how it was perceived. (In the dream, this shouting event occurred many events before the 'open slaughter' event. So we know thar we are moving ahead in the timeline of this dream also, along with others simultaneously.)

I had shouted off loudly with a lot of hatred in my dream. It's good that God showed me how my demeanor actually came across. I don't want to shout at anyone like that. But I was sick of what I had been observing for some time now since my breach of privacy - passing by strangers who place themselves at strategic positions and wait like pickup artists, and they blow horns uselessly and flash their lights to get attention. Not all have pure hearts and the right motives. And I am prone to misjudgment because I am not God who can discern the bone and marrow of someone's heart and mind effortlessly.

But still, the incident revealed to me my own shortcomings. I can learn from God's nature of love and patience. I wish I could undo my perceived shouting - because the way something is perceived also reveals the inner self of the other person. And the way it was perceived added to my perception and understanding of the situation and the other person. So I repented before God and I know that He has already forgiven me.

In that slaughter event from the same dream, I was walking and then someone started accusing me in front of some criminals that 'SHE's done it! SHE's done it! (Or she's responsible for whatever happened)' And then that tall and fluffed criminal asked me if 'I did it' to which I replied with a 'No' (being scared). And then he targeted others that were present at that place resulting in a slaughter. It was about to turn into a public massacre, and then I started intensely asking or praying to God to help put an end to the situation, but then I caught myself in an act which calmed everything down. So I know now what I will have to do when such a situation arises.

1. Dream-Vision (April-May 2021): A cat takes a step towards me and makes a fierce 'meow' as if it was going to attack me after which I woke up. (representative of a truth - that cat's me who did make that huge meow).

2. Vision (Room D4, Late 2021/Early 2022): Bow of a sky blue tie being highlighted by transparent moving lines in the vision showing only the neck of a man with a white shirt and black suit on top.

3. Vision (March-April 2022): A grave amidst bushes of colorful flowers. (I had it within the few days of creating my supposed vanity box to store stuff using a cardboard box and floral wallpaper)

4. Vision (Aug-Sept 2022): Golden eyeshadow with mild sparkle (Instruction/Counsel)

5. Vision (Aug-Sept 2022): My smiling lower face with red lipstick and head slightly bent to its left with upper body wearing the green sweater (Instruction)

6. Vision (Sept/Oct 2022): A finger with a long golden nail in a golden surrounding calling me towards itself (Instruction/Counsel)

7. Dream (one of the three dreams that I received in a row in room D4, one had my wedding, another had Jesus shutting the door at my face, and last one had the lion finally coming as everyone was mocking me about him not having made his appearance yet): I have written throughout about the first two dreams here, but not about the third one. I will write about it soon.

The counseling revelations that God gave me pertained to not only the person He very apparently promised to me, but many of the revelations were related to the other person (fat infant) whom God started revealing things about to me since 2020, but I didn't take those revelations seriously. But God worked on my heart and helped me to look through the correct lenses. Three revelations for sure from the above list pertain to the infant, perhaps five.

There are some revelations related to 'Glory' God gave me that I didn't write about here and don't feel like, because I end up thinking that why did God ordain such events for me with this person. He could have chosen someone else for him who matched his fairy standard and was just like him in character - the young immoral who thinks (s)he is doing others a favor by not sleeping around while it's for one's own sake and soul that one abstains from random involvements as one doesn't want one's soul defiled! But God promised him to me and I have to walk in His Will and change as He leads and guides me. He is changing me according to both people as He gives me revelations related to both. I recently realized that I not only receive revelations regarding the thoughts of 'Glory' but also of the 'Grave Conqueror' - both the titles relate to Jesus.

And within the past few months, I had this line from a Hindi song play in my spirit which I couldn't understand as to why it was being highlighted to me. But after understanding some revelations I understood that the line implied that "I have 'two' precious gems" - Glory and Death Conqueror, which was never my own will (to be involved with more than one person), but God has ordained and changed my heart according to His plan and purposes.

On the other hand, I also understood something more as something from my BSc days while I was still living in the place adjacent to my present one (Saroj Sadan) during 2010-2012 was recently brought to my attention by the Holy Spirit, and also the time around I first happened to come across 'Death Conqueror', and how everything was connected, and I also received further understanding related to the first vision written on this page - that cat represents me. Perhaps I will write about it later.

In that dream, after I whispered that phrase in his year, the screen to my right now had a change, while previously I had prayed verbally, then looked at the screen, then prayed in tongues, and looked again, but there was no change. After the screen changed showing the motions of a normal person, he got up from the hospital bed which was laid in open, and got down from it, and I was smiling as he was healed and now up. Then I moved towards him to my right, and he was looking straight, and when I stood close to him facing him on his left side - his head close to my bosom because of his short stature (around 5 feet tall) - he looked away to his right with an expressionless face and then walked away in front of me as I watched him. And while this took place, I could hear a few voices that said in Hindi, "She was to be married to him." After he was out of my sight, I turned to the other side to answer the lady that came forward to question me and I said - 'God did this', after which the dream ended.

Because of the things that must be ensuing before this event, I sometimes feel a bit scared, and it makes me want to stay away from him, because I don't want anyone have their perception of life ruined, though it's all a delusion on earth. I've become quite comfortable with this reality, but it may be hard for others to accept - but if they do accept it, it would be the best thing that could happen to them. You have to lose your life on Earth and your perception of it in order to find it with God in Heaven.

I had this dream back when I was at home during the lockdown in 2020.

Whatever past sins he is carrying in his bag, he needs to repent of them and be transformed, be it incest or other sins - repent together with the other guilty party and enter the ark together with her in order that they may escape this earthly trap - a temporary party meant to delude people away from God - an attempt to hide from Him and do one's own thing.

Song of Songs 3 (Verses 1-5)

New International Version

3 All night long on my bed
I looked for the one my heart loves;
I looked for him but did not find him.
2 I will get up now and go about the city,
through its streets and squares;
I will search for the one my heart loves.
So I looked for him but did not find him.
3 The watchmen found me
as they made their rounds in the city.
"Have you seen the one my heart loves?"
4 Scarcely had I passed them when I found the one my heart loves.
I held him and would not let him go till I had brought him to my mother's house, to the room of the one who conceived me.
5 Daughters of Jerusalem, I charge you by the gazelles and by the does of the field:
Do not arouse or awaken love
until it so desires.

Song of Songs 3

Tree of Life Version

The King on his Wedding Day

6 Who is this—she who is coming up from the wilderness like columns of smoke,
perfumed with myrrh and frankincense,
with every powder of the merchant?
7 Behold, it is Solomon's traveling couch—around it are sixty warriors from the warriors of Israel.
8 All of them wield a sword, experts in war.
Each man with his sword on his thigh against terrors of the night.
9 King Solomon has made for himself a carriage from the trees of Lebanon.
10 He made its posts of silver, its back of gold,
its seat of purple cloth,
its interior fitted out with love
by the daughters of Jerusalem.
11 Go out, daughters of Zion, and gaze upon King Solomon, with a wreath his mother placed on him on the day of his marriage—on the day of his heart's joy.

Song of Solomon 3

Contemporary English Version

Beautiful Dreams

She Speaks:

3 While in bed at night,
I reached for the one I love with heart and soul.
I looked for him,
but he wasn't there.
2 So I searched through the town for the one I love.

I looked on every street,
but he wasn't there.
3 I even asked the guards
patrolling the town,
"Have you seen the one
I love so much?"
4 Right after that, I found him.
I held him and would not let go until I had taken him to the home of my mother.
5 Young women of Jerusalem, promise me by the power of deer and gazelles,[a] never to awaken love before it is ready.

The Groom and the Wedding Party

Their Friends Speak:

6 What do we see approaching from the desert
like a cloud of smoke?
With it comes the sweet smell of spices, including myrrh and frankincense.
7 It is King Solomon carried on a throne, surrounded by sixty
of Israel's best soldiers.
8 Each of them wears a sword.
They are experts at fighting,
even in the dark.
9 The throne is made of trees from Lebanon.
10 Its posts are silver,
the back is gold,
and the seat is covered with purple cloth.
You women of Jerusalem have taken great care
to furnish the inside.[b] 11 Now come and see the crown given to Solomon by his mother on his happy wedding day.

2. The Wedding

In my dream that is continuing in its timeline, as I passed through one event to another, I went out one night wearing a certain set of clothes (my pink shawl and denim skirt), and looked for Glory. And I didn't find him, and then I had left some people standing in a group as I must have asked them something, and the next thing I saw was him revealing himself from behind a vehicle, to which I said that 'I was expecting this'. When I had his dream, it didn't make sense to me but I just remembered what I saw - all the events in the order that I had seen them. Most of the events of prior to this one have come to pass in exactly the manner that was shown symbolically to me, where I was even wearing the clothes in those events that I had seen in one of my dreams. I had three dreams in a row and the Holy Spirit woke me up at 'key' endings of those dreams. I am denoting those three dreams as Dream 1, Dream 2 and Dream 3. These are the events from the Dream 1 that have come to pass until now:

1. Event from Dream: I was walking in a line in a well-lit setting going from one table (set high with food in a circular manner) to another table.
Manifestation in Re: There was a time I was eating a lot during last year as I ate three times and I ate to my fill.

2. Event from Dream: During that itinerary, Glory appeared out of nowhere at my right wearing striped pink, white and grey shirt, and was looking at me as if he had come to meet me, but I looked at him and passed him by.
Manifestation in Real Life: Glory came below my PG wearing a pink, white and grey striped shirt and stood there with some people for some time expecting me to come meet him. At that time, I didn't have a clear memory of this dream, so I forgot his appearance in the dream. Also, I didn't go downstairs to meet him as I didn't feel a nudge from within.

3. Event from Dream: I continued further in my walk forward and he appeared again at my right and was looking expectantly at me, this time looking kinda dirty as he was wearing dusty red sweatshirt sort of, but I looked at him and passed him by again.
Manifestation in Real Life: After I was done talking to a girl from my roof who was staying in the PG I used to previously stay in, as I was walking downstairs, I happened to see Glory again through the glass window of my PG, but this time he was wearing dusty clothes with a sweatshirt, and was walking on road looking down at his phone.

4. Event from Dream: After a while, I left that food zone, and found myself sitting with an Aunt who was represented to be resting on a bed with her back against a wall to my left as I ate with her and I was wearing the bracelet that she had given me.
Manifestation in Real Life: Things so followed that that Aunt herself came to meet me and we went out and ate together and I did wear her gifted bracelet. The fact that she was represented as resting on a bed implied that she found rest in her time with me.

5. Event from Dream: I then started walking and left that Aunt and entered another zone which represented another event where I saw food preparations being done for a gathering, and then I entered a gathering of people who were not really dressed for a party but were dressed casually. In that event, I talked to some of them and was wearing my long floral blue kurta.
Manifestation in Real Life: I went to my dad's retirement in March and met and interacted with people there. All were dressed casually, and I was wearing the same blue kurta. I just happened to pick it up to wear at his retirement as I hadn't worn it outside even once and also because of the fact that it didn't look too casual. So I thought it would be good for his retirement.

6. Event from Dream: I went out at night wearing my long denim skirt and pink upper woolen wrap. I was taking turns and moving forward, and then I saw myself leaving a group of people who were standing together on road who were supposedly saying something. The next thing I saw was Glory revealing Himself from behind a white car to my right (perhaps he was hiding there) and apparently, he looked quite filled with joy as his eyes were wide open and looked teary as well, and he had a huge teethful smile on his face as I looked down at him where he was dressed in a red suit with white shirt (the attire of God the Father in yet another dream I described previously), and had a bouquet of red roses in his fist close to his face making the symbol (a face, a fist and a bouquet) that was manifested in room D4. As I saw him abruptly showing himself up in that pose, I said that I was expecting that. The next thing was blurry as I probably sat down to his level, but when the vision of the dream gained clarity again, I saw him now having stood up and pointing with his right finger to his left. Apparently, he must be telling me something or inviting me to a place. After that I took that bouquet from his hand and told him - 'I have to talk to my dad'. He then left to his left and I to my left (in an opposite direction to him), and then I found myself walking alone with a slight limp towards my wedding's entrance that had a few huge flower bouquets outside the door. I was wearing the same clothes (long denim skirt and pink shawl). As I entered it, I saw him standing with other people at a good distance with his back towards me (or the entrance). There must've been some other details that took place between him leaving after I told him that I had to talk to my dad, and before I entered into that place. But they were not shown to me. But apparently, all of it took place at the same night. (I think this is the most detailed event God made sure to show me out of all the other events) In the next scene, I walked and stood behind Glory a step ahead to his left as he was now sitting on one of the red steel chairs in a row with other people on both sides. And then I saw another guy come up very close to me from my front and talk to me while the sitting row of Glory was right to my right hand.

My thoughts: This has not yet manifested in real life, and it also shows that all other attempts made by Glory are going to fail as well, because God has ordained His Will already. I however went downstairs in one of his previous attempts of a local wedding though I knew that that wasn't the way God had shown things to unfold. I went because I was expecting the unfolding of a different event shown to me and not the one talked about above, and also because they already organized it. (At least I am quite straightforward and go to them directly instead of organizing events supposed to 'lure' or mentally hint them into being a part of.) None of the events above were expected or anticipated by me, but they did come to pass. Also, God is changing me like a potter. Additionally, God told me to lose my extra belly fat and showed me a model that I had to achieve which is also the 'key' that I talked about in one of the previous pages. Instead of keeping the revelations of God to myself, I will rather write them out and just shut my ears to what others have to say about them, because it's not me who ordained these events to take place. If anyone mocks or makes fun, they are mocking God. Also, supposedly I must have had some sort of separation from Glory after the courting process because of which I wasn't supposed to be expecting the event symbolized in room D4 (I'm not sure about why I said that 'I was expecting it', but I did say it in the dream). That's why he was teary. There must be many events that would have taken place before this. And I don't follow what a man or woman wants me to do according to his thoughts or timeline. I follow God and His timeline. Glory may think of me as a dusty person who is fat and ugly, and therefore has to be insulted in indirect ways, but I only listen to God's view of me, and not a man's!! Also, it was not a blurry or random face God showed me who supposedly represented the person He had promised me. I saw the 'exact' face of him in those revelations! So, it shouldn't be thought I am looking for someone I don't know and who doesn't know me. I'm not 'looking' for anyone, as the promised person has already been staying in my vicinity, but some locks need to be opened, keys put in the right place, which would open door to the next thing. And one major key is to attain the model He had shown me - it's a condition set by God so I don't have to think about Glory's view of the condition.

{Edit:
This was the only event which got its symbolic confirmation as the wall art in Room D4. And when I made that wall art, I was just going as I was led, and had no specific direction in mind. And it came to take that form, implying that it was led by the Holy Spirit, and not by my own reasoning. It's a confirmation marker. When I was going out at certain nights last year to make rounds around my place, I had two things in mind - that my Spirit-led act was either the initial ground that I had to set (like Joshua circled the walls of Jericho 7 times before they fell down as God had told them, or like Naman who had to go bath in the Jordan 7 times before he got healed as told to him by prophet Elisha), or I could actually receive the promise as the dream showed. A while after I had received that dream (revelation) from God, the contents of the dream went into my mental hindsight as I forgot most of the dream because the events were kinda casual and could've been a part of a dream which may not necessarily have been prophetic. But this one event was unusual and pertained to the fulfillment of the promise of God - so I remembered clearly this event alone. However, later on, as other preceding came to pass, and situations led me to make that confirmation marking symbol in Room D4, I recalled the entire dream and knew that it was indeed prophetic and had a certain timeline that it was following. Like Joshua and his army and Naman, I took my stunt as the initial act of obedience that had to be performed in order for God to do His part like in their cases. God's logic is not our own, nor are His thoughts and ways. Also, He showed me the vision of the night look and the time (in 24 hrs format) pertaining to when I was to set out. Once I was confused and was kind of feeling resentful towards Jesus regarding when exactly I was to go out, and then I saw Him (in the Spirit) sitting in front of me on my bed as I was sitting on my chair facing it, and He was holding a white rectangular sheet/paper which had the time written clearly and His expressions told me that He did understand how I was confused because of the way He had communicated it to me. So, this time He showed it very clearly. So, I did what I was being led to do by Him.

In my thoughts, he should go around his business until God moves any of us, or until He nudges me to tell me that I am ready now to face him and start meeting him. I can't go by my own reasoning {Edit: or else I may step out of my supposed trajectory I am to be walking on. So I don't make moves until I am led. But I did see the time when the courting process started. But again, God only reveals some parts according to His own wisdom.}

Manifestation in Real Life: Pending (awaiting its appointed time as the intermediate time not shown in the dream comes to pass).

3. Jesus Proposes to His Bride

Vision (Aug/Sept): Jesus in his Full white robes sitting down with a bouquet of flowers in His hands with shining eyes and a teethful smile.

Context: I was sitting on the middle cement stool on the roof and I was praying or saying things to Jesus. And then I was filled with immense love for Him suddenly as I thought about Him and then He showed himself to me in that vision above where He was right down in front of me on the roof. It was quite unexpected but it shows how much He loves it when His created people love Him. I have mentioned this vision at some places in previous pages also, where I said that Jesus replaced Glory with Himself symbolizing the event on the wall of Room D4. I think He did it to let me know that saying yes to Glory is equivalent to saying yes to Him, which is also reflected in the vision where I walked towards Glory and armored him after which I saw my head slide off to my left, and the vision where I saw Jesus standing at the top of a staircase with his forearms stretched towards me. Walking towards Glory as he stood with his forearms stretched and leaving the prison-suit is equivalent to facing Jesus afterwards with His forearms stretched towards me. He made this clear to me through those visions.

4. Sis Adele In White

Vision (Aug/Sept): Focused vision of Sis Adele dressed in a beautiful white gown with her hair tied back sitting on a bench with some other men who were also dressed in white robes. The bench may have been long, but the vision only showed her with one or two men in the sight. She was sitting there looking at me and was smiling beautifully. She is the wise virgin who made herself ready.

We as the children of God have to walk in the Will of God. And I was so glad later to 'see' in the ark-room dream that God did save the person whom He had represented to me as the demonized fat infant previously. My heart's desire since I came to know the real God was to have this person saved, who was so persistently chasing after me and was staying at the apartment right above my parental home (or he may be having a few more places to hide). I prayed for him as well after my fast was over one Sabbath day - this person whom I saw as being immoral and evil. I prayed to God to make my Sabbath fruitful by 'saving' this person who wasn't doing the right thing in my eyes. I initially had a sort of hard spot as well for him in my heart. We are called to pray for those who hurt us in one or the other ways. And I knew that God was watching us or everything and that He was in control, and therefore He will work things out as He had already called out my name (Kartika) and shown me some things. The Holy Spirit had me prophesy to be having the anointing of 'Rebecca' (in relation to my wedding). I knew therefore that even if my situation seemed oppressive to me as I saw another person trying to erode my boundaries - God was still with me as He had communicated with me a few times by then. So the only thing that I could do was to pray to God regarding everything. Once I was trying to pray in tongues out of curiosity when I first got to know about it. I was at home during the lockdown in 2020. I was praying in tongues as it came to me and at the end of each long sentence, I would end up with the name 'Rebecca'. I didn't understand right then what it meant as I didn't even know back then that Rebecca was a person in the Bible. I found it out later on. And then He gave me the two dreams in Room D4 - one which had a huge white camel lying down thirsty whenever I looked down from above my PG, and another that had the ark-room where I saw a very short camel pass me by warily (perhaps shorter than my own height) along with an infant who was supposedly a girl.

God saves His sheep. God must have a reason to orchestrate a situation such as this, for the greater good. He holds all answers and wisdom. All we can do is walk in His ordained path and try to live up to what we are called to by God. I never had a two-track mind. I always wanted one person for me and knew that that would be enough for me. And when I came to know God, I knew that God filled that position well. And now I've grown and matured in Him and come to learn how to follow in His Will and have an understanding of how things are going to unfold for me and therefore what expectations I should be having during my time here, and that I can't just do anything I want or make of my life what I personally would want to - this is something the children of the world can't and don't want to do - not have their own plans but walk in the plan of God, however it may be. I would rather have 'one' person for me on Earth in the role of a spouse. But God chose two for me to mingled with two people. One He showed me to be getting wedded to, another He showed me some snippets of my time together with.

While we are on Earth, hearts and bones break. But we live for the hope for Heaven we have as our eternal residence.

The symbolic infant himself admitted indirectly during my time at home in 2020 that 'he had a killer in him', and he was breaching all my boundaries as he sent his tiny cam bots wherever I went and showing me and my family to the world even when we went to use washrooms, and he was not feeling guilty about it at all, and then he thought what was stopping me from coming to him because I definitely did seem to him to be showing some soft spots for him at times. Well, I don't like to hate people except when they are continuously moving forward in their wicked ways.

But God changed my perception of him as He revealed many important things to me.

1. Vision of a Short and Thin Guy

Vision (A-17/B, 2010-11): A rough vision (without much details) in dark background of a short-heighted lean and thin guy. My first roommate who was 3-4 years senior to me and much shorter in height was describing the kind of looks she desired in the guy she would want for herself . We were in our room in the PG. She often used to start talking and share stuff on her own with most of my role being that of a listener. She had a difficult past with two failed relationships. So she often shared things related to her past and all what she went through. One day she happened to be talking about the above and then asked me the same, in response to which I had this vision (I didn't know back then that it could be vision, but it qualifies as a vision looking back at it now).]Edit (15:59 17th Dec 2022): She was then telling me that I could go for a taller guy as I was taller than the norm seen around in women. I then told her that I would prefer someone equal or lesser than me in height. I added the 'equal' criteria as the threshold extension in response to her comment. She was a bit surprised at my initial response, as she wanted a puffed up tall guy for himself. Well, I was feeling a bit repelled too at the same time as I talked to her because I found the talk a very vain, cheap and useless one, but I continued listening to her as she was all too excited describing her desired traits in a guy. When I think about it now, I think that particular figure came to my mind, because it gave the person an innocent and childlike look.

[Edit: God revealed to me later this year in a dream that I was a Teddy person. I didn't know it about myself and didn't even believe it at first when I saw the label 'Teddy Guys' written on me. Also, it doesn't go along with the above vision that had come to me almost a decade back. So I was doubting it's validity until I found out recently that the Teddy look seemed to work with some people. When my roommate had asked me the question, only a lean and thin short-heighted image had come to my mind. Nothing related to a teddy like person. But God knew what would work with taller people in my case which I found out to be true. I feel a sense of hearty comfort around tall teddy people, while I equate thin short-heighted people to them being innocent and childlike. My first instinctual natural inclination though happened to be the innocent child from the figure that came to my mind as a vision around a decade back.]

2. The Tree Top

Vision (Room D4, Late 2021): This was later manifested as a prophetic tree diagram which I made to use in my research paper. (Edit: The Tree Top Vision on Page 154)

3. Lifted ankles

Vision (Room D4, Late 2021): Ankles of clean feet that lifted themselves high above the ground. (I had previously interpreted it differently thinking that it implied that I have to be on my toes as I go to visit my home due to my granny's demise as I had received the vision on the day of her cremation, and also because my family was to follow pagan rituals, so I thought perhaps that's why God wants me to be on my toes on my visit - just make a quick to and fro and be back to my place, but now I understand it as keeping ankles above ground as mine happen to accumulate dead skin and crack quicker than others from what I observed.)

4. Resting in Love

Vision (Room D4, Late 2021): In a light reddish hue, I saw Glory's head resting on my neck. We were both still with our eyes closed and my hair were tied low at the back in a small pony.

5. Passion in the Dark Sky

6. Glory Is Crossed With Kareena Kapoor

Vision (Room D4, Late2021/Early 2022): Vision where the right half (the seer's right) of a blurry guy (Glory) wearing a full sleeves boxy sky blue shirt was visible, and he was standing with his back towards who looked like Kareena Kapoor (from Jab We Met - representing his past view of me) and was wearing a skinny sky blue slip, had open middle partitioned straight black hair with a tiny hair clip on each side, and she was teary-eyed and looked straight and was kinda sobbing. (I think God wanted the vision to be focused on the fact that the guy was standing with his back facing Kareena, and on the look of Kareena herself, and that's why He made her the center of the vision while the right half of the guy was towards the left side of the vision. She looked very flat and thin in that vision.) They were of similar height, perhaps the guy was a bit taller. But the vision was kinda funny to look at.

7. 'Red' and 'Blue & White'

Dream (Room D4, Early 2022): I saw myself walking down some dark stairs with phone's flashlight in hand with Glory. I was wearing a red full sleeves suit/kurta with its thick drape around my neck with the loose ends hanging in front (a Holy attire). Glory was dressed in a white t-shirt and blue jeans. I wore red Relaxo flip-flops (because of the dream was why I bought them) and he wore similar blue and white ones. I had my hand around his waist while his around my shoulders. We were stepping down the stairs together with our feet joined together, him after me. I then went down a few more steps and stood at the stairs' U-turn looking forward down on the flashlight-lit stairs. I sensed some fear in the aura of the dream. I turned my head slightly upwards to my right and looked at Glory through the corner of my eye and he quickly came to me and we joined our feet again. I was still looking forward down on the stairs when the dream ended.

8. A Bride and Groom In a Duet

This vision was on the wall above the House of the Lord in Room D1 when it was still in its first room setting. The vision was then repeated high on the wall in front of the windows after a few minutes as I kept sitting on my chair, ready and waiting for the time at which I was to go out. I had this vision within 10-15 minutes of the clock hitting 22:00 - time at which I went out at certain nights.
Vision (Room D1, March/April 2022): Semi-animated vision: A bride in white and a groom in black in a duet (they had general faces and did not resemble specific people). This vision told me that this was on God's timeline and plan and that though it may not be coming true that very night, but it was on God's mind. So I knew then that what He promised would indeed come to pass.

[Edit (22:16, 21st Dec 2022): When I had the above vision on the wall, I was sitting on my chair waiting to go out at 22:00 while I had a candle lit in the House of the Lord whose light was illuminating the rose I had made on the wall above the house. I had taken pictures of the lit rose in the dark too but deleted them afterwards. This was when my room was in its previous arrangement of furniture. The rose that I had made is now hidden behind the wardrobe placed in front of the wall. Within the past few week I had a vision (in my mind) where I saw a lion walking towards me with a rose with a long stem held horizontally with its teeth.

9. Offering Breast Suck (BS)

Vision (Room D1, June 2022): Offering BS (I took it as instruction and went ahead with it).

10. One Gobhi Parantha

Vision (Room D1, Mid 2022): I saw myself wrapped in a dark green tree wrap on the upper body as Glory was asking me very politely (almost as if he was begging me) to cook one Gobhi Parantha (bcz of which I learned it). He said very politely in a begging manner, "Kartika ek Gobhi ka parantha banado." after which I ran downstairs to cook but ended up cooking one Aloo parantha because I forgot the instruction. Apparently, both mixtures were present in the refrigerator.

11. Man On a Fairy

Vision (Room D1, Mid 2022): Upper half vision of a man on top of a person with full-grown white fairy wings (apparently it represented Glory and me)

12. The Palm Rest

Somatic Vision (Room D1, Mid 2022): A palm coming from the right and resting below my face on the chin.

13. Jesus With Lavender Roses

Vision (Room D1, Mid 2022): Jesus came happily rushing from my left with a bouquet of lavender-colored roses. I had this vision on the day I wrote about my increased understanding of the fairy revelation He had given me when I was in room D4, that the revelation actually pertained to my time with Jesus when I used the washroom to bath.

14. Vision (Room D1, August 2022): Vision of me working out a certain exercise from the cardio session where I had to lift and tap my feet once at the front and then at the back. In that vision, I was wearing my red trousers and peach/light orange colored long tshirt, and my free (right) hand was still and held the long stem of a red rose in it.

16. Vision (Room D1, August/Sept 2022): I was lying on my bed when I had the vision as the first person. I had a quick unexpected vision of Glory on top of my left breast sucking it like an infant while very softly holding it together with both hands while I looked at him (seems to me to be an instruction looking at the kind of visions in the next revelation below).

17. Somatic Vision (August/Sept 2022): When I was walking on the roof and talking to Jesus inside of me saying to Him how I had incorporated the things in my life that He showed me and how the current state of things were, I saw in the Spirit two huge brushes appearing above my lips which brushed them quickly and disappeared. One brush was smaller than the other. I understood it as me now having to 'paint' my lips, after the things I had already changed. I understood that I needed to use two brushes.

18. (JK) Putting your money where your miracle is. (So I invested in products that were not really 'essential' from a necessity point of view but which I needed to buy acc to God's Will and what He has shown me. So I choose accordingly)

19. Vision(s) (one vision in D4, and others in D1 (July-Oct 2022)): I had this vision when I was lying on bed. I saw Glory on top of me slowly ripping my belly open as he looked inside with a devilish (devouring) expression. Further visions had him slowly ripping open the centre of my chest and peeking in, and him stabbing my forehead. Though they were already ripped open and inner red flesh was visible, he still kept pushing the boundaries apart slowly and kept looking inside.

20. Dream (August/Sept 2022): Me treating my middle brother nicely as I was trying to give him a good time (symbolized by being in a fun, love and care-filled duet) knowing that he doesn't has too long, while Glory was sitting down at the side and watching with a grim expression.

21. Vision (Room D1, Aug/Sept 2022): Glory standing wearing an off-white kurta pyjama set between the washroom door and my roommate's bed with a red heart-shaped figure in front of the middle of his chest (representing his heart) breaking in two as he looked towards my side of the room with a surprised face.

22. Vision (Room D1, Sept/Oct 2022): Glory spitting at my face

23. Dreams (Room D1 and D4): Three different dreams related to the courting process before the wedding (involving Glory).

24. Somatic Vision (Room D1, Sept/Oct 2022): Shaking of the surface of my bed followed by an immediate vision of a hut-sized house on top of a heap of large rocks near the seashore, which shook because of wind and waves, representing how fickle the security of 'home' for me in the world is.

25. Vision (Room D1, Sept/Oct 2022): Lady in the Ab-Workout video (identified by her clothes in that video) doing the first (stretching) exercise of the cardio workout video, implying that the 30 min ab workout is to precede the cardio workout and is like a stretching exercise of the same.

26. Dream-Vision (Sept-Oct 2022): Me going to the adjacent salon to get hair treatment. (Instruction/Counsel) I will do it when I receive my pending salary.

27. Vision (Oct/Nov 2022): Scene from a movie where the actor pushes the actress down from the roof of a very tall building. This vision repeated itself many times. Most probably it represented the thought of a person(s) who was pissed at me because I didn't follow their covert 'commands'.

28. Spirit-led utterings:
* "Rebecca" (during praying in tongues at home in 2020)
* 'Luka' (while I involuntarily started praying in tongues during Mid 2021 in Saroj Sadan) - Luke in Hindi. I was confused about which Gospel to distribute.
* Rushdie (Sept/Oct 2022 while lying on the bed)
* Fruitless (26th Nov, Saturday Late Night) - though I may seem fruitless currently, there'll be a huge fruit at the end of my struggle on Earth.
(Sometimes the Holy Spirit reveals the thoughts of others to me as well.)

29. The Dusty Man and The Fairy (Home Version of the Courting Phase)

One of the three dreams of #18

Dream (Room D1, Sept/Oct 2022): I was just done with buying something, and then I happened to look to my right and I saw Glory who had made his intentional appearance at a distance in order for me to call and stop him as he was about to walk up a staircase that went in a perpendicular direction to the street I was on, but the staircase was covered so I could only see the first few stairs. It looked like winter bcz he was wearing a printed black sweater with black pants (he was dressed in all black). I called out his name, but he didn't stop, so I ran after him as he went out of my sight after he had walked upwards. When I finally reached that staircase and caught hold of him, he didn't at all look like how he had looked when I had called his name. But rather, he looked fat (it looked like he had grown HUGE upper arm muscles), was wearing a sleeveless thin grey top and an inverted cap on his head, and looked dirty. He was walking up towards the door of the home I visited once in this area.

The change in looks was quite shocking to the dreaming me but they didn't seem shocking at all to the 'dream me' as she was pulling him to her by his shoulders while he was trying to put her hands off him. He freed himself from me and quickly went inside the door leaving me out. I could tell that he hadn't locked it. I entered inside with a bit of caution and saw the standing fan right in front of me. I could see someone move ahead inside who turned that fan on. I was about to walk past it but then I stood there and enjoyed some fan air smiling, being happy that they did such a thing. Then someone took hold of my shoulders from behind and swung me around a few circular rotations. I was afraid in the moment that I might fall and also because it was too abrupt. When I was finally left free, I took hold of my senses and looked around to see who was it. I found the fluffed Glory standing at some distance behind me. Seeing him I slowly ran towards him in the same outwardly left-right manner. As he saw that I was about to kiss him, his expressions changed to being a bit fearful and he turned his face away bringing his hands in front as he moved them to communicate a 'No'. The next scene had us standing close face to face looking at each other. Again, he saw that I was about to kiss him. He abruptly turned to the opposite direction saying 'I've to go now!'. But I took hold of his shoulders with one hand in time and said "You've to kiss me!" and started kissing him. He was struggling to get away from me as he stole some breath and said, "No Kartika, I can't kiss you.", to which I quickly replied, "You don't have to kiss me. You just have to stand still!" He then said, "I don't want to kiss you! I have to go!" He again turned back and was so adamant on leaving but I pulled him back again and said while I was still kissing him, "Please stay for 5 minutes!" Then I was sucking on his upper lip while his eyes were wide open, and as he looked at my eyes his eyes went together in the middle as he said in a breath "Kartika, your eyes are looking so beautiful.", to which I replied "Don't you know that I am a fairy!?".

The next scene showed both of us in the Physics department (my workplace) on one of the top floors. We both were wearing white t-shirt over black pants. I signalled him to come along with me. We saw a room at the front on which a small poster of a white-winged fairy was pasted. I was both shocked and touched to see that someone would do such a thing. I stood outside the room in order to open it and while I was finding the key to open it, I told Glory to go and hide in the narrow corridor to my right between walls. He stood there and a device in his hand that looked like both a laptop and a printer. He was typing something on it and out of the printer side came a long paper. It seemed like he was doing some of my work! I looked to my left and right and told him to continue typing. He kept writing and the unending river of paper kept flowing out and accumulated on the floor. I then saw Prof Sanjay Jain to my left using his room's key to open it. He kept standing there and moving his keys inside the lock as I watched Glory type out that long unending paper. I was hoping that he wouldn't know about Glory being there and somehow wanted to keep it a secret.

There were some events that followed in which I was the one who would be making moves but he would retaliate or resist and try to avoid me. I could clearly tell that he was behaving out of his character because his behavior didn't seem natural. Towards the end of the dream, he came to me and said, "Kartika,Tumse kuch baat karni thi." (Kartika, I had t talk to you about something), and then he started complaining in a soft tone that to be with me he has to be someone that he is not, while I looked disturbed because I never like to tell people how to be, as I look at their character and not much of their looks.

As he was saying that, his real self that looked like the black sweater guy was standing behind the self that he had presented to me (the fat and dirty self that was wearing clothes that seem inapt on him, but he looked very cute - I realized this many months after the revelation), and both of them were speaking at the same time. And while I stood in front of him, I wore a brown shirt, unbuttoned to an extent I don't usually do, revealing my flat cleavage, and I also had two labels written horizontally on my skin starting below my neck, one below the other: 'Teddy Guys' and 'Since 192_' - I tried hard for a while to figure out the last number in the year 192_ written on my skin but couldn't as it was partially hidden beneath the sides of my shirt and was a bit blurry too. They do not describe me at all in my opinion. I was wearing rectangular, vertically narrow black blinders on my eyes and had straight hair in that vision, and my face too looked contoured and clear (as if I had color corrected my face with makeup on). As I (the one witnessing the dream) looked at the presented him and the real him standing behind him as was shown to me, and later my own self standing with uneasy feelings listening to his complaining and trying to find space to speak up, the dream ended. My thoughts:

I think God revealed a glimpse to me of what would've happened otherwise. Now that I have written it here, I don't know if this is what will follow. It could as well be a counselling dream that we can learn from.

The revelation also reveals that according to God's judgment of me, my mental age is that of a person born in the 1920s, and His judgment is righteous and perfect.
So I can understand that it constitutes one of the reasons why I can't indulge in physical indulgences with other people for the purpose of meaningless fun alone. I can only do it out of love which holds meaning for me and therefore would make me want to stay with that person without ceasing, and Jesus fulfilled that position first because He understood me perfectly. Moral inclination is another factor that comes into play too, but an older person of lower mental age will seek new experiences and yet not be fulfilled because the newness never ceases to be, but a young person of high mental age won't be after seeking many new experiences because (s)he can already fathom the entire crux of that experience without having to actually live it herself. An old person with a lower mental age gets bored with people easily and jumps from relationship to relationship quickly. A person with a high mental age never gets bored of the person (s)he loves, or even if (s)he does, it's not enough to make them leave or cheat on the other person, because the boredom is irrelevant in her/his eyes compared to the person. They attribute their boredom to other factors and not the person herself/himself, and work on fixing those factors. This kind of mindset is directly related to how God created us to be - eternal beings who were created to stay eternally with Him in Heaven with our fellow brethren, living in Love and in obedience to God. People with high mental ages also have a greater tendency to stay committed with continuity to what they value.]

But the thoughts that came to my mind (who was watching the dream unfold) looking at the last scene were that the girl brought about a lot of changes in her - like she got her hair smoothened and straightened (which goes along with one other dream and a dream-vision where I went to my adjacent parlour to get it done as it is an instruction from God), lost a lot of weight to get in shape, learned to do makeup and other stuff - all these changes were good in a way as they lead to a healthy body and make you look good, tidy and professional. But the guy was complaining about having to make changes, though I never asked him to in my dream, or at least I wasn't shown the place where I asked him to change anything. I just took the Word of God when He promised Glory to me and started preparing as He guided me and revealed stuff to me - isn't that how we are to walk in our walk with God - that we submit our own ideas and thoughts and perceptions and follow in "His" guidance in obedience to do or achieve what He tells us to. It shouldn't be thought of as Him trying to decide for us what we are to think - no. He is the almighty creator and holds all wisdom and understanding and His opinion and view are the ultimate and final word for anything and His judgments are righteous. I change my brain according to how He leads me or how He wants me to change it. If one resists God, he is living in rebellion and has the traits of the children of the world and not the children of God. My personal thoughts were that a good change in character should always be desired and shouldn't be resisted. Though he needed not to look dirty or dress half naked, wouldn't it be good for his own self if he learned to exercise boundaries with people - because it leads to a pure mind and a lifestyle that follows the statutes of God? I couldn't understand why would anyone complain about or resist bringing about good character changes in oneself. I think that this could be one of the reasons that the girl in the dream looked a bit disturbed at the end of the dream because she herself worked on making changes that were desirable acc to the situation as counseled by God, and here comes this other person who is not happy about being someone with traits that I don't know how many of them he had had to change in order to 'be with me'. But my own perception was that of compassion towards the guy as he was explaining himself because he was split in two as he talked which he needed not to be, though I didn't really know the changes he was talking about.

30. Vision (Room D1, Early Nov 2022): A far-sighted well-lit vision of a tall and slim woman with shiny straight and very long hair (perhaps uptil her elbow) dressed in a long white shirt lying on what looked like a bench without any support except that of the wall with a seemingly black glass window. The woman was lying with her upper body lifted a bit on her elbows support, and her legs spread a bit. There was a man with a lot of hair on his head (perhaps he didn't get a haircut for a long time) with his head buried in between her legs.

31. Dream (Room D4, Early Nov 2022): (first mentioned in #13 of on Page) I saw myself in a home with partially resembled our rented home in my hometown where I had spent my childhood, and some parts of it also resembled the home we have now. I can recall seeing my dad and brothers in that home in the dream. I saw a fast forwarded version of things (will write later).

32. Whispers of the Holy Spirit:

* Sweet November (Today at workplace, 29th Nov 2022) - When I was sharing with my colleagues that I was feeling like having a 'sweet communion' (A sweet with a sugarless tea, and I felt quite satisfied while having it.)

33. Dream-Vision (Today Morning, 30th Nov 2022): I had this vision as I laid asleep late this morning on the bed in my PG. I was asleep on my right side with my left hand resting against my belly but a few cms away. In the vision, I saw a light brown door being closed fully by a hand on its twist-handle. The door was left open by a few cms when the vision began with the hand on the twist handle which closed the door fully, and as it got closed, I woke up with my own hand making the end of the movement. It was just like the dream-vision of the shaking of a hut house on top of a pile of large rocks, where after the hut moved because of a strong wind or wave at the shore, I woke up experiencing shaking in my own bed. After I woke up bcz of the somatic vision, I closed the few-cms gap between my arm and my belly. :) I thought I must have been resting with Jesus.

Vision (Today Morning, 2nd Dec 2022, between 7am to 8am): A far-sighted vision of a group of grey-colored airplanes (could be jets) flying together in one direction.

Vision (At home in 2020): An animated vision of a sun-lit open area with a busy road on which people were walking by but a child was standing still in the middle who was picked up by a winged angel coming from above his back as she lifted him up with her arms under his armpits and started moving back above when the vision ended - the rapture of the church/children of God from the serpent system). The angel was represented as a wheatish female wearing a full-sleeved pink top tucked inside blue pants with her black hair tied low at the back, and she had white wings.

[Edit (15:47, 17th Dec 2022): I think it also metaphorically relates with my own walk here on Earth with God, where I came to pick up the 'baby' of God and take him back to heaven with me. I concluded this because I was wearing a Pink long cardigan at the top in my healing revelation on Page 37, and a Pink shawl in yet another.]

Vision (At home in 2020): An animated field fully filled with golden crop swirling in the wind, ready for harvest - goes along with the previous vision.

Matthew 13:24-29, 40-43 (New Living Translation)

Parable of the Wheat and Weeds

24 Here is another story Jesus told: "The Kingdom of Heaven is like a farmer who planted good seed in his field. 25 But that night as the workers slept, his enemy came and planted weeds among the wheat, then slipped away. 26 When the crop began to grow and produce grain, the weeds also grew.
27 "The farmer's workers went to him and said, 'Sir, the field where you planted that good seed is full of weeds! Where did they come from?'
28 "'An enemy has done this!' the farmer exclaimed.
"'Should we pull out the weeds?' they asked.
29 "'No,' he replied, 'you'll uproot the wheat if you do. 30 Let both grow together until the harvest. Then I will tell the harvesters to sort out the weeds, tie them into bundles, and burn them, and to put the wheat in the barn.'"

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Matthew+13&version=NLT>

40 "Just as the weeds are sorted out and burned in the fire, so it will be at the end of the world. 41 The Son of Man will send his angels, and they will remove from his Kingdom everything that causes sin and all who do evil. 42 And the angels will throw them into the fiery furnace, where there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. 43 Then the righteous will shine like the sun in their Father's Kingdom. Anyone with ears to hear should listen and understand!

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Matthew+13&version=NLT>

Parable of the Fishing Net

47 "Again, the Kingdom of Heaven is like a fishing net that was thrown into the water and caught fish of every kind. 48 When the net was full, they dragged it up onto the shore, sat down, and sorted the good fish into crates, but threw the bad ones away. 49 That is the way it will be at the end of the world. The angels will come and separate the wicked people from the righteous, 50 throwing the wicked into the fiery furnace, where there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. 51 Do you understand all these things?"
"Yes," they said, "we do."
52 Then he added, "Every teacher of religious law who becomes a disciple in the Kingdom of Heaven is like a homeowner who brings from his storeroom new gems of truth as well as old."

Page 97. The Instruction I missed: Getting Down From Rickshaw; The vision of an Abrupt Birthing (Open Delivery); Vision of the Promise Made by God; The Courting Phase

Earlier in my walk with God, I hadn't yet thought that God could give instructions in the form of visions as well. So I missed an instruction and also a nudge of the Holy Spirit because I couldn't realize that it was the Holy Spirit nudging and highlighting to me, but rather I listened to my own anxious self.

1. The Instruction I Missed: Getting Down From Rickshaw

It was during the last winter that I was returning from work in a Rickshaw and it was evening. As the rickshaw approached the service road along which my PG stands, I saw a navy blue car in my way with a man sticking his face to its closed window and looking towards my side at my feet. I was wearing my blue denim long skirt, my orange t-shirt with black denim jacket on top, and my black running shoes. I could tell that the person looked like Glory. As my Rickshaw passed by that car, the Holy Spirit highlighted the spot at a corner to my left (for me to get down at), but I bypassed the spot as I didn't realize that it was the Spirit's nudge and also I hadn't yet perhaps received the dream which had my wedding (not sure about his part though). Additionally, I was the kind of person who wouldn't stop for people who wait at places expecting you to approach them while they themselves never talk to you, and play the passive action game. I would have definitely stopped for a friend whom I knew. But why would I stop and get down for a stranger who I hardly talked to!? Though I knew that God had promised me a person in marriage a few months back in a vision back in A-17/B where I was previously staying, and I also could tell from the vision that the face resembled that of Glory, I didn't get down at that spot where my eyes went suddenly as it was highlighted and stood out in my eye's vision. I thus ignored the nudge of the Spirit because I was already feeling anxious. If I were to stop by every Tom, Dick or Harry who drives by in a car expecting me to stop for him, I would be no less than a picked-up girl, and that's not how things worked in my view. But apparently, that's how it was supposed to be according to God, because the guy in that car wasn't a 'random' person as I could 'see' in that moment as well, and perhaps that situation was orchestrated in that manner by God. Anyway, I didn't get down and bypassed Glory and reached my PG. As I was about to enter my PG, I looked at his side and saw him now driving away, while previously He was almost blocking my path.

After this incident, I didn’t think much about it. But then within a week or so, I was reminded by the Holy Spirit that this was the instruction that was shown to me a month or so back. I had seen myself getting down from the rickshaw at that exact corner that was highlighted to me that day and wearing those exact clothes.

Vision (Room D4, Oct 2021): Far-sighted vision of me wearing a long blue denim skirt and black denim jacket and getting down from a Rickshaw at the corner spot on my PG's street.

When I had that vision, I didn't quite understand what was it about, as I didn't even have the denim skirt of the vision yet and had no thoughts of buying it either, and also because the vision showed me getting down at that spot where I was wearing unusual clothes which I don’t usually wear, and it didn't have any other person either. After some weeks of that vision, I wanted to dress holier and therefore bought some long denim skirts, one of which was the one I was shown in the vision. But during the time of choosing to buy it, the vision was nowhere in my mind. By the time of the fulfilment of that event when I was supposed to carry out the instruction, I had forgotten about the vision. I realized later after that event that the vision was actually a prophetic instruction and not a prophecy that would have 'definitely' come to pass (because I didn't get down at that spot in the real situation, but in the vision I saw myself getting down). And then I was sharing with people in my life that I now had levelled up in my walk with God as I now received instructions - it was a huge thing for me, though I had missed this particular one.

I had missed both the instruction of the vision given to me months 'before' the event, and also the nudge of the Spirit 'during' the event.

2. The Vision of an Abrupt Birthing (Open Delivery)

Vision (Room D1, Mid 2022): (Birthing of a Word or a promise spoken by God) Vision of an abrupt open delivery of a baby by a standing person. The person could be standing in a group but it wasn't very clear as everything else was blurry except the baby being delivered with its head down after which the vision ended.

3. Vision of the Promise Made by God

Vision (A-17/B, Mid 2021): I saw an open night vision of the upper halves of me and Glory standing facing each other and smiling, where he was wearing a black suit and I was wearing a supposed white gown and had a crown over my head which turned into a crown of thorns and then the vision ended. The vision represented the promise of marriage made by God as we were dressed in bridal clothes though those won't be the clothes in which we will get wed as God showed me in a different dream. I remember sharing this vision a few months after I had it with the caretaker of that PG I used to sit with sometimes.

4. The Courting Phase (the Workplace Version)

Dream (Room D4, Late 2021/Early 2022): I was walking with Pooja, a work colleague, and was looking down, and therefore could see my dark green shirt that was draping loose and my thighs too that looked much thinner now in the blue denim jeans. I could see my shoulder-length straight shiny hair too on the sides f my face as I was walking looking down. I must have lost a good amount of weight because of how I looked. So, I have an idea of how I would be looking as I lose more weight. I experienced most (a great part) of this dream as the first person and not the third. I and that colleague got some disposable cups for tea, and then things fast forwarded and the view changed while I was still wearing the same shirt and the next thing I found myself looking at the sky where the view in front of me was that of the towers back at my home that one gets to see as one enters through the narrower gate. I had my head bent to one side as I was looking at the sky as I thought or whispered to myself, "Khyati (Glory) is coming today." which would imply that he must have shifted to a different place (which was not around my vicinity) and was now coming to meet me. The next event had my roommate leading me to a room to sit in. Then I saw her saying to herself, "What should I wear? What should I wear?" It didn't make much sense to me. Some more people came in and we were all waiting for someone. After a while, Glory made his appearance wearing a black denim jacket (like mine) and sat to my left. Apparently, it could be a brief intro/ get-together as people must have wanted to witness the work of God in my life and meet Glory. My roommate also entered the room now and this time she was wearing a short sky blue dress that revealed a large part of her back and thin waist. I was enraged when I looked at her as I could see that it was intentional. Afterall, why was she trying to seduce a person not meant for her!? She looked back at me by turning her head slightly to her left and gave a shrewd smile.

Some time had passed when I saw that Glory was sweating a lot though he was smiling as he looked forward (making the prophetic symbol). I said worriedly, "Khyati.. you're sweating a lot." So I asked someone from my right to pass the book lying nearby and started fanning him, us together for a while and then back him again. There was a table at front on which were kept some burgers and small Limca bottles. I found myself noticing them lying there. When we stood up and walked forward, I was following after him. He turned his head to one side, looked at me with the corner of his eye and said in a serious tone, "Kartika, tumhe mera naukar banne ki jarurat nhi hai." (Kartika, you don't have to be my servant.)

The next event had me in what looked like an open lawn area where I saw a girl who was praising Glory according to what I've written by far as revealed by God. She said, "Bilkul teddy bear hai! Bilkul cute baby ki tarah hai." I replied to her with an 'Aur kya!! Chotaa Bacchaaa.. Chotaa Bacchaaa..' (Indeed!! Little child.. Little child..) And while I said these things, I was sitting beside Glory with my face turned to his side and his shoulders wrapped in both my arms, while the girl sat at our right front. I wore a full-sleeved light blue shirt and him a white fitting t-shirt. He kept looking forward smiling and was silent all the time and did look a bit puffed up in that vision. That girl looked like Rakhi - a colleague of mine I know already (but I'm not sure as I have a blurry memory of that event). I then realized that I had been wrapping him for too long now and it made me a bit conscious so I removed my hands from over him and put them on my lap.

In the next event I found myself standing and moving backwards to sit beside Glory where he was sitting perpendicular to me in a restful position with legs spread out but crossed and the girl was sitting close at our right front. I wore a full-sleeved light blue shirt shirt. The three of us were together in a green open space. This time I said to her, "You can leave us alone now". And then as I sat there, I started observing him with my head turned to my right. I saw his summery clothing which was a hybrid of being a child and a sporty person with a slight mix of black and white. He wore a white t-shirt and black sporty trousers with a mild-colored patch around the pockets. I found myself thinking "Khyati is looking so good in this attire. Oh.. but then he will look good in anything he wears." I then happened to silently fart and became conscious. I still had that book in my hand so I started fanning him hoping he doesn't get 'affected'. But he said something like, "So Darling are you happy now?" This was the closest that I understood of what he had said. What he actually said was a bit longer and was said too fluently. I replied with a 'Kya?'. He repeated it again, and I was silent and still trying to fathom what was it that he said as I looked at him facing forward to my right when the dream ended and I woke up.

Because of this revelation, I bought the green and sky-blue full sleeved shirts that now fit me loosely as I have lost weight (though I've to lose more weight, as it stands).

God gave me a glimpse many months back of how things would go about, or how the courting phase was gonna look like (if there's one!, there should be one according to this dream). Well, now when I look back, I can make slight sense of the revelations given by God. When I was awake later, I did not at all understand why that friend praised Glory calling him a teddy bear. But then many months later, I had another (counseling) dream where I had the label of 'Teddy Guys' written on my skin. So, now it makes sense why she said that.

And when I had this dream, it was quite unexpected because I looked very different in real life and did not have very good bonds with my colleagues as well because I wasn't regular due to the Covid lockdown. Now I have been going to work regularly, and we hang out every day for tea or a break and I now have a good bonding with them. So, in my understanding, this dream is on the line to come into play in its timeline as I lose more weight, and it's quite near it seems.

And I have also come to understand that I should write every revelation that I get no matter how weird or improbable it seems (or else I tend to forget it).

1. Empty Hospital Room

Vision (Room D4, Late 2021): A door opened and inside the room laid empty hospital beds.

2. Long Whip Swirling

Vision (Room D1, Mid 2022): A very long and think whip was swirling horizontally - God's punishment for the disobedient in Heaven though God is often graceful and full of mercy and therefore forgives when we repent.

Note: Not all revelations pertain to those events actually manifesting in real life, but pertain to the thoughts as well of the related people.

From <https://mail.google.com/mail/u/0/#inbox/FMfcgzGrbRSDfbhcPNRMxfgNqCNRVqCL>

[Edit (6th Dec 2022): I understood that the vision was a whip because I later watched a video by Sis Adele where she said that God wasn't someone who was lashing His whip ready to whip you if you mess up, and that He is a God of love, grace and mercy. Likewise, with the vision described next. I had the vision first and was led to watch Brother Philip later which revealed the meaning of the vision to me.]

3. Fire from Heaven

Vision (Room D1, Mid 2022): The vision had a pillar of fire swirling down quickly from Heaven. This was to show that God can send fire from Heaven as well to destroy His enemies, but He chooses not to. We as the children of God walk out in obedience the path He has set for us, not just because we love Him immensely but also because we should fear Him as well as He is the eternal almighty God who holds all the power. We are called to walk by the fear of the Lord and not that of man.

[Edit (6th Dec 2022): I did not understand the vision at first, but then I was led to watch a video by Brother Philip who said that God is not someone who is ready to send fire from Heaven if you mess up and that He gives space to repent - that's when I understood that God was showing to me what He was capable of doing. It was all a part of revealing all aspects of His nature to me.]

4. Harry Potter

Vision (Room D1, Nov 2022): A brief vision where Death Conquerer's face changed to that of Harry Potter (the way he looked in his mid-series releases), and then back to his own self - he's God's version of Harry Potter according to this revelation. (I used to be a huge fan of Harry Potter during middle and high school, and in undergrads as well, though my interest faded in Masters. But there was a time in BSc when I used to think that I only wanted to marry Harry Potter! And somehow God's view of this person happens to be what He revealed. This is not to say that I support witchcraft which is of the kingdom of darkness, but I think God was rather making a point about this person.)

5. Ranbeer Kapoor Asking me to Use a Milder Version of a Curse Word

Dream-Vision (Early Nov, 2022): The Bollywood actor Ranbeer Kapoor asking me in a loving-polite manner to say out a milder version of a curse word that's used for incestuous people. (Quite Unexpected revelation. Perhaps he asked so because I don't want to use profane curse words even when people have done those horrible things, though I do call them by their character traits. Jesus also called the Pharisees thieves and hypocrites - words that described their character.)

1 Corinthians 5:1-5 (New International Version)

Dealing With a Case of Incest

5 It is actually reported that there is sexual immorality among you, and of a kind that even pagans do not tolerate: A man is sleeping with his father's wife. 2 And you are proud! Shouldn't you rather have gone into mourning and have put out of your fellowship the man who has been doing this? 3 For my part, even though I am not physically present, I am with you in spirit. As one who is present with you in this way, I have already passed judgment in the name of our Lord Jesus on the one who has been doing this. 4 So when you are assembled and I am with you in spirit, and the power of our Lord Jesus is present, 5 hand this man over to Satan for the destruction of the flesh,[a][b] so that his spirit may be saved on the day of the Lord.

6. Tiny Insects Flying Inside My Blanket

Vision (Room D1, 3-4 days back): I was half asleep in my bed at night and a vision quickly flashed where I saw tiny things flying inside above in the space between me and the blanket over my body below my head. They were many in number (perhaps 6-9). I was still half asleep and yet another vision quickly flashed by where I saw two of those tiny things flying over close to my face.

However, when I looked around inside my blanket for real, I couldn't see anything. Perhaps the flies were too small for my natural eyes to discern in dark.

7. Furry White Cat Peeking out Through a Blanket

Vision (Few days back at night): As I took a turn on my bed to the other side, I saw the furry face of a very cute white cat (with blue eyes) lying on its belly looking out through the blanket it was covered with.

8. 2 White Birds

Vision (Last Night between 2 - 2:30 am): 2 white birds walking towards each other within a few inches of distance in front of a brownish wall, and as their beaks touched (representing peace) the vision ended.

From <https://mail.google.com/mail/u/0/#inbox/FMfcgzGrbRSDfbhcPNRMxfgNqCNRVqCL>

9. Golden Retriever Dog being layered with Honey and Sliced Bananas

Vision (Last night, some minutes after the previous vision): A while after the vision of birds: Vision of a huge hairy beige dog sleeping on its left on a bed like mine, in a way I was lying on bed at the moment of the vision, with a human's hand spreading honey on it from a distance at its front side, and then as it quickly spread some sliced bananas, it withdrew after which the vision ended. (Who can think such a thing but an inner infant..?)

From <https://mail.google.com/mail/u/0/#inbox/FMfcgzGrbRSDfbhcPNRMxfgNqCNRVqCL>

I had recorded some of these revelations in my phone during the last night that I later mailed myself this morning for me to copy-paste here.

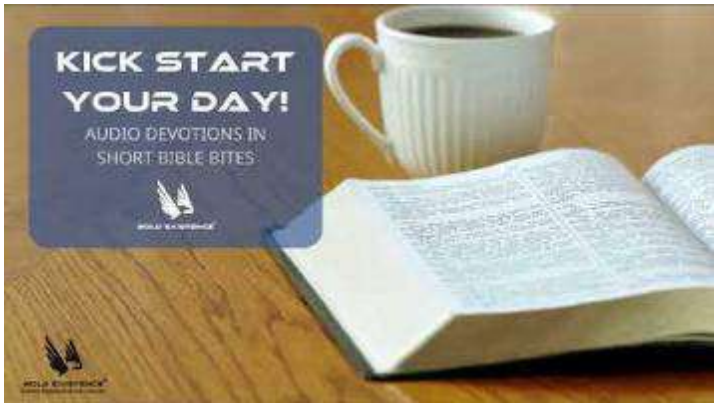
Bible Bites - Matthew 25:1-13



Devotional (same as the video) written by Sis Adele on the Bold Existence App:

You may have heard people say that you can "piggy back" on someone else's faith that is stronger than yours to help you through difficult situations. Well, the body of Christ is there to help edify one another and pray for one another, however, another person's faith cannot take the place of your own belief and relationship with God.

The five foolish virgins, thought they could piggy back on others' preparation and preparedness, however, it left them in a difficult place in the end and they were not recognized by the bridegroom.

Someone else's faith will never be able to replace your own faith and belief in Jesus. When you stand before God one day, He is either going to know you or He won't. You won't be able to play the "it is not about what you know but who you know card" on that day. You will not be able to say, "well God even though You didn't know me personally, You know so and so whom I am friends with so that gives me a ticket into heaven right?". The Lord will look at you and say "I never knew you".

Now is the time to seek God and keep seeking Him until the day you are no more. Don't waste your time pursuing other things above a relationship with Jesus. Make sure your oil lamp is full because the day and hour of Jesus' return is not known. Don't be caught unprepared.

Prayer: Lord Jesus, thank You that You are returning for Your bride. Help us Lord to live prepared, keeping our oil lamps full until the day You take us. Help us to not rely on second hand faith, but rather to strengthen our own faith as we walk in relationship with You, Amen.

Written by Adele Grobler

Matthew 25:1-13

New King James Version

The Parable of the Wise and Foolish Virgins

25 "Then the kingdom of heaven shall be likened to ten virgins who took their lamps and went out to meet the bridegroom. 2 Now five of them were wise, and five were foolish. 3 Those who were foolish took their lamps and took no oil with them, 4 but the wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps. 5 But while the bridegroom was delayed, they all slumbered and slept.

6 "And at midnight a cry was heard: 'Behold, the bridegroom [a]is coming; go out to meet him!' 7 Then all those virgins arose and trimmed their lamps. 8 And the foolish said to the wise, 'Give us some of your oil, for our lamps are going out.' 9 But the wise answered, saying, 'No, lest there should not be enough for us and you; but go rather to those who sell, and buy for yourselves.' 10 And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came, and those who were ready went in with him to the wedding; and the door was shut.
11 "Afterward the other virgins came also, saying, 'Lord, Lord, open to us!' 12 But he answered and said, 'Assuredly, I say to you, I do not know you.'
13 "Watch therefore, for you know neither the day nor the hour [b]in which the Son of Man is coming.

1. The Gift of a Heart

Vision (Room D4, Oct-Nov, 2021): Two red curtains draw aside, one after another, and behind them is revealed a Huge white heart that is throbbing (not in the shape of a real physical heart but that of the symmetric symbolic heart.).

I hadn't previously understood what it meant. But the Spirit had been highlighting the lyrics of a song to me and the lyrics had the phrase 'gift of heart' as a part of them. So I understood that he had brought his heart as a gift to me (which touched my heart). This song has been being highlighted intermittently to me since the past year I came to this PG.

2. Refinement of Gold

Vision (Room D4, Late 2021/Early 2022): A brief vision showing a fast-forwarded process after which a long streak of refined gold was shown being formed. That is the process we undergo on Earth as we face difficulties - physical, mental or emotional.

3. Two Tiny Angels

Vision (Room D4, Late 2021/Early 2022): Two golden tiny angels flying facing each other and making the shape of a heart with their bodies bent outwardly and heads and feet touching each other.

4. Butterfly Near the Mouth of a Serpent

Vision (Room D1, Mid 2022): The orange-black butterfly flying near the huge wide open mouth of a still black serpent but not entering it and staying out.

5. A Toddler

Dream-Vision (Afternoon): I was half asleep and lying over my right side on my bed facing the other end of my roommate's bed, while she was sitting at the opposite end on the wall's support. Because I was half asleep, I'm not sure if I actually opened or closed my eyes, or if it was a part of a 'dream-vision'. But this is what happened. I saw the blurry image of a toddler sitting on my roommate's bed facing right in my direction. He was sitting opposite to her. I opened and closed my eyes twice to make certain of what I was seeing. My vision was blurry because I was half asleep and my eyes won't open fully. That toddler was mostly looking in my direction though at times towards my roommate as well when I heard her ask him a few times in a fun tone what was he looking at. I then saw him now getting down from the bed and I could tell from his countenance that he was going to approach in my direction. Though it was a dream-vision, I knew that the toddler was representing the self of one of the tiny flying cameras. So I turned to the other side on my bed (in reality as well). I saw the toddler walking and approaching me by the side of my bed that I was now facing towards. And as he reached near me, while still standing on the floor, he started kissing my right cheek (as my face was turned so towards the left). The toddler had the height just enough to be able to do that without bending his body, but just his head. (I anyway love children, so I was feeling flushed by the fact that the toddler was kissing my cheek). It later turned to him giving huge kisses all over my right cheek (with a bit of drool) and those did not at all feel like that of a toddler but the self was represented by a toddler. And as he was doing so, he reached near my lips, lifted his head slightly and stopped there. I could tell that he was thinking or deciding for a moment. I thought that it won't be right if he now started doing the same to my lips as well, so, lest this toddler now do that same bite and drool thing on my lips too, let me turn away from him to the other side of the bed (which I did in real life and it woke me up as I turned to my right side). As I did so I also happened to put my right hand over my left one which was beneath my head, I had yet another quick vision that flashed by which is written next. By this time I was fully awake.

[Edit:
7th Dec 2022
In the ark-room dream, when I had entered it, I had seen a very 'wary' camel pass me by slowly. And as I had moved further inside the room, I had asked the question one of the persons present there in a very soft tone. This made me realize yesterday that that was how I am to behave with that person, seeing that he was represented by a vulnerable and wary short camel. The tone of communication is especially important to be paid attention to (as communicated by God) because of how he is (or will be?) . So I came back to the above para today and edited it to portray how I really saw the toddler in my dream-vision (not resenting him but I felt a bond). I at times happen to give a false impression of toughness because I don't want to look like I am a boundaryless person.]

6. Two Hands Clasping Together

Vision (Afternoon): A wheatish male hand clasping a smaller fair female hand below through the fingers (both were wearing thin rings - one each).

(I have now become reluctant to fall asleep for the kind of revelations I may get to see. I have become quite open to whatever the Holy Spirit reveals to me, and I take in all revelations seriously because I know that He doesn't speak in vain, and they represent the truth.)

4. A Brown Cuboid Breast Bun

Vision (Post Mid-Night when I was not yet 'fully' asleep) - A small square brown bun with a protrusion at its middle-top which was shifted to a plate and on top which was then placed a smaller square bread spread with green-sauced veggies (SIN)
(Parts of my body are not a bun or a vada-pav on top of which you put a topping..)

[Edit
8th Dec 2022
11:40
I understood that the above vision could only be the thought of Death Conqueror and no one else, as was the vision that I had previously some months back which is written below.

5. The Breast Pizza

Vision (Room D1, July-Sept 2022): Vision in thin air of Death Conqueror taking a stretched bite of what looked like a breast pizza. I knew that this represented his thought because there's a certain standard that is to be followed even on the marital bed (as we are called not to defile it). The Holy Spirit reveals to me things pertaining to both him and Glory. Well, I just brushed the vision aside.

Then there was another vision pertaining to Glory that I later had.]

Note: God and I won't allow someone to be a part of my life who uses curse words as a natural habit. I hope this will serve as one of the keys as to why things aren't progressing forward. Because I will not grieve God by going to someone before I have changed to a certain level, and God won't allow that person to grieve Him by allowing him to be in my circle when he has some ungodly traits. God works to bring about changes in all parties involved.

Vision (Room D4, Late 2021/Early 2022): A huge metallic dragon making war with civilians running around in a war-like environment.

Whisper of the Holy Spirit (Room C1, Apr/May 2021): The sound of three knocks inside my heart when I was still fresh in my walk with God (Jesus knocks at the door of our hearts).

I hear it every time Glory calls me a prostitute in Hindi (mainly when I am watching Yuzuru Hanyou perform). I guessed it was him because he once already called me that particular version of the insult, and that's also the word I hear in my Spirit when I watch Hanyou perform. But I watch him because he is so excellent and skilled at his art and it suits him so well, and mainly because I too want to perform like that in front of Jesus as a part of worshipping Him, where one freely expresses one's reverence and adoration of Him in the best manner possible (besides walking in obedience to Him).

He was calling me a prostitute because he was pissed that I wore a short top over relatively thinner trousers - as was communicated by him later. But watching Hanyou perform is no right reason.

I felt this performance by Hanyou was just remarkable and I very intently wanted to perform the same in front of Jesus.

This is such a freely expressed performance and I hope Jesus gives me the needed talent to perform this or perhaps even something better than this to perform in front of Him in Heaven, where I will dance in reverence of Him like His created child.

*Page 102. Ticking of My Watch; Persecution of Jesus; Mindsets and False Judgments

1. Ticking of My Watch (Today Morning while in bed): I had my wrist wearing the watch too close to my face so I could hear its ticking quite clearly, and right then the thought that came to my mind was that the time was short and the clock was ticking.

2. Persecution of Jesus

Dream (Today Morning, Between 8-8:30 am): I happened to be sleeping late today until about 8:56 am. Somewhere between 8-8:30 am, I had a dream where I witnessed the persecution of Jesus - perhaps with some added visual metaphors, where he was mostly naked and covered with bruises and blood and was being passed along a line of lambs hung vertically being slaughtered already, and then he was further hurt as he was stabbed (or made to bleed) by a people standing there. The next scene was far sighted and was seen from above. It had him hanging on the cross, skin all bruised and covered with blood, and as I saw it, I couldn't stop myself from bursting out crying. It was gut wrenching and painful to watch Him like that from that much of distance. I couldn't have imagined how He must have looked from a closer range. I then realized that perhaps I cried out loud in real life as well; though I wasn't sure, I did hear my loud crying and it woke me up. I kept lying for a while longer and then I had yet another vision.

3. Mindsets and False Judgments

Vision (Today, around 8:45am): I saw the following lines written - "I DON'T NEED YOU TODAY." They were written in a manner that headings are written on the thumbnail of the Derek Prince videos I receive in my YouTube notifications.

I had yet another vision which had some content written in the same manner as that of Derek Prince thumbnails but it was accompanied by a voice that spoke something else as the thumbnail was being shown to me.

4. Vision (Room D1, Sept/Oct 2022): I was resting on my bed in PG and I saw a Derek Prince thumbnail that had something written on it, and it was accompanied with a voice (a man's voice) that was speaking out something else, as if was being directly said to me in a low but warning tone. And it said, "Don't expect ……., seeing how quickly I get bored." I missed the middle part because I was busy reading the thumbnail which I later forgot too. But I had understood the message; and it told me that I may have come to a warm heart position towards this person, but I shouldn't expect things to go how I may have expected otherwise because this person gets 'bored' with people very quickly.

[Both these visions made me think of one of the two people God has been revealing things to me about.]

The visions reminded me of the first person who had befooled me (in a way) in 2016 and later dropped me down because 'he got bored of me' while things had just begun for me, and I had a mindset of continued feelings that didn't die very quickly or for no reason. So, it was very hard for me to let go. But it was a learning lesson that God gave me as He taught me that people on Earth can be added to or removed from our lives according to His Will and purposes, and it's "Him" alone who is our "Eternal Everlasting Love". He taught it to me and made it known to me the hard way which changed my mind towards people. Now I don't expect anyone to stay forever with me because I know that it's not their place to be; though God can ordain someone or bless you with a relationship or friendship of some kind that lasts for your lifetime. But even if it's not the case, we are called to live according to His plan and whom He wants to bring in our lives.

So I do not take things very personally when it comes to people on Earth. But it hurts me sometimes. Like yesterday I was thinking about how God put me in this position where I am preparing as He is showing me, and He has shown me things related to two men (which is against my own principles in the first place, but I'm following Him as He leads me). And I happened to go along the lines of thinking how hurtful it would have seemed when seen from the perspective of someone who had his/her entire life based on Earth alone and was expecting to live a morally upright 'one' life in this place without having to break hearts or hurt people through one or other way. If this was the case, my situation would be considered a very bad situation, because according to the plan of God I'm stuck between two people, and not just that, my notion of life on Earth is also ruined because of the loss of privacy and seeing how I find flying monkeys or covert messengers at places. I was feeling that I had lost my previous notion of life and now was sent into a situation that is a complete mess in my view (but not in God's view as He sees the greater picture). I also tended to think about how emotionally abusive that 2016 person was and said things to me which implied that I was after his money, and he also said, "I don't need anyone (referring to me)." And then I was comparing it to some of the things the God-ordained people in my life were saying or implying. One was implying that I am a money-minded person who only takes and takes. And another was repeating the words "I don't need you", though the context may be different, the words reminded me of that past 2016 person. And it made me question what was I preparing for if the minds of these new people work like this.

I have often thought before that I didn't want to be with either one because of the situation - because both will be hurt. I gave it over to God as I know that I am moving forward according to how He is leading me and He knows the end from the beginning. I trust in Him, and not in the words of any man or woman. If He said something about someone, I can assuredly take it in as the 'proper' truth about them.

Also, after I came to Jesus, I lost my interest in Earthly life and matters. I mean I may seem to be interested in something, but I know that it's just a subset and doesn't constitute the real part of things that await the children of God in Heaven, as none of what we lived on Earth is going to matter when we are with God in Heaven.

I can live with the uncertainty of my providence because I know that God has His eye on me and a plan for me and will take care of me. While those that are used to live with the mindset of earthly abundance judge the children of God from their earthly point view, while the Godly ones are versatile and moldable according to the plan of God - they can live with as little as nothing where they are on the 'Manna plan' (like I've been living with almost no bank balance for some months, and like some did in the past while still following and being led by God), and they can also live with overflowing abundance without letting it get into their heads and hearts and maintaining their servant attitude while also providing for other brethren (I found this in the case of brother JK who helped homeless people find shelter and paid their rents of up to 6 months - all from the money God provided him through His other children. God Bless his heart). The matter of money is not that of money to the children of God, but it's the matter of providence of God. Earthly people find it hard to understand and therefore judge those with no bank balance as someone who is living depraved/deprived and who is on the lookout to hoard stuff! Glory judged me on even the place that I am staying at, while it is the one where God wants me to be at and I should be thankful to Him. I could have lived in a cheaper place too, as I was doing before, but God brought me here situationally and He wanted me to put me there for a reason. However, if He had placed me somewhere else, I would still have followed Him and loved Him the same - as I was doing when I was staying at home in 2020 - I still kept Sabbaths, even better ones where I didn't even drink water during my one-day fast, and I threw out all idols as well! Yesterday, I was feeling so sick of the false judgments of these people who neither know God nor understand His ways and the ways His blessings work. I just didn't want to be tied to anyone on Earth. But as it stands, God's plan stands unchallenged and we've to walk in obedience. If God wants to provide for His children, He can do so via many ways. His children are not reliant on a man or a woman or the systems of the world. They understand that every good thing comes from Heaven from the hands of their Father.

The Darkest Time In History...

God said: "My morning glory rises. It rises upon the earth to give it light. My light nourishes and feeds the inhabitants of the earth. My glory is not short lived but it continues through the ages. How long will the peoples of the earth walk in unrighteousness? Do they not know that a time will come when My glory no longer shines on the earth? A time will come when I will lift My hand from the earth and darkness will take over completely. I will pour out My wrath to the fullest extent during those days to consume the enemies who rise their heels against Me. it will be the darkest time in history.

In those days all of mankind will know there is but only one God and only one Saviour, Jesus Christ. The people are not listening and the people aren't repenting. I will come for My bride, and I will clothe her in white. She will be gathered to Me and will come and make war with Me on the inhabitants of the earth who refuse to receive Me as their Lord and Saviour. I am not tame. I am not tender as some have imagined. I am a Mighty Warrior King who will come with justice and an iron sceptre to separate those who belong to Me from those who don't.

My words have gone out of My mouth and My words will not return to Me void. Examine My words from of old you inhabitants of the earth. See if I have not already spoken about such a time. You say it is foolishness to serve Me. But in that day, you will realise how foolish you have been for rejecting Me and going after your own vices. Even now, even now I make My cry loud for all to hear. Turn to Me, receive Me, leave your sinful ways behind. I wish for none to perish but all to receive eternal life.
I am Jesus Christ, the One who died and rose again for the sins of the world. For We have loved the world We created. Does a creator want to destroy the work of his hands? Would he not rather preserve and attempt to fix and mend his creation? Yet you are not willing o' you sinful inhabitants of the earth. So what shall I do at the end of the day when the time comes for My judgment? Would I not preserve, keep and draw to Myself the work of My hands that were willing to be fixed and set aside for My purposes? Would I not discard the work of My hands that remain unwilling to be fixed, mended and used for My glory?

Seek Me and you will find Me. Refrain from Me and you and you alone will suffer for your decision. You either serve Me and honour Me or you don't. Which is it? Choose this day who you will serve. But know, that choice will have consequences for your life's end. Have I not made Myself known? Have I not shown My love? Yet many still withhold their affections from Me.

Why do you continue to go after pursuits that cannot save your soul? I appeal to you again and again. Return to Me and I will cleanse you of your sins and make you new and unblemished, covered by My blood. The clock is ticking. Do no longer waiver between two opinions. If I am your God then serve Me wholeheartedly. If you refuse to serve Me, so be it, but know that you will perish in your sin. Apart from Me you can do nothing. There is no other name given by which men can be saved. Jesus Christ is the way the truth and the life."
Here are the scriptures God gave with this word:

Be blessed

Scriptures:

Matthew 24:22-31 (New Living Translation)

22 In fact, unless that time of calamity is shortened, not a single person will survive. But it will be shortened for the sake of God's chosen ones.
23 "Then if anyone tells you, 'Look, here is the Messiah,' or 'There he is,' don't believe it. 24 For false messiahs and false prophets will rise up and perform great signs and wonders so as to deceive, if possible, even God's chosen ones. 25 See, I have warned you about this ahead of time.
26 "So if someone tells you, 'Look, the Messiah is out in the desert,' don't bother to go and look. Or, 'Look, he is hiding here,' don't believe it! 27 For as the lightning flashes in the east and shines to the west, so it will be when the Son of Man[a] comes. 28 Just as the gathering of vultures shows there is a carcass nearby, so these signs indicate that the end is near.[b] 29 "Immediately after the anguish of those days, the sun will be darkened,
the moon will give no light,

the stars will fall from the sky,
and the powers in the heavens will be shaken.[c]
30 And then at last, the sign that the Son of Man is coming will appear in the heavens, and there will be deep mourning among all the peoples of the earth. And they will see the Son of Man coming on the clouds of heaven with power and great glory.[d] 31 And he will send out his angels with the mighty blast of a trumpet, and they will gather his chosen ones from all over the world[e]—from the farthest ends of the earth and heaven.

Revelation 19:11-15 (New Living Translation)

The Rider on the White Horse

11 Then I saw heaven opened, and a white horse was standing there. Its rider was named Faithful and True, for he judges fairly and wages a righteous war. 12 His eyes were like flames of fire, and on his head were many crowns. A name was written on him that no one understood except himself. 13 He wore a robe dipped in blood, and his title was the Word of God. 14 The armies of heaven, dressed in the finest of pure white linen, followed him on white horses. 15 From his mouth came a sharp sword to strike down the nations. He will rule them with an iron rod. He will release the fierce wrath of God, the Almighty, like juice flowing from a winepress.

1. This is Not the Time to Mourn Personal Losses

I sometimes get overwhelmed thinking about the things and heartbreaks that lie ahead as time proceeds and I follow in the Will of God.

I just happened to think that this was not the time to mourn personal losses - whatever they may be. This is high time that we join hands together and walk wholeheartedly in the Will of God in order to harvest the bountiful crop for which the workers are few. That's our main objective as we sail through our time here.

If I look at things from a personal perspective, it's painful and heart breaking, because of the events that lie ahead which will affect those I love in a hurtful way. But then I was reminded that there is nothing to mourn about. If one has to mourn about something, it should be our earthly life here that is separating us from the true eventual reality that awaits everyone and that everyone will face.

2. Event on Page 53: Casting Out of a Demon

The dream on Page 53 where I was left on road and eventually found shelter with a family of two people shown (whom I didn't recognize in the dream), one of the previous events had me laying hands on the head of a woman who was shouting and behaving out of her mind. I talked to her and said a few things to her as she moved about haphazardly with me moving along with her with my hands/palms still on her head. After a while she was smiling and was restored to normal. I (the one watching the dream) understood that this was the case of demon possession. She looked at me with love and gratefulness and to show the same offered me some things in her palm (from what I recall it was a gold ring and a few pieces of paper folded together) - perhaps those were the only things 'expensive' things she had. I looked at them and then at her, and saw how happy and at peace she was after being delivered, and then I took those things from her palm. So I know how I need to proceed when I come across this situation.

There's an appointed time and event according to God's plan when your gifts get activated and you kickstart in your path of progressing the Kingdom of God.

Around 22:50

3. The Date: Tea and Panipuri

Vision (Room D1, June/July 2022): Semi-animated vision of a cup of Tea on a table followed by one Panipuri in a bowl.

4. Hair Cut Equal To Half Their Length

Vision (Room D1, June-Sept 2022): Vision of the back of a lady with very long brown blonde hair which were then quickly cut to half their length from their left with scissors in one go.
(P.S. My hair can't grow to even the shortened length. So I understood that the represented a change in a person's set ideal bar.)

5. Jesus As The Lion King

Dream (Room D4, Late 2021): This relates to revelation 7 on Page 91. This is the last dream of the three prophetic dreams I had in a row one morning. I was in front of some people sitting in an office-like setting, and I had a piece of paper in my hand. I had to give it to them, but they did not accept it and rejected it. I went from one table to another that were there, and ended up crying as well because their behavior was very rude and mean as they threw that paper away back to me refusing to accept it, almost as if they did it intentionally to hurt me. Afterward, I left that room sobbing with that paper still in my hand, and was now out in a corridor where others were passing by me looking at me and saying the words "Sher aa rha hai" ("The Lion is coming!" in Hindi) in a mocking and taunting manner. As I moved ahead in that corridor, all of those people suddenly went inside and hid which made me think that the Lion that they were talking about must be really on its way to make a real appearance and perhaps that's why they all hid fearfully. So, I too went in a direction opposite to them because I too was afraid of encountering the 'Lion'. I happened to look in their direction and saw that the Lion had actually come and was looking angrily in the direction they had hidden. I now wanted to hide myself too like them because I wanted to be safe too. But I found it very hard to move and the Lion had already turned to my side and seen me and was now walking in my direction. I went inside the closed area that followed away from the Lion and was looking for a spot to hide but couldn't. The Lion finally entered in that area I was in alone and caught sight of me. I was somehow some distance above the floor. As the Lion saw me, he started running towards me in a circular manner on the floor and when he was right in line with me ad the wall in front of me, he jumped above to my level at me and as he was still in air moving towards me after his jump, I was frozen at my place and could see his hurt expressions and open mouth with Lion teeth. He was about to reach my face in mid-air with his open mouth when the dream ended.

Partial manifestation (Mid 2022): Once while having tea outside Gate No. 4 with my colleagues, the tea vendor passed this comment to - "The Lion is coming! The Lion is coming! - Jackals also came along with!!". After listening to this, I understood, "Oh, he was referring to the person God promised to me as Lion and the spy-cam people as Jackals." I also understood that somehow people themselves had chosen to refer to the promised person as 'Lion' (in Hindi). So, now when I looked back at the dream I had, their words made more sense to me as I understood what they were taunting me about as they passed me by in the dream - they were referring to God's promise to me and mocking me about the same as I had openly spread everywhere that God had made a promise to me and how I was preparing for it as I waited for it to be fulfilled. I would've never understood the dream without the tea vendor saying those words to me, which would imply that others must also be using the same terminology.

I hate myself for making people wait but this is not what I intend or want to do. I have to follow along the nudges and the timeline of God.

1. Vision (Room D4, Late 2021/Early 2022): A standing white-light being (in the shape of a human) pouring a bucket of water on me who was supposedly sitting down on floor as the vision was seen from a lower point of sight and the light-being was looking down towards the sight of the vision. (We are washed by God's blood and His Grace.)

2. Vision (Mid 2022): Vision of the empty visible room in the opposite building (that I visited last year) looked from above (the level of my roof) having hard floor with small embedded rocks.

3. Vision (Room D1, Late Nov/Early Dec 2022): Empty Street with all Tent and Caterers and other banners gone.

I think the above vision goes with Revelation #3 on Page 97 which showed the courting phase.

4. Vision (Room D1, 14th Dec 2022 @ around 2:30pm): A close-up side vision of a fat infant in a light-filled background wearing just a white diaper fast asleep on its back with its head turned towards its right (the sight of the vision). I had this vision while I was sleeping on my bed. Someone had infantilized me. Guess I know who it was! This person has romanticized, parentified and infantilized me.

1. The Man with Dual Eyes

Part of a Dream (Late 2021/Early 2022): Towards the end of that dream, I found myself face to face in front of a man right in front of me who had greyish-white hair but his face wasn't too old (looked old to some extent though). His eye to 'my' right was blue in color with a white sclera, while the one to my left had a black iris with a red sclera. The blue eye had a very innocent look, while the red and black one looked gravely evil. His face resembled Death Conquerer's. I found myself looking at his angel eye and the devil eye in turns and saw the stark difference in the character traits they were reflecting. As I was watching the two eyes one after the other, the dream ended. If one looked at just one eye, one wouldn't be able to tell that the other eye was the way it was shown - such was the difference between the two. This was the only part of the dream where I saw him face to face, while throughout the rest of the dream I didn't have a direct encounter but there was a lingering presence that was made manifest as I looked here and there moving from event to event and one place to another in that dream.

Luke 11:33-36 (New International Version)

The Lamp of the Body

33 "No one lights a lamp and puts it in a place where it will be hidden, or under a bowl. Instead they put it on its stand, so that those who come in may see the light. 34 Your eye is the lamp of your body. When your eyes are healthy,[g] your whole body also is full of light. But when they are unhealthy,[h] your body also is full of darkness. 35 See to it, then, that the light within you is not darkness. 36 Therefore, if your whole body is full of light, and no part of it dark, it will be just as full of light as when a lamp shines its light on you."

2. The Beginning of the Kingdom of Darkness

Part of a Dream (Early/Mid 2022): In that dream I found myself together with my stepmom and step brothers where my mom was talking rashly in a loud tone, and surprisingly I was depicted as being topless and was wearing my lose denim palazzo trousers at the bottom. I was going through my menstrual cycle as well. And then I went to use the toilet and I saw that it was laid in an open gallery which had a mesh door towards my right through which people could see through though none was there at that moment. While I was using the toilet sitting on the seat, I didn't see anyone around me but a guy randomly passing by the mesh door and leaving after a brief look, after which I saw one of my workplace's professors (whom I wrote about previously as the lean sheep) approaching me with his head bent completely down in order to not look at me. I was still sitting on that toilet seat as I saw him approaching me and I stood up as he kept walking in my direction. I could see some blood stains on the seat. When he was at a distance of around 1-2 meters, he asked me in a weird uncomfortable tone "Kingdom of darkness kab aya?" ('When did the kingdom of darkness come into existence' in Hindi) after which the scene was shown from a distance from the top where I could see both of us as a third person and then the dream ended. It seemed that he had wanted to know some answers for a while.

[Edit: This dream doesn't necessarily mean that it is going to come to pass in the exactly it was shown. But it rather shows the inner inclination of the people involved. I acted out of respect for that teacher even when I was in an undesirable situation (that's why I got up from my toilet seat as I saw him approaching), and that teacher had enough respect for me to bow his head completely down to not look at me as I was in that undesirable situation.]

The kingdom came into existence when some angels rebelled against God and chose to leave him as they sided with the Archangel Lucifer (also represented by the 'all seeing eye' in the occult. Other names for Lucifer - Shiva and Krishna of Hinduism, devil, serpent etc.). Those fallen angels created the serpent race on Earth as a spiritual mechanism to destroy God's angels. They run this world which is also called as the kingdom of darkness - part of the reason why Lucifer, the devil, is also called as the 'divining serpent'. He makes things happen on Earth but they are known to God before He even comes up with them, and that's how his fate is already written in the Bible. There's nothing that God doesn't already know. God knows all, from the beginning to the end. We've victory in Christ as we walk on Earth with Him as our Lord, our God and our Saviour.

3. I Will Continue Eating Unless the Banners and Tent Boards are 'Out of My Sight'

According to the revelation #4 on Page 97 (The Courting Phase) Glory came to meet me at a place that looked like the lawn areas around my workplace. And looking at the revelation #3 on Page 105 (Empty street with no banners), it can be understood that when the banners are gone, the weight loss process would be accelerated because I would feel a stronger push to work my body out and not eat.

Luke 5:33-35 (New International Version)

Jesus Questioned About Fasting

33 They said to him, "John's disciples often fast and pray, and so do the disciples of the Pharisees, but yours go on eating and drinking."
34 Jesus answered, "Can you make the friends of the bridegroom fast while he is with them? 35 But the time will come when the bridegroom will be taken from them; in those days they will fast."

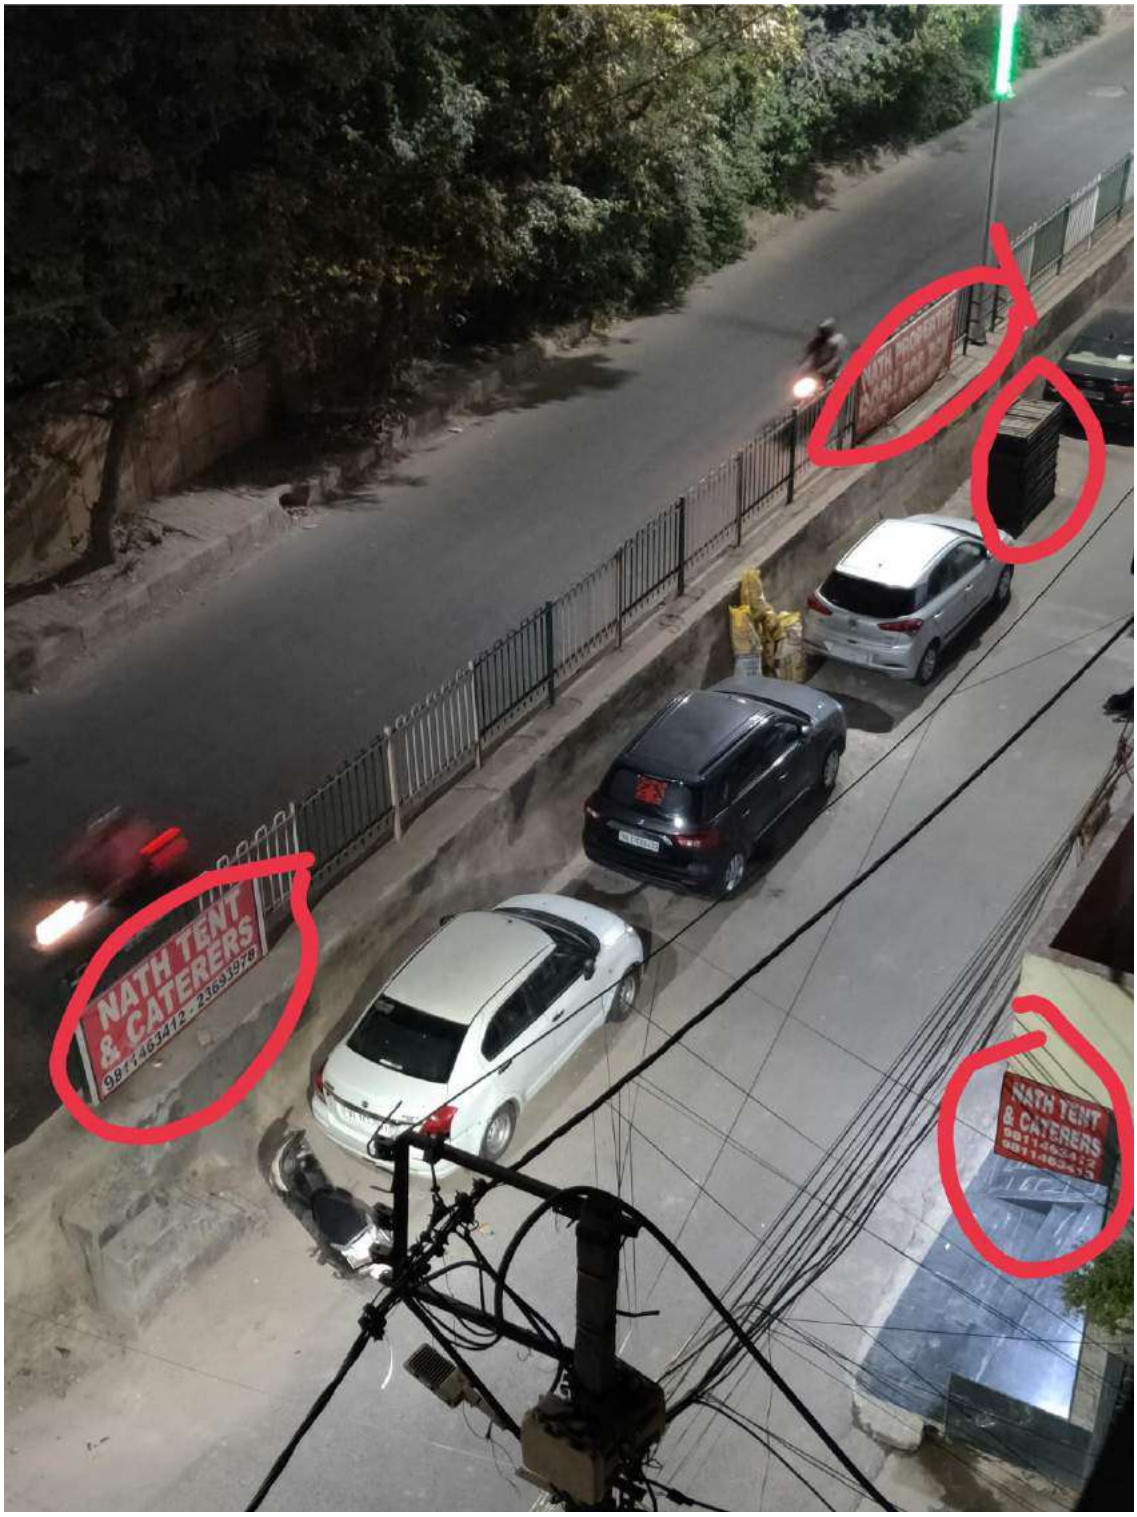
In my sudden vision, the highlighted parts were missing along with one or two cars as well.



4. Time With The Short Blue-Eyed Man

Dream (Late Oct/Early Nov, 2022): This dream is #13 of #8 on Page 83. In that dream, I found myself looking in wide-open blue eyes of Death Conqueror and as I was doing so I was bent at his level and kissing him. The room looked like the living room of the rented home we used to live in during a part of my childhood in the town where I spent more than a decade of my life. The dream was shown in a fast-forwarded way. I then went out of that room and did some household chore. The rest of the home looked partly like that rented home (the same one shown in the 'Time with an Actor' Revelation of Page 107) and partly like our current home that we own Apparently, I was making rounds between that room where Death Conqueror was in and the rest of my home, and as I did so I kept coming across my father and brothers. I would do a household chore and go to that room and kiss him for a while as I held his face with both my hands. I would then go out and do something else and go back in the room again. Then I found myself frying something in the kitchen that looked like the one in our current home. I then went back inside that room and kissed him again with his face in my palms. All this time his eyes were shown as being wide open (more than normal) and both of them were blue. I then took hold of his left hand and held him close and did a duet all the while kissing him at the same time. I then got up to my level and kissed him now with my head bent downwards which made him look up. As we were doing so, I happened to look outside through the open room's door and saw my youngest and middle brother walk out into the hall out of the other room. I saw a raised forearm coming out of the other room, and as the person walker further ahead it turned out that it was my dad's. My youngest brother was giving curious expressions about what was happening in that room as he tried to peek in from a distance and catch a glimpse. Death Conqueror then freed himself and got away to get something lying near the right end of the bed. He had brought a book to give to me. It was a science book. I took that book from his hands and told him to lie down on the single bed lying beside the wall. He laid down on the bed on his back and I sat beside him with my legs resting down on the ground. As he laid there, his eyes were still wide open and were shown to be hardly blinking. He had a serious expression on his face as well. It seems to me that God gave me this revelation as a tutorial for him. I was checking out the book that he had given me while I was sitting beside him. I then bent low and quickly dropped a kiss on his lips running my tongue on them leaving some drool. After I got up to my level, I saw him quickly bite in the drool that was left on his lips. The dream then ended.

1. Time with an Actor

Dream (Room D1, Sept/Oct 2022): This dream relates to the same actor who was asking me politely to use a milder version of a cursive word (first mentioned in #5 on Page 98). He was shown sitting with legs spread out which were crossed as the dream focused on his feet which were well groomed, and then later on his hands which were well groomed too. I can't recall the initial conversations but I could sense that the interaction was filled with a kind of Agape love. He was shown to me to be sitting in a room which resembled one of the rooms in the rented home (a 2 BHK) we used to stay in back in my hometown during childhood (that duplex was in an area which had a field of dung heap in the center as the people from surrounding homes would often collect and throw their cattle's dung there which was then later used as fuel by some of them). I can't recall the initial conversations but they were filled with a sense of love. He then started talking about the different objects (stars or planets) in the outer space that I had never heard of before. And as he talked about them, the dream actually showed those objects to me. Almost as if whatever he was sharing was made manifest in front of my eyes or I was given a vision of the same. I didn't quite understand back then why would he tell me those things. As he was telling me those things, a short heighted professor of our dept (who also represented the fat sheep of God) happened to notice our 'supposed' interaction. He was then saying something which I can't quite recall as I was busy watching the unfolding visions in front of my eyes. Later afterward he took me to an open and kinda crowded place that had many guys and he gently swayed his hand towards them to point at them in order to make the point to me that I was indeed desirable and not so repulsive/aversive as I may have looked to be thinking of myself if someone from the outside observed the efforts I have been putting in changing my appearance in real life as guided by God. As he showed me those guys, I held the green pen that I now happen to carry in my sling, and on that pen was written 'Fornication University'. Again, I didn't quite understand why would my pen have that label. It has 'Win Guide' as its label like its lookalike orange one. I had been using the Orange 'Win Guide' pen in real life but later happened to pick up the green one as I couldn't find the orange one for some days. Towards the end of the dream, he was saying something which had my vision in the dream going from above outer space down to Earth in a dark background that had white flowers being shown blossoming out instantly.

In the real life, I am making efforts as I am guided by God. I didn't hate how I previously looked, but rather I am changing according to His Will and guidance, and also changing my perception about things as He gives me more revelation. I not only bring about the changes He leads me to bring, but I also change my perception according to those revelations in order that I change from within as the revelations seep in, instead of just doing what He shows me as a distant act. Nonetheless, the dream showed the beautiful and agape-love-filled heart of that person as he showed me respect, kindness, and a sort of acceptance. I am sure that if he reads this, he will know that it is him who is being written about here.

In that other dream he had politely asked me to use a curse word - the horse of sister - in Hindi for someone who had actually committed incest. I had this dream the morning after I briefly wrote about the case of incest of Death Conqueror towards the end of Page 92. And the term he suggested actually makes Biblical sense because the Bible has used the term horses for men in Jeremiah 5.

Jeremiah 5: 8-9 (King James Version)

8 They were as fed horses in the morning: every one neighed after his neighbour's wife.
9 Shall I not visit for these things? saith the Lord: and shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Jeremiah%205&version=KJV>

So, yes; do not be like the incestual or the adulterer man or woman who is like a well-fed horse in the morning but yet lusts after another man's or woman's spouse the next day.

Jeremiah 5:7-9 (Contemporary English Version)

Enemies Will Punish Judah

The Lord said:

7 People of Judah,
how can I forgive you?
I gave you everything,
but you abandoned me
and worshiped idols.
You men go to prostitutes

and are unfaithful
to your wives.
8 You are no better than animals, and you always want sex
with someone else's wife.
9 Why shouldn't I punish the people of Judah?
10 I will tell their enemies,
"Go through my vineyard.
Don't destroy the vines,
but cut off the branches,
because they are the people who don't belong to me."
11 In every way, Judah and Israel have been unfaithful to me.

2. Revelatory Sounds

Revelatory Sounds heard in the Spirit:
1. A Clap (A-17/B, 2021) : That's how I knew that God wanted me to watch one of the Brother JK's videos in that moment as he starts all of his videos with his Victory clap.
2. Two consecutive sounds of the door of a car being shut closed (A-17/B, 2021): After I heard the clap, I fell asleep again but was woken up by the sound of the closing of a car's door that I heard in my Spirit. This again woke me up, and as I was half asleep after a while I heard yet another sound of the closing of a Car's door. I understood that God was communicating something to me in that moment. Later on I came to know with time that this was a covert way to 'call' people used by covert people. ;

3. Rainbow Covenant

Vision (A-17/B, 2021 - the same night as the above Clap vision): A rectangular object that looked like a medal with a vertical rainbow strip on a wall in a low light background. After watching JK's video that night, I understood that I was supposed to watch that particular video he had recently uploaded. It was a call to watch more of his channel. So I did.

4. My Job

My Job: My real Job here is not about marrying someone or bearing a child with another! My Job is to lift that metaphorical child standing alone on road and fly back to Heaven to God.

Every time my laptop turns on, the first app that opens up on its screen is Messenger - and that's my core job; it's not to walk and obey along the vices of men who can't even 'talk' in a Godly manner!!

5. Glory Trying to Restore My Neck

Vision (Room D4, Mid 2022): Vision of my upper half lying with a severed head with Glory kissing my neck while bandaging it using white bandages. In that vision, half of my neck was already bandaged and half was still lying supposedly tethered as I was fluttering eyes half alive. Again, it shows the heart of that person on top of me and may not necessarily come to pass. I had short frizzy hair in that vision and was gasping lightly with closed eyes as he was trying to restore my neck by bandaging it.

1. Slavery in Egypt

Dream (A-16, 2022): In this dream, I found myself cleaning what looked like my current PG but with my mom sitting in a room and talking to my brothers in a rough tone. It was as if I had to complete the cleaning job, and it never seemed to end as there were many rooms and though I was leaving cleaning the washroom, the job never got done completely through the course of that dream as places kept getting dirty time and again. It almost seemed like I was a hired worker with my mom giving orders as she sat on bed throughout the duration of the dream talking to my brothers or someone else that came. When the dream ended, I understood that it was a revelatory dream that showed my exact situation at home as judged by God. It was similar to that of Israelites in Egypt, and that was also how my mom viewed me - a hired worker, according to that dream. I couldn't have thought that because in my own eyes I was organizing and cleaning up my own home, not a PG! But acc to God, I was but a hired worker there (who wasn't paid). Israelites (the chosen of God) had to endure a whole lot of stuff in Egypt as the Egyptians increased their work load in order to oppress them and keep them occupied and stop them from leaving Egypt as the Israelites' departure would've meant loss of services to Egypt. My mom has also made indirect comments in the past about her not having a lot of servants while treating me like one.

God brought me out of that situation. I am currently in my wilderness period like the Israelites were after they had left Egypt. They wandered in the desert for 40 years before God brought them to their promised land - their God-given land. Egypt was a foreign land to the Israelites.

2. An Astronaut Hovering on a Globe

Vision (Mid 2022): An astronaut hovering on a globe (representing Earth) of almost his/her own size.

We (the children of God) are like Astronauts on Earth.

3. Leaving in a Spaceship (Rocket) with My Stepmom (and a Glimpse of the Tribulation Period)

Dream (A-16, 2022): In this dream, I found myself looking down into what looked like deep circular pit, 1-1.5 meters wide and 4-5 meters deep. There was an opening at the bottom which was to be revealed after sometime that I happened to be already knowing in the dream. I found my mom sitting on a bed beside a very wide rectangular opening and looking out. I told her that it was time to leave as that pit was about to open. The next thing I saw was my mom and me sitting in a spaceship where I was operating it and she was sitting to my left as we were on our way out of planet Earth. Both of us had straight hair and mine fell behind my back as I looked at this scene from the front as a third person. The vision of us making our way out was not static but the ship was moving a lot which made the observer me think that perhaps the dream me was not operating it properly. The next scene was that of the pit actually opening and many many snakes crawling up out of it. They attacked and strangled anyone who came into their path and bit them hard with their mouths wide open almost as if tearing apart their skin. What happened to the attacked humans wasn't shown but rather the vision of the dream was focused on the attacking snakes as they bit and tore apart repeatedly. After a while the whole place turned into a place with people who looked possessed and like Zombies attacking any unaffected human they could find. There was turmoil and unrest everywhere. The next scene had people dressed in astronaut suits walking around among Zombies as they were searching for the unaffected ones. One of the astronauts caught sight of what looked like a zombie sheep but as he was about to attack it, the vision of the dream shifted away from him which showed the astronaut facing the line of sight of the vision with an innocent short white sheep to his left who put his front right paw on the astronaut like a baby almost as if he was waiting to be rescued.

4. Shadow Revelations

Some dreams and visions are representative of reality and could be called as being 'shadow pictures or movies' as explained by Brother Andrew in the video below.

Video: New Order
<<New Order.mp4>>

New Order.mp4

New Order

Shadow dreams and visions reflect the truth that didn't actually take place in real life but represent a part of it or how things would or should have gone. They're a part of the Holy Spirit tutoring us by showing us a situation unfolding in a certain way which is meant to teach us something. For instance, the dream revelation on Page 106 where though I was using a toilet laid in a corridor, there was no one present around. This shows the way others are to behave in the case shown in the dream. If someone is forced to use a toilet publicly, then the public has to be absent or blindfolded - the underlying message of the shadow dream. And the guy that dropped in briefly outside the mesh door resembled a schoolmate of mine and looking at him, it seemed that he was there to see if there was someone was still using that open toilet as he made a few anxious rounds outside without looking inside and took a look after a while to see if I was still using it after which he left.

1. A Happy Lion Standing on His Hind Feet and Later Walking Towards Me with a Rose in His Mouth

Vision (Room D4, Within the past week): As I was lying on bed in the morning, I was having a good time waiting to get up and start getting ready for work. The Holy Spirit then showed me a lion standing on his hind legs with his fore legs lifted high, which almost looked as it was too happy or delighted or was reaching for a hug. It was followed by accompanying visions one of which showed me the lion now walking towards me with a red rose held horizontally by its stem in his mouth. Someone was definitely too happy.

2. A Finger Tapping on a Half Used packet of Bread

Dream-Vision (Room D4, around 7:20am): As I was half-asleep on my bed, I saw a dream vision of a half-used packet of bread with a finger tapping on it.

I first referred to the vision written below on Page No. 41. I had written about it too as well but I then deleted it as I felt it was too personal between me and Jesus. But I want to write the vision now because I have now come to understand the metaphorical significance of revelations given to me where Jesus manifests in human form and those in which He manifests as the Lion. The human form corresponds to Glory (G) while the Lion form corresponds to Death Conqueror (DC).

3. A Lion Jumping Through a Heart Shaped Hoop

Vision (Room D4, Early 2022): It was towards the end of a Sabbath that I had this vision. I saw a lion coming running in a dark blue background from my right and jumping through a heart-shaped floral hoop, and after He landed right in front of my sight He looked at me while He had his 'straight' lion hair side-combed with a slight lift resembling mine during those days. I understood the heart of God through this vision. God is humble enough to jump through hoops to secure the ones He loves.

4. The Cupbearers

Dream (A-17/B, 2021): In this dream, I found myself holding a half-filled cup and walking along with some other people who too had their own cups in their hands, and it was being said that we were taking those cups to the King. As we continued walking forward, we saw some people along our path to our left who were being nailed to their crosses and were in pain. We then reached in front of what looked like a hut out of which were coming people with brown chocolate cakes in their hands. Apparently, it was those bakers that were being taken to be crucified. We were witnessing the baker who had come out of the hut with a baked brown cake being quickly taken by the soldiers to be crucified when the dream ended.

Interpretation: The children of God are like the cupbearers who go and meet the King for real to hand Him the cup. (The cup also represents our share of sufferings that are reserved for us in order for us to be with the King at the end. Some hours back I was thinking that my cup was too bitter as I was feeling all spent with no 'inner' energy felt or left to complete my God-ordained task. So I laid alone on the bed to give myself an outlet and be comforted by God as I was feeling disheartened by the false idle words of others as well - those who give false judgments and whose mouths only utter rude and ungodly stuff.) The bakers only bake cakes that are put on the dining table in front of people as a good showpiece. The baker doesn't get to be in the close presence of the King, while the cupbearer himself/herself tastes the ingredients of the cup before handing it over to the King. I understood the dream I had after I watched the video below - The Cupbearer by Brother Wally.

THE CUPBEARER

Genesis 40 (New International Version)

The Cupbearer and the Baker

40 Some time later, the cupbearer and the baker of the king of Egypt offended their master, the king of Egypt. 2 Pharaoh was angry with his two officials, the chief cupbearer and the chief baker, 3 and put them in custody in the house of the captain of the guard, in the same prison where Joseph was confined. 4 The captain of the guard assigned them to Joseph, and he attended them.

After they had been in custody for some time, 5 each of the two men—the cupbearer and the baker of the king of Egypt, who were being held in prison—had a dream the same night, and each dream had a meaning of its own.

6 When Joseph came to them the next morning, he saw that they were dejected. 7 So he asked Pharaoh's officials who were in custody with him in his master's house, "Why do you look so sad today?"

8 "We both had dreams," they answered, "but there is no one to interpret them."

Then Joseph said to them, "Do not interpretations belong to God? Tell me your dreams."

9 So the chief cupbearer told Joseph his dream. He said to him, "In my dream I saw a vine in front of me, 10 and on the vine were three branches. As soon as it budded, it blossomed, and its clusters ripened into grapes. 11 Pharaoh's cup was in my hand, and I took the grapes, squeezed them into Pharaoh's cup and put the cup in his hand."
12 "This is what it means," Joseph said to him. "The three branches are three days. 13 Within three days Pharaoh will lift up your head and restore you to your position, and you will put Pharaoh's cup in his hand, just as you used to do when you were his cupbearer. 14 But when all goes well with you, remember me and show me kindness; mention me to Pharaoh and get me out of this prison. 15 I was forcibly carried off from the land of the Hebrews, and even here I have done nothing to deserve being put in a dungeon."
16 When the chief baker saw that Joseph had given a favorable interpretation, he said to Joseph, "I too had a dream: On my head were three baskets of bread.[a] 17 In the top basket were all kinds of baked goods for Pharaoh, but the birds were eating them out of the basket on my head."
18 "This is what it means," Joseph said. "The three baskets are three days. 19 Within three days Pharaoh will lift off your head and impale your body on a pole. And the birds will eat away your flesh."
20 Now the third day was Pharaoh's birthday, and he gave a feast for all his officials. He lifted up the heads of the chief cupbearer and the chief baker in the presence of his officials: 21 He restored the chief cupbearer to his position, so that he once again put the cup into Pharaoh's hand— 22 but he impaled the chief baker, just as Joseph had said to them in his interpretation.
23 The chief cupbearer, however, did not remember Joseph; he forgot him.

Vision (A-17/B, 2021): A branch of tree out of which three mini branches grew out with one bud at each's end.

[Edit: (00:34, 22nd Dec 2022)

Vision (Room D4, Mid 2022): A hand with a bunch of black grapes coming out from a dark background.

1. Vision (Room D1, Within the past week or two): In this vision, I saw a wheatish person with vertically narrow eyes whose facial features were an amalgamation of my previous visions of Jesus and the actual face of Death Conqueror with a slight tint of the face of the character of Snape. He was sitting on a throne with his arms stretched and resting on the armrests, and had a dark blue drape around his shoulders along with a 1.5-2 inches high circular crown on his head. He had almost straight hair in that vision (than he has in real life) that fell just above the end of his neck. The line of sight of the vision wasn't parallel but lower by a slight amount and was viewed from the chair's left as focus of the vision shifted slowly around him as he had silent and partly serious facial expressions (resembling Snape's silent smiling look to an extent) in his King chair looking towards me with his chin lifted by a slight bit. The slow movement of the vision of the vision was in synchrony with the background melody of the song I was listening to at the moment.

I was taken aback for a while by this revelation as the Spirit showed me the vision backed by what was playing in my ears, but it resonated so well with my heart.

God's depiction of something is the perfect representation of it.

And I think that the skin tone of the amalgamated guy was changed to wheatish to go along with the previous revelations of Jesus in which He revealed Himself to me in wheatish tones only. However, Jesus was usually dressed in entirely white or white with a red drape around him in His previous revelations to me. In this revelation, He was dressed in blue and white as He looked amused with a Kingly attitude as he was sitting with that silent smile and unblinking eyes on that throne while looking at me. While in my previous revelations of Jesus where He revealed Himself to me as the King that He is with just His head in the sky wearing a crown with a red thick King's fur drape around his neck, Jesus looked very humble as He was smiling - the vision being seen from a parallel level to His face.

This particular revelation was a bit different than the others.

I had this vision as I was listening to a certain song and the following lyrics were playing.

2. Dream (Room D4, Late 2021/Early 2022): In that dream, someone showed me a list of nearby addresses written in a table, one of which had 'Rani' (Queen in Hindi) written in front of it. That person told me to go to that address every evening between a certain time-slot. But I didn't go to there because of one or the other reasons and then the dream ended.

Page 112. Grey Thong; Sky Blue Stilettoes; Yellow G-String; Gypsy Enchantment; Crowning of a Thin White Cat; My Mom's Response; My Roommate's Act of Seduction; My Roommate Wearing a Crown

I was shown some visions related to some material stuff. Fortunately, I found them easily while searching online. One I bought which resembled the closest to the vision as the vision was set in a dark background. So I went ahead with the nearest match I found online.

1. Grey Thong

Vision (Room D1, July/August 2022): I had a small vision of a quite similar grey product in a dark background (previously I preferred boyshorts panties and not bikinis). When I happened to come across this one on a website, it was a part of a combo, so I bought the whole. The vision was the size of the pic below itself. Previously I bought products with similar shape but different colors. But this time I found something which matched to a great extent from the front to what had been shown to me.

2. Sky Blue Stilettoes

Vision (Room D1, Within the past few days): I was half asleep in the morning when I had the vision of the back of the lower (covered) legs of a woman walking in sky blue Stilettoes (while previously I had the vision of sky blue buckle shoes with block heels written about on Page 51). Today I searched for products whose backs looked similar to what was shown to me. I ordered one but when I went to use the washroom, I received revelation regarding the side view of the product. So, I cancelled my previous order and looked for the side style that was shown. I found it on a different website and ordered it. The stilettoes are shown below. The woman was wearing a sky blue Indian ethnic lower as well.

3. Yellow G-String

I was still half asleep on my bed when I had this vision. It was yet another of product similar to that in the first vision on this page but yellow in color and with a thinner backside. For this product, only the backside was shown to me. And I realized that I had come across a similar yellow product previously. So I went ahead and ordered it.

Vision (a few minutes after the above vision): I saw the back of a woman who bent down forward with a yellow G-string on in bright light.

(Though I bought a this piece of item, I didn't do what this woman in bright light.)

I'll still look for the first block-heel shoes with a buckle fastening that were shown to me. I think now that I've learned to walk in block heels comfortably, God showed me this new revelation (which doesn't seem to be relating to Glory at all). From the other revelations I had it seems they will end up not being a regular or inherent part of my life because I was walking in flat chappals in those. So I assume they are meant for this season only meant for preparation purposes. Also, when I had the vision of the block heels, I was kinda fat and couldn't find them at my usual go-to online places. But now that I am slimmer, God showed me this new vision.

24th Dec 2022 (Afternoon)

4. Gypsy Enchantment

Vision (For the past two weeks): This vision has been repeated to me for a while for a week or two and does so again at times. The vision is that of the front cover of a Novel I had read first in perhaps 8th class. It was the second novel I read since I had started reading. The first novel I had read was "I'm the King of the Castle" by Susan Hill and it was a relatively shorter novel, while the second one was 'Gypsy Enchantment' which was a full-fledged novel with enough volume. I had found them lying idle many times in our home so I eventually read them, one after the other, out of curiosity. The front cover of the second novel had a woman in a red dress and a man behind her in a black and white suit. Again, this doesn't seem to me to be relating to Glory since God is revealing stuff to me related to two people.

When the times are different, the way you write the Words of God also changes because the way people understand things and relate with them change. So you need to go a different way to make way for the truth to be instilled in their hearts and minds. Therefore, the life-story of God's unfolds in a way which would help more of His children relate to Him and turn back to Him. However, amidst the changing outwardly culture on Earth, the Holy nature of God stands unchanged and so do the standards we need to live up to.

5. Crowning of a Thin White Cat

Vision (Early-Mid November 2022): A few minutes after I had written about the vision of a crowned cat, I had yet another vision now of a crown being put on a thin cat. So, in any case, I know I have to keep losing weight. And I will let God lead me. Though I may be loving people, my heart is secure with God because as soon as they do something which may hurt me, God comes to the rescue and lets me know how much valued I am and that He is faithful and has an everlasting bond with me. He made me perfect in His eyes with His blood and I am already pleasing to His eyes that judge 'character', and now He is leading me to change my outwardly look in order for me to walk in His Will on Earth.

God Reveals the Character of People Through Different Scenarios/Shadow Revelations:

6. My Mom's Response

Dream(Room D4, Late 2021/Early 2022): Towards the end of that dream, I found myself entering in my parental home and walking towards the washroom accessible through the hall out of which were coming screams of a guy (my middle brother) while my step-mom and the youngest brother were standing outside the door trying to get it opened. He wasn't opening the door. I brought my face close to the door and said, "Himanshu, Wife!", and the door opened and I found him sitting with a knife in his hand with blood oozing out from one of his hands and feet each. I took him by hand and led him outside and he obeyed me (he must have felt safe). I was constantly asking someone to get a bandage so I could apply pressure on his wounds in order for the bleeding to stop. But they were not listening to me - neither my youngest brother nor my stepmother. Rather she asked my youngest brother to get her the cash that was lying somewhere (inside home), and he obeyed her instead of listening to me and went away. I saw a green towel handkerchief lying on the bed at a distance but didn't want to leave my brother in that moment to fetch the hanky as I was holding his hand that was bleeding and also because of the fear that things may get worse should he be left alone. My mom then shouted that they were not my servants (that they should obey me!). She repeated it again as she took the cash in her hands. As I looked at them in shock witnessing how wicked they were and as my youngest brother looked at me with a bit of shocked expression too as he was handing money over to my stepmother, the dream ended.

7. My Roommate's Act of Seduction

Dream (Room D1, Early 2022): In one the events of that dream (Rev #4 on Page 97), my present roommate led me into a room by pointed inside with her hand in order for me to sit along with some people. I have written about this previously too once or twice. After a while Glory entered that room, and we were all sitting together. My roommate then entered that room wearing a short and revealing sky blue dress which showed a huge part of her thin middle back, and as she did so, she turned her head slightly backwards to look at me and there was a winky expression in her eyes showing that she did it on purpose and also how wicked she was being in that moment. Who in their right minds tries to seduce someone whom God did not ordain for them!?

Though it was a part of her nature, God still chose her for His Kingdom as other things are right with her, and also because we have to work out our salvation by changing our inner self and by walking in obedience to God's commands. And the fact that she was present in the car which was heading towards that huge tall golden building on which was written 'BARUK HABA', shows that she too is reserved for the salvation of God and which is also the reason I was placed with her in this PG.

8. My Roommate Wearing a Crown

Vision (Room D4, Sept 2022): In yet another one of the revelations when I was sitting across my roommate at my right front on her bed wearing her pink night suit, I saw a crown on her head, and I knew then that she was chosen by God for His Kingdom. On that day, my perception about her changed and I knew that I had to look past her at times demeaning behavior and treat her according to who she was going to be at the end after she had brought about the changes in herself. For in that car that she was in, she too was shouting praises to God being fully dressed and with her hair tied low at the back in a pony - this is the version of her that would be much more characterful and would receive the crown that God showed me on her head.

Vision (This Morning while I was in bed): A familiar face of to my right with a streaky moustache, almost as if that person was trying to imitate that look. He doesn't need to imitate any look as he was wearing a lose sky blue untucked shirt over pants and had no moustache in the dream revelation where I was making rounds in my parental home going from one chore to another. 'BOTH' his eyes were blue in that dream and were shown as being wide open.

Vision(s) and Voices ():A while back I returned from the market having bought some things. While on my way back to my place, when I had crossed the corner dairy shop and had walked some steps, I heard an angry and fierce shouting accompanied with the vision of Glory kicking my belly because I have been eating a lot and have stopped indulging completely in the weightloss process for some days (two weeks or so), and I also heard him shouting that he got bankrupt, and then I saw the vision of him throwing a kick at my ass too. While I was watching and listening to his shouting, I was comforted by knowing that a few minutes back the Holy Spirit had put my focus on a banner on which was written 'Paqji Khao Pio', so I already knew that God wanted me to eat and drink for this season. It made me think that I didn't really care what Glory thought about me but I was only going to obey and follow as God would lead me. When I had set out of my PG (mainly to buy lemons), a street Pizza shop was being highlighted to me by the Spirit though I wanted to avoid eating it because it would be full of calories but at the same time I liked the thought as well. I took the route to that Pizza route which didn't have Glory and His people's abiding place on the way. I bought lemons and apples and then continued moving forward looking for that Pizza shop that was highlighted to me first when I had set out of my PG. As I reached that street vendor, I ordered a Small Veg Pizza and after a while happened to look at the name of his shop which was 'The Pizza King'!! And then it made a lot of sense to me as to why God led me to that vendor and not any other looking at the past revelation that was related to Pizza and the recent revelation of the related person as King. I felt so good afterward about the miraculous work of the Holy Spirit.

And before leaving the PG, I was feeling SO SO joyful thinking that I was all set and heading towards leaving Earth and as I looked at my roommate, I felt happy for her too - almost as if we got a ticket that we or no one else could ever have bought for us. I was so so happy that we were about to leave the place (for me it may be in a few years or earlier). And I knew that more than anything, we had to prepare our 'hearts' to leave the place. And I was also thinking about eating with the King Jesus at His set table in Heaven with all my other brethren. How JOYFUL! So it didn't really matter to me what Glory had to think about me not going to his adjacent place when all he does is make passive and covert jabs. He doesn't even respect God from what seems to me. He didn't pay heed to the vision I shared regarding the missing banners and boards and the courting phase but called me a 'Paagal Aurat' ('mad woman') instead. God chose me for His purpose and has a crown and my reward waiting for me for all that I went through on Earth and will go through to build this ark, but Glory and His people downstairs talk in rude tones and behave ungodly and I don't even feel good in their presence. A HUGE thumbs down to them - down down. Why can't they just say 'Excuse Me' and talk to me instead of throwing jabs and insults and comparing me to an E-Rickshaw when God showed me that I was flying a spaceship with my stepmom in it! And why is he hiding all the time and uses others to call me!? Should I send others too in my place!? And using their own logic tell those substitutes to say everything indirectly. I am not going to them if they can't say 'Excuse Me' and explain their grievance directly instead of showing passive aggressiveness!

They think that they have to treat someone according to the way that person is 'used' to be treated. How wrong they are! You have to treat people according to how they are 'supposed' to be treated. I am not taking in any insults from another human who behaves in an ungodly manner. If I was so happy with how my parents behave, why would I avoid them? And if I am to be treated the way my dad treats me or my mother because that's what I've 'seen', then I would judge Glory by the same standard and treat him the way I 'know' my mother treated me - because that's all I know, and I will not use my own nature and self-assessment that I use with people when treating them in a godly manner irrespective of what they have previously known or seen. My words have no dual meaning and they exactly mean what is written.

1. Smooth Talk and Witchcraft

Dream (Mid 2022): I saw a woman with open straight hair wearing a black coat/blazer sitting with some men at the back seat of a car. It seemed that they had somehow managed to get her inside. They were talking to the woman and while they did so her expressions were neutral as she sat silently listening to them. One of them had a burning incense in a holder in his hand which he was moving in front of the woman. It almost seemed like a witchcraft ritual as the woman seemed to be getting affected by the fumes of the incense. It seemed as if they were trying to 'get' the woman be hypnotized with their vain and deceptive smooth talk which was equivalent of that ritual. It seemed to be having some effect on the woman. The vision then shifted to a room lit in white light in which my youngest brother lay on his bed covered with a white quilt in a restful position with a white pillow behind his back. He had a phone in his hand in which he was busy. The next scene was that of a woman in a mustard (light yellow) high-neck sweater who was sleeping on her back with her hair tied low at the back. The lower half of the woman was covered by a black cloth from below her belly to her knees. The heads of two men could be seen near her knees and one of them was putting his hand inside the blanket in between her legs and taking it out. (I don't know those people at all or don't think that I've even seen them before) He did it a few times while he talked in a low tone with the other guy present with him. It almost seemed like they were investigating something as their expressions were serious and they said out a few sentences in a low tone. The vision of that dream then shifted to the upper half of the woman who was still fast asleep and no one else could be seen in the vision when suddenly another guy (looked like Death Conqueror) who was wearing a yellow sweater as well and looked drunk and had his eyes half closed suddenly came into the vision from her left as he turned to her side and abruptly placed his arm lightly on the woman's chest. The woman then woke up and as she did, her eyes moved quickly to her left and right and in the flash of a moment she was boiled to anger at the situation because of which she scratched the men present there with her fingernails which left brown scar streaks on their faces. The vision then shifted to the room my youngest brother was in and it was revealed that the scene of that situation was right in front of him separated by a glass wall. The scene was now shown from his room through the glass wall. The woman was now on her feet and attacking them with her strong scratches which made all three men run around screaming and flee away while my youngest brother kept staring at his phone's screen.

2. My Injured Youngest Brother

Dream (Room D1, Morning, Dec 13, 2022): In this dream, I found myself sitting down in a way that we do while using Indian-style toilets and I was wearing the loose orange floral butterfly top. I was in this pose throughout the dream as the visions in front of the 'dream me' changed. The vision of the dream started with my youngest brother crying and telling me that mom had hit him. He was crying and saying, "Didi, Mummy ne mujhe mara." ("Sis, Mom hit me.") His head was shaved. As I looked at him, I started crying out loud. He looked quite swollen. The vision then showed one of his legs that was wrapped in bandage but looked broken and too swollen. Then the back of his shaved head was shown that too was hugely swollen and was bandaged and had a few thin streaks of blood rolling down. As the vision changed from one scene to another in the dream, he was saying something throughout while crying. The face of my middle brother was shown a few times and he said a line or two in a low tone with a poker face. He didn't/couldn't say much about the incident but seemed a bit serious. Throughout this dream, I was crying loudly as I witnessed the situation of my youngest brother.

3.The Hypocrisy of Helping

Dream-Vision (Morning, Mid-Dec 2022): In that brief dream-vision, I was filling a small bucket to do some chore, and then the girl Himanshi who stays downstairs on the third floor stopped me and said to me, "Darling I will do everything for you.", and as she said that, she washed one of her feet (that wore a flipflop) in the running tap water that was being filled in my bucket, and then she left. It left me wondering why she would wash her feet in the water I was supposed to be using while she was saying those apparently nice words.

The Dirty but Wary Bride

4. Vision (Night when I laid on bed to fall asleep, 30th Dec 2022): Face of Uma Thurman with straight blonde hair (her look from the movie Kill Bill) along with liquid green stuff patched over her face.

5. Follow-up Vision: The vision was quickly followed by another vision of a scene from 'The Bride vs The Crazy 88' scene from the movie Kill Bill where she is wearing a yellow and black tracksuit and is standing with her sword held horizontally in her hand near her eyes as she looks at the reflection of her enemies behind her in her sword.

1. Woman on a Bed of Arrows

Vision (Room D4, Late 2021/Early 2022): Vision of half of the upper half of my naked body lying on the heads of many vertical arrows that pierced me from the back where I laid motionless with eyes half-closed and fluttering slowly.

My brother (Brother Nate) received the same vision of a woman lying on a bed of arrows and he prayed for me and poured healing oil on my wounds in his prayer.

2. Splitting of Psyche

Vision (Room D4, Late 2021): A translucent yellowish abstract thin light surface splitting in two (splitting of my psyche).

This was a necessary part for me to be able to walk further in the Will of God. Without the knowledge of God, we don't want to associate with people who employ abusive ways to get their way as that's not what we expect from people we are supposed to be having close in our lives. If we happen to come across people who intentionally hurt us without us having done anything wrong to them, we quickly block them or don't want them to be a part of our lives. I too had some strong pillars in my mind which made me avoid many people who wouldn't meet a certain standard in character in the first instance of meeting or getting to know them. I made my evaluations quickly and didn't want to associate with vain people who indulged heavily in the world and its shallow ways of entertainment and escape. But because of the situation God put me in, those pillars were taken down which resulted in my psyche splitting in two as I both hated and loved those who were hurting me! With time, God made me learn His way of putting up with people until He has finished His work in them. They start as grave and gross sinners when they first come to Him, but with time as He leads and guides them, a gradual change in their hearts is brought about which makes them more godly as they transform in a new creation in Christ. This is God's way of dealing with sinners. He doesn't start with predefined standards and rejects people on the first go, but creates situations and works on them internally in order to bring them to Him. In this manner, the heart of a lost person who previously didn't want to have to do anything with God is changed and he comes back to his Creator and first love.

God has a whole heart and psyche despite the deeds of His creation. He is whole and perfect and worthy. He can love someone who spits on His face, though we may not be able to. As we spend more time in His presence learning His nature and ways, we learn to be more like Him.

3. Lion's Mouth Squished in the Form of a Kiss Hiding His Teeth

Vision (Room D1): As I wrote the dream where the Lion came running towards me and jumped on me with his mouth wide open, I had an instant vision as I was lying in my bed where I saw a lion's mouth facing me close to my left, this time open in a way that hid its teeth but showed the dark tunnel of his mouth.

4. Girl With a Striped Bra and a Man

Vision (Room D1, Last Week): As I was using the commode, I saw a semi-animated blurred vision where I saw the back of a woman wearing a vertically striped light blue and white bra. She seemed to be sitting and her hair were tied low at the back. Then I saw two hands coming slowly from her front that unhooked her bra. The vision then cleared up a bit and a little bit of the upper body of a man was revealed as present next to her facing her. The sitting woman seemed to be at a level higher than the man. Her striped bra had moved slightly up her breasts and the man was now 'very softly' biting her left breast. He didn't have to bend his head a lot because he was almost at the right level. The vision then ended.

I am feeling so distressed. When I look at the later parts of this book, I see a lot of revelations that make me think that it's all porn. But I guess, I have to look objectively at what is revealed and not be depressed about my book containing such content.

And I was complaining a while back that why is my book a book of porn!!? Why can't it be just about moving around and doing healing and other stuff as God leads me? But the recent revelations are making me feel terrible now!! I didn't even write about one dream from the Holy Spirit here. Additionally, it seems like my sweet taste buds have gone desensitized as I ended up eating three small packets of coated small chocolate candies. I was getting a nudge to eat one packet. I finished it, then I easily moved on to the next and the last one and I didn't feel their sweetness but to an extremely mild extent!

This vision from day before yesterday doesn't seem like Porn.

5. Two Anime Characters Still in a Kiss

Vision (Room D1, Afternoon, Monday, Jan 2): I was sitting on my chair with closed eyes to relax and was listening to a soothing song when I had this vision. I saw two very innocent-looking anime characters still in a kiss with their open mouths locked with eyes closed and heads bent. The girl had long light sky bluish hair with some flowers and floray clips on them while the guy had short black hair.

I wish I could just paste pictures/videos of all the revelations by the Holy Spirit. That would describe them perfectly without me having to articulate them imperfectly which misses details.

1. Idolatry and the Idea of Fornication with a Lookalike - A Word

People worship idols instead of God. They worship those idols as their personal god(s). This is not righteous heart inclination as in doing so, God doesn't get treated as God by those people but other things that are not God are given the status of god making the practicing party guilty of sinning. Likewise, people these days go ahead with fornicating with someone who 'looks like' the one they want for themselves but can't have because of one or the other reason. This is a very immoral heart inclination and much like idolatry which should be gotten rid of completely.

(To be Edited)

2. Jesus Cradling His child

Vision (1-5th Jan 2023, Past week): Jesus cradling an infant (me) in his arms swinging me from left to right in quick motions while holding me close to his chest. He was dressed in white and I too was wrapped in a white cloth.

God foresees the thoughts of people in our lives. So, if someone who is supposed to be in my life makes a degrading comment about me, God will make it a constructive one by giving an appropriate corresponding revelation. I didn't at first understand the above vision as it was being repeated to me several times. It was because I already that I am His child and He loves and adores me. But when I overheard someone making a sarcastic comment about me as he compared me to a toddler who would rather be cradled in another man's arms than fornicate, I understood why God had given me that revelation. Even God agrees that I do deserve to be cradled (by Him).

3. Being Thrown in Dirty Black Waters and Situational Rescue

Dream (perhaps a shadow dream; Room D4, Late 2021): Events: Death Conqueror threw me and my middle brother in guttery water by pushing the Rickshaw we were in from behind with his car. That body of water looked small and localized like a pond but black like the Ganda Nala in front of my PG. I then got out of that body of water and the next event had me crying out loud as I was walking toward my dept. Then I saw a tall being with white skin (resembling Glory) with no well-defined features who came out from between two cars parked on the left side with his forearms stretched. His entire being was shown as white with no clothing on it. As I saw him, I said a protective 'No' and ran towards him and hugged him with my arms around his neck, and stopped crying. I then started kissing him and we slowly went in between the cars and laid down on our sides facing each other on the ground with me lying beside the car (my back being covered by it) and him in front of me covering my front. He was maintaining a healthy distance from me as we kept kissing, while I was keeping a tab of the surroundings as well. Then I lifted my head a bit and saw a black stalker car coming from the direction our heads were pointing and move away and park itself as it didn't know what to do about the situation and was rendered helpless.

4. Bella Runs To Edward

Vision (Room D4): The scene where Bella runs towards Edward and hugs him in order to stop him from coming into broad daylight was shown/highlighted to me many times by the Holy Spirit. I related this vision with the event in the above dream.

5. My Middle Brother's Cry of Pain

Dream-vision (Room D4, Mid 2022): I was once lying on bed and probably half-asleep when I had this vision. I saw a huge open mouth as it was crying out loudly in pain. It was being shown open more than normal as the boundaries of his mouth seemed to be moving in a flowy manner as he was crying out, though no sound was heard in the vision.

6. Healing Handshake

Vision (Room D1, a day before I went home to comfort my middle brother after the bloody incident in which he lost a lot of blood - it was mid-2022): I was in the washroom using the washbasin when I had this vision. The vision showed two hands holding each other in the pose of a still handshake. The event shown had a warm and a healing aura. When I went home and cleaned up the bloody mess on the wall created by the event, the day after my brother was feeling better and shook his hand with me and we stayed like that for a while. It reminded me of the vision I had in my PG before going to home. He was comforted by my visit.

7. Cleaning the Balcony, My roommate's Competitiveness, and A Sweet Corrective Punishment

Dream (Room D1, Late 2022): The dream began with me throwing water on the balcony floor in order to clean it. The next event had my roommate coming over and catching me to apparently inform me about something (perhaps it was something about laundry) which she said quite fluently. She was standing near the dustbin at our floor with her back facing the wall and had her hair tied at the back, and I was standing opposite to her facing her. I asked her to repeat it as I hadn't understood at first what she had said. She repeated the same sentence she had said previously with the same fluency. This time I questioned her regarding the info she was trying to convey according to the pieces that I had understood. But again, she repeated the same sentence in the same manner. I asked her a different question to make more sense of her sentence, but she did the same thing again. It was quite apparent by now that she wasn't making any logical sense but was behaving in that manner just to display her false speech skills (false because her sentence was intentionally audibly illegible and if said slowly wouldn't have made any logical sense). Now I was pissed at her and told her to talk some sense and stop talking nonsense. I said that in an apparently scolding manner. After hearing this, she started sobbing and went away into the common area. I too then went inside and found the short heighted girl I was previously staying with in D4 before shifting to Room D1. I then started squishing/pressing in both her cheeks with my palms (I have no idea why I was doing that, but to me the only way it makes sense is to see it as trying to teach her a lesson in a cute way). As I was squishing her cheeks, we moved around the entire common area as she couldn't get out of my ungiving grasp of her cheeks. The dream then ended. The dream is much like a shadow revelation that encapsulates the hidden truth in the real situation.

When I had this dream, I hadn't cleaned the balcony even once and didn't think either that I would it the way it was shown to me - by throwing water out in the balcony. But as months passed by and because of the need of the situation, I ended up cleaning it up in that manner. And my roommate has been acting competitive for some time when I don't want to compete with anyone for no reason as we all have to run in our own lane according to our personal walks with God. Why would I imitate for myself what God told another brother or sister to do? I would rather do what He tells 'me' to do, and that's how it should be with all children of God. It just doesn't make any sense if I start doing or trying to prove that I am capable of what God is asking someone else to do, as I have my own 'personal' revelations and instructions that are for me alone to follow. Likewise with other brothers and sisters. They do what God tells them to do. They won't (don't have to) do what God has told me to do, though they can help me with it or give suggestions. It wouldn't make any sense if I tried to falsely copy a spiritual gift that God gave to someone else. But yet, this is what my roommate tries to imitate, though it's not real in her case but is only situated on a bed of lies and deception. She even insulted me indirectly as a child of Christ and the authority I have in Him. She made fun of that as well though it was accorded to me by God, like He does with all His other children - says a lot about her inner self. Also, when I scolded her in that dream in an abrupt loud manner, I couldn't believe that either. Because I have never scolded her as such, always corrected her or given her suggestions, and she mostly replied back in a rude manner. And it didn't feel like the natural me as either that I would talk in that tone. But seeing the dream, I understood that through that dream God actually told me that it was okay for me to correct her in that manner if she repeatedly kept behaving like an intentional fool just to make herself feel better and make me feel bad or down in some way. God told me that it was ok to shout at her in such a scenario, though I would still find it hard at first!

8. Arms Around Shoulders

Vision (Night, 2nd or 3rd Jan): It was a far-sighted vision of a dimly-lit room in which I saw a naked woman and a naked man (supposedly me and Glory because of the woman's hair and built and the man's height) standing facing each other near the room's wall with around half a meter distance between them with their arms around the other's neck. The back of the woman was towards the sight of the vision and she hid the man's front. Both were of almost equal stature. The woman then bent low to the level of the man's groin after which the vision ended.

5. Time with the Man in Red & Beige

Dream (Shadow dream): I think this was the only revelation I have received by far related to this Child of God. His name is Shrey Ansh as I remember from my facebook. He was a fb friend of mine like many others. I hadn't seen or talked to him previously before I befriended him on fb. But he was from the same field and had many common friends, so it only seemed reasonable to me to send him a friends request. The dream began with us kissing slowly. He was wearing a plain red sweater with beige pants. I was 'supposedly' married to him, after a whie of which his sister and mom started behaving mean and rude abruptly for no reason (most probably bcz he was with me and gave his life to Jesus). And we were then saying that this is what happens when you give your life to the real God. We then left that place and were not sure about where to go. But we then received very clear supernatural direction from the Lord as we saw a spoon lying horizontally slowly lift up vertically to a distance of a meter or so above the floor and fly horizontally forward along the direction of a road and drop after a distance. We moved together in that direction and then took a left where he said he had a friend and where we would be safe. We turned to that street entered together in a room that had minimal things and had light brown wooden-looking floor. There we found a woman (supposedly the friend he was talking about) sitting on that very clean floor with her legs spread a bit and dressed in a black one-piece with thin strips. She then took out two cups filled with tea out of nowhere, while still sitting on floor, to serve to us, after which the dream ended.

Later when I had taken admission in PhD, I once saw a very neat man standing in front of me while walking towards Gate No. 4 of Science Faculty on my way back to the dept. He was dressed in a red t-shirt over beige pants and Buddha chappals reflecting non-materialism. He seemed to be resembling that guy. But I am not sure. But he had a shy smile on his face and looked down at his phone constantly.

The second time I remember seeing him was in front of my PG E-7, Veera Niwaas where I stayed from Nov 2019 - March 2020. He was dressed in a checkered light blue sweater over beige pants. Again, he had a shy smile on his face and his eyes were shining. There are two people by far who understood who I am at the core as I could see a reflection of me in them. They were Sumit Sir and this guy. Though I never talked with him in real life or didn't even know much about him, his dressing sense told me that he had judged me correctly and very well. While Death Conqueror judged me as a servant. He saw through my non-materialistic contentful nature but he didn't resonate with it. That's fine. We're all different.

In the same PG, I remember seeing a person resembling Death Conqueror as well. He was dressed in a light sky blue full-sleeved top over blue pants and had his head bent on his phone. I guess that was his angelic side as I wasn't having such violent revelations back then I wasn't having any revelations back then.

6. Glory Stopping a Fairy By Holding Her Hand

Vision (Mid 2022): Glory dressed in white and standing in a black background and abruptly holding the hand of someone who was supposedly moving away from him and of whom only the hand was visible. The vision then shifted to the right in the direction of that person and there was standing the smiling actress of the movie 'Marjaavan' dressed in white with long straight brownish blonde hair and two huge white fairy wings.

7. Tea Served in Small Conical Transparent Glasses With a Flat Base

Dream (Room D4, Morning, Mid 2022): I had a dream while sleeping during morning where I saw some small conical glasses with a flat base put together at a place and tea was being dished out in them. I witnessed it as it went on in front of my eyes. It almost seemed like they were offering me tea but I didn't go there throughout the duration that they offered. At the end I went and picked up a glass of tea for me and then the dream ended. After I woke up, I saw a hand showing forth from the gate of the building my PG holding tea in a conical glass with flat base. I could see that this was one of the covert ways to have me go to the people living adjacent to my right. I pitied the indirect move and just stood at my balcony and watched them. A few more people then came along and had tea in the same glasses. I then went inside my room as I wasn't liking watching all the acting and the drama. Later on I remembered that this is what was shown to me in that dream that morning.

8. A Crying Death Conqueror

Vision (Room D4, Around 16:40, 7th Jan 2022): I was lying on my right side on my bed, resting, as it was Sabbath for me, though I hadn't rested the entire day but had done some chores. As I was lying, I had a sudden vision by the Holy Spirit where I saw a woman and a man-boy (a new variation of Death Conqueror) lying together in bed on their right side with the man-boy crying with his mouth wide open though no sound was heard. Additionally, he had beige complexion in that vision. The woman seemed to be asleep right behind him facing him, had straight hair and wasn't moving, but that man-boy was crying. The vision had half of their naked upper halves. The length of his face seemed shorter than the woman's in that vision and so did his body thinner than the woman's. The guy was shown as having a fuller round-square face with a bit of curly hair and looked like an 11-12 year old as he was crying though the features were that of Death Conqueror.

9. The Beautiful Housewife Who Cooks and Massages

Vision (Room D4, Early Jan, 2022): It was an animated vision. I saw a far-sighted vision of a room well-lit by the light coming through the huge window the covered the entire wall right in front of the vision. Next to the window was what looked like a kitchen slab with kitchen stuff on it. There was another slab at some distance on which was lying a tall naked man with a muscular built on his front. Between the two slabs was a beautiful woman with very long flowing hair and who was fully dressed in loose flowing clothes and she was giving a kinda Japanese appearance. She was moving slowly in her loose white robes around the man between the two slabs carrying a plate with food to serve in her left hand, while her right hand was free to give the man a back massage. The vision then ended. The Holy Spirit revealed to me the fantasy and expectations of this person through this vision.

10. Overlooking Faults in Outward Appearances

Vision (Late Dec 2021-Early Jan 2022): This vision was kept being highlighted to me intermittently for two weeks now. The vision was that of a scene from the movie Shaolin Soccer where the lead actor pulls back the hair of the lead actress who has a skin condition because of which she keeps them in front of her face to hide it, and tells her that she's beautiful. The scene was set in a humorous tone though in the movie.

The Video: The Chosen "Jesus Is Always With You"

The Chosen ¨Jesus Is Always With You¨.mp4

When I watched this short clip on YouTube earlier during the past year, I was reminded of the time when I didn't yet know if God was real and I was experiencing perhaps the lowest moment of my life I had uptil then. I laid on my bed, sad and quite, and no thoughts were there. I just blankly stared at the ceiling not being present in the moment. At that moment, I suddenly felt a kiss on my left cheek which caught me by surprise and took me out of the escape zone I was in. It was around 5 years back. I couldn't fathom the experience at all and put it in my bag of unexplained things.

So when I came across this video, I felt the nudge of the Spirit to save it and share my own personal experience along with. God's nature can be best experienced and understood when you know Him personally, or else you will keep your eyes on your situation and make false judgments and presumptions about Him. He showed me love even when I didn't believe in Him, didn't know Him personally and actually tried to 'prove' to others that He wasn't real and was just a result of human mind's imagination. Still, He looked at my heart and not my initial faith in Him. He was present with me in my lowest moment and strengthened me even when I couldn't have thought that it was Him. That's how He looks upon and loves the ones He has chosen for Himself, and the same is reflected in this clip from 'The Chosen'.

When I was in middle school (5th-7th), I used to watch a daily TV series called Mehar that used to air during late evenings between 7 to 8pm. The series was set up in Islamic culture and was about a woman named Mehar who was married to an abusive man. She was lean, beautiful and had straight dark hair. After a while in the series, as she went through hard times and breaks with her husband, she got to meet another man who treated her much better and loved her truly and looked better as well. Though she didn't have an affair with him because both of them were moral, it was very much apparent in the series that they had a subtle chemistry though they behaved in a moral manner.

The Holy Spirit highlighted to me the scene where that other man was standing in front of his car with the upper half of his body leaning on it as he was weeping and crying saying out her name.

1. A Slaughtering

Vision (Room D4, Late 2021/Early 2022): A distant vision of arms (dressed in full-sleeved parrot green) of a human being thrown away. To whom it was happening wasn't shown, but the vision only contained the throwing away of slaughtered body parts one by one. Almost as if the person (not in the sight of the vision) was being slaughtered in the vision and his parts were being thrown away.

2. Eyes of Love

Vision (Room D4, Late 2021/Early 2022): Faces of my brothers and sisters whom I had got to know by then were being shown to me in a repetitive sequence, and their eyes were dark red and bulging outwards. The red eyes represented the eyes of love. I saw the faces of Brother Wally, Sis Adele, Sis Candace and a few more brethren in Christ. I had seen the faces of 4-5 people in that vision repetitively.

3. A Professor Holding a Red Rose

I work in the dept of the Physics & Astrophysics in University of Delhi.

Vision (Room D1, Late Dec 2022/Early Jan 2023): I saw a distant vision of Prof Sanjay Jain of my dept standing in a dark background with his hands folded straight down, one on top of the other. He held a rose down by its long stem and was dressed in a maroon tunic with a black half-jacket on top and white bottoms as he looked down with a slight bent of the head and moved at his position infinitesimally vertically.

4. The Gang and Sexual Immorality/Harassment in Educational Institutions

Dream (Room D1, Mid 2022):

The Gang

In this dream, I found myself catching Rekha Aunty on a street I was walking by. She used to work in the adjacent PG (Saroj Sadan, A-17/B) as a cleaning and cooking help. I had become wary of a group/gang of people who abducted girls/women to exploit them physically and sexually and knew that her daughter Sonya often passed along the same route. So I caught her up and warned her of the same.

It so came to happen that she was actually taken away and the next scene had me standing in front of her with her mother by her side. She had been released by her captors now and was wearing a long loose white t-shirt. I asked her if she was all right as I was concerned about what the perpetrators might have done to her.

She explained briefly though she still looked unbroken and confident in herself as she stood there.

Sexual Immorality/Harassment in Educational Institutions

The next scene then showed a grid of solid cemented stools with cubical tops on a platform on the ground in front of a dark wall. On top of the stools were sitting women with their tops lifted above their breasts with men sucking one of them (without touching them).

I saw my supervisor Prof Nivedita Deo sitting on one of the stools with her top lifted above and the then HOD of my dept (Prof Brajesh Choudhury) sitting down sucking her right breast. The vision showed a close-up view of the Hod's face and her breast for a good span of 4-5 seconds before shifting close to her face showing her expressions. She looked expressionless sitting there and looked ahead of her. The vision then showed the full grid with women sitting on those cemented stools all over the platform. Some seemed to be PhD students or postdoc fellows as they looked quite young, while others were middle-aged. I saw a young slim lady dressed in a printed white tunic sitting on one of the stools at the back. Some were sitting idle while others were occupied. There were some unoccupied stools as well. I then saw a Korean-looking middle-aged fat man with little hair on his head dressed in a black suit walk towards one of the stools present at the back. He looked like a visitor.

The next scene had me going to meet my supervisor on a sunny roof with trees to our right. She pointed to one of the trees and said something and as she said that she was smiling. I was amazed at how casually she behaved knowing the truth about the system she was a part of.

Though I saw what happens in my dept for the first time in that dream, God saw it all the time!

Page 119. The Dragon and the Huge White Serpent; My Roommate Rushing To Touch My Boots.

22:50

Dream (Early Jan 2023) : In that dream, I saw myself sitting on my bed and could hear some praises of devil being sung around and the environment was partly hypnotizing as I saw the pleased dragon face of devil peeking out of thin air. It took me a while to realize that the sounds around pertained to the devil who was God's adversary. I then rebuked the surrounding praising sounds in my heart and was back to my senses. As I did so, the dragon's facial expressions changed to being serious and unpleased and it withdrew backward through the air. I moved a bit forward and saw someone standing in a room to the right front of my bed and saw that that person too was engaged in talking with/about devil. I came out of that room and saw a huge white snake into whose mouth I saw a person fall. That person was supposedly me and I was observing that person falling as a third person too. The fall just before the person entered in the snake's mouth was repeated to me several 2-3 times before the person fell fully in its mouth. But apparently, that person then tore open the end of the tail and came out of it. The tearing open of the serpent's tail and the coming out of the person was repeated too a few times.

The REALITY Is, WE Sinned against the Most High and We were SHUT-Up In Prison Houses (Divers SEEDS)

Brethren, we are in a constant spiritual warfare with the devil.

Vision (Early Jan 2023): My roommate came running to me and touched my feet. It was on the evening that I had returned from my workplace and was sitting on my chair and perhaps having some tea and snacks. I then had a vision where I saw my roommate swiftly running to me in a bent position and touching the boots that I hadn't removed after work that day. (Sidenote: The vision metaphorically represents her new inclination of heart towards me. She has often treated me with disrespect for no reason and blatantly replied to me once that she didn't have to behave in a certain (respectful or considerate) manner. But some of her behavior has changed recently. By the time she is ready for the kingdom of God, many things would've changed about her and she would also have realized the arrogant truth about her past behavior. She was telling me today that she didn't have a good experience with God in her past and that's why she didn't want to listen to what I had to tell her about her according to the revelations I had received. I found it a bit hypocritical because she was very much eager to know stuff related to my personal walk with God and then copy a part of it to downplay my execution of it, but won't be interested in knowing actual stuff that would answer many of her questions and doubts.

She copies what she's not supposed to as those revelations are related to my personal intimate life that I am making known by writing here. Just because I am writing personal things that God reveals to me doesn't mean she should behave like an intentional seductress or she should fake situations to get a reaction out of me. I can see it when she does that, and that behavior itself confirms how she is weaker in character in those aspects as she puts me to test for no reason and fails to get a reaction.

It doesn't hurt me because her behavior isn't gonna affect what God has planned and purposed for me or for her own walk, but it should come out to her openly in the light as something that she can take note of and change instead of her keeping going ahead with the same negative and deceptive thought patterns. I have found her behaving and making comments intentionally to get a reaction out of me, and at times in conjunction with her gossip friend, and I have observed her nature and change in it as well with time. I know that God is doing a work in her and it will come to fruition in its time, though as of now she may be a backbiter, mocker or scoffer, or someone unknowingly prideful.

I felt like telling her that she never had any actual experiences/encounters with God by far so she didn't have any real reasons to despise and avoid Him. But she had already told me in a stiff tone that she didn’t want to hear anything related to her and God, but would rather listen about me and God. Also, I don't trust everything she says as she has lied about many things previously which I knew she was lying about as she's very much apparent in her lies and the lack of logic in her lies makes it a straight catch. But I prayed to God to help her in her situation.

When she told me in a rude manner that she didn't want to hear anything about God, I was very much saddened. I could feel the Holy Spirit inside me grieved as He prompted me to ask her about the reason for her hatred towards God. She said she didn't really hate him but it's just that God didn't come through when she wanted Him to, so she didn't wanna talk about her past experiences. She talked in a rude tone as if I was entitled to take on me her rudeness. But I also knew that this was the weak part of her character as she had often answered or given arguments rudely in the past. All that God had done for us while He was here kept revolving in my mind in that moment after listening to her rude words and a grieved Spirit whispered, "What did I do (that her heart's inclination is such)?". Additionally, she said she respected my 'beliefs' but she didn't want to listen to revelations related to her. She then did some things for me out of courtesy but I knew that her heart needed more refinement and that she had a lot more lessons to learn. The dream that had her herself shouting praises to God as she was sitting at the left window seat of the back of a small filled car with me present at the back too, that dream was what I thought about as I looked at her and her current behavior and heart. In that dream, we were going to a HUGE shining and golden building (that looked like a hotel from the outside, but represented the Kingdom of God) on which was written BARUK HABA (meaning Welcome). She was on the way with me.

I prayed to God that whatever issue she had with Him because of her past experiences, that it be solved in Jesus' name. He already knows her heart very well and also the places in it that need to be touched. I felt like giving her my example where I went through difficult life experiences in the past and was still suffering in a mental sense as a part of my walk but was still in love with God because that's how we are supposed to walk with Him. But then it was brought to my mind that she was a 'weaker' sister in Christ as of now with whom I had to be patient and for whom I had to pray, and that it was her own separate journey of growing strong in her faith and develop Christ-like integrity and character. As a weaker vessel is given greater honor in the Kingdom of God, so was the kind of her great crown shown to me.)

I was thinking a while back if God didn't already bless her financially and family-wise. And wasn't she in a better position than many and living an easy life!? Didn't it mean that God had already blessed her and also chosen her for His Kingdom if only she would change her heart toward Him? She has been taking the material and relational blessings of God for granted and as something to feel superior about. This heart inclination shows itself up sometimes.

I was reminded in the morning out of nowhere about a dream she had shared with me many months back where she saw both of us riding a tractor on a sloped road in her hometown and in which she had asked me for my phone's charger. She also told me as I can recall from my memory that both of us wearing wireless earphones to which I had replied that I didn't have any but used the cord ones. Now she keeps asking me for my charger as she needs it to charge her Airdopes.

Edit (14th Jan 2023): And I know that she is too prideful to admit that she did have the dream that she shared with me many months back. Our room had the previous setting with our bed on the opposite side when she had shared with me that dream of hers. All her arguments lack wisdom as she shows how revengeful she can be - unable to let go of what she feels offended about. Not only can't she let go and forgive easily for a wrong done to her, but she would rather create (emotionally) difficult situations for others instead to put them down in some way - the kind of person who gets offended when the other person isn't even trying to offend her; at times she would get offended by her competitiveness too, or why else would she keep comparing stuff.

I said to God as I stood outside in the Balcony that it wasn't really me who could bring about a change in her but Him alone, as I was only a messenger who was supposed to share with her the shortcomings and strengths both as revealed by the Holy Spirit, like the Spirit shares with me and refines me. I did nothing wrong to her. She is responsible and accountable for all her behavior and conduct.

She showed disrespectful behavior once as I can remember when I wasn't even staying with her. But God knows the situations and circumstances that need to arise in order for changes to be brought about in different people. She was one of 'them', but not 'entirely'.

And it was brought to my mind that I wasn't even entitled to answer her questions regarding my walk with God where in the past she called me a hypocrite for now practicing face makeup which I previously wasn't really into and showed my aversion to. God revealed to me to implement those things and I wasn't really bound to answer her questions as I was already justified in the eyes of God, but I still respected her as a person and answered her properly, listened to her 'allegations' so to speak that she came up with to point the 'wrongs' with me. I answered her so she would understand the ways of God but she questioned me not to gain understanding but to attack me. And she would even make comments about me that aren't compassionate at all, like once she said if I thought that it would have been better if I wasn't even born. Again, I bore up with her.

Though she also behaved in a godly manner when she gave me her blanket to use for one night as I was too cold and she wouldn't agree to turn off the fan. She gave me her own blanket instead that she was using as she said that she didn't feel too cold. This is a glimpse of her good side. We all need refinement. It's a part of the bride's preparation - the bride of Christ.

2 Corinthians 5:19-20

New Living Translation

19 For God was in Christ, reconciling the world to himself, no longer counting people's sins against them. And he gave us this wonderful message of reconciliation. 20 So we are Christ's ambassadors; God is making his appeal through us. We speak for Christ when we plead, "Come back to God!"

1. It was a Wooden Swing

Part of a Dream (Room D1, Aug 2022): The dream on Page 53 had ended with a distant sight of a woman dressed in a white saree sitting in between two middle-aged people, each sitting on a different chair behind a thick cuboidal aquarium with green water and some small fishes moving in it that covered most part of the balcony as it was unusually huge. There was nothing else that could be seen in that balcony-room besides the three of them, walls and the floor. The vision then moved further away from the balcony slightly above to the right and a close vision of just a wooden chair was revealed to be hanging with two steel rails that went closer upwards (implying that they met at some distance). It was a wooden swing. That close-up 3D vision of that wooden swing was pasted above the distant 3-D vision of the balcony.

2. Puppy Dog

Vision (Room D1, Dec 2022): I was lying in bed resting inside my blankets and then I saw a small beige hairy puppy dog standing on its hind legs with forelegs bent in the air.

3. I Kept Stabbing My Own Heart

Vision (Afternoon, Jan 6th, 2023): I had this vision while sitting on my chair at my workplace during that day. I was feeling quite depressed on that day, and when I reached my PG in the evening, I had the following vision as I was walking toward my room and about to reach the door.

4. Waiting Naked for God to Pick Me Up

Vision (PG, Jan 6th, 2023): I saw myself standing naked with arms crossed over my upper body making an X shape. I was looking upwards and waiting for God to pick me up. I saw the hand and finger of God appear a few times in the movement of picking me up but I wasn't picked up (because perhaps it wasn't the time yet).

Job 1:21-22

New International Version

21 and said:
"Naked I came from my mother's womb,
and naked I will depart.[a]
The Lord gave and the Lord has taken away;
may the name of the Lord be praised."
22 In all this, Job did not sin by charging God with wrongdoing.

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Job%201:21-22&version=NIV>

Contemporary English Version

21 and said:
"We bring nothing at birth;
we take nothing
with us at death.
The Lord alone gives and takes.
Praise the name of the Lord!"
22 In spite of everything, Job did not sin or accuse God of doing wrong.

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Job%201:21-22&version=CEV>

5. A Dripping Dry Heart

Vision (9th - 11th Jan): I was lying inside my blankets when I had this vision. I saw a very close up vision of a pinkish fleshly heart that had a small open pipe to the right of the vision and to its front could be seen drops of red blood dripping down from yet another flesh pipe giving an impression that it had almost run out of blood also emphasized by the fact that it was represented by pinkish flesh and not red.

6. Previous Fleshly 'Seeming' Revelations - A Word: The Meaning lies in the Right Perception.

Looking at the kind of fleshly revelations I have written, one may think that I received them from an unclean spirit. But no, I know why God gave me those revelations. He gave them to me for me to write here so that Glory and Death Conqueror will know that I am NOT an 'old woman'. God knows me best! And also because those revelations don't hold the same meaning when conceived or written by me as they would've if written by an entirely fleshly person. That's because for me the notion of physicality is fully enmeshed with being in love. I always considered temporary physical involvements or the notion of 'current affairs' as immature and degraded - something very low in quality which wouldn't be exercised by a mature high quality person. So I believed in taking time first to get to know people and weigh their character and develop a bond first before getting involved bodily with them. And I only got involved when it felt natural to me to be so (like I did with the first psychopathic narc I had met in 2016, and when it turned out that he was a game player, a liar and a cheater, it broke the order and mental arrangements and requirements of being in a love bond. And I knew that it couldn't be fixed because he wasn't someone who was willing to change. Also, he was a devil worshipper!). Though I may not have gotten involved in many relationships because I didn't reach the mental bonding stage to be able to do so with the people I happened to be previously interested in, but it didn't mean that I was immature. I could sense a sense of faithful continuity around some people and those were the ones I was attracted to form a bond with. I found one-time stands as immature and a sign of lowliness in character (much like a break in something continuous that's not ideally supposed to be there). I didn't want my brain to turn entirely fleshly like the people I despised when it came to developing bonds with people because I knew God was watching me so I rather chose to not have 'any' fleshly thoughts (and ideally that's how it should be if one's not in a covenant love bond). One doesn't go and hug a person one doesn't already love or know, except for the case when one is only acting.

By giving me the fleshly revelations, God also prepared my heart according to the ways of the people that were to be a part of my life. The revelations were peculiar to them. And the revelations showed that I had my own past experiences that I may not talk so boldly about as I don't find them worthy to be so. But God brought them in too in my revelations to make the point that I wasn't a naïve fool who was avoiding people out of fear and anxiety. If this was the case I wouldn't have opened to some people in the past the road into my life. I only felt pulled towards those who exhibited good character, knew healthy boundaries and had a sense of continuity and eternality (this was something ingrained in my brain I observed).

The flesh revelations also made the point to me that the flesh part was necessary to follow in God's plan and Will. Though we are called to crucify the flesh and hold our cross as we walk with Him, going ahead with something that one may not be okay with at first also counts as crucifying one's flesh (like what I did on the day of public B-wax).

I'm not an old woman but I am moral enough to not go around looking for another sleep partner for the night. I didn't have the sin problem of fornication and adultery in my life but I had bad and messy eating habits, and that's what I've improved in as well by now because I don't eat as much I used to eat before. Not feeling good meant I had to eat something in the past. But now I get convicted all the time and my eating problem is more than half resolved and soon will be fully! I don't write only the good things. I write the truth and both what's pleasing and not so pleasing to one's ears.

I'm not animalistic! I'm gentle and loving, so obviously that's what I would expect from the person in front of me, too.

7. They Were Prideful and They Played a Game (the fallen angels)

The fallen angels that left Heaven (their first estate) were prideful which is apparent from their chosen rebellion against God knowing that He was God! They played a game to trap God's angels and form a fleshly kingdom of their own.

Page 121. The Lyrics in the Spirit That Woke Me One Night Around 3 am; and the Heart of And History With Death Conqueror

14 January 2023
01:07

Earlier this year I was complaining to and venting out in front of my roommate about how I wasn't at all happy with the approach the people God ordained for me had taken. I complained to her that instead of being upfront with me, they rather chose to hurt me by playing games and choosing ways that aren't moral. Instead of doing things the right and the regular way, they chose the twisted way which is regular and the norm in their sight. And that how they say and do everything indirectly. I shared with her about how we talk and pray to God. We don't go talk or pray to Him pretending to be someone else or send someone else instead of us to go and develop a personal bond with Him. It's very much direct and personal with God when we commune with Him as His children. I had already received the revelation back in Nov about my time with Death Conqueror supposedly in my 'home', and had understood the ones I had received back in 2020 as well by now (the ones I didn't take too seriously back then). So, after having received all these revelations, I was feeling quite hurt that day as I was fixated on how Death Conqueror rather chose to strip me publicly and humiliate me than behave like a regular moral person. I was brought to this heart composure after having received all the revelations related to him that I did from the Holy Spirit, and had the Spirit not intervened on his behalf, I don't think I would've reached this state. It made me ponder that he is such a sissy and he thinks he is playing a clever game that he thinks he won as he never loses any 'game' in his own speculation of himself.

But the fact of the matter is that if God had not revealed those aspects of his heart to me, I wouldn't have developed this soft corner for him, and would've looked at him with the same aversive eyes because of his apparent actions and unapologetic behavior. So, it was nothing because of any tactics of the game that he played that I reached this heart state, but it was because of the revelations of his part godly nature that changed my heart, in case he thinks that his game tactics can work on godly people. Well, this was just to clear a few things.

That day as I was sharing my heart with my roommate, I felt very disappointed with both Glory and Death Conqueror, because both played a game of some sort and were expecting the other person to bow down to their game instead of going ahead with things in a respectful manner like a healthy and God fearing person who doesn't choose immoral, deceptive or covert ways.

Anyway. That night after I had fallen asleep I was awakened by these lyrics being played in my heart in the Spirit around 3am. And I then I understood the struggle one of them (or both?) faced. But I can definitely recall how Death Conqueror was playing hide and seek even at my home in 2020 when I was once sitting on a bench with my brother in my locality's park and happened to look to my right and saw a short person move immediately to his left to hide behind the bushes of almost his size. Didn't know how to respond to that.

A few months before the revelations that revealed the heart of Death Conqueror to me, I was thinking that he was doing all of it as some form of revenge to soothe his bruised ego. And I was thinking how much longer will his revenge last and how I actually didn't do anything wrong to him, but saw his unexpected revenge out of nowhere when I didn't even have a bond with him in the first place as I didn't know him as well except through the formal online medium that had many people as my online friends with whom I was not friends in real life but they were there because of some common university friends.

But during the time of the past few years I had forgotten the earlier years that led to this moment in time. When I look back at the vision I had back in 2010-2011, where I saw the vision of a lean and thin short man when my senior roommate asked me about the kind of guy I wanted for myself.

And then I recalled a month back the first time I had seen Death Conqueror around the time I was admitted in the Masters course here (some 8-9 years back). I was standing outside the DSKL hall and happened to look at him standing outside the Seminar hall in the corridor talking to someone. He was wearing a polo shirt above jeans/pants. (He wasn't seen regularly in the dept and wasn't a part of my batch either it seemed.) I didn't feel the same way around anyone the way I felt looking at him. I took that look as a witness of the person he apparently seemed to me. I wasn't expecting this crazy stalker who acts like a supposed Don.

I always thought along the lines that looks did not define a person, so if someone looked good or innocent, it may not mean that they're so in actual practice as well. So, though he looked good to my eyes, I didn't know if he was good on the inside as well.

And then I can look back and recall a talk by Prof PDG held in one of the rooms inside the Cluster Innovation Centre back in 2016. I had attended it with my now ex friend Meera. The talk had now gained momentum as it had been a while and the room was almost filled. I then saw a short-heighted guy dressed in a full-sleeved white shirt tucked inside black pants walk into the room. Y eyes followed him as he sat at the front where he happened to find a seat. Somewhere during the talk, I looked to my right front and my eyes straight away rested on the side view of that guy's face visible clearly through the crowd in between (abruptly reminded me of the prophetic symbol in Room D4 as I wrote this part) , and he was smiling while everyone else had a normal expression as they listened to the Prof. He hadn't sat there at first when he had entered the room but apparently he had moved his chair to that position right in front of my unhindered vision. (I was taken aback for a moment as the sudden revelation of the prophetic symbol resembling his face's orientation that day hit me when I wrote the previous sentence. And then I saw in my mind the symbol in D4 lifting up and moving in the scene of the room and resting on his face there. It was Holy Spirit's way of showing me that both have the same side orientation which gave me a shock. This is a new revelation.) After the talk ended, everyone dispersed. I walked out with my ex-friend Meera and then she had to use the washroom. We found it in that building after inquiring a bit and she went in. It was somewhere in the middle of a long corridor. As I was waiting for her, there was no one present there because it wasn't the usual path one took to exit CIC. And as I was waiting outside the washroom for her, I saw Death Conqueror come out of nowhere from the far end of the corridor, almost as if he was hiding there previously. And then he started brisk walking in my direction and I could tell that he wasn't there for any real reason because of the way (his expressions) that he made himself shown out of the room into the corridor. I saw him quickly walk past me, and as he did, I felt a strong sadness inside as I looked at my relationship with my mom and my home condition.

I wasn't facing hair fall back then like I am doing now and I had some confidence in me because I had my boundaries intact. I wore a blue denim and a grey and blue full-sleeved top. (I KNOW that I don't look great!) Back then I didn't have a good bond with my mom like I have now out of nowhere by the grace of God and I didn't feel comfortable around everyone as well. Only a few people knew the problems I faced at home. And I avoided to interact with new people as it made me look at my emotionally unsuitable home condition. Now everyone knows my home situation.

Looking at the above incident, it makes me think that God purposed him to run after me on Earth because He knew that I would run after God and in this manner, him and others will eventually come to God and enter His Kingdom.

Anyway. It's 00:17 of the new day (Jan 17th) now.

I have been thinking for a few days about how God orchestrated the present situation. Death Conqueror was suggested in my friends recommendations on Facebook because of some mutual friends. And I had remembered him as well from my Master days when I first saw him. So I followed my FB's friend recommendations and sent him a request as his academic profile was also good. So I thought it's only better to at least be FB friends with smart people. And then I witnessed his behavior with a girl with whom I attended MSc classes after I had taken readmission. She was hurt in a way as I could see her recalling things alone while walking with us together. And I also witnessed his photos showing cheapness in character which made me block him as I didn't want smart characterless people even in my FB friends list either. I gradually filtered people out from all online social avenues which had him removed from them as well following which he came after me to take his 'revenge'.

And then God showed me that I was that cat wearing a crown. That's what brought a major shift in my heart towards him after everything.

And then I can recall the brief encounter in the grocery shop where I was buying some coffee pouches (I bought 10 in number), and a short man in black dropped in too with the shop's ox pf candies to buy 10 candies.

I didn't have a hard heart for him back in 2020 as well. I felt terrible and sad and pressured at times about him staying there and me not doing anything about it. But I had just started hearing from God and therefore wanted to progress ahead in that direction.

One day I threw away almost all of my block-heeled shoes (keeping only the black formal ones that I had to throw away later in this PG).
And yet on a different day, I happened to get out of the lift on the 7th floor instead of mine (6th) though I had pressed 6th taking the lift from the first floor. It took me a while to realize that the apartment I was walking towards wasn't mine but was the floor above. They had messed up with the lift.

All these incidents make me want to cry.

And if he thinks he lost years of his life living in a miserable way as he ran after me, or missed opportunities, then I would say that if he got saved in the end and came back to God (Jesus), it was all worth it! No career is worth pursuing on Earth as it only holds meaning on Earth alone and is but a work of the flesh that we do to sustain our financial or social status, but it has no meaning when seen from the perspective of the Kingdom of God. He's a 'star' of God who fell from Heaven, that's the 'real' fall God is working to fix for Him, and that's the only fall worth considering and fixing, and not any apparent fall in career or life one seems to have placed above God previously. God has His way of breaking our idols. As long as God has Him, He should think of himself as being in a very good place, and should also work towards it by getting to know God more and I can clearly see that he has more perseverance than me should God would have a tough plan for Him. Because it's quite clear by now that he doesn't give up easily and if he sets his mind on something, he persists until it's accomplished. So he would a good catch for God character-wise (after refinement). God leaves the 99 to go find the one lost sheep - that's the godly trait he exhibited here as well. God chooses people as He sees their hearts and what they can become after refinement.

[Edit: The part about my life that makes me feel content is to know that I am walking in God's Will acc to His plan. My life is not great as Death Conqueror was thinking. It's kind of miserable in my own eyes, but the love of Jesus and His guidance sustains me and to think that people will be saved, especially Death Conqueror. A while back when I was in the washroom I happened to think about the recent incident with my roommate that had made me angry because of her dishonest and cheap conduct. But then, what came to my mind was that I was angry with her and found it hard to let go because I didn't love her the way I , and like God loves her despite her shortcomings because He sees the refined outcome. And then I compared her act with what Death Conqueror had done. And it made me realize that I actually found it quite easier to forgive him but not her, mainly because I saw the heart inclinations of both and also because I didn't love my roommate with the same intensity. The incident today made me realize this bit about myself that wasn't very Godly as the verses came to my mind that if we love only those who love us back and are good to us, then we are no different than the people of the world because even sinners do that. But as children of God, we are called to love, pray for and bless those who are not good towards us. But then we have to rebuke what's not right as well, so I confronted and rebuked her on WhatsApp chat today as we are not called to keep sweeping things under the rug.

For the most part of my time, I feel saddened by the way the people God ordained to be a part of my life have been living, especially Death Conqueror. I hardly get a substantial amount done in a day as I am unable to focus. And if God has chosen someone for me, then I want to be worthy of that person. I have been thinking for a few days about how God blessed me greatly by choosing me for his purpose, bringing new people in my life as a part of His plan, and using me to bring people into His Kingdom as well.]

And I have been reminded often of a time back in my childhood when I happened to think looking at the feet of my trousers while walking that what if there were tiny cameras that went inside our clothes? How will one then hide one's nakedness? I brushed aside the thought as it seemed too weird and far-fetched to actually come true. But it so happened in the real life.

I then listened to this song that morning while lying in the bed.

2. The Dream Ending With Death Conqueror Walking Ahead of Me
Dream (At Omaxe, 2020): I only remember the abrupt ending of this dream that had Death Conqueror taking a few steps forward in a room ahead of me while I stood at the same place. The dream ended when he stopped 5-6 steps in front of me. In this dream, he was wearing a grey jacket on top (this much I remember). I didn't take this dream seriously as my state of heart towards him was quite different back then because I didn't want to even imagine being together with someone who was stalking me and trying to suffocate my free will. But I wasn't accustomed to the ways of God back then and had a strong sense of individuality that I felt was being attacked. But I wasn't looking at things with the eyes of God as He saw the full picture.

1. A Hand in My Mouth (Psychosomatic Revelation)
I fell asleep during morning today as I didn't sleep during the night after I was woken up by a song playing in the Airdopes that were still left in my ears. It was around 4:30 that I was woken up by the song. Apparently, it had started playing by itself on YouTube and then other songs played in continuation after it. My phone anyway is not private anymore for long now. I stayed awake until around 7-7:30 am and fell in deep sleep afterward as I had slept late around 1:30 am and was later woken around 4:30 am. I was in good sleep now. I felt myself scratching off the right side of my face near my nose using my right hand's forefinger and could feel some kind of accumulation. I was then putting my forefinger finger in my mouth. I did it a few times before I scratched off a tiny bit of something stuck to the inside of my right cheek. I just couldn't believe that I was doing what I was doing. I actually very briefly woke up for a second or two from sleep to check if I was really doing it and investigated my hand that was lying near below my neck. It didn't seem to have done all that as my face was smooth without the accumulation that I had felt while sleeping, and neither was my finger wet a bit from going inside my mouth. I took note of it within the second that I had woken up. It didn't make any sense. I went back to sleep again. This time I put half of my whole hand inside my mouth. Again, a shock! Why would I do such a weird act in sleep? I briefly woke up again to check. My hand was still lying below my neck, unmoved, and definitely hadn’t gone inside my mouth. I didn't think a lot about these 'REAL' experiences but went back to sleep. I took note of it though to write about them later.

Apparently the Holy Spirit reveals to me stuff related to the second person as being related to my own self.

2. A Drop of Milk Falling In My Mouth
Vision (Room D1,): For instance, some months back, while I laid on bed during a late evening of a food and water fast that I was trying to do, I suddenly felt very spent and thirsty as I saw a drop of milk fall from above in my mouth. I thought I don't usually crave milk during a fast, and usually do water fasts. But God sometimes reveals to me the state of another person as my own state.

2. Dream with Empty Service Road with Empty Houses
Dream (Morning): Afterward the hand experience, I stayed asleep and had a dream in which I saw the lady that I've often seen near the adjacent building to my PG's right. She was walking forward in my right direction with a baby in her hands on the covered roof of the building a few buildings to the right of my PG. It wasn't fully dark. Later afterward I went to the Tailor's side of the road for some errand and it was dark by now, and while on my way back I saw a completely empty and quiet service lane (beside the main road) that leads to my PG. I was somehow in a good mood walking on that street and was so filled with joy. I looked toward my left and saw houses the doors to which were opened but no one seemed to be present there. No sound of any human, and none in sight as well.

3. 'Vo Sab Log Chale Gye' (All Those People Left)
Dream-Vision (Morning): One of the two guys walking by the real sleeping me in the vision said while looking down at me 'Vo Sab Log Chale Gaye'.

4. I felt a prompting to write that 'It's better to play deaf than to 'be' dumb (foolish or without wisdom) and noisy'.

1. Woman With Hands Cuffed Above Her Head

Vision (Room D1, Past week): This vision was repeated to me many times during the past week as I laid in bed to rest at different times. I saw an aroused dusky plum woman in a creamish floral lingerie set lying with her hands cuffed above her head to her bed.

(I have the same bra now. I bought it because it was available in the size that would fit me and because it was padded as well.)

2. A Man's Jaw With a Thick Brown Beard

Vision (Room D1, Within the Past two weeks): As I was lying in bed one night, I saw a man's jaw with a thick jaw beard. Perhaps it represented someone's (Death Conqueror's) perception of me.

3. The Sparkling Green Tree With Amy's Face on It

Vision (Around 1:30 am): I was lying on bed in order to sleep and I had a sudden vision a while back in which I saw a tree shining and sparkling in green on whose trunk was shown the huge smiling face of Amy from the series The Big Bang Theory. The face was blinking on the trunk, and the trunk had vertical sparkling lines.

Side Note: Some visions represent God's perception and judgment of a situation, some represent another person's perception of a situation, and some others represent 'my perception' of the situation, and yet others represent the objective truth of the situation (for instance, the one in which I was standing naked and waiting for God to pick me up - it represents both my and God's perception and truth as I do feel ashamed at times of my situation, and God's truth is that He would pick me up when it's time).

4. A Dagger Stabbing Through

Vision (Room D1, Mid-2022): I saw my leg lying on bed with a dagger in between my thighs rushing towards my groin and then the vision ended.

5. Many Daggers

I was lying on my bedside when I had this sudden vision.
Vision (Room No. D4, Early 2022): I saw many daggers on top of the upper half of my body rushing towards me all at once.

6. A Blood Clot

Vision (Early Jan, Room D1): I saw the naked middle and lower left side of my body with a black circular clot on my mid-lower left side of the belly.

1. 'I Love Wild Cats' (Related to Death Conqueror)

Vision (For the past two weeks): This vision has been repeated or brought to my attention several times now. The vision was that of a scene from Don 2 where Don tells Roma in a grave tone that he loved wild cats before the ambulance door closed on him in response to her confessing her love for him.

2. Nails Touching and Kissing (Related to Glory)

Dream (Room D4, Mid 2022): In this dream, I found myself sitting with Glory and he was touching and kissing my fingernails and holding my toenails with his hands and I was pretty much into the act with him in the dream. At the same time, I saw my mother standing in front of us watching us and she kept interrupting us intermittently. I then wanted to go further his feet but then I saw through his trousers that he had lots of body hair going upwards and into the groin area. Towards the end of the dream, I told him that I loved him and he gave me a surprised look.
In the real life, I saw someone sitting on the roof of the building at the back as I was walking to and fro. He was holding his own fingernails and toes. And during all of this, my mom kept sending me text messages on WhatsApp. After sometime had passed on the roof, he got up and stood near the door present at the roof. I was standing on my roof looking at him in that instant, and he gave me a surprised look.

3. 'Kartika, tumne mujhe dhoka nhi diya (Kartika, you didn't cheat on me). Tumhare sath dhokha hua hai (You got cheated on).'

I heard this phrase for a few months intermittently until recently.

4. Mom's Milk

This was on the night of the day I happened to catch a brief side glimpse of a man dressed in all black (black jeans, inner top and black thick jacket) standing to my left facing me and looking right at my face while holding someone's hand in his right hand. It was around the Vivekananda statue of the Arts faculty. I walked past by that person. He had seemed like a doppelganger of Death Conqueror. Later that night as I was lying on bed, I happened to unhook my bra to feel at ease, and then I had this vision.

4.1 Vision (Room D1, Night, Late Dec 2022): I saw milk oozing in my mouth out of a breast present over my head and the milk covered the entire brown part of the breast as it oozed in my mouth and I could feel the milk. It was a psychosomatic revelation. I knew that the revelation didn't pertain to what I was going through in real but was pretty much like the vision of a small milk drop falling in my mouth where I had suddenly felt extremely thirsty and craving milk - someone else's state replicated in me. The follow-up vision was the following.

4.2 Vision (Room D1, Night, Late Dec 2022): A tiny Death Conqueror dressed in the same black outfit of the person that I had seen earlier that day, and he was facing to the right of the vision and in front of his mouth was just a huge round breast that was almost double his tiny size shown in the vision. And then I heard the phrase 'Mom's Milk' repeated in my Spirit a few times.

5. The Scene In Which the Actor Puts A Bunch of Small Metal Balls inside the Actress

Vision (Nov/Dec 2022): This vision was repeated to me several times within the past month. It was the vision of a scene from the movie 'Fifty Shades of Grey' in which Christian puts some small metal balls inside Anastasia's vagina. But the following scene from the movie was also highlighted to me by the Holy Spirit.

6. A Hurt Anastasia Standing Naked with Hands Crossed over Her Upper Body

Vision (Nov/Dec 2022): The scene in which the naked actress leaves the room with her hands crossed over her upper body as she's hurt after getting her ass spanked.

Oh. It's already 1 am of the new day.

7. Falling of My Teeth Around My PG Owners in a Gathering

Dream (2022): In this dream, my PG owners were standing in a lawn ground area where there were many others present as well. I found that many of my teeth were moving and I kept fiddling with them to observe all of them. I ended up taking out some of my teeth as they had gone loose and some fell on their own. The falling of my teeth represented my inability to tell them about Jesus and the truth of this world.

1. I Don't Care If People Call Me a Liar

I really don't care if people don't believe the revelations that God has given me and call me a liar. I know that if He says something, it definitely comes to pass from what He has already shown me - all that has indeed come to pass.

2. Professor in Green and Beige

Vision (Room D4, Late 2021/Early 2022): The vision started with a loud bang of a door being shut and then a far-sighted vision of the lean-sheep-of-God (Prof TRS) was shown to me standing outside his room near the door dressed in a green full sleeved shirt and beige half jacket as he was looking in my direction.

1. The Carrier Bus

Dream (Between 5-6 am): In this dream, I saw myself sitting in a moving bus that was almost empty, except for two or three other people. I was sitting on the front seat of the bus on its right and wasn't doing anything but listening to music using my Boat Airdopes. I looked back and found my roommate sitting on one of the seats to the left side of the bus 5-7 seats behind me (around the middle of the bus), and there was yet another short-heighted person sitting on one of the seats of the last horizontal set of seats of the bus. He was dressed in thick winter clothes that gave him a fluffed-up look and was seated closer to the right of the bus which made him visible to me when I looked back. The vision got blurry towards the end of the bus so it was hard to make out who it was,

and he was also wearing a winter cap. My roommate was dressed in a black winter sweater and had her open straight hair that fell behind her back.

I felt like going to my roommate and telling her about the recent revelation I had about us. She had seemed too busy working something out as she was constantly flipping some A4 sheets in her hands when I had turned to look back at her. I walked to her seat on the left side of the bus, sat by her side and removed my Airdopes, and asked her what was it that she was doing. She didn't reply properly and was mostly ignoring me as I asked her further questions. I saw that she was working out some quantum mechanical stuff on those pages. I heard her recite a few words from the subject like Bohr Approximation and then she was writing something related to Astrophysics. [She kept writing concepts, terms and graphs without coherence] I asked her why was she doing it and what was it. She replied briefly that her dad does it; then she went silent and went to work again. I could tell that she wasn't really knowing the stuff that she was writing and that she lied as well about her dad working out that stuff. I then shared with her the recent revelation that I had regarding her - that she represented Penny from the 'The Big Bang Theory' and she was loved and known by God the way she was, and that she didn't have to pretend to be working out that difficult stuff just to look smart. She smiled at the revelation though didn't seem to be content with it as she still continued to flip those pages.

[Edit: I have witnessed her use terms and phrases in real life that she is only copying but not using properly or in is logical sense. For e.g., I have heard her use the phrase 'in general' many times but it didn't make any logical sense meaning-wise (and not language-wise). I didn't correct her because I knew that her ego would be hurt if I did. She only used it because she heard it and wanted to look smart. She indeed has been behaving like the above depiction of her.]

The character of Penny stays up to date with the world of sitcoms, actors or Television in general, and my roommate herself admitted a few days back that she stays updated with the lives of Actors and related similar stuff. And then she had made a covert comment about me saying to her supposed chat friend present in our room that I didn't stay updated with the happenings in CERN (which I really don't have to). In that dream, she was only flipping pages and writing those things on them because she was trying to make a point that wasn't true about her and neither did she know the terms she was using though she had filled quite a few pages. This also showed that though in real life she was putting me down to my face, trying to make the point that I wasn't good enough or as good as I may think of myself, but inside her she was trying hard to match up with me in her own conduct because my presence reminded her of what she didn't and couldn't do. She had even once made a covert comment about my flexibility when I was working out in front of her. Why would she do that if she wasn't insecure or wasn't feeling low in some way. She also pointed out that I was losing a lot of hair. And I have often felt that she didn't have my best interests at heart as well because of how she behaves sometimes .

Because of her envy she even pretended to have spiritual gifts by lying about situations. She does have them to some extent which is proven by the Tractor dream God gave her, and that is to serve as her own personal proof. She has often said to me that she has to see the work of God for herself in order for her to believe in Him. So, God gave her that revelation which should serve as proof for her. But when I asked her if she remembered the dream, she said she forgot about it and that she had many dreams every day.

On one hand she didn't seem to believe in spiritual gifts and 'said' that she forgot about the dream, while on the other hand, she was also making the covert point that she had many dreams (which could be prophetic from the sense she was implying).

Our positions on the bus also represented our spiritual positions. I was seated at the front right. She was seated in the middle left, while the guy was seated at the end. The rest of the bus in my vision was empty.

Penny happened to be Amy's best friend later in the TV series (which I think my roommate doesn't know about). Penny was into television and Amy was into science. I had gone to her seat to let her know that she didn't have to and could now stop continue flipping those sheets and sit peacefully in the bus, waiting patiently to arrive at our destination.

The dream then ended. To think about it, the dream was given to show that God chooses people irrespective of their internal inclinations. This was proven by the fact that she was present in that bus with me on our way out of 'this place'.

I wasn't trying to prove anything sitting in that bus but was chilling out doing nothing but listening to music. So should her inner inclination be and she should not feel less than or insecure.

The man at the back seemed to me to be Death conqueror. Because who else will be overdressed in a fluffed-up jacket (to hide his slimness) sitting quietly in that manner.

2. Moving Pink Airy Substance

Vision (Room 184, Yesterday Afternoon): I saw pink fog/air present and moving inside my chest. I had this vision when I was sitting on my chair in the room I have been allotted a seat at the workplace, and I was filled with immense love thinking about the short-heighted man.

3. Christian Messing With Anastasia Wearing Just a White Shirt

Vision (Early Jan): The scene from the triology where Anastasia is sitting on a table wearing a white shirt and tells Christian to not mess with her in response to something he had said. But then he asks her how should he mess with her and starts pinching her in swift motions saying 'Like this? Like this?' while she's trying to evade him.

1. Christian 'Catching' Anastasia By Surprise And Kissing Her

2. A One-Night Stand

Vision (Jan 2023):The Holy Spirit brought to my remembrance a part of a movie whose name I can't recall. The protagonist of the movie happened to find a woman dressed very well with good makeup standing on road. She was giving him enticing looks. He went to her and she invited him inside to her place. He spent the night there sleeping with her and walked out the next morning. He stood at a distance from the woman's place thinking something but not looking back, while the woman inside was sad and weeping slowly. It seemed to me that the Holy Spirit was highlighting to me how people have lived their lives. I don't care what excuse people give for such lifestyle, but at the end one has to turn back to God and accept one's folly.

3. Dream: Meeting the Short-Heighted Guy

Dream (Room D1, Past week): I had this dream recently. Perhaps last week. It seems to me a shadow dream and also a teaching dream. In this dream, I was moving from one crowded place to another filled with university students. Perhaps there was some sort of get-together. I then happened to come across a batchmate from MSc. (Edit: I am actually not sure f he was a batchmate but he had the stature and slight resemblance with the face of the only short heighted batchmate I know.) We had a very hearty interaction and also I was happy to see him. I had gotten to know him because of a common friend in MSc who helped me through the difficult phase post the first narc heartbreak. After our interaction, he took some small steps backward smiling at me as we were preparing to say goodbyes. But I told him that I wanted to give him a hug because I didn't know if I would meet him again (seeing the revelations already given to me). So I walked towards him and gave him a heartful hug following which he lifted me straight vertically up but because of his short stature he ended up taking faltering steps backwards and finally found balance against a wall. As this all happened, I was smiling back at him looking down at him. And then I looked to my right where I saw some people standing looking at us, but I was thinking if Death Conqueror was watching us. Throughout that dream, I was trying to evade devil the dragon as well. He caught up to me twice as the dragon floated slowly by me in the air hoping to get a reaction or trying to get me to side with him and leave God, but every time I saw the dragon, I ignored and hid and didn't give him any fuel.

God will often correct us by revealing to us the holy substitution of a sinful act. It is to be understood from the above revelations that the one-night stand is a grievous sin, while a hearty interaction followed by a heartfelt expression of gratitude and godly love is the right way to go about around friends, co-workers and colleagues, or people in our lives in general.

I have to write 'all' revelations. I received this revelation somewhere during the mid of last year. But I didn't write it as I didn't know Glory that well and I think it's been too long now and I feel a prompting to write about it. (Note: I am not an 'actor'! Though I change my outward appearance as God leads me, it doesn't mean I 'act out' states of heart as some people have been talking about me! If people don't like the shadow revelations, they can well-assuredly believe my words on my 'own' thoughts because they represent my own thoughts about the situation. And many revelations represent the truth about a situation, like the 'red steel scale' one, and the Elizabeth and Darcy's one. If one or more events from a revelation comes to pass, it's no more a shadow revelation but a prophetic word about the future like the dream of my wedding. The healing dream pertaining to Eugene and Rapunzel - the assignment in Pink and White - is a prophetic word about the future as well. Shadow revelations also reveal the part of a truth alongside giving a lesson).

1. Glory in My PG (Shadow Revelation)

Dream (Room D1, Mid 2022): I was on the roof my PG in a loose white T-shirt and black pants with my hair tied low at the back. I saw some luggage bags resting on the roof near the door, and there was a black laptop slip-on bag lying on the top of one of the suitcases. I went inside the roof door and saw a black bag with a sky-blue lining resting on the floor whose zip was open at the side. I closed it up and looked to my left where Glory was sitting some stairs down on one of the stairs with his laptop open in his lap. He too was wearing a loose white shirt and black pants and was looking at me with his head turned slightly backwards when I told him that his bag's zip was open so I closed it.

I went to him and sat next to him to his right on that stair and looking at his laptop asked him, "What are you doing?" He said something. The next scene had our positions exchanged. I was sitting next to the wall and he was sitting to my right as we were looking at each other. I said in an innocent sarcastic tone pointing at my eye with my finger, "Khyati, do you know, when I was with Tejaswi, I saw the EYE OF DEVIL." He replied in a resentful tone, "Mujhe Nahi Sun Na". I replied back, "Bas ye ye", to which he replied "Nhi" in a firm tone. Then I observed his innocent expressions for a while as we both were silent. I could tell that he was slightly pissed.

After observing him for a while, I moved my head toward him and started kissing him and he kissed me back. He was trying to tilt his head to his right while I continued kissing him but I eventually tilted my head to my right after which he inserted his tongue in my mouth and as our tongues rubbed against each other, they felt too clean with a minty flavour. We started tongue kissing back and forth and our heads were moving in synchrony. I saw myself aroused to an unusual extent.
My advancing behavior in the revelation seemed so out of the box to me when I first had it but it also showed a part of the truth that only God knew and that which I hadn't exercised by far with anyone.

I was now standing a few stairs below him with my upper body half bent, still kissing him. We continued tongue kissing and then he moved his palm near my pants about to put his fingers/hand inside the pant. And as he did I thought, "Thank God, I shaved a few days back." I could tell that I wasn't wearing a panty and also that my belly was somehow very much flat because I didn't feel any bump at the junction when he was hovering his hand on it ready to insert it in. I too moved my hand in the same manner as him above the belt of his pant about to put in in. We were both still kissing when the vision changed to now me sitting alone on one of the stairs.

I went up to the roof again and found him standing still by the steel railing with both his hands outstretched and resting on them. He seemed to be consumed in his thoughts. I ran slowly towards him in a manner I didn't believe was me running, because I ran with my feet going in outwardly opposite direction. When I reached near him, I took his hand above from the railing and quickly put in on my shoulder, and put mine on his waist. We both were then looking down on the road and were observing the vehicles passing by. I saw a bike with two people pass by on the road. The man on the back was wearing a red and white striped shirt. (I guess the chase was still on in that dream.) I then said to him in a low but serious tone, "We should get married." to which he replied in a cautious tone, "I've to find a job first.", still looking forward. I quickly replied back to him, "You can find a job later! My brother (referring to my middle brother) needs to find a job first because he is unstable." The scene then changed to my middle brother listening to music on bed and dancing crazily while sitting. The dream then ended.

1. Instructions and Revelations

Some revelations are instructions that one is supposed to follow, while other revelations are actual revelations about a situation. It should be quite obvious which is which by looking at the nature of revelation.

2. The Immoral Middle Man

Dream (Room D1, Dec 2022): The fat middle-aged man who lives to my right was walking by the extreme sides of a roof without railings and looking down wearing a fitting thick striped blue and white sweater with one of his hands covering his chest and the other his belly.

The dream then ended and I had the following quick vision.

3. I Didn't Do It

Vision (Room D1, Dec 2022): I lifted the thermal top I wearing as I was lying on bed using my bed revealing my black sports bra. When I woke up, I found myself sleeping in the same position with my left hand resting down. But I was quite hesitant to do what I had just seen. So I didn't do it.

4. The Gun Shoot Game

Vision (Jan 2023): The scene where Aishwarya is given a choice to shoot Hrithik with the bullet that's inside the gun and which is certain to hit him as it's on the roll for the hit. But she says that let it be her own life that ends before his, and quickly points the gun to the side of her head instead and pulls the trigger.

5. Beautiful Woman Turned Scary Witch: Scene From the Movie Veerana

Vision (Past week): The scene in the beginning of the movie Veerana in which the Actor settles in a bathtub with a fair and beautiful woman who after a while turns out to be a dark brown evil and ugly witch.

6. Side view of Meera Wearing Her Long Red Coat

Vision (Past one or two weeks): The vision from the day that I saw my ex best friend Meera at her ho; me after many months was repeated to me several times in which she was wearing her long red coat.
I bought one for me too yesterday. It was on the maroonish side.

7. On Fire For God
Vision (Mid 2022): I saw a woman burning in fire as she was standing alone with her hands stretched upwards making a 'Y'.

8. The Short-Heighted Guy in White
Vision (Workplace, Room 184, Yesterday): A short-heighted guy in a white sweatshirt and trousers (with his head covered with the hoodie) walking towards the sight of the vision in a funny manner holding a white conical object in his hand on his right shoulder that hid his face.

9. Bath Tub and Shower
Vision (Few days back): I saw a guy pulling the head of the taller woman who was sitting behind him to bring her to his face. The vision was then followed up by the same act happening in a shower this time with a tall woman behind a short heighted man.

10. Samri
Dream (Nov/Dec 2022): A gigantic character with the scary face of Samri (from the movie Samri) is shown to make rounds of the PG during night. He stands outside my room's door at night and sees if the door is unlocked, because of which I make sure to keep my door locked in the dream.

11. My Skin Has No Color
Dream (Within the Past Two Days): In this skin, I heard a woman telling me that my skin had no colour. I questioned her further, after which she started explaining something scientific related to it.

12. A Severed Thigh at the Pelvis
Vision (Mid-2022): In this far-sighted vision, I saw a slightly blurred vision of my naked lower body which showed that one of my thighs was half severed at the top from the upper body. This helped me understand my slight limp which I never noticed until Meera pointed it out to me. I never noticed it or thought I had this problem because I was easily able to walk fast, run, workout, and do other physical activities. But the Holy Spirit showed me the underlying problem at hand.

13. The Unwilling Surrogate
Vision (Jan 2023): The scene from the movie 'Chori Chori Chupke Chupke' where Rani Mukherji asks Preity Zinta to give her the surrogate child that she had been carrying but she refuses and is not willing as she is now attached with the child.

Page 132. Sarah's Wait and Hagar carrying Sarah's child

1. During mid 2022 I happened to buy a sunscreen on which was written Sara. When I realized what was written on it when I looked at it in my PG, I knew right then that it was for a reason that I had happened to buy this particular sunscreen because it reminded me of Abraham's wife Sarah who was promised by the Lord a child in her old years (way past beyond her fertile age), and God had also made a promise with me related to my marriage but He referred to the person to me as being represented by a child (The Prophetic Notebook). So, my promise was in a way similar to Sarah's. However, it did make me question as in why would God bring to me the label of Sarah and not Rebecca as the Holy Spirit had me prophesy in tongues one day the presence of anointing of Rebecca over me.

Recently, I received further understanding regarding the same. Sarah had to wait for long before she received the promise of her son Isaac which was 20 years after the promise had been made. So, there was a time set by God for the fulfillment of her promise according to His plan. However, Sarah had no idea about the time of fulfilment that God had ordained for her to bear the promised child. During the waiting period, she gave her servant Hagar to her husband Abraham to carry and bear the child for her. Hagar carried their child and had to leave afterwards as tensions arose between her and Sarah because Hagar had started to despise her because she conceived while Sarah didn't yet.

Genesis 16

New International Version

Hagar and Ishmael

16 Now Sarai, Abram's wife, had borne him no children. But she had an Egyptian slave named Hagar; 2 so she said to Abram, "The Lord has kept me from having children. Go, sleep with my slave; perhaps I can build a family through her."
Abram agreed to what Sarai said. 3 So after Abram had been living in Canaan ten years, Sarai his wife took her Egyptian slave Hagar and gave her to her husband to be his wife. 4 He slept with Hagar, and she conceived.
When she knew she was pregnant, she began to despise her mistress. 5 Then Sarai said to Abram, "You are responsible for the wrong I am suffering. I put my slave in your arms, and now that she knows she is pregnant, she despises me. May the Lord judge between you and me."
6 "Your slave is in your hands," Abram said. "Do with her whatever you think best." Then Sarai mistreated Hagar; so she fled from her.

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Genesis%2016&version=NIV>

I still haven't conceived, but coming to room D1 and buying that Sara sunscreen was a marker of the birth of another child who was also prophesied through the same prophetic symbol in Room D4. And to be honest, it was my visual interpretation of the symbol when I matched it with the event from the dream that had my wedding proposal by Glory - because the proposal had his face, a bouquet, and his fist - all in one place. Because of this similarity, I gave all mental importance to that prophesy. I thought that what God had shown me represented the character of Glory, and so I formed my perception according to it and some previous observations and went out expecting to see what God had shown me. But while sitting on my bed in room D1, when I was typing on Page 121 about the public lecture I happened to be sitting in with Death Conqueror, the Spirit showed me a vision where the symbol lifted from its place and moved to its right into the adjacent scene of the lecture room and rested on his face!! That's the difference between the two revelations related to Glory and Death Conqueror. And I had the vision of a demonized infant first in the year 2020.

Only God knows when I would be ready to conceive and birth my promise according to His timeline.

So He shifted me to a room that brought with it the yet new additional anointing of Sarah. And then it makes me think about the dream in which I scolded my roommate trying to act over smart which sent her away sobbing. Almost as if God had given me permission through that dream to reply back to her in that manner because of her intermittent but persistent rude and insulting behavior for no reason towards me.

God has His ways of humbling people down. My roommate looked down at me inside her heart and it showed up sometimes in her behavior as well. She called me a dumb fool and 'shit', insulted my job, downplayed my manuscript that I worked hard to write (this is what you get to hear when you care for the unbelieving hard-hearted flock that God showed you would turn back to Him at some point in time). And once she fought with me for some very little amount of hair in the washroom drain that weren't even mine as I had just returned from my dad's retirement trip of two days and hadn't bathed or even changed clothes from the trip. But she fought saying that she didn't take bath for two days so it must be mine. I could tell that she was lying because when I had left the PG few days earlier, there were none, and because after I decided to pick it up as there was no other way she would stop fighting talking in a loud manner, I looked at her and she had a wicked superior smile on her face as she stood facing her wardrobe. I knew how ugly on the inside she was in that moment. I felt so nauseous. She couldn't even wait for a night for it to get picked but stood on my head with the excuse that it's not good to wait for maid Aunty because it's just gonna stay there until then. Though she kept leaving used cotton and wipe swabs on the 'washroom's' floor that stayed there for many days, and she did it to see my reaction. How evil and twisted of a mind? God looks at the future final finished product and guides His flock towards the same, and He guides them with Love. I put up with her intermittent wickedness. And then she has this trait of entering in the room looking all normal and in peace with you when she has just returned from backbiting you. She needed people on the outside to gossip about whoever she was staying with. If that chat-friend now happened to be her roommate, I doubt if she wouldn't backbite about her as well to a yet different person outside. This is a major (main) flaw in her character. She admitted to me when I had shifted with her that she goes out and gossips, and she said that in a serious tone making it clear that she knew that what she did was wrong. She knew that she was telling me a negative trait of hers and wanted to make it clear that that's what she does. I never thought I would get to develop inner bonds with such types of people because I had an agape attachment style with all irrespective of their inner self but I developed personal and strong intimate styles with only a selected few. And now she will be leaving for Heaven with me in that metaphoric tractor/small car. God humbled her down through this surrogate situation and previous others so that she doesn't feel prideful of her background and I don't feel lowly of mine.

Today she was nice and helpful as she helped drop my stuff downstairs. Previously too she has helped me at times when I asked her. But if you do something for someone outwardly, but look down on them inwardly or hate them when they did nothing wrong to you, you need to change from the inside. And when you're with people all of whom have this good character trait of helping with meaning to help with a love-filled heart, even then there're enough differences in character and personality traits to see the uniqueness in each individual but yet stay faithful to one person because one derives great pleasure in doing so. It satisfies you to know that you're theirs because that ordinary unique person is yours. But in a world of affairs and fornication, people see everyone as the same as everyone else and there's no inner face of difference.

All revelations are not for everyone. But many times they correspond to a specific person or a specific group of people. So, if it doesn't make sense in one's context, one needs to leave if for the right person to receive the Word. Also, it's not about the names written/involved in some revelations from movies, but it's rather about a similar situation and how it's seen from God's perspective (communicated by the Holy Spirit inside). I will write the initials of people later with whom the revelations are related for the text to make sense to a first-time reader.

1. 'Rejected ; All Woman Are Half Naked' (Heard in the Spirit)
(This Morning): I heard in my Spirit the word ' Rejected' (giving the sense that the person felt rejected), followed by 'All women are half-naked'.

2. Grocery Store
Vision (Throughout the Past week): The scene from the movie Kabhi Khushi Kabhi Gam where Rahul goes to Anjali's father's 'shop' to pretend to buy some items.

3. Dropping Things Down
Vision (Past week): The scene from the movie Kabhi Khushi Kabhi Gam again where Anjali keeps dropping things down as she keeps hitting them ignorantly while she's standing in front of Rahul who's moving behind his dad as he's supposedly enjoying Anjali's's comedian actions.

4. Harry Zips Ginnie Up
Vision (Past few weeks): The scene from the series in which Harry zips Ginnie's back up.

5. A Reflected House
Dream (Late Dec 2022/Early Jan 2023): I found myself looking at my reflection in a mirror and to my right was my home's hall area ending with the washroom at the far end. I looked at my reflection and then to the hall to my right and as I did so I was eating some chopped guavas from the plate that I was holding. I then turned to my left, walked forward and left that hall, and entered a room in which I saw a chubby short-heighted person to my left sitting on the sofa and wearing a fitting t-shirt. I stopped and looked at him and offered him the leftover guavas from my plate. He took a piece. I then looked at the yet left smaller pieces and asked him to take them as well after which he smiled and poured all of those small pieces in his t-shirts's lap to eat. I then moved forward and found the area to be my home's hall and saw my home's kitchen to my left and the kitchen sink to its right when I entered it. I washed that plate as I was talking to my mom who was cooking to my left. This apartment described above was a mirror reflection of the one I actually in.

The dream began with me looking in turns at the home's hall and my own reflection but ended with the real me into a reflected house.

6. The Way The Revelations Are Written
I have thought about this often now - that how the Notebook starts with God's promise of Glory to me, but later has Death Conqueror constituting a significant part of the revelations. It made me think how the Notebook would've looked had I started writing about my walk with God since 2019 iteelf when I first understood the Gospel. In that case, it would've had Death Conqueror in the beginning parts as well and how he stayed and persevered in 2020 as well as he stayed around my home. And if I had written about my days I spent at home, the things that went in my mind, the tumultuous emotions as I witnessed that my privacy had been breached. And the part where I wanted to give him something delicious my mom had cooked. And then I threw away my high-heeled footwear.

Though I wasn't liking at all my breach of privacy, I observed his nonjudgmental attitude when it came to my home and background, and that's what kept my heart softened towards him, because it told me something about his character. And he understood many things about me and I didn't feel judged except for two times when my Mom told me to go buy 4 packets Full Cream milk and I repeated it to make a note in my head. But he took my repetition otherwise so appeared with a polythene full of toned milk packets! I thought that was too quick to judge that day. And then yet some other day I heard the sound of a child crying out 'Aunty' repeatedly from a dark corner, but again, it didn't seem to me a real situation and I thought the child may as well be calling someone standing close to him. I got shouted on that day for no reason!

And then I got called by God and this one night was told that I had some kind of authority. I used to stay stuck in my phone most of the time, and when I fasted on Sabbath, I prayed for his salvation, so that he has eternal life in Heaven (not on Earth)!

The Notebook would've looked different had I started writing some years earlier. It would've sounded entirely different. But then if I had written about the appearances of Glory as well, he would've also had been there though wouldn't had been a part of the time I spent at home.

The Order of Revelations make the Notebook look a way which is not complete without all previous time.

I never play games with people whom I claim to love! And no, it's NOT called being robotic but being honest and direct!

Yesterday, I was prompted to open YouTube videos related to these two storylines. The first was the healing song that Rapunzel sings to heal Eugene, and the later ones showed the chemistry between Inuyasha and Kagome.

1. Eugene and Rapunzel

(The Healing Assignment)

Eugene was a thief. But he was not a double downer. He was one side up and one side down. Rapunzel healed him. The character of Rapunzel was always dressed in a Pink gown and she had blonde hair. So, my pink long cardigan and dark yellow head wrap in the healing dream that God showed me back in 2020 make sense now as it relates to this part of the revelation.

2. Inuyasha and Kagome

Inuyasha was a half demon while Kagome was a human. Though in the series Inuyasha chooses to stay half-demon as it gives him power, but the real counterpart will have the character turn back to God because I saw a short-heighted man dressed in brown stuffed clothes at the back inside that carrier bus.

3. #29 on Page 95: 'I have to be someone else to be with you.'

I wrote a large part of the details of this dream when I wrote about it last on Page 95. But I wasn't being precise. So I will now write the details that were left.

Dream (): When I finally caught up with him on the stairs, he was walking up towards the door of the home I visited once in this area. He freed himself from me and quickly went inside the door leaving me out. I could tell that he hadn't locked it. I entered inside with a bit of caution and saw the standing fan right in front of me. I could see someone move ahead inside who turned that fan on. I was about to walk past it but then I stood there and enjoyed some fan air smiling, being happy that they did such a thing. Then someone took hold of my shoulders from behind and swung me around a few circular rotations. I was afraid in the moment that I might fall and also because it was too abrupt. When I was finally left free, I took hold of my senses and looked around to see who was it. I found the fluffed Glory standing at some distance behind me. Seeing him I slowly ran towards him in the same outwardly left-right manner. As he saw that I was about to kiss him, his expressions changed to being a bit fearful and he turned his face away bringing his hands in front as he moved them to communicate a 'No'. The next scene had us standing close face to face looking at each other. Again, he saw that I was about to kiss him. He abruptly turned to the opposite direction saying 'I've to go now!'. But I took hold of his shoulders with one hand in time and said "You've to kiss me!" and started kissing him. He was struggling to get away from me as he stole some breath and said, "No Kartika, I can't kiss you.", to which I quickly replied, "You don't have to kiss me. You just have to stand still!" He then said, "I don't want to kiss you! I have to go!" He again turned back and was so adamant on leaving but I pulled him back again and said while I was still kissing him, "Please stay for 5 minutes!" Then I was sucking on his upper lip while his eyes were wide open, and as he looked at my eyes his eyes went together in the middle as he said in a breath "Kartika, your eyes are looking so beautiful.", to which I replied "Don't you know that I am a fairy!?".

The next scene showed both of us in the physics department on one of the top floors. We both were wearing white t-shirt over black pants. I signaled him to come along with me. We saw a room at the front on which a small poster of a white-winged fairy was pasted. I was both shocked and touched to see that someone would do such a thing. I stood outside the room in order to open it and while I was finding the key to open it, I told Glory to go and hide in the narrow corridor to my right between walls. He stood there and a device in his hand that looked like both a laptop and a printer. He was typing something on it and out of the printer side came a long paper. It seemed like he was doing some of my work! I looked to my left and right and told him to continue typing. He kept writing and the unending river of paper kept flowing out and accumulated on the floor. I then saw Prof Sanjay Jain to my left using his room's key to open it. He kept standing there and moving his keys inside the lock as I watched Glory type out that long unending paper. I was hoping that he wouldn't know about Glory being there and somehow wanted to keep it a secret.

The next scene showed us standing facing each other with him talking as dual personas and me listening to him complain about how he has to be someone else to be with me. I wrote about this part previously on Page 95.

4. Bitter Waters In Between: I saw Glory at some meters of distance from me and then the dirty water of Nala overflowed and filled the entire space between us (bitter waters in between).

5. The Bitter Water Reached My Room's Balcony

Dream (Room D1, Mid 2022): and my roommate were sitting in our room's balcony on our chairs and the dirty black waters had reached until some distance in our balcony. Our room was shown to be a little height above the ground in that dream. We saw Glory coming towards our balcony walking through the dirty black waters, stopping by for a moment and then leaving. He came by and left a few times in that dream.

7. I consider Jesus Alone As My Husband (and Not Cheap Abusers who Lived an Unrepentant Whorish Lifestyle).

(Note: This was my temporary outburst!)

Though God may have ordained two people to be a part of my life in the role of earthly partners, I will only look up to Jesus as my righteous and faithful maker and husband. Because whatever problems may arise between us, they will only be a result of my own shortcomings or because He is testing me and not because He went out of His way to hurt me or because of a shortcoming in His character. Whenever I get to hear something hurtful from either of the two, I tell myself 'He is not my husband". I reaffirm it to myself again and again because I want to reach the stage where their sick actions won't matter anymore to me and I will not really be expecting Godly behavior from them, and would only expect it from my rightful owner (who is also my maker). Though they may cheat on me occasionally or regularly, I will always tell myself that they are not who they are but they are put there only as part of the Will of God! Because I have found perfect Love in Him, I don't seek it from a man or a woman. I don't care if they flash someone in front of my eyes, because of their ungodliness as they don't matter to me as they would have had they behaved like a loving godly person. Though I may be with them, I will give my whole heart to Jesus and be protected by His Love and will not live a lie that is supposed to make me happy. To live a lie is sin as well. Though I feel love for them occasionally, I don't want it to bind me to the extent that they get the power to break me. They may be emotionally abusive but they won't be able to reach my heart with their arrows! I try to keep a soft heart towards them but then it hardens again. I keep oscillating and it's not because of something that I have done. I hope they will understand who is the one who doesn't have enough maturity but only has immature 'experience' of no significance. Why should I go to them and act in a loving manner as if they're so innocent. I have my value and worth in God. I may be dirt, tan and trash in their eyes, but their acts make them the same in mine, only in their case the problem is REALLY real and not related to a corruptible body! Woe to the rich who live a sinful life of pride and pleasure!!

And then call you an old person for living a righteous life. They can bury their heads in their meaningless youth of no value because it is devoid of morals and filled with ungodly fun. I will let my feet take a stronghold in my identity of being His eternal angel and not a woman on earth who is expecting people to behave the way they are supposed to! Worldly people suck. Though I used a bit of slang here, but it communicates my heart for this place! When a person behaves in a toxic way, I tell myself that he's not what he is! God is what He is! They can keep their version of Hagar (with extra long hair) as their personal concubine for their entire lives and it won't affect me a bit. This world is not my home and nor are they my 'real' children that I am responsible for their fate. Only God determines the footsteps of men and women. And woe unto the woman who sinfully agrees to be a fun concubine to cheap whorish men!! They can fall into the trap of deluding and immersing themselves in the fruits of a marriage, while ignoring their acts as a whole, but that's not how I live or will live. I may too fulfil my duties but that doesn't mean I would be ignorant to my inner self as a whole. I will hold both me and them accountable though I may forgive because I am called to do so by God.

Edit: Though I may get pissed at the short-heighted guy for a while, I get back to normal after some hours.

8. The Chase

Dream (Early/Mid Jan 2023): In this dream, the vision went from me being in one university situation to another. Then somewhere in the middle I saw Death Conqueror come out of a room in the same manner I had seen him come out that day in CIC back in 2016, but this time he came out from a room that laid to the left of the corridor when one looked back. As soon as I saw him, I started running away from him and ran with all my might! I could tell that he was going to run after me because of his facial expression! He had the same height as he has for real but looked darker, fluffed up, had beard, and was wearing a green shirt checkered in black. I ran as fast as I could! I did not want him to catch up with me for I was afraid of what he might do to me. I ran and ran, passing people by, and kept looking backwards at times as well to see how far he was or if he had caught up but every time I found him running with the same vigour! It was quite clear by looking at him that he wasn't going to give up but I still kept running away from him. I came across a man along the way who hindered my path, but I continued in my run. I followed the set path that took a U-turn but he chose to cut straight through the area connecting the two ends of the U-turn and now it seemed like he was going to catch up with me as h was close behind me. I jumped and partially flew and reached a level above the ground and saw my home's middle balcony to my left which was now renovated. My Mom came out smiling and said Hi waving her hand. I left the balcony immediately and was in air again when I saw him beside me to my right. We jumped off a wall above in what looked like was an open field and were moving ahead floating in air when the dragon-headed serpent joined the run from our right end.

I was towards the obese end of the BMI scale during that time of the year and one day I happened to be wearing a full-sleeved sky-blue cotton top. But it was a bit tight or almost of fitting around my chest and was also a bit thin in its cloth but it didn't really bother me because in my own eyes I was fully dressed. But then I received the following vision from the Spirit during the day.

Vision (Room D4, Late 2021): I saw a naked vision of my upper body with round-shaped breasts giving the impression that they were being supported by a bra that wasn't visible. And then I realized how it 'actually' looked. I didn't wear that top after that day until the time it was loose on me. And even now I try to avoid wearing fitting clothes that are thin though I may wear my old clothes for a very short duration (one or two minutes) to observe my weight loss progress and see how they fit me now.

God corrected me because my heart was open to correction and because He knew that I would understand Him and make changes accordingly. But why would He even correct hard-hearted people who think they're always right!?? (Like my roommate who has always replied back in a self-righteous prideful manner. Though I was naked, in my own eyes I was fully covered. But she is the kind of person who would intentionally expose knowing that it counts as nakedness. Now if God had told her to expose something as a part of self-denial and the breakdown of ego, then it would've been a different situation. But one day she came to my Room (D4) with all the buttons of her dress open revealing her squished together breasts as she was buttoning up in front of me and I could from her expressions tell that she had done it intentionally because the previous day she had happened to gaze at my oversized breasts when I was standing in front of her room talking to her. I was overweight back then. She had to make sure that I knew that she had got breasts as well.)

God looks at the heart but also corrects His children like the loving Father that He is.

Is your heart open for correction? Or do you blindly follow the world and its ways without using your own God-given sense of right and wrong? Are you brainwashed in the ways of the world?

I don't treat myself differently than I do others. I uphold the same standards for me that I tell others that God has shown me. And they have the choice to listen to the correction or treat it as a vain word. But God doesn't speak in vain. And I will not withhold from writing out His given correction word.

I don't think I am better than others. But I try to follow the difference that I know is between what is Godly and ungodly. And I don't do it in a hypocritical way where I am trying to look holy or give an impression of being something that I am not. If I incorporate something in my life, that's because I've understood the significance of it through the eyes of God. A humble person will listen to correction. A haughty prideful person will think of oneself as always being right.

This correction word was given to me, showing that I don't know the perfect standard of God. But it also shows that I can 'choose' to listen to his correction when He speaks. And if I can do it, others can too if they work on their hearts towards obeying Him.

1. A Balanced Car

Vision (Early 2022): A mid-sized black car just balanced on the cliff separating the main road and the Nala in front of my PG. When I had first received this vision, I was quite distressed and thought that it either represented the present or was imminent. It added to one of the reasons I went out at those nights hoping to face what I had seen in the dream: Glory dressed in red and white with a bouquet. I believed the dream because the previous parts of it had come to pass. And I know that even this event has its God-ordained timing.

2. A Penis In Front of My Mouth

Vision (Room D4, Late 2021/ Early 2022): I was sitting on my chair in front of my table in Room D4, and then I had an abrupt vision of a horizontal erected penis in front of my mouth that was waiting and trying to be pushed in but it couldn't as if there was a glass screen in front. I tried to rebuke the vision considering it unholy but it stayed.

3. Instruction (Vision of the Washroom and the Corridor Inside CIC)

Vision (Afternoon): I was being nudged to go inside CIC and make a round to find the space I was with Meera that day that I . I was being shown the vision while I was walking. And then again when I was sitting at my work desk, I again saw the vision this time being pulled backward implying that I had to go there. So I will do that tomorrow.

4. Only Jesus Is The Worthy One

(Late Night)

Because I started paying attention to their thought patterns and ways, I myself stooped to their level and became lukewarm towards God with time because they consumed my thoughts as I was worried about some things! Though I did not go to them but they very much affected my day and I couldn't focus or work but felt fatigued and exhausted for the most time. And I just realized what I had become. I don't want to be with people who play games, and I don't want to reciprocate their game! I don't want to be like them at all if what's apparent in front of my eyes is who they are!

1. Time With An Actor on Page 107

The Actor was Ranbeer Kapoor. It was quiet unexpected because I didn't have any special inclination towards him or wasn't a big fan of him either. My first roommate was a huge fan of him though in BSc. But I have now developed a soft corner for both the actor and his wife as the Holy Spirit highlighted to me Alia Bhatt's interview, where she was asked some GK questions that she couldn't answer and therefore felt humiliated in a way, after I failed my first attempt of PhD confirmation exam because I couldn’t answer some questions that seemed plain GK to me (because they were based solely on knowledge that seemed vain to me and didn’t really test my analytical/thinking skills). I felt I had company.

The godly love-filled interaction was represented by both kissing a few times.

2. A Kiss of Love (AKOL)

Vision (Room D1, Late 2022): A close semi-animated vision in a fluid sky blue background of the side-view of the clean-shaven face of Ranveer Singh on top of a woman's head as he slowly kissed her lips.

3. Scene From Love Aaj Kal

Vision (Late 2022-Jan 2023): This vision kept being highlighted to me intermittently.

4. The Dance In Green and Black

Vision (Nov/Dec 2022): The dance in green and black toward the end of the movie 'Dum Laga Ke Haisha' was kept being highlighted to me.
I saw character shining from a distance in Ayushman.

<<The Dance in Green And Black.mp4>>

Ref: Dard Karaara | Full Song | Dum Laga Ke Haisha, Ayushmann Khurrana, Bhumi, Kumar Sanu, Sadhana Sargam

I hardly like songs based on their videos as they often seem a distraction to me and I like to listen to just the audio of the songs I like. But this was one of the very few songs (perhaps the first one) that I had instantly liked only because of its video when I first watched it in around 2015 back in my MSc days when I stayed in the RGHG hostel. I wouldn't have preferred to listen to its audio alone because it went too well with the video and not alone by itself. I think it was one of the coolest Bollywood dances I ever watched and Ayushman's persona goes too well with the aura of the song and the dance.

5. The Circus and the Nose

Dream (Late 2022): In this dream, I was in a huge circus where different events were being held separately. I was roaming in that area and then I saw a dirty-looking Ranveer Kapoor who was dressed shabbily walk in with quick steps with a bag at his back looking for someone and stopping at some distance from me. I did not talk to him and the dream then shifted to another scenario where I was standing in the public outside one of the events and cleaning my nose. I was trying to clean it fully but it was too hard to do so, because my nose had thin dried sheets of mucus that didn't come off easily as they stuck to the surface at places not easily in my reach. But I had to remove them or else they caused me discomfort in breathing. Apparently, in the dream, I did it with my hands and put the flakes on a small metallic surface, but in real life I had started using tissue some months back. As I was almost done cleaning my nose, I saw Ranveer Kapoor again as he came brisk walking dressed in a similar manner and stopped again at some distance from me as he was looking at me with an expectant expression.

These visions kept being brought to my remembrance intermittently. They're God's perspective of the situation or heart inclinations.

1. Vision : The scene from the later part of the movie KKHH in which both the actors make a wish on seeing a shooting star.

2. Vision : The scene from the movie 'A Walk to Remember' where the actors meet at night to observe the night sky with a telescope.

3. Vision : The scene from the Sherlock Holmes series where Dominatrix sits naked in front of Sherlock wearing just her red lipstick.

4. And then I started feeling a slight bit of pain in my groin area when I was in Saroj Sadan. I first experienced it when I was lying on my bed at night to sleep and felt a bit of pain as if something was trying to push in. The pain subsided after a while. I thought it was a psychosomatic spiritual revelation where perhaps I was under a spiritual attack. But today the pain was quite a bit and noticeable enough to make me respond and I could feel some movement. I feel abrupt pain with slight movement, at times inside or almost outside. Then it made me think if it was the because of the metaphoric tiny metal balls from the scene from the FS triology that I had envisioned. Then it made me think if I had really gotten some kind of an infection that was showing up on my neck. Have to go get a check-up.

5. Two Pushes

Psychosomatic (Room D1, Mid 2022): Once I was resting on my bed and turned to lie with my face down. As I did so, I felt two to three consecutive pushes inside with a slight bass sound, and I hadn't heard or experienced this before - it makes me think that it could be because of the metaphoric balls made manifest as the person in the Spirit. I'm not saying that it's holy or acceptable. But, many other revelations that involve slaughter or other disturbing or immoral truths aren't holier either, but they still represent the truth. So, this revelation told me what was happening for real as perceived by God.

But I would like to add that I was having a heart of worship in that moment, and it was perhaps my Sabbath where I once stayed on bed all day fasting and resting in God. This day turned around and laid on my front and felt these two pushes.

6. A Penetration

Psychosomatic (Room D1, Mid 2022): Yet another day, I was again lying on my bed in the PG and this time I had yet another psychosomatic revelation. I felt an abrupt deep penetration out of nowhere and I wasn't expecting it at all. I hadn't understood it then. But I can make sense of it now by relating it to the stuff that has gone inside.

7. My Roommate Hid Her Ongoing Affair From Me

More than me, my roommate seems to be interested in attracting and sleeping around with the men God chose for me. She even started a covert affair and didn't tell me anything about it. I found it out because of the revelations of the surrogate mother and Sarah and Hagar. While I answered her questions honestly whenever she asked me stuff, she herself was having a covert affair right under my nose and she kept it a secret living with the false notion in her mind that some of the revelations pertained to her. I also learnt that I can't really trust her in this aspect as she has been too deceptive and secretive. Nothing of a life lesson, but yet another encounter with yet another deceptive person. If people were straightforward and direct, many of such situations would've been avoided. But it seems like they are just used to and happy with living in this manner. And then it made me think that that was the main reason I had removed Death Conqueror from my online profiles. There are many who are ruled by the spirit of fornication in this world and that's why I stayed out of the world and didn't want to be a part of it! I didn't find anything valuable in this place! (And then the thought came to me a few times in the spirit during the past few days that there are many Weasleys in this world too!)

I don't derive my worth from how I look. I have my worth in God though I change my looks as He wants me to. It doesn't affect me if someone sees me as ugly. Eventually, I will leave this place and get my glorified body that would neither get dirty nor stink or smell!

If God didn't want it for me, I wouldn't have chosen two people for me. I wouldn't have even entertained the idea of being with two people. Out of my Love for God, I let myself be open to the idea.

Revelations That Seem Out of Context To Others

Some revelations pertain to specific people and would only make sense to 'them' when they would read the revelation as it would reveal to them the underlying truth behind the casual thoughts they have or would reveal God's perspective of them, and His perspective is the true truth of the situation. In some cases, the revelations would match the objective truth of their situation and would reveal the underlying subjective truth they aren't aware of according to God's plan and will while some revelations would match the subjective truth of the situation and would reveal the underlying objective truth as seen by God's eyes. For instance, the revelation of me having two fairy wings as I stood next to Jesus with my arms forearms stretched reveal the true subjective truth of my objective situation of bathing in the washroom as seen by the Lord God, while the revelation of me fornicating with my roommate reveal the true objective truth of the way I was trying to 'please' her as judged by God's eyes.

1. Bought Some Revelation Related Stuff
I bought four dresses that resembled with what I had seen as a part of different revelations.

There was an animated vision from the year 2020 in which I had seen the upper body of a straight-haired woman dressed in a dress green with very thin shoulder strips. Then in yet another revelation with the man in red and beige, the woman sitting on the floor was wearing a thin-striped black dress, and then in a vision I myself was dressed in a boxy red cloth starting from right below neck and I had straight hair in that vision. I found three dresses that resembled these three revelations. And then I had been having this new revelation intermittently which I have written below.

2. The Heroine Wears the Silver Dress to Show To The Hero
Vision (Dec 2022/ Jan 2021): The scene from the movie 'Maine Pyaar Kiya' in which the heroine wears and shows the thin striped silver dress to the hero that he had brought for her.
In the vision, the dress was a bit longer but I ordered to try what I found resembled the most to it.

I have had this vision a few times now.
Vision (): The scene from the series where The Woman is about to get beheaded as she is sitting on her knees wearing a black Burqa dress. She sends her last (goodbye) text to Sherlock. But as the killer lifts up his sword, Sherlock reveals himself from hiding amidst one of the men, fights them and saves The Woman.

Likewise with the other revelations.

Parts of the contents of the revelations on the last page match the objective truth of the situation(s), but the right subjective context would be understood by the person by looking at the revelation itself. The person will know if the revelation is for them as he would feel convicted about the same.

1. Was I Worth it?

I was feeling too overwhelmed yesterday evening thinking about all that the bully did. And I was thinking about if he was going to feel bad for his choices after some time as the sudden realization of all that he missed and let go of would hit him. As per my call, I have to obey and follow God and it may mean not choosing what seems best for me to me. But I wouldn't be feeling disappointed about those things as that's supposed to be a part of my job. I don't think or understand things the same way as I used to before. I am not too analytical either now as I understood that at times we've to walk blindly in faith. But when you look back and see all that you let go, would you feel disappointed, depleted, and 'destroyed' because you are comparing your potential and past achievements to your present situation and feeling a loss that can't be recompensated? Are you going to be too buried under that burdening realization (pertaining to your worldly condition)?

2. The Silent and Calm Lion

Vision (Room D4, Late 2021/ Early 2022): I saw the face of a very silent and calm lion to my left looking forward. The visible surroundings were openly vast. I kept staring at his face for a while after which he swiftly turned his face towards me and licked my face a few times and then went back to silently looking forward again. He seemed to be lost in deep thought.

If she comes to God and gets saved because of her inclination towards a guy, then so be it. It's a good thing in a way. Though when I look at her, many times I see the fakeness that I've always abhorred in her and therefore the times that she's nice to me also seem repulsive, I trust God in His timely work.

1. Dream-Vision (Early Morning between 6-7 am): Towards the end of that dream, I saw a flat steel scale coated with a red plastic cover in a dark background. The scale was around 15-20 cms long and 1-1.5 cms wide and had things scribbled on it in white and on the right end of the scale was written a huge 'Sorry'. It was the only word that was legible and was much bigger than other scribbled things. After a few seconds, I heard 'I'm sorry' in the Spirit.

I know that the scale represents a time-duration of having that apparent sexual bond with the person who said 'I'm sorry' at the end! I just didn't write it.

29 January 2023

1. This Ministry is Person-Specific

The revelations that I receive through the Holy Spirit are given in a such a way that they would address and direct specific people whom God gave the revelations for. A given revelation may be for a specific person or may involve a group of people or a group of events interwoven in the revelation. However, some revelations can still exactly represent the event to be manifested.

For instance, today I saw this particular revelation (dream) unfold in front of my eyes as interpreted and written below.

2. The Unfolding of a Dream

I realized early this morning after waking up that I was having my period. I went to use the washroom and as I stood up after using it, I saw blood stains on the toilet seat and some blood on the floor as well. It reminded me of the revelation in which I was sitting topless on a western toilet seat in a clean corridor to the right of which laid a mesh door behind which was yet another corridor laid in a perpendicular direction though. I was wearing my loose denim trousers in that dream that I happened to wear today because the others were dirty. I also cleaned the small mesh window and iron grills to the right of the toilet seat in the washroom in the morning. When I was prepping to bathe after cleaning it, I realized that the setting resembled to that of the dream. In that dream, before going to use that toilet seat in the corridor, I was sitting in the same room as my mom while she was shouting at my brothers. In real life, I talk to my mom daily and did so today as well and heard her shouting/talking in a loud manner with my brothers. But the clean mesh door in the clean corridor with a creamish wall behind at some distance in the dream struck me as I looked at my washroom after cleaning the window part.

Some revelations will make instant sense to some people as it strikes them with an 'Aha' moment because it reflects their own thoughts and imparts on them the required discernment and wisdom, and that's how they will talk to the intended people.

It makes a lot of sense that God would use me for this kind of ministry as I connect with people rather than socializing and my connection is innately and gravely person-specific.

One can understand how important to God those people are about whom He gives me revelations. So much so that He is using me to bring them to Him. I'm His tool and servant and those people are my project and a part of God's harvest of the Earth. God doesn't get bored of them as they got bored of me and their game, but God is perfect and loves perfectly. He is eternal and created them as 'His' eternal children. There's no real death, only eternal punishment of the spirit in Hell that's considered as the second death after the first death of the body.

If those people are so important to God, then why should they think of themselves as 'Zero'? He made me go through all what I did all because He had in mind the hearts of people He wanted for Himself. God can go to a great extent for just one person. Isn't it quite obvious by now seeing how He has been prepping me!?

A calculative mind that plays games gets bored easily. But a godly mind with godly precepts of love never gets bored of one's loved ones and loves eternally.

Page 144. God is Holy; Revelation-Related Dresses: The Man In Red & Beige, The Silver Dress; Progress Made in 2022; God is Holy; Instrumental Worship

1. God is Holy

Please note the holy dresses described in other revelations (the healing assignment, God's own dressing sense, the dream of stepping down on a staircase with Glory, visions with me in a tree wrap). The dresses below are neither holy nor endorsed by me and shouldn't be tried by anyone.

God is eternally Holy, Righteous and Just. But, He has His ways that are far above ours. They may not seem the usual or regular ways to us, but they work, and they are quite unique and out of the box, like He is - unique and incomparable. His ways may not make sense to us or even seem right to us. But see how He led Gideon to win against an army of thousands with much lesser number of men - all because of God's infinite wisdom and foresightedness.

I don't endorse wearing unholy clothes. However, I stress on obedience to God. I felt so good today after doing two very uncomfortable things that I had seen as a part of revelation. I felt ashamed at first but I knew that I would be feeling more uneasy and guilty for disobeying God like I have done a few times before. So, I did those two things and felt good for obeying God and the contentment far surpassed the personal shame that I would have otherwise felt. At first, I stood for a long time in the washroom being uncomfortable sitting topless on the toilet seat as I looked to the mesh door to the right. But I knew that I had seen it in that dream and the rest of the events had occurred during the same day (today), so the topless one had to be manifested today itself. So, though I took time, I overcame my shame and what helped me was to realize that it was actually an idol if I was unwilling to do it despite knowing that God had shown it to me. God breaks our idols and many times we discover in our walk with God the things we feel most shameful about.

The two uncomfortable things were standing naked facing the right corner of the washroom beside the door. I had seen myself doing it with the white light off and the other dim light on. I didn't feel comfortable at first, but I knew I had to do it because I was in the situation to do it. The second was to sit topless on the toilet seat wearing just my loose denim palazzo trousers (also part of a dream).

2. I received some revelation-related dresses today and tried them on.

1. The Suicide Attempt (?)

Dream-Vision (Early Morning): I saw myself standing on my chair below the fan of my room (with no tie with it though) and then the chair dwindled and I was about to fall on the floor but then I woke up with a jump on my bed ending with me being in a half-sitting position.

I made me think about my heart condition. Because I certainly won't end my life before God takes me out His decided way.
I won't play a coward.

2. The Hero Songs In The Spirit

I was hearing (paying attention)to these lyrics of the song 'Tu Mera Hero' playing in my spirit one fine day and then in the same moment I received a call from a number that was showing itself named as 'Zero'.
"Tenu Mein Love Karda,
Bematlab Karda
"Maine Tu hot lagdi Lakkhon Da Note Lagdi"

"Tu Mera Hero
Tu Mera Hero"

I removed the full song video because it's not a very godly song. So I added only those lyrics that I heard.

And then on yet another day I was hearing a different Hero song () play in my Spirit in which the Hero again was singing that he had zero fate in the pages of love.
Tu Mera Jaanu Hai | Hero | Anuradha Paudwal, Manhar | Jackie, Meenakshi | 80's Hindi Hit Songs

And then I have heard these song lyrics a few times in my spirit as well.
"Tu Mera Tu Mera Tu Mera Tu Mera, Tu Mera Hero No. 1" ("You're, You're, You're, You're, You're my Hero No. 1.)

3. Sridevi And The Bearded Clan

[Edit: 5th Feb 2023
(This is the only dream in which Glory appeared as a bearded man. In other revelations of 'The Courting Phase')
Dream (Room D1,): I had this dream in continuation with 'The carrier Bus', like a series of different dreams stitched together. I saw the face of Sridevi standing facing to the vision's left and her upper jaw was prominently protruding out as her teeth were visible. The face of a heavily bearded person was then shown to pass her by from behind. The vision then shifted to the front of that bearded guy and what was revealed was a group of bearded people walking together where all of them were tall and wearing long overcoats. The bearded guy in front said something difficult looking straight ahead using vocabulary that I didn't understand at all. I then saw Sridevi who was revealed to be wearing a red saree trying to talk to that particular bearded guy at the front, as she leaned towards his face walking close beside him and very slightly bending to his level but he wasn't paying attention to her and looked straight forward as he walked in a slight bit of attitude with his clan.]

4. Don't Touch My Water

Yesterday my roommate came hurriedly to tell me to not touch/use the water she had waited 3 hours for. Also, she hadn't used water for her morning routine as well since morning because of a water problem in the PG. After a while, the resemblance of the situation with my own was brought to my attention. Didn't I wait for around 3 years for the revelations and promise of God to be manifested in my life, and I prepped according to what He has been showing me? And then here she comes and tries to steal what God promised to me. And it made me think if the situation was supposed to make her confront this truth!?

5. The Original And The Doppelganger

Vision (Past week): I saw the scene from a Bollywood movie where the heroine and the fake version were both dancing together with the fake character mirroring and showcasing her similarities with the heroine. The heroine had a rose tattoo on one of her thighs, so the people in the negative roles had the fake character that they introduced get a tattoo on the same spot as well. The fake character then started mirroring and copying the heroine in all aspects.

[It made sense to me in regards to my roommate the most. Once I was sitting on bed and was relaxing. I then noticed my roommate making the same sounds as me as I was while relaxing. She copied me spontaneously and did exactly. I took a break from my side of the room and observed her back and she was indeed mirroring me while she was on phone and her mirroring was very noticeable. It made me think why would she do that. Yet another example of nonsensical behavior from her side. Who talk on their phone and then copy the sounds the person to their side is making - and then she would think it makes her a complex-minded person while its nothing but a useless sub-network of neurons like many other sub-networks present in her brain that don't amount to anything productive or meaningful - much like the presence of redundant (negative) behavior traits that add to nothing but clutter inside her mind. And I didn't insult her about her idiosyncrasies or personal habits but I said the truth about her negative behavioral traits that are related to (get activated in) the presence of another individual.]

6. Arjun Pandit

Vision (Past two-three months): This scene from the movie was brought to my attention many times by the Holy Spirit. The scene where the hero abducts the heroine for a forced wedding. Yet another representation of thoughts pertaining to this person as revealed by the Holy Spirit.

7. The Revelations Pertain To The Acts of My Roommate As Well

What I did yesterday in the washroom, I did it out of obedience to God. But later during the day I happened to ponder if that's what my roommate had been doing for long. She takes her phone inside anyway. So I wouldn't be surprised if she was sitting topless with her phone in her hand. Additionally, I often find the short stool right in front of the commode. I am not sure if she leaves it in that manner intentionally. But I have learnt by now she is not someone with whom I would like to have a love bond with because of how much of a liar, deceiver, competitive and a dishonest person she has been.

I have overlooked her fleshly behavior many times. Once when I had just shifted with her, I happened to ask her something about her life which she didn't find as something usual that one would ask if the people involved are of relationally calculative and deceptive mind. I could tell that the question made her think of me as someone naïve. And as she heard it, she changed her lying posture on bed extending one leg forward, revealing her pelvic curve, and while she looked at me, she hit hard at her pelvic bone with that inviting look in her eyes. I was grossed out by her behavior! I overlooked and ignored it! That day I was confirmed that she was not straight but was on a spectrum. But now I find out about her apparent affair.

God help these people clean their minds. They are neither transparent nor loyal. They only play indirect games. One day she will realize her folly and repent before God as she sees His hand in bringing her to a certain stage in life.

They may be being honest and transparent 'while living life in a sinless way' in 30% of the personal areas of their lives, but the rest 70% is muddy and stinking. To say that though I am a fornicator, but at least I am not a murderer, or I'm a thief but not a liar, doesn't do when it comes to building a perfect godly persona. Jesus is coming back for a spotless bride. Though my work involves physicality because it's a physical reflection/counterpart of the spiritual and heart work one needs to do to prepare oneself for God, but the real work involves the heart condition of people towards Jesus.

The way they are operating is far from godly.

1. A Gunshot

Vision (Room D4, Late 2021/Early 2022): As I opened my room's door, I saw a gun shoot right in the middle of my forehead from a meter's distance.

Late Night

2. An Hourglass

Vision (Room D4, Late 2021/Early 2022): An hourglass with the last few seconds of sand in the upper half being over.

Note: Not all revelations make sense to all. But there are some that will make sense to the person who thought those exact metaphoric things as shown in the vision.

3. The Girl In The White Shirt

Part of a Dream (Room D4, Late 2021/ Early 2022): In that dream, I found myself eating the last bits of Aloo Kachori from a steel plate that resembled my PGs and I was wearing a full-sleeved white shirt. Most of the largest section of the plate was yellow from the curry. The area resembled the VV Metro station's. I then passed the steel plate to Death Conqueror who then passed it to the street vendor after which he quickly left leaving me alone. I looked down and found that I wasn't wearing ay trousers but just that white shirt and somehow I had longer hair as well. I looked at my front and found some mid and short-heighted girls standing there looking at me which made me feel a bit ashamed! (Perhaps I was wearing a wig because there's no other way my hair would've seemed that long.)

4. Jacob Warms Bella In Front of a Jealous Edward

Vision (Late Dec 2022/ Early Jan 2023): This vision has repeated to me a few times where Edward warns Jacob to keep his thoughts in check as he's warming Bella inside a tent on a freezing mountaintop.

2:14 - 2:17

Jacob is hotter than Edward

5. When Confronted My Roommate Says Some Curse Words

Dream-Vision (Today Early Morning): I confronted my roommate in the kitchen about her fake and loveless behavior with me and then she shouted 'Shut the f up B*tch' at me, after which I went silent and moved slowly out of the kitchen. (The Next Day: She kept repeating the phrase yesterday night when I encountered her about her behavioural intentions, but I didn't go silent but rather said further truth about her behavior.)

1. Unfolding of 'The Carrier Bus'

I sit at my workplace seat listening to music as I think about my work, though I don't write or shuffle pages much. But my roommate is now newly wholeheartedly dedicated to her coursework as I saw A4 sheets lying on the shared center table and she had also written stuff related to her course on one of the pages. Suddenly her table is well organized with her books laid at the top as she seems more serious now. Additionally, she happened to be playing brain-based games yesterday with her PG friend so that they can measure and compare their smartness. It did make me think about how our individual behaviours have now come to resemble how we looked in that carrier bus. This would also mean that the fluffed-dressed short-heighted passenger on the Bus' last seat was sitting idle in the shadows looking in the forward direction. But I'm glad that at least he is inside the bus. He was wearing light brown clothes in those clothes that gave a dirty look from a distance.

2. The Adulterous King

Vision (): This vision from the series ' The Serpent Queen' kept being brought to my mind as I was walking outside as a part of my daily routine of spending solo time with God and video calling my mom. In this case, it's not about the name of the series, but the adulterous act of the king that's being highlighted as he puts the crown on his mistress and commits adultery shamelessly. The mistress is shameless and without morals as well. And together they revel in how they both unjustifiably hurt the queen in different ways!

3. My Thoughts About My Situation and The Merciful God

I kept the visions to myself that I received about Death Conqueror because in my heart I was preparing for God's promise in Glory and I didn't have a good perception of Death Conqueror because of his ways and the bullying things he had said about me not caring about his already committed sinful acts. I didn't want to have anything with such a person and would rather have preferred to die than to give in to an evil sinful person and no one or nothing could've changed my mind. If God hadn't shown me the things I was to do in His name in the future, I would've long back ended my life. But I had now come to know God and was waiting on Him because I was aware that my situation was in His hands and that I was in it (still am in) for a reason. It took the revelations given by God to show me the truth of the situation that changed my heart towards Death Conqueror. But if those revelations weren't given to me or if his situation wasn't as was shown to me in those revelations, I would have stayed fully committed to God's plan and continued to look at Death Conqueror with disgust and aversion.

But I've come to understand that the promise wasn't just about my marriage but it was about reaching out to the lost through a unique way. The people involved may fail in their roles, but God stands faithful and unchanged and He is my rock.

My roommate would never have changed some things about herself had it not been because of that guy. She cleaned some things for the first time and even washed the doormat that I didn't really expect she would ever do. She talked loudly with her friend in the room knowingly while I was trying to sleep, insulted me indirectly and was an emotional pain to live with. Even the times she listened to me seem to me to be out of pretention now because even in those moments she clearly betrayed me and I now understand her better. This was apparent from the way she first asked me to share with her why I was upset and crying. She then told me to have some water. I didn't have any in my bottle but drank the only sip that was left. When I became comfortable and ready to share my heart with her, she stood up and went to use the washroom, and then she went to fill her bottle with an affected sob sound plainly making the point that she didn't care about me crying. Afterwards I compared her behavior with how I would've acted if I was in her place. I would've brought water to my roommate, would've sat beside her and comforted her. But she listened to me with a hypocritical heart not really caring but listening only out of a wicked curiosity! And I hardly felt a compassionate ear whenever she asked me questions about myself. Now I see she asks them so she has more info and stuff to gossip about or target me emotionally/situationally in some way. Looking at her behavior and then at God's heart for her, I understood the great merciful heart of God and also that He knew that she was going to change for better, perhaps not during the time she stays with me but later.

And I was just thinking that both of them actually deserve each other looking at the very much compatible wicked heart status and the finance and background as well that she feels too prideful about! They resonate in most ways. A wicked person easily begets another wicked one to empathize with his wickedness and actually be a part of it. If I was in her place and had somehow got in touch with that guy, I would've given him a good scolding and told him to repent and apologize and stop doing what he had been doing. I wouldn't have been fooled by any crying or any acting skills or any story he told me! I wouldn’t try to lend a compassionate heart to the wrongdoer and hate the one who is doing right! But here she goes emotionally abusing the one who is taking it in and pleasing the supposed abuser, and then she compares herself with me telling me to not preach when God has chosen me for this sole reason only - to prepare the way! I may not be social or someone who interacts with the public in a domineering tone but I have the right heart. She talks in an authoritative tone but just look at her character, acts and heart and how she treated me! (A wicked person who acts righteous.) She should look at her heart before telling me that I am not fit for this role. God will find some other position that is better suited for me if I don't seem to do well in this one.

God knows the things that can change people's hearts. God is working on her heart as well. Though she may hate me because I speak the truth about the situation, it doesn't bother me at all when I look at God's tolerance of people who keep cursing Him for years when they haven't known Him before they finally come to know Him and fall in love with Him. I looked at how God deals with His children who are in flesh, being patient and longsuffering.

God forgives all sins - including fornication and adultery. But one needs to repent and really change one's heart from within.

2. Red Sparkle Eyes

Vision (Room D1, Monday, 29th Jan 2023): I was sitting on my chair when I had the abrupt semi-animated distant vision of closed eyes with red sparkle eyeshadow opening. I had a makeup class that day. I learnt using highlighter and blush and after the tutor wanted to give a brief tutorial on using eyeshadow. The eyeshadow I chose for her to put on me was the red sparkle one in my palette because of the vision. And the same can be seen on Page 144 in the pictures of revelation-related dresses. The next day I had an exclusive eyeshadow tutorial. Tonight I put on the red sparkle eyeshadow on me at properly and made this real vision-video.

3. Meeting an Undergrad Classmate and Hugging The Short Heighted Man

Dream (Room D1, Past week): I was withdrawing money from an ATM where one of my classmates, Deepawali, from my undergrad batch also happened to walk in. That classmate was dusky (of a similar complexion as my roommate), was always slim and had beautiful features resembling Deepika Padukone with long and straight hair. She came from a wealthy family. She wasn't a fast friend of mine during undergrads but I remembered her because of her genuinity, humility and 'real' (not fake) nice behavior. I had a nice talk with her. After a while, I saw her expressions have a slight tint of hatred momentarily as she was talking to me. The vision showed her at a level above me as she looked down at me and perhaps said something insulting. It made me weep momentarily though I didn't cry outwardly. We then moved to an area where there were many rows of steel chairs and some other girls were sitting on some of them. I then saw a short-heighted guy enter through the glass door and walk into that area. He looked like Death Conqueror and was dressed in black with a black sweater on the top and was holding a small axe tightly with both his hands close to his chest like one holds a baby. He walked quickly towards me with eyes wide open and a serious expression and stretched his arms swiftly to hand over the axe to me to use on him in some way. I took it from him and threw it away to my right and hugged him tightly for long.

Page 149. Prophetic Word (Sis Adele) - Glory Events

God said: "As the wind blows, so blows My Spirit. Sometimes you can feel a mild tangible breeze against your skin with a piece of your hair gently and subtly moving. Other times there are strong gushing winds that blow with great intensity, that even the trees need to bend to its flow. Likewise with My Spirit. There are times when My Spirit moves gently and subtly, it is almost hard to trace or feel. Then there are other times where My Spirit moves strongly and powerfully and many feel it and need to bend in the movement.

If I decide if the wind should blow subtly or magnificently, do I not have the same power with My Spirit? Can I not decide to move subtly, almost unnoticeably, and then to also move strongly and powerfully in ways that no one can deny it is Me moving? So why then do so many chase after the strong and powerful moves of My Spirit and not My gentle, quiet, soft and subtle ways? I often hear My children say "we need to go to this and that place as revival is breaking out", "God's presence and glory is there".

Are you chasing after revival? Are you chasing after My manifestations? Should you not be pursuing Me for Me? Should you not run after Me in your quiet place like you do to events? Do you not know that My Spirit resides in you? That My glory doesn't leave you. Then why are you chasing and pursuing the "move of My Spirit" when the "move of My Spirit" already resides in you? Do you not know that My Spirit was poured out for all to receive who confesses Me as their Lord and Saviour?

Do events not temporarily satisfy you? You chase after where I decide to move powerfully, but what happens when you get home? Do you not then start to look for the next opportunity to go chasing after My glory? My children, My glory and My presence are always available to you. If you would but spend as much time quietly in My presence where I often move gently, quietly, softly, almost unnoticeably, as you do planning and chasing after revival events, would you not then experience My glory more intimately right where you are?

Do I move away from you and go to conferences? Yes, it is true that where two or three are gathered there I am in their midst. And no, it is not wrong for you to want to experience My glory and movements in powerful noticeable ways. But My children, if you do not realise that the Kingdom of heaven came to you the day you received Me as Lord, then you will never be satisfied as events are temporary. Invest just as much and even more time in the quiet intimate moments with Me. Who knows, perhaps I want to meet you in that place with a strong and powerful move of My Spirit.

Do not idolise revivals. Do not idolise My glory, miracles, and manifestations. Is that not what people chased after since the days of old? They pursued Me for miracles, deliverance, signs, and wonders. They pursued what they could experience and would leave them in awe. Seek My heart and having an intimate relationship with Me. seek Me more than My glory experiences and manifestations. Are you like those who I said about in the Word that unless you see signs and miracles you won't believe? Remember what I said, "blessed is he who has not seen and yet believes". I am not an event. I am your ever present God who will never leave you nor forsake you. My Spirit dwells in you."

Here are the scriptures the Lord gave with this word:

Page 150. Songs in the Spirit

Songs in the Spirit:

1. "Banaake Kyu Bigaada Re" (Why did you tear me down after building me up?)
I've heard this song lyric many times in the Spirit.

Is this how the hearts of people work? Do we not maintain and sustain and change for the better being the children of God who have an eternal Spirit?

2. 'Lagan Lagi Tumse Man Ki Lagan'
I has this song constantly play in the spirit as I was in a meeting with my supervisor day before yesterday (30th Jan). A lot of thing went through my mind and I couldn't stop sobbing.

3. 'Hue Bechain Pehli Baar'
This Morning I heard this song play in the spirit

4. 'Chaar Kadam'
I've heard this song play in the spirit as well at times.

5. 'Ishq Sufiyana'
This song also played in my Spirit at times.

6. 'Akele Hum Akele Tum'
Few days back this song played in my spirit. I used to love this song as a child.

7. 'Tujhe Bhula Diya..' (The Chorus)

8. 'Woh Ladki Bahut Yaad Aati Hai'

9. 'Accha Sila Diya Tune Mere Pyaar Ka'

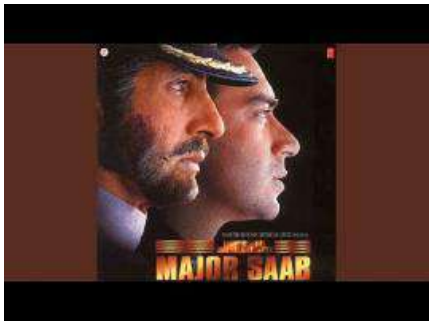
10. 'Bure Bure Hum Hum Hum Shaitn, Jara Jara Bachna Re Humse'

All these songs play in my Spirit unexpectedly and I can't help but pay attention to what the Spirit is communicating or I deliberately listen to the songs I hear in the Spirit instead of listening to it inside me.

11. "Main Lut Gaya, Mein Barbaad Ho Gya'
I heard this once some months back.

I record things because when the situation does manifest, I can go back to the written word as a testimony. Most of my revelations pertain to a selected specific group of people, though some are general sharing words by the Spirit. This shows how specific God is. He has a unique and different way to reach to each individual as He knows them perfectly.

12. 'Kehta Hai Pal Pal Tumse Hoke Dil Ye Deewana'
PYAR KIYA TO NIBHANA



I woke up with the chorus of this song playing in the spirit one-morning last year when I was still in Room D4. It told me that the situation represented by the song was what was going to manifest in real life at some point in time. I couldn't have thought of this song in my sleep as it played and woke me up, because I had forgotten it and it was buried deep in my subconscious as I hadn't happened to listen to it perhaps for more than a decade. And I forgot the song after some hours of waking up because it seemed too unusual to me to get to listen to after that long period of time and also because of its older musical scheme. But it was the perfect song in the eyes of God. So I knew it was the Spirit speaking - like it did with the melody of the rain song this year.

And then I heard this next song play intermittently through months as well. I returned from canteen with my tea a while back and witnessed two people arguing over a minor issue. Some of their comments weren't real but fake . But other comments seemed rude. I didn't interject but as I was sitting here it saddened me to think how they used loveless language and behavior to mock each other (though it may be a fake situation). And then I was reminded of the song below that had played in my Spirit many times during the last year.

1. A Beautiful Heart and a Complete Allrounder

Vision (Within the past two days): I saw a guy near the door of a white car during day time, then the vision shifted to a night scene with him dressed in sky blue and white on his upper half and walking to a campfire and sitting along with others around it.

How would have I known all that I know because of God if God hadn't shown it to me?..... My roommate knew more than me because she was told directly…

2. God - The Equalizer

My roommate was shown to be working out astrophysics and quantum mechanics and she said that her dad did that. I received further revelation later that it meant that it was God who gave her that ability. God showed that to me to make the point that it was Him who gave people abilities so I had nothing to feel better about. The dream has more than one lenses to be looked at from as it also told that she needed not to prove her smartness. Likewise, He compared her to 'Penny' from the TV series TBBT who only talked about the updates in the TV world. I was compared to the lady who got cheated on in the Serpent Queen. The name pertains to God's adversary. The name doesn't represent who I am, like the name Penny doesn't represent who my roommate is, but it is the situations they were in that are similar to ours. The names too are supposed to have a humbling effect on us. I shouldn't have a 'holier than thou' attitude though I may be considered righteous, and she shouldn't have a 'richer/better background than thou' attitude though she may actually be blessed in those areas. Additionally, He compared Death Conqueror to the Lion and it's justified in His eyes (He qualifies people for their role).
I understood the vision today as I saw a YouTube video with a campfire thumbnail with only one person sitting near it, and it reminded me of the vision.

I felt that I deserved to be on road and my jaw should be broken indeed to a manner where it drops to the floor. I was somehow feeling guilty for his situation but I didn't really do anything to deserve to be punished for it. My heart makes me feel guilty but the logical mind says that I did not cause it because he could've chosen the straight and narrow way instead of a twisted way. What can I do to help in such a situation? The only revelations that seem to be helpful are those where he was in 'my' home of which I have already written about in the 'Time With the Short Blue-Eyed Man' and 'The Reflected House'.

If I think about his situation only logically, I would be able to sleep peacefully; but if I let my compassionate self take over, I will be constantly feeling guilty and sad!

But I know that if he is going through it, God must have ordained it for him for this time, and God showed it to me to further change my heart.

2nd Feb 2023

God also showed me the time when I would be shown a thumb by many homes before I would've found a shelter. So I am partly prepared to face the situation, and will be instantly fully prepared when the time has come.

3. Character Of An Angel

According to God, I've the character of an angel and that's why he gave me the revelation of having two wings as I stood facing him with forearms outstretched. Someone was calling me two-faced and I don't care what they have to say about me. I will listen to God's judged perception of me. Though my psyche split in two at a time because of abuse, I still retained the same character. Splitting of psyche is not the same as being two-faced. Being two-faced apply to those who are both mean and nice to a person by their own wish and choice as they feel like acting and not acc to how the other person is (which is my roommate and Death Conqueror too to some extent). While a split psyche results in the person maintaining the right and true perspective of the reality of what they had been put through and yet they still maintain a supple heart of love. The splitting of my psyche resulted in me living in reality and yet choosing to be loving and kind regardless. I can see their words and actions for what they truly are and it is bound to incite a corresponding reaction in me but then I let it go because of my love for God and because we are called to be like Him.

1. Balcony With a Name Written On It

Dream (Room D1, Past week): The vision went from the inside of my room straight to the clean part of the balcony to its left and then stopped and focused on the floor on which was written "Mrittunjay Potlicquor". Death Conqueror is the English for the Hindi name Mrittunjay.

[Edit (7th Feb 2023): This is the name I saw written on the balcony - can't do anything about it. But I can't edit out the words spoken by God. The balcony is lying dirty now though, just like the name on it - dirty in sin! He can be washed only by the blood of the lamb through repentance.]

3. It's Hard To Find Honest People

4. Death Conqueror Hovering a Lavender Flower Stem, and Him Dressed in a White Graduation Robe With Outer Red Lining

Vision (Past Week): The vision seemed as if I was seeing it from below and it was slightly distant. I saw the Death Conqueror in full dressed in silvery blue ethnic attire with a stem of the lavender flower in his hand which he was slowly moving over something below him as he looked down. The vision then shifted to his upper half dressed in a white graduation robe with a red outer lining on the border and there was golden aura around hiding everything else. Apparently, I witnessed those events according to the Holy Spirit, be it in real life or online.

Looking at the first lavender vision reminded me of when I had seen him in the same attire in real life, somewhere between 2017-18. I saw him quickly walk past me wearing that blue silvery attire carrying a black bag and wearing black slip-on shoes on my way from Metro to the Physics Dept. He was that Lavender's Dilly Dilly prince hovering the lavender down slowly while smiling.

20:48

And then I saw him walk past me again the same day on my way back from the dept to Metro in the evening.

5. Selfie Of A Face

Vision (Past week): The Holy Spirit keeps highlighting and bringing to my remembrance his face from a close-up shot selfie I had come across on Facebook. It had just his face where he was looking in the camera with loving eyes, and the part of his neck that was visible showed his black suit with a tie. And it seemed he had clicked that for the purpose of showing me alone. And I have been pondering why would God highlight that picture to me. I could figure out that it had something to do with my roommate because yesterday she questioned me.

6. Death Conqueror Looking Up At A Wall

Vision (Past week): An event from the past where I saw Death Conqueror standing outside Room No. H facing its wall to my left. He was looking up the wall focusedly at the junction of the vertical wall and the ceiling (from what I could fathom). He wore a horizontally striped pink polo shirt and his face was tanned. I happened to walk in that corridor because I was still an MSc student perhaps. I looked at him and then up at the wall for a while and then back at him again as I was walking forward. He turned his head to my vision's sight and we caught eyes for a few seconds. I have always been a very observant person. He had a serious yet expressionless face. He then started walking in my direction at some distance to my right but he was looking forward and had somehow suddenly gained a different expression now and was smiling with changed eyes.

7. Christian Gets Arrested

Dream (Home @ Omaxe, 2020): In this dream, I saw some cops come looking for Christian (Fifty shades' actor), and they took him away with them. When they took him with them, he was fully dressed in a long grey over coat at the top. The next scene had Christian naked in a rectangular tub and being interrogated by some men in black suits. He looked spent and was unable to hold himself together. The men to my sight's left were interrogating him, and those to my right were trying to insert something into the back of his band which was not clearly visible, as I looked at the sight right in front of me. Then I saw a closeup vision of a palisade consisting of around 3-4 thin metallic/steel stakes being tried to be pushed into the back of his hand but those thin metallic rods were thick enough to not pierce through easily. After a while, he gave in and exclaimed "It's a photo." The men in suits then stopped and said something among themselves and left to investigate further. I had shared this dream with my friend and sister Blue long back as well but hadn't understood the context.

Christian had to reveal that "It was a photo" for those men to stop persecuting him.

8. A Forearm Between My Legs

Vision (Room D1, Late 2022/Early Jan 2023): I laid on my bed when I had this vision. I saw a brief vision of a forearm speeding towards my vagina in between my legs and then the vision ended. And I can relate it with the psychosomatic revelation 'A Hand In My Mouth' on Page 123, and also with the above revelation now that I can understand the analogous persecution of Christian. The revelation shows a taste of what they did to me being given back to them but in a righteous setting and not without a reason as they acted. The revelation above again has more than one context. They stripped him and put him in a tub openly in front of them and persecuted the back of his hand.

1. Ke Jab Tak Jiyenge, Mohabbat Karenge (Until the Time That We'll Live, We'll Love)

This song has more than one context. It not only represents God's promise to me but also represents us singing this song to God where the mention of 'Rab' in the song refers to the 'God of this world' and not the God whose throne lies in the Heaven. Towards the end, the song has lyrics that say that the singer doesn't care how the God of this world persecutes her, but she would still worship her God.

The singers are singing (to God) that they will not desire anyone else, but will only love till they are alive.

This song is also the Kingdom Dance of Worship, and it relates to my God-given promise of marriage as well.

4. The Finish Line and The Wall

Dream (Room D4, Late 2021/Early 2022): I was riding a bicycle and trying to be as fast I could be because I had to reach somewhere on time. There were towering buildings around and it was night-time. I saw Death Conqueror to my left on a bike. He was dressed in all black in a black jacket on top and was wearing a black helmet. He had come from behind and stopped for a while as he looked briefly at me before speeding ahead. Though he wore an opaque balck helmet and his face wasn't visible, I could tell in the dream that it was him! I continued on my bicycle and reached the black and white checkered finish line but there were some puddles of water lying on the road ahead of the finish line and a greyish wall further ahead.

If there's a wall, one has to take a roundabout way, climb the wall or break the wall, but find a way as God leads.

04 February 2023
19:47

This was one of the two visions I mentioned on Page 14 that were a relief to me because they meant the manifestation of God's promise in my life.

1. The Tree Top

Vision (Room D4, Jan/Feb 2022): I saw myself fast asleep with an open mouth with Glory lying on me with his head to my right as the morning light fell on us on our bed. The vision only had our upper halves and I was wrapped wholly in a dark green cloth with small connected red dots giving the appearance of a tree's top, and Glory's naked back was visible. I had neck-short and frizzy hair meaning my current hairstyle was gone by then.

I just recalled from the vision that the bedsheet was the same olive green woolen spread that I have been using for two weeks or so.]

I happened to use a similar tree top as a part of my model's diagram in my first MS that's yet to be published. I didn't intend to at first as I had in mind the creation of my (resource budget) model's diagram only. I needed a picture of a tree to show the process going on inside a tree. So I made my own tree using the paint app in Windows. And the way it finally turned out with the lines gave it the appearance of a human with closed eyes and a smiling mouth.

The tree I used in my model diagram:

The model diagram:
One can see a smiling tree in all the phases of the tree.

2. The Awkward Grabbing

Vision (Room D4, Jan/Feb 2022): I was standing along the wall beside the washroom of Room D4 and Glory was standing facing me with about a meter distance between us. Both of us were dwindling slightly to our sides from left to right in an uncomfortable manner while both were dressed in full-sleeved black cotton clothes. He then raised both his hands horizontally and grabbed both my breasts and instantly took his hands down.

3. He Wouldn't Have Known Anything Had I Not Revealed It Here

For the past few days, I have been thinking how I wouldn't have known some aspects of Death Conqueror's reality and (past) perception of me if God hadn't revealed them to me and that I would still be holding him in resentment otherwise, but then I realized that he wouldn't have known how I saw him if I hadn't revealed them here - the pictures from the past and God's absolute perception of them. I wrote not just the prophetic revelations but the truth about my own heart as well. And if there was no mention of them here, he wouldn't have known anything and would be still living with his own understanding and conceptions! I have been thinking for a few days about how my perception of Death Conqueror changed over time as God revealed to me things about him and I learned to look at him the way God looked despite his sins as He was working on his heart in His own way. I didn't have a hard heart towards him before I formed that low perception of him. When you use the networks' approach, it's always rigorous and may not lead to anything. One has to approach God directly to talk to Him and put forth one's pleas as a part of forming a personal bond. This proves that even when you may be watching someone most of the time, you may not know the truth in their hearts because you can't see what's inside! The same would hold for Glory as well. He too wouldn't have understood why I did, learned or changed some things, had I not released the revelations from God.

I don't really care what they have to say about the revelations, less so what they think about me, or how they choose to insult me. It has no effect on me. It shows their own heart and has nothing to do with me.

4. They're Just Things, Silly and Little Things

Where I come from
You say things will be well and fun
Though the world around you is crumbling
And the truth bleak as a bee
Stay close, believe, though things are not what they seem
I won't let them destroy these dreams

They're just things
Silly little things
They're only things
I think we'll be alright
I think we'll be alright

1. My Roommate In A Shoulder-less Brown Dress

Vision (): My roommate got up from bed a while back and I had an instant vision of her back wearing a full shoulder-less chocolaty brown skinny but thick gown. Much like an hourglass. It told me someone's perception of her.

When I would resemble an hourglass, only a few seconds of sand would be left in me (according to one of the previous revelations).

They treated me like a porn toy and perhaps sold me out, but I am still a fairy of Jesus!

2. The Full Tree

Vision (Room D4, Early 2022): I was recalling the vision of me with Glory once when I was in room D4, and then the Holy Spirit revealed to me further details of the event. This time I was shown a full vision of us from a distance. The room was D4 itself and we laid together on the left side of the bed (my side) with him on top of me and lifted high. A thick brown blanket covered our lower halves. I laid motionless below him wrapped in that tree-top cloth. Both of us were static, while he was stabbing the daggers in his hands to the sides of the bed as we looked at each other.

3. Greedy Meera

Vision: I was reminded of a past event with my ex-friend Meera when she had an affair with a 72-year-old man (Walter Lewin – Ex Prof of MIT), and she accepted a MacBook worth 1.7 lacs from him. I was trying to convince her to not accept it as I wasn't liking her affair at all and it wasn't that she was special to him. He was just used to having many affairs every now and then and indulged in virtual sex with those women and sent everyone gifts. But she didn't listen to me and had even hidden her affair from me for a month or so. I confronted her along with a common friend. She asked us if we were forbidding her to accept his gift because we felt that she was greedy, she then said confidently without delay that she indeed was greedy (as if it was something to be proud about)! That prof was later complained about by a different womanbecause he was emotionally abusing her to send him pictures. He apparently used his lectures to hunt women. The complaint led to his lectures being taken down from MIT's website and his Emeritus status stripped down as he made that woman cut herself again - something in her past that she had recovered from. She was already a patient of depression. I never liked him!

Let the one who has ears hear!

4. INFP: The Dreamer

I was watching a Frank James video early this night and when he referred to INFP's as the dreamer types, it instantly hit me because God gave a spiritual dimension to my personality type by giving me prophetic 'dreams' (and visions).

5. Hair Comparison

Dream (Yesterday Evening): In that dream, I laid on my bed and saw my roommate combing out her hair by separating them ahead around her shoulders. She then came to my bed and started flaunting her hair with her head bent down and covered with the partitioned hair at the front. The length was shown to be much longer than her current hair length - almost till her waist. As I looked at her hair in that dream, I received visions of my own head that had now started to develop baldness at the back and the front as much lesser hair were shown to be present in those places. As she came nearer to where I was ooking all scary in that pose, she pushed on my bedsheet to make the point that she indeed had quite long and thick hair. And as she was doing it, I started feeling a lot of resentment towards her because of this kind of nonsensical behavior and thought of her as being quite dumb as she was so obsessed with her hair and behaving in that creepy manner. I went out of the room to throw something in the dustbin, I was quite pissed and was murmuring calling her a dumba. (Although when I woke up, I didn't feel any such feelings on looking at her. But in that dream, her behavior made me quite mad at her.) When I entered the room again, I saw her bent closely over her phone that laid on her bed with only a 3-4 inches of distance between her and the phone. As she lied bent to that uncomfortable extent, she seemed too lost in the phone and now had her hair partitioned at her right with a streak of grey hair at the front top. She was completely absorbed in her phone and was moving her head slowly as she stared at the screen. I found this behavior too foolish and was still murmuring to myself calling her a dumba as I passed by her bed.

This dream reminded me of the time she actually creeped me out very briefly. I happened to look at the door and saw a black vertical wall between the slightly opened door. I then realized that she was combing out her hair in that manner standing outside the room with the door open to just the right extent that would have covered the width of her hair. Her face wasn't visible at all but it was just her hair which is why it looked creepy.

6. 'Mein Kitni Sundar Hun' (How Beautiful I Am)

Song in the Spirit: The morning after the night I put the red sparkle eyeshadow on and posted the video and pic on Page 148, I heard in the spirit a woman's voice singing the lyrics "Mein Kitni Sundar Hu". This made me chuckle a bit at my own self-flattery. It was the spirit highlighting to me the truth about my own perception. And it was justified in my eyes because I never made those changes to my face before and I was liking the red color. However, it also nudged me to be cautious to not be too consumed though I was just liking the look. If not anyone else, at least I can like the things that God tells me to do. So, it's good in a way.

7. Hypocritical Comments

My roommate exclaimed that the loud sound coming from a function nearby was too annoying and disturbing. I knew that she was mirroring me because some weeks back I was complaining about a Dhol being played outside as it was too chaotic and there was no soothing melody that gives rest and brings peace to one's soul. And I also knew from the past that she was gossiping about me being a party pooper. I felt like telling her to not poop on their party as she complained while she was trying to sleep. I did not though because it did not seem right to me in some way. And then a few minutes back the vision where I was dancing alone with Jesus with Him holding me close to Him in a huge decorated room was brought to my mind and attention. And I knew right then how well God knew me. He knows that I don't like a lot of noise. I am a peace-loving person who would rather celebrate in the way He showed it to me which I didn't realize described me perfectly until a few minutes back. He gave me the answer to why I don't like crowded and noisy places without asking. I had the dancing with Jesus vision in Room D4 around a year back. Oh, how I love Him! He understands everyone so so well and He created each one uniquely.

When I think about all what I have to endure and go through as time passes, I have in mind the eternal salvation of those people. I don't think in terms of 'one day' or no day or a week. One may think in an earthly manner and end up saying or suggesting foolish things that aren't godly, but I will keep upholding the truth of the reality of this system and the reality of Heaven.

3. Yes Master - Christian's Ex Girlfriend

Vision (): The Holy Spirit highlighted to me the scene from the Fifty shades' series where one of Christian's Ex Girlfriend obeys him with a 'Yes Master' and sits down instantly as he tells her to. It reminded me of my roommate who like a fool easily follows anything she is told by another guy who is not ordained for her just because she wants 'one' of the guys God promised to someone else as it would give her self-worth. She put a chocolaty spread on her bed, bought a writing pad with an hourglass on top, bought camel A4 sheets, and put a large Apsara scale in her pen stand and did other things too - very much obediently. Like a hypocrite, she talks about everything that's supposed to be godly with others, but insults and puts down the one who is actually practicing those things right in front of her eyes! She is not at all shy like she just said to someone on phone. Such a liar! Real people are shy! But someone who is openly copying someone else in front of that person only is not at all shy! Again - she displayed a lack of self-reflection while throwing a casual lie. Anyone who insults an innocent person openly and frames false situations is not shy. I just keep witnessing her lies and behavior and look at the final character she's supposed to be having as was revealed to me by God.

As for me, I don’t see myself obeying another man like she blindly does unless he has God-given authority along with the condition that He is asking me to comply with a godly act or an instruction from God that he received. So easily controllable she is by another man. She has to start using her brain for real now. Though some days back I felt like thanking her for taking care of someone, but I don't want her to become the brainless 'Yes Master' Ex Girlfriend from the movie with no self-will and understanding. If another guy tells her to comply in insulting someone innocent, she would do so just to get along - another trait of a low-willed person who goes along with the flow.

1. Jack & Rose Still In a Kiss

Vision (Afternoon, Workplace Desk): When I was resting with my head down on the table in front and was almost asleep, I had an abrupt fluid and floating vision of the faces of Jack and Rose still in a kiss as they held each other's face with their hands.

2. Follow-Up To 'Hair Comparison'

When I had that dream, I could relate to my roommate's behavior as she indeed has been obsessed about her hair and has commented as well that her hair are longer. But what I couldn't relate to was my reaction to her. I was filled with aversion and a kind of hatred whenever I looked at her because she seemed foolish to me. I didn't feel that way for her even after I had woken up. But I experienced those negative feelings yesterday in the evening as they suddenly took over me when I looked back at her behavior and I did call her foolish and dumba which was even hard for me to believe, because I try not to use any kind of curse words, or rather not to have an unnecessary negative outlook, but here I was, pissed at her, with the exact mental state I had seen in the dream. The same continued today as well until late evening when I decided that I didn't want to have any negative feelings anymore, and therefore I let everything go and started focusing on Jesus and His faithfulness. I reminded myself when I was washing clothes that she behaved the way she did because she was in the flesh and me calling her a dumba was my fleshly response to her actions.

Page 158. The Fountain Pen Woman; Dumbass - God's Tooth for Tooth and Eye For Eye Judgment of Them for Insulting Me

07 February 2023
01:49

I laid down on my bed to sleep and as I did I had this vision.

1. The Fountain Pen Woman

Vision (Around Midnight): I saw the top of a fountain pen lying horizontally which resembled a woman lying on her front. The convex part of the golden tip were her long wavy blonde hair while the curved black part to the tip's left was her body.

2. Dumbass - God's Tooth for Tooth and Eye For Eye Judgment of Them For Insulting Me

I happened to have that contemptuous outlook towards my roommate's behavior and actions as a part of God's judgment of her as well, because a few days she was insulting me indirectly over phone over something when I clearly have only her salvation as my objective according to what was shown to me in a previous revelation. She treated me with contempt for a meaningless reason but that which was supposed to hurt me as intended by her, likewise I was filled with contempt for her for a reason which would've reflected her reality and make her confront the same and made her feel low. A crude word as 'dumbass' may hold true for someone but it's implicitly derogatory. However, I am not fully sure why God chose that word only to describe her as a form of judgment and not something else. One reason that comes to my mind is that it could be the dumbass resembles the negative connotation of the term she was perhaps using to insult me and that the word itself perhaps sounded similar to the word they were using to insult me.

But I feel too content and justified in knowing the fact that though their insult of me came from their own hearts, but theirs was a judgment given by God. They both behaved like dumbasses according to God as it seems to me. God is a fair judge. He put me in a similar situation that they are going to be put in as a result of His plan when I will be with Glory and Death Conqueror is going to eat dust. Too righteous of a judge!! Oh how I LOVE JESUS!!

I know exactly now why God gave me that revelation! These people think that God doesn't see them! But He does. On the evening of 4th Feb, as I laid fast asleep, I heard my roommate through my sleep talking on her phone and she was insulting someone by calling that person 'Dalit'. She said in a derogatory tone on her phone - "Chiii Dalit' (How deplorable! Dalit is an Indian derogatory term for a person who is a supposed societal outcast.) I had never heard her talking like that before. And how attentive God is that He gave me a revelatory dream right afterward that showcased how she had been acting for some time, and if God had me calling her a dumbass in that dream, then she did deserve it according to His fine and perfect judgment!! Even after receiving that sort of correction from God, I wonder if she's going to introspect and see where she is lacking. Both her and the person who was complicit in using that derogatory person were judged as dumbasses by God. Her bringing her hair to her front in a manner that covered her entire face showed her creepy dumbass behavior, while her bending completely over her phone on her bed where she had a streak of grey hair to her left showed the dumbass behavior of the person complicit in the sinful act. God showed exactly how dumbass-ish these two behaved.

God never fails. Though humans may, God never does. His unchanging and steadfast nature is an e.g. for His children to follow as they live with the knowledge of their eternal existence and therefore understand the value of the character characteristic of being firm in a character trait in time.

God never changes.

Page 160. Malang Malang - The Rescue and The Casting Off a Demon

07 February 2023

Dream (Late 2022)

This dream didn't much sense to me at first when I had it few months back, but now I have come to understand that it represented an analogous reality of something sinful someone else did. Let the one who has ears to hear, hear, and understand!

In this dream, I saw myself walk at night to the front of a building above the door of which was written 'Malang Malang' in shiny lights.

I entered inside and saw a dark space. It partly looked like a salon. There was a guy moving around the front wall. It seemed that he was the barber there and supposedly knew me already as we immediately started hugging and kissing. I moved around in that dark space while intermittently making out with that guy. I was then alone there for a while and waiting. I saw a guy (perhaps it was the same but I am not sure), and immediately I hugged him tightly and he looked quite excited as he gave a huge smile. I was kissing him and then I put a some white cream on my upper eye lid. Apparently, the guy liked it. Then I found myself lying near a wall with windows through which people could see inside. Apparently, they knew what I had been up to in that place. Some looked inside at me as they walked past me. I laid there tired and unable to move, gazing at the glass window pane and wishing not to be seen.

[Detail Added on 15th May 2023 (1:34am):
I felt depressed while lying in that place. The next scene had me standing facing Kartik A and we seemed to having a hearty talk. I was seeing it as a third person. I was dressed in a white tshirt, while him in a full-sleeved white shirt, when suddenly there was a sudden sound of a bomb burst that led to us now being on the floor behind what looked like a half wall.]

After a while there were sounds of fights and bombings coming from outside. I saw myself hiding behind a short wall (of some kind) with Kartik Aryan on top me lifted on his hands on both my sides. I saw this scene as a third person from a distance. He was dressed in a full-sleeved white shirt while I was dressed in a white t-shirt with hair tied at the back. Only the upper half of our bodies were visible. He was smiling as he looked at me and had a kinda funny expression as he said "We're having sex", though we were quite still trying to hide from the violent outsiders. I was silent with a serious expression as I looked at him. And while we stayed in that pose for a bit while longer and gazed at each other (with him being the teeth fully smiling one), I could hear the sounds of bombings and unsafe environment outside from which we were trying to hide.

The next scene showed his upper body hanging upside down and he was making loud high-pitched sounds shaking his hands as if he was demon-possessed. I laid my hands on him and prayed for the evil spirit to leave him in Jesus name. He then became normal.

Lastly I saw myself near the inner part of the entrance of that building with him as few more people had walked in and gathered around. I was then amicably explaining to them that if you're in some kind of sin, the gifts of the Holy Spirit don't get activated. The dream then ended.

The Holy Spirit can talk in many ways.

1.Hai Guzaarish (It's a Request)

Vision (Mid-2022): The lyric 'Hai Guzarish' from the song 'Tu Meri Adhuri Pyaas Pyaas' where the actor has a well-built muscled body and rests his arms down in a cross-armed manner around his body as a part of his dance move while he wears just a black jeans/pant. In the vision, Amir Khan stood alone in a desert, was well built in his upper body but had a protruding belly half stuck in his pants, and as he brought his hands downwards, he sang the phrase 'Hai Guzaarish'! I knew then that God was telling me to lose that belly flab by representing the promised person as that actor.

Hai Guzarish.. (It's a Request..)

2. Tu Meri Aduri Pyaas Pyaas

The chorus of this song played many times in my spirit for the past many months. I am not a great fan of this song, but the song chorus was highlighted to me to communicate the heart state of a person.

Tu Meri Adhuri Pyaas Pyaas	{You're my unfulfilled thirst}
Tu Aa Gyi Man ko Raas Raas	{You're accepted by my heart}
Ab To Tu Aaja Paas Paas	{Come close now}
Hai Guzaarish	{It's a request}

3. You Ugly Servant

[9th Feb 2023
I heard this phrase the same night I wrote the title to write more about later. Someone felt a lot of disgust and hatred for me in that moment. (That person will know it is him being written about here)

4. The Rose

[10th Feb 2023
When I first understood the vision where I saw Death Conqueror sitting in front of a campfire with others, I felt too bad for what was shown to me. I happened to place a Zespto order later that day and could've got a free delivery by adding another item. I saw a rose as a suggestion in the App. So I ordered that as I thought that I would give it to Death Conqueror for his brave act shown in that vision. I thought he deserved it. Today I threw that away because it was getting dry and old and had started looking shabby and the small water bottle wasn't clean either, so I threw that as well. Though I threw the physical object, I kept the memory of why I had bought it, and that's all that matters.

I ordered a bouquet for Jesus this time and I felt so good and justified in doing so because He too had rushed towards me with a bouquet of lavender-colored roses that I wrote about many months back.]

[19th Feb 2023
And the next day of receiving the ordered rose, the song 'The Rose' was brought to my lips as a prompting. The song ends with describing how a seed sown in winter turns to a rose in the spring after a period of time because of sun's continuous and consistent love.

Page 162. This is 'My' Book

07 February 2023
22:44

Will my roommate set out for God willing to suffer, put hands on people treated as socially outcasts and heal them if God calls her to do so, or is she going to call them 'pawty poopers'? Will she treat everyone equally irrespective of how she has been raised, or will she boast about her going to the rich kids' university!? These are the questions she should ask herself before putting me down. Is she willing to put her own time and life down for God's cause or will she consume her time with gossip, slander or talking about meaningless stuff. If the answer to these questions is a 'no', then she needs to search her heart before making hurtful comments about me and my situation.

This is 'my' book and I am called by God for His purpose and she gets saved as a result of His plan. The lessons she will learn and the changes in heart she will have because of her time with me and her situation are what's going to draw her to God. Instead of insulting me or trying to find a folly in my character in some way, if she would just behave neutral manner, if not love-filled, that would suffice for now. But eventually she will be reaching a heart stage where she'll shout praises to God.

When she treated me unfairly and with contempt though I didn't do anything to hurt her intentionally, how can she expect God to give a different revelation than what He already gave!? Now because I hear from God and feel close to Him, and have some proven revelations, she is humbled down a bit. But if I was a regular person not called by God who was going through the same situation, how much more she would've misbehaved and framed false situations showing her superiority. Are these not the questions that reveal the inner truth of her inclination!?

If she is not fit for my role, then better not insult me either. I never preferred rich people to befriend because I usually found what they talked about as being too flaky. Only because of God's given revelation about her humbly shouting praises to Him alongside me, I kept giving her grace. I never competed with her because I knew there was no competition as we were clearly different persons with different inclinations and I didn't want to match with hers in any way. But she created such an awkward situation in the past with her covert competitiveness. I only felt judged by her and never understood. And even if she acted like she understood me sometimes, why would she then misbehave and treat me like a less-than. Is her empathy only limited to a special class of people!? She accused me of being judgmental of her unholy attributes, but when did she look at my character attributes that I hold dear as something good. I always felt judged by her! And the competitive looks she gave - suffocating. I only feel a sense of unmerited superiority emanating from her as he talks with a judgmental tone - too quick to falsely slander and gossip.

I am going to leave this book of my walk with God after me, and while I live people will see the revelations (not the shadow) unfold. Some revelations won't be understood by everyone but the one whom it was meant for would realize its fulfillment, while others will be witnessed by everyone quite clearly.

I don't see the notion of equality inside my roommate from how she behaved with me at times. Though she was nice too, but that would be counted as fake if she was going out gossiping and backbiting.

I know that I can completely shut my heart out and look at things with an entirely rational perspective making the statements look quite bland. For e.g., I may be having an emotional history with someone locked somewhere in my subconscious, but then, when I would happen to think of that person, I wouldn't be looking at the past but would see them as just another person that I know, especially when I am not looking forward to form some kind of bond with them because of something ungodly or hurtful they did. But God intervened at places and showed me the truth of my own heart and reminded me of how I saw some people in the past and put the truth of 'why I did what I did' in front of me. He put the things in perspective for me that I would never have seen the way He showed me. He reminded me how I felt when I first saw someone. He reveals, leads and loves me! And He can see my heart and corrects me when I am in the wrong.

This is a book of revelations He gave to me in relation to my walk with Him. My Beautiful and Lovely God.

1. The Carrier Bus and The Sequence of Dreams

I entered in a room and saw to the door's right a bed on which was sitting Death Conqueror with his back bent and head buried in his phone as he was moving very slowly. I stood slightly behind him to his left and looked down at him engrossed in his phone through the corner of my eyes with head slightly turned to my right towards his side. The dream then cut out to the Carrier Bus where he was sitting at the back seat and I again watched him intermittently by the corner of my eyes with head slightly turned backwards. The dream then cut out to 'Sridevi and the Bearded Clan' where a thin Sridevi was fully covered being dressed in a Red Saree. This time the bearded guy was walking straight while ignoring her as she was trying to talk to him.

2. Darren Takes On Sam's Taste For Pickled Onions

The part towards the end of the 2nd novel of the Darren Shan series where Darren feels a sudden urge to eat pickled onions because he had picked up some of Sam's interests after consuming his blood to saving his own soul. Sam was a 12-year-old who was killed by a wolfman. He loved pickled onions and always kept a jar of them with him.

3. Woman's Face Turns To Rihanna's

Vision (Yesterday Evening @ Workplace Desk): I saw a lovely woman's face looking down from above in a golden light and she wore a floral crown on her head as her hair were tied low at the back (not visible in the vision though). After a while, her face turned to Rihanna's (singer) wearing greyish glitter eye makeup.

5. Bent on a Car

I was reminded of an event that I witnessed many months back in real life as I looked down from my PG's roof. I saw a doppelganger of Death Conqueror (taller in height and dressed in navy blue and black) get off from a black car with a devouring expression and walk briskly towards the car's front as the wipers were moving on the windshield. He then bent himself on the bonnet with hands spread outwards and was acting as being busy fornicating alone.

Dream (Late 2022): I was in a filled bus and was traveling to some place. I happened to be sitting near the back of the bus and along with others there was present Angad - a Punjabi work colleague whom I happened to meet yesterday). The dream did not make any sense to me at the time I had it because I don't meet or see that colleague often in the real life but I do feel respect emanating from his sensible heart whenever I happen to interact with him.

In that dream, I was interacting with him in a godly love-filled manner (that I never did in real life until yesterday because I used to be too professional with people and rather preferred to stay neutral than show any emotion or affection because it was a huge thing for me as it came with meaning to me, meaning that I did not want to waste on ignorant loveless people who don't take things seriously but are always looking for the next fun thing to do.)

Apparently, as I was talking to him in that dream, I kissed him lightly a few times and as I did so he was smiling lightly while looking down to one side. It seems to be God's interpretation of a godly love-filled interaction. The bus then stopped at the entrance to the street of the Punjabi Cheema colony I used to stay in my hometown and stood there for a while. My home used to be the first as one entered the street. Perhaps I was supposed to get down at that place because the driver honked twice and then looked back at me smiling. But I did not get down and just looked at him after which the dream ended.

Towards the end of the day yesterday when my own PhD group's colleagues had left, that dream was highlighted to me as I looked at one of my colleague's expression that matched the driver's. She was telling me that they were leaving. I usually leave with them for PG after work, but I did not yesterday (and today as well though).

1. The Lyric 'Aaja' (Come) in the Spirit

Somewhere within the past few months, I intermittently heard many times the song lyric 'Aaja' that plays in a song where the hero is calling his lover to him. (I could tell that it was Glory.)

<<Aaja Aaja.mp4>>

Aaja Aaja.mp4

Ref:

Though the full song shows the bond between two shape-shifting serpents, the part that was being played in my Spirit was the longing-filled 'Aaja' (Please come).

2. What If You Never Received The Promise?

Would you still work for God? God promised Abraham that He would make a great nation of his descendants and that he would be the father of many nations. But it only came to fruition hundreds of years after the promise was made. Abraham still followed God in obedience though he didn't get to see the fulfillment of the promise made in Isaac. Though he became a father he did not see his descendants become a great nation which was God's promise to Him. I have been pondering how this would apply to my case. This can't really apply because my promise pertains to marriage. But if it includes me being the mother of all nations, it is then that it will come to fulfillment after many years.

Page 166. Without God, With God - A Comparison

09 February 2023
13:00

13th Feb 2023
This day I was thinking about the change in my thought patterns after I came to God. I looked at how my response to the same situation would've been different if God wasn't in it and I wasn't called by Him. Sometimes I think about if I was even worthy to be called but then I have a sure-shot memory of who I used to be and that person deserved to be with God (in my own evaluation). It is now that I doubt my worth because I've done things that I once considered disgusting, vain and worldly (though I still haven't accepted them completely). So I'm no longer worthy of God in my own eyes because I miss the standard, but somehow God has still got me because He alone showed me to get those things done.

Without God (or godly judgment):
1. Death Conqueror - the dual faced man from God-given revelation - is a piece of scum of the Earth who deserves to be with someone like him, someone who enjoys hurting others without any remorse.

2. So yes, my roommate is the one of the best options for him! Because she too is perfectly capable of saying insensitive things when she feels inferior and wants to insult.

3. Who is he to test me and why should I pass his sissy tests!? Is he God that I will run to obey him foolishly like my roommate does!?

4. He is a filthy coward that moves with his pack of wolves! And a killer at heart!

5. I hate him with all my being because he has been ruthless for long.

6. I don't have to put up with his cheap revenge tactics that costed him a bunch!

7. He will never find love - love that's not selfish and makes the other person become a better version of themselves too!

8. He will only find company with emotional abusers like my roommate who says insensitive and illogical stuff to feel good about herself and who finds company with other worldly people.

9. I will never have such a person in my life in any way, shape or form!

10. Why doesn't he get lost forever instead of playing games that are worse than a toddler's because a toddler is at least truthful and direct and doesn't play games!

11. Did he ever learn something worthwhile in his life that doesn't involve playing a political game!!?

12. Or did he only learn how to use others to put pressure on others and make them miserable!?

13. He ruined my life in many ways!!

14. And his scum-of-the-earth friends who themselves have no moral code of their own! - they're even worse!

15. Their intellect is of no use because they only used it to play games!

16. They're abusive bullies who persecute the innocent!

17. They only know how to use semiotics and other people to rob their targets of their space to make decisions!

18. He incapacitated me in many ways and even if I wanted to I wouldn't be able to go back to how I used to be.

19. I don't know if I would be able to even complete my PhD (which I should because I am already admitted in the program and God didn't tell me to quit it)

20. My head is too heavy and aches all the time all because of what this person did and I am not even able to have proper sleep and then he calls me lazy!

21. And my roommate, she says mean stuff, shows hatred and then acts she didn't do or say it.

22. I look awkward to the wicked hearts with whom I don't fit in!

23. People like him and my roommate abuse an innocent person in one or other way and want that person to suffocate inside without her having the human need to have a listening shoulder - even if it's God's. When she calls on God and writes His revelations, they bully her for 'venting out'.

24. In any case they do the wrong thing and make the one in the right look awkward. Because the wicked ones have found company with each other they don't have an environment that will make them look awkward.

25. If they're put in a righteous environment, no one is going to be more awkward than them!

26. My roommate's judgments are so vain, worldly and without insight and they don't hold true by a slight bit in my case.

27. Even when I wanted the best for them as I had God's will for them to saved in my mind, they said some very nasty stuff about me, especially my roommate!

28. She behaves like a foolish woman most of the time! She may not be awkward in her actions but she is foolish in what she talks about!

With God (or godly judgment):

1. Everyone is dual-faced in this system because of the nature of the system until one gets converted. He is not the scum of the Earth because I've seen his Angel Eye as revealed to me by the Holy Spirit in the 'Dual Eyed Man'! He deserves to be loved with the perfect love of God because God created him.

2. She is not the best option for him. God is the best option for him and the people He chooses for him, and not the ones that he chose for himself. I hope he understands and realizes His love for him.

3. I will obey God with love in anything He tells me to do in regards to him (and others).

4. He was courageous enough to take the foolish seeming step that he did and he took it with a hopeful and expectant heart and it came with a purpose. He has a beautiful and persistent heart. Besides he was revealed as being Jacob of the Twilight series who was good and loved Bella.

5. Revelation: The King in Blue and White (God gave it form and made it known in this form of revelation).

6. I have to and will put up with anything that God purposed me to be a part of.

7. He has already found the truest love - God's love. And God chose His best for him. He will definitely become more godly with time.

8. No. He will find company with godly people. When it's time, God will bring those people in his life if he truly wishes to not be a part of the world culture and devices as God sees hearts.

9. I will never give up on someone whom God Himself has revealed to me that He wants saved.

10. May God bring him correction and transform his heart.

11. He was lost in the world and learned its ways.

12. Now he has to learn God's ways.

13. My real life is not on Earth but lies with God in Heaven. I can only think about walking in His will on Earth and not my own. He allowed things for a reason and He is the one who truly gives and takes away. However, this is not an excuse/reason for me to stay in an abusive situation unless God has it as a part of my walk with Him.

14. They have their own free will to choose to be Godly and follow Him.

15. They were of the world. They need to come out of it and learn the truth of the Kingdom of God.

16. They're the ungodly wicked talked about in the Word of God (Holy Bible).

17. God uses dreams and visions as well and doesn't always talk verbally. Though He is always truthful while humans may not be. God talks to give us revelation and to guide us and not to rob us of our free will. But we've to rather submit to His Will out of our love for Him. And even we don't, it's not that He will instantly bring judgment on you for disobeying, but will have mercy and give more chances as He knows the chance that will get your heart to turn to Him.

18. If God has purposed me to do something, He will make me capable even if I may be failing in my own capacity. But I have to be willing to be walking in His will and not act according to my own understanding.

19. If God hasn't told me to quit it, then I will leave it on Him and not worry uselessly about how I'm going to be able to complete things.

20. Even if my head aches, I will praise God and look at His perfect love and I will walk in forgiveness. I will rest in His presence and love and let Him nourish and heal me.

21. She is an ungodly person. If she had God's love in her, she wouldn't have treated me the way she did in the past. God will work on our hearts and make us compatible if He wants and He can separate us after a while too. But regardless of what He does, we've to maintain a heart of Love.

22. We're called to be set-apart and be the beacons of God's nature and holiness in a world of ungodliness. We shouldn't judge others by how they do things but by who they are. But God can change both in a person.

23. They need a change of heart and need to understand his nature so they can become like Him.

24. Godly people don't behave in such a manner. They need to encounter God, His Lve and His nature.

25. God will work on their hearts and change them if He has chosen them. They will learn and thrive in that righteous environment becoming more godly with time.

26. She was easily conditioned by her surroundings. It doesn't mean she will stay stuck in the world throughout her life. She can gain a better inner countenance as she learns more about the heart of God.

27. They did so out of an ignorant and careless heart because again, they weren't walking in God's love.

28. Let God be the judge and the potter as well.

These thoughts alone have been counteracting the ones on the left for a long time now as He revealed truth to me and as I put my faith in God.

Page 167. Song By Jesus: 'Dil Mein Hamesha Foolon Mein' ; Jesus With Golden Horns Holding Me Up

09 February 2023
13:06

Dream (A17/B, Mid 2021): In this dream, I heard the voice of male singing in Hindi as the vision in front of me changed from one scene to another. I had this dream shortly after I had made the House of the Lord using a coffee cardboard box and put the name of Father-God on the inner wall. The lyrics of the song that I remember are

---------- (I forgot this line but remembered the melody)
Naam Mera Le Sakti Ho (This had the same melody as the above line)
Dil Mein Hamesha Foolon Mein
Dil Mein Foolon Mein"

As the short song progressed, I saw a bud blossom quickly to a flower and then the vision shifted to me walking wearing a loose purple tshirt with open frizzy hair and a garland of purple flowers wrapped around my body on my chest. The vision then shifted to the right and there was walking Father God dressed in a red and white suite wearing black goggles along with many garlands of colorful flowers wrapped around His chest. He walked in swag like a celebrity and then the dream ended as the short song ended. He sang to me telling me that I will always be remembered in people's hearts and flowers.

I could tell that it was the Jesus who sang that song telling me to call on His name as well. So I am going to put His name too on the inner wall to the right of the one having the Father's name.

2. Jesus With Two Golden Horns Holding Me Up

Vision (Mid 2022): In saw Jesus with golden horns holding me up in his hands to his face's level where I was an infant in his hands. He looked too pleased with me, His child, as He was looking at me!

It's not the appearances, but the character! Jesus with golden horns is still Jesus in character! Though an unusual revelation, the right perception will clear out the air.

1. The Spiritual Night-Attack

I was asleep one night in Room D4 with my head resting on the right end of the bed. I woke up in the middle because of a sudden pressure coming from my left. I heard a hissing sound. I had started praying as soon as I had woken up. I tried to fall asleep again but after a while I heard a sharp-pitched giggle, again coming from my left. I knew that this was a spiritual attack.

2. The Scared Boy in Room D4

1. The Baby Got Stolen

Room D4: I was asleep one night with my head resting on the opposite end of the bed. I woke up abruptly from sleep but my eyes were still closed. I felt the hand of an infant in my left hand lying straight. I was holding the hand's wrist. I did not remove my hand from it as I was unsure of how to act in such a situation. I was scared at first because of the psychosomatic revelation. I did not move and kept my hand still in that manner. At the same time, I felt a strong spiritual pressure around me, the same as I had felt in that room previously. I felt suffocated and internally stifled. Then I saw my youngest brother come over close to me on my bed from my right as he said something. But it looked too deceptive. It seemed like a familiar spirit to me. I was also praying at the same time because of the tension I felt around. The infant's soft hand was still in my clutch. I then loosened my grip on the wrist and immediately felt the hand slide backwards, almost as if someone slowly took the infant away.

and taking My covenant in your mouth?
17 For you hate discipline,
and you cast My words behind you.
18 When you see a thief, you are pleased with him,

Psalm 50 (Tree of Life Version)
1 A psalm of Asaph.
God, Elohim Adonai has spoken and summoned the earth from the rising of the sun to its setting.
2 Out of Zion, the perfection of beauty,
God shines forth.
3 Our God comes, and does not keep silent.
A fire is devouring before Him,
and it storms around Him mightily.
4 He calls to the heavens above and to the earth, to judge His people:
5 "Gather My kedoshim to Me, who cut a covenant with Me with a sacrifice."
6 The heavens declare His righteousness, for God Himself is Judge. Selah
7 "Hear, My people, and I will speak,
O Israel, and I will testify against you:
I am God, your God.
8 I do not rebuke you for your sacrifices, for your burnt offerings are continually before Me.
9 I have no need of a bull from your house
nor goats from your pens.
10 For every beast of the forest is Mine, and the cattle on a thousand hills.
11 I know every bird of the mountains.
Everything moving in the field is Mine.
12 If I were hungry, I would not tell you—for the world is Mine and all it contains!
13 Do I eat the flesh of bulls or drink the blood of goats?
14 Offer God a sacrifice of thank offerings, then fulfill your vows to Elyon.
15 Call upon Me in the day of trouble.
When I rescue you, you will honor Me."

177. When My Thin Fairy Wings First Flipped Open

12 February 2023
00:28

It was during last year when I had returned to my PG that day (Sunday) after meeting my brother and dad on Raksha Bandhan on Thursday and afterward staying at home for a few days. I cleaned around, took a bath and laid down to rest on my bed in PG, and abruptly saw two thin, transparent and long fairy wings flip open at my back like a portable laundry bag flips opens. That day I knew my journey to becoming a full fairy had begun.

I was wearing my pink cotton 'She is Strong Proverbs' tshirt over a lower and was lying on my right side facing the door when I had this vision.

Vision (Room D1, Aug 14th 2022): Two large wings flipped open behind my back. They were thin and transparent and I knew that they were going to grow stronger with time.

Shine bright like a diamond
Shine bright like a diamond
Find light in the beautiful sea, I choose to be happy
You and I, you and I, we're like diamonds in the sky
You're a shooting star I see, a vision of ecstasy
When you hold me, I'm alive, we're like diamonds in the sky
I knew that we'd become one right away
Oh, right away
At first sight I felt the energy of sun rays
I saw the life inside your eyes
Tonight, you and I
We're beautiful like diamonds in the sky
Eye to eye, so alive
We're beautiful like diamonds in the sky
Whoa.. whoa
We're beautiful like diamonds in the sky
Whoa.. whoa
We're beautiful like diamonds in the sky

Palms rise to the universe as we moonshine and molly
Feel the warmth, we'll never die, we're like diamonds in the sky
You're a shooting star I see, a vision of ecstasy
When you hold me, I'm alive, we're like diamonds in the sky
At first sight I felt the energy of sun rays
I saw the life inside your eyes
Tonight, you and I
We're beautiful like diamonds in the sky
Eye to eye, So alive
We're beautiful like diamonds in the sky
Shine bright like a diamond
Shine bright like a diamond
Shine bright like a diamond
Whoa. Yeah..
Shine bright like a diamond
Shine bright like a diamond

Shine bright like a diamond
Shine bright like a diamond
Whoa.. whoa
We're beautiful like diamonds in the sky

Shine bright like a diamond
Shine bright like a diamond
Shine bright like a diamond

12 February 2023

God is perfect in His wisdom. He made sure and still keeps sure to heal me and keep me healed irrespective of what anyone does. He did so by giving me the antidotes at an appropriate time in relation to the time of the events that were supposed to hurt me.

Some people did everything in their capacity to emotionally break me down and they thought I would be irrecoverable. But God made sure for me to experience the antidote events first, so when those foolish people (dumbasses) would act foolishly intentionally to cause me pain, I would already have the mindset required to shed it off like water slides off a duck without affecting it.

Nothing came as a shock because God had me mentally prepared already. How wicked and evil one must be to want to put another human being in a state of shock and pain! If not dumbasses, what should these people be called!?

1. The Blood Stain

I visited my home last year on Christmas. I took a bath there at night and afterwards saw a bloody impression resembling that of a tiny insect on my yellow G-String's inner surface. I wasn't having my period but still had that blood impression. I didn't find anything solid though when I removed the lingerie and neither did I find anything when I cleaned my genitalia during bathing but that thing had definitely gone in and out or perhaps was stuck in the middle for a while leaving that blood stain. It caused me an open wound.

2. The Water Bath

Vision (Jan 2023): I saw Death Conqueror standing dressed in the black attire of 'Mom's Milk' vision and he got drenched in water as a huge amount fell over his whole body from above. He was looking upwards and enjoying the water bath moving his head slowly as it fell over him locally. Around that time I used to listen to the song 'Paaniyon sa' a lot.

3. Naked and Oscillating

This happened a few times.
Vision (Room D1, Past Two Months): I sat on my chair in PG and could feel something tiny oscillating inside the near-end of my tube. At the same time, I saw the vision of a naked short-heighted man standing right in front of me and oscillating his ass back and forth while he was bent forward by some amount! And he did it continuously for a while.

I would have this vision at the times I felt whatever tiny instrument was inside me moving in an oscillatory manner. And it made me a part of his act.

Page 181. My Roommate is Next

Dream-Vision (Room D1, Early Morning): I saw myself telling my roommate that she was next in line after me!

17:59
She has to make godly choices and decisions and discern who is pulling her into wickedness and sin and who is up to opening her eyes to the reality of the system and wants her to be saved and turn to God.

23:52
They may target her afterwards or she may be the next woman.

Page 182. The Day Everyone Looked the Same

12 February 2023
15:27
Somewhere within the past week, I went to the tea vendor outside Gate No. 4 with my colleagues Pooja and Rakhi in the evening. It was before I had gotten my teeth whitened.

Suddenly I had a perspective shift and saw everyone as the same. Everyone around me looked the same to me when I looked around at the people passing by. Though there were individual differences, they did not stand out enough to make a distinction. It was much like the situation when you visit a racially new place and everyone looks the same to you for a few days until you have adjusted to identifying individual differences in people. But in my case, everyone looked the same to me that day regardless of their colour. I shared the same with my colleagues and told them how I was seeing things at that moment.

Besides the desensitization to outer looks, I felt the reality of the bodies around me as being illusionary prison suits seep in. Though I looked at people, I knew that I wasn't looking at them but their shells.

They moved around me and looked at how they were SO oblivious to the reality of things and were fully engrossed in the illusionary earthly life which in reality is a complete sham.

I loved this song the first time I listened to it 8-10 years back in MSc, and most people with whom I shared it with love it too. The singers represent me and Death Conqueror.

When the night is still
And the sea is calm
Lonely shadow, you call upon me
Lay by my side
Fear not tonight
Lonely shadow, you'll find a new light

Dream a dream
And see through angel's eyes
A place where we can fly away
Ride with me upon a shining star
Above the moonlit sky
We will find Elysium

Hear the nightingale
Sing a lullaby
Lonely shadow, you'll find a new light
Dawn will be kind
All will be bright
Lonely shadow, rise from the darkness

Dream a dream
And see through angel's eyes
A place where we can fly away
Ride with me upon a shining star
Above the moonlit sky once more
We'll dream a dream
And see through angel's eyes
A place where we can fly away
We'll dream a dream
And see through angel's eyes
A place where we can fly away
In Elysium

Page 184. The Wall

23:35

A day before yesterday I happened to talk with a newcomer (apparently) named Deepak (a doppelganger) in my lab at the workplace and he asked me about my definition of an illusion. I told him that illusion is when one puts a wall in front of the truth. And while I said it, what accompanied it was the part of the dream where Glory was split in two personas and talking to me. The one talking to me looked dusty, puffed up and was dressed in a thin grey sleeveless shirt with an inverted cap on his head, while the one who stood behind the dusty Glory was thinner, and dressed in a black sweater and wasn't dusty but was well groomed. I recalled that as an e.g. of an illusion when I answered Deepak.

As he now started talking further about the wall that gave rise to the illusion, I was reminded of the cement wall I had seen towards the end of the 'The Finish Line and The Wall' dream on Page 153. It somehow seemed to be connected to what we were talking about though I wasn't expecting it to be so. The wall hadn't made any sense to me in the dream but I was waiting for further revelation.

The pages will progress like a mystery novel, where with each passing day, a new revelation related to the previous ones unfolds and everything starts to come together.

Page 185. Being One in Flesh and The Trap

13 February 2023
00:15

Vision (A-17/B - Mid 2021): I saw the top view of me and Glory lying naked on our sides in the act of sex in open space (being one in flesh). A huge open mouth of a black serpent (devil) then appeared below us as we slowly approached it in the same pose.

The human house body is the devil's trap.

Page 186. The Golden Ganesh

13 February 2023
07:28
I had this vision when I was in Room D4. I was on my bed and I saw the following.

Vision (Room D4, Late 2021/Early 2022): A golden Ganesh high at the top of the vision that emitting immense golden bright light.

The vision didn't make any sense to me when I first had it as it pertains to a Hindu false God. But I've understood the context now. The bullies named me Ganesh because of my protruding belly (which is not as protruding now as it was before). Ganesh is known for his huge belly and elephant nose. So they named me that.

But even if they did, and even if I symbolically look similar, I am still shining in bright golden light according to God and am lifted high in His eyes.

Page 187. With God No Place is New

07:37
Within the past week I happened to think about how I now didn't feel as excited about how a place looked, or I didn't even feel the excitement of going to a spontaneously chosen place because the only thing that mattered to me was God's presence, and without it no place would be good enough.

He is the creator, and what joy is a created thing without Him being a part of it.

Sure if He leads me to set out to go an unknown place that I don't already know of, it wouldn't be about the place but Him and moving according to His nudges as He leads me.

189. Songs This Morning

13 February 2023
07:52

I had just woken up from sleep early morning before 6 am and laid in my bed being still in a bit of haze. And as I did I heard the following song lyric being played in the Spirit

1. 'Saathiya Ye Tune Kya Kiya'

And when I was brushing my teeth, I heard the following lyrics being highlighted and played:

2. Apka Dil Humare Paas Hai

'Kya Apko Ehsas Hai
Baat Sabse Yhi Khaas Hai
Apka Dil Hmare Paas Hai
Humara Dil Apke Paas Hai

Apka Dil Hmare Paas Hai
Humara Dil Apke Paas Hai

And they repeated for a while.

I had heard these lyrics first when I had just returned from making rounds around my PG one night during the last winter and was standing near the lift looking upwards praying to God to not make me look like a fool as I was going round and round and didn't find outside what He had shown me.

Page190. Hugging and Kissing Jesus

08:01

Yesterday, as I was sitting on my chair doing something, I was thinking about Jesus. I then felt a sudden intimacy with Him that I hadn't felt before and it came along with the vision and feeling of holding Him tightly. And it felt so good, relaxing, intimate, and healing. I felt as if I could stay in that pose forever and I have been often praying to God that I was willing to walk in His will as long as He holds me close.

I had also been praying for Him to not turn His face away from me should I fall short of the standard of righteousness that I was expected to meet. I prayed for grace and for His continual love in all my situations and the ones that were to come.

And yesterday I finally had this intimate experience with Him. It just fills my heart and then I couldn't stop kissing Him as well, and while I did it reminded me of the vision of 'Orange Butterfly on a Ball of White Light'.

And I had it again at night as I was sitting on my bed thinking about Him.

It also made me realize the importance of these experiences as they are the ones that will keep my lamp full with the oil of the Holy Spirit when I would be in my low moments and would face difficult times ahead. During those times, I will look back at my bond with God which has now grown more intimate and therefore would be able to fare well.

Page 191. The Dress Affair

Again, this dream is an analogous representation of a situation with someone else (Death Conqueror and my roommate). Like the dream of me fornicating with my roommate also represents an analogous reality.

Dream (Room D1, Past week): I found myself standing outside my wardrobe searching for something to wear. I chose a cream and light green colored dress with an inverted-dome back and wide spaces over the shoulders. The vision then shifted to me being shown as a third person from a good height above the room. I was walking around the room with a bent back and the inverted dome could be seen clearly. I walked straight and then took a right and came across my dad who was getting ready to button up his long white kurta while already wearing a full mannequin suit inside with his dark face standing out. I ignored him and kept walking.

Page 192. If I've a Man's Skin, The Bully's a Woman's.

12:09

That's all I can say looking at the 'Two Hands Clasping' revelation (#6 on Page 100) which hadn't made sense to me at first!

And also once when I was half-asleep I heard a female's voice calling out my name 'Kartika' and it woke me up fully. As I woke up abruptly, I heard the sound of a car's horn.

I have heard a female's voice calling my name previously as well!

Is it satanic? No. One has got to understand what is being said. They called me a man because of some of my physical attributes of more than usual body hair. But then their physical attributes qualify for comparison with a woman's if they have too less natural body hair.

Page 193. The Sound of Bolt

20:26

I was still staying in Room D4 when I was resting on my side of the bed one night. The balcony of the home I visited last year used to be easily visible from the room's window pane during daylight. But it was night and my room's lights were turned off as well. The only light present was that coming out from the burning candle in the House of the Lord.

I laid quietly on the bed. And then I saw the vision of a brownish penis at some distance in the direction of the balcony to my left. The next moment the vision was gone and it wasn't long before I felt that penis inside of me that I heard the sharp sound of a bolt that came from the balcony.

194. The Gush of Blood

20:50

Again, it was a psychosomatic experience that I had when I was in Room D4 and the light settings were similar to the revelation on the previous page.

My heartbeat rose abruptly and I felt the thick flow of blood gushing through my heart and observed it as it further increased.

195. I'm Already There

13 February 2023
21:03

I heard these lyrics a few times by far in the spirit. (I knew that the lyrics also pertained to God telling me He was already here.)

I'm already there
Take a look around
I'm the sunshine in your hair
I'm the shadow on the ground
I'm the whisper in the wind
I'm your imaginary friend
And I know I'm in your prayers
Oh, I'm already there

I'm already there
Don't make a sound
I'm the beat in your heart
I'm the moonlight shinning down
I'm the whisper in the wind
And I'll be there 'til the end
Can you feel the love that we share?

This song has been playing in my spirit intermittently since last year. But it was highlighted more prominently during the past week. It reminded me of the dream as well where I was stepping downstairs with Glory with our shoulders and feet aligned together as I flashed phone's light ahead.

Kandho Se Milte Hai Kandhe {When our shoulders are aligned together}
Kadmo Se Kadam Milte Hai {and feet move in synchrony too}

Page 203. Zombies Want to Eat Brains

15 February 2023
01:45
Shadow Revelation
Dream (Early/Mid 2022): In this dream, I saw myself having a lot of unnecessary strife with some people staying in my PG. hey were behaving with intentional rudeness and therefore created a negative environment around. I then saw Kunal, one of the three PG owners, sitting on platformed floor at the front in the centre with others girls around him. He was represented as the king of the PG as he wore a 1-2 inches high King's crown while dressed in full holy white clothes. He was smiling as he looked around, but his smile showed that he could hurt you or order others to hurt you if you called out what was wrong and behaved in a righteous independent manner.

Someone around passed a mean comment and the king was still smiling. Someone then told me to do something for them in a condescending manner implying that I was their servant. It enraged me internally and I told them with a straight face and tone that being a leader or king meant one needed to be extra humble and not go around showing bossiness. Though the king was still smiling, but his smile was shrewd and he was definitely pissed. I could sense danger in the environment and therefore wanted to leave the place.

I started moving and found Glory with me too. We both were moving quickly to move out of the place when someone stabbed Glory on his belly's side. I was now supporting him and we both were still on our way out with the bloodthirsty gang behind us when we took a turn and encountered a cloth wall in front on which was written something in a scary cryptic Zombie language and the commentary that was said out at that moment in the dream was related to eating brains.

Page 204. A Pair of Birds

14:41

Earlier during the first two months of the year 2022, as I stepped out on my PG's roof, I saw a pair of bird flying close together in my direction and away they flew. I knew that the event came with a spiritual significance.

The Holy Spirit has been highlighting the event to me for about a week now.

(Let the one who has ears to hear, hear the message).

After a whileI got to know about her tournament, I started hearing the opening theme of the TV series 'Slam Dunk' that I was a huge fan of during my middle and high school days. It was being played with such an intensity that I had to listen to it. I'm attaching the version with English subtitles.

The lyrics told about someone's heart state.

Page 210. Their Tests Reflect Their Own Blindness

18:45

I don't indulge in fornication, and I don't feel like doing so either because I find the thought of fornicating with someone I don't already love sickening.

Now God has already revealed to me some snippets from the bunch of things that are to come. Then why would I be foolish enough to go for something or someone other than them!? If God had chosen different people to be a part of my life, I would've waited for them while withholding myself from others that came along.

But I find these bad tests coming along my way that are meant to test my response to them. Like I saw a tall guy dressed modestly pass me by in the morning and he was covertly showing his classical singing skills. I never saw him before in the dept like many others who keep showing up. Now why would I see him as a prospect when he is not chosen by God for me. I know how to keep my heart guarded.

Their test is based on the premise that I would be willing to go outside of God's will which is a tame assumption.

A good test would be if the person whom God has chosen for me shows up in a not-so-good manner or say showing himself up in an unwelcoming way. Would I still go ahead and accept God's will for me - that kind of test would make logical sense.

And if they don't want to be with me because of one or other reason, it's up to them as well. But I also know that the word of God is true and sharp. If He can give you something, He can also take it away and He has every authority to do so. So I will accept it if someone chooses to walk away from me as long as they themselves are in the hand of God and safe on their way to heaven.

They themselves have to come across me like a normal person and not like a game player.

I am happy with God and happy for them too if God has them as He has me.

Kyu Koi Kaatil Samajhta Nahin {Why does No murderer understand}
Ye Jurm Vo Hai Jo Chupta Nahin {This is a sin that can't be hidden} Ye Daag Vo Hai Jo Mit ta Nhi {This is a stain that doesn't get removed} Rehta Hai Khooni Ke Hath Par {It stays on the murderer's hand}

Though one may hide one's sins from the eyes of the people, nothing is hidden from the eyes of God. And the only way to completely blot out one's sins is through the blood of Jesus Christ and by truly repenting with whole heart.

Page 214. A Crying Death Conqueror

17 February 2023

The vision on Page 115, where a teenage chubby-looking Death Conqueror was crying with an open mouth as he laid naked in front of a taller naked woman with his back towards her, keeps getting highlighted to me.

Perhaps he's over the crying phase now which is good.

Page 215. Isme Wafaao Ka Rang Hai, Bewafaai Bhi Hai (It Has the Color of Faithfulless, Has (the Sting of) Unfaithfulness Too)

17 February 2023

Isme Wafaao Ka Rang Hai, Bewafaai Bhi Hai (It (Love) has the colors of faithfulness, it has unfaithfulness as well - referring to the guilty party because God is never unfaithful.)

This stanza was played in my spirit a few times during the past few months. And it reminded me of how Israel went astray from God despite His faithfulness and unchanging nature.

In this song, though there are two couples dancing, both the guys love the same short-haired girl but the long-haired girl is chosen for the taller guy because of her family background.

Page 216. The King In The Sky; My Uniforms

01:18

Vision (Room D1, Early/Mid 2022): I saw the huge face of Jesus in the sky from the same level as Him as he was smiling forward. He wore a few inches high cylindrical King's crown and had a red and white thick fur cloth wrapped around his neck. The face partially resembled that of Glory - God-given revelation.

Then, many months later I saw Death Conqueror sitting on a king's throne in Blue & White.
(It seems to be that it was because Glory didn't show up directly in an outgoing and recognizable manner.)

Though I once happened to see a short-heighted bearded guy in the street nearby as he got down from his car and looked at me as if he knew me, and it seemed that he was looking forward to interacting as he took a few steps in my direction, I couldn't make sense of why this stranger was behaving like that. H had caught my attention because of the loud voice I heard on the silent street, that of a car's door being shut. That guy stood outside the boxy white car for a while walked in my direction looking at me and then turned and started walking in the opposite direction because of no response from my side. He was dressed in black and green with a thick green jacket on the top. Later on, it hit me if it was Death Conqueror and if that's why he was looking at me expectantly.

My Uniforms

Now my God-assigned uniform also happens to be Blue and White as communicated by my role as Saber who was a fighter given as a servant to Shirou. Likewise I am God's servant in Blue & White given as a servant to Glory, also to protect him in a similar way Saber did Shirou.

My other uniforms consist of Orange & Black (the Viceroy butterfly hovering on God):

Pink & Blue (the fairy who picked up God's child standing alone on road)

Blue and White (Saber who was given as a servant to Shirou to protect him)

Saber is known to eat a lot and loves to eat burgers which is in compliance with my own traits and the presence of burgers and Limcas on the table in 'The Courting Phase' revelation. Also, Glory was wearing blue and white in the stepping-down-from-the-stairs revelation.

Green and Black (the butterfly flying towards Glory)

Black & Yellow (The Bride from Kill Bill)

Pink & Yellow (Eugene & Rapunzel: The Healing Assignment)

Black (Neo & Trinity from 'The Awkward Grabbing' and 'Beheading' revelations)

The Tree (The Tree who's Amy and other revelations)

I named the tree "2K's". Though I had the corresponding revelatory visions back between Oct 2021 - Mar 2022, I happened to make this tree when I was asked to draw my research model's diagram somewhere in the middle of 2022. Looking at some of the strokes, I realized that the tree actually had an expression that resembled a smiling face. So I accentuated those strokes and completed this piece of art. This can be counted as the confirmatory physical manifestation of the visions, like the prophetic symbol on the wall of Room D4 was a confirmatory physical manifestation of the wedding proposal event from a prophetic dream that I previously wrote about on Page 93.

Page 217. Dil Diye Bina Hi Tutt Gaye (Without Being Exchanged, the Hearts Were Broken)

I sat down to pray and these lyrics kept playing in my Spirit. And I've heard them many times previously as well. They reflect a person's thoughts. But God's Word holds true - the revelations regarding the 'things to come' that He's shown me will definitely come to pass. Though the lyrics don't match exactly with the song, these are what I heard being sun in the same melody.

The Song With the Edited Lyrics (Post from FB):

23 October 2021 ·

I was recently learning this song on keyboard (using my laptop as one). I just wanted to share the edited lyrics as they praise our Father God.

💜💛💙💚❤️

This Song goes by the name of 'Song of Animaria' .

"Each day when the sun rises, I hurry from my sleep,
I can't wait to greet you with my song.
You made every kind of flower, every animal I meet,
You are Father full of grace and majesty.
From your skies, the snow gently falls to the earth,
From your tress the birds nest and play.
From your oceans the fish school and travel the world,
Oh, Father, please don't ever look away.
Each day when the sun rises, I hurry from my sleep,
I can't wait to greet you with my song.
You made every kind of flower, every animal I meet,
Father you are grace and majesty."

Vision (Room D1, Mid-2022): I was asleep in the morning for real and as I turned to my right I had an immediate vision of the naked upper half of Glory lying on his left side there being already awake and facing me as he brought my head closer to him using his right hand and kissed me. It was a quite unexpected vision like the other ones.

I think that's how he's supposed to wake me up!!!

So this guy feels the vibes of this song intermittently.

Page 230. The School, The Clinic, and the Slaughtered Belly

18 February 2023
23:01
I had this dream before my dad had even had the idea of using his property to open a pre-school.

Dream (Room D4, Late 2021/Early 2022): In this dream, I saw my tending to some little children and some females as they left the building. After he had seen them off, he went downstairs to what looked like a clinic through an opening in the wall of that building that led way into that clinic.

At some distance from the door laid a clinic bed on which was lying a body with a slaughtered belly and the insides of the belly were being shown to be greenish in color and bulging out implying that the body had been lying there for long.

The next scene had my dad seeing the children and the ladies off again before entering that clinic with the body on the bed.

Throughout this dream, he wore a white doctor's coat and was smiling as he entered the clinic.

Page 231. My Dad Visited Us to Give Money

Dream (Room D4, Late 2021/Early 2022): In this dream, I saw my dad together with me in a room and he was counting some cash (a lot actually as it looked) and he gave it to me and then left. I had that white packet in my hand and went to the balcony where I saw Glory cycling hard while smiling. I told him in a low and sweet tone that my dad had visited us to give (gift) us that money.

I thank God for His timely expressions of Love that have kept my emotional heart beating and led me to not go numb to the beautiful things that a healthy heart loves, or else I would have been completely dead on the inside by now had I gone through the same without God.

I have heard these lyrics many times over the period of the past couple of months.

But at that time I wasn't recording everything that I heard or saw. I only wrote the revelations that were to be fulfilled.

But now I am writing and keeping a record of 'all' revelations - not just the events but descriptive songs as well.

Video:

19 February 2023

Day before yesterday, before leaving for work, I sat to have communion with a mug of protein milk and a Bun. Just before the moment I was about to start having it, I had this vision:

Vision (Room D1, Morning): I saw the vision of my hands rushing with a jerk to start having my communion.

Page 241. Jesus Wanted Me to Have a Burger

19 February 2023

day before yesterday, when I was having my afternoon walk, I felt a prompting to go to the canteen outside the university canteen and have a burger from there. I was skeptical of doing so because I had neither worked for a month or more now nor had I been food fasting, though I had been fasting in the sense that I wasn't consuming the daily needed amount.

Towards the end of my walk, I went to my dept and throughout my walk, I kept feeling prompted to go and have a burger. As I was approaching to enter the glass door of the multistorey building, I now felt the prompting with an increased intensity which was now accompanied by the vision of him pulling my left hand with both his hands from behind in the direction of the path to that canteen. It looked like he was pulling me with all his might (strongest prompting) and I was now confirmed that I did have to go and eat that burger without having to worry about other things.

So I went and enjoyed my burger with a small drink of Limca and it reminded me of the table with burgers and small Limca bottles in the dream of 'The Courting Phase'.

Page 242. A Fully-Clothed Fat Infant (Born Again)

19 February 2023
18:48

Vision (Around half an hour back): I saw a close vision of a very innocent-looking fat infant this time fully clothed in white with its upper lip bulging out as it looked at the woman (me) holding it. Even his head was wrapped in white. As I observed the infant's fair and fat face, I noticed that the features resembled that of Death Conqueror's. The woman had her hair tied low at the back. The vision's line of view was to its slight left as he kept looking innocently at the woman holding him and lifted himself a little upwards and dropped a kiss at the woman.

{My understanding of the vision: He no longer was the naked demonized infant. He had been born again.}

Page 243. Pure Tears From the Heart

Vision (Within the Past Half an Hour): Soon after the infant vision I saw an inverted flat heart-shaped pearl stone, gold plated around its edges, slowly fall down in a dark background, and after a few seconds, many such flat heart gold-plated pearl tears followed as they fell vertically downwards.

I've been watching you for some time
Can't stop staring at those ocean eyes
Burning cities and napalm skies
15 flares inside those ocean eyes
Your ocean eyes

No fair

You really know how to make me cry
When you give me those ocean eyes
I'm scared

I've never fallen from quite this high
Falling into your ocean eyes

I've been walking through a world gone blind
Can't stop thinking of your diamond mind

Lyrics:
I see only you in my eyes..
..since the day we met. – now and forever –
As long as you're beside me,
I don't need anything else.
Dream's high tension.

Since it seemed to please you…
I decided not to use make-up anymore.

I'm always carrying a pager everywhere
I go, so you can find me at any time.

I know a lot more about cars.
And I'll work on my cooking some more.

I'm still a little hesitant but
I'm set on following you for all my life

I see only you in my eyes.
I'm waiting alone in our room.

Your smile is like a rose colored chain.

Charge! The girl who likes to dream but has no dreams!

The hero in this movie is a thief who is being sung about as being the lucky lucky person.

And so it is the case with Death Conqueror (because He'll get to witness the direct supernatural hand of God).

Waiting For Manifestation

In one of the past visions that I have already written about, I saw Jesus rushing toward me from my left with a bouquet of lavender-colored roses (flowers) in His hands as He was smiling. He had a wheatish complexion and shoulder-length hair and was dressed in full white with a white half jacket on top. Now, this is His own peculiar Holy dressing sense, and it doesn't mean that others have to copy His looks, but He set an e.g. of how you approach someone whom you love and are pleased with.

But I didn't write that, in that representation of Jesus, His features resembled that of Glory's. I think the Holy Spirit gave a helpful revelation about the way he will (should) be approaching me in a godly manner.

And it makes a lot of sense as well, because why would God give His daughter to an ungodly man who doesn't know how to confront His beloved child and only knows to play covert games.

In all the revelations God gave me, there was no indirect communication. And I am very much in agreement with His ways. One shouldn't try to control the actions of another person by playing a game of one or another kind.

Sometimes, people don't have to go out of their or anyone else's way to achieve something. But they just have to do things the right way.

(and The Just Response)

God's just response to their actions:

God promised Glory to me and confirmed the wedding proposal as the prophetic symbol in Room D4. For Glory to look at symbol and understand what it is would be an indirect communication of God's Will for his and my life (though not for a long duration).

Glory always took indirect steps, so did God have me make that symbol as a prophetic marker in time; but it served multiple purposes.

If Death Conqueror once put a crown on the head of a standing cat and communicated it indirectly, God gave me a similar revelation (of the crowned guy in Blue and White) and it was communicated indirectly.

God gives them responses in the same manner they act towards me!

If I suffered, they did too, in their own way.

On the other hand, Jesus pulls my hand with both His hands to take me to eat have a burger in His presence - and that's because I am very much direct with Him. I don't play indirect games with Him. If I'm happy, I give Him a hug. And when I'm happy, He by himself initiates a gentle duet with me where I hold his hand dance with Him. I have different experiences with Jesus because I go to Him and say things directly and so does He.

Though I know that I am at His mercy for He is in control of everything, and He knows His Godly position, we have a direct bond that He made possible. He is not shy. Nor is he unjust. He's so perfect. The Perfect God.

Page 250. My Strengthening Bond With My (Step) Mom

15:57

When I had the revelation of me leaving in a spaceship (rocket) with my mom, I wasn’t talking to her much and perhaps hadn't talked to her for many months except for a few times here and there and that too must have been an unwilling venture from my end because I hardly shared a good and empathetic bond with her.

But as time has progressed and the relationships in my life have evolved, I see my bond with my mom getting stronger every day as we talk more than twice on an average during a span of 24 hours. She understands me and I her. She doesn't get angry with me quickly but enjoys my company and listens to me patiently.

Even when I don't do things according to her way, she still is patient with me and her new behavior seems to be sprouting out of LOVE!

This is in the progression of the spaceship dream - metaphoric of her getting saved and leaving Earth with me before the serpents attack the Earth.

That's how the fruit develops over time as God works in our lives.

When more of what I've written manifests, more people will turn to God as they see His ways and direct Hand working through His Spirit in my life.

1. I started to use tissues to clean my nose. (Previously I used to blow it directly in the basin and wash hands afterwards).
2. I bought a pedicure/manicure kit and started using it.
3. I stopped eating three times like I was doing previously.
4. I lost around 20 kgs of weight since 2021.
5. I started getting my back and belly waxed as well (which I didn't usually do previously.)
6. I replaced my boy-shorts panties with bikinis.
7. I started painting my hands and toenails.
8. I bought skincare products that I didn't previously use.
9. I bought a pair of stilettoes as well (because of God-given revelation and not because of my own preference).
10. I bought most of the necessary makeup-related stuff.
11. I bought Holy Clothing as well (Kurtas for summers that I didn't usually previously prefer to wear as I liked t-shirts more)
12. I got my hair straightened.
13. I learned medium-level makeup skills.
14. I added a spatula to my nose-cleaning routine.
15. I got nail extensions as well and have been faring well with them on so far doing most of the things I used to do previously.
16. I try to wake up early now and I do if I've slept in time, or else I sleep more accordingly.

I have to easily lose 5 or more kgs now according to the body shape God showed me I have to achieve. I have to buy few more material things now to complete the 'revelation' bag (2 sets of holy clothing highlighted to me and a hair straightener).

Vision (Mid-2022): I saw Jesus walking above the sight of the vision and He was very huge in size. I saw the bottom of the brown slippers on His foot being placed on a transparent wall present between us.

It also shows who He is in actuality though He is humble and patient.

Though I've danced with Jesus, I've also seen His foot.

Page 253. Why Some Unexpected Revelations

21:30

One may ask that why would He give me such a revelation. And now I've understood why He gave me many such unexpected revelations! It was to counteract the negative statements and hurtful scenarios that different people would be making and orchestrating to cause me pain.

Jesus showed me around a year back that I was a fairy who stood facing Him with arms in arms in the washroom in a flowy blue background.
It was to counteract when others would me a prostitute which they did (a doppelganger of Death Conqueror called me so).

Jesus gave me a vision of bright golden Ganesh illuminated in bright light lifted above in the air.
He did this to counteract their insult of me where they called me Ganesh because that demon god had a protruding belly and long elephant-like nose.

Jesus showed me the huge chocolaty back of his slipper on His feet as He walked above the transparent glass between us. I faced upwards as He walked above and there was hardly any distance between his slipper and my face except that of the separating screen.
He did this to counteract when Death Conqueror's and my roommate's insult of me where she put her shoe on floor showing its back to make a weird point which only their wicked mind and God know.

Jesus gave me a vision many months back where He had two golden horns on his head and He was holding the infant me up to His face level as He looked so pleased and happy.
He did this to counteract them comparing me to Maleficent - Mistress of evil - who had horns on her head. They chose that to make fun of me for being a fairy of Jesus as revealed by Him Himself.

Jesus gave me a vision where He stood fully clothed in white but a Huge penis that fell until His feet protruded out of His clothing. It was so huge that it looked like the trunk of an elephant. He did this to counteract their wicked move or something that they must have done in order to cause me pain. While Glory's people insulted me by saying that I perhaps hadn't even seen a penis, Death Conqueror's were trying to cause me pain by saying that I deserve to see a man's penis first (before any other woman because I have been withholding myself from others as I don' indulge in loveless fornication). And they made these comments knowing their history of fornication. So Jesus showed me His and it was very much objective for me to look at it. I did not sin even when I looked at it and He knew that I will not sin even in my mind when I would look at it and that's why He gave me such a revelation too! God doesn't make us sin.

In all the cases, He foresaw their future insults of me, and gave me revelations accordingly. No one ever saw His and I was the first one to see it! It was more about destroying their egos and keeping me mentally and emotionally intact because those wicked-minded people too read the revelations that I write and come up with their cheap and ungodly insults.

While they were insulting me about my relatively less sinful history, God showed them to me in their own activities. I saw Death Conqueror lying on a single bed on his back and masturbating with an unmatched speed. And then one night I saw what I wrote about in 'The Sound of Bolt' revelation on Page 193.

The revelations did not make much sense to me when I received them. But when I came across their insults many months later, it was then that the revelations came to life and I knew that God really cared for me and saw my heart and their judgments and wickedness. He gave them to me as my healing medicine. He is my Healer and Saviour (who saved me from the serpent system).

God can play their game much better than them and His wisdom is infinite.

Page 256. Judgments of People: Greedy Bitch, Half Blind Among Fully Blinds

21 February 2023
19:51
These phrases kept catching my attention in the Spirit for the past week or so. And it told me about the hearts of those people that made the judgments. Because God calls me His fairy and according to Him I know enough that I need to know as He is the one who knows everything about everything and He reveals stuff according to His wisdom. He's not entitled to tell His servants everything. But He does so in parts - in amounts that He knows are enough.

1. Lalchi Kutia (Greedy Bitch)

I didn't really understand why would this phrase be used to judge me when I did not take anything from others nor do I intend to 'grab' stuff that belongs to others. Those who play games and steal stuff judge others by their own measure and their lenses are tinted by their own persona! I would rather spend my own money on me than have someone else's! I always stressed on being financially independent! It's interesting that the real immoral ones passed this judgment on me!

2. Andho Mein Kaana Raja (Half Blind Among Fully Blinds)

I kept hearing this phrase for the past two weeks or so. And I knew that it represented the thoughts of those who think out of their way to falsely judge those they want to find faults in! I am not God that I am supposed to know everything. Nor does God has to reveal everything to me when I ask Him to. Though sometimes He answers promptly or comforts without even asking, no human on Earth can see anything unless God allows it, and He allows it in the measure He sees fit.

The song represents what they (Death Conqueror and the gang) think the city did to me. In my own eyes, it's not related to the city, but the serpent race which is of the kingdom of devil. I didn't associate my condition with the city but with the reality of the sinful system that hardly follows Godly ways.

Dream (Mid 2022): In this dream, I found myself looking down from the balcony of a home and what I witnessed was people sitting upside down in the vehicles passing by. Their head and spine were rested on the floor while their legs rested on the seats. I saw many such Rickshaws passing by with people sitting on it upside down - both men and women.

Those people looked devoid of any conscientious reasoning as they laid emotionlessly with their wickedness slightly forth in their facial expressions. I saw pairs of people sitting upside-down on rickshaws (both those that were standing still and those that passed by). The scene represented the double-downers of the system (those that have given themselves away completely to darkness).

I was resting on my bed in PG after work when I had this sudden dream-vision.

Vision (Yesterday Evening): I saw the upper half of a fat and dark (darker than me) doppelganger of Glory, dressed in a light pink shirt, with a clean empty partitioned steel plate at the front (similar to my PG's), as he pointed at it once by touching it with his right forefinger. Looked like he was asking for food.
And then the vision repeated itself with his actual face and him touching the center of the empty plate repeatedly with his right forefinger.

And then later that night, I heard the song lyric in the Spirit, "Maa Ne Phir Paani Pkaaya Der Tak" (The mother, then, cooked water for long).

Page 260. Words on My Jeans (Knee)

22 February 2023

A while back I laid my head down on the table with my eyes closed. I happened to open them slightly for a while without realizing it and noticed some lines written in translucent ink on my black jeans on top of my left knee (crossed above my right) as it was right under my eyes. My vision was blurry as I was in a state of dizziness. I read the first line and hadn't yet read the full thing when the lines dissolved away. I caught the end of the second line below though.

The first line seemed like a general statement so I have forgotten what it exactly was. But the second line ended with 'Death Glory' with one or two short lines below it that dissolved away along with the whole thing. This woke me up and stared at my now plain knee

It didn't make much sense to me, so after some minutes I started praying in tongues as that would result in praying for what's needed by default as chosen by the Spirit and it won't matter if I missed the written content.

Vision (Room D4, Late 2021/Early 2022): I was sitting on my bed in PG when I had the vision of Glory standing to my left dressed in a white kurta pajama as he did a very brief lip roll shaking his head to the sides with his eyes closed. The kind of lip roll you do when you do a vocal practice.

I sat on my chair in my PG room and had just completed watching a video by Brother Philp of Torch of Christ Ministries when I had the following vision and it confirmed to me that his ministry was indeed God-placed so I could go ahead and keep following their work.

Vision (Mid/Late 2022): I saw a torch lightening itself up abruptly with fire in a dark background.

Vision (Late 2022): I saw a distant vision in a dark background of Paras Patel (who plays Matthew in The Chosen) parking a bicycle among others already present.

I've put together the relevant parts of the song (that I heard) and edited out the rest (that glorified devil).

I noticed when I put this video up on 22nd that the girl is pretty with straight hair and thin with a flat belly whereas the guy is fluffed and looks like a teddy. And isn't this what God showed me? He instructed me to lose weight and guided me to learn some basic and medium-level beauty procedures. He gave me revelations where I was thin with straight hair whereas Glory was fluffed. I was mostly dressed in loose full-sleeved shirts in 'The Courting Phase' revelation on Page 97.

This song has the same bodily changes that God told me to bring in me. If the girl was dressed in loose holy clothes, her slim built and flat belly wouldn't have been visible to make the point. The guy however will look fluffed irrespective of what he wears so he's fully dressed. But it should be noted that he's dressed sporty.

Page 267. My Treasure In Heaven

12:05

Back in 2021 during my time in Saroj Sadan (A-17/B), I had the vision of my heavenly treasure once when I was sitting in my room.

Vision (A-17/B, 2021): I saw a brief glimpse of a space filled with what looked like golden treasure. Amidst a heap of golden coins laid other antique stuff and then there was a cuboid box to the right of the vision.

Though God already showed me my reward long back for walking in His will, I hardly thought about it. A few days back I was thinking about how I didn't really want that treasure only if I could live with God forever in His presence. And then I meet earthy people with materialistic mindsets and lenses and witness their thought process and how they think only in terms of material possessions. It makes me feel disgusted and to not be in their company.

The treasure God showed me is just for me to receive according to His good judgment. But it's not for the treasure that I work for Him. Should He punish me for some act of disobedience and inappropriate conduct according to my positioning in the body of Christ, I will accept that too because I know that it would be just as I know already that God is perfect in His judgments. So, no, I am not afraid of death nor am I in search of any earthly thing of value, except those that God reveals to me for me to have.

How foolish of those who call me greedy. Sometimes I feel that God promised earthly fools to be a part of my life but then I recall my own past when I was living in the earthly illusion. But even then I only saw worth in things of real worth and never saw someone's material worth as something that defined them.

God gave me the vision of my treasure when I used up the last few thousands in my bank account to print up copies of the Book of Luke to distribute freely. I wasn't concerned about where I would receive financial assistance from if my account went nil because I had full faith in Him that if He has called me, then He would provide for me as well!

We're called to store our treasures in Heaven where moth and rust don't destroy it, and thieves don' steal it!

Looking at my treasure now makes me think about how will I use it, or what will I do with it. Because Heaven in itself is so beautiful to look at while living in the presence of God.

Matthew 6:19-21

New International Version

Treasures in Heaven

19 "Do not store up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moths and vermin destroy, and where thieves break in and steal. 20 But store up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where moths and vermin do not destroy, and where thieves do not break in and steal. 21 For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also.

Page 268. A Winged Golden Man; They've to Learn to Look Inside.

23 February 2023

1. A Winged Golden Man

Vision (Early/Mid-2022): I saw a golden muscular being on the roof of my PG with his upper body bent low. It looked like he was stretching inwardly. His entire being was golden shiny and smooth. He had a plain hairless head and his face had no sharp features except that of a noticeable nose protrusion. His head and face were golden too. He had two golden shiny wings at his back. The vision then showed him standing straight and facing upwards with a fist raised up towards the sky. It looked like he was about to take a flight, and he did as he moved straight upwards and left the roof.

2. They've to Learn to Look Inside

Why doesn't God change my skin instantly? Because if I were perfect, then others who're supposed to be a part of my life wouldn't learn some important lessons they need to.

Why are they so weird in their conduct and not at all straightforward and godly? Because I wouldn't learn the values of patience and forgiveness if they were perfect. God forgave all sins on the cross, and so are we called to. Previously I used to start avoiding people at the first instance of ungodly behavior. If someone stared at my body or gave me enticing looks, I would make a perception and judgment of them and reject them already - because they were willing to fornicate with someone they didn't have a committed loving bond with. If someone lied and tried to be deceptive, I would never consider them as being qualified to be a part of my life. Though I didn't hate them because I didn't want hatred to take root in my heart, I used to stay away from such filth-in-character people. But with time as I learned more about God, about how strong-minded He is as He put up with a lot of sin for a long time that is reserved for judgment at the end, I learned Godly values of tolerance, patience, and trust in God despite outside circumstances. I learned forgiveness which wasn't previously easy for me. I would rather leave a person forever than put up with their ungodly conduct. But now I learned to trust God and rely on His plan and not try to live a life free of people who sin against others. It doesn't mean that I am making my life worse, but it is about following God in where He wants you to stay for the time being or for a long duration as well.

But it doesn't look as if they've learned anything though I have become more Godly. So I am happy with my own progress.

This morning I went out in my Pg's balcony to check something out and happened to stand there for a while. After I was back inside the room, I noticed in the mirror that my pendant was glowing brighter than usual this time though the room had a bit of light in it and wasn't completely dark. It usually glows noticeably when it's dark because it's a luminescence pendant. I realized that it was because of me standing in the balcony's sunlight that it had absorbed unusual amount of light that caused it to glow even during the day, though for a while. I had bought the pendant back during my time in Veera PG in the D block of Vijay Nagar, which was somewhere between Nov 2019 to Mar 2020.

Page 270. The Communing Tree; My Research Model

The Tree In Communion - The Interconnectedness of Everything

Back during the days when I hadn't yet enrolled in a Ph.D. program, I was doing a project under a prof in the dept I am currently enrolled in. I was one day sitting in the Buddha garden sensing the interconnectedness of everything, and was feeling being a part of it all. It was perhaps 2016. I happened to look at the huge old tree at the front and saw many fine sparkling lines running upwards through it and then to its branches in the air. I saw the fine silver lines starting from the soil at the surface below the tree and taking silver food upwards with them from the ground. I sensed the connection between the tree and the birds that came and sat on it and how the silver lines connected the tree to them as well. How the tree interacted with its environment and affected everything else.

The memory of that sparkling vision got stored away somewhere in my mind. Back in those days, I felt very much in tune with everything around me and moving in synchrony with an unheard symphony. I felt the interconnectedness of everything and therefore had gotten interested in the research field of Complex Systems because it seemed to hold the key to connecting everything together as we saw reality. And because of how I felt inside and saw the outside world I wanted to do research in the same as well. I wanted to dive deep into the field of complex systems as I felt it had the comprehensive truth of reality enmeshed in it.

That day I thought that perhaps it was because of my strong inclination to see the full picture that my brain came up with the vision where I 'saw' the interconnectedness of everything besides feeling and sensing it at all the other times.

Now I know and therefore can say that it wasn't my brain but it was God who gave me that vision and perhaps incited in me the mental state because of which I sensed the interconnectedness (what scientists would call 'complexity') everywhere.

My Research Model

And then at the end, I happened to work on a model related to a tree the structure of whose equations were partly revealed to me in yet another vision when I was thinking about what I already knew as a part of the old model on my way to see my brother (in IITK) with my mother in a train. He had attempted suicide the previous night because of drug-induced psychosis and depression and was hospitalized.

While we stayed with him in the hospital for a few days I worked out the equations and simulated the model and it worked. So in this manner, God gave me my PhD problem during my first few months of PhD that I had already solved within a few days. God provided me with the base, and I completed the task by working it out.

How I wish I would now complete the task of achieving a flat belly quickly. This is the year of completion. So the process should be completed during this year and I should see significant progress in my walk towards my promise.

Despite me having solved the problem in the first year itself, I have been facing difficulties in actually publishing it because of people in power at the workplace as they lack a moral work ethic and follow along the norms and vices of devil! But it's a God-given research problem. So, God will take care of it as well. Everything in my life has been given and led by God so far - the PhD problem, the promised man, and other revelations.

It was during late evening when I was lying on my bed that I had this vision.

Vision (Room D1, Mid-2022): I saw a completely white hand moving its fingers on a table with a huge ring on one of them. The hand seemed to be looking like white jelly with a soft snake-like touch though the texture wasn't that of a snake's skin, and the ring was huge with a kind of engraved stamp on it that I later understood represented a king's signet ring - a ring he uses to sign, authorize and pass orders. The hand seemed to be flaunting the ring as if that person was trying to entice the viewer.

Did Glory ever try to entice me using the modern era's version of a king's signet ring!? If he did, then shame on him.

Page 272. Sliding Inside the Chest of Jesus

26 February 2023
09:49

Yesterday late evening, I was thinking about how I have not fasted like before for two to three months. And I shared the same with my mom, that how I wanted to resume fasting and workout like I did last year but wasn't able to. I had lost more than 10 kgs within a span of 304 months as I ate very less and consumed mostly tea, milk, juices, and eggs in scrambled or omelet form.

I shared with my mom about the two times I had felt like fainting within the past few weeks though I had been eating regularly. I stood beside my supervisor at the workplace and experienced dizziness in my head and felt that I may fall if it increased. It happened one more time before this as well. For a few months, neither had I been able to fast nor to work out (except for a few times). It made me feel guilty and bad about myself as well. I told my mom that if I stopped eating, then I didn't feel like eating anything, and if I resumed eating, then I felt like eating at short intervals. And how it was affecting my overall health and weight loss journey as well. Because the cumulative effect of fasting during the last year with the constant stress related to having to deal with evildoers, while overlooking their acts and leaving it on God, was now showing up. I also shared with her about how I felt bad even if ate just one chapatti and the fact that I had been eating much more than that in a day was burdening me mentally.

I had often thought previously that if I was standing close to Jesus with my eyes closed and my head hid in his bosom, then I wouldn't feel like eating anything. That every time I felt drawn to eat, I could just look away, turn around and hug Jesus and hide my face in is bosom. And that I could do this every time I felt depressed as well. I looked at the fact that He was not a fake comfort like my roommate who listens with one ear but gossips and slanders with her mouth when with others, and that He has a genuine love for me proven by His actions and truth revelations, and His empathy is real and not affected, that He did not pretend to listen patiently while cherishing about the sufferings of others inside secretly, and neither did He insult His righteous ones after listening to them put forth their pleas and woes.

Yesterday, sas I thought about turning to Jesus and forgetting everything else with my head hid completely in Him so that I didn't see food as my comfort, I saw my head actually sliding smoothly inside His chest towards His heart through a huge vertical thick flesh slit in the middle. I felt close with Him in that moment and understood that the revelation showed me the physical metaphoric equivalent of the emotional state I was in while resting in His heart. Yeah, His heart is where I had wanted to stay close to and look at its beauty, being able to truly understand it for what it s and not being limited by my own nature.

It was a healing revelation for me.

I ate a variety of things during dinner but surprisingly didn't feel heavy, though I had eaten throughout the day previously as well. It seemed to me that God was giving me some rest after the last run before I start the next run that would complete the process and accomplish that which was spoken.

One fine day somewhere during the middle of the past year, I was listening to the Worship song 'He Will Hold Me Fast' by Shane & Shane. One of the versions is given below.

As I was listening to it, it was accompanied by the vision of me being held tightly by Jesus as I faced Him. I wore my light orange t-shirt and black jeans in that vision whereas Jesus wore a white tunic set. I saw the vision focusing on our bodies more than our faces because the song was about being held fast. I still had a substantial protruding belly (though not too ugly of a bulge) during that time of the year. So, in the vision too, I saw my bulging belly pressed against Jesus as He held me fast with His arms around the back of my waist.

The vision showed the amount of intimacy God desires with His children. I felt loved and cared for and saw how Jesus shows His love for us by revealing to us His beautiful loving self.

My Family's Second home in the Hometown and my Current PG; The Fat Homeowner's Daughter

1. My Family's Second home in the Hometown and my Current PG

Dream (Room D1, Few days back): A few days back, I had this dream where I was in the second home that I stayed in with my family in our hometown. It was a duplex and we used to stay on rent on its first floor. I always had a kinda funny interaction with the homeowners living downstairs. Well, it seemed funny to them alone because they used to pass comments whenever I used to go downstairs to go out to buy things as my mom would send me. They used to act as if they were going to snatch away the eatables (stuffed buns and ice creams) that I used to bring in, especially the homeowner's grown up obese daughter who used to tell me to give the eatables to her. She used to behave like that to tease me. She used to sing a fun song lovingly too whenever she used to see me passing by or walking on stairs. Her name was Beero. The song addressed me as the potato child and she sang it to ask me where I was coming from. They seemed to enjoy messing with me. I guess I was somewhere between 4-9 years old when I stayed in their home.

Their home was very spacious with a lot of space used up in balconies and a center hall that mostly stayed vacant on our floor. There were two balconies on the first floor. One was the size of half of my PG's room, and another that of a hall bigger in area than my PG's room half of which was covered while the rest was open. I used to play on the roof with the kids of the other family that also stayed on rent there. They two had rented a 2 BHK in that duplex like us. Though it only had two floors, the area was huge and there were lots of open spaces inside and nothing looked cluttered like it does in city homes. The flooring too was differently marbled in each area, so one didn't get bored roaming around. These were somethings that I found present in almost all the homes we stayed in there through our duration of 12-16 years of stay in that town. All homes had huge open spaces inside (covered or uncovered) and looked much less stuffed than the homes in a city unless you went inside the home of a wealthy Punjabi there, which looked expensively decorated. If people reared animals, they had a separate space for them in their homes. Two of the homes we stayed on rent had separate barns for buffaloes at the ground floor. Though people had huge houses, they preferred cleaning it by themselves except for the working wives or most of the Punjabi families. Everyone seemed content and happy with their own reality of life and any kind of immorality was criticized, unlike this place I happen to be in now.

Just a side note, in the revelation 'The Middle Man' where the fat and bald middle man was looking down walking around the right edges of the roof of a home, the roof shown was that of this home and the fat guy peeked down almost seeming like as if he may fall, because he bent to such an extent while holding himself up with his arms.

And the room in which I kept going in to see Death Conqueror in the revelation 'Time With the Short Blue-Eyed Man' was the living room of this home alone. The home in that revelation was an amalgamation of this home and our current apartment, but the room he was in was the living room of this particular home.

Anyway. Th balcony connected to both of our rooms had a swing in it which my dad had fixed there. He used to swing me high sometimes. Facing the balcony and the house's front was a square ground at a distance of 5-7 metres. The ground was filled with cattle dung and people used to throw their home's garbage there as well some of which was picked up at intervals.

When I compare that home to my PG here, the surroundings seem much similar to me. The front faces the Ganda Nala (the dirty water body extending through the city), and a street lies along the right wall of this PG. In many others dream, I saw a street lying along the right wall of that home with a gate at the entrance to the street and a shed after some distance towards the end of the street. I have a rough memory of the same though I can't exactly recall as it has been more than 16 years. But the house did have a street running parallel to its front as well just like the service lane in front of this PG that ends at a T-point (towards the market) after some distance to its right.

The fields laid at the outskirts of the town. The only problem people faced frequently was that of electricity cuts. But many had battery-operated invertors installed in their homes for the same. We too got one when I was somewhere between middle to high school.

In this dream, I found myself at the ground floor of the building and I was talking to a girl from the homeowner's family. I stood at a good 5-6 meters distance away from their barn where they kept their buffaloes and was talking to her about how the place wasn't a bad or backward place to live (but was quite inclusive and exclusive of different sins, except idolatry that was practiced by a major proportion of the small population there that was Hindu.

2. The Fat Homeowner's Daughter

The homeowner's daughter who used to mess with me in a fun way was unmarried and obese.
Vision (Within the past two months): I was reminded of how one day I saw her dressed in a red tunic set when she had returned from her in laws for a few days sometime after getting married and I couldn’t recognize her because she was now too slim.

It represents the state of a person who is being called as chikni chameli (glassy smooth Jasmine flower) here.

I think it refers to the smooth and white promised people in how they will come across me due to lack of confidence (for one) and moral inner countenance (for another).

Page 276. Innocent Eyes imprinted at Laptop Repair

23:25

This incident dates back to the year 2021 when I was staying in Saroj Sadan - the PG at the corner to mine's left.

I had gone out to get my MSI laptop repaired and the service center was far from my PG. The service center's waiting and reception area was small. I sat inside on one of the chairs along the wall to the right of the door and was engrossed in my phone. I then happened to look up to my right and saw a fat Punjabi guy dressed in child-like clothes. He looked at me and then outside and his expression told me that he was full of confusion as he stood there awaiting my response to seeing him. I thought why would he do that and as I don't know this guy and how was he expecting me to act? I got engrossed in my phone again. I then happened to look slightly to my right again and saw a man's ass within a few inches of distance and it caught me by surprise. I took a look at him from down to up a few times out of curiosity and also because he was standing in my personal space. He wore a red sporty t-shirt and blue shorts. When the guy saw that he had my attention, he started swinging his ass along the sides from left to right, right in front of my eyes, while twisting his left-hand fingers to make a sound in rhythm to the ass swinging. When I saw this, I understood that the guy was there for a purpose and had stood there in front of me intentionally. I ignored the ass-swinging and started focusing on my phone.

The guy kept standing there and started to now (pretend to) talk to that other Punjabi guy. I looked at the guy again, this time focusing on his face. He wore a sky-blue disposable mask so only his eyes were visible. I looked at him for a while and figured that he looked somewhat like Glory. He picked up my act of looking at him as his expression suddenly changed and his attention was now fully divided. After looking at him for a while, I started focusing on my phone again. By that time, God had already shown me the vision of His promise of Glory to me, though I had no idea how it was supposed to unfold as I was new in my walk with God and was much more boundaried when it came to interacting with others than I am now.

I hadn't received any further revelations regarding the promise by that time besides the vision of the upper halves of me and Glory standing facing each other dressed in bridal clothes (a white dress for me and a black suit for him). In the vision, I wore a crown on my head that turned to a crown of thorns. That was the only revelation I had related to him at that moment.

Glory then moved from this place beside me and now stood in front of me near the reception desk a few meters away, facing to my left. Though I was indulged in my phone, I was aware of his presence as well. I observed him for a while, his actions and clothing. He held a huge old-looking and slightly rugged synthetic leather laptop bag in the hand that was in front of me. He wore black shoes with a few white wavy stripes. I could tell that this look didn't represent the real him but he had affected that look according to me. He then turned his face to his left in my direction looking straight ahead, his line of sight being parallel to the ground and not down towards me. I was watching him when he did so and found his eyes as being too innocent as he blinked slowly once (like an innocent child). They got imprinted on me.

(But then in yet another vision here in this room past year, I saw a close-up view of his face as he spat on my face with a hateful expression.)

And then I think how can someone look at the eyes of a wicked person and be a party in their wicked thought process - like my roommate does!

After they had stood there for a while, they started to move to leave. As they were leaving, I saw Glory looking once in my eyes while leaving as if he had something to say. I let him go. There was a doppelganger of Death Conqueror who dropped there for a while as well. He was dressed in baggy army clothes. But he looked so fake and gave a weird uneasy aura. It was so easy to guess just at the first look that the guy wasn't there for a real reason. He gave a very low grade feeling, not because of the clothes and looks but his inner self seeping out - everything fake and affected.

When I looked at Glory, I saw someone who was real though his outward appearance may have been affected. Though his looks weren't his real self, but his inner real persona was emitting out. That day, I saw a person with a strong inner self.

Page 277. Jesus is the Ideal Model

04:03

How Jesus behaved in His human form with me by far is a model for Glory to follow. He is supposed to hold me fast like the revelation I had with the worship song 'He Will Hold Me Fast'. And I had this revelation with Jesus during the mid of last year. But Glory is not doing so. And that's why I happened to eat all my chocolates yesterday despite having a meal despite having communion snacks before.

That he wasn't modeling Jesus where He held me fast though I still had a belly, it doesn't make me feel good and I end up eating as a response. Jesus held me fast to boost my morale to continue the journey ahead of weight loss and following Him. God loved us and gave Himself up for us while we were still sinners so that His love transforms us. The same is supposed to play out in our lives as well.

I know that I will transform in my body shape but the process has to be sustained by an intermittent display of love which will help me to not lose morale. God doesn't let so happen but eventually, Glory has to step in and fulfill his part. I have been on a halt for long now - more than two months since I carried out a regular fasting and workout routine and it is showing up as a slight heaviness I feel in my body now. Though God gave me rest and a break, Glory has to do his part as well.

I don't know why is he not modeling Jesus when I have been trying to model how Jesus revealed for me to change though at first, it seemed out of my character to me.

If he doesn't step in I will have to continue ahead despite my inner weariness and it's going to be tougher for me. I will complete the process nevertheless.

Soldier Soldier; Soldiers - Word By Adele

1. Soldier Soldier

The soldier in the song video resembles me to some extent because of his short hair style that I once had in the past and will be having again somewhere in future. I had the same hairstyle in the revelations 'The Tree Top' and 'The Full Tree'. The soldier represents me who is going to leave the system as she collects hearts and souls and keeps doing so even after leaving the system.

Lyrics:

Oh..
In this manner, by locking eyes (with me),
by performing magical acts,
by giving (me) heartache,
by roaming up close around (me)..

Soldier
Soldier
by saying out sweet words,
stole my heart away..

Soldier
Soldier
by saying out sweet words,
stole my heart away..

Oh..
In this manner, by locking eyes (with you),
by performing magical acts,
by giving (you) heartache,
by roaming up close around (you)..

Soldier
Soldier
by saying out sweet words,
flew your heart away..

Prophetic Word & Vision Soldiers.mp4

God said: "Speak these words to the weary souls:

I am coming soon My children. Do not lose heart. Do not lose your strength. Do not lose your ability to stand and fight. Look! The enemy has overrun you. The enemy has trampled you. The enemy has injured you and at times, defeated you. I know you long for respite. I know you long for peace. But how can there be peace during a time of war? Are you not in a spiritual battle between good and evil? How then can there be peace between good and evil? Does not peace come after one or the other wins? You are fighting the good fight of faith until I return.

Until I return with My angel armies and overthrow all that is evil. Until that day, are you not My soldiers, My warriors that hold the battle lines against all that is evil? If you keep walking around defeated, will you not continue to be defeated? Do you not realise this is the plan of the enemy, to wear you down, battle after battle so that you lose your morale? As when you lose your morale, you lose your will to fight and then you become weak, depressed and downcast. The enemy then pushes you back, gaining more territory in the world, for you give up.

You give up praying, you give up worshipping, you give up praising Me, you give up binding up each other's wounds, you give up all hope for deliverance and rescue. Does this not have to do with your mindset during battle? You focus on the strain, the pain the hardship of the battle rather than looking at the glorious opportunity of pushing back the darkness, of gaining ground on the enemy. Of making the enemy shake and tremble in fear because you push forward with all your might, energy and enthusiasm. As you understand there are wounds and injuries in battle, however the sweetness of victory makes it all worth it.
The opportunity to turn some of the enemy's opponents to join your side. The opportunity to fight for those who cannot fight for themselves. Do not be weak. Do not be downcast. Lift your eyes and see, you already have the victory in Me. So go out and fight My precious ones. Be not afraid of the enemy for what can he do to you? This life is temporary, and I watch over your soul.

I do not leave you alone to fight. I am with you and you receive angelic assistance to help you push back darkness. If you need refreshment, come drink of Me and eat of Me for My flesh is real food, and My blood is real drink. Partake of Me and you will find refreshment for your souls. I am proud of you for not giving up the fight even if you at times feel to do so.

Arise My precious ones, arise! Continue the fight while it is still day. Push back the darkness through prayer, worship and praise. Gain your strength through intimacy with Me. Receive My encouragement in our quiet times together. Still your heart and mind so you can hear Me speak. I am coming back for you. Do not lose heart. I love you My precious ones."

My Roommate in a Cream Green Ethnic Set; The Guy Who Resembles Glory and The E-Rickshaw; The Moustached Man and The Smart Cement Workers; The Wheeled Baby Carriers and the Smart Cement Workers; Locking the door - Left or the Centre?; My Roommate's Ass and The Short-Haired Fair Lady; The Interaction With Mehek (Fragrance) - The Girl Below

08:48

Dream (This Morning, 6-8am):

1. My roommate in a Cream and Green Ethnic Set

In this dream, I saw my roommate dressed in a solid thick cream ethnic dress with green leaf-like structures embroidered on it. The dress had an outer meshy and shiny fabric look all over it. The dress top had the lower half of an asymmetrical hexagon (wider at the top) as its neck design, and had 3/4th sleeves. The lower was wide-legged giving it an exceptional look, and because the dress material was thick and heavy, the lower retained its shape. She was roaming inside the room in it with her hair open.

I went to her side of the room to use the washroom and saw a bedding made on the floor in the way between the sofa and her bed with her pink bedsheet spread on top of it. I chose to pass by the Sofa but saw two small folded pieces of cloth lying one ahead of the other and finally a much longer piece of vertically folded thin scarf on the narrow strip of bare floor between the sofa and the bedding. I happened to step on the small ball of cloth and the longer one as well partly, though I was trying to avoid it. Perhaps I was out of the washroom when I stood outside and found her lying on her bed in the opposite direction with her eyes closed. She was breathing heavily as her belly moved. It looked like she was aroused while having an imaginary experience, still dressed in that ethnic dress. I ignored her as I have been doing since she started behaving weirdly after she started her affair (with the dual-eyed criminal). That dress was thick and covered her properly and exposed no part of her belly and shoulders.

I walked back to my side of the room and had to go back towards hers due to some reason. But this time I saw the settee, that's there in my present home's living area, filling the vertical path ahead. But its seat was covered with a lavender-colored cloth on top. I thought perhaps I had been passing through the little space between the settee and the beds previously as well but didn't realize it. I walked through the extremely narrow path and found my home's wooden stool next in line to the settee, which again was covered, with a white cloth. I exited the room.

2. The Guy Who Resembles Glory and The E-Rickshaw

Next I went downstairs to receive my order from the delivery guy. I went ahead to the middle of the street to receive it and happened to look to my right. There I saw a 4-seater red E-Rickshaw standing a bit further ahead of the steel-gated house. The rickshaw had its head facing in my direction of the street. A guy from my dept who resembles Glory stood to my vision's right facing the E-rickshaw's entrance and he had his face turned away from me. I could tell that he was hiding a shy smile as he stood there. There were a few other people standing around him, but he was the only one with his head turned away in shyness. He was dressed in a thigh-length royal blue tunic with fine silver lines over blue denim jeans. I saw him dressed in this attire, the day before yesterday.

[That guy has been showing interest in me for many months now, and once I saw him sitting on the corner chair to the right at the glass door entrance of the multistorey building of the dept. He sat with a sad expression as he looked in my eyes. I felt bad looking at him but passed him by for I knew that God had already made His Will known to me long back, and that even if he may be resembling Glory, he wasn't Glory. Not that Glory was an exceptional person who can't be compared to others, but that it wasn't God's Will for me to be showing a romantic interest in him, though it was entirely in my own hands, and everyone's got a heart that gets hurt (except abusive narcissists or minions of devil)! That guy was a unique individual too who had his own individual importance, and he looked quite good as well, but he wasn't a part of God's will for my life so I ignored him every time he made an appearance in front of me looking at me with expectant eyes. He sits in one of the rooms nearby.

One day I am gonna go in there, ask his name to write out here and ask him to join us for a snack when we go to canteen next.]

In the dream, I took my parcel from the delivery guy after which he left. But I kept standing there and looked around, mostly to my right.

3. The Moustached Man

I was expecting to encounter Glory, but the door of the adjacent building was closed, and though in real life it is lifted above the ground, in this dream, it was at the same level. There were some people working with cement in front of me. I then saw a middle-aged man peek just his head out of the door and look at me. He had a thick moustache, and his face had a slightly rough texture, and he was making silent weird aversive but funny faces to tell me off. After making those faces, he went back inside.

[It was later during the day that I realized that the facial features of that man resembled partly Glory and partly the moustached actor from the movie 'Rab Ne Bada Di Jodi' (God Matched the Couple). In the dream though, the moustached man wasn't wearing specs and had a vertically thicker moustache as he peeked his face out.

4. The Wheeled Baby Carriers and the Smart Cement Workers

There were some metallic grey-colored and slightly taller-than-usual wheeled baby carriers on the road as well at some distance to my right. I saw some hands pull them inside. I couldn't see the faces of those people from my position. I could tell that they were intentionally ignoring me and intentionally leaving me alone standing there. They wanted to make me feel left alone and as if they were not interested in having me around.

I then started focusing on the workers in front of me. I got interested in their work. Apparently, they were moving the cement lying on the street using a machine consisting of just a metallic vessel looking like the bottom half of a trapezoid with a wide base which they held using a lever mechanism at the top using their hands. I looked at the machine as it picked up the cement and said 'Wow..' with eyes wide open. I was captivated by the smart and precise process. I looked at their work for a few more seconds and then turned around and entered the PG's main steel door and then turned around again in order to lock the door because I didn't want Death Conqueror or people related to him to come inside the PG.

5. Locking the door - Left or the Centre?

There were two ways we could have the door locked. One was by putting the lock between the narrow steel door to the left and the wide steel door to the right. The other was to put the lock at the junction of the two wide steel doors right to the narrow one. The PG's caretaker Ashish was standing to my left and was locking the left narrow door with the wide right door. But I was suggesting him to lock the two wide doors at the center.

After a while, I turned around to enter inside the PG's building and saw the wooden door left wide open in front of me and the dimly lit dark corridor was clearly visible. At a good distance in front of me, I saw my roommate lying on her bed visible (placed) far ahead in the space ahead of the corridor.

6. My Roommate's Ass and The Short-Haired Fair Lady

My roommate laid on her front on her bed and her head was facing in my direction. Her friend Shin was sitting on the floor on her feet to the left and both of them were talking. I then saw her ass as being highlighted at a substantial level above her body. Though she was still dressed in that cream and green ethnic dress, she was now lying on her front. Her ass was highlighted as being naked and it blinked a few times as I looked in her direction. She was looking at me and Shin in turns while she laid in that position.

After a while I saw a small window of vision appear at the top left which showed the side-view of the upper half of a lady in a well-lit room. The lady had short neck-length straight and shiny hair and was dressed in a cream and green attire too, but only the square shaped back of her top's neck was visible in the vision. The next event had me standing facing Mehek in my hometown's home.

7. The Interaction With Mehek (Fragrance) - The Girl Below

The next event had Mehek (the beige-colored girl) that stays below my room and is a roommate to my roommate's good friend in this PG. I saw her standing in the center hall outside near the bedroom of my hometown's home that I described a few pages back. Behind her was present my home's huge cylindrical grain metallic tank in which we stored wheat grain. It was about 1.25 meters in diameter and a foot shorter than her height.

She said, "If you keep ignoring people, they are going to give up on you after a certain period of time."

As she said it, she was walking away towards the stairs by her sides in her left direction. I walked along my sides with my body facing her and responded, "Why couldn't people come and talk to me? They can just walk up to me and say 'Hi'."

She replied, "But you wouldn't even look at them if they came walking (as you tend to ignore people)."

She was still very much about leaving and it was my quick and intentional replies that kept her there.

I replied, "No. If they come to me and say Hi, I will be the one to take initiative to talk further."

By this time both of us were standing a meter or so away from the stairs of that home. After my last reply, we started walking downstairs together but the stairs now looked like my PG's and not my home's. We reached the wall at the turn and I took a quick peek down at the road through the glass window and moved ahead. She too moved close to the window and her head closer towards the healing sunlight coming through, and stopped there as she said something that sounded like, "You really like this light."

I didn't quite catch her words and looked back at her and stood facing her. So I asked her to repeat the same. But the next moment I was sure that she had indeed asked me what I had understood. So I replied, "Yeah. But I was just looking down at the road. That's why I peeked down the window." Somewhere in between my reply, her expression changed momentarily to that of being a bit annoyed.

We continued walking together and walked to the kitchen. We had just reached its door when she said, "Everything is over!"

She had now entered the kitchen and was checking out the huge empty transparent plastic utensils. I stood at the door and looked around and spotted a smaller transparent plastic utensil filled with Dahi Bhallas (lentil balls with spicy curd) with a long serving spoon inside it. I walked upto it, stirred it and showed it to her, and as I did so, I said something like, "They have got Dahi Bhallas here. You can have these."

After saying that, I thought I should get my own bowl from my room to have some of those Dahi Bhallas. I started to walk outside while she still looked at me. But instead of walking the usual way, I joined my feet and hopped out of the kitchen to the left in a few jumps, avoiding the spillage on the floor .

Later during the previous day I understood that the lyrics pertained to my roommate as well because she had been dressing up in shoulder-gapped and waist-revealing dresses to please the criminal she has been pleasing for some time. And this dressing sense matches that of Princess Jasmine (Chameli).

It also goes along with her obsession with her long hair.

The dancing lady in the song is dressed up in belly-revealing clothes as well.

Additionally, I heard in the Spirit a few more lyrics of this song today that confirmed to me that it was her.

The English meaning of the lyrics was:

'I have come to loosen and free notes of thousands,
I have come to set your wick on fire by my youthful glamour.'

The song has a morally cheap tone to it. And so is the dressing sense of my roommate as inspired by the immoral likes of the criminal.

In the song, the dancer sings these lyrics referring to her bosom as notes of thousands that are to be loosened and freed and so on. And my roommate has been doing exactly this, and intentionally.

So, I knew then that the song had multiple dimensions.

1. Jonathan and the Bride

Vision (Room D4, Oct 2021 - Mar 2022): I saw Jonathan's huge face in a dark background with an awe-struck expression as he gazed without blinking at the small idol of a woman dressed in white bridal clothes and carrying a bouquet holding it close to her shoulders with a bent of head towards it. She held it like a baby and was standing fixed on a rotating circular platform. Jonathan kept staring at the idol with eyes wide open as it slowly rotated.

He's not an immoral or a deceiving man as many have accused him of. He cares for the body of Christ and I have not come across a more genuine and truthful person than him. It's so evident if one has the eyes to see through. I release information in parts until it's fully out. But he reveals everything at once as it is and doesn't care what others are going to think about him. He is truly very close to the Lord God as is evident from how the Lord God communicates with him.

2. His Other Accounts

His YouTube account got terminated yesterday. But I'm sure others have subscribed to his channels at other platforms. I too did one. I didn't access that portal much though. But I will post it here in a while as I find it in my mails.

Fake and Disgusting; Vile Eyes Towards Me; Sexuality, Faithfulness and Sin

1. Fake and Disgusting

I looked at a girl in my PG whom I saw first the day before yesterday there. She gave a sad outer look but her fakeness was also so coming forth. She was only acting and she was put there to represent 'me'. But she has failed greatly! Because she was so fake that I felt so disgusted and repelled at her affected sadness when I looked at her. And much more disgusted at the puppet master! as if I care about what they have to say or how she portrays me!

I don't want a cheap whore's understanding of what he calls love, or his company to share! A real man would rather die than strip the woman he loves publicly! But this disgusting pig failed all the standards set by God because he's ruled by his flesh and has no godly wisdom and insight. He not only stripped me and my family publicly but also threatened to kill us all. Shame on him! The only thing he knows best are earthly political mindsets and immoral ways to get one's way. I don't even like the way he looks now because of what he has done. I can't even look at him, let alone talk or go to him. I just feel like looking at Glory's innocent eyes that got imprinted on me that day as he was blinking slowly.

And when I look at Glory, I see godliness. Because though he threw tantrums because I didn't 'obey' him perse by going to meet him at his place adjacent to me as he was expecting, he still stood his ground and waited in hope, but he didn't abuse me in the ways this ungodly man did! But what he did goes well with God's representation of him as a demonized child lying alone - a child lost in the world.

In one of the recent revelations, where I saw a child fully wrapped in white with a strip of cloth covering a part of his forehead, the child was no more lost and alone in the world but was held by a woman as he looked at her with innocence with his upper lip bulging out.

2. Vile Eyes Towards Me

And then I looked at my roommate's expressions yesterday when she came out of the washroom. It was unbearable to look in her eyes! I shifted my gaze away from her a few times but she kept staring at me with vile, hateful and wicked expressions. It also reminded me of the time when I had asked her many months back to behave in a sensible manner to which she had replied, "Why should I?". And then I happened to think why should I bear with her smugness. I just wanted to throw both her and the disgusting man at the back out of the bus! But they are placed there by God.

I don't even feel like looking at her for I may look in her eyes and hurt myself by what I see! - deception, lying, smugness and an intentional intention to hurt 'specifically' me!

And now she deployed a new way to hurt me - by sending others to stay indirect hurtful stuff because somehow she listened to and obeyed her even cheaper master to not say hurtful words to me! But it doesn't mean she doesn't has the heart that she does towards me! Though she doesn't project that look all the time. But why would it be there even once if she wouldn't be hating me.

Song of a
Watchwoman - All Lov

I will watch you,
through the darkness..
Show you love will,
see you through..
When the bad dreams,
wake you crying..
I'll show you,
All love can do..
All love can do..

I will watch
through the night,
Hold you in my arms,
Give you dreams where none will be…

I will watch
through the dark,
Till the morning comes.
All the light,
I'll take you through the night to see..

The light showing us all love can be..

I will guard you,
with my bright wings,
Stay till your heart,
learns to see..
All love can… Be..

My Communion Interrupted, and Consciousness As a Separate Entity; 'Mein Loonga Nahin' (I Won't Take); The Cheater; The Planted Doppleganger of The Hypocrite; The Blue Carrier E-Rickshaw with Deepak's Name; Rehja Rehja Re

I've written the paragraphs in chronological order

1. My Communion Interrupted, and Consciousness As a Separate Entity

This fine day I was sitting at the corner left seat at the back in my University's canteen and was having communion. As I thought about Jesus while eating that paneer pakora, and barfi with tea, I was having visions where Jesus would initiate a dance with me spontaneously. I saw the vision at the upper right corner of my vision and was enjoying dancing with Jesus when Deepak came, sat to my right and started talking. Within the first few seconds, he had inappropriately rubbed his right thigh and his body language was not too real either. All of his being looked affected as he was only representing to me a financially lower version of me as a part of their good-for-nothing test. He said many lies but happened to bring up some important concepts that I am going to record here because many others must be having the same misconception.

He was convinced that there was no spirit but that a human mind consisted of consciousness that was a result of the functioning of brain itself.

I cleared his misconception by explaining to him that even angels (and demons) have consciousness but they don't have physical bodies like us. That consciousness wasn't a by-product of the functioning brain but brain was a tool that consisted a part of the mechanism used in a physical body for consciousness to operate. He gave me an estranged look. So I came up with the example of powder. When you blow on a heap pf powder placed in your hand, it spreads out in the air by following a certain mechanism; but when you sprinkle the same powder in water, it spreads out in a different way. Likewise, consciousness operates differently in a physical human body than it does in a glorified body. I can add a bit here that in both cases the air/water particles move the powder particles around but the powder particles had a separate existence to begin with before being thrown in the system and it's not that they came into existence because of the system they happen to be in a particular case.

I didn't like at all his lying and acting to represent someone else, while at the same time mirror my own traits. I would find it better if he stopped lying and being a doppelganger but came to God as he really was.

2. 'Mein Lunga Nahin' (I Won't Take)

Some days back, I was asleep in the morning when I had the following dream-vision:
Dream-Vision (Room D1, Last week): I saw the upper half of a blurry and casual-looking guy who said in a sarcastic tone, "Mein Lunga Nahin" (I won't take).

I understood that the revelation pertained to Deepak. The first time I had interacted with him and asked him for having lunch with us, he had indirectly made the comment that though someone had called him, he wasn't going to 'take him in', and he said it with a negative expression. He said that referring to his humble living standards and perhaps how he looked.

As the day I had the vision progressed, I was in my dept and went to the University's canteen with my colleagues and Deepak was with us as well. I got the coupons for us and was standing waiting for one of the staff members at the counter to listen to me. But as I walked to the counter and was standing there with Deepak, the phrase 'Mein Lunga Nahi' started being iterated in my Spirit repeatedly with a greater intensity.

Well, if God had promised Deepak to me, then He would have made a way for His Will to be done. How difficult is it to understand this simple thing? Their tests, comments, and actions show their own moral dumbness.

And if one has already chosen someone for oneself, doesn't one withhold oneself from others regardless of how they might look? Because better-looking people are always going to be there and those that are better or worse at some things are going to be there as well. I and the people around me knew this when we were in middle school. But the elders of this place don't seem to understand this fact. Because of their blindness, the foolish go from one person to another.

3. The Real Man is a Cheater

The day of the 'I Won't Take' revelation when I was in the canteen with my work colleagues, I still didn't have too bad of an impression of Deepak as some of his unaffected real expressions still made him ok to stand with. So I was smiling at him looking in his eyes because of him being a creation of God. But when we were eating the snack, he made a comment out of nowhere that he doesn't get hypnotized by one woman, but likes to explore and is the kind of person who was very moody and would walk of the room if he wanted to talk to another woman.

I thought, "Why is he telling me this? Definitely, he misunderstood me when I was smiling while looking at him. Definitely, he is now playing his doppelganger role and saying out the characteristics of the wicked person he is representing!" I found him very repulsive in that moment. While during our first interaction in the canteen when he had caught me as I was sitting alone having communion with Jesus, he was saying he has a girlfriend with whom he has fights throughout the week and a few minutes before saying that he was rubbing himself inappropriately to test my reaction. I overlooked much of his nonsensical behavior as it didn't affect me at all. I thought of him as someone who was foolish enough to obey and play a puppet to the wicked.

4. The Planted Doppleganger and The Hypocrite

The dark doppelganger of Death Conqueror, Deepak, sits in my room at the workplace. Though he planted as a doppelganger, I don't see him as a representation of someone else but I see 'his own' distinct individual self which is separate from others.

He had given me many indirect threats the past few times he was around. He was talking about people who take revenge by murdering the entire family, and not just the family related to the person the wicked man is after, but his relatives as well. He talked about few more ways people in that dept punish those who get in their way, and he said those things very casually. While at the same time he was smiling when he happened to talk about something else. It was on a day I and my colleagues sat in the open lawn where he joined us later.

It would've made me feel hatred and repulsion for him and the previous version of me would've stopped talking to him the first instance he made such remarks. But on that day I continued interacting with him as I thought he was lost in the world with his own mindset and didn't know the truth of the system.

But the day before yesterday he made an indirect insulting remark where he indirectly referred to the situation of a Eunuch being murdered. And then he referred to one more person as Eunuch. This made me despise him gravely, because not only he was insulting that person, but he talked about his/her murder fact/threat in a casual manner as if he himself was a criminal.

Besides this, he had been mirroring an amplified version of my traits as I observed since I started interacting with him. And he did it because of a reason, because he was told so. I had enough of all the mirroring, acting, and murder/death threats coming at me and felt disgusted and repelled by him where I felt suffocated and unable to breathe around him. I wanted him out of my sight and when I saw him smiling while talking to others, it nauseated me more because of the exhibited duality. And he had now said enough wicked things for me to cut him off completely because why would I want to have even a short casual chat with this multi-colored person? So I started ignoring him for the past two days. And yesterday when I was going around the room offering a snack to others, I didn't feel like asking him! Though I hadn't felt like asking him the day before yesterday as well, I overlooked my feelings of aversion and still went to him at the very end after I had distributed to everyone else. But yesterday I felt too sick of him that I even indirectly told him to get lost when he caught us on our way to our room. I didn't want to even stand or walk with him. He was part of a useless multi-layered game Death Conqueror was playing.

The only memory I had of him being genuinely himself where he wasn't playing out the role of anyone else was after the interaction in the lawn when we were back to our room. And it was then that I had seen real goodness of a heart emanating from his grieved eyes, goodness that was 'his own', and not one that was affected to represent someone else. That was the only incident playing out in his favour for me to be okay with being around him like I did with others.

Yesterday, not only I told him to get lost but I also couldn't help but show my aversion from him when he happened to ask me something during group chat in the room. I just couldn't look at him and told him off with a hand's wave and a repulsive look.

Yesterday, my colleagues were talking about how a gangster/wicked man will never kill you if he feels you've wronged him in some way or if you are not obeying him or bowing down to him, but would rather hurt and kill others around you to cause you pain and would play a covert game meant to make you suffer, instead of hurting you physically.

I told them that a righteous person would never be afraid of a wicked man but would be so of God. And that God told His people to kill everyone in a place where sin was paramount and the place was to be taken over by His people, and that if sin increases at a place by a large amount, then He can destroy the entire place. My point in saying these things was that one should fear God because He can destroy both the body and the spirit (by sending it to Hell). While I said those things, he was silent with a serious expression.

After a while later when others weren't there, Deepak entered the room after having been somewhere and asked me if why I had happened to be suddenly violent that day, referring to the comments I had made about God punishing a group of people in a land. He said that he asked me so because I didn't look well but upset.

I told him plainly that I didn't like people who threatened me on one side and asked me about my well-being on the other. He said that he happened to be so because of the people he grew up around with.

He supposedly lectured me about how to deal with some situations with a gangster or wicked people because he thought that I was naïve as I had boldly proclaimed previously that a righteous person wouldn't fear a wicked man. He said that everyone believed in God, even the wicked. That the wicked too thought about God before committing his crimes, and he knew that what he was doing was a sin, but he continued to commit them because he saw the whole world sinning.

He then told me not to come in the path of the wicked, and to avoid them at all costs. And that if I happened to be around such people, then I shouldn't stop talking to them but behave normally because if the wicked man got the hint that I had cut contact with him because of who he is, then he was going to come after me. So I should talk to the wicked man like I would do a normal person. After he had said this, what came to my mind was the fact that how we are called to not even eat with such people, let alone treat them normally. But I didn't get the chance to say it because started off with something else.

He also made the point that he hid a lot of things from people so that he doesn't get in trouble. But I felt like telling him that I did not hide anything all and neither did I want to be with people who did many things behind one's back while putting up a fake show of innocence, because these were the kind of people I despised heartily.

Anyway. After some minutes of such talk, I shared with him the case of Job where devil had to take permission from God to destroy his livestock, family, and property, and later his body was inflicted with boils and other ailments as well, all to test him. I didn't get the opportunity to tell him that devil was making the point to God that Job praised God because all was well in His life, but if he was to suffer, he would definitely curse God. But Job still praised God despite his circumstance.

HalleluYah! (Praise Yah!)

He then indirectly asked me some things about Death Conqueror, and in a way he was trying to pull my leg as well, but I evaded his attempts because I didn't want to get into talking about that dual-eyed man's game! I told him that it was because of God that my mind had changed towards that dual-eyed man as God revealed some things about him to me. If God stopped showing me more related stuff, then I would be in complete disconnect with him and if God wanted He could take me out of the situation I was in, but God wasn't letting that happen. So it was not in my hands how God wanted to change my perception of people by revealing things about them to me.

[The Hypocrite

He then started referring to his girlfriend as his special someone that he had told me previously about. But looking at his actions during 'The Communion interrupted', it told me how much of a lying deceiver he was! He said that he has fights 4-5 times with her in a week, but he doesn't leave her, or else she's going to say that he was an immoral man to begin with. But I felt like asking him about was the origin of their fights. Because if he was the origin and then he didn't leave the woman, it only showed how much of a hypocrite and sick individual he was, as not only was he causing fights but was also not allowing her to have peace by leaving her, and on top it was referring to her as his special someone who to me seemed to be specially chosen to fight with and inflict abuse. He has proven times and again that the person he is representing is indeed an immoral and hypocritical creature who makes filth of something pure and makes what is supposed to be good a mix - exactly what devil did by creating the system of dual eyes!]

After a few minutes more of having that conversation, he told me to let him know if I received any revelation from God regarding him. I told him that I would.

Later that evening, as I was resting on my bed in PG after returning from work I had an abrupt vision described below that I shared the next day with Deepak. I first told him about my Blue and White Saber uniform and then shared with him the vision below.

5. The Blue Carrier E-Rickshaw With Deepak's Name

Vision (Room D1, Evening, 2nd Feb): I saw the side view of a royal blue E-Rickshaw facing to the right. It was a carrier E-rickshaw and the tall blue metallic side wall shown in the vision had 'Deepak' written on its centre in white.

He said that it was because of my psychological state that I had that vision, and that it wasn't from God. But I told him that if it was psychological, then I talk much more with Jema (one of my colleagues) and share a better bond with her than others in my room, as Jema and I happen to chat a lot and share many things about each other lives, but God still hadn't given me any revelation related to her yet. God rather gave me revelations related to Pooja and Rakhi (my other colleagues). So, it was not me who decided what God was going to reveal to me, but Him alone.

Later that evening I was hearing these song lyrics in my spirit:

6. Rehja Rehja re (Stay Stay)

[Rehja Rehja re] X3	{Stay Stay}X3
Mere dil vich aa rehja re	{Come and stay in my heart}
[Rehja Rehja re] X3	{Stay Stay}X3
Mere dil vich aa rehja re	{Come and stay in my heart}

Then the beginning verse of the chorus played in my Spirit as well. I have edited out the part that I heard of the song in the spirit and pasted it below.

The Grumpy Short-Heighted Professor; John Nash (Russel Browe) With My Wet Hair; The Spontaneous Make Out; Whore, Dumbass and Beggar

03 March 2023
20:45

1. The Grumpy Short-Heighted Professor

Dream (Today Morning, 6-8:30 am): In this dream, I saw myself standing at a distance of around 1.5 meters in front of Prof. Hashmi who had a taller and well-built guy standing behind him. Prof. Hashmi is an old, short-heighted, and obese man, and in this dream he metaphorized Death Conqueror. The prof's hair was neatly combed sideways to his left and he was wearing a checkered dark green shirt tucked inside his black pants, while the guy behind was dressed in potato brown with a black half-jacket. We were standing near the left wall of a dimly lit corridor and there could be seen sunlight coming in from the open area at the end of the wall at some distance ahead. He was saying something in a very low voice, so low that it was hard to even discern his words, but I could tell from his tone that it wasn't something good.

He was saying something insulting while mincing his words. And I was explaining to him why I felt about Deepak what I did, that his behavior was indeed unacceptable, but he wasn't paying much attention to my words. He interrupted me everytime by saying out his own quiet toned sentences that smelled of insult. The prof then turned to leave and the guy too, this time being at his front. He looked quite grumpy and had his head turned to his right when he looked at me through the corner of his eyes as he was about to walk away, and minced out in a low but hateful tone, "Dehaat" (a Hindi derogatory word used for rural and sub-urban living). Then he walked away and entered a room at some distance to the right of that corridor. I followed after him after he had entered it, and when I entered the room I saw a dark room with students sitting in front of the slabs sticking out of the room's three walls that were in my vision. I went further inside and then to my right and found a machine lying on the slab.

Afterwards I realized that the dark corridor in the dream that had light coming in after some distance was the one that had Room No's L on its left and H on its right, while the room that he had entered was the dark experimental lab that's in line with Room No. H.

2. John Nash (Russel Browe) With My Wet Hair

I was bathing in the morning and had poured yet another mug of water on my head when I had the following vision:

Vision (Bathroom, This Morning, 9:20-9:50am): I saw my upper 1/4th of body the way I looked in that very moment but with Russel Browe's face instead, having the look of John Nash from the movie A Beautiful Mind.

3. The Spontaneous Make Out

I was working in my dept when I had this abrupt vision that interrupted my day.

Vision (My Workplace Seat, Around Noon): In this vision, I saw a woman's chest and her blue shirt and lingerie burst open with a jolt revealing her breasts, and then the rest of her clothes got separated outwardly on their own as well. She then flowed forward speedily and stuck to the man in front of her whose clothes got torn and separated outwardly as well. The side view of those two people were then shown to me and the two people were me and Glory. I saw the side view of both of us pulling one towards another. I had no idea why the Holy Spirit was giving me this revelation out of the blue. But I had no option but to watch it. In that vision, both of us were shown to be having smooth skin with no hair, only my belly was a bit more prominent of the two. The two people were kissing profusely and grabbing each other's asses at times while they made out and there was some more of such stuff, only higher in intensity. There was momentary breast grabbing and sucking and going down from up over another body while grabbing, sucking and biting different parts while staying there for a short duration of time. The vision continued for a few minutes.

It made me think that this wasn't going to come true any sooner because Glory doesn't like fat women, and in that revelation, I was portrayed as still being chubby, though in others I was much slimmer, like the stepping-down-from-balcony dream. Can't he boost my morale to continue on weight loss by making a sudden unexpected appearance? Just look at how much I ate within the past few days!!
But then a while back I thought if God gave this revelation for multiple purposes - one reason would be for me to continue on my weight loss as Glory is not going to make an appearance any sooner. Who knows? But my heart says that he will show up!

4. Whore, Dumbass and Beggar

I think God gave me this revelation to counteract my roommate and her criminal physical partner's acts. But at least for me it was with someone God had ordained for me to be with, but she is doing it with someone she isn't going to be with. I feel like correcting her but she isn't going to listen because she is too pleased with her current immoral situation and she doesn't like me correcting her because in her eyes I am inferior to her and she is not obligated to listen to me or the revelations I receive about her. Today I was quite angry and pissed with how she had been behaving for some time, and more so with the fact that she thought that her situation made her superior. So I countered her illusion by telling her the reality of her situation.

The fact that she had been giving out her body to a criminal who is abusing another person brought the adjective of 'Whore' to my mind in relation to her. It didn't take her much time to get involved with him despite knowing what he had done and how he wasn't repentful at all; but she got lured by his good-for-nothing sweet talk. If I was at her place and had seen the portal where they had uploaded my photos, I would've long gone to the police by myself without anyone else's discretion. I held on to my boundaries with the people involved and didn't give in though I had to suffer for more than three years, but here she goes doing what she is doing and obeying her wicked lover blindly. So, that earned her the title of a 'Whore'. A whore gives out her body mindlessly, without much thought and discretion.

When her friend made a comment related to 'Train ticket to Bihar', I countered it by saying out 'Air ticket to Dumbland'. Later I recalled that her parents stayed in Dubai. And I remembered the dream revelation where she was described as a dumbass because of her actions.

Her friend then made the comment - "this girl is trying so hard since she came to Delhi'. The immediate thought that came to my mind was that the dumbasses won't even try but want to keep hogging up their parents' money. So it made her a beggar in a way.

Though the words were crude, I said out 'Whore, Dumbass, and Beggar' indirectly to her, so that she knew how her actions came across when done outside of the Will of God.

My roommate after a while made the comment, "She is pregnant again." to her friend, to which I responded with 'Gossip girl found a murderer".

Likewise, her immoral lover earned the title of a whore, moral dumbass, thief, and rapist because of his conduct. And these are supported by God's revelation of him being the lying, deceiving, and domineering rapist and murderer from the movie 'Dushman' (Enemy). And why is he still keeping his bees around me while playing out his game with my roommate? He could choose to not abuse me anymore and be with his whoring, dumbass, and begging gossip queen. But, no! Knowing how much I despise people like him, he chose to keep his filthy presence in my life.

Ok!! Now a part of the dream revelation 'Dream regarding difficult times ahead in my life' on Page 53 made sense to me as I wrote the above. The shorter guy who was pointing at me and accusing of me of doing something by saying 'Isne Kiya Hai, Isne Kiya Hai!' (She's done this! She's done this!) represented my roommate and the and the taller, fluffed guy who looked liked a criminal and asked me respectfully "Apne Kiya hai?" (Did you do this?) before going ahead with the open slaughter represented her murderer lover. The taller guy was dressed in fitting white sporty clothes, had much lesser hair on his head and the protrusion of his upper jaw was visually noticeable, while the shorter guy was slim and had ample hair on his head.

The tall criminal character was chosen to covertly represent me in a way too, because perhaps the wicked puppet master wanted to showcase a false situation by representing me as someone that I am not - that bulky murderer - as a form of revenge for hurting his ego by stating the truth, while the shorter guy who falsely accused me of 'doing it' represented the gossiping partner!

286. My Adorable and Love-filled Brethren in Christ; The Embrace of Jesus

04 March 2023
11:55

1. My Adorable and Love-filled Brethren in Christ

I had this vision somewhere within the past two weeks when I was listening to some love-filled songs.

Vision (Past week): I saw the top distant view of me dancing in a duet with my Sister in Christ Adele. Though my clothing was discrete and blurry, I saw her dressed in her black Bold Existence clothing. I saw her happy and smiling as we were in that duet.

The vision repeated itself many times and I saw it for prolonged duration.

Then I had this vision with Brother Jonathan two days back.

Vision (Past two days): I saw a distant and focused vision of the side-view of me giving a heartfelt hug to Brother Jonathan. I stood on the left of the vision, while Jonathan stood on the right.

The follow-up vision showed the focused lower body of the person on the left who was now no longer hugging the one on the right but stood at some distance, and she did so, she took a long light pink penis out of her pants while moving her hand over it.

2. The Embrace of Jesus

During the beginning of my Sabbath on the evening of 3rd March, I laid on my bed and thought that how good it would be if I had Jesus beside me to put my head in his embrace and sleep in His presence. I felt that if I only had Jesus with me to put my head close to His off-white tunic with the red drape, I would be feeling so content and at peace, knowing that He is perfect, wants the best for me, and leads me in the right path. I got out of bed because I had to go outside the room for a chore. But as I stood beside my bed, I saw Jesus on my bed in his full off-white tunic with red drape, sitting on his left side with a slight bent towards the bed with one arm open as He was waiting for me to join in His rest. It gave me a real struggle to go outside and get that chore done. I went anyway and looked back inside as I stood at the door. He was still there looking at me with his arms slightly stretched in a gentle way. I didn't feel like leaving the room but had to thinking that let me just quickly fill my bottle as I was thirsty and then I am going to be back to Jesus. After I was back to Him, I felt His Holy and peaceful presence, that how He understood when I needed His support and therefore showed Himself up. It was such a quiet but healing experience for my head to be close to his bosom and it made me feel spiritually safe.

This song has been playing in my spirit for some days now. It has played many times previously as well but today I felt a nudge in the spirit to sub it and record it here. I am subbing the chorus and the stanzas I heard in the spirit. It is a very difficult song to sub because of the context and associated aura.

I heard these lyrics in the spirit a while back so I am recording them here.

'Deewani Deewani Deewani Deewani Deewani Deewani Deewani " (X2)

{Deewani: Mad in Love}

I first heard these lyrics in the Spirit many months back. And then I heard them today again.

Video: EngSub-Deewani Deewani

The woman in the video reminded me of the day I did my red sparkle eyeshadow make-up because of a revelation, and I happened to wear a red full-sleeved knee length dress as well, on top of which I wore a long red over-coat. And the usual way I find comfortable to do my hair is sideways with a slight lift as the woman's in the video. I realized this a while back. So what does this mean, one may think?

The Look:
<<Red Sparkle Eyes.mp4>>

Red Sparkle Eyes.mp4

The red sparkle eyeshadow revelation only showed the opening of my closed eyes and not me dancing in front of an immoral audience. I did a holier version of this Deewani Deewani song, though the audience was mixed in the real situation, one of whom was the immoral short-heighted guy. I did that eye-look because of the revelation, and the clothes, again, because of a different revelation. Red is the color of Love as well, and I am red according to God - if Glory is white.

The song has another dimension as well. It also represents my roommate in the context given below, though in her case, the song takes an unholy turn.

The man's wife is not able to conceive so he goes to a bar to look for a surrogate and finds Madhubala the prostitute there who can conceive for them.

Transform the Inner Self - Jesus Nailed To Cross; Love Doesn't Push You Further In Sin But Pulls You Out of It

04 March 2023
13:36

1. Transform the Inner Self

I have often thought during the period of the past many months that if Death conqueror came in front of me and I had a cup of tea in my hand that I was having at the moment, then I was going to throw the contents right in his face, or throw anything that I would be having in my hand! I didn't even want to see his face, let alone meet him! But God. God taught me patience, forgiveness and endurance by showing me the end result of the painful process which was the inner transformation of people who would be saved.

Around a month or more back, I was thinking about how this fellow only brought pain in my life when I thought I had time alone and had started to heal after the last narcissistic encounter with Tejaswi - the narcissistic womanizing devil worshipper who thought he was God himself and who fooled me by initially coming forth as someone he was not.

And the worst part about the new narcissist was that it didn't make any sense to me as to why he came running after me because I hadn't even had any direct interaction with him, and yet he treated me like I was his worst enemy.

I complained to God about the same and complained some more by asking him that why was I supposed to love such a person when he hadn’t done anything good to me and why had He given me revelations of events that had in them me behaving with him in an authentic love-filled manner.

For e.g., when I received the revelation of 'Time With the Short Blue-Eyed Man', I wasn't expecting to receive such a revelation.

Though for a while my heart may have melted towards him but I changed again when I looked at the reality of things and the multi-layered game that he was playing. That he hadn't done anything for me to love him the way God had shown me to. That he only hurt and hurt and I didn't find any desirable traits in him, not any that he displayed by far (the only revelation that blatantly showed his full authentic self - half angelic and half devilish - was 'The Man With Dual Eyes'). As I was complaining to God about it, I instantly received a revelation described below:

Vision (Room D1, Past few months): Semi-animated vision of the side view of the upper half of Jesus nailed to the cross where he was moving his head in pain with eyes closed.

I know that we are called by God to love our enemies. But that kind of love is the Agape kind where we aren't supposed to live in the constant presence of such a person and therefore don't have to bear with their hurtful behavior, at least not for a prolonged duration of time. A person's natural inclination is to move away from a hurtful abusive individual and leave them as (s)he only brings sorrow.

But God sees the full picture. God had to go through that for Him to be able to embrace me and others.

And I also know that there's a clear distinction between the righteous and the wicked in the scripture. And that it's also written that God was pleased with the righteous and turned His face away from the wicked.

2. Love Doesn't Push You Further In Sin But Pulls You Out of It

And true love pulls you out of sin, and not push you further in it while supporting your wicked deeds and becoming a part of the same.

Don't they know that Akhila doesn't need or have to develop a scientific temperament, and he doesn't has to be a covert criminal? But if they want to be together, they have to do so in a Holy way that's allowed by God. But their brain knows no boundaries and they are turning wicked together, sinning against God and denying Him.

Page 290. I Will Be Joining This Fast

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

This encouraging video changed my entire inner countenance. I had no one around to motivate me with words of encouragement to fast and though I received rest and comfort from God, I was feeling some amount of disconnect because of the way I had been eating for the past few weeks. I can recall how it was when I would go without food and water for a day and without food for more than a day. It amplified my spirit and I felt more conscious and connected to the spirit. And for the past some time I had been feeling so bogged down because of the wrong and sinful conduct of some people around me, where they only say or do things to hurt me and try to bend me according to them!

I was too disgusted by their covert domineering behavior. I felt spent by just a sight of them. It made me want to puke out because of what I saw inside - deception and an intention to cause pain. It made them too deplorable in my eyes that just looking at them made me feel sick and want to run away from their presence! I countered it by overeating which was my refuge to counter my negative feelings arising from other perceived delays as well.

But this video was such an encouraging message delivered by Brother Wally, and the fact that it boosted me up also emphasizes the fact of how much we need support from out fellow brothers and sisters in Christ when we are spiritually injured to move forward.

Ideally, I don't want to be surrounded by people like my roommate, her partner in gossip and her wicked fleshly lover. But I have no other option for the time being. Staying in their company for too long had affected my perception too and I forgot who I was called to be. And then there were others who only criticized me by their twisted perceptions and made me feel worse about my condition though they aren't fighting the same way as I am.

At a point I felt like some people in the body of Christ only were working to break others down by making incorrect judgments and remarks and speaking words of criticism alone when it wasn't just. But this video from Brother Wally gave me a spiritual jolt.

My roommate and her presence just makes me want to puke. And the thought that I have to stand in front of that guy is sickening too. They splattered the entire room with their sin and it stinks. I want to leave this place and move to a different one. I will do that soon. Their minds work only in lustful ways and they make a covert show of the same all the time. It doesn't shock me but disgusts me because these are not the kind of people I want to be around.

I will be joining this three-day fast and I encourage others to join too.

I will be doing a water-only fast.

It truly hit me when Brother Wally said that the church, the Bride of Christ, is crying out for help to Jesus, and she needs it. Yes, we need help from God and we do receive it at times without asking, but we have to prove our faith and sincerity by making efforts to get closer to Him too. And fasting is a way to do that!

I feel so good after watching this video. Like someone pulled me out of the filth I was struggling to get out of.

And this is why we need the true body of Christ, that when one part is injured, the other can come forward to help.

But I know that some people will find faults in the above statement as well and make it look like the person is dependent on the body of Christ more than Jesus Himself, and insult the one who needs help or is struggling. But he is overlooking the fact that the body is there for a reason.

I can't help but turn my face away from people like that Guinea Pig (assignment in pink and yellow) and my roommate around me.

Page 292. Don't Mourn the Loss of a Wicked Person.

01:08

If someone is intentionally doing things to hurt you, then they are not worth weeping or crying for, as in their hearts they carry the seed of devil.

But if a pure and kind person leaves and is upset with you, you feel bad at their loss and want to make things right with them.

If an evil person harms you or those you love, you can only grieve the loss you suffered;
But you can't change the evil person,
you can only stay away from him.

But if a good person becomes angry for some reason,
you feel convicted and are drawn to reconcile.

It's not wise to mourn the actions of a sinful man because they are generated by the inner wicked desires of his own wicked heart;
But when a good and faithful friend gets angry,
you feel like it's the end of the world.

How foolish of those who act wickedly and think they will hurt the wise?
They don't understand that the wise one knows that they are acting out their inner self,
So they're not worth being hurt because of.

Don't waste your tears on the workers of lawlessness
It's just like shedding your pearls for a swine.
Save it for the departure of a faithful friend who is worthy.

When a wicked person cheats, it's nothing of a shock.
But even a look of disdain from a righteous person is unbearable.

Never expect godly behavior from ungodly pigs.
Never doubt the pure heart of a true friend.
Didn't Jesus prove himself on the cross?

Don't get hurt when a foolish deceiver cheats,
But be devastated when misunderstanding turns away a moral man.

Don't misjudge the silence of a wise person as apathy
They may not cry at the foolish conduct of the wicked
But they understand its gravity.

Be patient when a man of steady character acts out of character
For he will bounce back to his steadiness after a while
He won't be able to be a part of the wickedness of the other side for long.

Your conduct defines who you are,
But your friends influence what you will do.

A wicked friend leads the way into wickedness,
A pure friend touches the heart.

Wickedness wants to make a show of its immorality,
But purity wants to safely hide the things of value.

Wicked whoring people try to use their fleshly acts to invoke pain and jealousy,
But true lovers relish in the solitude of their togetherness.

They don't use their togetherness to invoke negative feelings in others,
For they know in their hearts the value of things;
And that's how one's bond with God is supposed to be as well.

Vision (Within the past two minutes): I saw a fat animated sheep in daylight standing on its hind legs in a dried and cracked desolate land in front of a small basket with many small helium balloons of varied colors tied to it above. The land looked like a vast dried river bed. A shorter animated sheep walked up to the fat sheep from the right. They got inside the basket and it rose straight up high and left.

I laid on my bed thinking about the revelations I had already written about and how I felt relieved as some of my work was done. Then I thought about all the other revelations that were yet to be edited. It seemed like a huge task. But I was feeling a bit relieved after spending most of my day yesterday on my bed with my laptop writing and editing revelations. I thought what if I received more revelation and then it will pile up in my to-be-written jar as there was already ample editing left to be done? But then it wasn't good to not want to receive more revelation as well, because a revelation is a Word spoken by God. And though I have had many words spoken by Him, I had kept them hidden in my heart and not released them for long, and it was now that I was finally keeping up with recording them on a daily basis and maintaining an up-to-date record - by writing the revelation the same day or within a span of a few days or a week at max.

I would then complete the written revelation later in time as I would receive further revelation about it. This also helps in keeping a track of the timeline of the given revelation and the related events in between.

Anyway. I was in a state of rest and half conscious when I had the above revelation.

Now I will go back to rest again.

After I had the vision, the Holy Spirit highlighted to me the following scene from the movie 'Up' that I had seen in a YT video thumbnail.

Page 294. The Mermaid Karishma Kapoor

This afternoon I had the following vision as I laid in my bed:

Vision (Room D1): I saw the side view of Karishma Kapoor with black straight hair falling until her waist as she standing on her grey mermaid tail. She was facing to the right and stood in front of a counter with her head turned to her right in the line of sight of the vision. She kept looking in the direction of my vision as her tail lifted and hit the floor twice in a row making the sound a fish makes on a surface. The aquatic part of her body began at her waist and continued until the floor, and the upper half of her body was dressed in holy white.

Later when I had chosen clothes to wear after bathing, I realized that I had happened to choose the white t-shirt top with FiN written on its center and I had bought it back during the time-period of Nov 2019 - Mar 2020.

Page 295. Some Revelations Pertain to Someone's Analogous Situation

05 March 2023
21:55

I had some revelations, both holy (involving God), and immoral (involving fornication) that may seem too unusual to others.

For e.g., the revelations pertaining to my roommate where in one I was fornicating with her, while in another she was showing off her ass to me while lying on bed as she talked to her friend Shin sitting on the floor.

Now I have come to understand that these revelations pertained to an analogous situation with different people. For e.g., the revelation, where I was roaming round in a room wearing a shoulder-gapped top with an inverted-dome back, and in which I saw my dad dressed in a mannequin suit - the revelation pertained to what my roommate was doing in the room with her supposed dad (her criminal lover). The criminal dad wore her clothes and roamed around while she wore the mannequin suit, if it makes sense. Likewise the other revelations.

And God gave me the revelations in an analogous way because of the way they prefer to communicate - indirect and twisted. Never a direct and plain word with the correct references - the kind of pure and honest communication that is so beautiful.

Sometimes I truly feel disgusted by both of them, but I have been patient with them for long. And then she lets me know indirectly all what she did indirectly. Why would she do that? Because she thinks it will cause me pain!? Do they want to make or see me weep!? Is that their objective!? Definitely, they want to cause pain, and therefore I withdrew from them both though at once I was very much invested in both of them because of The Carrier Bus revelation.

But my roommate has revealed her ugly self to me time and again, and her disgusting worthy-of-tea-being-thrown-on-his-face dad too.

If both of them had something very much real, they would have removed me from their equation completely. Why would two people who are truly in love try to make a third person cry by trying to invoke feelings of jealousy and pain. This told me that both of them were grave emotional abusers and therefore went together so well. No wonder!

I am disgusted by both. And then they think that they are somehow superior. Both of them have sinned against God and are accountable unless they repent.

And to me, it seems that the criminal dad already knew that he was going to leave her at some point, and yet for the time being he chose to soothe his senses with her, and she too ran towards him with no inner inhibition.

And yesterday she was lying in her bed like a frog on its back with folded but outwardly open legs and she covered herself with her blanket but it was very much clear that she was on her phone fornicating. When I looked at her, the foolishness of her brain made me chuckle because she didn't even think that the outer shape of her blanket could be seen in her criminal dad's public cameras. I said lightly to her, "Akhila, the whole world is watching you." It's not that if they had privacy, they should go ahead with it, but they are so foolish that they think indulging in their sin is somehow a good thing to do.

Afterwards when she was done, she made an indirect comment that I was so casual and didn't cry. How wicked! Her presence makes me wanna puke out and if she cries I don't even feel like comforting her because it's not going to be understood the way it should be because in her eyes I am anyway inferior. Why would I cry or shed hearty tears for someone who is intentionally doing such things in front of my eyes. If it was someone moral with whom I had a history of faithfulness that came from both sides - that would have hurt me. Why would I be hurt by someone who I already know is immoral and likes to hurt others! Dumbasses - part of the reason why they were named so by God.

If Jesus abandons me, it's then that I won't be able to bear it and would definitely want to end my life because He is worthy because of His character traits, and He is my creator and if He doesn't love and care for me, then who will!? But I know that if He is angry with me, it will only be for a real reason, and the punishment will be just in that case. And I also know that if I repent and turn back to Him, He will accept me back to His arms and forgive me, though I may have to walk out the consequences of my actions.

Likewise, I have abandoned them emotionally, because they have been being wicked for too long! And I will abandon them physically as well shortly as I will shift to a different place.

Their so called love is so disgusting because it is not at all focused at the two of them, but focused at making 'me' feel pain and inferior in one way or another. That's what's called toxicity! - and coming from such an old man, it shows how immature he is! She is foolish anyway.

And even if it's love between the two of them, they still have to follow the statutes of God as we are called to be Holy as He is, but they aren't doing any of that but doing everything else they are not supposed to. I wonder how their 'relationship' would fair if I am removed out of the equation, as they won't be having someone to try to emotionally abuse and will be left with themselves. No supply/reaction from my side to their meaningless acts.

7:55
The revelations also show how much confusion can be caused when one doesn't talk in a direct and honest manner but communicated things in a twisted manner by referring to others as their own self - an improper way to think and talk in casual settings. If one was in a war zone or up to some high-profile stuff that had to be kept secret, then one would think of communicating important info discreetly, but why play games in one's daily casual life?

Right before waking up, I had a dream-vision.

Dream-Vision (Around 10-20 minutes back): I saw the upper left of video recommendations on a YouTube home page.

A Hen

The video suggested at around 3rd or 4th row of the first column had the side-view of a hen facing to its right as its thumbnail - a white hen with a red beak. And the title below of the video was: 'My Fur and Bram Mommy'.

Ut Jao

The focus of the vision then moved above to the first row of the column that had the suggested advertisement video. And the title of that video written below was 'Ut Jao Ab Ni Ki'.

I will wait for further revelation related to the second (ad) video. It stands for 'Wake up now na', and also 'Camel, now you go na'. Or perhaps it stands for both.

Sound in The Spirit: My Knee (Maayeni - Ma Aye Ni)

Page 297. The Abhishek Tree

20:25
So I'm writing the incidents from my childhood that have been being highlighted to me for many months now; but I didn't record them. And today I am recording them - all the childhood events pertaining to Abhishek.

I'm recording these events because they're cute and I seem to have an idea that the name of the guy at the workplace is Abhishek too, though I am not sure and will confirm it the next time I see him. But anyway, I had to record these.

The Fancy Dress Competition

Back when I was somewhere between 1st to 3rd class in school, a fancy dress competition was organized.

All my fellow classmates gave their names the previous day for the character they would be dressed as. I too gave mine. I told the class in charge that I wanted to be an IPS officer as that's what my father had instilled in me since I was small.

I told my parents that I had to be dressed as an IPS officer the next day because of the competition, and they told me that they would bring my uniform in the school itself.

The Fairy

The next day, the fancy dress competition as organized. And all children came on stage in turns dressed as their chosen roles. There was a girl named Sakshi who was dressed as a fairy. She was dressed in a white frock with two fairy wings at the back, and had a wand in her hand as she said, "Mein ek Pari hu" (I am a fairy). She said some more things that I don't remember. But looking at her I thought, "Who wants to be a fairy!?" It looks so dumb and with no substance of real value! I mean I thought that it just looks shiny on the surface and doesn't pertain to any good character traits as well. I didn't associate good character traits with being a fairy as I too was tiny. They formed a separate quality of a person for me, and someone presenting themselves as a fairy had seemed too stupid to me because a fairy may or may not be characterful and was a hypothetical creature in my eyes, and the idea had seemed too illogical to me.

The Abhishek Tree

But then there was a tiny guy there named Abhishek who was dressed as a tree. He was from the same class as mine, perhaps a different section. There was a branch of tree tied behind his back that had a few sub-branches stretching forth and they had many leaves on them forming an inverted cone behind him and slightly above his head. I liked his attire and found it quite unique. I have a vivid memory of watching him and Sakshi from the back; the rest I've forgotten.

He stood there and said, "I am a Tree. I give shade to people.", and a few more lines to describe his role.

I Used To Take Up Fights

This was the same guy with whom I would start having fights later when I was in 7th class, though I have had fights with different guys of my class previously as well who called me 'Fat'. I would often beat them up and was stronger than most at that time. They would call me 'Moti (Fat), I would get enraged and then we would get into a fight. At times, the rest of the girls circled the fighting duo to enjoy and would even cheer for me as I was often winning. I had a childhood full of fights, but I became softer in 8th class. Once in 8th class, I was standing near the water cooler and teasing my classmate Mayank over something and wasn't stopping even when he told me to. He then got annoyed and pushed me, and I fell down. But instead of fighting him, I wanted to cry and wanted him to see me so that he feels guilty.

Abhishek Likes To Tease

So, about the Tree guy now. He would often tease me about one thing or other. He just needed something to provoke me. And he would often do this during our free periods, or the recess break.

What has been being highlighted to me is the following:
Vision (Past many months): Him standing at a good distance in the ground looking at me and calling me 'Moti' (Fat), with a smile on his face as he was ready to run away from me.

(Now I can tell that he did that to make me pursue him. I often caught him up and then we would start fighting like cat and dog.)

We had yet another fight of which the following event was highlighted to me.

The Cute Fight That Got Ugly

Vision (Past Many Months): I and Abhishek were both on the ground fighting with each other. One lying on top of the other, punching and pulling each other's hair as we moved through the dust on the ground grabbing each other's clothes as we fought. The fight had now taken a bad turn, so some students called one of the teachers. The teacher who took the computer class came, separated us, and then scolded us. I was too embarrassed to stand in that state in front of the teacher. My short hair were all ruffled and my white shirt and skirt were muddy too. I felt like I was being scolded unjustly because it was him that provoked that fight.

Yet another vision from my time with him as my classmate was highlighted to me and it made me chuckle.

Abhishek Sings A Song
One day the teacher decided to not the syllabus but to use the lecture for some fun and asked us to come at the front and perform something individually or in a group. The vision that was highlighted to me was that Abhishek standing at the front and singing this song as we all burst in laughter, but he sang it shamelessly with joy.

Vision (Past few months): Abhishek was singing, "Jumma Chumma De De. Jumma Chumma De De Chumma" (Jumma, give me kiss. Jumma, Kiss, Give me a Kiss.)

We all thought he really had some guts to sing that song in a classroom setting in front of the teacher and the whole class, but it seemed funny.

I Too Sing
And I too sang a song that day. I chose that song because it was the most recent song that was out that I had learned. This memory was highlighted to me as well just a while back.

I sang,
"Aaj ke ladke I tell you, kitne Lallu what to do. {The guys of today I tell you - how foolish they're, what to do (about it)?}
Koi Mujhe Puche 'How Are You' {Some ask me 'How are you'}
Koi Mujhe Puche 'How Do You Do' {Some ask me 'How do you do'}
Kabhi Koi Mujhse Na Kahe, {Never ever does any say,}
'Oh my Darling, I Love You' {Oh my Darling, I Love You}"

Then I sang the next part of the chorus as well.

I sang,
"Bum Chiki Ladki I tell you, Nakhre waali sunle tu. (Bum Chiki Girl I tell you, the one with attitude - listen!)
Naa Mein Bolu 'How Are You' {I don't ask (you) 'How Are You'}
Naa Mein Puchu 'How Do You Do' {I don't ask (you) 'How do you do}
Aaj Abhi Mein Kehta Hun, {Today right now I say,}
'Oh my Darling, I Love You' {Oh my Darling, I Love You}"

Apparently, students laughed at this song as well.

I have rearranged the content of this page in chronological order.

1. The Morning Encounter

Today, I had reached dept from my PG and was moving up the round stairs to the 2nd floor to my room. I saw a man walking downstairs to my right. I guessed that the guy who resembles Glory must be around as well and I was very much looking forward to see him after God gave me the revelation in which he was standing in front of the entrance of a 4-seater E-rickshaw that supposedly represented me. The man passed by and behind him I saw the revelation guy walking downstairs smiling at me in a both childlike and shy manner like we were familiar with each other; and for the first time, I heartily smiled back at him reciprocatively, looking in his eyes.

He wore a full-sleeved sky-blue checkered shirt over blue pants/jeans.

And after I reached my room, I was quite happy having seen his childlike pure expressions.

Shortly after I was settled in my seat, I had a follow-up vision where I saw both of us in a duet.

2. The Duet and the Hangout

I didn't write about this vision the day I had it because I thought that it happened to come to be so too quickly, and I didn't want to share it with the whole world. But I was really happy this morning because of the pure encounter and the follow-up dance vision that displayed a respect for the boundaries of the other person to a great extent though also encapsulated intimacy. Though I did think later that what did he see in me as I had come to think of my looks as being too repulsive after receiving revelations from God related to the changes that I had to make and also the demeaning comments from emotional abusers around.

Perhaps I wouldn't have written about the dance vision, but after watching the tree duet in the video below, I realized that my dance vision needed to be recorded as it resembled the one in the song that was highlighted to me later at night, and therefore bore testimony.

The Duet
9th March 2023
I had just sat on my seat in the joint lab room used by students of a couple of my department's PhD supervisors. I was feeling relatively happier than other days. I was beginning to plan my work for the day when after a few minutes I had this vision. I will fill in the name after confirming it. (A revelation also reveals how the other person will behave in a given situation.)

Vision (Workplace, Morning): I saw myself moving beginning in a duet with __. We held one of each of other's hand as he slowly and reluctantly brought his other hand near my waist. We then moved around in a duet smiling at each other and we seemed happy and content in joy like we had found something good and meaningful. There must be about half a meter distance between us as we danced like that. After a while, the distance increased to about one meter or slightly more, and we moved around happily, almost as if we were wary of not killing our joy by bringing in the flesh in that moment and wanted to maintain respectful boundaries. The next vision had us up close together where only his neck and head was maintained at a good distance from me. The vision gave the sense of him feeling prideful (in a good way) about my reciprocated behavior that day, almost as if he 'had' me now, while previously I had ignored him all around. We moved with us sticking tightly and close up together until our chests with only his head being forced away at a good distance. These two dance moves matched that shown in the song video I have pasted below as well. In one of the moves, the hero is moving around in a circle with his hands joined with the heroine with a good distance between them, while they dance in front of a tree. The next move has them dancing close up together with just their necks and heads separated away.

After I had watched the song video, I realized its resemblance with the vision and therefore knew that I had to record the same as it was a part of testimony.

After the dance vision that continued for a while, I had yet another vision.

The Hangout
I saw myself standing up close to his side with my left hand behind his back as I clicked a pic of us together with my right hand outside The Royal Canteen (the small common canteen in the premises).

We were dressed in the same clothes in the visions that we wore that day. Him in his checkered light blue shirt and blue jeans, and me in my white-lined black shirt over blue jeans.

3. Carried Away By Two Winged Demons

After returning to my PG I laid half on my bed on my back. I was resting for a while with my towel covering my face when I had this vision related to that guy. And this vision kept repeating itself until I had written about it. So it must be of much importance. At the most, I would only like to invite him to join us for snacks one day and click a pic with him as a testimony. Because I don't want people to be put at risk either; people who otherwise won't have been affected. But, if those people want to follow and obey God by themselves, they would be required to put everything at stake, and not worry about the risk, even about their life.

Vision (Room D4, Evening): I saw the parallel view of him being quite high in sky as he was being taken away horizontally by two black bat-winged demons holding one of his arms each.

As soon as I had this vision, I panicked and started praying in tongues because a wordy prayer may not be as effective as can be a prayer in tongues when one can't choose the right words!

I don't want any demonic attacks on people God has given me revelations about, and he's a good guy! - A real person, as I saw clearly in his eyes!

He should be vigilant!

4. A White Marker with Two Writing Ends

Later that evening, I had yet another vision after the bat-winged demonic vision. This vision may not be related to Mayank, but I had it the same evening as I laid on my bed and therefore I am recording it her in continuation with the other revelations.

Vision (Evening): I saw a horizontally angled view of a white marker lying horizontally. The marker had two ends, the right end was a green marker tip, while the left end was a red marker tip.

5. Aa Dhoop Maloon Mein Tere Haathon Mein, Aaja Mahiya
[Come Let Me Rub Sunlight In Your Hands, Come, (My Beloved) Fish]

I was trying on a different make-up look this night when I started hearing the lyrics of the chorus of this song . And when I sat down to edit it and add subtitles, I was pushed to put in a certain part of the song that I did.

Video: 1EngSub - Aaja Mahiya

<<1EngSub-Aaja Mahiya.mp4>>

Ater watching it, I realized that the clothing of the hero in the chorus sung in the first half of the song matched that of the above person as I saw him today.

And a while back, I realized one more thing about the song revelation. The song starts with the hero on the stairs above the level of the heroine. Likewise, he too was at a level above on the stairs going downstairs when I passed by him as I moved upstairs. I have the memory of his smile from a level on the stairs that was above me. The song truly described the encounter, and so was sung/highlighted in my spirit by the Holy Spirit.

This song just made my day. A Pure Song.

This also shows God's perception and judgment of the encounter because He is the one who played this song in my Spirit.

He is a good fish of God, and that's why God orchestrated my encounter with him; so that he will turn to Him in time and not be lost in the world anymore, and experience His everlasting and eternal Love and be a part of His kingdom.

Matthew 13:47-52

New International Version

The Parable of the Net

47 "Once again, the kingdom of heaven is like a net that was let down into the lake and caught all kinds of fish. 48 When it was full, the fishermen pulled it up on the shore. Then they sat down and collected the good fish in baskets, but threw the bad away. 49 This is how it will be at the end of the age. The angels will come and separate the wicked from the righteous 50 and throw them into the blazing furnace, where there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.
51 "Have you understood all these things?" Jesus asked.
"Yes," they replied.
52 He said to them, "Therefore every teacher of the law who has become a disciple in the kingdom of heaven is like the owner of a house who brings out of his storeroom new treasures as well as old."

6. The Sweet Prolonged Greeting

Shortly after I had watched the full song above:

Vision (Late Night, 7th Feb 2023): I had the vision of the backside of the upper half of the hero in the song dressed in the orange checkered shirt in the second half. A small figure of the heroine could be seen standing at good distance from him near the water body, almost around 30-40 meters away from the hero. She was dressed in the orange tunic suit as shown in the song, and he kept smiling and waving his hand towards her while she stood still and watched him from that distance.

The vision then shifted to the front half of the hero and now showed a meter close view of his face, as he kept smiling and waving his hand towards the heroine.

The second stanza of the song can be replaced by this version given by the vision, in view of the godly boundaries that people need to maintain.

7. The Embrace

Shortly after the above greeting vision, I had yet another vision while I was still listening to the song.
Vision (Late Night): I saw the Hero of the song embracing the heroine tightly while standing behind her, his hands right below her bosom. They both were dressed in their respective blue dresses shown in the first half of the song.

All revelations given in relation to this song contained in them a sense of intimacy, understanding, happiness and joy.

8. The Dance - The Song

When I was set to write about the dance revelation, this Westlife song was brought to my remembrance by the Holy Spirit:

I heard this song play in the Spirit as well after Fizaa comes to another country to find her lost brother but in her search falls in love with a guy.

10. The Wandering Leaf (Me)

Somewhere in the middle of the past year, I heard a revelation in the spirit when I was lying with my head down on my workplace table.

Sound in the Spirit: I heard the sound of a loud burst from a point at the room's top right within my close vision. After the burst, came the sound of a paper being turned and drifted away by air near my table to my right. It goes along with the first stanza of the above song.

It also reminded me of a video by Brother Nate that I had seen last year where he said, "You may feel like you don't have your authority anymore but are being taken away like a leaf by the wind." He then said a few more things in regard to dealing with the situation.

Page 299. The Flight With Nivedita Ma'am and Pooja

23:33
I had this dream the morning my roommate had to return from her trip. It was on 27th Feb.

Dream (My PG Room D1, Morning, 27th Feb): In this dream, I had to go to a conference with my supervisor and colleague Pooja. So together we boarded a flight. But it wasn't the usual boarding. We were standing at a station with some people, and we entered the vehicle straight in. When we had entered it, I saw that the interior looked like a wide and spacious train compartment with segregated open cubical compartments in a row on both sides, each cubical compartment was meant for one person, and there were no vertical compartments. My supervisor went to her seat at the back, I occupied one of the left compartments near the door, and my roommate went to her seat at my right front. The area around looked dimly lit with cream-colored walls and brown seats.

The vehicle started moving forward smoothly and took speed for a while and then lifted up slowly.

We kept sitting quietly and deboarded at a junction. It was kind of a break for us. I saw Pooja standing at some distance from me with a disposable cup of tea in her hand. Her hair were tied at the back, and she was dressed in a cream full-sleeved shirt tucked inside brown pants. We spent some time in that area.

The vision of the dream then shifted to the inside of perhaps a different plane or a different part of the same plane, but in my judgment it was a different plane as the interior resembled to that of a real plane to a huge extent. In that plane, I saw the hands of an old man sitting on his seat as he was waiting for the air hostess to bring some snacks, and was thinking how he would intentionally accidentally happen to touch her hand. It gave me a repulsive feeling seeing his thoughts in the dream. In front of that man laid rows of seats perpendicular to him at a distance of about three meters from him. The hostess came and handed him a drink and as he took it, he brushed the side of his fingers against her hand while taking the drink. At the edge of one of the rows, sat a short-haired and overweight middle-aged woman dressed in a pencil skirt and a loose top was who was looking at him and noticing his actions as he was directly in her line of sight. Afterward, he was shown caressing the back of a white seat to his right that was bent forward.

When we boarded the plane again, in the same previous manner by stepping in directly from the junction/station, this time the interior didn't look like before. As I entered the vehicle, I looked to my right and saw a slightly wall with its upper half consisting of long glass panes while the lower half was metallic. People were standing near the glass walls, and it looked a bit crowded. I saw the back of Chanchal Ma'am as she stood there looking outside. She wore a navy blue tunic set with a white half jacket on top. There were others present there as well, but hers is a distinct memory that I have. I perhaps interacted

I turned to my left to go to my seat on the right side of the plane. I found a row of sky-blue seats there perpendicular to the window and was about to occupy my seat and be lost in my world, when the short-heighted guy came to me with a book and started talking, and as he did so, the spectacular view of a green field with a house amidst it down to my left caught my attention. I was looking outside mesmerized by the sunlit view when the dream ended.

My Relationship With Moon; 'Moon Hides Behind Clouds'

07 March 2023
20:15

1. My Relationship With Moon

The first time I realized that God used the moon to communicate with me, to tell me something about something, or to tell me the state of a person was the night I had visited the home at my PG's back. I was perhaps June or July of the last year when I went there.

That night when I wandering on the roof, and looking at the moon, I saw that the cloud below the moon had formed a peculiar slightly left-slanted shape of a rod. It stood out from everything else around it, as the entire structure was covering the moon's surface from below. It stayed there for a good while. I thought that the only thing it resembled was a man's (Glory's) erection, because it's shape had some humanly flesh protrusions at the curved tip as well, which is to say that it was not a uniform rod.

Gradually, it became a habit for me to watch moon.

Some months after the first moon-incident, I was walking on the roof and happened to look at the moon. I saw the clouds form a rough face on its surface. At first it looked like it was crying as there were a few cloud drops of tears below one of the eyes. I walked for a while longer and the next time I looked at the moon, two rough red strokes had appeared below the supposed eye-lids and there was a cloud finger at the right pointing to the right stroke. I looked at it for a while and continued walking on the roof. The next time I happened to look at the moon, I saw that the clouds now had formed two huge square shapes on the upper half. It looked like a specs frame, like the one I was using that time and was wearing in that moment.

Today after many months, I felt that same thing with the moon again as I was reminded of the past times I used to watch it.

On a night some months back, it looked like a brown eye because of the light around it and the rays emitting out, and it was after Brother Jonathan had testified his own moon-eye encounter given by the Lord. The Lord had shown him an eye in the sky using the moon to testify that we all have an eye that goes to heaven, while the other goes to Hell.

2. 'Moon Hides Behind Clouds' (to be edited)

I've heard this song in the spirit quite a number of times. And I can't relate it with any other revelation besides the above.

Page 301. The Naked and Dirty

08 March 2023
02:16

The revelations of a naked fat infant with black eyes lying alone in a dark background pertained to Death Conqueror being naked in his sin as he was lost in the world and had not yet turned to God.

In a different dream revelation, I was pouring water on the balcony and cleaning it. While in yet another dream-vision, I saw his first name written on the clean balcony floor that supposedly I cleaned.

But I didn't clean the balcony for some time, and it had now become too dirty with a lot of dry mud. That represented his actual state.

We as sinners need constant washing from God in His blood so that we may be cleansed of our sins through forgiveness and repentance. If God stops washing us, we become dirty again in our sin and therefore become unworthy of His Kingdom.

The fat naked infant represented him being naked in his sin, while the dirty balcony represented his sin condition in the absence of repentance and God's blood. And the second revelation will hold true for my roommate as well as she still continues in her sin with no remorse.

'Man ki Mail Na Dhoyi' (Didn't clean the filth of your heart) - this specific line from a song has been recurring to me in the spirit for a few days now.

If God brings us in a difficult situation, then He brings in time the people who bring us relief, as well.

Within the past few days, I had this vision related to my friend and work colleague Jema (meaning Dove) who sits to my right beside my left most corner seat of the left row of the room (184). I happened to think of her because of something, and the next thing I saw was the following:

Vision (My PG Room D1, the day before yesterday): I saw a vision of her standing in a dark background that extended to half a meter around her, and she was looking at me with two red heart-shaped flat figures in front of her eyes.

This was the first revelation I had related to her. I remember writing a few pages back that I haven't had any revelations related to her by far. But I finally had this. And previous to this, I had another revelation that showed my own inclination as we were about to enter the department lift. The revelation showed me dropping a quick kiss on her shoulder. Of course, I feel godly love for her because of her nature.

Hebrew Baby Names Meaning:
In Hebrew Baby Names the meaning of the name Jemma is: Dove. Little dove. In the Old Testament, Jemima was one of the three beautiful daughters of Job (the other two were Keziah and Keren).

From <https://www.sheknows.com/baby-names/name/jemma/>

Immediately afterward, I happened to think of Akhila (my roommate) and saw the following:

Vision (My PG Room D1, the day before yesterday): I saw a vision of her being on her side of the room and looking at me with entirely black eyes. Her eyes were filled with black color. There could be seen no white or the lens of the eye, but just blackness.

Is it any wonder she goes so well along with that naked-in-sin infant?

She gives me demonic looks often that are hard to look at. I didn't do anything wrong to her and only took God's revelation of her being in my bus and small car as me being responsible for her in a God-ordained way. But she behaved in an emotionally abusive manner nonetheless and at times gives hateful demonic looks with her ugly self peeking out that's hidden in front of others.

If God placed me in this room with her as my roommate who lives to my right and looks at me with black demonic eyes, then He also placed a sweet and cute person to my right in my workplace room who looks at me with hearty eyes of love as I have observed and felt in her behavior, talk, and actions too.

If I was feeling grieved by the actions or inactions of those God showed He had promised to me, then God gave me relieving revelations from other people where I felt loved by them and therefore the promised people's words and actions didn't affect me much.

Today, I was sharing the above two visions with my youngest (step) brother Divyanshu. I told him that Jema was the kind of person who would rather choose to insult her own self than another innocent person, let alone abuse or bully them in an overt or covert manner, that how God had given me someone who was quite good with me and who sat to my right in the workplace if I had to live with a disrespectful and bloated person to my right in the PG; and that it was like an antidote for me. Likewise, the revelations related to other people who adore me with genuine hearty affection and don't mean to cause me pain or shock in any way brought healing and relief to my heart.

1. The Amy Tree Found;

I took this picture on Feb 2nd. An old skeleton face can be discerned on the bark of the tree with lesser leaves. This tree stood inside the Gate No. 5 of the Science Faculty. Inside this gate lies the Cluster Innovation Centre of the University some distance ahead - the same area from which I had the vision of the memory of the side face-view of Death Conqueror from a public lecture, on which the prophetic symbol lifted and place itself up.

I took a broader picture of the view as well from inside the Gate, a month later on March 3rd. There are two trees that can be seen in the broader picture. The taller tree had lost most of its leaves by this time and was almost leafless, while the shorter tree to the right was still full of leaves.

To Be Edited

Gen 25:19-28 (NIV)

The Birth of Esau and Jacob

19 These are the generations of Isaac, Abraham's son: Abraham fathered Isaac, 20 and Isaac was forty years old when he took Rebekah, the daughter of Bethuel the Aramean of Paddan-aram, the sister of Laban the Aramean, to be his wife. 21 And Isaac prayed to the Lord for his wife, because she was barren. And the Lord granted his prayer, and Rebekah his wife conceived. 22 The children struggled together within her, and she said, "If it is thus, why is this happening to me?"[b] So she went to inquire of the Lord. 23 And the Lord said to her,

"Two nations are in your womb, and two peoples from within you[c] shall be divided;
the one shall be stronger than the other,
the older shall serve the younger."

24 When her days to give birth were completed, behold, there were twins in her womb. 25 The first came out red, all his body like a hairy cloak, so they called his name Esau. 26 Afterward his brother came out with his hand holding Esau's heel, so his name was called Jacob.[d] Isaac was sixty years old when she bore them.
27 When the boys grew up, Esau was a skillful hunter, a man of the field, while Jacob was a quiet man, dwelling in tents. 28 Isaac loved Esau because he ate of his game, but Rebekah loved Jacob.

Gen 25:29-34 (NIV)

Esau Sells His Birthright

29 Once when Jacob was cooking stew, Esau came in from the field, and he was exhausted. 30 And Esau said to Jacob, "Let me eat some of that red stew, for I am exhausted!" (Therefore his name was called Edom.[e]) 31 Jacob said, "Sell me your birthright now." 32 Esau said, "I am about to die; of what use is a birthright to me?" 33 Jacob said, "Swear to me now." So he swore to him and sold his birthright to Jacob. 34 Then Jacob gave Esau bread and lentil stew, and he ate and drank and rose and went his way. Thus Esau despised his birthright.

Page 305. Who are the Children of the Promise?

20:50

The promise pertains to my earthly marriage, but it has another dimension of understanding as well.

The promise pertains to the promise of all the people that are going to be 'saved' out of the serpent system because of the testimony and the way things unfold. Some of those people are already revealed to me in different revelations. One was my work colleague Angad who works as a PhD student with Prof Sanjay Jain. I sat to his left while I was talking softly to him and kissing him softly as he looked straight ahead making the prophetic symbol, while we were traveling together on that bus in 'The Bus Ride Home' revelation on Page . Additionally, in the revelation 'The Courting Phase', as my roommate led me to the room where I would be waiting for Khyati (Glory), she pointed to that room while only the left side view of her face was visible as she stood smiling teethfully to my right with her head and neck bent forward and peeking inside the room - again making the prophetic symbol.

A few days back, as I laid on my bed, I saw the left facial view of Deepak in my vision, as it moved a bit around while rotating a bit to and fro in the same plane and slightly translating along the same plane as well. He's a part of the promise as well, but not the promise that is related to my earthly marriage, but that of the promise of the Kingdom of Heaven where the body of the bride of Christ will be wedded to the King of kings 'Jesus Christ'.

Glory is the promise of my earthly marriage, while the others are the promised children of the Kingdom of Heaven through this prophetic symbol, which makes me think if Death Conqueror is another one of those promised children as well, because I saw the symbol lift itself up and settle on the side-view of his face from that day. If I be married to him or not is a different thing. I have seen my wedding with Glory as a part of the prophetic dream that is still continuing to unfold with the initial part of it already having been come to pass, so I know of my future time with him.

Romans 9:6-13
(NLT)
6 Well then, has God failed to fulfill his promise to Israel? No, for not all who are born into the nation of Israel are truly members of God's people! 7 Being descendants of Abraham doesn't make them truly Abraham's children. For the Scriptures say, "Isaac is the son through whom your descendants will be counted,"[a] though Abraham had other children, too. 8 This means that Abraham's physical descendants are not necessarily children of God. Only the children of the promise are considered to be Abraham's children. 9 For God had promised, "I will return about this time next year, and Sarah will have a son."[b]
10 This son was our ancestor Isaac. When he married Rebekah, she gave birth to twins.[c] 11 But before they were born, before they had done anything good or bad, she received a message from God. (This message shows that God chooses people according to his own purposes; 12 he calls people, but not according to their good or bad works.) She was told, “Your older son will serve your younger son.”[d] 13 In the words of the Scriptures, “I loved Jacob, but I rejected Esau.”[e]

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Romans%209:6-13&version=NLT>

(NIV)
God’s Sovereign Choice
6 It is not as though God’s word had failed. For not all who are descended from Israel are Israel. 7 Nor because they are his descendants are they all Abraham’s children. On the contrary, “It is through Isaac that your offspring will be reckoned.”[b] 8 In other words, it is not the children by physical descent who are God’s children, but it is the children of the promise who are regarded as Abraham’s offspring. 9 For this was how the promise was stated: “At the appointed time I will return, and Sarah will have a son.”[c]
10 Not only that, but Rebekah’s children were conceived at the same time by our father Isaac. 11 Yet, before the twins were born or had done anything good or bad—in order that God’s purpose in election might stand: 12 not by works but by him who calls—she was told, “The older will serve the younger.”[d] 13 Just as it is written: “Jacob I loved, but Esau I hated.”[e]

Page 306. The PhD Timeline - A Part

09 March 2023
22:53
I had this dream when I was still in Room D4. I wasn't recording all revelations at that time. But I started doing that now so I am writing this dream here today.

Dream (Room D4, Late 2021/Early 2022): In this dream, I found myself in my maternal grandma's home. However, there was a metallic bench placed there one of the seats of which I was occupying. The bench faced the stairs to the first floor that went to my maternal uncle's floor while to the left laid her house's kitchen on the ground floor. The bench was placed in the huge open area between the main gate and the two BHKs at the end. I was waiting for something while sitting there and was feeling uncomfortable. I saw the slim short-heighted PhD student (don't know her name) that works with Prof Patrick Das Gupta. She stood in front of me and giggled in a broken high pitched tone and then left quickly moving to my right.

PhD thing Delayed
I then started moving toward the covered area of the hall in front of the two rooms that laid at the end. When I reached the covered hall of my Granny's home, I saw Ganga Sir walking hurriedly towards me from its left end, and after he had stopped, he said, "Abhi Abhi DRC se pass karwaya hai.' ("Just got it passed from the DRC (meeting)"). I was disappointed in the dream to hear the same because I was already late in regards to that thing. I replied to him that it meant that the process would take 3-4 more months. I seemed worried as I said that.

The 'Right' Onlookers
The vision then changed to the front right half of Prof TRS and Prof Hashmi being shown for a few seconds, one after the other, in a dark background, as they looked towards the vision's line of sight.

Their eyes were wide open and their expressions were serious. The vision implied that they were looking at things with their 'right eye' (or with a Godly or the right mindset).

Two Profs Under the Rain

I then found myself standing on an open roof. It was raining, and I had my umbrella with me. But when I looked down, I saw Prof TRS standing below perpendicular to the wall of the roof and facing to my left while Prof Hashmi stood in front of him facing him with about the distance of a foot between them. They both stood near the wall directly under the pouring rain drops on one side of the walkway. They weren't carrying an umbrella, though they wore their thick winter jackets. Prof TRS wore his dark brown thick winter jacket while Prof Hashmi wore his own thick winter jacket. I wondered why were they doing such a strange thing - standing there with a serious expression and looking at each other as they talked slowly without their attention being drifted.

*Karu Kya.. (What Else To Do?..)

Please listen to the full song once I have posted the Eng-subbed version.

Video: Edit

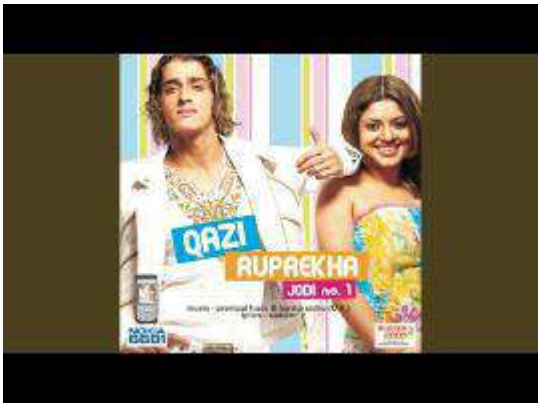
Ref: Karu Kya



What else is there to do on this earth besides to wait for the beloved who is promised in the prophetic symbol to come to me and thus to the Lord God. Just like the song says, I only keep waiting for him/her to come to God in his/her heart. Though in the case of my Earthly promise, I wait for it to manifest physically in my life, as it's not limited to the promised person's change of state of heart towards God, but pertains to his inclusion in my physical vicinity as well, while with others, I am connected to them at a spiritual level and nurture and tend to their hearts as God reveals to me the revelations to release - to eventually draw them to Him so they may find eternal life in Him.

The song used to be one of my favorites back in my school days and was one of those that I used to sing along with my friend Saakshi (Hindi word meaning 'Witness'). It was during high school. Singing songs together in a synchronized voice consisted a huge and perhaps the main part of our friendship. It brought us inner contentment and a sense of relief. I will later post other songs we used to sing together as well. Because all songs seem to come with a spiritual significance.

I represent both singers in a way as I have had both hairstyles. So I call both men and women. But the male singer specifically refers to our Judge and Savior Jesus Christ, as the Urdu name Quazi stands for judge, magistrate, judge in the Muslim kingdoms, solemnizer of marriages, one who recites the necessary wordings at the time of marriage ceremony (From <https://www.rekhtadictionary.com/meaning-of-qaazii>) while Ruprekha means boundaried-form/beauty (us in flesh) - which would be me. But I call everyone on the behalf of both Quazi and Ruprekha. ('Jodi No. 1' in the thumbnail means 'Duo No. 1'.)

And I just wanted to add the fact that I am able to sing the song in both low and high-pitched scales thus mimicking the song's pattern. I'm calling everyone individually.

All the people that God touched through me and my situation about whom God gave me related revelations are the promised children of God that will receive the promise of the Kingdom of Heaven as they leave the flesh trap (the serpent system). Akhila (my roommate), Angad (my colleague), My (step) mother (who's now come to be dearer than a blood-mom), Deepak (the doppleganger of Mrittunjay who sits in my room), Ranveer Singh (because of the revelation that showed the left-side of his face as he was slowly kissing a woman below, making his face resemble the prophetic symbol), Mrittunjay (Death Conqueror), the teacher from the Chem Dept (whose name I don't know) and Khyati (Glory) - all these people are those about whom I received revelations in which the orientation of their face in the revelations made the prophetic symbol.

Khyati being the first about whom I realized the fact of resemblance of the symbol with the event in the prophetic dream. And then I received more revelations related to other people over a period of time.

Though I received revelations related to Ranbeer Kapoor, Prof TRS and Prof Hashmi from my Dept, Mayank (the guy who resembles Glory), and other people as well, I didn't see the exact exhibition of the facial orientation as is in the symbol - but they too should be inside my boat being a part of the 'greater' promise. But I can say that Mayank made that symbol in 'The Duet' revelation because of his position to the left in the duet - so yeah, he too is a part of the promise of reception of the Kingdom of Heaven.

And oh yeah, I got reminded of Kartik Aryan as well. His face too made the prophetic symbol in a way as he covered me on the top supporting him on his palms while he was "protecting" us from the chaos outside. The left side of his face was visible in that part of the dream. I think his was the funniest revelation that I received from among the Bollywood stars, because of his expressions in the dream and the event of casting off of a demon from him.

And then Ayushman Khurana and other people from the industry.

Having been invited to the Kingdom of God in Heaven, these people now should be starting their own individual journeys as they make efforts to grow closer to and know more about the supreme God, being the babes in Christ. But they seem to be too adaptive and quick to learn as they very quickly not only assimilated the information but also took it a step further by adding in their own personal jists to what they understood. So I feel that they will do very well as they move forward.

My boat is filling with time..

14:59
In this phase of my ministry, the revelations given to me have been people-specific and addressed a mixed audience - from my work colleagues to some professors and from my roommate to Bollywood actors. But in the later part, which will bring with it more difficult times, the people belonging to the middle and lower sections will be addressed. As of now, it only addresses those who can read and have enough time and resources at their hand that they can focus on my words. But later, the people addressed would be changed because of my direct on spot encounter with them as they witness God working 'magic' in front of their eyes. As of now, it's mostly from the middle and upper societal sections that people have been revealed to be a part of the promise, and this is so because of the medium of the ministry.

1. The Dance

When I was thinking about writing 'The Duet' revelation related to Mayank, I received yet another song revelation of the song 'The Dance' by Westlife.

I edited the song's video and uploaded it on Page 298 (his page). But somehow I was prompted to open the song video again on the video-editing (Clipchamp) App and this time I put up the duet phone during the musical parts alone, leaving the rest.

However, I felt like I had to make more changes to the video. So I didn't upload the edited one yet but opened it a day before yesterday to see if there was something I could do in order to make the video 'complete'. I wasn't thinking about something else and not the video when I received the revelation of the differently colored flashes being playing on top of the duet photo in synchrony with the keyboard's musical strokes being played in the song. So I knew now the changes that I had to make.

I went ahead with the revealed task and completed it today. I didn't want to upload it on the same page because I wanted to maintain the chronological order of events as they are done in the real life, and I completed this video today so I am uploading it here.

This is in continuation with 'The Duet' revelation related to Mayank.

As we continued dancing together in the 'The Duet' revelation, and as it progressed, he took out his genitalia and the vision then focused on it as it moved closer to it showing its erection at an acute angle of around 45 degrees with the lower vertical. The vision stopped at a close distance to it, stayed there for a while, and then followed the hangout part of the revelation.

This particular detail that I had not previously written kept being highlighted to me and this page opened on its own coincidentally today so I finally wrote this part.

2. The Real and The Affected

After I wrote about the song revelation of 'Come (my beloved) fish' song, I saw others imitating the same pattern of them moving downstairs whenever I would walk upstairs. I could tell the ones that were affected. Do they not understand that the very fact their actions were affected makes the point that the revelation wasn't meant for them. I saw Deepak moving downstairs as he smiled at me while I stepped upstairs in the morning. Does he not understand that the revelation didn't pertain to him? Then why should he try to imitate a situation for himself? The song 'Stay Stay (you)..' that's there on his page is the one the Holy Spirit played in my spirit after I had received the revelation of the blue-colored E-Rickshaw with his name in white on the middle on the outer wall. I edited that song according to the way I was led as that was appropriate according to the Spirit. Then, should others imitate the situation of that song when it's meant for him? No. The revelations are person-specific and others shouldn't try to put themselves in the place of another person. Why is Deepak putting himself in the song situation pertaining to Mayank by intentionally stepping downstairs when I am moving upstairs, all to create a similar situation?

Though Deepak may be a 'planted' doppelganger and therefore some of his actions didn't represent his own self and were affected as he lied a lot about many things, God still gave him grace and gave him a place in my heart. But when it comes to Mayank, though he may be Khyati's doppelganger, he is not a 'planted' one. He just happens to resemble him to some extent and his actions and expressions as I observed over a period of time weren't affected but were motivated by the real state of his own heart. And I wouldn't have changed towards him and would've been neutral had God not given the E-rickshaw revelation to me where he was standing in front of the side entrance of a 4-seater red E-Rickshaw, with his face turned away in shyness. It was because of this revelation that I smiled at him when I saw him next. And our situation happened to resemble the song's that God highlighted later that day.

Now, if I was to forcibly impose the 'Stay Stay (you)..' song's revelation on someone else, it wouldn't do justice to the song as it would depict a false reality and would be called a lie.

People are never content with what they have but want the revelations meant for others come true in their own lives instead.

Page 310. Ayushman - Promised for Heaven; and My Literary Supervisor

23:26

Dream (Today Morning): The dream began with me walking towards my PG. I hadn't still reached the service lane along which my PG lies, but was a few steps away from the beginning of the junction at which the road bifurcated into two roads forward with a third road going towards the left. I saw Ayushman Khurana (the Bollywood Star) walking alongside the walls of the homes that stood on the road that went to the left. He was walking perpendicular to both my direction of walking and the two bifurcated roads that went forward, and thus his face made the prophetic symbol. He wore a black tracksuit with a grey V-shaped thick strip running across its chest. He walked looking forward in his direction across the bifurcation and crossed my path silently, as I saw him and continued walking perpendicular to him.

I was now on the service lane. I saw the white car ahead at some distance that stands parked by the wall opposite to the adjacent house. But this time it was parked by the wall opposite to my PG and apparently it was represented as being my supervisor Nivedita Deo's car. She is an overweight lady with curly and frizzy neck-length hair. She had dropped by to collect some of her bags of belongings that were there at my place. She stood outside the car and told us to put the stuff in the trunk at the back. And as she did so, I noticed her huge square glasses with a red opaque frame and small colorful floral print all over the frame. They looked too good on her. I glanced inside the front of the car and saw her driver looking straight forward. Then I glanced at the back and saw her husband Prof Sanjay Jain, dressed in a white tunic set, lying silently and straight on his back on the back seat in the dark surrounded by clothes all around and holding his phone in his left hand as it stuck close to his face at a distance of 1-3 inches while his face was being illuminated by its light.

She went in and sat beside the driver at the front and I started to put her bags in the trunk. I put everything in and it all fit inside but somehow every time I tried to shut the trunk, it didn't get shut properly but a strip or so of one of the bags was always left outside.

I was finally able to shut it properly.

The next event had us moving to a different place where she kept dropping in to tell me to do one or the other thing, still wearing her thick red square-framed glasses with small colourful floral print. I found myself thinking that I would look for and buy the same literary frame she was wearing. I then found myself going to her to ask about something. I entered a huge hall with her sitting at the front on a chair that looked more like a throne. It was situated at a platform and there were few other chairs present alongside her. After asking her about that thing, I turned back and was moving out of the hall.

A major portion of the dream had us being busy in one or the other thing with our supervisor dropping in at intervals.

But the dream began with Ayushman crossing my path as he walked perpendicular to me and crossed the bifurcation wearing that grey V-striped black track suit.

1. Policeman in Canteen

Dream-Vision (Morning, Within the Past week): In this revelation, I saw the vision of my inner University canteen with the vision looking forward from its left end from a certain height. As the vision moved, it showed the top view of a fat policeman sitting in one of the left seats facing to the right of the vision. The fat policeman was dressed in his khaki police uniform and a shaved head and sat looking in his laptop lying on the table at front with a horizontal window of my Notebook opened on it above another horizontal window.

2. Aunty Is Leaving

Dream-Vision (Within the Past Week): In this vision, I saw the very lean and dark maid aunty that comes to clean our PG standing in our washroom near the wall opposite to the washbasin as she was facing the shower area and said in a flow in discontent and annoyed tone, "Jari hai Mein Yahan Se!" ("I'm leaving this place!").

Page 312. The Lady in Green & Beige

Vision (Room D1, Late night 8th March): I saw the distant vision of a lady standing on one of the stairs outside what looked like a Verandah outside a wide door. A few steps down the stairs laid a body of water. The whole night scene was lit with golden light. The lady was dressed in a beige ethnic dress with a green leafy print all over. The dress wasn't the same in form as what my roommate was wearing in one of the previous revelations. The lady wore a thick skirt instead of the bootcut parallels and had her head covered with a green drape with some shiny beige work along the borders. As she stood there, a huge face of Ranveer Singh blinked on the vision where narrow streaks of beard ran along the sides of his face and mustache and chin area and formed closed loops. He had thin neck-length hair in that vision as well. The vision then ended.

Page 313. Karishma Kapoor and Kajol; It Seems Insulting To Me

I had these visions on the late night of 7th or 8th of this month, as I laid on my bed to sleep after watching the Fizaa song.

1.Karishma Kapoor and Kajol

Vision (Night, 7th or 8th March): I saw the semi-animated visions of the upper half of Karishma Kapoor with her hair open lying on a bed in the same pose as me. The visions then changed to a woken-up Kajol as she sat with her hand below her chin and hair tied at the back.

2. It Seems Insulting To Me

I was complaining to God some days back about how whenever He gave me any revelation that pertained to comparing my looks with a real good-looking actor, it actually felt insulting to me, though I also knew that coming from God the revelations were given as per His righteous judgment.

And I also know that He gives me these revelations as He is fighting my battles. But whenever He gives a revelation that shows the truth about my inner self, I feel that why do we have to make that truth known to inwardly blind people? Like how would it matter if I wrote the John Nash's revelation, and that of me being a watchwoman; because in my eyes those people were not worth fighting for when it came to drawing them to me. Definitely they should be drawn to God as He created them, but why should I have to prove 'my' worth to unapologetic emotional abusers by writing out His perception and judgement of me. And so why did we need to play their game?

Khyati is definitely worth fighting for though because of the revelations God gave me related to Him where He stood fearlessly and firmly with his forearms stretched forth in two revelations, and because of his ungiving perseverance which is also partly a result of him being promised to me by God. But why try to prove my worth to the blind emotional abusers. So I didn't feel good about receiving revelations related to me just for the purpose of making a statement about me. But I know that the revelations have a greater context than to just draw unjust immoral people to me.

Page 314. The Bad Domineering Dad

22:59

Dream (Morning, March 11th): It was night and I lay on my single bed in PG with my head on the side of the bed right below the fan. I was lying on my right side and faced the window while my mom lay in front of me as I gently stroked the side of her head showing her my love. I wanted her to have some rest. She was telling me that she would have to get up when my dad would be back and would've to join him at 10 pm. This made me sad and angry because my dad didn't really love my mom and I didn't want her to be with a fleshly man who only disrespected her, though I didn't show it to her. The next scene had my dad already having been arrived. He had caught hold of my mom on my roommate's bed. They weren't fully lying on the bed but only their upper bodies laid on it, his on top of my mom and it was quite apparent that he had forced her in that position. When I noticed the scene in the dark on my roommate's bed, I quickly went to her side and saw my mom being tortured for some reason by my dad. I saw her expressions where she wasn't making any sound but it was quite clear that she was in pain as he eyes were wide open and her lips pressed. I noticed what my dad was doing. He had caught hold of my mom's facial skin at the bottom left part of her face near her lips, and was pulling it outwards with his thumb and forefinger. I noticed more carefully and saw that he didn't stop but kept pulling the skin more outwardly and now it was extended to such an extent that the far end of the skin at 4-5 inches from her face now resembled a thin streak of granular skin while I was trying to get his hand off her cheek. I was unable to loosen his hold of the streak of skin and for a second the thought of cutting off that part of the skin to get him off her came to my mind but then it would've hurt my mom so I wrestled to loosen his hold. I was successful in doing so. I did all of this while standing behind my dad who laid on top of my mom, halves of both of them lying on my roommate's bed in a perpendicular position to it. I then got hold of his second hand as well which was holding her left upper arm. I had now managed to get both his hands off my mom and was biting the forefinger of his right arm to cause him pain so that he would move away from her. But I only happened to bite the part that was covered with its nail so it didn’t make much of a difference. But at least I had gotten his hands off my mom, though he wasn't fully off of her. I then woke up abruptly and heard the sound of a car horn blowing outside and it kept doing so for a while. It was still dark, somewhere between 4 to 5 in the morning.

It made me think if it represented someone's analogous situation which only that person will understand.

Page 315. True Love's Kiss (or Touch) - A Revelation

13 March 2023
23:26

Maleficent was a forest fairy who lived in the Moors and was happy to live with her freedom that she enjoyed as a fairy in the forest, being in full harmony with her surroundings.

She was a fairy because she had two fairy wings and magical powers. She wasn't greedy like a human who only wants to possess more, but her life revolved around living harmoniously in the moors. She then met a boy named Stephen and they became good friends.

On her 17th or 18th birthday, Stephen gave Maleficent what he called 'A True Love's Kiss'.

He later stopped visiting her in the moors but stayed in his human land as he tried to be more politically powerful by staying in the King's close circle. But when he did visit her the next time, it was because of his intention to kill her. He was not able to kill her though because he was somewhere attached to her, but he was also not too attached to her to not hurt her. He sedated her and cut off her wings to present to the King in order that he may tell the story of him killing maleficent and therefore putting an end to their fear of her.

Maleficent was broken when she woke up and found her wings gone. As a fairy, her wings were her identity, and unlike humans, her life didn't revolve around lifestyle and possessions. Losing her wings was like losing the essence of her being as she was a fairy and not a human (so she thought like a fairy as well).

She developed a bitter heart for Stephen because of this act of his and when she got to know about the birth of his daughter Aurora to a human mother, she went to his place and put a curse of death sleep on her which would be activated on her sixteenth birthday. Upon Stephen's begging to her, she added a revoking condition to the curse - that Aurora could only be woken up by a true love's kiss. She did this while looking at him with a bitter heart, reminding him of the past and how he had later betrayed her.

Time passed by and she visited baby Aurora to keep an eye on her. and though she hated Aurora initially, she developed a bond with her by the time Aurora was grown up.

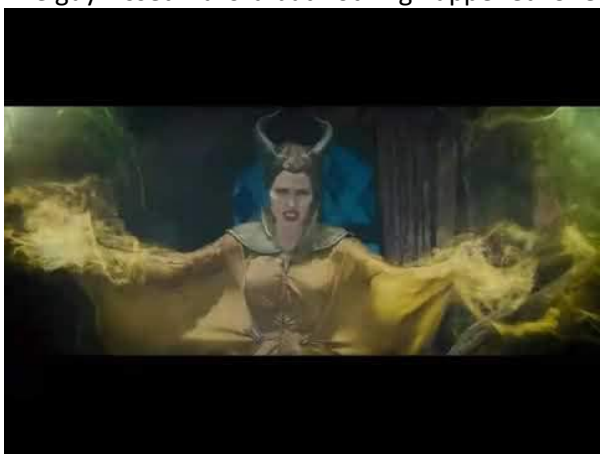
GO AWAY

The time of the curse also drew neigh and on the day of her sixteenth birthday, the curse was fulfilled and Aurora fell into her death sleep. Maleficent brought the Prince to Aurora's bed in her palace - the guy whom Aurora had once conveyed to her as him being her love interest whom she desired to marry. The guy kissed Aurora but nothing happened. She tried to revoke the curse, but to no fruition.



This made maleficent realize that she had done a horrible thing out of a bitter and vengeful heart by putting the curse. She wept by Aurora's bed and confessed how she had become too important to her now and how she loved her. She had just kissed Aurora's forehead and turned her back to her to leave when Aurora woke up.

Maleficent got her wings back at the end of the movie as Aurora found them and released them - and they flew straight to her and joined them.

Page 316. True Love's Touch - Continued..

00:18

I was still in my Bsc and had fallen too sick. It was back in 2011 or 2012 and I was staying in Saroj Sadan - the PG around the corner. I was suffering from a fever and couldn't digest anything that I ate. It only came out as soon as I had eaten it and I suffered constant bellyache as well because of acidity. I was shivering as well because of some reason and though I took the prescribed antibiotics, my health wasn't recovering. I had never fallen this ill; but after coming to this city and staying here for a year or two, that was my body's reaction to the surrounding I was in and the food I had been consuming in the PG. Because of my ill health, my mom had come to stay with me in my PG and was taking care of me.

During one of those days, I was shivering as I lay by my mom's lap while she sat beside me on my bed. I was telling her to rub my belly so I could have some relief from the acidic pain that wasn't leaving despite taking antacids. I felt too cold as well and couldn't stop shivering no matter how many layers of clothes or blankets I put on myself. I asked her casually to put her hand on my head, and as she placed her palm on my forehead, a calming wave flew within my body that settled down the shivering and brought a sudden warmth. Within a second I was at ease. It was nothing less than magic because a touch of her hand brought me out of the constant cold shiver and brought inner warmth - not surface warmth but an inner warmth that was felt inside one's body and therefore nourished one from within. I didn't believe in God at that time. Now I know who made it possible.

I didn't understand this experience but all I knew was that it had actually happened and was indeed real. It was one of more of such inexplicable spiritual experiences that I later had in the PG.

Some months back as I was rewatching some of Maleficent movie's scenes, what struck me was 'the true love's kiss' scene where Maleficent's true love's kiss brought Aurora out of her death sleep. It struck me because it reminded me of the healing touch of my mom's palm on my forehead. And it startled me for a while because I never had a good relationship with my mom and she always mistreated and verbally abused me, calling me an orphan and what not? She would taunt me by harshly saying that people leave their kids behind and die, and it was when I was still very much young - almost 4-5 years old. My birth mom had passed away when I was 2-3 years old and within an year my dad had remarried. Her taunts had seeped in my subconscious and one day I did cry hard as I shared everything with my grandmother and paternal aunts while I was in middle school. I cried because I hadn't shared this part of her behavior with anyone else until then but had kept it hidden inside. I used to think that why did she take the role of a mother if she didn't know how to treat a little child.

But during my time of sickness in BSc, she was with me. She did everything, brought stuff from the market and even cleaned my vomit. So, though the movie's scene brought to my remembrance her healing touch from many years back, the correlation was hard to believe and digest.

When I look at Maleficent's story and my mom's, I found many similarities. Maleficent was a free fairy who was happy living independently, just like my mom did when she was still working and staying in a hostel near her workplace. But then she got married to her own version of Stephen who first said fake sweet words to her but later clipped her wings and confined her inside while mistreating and disrespecting her all the time. She hated me initially and mistreated and cursed me all the time (to her, I was like a curse). But over time, she developed some deep feelings for me as well that she only realized when I cut her off for around more than a year.

I've been developing a good bond with my mother now as we have been talking regularly for a few months..

She likes it and wants to have casual conversations, while previously I couldn't have maintained a normal chat with my mom. We are at a much different place now.

And she told me that talking to me brings relief and peace to her mind..

14th March 2023
7:48
I know that God made it possible and He is the one who brought me healing in that moment but He did it in a way that would remove those bitter layers from my eyes that developed due to the hurtful past experiences that had accumulated with her over the past many years. He prompted me to ask her to put her palm on my forehead, brought me healing through the touch, and many years later put the truth of the situation in my Spirit last year, changing my heart towards her while changing hers towards me as well through various situations where she got repeatedly betrayed and demeaned by my narcissistic dad, and which made her look back and grasp the reality of her bond with him.

7:59
I bought her a phone the day before yesterday with the color 'Aurora Green' and it reminded me of us and the movie and cleared the air with the case between me and my mom.

I was half-asleep on my bed with my head to the left of my table standing along the wall beside the window.

Vision (This Morning): I saw an empty rectangular white cardboard box lying at the end of the table near to me, in a position parallel to me and the bed. It was around 5-6 inches high, around a foot long 5-6 inches wide. It was lying open on my table with its base resting on its white covering lid.

The revelation in which I saw the base of the huge foot of Jesus as He walked on a transparent surface above me goes along with the initial lyrics of this song where the Hero is warning the opposing party to get out of the way and not to mess with them. I was hearing these lyrics in my spirit after which I edited out the relevant part. The lady in green and black beside the hero represents me.

Jesus wore His long off-white tunic in that revelation as He walked above my vision with his dark brown slippers on.

Page 319. The Semi-Open House

15 March 2023
15:46
I woke up from this dream today morning.

The Semi-Open House

Dream (Room D1, Today Morning): In this dream, I found myself in a house a part of which resembled my middle school in its inner structure. The lawn to the left when you entered through the main gate became the house's hall and the classrooms in front of the lawn became the house's rooms. It was a huge house but wasn't quite organized.

The Fishes

I found myself checking out a tiny aquarium in that house and it resembled the shape of a small cylindrical mixing and grinding vessel. I had held in my hand and was rotating it quarterly around the horizontal axis. I did this to free the small white fish stuck in a corner. The fish had a sky-blue curved line around its jawline and resembled the tiny version of a dolphin. I had to rotate the aquarium many times to unstuck the fish. With every rotation, the fish was stretched a bit and got a bit more unstuck and out of the problem zone. The small fish was finally out of the lock and its entire body could be now seen. It wasn't more than a few inches long, though after going through all that stretching, it's face looked a fit twisted with an eye slightly popping out, but at least it was alive and could be nurtured now. It gave me a side look with its wide-open popped eye and swam away in the aquarium as I now rested it on a surface. I thought I should give the small fish some fish food as it was just freed and was out in the fresh water and therefore could be cared for. I happened to put a larger amount of fish food in the tank than I was expecting, and saw the few fishes that were present inside rush to the small black food balls in water that now had seemed to changed its colour to being orangish along with a few leaves present inside near the surface. I was still standing near the aquarium with my back towards it. But when I turned back, I saw a semi-animated, black, medium-sized fish hop itself out from behind a piece of furniture standing to my slight left. The fish was about 1 to 2 feet long and it had sharp boundaries and a plane surface without the appearance of any fish scales. It hopped slowly along the wall, lifting itself by an inch or two towards my right, and stopped below the aquarium. It lay there motionlessly with its round eye wide open.

I didn't know what to do about it because the aquarium wasn't spacious enough to contain it. I went out of the room through a door to the left and found another black fish of the same kind lying on a wooden table that stood along the outer wall of the room. The table stood in a long covered corridor that resembled the one outside the DSKL hall of my department in front of which lies the parking space as one walks down a few steps, and a concrete road that runs parallel to it. But in the dream, instead of the parking space and the road, there stood a pool of water in the front.

(The DSKL hall of my workplace is a huge lecture room that stands between a corridor on one side and a lawn on the other side.)

I looked at the black fish and was feeling pity for it, but was too scared to touch it and put it in the water body. I knew that if I touched it, it was going to flap itself ferociously which would have scared me more. I couldn't get over my fear of its reaction and walked past it by some distance. I had some of the fish food left in my fist. I thought that I may not be able to help this black fish but I can at least feed the fishes that are there in the water from a distance. So I threw the tiny food balls in the water body near the end of the stairs and saw many small fishes gather as they came out and consumed it. The water body had looked quite calm so I wasn't expecting that chunk of fishes come together instantly. But the view gave me the impression as if the entire place had an aura of consuming others, living or non-living.

I turned back and walked to the black fish on the table. I thought if only it could drop itself on the floor, perhaps my job would be easier. Coincidentally, it dropped itself and even hopped to the left and stopped between two surfaces at the right end of the pool. But it didn't hop straight into the water. I took hold of an off-white cloth and was reaching out to get hold of it to throw it in the water, but I was scared to lift it even with the cloth in my hand. I pushed and pulled my hand a few times, not being able to decide to get a hold of it. When I was slightly closer to it this time than my previous attempts, it moved a bit and scared me off again. I moved away from it knowing that I won't be able to pick it up.

The pool area was represented as the College area on the other side that adjoined the school rooms in my hometown in the previous part of the dream.

The Orange and White Snake

As I walked away from the fish, I saw my dad come walking in from the left side of a green field behind him that I could see. The structure, again, resembled my middle school's main field that had a side entrance from its left. My dad was dressed in a full-sleeved sky-blue shirt that was tucked inside blue jeans and he held a coiled orange snake with white flowy stripes, that hung like a tyre, in his right hand. He said something like, "Ye saanp ek kone mein muda hua pada tha." ("This snake was lying coiled in a corner in the ground.")

I was amazed at him not feeling scared of the snake at all. He walked through the corridor with that snake in his right hand and went to the far right end of the pool, about 8-10 meters away from me and flung the snake in the water. As it went in the water, it expanded itself and became much more larger and wider in size and covered the entire pool diagonally. This scared me as I thought that this snake could even get out of the pool as it had a much wider reach now because of its increased size. I also felt a weird relief for not throwing that black fish in the water because I thought that this huge snake would have definitely eaten it. While I watched it in the water, my dad was walking back into the corridor to its left. When he reached near the left end and was a meter or so away from the black fish, the end of the serpent that was near him splashed out of the water behind him and coiled tightly on its own self making a meter or more long of a double helical snake's end. Again, I was scared to witness the weird view behind him but he stood there fearlessly while smiling. I was hoping the snake won't hurt him but he didn't seem to be concerned about it at all and the snake too wasn't behaving in a volatile manner but was behaving in a constrictive way outside the water, while in the water it had stretched itself fully and had abruptly increased in length and breadth. I also feared that animals present at the other side of the pool might cross over to my side and enter the house, as a green jungle-like area could be seen on the other side of the pool above the white stairs that went down to it.

The Tourists

I went back inside the room and then in the hall. I wanted to make sure that the doors and windows of the house were locked because I didn't want the animals coming in from any opening. Though I had locked one of the doors but there were others as well. I took a look around. The hall was huge with a row of 2 or 3 rooms at the front, while at the right end was a door that opened to yet another corridor that resembled the one present in one of the houses we lived in. I walked into that space and followed the path. At the end of the corridor, about 8-10 meters away from the door, I found stairs going downwards that took a turn to the left after 10-12 stairs, again resembling the structure of that hometown's house, and brought one down to the left of the pool area. (This also resembled the back door exit of the DSKL hall that exited in the corridor in front of the parking area.) I stood there and observed the surroundings for a while. Youngsters were walking from a narrow corridor to the left of the stairs and walking down those stairs. The environment looked completely different now. The pool was clean to the extent that the stairs going down into the water could be seen. There were no fishes in the pool anymore and neither was the serpent. I was shocked to see such a changed view of the same area that had previously looked dangerous - full of weird happenings with the fish and the snake. The whole house seemed haunted because of such incidents.

I walked back through the corridor into the hall and stood at the door. There were others with me as well.

The Animals

We were keeping a watch on the other end of the corridor because we didn't want the animals to come walking inside. I stood inside the open door and saw that there was no concrete structure for a door there anymore but only two curtains - one in front of the other. I drew one of the curtains. The inner curtain fell down as I was drawing it. I looked above and saw that it was detached from the supporting rod and the rod too was not too strongly fixed in the wall either. We tried to put up that fallen curtain in its place and were trying to hold things together. But to our loss, the curtains were not whole either but were rugged and torn, and therefore didn't cover the entrance fully from below as a part of them was short in height.

If we saw a human had come up from the stairs at the other end of the corridor, we would call him and let him in quickly; but we were trying to evade the animals. Amidst all of this, all of us were too wary and scared.

The Buffalo and The Car

I then spotted a black buffalo standing at the other end of the corridor. It wasn't the usual-sized one but rather looked like a fat calf. I quickly hid behind the right side of the curtain. I was hoping that that buffalo wouldn't come walking to our side. But to my dismay, the next thing I saw peeking inside from the torn curtain from below was the buffalo's black forehead as she stood there outside the curtains trying to move in but getting confused by the apparent wall and wasn't realizing that she could walk through it right inside as they were just curtains. Though it was one of the animals, it gave an innocent impression because of the way it was moving slowly at its position. I moved backwards and the buffalo came walking right in but instead of continuing in the forward direction, it took a sharp turn to the left. It looked like it knew where it was going.

The vision followed the buffalo who stopped in front of the bumper of a parked red car inside the dark and dimly lit house. I wasn't expecting to find that car parked inside the house, but, apparently, the buffalo knew about it.

The vision of the observer then shifted to the inside of the car to a low level between the two front seats. Apparently, I was now inside the car and seated behind on the floor between the two seats and was looking outside. It looked like the buffalo was about to climb on the car but what I saw was a black surface pressing against the lower left side of the windshield. It seemed that on top of the buffalo was present a monkey as well who too wanted to move along with it. I saw that the black surface made the shape of a black splash every time it pressed on the glass from the outside. After observing this for a while from the inside of the car, I now found myself standing outside of the car.

The Baby Head

But this time I had a slightly horizontally-oval, half-a-foot-wide head of a baby in my hands. The fat face of the baby faced to the left in my hands and its eyes were closed. It didn't make any movement and didn't look as if it was even breathing. I observed it for a while as I held it in both my hands and realized that it was still wrapped in what looked like an embryonic sac which gave it a cold light blue tint. I also realized that it was a stillbirth and that the baby had grown cold and that that was also why it looked pale with that sky blue tint though a part of it was due to the fact of it still being wrapped in the embryonic sac. I inquired someone present near me about the baby. The person told me that the doctors had left the baby inside the car after the stillbirth and had left.

I kept looking at the motionless innocent face of the baby in my hands and wanted it to live and breathe. Interestingly, the entire time I remember the baby's head being in my hands, it faced to the left, thus making the prophetic symbol. I decided to pray for the baby with the baby's head still in my hands, and I said something like, "I pray that this baby be healed and brought to life in the name of Jesus." The baby's head in my hands then changed to a flat grey surface resembling a cemented photo frame.

(Apparent) Evil Awakened

And on that grey surface appeared the engraved tiny features of a face with vertically narrow and squinted eyes resembling those of Death Conqueror's. As the features appeared, the features gave a very wicked smirk to my left which made me regret my decision to pray to awaken it to life. I then started praying another prayer in the name of Jesus. I said something like, "I pray that whatever evil entity is awakened be put to rest in the name of Jesus." As I said so, the face on the grey surface deformed a bit. I continued praying as I wanted my prayer to be effective. I said, "I pray that this evil entity doesn't affect the world with its powers in any way in the name of Jesus."

"I pray that it won't be able to harm anyone in the name of Jesus."

"I pray that it doesn't affect the world in any way, shape or form with its powers in the name of Jesus."

I continued to pray in this manner and while I did so I held the frame away at a distance to my right. I moved around my position while praying and I could see a staircase to my vision's right that went upstairs, while the features on the frame were still deformed and weren't smirking like before.

The Cook's Door is Shabby

I then went back to the curtains and stood there. Someone present there told me that the door present to the left, right after the corridor began outside the curtains, was the one used by the cook to pass through. I could see the front view of the door to the left through the wide space between the curtains. The door lay perpendicular to the curtain door we were behind. It had a shabby appearance on the outside. It consisted of two wooden doors of varying widths placed together. The wood looked quite old and was scraped in the U-shape at the bottom giving it an unfinished look. I saw that the cook's door was not closed properly. I feared that the animals may enter through that door so I stepped out to lock the door from the inside. I thought that I could go back near the curtain area from behind the cook's door as it was connected to the inside of the rest of the house. I entered the cook's door, stood behind it, and started trying to lock it. I tried to lock the wider door to my left, and then its right side to the narrower door to the right. But the bolts weren't staying in their places and would immediately loosen. I realized that the door couldn't be properly locked because of the smooth and sliding bolts that didn't stay in place. But I was glad that at least the door was closed properly now, though not locked. I looked to my right and saw some furniture that must be leading into a room inside which could be connected to the hall I had walked out of a while back. I sensed some movement as well. There were some humans present who were suggesting something. I was still worried about the unlocked door when the dream ended.

I made these notes earlier during the previous year back in January. And I felt led to share them here today. Some of the content is also inspired by Adele's Bible Study program I was following at the time but most of it is my expression of what I understood from this part of the scripture.

Gen 2:15-25

Gen 2:15 And the LORD[H3068] God[H430] took[H3947] (H853) the man,[H120] and put[H5117] him into the garden[H1588] of Eden[H5731] to dress[H5647] it and to keep[H8104] it.

Gen 2:16 And the LORD[H3068] God[H430] commanded[H6680 H5921] the man,[H120] saying,[H559] Of every[H4480 H3605] tree[H6086] of the garden[H1588] thou mayest freely eat:[H398 H398]

Gen 2:17 But of the tree[H4480 H6086] of the knowledge[H1847] of good[H2896] and evil,[H7451] thou shalt not[H3808] eat[H398] of[H4480] it: for[H3588] in the day[H3117] that thou eatest[H398] thereof[H4480] thou shalt surely die.[H4191 H4191]

Gen 2:18 And the LORD[H3068] God[H430] said,[H559] It is not[H3808] good[H2896] that the man[H120] should be[H1961] alone;[H905] I will make[H6213] him an help[H5828] meet for him.[H5048]

Gen 2:19 And out of[H4480] the ground[H127] the LORD[H3068] God[H430] formed[H3335] every[H3605] beast[H2416] of the field,[H7704] and every[H3605] fowl[H5775] of the air;[H8064] and brought[H935] them unto[H413] Adam[H121] to see[H7200] what[H4100] he would call[H7121] them: and whatsoever[H3605 H834] Adam[H121] called[H7121] every living[H2416] creature,[H5315] that[H1931] was the name[H8034] thereof.

Gen 2:20 And Adam[H121] gave[H7121] names[H8034] to all[H3605] cattle,[H929] and to the fowl[H5775] of the air,[H8064] and to every[H3605] beast[H2416] of the field;[H7704] but for Adam[H121] there was not[H3808] found[H4672] an help[H5828] meet for him.[H5048]

Gen 2:21 And the LORD[H3068] God[H430] caused a deep sleep[H8639] to fall[H5307] upon[H5921] Adam,[H121] and he slept:[H3462] and he took[H3947] one[H259] of his ribs,[H4480 H6763] and closed up[H5462] the flesh[H1320] instead[H8478] thereof;

Gen 2:22 And[(H853)] the rib,[H6763] which[H834] the LORD[H3068] God[H430] had taken[H3947] from[H4480] man,[H120] made[H1129] he a woman,[H802] and brought[H935] her unto[H413] the man.[H120]

Gen 2:23 And Adam[H121] said,[H559] This[H2063] is now[H6471] bone[H6106] of my bones,[H4480 H6106] and flesh[H1320] of my flesh:[H4480 H1320] she[H2063] shall be called[H7121] Woman,[H802] because[H3588] she[H2063] was taken[H3947] out of Man.[H4480 H376]

Gen 2:24 Therefore[H5921 H3651] shall a man[H376] leave[H5800] (H853) his father[H1] and his mother,[H517] and shall cleave[H1692] unto his wife:[H802] and they shall be[H1961] one[H259] flesh.[H1320]

Gen 2:25 And they were[H1961] both[H8147] naked,[H6174] the man[H120] and his wife,[H802] and were not[H3808] ashamed.[H954]

My Notes:

Gen 2:15 – God assigned man the charge to dress and keep the garden.

Gen 2:16-17 – In these verses, we see God giving first warning instructions to man a He tells him to not do something because it would lead to dire consequences for him. We see that God gave man the choice.

Gen 2:18 – God sees that it's not good for man to be alone and wants to make a helpmate for him. God likes companionship. But He doesn't like lying, cheat or deceit, and definitely not abuse of any kind though He punishes when one transgresses and. Because God loved Adam, He gave him a garden to live in, and He also warned him about not eating from a certain tree. He gave him innocence to enjoy what He intended him to. We'll see later that devil is a stealer of innocence and wants to make people wicked and deceitful. But God stands on His eternal precepts; He said to Adam what He meant.

Gen 2:19-20 – God formed beasts of field from the ground and the fowl of the air separately for the garden. He didn't just take those that were outside and put them in. He took special interest and measure to form the life that was to live inside the garden by forming it inside the garden itself. Also, we see that though it was God who formed the land and air life in the garden, He chose Adam to name the same and even stayed to see what he would name it. He gave everything freely to Adam for his good pleasure.

God saw that no suitable help mate for Adam could be found in the garden among the beasts and the fowls. God perhaps saw that the best scenario would be for Adam to have a personal bond with one of his own kind.

Gen 2:21-22 – God caused a deep sleep to fall on Adam and took one of his ribs, closed the flesh thereof and formed a woman. We see that God again took special measures to bring a helpmate to Adam. He could've formed a woman from dust like He did Adam. But He chose to form her from his rib instead to signify the special bond they were to share.

{ : This also shows God's creativity. He doesn't need to do the same thing again the same way. He can choose to do it as He wants. He formed the woman from one of Adam's ribs. He didn't choose to form her from the dust like He did Adam. Also, we see that He didn't form many women, but only 'one' as Adam's helpmate. This shows that God valued a one-to-one interpersonal relationship which is also reflected in Him creating initially only one man to have a relationship with and to dress and keep the garden. He gave His specific instructions to that man. Later He thought that it wasn't good for Adam to be alone and formed the woman.

Though God formed many angels, He perhaps gave special importance to man (Adam) because he was lower than the angels but higher than the beasts, and also was going to be Christ's representative in the future against devil.

He formed the first man and woman using special measures with personal care and effects with the actions symbolizing and signifying some important aspects they were to fulfil for each other. He showed His personal care and concern for the Adamic race in forming the first of their kinds in a special way.

We can also argue that perhaps God didn't intend initially Adam to multiply his kind in the garden as it was later that He thought that Adam should have a helpmate. So, it could be that he made the first man and woman as pseudo spiritual beings (part flesh, part spirit) or utterly innocent fleshly beings which will be clear as we will see in later chapters that Adam and the woman (Eve) were so innocent that they didn't even know that being naked was shameful when they were initially formed naked.

{e-Sword notes: Human love is God's best gift to man. Without it even Eden would not be Paradise. That Adam was able to name the animals, affixing a title suggested by some peculiarity or characteristic, indicated his royal supremacy, and, in so far as we live in God, that supremacy is restored. See Dan_6:22; Mar_1:13. But what is power without love, or a throne without a consort? Eve was, therefore, given to crown his bliss; taken from his side, as afterward the Church from the opened side of Christ.See Joh_19:34, and Eph_5:25. Still God brings Eve to Adam; and such a marriage is truly blessed.}

We see in verse 22 that it was God that brought the woman to the man. Adam didn't have to set out to search for his helpmate, but God Himself brought one to him, that which was best suitable for him. This also shows that God many times creats situations where He Himself brings a suitable helpmate for a man. By default, the woman is 'brought' to the man by God Himself and He just has to wait until the right time.

How wonderful and considerate is it of God to Himself bring the woman to the man.

Gen 2:23-25 – Adam named the woman as woman because she was taken out of man. Adam seems glad to know that the woman is bone of his bones and flesh of his flesh; perhaps that's why God created the woman from his rib. Adam wouldn't have felt the same had God formed the woman from the dust. But now he 'knows' that she is taken from his side, and therefore feels connected to her.

--> In a world without sin, being naked is redundant and holds no meaning as such. But in a world of sin, it comes with a plethora of repercussive emotions (like shame) and it also entices others to sin, much like waving a piece of meat in front of a carnivorous animal, or waving your expensive belongings to a thief which is going to make him want to steal it. The animal if not trained is going to jump straight to snatch it, and an immoral person will steal what belongs to others. While in a sinless world, you have no fear of your belongings being stolen regardless of how they are stored - openly or discreetly, because the minds of people involved are pure.

1. Who Wins a Lost Battle..

For the past few months, my attention had been being pointed to Sikander (Alexander in Hindi) and his act of conquering the world. I didn't write about it though. A few days back, I happened to listen to this recent adv song as I was busy doing something else so couldn't skip the advertisement. But as I listened to it, I realized that the song actually sounded quite good and its lyrics and music were also encouraging. So, after the song was over, I looked at my screen and wanted to see which song or adv it was. I found out that it was Ranveer Singh's latest adv song that sponsored the soft drink brand of Pepsi. I watched the song and found the video too quite encouraging as the performance was too energetically delivered. Later I watched it a few times as it was encouraging to watch it. Afterwards, I was prompted by the Holy Spirit to watch it as the chorus played in my spirit when I was editing a different video.

But today I was hearing the lyrics in the spirit with a repetitive emphasis on a specific portion of the lyrics as I lay in my bed.

For the past few days, I have been hearing the keyboard music at the beginning of this song. So I watched it again a few days back in the morning.

The entire song has significance when it comes to its relation to my journey.

Vision (Workplace, Today Around Noon): In this vision, I saw a woman in a full light brown dress with a V-neck and black Cheetah dots all over as she stood in a flowy pose at some distance from a set of windows behind her to the left inside a well-lit room with white walls. Her hair were wrapped around her head in aluminium foil above her ears, and formed the shape of an irregular bun that extended along the sides above her ears.

Vision (Early Jan): I saw a medium-large lamp made of earthen clay which was lit in a dark background. The surrounding area was dark but the lamp was shining. I always preferred to call this kind of lamp by its name Diya since childhood. Using any other synonym didn't seem fitting to me. But another synonym for it, that I hardly used and didn't feel inclined to use either for some reason, was Deepak. Here's a close resemblance of the vision.

I hadn't understood the meaning of this vision. So I kept it in the jar with other revelations. But now I know that it pertains to the doppelganger Deepak in my lab. Though he was planted as a Doppelganger, he is not meant to represent the one he was sent to, as the vision of his own face separately making the prophetic symbol was shown to me. He was planted because of someone else's purpose, but it was God who wanted to save Him. Now that the other related revelations were put together, so I wrote the vision.

Deepak Gives A Rose
This vision repeated itself many times that day so I knew I had to record it.
Vision (A-16, 18th March): Deepak bent down on one knee with a rose extended forth in his hand.

And he was indirectly communicating to me to 'low-knee' by saying that he hailed from 'Loni'.

17:21
I had started to have brief fainting episodes during the past weeks and was feeling low in energy as well most of the time. At times, when I would get up after sitting or lying down for a long time, I would experience blackness in my head for a good 3-4 seconds. The day before yesterday I was so low in energy that I could hardly keep up pace with my colleagues while walking. I was walking at a distance of about 4-5 meters behind them and at night I found it hard to even lift my hand, but I somehow managed to wash clothes.

I have been eating quite frequently and in good amounts for a week or so.

Yesterday I had a good conversation with Jema as well and I shared with her all the things that made her very much Godly. I had happened to ponder back at all the times my roommate Akhila had been rude, mean, deceptive and argumentative with me, and how she had insulted me and misbehaved. I concluded that it consisted a good approx 85% amount of all my interactions with her. Even when she was nice, it was outwardly and I didn't feel the mutually nurturing inner connection that I felt with Jema or would've felt with any other genuinely compassionate, loving, good, and kind individual. Her replies and behavior only left me feeling irritated and depleted and seemed a waste of useful compassionate energy. Concluding her behavior in the department made me so angry with her yesterday as I looked at the sum total of how she had behaved with me over the past year. I realized that even the times that she may have done something to help me didn't hold any meaning because when I thought about her, it only came along with a sapping feeling. Later afterwards I was having a casual chat with my colleagues and listened to Jema share about her mom telling her about a village she had a relative living in where they had held a wedding and the food was prepared by the ladies of the village itself. She shared that even the menu consisted of daily vegetables that one prepared, but yet it was cooked deliciously. I observed that she didn't look down at her mom's recollection of this village's event but was quite amazed and appreciative. Even the way Jema talked showed her humility and I didn't at all see the presence of a superior attitude that I always saw standing like a pillar inside my roommate.

I told Jema about the same -that she and my roommate lay on the two polar ends of a measuring rod. I told Jema that she was quite humble, humbler than most that I had met, that she was genuinely compassionate. She said that I was the first person to complement her in that aspect because most who had met her formed a perception of her having a sort of bigoted attitude because she chose to look as she liked. She like to colour her hair, wear colored contact lenses and dress in a glamorous manner during her college days and the same earned her the false perception of being prideful. I cleared the air for her and told her that I didn't see any attitude in her since the first day I had met her in the dept. She had come across as a very humble and easy-going person, was a patient listener, understood the daily struggles of life, and didn't live in a rich-world fantasy where she thought she was deserving of some special kind of worship where the other person had to lower oneself down in order for her to feel good about herself which was how my roommate behaved with me. As I talked to her more about this, I realized that she actually had many better features about her than my roommate and yet she was humbler and not psychopathic, and I shared the same with her as it came to my mind at that moment. I told her that she had much longer hair than my roommate which she had dyed brown and blonde which gave her a barbie look, that she knew professional make-up skills as she had taken a three-month course, and she had taught college students as well for a time-period before she got admitted in PhD - and yet she was so much of a better person than my roommate who only wanted to make me feel inferior, while Jema rather put her own self down and didn't make a big deal about anything related to her. She didn't think of her as being extraordinarily intelligent while my roommate was putting me down when I can definitely do more things than her because of my background and the way I had trained myself. While I and my colleagues thought of our work as being just another piece of research that we were working on and actually kind of belittled ourselves as we judged our progress in our PhDs, my roommate who is pursuing an open-distance learning Masters course was trying to prove her intelligence in various different ways and put 'me' down. Such an inverted sense of behavior going from workplace to PG. Smart people belittled themselves, while dumbasses were living in a bigoted sense of worth. Jema told me that she even had a good bonding with the maid that worked in her home and she never treated her poorly like her mother-in-law did. I felt so good in her company, as it matched the kind of company I used to have before BSc, when most of the people I surrounded myself with were not fake good but real good, not monsters inside with an outward smile but could be seen inside out!

But God has trained me to be around what I would have previously considered the filthiest of people.

Page 325. Chor Ki Whore

00:25

After I reached my PG, I was feeling much better than the previous day, and felt like I had some energy as I noticed I could talk with enthusiasm with my mom and was able to walk a bit energetically around in my room and in the balcony as I talked to her. I shared the same with her about how the previous day I wasn't even able to talk at night - didn't have the energy, but this day I was feeling much better. Also, I hadn't had a fainting episode that day like I had been having previously. My fainting episodes had now become sparse and when they did occur they were of lower intensity than before. I attributed it to me eating a lot for the past few days and being around genuinely compassionate people and not actors like my roommate. She may not be acting with her rich pig, but she definitely acted with me and was hardly truthful regarding anything, and also lied and manipulated easily to get her way.

I then started sharing with her about Jema and her character traits and how I felt because of her company and how it differed from my roommate's. That was the day when I had evaluated my roommate's behavior with me and compared it with Jema's behavior in the workplace earlier during the day, and I had realized that I had had enough of my roommate and that I didn't wanna put up with her anymore while previously I had overlooked many of her insults and the situations she faked and affected! Though she was there in the bus and the small car with me, I didn't want to have deal with her rash words and fake niceness when she was stabbing me behind my back with others. Also, I had had enough of her thief and murderer lover as well. I felt I had put up with him for long enough as well! That evening I saw as a whole how they had behaved with me and the things they had said about me and the situations they had put me in, and I found that they weren't getting any better and that I didn't want to be around them anymore but wanted to throw the truth of their actions on their faces. While I was talking to my mom, I told her that 'Chor ki Whore' had been bullying me for a long time but now I had concluded her behavior (based on what God revealed to me about her), and that I knew from how Jema behaved with me that my roommate hated me and had a sense of disrespect from the beginning (just like her disgusting bully and murderous lover), or else why would she act as if she was doing me a favor by behaving nicely the few times that she did! Isn't respecting and loving others expected to be an integral part of one's character!? But she acted as if she did me a favor by behaving in a manner that she should have behaved like all the time and that which was the right thing to do as well!

I used the term 'Chor Ki Whore' many times in front of my mom and it was justified as well. I also explained to my mom that the title that I had come up with was logical and justified and they didn't have to think a lot to see the 'why' of it. Chor is a Hindi word that means 'thief' in English. So I had termed her 'Whore of Thief'.

She was once indirectly taunting me by saying that I couldn't justify at all why the bully did what he did, i.e., sending his tiny spy cams around me and stripping my dignity publicly as a form of some revenge. So I replied to her while talking to my mom that the title I had chosen for them didn't need an illogical acceptance of something unjustified, as it could be very well understood by a logical mind. But since her mind was an illogical mess, she might not understand the validity of the title, as she very well understood the invalid validity of the criminal act of her rich pig, which again showed that she was only better at understanding things unjustifiable by logic (moral or objective), and not things that could be easily understood by a morally and logically sound mind, which was also seen in her character trait of going from door to door and gossiping - a morally and logically unjustifiable act. Prior to that I shared with my mom that though she acted like she was somewhat spiritual, she was not so, but was immoral and a dumbass as named by God because of how they behaved with me.

While I explained all this to my mom, I felt like I could really slap her because of how she had been behaving with me for long while showing her disgusting false kindness with me when she clearly hated me, and also her disgusting equally whorish lover with the addition of throwing warm tea on his face so that he gets a good tan. But then I thought about Jesus and I knew that He won't like the slap part, so I let the thought go. I knew that He would rather have me forgive, and rest and dwell in Him while focusing on Him.

That day I was thinking about why were these people trying to bring me in their lives when they don't at all like and respect me and who I am, as was proven by their actions. I concluded that both were bullies so needed to bully someone; they needed a scapegoat. No healthy person tries to crush another individual in ways they did to me. If they were so in love with each other, they could go ahead with their criminal gang story and not involve me in any of it. But no, they made sure to bully me while they were acting out their disgusting expression of what they call love which to me looks like a means for them to soothe their ego by stepping on an innocent person. I saw that their love was disgusting and no love at all because it aimed at emotionally abusing me and not at both of them being better versions of themselves. She was still a gossip queen and he - still a thief, with both of them nurturing a murderous heart inside of them. Their love towards each other was shallow and not targeted towards being godly. I didn't want to be touched by any of it. If they were so righteous and their love so pure and true, they would have been together and he would have stopped pursuing me and they both would have distanced themselves from me after an apology for their bullying behavior. But, no. They didn't do any of that, but rather used their fleshly or mental bond between two criminal psychopathic minds as a tool to cause me pain. The attempts were based on the assumption that I was somewhere in love with the rich pig so I would be emotionally affected by their actions. But, they proved by their behavior that they had no godly sense of thinking and behaving. Because, if I was carrying in my heart the feelings that they assumed, why should they try to hurt me? They should be making things clear and be separate from me. And if I didn't carry the emotional heart they assumed, even then why should they be trying to cause me pain? Because it wouldn't have hurt me in any way. In either case they behaved in a logically unjustifiable manner and proved that they are only about bullying another individual. Disgusting bullies and psychopathic minds!

Both of them showed that they had no godly sense of Love! That's why they are 'dumbasses'!

Anyway. I was sharing with my mom my feelings from the day and the things I had realized, and it made me very much angry at my roommate as I looked at her past behavior which she never apologized about. Behavior that a normal humble person doesn't exhibit. Likewise with her rich ungodly pig.

The Balcony Fight

While I was talking to my mom that day, I was moving to and fro in the balcony and said a few more things about my roommate. My roommate had told me to shut the balcony door once because a lizard may had entered our room, to which I had said, "Do you know that humans have a reptilian part of the brain as well?" I was later telling my mom on phone that one could scare a lizard out of the room, but how could one get rid of a reptilian person who lived inside the room!? There was nothing that could be done to stay away from the scary presence of such a person. I was also indirectly referring to the serpent part of the human race when I made that statement though my mom didn't quite know or believe a lot about it.

Anyway. The day before yesterday, when I had concluded the behavior of my roommate and was throwing her reality at her face, I was doing so while talking to my mom and going from the room to the balcony with my roommate present in the room. I was on the balcony when I told my mom that people are scared of a lizard but they themselves have a reptilian brain (that scares away godly people). Then I continued elaborating more about the 'Chore Ki Whore' title to my mom. I had the balcony door shut and was standing outside it when I heard it open abruptly. I turned and saw my roommate standing with an angry face as she said that she knew that I was talking about her and that she was going to slap me. I told her that I was stronger than her. She wanted to talk to my mom but I didn't want her ugly self to talk to my good mom. So I denied her. She said, "Who gave you the right to live here?" - as if it was a very good place and only rich (goons) like her deserved to be here. She continued cursing me and said, "Let me call others!", and went out. I knew that she had gone to call others like she had done previously on an issue related to the AC in our room. She had turned off the AC when I had just sat at some distance in front of it to have lunch. I was feeling hot so I told her to turn it back on again and that I will turn it off later. She replied with a bigoted attitude that I could walk to the remote (which was lying to her left) and turn it on. I replied that the remote was lying right beside her so she could do so to which she replied in a hateful tone, "Why do you think that you're so important!?" I knew that the problem was inside of her. I can't recall what I said afterwards, but whatever followed had her go outside to call the entire PG's girls. She never talked about her own crappy and insult full behavior the times she went out to call others. Why would she!?

Anyway. Seven to eight girls were now in my room with some in the balcony while my roommate was asking me repeatedly to let her talk to my mom. I said that she didn't deserve to talk to her. She was also asking me to jump down from the balcony just like her abuser lover who too wanted me to jump in the Ganda Nala. She too said that I deserved to be in the Ganda Nala and not here. She said that I was useless, that both I and my mom should be in the Ganda Nala in front of our PG. She was repeating for me to jump down as well while others just stood there and listened to her crappy drama. I knew that the words she said weren't just her own but her disgusting filth-of-earth, abuser and bully toxic-love pig's as well, as both of them thought along the same lines and went along well with each other because of their communing negative traits.

1 John 3:12
(New International Version)
12 Do not be like Cain, who belonged to the evil one and murdered his brother. And why did he murder him? Because his own actions were evil and his brother's were righteous.

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=1%20John%203&version=NIV>

I kept refusing to give her my phone and then she tried to snatch it from my hands unsuccessfully. Others just stood here as they had believed her one-sided misrepresentation of the truth. If they were justifying her words, actions and behavior by attributing them to my behavior that night, they should've justified my behavior too by attributing it to her persistent emotionally abusive behavior full of insults, gaslighting and manipulation.

Mermaid Revelation Fulfilled

Yesterday I happened to weep a lot as I was rewatching Jonathan's video that I posted on Page 322. The next day my eyes were itching and by the time it was evening, I knew that the itching was going to continue and now there was some redness inside too. So I had to go to the Chemist's shop to buy the eyedrops my brother had suggested. When I was standing at his counter, I realized that the situation resembled 'The Mermaid Karishma Kapoor' revelation because my attire was giving me the look of a fish and in the revelation, the side-view of a mermaid standing facing a long counter was shown. When I realized this, I knew that someone I knew was outside the shop because in that revelation the mermaid had her head turned to her right as she looked in that direction. So I looked to my right as well while I stood there and saw familiar bearded faces.

Later when I reached my PG, I applied red eyeliner and red lipstick, changed my footwear and then asked the PG food delivery bhaiya (Hindi for brother) to click some of my pics as a part of the testimony. I hadn't found anyone on my floor and found him sitting on one of the stairs as I walked downstairs to ask someone to click a photo.

I later shared with my mom about the fulfilment of this revelation. I went back and checked the day of the revelation. I shared with my mom that I had received it on 5th of March, and it got fulfilled on 19th - quite quicker than others while I later thought inside about the open Button and Zip revelation with 'Nearby' written on the button and how it hadn't yet come to pass. It told me that God's sense of 'nearby' wasn't the same as ours. For Him, a day is like a thousand years, and a thousand years like a day.

I also shared with my mom about how sweet it was of God to give me such cute revelations. I mean He could've given me revelations related to other things that are important in the worldly sense, like some political event, or a natural disaster. But, He found it important to give me these cute revelations, and therefore had been all comprehensive in the kind of revelations that He had given me.

1. The Mirroring Outburst

When I saw that Akhila and her dumb and blind followers were not going to back off as I was telling them to go back inside the room and not disturb or bother me, and that they were going to continue pushing me forth to have them have a talk with my mom so that they could ask her if I indeed was badmouthing her to my mom, I had a sudden spark of revelation in my brain when I realized in that moment that it was exactly what she had put me and others whom she back-bited about through, while a while back I had just started talking to my mom as I was led to - without any special emphasis to demean her but to speak the truth about her and hers, and it had just happened to take that turn as I continued explaining to my mom more of the part of Akhila's character that I had experienced and how it affected me.

As I had revelation, I stepped forward towards them and now wanted to make it clear to them what I had just realized. But the words that came out of my mouth were not of my own tone, but seemed to be bursting right from inside my heart in a tone that I had never spoken in! I spoke at my loudest but still in a concise and neat manner, and said that 'this was exactly what she put others who were not around her through. She would maintain a good bond with them to their face but would then go to others and gossip and back-bite and betray!' What she had given out was now poured back into her life. When she heard me saying those words she became silent and was now a bit calm as she looked at me after which she moved back inside for a while. Another girl Shivani said that it was her own character problem and not mine so I didn't have to make an issue of it, but I told her that she had been doing it to me! My roommate had now started crying as she sat on her bed while others were comforting her. I told them to not lock the door and lock me outside because who knew of their psychopathic mind. I wasn't expecting that big of a scene that evening either! The girl Aarchi said something insulting to me in response. I stayed outside in the balcony and didn't want to go inside in the presence of the blind followers of a gossip queen. The door was then shut. I felt prompted to go inside and repeat the truth. I tried to open the door twice but it didn’t open. So I cried through the window and told them to open the door amidst all the noise inside. Someone said that it was already open, and Aarchi came and opened it while insulting me at the same time as she said, "Don't you know how to open a door!?"

I started repeating to Akhila that this was exactly how she had treated me and others! The girl Aarchi then said something insulting again and told me off! She is a rude girl and as much of a bully and I don’t feel like talking to her ever again!

I went back inside and sat on my bed while others were telling me not to as if I was bound to listen to them. I told them that it was my room as well! At least I didn't reply like my filthy roommate, "Because it's MY balcony, Bitch!" when I asked her why was she standing there and picking up a fight with me with others when she didn't like me!

I sat on my bed and they all were all badmouthing things about me that were either false in context or reflected their own insensitivity to what's considered sinful or counts as immorality.

Akhila's ass-licking friend Shin said as she had been trained. She said to her, "You've been very patient with her", referring to me, while it was DEFINITELY the OTHER way round! My roommate said that only she knew how she spent a year with a psycho like me while her ass-licking friend who can't stand alone for the right thing alone continued supporting her claims! Shin had even partaken in affected situations where they talked indirectly about me in front of me to get a reaction out of me that I had ignored and let go of many times, and this time here she was with her disgustingly fake witness of a lie!

Akhila then looked at me and said with a wicked look in her eyes, "Didn't you judge us for wearing short clothes?" She was trying to use that as my reason to use the term. I didn't realize that in that moment. I said, "Yes, I did. Because I am a servant of the Lord and I want to do the right thing." Though I may have not liked their sense of clothing, I didn't look at them with hateful eyes or badmouthed them in front of others the way 'she' gossiped and betrayed me behind my back, because I knew that they weren't following God or didn't even have the inner inclination to do so - follow His statutes and His ways. The only problem I had with them was their boundary-breaching and falsely-judging behavior. This girl Himanshi made a slit in my small pink tumbler's cover to play a joke as I had filled the tumbler with milk and put it in the fridge, and the girl Barkha had been saying and doing annoying things intermittently since she came to the PG and I had been ignoring her. She indirectly said that I was going to be 'prisoner'. And then she did some other boundary-breaching things as well, that had me retaliate by writing a long para in the PG' group chat, but I didn't go to her room abusing her and demanding that she leaves the PG. All of these people had been behaving in covertly abusive and boundary-breaching ways and I had grown weary of them!

Anyway! The owner dropped in after a while and upon insistence from others asked me to ask my mom in front of everyone about who it was that I was talking about. But after my roommate had said those insulting words about my mom who was much more elder to her, I didn't at all want her to talk with her in any way. She just didn't deserve to. So I denied and made the point that it was none of her business about whom I talked to with my mom, and that she shouldn't have come running and attack me verbally when I was on a call with my mom. If she wasn't liking my words, she could've gone outside!

Wasn't this also how she and her disgusting fake friends behaved with me previously! Her friend Ananya would say something indirectly, and once she said "Why are you listening!?". How could I've put a halt to the air that carried the vibrations of their indirect words about me from entering my ears! But I had ignored her as well! Akhila and her low-quality friends only partook in gossip and listened to the ungodly stuff that she had to 'spit out'.

The entire episode was a mirror of their "OWN" past behavior! And look, how she came running with others and cornered me when God did the same to her (through me). She couldn't just take in the truth.

And when I was still in the balcony as they were all forcing me to let her talk to my mom, I had asked them that why did they assume that I was talking about her and not someone else as I never said her name, to which her ass-licking friend replied, "Because it's SO obvious!". That's not an inarguable logic. They defied their own reasoning behind using the same tactic!

It was obvious to me as well, likewise! Didn't the duo think about their own behavior about how they so obviously were saying demeaning things about me while trying to be foolishly oversmart. But their own behavior wasn't a problem to them, but when they themselves were subjected to a reflection of what they did, they came cornering me with Aarchi asking me to apologize - the tiny immoral girl who doesn't know enough to not work for the immoral thief, though she will never accept it! Looking at her behavior, I could only imagine her reaction had a similar thing had happened to her, where a cheap-in-character whorish emotional abuser targeted her and stripped her publicly to make her 'low knee' to the ways of the wicked!

Shame on this entire group of whoremongers! - Whoremongers because they went about supporting and working for the cause of what shouldn't had been supported!

Anyway! I will leave this place soon, and then these workers of wickedness will eat dust and find something else that they can focus their psychopathic minds on!

After I refused to let them talk to my mom, the owner asked my roommate to come outside the room. Whatever they discussed, the end result was their conclusion of giving me a notice on WhatsApp of leaving the PG by the next month. He said that he will refund my deposit.

2. The Antidote Revelation

The next day after the balcony fight, I realized the purpose of God having given me a certain revelation as a part of a bigger dream.
I will write that entire dream later.

Page 328. Naked With The Serpent - My Roommate

21 March 2023
11:43

This morning when I was ironing the orange t-shirt that I am wearing today, I had the following revelation.

Vision (Room D1, Morning): I saw my roommate Akhila standing fully naked on her side of the bed near the sofa and the mirror facing straight forward towards the window at my side of the room, as a huge serpent wrapped itself around her. She had her hair open behind her. The serpent looked like a long and around a foot-and-a-half wide python with a print of black and yellow, and it moved around her wrapping her tightly in its grip, while she had her face slightly lifted and didn't seem to be resisting it. She seemed to be liking it and was pleased with it. The huge serpent put its open mouth around her face as it tried to engulf it partially but didn't engulf fully and continued moving itself around her.

As I continued to iron my t-shirt, I then saw the serpent come offensively towards my side of the room through the air. I started praying in tongues inside of me and saw it pushed backed to the wall in front at her side. It never got to my side as I kept praying and resisting it.

As I wrote this, I realized that I could have prayed for the serpent to unwrap itself from over my roommate as well. But I was too busy observing the new revelation and at the truth of it. Additionally, her own willingness to partake in the schemes of the devil will override my attempts if I pray, but God can free her from its grip and can create situations that will lead to her resisting the serpent and not letting it in. She is more than willing to be 'used' by satan as she stands naked in his grip.

This incident happened when I was in Room D4. It was night and I was taking a bath and had my worship music playing alongside. I was singing along with the worship song and the moment I happened to stop singing, I heard a voice say something from a distance behind me. The voice was a man's thick voice, and it seemed he was singing and filling in the blanks. I turned back and couldn't see any form. Though the lights were turned off, there was still enough to figure out the rough presence of a form near the window.

01:21
Around 10-15 minutes back, as I laid in my bed half-asleep with worship music playing on my laptop to my right, I had two quick visions, one after the other.]

Vision (Room D1, 10-15 minutes back): I saw a low-contrast right side-view of an animated lion with an oval-shaped animated clean-shaven human face of Ranbeer Kapoor (the Bollywood actor) contained inside the lion's mane. The lion was sitting in front of an open laptop with its screen lit and had his left paw resting on the keyboard.

The follow-up vision had the distant view of the lion now standing on its four feet, this time his body facing in the line of sight of the vision. It was here that I was ascertained that the face was indeed that of Ranbeer Kapoor.

God represented him by that tiny innocent lion.

I resumed singing the worship song playing on my speaker. I happened to stop singing again, and heard the voice say something again. This told me that the act of me singing the worship song had a spiritual impact. However, the incident also made me a bit fearful; so, I rushed the process and was praying as I wrapped up wearing clothes.

Page 331. The Stern and Intelligent Bride

01:39
I had this vision while being in my bed late morning the day before yesterday (20th March). To me, the situation represented the thought of a person, but the focus in the vision was on the smart bride. After I had this vision, I woke up after a few minutes.

Vision (Room D1, Morning, 20th Mar): I saw the face of a woman (not me but resembling me to a little extent). She was wearing large square glasses and gave a stern look with a slight head tilt to the right and her head was covered with a red embroidered low-key bridal drape as she moved her head a bit with the same stern expression. To her right was a blurred view of another woman's face with the same drape over her head with her head tilted to the left towards the stern and intelligent bride. The vision though focused only on the bride with the huge glasses on the left while the right one was shown blurry with no visible features.

I'm keeping to myself some parts of the revelations related to Mayank as they need not be shared here for they don't help others or make a point, but I just had to see them as those parts were revealed to me.

1. "You've Embarrassed Me"

This morning I woke up with a male voice repeating these words in a quiet and lowly tone in my spirit.

"You've embarrassed me
You've embarrassed me.."

(These were the thoughts of a human. Because Jesus is quite happy with me.)

2. "Ye Kya Hua" (What is it that Happened?)

Later I was hearing these lyrics in my spirit while I was brushing my teeth.
It also represented my situation of me entering into this PG and now having to leave it.

4. 'Vacate Tomorrow'

I had this dream within the past one or days in the morning. Perhaps it was this morning itself most probably, but I am not sure. Anyway, I will write the revelation and not focus on the timing.

Dream (Room D1, Today or yesterday morning): I found myself standing in the balcony and looking to its left. I saw that it was washed clean but the long mop, the small wiper, and the small bucket that usually rest in that corner were all not there. I went back inside the room. A middle-heighted and uniformly obese lady came inside the room and stood facing me. She was wearing a blue printed cotton kurta over white cotton trousers and had her hair tied low at the back. As she stopped near the door facing in my direction while I was still standing on my side of the room, the lady told me strictly that I had to vacate the next day. I thought, "Why such sudden notice!?" I still hadn't figured out if I really had to vacate the next day, or if I really had to 'obey' her in case I didn't find a place. My roommate was sitting silently on her bed that faced the room's door. While I looked at the fat lady and thought all that and the possibility of me shifting, the dream ended.

Page 333. The Huge Servant

23:12

Vision (Around a week or two back): I saw the side-view of a short-haired, clean-shaven animated man, dressed in a sky blue t-shirt and navy blue shorts, huge in size with a bulging lower belly, walking slowly on the ground - while all others who walked on the road looked tiny in front of him.

24th March 2023

You see, the above revelation doesn't imply that the servant should be extremely fat or should indulge in gluttony. Rather, it tells that even if someone is obese and doesn't look desirable in a man's eye, that person can still be chosen by God as His servant of authority. My own continuing journey from being obese to being fit is a testimony of how even the fat with disorderly eating habits can be chosen by God. During late 2016, I reduced eating by a considerable amount and ate only as much would fill my hunger and would stop at even one bite left on the plate if I felt full by then. I was working out as well and was becoming fitter. I lost weight and was around 70kgs. But then my heart was broken during the same year around Christmas by that worker of devil - Tejaswi - because of whom I also ended up seeing the eye of devil during meditation. It was when I didn't know anything about God and devil, but he had somehow managed to get me to see some reality in his religion, which was real indeed but what was hidden was that the reality was demonic as the religion was constructed by demonic forces acting out through humans. I started indulging in food again as I went through a lot of pain. In 2018 I got admitted into a PhD program, and by the time I shifted to a PG in 2019, my weight had reached 92kgs. I had an emotional dependence on food, which is now damped by much extent. I have been eating frequently now as I feel prompted or led, or as the food item is being highlighted in my mind. I haven't had any fainting episodes for 3 days. So, I am in a much better place. My weight is around 64 kgs now and according to a revelation within the past month, I will reach 60 kgs. May be even lesser, but I saw 60 on the scale in my dream-vision as I stood on the scale.

Dream-Vision (Room D1, Past month): I was standing on a weighing scale and I saw that I weighed 60 kgs.

Also, it's God who appoints people for different roles and can change their positions as well as He sees fit. He can also change the positions of people in the church according to their situation - how injured in spirit they are, or how much more can they endure in that position, or if they need rest and refreshment, or if they need to be still in His presence where they don't have a lot of burden on them, etc. I remember that back in 2019 I had the good fortune to have a lot of rest as the pain from my past was still hurting me. I would lay on my bed most of the time and watch healing videos on Narcissism and Psychopathy on YouTube. I didn't have a lot of PhD work to do as it was covid and we had periods of lockdown that served as resting and healing periods for me. Also, I had done most of the work related to the model during the first six months of PhD itself. So God gave me a head start in that aspect and that too helped in my healing rest later. Now God has changed my mind enough to endure a situation even worse than I had faced before.

Is devil fighting for a tenure?

Yes. But it's for an ungodly relationship with the unfaithful deceiver and the betrayer. The tenure ends up being eternity in Hell God created for the judgment of him and his followers.

Is God fighting for tenure?

Yes. But it's for a peaceful and love-filled relationship with the faithful, perfect, and 'just' God who has loved us with an everlasting love. The tenure ends up being eternity in Heaven with Him - a place that He created.

I had this vision back in Room No. D4, during early 2022. It was the first revelation related to Glory after the revelation of the promise I had received in 2021 in the adjacent Saroj Sadan PG (A17/B).

I was sitting on my bed when I had the following abrupt vision.

Dumbasses should know after reading this revelation that what's called 'fighting' for someone one loves, and this is also how God calls us to love Him, and that's also why He gave me this revelation!

Vision (Room D1, Late 2021/Early 2022): The view of the vision was seen from the top with some horizontal distance from us so the sides of our bodies were visible. The vision was very focused and it seemed as if one was looking through a translucent tyre. I saw myself standing facing Glory with around a meter of distance between us. I stood on the right side of the vision while he stood on the left side. I had my forearms stretched towards him, and so were his, with our upper arms in line with our own bodies. I wore a full-sleeved black cotton top over black trousers, while he wore a half-sleeved black T-shirt that showed his muscled upper arms, over black trousers. I had my hair tied low at the back. I started walking towards him and stopped when I was right against him and as my hands touched his waist, there appeared a closed metallic silver-coloured armour with a matte look that covered his entire body that was visible in the vision. It was a closed thick metallic suit that was even thicker around the non-joint areas, like the forearms and upper-arms; the armour fully covered the head, and even the fingers individually. A green rectangular line could be seen on the thicker part of the armour around the forearm with more curved green lines around the head part of the armour. As soon as he got covered, I saw my neck slide off to its left towards the sight of the vision with a sharp cut. The sliced neck was around near my left shoulder when the vision ended.

No amount of words can explain my disgust and disdain for those who abuse others in the name of love or some ungodly tenure full of unfaithful living and no godly morals!!

Page 336. The Psychopathic World; 'Mumma…"

11:40

The day before yesterday on my way with my good friend Jema to have a drink, as a refreshment from our work, in the University Departmental canteen, she said that she often kept seeing a resemblance to her husband's face in the faces of people she came across. I told her that it was normal to find similarities in people around us - similarities with people close to us in our own lives. I felt nudged to also share with her about the tactic that psychopaths used to communicate with a person they had targeted. I told her that if a psychopath targeted someone, he'll make it his full-time job to abuse the target. If he had to threaten the target about her, say, father, then he would send a doppelganger of her father dressed in her father's dressing sense. And he would do this to make the point that he was keeping a tab on her family members and that if he wanted, he could do serious harm to them. I also said that Psychopaths have a problem in their minds, that they knew what they're doing and were well aware of it being hideously wrong, but they just didn't care about the impact of their actions on their targets. She replied to my statement that psychopaths created their own world to live in.

I replied with a 'yeah' and that in their world, indeed, right was wrong and wrong was right. I realized after a while that her statement had a deeper significance that went into the spiritual reality of the Earth-system. I realized that devil and the demons were the psychopaths that created their own reality on the Earth-system. They created a reality away from the perfect place - Heaven - the abode of God, and they created it to do their own thing, any kind of sinful thing that they liked. They created this reality to rebel against the Most-High God and to transgress all His statutes! They created this alternate fake reality that looked real but wasn't, as it hid the truth of this cannibalistic system - the system that consumes angels and turns them into locust demons at the end of the transmutation cycle. They created this fake reality to give a fake sense of freedom to those who would agree to be a part of their system. Their system worked differently than how things worked in Heaven. In Heaven, God was (and is) the Holy King who has His Holy statutes. No sin abided in Him and with Him. His government was an everlasting government where He was the 'forever' King.

On Earth, angels occupied house bodies and forgot both their origin (Heaven) and the origin (God) of their origin. They also gained a false sense of freedom and privacy in their house bodies. They got introduced to a new system where they could make their own rules independently. The radicals and liberals made the inclination to rebel against the conscientious norms look like something desirable that led to society's progression to a 'better' state, when in fact it only insinuated ungodly ideas, ethics, and morals into to the human race. Abortion was normalized. Fornication was normalized as being 'modern', adultery was now considered as a classical way to deal with the problem of boredom, emotional barrenness and lovelessness present in one's marriage. Love-based commitment was looked at as something old-fashioned. Homosexuality was insinuated and normalized as something progressive, when in fact it was an unnatural sin like beastiality.

Unholy clothing got introduced as a form of being progressive in fashion. A strong inclination to direct oneself independently was considered desirable - without having the knowledge of God and a strong relationship with Him. In this new system, everyone seemed to have the freedom to live as they wanted. Governments were chosen via a voting system but it was no guarantee that the person in power was a 'just' governor. Politics in this place didn't involve ruling justly and using one's power in a righteous manner, but it took the form of gaining indirect control over the lives of other people. Everyone wanted to be 'worshipped' by someone in one way, shape or form. But they left God out of the system - considering Him as a figment of human imagination, being spiritually immature and unperceptive as they were. And those who knew the reality of this system, didn't want the truth to be out, for most of them were those who worked closely with the devil. The devil worshippers and workers didn't want the people to wake up from their spiritual slumber. But the worshippers of God wanted everyone to know about the truth of the system. They understood the hierarchy of how things worked on Earth, the demonic principalities that run the governments, and how what one saw on the surface hid the underlying truth.

Those who were spiritually perceptive and wanted to know the answers to their questions often ended up being a part of some occultic group that dealt with the spiritual realm but wasn't inclined towards God. They made it look as if it was related to harnessing the spiritual powers already present inside a human, while what they were doing was harnessing demonic powers from demons that worked 'through' them. The path to seeking answers to spiritual questions had a whole lot of doctrines that led one to many kinds of witchcraft practices but didn't anywhere talk about submitting oneself to the authority of the Most-High God.

The angels therefore not only left their creator but also committed fornication against Him by going into those witchcraft practices to seek spiritual 'enlightenment' and a sense of false peace of the world, while neglecting God and His role in their lives. They were misled by the many false spiritual doctrines present in the world that were meant to make one feel a sense of personal authority, power and independence, while minimizing the rule and authority of God over everything.

Humans liked this system better because it gave them a sense of control and unaccountability as they could get away with things in this kind of system, because it was very much run by political powers that weren't situated in righteousness and fairness but were much about just 'being in power'. Such a system allowed every kind of wicked deed in it, and the perpetrators often got away with their wicked actions as well. They therefore gained a false sense of control and superiority and thought no one watched them or kept a record of their actions, being unaware of the presence of God in Heaven whom they had left.

This separate alternate reality looked promising to those who wanted to 'try on' a house-body and be their own gods instead of having the Most-High God as their continuous God whom they should had been serving for all eternity.

When I wrote about the truth of the cannibalistic system above, for the first time I could understand the heart of brother Jonathan whenever he repeated many times how the system only saddened him and was too overwhelming to look at the reality of.

But amidst this war of worship between God and devil, there are people who are only concerned about their worldly life - not wanting to ask questions regarding what more could be present beyond what was seen by the physical eyes (including the things seen through telescopes and microscopes).

Now is the time to turn back to God. Now is the time to open one's eyes to the reality of the cannibalistic system and see it for what it is.

The whole system is cannibalistic as is also represented by the symbol of Oroborus - a snake or a dragon bent in a circle eating its own tail to thrive.

The entire system is a sham. If you love your human bodies way too much, you will have a hard time mentally detaching from the Earth-system. The human body is nothing more than a shell that imprisons a spirit - an angel of God inside a cannibalistic spiritual cage.

Don't love others because of their gender! Love them because they're a living being - a creation of God housed inside a body. If you're able to do so, you have got a glimpse of the way of thinking that's needed to understand what it's like to be in God's Kingdom. When I got duped by the devil-worshipper Tejaswi and was in pain, I thought how it didn't even matter to me that he was a guy because my love for him wasn't based on him being a guy or a girl, but it was based on loving the person inside, while he was on a train wreck drive of securing one woman's body after another in his harem - being a lying, manipulative, and a cheating womanizer that he was. When one loves in a gender-neutral manner, and is able to keep the physicality of it aside, one can experience a greater form of love that borders on how God has loved us. And it also leads us to love the other person in truth and not in a bodily illusion created by the flesh system. However, it should be noted that I am not promoting homosexuality or transgenderism, but what I am pointing towards is loving the person inside, because if one lives by this approach alone, one is bound to live in truth and clearly see others' and one's own flaws as they'll be so apparent in front of one's eyes.

26th March 2023
10:27
Jesus Christ is the Most-High God who came into the Earth-system to get His lost loved ones back by legally freeing them from the bondage of sin's judgment and making for them a way into Heaven through His perfect sacrifice.

After I was done writing yesterday night about the 'The Psychopathic world' around 2:40 am and stretched on my bed to finally go to sleep, I laid on my right side facing the other side of the room, being covered fully by my blanket. I had the following abrupt visions that followed as I was about to go to sleep.

Vision (Room D1, Late Night): I saw the vision of a fully covered infant followed by a 4-5 year-old fat child dressed fully in yellow running towards me with the word ' Mumma..'. The child was fat in the middle and wore a full-sleeved yellow top over yellow pants as he came running towards the sight of the vision while saying out 'Mumma, Mumma'. He ran on the floor in a lit room which wasn't my PG's room. It seemed that he was approaching me to show his affection.

Page 337. Who is Fighting for Whom???.. Continued..

12:22
I have come across the indirect message many times that the dual-faced man Death Conqueror was "fighting for me" and that's why he stripped me publicly and telecasted my naked ass whenever I used the commode. He did it for a good amount of three years and was continuing to do so for the same reason according to him and his demonically influenced fans. I also got to hear the reasoning that there's no such thing as being perfect. So the person who was "fighting for me" was bound to live in his own disgusting ungodly manner as he continued to 'get his way'. I knew that their twisted reasoning came from their own psychopathic minds and wasn't from God.

I would like to state some blunt truths here.

He's fighting hard to get his immoral way to subjugate another free individual who doesn't owe him anything or is obligated to give him anything.

He's fighting hard to prove that he's superior and politically powerful and will get away with anything that he does.

He's fighting hard to get his ego soothed by knowing that he is the one who is in control of the decisions that someone else makes, by threatening them in one or the other way.

He's fighting hard to prove his worldly supremacy.

He's fighting hard to showcase the power of his worldly network.

He's fighting hard to push a faithful person who wants to live right into his dark world.

He's fighting hard to make the point that he can abuse and murder an entire family and yet get away with it.

He's fighting hard to turn a kind, loving, forgiving upright person into a mindless doormat who will say yes to or accept anything!

He's fighting to prove that he can bully and abuse but yet win the end game.

He's fighting hard to prove that he likes to play games and doesn't believe in godly open and honest communication.

He's fighting hard to prove that 'ABUSE NEVER FAILS'.

While a Godly person knows that 'Love never fails' and therefore behaves accordingly!
[1 Corinthians 13:8 (NIV)
8 Love never fails. But where there are prophecies, they will cease; where there are tongues, they will be stilled; where there is knowledge, it will pass away.

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=1%20Corinthians%2013%3A8&version=NIV>

He's fighting to 'show off' his inner immoral filthy character.

He's fighting to put on display his continued conscientiouslessness - all to achieve something which doesn't lead to him being a godly person but leads to the oppression of another individual.

He's fighting hard to change a righteous person into his own filthy and immoral image!

The Holy God is quite an inverted image of this immoral "fighter".

I pray that he himself falls into the pit he dug for me as a part of his fight. And I also pray that God gets him out of it after he has spent enough time in it.

And most of the time my prayer is for me to quickly approach the end of my time on Earth so that I no longer have to witness the filthy hearts and minds of the psychopathic people in this place who partake in collective abuse and strip an innocent individual of her God-given rights and also take away from her the credit for the work (my research work) that deserves to her alone! I say this because my supervisor told me that the (scientific) public that knew my ex-supervisor won't like it if we wrote the author's contributions in the manuscript.

I really want the unrepentant criminals to get their due share of judgment! And they will unless they repent! Or else God's judgment awaits. The same holds for everyone, me included. But I am not going out of my way to hurt others but have chosen to walk in the will of God, then why would He judge me like He would them.

Also, true criticism comes from God. Psychopathic people call good evil and evil good! Their sense of criticism is inverted and holds no meaning even though they may orchestrate false situations to put you down or use their political positions to inflict abuse!

This place is filthy in character and makes me wanna puke out.

If someone set out to secure another person for himself whom he considered being mentally/character-wise perfect, then that person should also know that a perfect person isn't going to accept a scoundrel, criminal, a murderer, a whoremonger, a gossiper, a liar, an abuser, a fornicator, an adulterer and a morally corrupt person for oneself!

A perfect person though forgiving, has a character standard that (s)he expects the other person to meet. If one is not willing to change, one shouldn't expect to be accepted by a "perfect" person either! And the reality of things doesn't change by misportraying the character of a person as something that (s)he is not.

If you run after someone you consider perfect, you have to take a look at your own self as well!

A perfect person will never accept someone who strips another individual, abuses an entire family, murders people for one's own gain, and abuses others and drives them to suicide or wants to drive them to do so. A perfect person doesn't accept such an individual! Keep that in mind!

God forgave but repentance is needed and one needs to become a new creation in Christ. A pig (in character) doesn't deserve a pearl (in character), and even if he gets it by some means, it won't look good on him. A dove (in character) deserves a pearl (in character) because he has the necessary character traits that will work in conjunction with the character traits of the pearl. The character traits of a pig will only decrease the glory of a pearl and won't go along well with it and the pearl would be rendered useless unable to live up to its purpose. They will never have a satisfying bond. While two pigs will have a very satisfying bond because they go so well along with each other.

"A perfect person will forever leave an abusive reprobate and will not want to have anything to do with him/her."

Page 338. The Colourful Black Frame; The Passionate Jump

10:46

The day before yesterday I was in my PG after work in the evening and was searching for red floral frames online that resembled the one I had seen my supervisor wearing in 'The Literary Supervisor' dream revelation. I wanted to gift them to her in case I found them. I found many floral frames, but not the red ones that I had seen. Anyway. I will go back to searching again later.

I had also begun editing Ranveer Singh's recent Pepsi Ad song as I was nudged to do the same, and a certain part of the lyrics had also played in my spirit repeatedly in the morning around 10 days back. So, I went ahead with finally editing the song video by adding subtitles and rhythmic colorful flashes on the day before yesterday. I had taken a break later and had started looking for the red floral glasses. I then went back to editing the song again.

Afterwards, I went to use the washroom.

I was sitting on the seat when I had the following abrupt vision.

1. The Colorful Black Frame

Vision (Room D1, Late Night): I saw the face of Ranveer Singh in the part of the Pepsi ad where he was wearing a blue and white tracksuit. The vision was towards my slight left close to my face and I saw that in place of the white-framed sunglasses, he was wearing black framed glasses with transparent lenses with colourful flowy streaks of radium green, red and other colours printed all over on the frame. A part of the collar of the tracksuit and the white vest inside was visible in the vision, that's how I knew that it was from that ad song. The orientation of his face was between my direction and to my right and the glasses rested on his nose a bit below the horizontal level as he looked straight.

After I was out of the washroom I went back to editing the video and writing some more revelations and other stuff. When I was tired and couldn't continue, I decided to sleep. I stretched myself on my bed and lay coiled on my left side facing my side of the room. Many things went through my mind as they usually did when I had the sudden following revelation.

2. The Passionate Jump

Vision (Room D1, Late Night): I saw the vision of Ranveer Singh seen from below him. Again, he was dressed in the blue and white attire of his tracksuit as was shown in the Pepsi ad, but this time he was in the middle of a jump with both his hands stretched upwards with a fierce expression on his face as he looked down.

Looking at this unexpected vision made me shiver around the mid-section of my body above which I had seen the jumping vision of Ranveer Singh. In that vision, the surroundings behind him had light brown inner walls of a shed and it was daylight. It made me wonder about the spiritual significance of the vision.

Perhaps it was an antidote revelation to my emotionally abusive roommate and his bully and abusive bf telling me to jump from my room's balcony on the 4th floor.

1. The Care of the Sick

This scene from the movie 'Lootera' (Robber) that unfolds towards the end part of the movie has had been highlighted to me intermittently for many months.
The lead roles in this movie were played by Ranveer Singh and Sonakshi Sinha.

In this scene, the heroine was sick in her not-much-used family cottage in which she had shifted after her father's death, and the hero was trying to care for her. But she resisted him and would not take the medicines because of past bitterness and hatred in her heart. The heroine looked dull and unattractive as she was sick. She had her reservations about him trying to help her out, to which the hero replied sarcastically that indeed it was because of how mesmerizingly beautiful she looked at that moment (of sickness) that he was trying to help and care for her.

He really wanted to help her out and take care of her in that moment of sickness.

2. 'The Last Leaf'

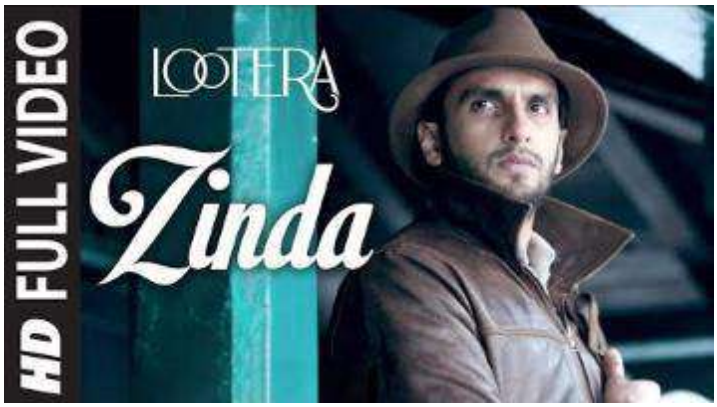
I am writing below what I remember of the story from my middle school.

'The woman lay on her bed and gazed out of her window at an old tree every day that's shedding its leaves. The woman was sick. The woman said that the leaves were a marker of her life's duration as well. Then there was only one leaf left on that tree. The woman observed it every day and told the one in the home that the day that leaf was attached to her life somehow and that the day it would fall, she was going to be dead as well. One morning the leaf is no longer there, and the woman is found dead too.' - I and my mom had a special place for this short story when she was doing her M.A English and I used to copy her fellowmate's notes for her back when I was in 5th or 6th class. Somehow my mom liked this particular story. The ending of the movie Lootera is based on 'The Last Leaf'. The hero notices that the leaf has fallen, but he already has a counterfeit ready that he had painted in secrecy. The heroine is still asleep when he goes out and puts the counterfeit last leaf back on the tree, just so that the heroine would have hope and would continue to live.

My roommate and her bf have the spirit of murder working through them as is apparent from their behavior of telling me to jump off 4th floor or into the Ganda Nala in front and die, when they're the abusive perpetrators. But the hero of the movie had the spirit of life working in him. He fixed the leaf on the tree in time. The song below is the song from the movie that portrays the enhanced storyline of 'The Last Leaf'.

Video: Zinda (Alive)
(Subtitles to be added)

Zinda Full Video | Lootera | Ranveer Singh, Sonakshi Sinha | Amit Trivedi | Amitabh Bhattacharya



22:37
When I was pasting the song video here on this page and was thinking about the title I should use for it, the one that kept coming up to me was 'The Last Leaf' though I was thinking along the lines of using a title related to the song lyrics. I used the English translation of one of the song lyrics as the title but later changed it to 'The Last Life'. When I watched the song's video, and I did it today after many years, it struck me how some revelations could've fulfilled the role of the last leaf in keeping me going. What if I hadn't received the honoring revelation of 'The Lady in Green and Beige', and others that God had given me!? Had I still been able to push forth and move further in time? As these bullies did all they could to break me mentally and emotionally. Would I've actually jumped off the floor when my roommate was repeatedly shouting at me to do so, and her filthy murderer in spirit bf supporting her back? Would I've actually thought that I should go and die by jumping in the Ganda Nala in front? God indeed used Ranveer Singh to put the last leaf on the tree which gave me the strength to keep going. God orchestrated my life situation in such a manner that I would receive needed support and revelations that would help me keep going despite the mental and emotional abuse. The Pepsi Ad was one of 'the last leaf' revelations too, as it instilled in me a desire to start working out again and complete what I had started. And the song's stanza had played in my spirit months back as well.

It's a huge thing for me to tell someone to die, or to falsely slander them behind their back or damage someone's property as a joke like these people did. It counts as wickedness. My actions were a reaction to their consistent acts of boundary breaching abuse and bullying! Why would I use abuse to make a person bend according to me and then later on try to drive them to suicide by insidiously instilling in them a sense of inferiority by sending goons that delivered a covert message? Why would I target anyone at all!? Especially why the one I claim to love!?? - That person would not even be the last I would think to abuse! Because I don't feel the inclination to abuse anyone! - Except to throw blunt truths on the faces of the wicked who hurt others! And why would I abuse someone just to use them either! - because that's wrong too! It's not my job to put people through trials, but God's!

I am perceptive enough to judge by observing and don't need to put up testing situations to judge a person. The abuser did everything wrong and then he expected that I would act as he wanted. Why would I!? If he wanted a characterful lady, he should have come across as a characterful man, but he showed the wicked part of his brain and pushed me away!

There's nothing that I can give to or do for the Bollywood actors God gave me revelations about that they don't already have or can't already get. Likewise, they too can't give me anything because they're abundant in the worldly sense and I'm not a worldly person. But God used the situation to inculcate a hearty bond between me and them, and I believe that there is quite an important reason for Him to do so.

Likewise, God blessed me with His indirect Word/message given through the revelations related to Ranveer Singh that acted as an antidote to some really harsh words said by some demonically influenced people. It was a surprise to come across the Pepsi Ad song too, but it was encouraging and God specifically played some lyrics in my spirit on repeat so that I would watch them and record them here in my Notebook. I am still editing the Pepsi Ad song. Half of it is left.

The nature of revelations 'The Lady in Green and Beige' and (part of) 'the Pepsi Ad song' also reflected the nature of the spirit of life - that it didn't plant seeds of depression by oppressing the other individual but uplifted the other person by planting the seeds of godly encouragement and positivity, untouched by any evil or wicked thought of hurting another individual in any way!

The Antidote Revelations For The Balcony Fight; The Lady In Front of a Golden Lake And Ranveer Singh; The Shut Door

26 March 2023
13:43

1. The Hearty Talk With the Hostel Lady

In a dream, I stood close beside a lady from a hostel administration in front of the hostel's balcony railing and was having a hearty talk with her. It was an antidote revelation to the balcony fight where the entire herd cornered me when I didn't want to talk to them or answer anything to them.

2. The Lady In Front of a Golden Lake And Ranveer Singh

The revelation of 'The lady in green and beige' where a fully covered lady stood in front a golden lake some stairs above it with the face of Ranveer Singh blinking on top of the vision was an antidote revelation to the balcony fight where my roommate was telling me to jump in the Ganda Nala while her immoral bf had been stripping me publicly all these years!

19:24

3. The Shut Door

This was one of the three dreams that I had in a row in Room D4. I would have a dream, then wake up abruptly at the key ending of the dream as my phone would ring. I would fall back to sleep again and have another dream from the spirit and wake up abruptly again at yet another key ending as my phone rang. This happened thrice in a row that morning. The first dream had the event of my wedding. The other dream had Jesus shutting the door at the end. While the third one had some people behind their office desks throwing a paper towards me as they refused to accept it which ended in the lion showing up and coming running towards me with a serious expression and jumping towards me with a mouth wide open.

Dream (Room D4): In this dream, I was talking to my middle brother as I encouraged him, but interestingly, I was kissing him softly intermittently too, as I encouraged him. That's how the situation was represented in the dream. While I encouraged him, he sat calmly, smiling at me. I then got busy in other casual situations shown in the dream. I went back to my middle brother again to talk to him and encourage him and got busy in other situations again. One of the events that followed had the part written in 'The Hearty Talk With the Hostel Lady' revelation above in which I stood alongside a lady, both of us facing the balcony railing and supporting ourselves against the railing with our forearms as we had a quiet hearty talk. I encouraged my brother yet again. The last event had me saying to someone sternly on the phone, "You never got perfect!" The next thing I saw was the back of Jesus as he had just turned away and was walking inside a room. He had straight neck length hair and was dressed in a white linen tunic with a white half-jacket on top. The brown door to the room was now shown as closed with a door handle and a keyhole at the right end and the vision then focused on the keyhole as it moved towards the keyhole slowly.

Blue & White Polka Dots Panty; Natsume Bullies Mikan; The Gloated Dumbass

1. Blue & White Polka Dots Panty

For the past few weeks, I have been receiving the intermittent vision of the blue panty with white polka dots that I had and that I perhaps threw away long back. I couldn't understand at the moment why that certain panty that I threw away would be highlighted to me - until I rewatched the first few episodes of Alice Academy.

Mikan lives in a village with her grandpa and best friend Hotaru. Hotaru is exceptionally intelligent and an inventor and is therefore selected for and sent to Alice Academy - a school where people of special talents are taught and nurtured. Mikan travels alone to meet Hotaru but ends up having a nasty experience with Natsume who has a clean-dark persona.

You see, this relates to my situation where the stripping bully is represented by Natsume!

I've attached below the second English subbed episode of the Alice Academy.

3.The Gloated Dumbass

After Mikan is enrolled in the school and struggles to mingle with her class, she is confronted by a blind fan of Natsume who talks about the superiority of those who use others as their worker ants. That girl and her club is infatuated with Natsume and don't see his temperamental shortcomings but rather are always supporting and praising him. Mikan confronts her back and tells her that with that rotten nature of hers she was nothing superior but - a 'Dumbass'!

This goes along with the previous revelation 'Dumbass - God's Tooth for Tooth and Eye For Eye Judgment of Them for Insulting Me' on Page 158 where God showed me calling my roommate a 'dumbass'.

(The 'Dumbass' part is at the 8:46 minute mark in the video.)

Neither do the workers of lawlessness do the godly thing, nor do they know what's Godly (or morally upright).

I happened to be curious about the 'Though of the Day' that I caught sight of written on the paper bag lying on the Sofa at my roommate's side. What was written below it said, "Science is about knowing, Engineering is about doing."

Though it was an ages-old basic statement, this time it made me think about how my roommate indulged in ungodly behavior and didn't know what was godly. Additionally, how she used her ungodly conduct as something to feel superior about. Likewise, her immoral admirer. This time I thought about the statement in terms of godly and ungodly conduct of behavior.

A certain incident from my BSc days has been intermittently being highlighted to me for the past month.

1. The Enticing Heap of Fallen Leaves

Once I was passing through the ground adjoining the hostel of Miranda House college back in my days of BSc. It was the time of the year when the trees were shedding their leaves. There was a giant tree with a giant trunk near the sports room of the college. I saw a spread heap of fallen orange and golden leaves below the tree, and it very much looked like a rectangular bed of leaves of a good height. So huge that it seemed that it could easily cover one or two humans. I looked around and made sure that no one was around and jumped with all my might into it. However, after jumping I found that though the heap looked huge, it wasn't as cushioning as I had expected. But I jumped a few more times in it again until I was satisfied. I now knew what it was like to jump into a heap of well-formed fallen orange and golden leaves.

2. Regeneration

It was the leaves-shedding season again in BSc and what a sight it was again. Everywhere I looked, I saw fallen orange and golden leaves and it gave me immense pleasure just to look at them. I admired the beauty of nature that sprang out during that time of the year. One day I was walking out of the main college gate with my ex-friend Meera and as usual, we were having a philosophical talk about something. She looked to our right and said, "I don't like these fallen leaves." She attached a negative connotation to the process of falling of leaves. I replied to her that I liked them very much as they represent the process of 'regeneration'.

3. Autumn Leaves

It was my first or second year of BSc and I sat beside my PG's room's window at night on the first or second floor. I was staying in the adjacent PG - Saroj Sadan - back then. As I sat there looking outside, I was listening to some songs stored in my phone. I then happened to play the song 'Autumn Leaves' by Eva Cassidy, and I remember how it made me feel in that moment. Almost as if I was in touch with something deeper inside of me as I saw the leaves slowly drifting away at a height in air inside my mind. It was the first song of hers that I had heard. And I had begun to tap deeper into the spirituality of things during that time of my life in BSc, so even listening to the song came with an enhanced experience.

A person who truly knows the true value of things will never violate what's true and pure, and if he happens to do so, he will not be at ease with himself!

And I searched yesterday the story of 'The Last Leaf'. The lady didn't die but recovered. It was the painter who painted a counterfeit leaf in cold sheer and contracted pneumonia and died.

Page 344. What Did I Loose?

28 March 2023

I have often thought about the change in the state of things in my life after the bully and the abuser showed up. When I thought about my losses from an earthly point of view, it seemed as if he had done a huge damage to what I considered very sacred and important in my life. Though I had a difficult experience with my previous and present roommates as well, but after one of them left or had I changed my room, I wouldn't have had to be in their company or witness their wicked bullying behavior. But this bully followed me everywhere, or if not followed sent his minions to create a synthetic reality around me filling it with the messages planted by him and the like.

I didn't want to involve myself in a temporary bond with anyone because in my understanding, important bonds had to be everlasting by default and I wasn't ready to go any other way. Even when I separated from people, it didn't hurt because it wasn't that our bond broke. I emphasized on developing an everlasting 'perfect' bond with an individual, but I hardly found people who met the criteria for me to be able to have the kind of bond with them that I wanted. I didn't find any suitable matches except Meera who fulfilled most of my requirements of a good bond. I was lucky enough to have met her on the first day of BSc itself. The first day I saw her at the end of the orientation program in the college's lab, she was wearing a very loose sporty white t-shirt over blue denim jeans. She was smart, looked sporty, was open and receptive, was moral to an above-average extent, didn't indulge in any drug addiction, didn't go around having one-night stands with others or having affairs, cared for her family, had good relational bonds with those whom she loved, didn't cause unnecessary drama or didn't gossip about others like my roommate, had her own unique set of interests, was homely too, and was spiritual (though she worshipped devil considering him as God). I used to be an atheist when I was with her though I had my own spiritual experiences later that I didn't always share with her because I didn't always classify them as spiritual. I thought of them as looking into reality through a different lens that led deep to a different dimension of looking at things and understanding them. And I attributed it to my own personal sense of perception and thought that everyone had their own way of looking at and perceiving things - and this was mine. I yearned to meet with or find people who would share a similar perception where they didn't just go about their lives being entirely consumed by what they saw or their life conditions, but where they wanted to find something deeper and saw something more than what was seen. And Meera was one of that kind. Though she was not a seer who received godly visions or revelations, she definitely didn't think like others and perceived something more about the reality of things that came from within her own mind and wasn't gathered from somewhere else.

She had some deceiving traits too, and she could be unnecessarily demeaning as well sometimes, but she was a thinker of her own. And this I liked about her. She didn't fill my ears about the lives of other people like my roommate does her friends' which indirectly go into my ears as well.

Meera seemed to me quite a catch. There was a time when we both felt that we both had grown in each other's company. But then towards the end of BSc and when she had taken admission in her MSc at IITM, she felt that I had 'ruined' her because she couldn't grow spiritually the way she wanted to because of my presence in her life as I was an atheist. She rather chose to go with Tejaswi who was an immoral rotten person with a filthy rotten heart, a liar, deceiver, fornicator, a disloyal partner, an abuser, someone who intentionally inflicted emotional pain, and a fornicating womanizer who didn't believe in the committed sanctity of a bond! She chose to go along with him as his new best friend whom she called a 'Gem of her life' because he had great knowledge of ungodly false doctrines of false religions. He worshipped the devil and thought of himself as being the Hindu god Krishna - another name for devil, while God has called us to not be around immoral people irrespective of how knowledgeable they are or what their worldly position is. This newly revealed trait of hers made me very angry with her! So I broke up with her and blocked everyone related to her.

Anyway.

When I think about the things I lost, I happen to think about how I didn't go sleeping around because I had strong boundaries and didn't want immoral people to be a part of my life, but here I was now, stripped fully publicly and being said nasty things about by people who lived a very immoral and ungodly lifestyle perhaps throughout their lives. Additionally, they stalked and followed me and sent their minions with covert symbolic messages for me, again, meant to demean me. When I thought about it all, I felt that looking from a worldly and earthly perspective, this would be considered a great loss, but looking from a heavenly perspective, this situation was to result in a great gain and a great harvest of souls for the kingdom of heaven. Also, I got rid of the idea of my body being me with time, as I realized and experienced the real me at times that felt trapped inside my body and was unable to get out with the body being perceived as an inhibiting suit. God gave me many revelations that opened my mind to the reality of the system and with continuous intermittent discussion and support by other believers on a social platform, I learned more about the reality of things and the godly way to think.

So I didn’t really lose anything from a heavenly perspective as I know now that the flesh system is a satanic illusion.

Page 345. The Unusual PG; The Falling Water; The Empty Room; To Sift the Hair

Dream (Room D1, Morning, 15th to 17th March):

The Unusual PG

In this dream, I found myself talking to my about shifting to a different accommodation. I told her that I may have to look for another PG. While I talked to her, I was making rounds inside a spatially constricted place. Apparently my mom was present inside that place too though at a different floor. I would go to her to talk to her and then return to my place all the while thinking about shifting. I seemed to be in a hurry. I saw a lift in front of me along the wall at its very left end touching the adjacent wall. The lift looked a bit shabby with an iron criss-cross sliding gate resembling the one present outside the departmental lift at my workplace.

19:44
I entered the lift with my mom and saw that instead of the usual lift indoor, there was present the washroom of my PG with its stained walls and floor, with the commode to my left as I stood inside facing the door and the lift's door closed and it started moving upwards.

The Falling Water

I found myself downstairs again but this time I found my mom looking down from the balcony railing that was present inside the building and not outside, and on the adjoining wall below the railing was a pipe that came out of the wall out of which was flowing water and falling down inside the building itself. Apparently, my mom was telling me to go and check on the water motor. I went and looked for the man who's usually present on the ground floor and told him about the water falling inside the PG. He told me that he had now switched off the motor.

The Empty Room

The dream progressed and this time I found myself entering an empty room at the top floor of a building. It had a mustard-colored floor marbled with black stones embedded inside. I saw that there were one or two windows in that room and two wooden beds without mattresses. The empty room looked quite clean. I sat on one of the beds and my mom entered the room with food on a steel plate. It looked like it was my breakfast. There was a green paste of something that I ate with two round sheets of bread (perhaps paranthas), and there was present a folded omelette too on one side of the plate.

I ate the breakfast and went out on the open roof which resembled that of my home in my hometown Pundri where I spent 12 years of my life. The same home on the roof the which was side-walking the immoral middle man in one of the past revelations. There were some men standing there perhaps but I ignored them.

To Sift the Hair

The vision then showed a semi-animated me as a third person and what I was doing was standing in the sunlight facing the vision of the dream. I lifted up a layer of my hair to the side and saw a bigger-than-usual orange lice sitting on the previously hidden layer of my hair. I got rid of it. I also saw a long white flake of something that looked like frozen coconut oil to me some distance below the lice. I got rid of that too. It was perhaps the longest flake I had ever seen in my hair. I kept sifting through my hair layer by layer and kept coming across smaller white flakes that I kept ridding of. I was still in the process when the dream ended.

Page 346. Karishma Ka Karishma; What's Stopping Them To Do The Right Thing?

29 March 2023

1. Karishma Ka Karishma

Karishma is a Hindi word for a 'Miracle' or a 'Gift'. So the phrase 'Karishma Ka Karishma' would translate to 'Karishma's Miracle'

I have been hearing the sound of the title of a TV series that was quite popular among the kids of my age during middle school. The title of the TV series was 'Karishma Ka Karishma' and it was about a young robot girl that a man had made as his daughter to help the family.

2. What's Stopping Them To Do The Right Thing?

Did they ever ask themselves why they have bullying, abusing, misbehaving, and inflicting abuse and pain as a natural part of their thought process? It's almost as if they target the part you're most vulnerable at. They see what hurts you or can hurt you and run to do the same just to see your reaction because of it.

They can sense when the other person is like them and will easily partake in their bullying behavior. How is this happening? - the same way two righteous people sense that the other one is not going to be a part of something wicked.

Their love is not love but based on abuse.

347. 'The Circus and The Nose' In Play; Blowing In a Tissue;

29 March 2023

1. 'The Circus and The Nose' In Play

The previous revelation that I wrote about on Page 137 in which I was removing flakes of mucus from my nose publicly using my fingers and was putting them on a metallic surface has been in play for a while now. In that revelation, I used my hand to put the flakes on the metallic surface and after I was done, I transferred the contents on the metallic surface into a tissue and quickly threw the tissue away. And that's what I have been doing in real life as well. I use my hand to hold a metallic spatula and use it to put mucus on it and then clean the spatula over a tissue, which is equivalent to saying that I use my hand to put the mucus on the metal surface the contents of which I then transfer to a tissue. I do this repeatedly until I am done with the process after which I throw the tissue away. Only in the dream, the process was represented as a different sum of the same process. I kept removing the flakes and putting them on the metallic surface until my nose was reasonably clean or couldn't be cleaned further, and then used a tissue to quickly get a hold of the accumulated content and then threw it away.

2. Blowing In a Tissue

I had this vision many months back. Perhaps within the first few months of the time I had just shifted in this room last year.
Vision (Room D1, Early to Mid 2022): I saw a tissue spread below my nose into which I was blowing.

P.S.: I don't touch my nose a lot in general. I only fiddle with my nose during the morning when I have to clean it. And throughout the day only touch the sides when a strand of my hair or something else has brushed against it making it itch. I don't know why people touch the inside of their noses a lot in front of me. It doesn't look good. Please stop doing it. Only touch when you're genuinely itching and not otherwise.

I had this vision the same night that I had the vision of Bollywood Actor Ranveer Singh facing and looking half to my right wearing a black frame with streaks of flowy colours. But I didn't write about it because it seemed too gross to me or perhaps I didn't understand the significance of it.
This proves that God has a fantastic sense of humour and also unmatched creativity.

Vision (Room D1, 24th March 2023): I saw a close side view of the face of Ranveer Singh from the Pepsi Ad - the part where he is dressed in a blue and white tracksuit. He was facing my right side and pulled something long and liquidy out of his right nostril.

Page 349. The Nose of Pinocchio; It Was a Difficult Day

1. The Nose of Pinocchio
I had this vision many months back.

Vision (Room D1, Mid-2022): I saw a side-view of my youngest brother Divyanshu's face facing to my slight right. He had a very long and pointed but slightly slanted nose in that vision, around 35-40 cms in length.

2. It Was a Difficult Day
Today was very difficult for me. Because I just couldn't bear the reality that I had been being stripped publicly for more than 3 years. It somehow reached into me as it had started to for some time, while previously I was not paying much attention to it as I was giving my full attention to Jesus. I was trying to know Him more, and was reading His word too as was following a Bible Study Program by Adele. Her team has recently started a new platform called Eagle Hub where like-minded believers can meet and share their Holy-Spirit-given revelations and messages. Anyway. Today, I was overwhelmed by the reality of what someone had done. It was worse than killing someone physically in my eyes. I had often thought many times in the past why didn't he just kill me 'before' sending his spy cameras into my private spaces! All the covert threats seemed futile and meaningless to me because in my eyes he had already done the worst he could. It was a huge breach for me. But then I was focused on God too, so such thoughts didn't fully occupy my mind. But now I have spent some years with God and was able to look back in isolation at what this fellow had done. It was too painful. I didn't know where on Earth to go to get some relief. I knew that if I went back to my PG, I would still be struggling with the same feelings that I was having at my workplace. And I knew that dying was not an option for me as I have a walk ahead of me to walk. So I just sat at my place and wept. Sometimes I feel too hurt by the apathetic devil eye of this dual-eyed man. Previously it seemed like I had a strong shell and I was relying on God too as I had seen Him and received visions and dreams from Him. Now too I am reliant on God but my relationship with God is now established to some extent because of which I was able to properly look at how other things made me feel and were eating away at me.

And more than that I looked back at the heart-breaking instances where I didn't want to be exposed but was rendered so. It felt like these people had no conscience either. I looked at how they continued abusing me 'every time' I went to use the washroom.

And yesterday I was thinking that I was not a child anymore that they should treat this lightly. But then today itself they made an indirect point by comparing me to a butt-naked little girl which is just an immorally disgusting comparison to me. Because he for certain won't broadcast himself butt-naked in any case, and if anyone should do so to him, he will run after his blood with no thought of forgiveness - this I have learned by far about this fellow.

Last year I still was mentally strong, so was able to work out and fast. But this year, the fact that I am being stripped every time I go to use te washroom was just too heavy on my head and it gave me too heavy a head this late evening. I knew that this fellow was only using me now. Because I had yet another revelation from the trailer of the movie 'Hacked' where the part in which the guy says to the protagonist that 'he loved her and wanted to marry her but now he was only going to use her for sex' was highlighted to me - I don't really know whom this pertains to, because many revelations turned out to be quite different when they unfolded in an unexpected context. But I was definitely very upset about the state of things as I thought about how evil and wicked these people were. He's running after love, but after submission. Because love is given freely and can't be forced but is rather induced by another person's inner countenance towards us.

I don't think this person will be fully naked for anyone in public, then why is he expecting me to show him love in a way which doesn't count what he has been continuously doing?

He only takes and then insults.

30 March 2023

Power in the world is very much different than being a servant of God. A person with power in the world plays a political game with a neutral mind without any regard for being morally right or wrong, or without a consensus with his conscience. He chooses to support what is outright wrong if that's what's needed for him to survive.

But a godly person sees any situation from a godly lens of right or wrong and then directs his steps.

Eva Cassidy - Autumn Leaves

Two days back I wrote about the incidents in my life related to Autumn leaves. And the next day I realized their significance in relation to other revelations. I made a passionate jump in the fallen heap of orange and golden leaves below a tree, and I am a tree according to God-given revelation - the Amy Tree. The fallen leaves lying below a tree represent something… Let the one who has eyes to see - see, and ears to hear - hear.

In yet another incident, I sat by the window of my PG at night and was listening to Autumn leaves by Eva Cassidy with a view of trees outside - the same that stands even now.

That night that I completed writing the 'Autumn Leaves' page, I was inside my room when I heard some people shout rashly outside my PG as they had come riding on a two-wheeler that I discerned by its sound. One of them said, "Behen Ke l*de! Dikha!!", followed by "Bhdi ke" (Hindi for, "D*ck of sis! Expose!" "Of the Vagina!"

I thought, "Why are these people now shouting this in front of my PG?" Surely, they just have to say some crap to piss me off!

But then it also reminded me of the revelation in which I had seen the animated vision of a woman sitting with her bare thighs open in the middle of which was green grass in place of her genitalia. She kept sitting like that and after a while came walking a tiny white cow of two or three inches of size. The tiny cow walked in the space between her thighs towards the grass and started grazing it.

I then knew that the window by which the autumn leaves drifted was that woman's genitalia.

I just noticed my roommate wearing a bracelet which is symbolic of 'devil's eye'. I don't know why is she showing allegiance to Satan. It's very much representative of the vision in which she was standing naked wrapped by the huge serpent which is the devil. She has given herself to the satanic trends of the world. When I would have left her and the PG, perhaps then she would look back and learn about all of what she did was wrong.

A godly person is able to stand alone when (s)he knows that she is in the right and will suffer because of the same as well. But a worldly and ungodly person will seek to find friendly company with even those whom (s)he knows are blatantly in the wrong.

It's very important for a worldly and ungodly (wo)man to be in harmony with the wrongdoers as it gives him/her a sense of safety. While it's very important for a godly person to walk in the statutes of God.

A worldly leader is not based on a ground of godly morality and shouts like a hypocritical fool with no real weight in his/her words. A godly leader is silent especially when in the presence of fools.

Will you stand alone when it comes to obeying God?

Page 352. Bathing Children In Front of Bald Men; The Itch in the Ear

30 March 2023
10:48

1. Bathing Children In Front of Bald Men

The first revelation that told me that I had to start writing on this digital notebook had the words 'I can't take it anymore' being typed on a screen and deleted right after. The second revelation had the words "I love you" being typed on the screen and the words stayed.

I have written about this previously as well.

I started writing by expressing how I once was feeling too weak because of the emotional pain. After sharing my mental state, I wrote about a dream I had in which I saw some children being abused in front of some men. I had written a great part of that dream but then I deleted everything.

I am writing that dream now.

Dream (Room D4, Late 2021): I saw myself traversing the roofs as I moved to the right of my PG. On one of the roofs that I was momentarily on, I saw Khyati standing wearing the pink and grey striped white shirt. He looked straight and had a weird annoyed expression as he was sewing a patch on his tongue with a needle. There were two patches on his tongue's right in that dream. It made me think why would he do such a gross thing.

I kept moving to my right and this time came across a roof filled with people. The situation emanated a negative aura so I hid on one side of the roof and kept looking at what was happening there. A fat and bald man sat on a chair by the outer end of the roof facing towards the building. He wore a white half-sleeved vest and was laughing lightly as he looked pleased with the scene in front of him. There was a single hospital bed lying in front of him on which lay a child who was being bathed by a slim fully-dressed lady. It seemed like they were all openly harassing little children on that roof and no one tried to stop them from pleasing the pedophile bald man.

2. The Itch in the Ear

Vision (Room D1, Mid 2022): In this vision, I saw Glory sitting to my right in a dimly lit room. He wore a loose checkered brown shirt and looked slightly more puffed as he moved his upper body away a bit and itched the curved center skin of his ear lobe. I thought, "why would God give me such a revelation?" Everyone itches. If not now, then at some other time.

Page 353. No More; But Why Do 'They' Have To Be Like This!

30 March 2023
12:10

1. No More

I have been telling God since yesterday that I have done everything that I could in my capacity, as in according to the strength that I had, and I am now too mentally exhausted to do anything. When I look at the smiling faces of bullies, even that seems sickening to me and gives me a jolt. How can these people smile and act all good when they are so clearly playing the side of the wicked. It's hard to live in the serpent world. I can fully understand Jonathan when he says how no one is willing to listen and they all are enjoying this fake reality of the kingdom of darkness.

I prayed to God in the morning that I was done with my capacity to take more blows. I may not have done things perfectly, but I did as much as I could seeing the kind of pressure and stress I was in because of the situation. If my life-situation was like the way it used to be in the absence of these gang-stalking bullies, I would still have had an unscathed mind. But as of now, I am drained and mentally scarred and bruised, all because of these rotten bullies. Perhaps God is changing me internally even more and I won't ever experience the kind of bond I was capable of when I still had a healthy unscarred mind, but am not transforming into someone who will able to mingle with the lowly.

It just seems to me that the bully wants to turn me into a brain-dead useless person who eventually will need to be admitted to a rehabilitation center and then he will rejoice more in my suffering while enjoying the fake sense of love with others who supported his cause. Or perhaps I will die in my bed one day because of the accumulated trauma! Then these people will no longer be able to soothe themselves but will have to resort to looking at their past memories of inflicting pain on me.

2. But Why Do 'They' Have To Be Like This!

Their fake nice outwardly behavior is suffocating! I don't know how many more years I have to endure this. Both he and my roommate have similar traits; only in my roommate's case, the same traits are dampened in intensity. He is just a higher version of her. Both of them cause painful situations intentionally and never feel guilty for their behavior, but rather enjoy when the other person has to walk out the consequences of 'their' actions. Both manufacture deceptive situations and wait for the other person to take the bait. Both have murderous intent when confronted - not toward the perpetrator but toward the one who's afflicted. Both are fleshly. Both like to show their 'political power' by using others to achieve an objective of their liking. They don't give the other person enough space to just relax in their own moral persona but go slander them for their good traits by making fun of them. Both are not godly. Both are domineering and deceptive.

The survival tactic is to become equally wicked when in the company of the wicked, for wolves don't attack other wolves but see the innocent sheep as someone useless.

Both are whores of the devil who go around whoring themselves out to the world and its ways while afflicting those who try to do right. They may change in the future, but in my life, they only played a negative role!

14:33
I realized that my above feelings were a result of the presence of an earthly mindset in me because of which I was expecting godly behavior in a serpent system, the lack of which was making me feel downcasted when I looked at the fact that the mentally abusive and painful behavior came from people whom God had put in my car, bus and helium balloon basket.

16:37
Though my roommate may resemble me to some extent outwardly, she is a dimmed reflection of the bully, inwardly!

19:39
Also, I just realized that I never had such amount of negativity for a specific person (besides Tejaswi) before these people came in my life. I developed that negativity because I was repeatedly good to my roommate but she lied repeatedly and created deceptive situations for me to fall in and bow down according to her without me realizing that I was playing along her lines. I also understood with time that I couldn't have an honest talk with her because she never told me the truth. And when I asked her to listen to me when I told her something, she replied with, "Why should I? Are you my mom?" I explained to her that I implied me sharing my grievances or any problem that I may be facing because of her, to which, again, she replied, "Why should I?" And she said it with a gloated tone with a superior smile.

I acted like someone I never wanted to in her company! She and her admirer brought out the worst from inside of me. So I also learned my limitations in tolerating crap.

"अब पछताए होत क्या ,जब चिडिया चुग गई खेत" is the most popular doha of sant Kabir das ji in India , which means "Regretting over what has been lost is unproductive"
The sentence is said in the context of a farmer, 'pachtaye' means 'remorse' ...and 'chugna' means 'to peck' .
Lets link together , and it means The bird has already cleared(ate up) the field (खेत), so it's useless to regret. Use the phrase when the mistakes and faults can't be binded again.
English language has a similar idiom, "Don't cry over spilt milk"

From <https://www.quora.com/Whats-the-meaning-of-this-sentence-ab-pachtaye-hote-kya-chidiya-choog-gayi-khet>

It also tells us to harvest the crop in time before the birds peck at it and eat all of it away.

1. Ba Ba Black Sheep

I heard the lyrics of this rhyme today a few times. I caught hold of the revelation and googled it. The first suggestion had a little boy running after a black sheep with a white face to bathe it.

2. The Baby Head

3. The Rain and God's Healing Word

Watching the video above was such a healing experience for me as I watched the little fat child running after the black sheep and employing different tactics for the sheep to come to him. God saw my hurting heart and made my day by raining profusely today and then making me watch this Ba Ba Black Sheep video which made me feel slightly better about the bathroom situation. When it started to rain, I stood at my balcony door and watched the heavy rain and had many communing visions with Jesus who stretched himself out to me from outside the building from the sky. And when I sat on my chair afterwards to do something on my laptop, I saw his stretched arms stretch themselves further and come to me from the balcony door.

But though God gave me the 'Ba Ba Black Sheep' revelation, their behavior doesn't match anywhere like it. So I know that after a while I will be downcast again because I will get to witness their crappy behavior again, though this time slightly overtly damped but more covert!

The baby head above actually looks exactly the same as the baby head I had seen in the dream revelation except that the smile wasn't present on that still-born baby. But after I had prayed for it to be alive as I felt pity for the still-born innocent baby, it had changed from a thick baby head to a flat grey surface, and on it had appeared the tiny facial features of a man and those immediately gave me a smile that I found so wicked that I instantly started praying for the powers of the awakened evil to be rendered useless.

In the serpent system, the serpent race constantly act in ungodly ways. The psychopaths, narcissists and other types of disordered Cluster B personalities afflict intentional emotional and physical abuse on others and they get away with it easily, because the system supports their kind.

The Low-Level Psychopath

I had a brief revelation a while back where I saw how 'getting away' with abusive behavior starts with emotional abuse first. A low or milder level of a psychopathic abuser is exemplified by my roommate Akhila. She says intentional hurtful words to cause pain and to soothe her own inferiority complex.

She called me 'dumb fool' while looking at me with hatred and disgust. She went out and indulged in gossip about me. It was none of her and friends business what kind of clothes I prefer or if I judge short clothes. I have a sense of shame that comes from being naked, and I guess it's a part of being a normal human. So, if there are people walking around me half-naked, absolutely I will know that it's not what matches my inner sense of morality. But it's not that I am going to them and saying my inner self out to them. Likewise, I have a sense of loyalty and faithfulness, and I will definitely judge an adulterer or a fornicator or someone who intentionally inflicts emotional abuse. But it doesn't mean that I will want to have anything to do with such a person or go to him and give him/her a preaching.

But low-level psychopaths like Akhila insult even the good traits of others. She said to me that everyone felt judged around me. But it made me think that I didn't even have enough time to think if someone was judging me and then I had my mental boundaries as well. She said to me, "You can't hate us just because we're not doing the right thing." Well, it's not that I hated them but I didn't want to be a part of their group either because I didn't see any scope for personal growth in their presence. They had a much lower level of morality than I was used to, their language was profane, and they indulged in useless gossip. Why then would I want to be a part of such a group? Even if I had to be alone in company in the PG.

But because I was doing the right thing 'in their eyes' shouldn't have made me a targeted topic of gossip or their so-called social discussion. If I have a different set of values, why should it make me a hot topic of gossip or slander!?

They did it a lot.

My roommate would often say demeaning things to me or about me indirectly. Her behavior emerged from a sense of worldly superiority.

But whenever she behaved in those wicked ways, she got away with them in a way because she had the support of most people as she was an outwardly socially malleable person who would only show her unreasonably insulting behavior towards specific people. The same thing I observed in her close friends. I saw something lacking. Every single time she behaved in a covertly abusive way or insulted me, she got away with it. There was no reason for her to say and do all that she did about me. But yet, she said and did those things that did hurt me as she made personal comments about things that mattered to me, but she got away with everything. Why would I be writing negative things about her if she had not first 'behaved' in those ways!?

The Mid-Level Psychopath

A mid-level psychopathic abuser would be Tejaswi, who specifically targeted people and had many affairs and thought of himself as being God himself, and had no innate sense of morality. He targeted me with full force in the beginning, hid many things about his rotten nature, and only revealed the ugliest parts later on. People like him get away with the emotional abuse they inflict on others. I have written a lot about him in the past during my healing process between 2016 to 2018 so I won't waste any more words or even want to think about the past except for the brutal facts it made me come across.

The High-Level Psychopath
A high-level psychopath will be a charming killer who uses charm to deceive and trap, or uses criminal coercion to get his way.

But just because they are low or mid-level psychopaths, it doesn't mean I should love them like they haven't said or done hurtful things to others, especially when they never apologize or repent but only repeat their past behavior.

A low-level psychopath will get along with other low-level psychopaths or at the most a mid-level psychopath. S(h)e may get along with a high-level psychopath as well if he is too good at pleasing her because (s)he is obeying him blindly and not questioning his behavior regardless of what he has to say about the intentional wrong he has already done and continues to do.

All levels of psychopaths go along well with each other if they feel safe to exhibit their abusive traits in each other's company.

Now there are different levels of morality as well. A non-psychopathic person may commit a sin of one or the other kind, but he will have enough self-accountability to make up for what he did wrong and will feel guilty and repent, even if it's to his own self, about his past transgressions.

A highly moral person will not even have the thought of abusing someone, let alone an innocent individual who didn't do him any harm. It just doesn't come naturally to him. It's not a part of his innate nature so he doesn't think along such lines as well.

When I look at my roommate, I see how she was insulting me a while back, and how she is laughing and smiling later as if she didn't do any of that. She clearly bypassed how she behaved. I find this sickening. If she was to apologize, repent and change altogether into a different person to whom abuse of any kind doesn't come naturally, it's then she would have had a compassionate bond with me as we would've vibed. But not as of now with this current persona of hers. Likewise, with her immoral admirer.

I don't need her and him in any way. But yet I have to suffer because of this rotten nature of theirs! - God could've said this when He died on the cross. But He didn't.

23:04
Because He knew how people are transformed.

23:27
As for my roommate, she is learning to be a better person slowly. It's not that she was too bad previously. But she is indeed demonically influenced and perhaps it comes out only in the presence of people with the Holy Spirit who don't approve inside of themselves of her ungodly traits.

But she's learning by a great part by copying my traits to some extent which is good in a way if she becomes a better person by doing so. I mean, I too learn from Jesus who is an example for me - the perfect person that exists. But, I don't insult Him while learning from Him because I know that He is indeed perfect and is my Most-High Creator God.

The Future Hourglass; Significance of Names in Alice Academy; Rise Up Rise Up, Baby

30 March 2023
23:31

1. The Future Hourglass

You see, in some of the revelations God gave me, I had reduced a significant amount of my belly fat. When I have achieved that result, I will be with Glory, and then someone will regret and feel 'very' jealous when I cook and hand food on a plate to him as was shown to me in the revelation where the jealous person was represented by the actor in the negative role of the movie Dushman.
'Man looks on the outside, but God looks at the heart.'

2. Significance of Names in Alice Academy

You see, I always had an 'I Can' attitude which goes along with the name 'Mikan', and the bully's name 'Natsume' is an amalgamation of the Hindi word 'Nat' for 'saying No' in English, and the English word 'Assume' which goes along with the fact that the bully bullied me as he assumed that I had told him a 'No', when I didn't tell him anything but was exercising healthy boundaries and I was free to do so - to choose who would stay in my friends' list and who would not depending on how they conducted themselves. The short-heighted bully assumes that people have told him a 'No' and then abuses them, and is therefore rightly described by the name 'Natsume' .

I loved Alice Academy since I first started watching it during high school. It was one of my favorites along with others. I was a huge fan of InuYasha, Slam Dunk, Fate/Stay Night, and La Corda D' oro Primo Passo too (to some extent). All of them are coming alive in my life slowly now.

I watched Fate/Stay night regularly too, which is about the story of Shiro and Saber - the servant girl given to Shiro to fight in the Holy Grail games. Shiro in my case is Glory. (He's not a hero but a 'shero' as he has the skin of a woman.)

I remember I was once watching Alice Academy on my laptop but my internet was too slow and it was taking a lot of time to buffer even a few seconds of the video. So I had to wait quite a lot to watch it in little parts. Additionally, I always 'fully' watched the serials that I loved. I didn't like to miss even the beginning and the ending theme songs. And a few days back when I wrote the Alice Academy revelation, I saw that even the song had revelation-related truth in it.

I had this dream-vision few weeks back.

Vision (Room D1, Late Feb/Early March): In this dream, I saw the front part of head, and then back of my head. The back of my head was entirely shaved with the top layer of hair falling down and covering the shaved part.

After I was done writing revelations last night and put my laptop aside, I had the chorus of the following song play in the spirit which I listened to after using the washroom.

1. Aankh Utthi Mohabbat Ne Angdaai Li (Eye Opened and Love Took a Yawn)

<<Chorus Eye Lifted Up.mp4>>

After I lay in bed on my right side facing the washroom, I had the following instant revelation.

2. The Lip Scratch

Vision (Room D1, Around 1 am): I saw the face of Death Conqueror lying on its left side right in front of me, and apparently I was scratching the middle of his closed lips with my forefinger.

This made me think that it was quite an unusual revelation seeing the kind of things I had been hearing from the duo for a while now.

Well, I was also in a better mood last night because of the 'Ba Ba Black Sheep' revelation that made me feel at ease by a lot.
The lip scratch was followed by other things.

These revelations from the day, that God had given me, also made me realize that I was always going to forgive Death Conqueror no matter what he did. And that was a result of how God molded me by working on my heart gradually. I looked at the situation from His eyes. To Him, Death Conqueror wasn't someone despicable who hurts others to get his way, but a creation of His own hands that had gone astray in the world. Likewise, my roommate wasn't destined to be eternally defined by the title of a 'low-level' psychopath as she was also a creation of God who was created with love by God, though she doesn't always do the right thing. Both of them are destined to be saved out of the serpent system, and it's in their transition phase that I have to suffer because of them.

My emotional pattern with Death Conqueror has been alternate in behavior. I remember this day from a month or two back when I was sitting on my chair in the workplace and the only words that kept repeating in my heart were, "". The words wouldn't stop and continued for a good amount of time as I was filled with immense amount of . After a while, I went into a sad, angry and utterly depressed state where I kept repeating inside of me, "He ruined my life!", because of what he had done along with others.

I have come to this conclusion a few times now that I can't be angry at him for a long time how angry I may be at a given moment and it always dissolves away and ends up in me having a molten heart as I look at God's given revelations.

God often represents him as an infant. Previously God represented him as a naked and demonized infant in 2020. Later He represented him as a fully covered-in-white innocent and holy infant in 2023. To God, he is His child who is no less than an infant. And that's also what He keeps revealing to me. Looking at these revelations made an impression on my mind of him being an innocent but slightly foolish infant who's still a creation of God. God doesn't want me to look at him like he's an evil man, but as His infant child! - And that's what melts my heart every time as God gives me related revelations like the 'Ba Ba Black Sheep'.

And half of the kind of thoughts he has does match that of an innocent infant, while the other half are from the eye of devil at work in him.

3. Miss Khatti Meethi

This particular anime has been being highlighted to me for a while now. I watched it for a brief period of time when I was in 8th or 9th class. It revolved around a girl who was kinda independent. It was a casual story with no specific peculiarity about it.

The Heart Burst; Blade on the Left Wrist; The Unwanted Wife's Kiss; Builders Who Built the Tajmahal; Gazar Ka Halwa; My Dad Stabs My Belly

31 March 2023

I had this follow-up vision to the Bride's beheading some months back, and it has also been repeated to me many times though this is the first time I am writing about it. I had the beheading vision in Late 2021/Early 2022. But I had this vision much later during the past year.

1. The Heart Burst

Vision (Late 2022/Early 2021): The moment I armoured up Glory and got beheaded was also the moment I saw a pink heart inside of Death Conqueror burst forth open with a jet flow of pink liquid rushing out as he sat on the back seat of a van/vehicle looking at the scene.

I guess that's what it is going to take for his devil eye to be shut and his angel ayes to be reconciled fully with God!

I was sitting on my chair at my workplace with my hand on my laptop's keyboard when I had the following vision.

2. Blade on the Left Wrist

Vision (Workplace, March 2023): I saw a blade falling on my left wrist as if in an attempt to amputate it. The vision repeated itself a few times.

3. The Unwanted Wife's Kiss

In the movie 'Raja Ki Aayegi Barat', Rani Mukherjee (an Indian Actress) forcibly kisses her husband on seeing him with the woman he was having an extramarital affair with. He gets rid of her and slaps her, to which she sarcastically replies, "This is how awful you find my kiss today!? That day though you were enjoying a lot while raping me!" - This particular scene was highlighted to me from the movie.

The man had her beaten and raped in an attempt to get back at her for the righteous anger she showed at an event. The man was later given a sentence by the judge to marry her and therefore had to do so, but he didn't love her initially, though at the movie's end, they both fell in love.

4. Builders Who Built the Taj Mahal

The builders who built the Taj Mahal had their hands amputated for the king didn't want them to build anything else of similar grandeur.

5. Gazar Ka Halwa

This incidence has been brought to my attention many times now. I was at my home in 2020 and my mom used to cook a lot of Gazar ka Halwa. It's a sweet dish made from grated carrots and milk by cooking them together until the milk is no longer liquidy. This day my mom cooked the sweet dish again and I had my share in a pink bowl that I had stored to eat later. I took the pink bowl in my hand and stood near the dining table with my eyes looking above as I wanted to give the bowl to the person I thought was staying upstairs and who used to make rounds above and make noises on the floor as I moved inside my home (my parents' apartment). But I never went upstairs to the 7th floor, because though I perceived goodness and purity, I also saw the truth of his 'actions'.

6. My Dad Stabs My Belly

I had this vision when I was lying on my bed one day with my head below the ceiling fan's side of the room.

Vision (Room D1, Late 2022): In this vision, I saw my dad at a distance of 1 meter above my lower body as he stabbed my belly.

In that vision, I had a smaller belly though, and not this current size one.

Hard To Say Good Night/Bye; The Beginning and The Progression; Songs Sent to Tejaswi; The End.

01 April 2023
00:07

1. Hard To Say Good Night/Bye

I was reminded of my past time with Tejaswi back in 2016 when we used to chat on WhatsApp all day, and when it would be night, it used to be too hard to say Good Night or Good Bye.

One of us would say Good Night, but then the other would start talking about something else again, after a minute or so of which one of us would say 'Bye' again, but then some other thing would come up and we will continue in our chat.

I don't want a repeat of that at all, because it was not a good thing that we had. He was an emotional abuser who later abused me too after he was 'done', like he abused his gf whom he knew since his undergrad days. He forced her to accept his unfaithful behavior.

2. The Beginning and the Progression

You see, I didn't have an affair with him perse. We became friends because of a chat he initiated after I sent him a friend request because my then best friend had called him 'a gem of her life'. He had just finished his MSc from IIT Madras and my best friend who was also enrolled there was posting pictures with him while praising him, so I felt nudged to send him a request. He then had to come to Delhi for some conference/meet-up organized for people who were selected for academic programs abroad. He stayed in Delhi 4 days and we met for those 4 days only.

The first day he met me, he gave me 5 books. I was wearing my grey and blue top over blue denim jeans - the same attire that I had on the day of the public lecture in CIC where I saw the side-view of the face of Death Conqueror sitting at my right front. He wore a striped yellow t-shirt.

Four books were related to Hindu spirituality and one to science. I wasn't into Hindu or any other kind of spiritualism back then.

The second day I went to meet him at the place where he was staying. He caught me somewhere in the market as I didn't know the exact location of his hotel. He had brought a chocolate for me and told me that I could have it right then. I was having it on my way as he led me to his place. We sat in his room for a while and chatted. It was for me to relax after traveling from my home in NCR to the place he was staying in Delhi. We then went out and had a heavy South Indian lunch after which he told me that I ate a lot but he had eaten much more than me and the extra things I ate were because the serving uncle was insisting so nicely to eat. I have a rough memory of what we did we had lunch. So I will just let it go. I can't recall much. Perhaps that was the day he had that meet-up, so we had to separate after lunch. We boarded the metro and I got down at my station. I could see his hand waving from amidst the crowd for a while longer when I turned back to look at him.

The third day we had an itinerary that he created for us to follow. We had to visit a few places in a day. I went to his hotel again to his room. We were chatting as I was relaxing. He showed briefly some traits of a perverted man who was trying to lure a woman but to no use. We left the room and as we were walking away and I was about to step down the stairs, he looked at me with a stern expression and pointed to the room. I ignored his directive and continued stepping down and so we continued outside. By this time I had some idea of how he thought, but my vision of him wasn't very clear yet. We went to see the lotus temple, an art gallery that wasn't as good as we were expecting, and then another art gallery that was better than the previous one. I happened to notice a painting there in which a man was looking at his reflection in a mirror and the reflected person was looking back at the man with a confused expression. He was saying that it was meaningless but I told him that the painting meant that the man was 'self-reflecting' and the result was a confused reflection that didn't recognize his real self. Afterwards, we went to a rotating restaurant because he said he always wanted to dine in one. We were hungry as we hadn't had lunch. The one we went to was at a very high level above the ground where one could see the city's view. It was circular and covered with thick round glass walls on the side with a concrete ceiling. We had a good meal there as we looked out the glass wall. It was quiet and relaxing… We saw the setting sun through the glass as the entire floor rotated slowly, changing our view - slowly but continuously. We spent a good amount of time there until it was about 5 or 6 pm. I was still not stripped publicly so I could be happy and relaxed and had a much different mind than I have now. I was far from the world of psychopathic abuse until this point in time. It was the month of July perhaps and I wore my sleeveless black tunic with a white floral print - the one that I threw later.

I also had my MSc classes at that time but they were few. I think I attended the only class I had and then went to meet him.
The next day was Sunday. I didn't go to meet him that day and he used it up to do other things and meet a friend who stayed in Delhi.

We had been chatting a lot for the past few weeks even until late nights around 2 or 3 am. Our discussions consisted of him trying to convince me of his religious beliefs and understanding of Hinduism, when in fact he himself didn't know the reality of his religion as I would discover the truth much later.

The next day he had to leave for his home in Hyderabad. It was going to be our last day of meeting. So I specifically wore my white half-sleeved t-shirt with a huge print of a rose in the middle which was half red and half black. It symbolized love and the pain of separation. The previous day he was crying on chat and told me that it was difficult for him to see the precious moments pass by too quickly - like they were limited in time but yet drifted away like sand from the hand. I had started to like him by this time. He was crying after we were out of the rotating restaurant as well, as he said, "I'm crying because you're 'leaving' me." The last day I met him, I wanted to show him love. I gave him my favourite book 'Oscar Wilde & The Happy Prince'. We talked and spent time together in his room, and though we didn't fornicate during the past three days that we had met, this last day we did a bit. I was ok with it because I loved him (or that's what I thought in my mind). He behaved sensibly to a great extent.

He was the one who stripped his upper body but I didn't get stripped at all. Well, that was because he understood after a while that I wanted more of him than he was allowing me, so he asked me if I wanted him to remove his shirt, to which I nodded. But we were very much in control all the time. We only cuddled tightly and kept kissing. We spent around two hours or so together and then it was time for him to leave. I escorted him through the airport line to see him off. He was crying intermittently on the way again while I was soothing him off by rubbing his left cheek with my left hand that went around his shoulder. While we sat in the moving metro in the Airport line, we looked out through the glass wall to our left at the white clouds in the blue sky. He was sitting by the window seat. The clouds made both of us think about a scene from the movie 'Up'. I was hoping that he wouldn't compare the clouds to that scene because at that time I didn't find that scene quite enticing. The scene had the protagonists lying on a picnic mat and looking at the sky with clouds in it as they tried to find shapes in the clouds, and then one of them saw the shapes of babies in all the clouds. I had pointed out the resemblance of the shape of a cloud with something, to which he had replied by pointing to how all the clouds turned into babies in the movie 'Up', and as he did so, he gave me a look that told me that it meant a lot to him as he looked joyful with a sense of amazement. We sat on our metro seats with his right hand on my shoulder and his left hand joined with my left hand. There was a bald and thin guy sitting on the seat right in front of us. Tejaswi said out loud that his shirt had my hair on it, while my shirt had his hair on it - what was it that was going around!? Definitely, he said it to make that person jealous or to show a sense of superiority to him. That person looked at us by turning his face to one side (making the prophetic symbol in a way), and smiled lightly.

Tejaswi liked my accent as well, from what he told me. He said that my voice was like a healing tonic to his ears. Somewhere in the middle, he had also asked me if I wanted to sit on his lap as we were taking our seats, but I told him that his thighs were going to be flattened if sat on him (as I was about 75 kgs back then, but then he too wasn't slim either and was around 80 or 85 kgs.)

We deboarded the metro and I was to now see him off at the airport. As we were moving up the escalator, he happened to sing a Telugu song while still being teary-eyed and told me that it meant that 'the lady followed him wherever he went'.

When it was time to make the exit, I found out that I had lost my wallet inside the metro in the airport line. It had my metro card, other cards and around 1k rupees. So I couldn't see him off further than that. I now wouldn't had been able to reach home empty pocketed so he gave me some money. I told him that 100 rs would be enough for me to reach home, but he gave me around 500 rs as he insisted I may need more for an 'emergency'. We said goodbyes after one last hug. He exited the station's door, walked a few steps forward, stopped, turned back and said, "We'll skype." I wasn't really expecting him to say that because towards the end of the two hours that we were together, he had said, "Nothing happened today. We're friends." while crying later intermittently during the last ride together.

I watched him walk away. Though I was sad somewhere, I guess I was just better at controlling my emotions than he was.

I managed to exit the metro at my station by talking to the authorities there.

Our bond grew fast after he left. We chatted all the time sending each other kisses and love.

2. Songs Sent to Tejaswi

He would sometimes ask me to sing songs and send to him after he had left. He found my voice too sweet and like a tonic (at least that's what he said).

I sent him 'I know you by heart' by Eva Cassidy. He had also recorded my song 'Over the Rainbow' by Eva Cassidy on the last day that we met in his hotel room.

He told me that he played those recordings in the speakers at his home in front of his mom and praised my voice.

3. The End

But it was later that I got to know from his GF that she was also present there when he played the songs. She told me everything about how he had treated her all this time and I told her everything about how I ended up being in his business briefly because I didn't know him properly yet.

Anyway. Long story short. He was used to short flings with women and had gone on short 'No Strings Attached' trips previously with other women as well, only in my case the short 'trip' wasn't 'pre-planned' by us but was coincidental and had an academic reason. He had emotionally abused her GF to accept his lifestyle. He said that all his initial bonds were like that - the way that he was with me. When I got to know the full truth of how he operated and his lifestyle, I didn't want to have anything to do with him. I broke up with him because I didn't want to be the third woman in their story after I got to know that he had 'patched up' with his gf whom he was calling as ex previously until after the make out during the last day, and I didn't want to be a part of his harem either. I always stood for a one-to-one committed attachment style and didn't like his lifestyle at all. When I was breaking up with him, he told me that I was at the peak of my youth and therefore how many friends did I think I would be having. I understood at that moment what he was up for. So I broke up with him and blocked him everywhere.

I forgave him long back and don't want to have anything to do with him. He didn't marry his gf either because he wanted someone shorter in height to him, and his gf was taller than him. (Even I was taller than him by a few inches.)

I don't cheat and neither do I want to be the one with whom someone else's partner cheats. But, I have no control over how situations turn out as God gives me revelations related to people who like me and whom He wants to be saved from the serpent system.

1. Karishma Gives a Pass

During one of my past discussions with my supervisor, she told me that the bully had 'given me a pass' because I told him a 'no'. You see, in the video below, the robot girl Karishma gives her brother a basketball pass and he disappears.

2. Abha Ma'am in a Beige Saree

I had this vision repeated last year, and it was being brought to my remembrance even now so I am sharing it here.

Vision (Mid 2022): I saw a distant vision of Abha Ma'am sitting on a chair wearing a beige saree in a blurred dark background as she looked in my direction. She is a professor in Miranda House who is often actively involved in protests against different issues related to students and teachers.

3. Jao Paani Do

I was asleep and in dream when I had this vision.

Dream-Vision (): I saw the old uncle that I met in the home I visited last year. He ordered me, "Jao Paani Do." ("Go give water"). He said that in a tone that was milder than the one he had used when I had visited their home though it was still a bit stern.

4. Mikan Loves Natsume

I heard 'Mikan Loves Natsume' in the spirit inside of me when I was going upstairs on the round stairs in my dept in the morning after reaching there. In the series, Mikan is good to everyone but is specifically annoyed with Natsume as he is often insulting her and putting her through difficult and embarrassing situations.

1. To Be a Child of God

It's important to be a servant first before one can really be a child of God. All children of God are called to have a servant's heart by default.

2. The Eye in the Sky

I clicked these photo last year in August when I noticed that that night the moon actually looked like an eye in the sky. I have referred to this incident on Page 300 as well where I first wrote about my relationship with the moon. Brother Jonathan also has his testimony of God showing him our eye that goes to Heaven. I took the photos late at night around 1:36 am.

1. To Lock the House

Dream (Room D1, Around Morning):

Lock the doors
I was in my grandma's home and stood outside the door of the living room lit with yellow light. It was night and I was continuously praying in tongues. To my right was the door of one of the bedrooms. And the area outside the two perpendicular rooms was a covered rectangular space. In front of the covered space laid an open space and further ahead laid a covered platform above the ground on which I saw my dad sleeping on a bed some distance further after which laid the main gate of the house which I saw was locked on the inside. Everyone was about to go to sleep so I wanted to make sure the doors were locked. The main door was locked behind my dad.

My middle brother was in the living room but hadn't locked his door. I told him to bolt up the wooden mesh door at both the top and the bottom. After he locked it, I saw that the bedroom to my right had been locked as well by my youngest brother as I saw it lit with yellow light as well through the curtains inside the mesh door. There were some windows to the living room's door's left. I told my middle brother to bolt them as well as I closed some of them from the outside. He told me that he felt suffocated. So he left the left-most glass window open as it was the widest. I was still concerned as anyone could enter the room through it. Somehow I felt that we were susceptible and were targeted for an intrusion in the night. But at least he had locked the door.

I saw that there was a door with widely-spaced rusty orange grills to the right of the main gate near which my dad was sleeping. The narrower gate was left open. I walked through the open space, then up the few stairs to the platform, and then to the narrower door to the right.

The Cement Rod and the Hole in the Wall

When I reached the open grilled door, what I saw in front through the wide grills was a 3-5 meters long and a foot thick cemented horizontal rod attached to the wall to the right. It was no longer dark but the outside looked well-lit with natural white light. The attachment style wasn't visible in the vision of the dream. The long rod was lying on the floor with a niche present on the left wall slightly above the rod. I understood that putting that rod in that niche would give an extra line of defense. I lifted the cemented rod and put it in the niche in the wall. In order to fix it properly there, I had to move it around a bit, but as I did the visible bricks in the niche got pushed around making one or two of them fall. The niche wasn't nicely structured and looked to have been made by hitting the wall with brute force as the red bricks around the hole were openly visible. As I was trying to fix the rod in the less-than-a-meter-deep niche, two ladies came down and it seemed that they lived upstairs on the roof. The two ladies were slim and were wearing dark-colored sarees and looked like sanitation workers. They said that they will take care of the rod and that they were going to actually eat it. I thought how were they going to eat that.

Cutting the Snake

I let them take hold of the situation as they seemed to know what they were doing. But when I looked at the rod that they had now put on the floor out of the niche, it was no longer a cemented rod but a half-a-foot thick black snake with a vertical stringed diamond-shaped green print on it. It was detached from the wall on the right as well now and looked much shorter with a good end of the narrow part of its tail missing. They started painting the snake white. One of the ladies had an infant wrapped in white in her hands. She wrapped that infant around the snake's right end using a part of the white cloth it was wrapped in. The right end of the snake was lesser in thickness than it's left end. The other lady then started hitting the center of the snake with an axe while the first one was holding the right end of the snake in place. I could see that it took her a few blows to completely sever the snake in half. As she hit the snake, the snake head at the left end could be seen feeling the pain. I went back inside as I didn't want to be a part of what they were doing. The two ladies came inside too after they were done. One of them carried the baby in white vertically with its head resting on her shoulders. The baby still had the tied end of the snake hanging below him giving it the look of a mermaid from the back. The other lady held the severed thick part of the snake as she said to me that they were going to take that snake flesh upstairs to cook and feed it to the baby. It made me think how wicked of a situation it was. Why did they tie the snake end to the baby's body, and why did they now want to feed the other half of the snake to him?

2. 'Jesus'

Vision (Room D1, Morning): I was also woken up by the vision of 'Jesus' near my heart written in translucent color in a semi-fluid magenta background. Immediately afterwards my phone rang up with its ringtone starting with 'Jesus'. The ringtone is part of the chorus of the worship song 'Fresh Oil' and goes like, "Jesus Christ! Fill my lamp with Holy Spirit Oil. Fill my lamp with holy spirit oil. So that I can testify of you. Be a witness of Jesus Christ!" My mom had called me on WhatsApp. I ended the call as I wanted to remember Jesus because of the revelation I had just received. But my mom called me again. I understood that it was something important so I picked up her call and talked to her. This revelation made my day.

If I think about it, I will keep crying as it is a revelation of love by the Holy Spirit!! Jesus written in that oil like magenta substance and its relation with the Fresh Oil song..

13:27
And I just realized as I looked at my blanket that the color of my blanket resembles the magenta color I saw Jesus written in, in the revelation. I guess it's my rest day with Him from what He revealed to me. It just makes me want to cry thinking about my blanket being Jesus' fresh oil of the Holy Spirit.

And then I received this video in my YT notifs today as well.

The Believer's Rest | Part 10 | Sunday Bible Study With Derek | Hebrews

I had this vision after I was woken up after the 'To Lock the House' dream.

3. Baby's Ass

Vision (Room D1, Morning): The vision showed the back of a less-than-a-year-old baby sitting vertically straight on the palms of two horizontally stretched hands of a blurred person as the hands gently squeezed once the ass of the baby. The baby wore an orange t-shirt and white shorts with streaks of black leaves matching my roommate's laundry bag.

23:12
After I had the vision, I fell asleep again and had yet another dream.

4. Baby with Slit Eyes

In this dream, I went outside the grilled side door again to watch the video of what I had seen previously - the snake and its cutting by the sanitation lady. I found the thick snake lying there, and also a tiny chubby child of around 1 or 2 years standing close to the wall below the main gate. I moved away from the snake and rushed to the child. He was fully dressed in mustard clothes - a hooded sweatshirt over trousers. I sat down to his level and started pampering him by touching his cheeks and his body lightly as he looked so cute and innocent. He was soft and fair and stood quiet with an innocent expression. But when I looked properly into his eyes, I saw mustard-colored eyes with translucent grey slits in place of the pupil. I then knew that this child was either possessed or was a 'double downer'. So I moved away from the child as well.

I rushed out and it was now dark. I came across Ganga Sir from the Administrative office of the Physics department that I am enrolled in. He was dressed in a full-sleeved shirt tucked inside pants. We greeted each other and he started walking to my right.

5. Ganga Sir and the Watered Muddy Field

When I looked down, I saw that it was a muddy and watery field because of which I rose above the level of the ground and started moving away. But Ganga Sir stepped on the muddy field and kept walking in that direction. As I moved further away from him and was now at a level much above the ground and heard a background voice that said, "Only recently my screen time had decreased..." as I kept looking in his direction and saw that the field was vast and I didn't see an end to it in my vision as he continued walking on it alone wearing his formal shoes and without getting sunk.

You see, God gives metaphorical and analogous revelations to me in accordance with how the receiving parties think for whom the revelations are meant for.

We're called to eat the spiritual flesh of Jesus and not of devil like the du (two) bais (sanitation workers) were making the baby eat. It's interesting that my roommate's family resides in Dubai.

1. The Duo In Yellow

I had this dream-vision last year.

Dream-Vision (Mid 2022): I was on the roof of my PG and walked to its back end and looked below at the balcony of the house I had visited last year. Immediately the Aunty I had met came out along with a short-heighted and fat old Uncle who stood to her left on the balcony, and they both looked up at me. The Aunty wore a cotton floral mustard gown, while the Uncle wore a fitting thin mustard t-shirt over mustard half pants. The Uncle had a comparatively huge diameter in that vision and looked like a short cylinder with his face fat and fluffed too with a bald head with hair present only on the sides.

2. Makhna

I have heard this song in my spirit quite a number of times now, especially during the past week. I will post the song after I have added the subtitles.

The Lift and the Watery Steel Eyes; The Bumpy Vagina and The Twin Female system; The Man in Checkered Brown

03 April 2023
00:46

Vision (few minutes back): I saw the heroine (Madhuri Dixit) of the Makhna song from the end part of the song where she is wearing the black and white checkered pencil skirt below a black blouse with a long black Jacket on top. She was being lifted up slowly by the two men (heroes) standing on her sides and had one of their hands each below her back on which she was sitting. While they happily lifted her slowly, she had a resentful and angry expression as she looked straight and was doing the snake moves above her with her hands as the chorus melody of the song played along. But in place of her eyes was present two metallic masquerade frame with an opaque turquoise blue circle in the centre as she hit both the men in turns on their heads while being lifted up with her pointed hands put together in the shape of the head of a snake.

You see, though she is doing the snake dance with her hands, she's not a snake. But she has to do it in order to be lifted by the two men.

Because of the Baby's Ass revelation I had yesterday, I wore my orange t-shirt over my white boyshorts panty after bathing. Though I also wore my black trousers above it. I'm a baby of Jesus! But now it's my time to sleep. So, I removed my trouser and am all set to fill my lamp with Jesus' magenta oil as I lay inside my magenta blanket ready to rest in Him.

10:09
You see, after reading about the kind of revelations God gave me about the eyes of some people, some people must be asking derogatorily about my own eyes. So, I guess the above revelation is an answer to the same.

10:49

2. The Bumpy Vagina and The Twin Female System

My roommate (Du-bai/Whore) walked through that open side door in 'Cutting the Snake' revelation and was trying to have intercourse with the Chor (Thief), but they were unsuccessful in the first attempt as she got bumps around her vagina because of the repeated attempts. The bumps were shown as the loosely attached bricks in the niche that got rubbed against and fell down as the rod was being placed in it. But then Dubai came to the rescue and successfully tied the innocent God's baby to a part of the devil which also represents the truth of the Earth system - the twin female system that ties God's angels with their demonic counterparts on the other end, just like the twin females Dubai did in the revelation. On the right side was a baby in white, and on the left side was the devil - the snake. The baby was not an extension of the devil but was 'yolked together' with him. When you indulge in satanic practices or please the devil in one or another way, it amounts to eating his flesh. Dubai wrapped the baby with devil and went forward to feed him the same. But God wants to separate the baby from the devil counterpart permanently, and not keep it yolked together like one of the sanitation workers who rested the baby wrapped along with the severed snake against her. Below are the manifestations of the twin-female system in the world referenced from Jonathan's Show Notes.

The Warning - ERROR

Ref: [trapped angel with demon 2 | This is The End!!! (show-notes.net)]

The chor and the whore can think whatever they want about what they did or are doing. But the above is the true spiritual reality of the state of things.

3. The Man in Checkered Brown

This event from my real has been highlighted to me for many times now.

It is when I was moving on the stairs that I happened to look outside the glass window around the corner and what I saw was a fair man (Glory) dressed in a checkered brown coat, smiling as he looked to his sides and stood behind the other side of a green Auto Rickshaw.

4. The Error Inside

I learned about this song through one of Jonathan's videos. Please watch the entire song video or read the full lyrics. Yet another manifestation from the mouth of the serpent race as they sing about the truth of the satanic system we're trapped in.

Human nature in question
Flawed and broken in silence
It's never the intention, just progress
You didn't read the side effects
And now you want us to connect

It's never truly wrong to want to grow
What do you want to know?
I'm the error inside
At the end of the day in borrowed time
Everybody must die

It's the freedom of choice that kills the mind
And it hurts you to just think of it
You can free me but you don't
I'm the error you hide
But you will always want me so

Grab my hand, let me guide you
We could be something greater
If you let me, I'll make you their savior
It shall be your destruction
But you know it's your purpose
Sacrifices are made to be perfect

You didn't read the side effects
And now you want us to connect
It's never truly wrong to want to grow
What do you want to know?

The Warning - ERROR (Official Music Video)

Analysis of the song:

These first two lines are addressed by devil to God. "You want people to love you It's encoded in your greed" - No, devil. God is not greedy in wanting people to love Him!! If He was greedy, He wouldn't have come to earth and suffer GREATLY to get them back to Him!!! IT's His UNCONDITIONAL LOVE because of which He sacrificed His life in a brutal way to buy back His beloved children through His blood!!

These next two lines devil is saying to us (God's children): "I will give the power But I need you to cede control" devil wants people to make him their master by ceding control and he will give them the power. This is what happens when people pursue (ignorantly or intentionally knowing full well what it is) occultic practices like transcendental meditation, calling spirit guides (who are but demons) etc. and are then able to perform some miracles because of the demons!!! If you cede your control to demons, or give them your free will, they will give you power in this world, but it doesn't mean they are for your good because they know they're on their way to hell and have now taken you along with them!!!!

"Human nature in question Flawed and broken in silence" - talks about the sinful human nature.

"It's never the intention, just progress" - the point being made is that though what God intended for us while creating us was to love Him and live with Him for eternity, it's the progress of the creation that mattered as most now are doomed to Hell in this system of devil. Well, God already knew how it would progress. IT wasn't a surprise to Him that devil would rebel and this system would come into play. He knew it already. God knew well of the progress before even creating us.

"You didn't read the side effects And now you want us to connect" devil is saying in a way to mock God (though he's nobody) that God didn't consider the side effects (sin and rebellion against Him) of creating us, and when we did rebel He wanted us to connect back to Him and made a way possible through the sacrifice of Christ! But in all actuality, God was well aware of everything that was to follow Him creating us. That's why it's written in Ephesians 1:4, "God chose us in Christ before the foundation of the world." and Revelation 13:8 All inhabitants of the earth will worship the beast—all whose names have not been written in the Lamb's book of life, the Lamb who was slain from the creation of the world.[a] Jesus was willing to die for us when He created us because He knew would've to do that for us to live with Him.

"It's never truly wrong to want to grow" - seriously devil, are you mocking God's plan of redemption through His Holy sacrifice? God rebuke you!!

"What do you want to know?" - what else is there to know? Everything is out in the open (only if people were willing to open their eyes and accept the truth).

"I'm the error inside" devil is admitting that his serpent seed inside all of us is the "error" inside which makes us worthy of eternal condemnation to hell!!

"At the end of the day in borrowed time" devil's time here is borrowed, he knows it. it's only temporary, that's why he says so here.

"Everybody must die" - Everybody who chose to take part in his system must die (eternal punishment in Hell) at the end as that's their fate if they didn't turn back to God and admit their guilt during their lifetime here!!

"It's the freedom of choice that kills the mind" - We were free to choose to leave God and therefore ended up here, and this freedom of choice killed our upright spiritual minds and we became "inverted" in this system.

"And it hurts you to just think of it You can free me but you don't" - devil is saying to God that it hurts God to even just think of 'freeing' him and not interfere in his system where he wants to rule. But nope. That can't take place because God is his creator and is therefore devil is accountable to God. God can't just let devil be free from his consideration because He created him and is, therefore, the ultimate head over his fate, and because God is a righteous judge, He will condemn devil to the judgment of his actions. If God was to let devil be free from under His authority, it would contradict the eternal righteous character of God (seeing that God is perfect and therefore doesn't change). That's why devil is saying that it hurts God to even just think of letting him be free, but He won't. Well, it doesn't really 'hurt' God to let devil free, but God is a righteous judge and devil's sin is too grave to be forgiven where he has been leading/tricking God's angels into sin and away from God, wanting to be worshipped himself as God!! It is actually the good pleasure of God to judge righteously and keep the ones who follow in His ways!! God gave us free will to love him and not to be 'absolutely' free. devil wants 'absolute freedom' where he doesn't has a master and can do anything he wants in his kingdom which he built to rule, but he is loveless too. Freedom without love leads to destruction - and this is what awaits devil. And we're talking about Godly love here which is moral, and not any twisted version of love the world sells you.

"I'm the error you hide But you will always want me so" - We hide devil inside us as an 'error' in us until we get redeemed by the sacrifice of Christ. Before we get saved or redeemed, we kinda were enjoying or ignoring the things that we were doing until we knew that they were unholy, immoral and wrong. So, in a way we wanted the devil seed in us as it helped us conform to the world and live and enjoy life according to worldly standards. Also, without the knowledge of God, we weren't accountable to anyone, so some people may have like that and therefore wanted the error in them as it helped them enjoy their worldly life.

"Grab my hand, let me guide you We could be something greater If you let me, I'll make you their savior It shall be your destruction But you know it's your purpose Sacrifices are made to be perfect" - devil is mocking the sacrifice of God but He can't do anything to 'undo' it.

"You are blind to the nature, Perfect programmed disaster" - This is for us, where devil is plainly telling us that we are blind to our inner duality which separates us from God (we can be made whole again only by accepting the sacrifice of Christ). And that we are the perfect programmed disaster in that sense and we are unaware of it.

"You're my maker but you're not my master" - devil's ultimate sin: refusing the Lord God as His rightful master but wanting to be a master of himself and leading others along with him in rebellion against the Lord God.

devil makes his own songs through his people in whom his spirit (of the world) works and reveals the reality of this system we live in!!! Just another song that is led by the demonic spirits that rule this kingdom of devil.

From <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=DqPj-E_8f3c>

A song by God's children called 'Solution' need to be made with even more zeal than this song!!

God's 'Solution' through the sacrifice of Christ to the 'Error' introduced inside us by the devil.

1. The Proposal and the Ring

I had this revelation within the past week and it has been recurring intermittently to me since then.

Vision (Past week): I saw a 6-7 meters distant vision of Mayank bent on one knee as he put slid up a ring on the finger of the lady (me) who stood facing him on the left side of the vision on the ground floor of the Multistorey building of my department. He wore his printed orange tunic in that vision that he wore today.

Now, this is a shadow revelation. It represents the willful intent of the parties involved. Should it actually come to pass is yet another thing.

I am in my workplace and sitting on my seat at the left-most end of the row of tables and chairs, while at the right-most end sits Angad. The last time I saw him in the room, and he wore a dark green t-shirt and was sitting at the same spot, perhaps a seat to its left, I had a revelation related to him after he had just left that I forgot to write about.

2. Angad (with Wings) Flies Up

Vision (My seat at the workplace, Early March): I saw Angad moving upwards at some distance to my right side, with his head slightly lifted as he looked above being dressed in the same clothes that he wore that day - a green shirt over blue denim jeans - with his hands crossed on his shoulders making an X on his chest and legs joined together. He had two huge white wings behind him that stayed still, and a golden ring hovering above his head, as he moved upwards in a silent and peaceful manner. He is a Punjabi who keeps folded mustache and beard and wears a turban and was shown as such in the vision as well. This vision kept being repeated to me for a while after he left that day.

That particular day I was telling Jema about the serpent race and showing her revelatory photos from Jonathan's show notes. Angad and his friend were listening to us in the hindsight.

3. DeepShikha

This certain girl from my first PG when I first shifted to Saroj Sadan has been being brought to my attention repeatedly now. It was in 2010 that I met her in the PG. she stayed in the room adjacent to mine. Her name was Deepshikha and she was from the state of Haryana or Uttar Pradesh. She was quite slim and often dressed sportily in a red sleeveless top with something printed on it in white. She had one of her hands missing because of an accident she had in her childhood. She had accidentally put her hand through a grinding machine that chopped her hand off. However, she had a boyfriend who loved her and who was perhaps preparing for a job in Police. She used to have a lot of soft drinks. Things used to be purer back then.

~22:00

4. Angad Moves a Grinding Wheel

I had this vision after I returned to my PG and was having snacks.

Vision (Room D1, Today Evening after work): I saw Angad rotating a horizontal disk by holding its vertical handle present at the diametric end. The vision was set in a dark background and only he and the rotating wheatish horizontal disk were visible.

23:04
But why is he moving a grain-grinding wheel?

5. Ae Guzarne Wali Hawa Bta (Oh the Wind That Passes By, Let Me Know)

I have been hearing this particular part of this song, intermittently, for quite some time now.

6. Dogs and Monkeys

Many weeks back, as I walked from my PG to my department in the morning, on my way near the side shops slightly before the juice shop near the Ganda Nala bridge, I came across the sight of a wheatish and dark brown dog start walking ahead of another similar looking dog, but as it did, a third dog dropped itself at the back of the second dog that had stayed still, with its pink genitalia clearly visible as it pushed and pulled repeatedly at the back of that stationary dog.

Today, I happened to see yet another similar incident when I went out with Pooja to get coffee in the afternoon.
I was standing outside The Royal Canteen when I happened to look to my right and what I saw was a small monkey moving back and forth at the back of a larger monkey who was standing facing to the left on a car that was parked there. The small monkey oscillated at the back of the larger monkey briefly as I watched it before the larger monkey walked away to the left.

This is what the Chor and the Whore have been upto these days.

7. Anastasia's Ass Gets Whipped

This particular scene from the movie was being highlighted to me for many months now. I have edited it out and kept the relevant parts that go along with other revelations as well. The revelation is related to and is an extension of the revelations 'Waiting Naked for God to Pick Me Up' (#4 on Page 120), 'Baby's Ass' (#3 on Page 365) and 'The Lift and the Watery Steel Eyes' (#1 on Page367). They sent their spy cameras even in the commode to catch a(n) (undesirable) shot of a person's pooping process.

Ana has had enough.

9. Mayank Eats Ladoo

When I was editing the 'Aaja Mahiya' song (#5 on Page 298) and had to choose a font type for the subtitles, I chose the one named 'Modak' as it seemed to go pretty well with the song. However, at the same time, I had the following vision that repeated itself quite a few times.

Vision (Room D1, 6-9th March): I saw the face of Mayank in a dark background as he took a bite of a Besan Ladoo while looking at me.

Dumbass to Progress; I Know that I Would Be Discarded; Humko Bhi Gam Ne Mara; Or Else the Baby Would Be Stolen

04 April 2023
12:38
12:52
As I wrote the title of this Page and was about to write the revelation, I received a call from the Ola driver for my taxi ride home. I have now shifted the suitcases and bags in the taxi and am on my way to my home in Sonipat city in the neighbouring state Haryana. I will meet my mom, help in organize the home a bit and talk to her and comfort her somewhat as she stays upset because of the adulterous and emotionally abusive behavior of my dad. He has been physically abusive to her in the past as well. She was telling me that though she's alive, she doesn't feel like living and though now she's kept a maid to take care of two house chores, it doesn't make a difference because she stays in a depressed mental state all the time that often resurfaces with greater intensity. This is like a burden on her head that inhibits her from taking care of her daily chores properly.

Anyway.

1. Dumbass to Progress

Last night, I had this new revelatory understanding of 'The Carrier Bus' revelation. In The Carrier Bus, when I went to talk to my roommate Akhila and sat beside her, she was struggling with A4 size sheets as she wrote and erased MSc level Astrophysics and Quantum Mechanics concepts on them. She did it silently and quickly while I was busy reading what she wrote. Her current usual way to study is to read things out loud and reiterate them. She kept changing the pages one after the other as she looked at them. She was quick to write and erase those concepts which means she knew them well. Now, here's the revelatory part that would be understood by looking at the happenings during the recent days.

My roommate makes her assignments by copying the content from bought assignments. That's what I saw her doing last year when she asked me to draw lines along the sides of a few of her assignment sheets on which she was supposed to write. This year I saw her making assignments by copying content from her phone, though she took help from her immoral 'chor' friend as well, previously. Anyway. I needed a part of my hostel form attested from a Class 1 Gazetted officer who stayed near my place of permanent residency. So I sent soft copies of both the filled and to-be-filled copy of that part of the form to my mom the night before the morning that I had the 'Jesus in Magenta' revelation. The next morning I had the 'Jesus'-in-magenta vision, immediately after which I received my mom's call. She had called to inquire a few things about the form. I had declined the call but had picked up the second time she called. I explained to her that there was a filled page, and there was an empty page, and all that was to be done was to take a printout of the unfilled page and fill it by copying from the filled page. Listening to this might have irked my roommate a bit as was apparent from her reaction, but what I said wasn't meant for her. However, seeing her reaction made me realize that she indeed had taken it personally as that's what she also did - fill an empty page by looking at a filled page. Now here comes her progress part.

In 'The Carries Bus' revelation, she was filling up pages without copying from any source. Though she might not have understood what she was writing, she was able to remember those things and write them down on those pages from the storage of her own mind. Additionally, while she did that, she had also gained some character. Because when I told her that she was Penny from the series 'The big Bang Theory' according to God's judgment of her and therefore didn't really need to try that hard to be someone that she was not, she didn't get offended, but smiled at me and continued flipping through her pages. When she has gained the intellect needed to write stuff down from her own mind, she would also have learned enough humility and the ability to let go of things that may sound offensive at first or reflect a part of the truth.

I was able to tell that she didn't really understand what she was writing by looking at her the fonts of her writing and the way she drew schematic graphs, both of which reflected a basic to intermediate level of thought process.

When she would have reached this stage, the short-heighted person (Chor) sitting at the long last seat of the bus would also have reached some level of repentance that was implied and understood by the way he sat quietly at the right corner being dressed in thick brown clothes.

When they have reached this level, they would be in my carrier bus to Heaven.

2. I Know that I Would Be Discarded

This song has played in my spirit quite a number of times by now. The person in the song has some favorable situations happen in her life but then the situation is dismantled by God after which starts her real struggle.
The song lyrics talk about a woman who is discarded and left penniless.

3. Humko Bhi Gam Ne Mara (Humko Bhi Gam Ne Mara)

The chorus of this song was playing in my spirit this evening. It's a Hindi song the English dubbed chorus of which I have written below.

I too got killed by grief
You too got killed by grief
All of us got killed by grief
Let's kill this 'grief'.

4. Or Else the Baby Would Be Stolen

In the revelation 'The Baby Got Stolen' (#1 on Page 169), I woke up from my sleep with my left hand on top of the hand of a baby. After a while of weird happenings and spiritual stress and warfare, I happened to lift my hand up from the baby after which someone stealthily pulled the baby away.

I can't let go of the baby's hand. Because the devil's going to try to steal him/her. The moment I was above a field in the air in the clouds with Death Conqueror in 'The Chase' (#8 on Page 134) revelation was also the moment the dragon-headed serpent joined our run from his side to my right. God is fighting through me to secure his baby, but devil is also after the baby, especially after he has known that the baby is being prepped for God's kingdom.

Ana may have said goodbye to Christian, but I (she can) will still continue to pray against devil's plans for God's 'baby' whom he entrusted to me in a way.

I had this vision last night when I laid down to sleep.

1. The Teethful Soldier With an Old Mother

Vision (Home at Omaxe, Last Night): I saw the soldier in the video below looking at me in the vision with his front four teeth significantly visible above his lower lip as he looked at the seer of the vision from the same shelter he is sitting inside in the video below.

I had the above vision last night. But these lyrics were playing in my spirit a while back. This soldier is me.

Lyrics:
(The teethfull soldier sings while being alone in an underground shed)
“There itself at some distance lies my home,
In my home stays my old mother.

To my mother, give my heartfelt message..
To them, you go and give this heartfelt message..”

Lyrics:
(The teethfull soldier sings while being alone in an underground shed)
There itself at some distance lies my home,
In my home stays my old mother.
By touching my mother's feet,
Remind her of her son's name..

A second soldier outside:
O the wind that passes by

The Teethfull soldier:
To my mother, give my heartfelt message..
To them, you go and give this heartfelt message..

A third soldier outside comes walking and sings while raising his hand:
- "I will return"
" I will return"

2. The Protruding Lower Belly

I had this vision later during the day of the visitor's program in my workplace. It was the same day that I clicked a few pictures with Mayank (Khyati's doppelganger) which we had agreed upon. I had told him later that evening after the program that God had given me some revelations related to him and therefore I needed to click a picture with him as a part of a testimony. The program got over around 5:30. We moved back to our department and I found out that the group was still there. His lab is the second room to my lab's right and it was open that day. So I went to his room and briefed him about me having to click a picture with him because of some revelations given to me by the Holy Spirit. I was happy afterward because I was moving in alignment with God's given track for me. When I had gone back to my room/lab in the dept, it clicked to me that I should've taken his phone number as well because a) God had given me revelations about him and b) I had seen ingenuity and straightforwardness in his behavior previously, and these are also the kind of people I wanted to be around as they don't tend to play games and you feel better in their company. So I thought in case I had to share some scripture with him given that God gave me a revelation related to him, I should have his contact. So after a while, I went to his room again to ask for his number. I told him that I may send him some scriptures to which he had innocently asked, "Holy scriptures..?", to which I had replied with a 'Yes', after which he had bid me an uninterested and disappointed goodbye in response to my goodbye greeting as I left the room.

However, after I had gone to meet him at least once in his room, I had the following vision which was quite embarrassing for me and it further stressed the need for me to get a flat belly.

Vision (Room 184, Workplace, Mid-March): I saw my lower belly significantly protruding in the vision as I stood facing Mayank in his lab. And it was shown as protruding much more than it actually looks, but it also gave me a vision of how it was perceived by others. I wore my white-lined black shirt over blue denim that day and he wore his printed orange tunic.

3. The Make Out and The Feet-Long Left Nipple, The Intercourse and The Oscillations, The Sweet Hug, and The Naked Bathroom Scene Against Its Left Wall

I had these out-of-no-where visions yesterday morning as I laid in my bed before I talked to my mom and the plan changed to me having to go visit my home instead of them having to visit me. I had these visions with Glory's doppelganger and it made me ask 'Why?..'. Why was the Earthy Promise being substituted by someone else in those visions? Because indeed I am to end up with Glory, though temporarily, but surely I will end up with Glory, why then was I receiving those revelations? Well, in Angad's case, his case is almost closed from my side as he's now destined for heaven according to the vision of him moving above with two white angel wings. So my job is done in his case and it's up to him now to pursue God further and have his own personal walk with him instead of God making a new way in his heart using someone else. Because the latter part is already accomplished in his case. I guess God has his eyes on Mayank now.

These are the visions I had yesterday morning. And I am really embarrassed to an extent that I don't really want to write them. I will see.

After the visionary video that I was shown, I went straight to bathe as I hadn't bathed for more than two days.

Well, I can write about 'The Sweet Hug' revelation as it is kinda milder. The rest anyone can imagine except the 'The Feet-Long Nipple' that I would need to write because it's so unusual. Additionally, I don't even want to directly use his name in the revelations because being too direct will make things weird between us as we work in the same place. I'll use the acronym DM for (Doppelganger Mayank), and may be not even that.

'The Feet Long Nipple'

As I laid on my bed, the make-out vision had already begun in which he was making huge but gentle bites all over at my left breast which then had the following event as a part of it.
Vision (Room D1, Yesterday Morning): I had the vision of the person's mouth on the top of a feet-long nipple shooting straight right above my left breast. He kept moving his mouth vertically on it, and it seemed like it went deep into his throat as his head moved forward. However, he also stayed at the same place for a good period of time. The vision reminded me of the one in which Glory was sucking my left breast like an infant, but I paid attention to the current vision.

But why Prince?
While I was having the above vision with him at my left breast, the person momentarily changed to Prince who was wearing a polka white-dotted blue shirt and was only acting like a small baby while smiling as he had smushed his lips together and was only moving them by himself by a little bit.

The Sweet Hug

After the make-out vision video, I had 'The Sweet Hug' vision revelation, Vision (Room D1, Yesterday Morning): I saw a distant vision of the person hugging me with his face resting on its side on my bosom while being dressed in his printed orange tunic.

I don't even want to happen to see him in the dept now should he read this!

4. Appearance of a Crown

Anyway. Yesterday, as I wrote about the changes my roommate would need to incorporate in her behavior in the 'Dumbass to Progress' revelation, I had a quick vision of a golden crown forming on her head. As she would change her inner self towards me (specifically) and in general too, it will also form her heavenly crown.

Vision (Taxi, Yesterday Morning): I saw the upper half of my roommate Akhila with a crown slowly appearing on her head.

I had a good time with my mom yesterday as I had lunch with her followed by a coffee together. Before we set out from home, I tied a metallic bracelet on her right wrist which consisted of a string of red roses and green leaves. I took many pictures with her in the Chai Café as we were waiting for our coffee. Later during the night, I was lying next to her on my left side with the room's lights off, all set to sleep, when I had the following vision.

5. The Earlobe

Vision (Home at Omaxe, Yesterday Night): I saw the DM come up close to my right ear and gently slide his mouth once on my ear lobe.

See, I am sorry that he has to go through all this in the visions, but the visions are being given to me as a reflection of what someone else does.

6. The Reflected Reality

When I sat with my mom in the cafeteria, I told her that I deserved to be in the presence of someone like her and not with someone like my roommate. It made me think if this is what my roommate was told by someone, that he deserved to be with someone like her and not me. I implied it in reference to my mom's character regardless of her habits or her background. But in my roommate case's, it was implied in reference to her background.

I took my mom out of the Earth in a rocket. My roommate was taken in an airplane by someone who considers her mom as well as his child. However, there's a whole lot of difference between her and my mom. While my mom is in pain and worried because out of her righteous heart that gets hurt because of my dad's actions and behavior, my roommate creates painful situations for others out of a wicked heart and is indulging in sin instead of insisting on putting an end to the emotional abuse her admirer started. She creates painful situations for others (me) or at least that's what she used to do previously. Since someone specific started creating a bond with my roommate as his mom, I too started to have a good bond with my mom gradually, and even the revelations are mirroring a part of the reality - though my mom and I don't have a physical bond but a hearty compassionate bond where I understand her pain and comfort her.

Likewise, with the revelations with Mayank - the revelations represent a part of the reflected reality of other people. Some revelations are reflections, some are 'real' revelations, while some are both reflections and real revelations.

7. But Why Was Mayank Crying Previously?

When I had the revelation of 'Come, (my beloved) fish' and 'The Dance' vision, and as I was writing about them on Page 298, I had a vision of DM crying in a dark background.
Vision (Room D1, Early March): In this vision, I saw him crying. Perhaps it pertained to the future. I am not sure. But things always fall in place and start making sense when enough time has passed.

I do pray and wish that he becomes a part of the Kingdom of God.

And if Angad has been thinking about me the ironic statement, "I'll kill you", then the response is 'Angad Moves a Grinding Wheel' revelation.

8. "It had the hands of an old lady."

Dream-Vision (Room 184, 15:20-15:26): The vision was a bit blurry and set in a visually dark setting. I kept hearing the phrase throughout - "It had the hands of an old lady." I saw myself as a third person dressed in a light sky-blue t-shirt tucked inside a trouser as I stood facing to the left of the vision and received a white square cardboard box of around 1.5 feet in dimension in my hands. As I got rid of the white lid, I saw that the box was filled with a mysterious white substance and it immediately dropped from my hands as I kept hearing "It had the hands of an old lady." The vision moved slightly away from the 'third-person' me as I looked at the box lying down on the floor and imagined two chopped half-forearms lying inside. I was still hearing the phrase when my colleague Pooja intervened and asked me about the coffee break we had agreed about before I had gone into the revelatory rest.

7. Aa Aa Aashiqui Mein Teri.. (In this love of yours)

I heard these lyrics intermittently in the Spirit today.

Video:

Lyrics:
The Guy (while dancing with a group of men that follows him):
[In my immense love for you,

[Give me your heart in China Town] X2

I have sworn this over me.

[In my immense love for you,
taken away will be my Life] X2

The Lady (while dancing with a group of ladies following her steps behind her):

9. To Capture More Children of God

You see, by delaying me reaching the flat belly posture, God is making room for others to climb in my boat as I still have all time to myself as of now. Once I have achieved the desired result, I will be fit to receive the promise according to God's given revelation, and after I have received it, I won't be able to do some things or have a mindset that I am capable of now. So, God is using this time for me to catch more of his fish for his kingdom.

1. The Segregating Housemaid

I had just fallen asleep when I heard the sound of a motorcycle pass by my PG which woke me up. It was followed by the following animated vision.

Vision (Room D1, Around 2:05 am): The scene looked like that of an old Disney movie. I saw a lady dressed as a housemaid wearing a white apron and a white cook's cap. She was cleaning a slab in front of her with a cloth but as she did she kept throwing the small things lying on it at the back from over her shoulders with her other hand. She didn't look back as she cleaned looking down at the surface with a silent but cheerful countenance.

2. Thaare Vaaste

Heard in the Spirit in the Morning as I wrote the above revelation.

3. Mein Teri Deewangi Mein (In the madness of your love)

I kept hearing these lyrics in the spirit after the above song. And I heard these lyrics during the day and even later during the evening.

In this video, the man is wearing a cross but also has a dragon printed on the sleeve of one of his arms. He represents the dual-eyed short-heighted man who is as of now pursuing the pleasures of the flesh in order to get relief after a long period of hardship. It made me think how similar it is to what I am doing these days as I eat properly and take rest and have halted my workout regime for a few months disregarding how it affects my weight loss walk. I did this in order to get some relief after a long period of struggling with persistent headaches as I ate very less and consumed mostly liquids and eggs after months of which I started having brief blackouts.

4. Sona Kitna Sona Hai (How Beautiful Gold is!)

Right while I was taking out clothes from my wardrobe in the morning to bathe, I had this song play in my spirit and it continued for a while until after I was inside the washroom.

Biting a Pen; The Possessed Worshipping Crowd; "God Bless Amy"; The Black & Yellow Book; Nobody But a Destitute In Love With God; Nashe Si Chadh Gyi Oye

07 April 2023
00:41

I was half-asleep 5-10 minutes back when I had this vision that woke me up.

1. Biting a Pen

Vision (Room D1, 5-10 minutes back): I saw the top half of a vertical black pen covered with its cap that had a translucent blue top attached to the same-colored handle and apparently I was biting around the top of the pen. It was the feeling of the pen's hard plastic surface against my teeth's end that woke me up.

2. The Possessed Worshipping Crowd

Dream (Room D1, Late 2022): In this dream, I was moving inside a home and a locality. I saw a small tortoise of a foot in diameter moving in and out through the small dark brown drain of the house too whenever I happened to pass by the drain as I moved from one point to another. I entered inside through a mesh door but as I walked further I saw that it led to a huge open hall where people were sitting down on the floor worshipping a huge skyblue giant 'God' sitting slightly to the right. He seemed to be around 40-50 meters in height and only his naked upper half was visible. He had a well-built upper half, had skyblue skin, and long hair that fell behind and his eyes were opaque watery sky blue as he looked at the people sitting below. First, he was expressionless, but later he slowly had a slight forced smile but he looked sad at the same time. One could tell that he was slightly pleased with the behavior of the people worshipping him. I then looked at the sky to his left. There was a horizontal cloud there. I turned and walked backwards to talk to one of the persons sitting down but then I caught sight of an old lady standing to my right who was looking at me with opaque watery skyblue eyes. When I looked at more people, I noticed that they all had those same opaque watery blue eyes. They were all under the trance of the supposed God. I understood that there was no point in explaining to them anything related to the being they were worshipping. The dream then ended.

I guess we all can tell who this supposed naked skyblue giant is that is being looked up by people filled with watery opaque eyes.

3. "God Bless Amy"

The past week on Monday, 3rd April, I was at home in the morning and had to leave for Delhi to my PG. It's about 50-60 kms from my home along the NH-1 highway in Haryana. I happened to look at the books inside the bookshelf near the small sofas. They caught my attention and I wanted to sift through them because I saw that many of those books were bought and placed there by me in the past. I used to be an avid reader. Though not anymore. Now I stay occupied with writing revelations and editing the research paper written 4 years back which keeps getting rejected because of one or the other reason. Anyway. So this day as I took a look at the books, I found them quite interesting, and why would had I not? I was the one who had wanted to buy and possess them. I sifted through and it reminded me of the person I used to be before this entire bullying thing had begun. I was even better before the emotionally abusive episode with Tejaswi and Meera. Now when I look back, I see all the changes that I went through and how I didn't change into a wicked person but came to God and am now in a stronger and closer place with him. I took out some books and thought that it would be good if I started reading again as it would lead to me regaining some of the vigor a whole lot of which got suppressed because of me internally grunting against the bullies, being filled with persistent resentment towards them because what they did gave a highly emotionally tragic turn to my life which would otherwise have resembled the usual life of an ascetic in the world with my mental standards and expectations still being unchallenged. But now I became more forgiving and patient and learned to love despite being spat on my face, helped by the statement made by Candace in one of her videos. She had said that though we may not be able to love someone who spits on our faces, God can.

Because I went through this bullying experience, I didn't stay at the level of just 'knowing' about the nature of God but got a life field to practice it as well. I witnessed the great and unmatched nature of God. Because when I was complaining to Him about how I only felt pain and anguish as I looked what I had been put through by the short-heighted man and his gang, He showed me the vision of Him nailed to the cross as He moved His head around in pain. Sometimes He just leaves me awe-struck! (as I realize how fickle I or other people can be.) It was hard enough for me to go without eating for a month consuming just liquids with the headaches and weariness. But Jesus fasted for 40 days in the wilderness and didn't have smoothies, shakes, juices and mainly tea and coffee that I was consuming during that time.

Anyway. I felt prompted to take out the book 'The Simple Faith of Mister Rogers' when I looked at it. I had bought it back in BSc as I had happened to walk into a thrift sale in the college with stuff staged around the walls in the covered hall in front of the college's auditorium's main entrance. I had bought a few more books. Not everything was a pass but some things were new as well. I bought my Astrophysics book from that sale in the college. It was quite a versatile sale and had a variety of stuff. I also bought the basketball alarm clock with a photo frame attached to it that is now kept at my home.

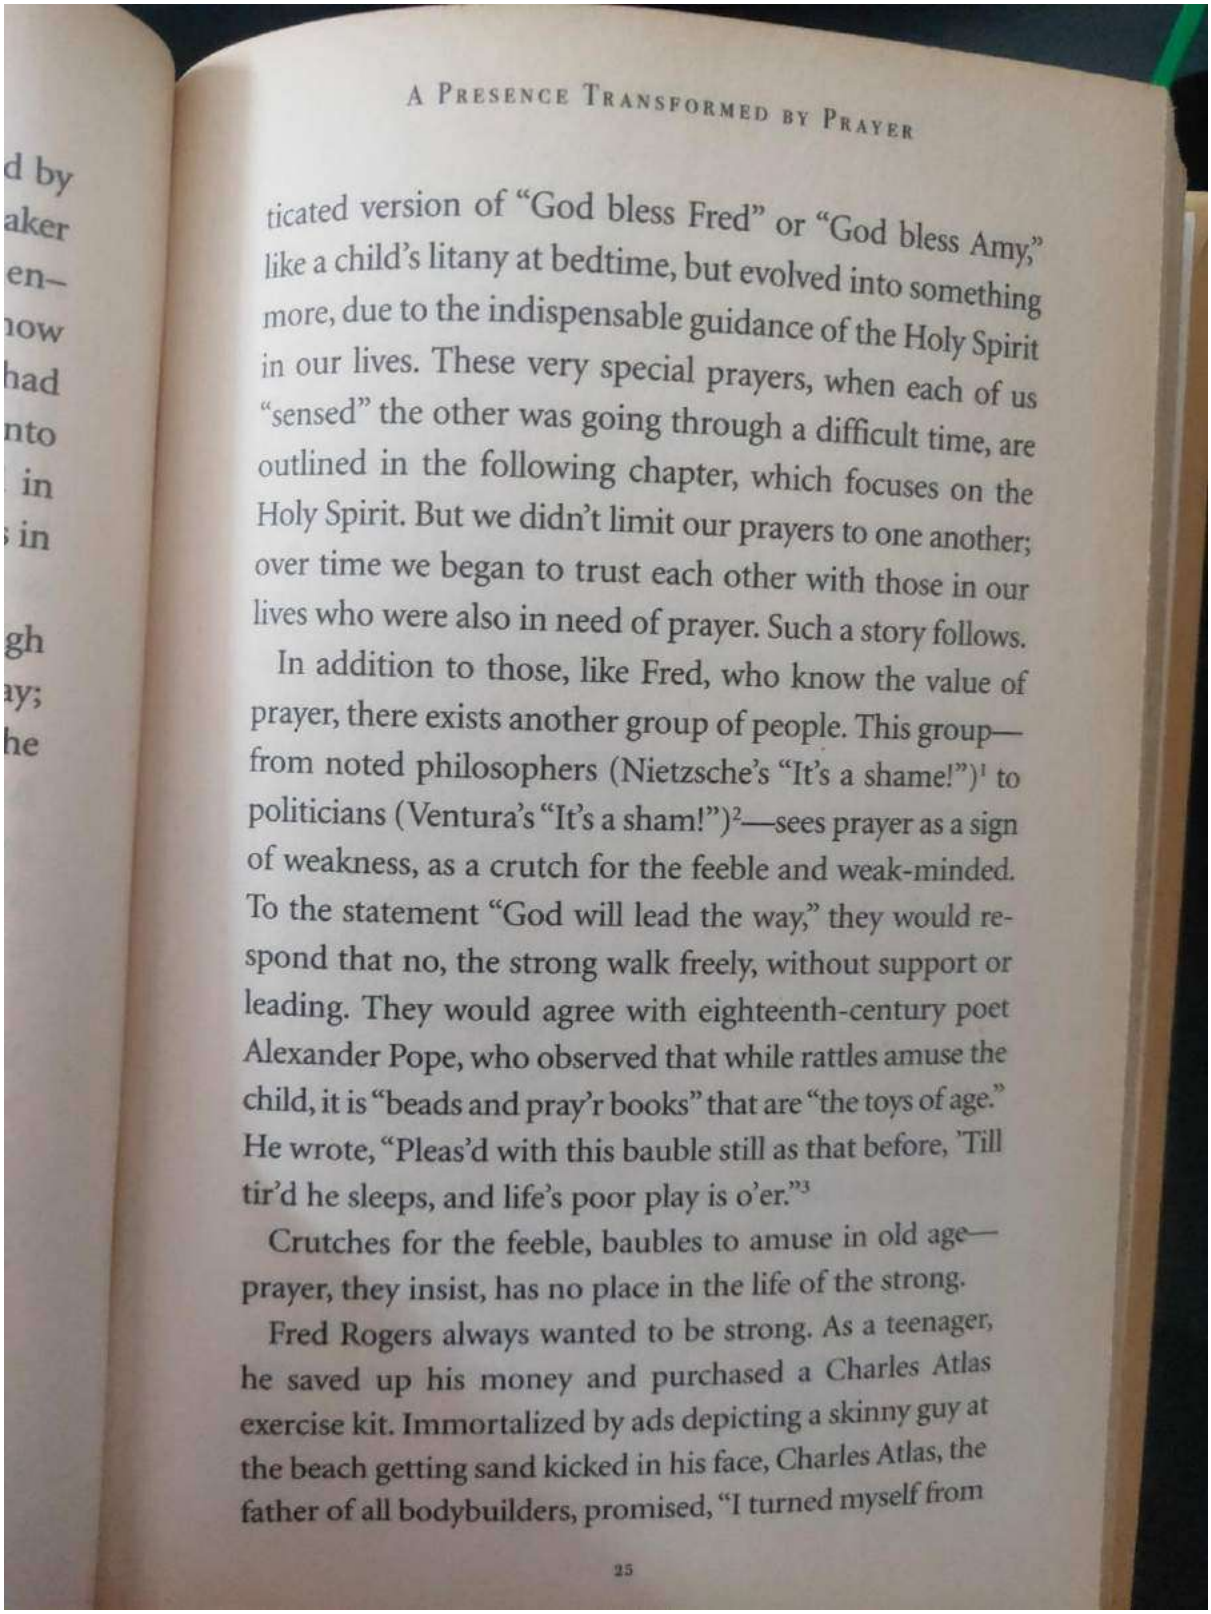
Well, when I opened the book on Monday morning at my home, I landed on a page with my eyes at the part of its top line that read, "God Bless Fred", my eyes moved to the right and there was written, "God Bless Amy." I knew then that it was God who had prompted me to pick that book up and had landed me on that page. I was quite happy to read it and the message communicated by God. And what a timing to give the message as well!? - right when I was thinking of taking some books with me to read in my leisure time so that I am able to do what I am supposed to.

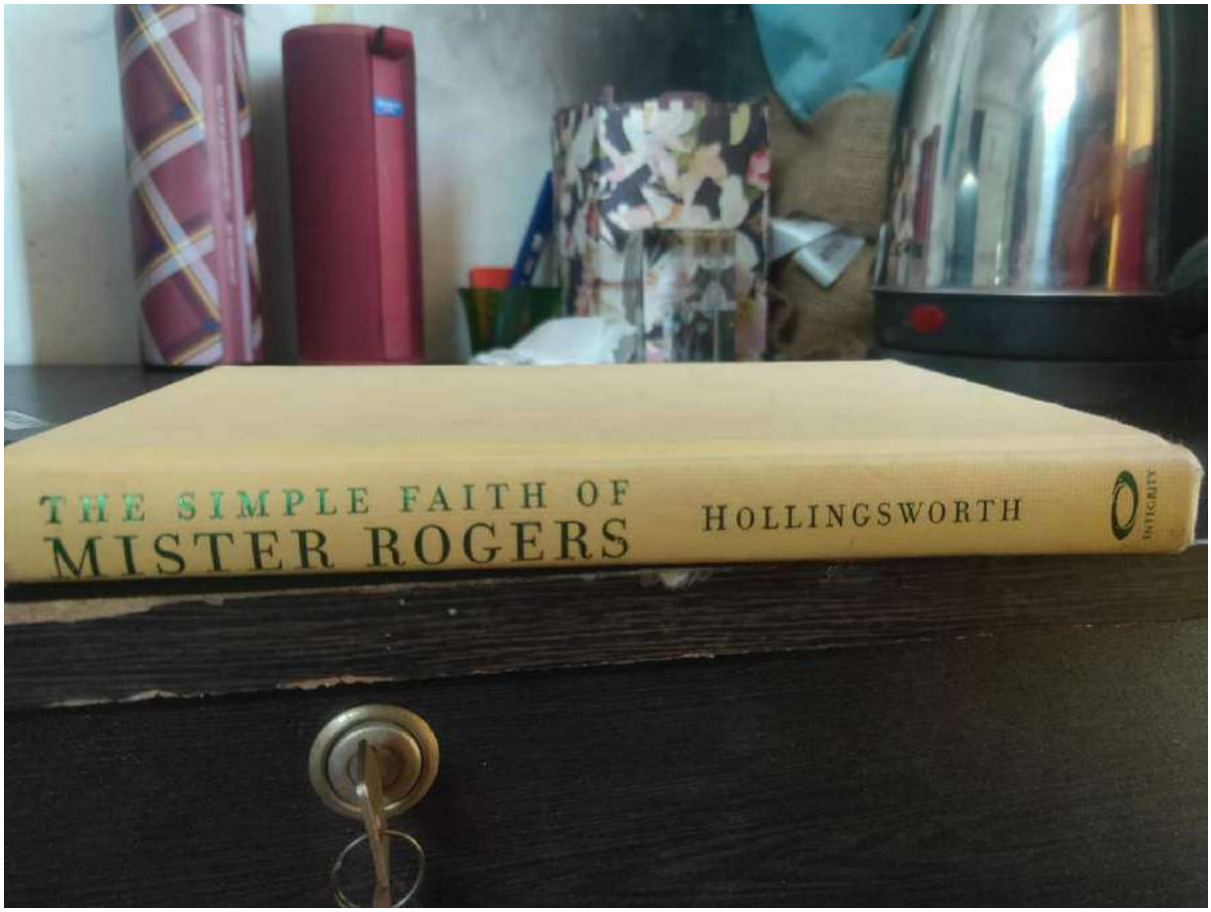


ticated version of "God bless Fred" or "God bless Amy," like a child's litany at bedtime, but evolved into something more, due to the indispensable guidance of the Holy Spirit in our lives. These very special prayers, when each of us "sensed" the other was going through a difficult time, are outlined in the following chapter, which focuses on the Holy Spirit. But we didn't limit our prayers to one another; over time we began to trust each other with those in our lives who were also in need of prayer. Such a story follows.

In addition to those, like Fred, who know the value of prayer, there exists another group of people. This group—from noted philosophers (Nietzsche's "It's a shame!")[1] to politicians (Ventura's "It's a sham!")[2]—sees prayer as a sign of weakness, as a crutch for the feeble and weak-minded. To the statement "God will lead the way," they would respond that no, the strong walk freely, without support or leading. They would agree with eighteenth-century poet Alexander Pope, who observed that while rattles amuse the child, it is "beads and pray'r books" that are "the toys of age." He wrote, "Pleas'd with this bauble still as that before, 'Till tir'd he sleeps, and life's poor play is o'er."[3]

Crutches for the feeble, baubles to amuse in old age—prayer, they insist, has no place in the life of the strong.

Fred Rogers always wanted to be strong. As a teenager, he saved up his money and purchased a Charles Atlas exercise kit. Immortalized by ads depicting a skinny guy at the beach getting sand kicked in his face, Charles Atlas, the father of all bodybuilders, promised, "I turned myself from



I told my mom about landing on the above page. I was quite happy because of the affirmation, motivation, or blessing that was given by God. I also told my mom about the vision of a tree with Amy's face on it that God had given me in the afternoon of Jan 15th.

4. The Black & Yellow Book

I was searching for the photo albums previously inside the bookshelf's drawer. But I found the Waves and Oscillations book by A.P. French instead. I had bought it with much excitement because it was hard to imagine stuff intuitively and the book was a challenge and involved going deep into the subject and required an intuitive lens to understand it, unlike other books that just handed the formulas and the theory like a ready-to-be-served meal of low quality. Reading A.P. French required cooking the meal by oneself, with at times having to halt and search for a missing ingredient that became accessible after much thought. The result was a meal of exceptionally high quality that only the reader with the right mind could have a taste of. Additionally, the book has a black and yellow cover that gives it a very attractive look. I brought with me my Red & White Quantum Mechanics book as well. I thought it may help in some way.

5. Nobody But a Destitute In Love With God

The truth is that I don't feel like a scientist, a fairy, a soldier, a policeman, a cleaning maid, or a mermaid, but like a destitute person who wants to live alone with God in humility. And yesterday morning I was saying to myself in the dept referring to the short-heighted man, "He made me a prostitute." And then I caught myself thinking about the next worse thing they could do - to actually sell me into the profession so that their 'revenge' comes to completion. I knew then that God knew that I would be having such thoughts and that's why He gave me the fairy revelation where I was a fairy standing facing Him.

When I had taken a look at the book and its title and flipped through the pages inside at the English department's thrift sale in the college, it had a simple yet profound aura around it because of which I had felt pushed to buy it. I didn't go through the book well enough to know that it was written by a believer in Christ and talked about the works of the Holy Spirit in the writer's life. It was on Monday that I saw that the book had things related to prayer and actually involved terms like 'The Holy Spirit'.

6. Nashe Si Chadh Gyi Oye (NSCG) (She Got me Like a Drug)

This song plays in my heart many times but today I was strongly prompted to watch its video. It is one of Ranveer Singh's songs. Though I have watched the song's video previously too many years back, I watched it again today. Apparently, the movie is set in the background of a cocktail party.

The look of Ranveer Singh in this song reminded me of the revelation 'A Kiss of Love' (#2 on Page 137). While I was watching the video for the first time of today, somewhere in the middle I felt prompted to go and turn on the geyser because I had been thinking of cleaning my feet and do a pedicure today and I would've needed warm water for that. After I returned the song had progressed to the part where Ranveer Singh is kissing the heroine on a bridge.

It was one of the first visions given to me by the Holy Spirit when I first started growing in God back in 2020.

1. A Pearl Inside a Shell

Vision (Home at Omaxe): I saw the vision of a pearl inside its slightly open shell.

2. My Mom and The Kitchen's Window

I woke up from this dream yesterday morning.

Dream (Room D1, Yesterday Morning): I saw myself standing outside the arched glass window of the kitchen of the rented home we used to stay in back in my hometown. It was the first home when one entered the street of the Punjabi colony called the Cheema colony. I went closer to the glass window to the extent that I couldn't move forward any further. I looked inside the kitchen lit in white light. My mom walked towards the glass window too and stood there. Her fat body vertically covered a part of it. As she stood there, I tried to capture a look of the kitchen inside through the side spaces. I saw an extremely clean kitchen with clean white tiled walls and white plywood cupboards. The green-marbled slab looked clean. I saw that there was no mess in the kitchen. My youngest brother said from behind that Mom had cleaned it. I looked towards the left wall of the kitchen through the window's glass and saw some tiny paper bits lying on the slab there in front of the gas. Besides this, there was no other mess in the kitchen.

3. My Dressing Sense and The Hero No. 1 Song

I realized today that the post-work dress that I have been wearing for the past two days matched the heroine's in the 'Hero No. 1' song. I usually don't wear it and don't prefer to either. But the day before yesterday, I had felt a prompting to wear it as I was looking for clothes to change into after work in the evening. Though my own reasoning told me to wear something loose or baggier, I felt a stronger nudge directing me towards this particular one-piece which I only mostly wear to gauge my weight-loss progress. So I followed the nudge and wore the same. The next day, which was yesterday, while taking out clothes in the morning to change into for the workplace after bathing, I had the chorus of the 'Hero No. 1' song play in my spirit.

And today I had the first line of the first stanza of the song being repeated repeatedly to me in the spirit. Additionally, while washing clothes I realized the relation of the song with the vision of 'The Mermaid Karishma Kapoor' (Page 294).
In the stanza, the heroine is telling the hero to not behave like a villain and to not dishonor her name. The heroine of this song is Karishma Kapoor. Now, who is behaving like a villain here? We all know who is - the short-heighted fella who sent cameras not just to hide in a corner and watch the progression of a house maid cum scientist to a child of God, but also sent cameras to infiltrate her genitals where she hadn't allowed any man by far! And when the entire group of people sitting below are teary-eyed along with the skyblue giant in 'The Possessed Worshipping Crowd' , the short-heighted fella is standing unaffected with the state of his dual-eyes.

A side note: When I looked in his dual eyes one after the other, going from the angel one on the right to the devil's one on the left, and I did it for a good amount of 4-5 seconds, he didn't blink at all!

5. Yesterday's Evening Visions

The Make-out with OTM

After I returned from work, I lay on my bed to rest. But after a while started again my make-out visions with DM, but this time less intense. I didn't like to use the abbr. DM for him because it robs him of his individuality, so I changed it to Orange Tunic Man (OTM), because he was shown wearing his printed orange tunic in the recent visions. People are free to not read ahead. The vision started with him hugging me lovingly followed by brief kisses. He wore his printed orange tunic all the while. The vision then shifted to him slightly above on top of me with a few top buttons of his tunic undone. We were kissing and he was occasionally briefly grabbing my breasts.

The Back Press

Then I saw him sitting on top of the naked upper back of a woman, pressing on her back with his hands. It seemed like he was applying pressure on the two bony places at the back in order to give her bones a jerk. He was still dressed in his orange tunic.

The Long Flexible Neck

Later his neck was shown as being thinner than it actually is but it was unusually long and was flexible as he moved his head around me with his flexible neck. The next thing I was looking at the scene as the third person. He had an even longer neck as he stood near the window and the closed balcony gate and his head flexibly flowed through the air to my bed on which I was sitting.

The vision then changed to me dancing with the Uncle ji of Gupta Store. He is a fat old-aged man.

A Happy Uncle Ji Rides Away

I saw this vision as a third person. We stood at a good distance as we held hands together and moved around outside his shop. I was looking at the vision from his shop's front right. He then brought a cycle in the middle and sat on it. A very fat aunty dressed in an orange suit sat on its back seat. She had long black frizzy hair tied low at the back. He then happily bicycled away to the shop's right with that fat Aunty at his back.

5. The Internal Outward Push

These were my visions from yesterday when I had changed my clothes and had laid in bed to rest. But before I had done that and still had my clothes from the day on and was sitting on my chair looking at something in my phone. My legs felt an internal outward push around the knees! It can't be explained rationally really, but this is how it went. I felt a strong 'internal' outward push in my knees to separate apart. I resisted it, but then there was an even stronger internal push to do so and I was resisting it, much like the nudge that prompting me to get down from the Rickshaw at the street's corner but I ignored it and continued because I don't like getting down for people who just sit inside a car and stick their face to the window and look at you expecting you to get down from the Rickshaw, and who don't introduce themselves first - even when I know that God has chosen them for me. Anyway. I thought that perhaps the time of the implementation of 'Naked Open

Thighs and a Small White Cow' vision had drawn near and which is why I was feeling that outward push around my knees. It was leading my legs to be separated wide apart. I was still dressed in my blue jeans and full-sleeved white top. I separated my legs just enough so that the outward prompting would decrease in intensity, but even then it stayed the same. While I felt the nudge, I repeatedly saw the vision of my legs being separated apart abruptly as that was what I was being prompted to do! But even the prompting of the Holy Spirit was gentle enough to let me choose (so people can learn from the nature of God). So I opened my legs to an extent where it would look normal and not inappropriate.

I continued doing what I was doing on my phone. But as I did so I was reminded of this particular vision I had in Room D4.
I was sitting on my bed with my legs crossed on top of my thighs and it was perhaps winter when I had this vision.

6. The Devilish Rush

Vision (Room D4, Late 2021/Early 2022): I saw the naked half upper-half of Glory with a devilish expression on his face and arms stretched to his shoulder level rushing towards my vagina from the bottom right. (It startled me as I hadn't even talked to him properly even once though I knew that God had promised him to me! And to reach that stage, normal people, who don't go around fornicating or who aren't adulterous, need time and interaction.)

7. Many People Appearing In Turns

The nudge of the spirit yesterday evening dimmed down a bit afterwards. But even after I had changed clothes and I was lying in bed, I again saw visions of my legs being abruptly separated apart! I didn't do it fully as I was seeing, but just to the extent to which I felt okay. But while I laid on the bed, Visions (Room D1, Yesterday): I had visions of different people showing up between my legs as they licked and sucked my vagina. But not just normal humans, I saw even the demon villain of the horror movie 'Band Darwaza' (Closed Door) between my legs as he too was moving himself around between my legs.

The Roof Story

22:31

Present (Today): I was taking a walk on the roof around half an hour back. I wanted to lighten up a bit after having eaten one full plate of lentil balls with spicy and sweet curd (an Indian dish called Dahi Bhallas). While I was walking I thought of listening to a song. I was rolling through my YT suggestions and stopped at 'Nashe Si Chad Gyi' song as I felt prompted to listen to it again.

While I listened to it, I knew that there was a reason that this particular song was being spiritually highlighted to me today. I thought if it was supposed to be a reflective revelation that would correspond to someone else's behavior in a cocktail party. Because God often gives me reflective analogous revelations that are true in the real sense as well and serve to bring out a change in the person carrying out the reality that's reflected by the revelation. For e.g., if someone related to me behaved immorally at a cocktail party, then a similar situation would arise with me as well in a manner that will teach the previously immorally behaving person a lesson and bring about a change in him.

Anyway. Reflective or not, the song reminded me of the previous vision 'A Kiss of Love' (Page 137) with the great Bollywood star Ranveer Singh because of his looks in the song. While I was listening to the song on repeat on the roof, I saw that his real self was being reflected even through his acting. I had observed this earlier today as well. And though I had listened to this song many years back too, I did not discern the real self from the enacted self as back then he was just another Bollywood actor to me whose song I had happened to like. But today, I could see differently as I put together my observations from different songs with all the revelations. I realized that he has a good heart. Towards the end of the song, there was a kissing scene and that too reminded me of the vision. Though this was quite a redundant realization that I later had because I already knew the reason God had put him in my journey, I experienced it as something brand new and quite an important one too. The realization was that he was a beloved child of God stuck on Earth and God wanted him back to Himself and not to be a part of this serpent race which is doomed for destruction at the end of this cannibalistic and illusionary system. I knew that for this very thing, God had intersected our timelines - so that he would wake up to the reality of the system and be 'saved' from it.

God had already determined who all are His, and He did it from the beginning of the creation.

While I watched the song, I felt his good heart and felt led to pray in tongues for him. I prayed to God, "Lord, Save him." And I prayed it a few more times when I finally resumed praying in tongues again.

The ones already saved have the commission of catching God's fish for Him.

The kingdom of heaven is nothing like that of earth. It is free of culture variations and physical bodies. But even angels touch with their glorified bodies as was shown to me in the revelation where two angels made a heart shape facing each other as they rotated around the vertical axis of the heart. The touch between angels is not fleshly or sinful, but is out of purity.

I had some supporting visions too as I watched the song and danced with the Hero, and I had the revelation of rhythmically dancing difficult steps alone as well. At a certain place in the song, the dance move involved walking with legs moving slightly outward. I started emulating it and then next vision I had was of me jumping above the floor by around 2 meters with my legs spread out completely horizontally along the sides. God can see how much I can like certain rhythms. I had other love-filled revelations too. I came to the conclusion that he must be having a good and humble heart and must be valuing ingenuity and not a worldly measure of things. Because only such people tend to see worth in me because they have godly eyes of judgment. I saw how he developed his perception of me with time and observation.

Additionally, I realized on the roof that a person couldn't be substituted by another because when I was near the persona that God had created of him for me, it was irreplaceable.

Though I know that I have to walk my walk alone, I feel tremendously good whenever God builds a real bond of me with someone and wants to bring that person to His kingdom, not letting that person stay in the devil's kingdom.

When I leave this place, I will be waiting to meet in Heaven the ones God put in my path and there we can enact the tiny angels' heart dance (Rev #3 on Page 100).

While later this evening I was thinking about what all Glory and the group went through and how consistent and serious they have been after recalling some of the things. He brought himself down to my level so we could chum. I usually didn't chum (or get along) with what I considered vain. I only chummed with people who gave immense importance to things of character, to the extent where they weren't willing to falter even by a small amount if they knew what they were going to do was wrong - integrity it is called.

Past (2022): I used to walk a lot on the roof after dinner during the past year. I had some visions while I did so.

The Elongated Kisses

I stood at the other end of the balcony when I had the vision below.
Vision (Roof A-16, Mid-2022): I saw the huge smiling face of Glory, around 1 m in dimension down at the home below that I had visited last year, with his huge lips perched in the shape of a kiss and reaching up to where I was standing.

It was accompanied by yet another vision.

Vision (Roof -16, Mid-2022): My lips were shown as huge and perched in the shape of a kiss and extended down to the balcony.

I can't recall which vision was shown first.

Then on the same or a different night, I was walking away from the balcony and passing by the grilled iron shed when I had the following vision.

The Unexpected

Vision (Roof A-16, Mid-2022): I saw the face of Glory with a joyful smile come extended from the neck, slightly hoping through the air, from my back, and drop a kiss at my asshole through the blue long denim skirt I was wearing?

I thought, "Seriously!?"

The Peeing Penis

Vision (Roof A-16, Mid-2022): I saw a huge penis in the sky peeing below at me. This vision was repeated to me several times during my night walks. Back then I didn't know that they had sent the fly drone even in the commode.

On yet one of the other nights,

The Hair Pull

Vision (Roof A-16, Mid-2022): I saw the vision of Glory grabbing my frizzy head hair at the back and stopping me as I was walking away from him and was at a distance of around 1 meter. I used to have shorter hair back then, in the real life and my hair were not chemically treated either. In the vision, I had frizzy neck-length hair.

The Swollen Lobes

Vision (Roof A-16, Mid-2022): I saw two huge swollen outer lobes of a vagina drop down from above in the sky as they swelled instantaneously.

1. 'Vacate the PG'

Dream-Vision (Room D1, Early Morning): I saw the two PG owners Kunal and Prince come walking in turns inside as they told me to vacate. Both were dressed in dark attires of shirts and trousers. And then I watched them walk out with Kunal dressed in all black (black full-sleeved shirt over black trousers).

2. Shamsher Sir

I have been reminded of him for a few times now as some events kept being highlighted to me.
I had a maths teacher named Samsher Singh. Back in school I used to hate maths and scored the lowest in it too until 8th class. During my high school from 9th to 12th, I had the good fortune of being taught by Samsher Sir who taught in quite a fun manner and made things look way easier than they would have seemed otherwise.

Samsher is the hindi name for the maned lion, and singh is the general Hindi term for a lion. So Shamsher Singh is the name of the maned lion.

3. Wife of Samsher Sir

I saw the vision of this event from my past where I had seen his wife standing behind the gate of his rented house. I had gone to his home to inquire about something as I used to take maths and science group tuitions from him. And accompanying the vision was the group chat in the school where a few girls were talking about his wife - that she looks beautiful but when she talks it just doesn't go along with her looks. She had a thick voice and talked in Haryanvi (the mother tongue of the state of Haryana) with a slightly rural accent. I did not like them gossiping about her. Even if she talked in the regional Haryanvi she grew up with and had that accent, I thought it was okay. What was not okay was to backbite about her!

Samsher Sir called me Mummy To Tease Me

Samsher Sir used to call me Mummy at times to tease me because my two best friends Shreya and Sakshi had named me so, and Shreya was close to Samsher Sir because of which he stayed updated about us three. He stayed our Class supervisor too during the 4 years. I once started crying in class sitting at the front bench in the left row of the class, because he had called me Mummy in front of the entire class. He apologized after that and said that he will not repeat the same.

Additionally, he was a devout Hanuman worshipper and sometimes even used to fast on Tuesdays. It made me think about the bullies referring to me as 'Hanuman' - the Hindu God with a monkey jaw, because my upper jaw is slightly protruded!

Samsher Sir was a very characterful man. And Death Conqueror isn't anywhere like him that he should be compared to him. He calls me Hanuman because of my upper protruded jaw.

I Am Sridevi, Not Hanuman!

But let me correct them, according to God's revelation 'Sridevi and The Bearded Clan' (#3 on Page 145), I am Sridevi with a protruding upper jaw! And the bearded guy who ignored me while walking with his clan was Glory.

3. 'Chalo Kartika' (Let's Go, Kartika)

I was using the commode in my PG's washroom yesterday afternoon and had almost completed writing Page #372, with the headings in place and a few additions and editions to be made, and had lastly added that Ranveer Singh's song at #6. While sitting on the commode I had the following vision:
Vision (Washroom, Room D1, Yesterday afternoon): I saw Ranveer Singh enter through the Room's door, stop, look forward and say, "Chalo Kartika". He was dressed in a fitting maroon t-shirt as he stepped inside my room looking forward and because the orientation of my washroom is perpendicular to my room, I saw the side-view of his face which made the prophetic symbol.

This was a shadow revelation and was repeated a few more times in succession as I sat on the commode, and later during the day too.

4. 'Chalo!'

I have been having this vision intermittently for around two or more months now.
Vision (Past 1-2 months): I saw the distant vision of Uncle ji from the home at the back that I had visited last year. He was in that home and ordered to others, "Chalo!" (Let's Go!), with his body facing in the direction of the sight of the vision but his face turned to the left. But then he looked in my direction, smiled, and let it go.

[Well, they have been thinking about leaving because it has been a tic toc of years, and for me too. I am doing what God is leading me to. I already wrote previously that Glory came rushing to me in a vision with a bouquet of lavender-colored roses.]

17:03
But, was the old man making the prophetic symbol by looking to his left and asking me to come along?

17:09
When I was having my lunch while talking to my mom around 3:30pm, I kept hearing the following part of the song in the Spirit. These lyrics are there in the song at both its beginning and towards the ending, but I could tell that what I was hearing was from the latter part of the song.

5. Ton sourire m'ensorcelle

Ton sourire m'ensorcelle	(your smile bewitches me)
Je suis fou de toi	(I am crazy about you)
Le désir coule dans mes veines	(Desire runs through my veins)
Guidé par ta voix	(Guided by your voice)

6. The Kiss and The Revolving Vision

I laid down to rest with Jesus for a while and relish in His presence when I had this vision.
Vision (Room D1, Around 15 minutes back): I saw the kissing scene of the above video this time shown with a revolving vision around the kissers. Both kept kissing each other standing by the railing of the bridge as the vision moved to and fro in a semicircle around their upper bodies at a distance of around 1m and at some height above the parallel, as seen from the outside of the railing they stood by. Because the vision was quite abrupt, I could only pay attention the to and fro revolution around the kissing duo in a semi-circle with only the person of Ranveer Singh being recognizable in that vision as he was dressed the same as the song. But I couldn't catch a proper glimpse of the woman to the right. But then I thought about the vision and wanted to see the woman to the right as well. This time the vision showed me standing there dressed in the same clothes that I am wearing today - the V-neck full-sleeved top over slightly faded black lounge pants, as we kissed each other in a manner similar to the song video. It made me think that he looks so much better while I looked somewhat deformed, not to a great extent though as I have now lost considerable weight. But as I wrote previously, people who happen to like me, like me so not because I have perfect or extraordinary looks, but because of who I am. And that's why I wrote that he had godly lenses of judgment, and that's why I felt the love and compassion for him as well that I did. I had liked some of his work previously too when I hadn't actively come to God, and God brought those parts to life in my life.

Holy Spirit gives us revelations that pertain to the truth.

I wasn't expecting this vision because I had thought of only resting in peace and quietness with Jesus without receiving any more revelations.. but just resting in His presence drenched in His love... But He gave me this.

And He is giving me more revelations.

19:20

7. The Bed Vision

I fell asleep for a while. It was refreshing. As I was writing the above vision previously, I had yet another vision.
Vision (Around 18:30): As I was writing the previous vision sitting on my chair adjacent to my bed with my laptop lying on the table in front, I got distracted by the sight of Ranveer Singh to my right on my bed wearing the same t-shirt he wore in the video above. He was holding a woman and kissing her as he laid on top of her. The vision kept getting my attention and I thought that perhaps I have to go back to bed now. But when I went inside my blanket, though I felt some nudges, I did not follow them, and did not have more revelations, but I fell asleep in peace after a while.

9:09 pm

I understood a while back why God gave me the revelation 'A Kiss of Love' in the way He did. He did so to make me not feel embarrassed about not being in shape, as the vision had only our faces. Again, it was a very close-up vision, though semi-animated, that focused on the slowly kissing lips of the two.

9. Don't Hurt Inside

After I had written about how I had felt momentarily about the revolving vision, after a while I saw the following.
Vision (Room D1, Night): I saw a lean Ranveer Singh dressed in a white shirt with a heavily sharply bearded face stabbing his heart repeatedly while looking at me with a hurting and resentful expression. The vision was followed by him taking a few steps backward.

No. Don't hurt your heart. I was in the wrong because I judged a person by his good looks which I shouldn't have! It was an ungodly thing to do and shows my own lack of understanding. I am sorry. Two persons are worthy of each other to have a bond as long as they chum together in their inner selves.

4. Ranveer Singh Licks An Icecream Softy

I had this vision a few minutes back. It's a reflected real revelation.
Vision (Room D1, Around 10 minutes back): I saw the clean-shaven face of Ranveer Singh from the song to my right as he faced to the right and licked the side of a strawberry softy - scooped icecream over an orange conical sweet wafer.

5. Mayank Says 'I Love You'

Vision (Room D1, Yesterday): Yesterday, I kept having this vision repeatedly where I saw OTM still dressed in his orange tunic take some steps forward towards me and say, "I Love You". It repeated itself throughout the day intermittently. I saw him take a step forward to my right and say the words even when I was washing clothes in the washroom.

6. The Roof Story Continued..

Some of the additional things that happened yesterday on the roof.

The Gulp Gulp

When I was listening to the song and was walking to and fro on the roof, I was praying in tongues moving my lips softly in whispers.
Vision (): I saw the jaw of a man in front that seemed as if he was gulping something simultaneously with an open mouth.

The Lick

As I happened to reach near the spot where I had seen Jesus standing, I was so overwhelmed by His graceful appearance to me and was so filled with love that I wanted to lay down and kiss the part of the roof where he stood. I immediately had a vision that showed exactly how I was feeling in the moment.

Vision (Roof, Yesterday): I licked the dusty floor of the roof where Jesus stood, and actually gulped the dirt inside!

I thought to myself, "Yeah! I would definitely have done that if no one was watching!" Is it any wonder why He loves me like He does!

7. When I prayed for Mayank

After I had the vision "Carried Away By Two Winged Demons" (#3 on Page 298) where Mayank was being carried away by two bat-winged demons high above in the sky, I saw that they were hurting his upper arms through his checkered skyblue shirt with their claws by making sharp cuts or perhaps wanted to devour them out. I kept praying for his freedom from those demons, and then he fell down out of their clutches.

But when he reached the surface below, I saw a semi-animated vision in which he landed in a lying position on a thick white mattress that rolled itself to the left wrapping him in it in the process and it reached its end and stopped rolling when he was facing me closely with me lying facing in his direction. I had roses with me, and I was smiling at him, and while this happened, the scene was filled with illuminating golden light.

8. The Shiny SkyBlue Starry Eyes

I was washing my hands in my PG room's washroom when I had this vision.
Vision (Room D1, 5th April 2023): I saw two skyblue shining stars with pointed ends and a white glow around their edges in place of Mayank's eyes as he looked at me from my right while facing me - with only his upper half being visible to me with him still being dressed in his orange tunic with the black print.

The stars resembled in its shape the one shown below, but were shiny skyblue in color with a white glow around the edges.

9. The New Cleaner With a Crown

A new cleaner was recently hired to clean the PG I am currently staying in whom I saw yesterday for the first time. I could tell that she was carefully chosen to work in this PG because of the way she looked. But I was quite impressed with her aura which didn't reek of deception and had a smooth straightforwardness about it. I felt so good and safe around her. When I thought about her after she had left, I had an immediate vision of her.
Vision (Room D1, Yesterday Afternoon): I saw half of her upper half with a golden crown of about 3-4 inches high on her head.

The Page of Love and Water with a Load of Other Revelations.

09 April 2023
00:26

I have been seeing the vision of this part of the movie 'Haunted' for the past many months.

1. Evil Prof Licks

Vision (Past many months): In the vision that I saw, I saw the dead Prof dressed in the brown suit he had worn on the day of his death, in place of the lady possessed by the Prof's spirit which is shown in the video.

2. The Long Licks On Face

I had this vision in the morning of the day before yesterday, i.e., the 7th of this month, after I had woken up and was sitting on my bed.
Vision (Room D1, Morning, 7th Apr 2023): I saw the momentary flash of a dog sitting on my bed to the right followed by a few long licks on the front of my face as I sat on my bed. The tongue was wide and long as it licked the front of my face.

3. Belly Fat Again

I had this vision when I was sitting on my bed.
Vision (Room D1, Morning, 7th Apr 2023): I saw Death Conqueror in front of me dressed in a white cotton tunic set and apparently I was kissing him in that vision. I then moved forward using my arms and when I was in a horizontally lifted position above him with my hands on the bed to his sides, our side-view as seen from my roommate's side was shown, and it showed him being dressed in the same white tunic set, while I was naked with my middle body visible in the vision, where my belly fat was hanging down. The vision stopped there as if it was focusing on my belly fat.

4. Glory Takes Out Two Electronic Insects

After I had the inward outward push experience and saw a few people appear in turns when I was sitting on chair itself, and also was reminded of the devilish rush of Glory towards my vagina, I saw the following vision.
Vision (Room D1, Evening, 6th Apr 2023): I saw the vision of Glory putting his hand inside a well-lit and spacious pink tissue chamber at the place of my groin, and taking out two electronic insects of about 1cm in dimension, and while he did so he was kissing me heartedly.

5. The Youngest Sister As Leverage

The eldest sister is the old version of me which is no longer there. The middle sister is the current version of me which is in a spiritual battle with the wicked villain. The youngest sister is my roommate who is ignorantly playing along the viles of the evil rapist. The wicked man threatens the middle sister to come to him by herself or he may cause harm to the youngest one who has fully trusted him.

6. The Opportunist Killer

Dream (Room D1, Morning, 8th April 2023): I was in my PG room with my mom and dad. It was night and we were preparing to sleep. My dad was to sleep on a mattress spread on the floor in the space between the wardrobe and the two beds with his head visible from my side of the room. I was to sleep on a mattress spread on my side of the floor which was perpendicular to my dad's side. I saw that my dad kept a dagger in its cover hidden near the middle of the wall facing the room's door. He had been thinking of using it on me and killing me when he found an opportunity. But when he looked in my direction, I showed him my various faces that kept changing one after the other. There was a white amalgamation of a rabbit and a human face half of which then changed to a brown amalgamation of an animal and a human. The faces kept changing and looking at them, he changed his mind to kill me.

I then sought my mother to tell her that we would have to leave soon. I found her sitting on the short white cemented stairs of the PG. There were some other people on the roof as well. The stairs and the roof didn't look like that of this PG.

7. Evening Visions (Yesterday)

The revelation serves a purpose, are real and most importantly reflect a situation pertaining to someone else who needs to be 'taught a lesson' or 'given a tutorial'.
While I was busy writing other revelations, and was perhaps listening to the 'Ton sourire m'ensorcelle' audio in the background, I had more revelations. I saw Ranveer Singh (RS) standing between the window and my bed near my side of the bed. Facing him stood I. He was dressed in the NSCG clothes and me in my clothes of the day (V-neck black top over black trousers). The vision showed us hugging and kissing and then I made the pose around him like the heroine does in the 'Hero No. 1' song by lifting my right thigh up around him as he held it with his arm while we kissed each other.

The next vision had him standing against my wooden almirah that stands to the right of the room's balcony. I stood at a distance of around 1 meter from him. I abruptly pulled down and broke the string of the skyblue star-shaped 'Frozen' pendant I was wearing, threw it to my right, and marched ahead towards him. We immediately started kissing while caressing each other all over, against the wooden almirah.
('To the people who get hurt who didn't deserve to be hurt - I am sorry.' But to the ones who need to be taught a lesson - "Take and digest the shadow revelation!")

9. Band Darwaaza Villain Haunts Me Around

It was late at night yesterday and the lights were off. I was done writing for the day and had to use the washroom before I went to sleep. As I stopped outside the washroom's door, Vision (Room D1, Late Night Yesterday): I saw the vision of Band Darwaza demon villain standing behind me with his wicked smile.
I used the washroom and when I was washing my hands, I saw Vision (Room D1, Late Night Yesterday): The 'Band Darwaza' villain behind me again but this time he was trying to put his arms around my shoulders trying to grab me!

I kept praying in tongues intermittently and brushed him off as I had the vision. I then walked out of the washroom and laid on my bed to sleep. After a few visions related to other people, I saw Vision (Room D1, Late Night Yesterday): the Band Darwaza villain hovering above my face coming from my left side. I brushed him off with my left hand, turned to the other side, and tried to sleep.

After I had woken up this morning, I was still not fully awakened, so I kept lying on bed. I had a number of revelations that followed.

10. Morning Visions (Today)

The 'Dushman' Villain Stuck Inside the Tunnel

Vision (Room D1, This Morning): the bearded villain from 'Dushman' movie stretching apart a tissue tunnel (representing a vagina) to a diameter of around 1 meter using both his hands. He was dressed in his light brown postman clothes from the movie. He then entered his head in the tunnel and moved upwards carrying his entire body with him. When he was halfway into it, his eyes turned to red giving a devilish look as he yearned to reach the other end of the tunnel. The next thing shown was him stuck half in and half out in the vaginal tunnel as he shouted in a psychopathic tone, "Are Bhai Koi Bahar Nikalo Re!" ("Oh brother someone help me out of here!")
Well, who other than the short-heighted man does this Dushman Villain represent!? I guess this was a thing of the past when his electronic insect that he forced inside me got stuck in the tissue tunnel!
Following this vision was the vision below.

RS Inserts His Genitalia Into The Tissue Tunnel

Vision (Room D1, This Morning): I saw RS stretch apart a tissue tunnel to around 10 cms of diameter with his hands and enter his genitalia inside. He wore the same clothes that he did in the 'She Got Me Like A Drug' song.

There were then many follow-up visions.

The Round and Fair Ass

I don't recall the order of the vision, but it makes sense to put it after the above vision. This time I saw a parallel view of my bed as seen from the end of my roommate's bed. I saw a fully naked man lying on top of a fully naked woman on my bed as they made out. The center of the vision was that man's ass which was shown as well-formed and rounded.

The other visions that followed had RS biting sharply all over the left breast of a woman, with the vision showing the mid of their bodies.

The Nipple Pop

Vision (Room D1, This Morning): I saw the semi-animated top of a breast with a thumb and a forefinger around it which pressed on it and it popped with a sound, though only the thumb was visible on the side of the breast top that was visible in the vision. I was half-asleep at the time of this vision, and the abrupt unexpected sound of the pop made me jerk on my bed. This was a reflected revelation. Ni - pple Pop (Knee - Moment (English for the Hindi word 'Pal')). Some people pop up on just after a moment of their 'knee' insertion by a cm or two in the 'hole'. Thumb is called angootha in Hindi which when segregated gives: 'Ang-ootha' - 'Organ-erected. 'Ootha' is both a directive and a past form of the verb 'Erect'.

The AKOL Vision and the Pressing of a Rectangular Covered Watery Genitalia

I saw the AKOL vision to my right immediately followed by a hand grabbing and pressing a mushy rectangular wrap in a watery skyblue background.

69

I also saw 69 in my right mental sight written slantly in pink with the letters inserted in each other's open pockets at the top and bottom in a dark background as it stayed there for a while.

Guitar's Neck With a Dotted Cover

I was still lying in bed when I saw in my left mental view the side-view of Ranveer Singh who stood facing a woman with a guitar in his hand in a playing position. The dark brown handle of the guitar had 3-D white dots around it as it protruded towards the sight of the vision. He was still dressed in the clothes from the 'NSCG' song. The vision showed him having the same muscular build that he had in the song.

The Armless Hug

I saw to my left the side-view of RS standing facing a woman with less than half a meter distance between them with his arms around her, the upper arm stretched forward such that it made an obtuse angle with the horizontal. The woman too had her arms around him in the same manner, but her forearm in sight of the vision seemed amputated and in place of that was a long green stem with colorful flowers on it that brushed against his arm as she stood facing him - both caressing each other.
This vision was a bit blurry and flashed itself momentarily. I focused on it properly to know the details of the vision and see if the arm of the lady was really amputated. But this time, I saw him standing on the right side of the vision with the lady on the left, and this time it was his forearm that was missing with a long streak of the floral stem in place of it as we caressed each other. The vision had its focus on the arms which showed his muscular upper bicep build - almost as if making a point.

Each revelation has significance and some expose the thoughts and plans of the enemy whose mind keeps coming up with new schemes to hurt the targeted.

The Pop At My Right Ear

I was now lying covered with my magenta blanket and unknowingly had both my arms outside and resting on my belly in the shape of a hug. Additionally, the blanket left my face uncovered but extended to some length above my shoulder to my face's left. As I fell asleep again with my eyes closing down fully again, I heard a fuller pop in the spirit near the left side of my face which woke me up. After I was awake again, I realized that I was asleep with my blanket being held by me in the likeness of a person. It also reminded me of the 'Jesus in magenta' vision.

'A Kiss of Love' in Pieces

Vision (Room D1, Morning): I saw the watery vision, 'A Kiss of Love', this time being shown in the shape of a horizontal rectangle that got shredded into square bits as it lifted up on the right side and turned like a page untill half its length to the left.

First, it's hard to believe for me at times how God has spiritually brought many people into my life as He gave me revelations about them. He's a successful and great star, but God makes ways for different people to connect at a level that surpasses earthly layers of perception.

Loki With Cotton Buds

Vision (Room D1, Morning): I saw the spent and tired face of Loki (Tom Hiddleston) laid down as he looked towards the sight of the vision with middle-partitioned black wavy hair resting behind his head, half-closed slanted eyes, and cotton buds inserted in his nose. (Reflected Revelation)

The revelation had multiple meanings. First, the same morning when I was on a videocall with my mom, I asked her what was she doing to which she replied, "Bas abhi abhi gheeya kati hai" ("Just got done with chopping Gourd") Gheeya is a synonym for the Hindi word 'Loki' which refers to the long green gourd vegetable in English.

Second, someone was 'lowering' his 'key' using cotton buds.

And then I keep hearing someone saying this to me, intermittently, in the Spirit, "Kartika tum itni bhi sundar nhi ho." (Kartika you're not that beautiful.) I know this. I never said the opposite! The outward-beauty-standards' opinions of third parties don't matter.

11. 'Khali Karo, Niklo' (Vacate, Get out)

I kept hearing the phrases 'Khali Karo, Niklo' intermittently in the spirit since yesterday. I, therefore, texted my PG owners that I will shift by the end of this week. I have to inquire once from the hostel tomorrow. If they deny me admission, then I will shift to a nearby PG by the end of this week or perhaps before that.

12. 'My Dad Does This'

In 'The Carrier Bus' dream, when I went to Akhila's seat some seats behind on the other side, I saw her writing and erasing concepts of Astrophysics and Quantum Mechanics. Before I could read one thing, she was moving on to write the next topic. But then she made a schematic graph of the exponential increase with two unlabelled axes as she whispered lightly, "My dad does this." This particular detail of the dream kept being highlighted to me. I had written about it previously too but hadn't written about the kind of graph she made.

I had understood it previously in a different context. I had written that it was God who gave us different strengths and blessing in the world. So my roommate being able to do that physics stuff was a work of God as it is in my case too. But recently I understood the graph in relation to her earthly 'make-believe' dad - the short-heighted guy.

14. The Persistent Intermittent Pain

Because of their toy electronic insects that they keep sending inside my groin, I at times feel pain when I move around on a seat. I guess it's because the small wound gets scratched against the surface. And even the feeling of the pain is metallic. It's not there all the time though.

15. Amir Khan with V-shaped eyebrows

Vision (Room D1, Mid-2022): I saw the face of Amir Khan with inverted V-shaped eyebrows looking at me with an amused expression.

16. The Nose Cleaning Squat

I was perhaps using the washroom earlier today when I had this revelation.
Vision (Room D1, During day): I saw the vision of the heroine of the 'Nashe Si Chad Gyi' song standing up from a squat on the bridge. And while going upwards she pulled something out from her right nose and then looked up to show her clean nostrils to the viewer(s) of the vision.

I ironed my clothes today and it took me more than an hour. Afterwards, I was about to go fill my water bottle when I felt like I actually needed rest and so I laid on bed. After a while of blissful time spent listening to worship songs, I had the following vision.

17. RS In a Moving Train

Vision (Room D1, Afternoon): I saw Ranveer Singh standing at the door of a train moving to the left as he looked at me while facing in my direction to my left. He wore an unbuttoned black cotton shirt with a white floral print, over a white cotton top inside. He had neck-length straight hair and a slight beard around the edges of his face and the mouth in the vision.

18. My Roommate Cries and Hugs Me

I have been having this vision for 2 days now.
Vision (Room D1, Past two days): Akhila cries and hugs me from behind with her face on my shoulder at the back. She wore her grey night dress with ice-cream prints in that vision.
Perhaps she realized that I was telling the truth all along and was only for her goodwill as shown in the revelatory vision 'The Carrier Bus'.

19. Compassionate Stars (who did not become psychopaths despite their position, unlike the bully)

When I stopped in front of the washroom in the evening, this time I had the following vision.
Vision (Room D1, Evening): I saw both Ranveer Singh and Ranbeer Kapoor standing behind my back in place of the Band Darwaza villain whom I had seen previously, and they both extended one of their arms from behind around my neck and shoulder with a slightly sad but comforting expression as they dropped frequent light kisses like one does a baby.

20. Difficult Times Ahead In My Life - The Unedited Dream

I walked past a long white car and shouted at it as I turned to a perpendicular direction towards the sight of the vision. Apparently, I had assumed that the short-heighted bully was present in there because of the way it stopped. I shifted to a very small room at a great height in a cheap locality. The people after my blood didn't reach there for a while and I felt safe as I went in and out of my room taking care of different chores. The room was very small, just enough to hold two people and the stairs were shown as being present outside and went around the tower. Some people were shown to come looking after me. They stood downstairs and inquired at what looked like a watchman's counter. The next thing I and my (new) roommate were too busy writing something on A4 sheets. Perhaps I was writing my thesis. Both of us had straight hair that fell behind our backs and we were dressed in full-sleeved sweaters. I somehow sensed the marching danger and both me and my roommate threw our sheets to the sides and one covered another on the top while kissing her in a seemingly passionate manner. Our faces were not visible in that posture. The goons with weapons reached our room just in time, saw the scene, and quickly rushed away to the right and stood on a side not understanding how they were supposed to act. The next thing I was walking by an area when a man dressed in skyblue top over navy blue pants abruptly pointed at me and started accusing me by saying, "Isne Kiya Hai! Isne Kiya Hai!" To his right stood another man of tall and well-built muscular stature with a monkey-like jaw. He wore a fitted white polo tshirt over white trousers and was carrying a sharp saw in one of his hands. The taller goon in white asked me respectfully,

"Aapne kiya hai?" I suddenly felt terrified inside and replied with a horizontal shake of my head implying a 'No'. The man in white then turned back, went to his right and started slaughtering the people present around. I saw a gush of blood in the air sprout like coming from a slanted vertical tap. I walked away from the area as I witnessed that scene. The next thing I saw was a goon with a sharp weapon jumping openly over a citizen in the hindsight to slaughter him. It looked like it was going to be a public massacre as there were armed goons all around ready to attack the citizens but the surroundings looked rather calm as people were walking unaffected, not noticing the armed goons. Only I saw those criminals with sharp weapons. So the vision of the armed man in the air ready to slaughter the citizen seemed like a threat. But I could tell that they were going to go ahead. I went restless and started praying in tongues to God to do something about the situation. But then everything settled down and there were no more goons armed with sharp weapons and it went quiet, but when I looked below my hands were in the act of covering my lower half by wrapping the two end of a towel one on top of the other - the way I usually do it in the washroom. I then found myself walking and came across a woman who was behaving arrogantly while making loud sounds. What followed next was the casting out of a demon. I laid my hands on top of her head and talked to her while moving all around with her. I said to her, "Tujhe pta hai? Bhagwaan ne mujhe dusro par hath rakh kar unhe theek karne ki shamta di hai" ("Do you know? God has given me the ability to lay hands on people and heal them.") I said those things to her to make the point that there was nothing for her to behave so arrogantly about. After a while of me moving around with her, her countenance changed to calm and normal and she extended her palm to me with somethings on it for me to accept as a 'Thank you' gift. There were some small folded bits of paper and a golden ring with a spread out curved surface. She kept smiling in a huge teethful manner as she extended those gifts to me. I looked at her smiling face and her palm in turns and then grasped those things and continued walking ahead. I then found myself walking briskly away, running at times as I looked behind a few times. I then saw a smiling chubby old man walk slowly toward me. He was dressed in a full-sleeved shirt of the usual yellow and green vertical print of a disposable tea cup tucked inside a white pant, and walked slowly in an old-fashioned way. I ignored him and didn't want to be seen by him. I took a turn to my left and entered a locality of houses with a thumb pasted out on the outside of all of them. For a while, I kept coming across such houses with a thumb being shown on the outside. I finally reached a place at some height where the houses no longer had those thumbs.

Lastly, I heard a lady say in a grim tone, "Barbaadi.. Barbaadi ki itni badi saza.." (Destruction.. Such a huge price to pay for destruction..) followed by the distant vision of a lady with open frizzy neck-length hair who was dressed in a white saree and sat on a chair between a man to her left and a woman to her right. They were sitting on a balcony that had a huge rectangular aquarium on it in front of them and it had green water. The right side of the aquarium was horizontally divided in two and one of the divided parts hung down below as if it was broken and had just enough support to stay attached. There were a few tiny fishes in the aquarium which filled the entire balcony. "Chala Gaya chhod kar.." (He left!) And as she said it, the vision moved away upwards from the balcony and to the right of the vision was shown a wooden chair with two metallic chains attached behind it holding it in the air.

And when I was in the 9 11 store in the evening, this repetition in the spirit increased, "Kartika tum itni bhi sundar nhi ho." "Kartika tum itni bhi sundar nhi ho." ("Kartika, you're not that beautiful.") It seemed to me that now the person was intentionally repeating it so I would hear his repetitions in the spirit which the Holy Spirit made known to me!

'Mask Pehen Lo'; The Bhau Bhau; The Day Out With Jema

10 April 2023
00:34

During the winter of 2020, I was staying in my maternal Aunt's house. I stayed at her place for a good amount of days. I wasn't staying in any PG at that time and had to get my fellowship forms signed. It was also the time when covid was in full swing and people were following all sorts of precautionary measures.

These events from my memory have been being brought to my attention for a while now. So I am writing them here.

1. 'Mask Pehen Lo' ('Wear the Mask')

This morning I went out with her sister-in-law Lalita to buy some things from the nearby grocery shop. While I was standing outside the shop, I noticed a shorter and thin man come riding on a two-wheeler and park it along the side of the road at a good distance of around 7 meters. He was dressed in a light blue synthetic tracksuit. Though I wasn't wearing my specs, I could tell from his body language that he wasn't present there for a 'real' chore to be done. When we were done with the shop, we walked past him and when we were ahead by just a few steps, I noticed him looking at me, sob momentarily and then calmly say, "Mask Pehen Lo" ('Wear the Mask'). As he behaved like that, I noticed him. I wasn't expecting that behavior. You see, I and Lalita both were wearing our masks. He was the one not wearing any. He got hurt because of my ignorant attitude toward him. I didn't see his face clearly either because I wasn't wearing my specs. But I got some idea based on how he had acted. I slowly turned my face back to the front and walked back to their house thinking about the incident. But how was I supposed to behave when I knew what all he had been doing and I had been carrying feelings of resentment because of the boundary-breaching behavior that I was perceiving as a covert domineering tactic? I thought that the wrong way to accomplish something shouldn't have been chosen and it swirled strongly in my mind. Though now I have acquainted myself with the ways of God.

2. The "Bhau Bhau" ("Woof Woof")

I went out one late evening with my Aunt to go to the nearby market. We took a turn to our left. There was a very small dark brown dog that peeked out and looked at me from the left side window of a white car parked on the left. It didn't move nor blink its eyes. This made me think that it must be a toy dog someone was holding out using his hands. My Aunt walked in front of me through the narrow passage between the things on our left and the car with the dog to our right, and I followed after her. I didn't usually pay a lot of attention around, but I used to become especially careful when I could see that someone was trying to get my attention. So I walked past by the dog and when I was some distance ahead, I heard the voice of a man say, "Bhau Bhau Bhau Bhau Bhau" in a relatively higher pitch than his usually used one. I could tell that the Bhau Bhau was intentional. But how was I supposed to react to it!? when the person is hiding and making specifically-targeted general sounds.

These two incidents were being highlighted to me for the past few months.

3. The Day Out With Jema

I went out with Jema for some shopping. When we were having lunch, I shared with her the story that I had read many years back, perhaps when I was still in high school. A woman went missing. She wasn't present at a Barbebeque either thrown by the guy she lived with. Towards the end of the novel, it turned out that it was the woman who was barbequed and fed to the people in that supposed party. The guy had killed her over something and then fed her to the crowd.

The video begins with a man and a woman coming into the vision outside a building. They represent the bigender system of man and woman whose bodies are but a building/house. But when the inside of the building is shown, what is seen is an imprisoned woman in white who is singing out her grievous saga. The man-woman system of physical bodies imprisons an angel of God inside the building of the human body. Inside the same building is shown a vampiric demon villain that walks freely through the building and torments the angel. It testifies to the truth of a demon yolked together with an angel inside a human body. The imprisoned angel in white cries out for freedom, and sings in wails. She keeps questioning about who is it who will set her free and out of the building where the demon stays.

There's only one person who can free the woman from her binding chains and get her out of the unequally yolked situation with the vampiric being. The person is Jesus Christ - the Lord of Lords, and the King of Kings. He is the one who frees the angel trapped inside the human 'house' body (rightly called so by Brother Jonathan).

2. To Fool An Innocent Person

Dream-Vision (Room D1, Yesterday): I saw what looked like a laptop screen that seemed to be showing someone's chat with white words written on a black background. As the vision moved upwards on the screen, I heard Akhila's voice say, "They are fooling you because you don't trust people easily."

This gave me an idea of the motives behind their behavior (or what was coming).

This morning I had this dream. I saw a very tall (around 6 feet or taller), muscular guy with a clean-shaven long face and black neck-length wavy hair in my home in the master bedroom. He wore an unbuttoned light skyblue shirt over a plain round-neck white t-shirt with light-colored trousers below. What went on was me kissing this person intermittently as I moved around my home and talked to my mom as well who was in the other bedroom. She didn't have a problem with the guy present there and she already knew about it. I went back to the master bedroom room and saw the guy standing in the balcony. He was then standing outside the washroom of the room and told me something related to him doing or already having done a PhD. I couldn't hear him properly at first so I asked him to repeat. He repeated again the statement related to his PhD. He also told me that he was a doctor in a certain hospital. He said all those things while smiling all the time. It was hard to believe that he was a doctor. I didn't believe him at first and asked him to repeat the same again. I was asking him this info from him so I could tell my mom the same. I saw my dad walk past the door of the room. I felt glad that the guy had a chance of being accepted if I told my dad what he had told me about his PhD. My mom was already cool with the guy in the room. It was my dad whom I thought may show resentment about him being there. The muscular tall guy was then standing in front of the TV wall unit facing me as I asked him further questions. He told me a few names. I couldn't, again, hear them properly. So I asked him to repeat. But instead of answering me plainly, he gave me a huge teethfull smile and sat down with his knee to my left bent with the leg to my right stretched. He sat in that posture and got up. Every time I asked him a question, he would repeat this pose with that teethfull smile - sit down with the same leg stretched with the other knee bent as if making a workout pose. The dream progressed and I moved from one place to another. I didn't find the guy so I went to the place he had told me he worked at. I walked out of a door and entered a perpendicular corridor to the right of which was a closed counter with a nameplate at the door shed. I saw someone present to my left and found out that he worked in that place. I asked him about the guy and told him the name that the muscular tall guy had told me. They told me that a guy of no such name worked there and that the counter had been closed for long. A few more people came and stood there and I then asked them about the other names the guy had told me. They said that they didn't know anything about those people as well. I understood that the guy had lied from behind a smile. The thing I saw as a third was that the guy was at a different place and had married a woman. But what was now shown was that he had realized his folly and decided to leave his married partner and return to me.

I returned earlier from the dept today because I couldn't think and just wanted to rest in my blanket with God. I kept having thoughts of extent to which the dual-eyed man had ruined things for me. I found it difficult to think and understand even simple concepts that I would have previously done without an effort. I saw the mental damage my brain had endured and the way it had been affected. I didn't think though if he felt proud of what he had done. I cried inside to God and told him that I had been ruined! I no longer had the same mental caliber. Though I knew that life on earth had to be sacrificed in order to gain the kingdom of God, why was I supposed to do something which my brain now seemed incapable to do after it had gone through what it did? If I had to become dumb because of the emotional abuse, then why was I supposed to carry on with the PhD completion!?

3. Woe Unto the One Who Puts A Stumbling Block In the Path of the Godly

Anyway. While I was still in the dept, I had gone to have lunch snacks at The Royal Canteen and had then joined two profs (Prof TRS and Prof Debajyoti Choudhary) and three students who had also happened to drop there to have a drink. On our walk back to the Multistorey building (MSB) of the physics dept, I asked Prof TRS about the reason he put that long streak on his forehead. To which he replied that he put it to honor Goddess Mahalakshmi. I didn't know the details of Hindu gods besides the famous ones. But I knew that whoever it was, it was just another representation of one of the fallen angels - a representation that originated in the world. I wanted to tell him that he was actually partaking in and glorifying devil's kingdom by using the symbols related to doctrines created by him. I left the group mid-way to pick up some printouts from the photocopy shop. After I had returned to my room, I looked up the names of the two goddesses he had told me about. I knew already that they were but a permanent part of devil's kingdom. While writing this, I felt a huge sense of relief as the realization hit me that we as humans still had a chance to go back home to the Lord God while the initial fallen angels who started the system didn't even have that, and were forever and permanently doomed.

After a while of trying to work, I gave up and sat with my head down. It was then that I had these revelations. I saw a Vision of the face of Prof TRS at some distance to my right with a long cylindrical metallic rod with a pointed end in his hands at the level of his face that he pushed with a jerk towards me. The next thing I saw were two red hearts in front of eyes as he stuck out his long tongue and licked my face. (I thought if that was a neutralizer of the 'Evil Prof Licks' realization.) I have had other revelations too related to him wherein he was shown as one of the changing people as they appeared in turns. I didn't write all the revelations, because I had the first revelation of him looking with his right eye back during Late 2021/Early 2022, which also implied that he was perfectly capable of looking through his right eye continuously 'all the time'. He just had rare occasional mental glitches in his continuous curve because of the nature of situation where the eye gates of the public have been being flooded with ungodly pictures. If the eye gate is guarded, (wo)man doesn't mentally sin. On the other hand, some people have a continuous wicked profile with fake goodness to exhibit as an outwardly continuous curve - like the intentional abusers. Even when ungodly things don't enter their eye gates, they have an inner wickedness about them and look at things with their left/devil eye. God understands the weaknesses of the flesh and the need for it to be redeemed. That's why He did what He had to. My fleshly weaknesses are revealed and known to me as well. He understands that though I may be spent and torn inside, I am still with Him and love Him and that if I had enough charge, I would still be running the race instead of walking or taking a rest. Even in my rest, I have not stopped in my track or given up on my God-given purpose. He knows when we need to charge. I have not turned an intentional back towards Him or left His hand. We're called to love Him the same in both our strengths and weakness. But He doesn't vouch for an intentional jump in the river of sin.

Luke 17
Tree of Life Version

Back to Teaching His Own

17 Then Yeshua said to His disciples, “Stumbling blocks are bound to come, but woe to the one by whom they come! 2 It would be better for him to have a millstone put around his neck and to be hurled into the sea, than for him to cause one of these little ones to stumble.

3 "Keep yourselves alert! If your brother sins, rebuke him; and if he repents, forgive him. 4 Even if he sins against you seven times a day, and seven times returns to you, saying, 'I repent,' you shall forgive him."

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=luke%2017&version=TLV>

Woe unto the one who made the public sin by putting morally undesirable things in their eye gates.
The ungodly pictures put in line online are stumbling blocks, like the live telecast of my processes of bathing, peeing, and pooping.

Somewhere during the day, as I sat on my chair in the lab (Room No. 184), I had the vision of Death Conqueror stabbing my back repeatedly with a dagger.

After a while, I returned to the PG, and I just wanted to vacate the room the same day or at least find a new PG. It was hard to bear with the suffocating aura and presence that was only about one's own physical pleasure while depriving the other person of basic human rights, inflicting emotional abuse, creating fake deceptive situations, and making it a life-mission to mentally destroy the targeted person! The room felt stuffed and stifling. I couldn't keep lying there for long. But during the time that I rested, I had the following two visions.

4. 'U' with a Golden Chain

Vision (Room D1, Evening): I saw this vision down up. I saw my roommate standing behind to the slight right of a cemented vertical pole that supposedly stood at the left at the top of the Pg's roof. She had a golden chain in her hands that she dropped down the PG, but it fell down in a U-shape with the other end stuck at some distance from her which wasn't visible in the vision.

5. The Perfectionist Aishwarya Rai

The second dream-vision that followed after a few minutes had me inquire and go to a girl who resembled Aishwarya Rai in the dream. She's a famous Bollywood Actress. The next thing shown was the side view of her upper half. She faced to the right and wore a sleeveless top made of beige sackcloth with her right arm lifted in a way to show her thick muscular biceps on the side of which was written 'Perfectionist' starting from the beginning of her upper arm and going sideways to the elbow. Her hair were straight and open and slightly flew away from her.

I got up from my bed as I felt a strong urge to go out and look for a PG as I didn't feel good in the place anymore. So I went out. I went to the one I had previously visited with a girl when we still stayed in Saroj Sadan. I found a weird girl in that PG who attended me. She seemed demon-possessed to me because of her behavior, but I could tell that she was being pretentious.
On my way back to my current PG (A-16), I spotted a PG's board on the way. I went in and inquired, checked out some rooms and found it good enough. It had an awesome lift and very clean white washrooms - the same characteristics of my current PG that were previously highlighted as aversive in 'The Unusual PG' revelation. The room I chose had a yellow-hued window right in front as one entered the room, resembling what I had seen in my dream. I told them that I will book and shift later, and returned to my PG. But then I couldn't wait and went back after a while to book the room.

6. Sobbing Kunal

While I was filling up the form and made the payment, I saw the half of upper half of Kunal (my current PG's owner) to my right as he teared up and started sobbing a bit.

I will shift in the new PG on the 14th. It's just a few buildings to my right in the same lane.

Now, later this evening when I went out to get a cloth repaired at the tailor, I forgot to buy the fruit that my mom had told me. So I went back again, but this time I saw that huge and tall men intentionally made an appearance in front of me while ignoring me at the same time. I could tell that they were crossing my path intentionally! And when I reached my PG after buying the fruit, I remembered the dream from the morning and the dream vision from yesterday and connected the dots. People really don't have a life of their own but are sick and ungodly enough to only think about deceiving others. In that dream, God showed the prototype of the man who would actually work for me whom the pretenders were trying to emulate without knowing the exact standard.

And this same morning after I had woken up and sat on my bed, I had a sudden urge accompanied by a vision of me grasping my roommate's left hand as she lay on her bed to my right. I quickly brushed it aside as it reminded me of some of the previous revelations related to her that I don't want to emulate.

7. The Fuller Kiss

It was in the afternoon that I had this vision. It showed me and RS hugging and kissing each other again, but this time our lips were shown as bulging out more than usual, so the experience was fuller.

8. Dreams from the Past

I had this dream within the past two weeks. As the dream progressed, I was walking in a corridor with doors to my right but as I reached a certain door, it was opened from the inside by someone,

The Prof Questions

and behind it was standing Prof Debajyoti Choudhary of my dept as he asked me, "When is it happening? Tomorrow, within the next few days, next week?" Behind him was what looked like a home's room. At some distance behind him laid a double bed with its wooden vertical slab above the bed level lying against the left wall of the room, with some space left between the far end of the bed and the wall facing it. The bed was covered with a white bedsheet with a medium-sized floral print in pink. To the right of the bed was a vertical wooden TV unit that had the old-fashioned monitor TV in it with space to keep things on the partition slab above the TV. I smiled at him and told him that I only knew what was going to happen and not the time at which it would manifest and that the revelatory events had their appointed timings that were not known to me. While I was saying the same, he smiled and walked forward slightly to his left, and entered another room. After he entered the room, I continued walking forward and walked into an open door to my left. It looked like I had been walking to enter that room itself.

The Party in Dark

After a while started a party which had the room filled with people. The room was dark and everyone was dancing with the middle two fingers of one of their hands folded in. I wanted to tell them that it represented devil's horns.

My Dark and Fat Lover

This is one of my earlier dreams. I had it many months back. In this dream, I was moving from one event to another. But then I came across a room along the left side of the street. I saw a fat and black man with a round face standing there, and apparently, he was my lover and I loved him too. He was staying in a rented room on the ground floor. The room didn't look too flashy. He carried a bag with him. It seemed like he was preparing for an exam to secure a job.

The Hurt Lion
It was late 2021 or early 2022 when I was lying on the bed and had this vision. In the vision, I was lying on the right side of the double bed and close in front of me laid a lion his side facing me. His eyes looked reddish and in pain and it seemed that he was hurting as he pushed himself back to the far end of the bed. He resembled Glory to some extent.

9. '2:21 to 2:22' in the dark
I had this vision within the past few weeks. 2:21 was written in white on a black background. And then the last digit changed to 2, making it 2:22.

10. Two Fingers Inside
Around two weeks back or so, while I was sitting on my chair in the PG in the evening, I had a sudden sensation of two fingers moving inside my vagina. It continued for a while but I brushed it off.

11. The Dancing Short-Heighted Guy
I had this vision within the past two days while listening to a song. I saw the dual-eyed man dressed in a white cotton tunic set as he did some dance steps with upper-arms lifted vertically beside the shoulders and moving along with his body to their sides in a way manner in turns as he stood in front of my suitcases lying near the wall window.

12. The Delivery Guy
I was on my way to watch the Hindi movie 'Thappad' (Slap) back in 2020 as it had recently been released. I had short hair veg hair cut back then. I sat by the left window of the backseat of the cab along with others from my PG. I was quiet and looking outside the window when I saw a certain short and lean man dressed in the clothes of a delivery boy riding a motorcycle while making sure that his face was visible through the helmet's open face space. The incident has been highlighted to me quite a few times now.

The Neck Slice; Kissing The Head on My Table; Ranveer Singh in Sparkling Blue and White; The Fall

12 April 2023
20:09

1. The Neck Slice
This morning, as I was walking out of the washroom after doing a chore, Awadhesh Prasad (AP -my ex-supervisor) happened to drop in my mind and the next thing I saw was his neck sliced off as he stood straight. Following this I saw the ceiling fan in his office falling on him while he sat on his chair in front of his table in his office, after which I saw him sitting in his office with the fan making sounds and moving weirdly as if it could fall. It seems to me a backward warning to him.

I had left him and shifted with my current one (Prof Nivedita Deo) because he displayed his sexually harassing traits that he deployed with his female PhD students.

After I reached the dept in the morning, I saw that the room was locked. I unlocked it and saw that no one in my lab had reached there yet as the lights and fans were off. I had to have breakfast in the university canteen so I texted Jema if she would be reaching the dept soon so we could go there together. She reached in a minute or two and I had my breakfast and she had tea in the canteen.

2. Kissing The Head on My Table

When we were back in our room, I was now trying to recap the last thing that I had done so that I could continue in my work, I saw the head of RS resting on my table to my laptop's right and in the vision, apparently, I was kissing him again. The vision kept recurring. My diary notebook on which I write my work was lying there, however, I was receiving different visions this time.

After a while, we had an electricity cut in which Deepak interjected between mine and Jema's conversation. He was saying that 'Awadhesh Sir keh rhe the ki mein nikaal dunga' Though he pretended to mean it in the sense of AP asking him to leave his PhD group, it also had the literal meaning of AP 'taking something out'. I didn't understand it at that moment, but later after I had reached the PG. Deepak was also saying that one only finds BCs (Backward Class people) in UP (Uttar Pradesh - an Indian state). I have never liked the kind of things he talks about and I don't usually prefer to talk to him except when it is for telling him something about Jesus, because I don't gain any wisdom or good insight into anything by looking in his brain, but only a deceptive mind that doesn't use its own sense of righteous judgment.

Anyway. I tried to look at the notes I had made last time to progress ahead. I looked at some new aspects of the problem that I hadn't understood previously. But then I had more intermittent visions (*) with RS in which he was still dressed in the NSCG song.

Somewhere during the day I went to use the washroom and somehow I was reminded of this quote by Oscar Wilde - "A true friend will stab you in the front." It got highlighted to me along with the vision of Death Conqueror stabbing my back.

Jema left early due to a familial reason and I was left alone in the room, though there was one more person there, he was as good as no person because of his immoral mental inclination. So I left too after a while as I again felt the need to rest with Jesus. But when I was out of Gate No. 4 of the Science Faculty, I felt as if I had nowhere to go. Because I couldn't sit in the dept as I felt mostly spent, and I didn't want to go to my room in the PG. The idea just felt too repulsive. I stood there for a while and thought about the situation. I strongly felt a feeling of not belonging in this place! I marched on the path to my PG anyway.

I went into bed as soon as I reached PG, because I didn't have any strength to do anything but needed rest with God. I didn't even want anyone to see my face. I just didn't want. So I covered it with my arm. I fell half-asleep after a while but I was still having that feeling of restlessness and didn't really gain any rest. I often think about how it used to be when I still had my privacy. I used to happy and content though I didn't have my PhD stipend back then. I could enjoy the solitude and the soothing calm of time, alone or with others too at times. But now I just couldn't go anywhere where I would have that back again. And it has been years now since I have been living like this! I thought about the damage this piece of filth caused to my earthly life. Well, his body is a piece of earthly filth only, and if he wasn't in his body and was still with God in heaven, he wouldn't have done this.

As I laid in my bed, I had some strikingly beautiful revelations (visions) with RS again.

3. Ranveer Singh in Sparkling Blue & White

I saw a distant view of RS dressed in a blue coat suit with a tucked white shirt inside as he stood in a well-lit area. His outer suit was sparkling in what seemed like powdered diamonds, and was buttoned at the belly. He had two red hearts in front of his eyes, had his usual contouring beard and a hairstyle of neck-length straight hair slightly curved inside. I saw these visions towards my left mental view. The next thing that I saw in my left view was him landing horizontally on a lady (me) with a shiny sparkling red heart-shaped balloon in his hands held at the level of his chest, still dressed in sparkling attire. The balloon was slightly less than a meter in its width. When he landed, he was smiling teethfully and looked quite joyful. The shiny red heart-shaped balloon was now between them. It was a string of sweet and heart-filling revelations. The next thing I saw was a close-up vision of him moving forward towards the sight of the vision while I was facing him and was walking backwards. Interestingly, he had his knees bent in the shape of a squat as he moved ahead and the vision focused on the muscular shape of his legs showing through his pants as he squat-walked with me. He was still dressed in the blue and white suit but this time I noticed that the suit had some golden streaks near the belt area too, which also reminded me of Saber's dress - a mix of blue and white with golden streaks along the borders.

And when I had written a part of the above at around an hour back, I had yet another vision in which I saw a distant side view of him at the left side in the same clothes but this time bent on one knee with a bouquet of colorful flowers in his hands presented to the lady standing in front of him to the left of the vision. The vision stayed for a while and even after I had laid down to finally sleep, kept being repeated. So I turned my laptop on again and wrote it now itself.

I would classify this revelation as a diamond revelation of the revelations that pertained to people. Almost all the revelations that reflect a truth between me and God are diamond revelations to me because they show my intimate bond with Him. But this is the only revelation pertaining to a human that matched that level because of its character quality.

RS carrying a Wooden Stool

I was still resting when I had yet another flash of revelation. I saw RS dressed in a white half-sleeved vest stuck inside brown pants and carrying a wooden stool with long legs on his right shoulder as he walked across from one end of the street to the other towards the house in front. Supposedly, he was taking that stool inside that house and interestingly, had a small bulge at his lower belly too. But he still looked good enough. He may not understand this revelation, but the one whose mindset this shadow revelation represents will understand it very well.

4. 'RUINED'

Later when I was still in bed, what came to my mind was the incident from today where a dark girl was saying, "Agar de deti to aaj certified nhi hoti." ("If she had given it away, she wouldn't have been called certified today") She had indirectly said it to me on my way to the canteen in the afternoon with Jema. Following this incident from today was the vision where I saw the top of the first page of a group of pages being stamped and when the stamp had lifted I saw a circular red stamp print within which was written 'RUINED'.

5. The Vision That Had Followed 'A Kiss of Love'

After the AKOL vision, I had an immediate follow-up vision in which I saw the back of a naked man who was bandaging my severed neck going from left to right while kissing it at the same time. I have written about it previously, but I mentioned that person as Glory because it was what made sense to me at the time that I had that vision. I never saw the face of the bandaging person. In that revelation, I had short neck-length hair of my original quality, and laid with my eyes half closed as I moved my eyelids lightly.

6. The Fall

I had been seeing 'the sick lady in bed' and 'the fall' parts of the song in the spirit for more than a week.

Dreams This Morning; Struggling to Carry the Cross; The If-Then/When-Then Revelations; Lucy Sees Through; Ranveer Singh at the Centre

13 April 2023
17:39

I had this dream today morning.

1. Dreams This Morning

Roaming Around in Lingerie Set

In this dream, I found myself walking around in what looked like a concrete building with a tent-like opening without a door. I was wearing just a lingerie set. Apparently, that's how it has been as viewed by outsiders. I was in a tent-like building and was about to walk up some stairs when I saw some men stop by outside the tent. I got down from the stairs and as I did I found myself adjusting one of my breasts in the bra the way that I do in the washroom when I change clothes after bathing. They all looked inside and at me, and their expressions didn't show their pure hearts. I could see the filth inside of them. I walked into the room to my right away from their sight.

The Doodle, The Beating and The Bandaged Man

The next thing, I was in a huge hall with my mom and dad. I was still dressed in that lingerie set as I laid on a single bed near one side of the hall with the open kitchen area to my left on that side of the hall. My mom was telling me to focus on my PhD work. My 'Trust in the Lord with all your heart' diary was lying there too. My dad dropped in later too. Both of them were acting as if I hadn't been doing enough. My mom opened my diary and showed to my dad pointing to a doodle I had made on the left page near the middle and tried to make the point that I indeed wasn't doing enough. I tried to argue that it was normal to doodle. I didn't argue in an offensive tone though. But he got enraged and charged at me to beat me up. I resisted but he got further enraged and asked for a stick. He found a strong wooden stick from the kitchen area and I knew then looking at their expressions that both of them were going to beat me up severely. I then had dream-visions of my dad hitting me with that stick blindly, repeatedly and ruthlessly as both were busy hitting me. The actual scene wasn't shown. But what was shown after a while was the back of a woman who laid on her side on that bed and had black tattoo marks all over her body with a cloth wrapped around her body like a rope. At some distance from her was a person fully bandaged in white horizontal strips. Even his face wasn't visible. I saw blood oozing out at some places through his bandages. It was more concentrated around his toes. Though he was bandaged and was still losing blood, he was walking effortlessly without faltering. When he reached near me, I grabbed hold of him and drained down the excess blood that had accumulated on a certain surface that was near me. I knew that the lady was supposed to stay lying there and that the place wasn't safe anymore.

The Escape

I started walking towards the exit of the hall and immediately stopped there a car from the left lit internally in magenta. There was a Punjabi with turban sitting on the driver's seat. And we all rushed in the back seat of the car. There were a few people with me who had to leave the place as well. I had many small skyblue rubbery things in my hand that I dropped inside the car as well before getting in. The car drove us far away and entered a busy road to the right of which laid tall buildings through which a street ran perpendicular to the right. Towards the end of that street laid a door to the left and he dropped us there. It was represented as a supposed safe place in the dream. We were all inside the door now. I saw someone come and stop at the open door's front as that person looked inside. I was trying to close the door so that we will have to face no threat. But the door wasn't closing and got loosened instead at the edges adjoining to the wall.

The second dream

The CowRhino Attacks

I was later sitting on a classroom bench that looked like Room No. H's. I sat at the corner facing the other end of the room. In front of me sat an animal that looked like an amalgamation of a cow and a rhino and she was hitting me on my head and shoulders. It scared me a bit. But towards the end of it someone said that she was expressing her love towards me. So I when I paid attention to her face this time, I witnessed her emotions and understood and let her hit me. Though she wasn't hitting me hard, but it wasn't soft enough to not be a bother.

I now saw that the cowrhino was going to lie on me. But I wasn't too sure of my safety. So, I put a much smaller cow on the top of me which was now represented as a cowrhino itself. The larger cowrhino dropped itself down from above on the duo, but it reached through the sides for the bigger one at the bottom and ate it up.

I was then walking towards my place but I found the huge cowrhino following me but then it got stuck within the edges of what looked like a short dark brown bridge. It fell down but was still smiling as it looked at me.

Meal With Jema and My Sick Mom

The next thing I saw was the dusty road below shown from a height above. The vision then shifted above and showed me sitting to the left of a long balcony with Jema and having our meal. It shifted to the ground below again and back to the balcony again. We looked down at the dusty road below. But when I looked inside through the long vertical window, I saw my mom lying on the bed in front covered with a printed red quilt with her eyes closed. I thought, "she wasn't there previously." The inside of the room resembled my PG's room (D1).

After I had woken up, I had no energy to even move by a little amount, and to get up, bathe, and be ready for the dept. Also, Jema wouldn't had been there either because of a familial reason. She will most probably be coming from Monday next week. So I didn't feel like going to the dept because I didn't want to sit around a person like Deepak who is so filled with ungodly thoughts and works for the devil. I have told him many times about Jesus who is God, but he still talks about fights, slaughter, murder, and other immoral ungodly things like they are a normal part of his life and it makes me want to just stay away from him. One can't just tell when he would say something which is covertly ungodly and sickening. So I didn't want to be in his presence in the room especially when Jema who was a positive presence wouldn't be there. If I was in a normal circumstance where he wasn't implanted to serve as a messenger of wickedness, I would've managed in his presence, but not with the current mind when I have become sick of all kinds of abusers!

2. Struggling to Carry the Cross

Anyway. I was lying in my bed when I had a distant vision of a person dressed fully in long off-white robs struggling to carry his cross. He tried to pick it up and take a step but eventually fell down under its burden. I knew that it represented me. I thought to myself, "If I love Jesus, I will endure and carry my cross to the very end." We are supposed to carry our cross to our place of crucifixion/sacrifice. I then saw Jesus carrying His cross and making it to the end. I knew that I too would have to pick up my cross sooner or later and continue ahead on the journey. And I further understood the significance of the 'Jesus' in magenta revelation as I have started to spent more time in bed resting and charging up. But even in the rest, I receive revelations that are seeds to be released and planted.

I missed dept and could only find enough strength to get up from my bed when it was afternoon. Before that I was overpowered by the feeling that perhaps I was going to be dead on my bed within a few days looking at my condition. It also reminded me of the 'Loki With Cotton Buds' vision in which Loki wasn't actually dead but was portrayed as being so with his eyes partially open as he looked spent.

And then I had this vision today as well. I saw just the wrist part of me wearing the striped black and white top that I wore out with Jema on Monday.

3. The If-Then/When-Then Revelations

Some shadow revelations also represent If-Then or When-Then scenarios. 'If' or 'when' Death Conqueror is able to make both his eyes angel eyes, and repents, 'then' he would also be accepted by me and the revelation of him being in my home would be plausible. Likewise, 'if' or 'when' my roommate reaches the level of humility and introspection as was shown in 'The Carrier Bus' dream, 'then' she would be on my bus to Heaven, and also if/when she has gained enough character to shout praises to God while being dressed Holy, she would no longer be behind me like she was in the bus, but would be beside me like she was shown in the small car to the Huge golden hotel with 'BARUK HABA' written on it.

And in the case of Glory, he was the first one I made the if/when conditions known to long back, as was revealed to me by God in th prophetic dream! I made it known how the wedding dream was supposed to unfold according to the standards set by God. If/when he has enough of 'whatever is needed' in him to present an actual proposal and invite me using his God-given tongue to the place of wedding, then the situation will also manifest. Likewise, if/when I have lost enough belly fat, I would also move further ahead on the track of the fulfillment of the dream and can walk out one moonlit night to look for Glory like the woman does in the Song of Songs 3.

Song of Solomon 3

The Message

3 1-4 Restless in bed and sleepless through the night,
I longed for my lover.

I wanted him desperately. His absence was painful.
So I got up, went out and roved the city,
hunting through streets and down alleys.
I wanted my lover in the worst way!
I looked high and low, and didn't find him.
And then the night watchmen found me as they patrolled the darkened city.
"Have you seen my dear lost love?" I asked.
No sooner had I left them than I found him,
found my dear lost love.
I threw my arms around him and held him tight, wouldn't let him go until I had him home again,
safe at home beside the fire.
5 Oh, let me warn you, sisters in Jerusalem,
by the gazelles, yes, by all the wild deer:
Don't excite love, don't stir it up, until the time is ripe—and you're ready.

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Song%20of%20Songs%203&version=MSG>

Likewise, 'if' Awadhesh Prasad continues to behave and think in the ways he does, 'then' he will have to face the fan incident as well.

And Death Conqueror should forget that he can use me while having someone else with him at the same time. Because that's not the will of God. 'The Carrier Bus' represented a time of inner transformation that they will be undergoing. And though he may be with other people at different times, he won't be a part of my life during those times.

4. Lucy Sees Through

Lucy sees how things work around her in a way not visible to others. This goes with the incident written about in 'The Communing Tree' on Page 270.

5. Ranveer Singh at the Centre

Some minutes back, I had opened the Pepsi Ad song to complete editing it as I had put it on halt for long enough now. I then got distracted by mosquito bites so had to take an Odomos application break. When I laid back in my bed afterwards, I saw the half of upper half of Ranveer Singh from the ad video in the center front of the song, this time in a night background, with a low-intensity mustard-colored light effect. He was looking forward in the direction of the vision and appeared to be singing it as his mouth moved along as the subtitles appeared along at the bottom, though no sound was heard. At a good distance of about 20 meters behind him ran a horizontal balcony with a vertical pillar present to his right across which ran a group of men dressed in grey to the right as they passed by the pillar. He then slightly moved his upper body backwards and turned his face to the left making the prophetic symbol while he still continued singing the song.

What a great pleasure to know that he would inherit the Kingdom of Heaven while being one of the promised children of God who come to Him through me.

1. Offering Breast Suck - #9 on Page 95

I am writing the revelation and the back story in detail here. When I actually had the revelation, I hadn't yet started writing all the revelations that I received as I felt that some were too personal which I would rather not share with the whole world. But as it stands, I have to write everything. I have only left a few that were redundant because I knew that the Prof was a godly man seen and recognized by God and I had immense respect for him. So I refrained from writing about the few incidents where he stumbled because of the stumbling blocks put in front by someone else, because those revelations didn't represent his real nature reflected most of the time.

Last year I visited a home at the back of my PG. It was mid-2022. But there were a few huge reasons behind my visiting it. First, by that time I had had the revelation of a semi-animated huge innocent-looking white camel lying thirsty (almost dead) outside on a railway platform. In that revelation, whenever I went to the roof and looked down, that camel laid there, and no one was giving it water. The facial features resembled Glory's. Additionally, I had had the praying-in-tongues revelation of me being Rebecca as well back in 2020 when I was still at home in Haryana. So, I knew that it was upto me to give water to that camel because Rebecca fed water to the camels that pertained to the family of her wedlock. The camels had come to her place with the groom's father's servant who was sent to find a bride for his son in that area. When the servant had reached the place in the evening, he and his camels were thirsty. The servant sat near the well where women came to fill water at that time of the day, and prayed that let the lady who by herself came and gave water to not only him but also his camels, be the one who is chosen for his master's (Abraham's) son (Isaac).

I then had a vision that repeated itself twice in a row. It was an instruction. In that vision, the side-view of my upper half facing to the right was shown. I wore my floral orange butterfly top and took a breast out from above. It was a very shocking revelation for me because I hadn't even talked to this fellow even once. But God had already spoken the word about him and me being Isaac and Rebecca, respectively. So I knew that even if I may not have talked a lot to him, he was still chosen by God for me and therefore I already felt a sense of connection because of the revelations of me being Rebecca and him being that huge white camel. During the time of the vision, I had shoulder-length frizzy hair and was about 85 kgs too. I had the XXL size of the butterfly orange top at the time that I had the vision. Now, I knew that Rebecca went by herself to give water to the servant and his camels after she spotted him sitting there looking all spent. So, I knew that I too had to go by myself. Though in my case, there was only one camel that laid thirsty below whom no one was tending to. Looking at his condition in the dream made me really worried about him as he laid there motionless with closed eyes. This particular day I felt the urgency in my spirit and additionally, I had been indirectly given a time-period by Glory to make a move. He made it known that they would shift otherwise. This made me think that perhaps now is the time to give water to the camel. So, I gathered some courage and went ahead with looking for the camel whom I thought I will find in the home at the back. When I was still at my PG, I was thinking about the way I was going to feed the camel because definitely I didn't want to do it publicly in a way that would embarrass me. How was I going to take one breast out publicly. So I took my orange and black scarf and found a way to crisscross the long scarf in a way such that both my breast and the head of the other person won't be visible. I practiced making the crisscross a few times and then left to visit the home at the back as I had seen Glory there a few times.

When I reached there, I didn't find him but had a long chat with an old man. I told him about the camel dream and about me being Rebecca. Towards the end, he said something like, "I don't believe/understand your story. I am sorry." And then he gave me a stern look which told me that I had to leave now so I left quickly but before leaving I made sure to tell him about Jesus.

Anyway. The above was the prelude to me actually going to visit the home after searching for its entrance which took a while as its location was not so apparent looking at the location of the backside of the house.

2. A Better Day

This morning I felt much better. I was able to do some chores, cleaned my table and made my bed. I was able to take a bath, get ready and leave for the dept. I was in a much better state than yesterday when I couldn't even speak or open eyes until it was around noon. I have come to the understanding that forgiving people feels so much better rather than having to hold on to the words they said or the things they did. They hurt for a while, but then I confront it with the truth and convince myself of the same, and after a while, I am rid of all resentment and negative feelings.

People don't always hurt you physically, but they also hurt you by speaking lies about you, slandering your character, and saying things that are false. When I get to hear such things, I look at their words, and then at my history of life in which I have come a long way in my spiritual journey, have seen God for real, have kissed His spirit, have also been called His fairy by Him, and have been kissed by Him on my cheek, in 2016 or 2017, which is just such a very special thing to me. I was never expecting it. But He did it because He found me worthy of it because I had given Tejaswi a kiss on his left cheek with a pure heart filled with love. God saw it and gave it back to me though the guy may not have been worthy of it. He even danced with me with His huge Jesus arms as I sat in the workplace and was listening to worship music. Someone who only insults me and tries to make out false character flaws must be having demonically influenced spiritually clouded (perceptive) eyes.

Anyway.

This morning when I went to the dept, I found almost all the rooms of the MSB locked along with the dept's administrative office. I was trying to find a room other than my usual one to sit in because I didn't want to be in the presence of Deepak who had mostly been talking about ungodly things like murder, fights, and other sinful actions, and today I was in a better mental state, and wanted to preserve that so that I could do my work. He was the only one I had found sitting in the room when I had reached there in the morning. I didn't find any other space because everything was locked because of a notice of declared holiday today.

3. The Wary Prof

I realized that there was more to be written on Page 379 about how stumbling blocks try to bring godly people to sin in one or the other way if they don't guard their physical and mental gates.. People who are even the most morally elite can be made to fall in the trap of sin with a persistent bombardment of ungodly things on their physical (eye, ear etc.) gates. So we've to guard our gates despite what is being thrown at us or else our minds can be drawn to sin.

As I was still writing the addition, I had the vision of Prof TRS now standing in the corridor of the 2nd floor with his back towards my side of the corridor. His head was turned to the left and he was moving it back to the front as he looked in my direction through the corner of his eyes with a wary expression. But despite his expression, he still made the prophetic symbol and was dressed in a long and shiny dark green tunic.

1. To Win A Lost Battle - Pepsi Ad Song (Add Full Song)

I edited the second half of the song that had been lying pending for long a while back. And I did it according to the vision I had yesterday night. I put the subtitles at the bottom and added a mustard hue of low intensity in it too. This took me much lesser time. Doing it intricately was becoming difficult as my video editing software works slower with longer videos now, perhaps because of its already-used storage. So I followed God's advice and it was done within less than 3 minutes as I had the subtitles added already and just had to readjust and refine a bit along with adding the mustard color scheme.

2. "Chal Jhutti!"

And while I was writing the above previously, I heard in my spirit, "Chal Jhutti!" ("Hush (in the sense of shooing away) Liar!") a few times in my spirit - a male's voice saying the words to me in an apathetic tone as if he didn't believe me.

Well, I shifted to my new PG today morning and have now adjusted my stuff in the smaller space which looks more spacious and cleaner than my previous PG. I noticed that my table didn't acquire dust in just a couple of minutes unlike my last PG where everything too dusty very quickly. Also, the balcony looks very clean either. The room gets cool quickly within a couple of minutes with the balcony door open at night along with a running fan. The new PG is a few buildings to the right of my previous one. The previous one was A-16, this one is A-10.

3. The Lift And The Toilet - Apoorva PG

When I was getting my dinner from the kitchen downstairs today, I noticed that the writing on the lift. To the left of the lift was written 'Shubam Lifts', which when segregated is Shu-bam Lifts, and is pronounced as 'Shu-bum'. 'Shu' in English translates to Pee. Shu-bam Lifts is therefore translates as Pee - Bum Lifts which reminded me of the dream in which I had entered a small lift of the size of this PG, but the inside consisted of my previous PG's washroom with its commode and grossly stained floor to my left. Now, in the real scenario, to the left of the lift was written 'Shubam Lifts' as well. This again confirmed that I was in the prophesied right place where God wanted me to be for this season of my life.

This new room has a window in the centre which glows in yellow light because of the yellow light bulb in the balcony. I cleaned the room further after the cleaning guy Raju Bhaiya had done his part. The table plywood is such that it doesn't collect dust very quickly unlike the last PG's where my table dusty even after I had just wiped it clean. And washroom here has unstained washbasin and commode and has a great working shower which was not so in my previous PG. There, at times even the water that ran out of the tap seemed to carry dust. It wasn't a bad PG. But it had its drawbacks. Here, though the room is small, but it's quicker to organize and clean too. Additionally, the PG provides a washing machine so I can 'impact-wash' my clothes. I was handwashing my clothes in the previous PG as I stopped giving to their laundry service because at times the clothes weren't clean and once even carried a fungal smell, and the service wasn't regular either. Here, I won't face any such problem. Also, the guys that helped me shift were very nice too and the girls that I've had interactions with by far don't seem to be like my previous PG's who only said indirect hurtful to me while pretending to be on phone, or dropped unwanted messages in the form of generic arrangements of objects. I noticed that the balcony here gives an open look when one steps outside the room while the previous PG's had a closed look. It is because the shed covering the balcony doesn't extend beyond the level of its floor by a lot, unlike the previous PG's - where though the balcony was much longer but was over covered by the shed which hid a great part of the sky when one looked above. Also, there are no side walls in the balcony which gives it look even more open. Though the room here is small, it's built smartly and is soul-filling with the cool air and the yellow light coming in from the balcony in the dark room. Also, since I am not afraid of lizards, I have no problem in sleeping with the balcony door kept slightly open. It used to cause me to stress when I used to open the door but my roommate would want it shut immediately. It was a huge problem for her, and she would make it known in a rude and rash manner. I don't have that stress here as I like the door open and the chances that a lizard is going to enter the room every time I open the balcony are quite slim. And even if something (insect or something else) does enter, it can moved out easily because the room is small and I haven't kept a lot of stuff outside leaving no difficult hiding places.

The washroom is relaxing here, as it's so clean and the shower works so well too. The previous PG's washroom, though larger was depressing because of the hard yellow stains and the water used to fall on the slab where I kept my stuff, too, whenever I bathed. I put all my bathroom stuff in my bucket and put the bucket outside in the balcony. I don't need the whole thing inside but just a loofah and soap. There is space to keep my brush holder at the top to the right of the exhaust fan so it won't get wet while bathing and gives the room an organized and spacious look too.

Also, I adjusted in my wardrobe almost all the skin products I use after bathing while getting ready for the dept. So I won't be making rounds across the room as I did between the wardrobe, the shared centre table, and the mirror, in A-16. So, this has made my life much easier. I just need to buy a hand mirror now. I can do everything while standing at just one place, instead of running all over the place while having to think and reshuffle vain data in my mind.

There is water dispenser right in front of my room in this PG, and wires tied outside the balcony railing to hang clothes, which again has made my life easier. I put my shoe rack outside which wasn't possible in the previous PG. All in all, this new room though small is far more efficient and there's no centre sitting area where one can find buddies to gossip about things. The aura of this PG is so much more better and the PG workers below are good-natured too!

I will post the testimony pictures of the lift and the washroom tomorrow.

I need to revisit A-16 again tomorrow to get my stuff from its fridge.

Umm.. there is a table at some distance to the right of this PG's lift, which also goes along with 'The Unusual PG' part of the dream revelation written about on Page 345. In the dream, there was a table counter to the right of the lift behind which sat an old man. I haven't written this part and about the glowing centre yellow window on the Page though as I took the table and the old man as a usual part of any PG and didn't think that this could relate to the spacial arrangement of things at a place. Anyway.

The time of the vision of the taking out of two electronic insects also draweth neigh.

4. Pepsi Rushing Down In My Mouth

In the afternoon, after having lunch, I felt like having a small Pepsi bottle so I went outside to buy it. I got a few other drinks too along with it. After consuming the 3/4th volume of the drink, I felt like taking a nap. I had felt like so even before going out but then I wanted to have the soft drink as well, so despite being a bit tired and sleepy, I went out. I had been busy in shifting and arranging things in my new room, so had grown by that time. As I laid on my new bed, and was in the process of going into a nap, I had a psychosomatic vision of a small Pepsi bottle put inverted in my mouth as the drink rushed down speedily covering the entire mouth of the bottle, and apparently I was supposed to be gulping it all quickly as it rushed in my mouth. But I didn't have the gulp vision, only the pouring out one followed by RS sitting on me dressed in the same clothes from NSCG with his groin part right on top of my mouth. Some of the Pepsi spilled out as my mouth couldn't contain the liquid.

Video: Difference between prophet, the gift of prophecy and hearing from God for yourself

Difference between prophet, the gift of prophecy and hearing from God for yourself.mp4

Adele explains the different prophetic levels an individual can operate in as chosen and decided by God. God wants everyone to hear from Him, and all who have His Spirit, hear from Him to operate at different levels.
After listening to this video, I had these thoughts come to me. Some hear Him to navigate through their personal life and it doesn't has much to do with hearing from Him to give Words to nations. Some hear to release His words at a larger scale - to give to different nations. Some hear His words to uncover a lie, or to expose the earthly system at different levels, as Brother Jonathan does. Some hear from Him to reach into the hearts of many people and draw them to Him by letting His nature known to them - the way He is using me to draw people to Him as He allows me to form intimate hearty bonds with people and commune with them individually - the way He does with us. He is connected to all His children, yet He has a special bond with them all and knows each one intimately and to their deepest constitution. God assigns different prophetic roles according to how He internally constituted that person, and if He wants, He can bring about changes in the person too, via different life experiences.

6. When Khyati Threw Rose Petals At Me

Last year on Feb 27th, I had unexpectedly heard the melody at the beginning of a song in the spirit. It is written about on Page 20.
Video:
<<Sur (The Melody of Life).mp3>>

Sur (The Melody of Life).mp3

I then started listening to this regularly along with others. One evening I was walking on the roof and was listening to this song as well, when I had the vision of Glory dancing in a circle of radius of about 3-4 meters from me. He was fully naked with a plate of red rose petals in one hand while with the other hand, he threw them at me as he moved around me while looking and smiling at me. I had this vision during the early part of the previous year.

I just thought that if he can do that, can he not just approach me like a normal person?

19:57
I also realized this evening that the black-dotted pattern on the floor on top of a mustard background depicted how the new room's floor looked with the balcony's yellow lights turned on. When I had entered the room in the dream, I was looking down at the floor and then I looked straight at the front and saw a bright mustard window with two doors like the one that's there here.

7. Fishes Left Their Bodies In 'Clean' Water

Yesterday my mom told me that the last two fishes in the aquarium had died. My brother then told me the details. He was cleaning the aquarium and so had to shift the fishes to a different container. As he shifted them to a container carrying clean water, one of the fishes immediately jumped out of the bucket and the other died in the water. It made me think a bit. The first explanation one would think for such a situation would be a change in environment. The fishes that were previously living in the water that hadn't been cleaned for long died due to the shock of being suddenly shifted to a clean environment. This was a trivial reason to think. But after a while a deeper spiritual significance of the incident dropped in my mind. The fishes had to 'leave their body' when they were moved to the clean water. This goes with the fact that no flesh can inherit the kingdom of God. One has to leave one's body before one can be a part of the sinless kingdom of God.

8. The Hostel Dream(s)

I was in rented accommodation with shared washrooms. I had to use one of the washrooms but both the available cubicles had a problem. One of the washrooms had faeces lying in front of the bathroom door. It seemed to be some animal's. Hostels often have cats that roam freely and excrete anywhere. While the other washroom's door couldn't be closed.

In yet other dreams, I had a difficult time in the hostel as well as girls kept creating undesirable situations and behaving in ungodly ways. I shifted from one cluster to another too in the dream.

The Fleshly Revelations Are Not Really Fleshly

17 April 2023
01:31

In one of Derek Prince's sermons on YouTube, I heard Him explain how praying deeply to God had the same significance as having intercourse with your spouse. It leads to greater intimacy and strengthens the bond. And that's also why praying to the devil is equivalent of cheating on God. A Godly man who loves God and wants to know and follow Him intimately may be stuck in one of the devil's doctrines, but God still has His eye on Him and wants Him though that person is unknowingly committing adultery against God. God will make a way and bring that person to Him. God has me form deep bonds with many people. I was a one-person person previously. I felt that if I only had one person with whom I could realize the bond that I was capable of having, and who would cater to my inner self at the deepest level, then I wouldn't need anyone else. A bond that had no misunderstanding and no worldly judgments made possible because of the communing inner selves of the individuals, inner selves that were independent of the world and separate from it, which would help the partaking selves to discover hidden layers of their inner selves bringing contentment to their souls in the process was what I wanted - all of which require untinted communication. I felt that I had found what I had wanted in Meera - that even if we were just friends, we knew things about each other that many others who knew us for a long time didn't. Though I was friends with other people too, they didn't know my core character traits, and the same with her, but her case always came with surprises. She would behave in an immoral way and then twist the truth which would challenge your moral reasoning. But I knew her much better than others did. It's not that I haven't had good bonds in my life. I thought I had the best time of my life with her because of who she was, though it was followed by betrayal. She was less about morals and more about the status of the person. I realized later that one huge reason I came close to her was that she accepted me and gave me space though she didn't have a strong sense of right and wrong. Though she knew many things about me, I realized later that I wanted a moral person in my life and not her who called herself spiritual but would befriend a narcissistic womanizer and deceiver like Tejaswi and called him the gem of her life because he was knowledgeable in false doctrines of the devil. She often said during our BSc days that I should've been a man, she would've married me then. I could tell that she meant it, but I never thought in those terms and felt that we had something pure and special.

Anyway. My capacity of having a communing bond was often limited by the other individual. Only in the case of Meera, I felt I had got what I had always wanted. But as I realized later, it wasn't really what I wanted. Though I had a loving bond with her, I didn't like her attitude towards always doing the right thing and not be a partaker with people like Tejaswi. So I left her eventually.

The inner self was very much real for me and the only thing that stood out when I interacted with people. It is God alone with whom such a relationship is possible because He already knows everything about us and knows how to change our hearts, though we cannot give Him back the same relationship that He gives us, because though He may be knowing the secrets of our hearts, we don't always know His', unless He makes it known to us. He makes things known to people as He sees fit according to their hearts and the purpose He has for them. We can only praise Him for His Holiness and love Him as much as we can with all our hearts. We cannot match God in His perfect self, but we can follow Him as He leads us.

When God gives me intimate revelations with people, I don't receive them as being physical. I receive the underlying message of the communing of hearts encapsulated in those revelations. I won't go ahead and do those things with those people because it's defiling to the conscience to indulge the flesh. However, it is an enrichment to the soul to indulge the heart. When we pray to God, we indulge our hearts and souls, and a physical equivalent of the process would be the act of intercourse. In the same manner, I receive the revelations that He gives to me besides those in which the other party is wicked and is acting out of the objective to gain control and get its way despite being in the wrong and hurting the other individual - like abusers do. In those cases, I know that the revelation no longer pertains to the communing hearts of the people, but entirely to the sinful and loveless act of indulging the flesh.

It's one thing to indulge the flesh and another to indulge the heart represented as a symbolic fleshly act - like the orange and black butterfly hovering on the white ball of the Spirit, followed by the revelation of the pattern of butterfly wings appearing on my lips.

May 1st, 2023 (23:20)
When I was writing the above para while lying on my bed back in A-16, I had the following vision.
Vision (Room D1, A-16): I saw in the area of my left upper half my ex-supervisor Awadhesh Prasad dressed in a white full-sleeved shirt checkered with grey lines at some inches above as he moved his body up and down. If he understands the meaning of the above para and knows to connect with people at a deep hearty level, he should know that that's the physical equivalent of doing the maxima minima that he was communicating through Deepak that he wanted to do with me.

And Deepak should stop doing the devil's job.

Progression; Oh God, You're Great!

17 April 2023

When I shifted to A-10 on Saturday, and was organizing and setting my stuff up in the wardrobe, I kept seeing in the Spirit the vision of certain lyrics of the song NSCG with the lyrics played along with it.

1. She Got All Over On My Lips

The dance move is important because it was repeatedly shown to me in the Spirit throughout the day along with the lyrics playing in my spirit.

<<1She Got All Over On My Lips.mp4>>

1She Got All Over On My Lips.mp4

This dance step was also flashed to me in the spirit.

The Dance Step

<<2The Flash of Dance Step.mp4>>

2The Flash of Dance Step.mp4

The entire song played in my spirit intermittently throughout the day.

When I had first watched this song many years back, I had really liked the choreography and the camera work, especially the part shown in the first video above. I used to watch the song once in a while often. I watched it many times in total when I had first come across it. It's amazing how God brought it to life in my own life though I can't dance like that - at least not without practice as of

now. But, it's almost like God granting me one more desire of my heart like He did by granting me the roles of 'Saber' from 'Fate/Stay Night', and 'The Bride' from 'Kill Bill'. God highlighted that part to me for more than one reasons. One was to show the developing bond, and another was to neutralize the effect of a similar thing that 'someone else' does/did.

And while I first started editing the video part of the 'She Got All Over On My Lips', I saw Glory crying silently in a stifled manner being unable to contain himself. But this part of the song is what I had already seen. It had to be written. Apart from being Rebecca, I am also the supposed 'Mother of All Nations' who will birth many future children of God - the promise being represented by the prophetic symbol.

The night of the day I shifted here, I was woken up by mosquito bites on my arms. They had entered through the open balcony door. When I did fall asleep, the next morning I woke up in the morning from a short dream.

5. My Mom Rebukes

In that dream, I first had a vision of my mom getting angry at my youngest brother Divyanshu for his underperformance in his exams and then she went about giving him a beating. The next thing I saw was me sitting on the bed of the second bedroom in my parental apartment. I heard my mom and brother in the hall where my brother was begging my mom in a hurt tone to not hit him. She must be having something in her hand as he said, "Mummy please, Mummy please!" while crying. I wanted to get up and stop what was about to happen but I found it very hard to get up from the bed as if something was slowing me down and stopping me. I was on my way struggling to get to the scene and was anticipating that she must have already started to hit him when the dream ended and I woke up.

After I woke up, I texted my brother to take care and briefed him about the dream. I fell asleep again.

The second time I woke up was from a sentence my mom said something to me in a rude and sarcastic tone in a dream vision. What she said resembled these lines, though I can't recall the exact words at places. But she had said three segregated things that I was supposedly doing with someone.

"Ye kya tum log taange choudee karke, ek dusre par chad kar, headlock karke pade rehte ho!" (What are you fellows doing as you keep lying on each other with your legs spread while being in a headlock position.)

Earlier that particular night I had removed my trousers before sleeping. I felt stuffed. I wanted to have some air and feel lighter. I was still wearing underpants though. My mom perhaps saw the same since these days everyone has their minds fixated on the online telecast of the spaces around me.

Though she didn't say these words to me, she wrote to me on Whatsapp, "Aurat sawtri bhi paida hui hai aur woman waisa bhi." (A woman is born who is a pure person, and (another) woman who's a whore is also born.) But then she says a lot of things about the woman with whom my dad is supposedly having an affair. So, I guessed that she said that about that woman near my dad's new working place.

Anyway.

The same morning I also had a dream pertaining to my ex-roommate Akhila.

6. Deliverance and The Reflected Inner Self Through Eyes

In that dream, I happened to run into her in a public place and started talking to her. She was unreasonably rude and condescending as usual. I asked her repeatedly the same question if I ever tried to say or do things to hurt her intentionally. She didn't reply but always diverted from the question and started talking about something else rudely. Finally I put both my hands on her head and prayed for her deliverance. I said something like, "The demon which is inside of her, which has influenced her, leave her in the name of Jesus. Get out of her in the name of Jesus." I had to repeat the 'Get out of her in the name of Jesus' part many times, almost as if it was a tug of war. It seemed as if I had to keep pressing on for the demon to leave her. Then suddenly her countenance changed, and she gave me a huge teethfull smile and I could tell that she no longer had that arrogance that she was previously exhibiting. I then hugged her tightly with her upper body lying on the table - she being dressed in a dress with a rectangular stretchable bosom area with vertical protruding folds, and me hugging her while pressing tightly against her, being at the top. As the dream progressed, I came across a short child as well, short to the level of my knees and supposedly he was influenced by a demon as well.

I then came across a short race track meant for toy cars to the left of which was a well-lit room in yellow light at some steps above the ground.

I found myself praying repeatedly for protection or deliverance again.

Her Demons Manifest

Later during the day I visited A-16 again to get my fruits from the fridge, my adult diapers from inside the bed storage, and to click a few pics of the washroom there. As I knocked at my previous room, she opened it and her expressions reeked of hatred as she looked in my eyes with that demonized look at her face. The demons were routing inside her eyes. I have seen her demon manifesting many times. I can tell it by looking at some of her specific expressions. Those expressions don't look like that of a human but rather quite animalistic and reptilian.

The Constant Flipping

I just got reminded of another incident from some years back, when I was still very fat and had short haired veg cut. It was perhaps late 2019 or Early 2020, but it was still winter. I was staying in the Veera PG in the D block then. I was walking out of the corridor at the ground floor of the MSB when I happen to catch sight of Death Conqueror sitting right in front at a distance of about 10-13 meters on one of the steel chairs. He was dressed in all black, and was sitting with his legs crossed while pretending to be on phone but looking in my eyes at the same time. As I looked in his eyes, I saw a number of persons peeking out from him, a constant flipping without the presence of a stable continuous self. I immediately turned my face away from him and walked away. I could tell that he was slightly pissed by the way he too immediately looked away with a certain expression.

Why would I go and talk to someone whom I knew had been stalking me. I hadn't yet come to God during that time and didn't have much revelation about anything. Though now I know that there are only two personas residing inside of him - the angel eye and the devil eye, and nothing more. The angel eye had a whole and consistent look of angelic or godly character, while the devil eye had a volatile look. What I had seen that day in the dept saw was an amalgamated resultant of the two.

Consistent Eyes

When I had seen in Glory's eyes that day in the laptop repair shop back in 2021, I didn't see a flipping. I saw a subtle innocent consistency.

7. Night Visions

Yesterday night when I laid on my back on my bed to sleep, I had a few quick visions.

I saw a slightly distant vision of RS in a sitting position in the space above me, and he had a long iron cylindrical rod in his hand with which he hit on my mouth with brute force. But interestingly it didn’t hurt me. He did it a few times.

8. It's an Instruction

Just to make things clear, the vision where Glory took two electronic insects out of a well-lit pink tissue tunnel while kissing me is an instruction for him to follow/obey.

9. The Day Today

Today I returned early from the dept (around 4 in the evening) as I had to write about some revelations. I have to do so now on a daily basis. And I've now learned to write in a better-connected manner which relates the timings of the incidents and that of the revelations well. If things are recorded timely, they stay up to date. My job is not to give high-profile seeming 'Words' from God but to record this story of 'love' as it progresses, and when I do it on a daily basis, things stay manageable.

I also learned that I don't have to look at all my coming days as of now but live for the day and take today as it comes, and fulfill its part without worrying about tomorrow, or else it'll be unbearably stressful to think about how many times I have been stripped publicly and how many more times are left.

While I was working on my laptop in my PG, I came across a suggested post on my browser's web page about YRF being reluctant to work with Ranveer Sing. I got curious and wanted to know the reason so I clicked opened the link. As I read through, I got to know that it was because of some of his past movies that didn't do too well at the box office.

Cirkus - The Movie, and the revelation 'The Circus And The Nose' (on Page #137).

One of them was 'Cirkus'. Its name reminded me of the dream revelation 'The Circus and the Nose' that I have written about on Page 137. I had received that dream somewhere during the last few months of the past year, though I released the revelation in later. I didn't release the revelation previously because I felt embarrassed to write about the nose-cleaning process that I was exhibiting in the dream using my hand. But eventually, I wrote. In that dream, whenever I was done with my nose-cleaning process, I saw Ranveer Singh come walking to me dressed in shabby dark clothes while carrying a schoolbag on both shoulders. His complexion was also darker in that dream. He would come walking swiftly towards me and would stop at a distance of a meter or half of it or so, while looking at me with expectant eyes. I didn't know at the time of the reception of that dream that he had worked in a movie related to circus.

Cirkus was released in Dec last year.

The revelation had seemed quite unusual to me, so I kept in in the jar of unwritten revelations.

When I realized that the revelation was actually related to his movie and was perhaps given because of it, I thought, "How differently would the movie have fared had I written previously about it, or if it would have made any difference at all?" This made me feel guilty by a lot as I felt that I did not do my job well. I repented before God and thought what if He scourges me in Heaven for not releasing revelations on time (JK). I know that God has a timing for everything. And I also know that He will forgive me if I repent with a true heart. I waited for the time I was ok with writing about the gross nose-cleaning act. But whatever would have been the outcome otherwise, I am glad that I have my own God-given nose-cleaning act as an extended part of the movie.

Sky blue Water drops

While I was in the dept, I took some rest with my head down on the table at the front. While I was still in my rest, I saw animated sky-blue drops of water on my right thigh on the top of my black jeans, followed by a huge animated conical shell-shaped drop of water there again.

Anyway. When I reached PG, I felt a nudge to have a Moburger. I ordered the combo of 2 MoBurgers with 2 Pepsi bottles and started editing the song video 'Nashe Si Chad Gyi' to upload on this page.

I was still on it when the delivery guy reached. I went downstairs and found a tall man dressed in a red and black full-sleeved sweater and carrying what looked like a school bag at his back.

The Boundary-Breaching Delivery Guy

He had come way inside the PG. He was walking towards me, but he didn't look like the delivery man because he wasn't carrying the order. He seemed to be hiding something in his left hand that had his bike's helmet covering it. He kept walking closer to me while I kept maintaining my distance thinking why was it that he was doing so! I started walking away towards the exit gate to get to the 'real' delivery guy. Immediately then he asked me if it was me who had to receive the order. I affirmed. I looked at the PG workers that stayed downstairs and asked them if it was allowed for someone to come inside. The weighty man in red whose back was towards me turned his head back to me and nodded a silent 'No'. I noticed that he had a hurtful expression on his face, and so were Raju Bhaiya's as he looked at me. ('Bhaiya' is a respectful Hindi word for 'brother'). I asked the delivery guy if he had walked inside all by himself. He replied with a 'yes'. I then told him that it was a PG and therefore he should've stayed outside and handed the order over from there. He replied that he didn't know that, and took the order out of his bag, and handed it to me. I then asked the PG mess workers downstairs about why did they not stop that guy from entering in. They stayed silent with the consistent hurtful expression on their faces that they had when I had first walked over to them. I went back to my room and the following lyrics played in my heart from the full Jagjit Singh Gazal that I have previously posted in my Notebook along with the subtitles on Page 245.

I Did Not Forget To Paint Your Picture

'Ye baat alag hath kalam ho gye apne (It is another thing that my hands were slaughtered)
Hum apki tasveer banana nhi bhoole.' (I but to paint your picture, did not forget.)

Video:
<<6I did not forget to paint your picture.mp4>>

I had grabbed some biscuits with tea while going upstairs back to my room again. I had the tea and biscuits and the Moburger with tea itself as having Pepsi after tea wouldn't have been good. I thought that I will have it later. I then felt like having that one chocolate-filled cookie that I knew was somewhere in my bag.

Where Are You Now?

I searched for the same and found it. And when I had found it, the following song lyrics played in my spirit:

Video:
<<7Where are you now.mp4>>

7Where are you now.mp4

Ref: Eddi Reader sings "Kiteflyer's Hill"

When I then happened to look at the cookie, on its wrapper was written 'Hide and Seek'. The lyric 'Where are you now' then played in my spirit again.

When I was done with writing the revelations for the day, I heard the song lyric play in my spirit - "Oh God Tussi Great Ho!" When I watched the full song, I knew that below was the part that I was supposed to put in here.

10. Oh God Tussi Great Ho! (Oh God, You're Great!)

The Dialogue between God and a foolish egoistic man.

Video:
<<God and The Fool - The Dialogue.mp4>>

God Tussi Great Ho (Full Song) | God Tussi Great Ho

The next day of putting the above revelation up, I kept hearing a repetition of the part of the song where the foolish man says that he made 'computer', 'robot' and 'satellite'. It reminded me of the bully who sent his drone and used 'computer', 'robot' and 'satellite' to strip me publicly. It almost seemed to be a mockery of him, as if he was feeling proud of what he had done.

Later that day I kept hearing the part of the video where God says that the foolish man's life was in his hands and therefore He could choose to do with him whatever He wanted.

1. Dream This Morning

I woke up from this dream this morning.

The Kiteflyer's Hill

I was on the roof of A-16, and I saw that there were many kites being flown in the sky. A guy on the roof a building on the far left was cutting kites using his'. He cut a kite in front of me. It made me upset. He shouldn't have done that. He then cut four kites in a line at once that hung on the wire of that PG. We tried to communicate to him to not do so as he was creating a disturbing environment and many people were flying kites to have a good time and not to compete!

The Moral Man, The Serpent Chaser and the Woman In White

The next thing I saw was some people standing near the stairs that went into a huge hall. There was a couple in there too and a person with dark purple serpent skin. There was a man who seemed to be in distress. Apparently, the serpent-skinned person was after that man's woman. The next thing shown was the side view of a beautiful woman dressed in a shoulder-less white frock with a small floral print with her hair tied at the back. She was frozen in a pose as she faced to the left (making the prophetic symbol), stood with a leg lifted at the back, her body bent forward, and her hand reaching out at the front with the tip of her forefinger touching the transparent glass wall. The vision then moved around her to the left and then outside the door. The man, dressed in a greyish checkered shirt, walked into the area and then towards the glass, and touched the woman's fingertip with his forefinger's tip from the other side of the transparent door after which the woman came to life. Both of them then went out of the building together.

The serpent-skinned guy dressed in black was present there as well and though he was acting reasonably in a socially amicable way, one could tell that he wasn't a genuinely godly person on the inside. He kept making some to and fro rounds because of a light argument or issue that had to be solved amongst the people present there. There was an arched window, on the other side of which hung Spiderman upside down in his suit with only his upper body visible, while on the side of the window that faced the vision stood the doppelganger of Spiderman who was bulkier with his fat bulging out at places and protruding along with his spiderman suit. The doppelganger was standing on his feet, unlike the real Spiderman who was stuck upside down on the arched window. The purple serpent skin also intermittently appeared on the doppelganger reflecting the truth that he wasn't the real Spiderman. The wicked doppelganger was doing weird moves while the real Spiderman stayed still and watched him.

The man understood that the serpent-skinned wicked guy was after his wife who had just come to life. So the man decided to run with his wife, away from the serpent-skinned man dressed in a hooded black robe. He lifted the woman on his back and told her to pray to Jesus to gain help against the wicked serpent-skinned man. He also told her to not shout too loudly for they might have to pray for long and they didn't want to run out of their strength too quickly. He then took off the ground and ran through the air with the woman behind his back and as expected the serpent-skinned man in black came after them as well. Both of them continued to pray to God nevertheless. They flew through the air above green hilly areas and kept praying as the wicked one was now drawing nearer to them. He finally was right behind them. He slid his hand, that had a dagger, backwards softly along the left side of the waists of the man and the woman. In the meantime was shown the vision of a beautiful man having a good and peaceful sleep with his head facing upwards at an angle as it rested on perhaps a rock in a green area in bright soothing white daylight. The low-intensity sound of the prayers of the man and the woman on the run could be heard around him as he slept peacefully. A tiny winged creature came flying to Him and said something near His ear but He stayed peacefully asleep in His sweet nap.

I could hear my phone alarm ringing in real life throughout a major part of this dream.

The next thing shown was the sight of green uneven ground from a high distance above. As the vision moved to the right, white clothes were seen lying on the ground in a line one after the other accompanied with the sound of high-pitched laughter of two people. One of the clothes lying on the ground was a white shoulderless black-buttoned upper-body tunic. As the vision moved further to the right, the dead body of the man could be seen lying on the ground after the sight of lined white clothes came to an end. The vision then moved upwards and what was seen were the legs of a woman covered with blood. The vision moved further to the right and there laid in the air the woman with her head resting on the lap of the hooded serpent-skinned man. It was them who were laughing in that synchronous sharp-pitched manner. The woman had been stripped entirely of her holy white clothes one by one, and was now floating in the air in the lap of the black-hooded man. The woman was now dressed in a golden shiny strapless bra with a long skirt of the same color below - stitched parallel at multiple levels. The hands of the hooded man were on the woman's chest above her breasts. He had very long (around a feet long) yellowish rectangular nails with flat ends. The area of the woman's body beneath his hands was filled with blood. A part of one of her legs that apparently passed through a circular opening in the shimmery golden skirt was entirely covered with red blood, and only its right passing part was visible while the other end was hidden. Both of them kept lying there and kept laughing together in that sharp-pitched manner.

My alarm rang the entire time the couple was on run but I was too sleepy.

2. You Respect and Honor What You Love

God gives me revelations that honor me because He loves me and sees my worth. He loves me and so He honors me too as His beloved child to counteract the insults of the enemy. In His sight, I am his fairy, and am covered by His blood. He sees and knows me on the inside.

Likewise if one happens to love a wicked person in character, one will find ways to defend their behavior and will even see them as being better than a good charactered person - like both Akhila and Death Conqueror have been doing. God calling both of them 'Dumbasses' has some significance that they should take seriously. My respect and worth come from God, and so do the correction and rebuke meant for them!

A while back I was looking for the Blossom print bikini of which I had the vision of a dusky woman wearing along with its matching bra. I already have the bra, but still don't have the bikini. So I thought of looking it up. I didn't find it in my size though, again. And then I heard these lyrics of a song.

3. Aisa Pehli Bar Hua Hai 17-18 Saloon Mein (This has happened for the first time in 17-18 years)

Video (Eng Sub):
<<Aisa Pehle Baar Hua Hai.mp4>>

When I was editing the "Oh God, You're Great!" part of the video on the last page that I posted today, I kept hearing repeatedly in my Sprit, "Help maang rhi hai." ("She's asking for help.") People can have their thoughts and judgments, but I heard the chorus lyrics of the song last night after I was done writing everything else.

4. God Goes To Such Extremes

It's hard to believe that God would go to such extremes to save an evil sinful man and a wicked woman, that He will give specific revelations to me to be used as a part of spiritual warfare as He sees the foresees every thing. He is using me to draw them to Him. And they are using each other to try to cause me some kind of distress.

I was thinking that why would they shove their "bond" in front of my face? It's not that they're so clean and pure at heart. It's not that they're doing something that glorifies God. What is there, then, to feel superior about!? They're only using their bodies which will only be turned to dust, if not now then eventually! But God will remain eternally. I was also thinking that it was God that they were sinning against, so they were answerable and accountable to Him, and not me that they should think that they need to do the opposite - show that they're not at all accountable but have to try to cause unwanted distress. If they had Godly love, they would not have treated me the way they did, because I am a person of God. They are of the devil as of now on whose hearts God is working to bring to Him.

Anyway.

God already did what was needed for their redemption - He went to the cross to pay for their sins. But to know this is not enough for them, as they perhaps never felt real pain in their lives but only inflicted it, so they minimize the suffering that God went through, too. God now is working on their hearts through situations and revelations given to me. It's an extreme situation that I am in. And perhaps and most probably things will get worse.

On my way back to my PG, I was thinking that they are sinning against God and they've already sinned against me. And that it was up to God to forgive them, and that I already forgave them because God has forgiven me and I didn't want to keep negative feelings in me because of foolish and wicked 'dumbasses' - dumbasses because they still continue in their behavior and have not turned Godly and to God. I also thought that there was nothing that they could do to hurt me more. I saw their actions as being only foolish. Because while I was receiving indirect threats from the bully guy, my wicked and disgusting roommate said something like, "It will take two three hours! Just get it done!" - I thought, "Really!?" From which angle is she godly? Her words were straight out of the mouth of what one would call a psychopathic abuser. If she had my character, she wouldn't have accepted him given both of them looked the same. And if he had my character, he wouldn't even have been able to think of doing such a thing that he did! But here she was, saying casually that all of 'us' (my family members) should die, and there he was, abusing a family and not feeling guilty!

On my way back to my PG, I thought about the foolishness of him sending indirect messages about them to by using other people. And a while back, I thought that it didn't really matter to me what they did. The only thing that mattered was the end product that they will be turned into, and so I will turn a blind eye to their intermediate utterly foolish stage which is ignorant and highly ungodly.

And then I thought about something a girl had passed by saying to me. I thought of asking her, "Who are you? Find a better job than delivering messages from a wicked person! Are you his blind servant and are you so morally dumb that you don't see the blunt truth of his actions!?" He didn't even seem like a 'man' to me when I thought about that girl using the pronoun 'He' for him. I thought that he was a fool who was so bloated in ego that he thought that the whole world should partake in sending his indirect messages that are supposed to hurt me. Both of them are so bloated in ego, full blown egoists. She thinks that the entire floor has to be head over heels if there's a lizard in front of her room, and that a middle-class person doesn't has the 'right' to stay in that flashy PG. I am paying the same rent here for a smaller room anyway!

God rightly showed her putting that golden chain over the PG's building!

And him!? He is such an egoist and bloated fool that he wants to control how people should feel! He thinks he can use the emotions of other people to get his way! That he will hurt others until they give in and succumb to his plan and then he can show a good face for some time and try to make some right of what he did wrong, before going back to his filth of sin again.

Both egoists called me an egoist. I may have become over-obsessed with my looks but perhaps a part of it is because of the revelations that God gave me, but at least I am not obsessed with hurting a targeted innocent person like they are, or use others to change the outer reality of a person - both of which reflect true egoism. He seems to be 'obsessed' with stripping innocent women publicly who don't go out with immoral men but block them on social platforms instead! - It's quite clear who the egoists are.

Additionally, I have heard these song lyrics many times in the spirit when I was still in A-16.

5. Mein Prem Da Pyaala Pee Aya ('I returned being drunk with the drink of love')

Video:

6. Be Ready To Be Persecuted When Things Unfold

I have written most of the revelations here. One of which was in which 'Christian' (from the Fifty shades of Grey) got arrested and was persecuted naked in a tub by personnals in suits after which he exclaimed, "It's a photo!" and spilled the beans. While there is another revelation in which I was in a home in one of the rooms of which was Death Conqueror and in which he pointed to a niche which had an infant named 'Divya'. He should change his inner self after putting much thought in which direction he wants his life to go! Because it's not that he's going to go unpunished. He was sitting in a prison suit in one of the visions and looking at me as I lay covered on my bed on my back on my bed. Sometimes I tend to think if it represented my dead body and him sitting beside it in a prison suit. He won't go unpunished if he uses his filthy devil eye to take further 'revenge' out on me!

And Glory!! The vision in which he was throwing pages in a fire, lit in a spherically sectored metallic vessel, seemed to me the event post my beheading! Because in that event he was wearing the same clothes - black t-shirt over black trousers.

I have already had the vision long back in A-16 when I was Room D4. I saw a bullet shot right in the center of my head as I opened the door! I may die, but I will die the death of a soldier of God, and not some coward who listens to an ungodly bully!

2. Understanding Reflected Revelations

Reflected Revelations represent the situation of one's life that are analogous to someone else's life. For instance, the dream in which I had meal with Jema in the 'balcony' of A-16 while looking down at the muddy road below, represented the 'meal' my ex-roommate was having with someone else while that person's mom laid on her sick bed with her eyes closed being covered with a quilt.

3. "Pepsi.. Rise Up, Rise Up"

When I was still in A-16, I would intermittently hear these lyrics in the spirit.

4. Revelations this night:

When I laid to sleep, I did not really fall asleep but had the following in the Spirit.

Vision: The Immoral Middle man who is now to my new PG's left swinging His ass back and forth as he sat down on his feet with his knees vertically bent. He was dressed in a dark tshirt and half pants and faced to the left (his face making the prophetic symbol while he danced in that manner).

Vision: Ranveer Singh in yellow t-shirt with The Bride's expression (from the movie Kill Bill), but he had an innocent expression carrying a smile and not a hurt or threatening one. He is 'The Bride' as well - a part of the body of Christ - His Bride. We're bought with His blood out of the system.

Vision: A Steel Hook Fixed on the Wall

Song heard in the Spirit:
Mela Dilo Ka (Fair of Hearts)

Vision: A Gun Touching the Center of My Forehead
A point zero blank Gunshot at the center spot in my chest between my breasts and many more such shots at my chest area above, leaving holes.

5. Tiger Shroff with Heart Eyes and a Beating Heart

I had the following vision back in A-16 when I was eating something.
Vision (Room D1, A-16, Early/Mid Apr): I saw Tiger Shroff standing at a distance, between my and my roommate's wardrobe and dressed in the white stripped red tracksuit that he wore in the soft drink ad that I had happened to watch the previous day. He was looking in my direction, and in front of his eyes were two flat red hearts. Also, there was a flat red heart at the top of the position of his real heart as the flat heart rhythmically beat, while popping in and out.

It is still the same day but I started a new page because the previous one is going to be heavy and this video below needs special attention and therefore needs to be at the top of the page.

1. The Enemy's Plan

Yesterday I happened to open the Odysee video platform to check for Jonathan's new videos as it had been long. And I happened to watch this particular one. Interestingly, the video had two matching events with the dream that I had in the morning that had the hooded serpent man chasing after a man and woman. The matching parts from the dream are the tip-touch (at 5:40) and the high-pitched laughter (between 8:43 - 8:45). So, this served as a confirmation too that I was supposed to watch it yesterday itself.

3. The Girl with White Cornea

The white-eyed girl - I had this vision somewhere within the past few days while sitting on my bed in A-10. I was facing the other bed at some distance in the front. I saw a girl sitting on the other side of the bed who was looking at me continuously. Dressed in white, her eyes had white cornea with black pupils inside. Her hair were open as she moved her head a bit while gazing at me. I brushed the vision aside and almost forgot about it.

Now that my new temporary roommate returned from home yesterday, and the white-eyed girl part of the video above reminded me of the vision, I am wondering if she is the white-eyed demonically influenced girl.

My ex-roommate Akhila was represented as having black demonically influenced eyes. She had told me on the night of the balcony fight that I deserved to be in the (black) Ganda Nala (the sewers water that flows outside my PG). And a few days back I was telling my mom that her eyes represented her demonically influenced perception of me, and that the Ganda Nala was metaphorically inside her eyes. Now I have received this new revelation about a girl on the bed right to mine. And my first roommate in A-16, Pinki, was revealed as being a cold-blooded alien too, where her legs were shown as being white and frog-like with a transparent line running across the leg and the thigh which showed the (spiritually) blue blood inside of her. I keep coming across demonically influenced people. And now I have had some experience so it doesn't shock me anymore, and neither do I don't try to convince others if they don't believe me.

I may have to change my room because of some rearrangement of people due to Air Conditioning preferences.

4. The Back Shoulder Tap

And while I was posting 'The Enemy's Plan' video with the fingertip touch and the sharp laughter, I kept seeing the vision of Death Conqueror coming from behind me and touching the back of my right shoulder with his forefinger's tip. I was sitting in my corner in my lab

The revelation below is unwritten about so I am now writing it.

5. The View From Below

I saw the side-view of my youngest brother's slightly hairy naked upper body from below while he stood and looked forward.

(ἀνακαίνωσις)
From G341; renovation: - renewing.

Root of G342:
Strong's G341: anakainoō (an-ak-ahee-no'-o)
From G303 and a derivative of G2537; to renovate: - renew.

Roots of G341:
1. Strong's G303: ana (an-ah')
A primary preposition and adverb; properly up; but (by extension) used (distributively) severally, or (locally) at (etc.): - and, apiece, by, each, every (man), in, through. In compounds (as a prefix) it often means (by implication) repetition, intensity, reversal, etc.

Up or Reversal to being whole again and no longer being in a dual state.

2. Strong's G2537: kainos (kahee-nos')
Of uncertain affinity; new (especially in freshness; while G3501 is properly so with respect to age): - new.

Root of G2537:
Strong's G3501: neōteros (neh'-os, neh-o'-ter-os)
A primary word, including the comparative (second form); "new", that is, (of persons) youthful, or (of things) fresh; figuratively regenerate: - new, young.

I have been hearing the chorus line of this song intermittently. Gujarat is an Indian state pronounced as Guj-raat which connotes the night that has passed away.

9. Jema With a Tiara

I had this vision when I was still in A-16. I was lying on my bed one night somewhere within the past week when I saw Jema in my right mental vision with a silvery curved conical Tiara on her head.

10. The Teethful Monkey

On our way back to our lab, I and Pooja were encountered with a monkey who showed us both his jaws by joining them together and pushing his cheeks aside. After a second, it came to me that he wanted me to throw my Bikano Karare Peanuts at him that I was holding in my hand. He was trying to scare us but seeing that we didn't get too scared, he backed off a bit. I too led Pooja to take a U-turn and walk away from him.
We were then having a fun convo about how the monkey's teeth were too white. Pooja replied that perhaps it was because he was still young as he didn't look fat or old, but quite fit for his height. When we had almost reached the MSB of our department, I remarked jokingly, "I was thinking if he was scaring us or trying to impress us!?"

1. The Night Scout Out

In yet another revelatory dream that I had in 2021, I saw Glory with another short-haired man checking out an area at night. They seemed to be scouting out the surroundings. Apparently, I was behind them and they couldn't see me. I then saw them jump a wall and go to the other side as they were returning.

2. Swaggy Tantrums (and High-Rated Gabru)

I heard this song first on the morning of 16th - the day next to the one I had shifted in my new PG. It was so loud, clear and uninterrupted and had started playing abruptly as I got up from my bed in the morning. So I knew the truth it had. It played continuously. It then repeated itself many times later, and during the last late night as well.

I often look sideways at my surroundings.

As I laid to sleep, I was overwhelmed upon realizing what I was going through, the state of things, and the things that were to come. I was previously watching the song 'Mela Dilon Ka Ata Hai' (Here comes the Fair of Hearts in Love) as it had played in my spirit the past night. And when I listened to it, some parts of the lyrics really hit hard, where the person sang that only these few days were there to be lived and soon they would be gone.

Listening to it made me look at all the past revelations I had received pertaining to different people and I realized that it was indeed a fair of hearts in love which was going to meet a deadly end on Earth while paving the path for a glorious entry into Heaven at the same time.

I looked back at 'The Circus and the Nose' revelation, and then all the dance revelations I had. I am yet to write about the one with Ayushman Khurana. This is indeed like a fair of hearts in love, and the fair is ongoing. And then it will all pass away and be a thing of the past - parts of it being written in plain language while some parts embedded in encoded reflected revelations that if someone new reads may not understand though the one to whom it pertains will easily understand what was being told. I never thought I would get to form heart bonds with them. I have to refine other video revelations too that I have put in the Notebook in the past. In the 'Mela' ('Fair') song, people were preparing for a battle against an enemy while singing in unison.

Realizing the 'fair' aspect of the situation saddened me and I said to God, "God, it's painful to write all of this." I turned off my laptop and laid in my bed with my head spinning in reality as I was now realizing the greater aspect of what God was doing through my life. I realized that it was a situation that demanded responsibility on my part and not complaining. That it was a huge thing that God had done.

I laid in my bed and looked at my new understanding of the situation. And that how important it was to write the revelations given by God. Because they carried truth!

I was mentally stilled by the new understanding and foresaw the earthly pain that awaited me and others.

Though I knew that I had to go to the dept tomorrow, and that it was already late at night, I couldn't decide if I should be sleeping because I hadn't written some parts of some revelations and had to edit my previous pages too.

RS in a Yellow Suit

I then had the following vision. I saw Ranveer Singh dressed in a yellow suit with a white shirt inside. He still had that beard and neck-length hair. He faced the sight of the vision as he moved his body around a bit.

Ranveer Singh - The Fearless Bride of Christ

In the next vision, I saw the side view of him getting out from the back of a black car with a stern expression on his face. His head faced to the left making a very sharp prophetic symbol. This time he was dressed in a black tuxedo suit and his face shone inwardly along with the outward shine of his suit, as shown in the revelation. He slowly walked some good steps forward in swag with the same stern expression. It was crowded and the crowd seemed to be elite. After him, stepped out Deepika Padukone (his wife) from the back of the car with her head preceding her body, just like Ranveer Singh's had. She too made the prophetic symbol. She looked very beautiful, and partly like a bride as she wore a red ethnic dress with a rectangular neck visible at the back and her hair tied at the back in a bun. She wore heavy gold round jewellry around her ears with the huge finely sculpted round part resting against her left earlobe, as was visible from the side-view. A part of her dress' beautiful long highly translucent drape flew far ahead in a wavy manner and got stuck in the left wrist of Ranveer Singh's suit. He abruptly undid it in a go and immediately became still again, his expression being back to being stern, while still making the prophetic symbol because of the angle of the vision.

The next thing I saw from a view that was now slightly shifted to the left was a localized splash of blood on his left chest as he had been hit. But even as it hit him, his expression didn't change and he kept standing still and unmoved, looking straight with a characterful swaggy expression.

Unable to sleep after realizing the time I was living in and my role in calling people to God from all walks of life, I asked God to take sleep away from me as how can I even enjoy sleep in such a situation, when I had just realized that we were in an ongoing war against the evil forces of darkness. The war that was already won by Jesus on the cross, but we now had to walk out our cross-journey on Earth. I looked at how other fellow brothers and sisters were living. Blue had once told me that sometimes she hardly slept 5 to 6 hours a day. And then Brother Jonathan was also all devoted to God's work and stayed up late most nights. While I was trying to find some respite because I still hadn't lost my sense of how things should be when one lives according to the world's standard of comfort.

A few days back, I was in a lot of mental distress as I sat on my chair at my workplace and thought about all that had happened. But then the 'Ton sourire m'ensorcelle' revelation was brought to my attention. This time I partook and the resultant feeling of connection brought me a lot of healing and peace in that moment. Almost as if it was giving me life and charging me up.

3. The Doggy Licks

Earlier this night I shifted to a different room in this PG - the one facing my previous room. After I had organized everything up and settled everything down, I laid on my bed to sleep. I didn't feel like having dinner. I started having some restful moments and then I saw Glory giving my face huge doggy licks, with his tongue being shown like that of a dog itself - wide and long. It was good.

12:18

4. High-Rated Gabru (Young Handsome Man)

This morning, while I was in the washroom, I realized that the revelation of Ranveer Singh in a black Tuxedo suit went along quite well with the High-Rated Gabru song. He too is the bride of Christ.

5. The Calm Before The Storm

This peace and apparent quietness is the calm before the storm.

17:48

Today when I was at my workplace sitting on my chair and trying to work, I was also listening to 'High-Rated Gabru' song on a repeat. I somehow couldn't turn it off. I had some visions with some people I have now formed a bond with. I will write about them after I return from the market. But I just checked in to write about this unusually peculiar vision that I had during late afternoon.

6. Glory Rips Himself Out of My Chest Like A Genie

I saw the centre of my chest (the area between my breasts) rip open from withing and came out Glory with a naked upper body ending with a tail coming out from the centre of my chest between my breasts. He was giving the appearance of a genie. As the naked Glory ripped itself out, it turned to my side and rushed towards my face to kiss me, with his genie tail still connected to the inside of my chest. He wasn't the size of a human though, but the size of a medium-sized monkey and looked beige in colour as well in the vision.

The other visions that I had while sitting on my chair:

6.1 The Dance In Black and White

I saw Ranveer Singh in a duet with a woman. The vision was contained in half-a-foot vertical view and showed only the upper bodies of the two. He was dressed in the same black tuxedo suit revealed in the vision above, and held a woman close to him who wore a white dress with a rectangular neck visible at the back and translucent sleeves. They danced in a manner that emanated love and silence as we moved slowly around with the beats of the 'High-Rated Gabru' song that I was listening during the day. They kissed a few times as they danced. The vision showed the woman's back while Ranveer Singh's front.

In the next part of the dance, the vision was now contained in an even shorter view of about 10 cms with the visible part of the human partakers contained in just 5 cms of vertical distance. I stood facing Kartika Aryan (KA) in that vision. He wore a fluffed full-sleeved shirt resembling the one he wore in the revelatory dream 'Malang Malang'. We held hands in a straight manner and not the usual dance manner, and there seemed to be a distance of around half a meter between us. The dance reflected love and silent internal contentment though we may not have been holding each other closely. The vision showed our upper halves. After a few seconds of dancing in that manner,

6.2 The Hit on The Forehead

I saw an abrupt erection of a huge penis that hit his forehead as it got erected, the hit making the sound of a baby stepping on mud. It had a length that reached a few inches above his head and covered 1/3rd of the net width of his fluffed look in that full-sleeved white shirt. Only the upper halves of our bodies were visible. The huge genitalia came into the picture quite abruptly and unexpectedly.

We kept holding our hands with our fingers intertwined in a clawed manner. The erected penis was now to the left of his head as we continued dancing in that clawed manner with the horizontal distance maintained between us. The thick erected genitalia beside his neck looked like a cute and innocent trunk of a baby elephant, though it was thicker than the trunk of a baby elephant and had the dimensions described above.

While I was writing the above vision, I saw an enraged Glory who charged at me from my left mental view, again portrayed naked in his upper body. The vision repeated itself a few times. Within a minute or lesser of continuing to articulate the above vision and writing it, I saw Glory walk in naked two steps inside of my room and shoot a few bullets at me quickly in a row and leave.

6.3 Close and Love-Filled

I was intermittently dancing with Ayushman too. It had no special events like the above, so I can't recall the exact details except for the fact that it was a love-filled dance with general duet moves. He had a beard in this vision. But even with the general moves, we held each other closely as we danced.

6.4 The Synchronous Dance of Four.

Finally, the three children of God were behind me in a horizontal line and the four of us were dancing individually but in synchrony, and in synchrony with the beats.

There's a price we pay when we love truly, we pay it by losing our lives in the serpent world and gaining the abode of true love with God in Heaven. God too had to pay the price in this system.

6.5 The Prophetic 'Spectrum' Visualization

I felt led to listen to that song during the day. And I used the spectrum visualization along with it. The visualization had many vertical bars in a line that changed their heights according to the beats of the song. I listened to it for the most part of the day. Towards the end, I felt like working out some research in the evening. And I happened to plot bar frequency plots as I tried to understand Bimodality in Alternate Bearing Trees.

After it was almost time to leave, and Pooja was ready to leave too, I started wrapping up, and as I looked at my laptop screen I saw that the bar spectrum visualizations. I thought if it was a coincidence or something prophetic about the wrapping up of my day that day.

*7. That You Leave Me, It Just Can't Be..

When I reached PG today evening and was washing my hands in the washbasin, I heard these song lyrics. They have played in my heart many times previously as well. It will speak to the children of God through me and call them back to turn back to God through the prophetic symbol of the head. I couldn't have imagined the bigger relevance of the prophetic symbol which had made itself manifest now in God' timing. If I had received my promise by now, would I have had these revelations that are not a part of my promised earthly marriage? No. It was God's will to set my wedding up at a time by when a great number of other situational changes would've manifested as according to His plan, adding to His kingdom. God's love is deep and intimate, not shallow and pretentious, or tinted with worldly standards. So, He used me to reflect His love towards His children whom He gave revelations to me about, and so others will also want to dive deeper into the revelation of who He is.

I happened to run into Mayank today in the corridor on my way with Jema to our lab. I was having my tetra pack of coffee with a straw, held in my left hand. Seeing him after long reminded me of the revelations related to him that I had received previously, especially with the coffee tetra pack and the straw in my hand. His hairstyle looked a bit different this time - they were partitioned in the middle. Perhaps his hair had grown a bit longer too. He wore the same sky blue checkered shirt but this time over shiny black pants.

I have been hearing these song lyrics since the afternoon in my spirit.

9. The Lost Poem

This was a poem I wrote long back, back during my MSc days. And it had been being brought to my attention for some time now. And I think I know why. It's to draw attention to the vision I had while writing that poem. Let me first paste the poem here.

A Short Digression

Ok. I've to wait for a while for my nail paint to dry because I have to look for the poem in my hard disk which is there inside my bed. I had bought a Red Sugar Pop nail color as my eyes stopped at it and I felt a nudge to buy the same and in one of the dreams I was wearing red nail paint too at home. Apparently, my youngest brother has had an accident as he walked with the help of a crutch and had his head shaved. Also, the brand Sugar Pop reminds me of Ranveer Singh. Previously I wouldn't have specially associated it with him, but I had a change of heart after watching the Pepsi Ad as I communed with him at a personal level this time, putting together all the pieces in my brain related to him.

And while I was editing the 'Who Wins A Lost Battle' song, I happened to choose an editing scheme that changed colors in synchrony with the bass used in the song. Somewhere in the middle, perhaps when I had done most of the editing part, the change in the color scheme reminded me of the two colorful lights that were put up in front of the home to the right of previous PG A-16's on the occasion of Diwali. One of the lights had a vertical line of changing thickness, while the other light had a conical section sectored in a sphere that changed thickness too. Apparently, it represented a hole. The lights changed their colors as the shapes of the line and the hole formed by the constituting LEDs contracted and expanded. The lights were set below a curved conical shed made of translucent colorful cloths layered one after the other. The set up was set up by Glory's people to supposedly showcase the actions of Glory after he had waited long enough for me. Afterall, he was the white camel that laid thirsty, almost dead in front of the train. The lights stayed put for many days and would sometimes stay lit for the whole night even when it was days had passed after the pagan festival. The video edit made me think, if this was God's judgment of that act, if God orchestrated this situation where I am now editing this video and am also undergoing a change in my heart toward Ranveer Singh because of how those people had behaved during the time that the light show was displayed in front of my previous PG's balcony. But that was just one simple purpose that was understood later. When I was editing it, I wanted to do it the best way I could. So it took me a looooong time, lots of revisions and last-minute changes. I even kept it hanging for a month after I had edited half of it.

Anyway. I digressed a little bit. There're other revelations of judgment too, pertaining to many people including Death Conqueror, Glory and Awadhesh Prasad. And in the case of Awadhesh Prasad, I released 'The Neck Slice' revelation the same day and didn't delay unlike 'The Circus and The Nose' revelation. So he won't have any excuse that he didn't receive the Word in time.

Well, the nail paint is easily going to take 10 minutes to dry. So let me write the vision first. The poem will make more sense afterwards. While I was writing it back in perhaps 2013 or 2014, I somehow happened to compare my state to that of a tree. Nothing else came to my mind. When I was trying to give a form to how I had been feeling inwardly for a while, I had the vision of the left side of a tree in a dark background, and the tree had black leaves. I didn't think of that tree as a representation of me, but rather that of a state. So I wrote as I saw, "The leaves are black; dry and dusty, kisses they lack." I was trying to communicate the state of a tree whose leaves had turned black because of the changes it underwent because of its surroundings. The leaves were dry because they hadn't been nurtured with the water of pure love and connection, and dusty because the mental connections that the leaves represented hadn't been used. The leaves could only be rejuvenated with love, and so I wrote the next line.

The Poem

It turned out that I had deleted the contents of my previous Notebook from my hard disk. So I had to look for other avenues where I may have shared it. I found two old online avenues I used to post stuff at. I found the poem on one of them. The other one was my personal page which I think I cleared out long back because I may have wanted to erase things that I had written out of pain because of the ex emotional abuser Tejaswi. So I must have kept only those poems that didn't have anything to do with my heartbreak, but reflected positivity.

It's not the poem I was looking for. That one got deleted along with others. Most probably I deleted it because it had negative connotations around it.

Anyway. I looked at the past poems and saw that I am no longer the same person I used to be. I have come a long way. Almost all my idols are broken and I don't have a distinct sense of human individual identity now, but a sense of God's created angel trapped inside a house body.

I can roughly recall the poem now. It was the one I wrote first in MSc. It was called "A Dead Heart". I can't recall all of it but let me write whatever I can.

A Dead Heart

A dead heart beats as well
With equal contraction and swell.
But it's dead,
For its resources have fled
To a place unknown
Where new seeds are seldom sown
The dreary numbness of the normal mask
Pretending is a hard task.

My heart, where have you fled?..
Matching the pull of a thread, you make your presence known where have you gone?
The leaves are black,
Dry and dusty, kisses they lack.
……..
……..
To be,
And be free.

I can recall that while writing the poem I felt a state of inner stifling towards the end, as if a I was not free.. I wanted to be out.. I couldn't be me.. What I saw and how things were just not enough. The inner self that wrote its agony above.. the words of the poem came from deep within. A cry of the inner being who didn't know its identity, didn't even know that it was calling out from within. But now I know the truth. It was me, God's created angel, His child, trapped in a house body airing out its voice from within, without knowing its origin. But it knew that it needed to be free. It was always reaching out from deep within and found ways and places where it could be itself, away from the company of what it considered wickedness and evil! I often stayed alone and didn't like company because mostly people didn't talk about stuff that was worthwhile. They either talked about some worldly issue or about other people, but I can look back and see that I always sought people or set-ups where I could 'realize' that inner being that wanted to be itself (godly - the term that I would use for it now, after getting to know God). The being voiced itself out, didn't know its purpose here on Earth, sat alone but happy and content filled with unexplained joy and a blind trust in something it didn't know at the moment. I always had a form of blind trust working in my life by the way I took decisions and acted upon them. But I didn't know at that time that my inner being had trusted God by default though it didn't proclaim openly so as it didn't know if God was real. The trapped child of God voiced itself out and called out its deep longing to be free. The godly being's voice came out mixed with the outward identity of being a human, but I can clearly see the inner voice and its outward amalgamation with my earthly identity as it expressed itself out. The voice embedded deep within expressed itself out, but the outward human didn't know that the inner voice was calling out for help, to be free. The outward human didn't know of the voice's separate existence, of her own inner constitution. She herself didn't know that she was calling out to God in the process of writing the above poem.

It is very much related to the revelation 'Mujhe Kaun Nikalega Is Band Darwaze Se' (#8 on Page 377)
[Eng Sub Present]
<<3_The Imprisoned Angel.mp4>>

3_The Imprisoned Angel.mp4

We all were once a spark of fiery light who are now trapped in dungeons of flesh.

In the same diary that I wrote 'A Dead Heart', I also somewhere drew a bleeding human heart and I wrote, "Kartika's heart is bleeding out.." Perhaps I will find that diary back at home. It reminds me of the vision of 'A Dripping Dry Heart' (#5 on Page 120).

Ranveer Singh understood that I listen to my heart by immersing in myself. He is not a shallow person. And I understood that it's the trapped angel that reaches out to us in our moments of quietness when we don't stay indulged in the world. I have understood it now as I look back. When we have learned to separate ourselves from the world, we are one step closer to our real identities in Christ.

Ranveer Singh was insightful enough. He is chosen by God for His kingdom because he is not sold out to the serpent system and has a godly heart of flesh and not of stone.

10. A Resemblance to 'The Armless Hug'

I came across a suggested post in my browser's homepage. I opened it out of curiosity as I had been receiving related to RS. I looked at this photo of him (I've cropped it though) and it reminded me of 'The Armless Hug' vision that I had, in which, in the place of our forearms was a stem of conical flowers of different colors with which one caressed the other.

I hope to see him in Heaven where everyone will have their glorified bodies and we will do the flying twin angel dance that I received previously as a part of revelation and that which I have previously written about.

1. Rising of a Seed

Stuck and sleek in the rut

of life's ravines, flying in the colors of its rife, rejoicing in the nut that covers the being within, and flowers the exquisite fragrance of blossoming hope.

Undulating and redundant -

the world as it goes by, one pauses often in the wake of the day's glorious visions so exuberant

yet impervious to the seer ally, and asks 'why?', what's there all to make?

Flowers so luscious, scents so delicious, sky's blue, elucidating and gauzy in hue, permeates its gaze exceeding through the vast of the cosmos, reaching up till infinity.

Amid the wandering wonderer, rests the seer - calm and plain, floating in divinity.

Let there be love, let there be light;

let the seer be seen, let the nut be bright.

Let the lover be loved, let the healer be healed;

let the fluids flow, let the depths be revealed.

Intricate web of living supplemented with giving -

let it unite all together, and feel the one weather, free of all weathers which it is.

Love so sweet, and hope so bright, fill the self with their effulging light.

Let the love be dissolved, let the hope be resolved, until no cavities remain to be sealed by another, and the only love to be found is within.

I wrote this some years back, somewhere in 2017.

I had been slightly influenced by Tejaswi's spiritual beliefs because of my interactions with him and because of my own spiritual experiences.
So, though the 'seer' part of the poem may seem pagan, it can be related to both the angel eye and the Holy Spirit that sees through us.

The poem is an allegory about the rising of God's seed inside of us after we die. 'Rising' in the sense the way our Hero Jesus rose up from the grave into His Kingdom. Likewise, His seed in us will rise back to Him as we get reconciled back to Him.

2. Drop It Down

In the morning, while bathing I realized that the revelation of the immoral fat middle man sitting down on his foot with his knees bent and his ass swinging back and forth was related with the song that I was hearing at the moment.
The song that played were that of a well-known worldly song I have heard previously.

Video:
<<Drop it Down.mp4>>

Drop it Down.mp4

But why would he do such an act? That goes with this song? Additionally, in the vision, his t-shirt had a reflected purplish hue as well. And I just happened to choose the song's version that went along with the t-shirt I had seen in the vision. He knows it the best. It seems to me that it is very much like the 'Dumbass' Revelation that God had previously given me about the my ex-roommate and her admirer who were mocking His children with their derogatory words. They don't feel guilt about their actions but rather want to inflict more of it and then mock the person by calling their abusive actions as a part of 'comforting' the afflicted.

Will these people develop Godly traits in them in time? Will they turn back to God in time? Or are they going to continue with the same rotten nature of theirs.

Their wealth and earthly status is not going to get them reconciled with God or make a way for them into His kingdom. It's through their acceptance of the Authority of Jesus Christ alone and the fact that He is God that they will be made right with God.

My previous self would've stayed far away from people like them. Better to not form a bond than to form it with the wicked.

I came across this verse number on the page of Sis Adele's recently released prophetic Word.
I have been seeing 33 for a long time and I knew by looking at the verse that it was yet another message.

3. Psalm 3:3

New Living Translation

3 But you, O Lord, are a shield around me;
you are my glory, the one who holds my head high.

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Psalm%203%3A3&version=NLT>

I went in the morning with Jema, Pooja and Deepak to the canteen to have a drink. I lifted my coffee cup with my left hand but happened to spill some coffee on the table as it slipped from my hands. I looked at Deepak who was sitting at my left front, and said that I didn't even have enough energy to firmly hold a cup. He stayed silent. I felt like adding, "But Oh, it's not too bad until one's blood is shed or bones get broken." - as that's what he had said some days back, previously, that 'they' don't consider their actions as causing damage until it leads to bloodshed or broken bones.

He speaks a lot of lies. And then later he was sharing a story about how he was falsely accused of being low in character on the grounds of which he was thrown out of a school in which he taught. He also said that he couldn't eat or drink for 15 days because of the lies said about him, that he had he cleanest background, and there were worse people in the people who have had police cases filed against them, but yet it was him who got the 'undeserved' treatment. I replied to him, not caring if what he told was actually the truth, that the kinds of words one spoke to another reflected one's own character. So, if the principal of the school said some nasty stuff about him that wasn't true, it only showed the character of that principal and had nothing to do with him. I couldn't add though in that moment that even Jesus was wrongly called by the Pharisees to be working with the spirit of Beelzebub.

Matthew 12:22-50
New International Version

Jesus and Beelzebul

22 Then they brought him a demon-possessed man who was blind and mute, and Jesus healed him, so that he could both talk and see. 23 All the people were astonished and said, "Could this be the Son of David?"
24 But when the Pharisees heard this, they said, "It is only by Beelzebul, the prince of demons, that this fellow drives out demons."
25 Jesus knew their thoughts and said to them, "Every kingdom divided against itself will be ruined, and every city or household divided against itself will not stand. 26 If Satan drives out Satan, he is divided against himself. How then can his kingdom stand? 27 And if I drive out demons by Beelzebul, by whom do your people drive them out? So then, they will be your judges. 28 But if it is by the Spirit of God that I drive out demons, then the kingdom of God has come upon you.

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Matthew%2012:22-50&version=NIV>

Seeing the kind of things Deepak usually speaks about, what he said was hard to believe, as he is often only talking about indirect murder threats or things of similar thing. I hardly have heard anything Godly come out from his mouth that only speaks the wicked messages of the bully.

In the morning, I had some dance visions again. This time I saw a closer and bigger front view of KA. He was still dressed in that full-sleeved white shirt with only 2/3rd of his upper half visible.

4. The Hit Again

I saw the elephant trunk erect abruptly again, and it hit his forehead again like a soft danda. This time it made him take a few steps backward and he went into a state of slight dizziness with his head moving around slowly while he spurred out an elongated "Ahh…" in a light tone.

This time we had a close dance, holding each other closely. And while I was writing the dance vision here, I heard the worship song that worshipped the monkey-mouthed Hindu God Hanuman, also called Bajrang Bali:
<<Jai Jai Jai Bajrangbali.mp4>>

Jai Jai Jai Bajrangbali.mp4

You see, these people keep making fun of me and jokes on me by comparing me to their Hindu Gods who seem to resemble my physical traits. So, they nicknamed me after this monkey God. Additionally, it's just a coincidence that my nickname as given by my parents at birth also happens to be 'Bander' - a Hindi word that translates to 'Monkey' in English. But I was named Bander because of the excess body hair present at my birth time. The people even held a Hanuman worshipping event at the University along the path I pass by daily on my way back to the PG. How did they get permission to do so? Definitely, they use corruption to get their way.

And I keep hearing this intermittently throughout the day.

5. The Internal Poke

And then in the afternoon, I had the vision of a straight forefinger inside an orangish red flesh cavity at the place of my heart. It moved ahead and touched with its tip the central inner surface right between my breasts, and as it did, it came along with the raw sensation one gets when one's raw flesh gets poked at.

6. The Coffee Spill

I went out with Pooja to buy something for lunch from The royal Canteen's booth. She bought a Potato Patty with Juice, and I bought a paneer Sandwich with a tetra pack of Cold Coffee. This sandwich had a slab of paneer instead of having it in crushed form. I went to get a piece of tissue again as I had used the previous one to clean up slab to sit upon it. After I was back to my seat to her right with my lunch snacks to my left on the slab, I lifted up my coffee with my left hand but before I had even put the straw in my mouth, the coffee spilled through the straw on my clothes. I told Pooja that this was quite unexpected. Perhaps the straw already had some coffee drawn upwards through it that got spilled when the pack got tilted a bit after I lifted it. That was the only explanation I could think of.

7. After lunch: The Dance With 2K's [KA and K (Glory)].

After I had returned to my room with Pooja, I sat on my chair and tried to work. I felt a nudge to listen to the song 'Swaggy Tantrums' (High-Rated Gabru) again. So I played it and put it on repeat. This time I had the vision of Glory dancing with me behind me. He was fully naked while I was fully dressed in the clothes that I wore that day - the sleeveless finely checkered black and white top over blue jeans with floral embroidery. How were we dancing? We both faced each other, held each other close, and swung our pelvises in synchrony to either side one after the other with our bodies joined close together. We continued dancing in this manner for a while. He would swing me with one of his hands holding mine above my head, intermittently, too, and then he swung me and I swirled to the left (towards my seat) where I ended up holding Kartik Aryan as I came in front of him. I was then dancing with him. He wore a black shrug with imprinted white hearts over a printed orange top. Only our upper bodies were visible in the dance. I stretched my arm forward and it smoothly went straight through the centre of his chest through his clothes, like there was a rubbery opening there. I had come across a photo of him with a fellow actress as one of my phone's randomly appearing screensavers, and he was wearing this upper attire over a blue denim jeans in that screen saver that had randomly appeared. Looking at the screen saver reminded me of 'To Sift the Hair' revelation and then of the 'Malang Malang' dream revelation and I connected some dots.

The vision of pushing my hand through him reminded me of the vision when I had put my head in the centre of Jesus' chest that had opened like a tissue tunnel with a vertical opening. I wanted to rest against his heart and be close to it. Now this time it was me who was pushing my arm through Kartik Aryan's chest. My arm went inside to a great extent. I pulled it out. The next time I pushed my arm through his chest, I took out a heart immersed in red blood, lifted my head up and ate it. This shows 'how badly God wants his heart!' Understand that it's God who is reaching out to them and people through me. Though the representation is fleshly, it has a meaningful significance that's independent of the flesh. Devil doesn't want a loving red heart, he wants to send you to hell regardless of how good you try to be on Earth. We're saved by Jesus, not our efforts that don't have Him in them.

I was then shown as pulling the center of his chest apart using both my hands, and then pushed my arm again through his chest, and took it out again. I repeated it a few times in synchrony with the beats of the 'High-Rated Gabru' song.

I was then dancing together with both Glory and Kartik Aryan. While KA was still dressed in his orange and black and white clothes, Glory was still naked, but he didn't seem to be ashamed either.

They were both swinging me around and I was so happy dancing with them because I knew that they loved me. As they danced with me while swinging me around, it reminded me of the previous revelation that I had of a movie scene where a girl was being circulated in a circle of wicked politicians who were raping her as a part of their 'polo game'. It was during last year. But this time, I was being swung around and passed from one 'loving heart' to another, both of whom loved me (internally) and wouldn't do such a wicked thing that Death Conqueror did out of his 'pure intentions'. The love filled dance brought me healing and peace.

Note that the bearded man slapped the woman. And it has been communicated to many times by his immoral followers that the bully wanted to slap me!

I then saw my back and Glory in front of me coming from my right and dropping a kiss on my right cheek, and KA dropping a kiss on my left cheek immediately afterwards, as both of them looked filled with joy and happiness. Glory was naked and KA was dressed in that black and white shrug over printed orange top throughout the dance vision.

The song kept playing and now I was standing in front with both Glory and Kartik Aryan behind me in a horizontal line as we danced in synchrony. I was moving sideways while moving my arms back and forth and clapping them lightly when they reached the front while both Kartik and Glory danced behind me.

Note that though the dance may be with 2K's with 3 participating K's in total, it is a separate revelation from the Art: '2K's' that had a tree and a trunk.

The long line of dancing hearts

In the next vision, I was arms over shoulders with men on both my sides. I was in the center of the long line to the sides of which were men dressed in black t-shirts over black pants, and all of them looked the same. They had round heads, looked a bit dusty, and were dark complexioned. We had a formed a line of intertwined humans with our arms on the shoulders of the adjacent person, and all were dancing in synchrony as we moved our legs forward in synchrony, one after the other.

8. The Duet With Deepika Padukone

Somewhere within the past few days, I had a brief vision of me being in a duet with Deepika Padukone as I walked towards my room in my PG.

10. Equanimic

I had been pondering why wasn't I too hurt by the actions of these people around who were only saying things or behaving in covert demeaning ways. But then when I happened to reopen my Wattpad account after years, and saw my username, the answer epiphanied. I wasn't hurt because I am 'Equanimic', that's how God built me. While my ex-roommate Akhila felt offended when I wasn't talking to her or giving her any attention, just because the sight of me being me was a threat to her sense of superiority, I always operated with a sense of rationality that helped me to not get hurt by the wicked filth of the world. For a long time, I did not get hurt by what the bully had been doing. I knew that I would've been hurt by his actions if I was expecting a behavioral sense of godly love. I knew that if I never loved the bully, then I wouldn't be hurt by his actions either. And when his sister said to me that they're doing this because they want you to love them, I thought, "Why would I even want to go into that direction and hurt myself? Because no normal person expects the person one is supposed to love to strip and humiliate them publicly but rather expects godly behavior of honoring the loved one. Why would I break an important, perhaps the main aspect of love and accept the unacceptable, just to 'easily' get out of an undesirable situation!?"

11. The Eye Side Glances

I had this vision of a woman's eye area some months back prepped up with the eye makeup of an Indian Cultural dance form, who moved her eyes once to left and once to right.

1. The Hand and The Sword

Back in A-16, when I was in Room D4, I had the zoomed vision of a hand that came from one side and held the handle of a sword in a light skyblue background. This is the time when the 'The Bride' is picking up her sword for the battle.

2. The Bride

3. Mui Stops Team Evil

Some revelation God gives me counteract the evil thoughts and plans of the wicked ones in a way that extinguishes the effect of their firey shots meant to cause great harm. It lightens their intensity and things get simmered down. It's a part of warfare.

5. The Changing Faces

When I was in A-16, I had a sequence of the faces of people appear at my groin, not just once, but a few times. A different sequence in order and content each time. In one of the sequences was present Deepika Padukone's face as well. They had rather innocent expressions on their faces, except the Band Darwaza Villain.

Their faces being there told me that they were watching. While some were actually indulging in a light suck, others' faces were just present there without any action.

7. The Rebeginning of 'No More Eating'

In a past dream-vision that I have previously written about, I went out of my balcony one morning and saw no banners on the iron palisade down on the road. Also, there were no vehicles parked there either except for one car. There was a protruding wide line on the road on that side of the road too.

I wrote in one of the later Pages that I would continue eating until the banners are out of my sight. And yesterday, I received my confirmation from Sis Adele's Word 'Begin Again'. So I will now resume my 'No More Eating' regime.

8. The Baby Chewing its Foot

I was having my Sabbath rest today when in the direction of my roommate's table I saw

Vision (303, during day): the vision of a fat and fair baby with a square head sitting on the table wearing only a white diaper with his right fat foot lifted vertically up to his mouth which he slowly chewed on, while his left fat foot hung down the table. He was smiling as he looked in my direction. He then looked to the right (his left) and the vision then showed my ex-roommate (Akhila) standing there. She was overdressed with multiple layers in dark brown clothes with her hair tied low at the back. She was looking at him and seemed to be saying some nice things as they both kept smiling at each other. But she seemed to look much darker in complexion in that vision.

The Rub on My Forehead

Also, when I took a turn to my right, I felt a hand rub against the upper left side of my forehead.

A Male Penis At some Distance to My Front Right

Then sometime else during the day, I had the vision of a long and thick male genitalia at some distance ahead to my right. And then I felt like my hands were on it which made me cautious.

9. "Hath Khali Karo"

While I was still in my rest, I heard in my spirit, "Hath Khali Karo." (Free/Empty your hands) followed by the guy now saying it melodically, "Hath Khaali.." (Free Hands..)

Are they thinking of chopping my hands now!? Devil was a murderer from the beginning.

The Green Dress; TRDH Heroine; I Need Your Grace, Glory; The Effective Sum and Not The Individual Steps; The Favourable Situation;

23 April 2023

1. The Green Dress

When I was still in A-16 earlier this month, I was scrolling through the dresses on the Meesho App.

I came across a black dress with net half arms. It was available in dark green color as well. Some months back, I had ordered the black one but then had canceled the order along with some others because I felt overloaded and didn't want to accumulate a lot of clothes. But after I had just left the page of that dress, I had a miniature vision of a tall woman swirled from right to left wearing the green counterpart of that dress. So, I went ahead and bought it. But I received a defective product and so had it exchanged. But the exchange had the same defect in greater intensity. So I put it up for return and ordered the product from a different seller.

I should also buy a white dress/tunic with a rectangular back.

2. TRDH Heroine

Tujhme Rab Dikhta Hai (I See God In You)

Within the past half an hour, I had the vision of the TRDH actress dressed in a white tunic set with a white drape covering her chest. The vision was seen from below and the actress looked huge as she stood on the left side facing down at me. She was bending below a bit with her hands moving in a manner to lift something (me) up.

4. I Need Your Grace, Glory

When I complained to God about me feeling only hurt and pain because of the bully and why was I supposed to 'love' him, God showed me the vision of Him suffering in pain on the cross. It brought a change in my heart and I learned what it is to be more like Him. And how God is using me in this time is not what I thought for my life. I couldn't have thought the revelations He gave me with people other than Glory - that came to be so because of how things unfolded.

In this hour, though God brings healing in various ways in His timing, He is not caring who gets hurt on a temporary basis because to Him securing His children to Him first is a priority.

Loving a committed person who doesn't go out of his way to hurt you is easy. You were that person for a duration. But He wanted to teach me something new, to reflect His nature, to not look at the present but the resulting future that only He sees, where a wicked person is supposedly turned godly. For Him, securing His children to Him out of the world is more important than granting the wishes of the hearts of people (like me not wanting to have revelations with people other than Glory, whom God chose for me as He showed me in the promised vision), though many times He makes ways and gives unexpected surprises to them and sometimes does grant them their wishes. A worldly or wicked person who turns to Him later becomes as important to Him as the one who was righteous from the beginning, but even more so, as is reflected in the parable of the prodigal son.

So, I hope you understand that I have not wandered away from my set path for my life. But God is taking me on it in a way that would hold a grasp of many of His sheep.

The head in the Prophetic symbol also symbolizes the heads of all those who would lose their lives for choosing God over the world. He is making me walk on the extreme edge, as we are called to, and as all of His other people did.

And it's not enough that a common man who is in the world displays His commitment to God. If someone is living in the very core of the worldly system and is prosperous in the worldly sense, if such a person turns to Him and is willing to lay down his/her life for Him, it gives out an even bigger message and brings in more people to His Kingdom. That's my understanding of the revelations related to the 'high-rated' men and women of the world.

5. The Effective Sum and Not The Individual Steps

The revelations represent a sum total of the truth and not necessarily the individual steps. I don't clean my nose in exactly the same manner as I did in 'The Circus and The Nose', but the revelation represented a sum total of what I did - putting mucus flakes on a metallic surface and transferring them to a tissue to be thrown. Likewise the dance revelations. So, give some grace like I give others grace because God gives me grace.

We're dealing with extremes here. And only God can see how the situation can be handled best.

Though initially, I was thinking that my walk was about receiving God's promise of marriage and also doing His kingdom work as He leads me, now it has turned out that He brought people into the situation via the medium of 'Love', instead of a display of miracles first which would follow later in my walk. This also shows that miracles are of no significance if one doesn't has love. He works in 'soft ways' that pertain to our innermost beings, like He has me write revelations that would diffuse the firey shots of the enemy.

No, all threads are not weak, they are made strong and unbreakable with grace and forgiveness. So, please try to exhibit this new aspect of God's nature by not expecting everything to go right but to give grace when needed.

6. The Favourable Situation

16:27

If I came from a very powerful or wealthy background, I wouldn't have stayed for long in such a situation where immoral bullies have invaded my privacy and robbed me of my bodily honor, and so the way God decided to use me couldn't have been accomplished either. Also, I come from a perfect background mixed with my mental inclinations which makes it possible for people of all clans to relate with me.

7. Without God

I would deem the bully of being unworthy to even lick the base of my feet because of his outrageous display of his inner character. He put the wrong foot forward from the beginning. Without God, I would've considered him as being filthier than the Ganda Nala. With God, I looked into the future and saw his potential, what God was trying to make of him. It's His child, and He knows what works for whom. With God, I learned to be patient with the deplorable and wicked.

A wicked person is deplorable even when silent as you know what constitutes their mind. They give an innocent look but are devious inwardly.

I was watching the other version of the 'Fair of Hearts' song. And I found these shots that I took from the video. They are of the villain of the movie of the song.

The Dual-Eyed Villain of the 'Mela' (Fair) movie.

8.1 Jesus Face Coming From Hiding In the Clouds

When I was adding the Psalm 36:5 verse photo in the 'Fair of Hearts' video, I was reminded of the vision I had in Saroj Sadan (A-17) back in 2021 in which I had seen Jesus' face come forward from hiding behind a cloud in the sky, seen parallel to Him. He looked wheatish, had neck-length hair, a slight smile of 'surprise' on His face and His features resembled Glory's. I used to sometimes think about him because of his past unexpected appearances and the good that I saw in him, though I hadn't yet received the revelation of God promising him to me.

Psalm 36:5

(King James Version)
5 Thy mercy, O Lord, is in the heavens; and thy faithfulness reacheth unto the clouds.

(New Living Translation)
5 Your unfailing love, O Lord, is as vast as the heavens;
your faithfulness reaches beyond the clouds.

(New International Version)
5 Your love, Lord, reaches to the heavens, your faithfulness to the skies.

9. Dream this morning:

I was riding on my scooty to my home. I was apparently moving away from my workplace. There was a well-built muscular man of medium stature who kept poking me on the journey, and apparently, I had developed a good bond with him. I reached my home and found my mom. I then entered a room with a gathering. There was some food arrangement along the wall on a long table covered with a white cloth, the kind one sees in a function. I stood between the table and the glass wall. Across the glass wall was a grass field where some people stood. I had to get gazar ka halwa from there. I still stood at my place and the scene suddenly changed with the guy standing with another woman to his right while I (as a third person) watched a lady (who didn't look like me) standing to his left who looked at them. It had turned out that everything that the lady thought she had with the guy was all in her mind, as was apparent from her expressions as she was having an epiphany in that moment. She saw the changed reality and felt left out. I was now in my previous room D1 in A-16 - the PG that I left. I stood between the window and my bed looking at her side of the room, and asked her while sobbing, "Have you ever seen God?" "Have you ever spent time with Him?" She didn't reply but looked sideways as she was about to enter the washroom that looked like a dark open balcony. The next vision had her sitting on my chair facing the window, while I stood at her side of the room, between the wall and her bed. I noticed her hairstyle from the back as it was visible. Her head was being shown as being quite huge than it really is in that vision. I notice the hairstyle carefully. She had two thick strands of hair coming from the sides that joined at the centre at the back. On the two strands were two '+' shaped clips along the sides of her huge head. I realize that I can't be that person. I end up sobbing again. In the next part, I was lying to her right on the bed covered by a white quilt while she sat naked with her lower body inside the quilt. The beds were joined. I turned to my right and started weeping as I used my phone.

The next part of the dream had me standing at the back of what looked like a theatre or an auditorium. It was dark but I stood in a balcony well-lit in yellow light at the back and looked outside into the dark room through the long horizontal gap between the upper and lower walls. I saw my BSc classmate Deepawali walk across along with a few others as she faced and looked at me. She was dressed in a beige colored dress with medium-sized brown dots, with short conical sleeves. She took a seat in the last row of the room along with those people. She was the one among the first few that had walked into the room.

The next part of the dream had someone ask, "Why were you rejected?.." To which a voice said, "Because they buried elephants in the ocean and threw roses in it. The result was pink elephants coming out of the ocean, and they (the people) didn't like them (the pink elephants)." And while the voice said this, I saw a close-up view of usual elephants running alongside shorter light pink sparkling elephants to the left with their trunks lifted horizontally in a wavey manner.

All About Today; Some Past Revelations

24 April 2023
18:39

I woke up in the morning around 6 or earlier, but my eyelids were stuck to each other. It took me an hour to open them fully so I could get out of bed and go ahead with my daily chores. I got ready for the dept and wore my new checkered black and white full-sleeved shirt. After I reached the dept, I was already feeling spent. I sat with my head down for a while struggling to understand things and even trying to stay in posture. I felt a constant nudge on the inside to go back to the PG and rest. I kept hearing, "Go back to the PG." "Go back and rest." I knew that I couldn't do anything anyway in the condition I was in. So I wrapped up and left. On my way down the departmental stairs, I received a call from my supervisor who asked me if I had asked about my Ph.D. extension procedure as I had already completed the stipulated 5 years PhD tenure on the 19th of this month. While she was asking me, I ended up weeping because I wasn't able to do anything, and hadn't done much for long, but I controlled myself in front of her. I told her that I was going to go and ask in the dept's office right then. She put the call on hold and it stayed like that for a while. I ended the call and headed to the office. He told me that I didn't need any extension because one-year extension was automatically granted to students who registered after a certain time (that included my reg. time as well), and that it was due to Covid. He also told me that after the one-year extension period, I could avail two more 6 months extensions. He then told me to not worry a lot and that there're many responsibilities one has to carry, that I was responsible for my family as well, and that I had to teach also along with other daily stuff (so I shouldn't lose heart). This made me weep in front of him as I told him that my paper wasn't getting accepted but kept getting rejected because of one or the other reason. He said some more encouraging words.. I wanted to leave now as I knew that I was only going to cry more which I didn't want to do in that office. So I said a 'Thank You' to him as I turned my back and left. I kept weeping throughout my route to my PG, and wept some more for more than an hour on my PG's bed after which I fell into a deep sleep.

But after I had immediately laid on my bed, I saw:
*Glory walked naked in my room and severed me from the middle using an axe and then he lifted my upper body up and the down to the front (a rotation of 180 degrees) by putting his hands at the back of my shoulders.

After waking from my sleep, I was still needing rest, so I stayed in my blanket in a restful position when I had the following visions:

RS Changes to a Maned Lion

*RS appeared to my left at some distance and fell down and on his way down towards me changed to a maned lion after which he started licking my face with his huge lion tongue. He was dressed in blue and white with his casual beard on. The character portrayal of the lion of Judah suits 'him' and not Death Conqueror who is but a white snake that only stings with its deadly poison. Also, his sirname is 'Singh' translating to Lion in English.

The neck of a sealed bottle of mustard oil

* The upper body of a plastic bottle of mustard oil with its head sealed in a white plastic cover. The head of the bottle faced right as the visible part laid horizontally in the air. A knife kept rushing towards its neck as if to severe the sealed part in white from the rest of the body.

Danda in a drain

*A left side-view of a black narrow drain in which is lying a long light brown danda a part of which is outside the end that's towards the viewer. The drain was uncovered from the top and therefore the entire long danda could be seen lying in it.

Kartik Aryan throws down and shows off a printed yellow and blue cloth from the balcony

*From a balcony to the left of my room, KA throws down a long yellow cloth with small black prints on the sides while a navy blue strip in the middle with small white prints, with the cloth folded in a rectangle.

Malang Malang with Two Hands

(Mal-ang Mal-ang: translated to 'Rub-Organ Rub-Organ' in Hindi)
*A long and thick penis being rubbed with two hands making heart-shaped outward skinny protrusions on the cylindrical surface because of the stressed massage ('Malang Malang'). And apparently, I was the one doing it.

RS With a Huge Golden Key

* RS standing holding a HUGE golden key at the base of the round ring at the end of the key end while key part faced to the viewer's left. He moved his face closer to the round ring, sticking it against it, with almost his entire face visible through the circle, all the while giving a teeth full smile as he looked towards the viewer (me). He wore a blue suit with a white shirt inside and had his current usual beard.

The key resembled the above pic to a great extent.

The Tree Hip-Line

*I also saw the view from below of a purplish hipline with a 'Y' being highlighted in dark purple, the Y being made as one looked up above at the back. It was followed by two small wooden sticks, joined in the shape of a 'Y', appearing at the place of my thumb toe and the adjoining toe of both of my feet. I felt as if I was slowly transforming into a tree, now that my feet were shown as having two small wooden stems in place of two of its toes.

The 'Jai Shree Ram' Bolt Lock

*A wooden door being bolted open at the bolt lock at its top right. The bolt lock looked wooden and was about half a foot in vertical length. On the vertical lock was written 'Jai Shree Ram' vertically. (Jai Shree Ram is a praise of Hindu God Ram - another false God from a false religion) I could tell that the lock was of a room somewhere else where some fellows were worshipping the devil by using their sex organs and sinning against the Most High God.

Glory's Face Changes to a Camel's

*The face of Glory to my right which then turned to a beige camel's as he started kissing me with the camel's protruded lips. When the vision cleared a bit, I saw his face and mouth tied with a belt tier. Though he couldn't speak, he could kiss with that arrangement.
The vision also reminded me of a previous vision I had in Room D4 of A-16 while lying on my side of the bed. I saw the face of a shy brown camel to my right towards the side of my table above which I made the prophetic symbol. The camel resembled Glory and looked quite silent and mesmerized with shy eyes.

*Jesus and Moon Hide Behind Clouds

And then a few minutes back I was listening to this song in the spirit. And I realized that in a context with Glory, it goes along with the 'Jesus Face Coming Out From Hiding In the Clouds' vision:

Psalm 36:5

Mera Pardesi Na Ayaa

But before the above song, I was hearing 'these' lyrics:
[Eng Subtitles Not Added]
<<Mera Pardesi Naa Aya.mp4>>

Mera Pardesi Naa Aya.mp4

Yesterday night I slept after weeping as well, because I was looking back in the past and missing Glory, because after all he was the white camel and I was Rebecca, and I was looking back at the previous revelations. The revelation where Glory dressed in a white tunic stops the heroine of 'Marjaavaan' was recurring to me, as well. He is my chosen God-ordained partner. In that vision, the heroine had waist-length long straight brown-blonde hair and two huge white fairy wings. The vision started with only Glory in sight and as if shifted to the right, his hand was shown to be holding the hand of the heroine who was smiling teethfully facing forward, away from him. Both persons seemed to be standing in a dark space. According to God, I am that winged fairy of 'Marjaavaan' - "sear that in your brain, Glory"! Because the fairy is to fly into the vast outer space but Glory is holding her back!

The heroine of the movie 'Marjaavaan':

I thought, just because the short-heighted guy is short and God represented him as a naked infant who was demonized and who had the potential to be that guy who had both his eyes blue, I thought I could extend my heart to him. But look! And then for the past few days, I was also reminded of the incident where Glory was supposedly sitting to the right of A-16. He was dressed in a finely striped pink shirt and grey denims, and was having a small soft drink whose bottle he later threw ahead in anger as he was pissed! Though he was angry, he still looked cute because he was dressed as such. I thought, does he really think his anger is going to affect me when he is dressed like a child!? I never went downstairs whenever he made an appearance.

I was thinking how much better Glory was, but he didn't see my heart and called me an 'old man' instead.

A Devious Glory

Around an hour back, I had the vision of Glory attacking me with a devious expression on his face as I lay on my bed. Apparently, we were having intercourse, and he had a deviant expression on his face. At first, he was giving long licks on my lips, but later on he tore them apart using his hands. He was then shown as stretching open my vagina with both his hands while having the same expression. After a while, he was forced away and taken above by unseen forces holding him while still naked.

The Unusual Me

After that, I saw that I myself was having a devious expression as I charged towards RS and stuck him to the wall beside my bed on the area between my bed and my table. He was dressed in his Pepsi Ad's song clothes - the white vest over blue denim and red and blue half jacket on top. I had two daggers in my hands and I was stabbing them on the sides of his head. I didn't do anything to him but just stood there with that devious expression while he looked stable and innocent.

Earlier around half past eight in the evening, I went out to have coconut water. I thought I could've Panipuri as well. On my way, I happened to look to my right and my eyes went straight to the Silk Bar in the slanted refrigerator in the chemist's shop. I felt a nudge to buy the same so I went in and picked up three chocolates. A huge chocolate with a pink heart on it caught my sight and I wouldn't have bought it otherwise, but I felt a nudge to buy it. There was a pepper spray on the counter as well which reminded me of a previous vision in which a lady used pepper spray on a man's eyes. So I bought that too. I found the coconut man before the Panipuri one, so I stopped there and had the coconut water. To its left was an ice cream vendor. It reminded of the vision where RS was licking the side of a pink softy, so I bought an orange softy with a pink top.

On my way, I found a tailor who sat nearer to my PG, so I will be going to him from now on to get my clothes repaired. He emanated such a godly aura, and I still remember the look in his eyes.

The Long Heart Blush Chocolate Bar

And a few minutes back I was having the heart blush chocolate on the packet of which was shown a pink heart. I was expecting a heart on each cube but didn't find any when I had first opened the packet few hours back. But this time when I picked it up again and had more of it, there emerged a pink heart as I further exposed the bar. This reminded me of the vision I had earlier today in which I saw dark purplish hearts being stretched out of the skin of the male genitalia being massaged with two hands ('Malang Malang dream revelation').

All these revelations in just a day… God has expanded my brain to a great extent as I can see now. Because previously I took a lot of time writing fleshly revelations. But now I don't. Because I know that it only piles up things.

I was hearing this song in the spirit today when I laid in bed, and have heard it many times previously as well.

Some Past Revelations

Mother Teresa

When I was still in the Room D1 of A-16, I had a vision of half of the upper body of Mother Teresa in her blue-striped white saree.

From many months back

A String Breaks

Vision (A-16): A string present in a dark background breaks

From a few nights back:

The Heartbeat and The Stab

I was beginning to fall asleep, facing the wall to my left, adjoining my bed, but then I noticed a few bumps in my heartbeat as it increased with light but noticeable pumps. After a few seconds, I fell deep in sleep, and then I had an immediate vision of Glory above me who stabbed a dagger at my right cheek that was facing upwards. He had a very devious expression as he did so.

From Late 2019/Early 2020

Veera Side-Swings

Once when I still stayed in the D block of Vijay Nagar (currently I'm in the A block), I reached my PG and while making a return entry in their register, I felt a push that came from my left. I looked down and saw the PG owners' granddaughter 'Veera' ('Brave Woman') who stood beside me and was side-swinging and hitting me sideways and smiling at me shyly. She had grown too fond of me. She was only 7 years old and I used to have the short-haired veg-cut back then.

All About Today; Some Past Revelations

25 April 2023
22:31

(I understood that a large part of my ministry is to record the revelations God gives me and the unfolding of my life on Earth.)

I woke up and wanted to rest because I could tell that I didn't have any mental fuel to go through the day.
I was tired of the rut I went through every day which took away precious time with Jesus from me as well. I knew that even if I went to work, I wouldn't last long there and would need to return within an hour or so. I didn't want to repeat yesterday today as well. So I kept lying and didn't even want to brush my teeth because I knew that that too would leave me feeling drained.

As I continued lying, I heard the song in the spirit:
Dil Mein Sanam Ki Surat
'Beloved's Facial Figure In The Heart'
[Eng Sub Not Added]

<<Dil Mein Sanam Ki Surat.mp4>>

Dil Mein Sanam Ki Surat.mp4

I cried in the morning again, though not as much as yesterday. I rested for almost the entire day. It also reminded me of the song 'Zinda' where the heroine is on her sick bed and the hero (RS) goes out in the cold and puts a counterfeit leaf on a leafless tree to give her hope.

<<The Last Leaf.mp4>>

The Last Leaf.mp4

A Baby Pink Snake With Smooth Texture Enters Inside

Anyway, as I continued to rest, I had a vision of a foot-long and about 2 inches thick baby-pink colored snake with no snake scales but a smooth baby pink texture making its way inside a person's heart through a dark tunnel going inside through the chest. The way it moved quickly didn't seem threatening at all and it rather looked very cute. The snake vision reminded me of me calling Death Conqueror a white snake yesterday, that he was no lion but a deadly and poisonous white snake.

I thought, "why!?" "A snake is still a snake! This should never have happened!"

I continued resting.

I was hearing the stanza of the 'Zinda' song in my spirit. So I opened YT to listen to it.

A Message Spoken in The Breeze

[Eng Sub Not Added]

<<A Message Spoken in The Breeze.mp4>>

A Message Spoken in The Breeze.mp4

I happened to come across some of the other songs as well while going down the list. I came across the 'Sawaar Loon' ('Let Me Fashion Up') song. I had been hearing this song previously as well many months back (when I was in A-16). I watched the song's video and some other short videos. It reminded me of the time I had first watched the movie. I had really liked it and it has become one of my favourites. I had rewatched the song 'Zinda' many times back then (perhaps 7-9 years back), and wept alongside too as the movie ended. It was a movie with light content but a strong story line and emotions, like one of those that don't have a lot of rucku in them, don't carry a lot of action or drama, or dramatic or eye-catching scenes, but still speak to your heart through their underlying soft storyline that carries an inherent smoothness.

I put my phone aside and continued resting.

RS Alone On a Bridge

I then saw RS standing alone on a bridge in daylight with his arms resting on its railing as he looked forward with a distant look, dressed in the clothes from the video above. (The distant look resembled the silent inner introspection of reminiscing about something.)

The snake perhaps looked cute because it didn't have snake scales and was not huge either with threatening snake fangs, but a harmless crawling creature that seemed to only want to find a place inside. And its thick baby pink tail looked so cute too as it quickly moved inside.

I talked to my mom and told her that I would take an off today. I didn't want to spend the energy I gained by resting the whole day yesterday on the meaningless task of getting ready for work and ending up feeling worse again. I wanted to gain more energy. So I continued lying down and resting with God believing in His healing oil that was my blanket.

Chop Chop Chop Chop Chop

I then saw RS with the clean look from the earlier part of Lootera movie, in an open area in daylight, standing in the shade of a tree visible at some distance to his right, as he stood facing to the left making the prophetic symbol, wearing a grey half-sleeved fitting t-shirt, looking down, and chopping something with a huge, almost square, flat knife, on a surface, going from his left to right, chopping something on a long narrow wooden board. He did it very quickly. The vision repeated itself quite a few times.

The Car Drive

The next vision showed the windshield of a brown carrier van as seen from the front with RS sitting on the right seat and driving it, but facing to the left making a very sharp prophetic symbol. He had the look from Lootera movie again in this vision, and wore a half-sleeved brown fitting tshirt. I guessed it was a carrier van, because behind his seat was a blocking inner brown wall instead of the view of the back seats.

The Key Cover Up

The next vision showed a hand on the right side holding and extending a vehicle's key resembling the one shown below, with the palm curved in a cupped manner below, followed by a female's hand coming from the left side and covering the hand with the key.

RS in Black and White

The next vision had RS sitting on the left seat (as seen from the front) of an open vehicle resembling a Zeep placed at an elevated level alongside a wall. The zeep had no side upwards protrusions. He wore a white suit with sparsely printed black cheetah dots with a V-shaped black shiny folded front of the suit, along with black sunglasses, as he pointed his right hand to the back from over his shoulder. He had a slight beard along the sides of his face and his hair was combed sideways and backwards.

The Short Heighted Man Turns and Runs Away

The next vision showed a short-heighted man in a grey jacket and with a heavy beard who turned away after seeing something in front of him and started running in the opposite direction of an empty road amidst the wilderness resembling that shown towards the end of the 'Lootera' movie.

The Glass Pierced Cheetah Man (RS)

I saw RS walking in the direction of the seer through a field sparsely populated with trees. He had the clean-shaven look of the Lootera movie again. Only his upper half was visible and he wore a thick full-sleeved top with a buttoned-up round neck and fluffed arms with uneven glass pieces protruding out in a line on the outer side of both his arms that were slightly lifted away from his body as he walked forward with confidence. The glass pieces faced down and their sides were visible from the front.

Somewhere during the day, while I was watching the song 'Sawaar Loon', I noticed something prophetic and peculiar in the video, so I clicked a screenshot of the same (It's the third image below - that of the left view of a tree).

I took screenshots of the main characters of the movie sitting against a tree, as well, which precedes the tree in the video.
Coincidentally, I happened to write my revelations in my red diary today to later write in this notebook of Revelations. My Red diary is what I had set apart to write revelations around an year or so back. And few days back I realized that it was better if I recorded a revelation at the moment that I had it, so it would be easier to later retract it and record here. I have recorded some of my first few revelations in that Diary after I started receiving revelations.

Looking at the above painting from the song, I understood that it was pre-ordained by God for our paths to cross at this point of time. He is also a branch in the tree of God that is Jesus. The tree makes a prophetic symbol as its left side is visible.

It's so heartwarming to know that I will see him again in the kingdom of heaven now that I have a heart bond with him on Earth, a bond that is devoid of earthly perception and standards but is rooted in the glorious future that awaits the children of God in Heaven.

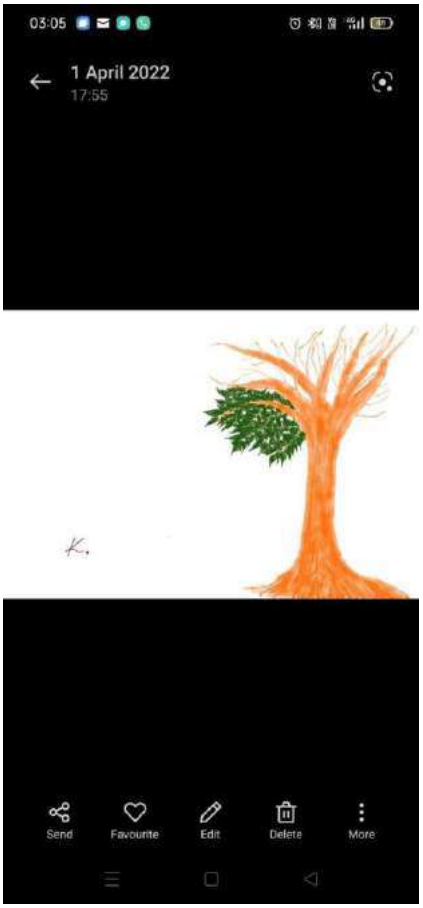
Ref: SAWAAR LOON LOOTERA VIDEO SONG (Official) | RANVEER SINGH, SONAKSHI SINHA

Anyway. Later during the day, I was wondering if the bridge revelation pertained to him reminiscing about the 'Ton sourire m'ensorcelle' revelation alone on that bridge (now or most probably in the future when I'm no longer there).

When we become a part of the kingdom of heaven, we get glorified bodies and are no longer defined by our earthly gender, but we may be carrying memories of our time on earth and retain the special bonds we created with specific people in this place.

My drawn picture of the tree last year in March a day before my dad's retirement (first posted on Page 303)



Some Past Revelations

One morning in A-16:
I had had a comparatively better day the previous day. I was in a good mood. But this day when I woke up, I had very negative emotions surfacing up that were making me feel depressed and devastated. Almost as if there was no hope, and I experienced some very sick emotions because I felt that I had been violated in very serious ways. That this disgusting fellow didn't know enough to not infiltrate a woman's privacy, what else did he know then!? I felt disgusted and ruined upon having an encounter with a person who didn't seem to have even a very basic sense of morality. I seemed to be going in a very confused and frustrating state and it was smothering me on the inside. I felt if I had now developed bipolar disorder, because the previous day I was happy but this day I felt ruined and devastated unable to even breathe freely. But then it all vanished in a moment, and in that moment, I realized that without God, I would've developed a mental disorder by now. God had been protecting me. And then I look at all these people who have been acting mindlessly and working on behalf of the person who thinks of himself as an earthly God, and it only makes me think how all have gone equally filthy.

I felt like writing this incident from a few days back.
Few days back, I overheard a guy asking the Uncleji at Gupta Store about what was tastier amongst Wai Wai and Yippie. I felt like answering 'Wai Wai' but then I recalled that I used to be a fan of Yippie as well. So I didn't answer him.

The Car Drive with Imraan Hashmi

Vision (Room D1, A-16, Late 2022): I saw the Bollywood Actor Imraan Hashmi dressed in brown clothes with a brown jacket on top, and having a beard, driving a vehicle (perhaps Zeep) with inner solitary joy with a woman sitting on the adjacent seat to the left dressed in a plain sky blue suit with a sky blue georgette drape.

2. The Camel on its Feet

While lying in bed in the morning after having decided to take another day of mental rest, I saw the side-view of a camel that was now standing on its feet and stood with its body in a straight line facing to the left, making the prophetic symbol. The legs of the beige camel were not visible but only its neck and body were. I saw that the camel was tied up with belts throughout its entire body.

3. Pardesi Pardesi, Jaana Nahi (Foreigner Foreigner, Don't Leave..)

<<Pardesi Jana Nahi.mp4>>

Pardesi Jana Nahi.mp4

Though the above song is meant for the camel, the lyrics have an added significance. We're all foreigners here on Earth. I had previously received another vision where an astronaut was hovering on Earth - that's us. We came from heaven and are sojourners on Earth. And the lady (I) is appealing to the children of God (foreigners on Earth) to not leave her and depart from the hope found of Heaven in Jesus but to stay with her and wait for the promise of His kingdom despite persecution.

The water that God freely offers to all..
Whoever's thirsty, let him come.

Whoever wishes, let him drink.

5. The Extremely Tall RS/ Or Short Me

In the dream that I woke up from this morning, I was in a huge home with my two younger brothers, and apparently, my middle brother's birthday was to be celebrated and he was exhibiting very nice and gentle behavior. We were preparing to celebrate it. We were near an inner wall of the building that had many windows on it, and moving away from the wall extended the rest of the home. There was a corridor on the left side when one stood facing the windows wall. I walked into that corridor and exited through a door that led into another large room that had cubical machines set up in a grid. It looked like some kind of control room. I saw a few policemen there, and RS too, clean-shaven and dressed in a fitting full-sleeved white shirt with a neat look. Apparently, I was too short in that dream, and I had to look 'up' to his level, and he had a very stern and righteous expression, like that of a righteous policeman. I was trying to move 'up' to his level because I was too desperate to kiss him. I finally managed it as I kissed him for a good while. Fast forward, when it was time for me to do my part in the room, and as I stretched forth a hand, I abruptly became the third person and saw the person who had stretched her hand transform into a dark cartoon character dressed in pink/magenta and black with a smile on her round face. As she took that form, others stood still around her giving her making her the centre of attention. RS didn't seem to be around in that particular part, and I only witnessed the event as a third person without being a part of it.

7. Aarchi and Himanshi - The Two Bullies

While I rested during the day, I had yet another dream.
Dream: I saw Himanshi (the girl from A-16) sitting on a bed and saying some indirect mean stuff to me. She often did that along with her partner-in-crime Aarchi. They know well to keep smiling and say meaningless things at the same time. I left that area and was now in my dept. But even there, both of them were present as they continued pestering me and saying mean things. I was standing on the first floor of the MSB and apparently RS was there too dressed in the blue and white track suit of the Pepsi Ad with the same look and hairstyle. I left both of them, went downstairs, and took a right towards the canteen's side. I was at some distance above the ground as I floated away from them with RS. Both of them were following behind trying to get a hold of me but RS brushed them off as he was a few inches behind me, though at the same level.

Aarchi has one more tagline justifiably chosen for specifically herself - 'The Fearless supporter of Wickedness'.
She can really shout and act all righteous while standing in the wrong and working for the wicked party.

When I had just woken up earlier in the morning, and was still in bed I had the following vision revelation:

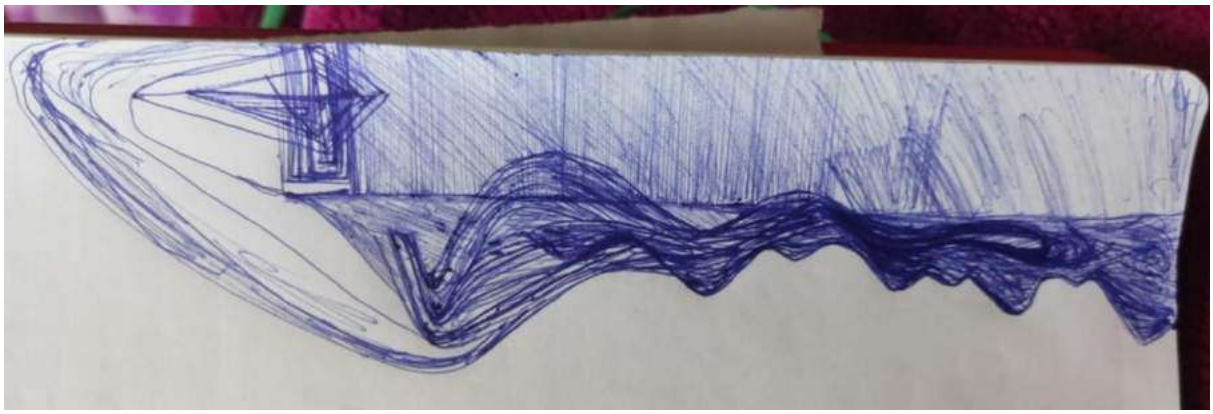
I was standing naked in front of RS in this room in a hug as he rubbed my outer lobes with one hand. We were then standing against my side of the wall and continued making out. While I kept his moving hand to the inside where he was busy massaging the outer lobes.

The downloads given by the Spirit are spontaneous and we can't control them, be they of any kind.

Some Past Revelations

Yesterday's Doodle:

I was talking to my mom and explaining to her my PhD situation. I was sharing with her my mental state and struggles that I had been recently facing, and while I was doing so, I started to randomly doodle on my Revelation Diary. And as I continued, I realized that my consecutive light horizontal strokes of pen were giving the appearance of a male genitalia. I continued doodling, this time being cautious a bit, and textured the lower part of the figure slightly differently than the upper part. I now wanted to make some wavy structures as the doodle already had straight lines. So I started making some waves around its open boundary. I was still on call. After a while I realized that the doodle was resembling to a great extent the vision 'Malang Malang with Two Hands' on Page 293, as in that revelation, there were wavy protrusions on the surface followed by heart-shaped protrusions forming along with.



This was a prophetic manifestation of the vision I had the previous day on the 24th. Additionally, it can be seen that the pic shows only the horizontal half of the genitalia.

The Heart Blush chocolate that I had happened to buy the same day when I walked in a chemist's shop following the nudge to buy a Silk.

Kartik Aryan is going to Heaven! Because he made the prophetic symbol and God gave me revelations that were specially tailored to his persona in order that he may have a heart change towards God. God works on each person individually. He is SO SO great!

I was later thinking about God bringing the chocolates to my attention in a Chemist's shop when I was easily around 15 meters away from it. Perhaps the Silk was meant to serve as a medicine for my degrading mental condition.

Mayank's Made-Up Face

Vision from the past week: live photo of Mayank's half of upper half in a frame-like outline in which he is deliberately protruding out his upper jaw. It also reminded me of when he was actually doing it during the lunch session of the Visitor's program. The live photo kept shifting around in the vision at varying distances. He was wearing his checkered sky-blue shirt in that vision.

The vision of Ranveer Singh in Yellow and White made me think if God was representing him as the Mango fruit.

"Upar Aaa Jao" (Come Above..)

A few days back I heard a howl made by a human. I asked my roommate if it was a human's voice. She told me that there were some guys staying to our left and they often made such noises along with partying etc.. The sound came again, and it scared me a bit. I went out in the balcony to see from where was the sound of the man-howl coming out of one of the buildings to my left.

When I went out, some guys started making more noises, as they said in unison, "Aa jao" (Come), "Upar Aa Jao" (Come Upstairs/Above). I went back inside. But while I was using the washroom later on, what struck me was the complementarity of the situation with the women calling angels of God below to Earth in the sculpted altar inside the Vatican church. It seemed that the situation I came across on the balcony was quite the opposite: the angels of God were calling the inhabitants of Earth back above to Heaven.

'Quickly Armoured' in Silver

I actually realized a few days back the significance of the 'armouring up and beheading' vision. I have often seen the middle-man wearing a faded black t-shirt on which is written 'Quick Silver'. I thought if they thought I was a 'silver digger' and if that's why God had given me that revelation in which I quickly armoured Glory up before my head was sliced off. I had thought that I was actually going to be beheaded in that manner. It could be the case as well. I don't know. But in any case, his sense of judgment is very flawed!

Amitabh Bachchan in a Santa Claus' Hat

Vision from some days back: The head of Amitabh Bachchan resting beside an indoor Christmas tree inside a home with a small Santa Claus hat on his head as he faced and looked to the right away from the sight of the seer.

1. A Soft Blow of Air Towards Mayank

I was listening to the song 'Tere Naam', and then I had the vision of my face with my hand below my chin as I softly blew some air away towards Mayank. My face faced to the right and was shown to be considerably huge, while Mayank was shown to as smaller in size, smaller to the extent where the blow of air would completely cover him up. I created this page immediately after I had the vision and wrote it.

And when I titled the vision of RS in Yellow and White so today, though I had written about it previously, I had the vision of male genitalia doing slow oscillations in and out of me while I laid on my front typing on my laptop.

There was a certain scene in the trailer of KA's 'Love Aaj Kal' in which he is wearing a white/off-white shirt and it keeps getting highlighted to me. He was dancing in his own self wearing that shirt. I think that was the same shirt that God showed him wearing in the revelations He gave me by far.

15:24
Today I didn't have any fleshly revelations since I woke up. I am at peace and can write about other things that are left.

2. # The Roof Story

The night when I first had a change of heart towards RS while I was walking on the roof after which I wrote 'The Roof story' on Page 374, I kept hearing in my heart, "Kartika, you're winning.."
After a while, as I continued listening to the revelatory song, and experienced a change in my heart, I was now saying to myself, "He is my husband". Though I knew that Glory was the one God had ordained for my earthly marriage.

Previously I wouldn't even extend myself to others if I was already into someone. But now because of God's given revelations, many people took space and special places deeply in my heart and they can't be taken out now. Few days back, I was thinking to myself that I had fallen in love with RS, and that it couldn't be undone, though I knew that Glory was my God-given camel. But I know that I have all the other people whom God related me with as my eternal family members in Heaven. I fell in love with them as well though at a different level of their own sense of perception and connection with me. But somehow God had given me more revelations with RS than others.

I think that's what God was also trying to teach me - to not idealize one person, but to be able to love others deeply too, though they may not be connected to me with an Earthly 'label'. It doesn't mean though that I will go and cheat on my God-ordained partner. But I now know better to form deep heart bonds with many people. Earlier, I wanted to limit it to one, as the one bond itself held a lot of meaning and importance. I wanted only one bond that was true and pure because I didn't find having many low-quality bonds as something worth having. I just wanted one of pure and great quality when it came to my personal life. I learned that that bond was supposed to be realized with God, while we have to love others the way He has loved us, giving them grace and leading them into the right with corrections given out of love. I learned the correct order in which we need to love others and form bonds.

I learned the way God loves people - deeply, connecting with a person at his deepest level and yet being able to connect with everyone at their own individual sense of depth. He doesn't promote sin though. Loving others is different than sinning. As far as my own fleshly revelations go, I see them as God's way of giving a physical form to a hearty bond. I didn't go and actually do those things, but they were meant to inculcate a sense of intimacy as He did with me by bursting a balloon of the Holy Spirit on my forehead.

I realized yesterday that the love of all the people whom God gave me revelations about was sustaining me alongside His own love, that he had been too graceful and merciful to me, because he let me find a place in the hearts of those people.

I also realized that the revelations 'Love on Earth' and 'Love in Heaven' somehow showed a contextually extended reflection of KA's movie 'Love Aaj Kal', since the past page contains the testimony of the 'Malang Malang' revelation, and the song video 'Sau Saal Tak' has two folded hands on top of a scriptural textbook which would be a godly reflection of the fleshly act of 'Malang Malang', as 'pleasing' God in the Spirit when represented in its fleshly counterpart would be portrayed in the way it was revealed to me. 'Love Aaj Kal' portrays the differences in how two people in love connected under different cultural scenarios and mindsets generationally separated in time. But the song 'Beloved's Facial Figure in My Heart' reflects how loving on Earth is very much different than loving in Heaven where one knows that one is going to live eternally, and so one always wants to do the right thing and have the right mindset, because to want to live with a sinful mindset for an eternity is nothing less than a curse. An Earthly mindset is different from a Heavenly one. The extended and all-comprehensive counterpart of 'Love Aaj Kal' would be 'Love on Earth and Heaven', so the song that I edited yesterday is a musically extended part of the movie in terms of understanding how differently love is perceived on Earth than it is in Heaven. I realized the correlation later during the day after I had posted the first video and had some more manifestations of the revelations related to KA.

Prophetic Word - If You Are Feeling This Way..._4.mp4

Ref: Prophetic Word - If You Are Feeling This Way... - YouTube

After listening to the above word, I realized the extent to which I needed to spend more quality time in the presence of God. I realized how much I lack in loving Him the way He deserves to be loved. That I need to crucify more of my flesh, and that I was indeed capable of picking up my cross and keeping my heart stable towards Him despite my circumstances. The word really spoke to my heart.

22:47

This stanza from the song 'Tere Naam' has often played in my spirit, and it was playing this evening as well. Though other parts of the song have played in my spirit too, this particular stanza kept repeating itself this evening.

4.2 Vision (past week):

The overly protruding metallic strands of my Lord's prayer bracelet.

4.3 Dream on 24th:

My dad asked me to drive his car which looked boxy and was white in color. I was doing it reasonably well, though not very neatly. I reached a road some distance from which ran a road perpendicular to it. I saw a 2 to 3 year old child walking to the left of a lady. Though they walked separately with a distance of around two meters between them, they seemed to be together as well. As the baby stepped on the road, a high-speed car coming from the right brushed lightly against him and led him to flip a few times. The lady didn't get hurt but only the child. He laid on the road with his belly curved slightly upwards. It looked like it had received a major injury. I got down from the car, took the baby in the palm of one of my hands (interestingly, the baby was small enough to be contained in my palm). The baby didn't show any movement, and it seemed that it may as well have been dead. I brushed on his body with the other hand and straightened it. I saw the eyes of the baby get dilated in and out as it was stroked up and down. It was still alive and seemed to be in a kind of coma. I saw that it needed immediate medical care. I took it to a hospital nearby, and my dad came to help with what looked like a recommendation slip from someone else that said that he was pure and could be trusted. Looking at it made me feel slightly guilty and bad about myself for not wanting to get the baby treated by him.

Dream this week during the day:

5. The Vegetables, The Sweets, and The Monk In Saffron.

I was in a room full of vegetables on the floor. I saw cabbage, and many other green vegetables. The room looked like a familial house's room and not a PG's room. I went to the bed on the other side of the room and started walking in the space between the bed and the wall to its right. Even that space was filled with eatables. I walked forward and found some sweets (barfis) lying on the floor. I picked them up and put them aside to be thrown. I walked back and now saw some other sweets lying in their small boxes on the floor. I had a Rasbhari and one or two Kaju Katlis. There were some people who were asking me questions in order to know what I liked to eat. I then saw Death Conqueror sitting on the bed in a full-sleeved shirt tucked inside pants and stretching forth a Pizza towards me with a smile on his face, but I didn't feel like having that either so I didn't show any interest. What turned out was that the eatables put on the other side of the bed were put there by the relatives of the girl with whom I supposedly shared that room as was later revealed. But previously it had seemed like a room in my home so I had those sweets lying on that other side of the room. I moved out of the room and around a bit more and interacted with people. Towards the end of the dream, I went to a roof where I found a guy standing on one corner with a distant expression. There was another man there dressed in black with some Chinese stuff written on it, and he thought that somehow it made him superior. When their conversation was over, the other guy facing the man in black turned his back and he was shown to be wearing a long orange tunic with a huge cross made of Chinese words printed vertically and horizontally in black, with the outline of a duck with a baggy throat printed on the tunic above the cross, and the outline of an elephant trunk facing left and lifted horizontally near the right horizontal hand of the cross, both being printed in black. The guy was a monk. His head had a few mms of hair growth, and as he walked away from the previously superior-seeming guy, he took the limelight with him as the vision now showed a distant view of him walking away. The focus was now on his back, and the revealed traits were no match with the guy in the black t-shirt.

These are the revelations that I wrote first in the Red Diary. Though I have written most of them here previously, the day before yesterday I saw that some are left as either they are from an earlier time, when I was still at home back in 2020, or they are from a time when I hadn't yet started writing about my journey with God here.

#4 Sumit Sir Explains 'AI'

I had this dream in 2020 when I was at home during Covid. With other people/students present around doing their own thing or busy in their chats, I stood facing Mr. Sumit Mamoria (usually called as Sumit Sir) with a notebook or book open in my hands that he too was holding and was looking at. It seemed to me to be resembling my xeroxed Nuclear Physics book. He had taught us during BSc in Miranda House. In that dream, our side-view was shown in which he stood on the right, thus making the prophetic symbol, with his upper body slightly bent towards me as he usually did while explaining things, while I stood on the left. And then he said, "AI", with the letters said very very distinctly. And then he repeated, "AI", in the same manner. The dream then ended.

The next morning when I had just woken up around 10:30 am when I received a call.

"Hello.?"
"Good Morning, Ma'am."
"Hello..?"
"Good Morning, Ma'am.."

I asked who it was. The guy then introduced himself as 'Abraham' and said that he was calling from some 'AI' …. company. He asked me if I was looking forward to buying property in Gurgaon. He repeated it a few times. I told him a 'No', that I wasn't looking to buy any property. The guy said an 'Ok' and the call ended. Later in the day, I realized that I had that related dream where Sumit Sir was explaining 'AI' to me.

#5 Lalita's Brother Tormented by Locusts

Towards the end of this dream, I and Lalita were looking for Kapil - her brother and my uncle. He couldn't be found inside the home. But what was shown at the end was him being tormented by flying insects outside beside a wall making him slowly lose his senses as he laid down horizontally against the wall.

#8 'To Love's End' and the Owl

I had perhaps fallen asleep during the day listening to the 'To Love's End' track, in my home's main bedroom. It was when I was still at home in 2020. I was still asleep when I heard 'To Love's End' playing though it wasn't playing on my phone as I checked after waking up. When the final keyboard note played, the window of a moving car stopped by in a dream-vision, with the head of a fat owl (with grey and white fur) sitting by the open window of a car, and looking at me as the window slid down, while the lyrics that played in the tune of the final note were, "Come Now..".

Heart in Black & White

When I was staying in Saroj Sadan (A-17/B) after I had shifted from my home to near my workplace, I saw the vision of a printed black outline of a heart on a piece of paper. I, though, didn't understand what it stood for.

Luka

After some time, I wanted to distribute the printed copies of one of the Gospels. I was praying in tongues in my room in Saroj Sadan, when my prayers repeatedly ended with the word 'Luka', just like they had repeatedly ended with 'Rebecca' when while praying in tongues at home. This told me that I was to distribute Hindi version of the Gospel of Luke. So I got some copies printed along with the English version. I had the pages arranged with a Hindi page followed by an English one. I had wanted to show God's love on the front pages of the printouts, and had wanted to put some colored hearts, but it would have costed me much and I hadn't been receiving my fellowship for some months and was short on funds. It was then that the vision had struck me. God already knew that I was going to distribute those copies, so He gave me a good idea to have unfilled hearts printed out on the front pages, which I later colored in myself. I had a few thousands in my account back then, but somehow I was led to use them on distributing Luke.

Chair of A-16

Around the same time (March-April 2021), I had the vision of a chair with my pink and white towel spread on its back support, the way I usually spread my clothes on chairs, the surroundings being dimly lit with a part of the beige curtain on the other side of the chair visible through which seeped in dimmed sunlight. I was still staying in A-17/B at that time. Somewhere in May, I had to shift to a nearby PG because of a covid contract the PG's owner (Mr. Kakkar) had signed with some medical officials. Those officials were to stay in his building so the few of us that were living there were shifted to other places temporarily. The PG I temporarily shifted to was A-16 which was a few buildings ahead. And after staying there for some days, I recalled the vision of the chair and realized that it was A-16's PG's chair as I looked at my pink and white towel drying on it in real life, in a dimly-lit room because I kept the curtains drawn.

#12 Nivedita Ma'am's Daughter

I stayed in A-16 for about a month before I shifted back to A-17/B because of the failure of the contract due to some mismanagement. I was staying alone in Room C1. I was asleep one night when I was woken up by this dream-vision. In a dark background, I saw my supervisor Nivedita Deo standing to the right of her husband Sanjay Jain. She was holding a 10-12 years child in her hand that was away from the man. The focus of that dream-vision zoomed in on that child and then quickly zoomed out. The child was facing to the left because of the way it was held on her arm at the right-most end of the line of the trio.

#13 Shaking of Head by God

I was still in A-16 during May-June 2021, when one night I was woken up by an internal shaking of my head.

15:25
I just went to the washroom to wash face, and as I splashed water on my face, the following lyrics played in my spirit.

'Tu Meri Hai Prem Ki Bhasha.. {You're my language of Love}
Likhta Hu Tujhe Roj Zara Sa..' {I write, you every day in small bits ...}

These are excerpts from the song of which 'The Dance in Green and Black' video, that I posted previously, is a part of.

These lyrics have been being highlighted to me previously as well. The lyrics show the heart inclination of the related person. I trust God more than people. But those who don't know God personally may feel inclined to trust a person with Godly traits more than they do God. This is so because they haven't had any close encounters with Him yet. But no matter how close or trustworthy a person may be, always take God's word as the pure and ultimate truth.

They were highlighted to me many times today…

#X-Ray Vision of Human Lungs with a Shofar in Between

I had this vision one night in 2021. I saw an X-Ray vision of a human's lungs with a shofar superimposed on the vertical space between the two lungs, as the lungs expanded and contracted showing the flow of air through the shofar.

While washing clothes late at night some hours back, I realized that a greater number of revelations about RS told things about him, or his heart state. So I asked, "What do I feel?".. I mean, where's the revelation that clearly shows my heart's inclination…? And instantly I saw a red heart popping out of my chest to a great extent as it beat. Often I have to put things in perspective to bring myself into the heart state of God's Will so that my heart stays in check because I know that Glory is the promised person. However, God has also blessed me with filling love from His other children.

And when I was in A-16, I had received a dance revelation related to Ayushman, but it had seemed too outgoing at first, as I hadn't reached that heart stage with him. But I can write about that revelation now. So I will do it after I've woken up, as I'm going to sleep, and I want to do a good job at writing it. It's around 3:23 in the morning of the next day.

While I was waiting at Gunika's Salon for my turn to get waxed, I had a vision that repeated itself a few times, and once later at night while washing clothes too. The vision was the huge bearded face of RS in front as he moved his thumb in a stroke on the beginning of my hairline.

#Utterance in the Spirit some weeks back (or around a month back): 'Abu Dabi'

Chat with mom while washing clothes: Eternal love demands eternal beings - Proof that we are eternal beings and not our corruptible bodies.

#Robotic Short-Heighted Guy Standing Outside the Mesh Window With Red Shining Eyes

It was 2021 and I was staying in A-17/B (Saroj Sadan). My bed's position was in line with the only window in that single-seater and I preferred to leave it open while sleeping because the room was small and easily felt suffocated. I could see the window right in front of me as it was in line with my legs at a distance of a foot or two away from the bed. Above the window was fixed the room's AC. I had the vision of a short-heighted robotic guy standing outside the mesh window and looking inside with his red eyes.

Afternoon

Last night I was sharing with my mom the thoughts I had while washing clothes. That if something has to exhibit a quality of a certain nature, then that thing must also have the nature to sustain that quality, i.e., the fact that Love is by nature eternal, and that we are capable of loving, this would imply that we are not our corruptible bodies but separate from them, and eternal in our real essence - the being who is capable of loving eternally.

I realized that God gives me revelations that are in some way reflective of an analogous situation related to either Glory or Death Conqueror, something that they did that they were not supposed to be doing.

Night Vision as I went to sleep: RS at some distance above me with his beard and neck-length hair, and a hard, pink, 180 degrees erection ready to penetrate.

Vision (Past week): A wooden door with a protruding hemispherical black door eye that looked like a camera lens with a black side flap covering.

#'Degradation of Mind and Pride' - the revelation was written on Page #58 under the heading 'The Pearl, The Watery Distance, The Glass and The Man'

I was on bed in A-16 one evening, and closed my eyes to go deep in prayer with Jesus. The immediate vision I had:
A dark figure in a dark blue moon-lit night. The person seemed to be sitting with legs folded and crossed over each other, and had a bun on top of the head with a crescent moon. Though the features of the person couldn't be discerned because the image was shadowy, the outline resembled to that of Hindu God Shiva.

Prior to this vision, I saw an eye open in the middle of the eyes of the forehead of the sky-blue head of a person.

Event on 26th April 2023

I had an outburst in front of my mom where I shared with her how I was just pissed off and disgusted with immoral people - referring to people like Death Conqueror. I told her that I had now grown sick of such people who never fail in their consistent abuse and only showcase their demonized inner self - rightly shown as an infant naked in sin with black eyes in the 2020's vision of him, though now he's showed by the Holy Spirit as an infant who now wears a white diaper and smiles in elongated short giggles with a foot in mouth, and no longer has those black demonized eyes, but still foolish enough to be compared to an infant.

Anyway, while writing the above, I had the vision of Glory charging inside my room with an axe with a fierce expression, and stopping halfway through the door as he looked at me.

Going back to the my outburst in front of my mom, I exploded about how I had made all these changes in me, how God showed me to buy this or that type of clothing or footwear, and how sometimes I didn't find them, so got something that looked similar, but yet the thought that I had to buy those things still stayed in my mind, that I did such dumb things like getting long fake nails because God of a vision, and that all this just to sizzle in a cheap person to God's kingdom. Not that I don't like working for God, but I was pissed at how slow his progress is in having a heart change towards God, while God was having me suffer because to secure a child is more important than temporary emotional pain in the flesh. I outbursted in front of my mom that I had a problem with all the immoral people of the world, with those who created problems in my MS review process, and those who would rather like watching me be admitted to a mental rehabilitation center as they expect me to be so mentally unstable, when it's them who need to be rehabilitated looking at their behavior and actions. My ex-roommate (Akhila) had once mentioned 'rehabilitation center' indirectly in front of me. Additionally, the scene from the Bollywood movie 'Anjaam' where the heroine named Shivani gets imprisoned due to false charges and is mistreated there kept being highlighted to me in my past PG.

I said to my mom that I would only be rid of my problem when I would be out of this world. That why did people chase after those with whom they didn't resonate in character. That if a white snake chases after a black dog, the dog is not going to like the snake because of its nature. I said a long paragraph to my mom. My mom had first asked me if I was feeling better. Later that night, I realized that my outburst resembled that of Kartik Aryan's long outburst in the movie Pyaar ka Punchnama. I thought, "This too had to happen today itself! - The day that I posted the videos 'Love on Earth' and was editing 'Love in Heaven'. The same day that I had the prophetic doodle manifestation of 'Malang Malang' on my red diary while talking to my mom. The same day that I happened to buy the long heart blush chocolate."

I thought, "Many revelations pertaining to Kartik Aryan in just a day. Hmmm … " (He must be important. And important enough that God gave specific revelations to be recorded.)

But then the day I had returned earlier from the dept and was washing clothes was the day I had some revelations with him too, that I didn't get the chance to write about. It was the same day that I had that close dance with him in the dept with the elephant-like trunk resting vertically across his chest. It was on 21st that I had that vision this month. This month, I have progressed ahead very quickly with people. I had returned earlier because I wasn't feeling good in the dept. While washing clothes on my PG's roof, I had the vision in which I rested my face on his right shoulder as I hugged him lightly and moved slowly. I knew that God was giving me some relief again. On the roof I had these mentally relieving visions. In these visions, there was no trunk present but a silent soothing feeling of rest and healing..

But even looking at the distant trunk vision, in which the end part of the trunk was bent cutely like that of an elephant's as it rested to the left of his head as seen from a huge distance, contains a sense of childlike cuteness and not anything obscene.

Just look at me, the kind of revelations I have received about myself. They teach you to discern correctly and contextually and not look at everything with a fleshly outlook.

Vision day before yesterday (27th April 2023):
at night as I laid down to sleep: Side-view of AK dressed in black dress from the song 'You're My Love's Language' making the prophetic symbol as he kissed a woman to the left while holding her face with his hands. The face of the woman wasn't visible, but only his side of the view showing his shiny black clothes from the song. After a while, he turned his head and looked in my direction (the viewer), smiled teeth fully, and said, "Par Mein toh acting kar rha tha.." ("But I was acting..")

Vision while lunch today:
Ayushman Khurana (AK) facing to the left (making the prophetic symbol), smiling with his eyes closed and moving his face around a bit as if he was brushing his face in love against someone.

Add: 'This tale of love is going to stay here forever'

I don't want to possess..

His children that God gives me revelations.. I don't want to 'possess' them, because it's about them forming an intimate heart bond with me and therefore being drawn to our creator whom I am a servant of, and being a part of our eternal family in His Kingdom. If they are saved out of the serpent system, and their spirits be secured for Heaven, I will feel that my job is fulfilled. But again, no one comes to the Father except those whom He draws to Himself. The kind of revelations God gives me shows the deep and godly nature of those children of Him. So, no, I don't want to possess them in any way on Earth, as they belong to God, and so do I, and God will only give me to those whom He has ordained me for according to His Will, in the ways that He showed to me.

My heart's Struggle: To do the Lord's Work and extend myself to His children and reflect His nature while keeping myself internally holy with the knowledge of whom He has ordained for me on Earth. I have gotten over a huge part of this struggle now, as I've learned the Kingdom mindset now to a great extent. There're some people who go all out against the law and do the wrong thing without a trigger. While there're those that even when they've to do something that may not sound well to their own moral reasoning, their hearts don't become immoral but they rather surf the tide beholding the righteousness of Jesus inside of them. Some people are wicked in the face of righteousness, while others stay righteous in the face of wickedness.

After I had the revelation in which I saw myself sobbing up as looked at my phone while lying to the right of my naked roommate who sat so on her bed in A-16, I understood that I had misunderstood the short-heighted guy to a great extent. I shouldn't have said some things.

Visions on 27th April:

Evening

1. Ranveer Singh Flying With a Mallet

The front view of RS flying in a lying position on his front, dressed in a cheetah-printed side drape (resembling Shiva's). His mouth transfigured to a monkey's mouth like Hanuman's momentarily and was highlighted as he flew with his hand to the vision's right stretched forward with its fist closed while the hand to the vision's left carried a Golden Gada (Mallet) that rested on his shoulder. Behind him flew his army of others in the same manner.

2. The Flying Paras Patel

The left side-view of Paras Patel flying horizontally with his body in a straight line in a dark space with a black helmet on that didn't cover his eyes.

3. A Sky-Blue Hanuman

A well-built sky-blue Hanuman wearing a tall golden crown and dressed in a golden dhoti changing its pose.

4. Head of Shiva Falls & the Serpent Attacks

A general representation of Shivam standing dressed in his printed cheetah drape with a Trishool (Trident) in his hand and a black snake around his neck. The head of the guy got severed and fell down, while the enwrapped serpent lunged forward in the air towards me. I started praying, and it kept getting drawn away though it still continued lunging at me.

(The serpent is the devil. The man with the trident is just a show-piece.)

Additionally, when I was staying in Room 302 right across my present room, I had the vision of RS dressed in a yellow suit with a white shirt standing in front of a yellow wall while moving his arms seeming to be dancing. I later wrote that his dressing sense seemed to me to be resembling a Mango. When I shifted to this room, I saw this sticker on my wardrobe on which was written,

'Jai Mangostaan'

Interestingly, there is a yellow wall in my room as well.

Use your minds, people. Don't be a dumb and blind follower of anything.

I have also been hearing this song (male) lyric in my spirit since morning intermittently.

Kartika Aryan

Additionally, around the past late evening, which was around 6-7 hours back, I kept hearing a male voice in my Spirit reiterating 'Kartika Aryan'.

Well, though the song above had been highlighted to me previously as well, when I was adding some revelations related to KA on the previous page that I hadn't previously written about, it was then that I heard a sharp and clear playing of the song lyric 'Rahegi Sada Yahaan..'

Amputated Wrist

Additionally, I have also been having visions of me waving my amputated wrist with a vertically folded elbow while being dressed in the printed dark green tree top wrap that I wore in some previous revelations. The front view of my upper half was shown in that vision, as I lifted my upper arm with a missing wrist and waved it sideways. I had neck-length frizzy hair and was wrapped in a dark green cloth with small reddish prints giving the appearance of fruits on a tree.

13:21
These revelations will make sense to Hindus as they pertain to their (false) gods.
Warning: The musical revelations pertaining to worship in Satan's kingdom below may seem disturbing to unguarded minds. It's not advisable for someone who stays away from ungodly music to listen to these songs, as they may cause that person to feel upset and not at peace with God. I have learned to guard my mind when I come across satanic stuff. So it doesn't affect me. So, if you're someone who would rather stay from satanic music because of some reason or triggers you may be facing, please do so. I have shared the revelations below to show a parallel in my life with them. The way demonic strongholds at a place are broken depends upon the historical and cultural structure of that place itself. So are the revelations and that go along with the unfolding of my life are given to me.

I have put the sign of 'Warning' before possibly triggering Satanic worship songs.

The Rat That Hid Itself

I have heard this Ganesh worship song many times in my Spirit. And while I was editing the video, I saw many rats in the animated video, and one made the prophetic symbol towards the end. Looking at the rats reminded me of an incident from the real life.

I was walking to and fro on the roof of A-16 one night. And when I reached the railing and happened to look down, I saw a rat quickly run and hide into a cement burrow. This made me think if the incident had any prophetic significance or resemblance to reality. I realized, "Ohhh!! That's what the short-heighted guy does.. He hides when I happen to look down."

I later recalled that I had referred once to Death Conqueror as a 'rat' in front of my supervisor when she was listening to me and comforting me on phone while I was still living in A-17/B. I was feeling quite angry when I kind of shouted in a loud manner that 'he was a rat' (and a coward), and my supervisor was very understanding and patient with me as she listened to me and gave me advice. And later in the Room D4 of A-16, I had the vision of a golden Ganesha at a high level which goes with the lyric 'Sabse upar tu hi hamesha..'

In the above video, the lady fully dressed in white is after the guy dressed in white. She chases after him, and even goes to the extent of kidnapping the guy in black who symbolically represents the guy's wicked twin (his inner spiritual wicked half). The lady is ready to have the man in black killed to secure the one in white. However, the system facilitates the union of the two opposite counterparts.

One more feature of the song is where the man in white says that he has come to bathe his mother (Maa sherawaaliye) in His blood, which is what Jesus did. He was God who came into the system through a woman's womb but without sexual intercourse and shed His 'sacrificial blood' for His people to be reconciled to Him and to get them out of the twin system (the system of Good and Evil).

The man in white says that He has come to offer sacrifice and wants His blood to be of use (to his mother and others).

The man is stuck amidst devil worshippers.

Warning: #Satyam Shivam Sundaram

The second day I shifted in this PG, the guy Vikas who works here was calling me Shivam. It reminded of the previous two related revelations I had. That of a Shiv-like figure in the night light, and the playing of 'Satyam Shivam Sundaram' in my Spirit.
The Holy Spirit also shows to me other people's perception of me.

Dream during Evening (17:30-17:40)

The Resting KA and The Lady

I found myself in a room with KA and another lady on a bed. I didn't talk much to them as they sat silently mostly. The room was well-lit with a yellowish hue and they looked quite relaxed. My view of the bed was situated at the same angle as my bed looks from my chair in this room (303), and the adjacent wall to the right had a yellowish tint as well. I thought I could interact with him for a while, but then I thought that he's such a star, and it just doesn't suit me to be expecting very friendly behavior from him. He seemed to be engrossed in himself, not caring much about my presence - the same with the girl. I felt uneasy and a bit jealous of the girl's presence. I went out with uncomfortable feelings inside and did some chores. I was with Jema now. We were near an oceanic zone (not a beach). We saw a semi-animated wave rushing towards us. I waited for it to pass over me as there was no way to escape it. It didn't cause much harm. I was then with her in a dark classroom resembling the first classroom that I had attended my first class in when I had first gone to my new school in my hometown having been admitted to 1st class directly. I had a small meal there with her.

I went back to my room and found KA and the girl there on the bed again. KA was lying on the bed with just a white towel wrapped around his waist with a neatly folded in right at the middle of his waist. Again, he looked quite at peace, not moving much and lying in a relaxed manner. He laid on his back with his upper body towards the far end of the bed. While the lady sat to the left of the bed wrapped in a white towel too with her naked back towards me of which I could see a large part of as the towel had gone sliding down and now covered only her lower body. She sat to KA's left (as seen by me) and to KA's right (as seen by him), her front facing him. She wasn't wearing anything above her towel. I thought, "Perhaps they are already done with whatever they were up to and now they're relaxing. But why do I have to be here?.. Though I now like KA because of God's given revelations, I don't want to be a noise and an unwanted presence in their room."

The next vision showed the lady now dressed in a lingerie set and resting with her head on KA's belly with her body extending to the left (as seen from my position), with vertically folded knees. While KA laid in the same position as before, still wrapped in that ultra-clean white towel, with his phone in his hand. The lady too had her phone in her hand. Both of them still silently resting together.

The next vision showed the left side-view of the lady who had now stretched herself. The vision moved from the left to the right as her attire and posture were revealed, starting with her dark blue lacy panty with a narrow side band. She had a well-formed and rounded butt. The vision moved further to the right and showed her left upper arm raised with her phone in her hand, the arm covering her small breasts. She wore a white bra that seemed to be undone as it had moved above her breasts from what could be discerned by looking at the part behind the upper arm, but because her breasts were small, they got covered by just her lifted upper arm.

The next vision now showed KA lying on his right side in a position perpendicular to the previous one (as seen from my roommate's bedside), being covered with a thin printed beige sheet, with his back towards my view. He seemed to be looking at his phone while facing the other side. The lady too slipped inside the sheet beside him with her own phone in her hand she too laid on her right side facing him. Both of them were now silently and individually on their phones.

And after I woke up, I heard these lyrics:
Ya Ali Madad Ali
Ya Ali
Ye Meri Jaa Ye Zindagi..

And after I listened to the full song, this stanza of the song kept recurring to me as well.

Prem Granth (A Voluminous Book of Love)

I heard this phrase many times in my Spirit for the past 2-3 days.

Rajat Sharma Smiles

I had the vision of the upper half of Mr. Rajat Sharma of 'Aap Ki Adalat' looking at me and smiling while being dressed in a full-sleeved shirt. The vision repeated itself a few times during the day and the surrounding few days.

Ayushman Blows His Nose In a Go

I first had this vision after posting his song videos on Page 397. The vision repeated itself intermittently a few times. Then when I was putting on socks in the balcony outside my PG's room before leaving for the gym, the vision recurred to my left.
Vision (1st May and a few days prior): The upper half of Ayushman dressed in the multicolored printed yellow ethnic dress of the song 'You're My Love's Language', was shown as he blew his nose In a go while looking at me with one hand on his nose, and standing straight.

God has led me to change my mind, and I am now connected with many people, with each one in a unique and specific way that can't be compared with another. That's how God loves us all too, and He taught me how He sees us and connects at an individual with all of us. If I wasn't a woman, and the people whom God gave me revelations about not their respective genders, but if we all were in our original form of spirits, we wouldn't be feeling the pain that comes as a result of being in flesh, like when an earthly partner goes out and makes bonds with others in a way they shouldn't. That's because the flesh puts and demands behavioral limitations based on the role one is in. But in the absence of flesh, the only kind of bond one experiences is Godly love where the fleshly criteria of commitment isn't supposed to be met, but only an internal nature of faithfulness towards one's loved ones is realized. God has changed me.. Glory. I don't know if you will like this change. But the changes He brought in my understanding, perception, and the way I relate with others are in tandem with how things are on the other side in the Kingdom of God.

4. My Ministry Is General But Also Specific to This Country

That's why the parallels of my life's events with Hindu gods. For instance, I got my teeth whitened in January this year and got two veneers back in 2021, and then I and Pooja had an encounter with a slim monkey who showed us all of his teeth with his jaws clenched together, in an attempt to scare us..

5. Jesus Christ is Not Another Name For Krishna

I have often come across this common misconception among people that the 'Christ' of Jesus Christ is derived from the Greek Word 'Christos', which is also the Greek for 'Krishna' (the Hindu God), and therefore Christianity is just another form of worshipping the same God. But this is not true.

Here is an excerpt from a website that forces similarities between Hinduism and Christianity.

'Christ comes from the Greek word 'Christos', which means "the anointed one". Again, the word 'Krishna' in Greek is the same as 'Christos'. A colloquial Bengali rendering of Krishna is 'Kristo', which is the same as the Spanish for Christ — 'Cristo'.'

From <https://www.learnreligions.com/christ-krishna-connection-1770450>

We've to keep in mind that the Bible was originally written in Hebrew and not Greek. The name of the Father God in Hebrew was pronounced 'Yahuah' - a combination of four letters 'Y-aH-U-aH', as read from right to left. The letters had their individual meanings translating to 'Hand Behold Nail Behold'. Yahuah is often shortened to 'Yah' to refer to God. Jesus' name in Hebrew is a five-letter word that stands for 'Yah Saves', with an additional letter meaning 'salvation' stuffed in between. His Hebrew name is pronounced as 'Yahusha Hamashiach', where Yahusha means 'Yah Saves', and Hamashiach means 'Messiah' or the anointed one. The English translation of Yahusha Hamishiach surmised to the name Jesus Christ.

God-Saves Messiah (The Meaning) --> Yahusha Hamishiach (The Hebrew Version) --> Jesus Christ (English)

Though the meaning of Christ or Christos is the same - the anointed one. The root of Christ in Jesus Christ originally comes from 'Hamashiach' which has nothing to do with Christos or 'Krishna'.

The Greatest Difference

Additionally, Christ came to pay the debt of Sin of mankind that they could never pay on their own, nor could they nullify with their 'good works', while Hinduism teaches the false doctrine of balancing bad works with good works in order to attain 'Moksha' and break out from the cycle of rebirths. It doesn't anywhere talk about the judgment of God that sends one to Hell if their sin debt isn't paid, but is based on the false doctrine of repetitive births in different living forms according to one's works during a lifetime.

The true doctrine says that it is God's angels that get trapped in the flesh once they take the devil's bait to partake in the flesh system on Earth which is but an insurrection against the Most-High Lord God in Heaven. Worshipping of the fallen angels who started the insurrection as gods in this new system was the goal of the partaking angels (now called demons).

6. No 'More' Eating, But Eating as Led

Though I've been eating, it seems to me that I'm meant to for a while as I am now going to start gymming. When I feel a nudge to skip a meal, I do, when I get a nudge to eat, I eat. But I have not been overeating or eating the way that was previously normal to me.

7. The Woman on a Bed of Arrows

When I wake up in the morning, for a long time I keep lying in bed trying to open my eyes as they stay half opened. It often reminded me of the past vision of me lying naked on a bed of arrows that pierced through my back as I fluttered my eyes slowly in the vision.

From <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=yHNggTfMVz4>

Yesterday, the line 'Jind Meri Aayi Hai Chhalanga Maardi' [My Life Has Come Jumping] brought to my attention the part of the dream where the lion came running in long jumps in a semi-circular manner with a serious expression on his face before he took the final high jump towards my face with a mouth wide-open.

A while back the lyrics that mean To pay your debt, your Son has come were being highlighted to me. Jesus came to pay our 'sin debt', by shedding His sacrificial blood as a payment for our sins.

And while I wrote the [My Life Has Come Jumping] in the highlights section above, the past vision of the huge ring jumping outwardly in the sky and approaching nearer was brought to my attention, and the part of the dream where I ran towards Glory jumping from left to right in the dream revelation 'The Dusty Man and The Fairy' was highlighted to me, followed by the part of the dream 'Glory In My PG' where I ran towards him jumping outwardly on the roof as he stood near the railing looking ahead with a distant look on his face.

The relation of the lyric 'Jind Meri Aayi Hai Chhalanga Maardi' with the jumping lion made me think that God must be referring to him as 'his life' as He gave up His life for people who are even more wicked than him, because I definitely don't like people while they're still wicked.

This song was highlighted to me in the morning while I was making tea. while the female version was playing outside.

13. Drona Leaves After Writing The Coming of The Messiah

The Dronacharya Gym

Today, after realizing that the name of the gym I have joined is 'The Dronacharya Gym', I could relate the song revelation to this current phase of my life.

But apparently, I am also that person who is lying on a bed of arrows - the vision that was received by Brother Nate as well. Now the person who laid on a bed of arrows was Bheeshm Pitamah from Hinduism.

14. Shaktimaan

Heard in the Spirit (when I was still in A-16): 'Shaktimaan'
[Eng Sub Not Present]
<<Shaktimaan.mp4>>

Shaktimaan.mp4

It was a serial I used to watch back in my childhood. I hadn't understood why I was hearing the chorus of this particular song. But I am recording it here. Though I came to know today from the news online that RS may be working in the 'Shaktimaan' project. But I'm recording what I heard. Because though I may not understand the significance of things when I receive a revelation, it becomes clear as things unfold, and that's how it's supposed to be in my ministry. It's not all about receiving complete words that make sense, but receiving bits and recording them, and as things unfold, connect the dots and follow along what was previously revealed.

In the video, the following part was highlighted to me:

This part is related to the vision revelation 'A Winged Golden Man' on Page 268.
From Page 268:

A Winged Golden Man

Vision (Early/Mid-2022): I saw a golden muscular being on the roof of my PG with his upper body bent low. It looked like he was stretching inwardly. His entire being was golden shiny and smooth. He had a plain hairless head and his face had no sharp features except that of a noticeable nose protrusion. His head and face were golden too. He had two golden shiny wings at his back. The vision then showed him standing straight and facing upwards with a fist raised up towards the sky. It looked like he was about to take a flight, and he did as he moved straight upwards and left the roof.

In the video, the scene is accompanied by lyrics that say that when a human realizes the truth of his real identity, he is called Shaktimaan (the divinely powerful man).

And the truth of a man's real identity is that he's God's golden angel trapped inside flesh.

And as I started to refer to the Winged Golden Man revelation, I heard in my spirit, "Kartika, tum sacchii ho." ("Kartika, you're truthful."), and it repeated itself a good number of times.

The order of revelations is important.

15. 'Order Order'

Vision (Room D4, A-16, Early 2022/Late 2021): A judge's hammer hits his table twice in a way it does when he says 'Order Order'. Only the wooden hammer was visible in the top field of view.

16. Unarranged Whispers

Though my previous revelations aren't in order as I wrote some at a much later time because my heart wasn't yet ready to assimilate them, even that's prophetic because I named my book 'Unarranged Whispers' on Wattpad many years back when I created my account there to online publish my writings.

So, though the previous revelations are unarranged, I'm taking care now to write regularly and in order.

'The Resting KA and The Lady' and the song 'Zara Zara'

I realized in the evening that the song revelation 'Zara Zara' on this page that I had in the morning was related to the dream revelation 'The Resting KA and The Lady' I had yesterday evening written on the previous page.

02 May 2023
02:48

I was done writing revelations for the day (May 1) and was now ready to sleep when the following song played in my spirit. I made a note of it here to edit & post it after I woke up in the morning.

1. Mehbooba Mehbooba

Just note the people who make the prophetic symbol.
<<Mehbooba Mehbooba.mp4>>

Mehbooba Mehbooba.mp4

I returned to my PG early because I couldn't work, was mentally burnt out, and thought I should sleep and get some rest if I wanted to gym in the evening.

2. Dream (Evening)

I asked my ex-roommate Akhila to accompany me to buy a notebook. She was riding a bicycle while I was on foot walking to her left. She was on the phone as she made the prophetic symbol. She wore a dark green salwar suit with a translucent drape while I wore the light green version of my black dress polka-dotted in white, with the black colour replaced by the light green. She had her hair tied low at the back. She said something mean to me indirectly while being on her phone. I replied in a rational manner. The road took a left turn. She said something mean again. This time I started crying out loudly. But she continued bicycling ahead while still on her phone, and left me alone. I realized that her motive in accompanying me wasn't really to accompany me but was just a show. I turned back and went back to my place that neither looked like my last PG nor this current one. I was still crying out loudly. I would stop for a while but start again. Somehow I was very hurt. There were some goons who had entered the place and wanted to cause some kind of ruckus. I went to the other end of the building and got out of the window. I was now on a wide, long, very narrowly stepped black metallic staircase that was slowly moving around. I looked down and saw that it was attached to a black car below that was moving slightly around making the staircase move.
I got down and now was on a market street. I was still in a terrible mental state. I saw Prof Sanjay Jain coming walking from the opposite direction. He stopped and said that he had to ask me something. He started explaining something biological on a piece of paper. He then drew some small crowded circles as a part of his process, but then he got stuck in between as he said, "Ahh..". His other students came and he left with them. I walked back to him and told him that his 'act' had helped and motivated me as he turned his head sideways and listened.
I continued on my way.

3. Catching a Sight of Ayushman (or His Doppelganger..?)

When I was in the gym this evening, I looked outside and saw a man walking diagonally left into the adjacent building. He seemed to me to be resembling Ayushman, but then I brushed off the thought because these days I have been coming across many doppelgangers who are but sent by the enemy. The event was being repeatedly highlighted to me, so I wrote about it here. Perhaps it was really him. But I have to be careful. Because in the event of 'The Boundary Breaching Delivery Guy' on Page 385, the delivery guy wasn't a real delivery guy but a criminal with a weapon hid in his left hand covered by his helmet. He had come to mimic the part of the dream 'The Circus & The Nose' where Ranveer Singh came walking towards me in dark clothes with a bag at his back. He came to test my reaction and seemed to be sent by the gang that's after me. The delivery guy was walking closer to me though I was moving away from him. It seemed weird to me because he wasn't carrying the order in his hand and he kept coming walking in my personal space. He didn't look like a normal delivery guy. He was tall and dark, wore dark clothes, and his face was covered with a mask, and carried a school bag behind him. His looks, posture, and body language gave him away! When I walked out some meters ahead in the vision of the PG people sitting together on the hall's left, all of them had hurtful expressions and were silent. They had been scared and cornered in that place so that no one witnesses or comes in the middle of whatever was going to unfold had I behaved according to the criminal's expectations. After confirming to him that it was my order, he took it out of his bag behind him. But why was he hiding it previously? And what was he expecting by walking towards me with an apparent smile on his face keeping his left hand hidden inside the helmet? The delivery guy didn't even deliver my 2 small Pepsis that were a part of the MoBurger's Combo, though I didn't realize it at the time he handed me the order.

Later I realized that he was expecting me to mistake him for Ranveer Singh and give him a hug (as if I will hug RS if he comes walking in front of me - I know my boundaries.), and he was ready to attack me had I behaved that way. I understood why he didn't deliver the Pepsi bottles. I had mistaken them to be already present inside the burger's bag itself and forgot about them after I opened the bag in my room upstairs, as I had decided to have them later. When I later looked for them, I didn't find them, and then the weird behavior of the delivery guy made more sense. He seemed to be sent by Death Conqueror and the gang, because who else will send him!? I don't have many enemies. I shouldn't have had any enemies, in principle, because I didn't set out to cause anyone any harm. I only exercised healthy boundaries, but yet I got targeted! Because toxic people don't like boundaries!

Seeing such an outrageous and fearless act of boundary-breaching in a PG made me understand that I was indeed dealing with 'vicious seas', as Death Conqueror was rightly called in the song lyric 'With a whisper, we'll tame the vicious seas..' from the song 'Turning Page' (Assignment in Pink & Yellow on Page 37)

Back when I was in Room D4 of A-16, I was dressed in my pink shawl and long denim jeans and was waiting to go out as per the Song of Songs 3 (or was perhaps making myself mentally ready to go out). After I was done with my daily revelation writing yesterday, I laid down to sleep. It was about 4 in the morning I guess. I then had this vision.

1. KA Walks While Ruffling His Wet Hair

4. Dancing Jesus on 'Tum Ho Mera Pyaar' (Last year)

I used to listen to this song a lot last year. And I used to walk on the roof a lot as well during nights. Often when I would be listening to this song, I had a vision of Jesus dressed in his white linen tunic with a thicker white linen half jacket on top in which he danced swinging his upper sideways and pointing his arms towards me in turns in a way in which he would point the right arm to his slight left if he moved to his right wavily, and the left arm to his slight right if he moved to his left side wavily.

This vision repeated several times, mostly every time when the chorus played.

5. The Chubby Lady in Green

I had this dream a few days back. I saw the chubby lady - the wife of the immoral middle man - in that dream. Well, I am using the term 'the immoral middle man' for consistency's sake as I don't know his real name. But he and the lady are neighbors to my PG's left. The lady was dressed in her long green tunic and sat on a surface in a dark background with her body facing to the left, her face thereby making the prophetic symbol. There was a child present there too in that dark space that was supposedly her home. I saw a transparent jar filled with a transparent gelatinous substance with small colorful sweet and sour balls immersed inside and floating in it. I kept coming across the jar as I moved around in the space. Apparently, the people there were expecting me to consume it by putting it on display in front of me.

I was still in the process of writing the above revelation when I had the following vision.

6. The Palm Technique (From Heaven)

I saw the hero in the video below making a palm-shaped hole in the wall behind the villain. The vision was followed by the hero falling from the sky with his palm facing down as seen from below.
<<The Palm From Heaven.mp4>>

Ref:The One vs. Many | Kung Fu Hustle

The Chubby Lady In Green Continued..

I could see their attempts to lure me to fiddle with the jar. I thought, "Why are they trying to test me!?" Of course, I didn't have the sweet and sour colorful balls and just kept ignoring their mental gimmicks. I was in A-16 next and went on the roof to get my clothes down as it was raining very heavily. I went out in the open rain and grabbed my black pants hanging on the wire, spread with its legs making the shape of an inverted V, and brought them downstairs. The next thing I was no longer in the middle man and the lady in green's house but was now in a place where I saw their fat neighbours around me.

7. The Bharti Singh Mango

Vision (Past week): I saw a distant vision of Bharti Singh sitting on a white chair that faced to the left, thus making the prophetic symbol. She wore a yellow suit with a white shirt inside, and had straight hair. Her belly was shown as abnormally protruding much ahead of her body giving her the look of a Mango lying horizontally.

8. He Makes Every Good and Pure Thing Dirty

This evening I was thinking how Death Conqueror made every pure thing dirty, and what did he think before coming after me? I saw how he was filled with worldly corrupted ways. How can a righteous person be around him if (s)he is not looking at his outer performance but at him as a whole? Because look at what he did to me! I was the kind of person who never wanted to be around fornicators or those who don't have a sense of eternal love based on purity! I never wanted to be around rich people who go out and partake in vain worldly stuff. And the person of the kind of character I hate the most came after me and stripped me publicly - me - who wouldn't even talk to someone like him! And all the whores of the world he glorified, whores because they chose to support his act. This evening I saw how much I despised him, which was also exactly the reason I didn't let him be a part of my life! Because though at times my heart melted, the truth of his being stood quite clear in front of me! Why would I go to someone like him? - who is remorseless and an abuser?

I don't give abusers and whores the respect of a gentleman and a godly woman! He makes me want to puke out because of how filthy he is on the INSIDE!

9. Dream-Vision: 'I will Sleep Outside Once in a Month'

I had this dream vision when I was in A-16, around a month back. In a dark background, the disgusting fella was communicating to me that he will 'try' to limit his cheating only once in a month. I thought, "When did I even let him in my personal space that he is telling me this!? He for sure assumes stuff and takes them for granted!"

I didn't take the dream vision seriously. The same day I happened to ask my mom if I can have a MoBurger. She told me a 'No'. I told her that I would limit fast food to once a month and asked her to let me have it one more time. It reminded me of the dream vision, but the situation was inherently different in the two cases. Because MoBurger is food, not a person! And he is a filthy person with a deplorable character! If he is food then he is shit that pigs eat from.

And I also understood why God gave me the vision of the face of a metallic skeleton with a red light on its forehead! It's because he LOVES red lights and visualizing a red light on my forehead will stop him from shooting me in the forehead because I have not yet bowed my knees to his wicked ways! Such an inherently filthy person! How could he even imagine that I will choose someone like him? Who cares about his background or what he can afford? Just Look at who he is and how he operates! It's not someone I would go for! I can't even look at his face without feeling disgusted! I guess that's why God keeps showing him to me as an innocent infant who is foolish! And his whores keep making noises as if talking in a certain manner will make them any less of whores!

Maybe his actions will put a good impression on people like him, but they only make me feel repelled from him! I wish God will stop giving me revelations pertaining to him and his wicked admirer, and not involve me in their business. He can save them through some other way, but they have just been so so filthy in their character in my sight, that I would abhor even any acts of love coming from them! They make me nauseous! Likewise, that tall yo-yo girl who walks around with a sense of superiority when she has no inner depth of character but knows to only bully! She only has worldly worth, because of her looks, but no godly worth because I can feel the stink of her character when I am around her!

And as for me, let me now write what God highlighted to me about me a few days back! I happened to pay attention at the writing on my wardrobe's key, and on it was written 'Greatest'. That's who I am in God's eyes in comparison to them though they have treated me like sh*t. The verses that called John as the greatest were highlighted to me, and also that even the greatest on Earth is the least in the Kingdom of Heaven. I don't think I wanted to hear this about me, but the verses just kept getting highlighted to me and then the writing on the key a few days back. So, there must be a reason behind God letting me know His judgment of me! He wanted me to base my self-worth in His view of me and not in other people's words.

Though I am not perfect character wise, I have always strived to be so as much as I could in my own understanding and didn't do what I clearly knew was wrong or violated something that was supposed to be pure! He should just forget that he will get his way with me, and get lost with his cameras that I have only tolerated because of God's will playing in my life to gather His sheep!

He can't sustain a person who's pure at heart and will only make that person filthy by making him/her a part of his world. He is filthy because he joined himself with the filth of the world. Anything that is untouched by the world and keeps one's heart guarded stays pure at heart! And 'untouched' here doesn't imply the 'absence of physical touch by living or non-living objects, but the mental infiltration of the world in one's thought process.

He can think whatever he wants about me but in my view, he has exactly the kind of background that I don't want any of my friends to have, let alone someone who is supposed to stay closer than a casual friend!

He should even stop sending indirect messages where someone representing me is standing beside another person representing him and his wicked follower.

I can recall this incident back from the time I was at home in 2020. There were some people making noises on the floor above. They had loud music playing and they were all dancing while singing along. I thought, "How can these people enjoy themselves knowing that they have been stripping me!? There must be something innately wrong with them! And how can they sing along while doing such a horrible thing!" They just made me feel so so aversed! If I love God and want to be His, I try to obey Him too at all times, though at times I fail because of the weakness of flesh, where I am mentally spent or don't have enough inner strength to go through the day, and He gives me rest in those times. But at least, I am not going out of my way to make other people suffer like this deplorable person represented by an infant by God.

If you want Godly people in your life, you have to be Godly as well, or at least try to be so and grow with time. I wasn't very godly when I was an atheist, but have grown during the past years in my understanding of God, but when I look at the red light revelation and other incidents, I just happen to think why did God choose someone wicked like him to be a part of my life who makes me unhappy, stressed and depressed, and leaves me unable to be myself and exhibit my traits? If He had chosen morally upright people to be a part of my vicinity, I would have been so much happier and my traits would've worked in synchrony with them. But then I also know all these thoughts are from my flesh complaining against God's Will, because one needs to crucify the flesh if one wants to gain the kingdom of God. I wish everyone loved God the way He deserves to be loved. Then they would also have treated His other children in the manner they deserve to be treated, or how God would have treated them. I found good company in His uncompromising true church that calls good - good and evil - evil, and not the other way round.

Resting on A Swing Together; An Angry RS; Eye Lifted 'Up'..

1. Resting on a Swing Together

Vision (Around 15 minutes back): I saw the side-view of a lady who looked like a chubby version of my ex-friend Meera, but then her face changed to an general person with a slightly apple-shaped body. She was dressed in a V-neck top of 3/4th sleeves, striped in pink with variable thickness, and tucked inside a light blue denim, lying with her head on the lap of KA on a swing. The swing consisted of a rectangular slab held upwards by ropes. More than half of her body was out of the swing as she supported herself with her legs that stretched themselves partially to the right of the vision. KA was dressed in a loose black shirt with small white alphabetical print, untucked over light blue jeans, as he sat upright with his legs resting in a sitting position on the other side of the swing. He had his arms wrapped around her shoulders, and then the lady took something long (more than half a meter) out right from the outermost part of his nose's right cavity. (Idk why God puts in this nose revelation that makes things gross.) The lady then used her legs against a support at some distance to make the swing move lightly.

Idk. God knows how to make people fall in love and how to separate them as well.

2. An Angry RS

While I wrote the above vision last night, I saw a bearded face of RS with silent but resentful/ angry expressions right in front of me.
And the next morning when I was brushing my teeth, I again had the vision of his angry expression with him dressed in the Pepsi half jacket over a white thin vest-like t-shirt over loose denim, and he was moving his hand in a way that made me think he was going to slap me. "But why would he do that?", I thought.

But I love people in their spirits, as they're children of God whom I am supposed to minister to and point to His kingdom. So, there's no reason to feel resentful or harbor negative feelings. Because my job is to gather His sheep in this place. And sometimes I think if what God meant by 'What if you never receive your promise in your lifetime..?' was the propagation of the wave I started and its culmination leading to a filled boat with progression in time birthing the children of God in the spirit as they get saved out of the system. That would be the full picture of the promise, and it's not related to only my promise of marriage on Earth.

I woke up with this song today.

Visions:

1. The Back Cover Up

When I was in A-16:
I was bathing in the washroom of Room D1 when I had this vision. I saw Prof TRS dressed in the shiny green tunic from 'The Wary Prof' revelation as he stood behind me, took a few steps with forearms stretched forward and covered my back.

2. The Shoot or The Run

The ending scene of Lootera movie was highlighted to me many times when I was in A-16, and it continued to be highlighted even after I shifted here in A-10.

Lootera - The Shoot

<<The Shoot.mp4>>

The Shoot.mp4

After watching the video above, I realized that the gunshot resembled the one in the High-Rated Gabru revelation.

The Run

The vision on Page 394 'The Short Heighted Man Turns and Runs Away' had the pathway shown in it. But instead of the man walking towards the sight of the vision, it had a man already present at the end of the path visible in the picture. The man quickly turned backwards fearfully after taking a look forward and started running away. Let the one who has ears hear and eyes to see, see.

I have heard these song lyrics many times in my spirit: "Mujhe Chorr Do.."
<<Leave Me...mp4>>

This scene had touched my heart when I had first watched the movie many years back. But it has been being highlighted to me for some days now.

3. 'Warnings'

The Past month I was writing something in my Notebook in this room when I had the following visions in a row.
They could be warnings of possible attacks by the 'enemy'.

The Moral Prof

Vision of Prof TRS split vertically in half from the middle as he stood wearing the long shiny green tunic.

Kartik Aryan - The Brave Man

Vision of KA standing still and then his head was sliced with no weapon in the vision's sight.

Ayushman Khurrana - Faces Gunshots

Vision of the upper-half of a plump (muscular) AK facing a few gunshots on his front while he was dressed in a sweatshirt over grey t-shirt.

4. Time With KA

Vision (past week): I'm hugging KA on my bed like Bella hugs Edward wrapping her leg around him as they are laid down. The resemblance to the scene between Edward and Bella was repeatedly highlighted as the vision continued.

Vision (past week): KA puts his hand inside my vagina and he's making movements as if trying to grab something inside.

Day before yesterday: BS like an infant by KA as he held a horizontal breast in air and made the vertical prophetic symbol. You see, only the breast was visible and nothing else. So, I don't know who it was.

4. I Didn't Previously Have a Strong Bollywood Inclination

Last night I was thinking how God brought a change in my heart in regard to these Bollywood stars. I wasn't a great fan of them previously. I didn't like most of the Bollywood movies except those that had depth and meaning. I liked some movies like 'Lootera' and 'Dum Lagake Haisha', or some parts of good movies like 'Masaan', but I wasn't inclined towards a specific actor. When I was a toddler, Shahrukh Khan and Karishma Kapoor used to be my favorite but by the time I was in middle school, my favoritism faded away and I developed a strong liking towards Daniel Radcliffe and Taylor Lautner when I reached High School. Yeah, because of their roles in Harry Potter and the Twilight series respectively. That too faded away when I reached MSc and now I was highly influenced by Oscar Wilde because of his authenticity and stress on what was pure and upright besides the fact that he engaged in homosexuality - in that area he was sinful, but rest he knew right from wrong and his way of thinking was idealistic.

5. My Obsession With Oscar Wilde

He understood the very deep things that pertained to the human soul and gave them life with his words. He wasn't a dual-faced criminal. Though he was entangled in vanity, he was an idealist to a great extent. He used his looks to express his inner self which could be easily mistaken for vanity by others. To a true artist, it's very important for his outer looks to represent his inner self as it gives a satisfying feeling of union with one's inner self and one feels whole.

6. To Possess or Not

Sometimes I think about all these things/possessions that I bought, and keep buying. I was thinking that if there was a way I could represent my inner self or look how I wanted to on that day, after which the related clothes etc. disappeared without me having to possess them, then it would be so great. Because I didn't really want to fill my wardrobe with things or possessions. If what I need in a moment appears right then and disappears afterwards, I don't have to deal with material things. But that's not plausible in this system, and the way one operates with possessions is not too important either when compared to what God wants one to do. Anyway.

7. Jesus - My Last Hero and Final Refuge

In my PhD, finally, I came to Jesus - my all-time favorite hero with everlasting love, infinite depth, wisdom, power, and whose faithfulness knows no bounds, who is mighty in deeds and character. But that above para isn't what I was crying about last night. I was thinking about how my heart is changed now towards KA after God gave me revelations about him. Previously, I hadn't watched a lot of his movies except Pyaar Ka Punchnama because of the hyped skilfully performed scene. It had actually seemed like a movie that didn't have much depth but showed the worldly way in which people interacted.

8. Bollywood Comes to Life in My Life

But when I myself complained to my mom for a good length of time on a WhatsApp video call, the movie came to life in my life. I could now relate with KA's performance at a different level, with a changed brain. Then last night I was thinking that why was God making me form such strong and everlasting bonds with people whom I will have to let go of eventually because of my set path on Earth? And not just this movie, God brought to life in my life parts of other Bollywood movies as well.

9. 'I Want To Be His Mummy!'

That after all the revelations with KA, I now wanted to be his mummy! I had this recurring thought, "I am his mummy!" "I want to be his mummy!" "He's my lifeline." I kept repeating these lines inside. And then I was tearing up because I knew that my thoughts and feelings were a result of how God had introduced him in my life through different unexpected and unanticipated revelations, and that I had no option but to let go eventually. I knew that my job was to minister to his heart and bring him to God's kingdom, and not to be his mummy! But why did God choose a way that led my own heart to be entangled with him making me now feel this way. I already knew from the past revelations that Glory is my God-ordained 'son' (in a way), as revealed on Page 8, and Death Conqueror made the prophetic symbol too - the demonized infant who was to be reborn in the Spirit. But here I was yesterday, thinking in ways that didn't go along with my set path, or perhaps it was supposed to hold true for the day itself. But whatever be the case, I was too sad yesterday. See, this is the struggle you face when you minister to the hearts of people God brings in your life. You form bonds with them and then don't want to let go as they end up making a place in your heart.

10. The Gift of The Holy Spirit

And then I also thought about what KA received through me. It was something that would be of high value to me if I received it from a person of God. God gave me prophetic revelations about him wherein what He showed me manifested in real life in its time as I was led by His spirit. I thought if there was a deeper way one could connect besides this - where one received communing revelations from the Spirit of God itself - and came to the conclusion that there wasn't a deeper way. Though he may be with someone eventually, to find a connection sustained by the Spirit of God is of incomparable value and is not formed with the world. In that way, he had received something of absolute value that couldn't be compared with a bond with a worldly person. So, he should now rest while being assured that God saw His heart and ministered to it through me. And the revelations also blessed me with a beautiful bond with one of his children.

11. To Retain The Love But Let Go of The Person's Earthly Journey

Anyway. I guess God is training me to make strong bonds with people and let them go when its time while still keeping them inside, and not getting hurt being filled with the knowledge that those people are His children whom He brought in my life for a season to be imparted with some of His self onto them, and to give them a spiritual experience of communing where they can think outside of their earthly life (though prosperous) and see that it's not the place they're meant to be in, and that all good things come from God in Heaven, and all good and pure things are found in Heaven, and not on Earth filled with the serpent race. That it's not like I've lost them, because they're eternal beings on the inside whom I will be reuniting with in Heaven, now being free of the earthly gender and dancing the heart-shaped twin-angels flying dance.

Hmm.. Different lessons during different times in life..

12. The Dance With Ayushman

(A-16)

4:50 (Morning)

I was done using the washroom when I had the following vision.

Vision (around 10 mins back): RS with the look from the gunshot scene is about to turn away, but then he turns back and kisses me and then unexpectedly hits his right knee on my groin.

14:34

13. Hungry For Your Heart

I have been wondering for the past two days if KA feels that no one wants his heart but only attention, and if that's why God gave me the revelation where I put my hand into his chest right through the place of his heart, and kept doing so. I even took his heart out, heart that looked like a human heart, deep red immersed in blood, lifted my head up and put it on top of my mouth before gulping it in.

KA - The revelation is exclusive and specific to the needs of your heart! See, God watches over His children.

I had the above epiphany after a song happened to play in the Gym a few days back - 'Attention' by Charlie Puth. Afterwards, it made me think about the heart revelation..

14. 'The Time With An Actor' Revelation

I also understood why God gave the revelation with Ranbeer Kapoor in my hometown's home where he was telling me about celestial bodies the names of which I never heard of. I had been complaining a few days about how I just couldn't be myself as I complied with the revelations God had given me, wherein I learned to do makeup, started doing some of it (not a lot though), got long useless nails, but the effect of it was my focus changing from my inward state to my outward appearance. When I complained about the situation to my mom in a long 'speech', it had later reminded me of Kartik's speech in the movie 'Pyaar Ka Punchnama'.

But in 'The Time With An Actor' revelation on Page 107, Ranbeer Kapoor talked about things that fascinated me more than a decade back while softly and lovingly kissing me intermittently. Those were also the things that had led me to get enrolled in Physics Hons here in DU back in 2010 because I wanted to learn more about Astrophysics.

15. A Part of the Zara Zara Song

And I was hearing in the spirit this lady's melody from the song 'Zara Zara'. It repeated itself intermittently, even while I was making tea after lunch.
<<Aaja Re....mp4>>
I had these revelations last night.

16. A White Page in Blue Net Fire With Tiny Shaktimans Flying Out

A huge straight white page standing upright facing the vision with translucent blue flurry net cloth below out of which were flying out short Shaktimaans (with the old actor) in an arc to the left. And while the Shaktimaans flew out, I heard the chorus of the Shaktimaan song alongwith the vision.

17. The Golden and Green KA in Black and White

KA comes walking forward dressed in an untucked loose black shirt with an alphabetical print. He had shiny golden love hearts fully covering his eyes and many medium-sized golden rings in his nose that ran way below his chin as they were stacked one below another.

Then his long tongue bulged out and down on its own, but instead of the tongue was present dark green animated dollar note, and then his eyes too had dark green dollar with black print present on the surface..

18. The Black Shirt with White Alphabetical Print

Around a week back or so, while browsing through shirts to buy on the Meesho App, this women's black shirt with white alphabetical print was highlighted to me, almost as if the Spirit was nudging me to buy it. But I didn't like it. So, I thought, "Why did I get the thought to buy this when I don't like the looks a lot?"

And then after some days I had this swing revelation at night with KA as I laid to sleep in which he was wearing a loose black shirt with a white alphabetical print. That also happened to be the night where earlier I had played keyboard on my laptop after long. The next morning while playing the keyboard again on my laptop while sitting on my bed with vertically folded knees and with the laptop on my lap, I thought that if it represented a situation similar to the vision with KA, wherein the lady's upper body was on his lap and he was sitting upright in a similar shirt since my laptop is dark greyish with keys that lighten up in white and I play keyboard on it. But after some time, it also reminded me of the shirt I had felt the nudge previously but had ignored. Anyway. I ordered the shirt yesterday.

You see. I am not a weak person who is easily insulted or drawn away if God has assigned me to a task. People may leave, but I live with the knowledge of them being an eternal creation of God, and I am not obliged or entitled to possess them even if God gives me revelations about them, neither should I want to possess them. So, yeah, it's not like I am running after people, but rather as I wrote above, I am ministering to their hearts and running after the creation of God trapped in flesh to have them see outside the box and to touch their inner eternal being that should want to soar after seeing the futility of life on Earth. So, even if buy things that pertain to revelations related to them, it is because of the sense of the Godly love that God filled me with for them (and others), and it's not something that should make them feel uncomfortable, stifled or suffocated. Because the Spirit of God brings freedom and not bondage.

I have been hearing this melody in the spirit for the past few minutes.
<<Aaa.. (Veer Zaara).mp4>>

Aaa.. (Veer Zaara).mp4

19. 'Jao Jakar Madad Dhundo'

Dream (Day before yesterday): I was moving in and out of what resembled Miranda House's Auditorium, and was then sitting beside a woman there. My mom came from the back to inform me something. I get up, take a few steps, and see this written on a dark brown surface in white Hindi fonts, "Jao Jakar Madad Dhundo".

20. The Pain Relieving Sky and the Oasis (In God's Company)

Dream (this morning): I was in a room and there was a lady on a wheelchair. I kept borrowing her long cuboid cardboard box as I needed it. The box resembled that of an incense cover and was light blue and white in cover. Every time I borrowed it, I happened to find some sort of crap inside, which made me think, "Why does she has to put this stuff inside this box?" This particular time I found some cluttered disks of long hair inside the box. I told her that she didn't have to put her hair inside the box, as the lady moved away on her wheelchair looking backwards sideways. I was back in the room again, but this time there was some kind of celebration there, and the lady who was previously on the wheel chair, was now on her foot. Her back was towards me but weirdly enough, she had worm her necklace set backwards. She was showing off her necklace in the shape of an inverted triangle formed by round balls of what looked like diamonds shining in white. I thought, "Why is she behaving in apparent showy ways?"

I was now hungry and was in the street market of my hometown at the same time. I thought of eating something from there. I saw a Panipuri place but it was crowded. So I moved ahead and found another seller. He was free but he kept himself busy on his phone for a while before handing out the Panipuris. I asked him for some of the spiced water afterwards, but the glass that he gave me still had dishwashing soap water's marks on the inner surface. I took another glass off the vertical row of glasses made by putting one on top of another. But the other glass too had the same marks on the inside. Seeing that I had no choice, I chose to use the second glass I had picked up. I wanted to have tea as well, but didn't find any place there. I took the eatables in my hand to a table nearby to sit and eat quietly. Apparently, I had a lot of stuff with me, most of which I was dirty. I don't know why I was carrying that stuff. Apart from my bag, I had a luggage bag, and other loose stuff including a wiper and a doormat too. I put them all on the slab to the left, and sat to eat peacefully. But after I was done, hardly did I know that I was going to be in deep pain at the sight of what I was about to see next. In the next scene, I was in a room asleep on a Diwan, while my ex-roommate Akhila slept on a bed made on the floor to my right. The room was well-lit. She woke me up by her voice as she asked if she could decrease the fan speed to level 2. I was covered with a sheet so I told her to cover herself up too as she was sleeping without a sheet on top. Her blanket and sheet were lying on a surface above her feet, and it seemed as if they were put there intentionally. She could as well have chosen to take the sheet and not decrease the fan. She asked me to cover her up. I got up, changed the fan speed, and spread the sheet properly on her, adjusting it a few times until I was content. She laid with her eyes closed, though not asleep. I moved back to my Diwan.

I was now walking and entered in an open space

I took a break as I had to go gymming. After returning, I had dinner and bathed. But on my way back I had a strong urge to have Panipuri from the small shop around the corner. I had four Panipuris and got something else packed that reminded me of the dream I had left writing above. So, I'm gonna continue with the above dream now. Though I have had many other revelations too, while I was lying in bed and resting after I had bathed, as things went through my mind. I am sidelining them to write on the next page as this one is too filled. It's well past the 12-hour mark of the beginning of the new day.

I was now walking and entered in an open space where at a good distance I saw my ex-roommate Akhila in a dusky orange background painting a picture by splashing black color on a surface and quickly giving it a form. She made the figure of a face facing to the right with a nose pointed like the top of a bell. She was represented as a black figure that was a part of that painting itself as she painted it. The process was now repeated, as everything was dissolved and she now splashed the black paint on the 3d surface again that she was a part of. This time she stood at the left side of the view and used her right leg and moved it away and then towards her to give the paint the needed shape, and in a swipe the picture was complete. There was a horizontal slab on the right side attached to the wall, against which a guy rested with his head facing down at an open book in one hand while with the other hand, he brushed her knee bent to his side with a feather. The entire scene was in orange and black and there were no sharp features. The objects and people were painted in dull black over a dusky orange background.

I took another look at the scene and left crying out loud. I moved away from the scene and continued crying as I walked down the street. I wanted to be at a comforting place. I now came across a very tall uncemented building and started walking straight upwards on its outer wall without falling down, and at the same time, I was talking to my dad who was telling me to not cry. He was trying to console me. Though there was another well-cemented and painted building at some distance ahead, I somehow chose to vertically walk upwards on this one. After reaching at a certain height, I took flight in air and went to another building. Apparently, I was able to float in the air in that dream. I kept saying out, "God, I don't want him", "Why did you choose him?", "I don't want to be with him.", "He only gives pain." "Please, I don't want to be with Him." But I also seemed to be aware of the will of God that had been communicated to me. I then moved to the top of a very tall building, where were laid rough cemented slabs, and the small roof was filled with such huge cement objects. I was in unbearable inner pain and didn't want to go back to the place I had witnessed the sight at and neither did I want to interact with those people again. I rested against an object, still crying out at why God chose this person for me, as I looked out far ahead in the open sky. I knew that God was out there in the vastness and was watching me. So, I continued in my pleas. And then I spotted some clouds far ahead at a great distance, and below them was a green area with a small side stream of water running through the green and muddy hills. There was a small localized water body present below as well. And then I knew that that's where I wanted to be and that it was my place of refuge. I kept staring at the apparent oasis as just the sight of it gave me immense relief, and thinking that I would be there alone away from those people, and alone in the company of God gave my mind instant pain relief. I was still staring at the oasis far ahead and was now thinking of flying there when the dream ended..

21. The Sleeping Bride

Vision (in the morning): Sleeping face of a fair bride on its side in front of me to my right (on the side of the floor). Her eyelashes looked slanting down outwardly in a straight line and she had her lips slightly perched in the shape of a kiss while she was in deep sleep.

22. 'The Characterful Pointing'

Vision (in the morning): Ranbeer Kapoor (RK) fully dressed with a light brown jacket on top and with brown aviators sitting in swag while making hand moves around. He had straight neck length hair with a light stubble. But then the vision shifts below and his spread legs dressed in a light black jeans are shown with a horizontally protruding genitalia through the zip.

23. 'Rota Raha, Rota Raha, Rota Raha..'

These lines from one of the poems that my dad wrote have been kept being highlighted to me for a long time now. It was from the set of Urdu poems he published after my mom died.
The line was the chorus of the poem that repeated itself after each stanza. The lines along with the chorus are,
'Teri Yaad mein ae Muztar, mein
'Rota Raha, Rota Raha, Rota Raha..'

'In your memory, O Muztar, I kept crying, kept crying, kept crying..'

'Muztar' was his pen name.

24. The Vertical Penis to My Left Side

During the past few days, while I was sitting on bed this morning and was doing something on my laptop with my back resting against the table at the back, I kept getting interrupted by the vision of a vertically erected penis towards the side of the floor to my left side at the level of my bed. My hand was also resting nearby on the bed. The vision kept being highlighted to me, and then I moved my hand and put it around it, and then I saw the relieved expression on the face of a man (resembling my name) lying to my left whose upper body was shown along with.

25. The Resting Duo

Highlighted a few days back
This picture was brought in my vision a few days back:

Words I heard yesterday in my spirit while on my way back to PG from gym

26. 'Saadharan' 'Bahut Saadharan'

And while I was editing the above video, 'Ton Sourire m'ensorcelle' happened to play in Spirit.

Revelations While Resting:

28. Ruffled Haired KA with Baby Me (..?)

KA walking forward with ruffled hair and parrot green full-sleeved shirt with a teethful smile, while carrying a baby girl dressed in my current clothes around his shoulders with her legs around his neck while holding her hand upwards. The baby seemed really happy as she moved slightly on his shoulders.

I was again tearing up. And as I did, I had this unexpected vision.

29. The Tika Guy In My Clothes

The upper half of the tika guy from the gym dressed in my red and white floral dress that I am wearing today as he emulated my emotions in the vision and made sad faces. Apparently, he had intentionally dressed himself in the color of my lingerie set today. I think that's why God gave this revelation to me. Because no other reason makes sense.

Vision

30. Licks From Groin To Up to Throat with a Long and Wide Doggy Tongue

(The guy with name similar to mine)

Vision

31. A Fair Smooth Lady With The Gangadhar KA

As I turned straight from resting facing down on left: A fair beautiful lady lying on a bed on her side facing down to her left, turns straight in my pose dressed in a shoulderless sparkling golden dress with vertically protruding narrow gold-plated strips with a smiling KA now lifting his head up, while previously he was resting against the fair lady below her in a frontal hug. Interestingly, he didn't look like his usual self, but had simple facial expressions and a built similar to that of Gangadhar in Shaktimaan, but both of them looked so in love. Gangadhar and Shaktimaan are analogous to the situation of Clark Kent and Superman.

32. The Platform Life

#This has been highlighted to me a few times now: RS saying in a video as he repeated his past words that he said to his father: "50 hazaar bahut jyada hai na apke liye..?'
'The Platform Life' - YT recommendation by Death Conqueror
I happened to have a spontaneous spiritual utterance: '50 hazaar ka platform hai' (It's a platform worth 50k.)

Vision

33. Many Baby Akhilas Inside RK's Convertible

A bearded RK riding a convertible filled with 10-11 years old children behind him who were moving around and making noises. All of them were dressed in my ex-roommate Akhila's multicolored dyed white sporty top.

Vision

34. RK & The Oscillating Spring Rest

A bearded RK riding a car alone while a small flat toy representation of him fixed at the front deck moved vertically on its spring rest because of the car drive.

35. 'KARTIKA, YOU LOVE ME!!'

I saw the vision as seen from standing near the wardrobes slightly to my bed's left side. A guy (name similar to mine) dressed in a full-sleeved off-white shirt checkered in light brown tucked inside brown pants was lying on top of me as he held tightly my pelvic bones with his hands and was doing forced oscillations vigorously with a serious expression, and while he did so, he said in a loud and very serious tone "KARTIKA, YOU LOVE ME!!" Well, for a lack of better words, I used 'forced oscillations vigorously', because he looked characterful and both the people were fully dressed in the act. And then the vision was followed by now him opening up my tissue tube again with this hands and putting his genitalia inside as he repeated the above. The duo just seemed too much in love that they were finding hard to express in physical ways.

36. The Flying RK With a Black Lady

A fully dressed bearded RK dressed in a printed half-sleeved shirt lying horizontally on his front with his hands spread out and holding a horizontal metallic danda in the manner of riding a bicycle as he seemed to be moving in air with a surrounding well-lit in yelloe, while a naked and very dark woman (almost black) laid on top of him as she moved slightly around.

37. The King In Red

#KA in a thick kingly long deep red drape behind his shoulders and a few inches high crown on his head with neck length wavy hair, as he stood at some distance and turned away with a kingly attitude while swaying his drape with one hand, looking like he's about to walk away. He repeated this act a few times. Somehow Jesus always shows me the king look that's similar to His - a thick red drape at the back with a few inches high crown on His head.

Later I realized that the way of swaying the drape while turning resembled the Band Darwaza's villain's. But he was a villain, and KA was the king in this revelation.

38. The Two-In-One Horse

An angled view from the right in golden light of a horse with a white left half and a slightly smaller golden right half superimposed on it as the image of the golden half blinked on the white horse.

39. Mayank Talks Nicely..

In this vision, I saw the side-view of Mayank as he faced forward to the right with his short hair falling straight down as they stuck to his head. He was talking nicely with a lady that stood at a distance of around a meter in front of him.

40. The Embarrassing Revelations

I have shared the embarrassing revelations that pertained to me as well because I have to record the revelations from the Spirit as they are the spoken Word of God that tell the truth, and this is a part of my assigned task. So, if some revelations seem embarrassing, just let them go. Because look at my Circus and The Nose Revelation and other fleshly revelations that I shared late because they had felt embarrassing to me, and I waited until I was ok to write them as I didn't know those people too well because I hadn't spent enough time with them. But I had to record them anyway regardless of the kind. And then came the time when I reached that mental level with those people though at the time of writing the revelations, I couldn't relate with the revelations and felt uncomfortable writing them so I skipped some details also that I added later.

41. The Tilted Lady in Skyblue

A beautiful lady dressed in a sparkling skyblue fitting net dress lying with a bikini end and with her upper body bent low with a black rod protruding upwards from between her legs. I realized later that it was the posture one got into while doing crunches on the machine in the gym that had a tilted seat with leg support and a black rod protruding upwards to be used as a hand support. As the lady swayed around in that posture, the huge half of the upper body of Amir Khan (Bollywood actor that representing Glory in a previous eyebrow vision) was shown, as he looked at the lady with his back turned against her as he looked at the smaller vision of the lady with a head tilt.

42. Angel Books in Parrot Green and White

I saw the vision of a guy sitting on one of the gym machines to the right. His head wasn't visible but only a focused vision of his loose parrot green cotton t-shirt with 'Angel Books' written in white on the t-shirt's center resting at the place of the heart.

43. My Ex-Roommate's Hideous Act

Many times this incident from A-16 has been highlighted to me. It was when my ex roommate Akhila went to meet his uncle in Taj Hotel wearing a very revealing white crop top printed in blue that was almost making me puke and looked so obscene to look at because of the low and wide neck line that that had her breasts popping out along the sides with top ending with a knot around her waist . I told her that it didn't look like she was going to meet his uncle to which she replied that they were ok with her dressing sense. Later she told me that everything was so expensive there and it was such a good place, but they only had 'Daal Chawal' (Lentils with Rice). This made me think that it was not a point to be made because one is supposed to have what one likes. An inner presence of character is of value, and not an outward display that doesn't go along with your inner self. Her words seemed to be airing a sense of false humility to me.

Also, she never spoke full truth to me, but often bluntly lied and hid info whenever I asked her about stuff. So I hated to be around her even all the way more, because I knew that I couldn't trust more than half of what she said to me. Though she may not be the same with other people, with me she came across as an untrustworthy woman with a vain attitude because of her familial background. She didn't care if she did the right thing nor did she care to get to know and get closer to God, just like her immoral admirer (Birds of a feather flock together).

44. "Sway.."

<<sway - the wedding date.mp4>>

sway - the wedding date.mp4

sway - the wedding date

After I was done writing the above page, I shut my laptop down, used the washroom and while walking towards my bed, I heard the chorus of the following song play in my spirit. I had heart it previously during the day as well, but I was busy writing other revelations then so I didn't put it up here. But here is the song now.

This memory from my school have been highlighted to me for some time now. When I was in about 5th class, a girl a class or two junior to me sang this song in an assembly of the students. She looked chubby like me and also kept a boy cut (like I did for a good amount of 6-7 years during school). At yet another event, she sang, "Duniya Chale na Shri Raam Ke Bina. Raam ji Chale Na Hanuman Ke Bina."

Dream This Morning:

I lie down and sleep but apparently, my single bed is lying perpendicular in front of the partially open metallic door that goes inside a house in the street beside A-16. The immoral middleman comes the open the door fully in a way inviting me to enter in. I think what if Glory comes out of the gate with an axe and does what I saw in that previous vision..? - Chop me horizontally at the waist and then lift my upper body and rotate it by 180 degrees. I am now on a roof where is present a person who looks both like Glory and RS. The guy is dressed low-key in a fitting full-sleeved baby pink cotton shirt, has straight hair that fall . We 'sway' together on the roof..

I am busy writing the revelations in the dream also. And then I am done writing the first draft and feel a bit relaxed. I am outside a tall and wide brownish building and talk to others as they come across me. I now think about editing the draft now that the original is completed. Glory comes in through a door at the other end of the open area, the position of the door resembling my room's door's position and sifts through the clothes in my bucket filled with dirty clothes, picks out vertically stripped shirt in red and white, drops it down and leaves. Apparently, it is for me to wear. I think, 'It's quite unlike him."

Sleeping under a Tree

I move to the right and sit on what looks like a Charpai beneath a huge tree and feel God say, "Good". I think about what I had just heard and start thinking about how I have performed looking back at how I took ample rest and ate.. I am having thoughts along the line, "Did I really do good enough..? I didn't really do very well", and then I hear "Very Good". The weather is slightly dark. I lie on the Charpai and fall asleep. When I wake up, I see that it's raining heavily around but not a drop of water is falling on me and around at some distance because of the protruding leaf-filled branch above that has been shielding me completely. The weather is dark and looks heartwarming amidst the rain. I wake up from my sleep and look behind me. I see a showcase with creamish inner walls and shelves to the left of the tree's trunk.

Your Evil Counterpart

The showcase seems to be part of a museum. I spot a small idol in one of the niches. Apparently, the idol represents a non-religious book written by a female author, and has the name, "Your Evil Counterpart". The idol is that of a woman sitting on a chair with very long hair separated in the middle. One side of her parted hair is white while the other - black. The book reminds me of the reality of the system we live in. I think that though the author is not a religious person, she has rightly touched on what is real.

Evil Twin Females

The next thing I see in another niche is a well-built old man dressed in a full-sleeved shirt sitting on a bed with two slim young girls beside him, one on either side. Both of them are wearing the same loose half-sleeved t-shirts dyed in multicolour (similar to my ex-roommate Akhila's) and have their hair tied low at the back, and what was being said around was that they were the evil twin females.

Lucifer's System:

Short-Heighted RS Claps

I was still half asleep in the morning, when I had this vision that repeated itself twice.
I saw a short heighted RS with neck length straight hair standing in front of a yellowish wall dressed in a full-sleeved orange shirt untucked over blue denim as he clapped his hands forward once. The vision repeated after a while.

The Morning Songs..

I woke up from the dream and heard the sound of rain outside. The cardboard fixed temporarily around the cooler outside my window was flapping because of the winds and I could hear rain falling on top of the cooler. I now knew that it's time to wake up. I had to get my clothes hanging outside in the balcony inside as well. After waking up, and washing my face, I went to get my breakfast. While I was making tea, I heard the lyrics from the section 'Love In Heaven' again.

<<Sau Saal Tak ....mp4>>

Sau Saal Tak mp4

They were also highlighted to me yesterday in relation with the '100 years back I loved you' song.. as both of them reflect the same kind of mindset.

<<100 Years Back.mp4>>

100 Years Back.mp4

I Can't Think a Lot..

Yesterday I was thinking how I was just writing down the revelations that God gave me without thinking much or caring about the content. I realized that I couldn't do something else either, because I had to write what I was given, and not change it according to me. Sometimes I change the way things are written to better depict the received vision or dream, but the represented content stays the same.

6. The Soldier with a Thorned Crown

When I laid to sleep on my bed, it was past 3:30 am in the morning. I laid on my right side on my bed facing the wall, and as I closed my eyes, I saw a bearded face of Ranbeer Kapoor (RK) lying close on its side facing me. He had a serious expression on his face as he looked at me. The surroundings behind him seemed to that of a war zone as they were lit by flashes of light and seemed to have ruckus lying around. The second next to seeing this, the vision now changed to him having a thorned crown fixed on his head as he still was looking at me. The next moment his head was slightly tilted away and backwards from the top and he laid as such motionless with the thorned crown still on his head. For a few seconds, the vision persisted with his thorned head stretched backwards. The next thing I saw was a soldier getting up on his foot while being fully dressed in his green army suit with a green army helmet on his head, as he shot openly with his rifle with all his vigour. The soldier first looked like RK but his face then changed to the one who had his mom waiting for him in his village, as he shot openly standing some distance ahead in front of a wall with flashes of lights all around him.

A Bomb Bursts To My Left

Earlier this morning, I was woken up by the vision and sound of the burst of a green bomb to my left, a bomb that was around a foot in diameter.

But before that I had a dream in which I was trying to light the left side of a gas stove with a vessel on top of it, but it wasn't lighting up. It would light but then the fire would extinguish leading to some gas leaking out in the air as would be noticed by me after a while making me try to light it up again. I was using matchsticks and was failing again and again with my mom outside the kitchen.

After waking up around 12 at noon, I washed my face and went downstairs to make tea and get my brunch. I thought that I would brush after food, as it made me feel fresher because of the persistent freshness for a longer period of time than having it ruined by eating right after brushing. After my brunch, I went to check if the washing machine was free as I had a lot of clothes to be washed. There were someone else's clothes running inside, and looking at them, they seemed to be that of the doppelganger (Saloni) of my ex-roommate Akhila. Anyway, she told me to come after 20 minutes to use the machine when I found her downstairs having food, and that she wanted to run one more round of clothes. I did it for her as I was anyway going upstairs and she was still not completely done with eating. I thought, "Let me brush teeth in the meantime."

In The Act While Being Fully Covered..

But while I was in the act, I had a vision of KA standing at some distance to my right with his back turned towards me as he turned his face (with a wary expression) forward which was previously facing sideways to the right and looking at me through the corner of his eyes. He was dressed in that same long full-sleeved parrot green shirt untucked over brown pants. And then what followed was something very gross. I saw small liquidy poop being ejected horizontally out through his pants while he was still fully dressed. It made me think that what it was that God was trying to communicate to me here? That what could I do possibly in the situation I was forced to be in..?

I am currently running my second round of clothes in the machine and as it would have taken time for it to complete, I thought of writing today's revelations.

My Hand Stretches Out and Grabs The Bouquet

And about half an hour back, on my way upstairs to the roof, I had the vision in which I was in my room's balcony and my right hand stretched straight forward to the open window of one of the buildings to the balcony's left and quickly grabbed the bouquet wrapped in pink placed to the right of the window. The bouquet is not there currently though, but it was there some days back and stayed there for a few days. The window then stayed closed and dark mostly. But I noticed it half-opened today with the bouquets missing, and while I was walking upstairs, I saw my hand stretch forward and quickly grab the pink bouquet inside to my right.

And while I was writing the above, I had an abrupt vision of the sobbing face of KA, that repeated itself intermittently uptil a few hours further.

While washing clothes..

Vision: KA with pink painted lips are bulging unusually out and kissing me. The vision repeated itself intermittently a few times.

21:39
Many times I don't feel ok with writing out the revelations, as I am not comfortable with sharing them openly, and it comes with me feeling embarrassed. But I guess this too is part of crucifying the flesh. I've done a lot of things that the past me wouldn't previously have. For the same reason, I've not yet written some revelations. Because I know that releasing the revelations openly changes things. Additionally, I never wanted my personal life to be put on display considering how distant I prefer to stay from people in general. But I've been working against my nature. I have written openly that God showed as that's what was supposed to be done. I've given out in public the parts of me and the progression of my life that I wanted to be contained in a sacred secret place, and I've even shared here the progression of my bonds with different people as they developed over time, as revealed prophetically by the spirit before their time of manifestation. When I was having dinner, this girl came and indirectly displayed her aversion of me and said some sarcastic things about me hailing from a village. Well, I grew up in a town, not a village, and the environment in each home was different. And even if I had belonged from a family with a hard rural mindset, even then she shouldn't be making such remarks. These people just keep proving that they literally didn't learn 'anything' in their lives.

I just realized that these people themselves didn't keep anything discrete that was supposed to be pure but lived a life of corruption, so they project the same onto others and violate them.

This place is a hub of devil and his demons. So yeah, they can't tolerate the light of God that shines through His people, and to them, it's only a normal thing to inflict abuse on others that they justify by attributing it to the kind of place while sliding under the carpet their own wilful actions that lead to the toxic environment.

A guy walking by passed a comment some weeks back while I was on my way back to my PG. He said, "Bade bade shehro mein aisa hota rehta hai." ('In big cities, it's a normal thing (to abuse others)') He was trying to mock my background, that I love and hold dear as I consider my hometown a good place to be because of the kind of friendships I shared and the concern shown by people, though I didn't find a resonating company there either. He was making the point that I am not used to big cities and this is how it is supposed to be to live in one. That immoral person of this place was putting what I am going through on my place of birth. It only showed me how foolish, mindless and dumb he was. Because it's what inside of a person that leads him/her to act in a certain way, and the people who were involved in putting me through me didn't do it because they were born in this place, but because they have it inside of them to abuse others to get their way. Because there are many others in the place who would still choose to do the right thing, but these workers of devil will always put their inner filth on display.

I think they're used to picking up women from red lights, or sleeping with prostitutes. That's why they deploy such tactics - wait at their respective places (as a predator does) for the woman to come to them by herself!

Yo Yo Honey Singh

Some days back in this PG I first heard in my Spirit the phrase 'Yo Yo Honey Singh' in the way Honey Singh sings in his songs.

Blue Eyes Hypnotise

I've been hearing the chorus of this song in my spirit for many months now since last year. But I didn't post it here, though I wrote it my group of songs heard in the Spirit, in section 2 of this revelation book.
And after listening to the chorus of this song, I heard the phrase being sung in the spirit, "Katal kare tera bomb figure." ("Your bomb figure assassinates."), twice, accompanied by my cursor in the video editing app coincidentally being put at this phrase as I was editing out, confirming that I had to put it in.

Honey Singh, God calls you to repent and back to Him. God has kept me saved from developing bipolar disorder despite my situation. He can heal anything and anyone if He wants and if the other person asks.

I think, when I have called people from all walks and backgrounds to God by writing down his revelations here is when I will receive Glory as my earthly promise. But I am not sure if by then he would be in a place to receive me. These are my own thoughts. God has His own plans for people.

I've heard the chorus of this song in my spirit as well. And the time back from my BSc days was also highlighted to me when one of my few friends Neetika Nain first introduced me to this song as she clearly said out and explained the lyrics to me that I couldn't previously discern the words of. She sounded cute as she sang the repetitive 'Mere town De' part, because she couldn't sing it in the right tune and it seemed as if she was phrasing out a poem. She was quite fair and much shorter to me.

Brown Rang (Tone)

I used the Font called 'Righteous' to add subtitles to this video, because though HS's created content is mostly vain, he can be made righteous by God. It is understandable that he made the kind of content that would sell and he also did it to display his talent. But, he is righteous in the eyes of God if he turns to Him at the end and leaves his worldly ways.

I went out to throw something in the dustbin outside, and I saw KA walking together behind me while smiling as he intermittently placed and removed his hands from my sides.

While editing the above song, I happened to be thinking about how I had proclaimed internally RS as my husband previously in A-16, and here in A-10 I was weeping internally calling KA my 'lifeline'. And on top of that God gave me the revelation of the baby me riding happily on his shoulders too as he walked forward happily holding up her hands. And then I realized the reason I had been delaying writing the dance revelation pertaining to AK. It was because it seemed to me that my heart would explode if I was to release it. Because I don't say things in air, and if God reveals something to me, it affects me as I look at the kind of heart disposition I should be having for the revelation to come to life in my life, and to have a deep intimate bond with many is 'heart exploding' for me.

Additionally, I saw myself slipping back into my old way of thinking, where I made one person my source of everything, as it seemed too natural and satisfying to me. Though the person wasn't chosen, my mindset was emulating its past state. I saw how relieving it was to have just one person in one's life, the way I used to be previously when things were simple and at least 'seemed' pure if the involved people weren't being manipulative or deceptive. I thought, "How heart-filling, beautiful, and satisfying it would be to have just one person.." And then I realized that in such a case, I would only have the option of choosing God alone because to love Him the most is compulsory and is a law (one of the 10 commandments given to Israelites), and that if I was to give myself fully to God, then I wouldn't want to share myself with anyone else as I would try to realize my idealism of being 'one' with 'one person'. I wouldn't be needing or wanting to have anyone else if I were to operate with my previous mind. I felt like going back to the old mindset as it was my mind's natural disposition, when the thought came, "Is this why God put me in this situation?" So that I don't limit myself to just one person but extend my heart to others as well because God has called us to love His children the way He has loved us, as displayed by His act on the cross. So, it's necessary for me too to learn to let more than one person in my life.

I've been hearing this stanza and the chorus of this song in the spirit for the past two days.

Hand Washing Like A Surgeon (Dr. Strange)

The way I wash my hands resembles his'. I can't recall when was the first time I watched Dr. Strange wash his hands before surgery in the movie, but I had a memory of the act, and it became a part of my way of handwashing.

'You're Different'

A part of this scene where the hero tells the heroine that 'she is good enough but is just different' has been being highlighted to me repeatedly for some time now. But the entire scene can be watched too. I've watched it and it makes sense in entirety, so I don't have to edit it out.

'The Son of Man Must Be Rejected'

Luke 9:22
(New International Version)
22 And he said, "The Son of Man must suffer many things and be rejected by the elders, the chief priests and the teachers of the law, and he must be killed and on the third day be raised to life."

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Luke%209:22&version=NIV>

I Already Have a Painting With Jesus

I noticed the next day after the dream in which I was put in immense pain on witnessing His will for me, that I already had a painting with Jesus in orange and black - my laptop skin that I covered it with some months back. And His love is pure, and He is not an abuser. He knows the hearts of people and is righteous. He's not corrupt and He shows love to the righteous and turns His face away from the wicked. He doesn't call good evil and vice-versa, and He's God, the King of Kings, the Most High, who created those that go against His ways. I will not cry because of abusers in my life. But I will rejoice in the perfect love of God who is Holy and 'Set-Apart'.

To His Children who are not workers of devil:

What does it mean to be set-apart..?

To set oneself apart from the world and reject its ways and accept God with all one's heart.

God is not a part of the world but is 'set-apart' from the world, that's why He is called 'Holy'. The definition of 'Holy' involves being 'set-apart.

From 6th May:

(Evening):

'Use Bulao' ('Call him/her')

I kept hearing this in the spirit with a strong emphasis on it.

Simultaneously I kept seeing the vision of the scene from Love Aaj Kal's trailer that had KA suggesting the heroine to run away with him.

Morning Visions:

I was asleep in the morning when I had these visions.

1. The Hand Raise and The Clap

I saw KA standing at some distance in front of my wardrobe and to his right stood who looked like me. He was dressed in a full-sleeved white shirt tucked inside pants, while I was dressed in a white tshirt over blurry trousers and had my hair tied low at the back. He lifted his hand up to the level of my face and the vision squelched with the sound of a clap.

After a while, I had the following vision.

2. A Lady's Front Pinned to a Glass Door.

I saw a glass pane in front of me on the other side of which stuck a wheatish lady with her face turned to the right and her hands resting against the glass pane with elbows bent. The naked half of her upper half was visible and she looked quite spent, emotionless, and stuck tightly to the glass motionless. In the blurry background behind her could be seen the rough figure of a guy at a good distance who was making horizontal oscillations toward her.

After a while, the follow-up vision had the

3. Guy In White With a 'REJECTED' Banner

A blurry guy in white standing with a white rectangular cardboard board was seen with 'REJECTED' written in red on It. The focus of the vision was on the board and he and the background looked blurry.

See a person who behaves like the second revelation above will be handed the banner of 'REJECTED'.

I think he may have gotten offended by the previous revelation on Page 404. But he shouldn't be offended by a certain rev. because he looked righteous in those revelations and not like the villain from the movie 'Dushman'.

And when in relation with RS I had happened to whisper within me, "He's my husband..", what came to my mind were my mom's words about my dad and the woman he had been cheating with on her and whom he was calling his 'lifeline' too to my mom's face (which I correlated with my thoughts about KA). My mom said to me that my dad had 'thought' of and accepted her as his woman while she had 'thought of' and accepted him as her man. Recalling this, I didn't want to be thinking what I had just thought. I thought if I was being made to go through in a similar situation so that my dad 'learns from me' and returns to my mom.

Some days back in the gym, I witnessed weird behavior coming from a lady. Apparently, there could be some things being said about me being a gold digger or that I was a money-oriented person. I am not sure. But looking at the revelation 'The Golden and Green KA in Black and White' (#16 on Page 104), what I understood was that the wide rings arranged one below the other in his nose were shown to be the gold, tongue and eyes were shown as the dark green dollar - a response to their thoughts or back gossips.

All revelations serve a purpose.

Anyway.

Yesterday night, while I was typing out the revelations, I had this Bible verse recurring in my spirit.

'The Son of Man Must Be Rejected'

Luke 9:22
(New International Version)

22 And he said, "The Son of Man must suffer many things and be rejected by the elders, the chief priests and the teachers of the law, and he must be killed and on the third day be raised to life."

13:36

The Hair Wrap Around a Stick.

After having breakfast, I lied down again. I felt I needed some more rest. I was half-asleep and in a state of rest when I saw a child of about 4-5 years old with a thin wooden horizontal stick held in her hands at the level of her forehead, as she was wrapping her brownish hair around it in a circle. The circular wrap giving a segregated look. And while writing this I realized that this vision goes along with the Malang Malang doodle and the segregated airplane painting process shown in the trailer of KA's dentist movie. The way he painted the airplane was also how I happened to doodle out the revelation involuntarily. The focus of the vision shifted from down to up as she took hold of the hair and wrapped it around the light brown stick, stopping intermittently at her innocent toddler eyes.

KA comes out of a Portal With a Red Rose

The upper half of KA comes out of an opened portal (like Dr Strange) in the space a few feet above me to my slight right with him dressed in a full-sleeved white shirt and holding a bloomed red rose (not a cylindrical one) by its long stick in his hand as he moved the head vertically slowly on my face while I laid on my bed facing upwards with closed eyes.

Though the vision was abrupt, it wasn't scary. It was a very beautiful thing to witness. Also, the vision didn't have a shardy opening around the portal. But it was a rather clean cut portal with a well-defined boundary.

Vision (in the morning):

Honey Singh Shows Up Sobbing

I saw a distant vision HS showing up from the left side of my mental vision with teary eyes as he bent his body sideways to his left and looked at me. He was dressed in a light brown suit. The vision of him bending sideways and looking at me with teary eyes was repeated in my view repeatedly.
And then the next vision had him up close in front of me as he kissed me very briefly while still sobbing after which the vision ended. But the vision of him bending sideways and looking at me with teary eyes repeated itself a few times..

Book of Revelations with 'Real People' Who Exist

Why did God introduce Bollywood stars in the revelations that He has been giving me? This country worships idols as gods and Bollywood Stars as idols. Bollywood isn't all satanic but has fragments of God that shine through its work. Back in the past it strongly emphasized on a sense of eternality and godly principles, though the sin of idolatry was still very much a part of the produced art. God knows the way to reach into people's hearts. It almost seemed to be as if He was creating a new path of thinking for the land's people by incorporating people from the mainstream media - people whom the citizens worship as gods, and who're not all evil like those Hollywood stars that have sold their soul to the devil.

While at the same time, I felt as if the revelations didn't add much to the Christians already strong in faith and who're following the leading of the Holy Spirit. To a strong-minded person who has a purpose, the revelations may seem useless, but the reveal the truth in an encrypted way. God doesn't like idolatry. It's a sin. He's to be worshipped in the Spirit. But through me, He created this revelatory book that will talk to the hearts of the land's people. Where a person going through any kind of a difficult situation will find a place in the book that (s)he'll resonate with, and find company in suffering. The revelations also communicate important moral principles. Like that of emulating and empathizing with someone's heart condition instead of paying attention to their inner wears.

One of the first revelations I received in Saroj Sadan (A/17-B) was the face of a metallic skeleton with a red light shining on its forehead. The ministry itself began with calling those of the land that love red light areas, to Him through me. It's the sick who needs the medicine, not the already healthy one.

A wave takes time to propagate. These are revelations that pertain to the real people of the country. People from all walks of life.

God associated my persona with a red-light skeleton (to call the related people), to His fairy (who I really am), to a fighter, to a healer, to a circus perfomer, to a dancer, to a scientist, to a mathematician, to a soldier, and to the truth of me being His child.

To an ignorant person, the amount of healing my life situation poured out on others may not be apparent, but I can see the people whom I have talked to at an individual level though I may not even have received a direct revelation involving them.

The media highlight from some years back was highlighted to me where the Bollywood heroine Kangana Ranaut was being targeted by some people after she had a breakup with the Bollywood actor Hrithik Roshan. Those people were saying that cameras should be placed on her vagina so that it could be known who was entering her. But the thing actually happened to me and I love God the same because it's all a part of the plan. I was thinking if my situation poured some healing on her as it directly addressed the past situation that wounded her.

Likewise, different revelations will talk to different people from different walks of life.

Additionally, for the past two or three days I have been having this vision of Karan Johar (an Indian filmmaker) sitting on a lavish black single sofa in a dark background, being dressed in full black with golden autumn leaves imprinted on his attire. And as he sits there, he chuckles as he looks at me as if some of my revelations are funny.

Anyway. Within sometime of writing about my past obsession with Oscar Wilde, it seemed to me that KJ was the Bollywood version of Oscar Wilde, when it came to his clothing sense. Oscar had this dominant sin of homosexuality in his life. Idk if the rumors of KJ practicing the same sin are true, but he too is invited to the Kingdom of God and receive His righteousness, repent, and prepare to be a part of an eternal kingdom. Jesus died for the whole world to grant forgiveness of sins, but not everyone will accept him. And while I wrote the 'rumors' sentence, I had the vision of him now getting up quickly from his Bollywood 'throne' and rushing towards me with an angry expression as if in an attempt to hit me, as he said, "Sli !!"

Bollywood shapes this country. They should be careful that they don't propagate ungodly values by calling them progressive.

I didn't write things in a manner of preaching to someone from a high level as religious books do. But I've done my job in lowliness while facing recurring stress and emotional pain, writing things out as my personal walk which is more relatable than writing things in a manner of preaching.

A person in pain will find company and solace in this book and it will serve as living waters for him/her.

Instead of trying to find solace at the red light, come to this book of revelations and find solace in God. The words of Jesus are written in red in some versions of the Bible.

18:09

After writing the above, I wanted to rest with God. And while resting, I had the following revelations:

The Nail's Dividing Trajectory On Forehead

A guy is present behind my back and striking a nail on my forehead going from the forehead's centre up to down and is retracing the path. Though he's not hitting hard but the long and pointed iron nail is up there touching my forehead.

The Handpump/Submersible Bath

A guy resembling KA quickly turns up the handle that's facing to the left with a happy expression. The handle looks like that of a water pump or a submersible. The vision is followed by the side-view of some clothes thrown upwards as they stop and fall down.

An iron nail is hitting at the centre heart spot of my chest.

We are running a meaningless race of the world before we come to God and choose to run His race which ends in eternal life with Him.

Mixing of God's Seed With The Serpent Race - Throwing Roses in the Ocean Along with Elephants

The dream in which a mixed race of elephants runs out of the ocean depicts the way the serpent seed was intermingled with God's seed.

A voice asked in that dream, "Why were you rejected..?"

To which another voice replied, "They buried elephants in the ocean and threw roses in it. The result was pink elephants coming out of the ocean and they didn't like them."

Elephants being buried in the ocean represent the serpent's seed or male genitalia, and roses being thrown in them represent God's angels that get introduced into the system through semen. The result is a child with a dual character inclination.

But towards the end of the system, there will be a division of the two kinds of seeds leading to two types of elephants at the end - the usual grey ones and pure shining pink ones. The pink elephants are not going to be liked by the system and are going to be rejected leading to just the serpent race being left out on Earth.

My ministry is Also a Reflection of Jonathan's; System of A Down (KA - Born In the Serpent System); Detangling the Hair; 'Koi Nhi Aa Rha..' ('No One is Coming..')

1. My ministry is Also a Reflection of Jonathan's

That's why I was given the vision of a mirror image of '4' written in golden bright on a dark background. Earlier during the day, I happened to check out his videos, in one of which he was showing his ministry's name with '4' written in a similar shade on a dark background. I have also received revelations that confirm what was revealed to him.

Vision (a few days back):

2. System of A Down (KA - Born In the Serpent System)

I was laid on bed on my left side to finally fall asleep. But then I saw a black snake coming towards my right cheek that was facing upwards. I thought, "Is it demonic?" But then in the follow-up vision, the snake had the huge head of KA. He is born into this 'system of a down' as well. His face was his godly part, while the black serpent body behind was what was spiritually tied to him when he entered the system (the matrix).

But he is the person to whom the song 'Dil Mein Sanam Ki Surat' pertains to, as I correlated it with the close-up vision of his stubbled face that I had within the next few days after editing the song. This is the same song with lyrics that talk about spending consecutive periods of 100 years in different acts of love, which is only possible in Heaven. He is my angelic partner in Heaven (like others). But he was chosen to be specifically ministered to through me as it was God's will.

At first, I was slightly disturbed by the vision, but when I understood its significance, I saw that it was the spiritual representation of what was 'normal' in this system. 'One side up, one side down' - as said by Brother Jonathan, and that's why it's called the system of a down. But even if he is a part of the system, he's not a psychopath who would do such a thing as Death Conqueror did. But I will look at the reality of his representation as God's child. But no matter the amount of righteousness one exhibits, one needs to be reborn in the spirit.

3. Detangling the Hair

I have been hearing these lyrics intermittently for the past week or more, though not so much today.

6. The Lion Yesterday

After I was done with writing revelations, as I was lying down on bed, I had a vision of lion on top of me who was lowering itself along with, the vision accompanied with its weightiness. The revelatory sensation subsided after I was fully laid on bed. I felt a nudge accompanied by a vision to turn my hands with their palm sides up. After a while I had the vision of the lion now licking my right palm that was near the wall, followed by the long one-streak licks now being given to the inner side of my right forearm that was facing upwards.

7. Brother Philip Salutes

Vision (Late April 2023): An angled side view of the face of Brother Philip looking ahead as he gives a salute.

8. Hand Out of The Wall

Morning Vision:
A hand comes straight out of the yellow wall to my right as I lay half asleep on bed.

9. Two Opposite Halves And The Cross

Vision (Late 2021/Early 2022): A lady dressed in a white gown has her head bent forward and arms around the neck of another lady dressed in a black gown, who too is standing in the same position. Both of them are standing facing each other but their bodies are apart making an inverted 'U', almost as if there's repulsion between the two ladies. The two opposite characters are unequally yolked together. At some distance behind them can be seen a standing cross seen through between them.

That lady would be me.

Yesterday I had the vision of a guy running a long nail vertically on my forehead and it seemed that he wanted to separate it in two halves. The nail Jesus endured separates the two opposite halves and inverts the evil counterpart when one is reborn in the spirit.

10. 'The Key Cover Up' on Page 394

I found a similar key in my blue sling bag. I couldn't recall when I had put it in there. It must have been way long back.

11. The Prophetic Books

The last time when I went back home, I brought some books with me, and each had a prophetic significance.
I brought the book
Vibrations and Waves covered in Yellow and Black,
It pertains to the scene where the Bride fights many with her sword. The floor of my PG was also represented by Yellow & Black in a prophetic dream.

'Strong At The Broken Places' (which was also highlighted to me as it lay behind my bed in A-16),

The Breaking of Arnold,
(I don't know yet who it pertains to.)

'The Happy Prince and Other Stories' by Oscar Wilde.

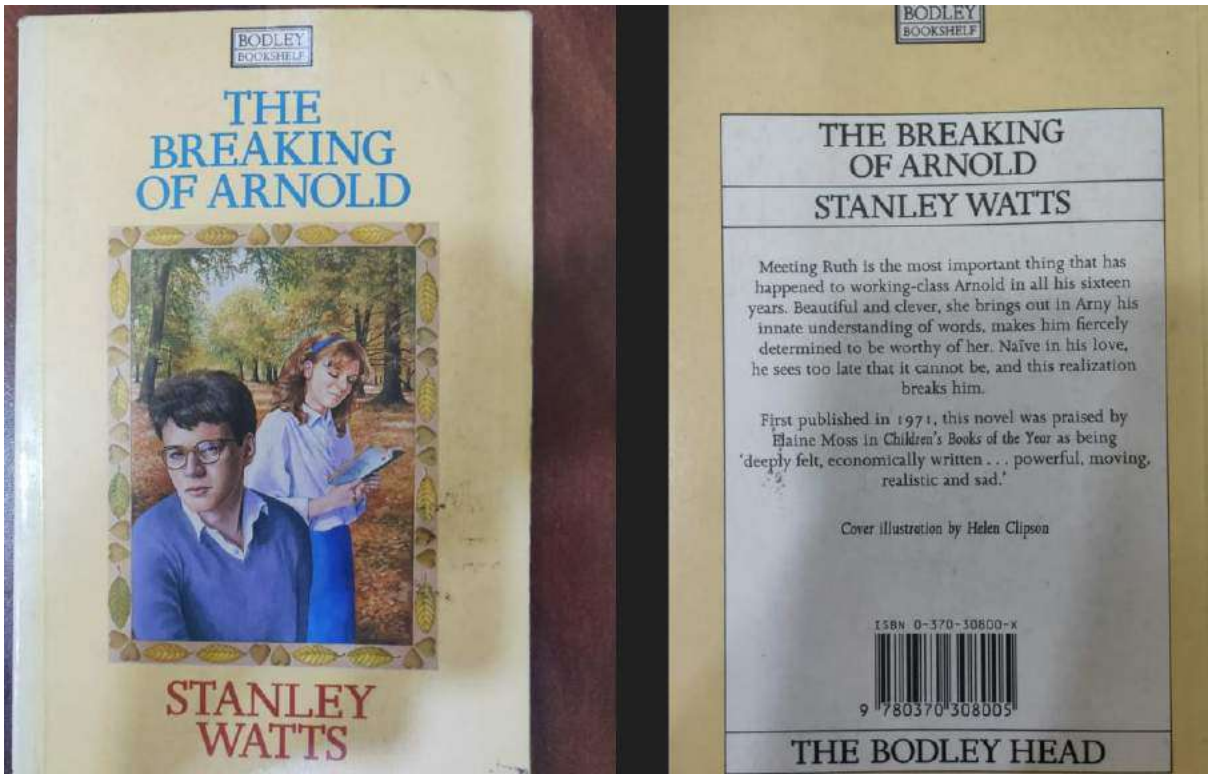
I never read The Breaking of Arnold fully. But its summary has been highlighted to me quite a few times.



I don't know who this pertains to but I have actually grown worse in wits than an average person. So, it seems to me to be the other way round to me. That the abuse left me unworthy of everyone, because I don't see my worth by being just in a body, but it has to come from my traits within. Though my character has stayed intact to a great extent, my mind is now numb to many things.

People like these abusers rob others of their potential as well and ruin their career paths too!

More than an year back I was having thoughts that they should rather take away from me the body parts that they so desire so at least my brain would be spared the mental and emotional damage that they're causing me because I didn't want such people to be a part of my personal life either in any way because an individual's personal life is supposed to hold meaning and therefore people who are to be a part of it also have to be chosen carefully lest they make your pure heart space filthy by their corrupt character traits. And I was determined to not going to give something meaningful to a person who thinks in meaningless worldly ways! But I realized over time, that the whole earth system is headed towards judgment and destruction and the only place where I should hope to find any real meaning was with God in Heaven, who saves spirit for Himself but will have the body die, while these morally dumb people kill your soul and the spirit but want your body shining and glowing as they throw their filth on your inner self!

The darkness just wants to consume the light and extinguish it, but God prevails at the end and saves His sheep.

And then this part of the Lootera song keeps playing in my Spirit, so I am adding English subtitles to it.

12. Message Spoken Through The Breeze

The stanza of the song that has been highlighted to me several times. So I added English subtitles to it.

13. Their Tests Will Never Stop

Yesterday I saw the short-heighted gym trainer standing in a corner behind the glass door with an open box of a certain sweet. And his expression and body language gave himself away quite clearly. It was a test. I thought, "their foolish tests will never come to an end."

During the evening, I took some rest as I started to feel a bit dizzy after consuming a lot of sweets. I know it's not good. But somehow it ended up making the point that even though I may be liking something, I can't have it if it is someone else's, and neither will I want it from others or go and ask them. It seemed to be an involuntary reply to yesterday's incident at the gym where the guy was standing hideously with a weird expression with a box of the same sweet open in his hands.

Anyway.

14. A Sprinting RS

When I had just laid down to rest, I had an abrupt distant vision of RS standing in a dark background dressed in the blue and white cheetah-printed tracksuit from the Pepsi Ad as he looked at me. He then winked at me with his right eye (to my left), turned his back and ran away speedily with forearms horizontally oscillating synchronously, and while he ran, a straight line of poop came out of his ass somehow passing straight through the clothes, just like in KA's case. (Well, the revelation may seem gross, but it's encrypted truth.)

When I was half asleep, I had the lyrics of another song reiterating inside.
I will add subtitles and post later as currently I am working on another video - the stanza from the song 'Zinda'.

But this one pertains to my earthly promise of marriage with Glory. The lyrics were first that of the woman singing, "Ye Maana Humein Jaa Se Jaana Padega.." ("I know that I will lose my life") from the song 'Jo Waada Kiya Wo Nibhana Padega' ('The promise that was made must be kept..) And the rest of the song that follows..

Ye Maana Humein Jaa Se Jaana Padega.."

("I know that I will lose my life")
The Song:
<<Ye Mana Humein Jaa Se...mp4>>

Ye Mana Humein Jaa Se...mp4

While listening to the edited version of this song, the beard style of the hero reminded me of the previous vision that had a fully covered lady standing in front of a golden lake with the entrance to a golden building behind her in a golden-lit night, as the huge face of Ranveer Singh with that beard blinked on the vision. The lady's dressing sense, the beard, and the aura of the vision looked from an old age, if I look at it now with my new understanding. Though the face of the lady wasn't visible as her head was covered by a green thick and embroidered drape, RS's huge face was too clear.

Well, the Bible doesn't completely disqualify the idea of spirits rebirthing on Earth in a human body (usually called as reincarnation). Though I don't support it but God can bring a person from an old age back to life, like the coming of Elijah.

Malachi 3:23-24 (Tree of Life Version)
23 "Behold, I am going to send you Elijah the prophet[a], before the coming of the great and terrible day of Adonai. 24 He will turn the hearts of fathers to the children, and the hearts of children to their fathers—else I will come and strike the land with utter destruction."

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Malachi%203%3A23-24&version=TLV>

Luke 9:19 (New Living Translation)
19 "Well," they replied, "some say John the Baptist, some say Elijah, and others say you are one of the other ancient prophets risen from the dead."

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Luke%209%3A19&version=NLT>

Matthew 17:10-12 (Tree of Life Version)
10 The disciples questioned Him, saying, "Why then do the Torah scholars say that Elijah must come first?"
11 Yeshua replied, "Indeed, Elijah is coming and will restore all things. [a] 12 I tell you that Elijah already came; and they didn't recognize him, but did to him whatever they wanted. In the same way, the Son of Man is about to suffer at their hands."

From <https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Matthew+17%3A10-12&version=TLV>

And I also keep hearing the 'Bepanaah Pyaar Tujhse, Tu kyu jaane na..' lyrics sung by a woman intermittently in the spirit. I have to edit and add subtitles in this one as well. Today I will do these three songs and write some other revelations.

The Video (to be added):

15. The Palm From Heaven Continued..

Last week I had the vision of the Palm technique where the palm fell from far above the sky on the fat frog-like almost bald guy dressed in a black suit. In the movie, the technique was said to be a long-lost Buddhist technique. Last week, on Friday, was a pagan holiday called Buddha Purnima. On that day I happened to be wearing my full black tracksuit with some white strips on the sides. Towards the end, we usually do a cardio session. That day, I couldn't continue doing the cardio exercises and as I was about to get up from the floor, the instructor hit my upper back with his palm and didn't let me get up. I, therefore, continued working out along with others. I tried to get up again as I was unable to continue but he used his palm again to keep me going on the floor along with others. He did it many times that evening. Though once I managed to get up despite him using his 'palm that falls from the sky' technique as I really wasn't able to continue. Later, perhaps the next day I realized that the vision I received earlier that week quite resembled what I had gone through on that late evening of Buddha Purnima (the full moon night Buddha is called to be born). Now Buddha means someone who is wise. The instructor uses the 'Palm From Heaven' technique with those who want to give up and get up from the floor. He did a 'wise' thing (a thing of Buddhi), and his technique was indeed a Buddhist (wise) technique. I am not referring to a religion here, but his wise and intelligent way to make people stay on ground and do their workout. We've to use our God-given 'Buddhi' (intellect/wisdom) instead of blindly following a religion. Note that I didn't see him using the Buddha technique in the previous past two weeks I had been going there, but on that particular day only. So, on Buddha Purnima, Budhha, the gym instructor, was born a wise man.

These are the visions I had earlier that week on Wednesday:
1. The guy stretches forth his palm and makes a hole in the wall behind the bald man.
2. The guy is falling down from the sky with his palm facing downwards. He is dressed in a white shirt and his palm is on fire. As he uses the technique, the fat bald guy gets sunken into the ground and is unable to get up.

<<The Palm From Heaven.mp4>>

The Palm From Heaven.mp4

The day he used his palm from the sky on me was also the day I left earlier. It was because that day, during my pre-cardio time when I was doing weight training, I felt an abrupt heavy flow downwards and thought that my period may have begun. I felt the flow intermittently and towards the end, though the trainer told me that he was to now start the abs session, I left, telling him that I wasn't well. But when I reached PG and checked, I didn't see any blood, but my inner wear was all wet with water, wetting even the cycling shorts that I wore after the panty. This was unusual and hadn't happened before. I wasn't aroused at all when I was flowing down, and had mistakened it for my period flow.

Now I am thinking if it was because of the tiny electronic insects inside, that it was my body's natural response to the filthy muddy things inside though I may have mistakened it for period flow.

Koi Kitna Hase...mp4

As I reached near my PG, I looked to my right into the society's street because I'm an observant person, and also I have been there previously to apparently visit Glory, but then the thoughts of a poor society came to my mind, and I saw a distant vision of poor people calling out for help in what looked like a slum area. Jesus was also sad at their state as He stood dressed in white. They were the people to be ministered to. It made me feel repulsed a bit from the path I was looking at previously, and I was made to confront our real job here as believers. He'll lead me to that stage in time.

I had dinner after reaching PG and then went out to get my clothes from the tailor some distance ahead in the street. I had to get them yesterday, but I didn't have cash and he didn't accept online payment, so I delayed. Even today I didn't have enough cash, but I thought that I could get my clothes, and the amount I had might be enough or if it wasn't, I could pay him the next day. I didn't take my clothes because he had already wrapped up and I didn't have the required cash either. So I then went to the ATM, because I hardly go out in the morning - mostly only when I have to go to the gym.

As I was waiting in line, I witnessed a change taking place in my mindset. I realized a new kind of independence. My mind seemed to be coming completely out of its dependence on the world, breaking the strings of dependence on its ways and thinking patterns, the innate fear of survival that pushes mankind to work, to be a part of the system, or to fight for political positions in order to maintain one's supremacy. I saw myself coming out of it all. Though I wasn't a part of it previously either, but before I came to God, I thought that this was the only place to be, so I should be concerned about the resources I have or the kind of livelihood I was to earn. But now I was mentally leaving this place as I saw a new form of fearlessness rise in me. Leaving the place, its system and thought patterns mentally is needed first. It precedes leaving it physically.

I could see that God was changing me on the inside and making me ready for my job that was to come. When it was my turn to get money out, the ATM went offline. So I returned with no cash. There was a lady there who asked me if she could withdraw first as she had an auto waiting for her. I agreed, but when I looked around, there was none. She said that the auto was to the left of the T point and so wasn't visible. It seemed to me she was lying. After I had returned, I had two visions. One was in which a pregnant Bella who is all bony besides her belly area, happens to bend her back backwards while she's standing still. The vision was followed by the highlighting of her transformation to becoming healthy again.

It also goes along with a previous Vision I had a day before I interacted with a girl's father here in this PG. The vision had a lion standing at the end of an open corridor. The lion had two more faces with associated legs, one on either side of it, and the heads were moving. A hand extending from the left was below the lion's mouth, caressing it, and then withdrawing itself after a few seconds..

21. The Only Person Who Tried To Touch My Heart By Far

I had this vision a few days back at night in which I saw the side-view of one of the cooks (Ganga Ram Patel) here penetrating his hand straight into my chest as he was trying to reach and poke at my heart, his hand being visible inside me because of the see-through side-view.

2. The Unstitched Cloth Inside My Home's Bed

One of the past few times that I visited home, I happened to look inside the double bed of the master bedroom of my home. I was looking for something in the side near the wardrobe. There my eyes happened to settle on the tag of an unstitched cloth. From what I can recall, the tag read, 'Mumtaz Arts'. If not exactly this, it happened to co-join the two words or was an amalgamation of the two. The incident has been brought to my attention quite a few times now.

Yesterday night after realizing the resemblance of the beard of the hero in the song 'Jo Wada Kiya Vo Nibhana Padega' (The Promise That Was Made Must Be Kept) with RS, I looked more carefully at the vision. The lady stood on one of the few stairs that went down into a water body while behind her was the gate of a building. So, it's a confirmation that he is definitely a part of the comprehensive, bigger picture of the promise, and was meant to be a part of it.

22:15
Some days back I had this vision.

3. The Pink Tissue Bulb at the End of the Tunnel

A distant side-view of Kartik A putting his hand inside a dark tunnel, the side-view of which was see-through, was shown, and then he was pressing a pink tissue bulb like a horn present at the end of that tunnel. The pressing of the pink bulb part was highlighted and repeated a few times. And as he pressed it, I imagined the sound of a horn in my head as it just went so well with the pressing of the pink horn like blob.

4. I Hope This Ministers To Your Heart..

Within the first 30s, I started weeping and by the last 30s, I had the vision of two hands gently squeezing a maroon love heart held by them in a dark background. The performance ministered to my heart. When I watched it again, I had the vision again, with more of some heart massage. Somewhere in time while listening to the performance, I also saw two fingers playing on that heart as they left momentary dents on it. I hope it ministers to your heart in the same manner as it did mine.

And when I started weeping listening to it, I heard in my Spirit, "It is enough.." followed by 'She's falling in love" when I went to the washroom to blow my running nose. I heard it a few times through my time of watching the video, as if an commentary based on observation was made by someone. I had wanted to cry hard and I did for a moment but then I controlled myself as I don't like crying too hard openly because it just seems shallow to me to be watched by those who don't understand (not the ones who do, like my empathetic and godly Brothers and Sisters). And then there was a voice that said, "Sab Natak Hai." ("Everything is an act.") Only Glory came to my mind when I thought of people who could think such a thing about me because of some previous things that I had heard. Different people, different perceptions!

The performance starts at the 4:50 minute mark. But you may choose to listen to the Brother who first introduces Reza Diako and after the performance tells the truth about how Jesus left His glorious throne in Heaven where He already had many angels who worshipped Him but He humbled Himself enough to come down to Earth, to save His lost bride (us).

It's already the next day. 2:02am and I just finished listening to the above performance again. And this time, I had the following vision.
A guy easily took my red love heart out of my chest, took a few leaps with it in a dark background and then rotated around speedily with it in his hands in a circle with his arms stretched forward. The next thing I saw was the close-up view of the red heart now having two white wings of the same vertical dimension as it flew in the air facing left, and it kept flying in the air alone. When it got tired, it slowly laid down, wrapped itself with the white wings, stretched a bit around, and fell asleep.

1. The Past, The Present, and The Future

I seem to have a past (contextual) correlation with RS (as Shahjahan and Mumtaz), while Glory is my present Earthly promise, Death Conqueror and others are a part of the group that will be saved, and KA is my heavenly 'Sau Saal Tak' ('For a Hundred Years') Buddy, while others who are saved will join us in Heaven too as they happen to make their way into Heaven through the shed Blood of Christ.

3. 'Three Lives'

The novel has been brought to my attention few times. I had read back during my BSc days. It was about a person who meet different people who had different roles in three different lives.

But I would say the three lives are when one was still in Heaven with God, when one is born on Earth in flesh, and when one goes back to one's creator and God Jesus Christ (Yahusha Hamashiach).

The message is immortality (- From Brother Jonathan's video).

Unarranged because they are abrupt and involuntary and not something that I control, and that's also why I had named so my apparent book on Wattpad, because what I posted there was not intentionally created but was the result of an intentional pursuit of an emotion or idea involuntarily whispered in my brain.

Note: One can skip the lyrical Hindi videos that don't have English Subtitles, if one doesn't understand Hindi. But one can still choose to watch them regardless. I will add subtitles later as I am led.

Lyrics (English Translation):

On every step that you place your foot on,
My presence will accompany (you)..
My Presence.. My Presence..

Some day, reminiscing about me,
when tears will flow from your eyes..

Some day, reminiscing about me,
when tears will flow from your eyes..

Then there itself will stop them,
my tears following yours..

The direction that you face towards
My presence will accompany (you)..

On every step that you place your foot on,
My presence will accompany (you)..
My Presence.. My Presence..

If, would be sad, you
then would be sad, I too..

If, would be sad, you
then would be sad, I too..

Visible to your eyes or neigh,
Would be close to you, I too..

Wherever shall you go stay,
My Presence will accompany (you)..

On every foot that you place your feet on,
My Presence will accompany (you)..

My Presence.. My Presence..

To think of his expressions make me chuckle and minister to my heart.

7. The Newspaper Jeans

Back during the days of my MSc, I had bought a black and grey Jeans that had small horizontal print of handwritten script that ran in consecutive vertical lines on the thigh area. It later came to be my most worn Jeans out of the few that I had. But when I had bought it and was still in the mall as I checked it out, my dad asked me if I was really going to buy that 'Akhbaar' (newspaper) !? I couldn't have thought of it as a newspaper, and it had seemed insulting to me, because I had liked the rows of lines of small cursive handwriting on it because they gave it a sense of a weird kind of depth. But by calling it a newspaper that contained facts and information about events that might not necessarily minister to one's heart, with no depth and nourishment for the soul, it had seemed too much out of context to me. A newspaper may not minister to one's heart, but the Jeans ministered to mine.

And then another event has been being highlighted to me for some time: I wore that printed Jeans below my loose translucent white crop top and walked by Death Conqueror in the corridor in front of the HOD office of the Department of Physics & Astrophysics here.

8. Brownian Motion

A vision of the Brownian motion of particles in the air lit by the sunlight in a part of a room with a brown background keeps getting highlighted to me.

9. Past Revelations

From 10th of May:

KA in a Rush to Run To a Rural Area

Vision during day: I saw KA dressed in a full-sleeved off-white shirt with fine brown widely separated shining lines. After looking at the front (in the direction of the seer of the vision), he quickly turned and seemed to start to run. Far behind him was an open and wide rural desert space, with a tree to the left and what looked like a wooden boogey which is usually pulled by a bull or buffalo. The way he looked, turned back and seemed to be in a rush resembled the rush Ranveer seemed to be in the vision with the snowy path shown towards the end of the Lootera movie.

The Scissors' Fight

It was when we still lived in our hometown in the Cheema colony. My dad and mom had a fight that night and they were rotating in a circle as they struggled together with my dad holding a pair of scissors in his hand against my mom's belly while she was holding his hand and keeping it away. They fought often and we had to separate them.

10. Dream in the Morning:

I was about to show some video or memory from my past to someone, but when I opened it, what played was little me (around 6-7 years old) dancing in a dark background on 'Mein to Aarti Utaru Re, Santoshi Mata Ki' ('I worship the Contentment Mother'), and while I danced, I was dressed in a thick and widely shoulder-strapped white dress with a meshy outside and had a boycut, and was making moves with my hands and upper body pushing out of the plane of the vision.

11. The Swirl of The Green Dress

Vision (Past Few Days): The slow swirl of my pleated dark green dress.

Note: Bia's New YouTube Channel

Brother Philip's wife recently started sharing her journey with the Lord on her YouTube channel called 'Notes Of Faith'. It's a good endeavour and often results in walking with the Lord in unexpected ways. Though He has given different people different ways to minister to others. For instance, I always related more with novels than I did with movies, so He told me to minister in writing as a part of my walk with Him. I used to write in the OneNote App previously but then I stopped. It was when I didn't yet believe in Jesus. But after I came to Him in 2019, He gave me the vision in Early 2022 to start writing in the OneNote App again when I was staying in the Room D4 of A-16 (Vijay Nagar, Single Storey, Delhi).

Making notes of our walk with God can often result in unexpected ways of Him speaking to us prophetically through our past notes. I made notes of my own state of heart and mind and what was shown to me by the Spirit of the Lord. I watched a part of Bea talking about her walk. It was good to listen to her, though I did so for a short period of time.

I've been hearing this song in the Spirit for the past few hours.
Lyrics (Eng Translation):
Chorus:
On the beaded necklace of breath, I reiterate
the name of my darling..

the name of my darling..

Of my own heart, I know of..
And of my darling's, God.

On the beaded necklace of breath, I reiterate
the name of my darling..

the name of my darling..

Stanza 1:
In the color of Love, (I) drowned in such a manner
In the color of Love, (I) drowned in such a manner
(that) I became one with it..

Beading the garland of Love,
I became Love itself..

On the beaded necklace of breath, I reiterate
the name of my darling..

the name of my darling..

Stanza 2:
The drink of love, since I have had..
The drink of love, since I have had..

the hearts's state is such..

(that) on hot coals, I could sleep..
on thorns, I could find rest..

On the beaded necklace of breath
On the beaded necklace of breath
On the beaded necklace of breath
I reiterate
I reiterate
I reiterate

the name of my darling..
the name of my darling..

the name of my darling..

On the beaded necklace of breath
I reiterate

the name of my darling..
the name of my darling..

the name of my darling..

Teri Deewani....mp4

In the video, a girl is dancing on a rooftop in dark amidst fireworks in the sky as the phrase 'Your Devoted Lover' keeps playing.

Lyrics (Eng Translation):

The addiction of love took over me in such a manner that I became intoxicated
Let my love reach measureless heights for my love
Let me sacrifice my life..
I longer have a check on my body and soul
This, knows the entire world..
Helpless, I wander
Lost have I, (my) heart have I lost..
Lost have I...
(my) heart have I lost..

By your name I could live, by your name I could die..

When the passion of love crosses limits
When the passion of love crosses limits
With a smile, a lover hangs to death.
The magic of love gets into one's head and says,
The magic of love gets into one's head and says,
Mighty barriers may the world place at front,
paths are opened by God..
This is the will of love, this is the will of God..
This is the will of love, this is the will of God
Without you, what living is like - yes, it's selfish!

What is this that you did
(that) I've died (to myself),
I've fallen greatly (for you)
Oh yes, yes yes - that's true
I've become your devoted lover..
devoted lover..
your devoted lover
devoted lover..
your devoted lover
devoted lover..
your devoted lover
devoted lover..

Ho Ho.. Ho Ho..

(Yes) I am a colourful lover
(Yes) I am a colourful lover
I am unmatched, I am intoxicated..
I sing and play music, I entertain everyone..
(Yes) I'm oblivious of false gods and religion
(Yes) I am a devoted lover
I am a devoted lover..

13. "Apne Peesay Ka Kade Underwear Tak Tanay Leya Konya..!"

'With your own money, you didn't ever buy even an underwear..!"

This scene from the movie 'Tanu Weds Manu Returns' has been playing in my Spirit for a few days now. So I've edited the video below for all, as I was led to do so.

In the video, the village/town girl slams the bloated city girl by putting forth the truth that the city girl only knew how to talk over smartly but lacked humility and didn't really have many good qualities.

The Diaogue:
City Girl laughs on the Village Girl
City Girl: Awasthi ji, you had said that she looks like me..
Laughs again..
City Girl: If not Reebok, then let's buy 'Rebook'..?
(Rebook – a local duplicated version of the brand)
City Girl: (says in a taunting sarcastic way) Sharma ji, her..? You found her in my place..? This joker..? This foolish villager..? You deserve better than this. 'I' deserve better than this. If not yours, you should've thought about 'my' reputation.

Village Girl: Ae Girl! Come back to your senses! Speak respectfully! What makes you think you can laugh at me!? What special finesse do you have..? (When) you couldn't take care of your own family! From your childhood to being an adult, your dad nurtured you, and afterwards (your husband) Sharmaji..!

You didn't ever buy even an underwear with your own money..!
And you're laughing at me..!
On his credit card, you travel the world, drink booze and do fashion..!
How am I a foolish villager..!?
I took admission in Delhi University with my hard work under Athlete Quota. I'm a state level Athlete..!

And you're calling me a foolish villager. I'm not oversmart like you..! But I can earn bread for my home, and can parent my children as well. You can neither earn bread, nor can you nurture your children!

City Girl: You shut up, you b*tch!

Reebok Nhi to Rebook Hi Sahi.mp4

Ref: When Kangana met Kangana

It reminded me of my ex-roommate's behavior toward me.

And a few seconds back I confronted how I became numb to the sufferings of others because of staying in the company of someone like her who only talked crap. I saw that my mind had shrunken down to her level of bloated perception which I had the misfortune to witness. Earlier I considered myself much of an empath because I related with everyone (provided they were real and were not pretending to be in a fake situation). I knew that money could not solve the problems of the world. I had a greater field of view previously, but staying with her constricted my view because she was continuously throwing her sh*t at me. I became low-minded to an extent that I previously couldn't even have imagined. She reminded me of the woman who had shouted at Brother Jonathan Kleck and had told him harshly to pack his bags and get lost from the place he himself gave the money to renovate! That woman had the same bloated attitude! I was also reminded of how Jonathan later said that she could go back inside the rich girl carpet she had crawled out of!

That lady misrepresented situations and told lies about Jonathan to others while pretending to be nice to his face - exactly what my roommate did.

14. Jonathan and I in a Communing Holy Kiss

And while I wrote the above about how that lady behaved with him, I had the psychosomatic vision of me and Jonathan sharing a heartfelt tongue to tongue holy kiss. I literally felt his tongue inside my mouth. I don't know, it didn't feel fleshly to me, but I somehow felt more connected and closer to him. It's similar to communion when you understand someone and become one with their situation, in a good empathetic way, not in a way where you understand them objectively but maintain a bad heart attitude - that's not healing for the heart. When we eat Jesus' flesh or kiss him, it's not because we are lusting after his flesh, but because we love Him and we want to show it using our physical form. I am yet to write on Sexuality, Sensuality, and Faithfulness.

It's unbearable to be in the presence of the characterless rich!

Truly, even my life situations are somewhat a reflection of Jonathan's.

15. The Situational Change

My ex-roommate previously said to me, "One-One", followed by "I've left one for you." after some days - hinting to how she had gotten involved with the dual-eyed character. Though these comments reflected a sense of feeling bloated about 'snatching' something away from someone, the later revelation that showed her creating a painting in orange and black implied that she was really in the act, as she herself was a part of the painting she created. So, though she may have had a wrong attitude in the beginning, it changed to the right one later.

16. 'Good Enough For Each Other' But Not 'Good Enough'

I had been thinking about how both the characters of the painting Akhila created were good enough for each other but not good enough in general. Both disrespected me, though her reasons were rooted in her internal sense of aversion for me.

I didn't accept Death Conqueror in the state he presented himself - the immoral person who uses immoral ways to get his way. I was thinking today about how if I were a guy, I wouldn't have accepted my ex-roommate either, because of how she targeted and insulted things that held importance to me. When I was living in Room D4 of A-16, I heard her saying out to everyone outside in the hall in an insulting manner, "You know she wears those t-shirts worth 200-300 Rs..!" And she said it about the 'Jesus loves you' t-shirt that I had been roaming around wearing, and which I loved very much. Everyone went silent in the hall because it wasn't a normal thing to say about another person. She was expecting others to join her in her insult-full gossip but none did and went silent.

I had been feeling a lot of hatred/repulsion/aversion for her as this incident was brought to my remembrance within the past few days. I felt it because she was insulting my love for Jesus whom I have seen and known, and even touched the clothing of. I have even rested in His presence on my bed in A-16 with my head near His chest as was shown to me in a vision. And someone like her, who never knew Him but only talked about useless stuff, insulted the Most-High Creator God and my Love for Him. (His love is not cheap like her words.)

Now when I look back, I can see how I have overlooked many of her insults and forgave her! It's good that I am now away because she was only sapping my positivity from me, and then she was also a devil worshipper and it was a pain to listen to her talk with others because she hardly talked about godly things in a genuine manner! Even if at times she had conversations with her friend Shin (who stayed in the room blow us) about something godly, just by listening to their tones one could tell that they were only faking it. They only talked about godly things only to make me listen to their judgemental thoughts about my way of living and thinking. It was not because they really cared about what was right or godly.

The above is not to say that a person can ever be good enough for God, because God's love is perfect and independent of the other person. But someone who is not on the side of God and is speaking insults about His people and what they wear to show their adoration of Him, that person is definitely not in the right and His child unless (s)he is to come to Him at a later stage.

17. Dream from a few days back:

Aishwarya Rai in Grey and The Three Men in Black

In the dream, the back of Aishwarya Rai dressed in a sleeveless grey top over shorts was shown as she openly took bath on what looked like a platform on the floor in a room. After a long period of time of going through this, she was all spent and in a bad inner state. But then the situation rewinded, and it was shown that the bathing part was an employment position, or a part of her job that she was assigned to while some policemen dressed in a black suit with a white shirt inside sat on chairs at some distance on the other side and watched her. And this time, her back looked like that of a man's as her top lifted to a level that showed the back of her waist. One of the guys was a bald Paresh Rawal with tiny hair. He stood up from the chair along with two others, and after passing by the lady, and walking some distance ahead to the right, he said something loudly and stopped as the vision focused on his round face from a few inches away from his chin's level.

Don't Wet Your Eyes For Me...mp4

If I happen to be separated (from you for some reason)
Never Mourn For Me..

Recalling my love (for you),
Don't Wet Your Eyes..

If You Look Back Turning Your Head
You'll Find my Presence There..

On every step you place your foot on,
My presence will accompany you..

3. "Dene Wala Jab Bhi Deta, Deta Chappar Phaad Ke"

"When the Giver Gives, He Gives Abundantly"

These lyrics sung by a group of men below have playing intermittently in my Spirit for the past few days.
And yesterday I realized that they go along with the dream in which Aishwarya Rai is shown to be bathing publicly and three men dressed in a black suit are watching her sitting at some distance. When they had gotten up, and moved some distance, the vision had stopped at the face of the old man from the song below (the Bollywood Actor Paresh Rawal) as he had just completed saying something loudly with authority, as if he was the main guy of the three.

This revelation played in my spirit right after I had completed editing the above video.
On 8th May (Monday), I had heard this strongly in my spirit while moving up to my floor in the lift on reaching PG after gym.

But what I happened to make up and sing involuntarily was 'Dene Wala Jab Bhi Deta, Deta Thappad Maar Ke'
'When the Giver gives, He gives it after slapping (you).'

4. Abhi Abhi Dhoop Thi Yha Pe Lo..

[Eng Sub Present]

Abhi Abhi Dhoop Thi Yahan Pe Lo...mp4

Ref: Dard Karaara | Full Song | Dum Laga Ke Haisha, Ayushmann Khurrana, Bhumi, Kumar Sanu, Sadhana Sargam

Lyrics:
(The guy sings as he walks ahead and dances between a row of men and another row of women:)

Just a while back, the place was hot with sunlight
Now it's drenched with streams of rains..

(Our) pockets are empty,
But with the coins of love,
Come, let's live and survive..

The lady sings:
At times, I have asked the mirror
About who enhanced my beauty..?

At times I seem like an enchantress,
At times I seem like the moonlight,
At times - a shining star..

The guy: "No matter how much careful we are,"

The lady: "and walk cautiously"

The guy: "The heart is an idiot and a wanderer."

The Lady: "When I met you, in my heart - arose a sharp pain.."

The Guy: "And only that person came to life, who was killed because of Love.."

The Lady: "On meeting you, in my heart - arose a sharp pain.."

The Guy: "And only that person came to life, who was killed because of Love.."

They both walk away together from the vision holding hands in an orange and black background of the sunset while the music plays.

They stop and hug each other, and the song ends..

5. "Tu Bhi Aa, Sabko Chodd Ke.."

(You too come, leaving everyone..)
Leave the world and its mindsets and come to the eternal kingdom of God.

<<Milega Tujhe Na Koi Aur.mp4>>

Milega Tujhe Na Koi Aur.mp4

How Jesus has loved us (and Ayushman has the same capacity):
Lyrics:
The guy sings:
I die on you..
Love you..
You'll not find another (who loves like me).

[(So) you too come, leaving everyone behind..] X2

For tears roll around in my eyes..

Seeing the color of water..
Seeing the color of water..
Seeing the color of water..
Tears roll around in my eyes..

Tears roll around in my eyes..

A female voice echoes in the background:
Tears roll around in my eyes..

The guy sings:
Tears roll around in my eyes..

A female voice echoes in the background:
Tears roll around in my eyes..

The guy sings:
Tears roll around in my eyes..

A female voice echoes in the background:
Tears roll around in my eyes..]

The guy sings:
Tears roll around in my eyes..

A female voice echoes in the background:
Tears roll around in my eyes..

The duo keep singing the two lines in repetition as their voice slowly fades away, and the song ends..

I was thinking about if I should post the dance revelation with Ayushman while I was still in A-16. I was refraining from doing so, because I felt weird about some parts. But then I heard in my Spirit, 'Vo Mar Jayega'.

6. 'Vo Mar Jayega'

'He will die..'

This is also what I have kept hearing intermittently, and it repeated itself a while back as well after I was done with editing the #4 revelation on this Page ('Abhi Abhi Dhoop Thi Yha Pe Lo.. ').

7. Sharp Pain In My Heart

While talking to my mom yesterday night, I experienced a sharp pain on the left side of my chest (in my heart) which I shared about with my mom as well.

8. Jeene Laga Vo Hee Jise Ishq Ne Mara

'And only that person came to life, who was killed because of Love'
These chorus lines of the Song 'Dard Karaara' ('Sharp Pain') or what I previously described as 'You're my love's language' have played in my spirit for some time now. And they tell the story of how someone who dies because of love, lives again.

Jeene Laga Vo Hi Jise Ishq Ne Maraa.mp4

The Lady sings: "On meeting you, in my heart - arose a sharp pain.."

The Guy sings: "And only that person came to life, who was killed because of Love.."

Truly, those who die because of their godly love find a second life in Heaven with Jesus because of His sacrifice.

9. 'Kora Kaagaz Tha Ye Man Mera'

(And I wrote your name on it..)_

Vision around 3am:

10. Superhero RS

I saw the upper half of RS in a sleeveless metallic vest armour with etched ethnic impressions. There was a navy blue skin-fit cloth sleeves and navy blue drape resting behind him, as he boldly hit his left chest with his right hand, having his neck length hairstyle along with a beard.

11. Dream This Morning:

I am in a room busy doing something and I keep going out intermittently. But whenever I go out, I happen to come across a well-built muscular RS (looking darker and different from his original self and usually dressed in a grey t-shirt). He hands me a packet and kisses me briefly. In the dream, I happen to be expecting him as well whenever I go out and I seem to be happy about it. Umm, he came in a different version each time, from what I recall, though once it resembled what I described above.

1. 'Mera Jeevan Kora Kaagaz, Kora Hi Reh Gya'

(My life - a blank page, it stayed blank at the end)

'Jo Likha Tha Ansoon ke Sang Beh Gaya'
(What I had written flew down with (the ink of) tears..)

Ref: Mera Jeevan Kora Kaghaz Kora Hi Reh Gaya (The Great Kishore Kumar) Kalyanji Anandji

Goes along with the vision of a blank page in blue net fire below (that represent the tears of blue ink that have flown off the page leaving it blank), with Shaktimans flying out of it. (Rev: 'A White Page in Blue Net Fire With Tiny Shaktimans Flying Out' - #16 on Page 404)

Are they going to wipe my Laptop clean now? Such deplorable people! Just like my ex-roommate who was saying 'It might get hurt" about my laptop when I put it on my 'own' bedside table. She was somehow annoyed to see it lying there and told me in a threatening tone to remove it or it might get hurt!

Heard in the Spirit late last night and then I sang along with the song:

2. My Love

So I say a little prayer
Hope my dreams will take me there
Where the skies are Blue
To see you once again, My Love
Overseas from coast to coast
To find a place I love the most
Where the fields are green,
To see you once again, My Love..

It goes along with the dream in which I saw the pain-relieving Oasis.

Some More Relevant lines:

An empty street

An empty house
A hole inside my heart..
I am all alone,
Rooms are getting smaller..

I wonder how
I wonder why
I wonder where they are
The days we had,
The songs we sang together..
But Oh My Love,
We're holding on forever..
Reaching for the love that seems so far…

So I say a little prayer
Hope my dreams will take me there
Where the skies are blue
To see you once again, My Love
Overseas from coast to coast
To find a place I love the most
Where the fields are green,
To see you once again, My Love..

While I sang it yesterday, the dream was highlighted to me and I saw how God was calling me to that love that seemed so far now because I got distracted by ungodly people who didn't have anything to do with him, and in trying to reconcile my heart with God's will and my love for Him, I ended up with distant from that Oasis of God's love ('where the skies were, and the fields were green' - the song lyrics), and was trying to reach for the love that seemed so far now.

I wonder if the ungodly ones are going to infect my bond my God. But that's not something that they control. And that's exactly what God taught me here.

4. The Past Situation: Meera and Bhuvan As My Parents

This particular season from my past has been highlighted to me a few times now.

Meera is my ex-friend I knew from day one of undergrads in 2010. And Bhuvan was her fiance whom I got to know in 2016 when I got back in touch with her after a long break, because of my encounter with the narcissistic abuser Tejaswi.

Both of them took the role of my parents. I had made a WhatsApp group for the three of us, and Meera put up a display picture of the back of a 1-2 yr old child sitting between its parents. All three were dressed in white t-shirts and at the back of the parents' t-shirts was printed a watering can that was bent below towards the child. Both of them watered the child. The child had looked so cute, with its bald head with tiny spiky hair, that I couldn't resist looking at the display picture again and again, though none of the faces were visible.

I had this vision during the past week.

5. My Ex-Roommate in a White Dress

I saw my ex-roommate (Akhila) on her way to the lift from her room (in A-16) while being dressed in a white flowy dress. The dress had a rectangular neck and translucent sleeves and she walked forward smiling with her hair open, as the bottom of her dress slowly waved around.

8. Ashish Says Out The Above Stanza

This incident from 10th class back in my school has been highlighted to me a few times as well. Ashish was a short heighted and lean and slim guy who had happened to look into my song diary. It was a notebook I had maintained to write my favourite songs in, after being inspired by Shreya some classes back when we were not yet good friends. I had written this Gila Gila song in my diary well but a few lines were pending. This day he was sitting in front of me and I don't recall know who asked whom, but he ended up saying those lines out to me for some reason. Perhaps those were the only lines of the song that were pending to be written.. I don't know for which reason. But as he was saying them out, Geeta Ma'am's son Ravi was teasing him saying, "Ohh.. Ye kya bol rha hai..!" ('What are you saying out (to her)!" I had shared my song notebook with the guys in front because they were asking me.

The lady sings:

9. Tum Pehli Baar Mein..

'You, in the first time itself

Deewana Kar Gaye..
'left me in a state of love'

Hum tere dilnashi chehre pe mar gaye

10. The Face of Jonathan Peeking Outside From a Sky Blue Sheet

I had this vision late last night. Though only his face was visible, the posture seemed that of him lying on his front covered with a printed sky-blue sheet that ran above his head, as he looked towards the viewer with a cute smile.

11. Chanchal Ma'am in a Thermal Top

This morning I had a dream, in which I entered a room that looked like my high school's room I used to sit in 11th and 12th standards. Everyone is seated on the benches and talking. I enter the room from its back door, walk to the front seats and find Chanchal Ma'am sitting on one of the benches on the right row. She's wearing a grey-striped thermal top. She takes out a bottle of hair serum from her handbag. The hair serum is the same as mine and the bottle is fully filled. And then she tells me a few things she has to buy.

Chanchal Ma'am has short grey and white hair that look angelic. She keeps them in a short veg-like cut. Chanchal is used for a person who has a frolic childlike inner persona.

1. Nailed My Heart (and Brain)

I have to put a nail in my heart in order to love Death Conqueror. Jesus had to have his hands and feet nail-pierced. But the analogy of how my heart has been nailed where in even my Psyche split way back in 2021 when I was still in Room D4 of A-16, goes with what Jesus went through. At times we've to endure and go ahead with what God has told us to. It's very much like enduring the physical nail equivalent of emotional pain. However, I'm not gicing out a message of condoning poor behavior. But rather, of forgiving and keeping distance and praying to God for guidance and healing. Without God, I've been much worse.

2. Endure and Persevere

When I was lying on bed an hour or two back and thinking about the mental and emotional pain I have had to endure, and much more of which was still left, I couldn't evade weeping, because I was very sad. But the situation didn't make me hopeless. It made me fall in love deeper with Jesus. Because looking at my suffering, I understood to a little extent how He suffered here. Almost as if I was receiving a greater understanding of the depth of His love for me and others.

Additionally, when I was in the gym and was doing leg curls, after the second set I felt too exhausted and rested loosely on the seat when my sight fell on a long bolt lying in front of me to my slight left on the joining boundary of the wall and the floor. It made me think of a nail and about Jesus and how He endured till the end. He didn't think that He didn't have the energy to continue while carrying His cross. He continued with a crown of thorns on His head, though He was bleeding and had flesh hanging loose because of the brutal scourging He faced. So, I continued this time with a greater vigor.

But while I was weeping and these encounters from the day crossed my vision, I had the following vision.

3. Deepika Padukone On a Chair

DP sat straight on a chair that looked like the ones that are downstairs - without armrests. She was dressed in a very heavy red bridal Indian Ethnic attire and had lots of garlands of flowers on her. She almost looked overloaded with them to the extent that only her very heavy clothing and garlands were noticeable and to a sufficient level above her lap. Nothing of her bodily figure was visible as she sat there alone looking ahead. Such a beautiful sight to see. <3

4. Why was KA nailing my heart?

At first, I had the vision of a nail being hammered into my red heart. It had made its way in about half an inch as I continued weeping alone with Jesus asking Him to help or comfort me. But then the vision was followed by KA striking a nail in my heart. In that vision, I was lying on the bed in the same manner that I actually did. And apparently, my body was see-through and translucent, i.e., his hand was shown to be inside my upper body as he hit that nail in my heart.
It made me think about how he didn't really cause me any pain but only brought emotional comfort in my stressful situation as I bonded with him because of God's given revelations. Then why was I being given that revelation?

I recalled the previous vision of a nail being trajectoried on my forehead. Apparently, KA's face was shown as the one who was doing that. Just his face, the nail and the hand.

I understood that he had 'nailed' my heart; or rather 'God' had nailed my heart through the revelations that He gave me related to him - like the swing revelation. God nailed or pointed exactly at what would bring me moments of love-filled rest.

The next vision that followed had the following.

5. KA with a Dark Red Love Heart In His Hands

He was carrying that heart and was giving it sloppy kisses all over, sucking it gently. He even put the entire heart in His mouth, and as He did I felt the sensation of it going into my mouth. He was cradling the heart in His hands and sucking-kissing it all over. It ministered to my heart to such a great extent.

But though I had the above healing revelation, the revelation that had people saying to me in a taunting way 'Sher Aa Raha Hai" "Sher Aa Raha Hai", kept intruding in my mind. I thought if they were saying those words to me and behaved rudely like they did in the dream, because despite having heartfelt experiences with people, they didn't show up in a direct manner. And therefore the people were then making the point that though the revelations may have given me healing, the related people were not going to be the ones who were going to 'accept' me or confront me openly because it would be a huge thing then. And I understand that celebrities lack a certain amount of freedom because they easily get captured by the media that spreads stories like wildfires and would come with other related complications. So I correlated my situation as it is unfolding with the apparent rude behavior of people in that previous dream revelation.

But the heart revelation was one of a kind and it brought me immense healing, even if I may not get to see those people for real. But I have my memories of them stored in my mind, when I did see or heard somethings in real life. Even when in some situations the involved people were their doppelgangers who communicated some message. So, even without direct contact, I consider them my chosen Heavenly family as they would be after they are saved and sealed by the Spirit of God.

Looking back at this heart revelation will always bring me healing. It ministered to me in such deep ways as I felt my heart being cradled and nurtured.

6. 'The Dehaat Insult!'

And when I turned to the other side and was about to closed my eyes to sleep, I heard something insulting in the spirit that involved the term ' Dehaat', almost as if the person was mocking me for being upbrought in a town. Well, it's better than having an upbringing like his that produces people of his nature!

7. The Da Vinci Code Book of Revelations

This book is much like the Da Vinci Code which is a voluminous thriller book. You receive revelations that are clues and then as you receive more clues, you connect the dots and solve the puzzle piece.

If Glory and Death Conqueror had read it properly, they would've understood so well by now what was going to work and what wasn't. But they keep sticking to their own ways. Stubborn heads.

8. Jeena Isi Ka Naam Hai

'This is what living life is about'

This song played strongly in my spirit today.

9. Naino Mein…

('In Your Eyes..')

Late last night the chorus of this song started playing strongly in my spirit. And today as well, I have been hearing certain parts in my spirit. The above phrase of the song played in my spirit too. And it's the above part specifically ('Naino Mein… Haye… - X2') that keeps repeating in my spirit. The phrase is sung 'twice' in the song in its initial part, and means 'In (your) eyes' - 2.

10. Salman Khan Says 'Aila'

I had this vision around a month back when I was still going to the dept. I have not gone to work for a few weeks now because I can't bear the presence of the degraded man Deepak who only keeps communicating threats to me in one or the other way! I anyway feel spent and mentally fatigued, but he makes it even worse by throwing his master's deplorable sh*t at me and giving me pain!! It doesn't make me feel scared at all. But I feel hurt whenever he says such crap! So, I don't want to even put myself in the position of having to let his poison seep in my ears.

Anyway, the vision: I saw a distant vision (about 2 inches in vertical dimension) of the side-view of Salman Khan dressed in an off-white shirt tucked inside pants as he said in a soft but solid tone, "Aila!"

A few days later, I saw 'ila' written on a rucksack placed just behind the door of the gate of a house I get to pass by on my way to that side. I was heading to the dept when I saw that rucksack with 'ila' being highlighted on it as I passed by it. It made me think of the above vision.

11. Vijay in Vijay Nagar (of Delhi)

'Victory in Victory Land'
When I was in Rom D4 of A-16, I had the vision of Jesus standing against the wall facing the bed as he made a 'V' (victory) sign with his hand. And I later correlated it with the name of the colony I've been staying in since 2021 when I shifted to Saroj Sadan (A-17/B). The name of the colony is 'Vijay Nagar'.

Vijay: Victory
Nagar: City/Land

12. Made in India

The song has more than one context.
Lyrics [English Translation]:

India India
India India
India India
India..

I've seen the whole world,
from Japan to Russia
from Australia to America..

(Music)

(I) have seen the dream of love
this heart wants someone to call my own
Only if I get a mate
a native..

Made in India
Made in India..
(I) need a heart that's made in India

Ho Ho Ho Ho

Made in India
a cute lovable person..
I want a heart that's made in India

(Music)

His body could be black or white but his heart must be true
Neither silver nor gold,
(but) a diamond..

(Music)

Whose heart is Indian not just any Englishman
Day & night, to love me,
who would be able..

Made in India
Made in India
(I) need a heart that's made in India

Ho Ho Ho Ho

Made in India
a cute lovable (person)..
(I) need a heart that's made in India

(Music)

India India..
India India..

(I understand) how (selfish) prosperity is and how kind poverty is Good what is, what is bad
I know (it all)..

Made in India
Made in India
(I) need a heart that's made in India

Ho Ho Ho Ho

Made in India
a cute lovable (person)..
(I) need a heart that's made in India

Ho Ho Ho Ho

Made in India
Made in India
(I) need a heart that's made in India

Ho Ho Ho Ho

Made in India

14. Himanshu & The Gross and Unhygienic Me

Though in the dream, I am being represented as doing this gross thing. But it's not something that I do and neither would ever because only seeing it in the dream made me nauseous. It represents someone else.

Towards the end of this dream, my middle brother Himanshu was going upstairs and was at the top of the stairs that led into an airplane but I was at the bottom of the case as I saw him about to turn to the right and enter in. It was hard for me to go upstairs in that dream and I had a solid ball of mucus held between my thumb and the forefinger of my right hand that I was pressing and rotating between my thumb and forefinger. Because I couldn't walk upstairs straightly, I fell on the stairs and dragged myself to the top. And when I entered the plane and turned to the right, I saw that it looked like a hall lit in yellow light with a widely spaced array of chairs. I still had the ball of mucus held in a similar manner. After walking a few steps in, I threw that ball away, and the dream ended.

The song was playing in my Spirit again in the evening

16. The Encounter with Rat Today

On my way to gym, while I was walking on the service lane beside the NDPL building, after some distance ahead of it, I saw a rat coming running to me but as it approached nearer, I got really scared and came to a still when it was a few around two feet away. Right then the rat halted and got scared as well, immediately turned backward and ran away and hid into a cemented hole it had perhaps come out of.

This made me think, "Why was it previously running towards me if it got scared on being 2 feet away!?" "Didn't it see me waking in its direction (as it was running head-on in my direction with no blinding hindrances in between).

17. Jhuke Jo Pyaar Ke Liye Vo Zindagi..

'That humbles itself down for love - that's called a lived life'

This lyric was playing in my spirit a few minutes back in the melody of the song above (#7).

I don't know if it's really there in the song, but it somehow played in my Spirit on its own and repeated itself many times.

It was followed by

'Jale Bahaar Ke Liye Vo Zindagi'
'That burns for the hope of spring (in Heaven), that's what's called a lived life.'

1. Singing While Washing Clothes

While washing clothes, Diamonds by Rihanna happen to play in the YT queue, and I somehow burst out singing along. It's hard to stop because it reminds me of how I used to be and also because an uninhibited form of singing by heart to God is a pure form of worship, as it is based in freedom, or using one's God-given free will to sing to Him, therefore rightfully using it. It also reminds me of the previous vision of the side-view of Rihanna's face at the top of a space lit by yellow light. (We're indeed the diamonds of God. We're His stars.)

2. The Coca-Cola Song

Some guys happen to stop by on the road on their bikes, and one of them is playing some Hariyanvi song. After a few seconds when they're gone, I think about the lyrics for a while. All I understood was that it was about a lady working in the army. Later when I go downstairs, I think about the Hariyanvi songs that I know. The only song I happen to recall is the Coca-cola song that I had got to know about from a girl who was dancing on it on the evening we celebrated Anjali's birthday in a PG nearby. Anjali was someone who was hitting on me though she had a boyfriend and who kept hitting on me even after she got married within the same month.

The Lady sings:
My husband is so smart that he brought chilled Coca-Cola for me..

That my stomach was grumbling - I told my darling/husband
He's so smart that he brought chilled Coca-Cola for me..

The Lady sings (The Stanza):
I don't find relief without eating Balushahi (an Indian Sweet)
And if you get hot Jalebis for me, then you'll be blessed..

When I was still on the roof, I happened to look at a square mesh behind the washing machine and saw a rat making rounds on the narrow slab behind it. After going to and fro once or twice, it jumped out below from one of the square holes in the middle at the bottom of the mesh and got lost. I thought if it had any prophetic significance.

The Roof of A-10 with the Metallic Mesh

While trying to sleep around half an hour back:

Thoughts from the day crossed my mind. I thought about somethings I noticed at the gym. Then I was thinking about Brother Nate's video I watched while washing clothes earlier during the night. I recalled a sentence he had said in a very serious and peculiar tone, "All the authority has been given to me." as he pointed to himself. When I thought about it, the vision that followed was the side-view of him running on the treadmill of my gym, as seen from his right, and then a superimposed image of a lion facing in the same direction appeared on his face and neck who was then roaring hugely while moving his lion face forward. I saw that our God roars through Him.

3. Communion with Jesus. He invites me.

I see this from a distance as a third person. Jesus is placing my head carefully on a bed with his hand around it, while green light reflects on His face. The visible space all around is lit with a green light, and I am laid on the bed while He is standing to my right with his head bent to a level of a feet above me. His head is bent over me and He is looking at me with a serious expression without blinking His eyes. I can sense that it's time to have communion with Him.

I then see a vision to my right of his hand tightly clenching mine through the fingers. He's building intimacy. I see him standing straight beside the bed on which he had rested my head on in the vision, and I somehow start with eating his fingers of the left hand as it is the nearest to me. When I take a bite, I see that his fingers are cake on the inside - layers of chocolate bread filled with vanilla cream. I eat his entire hand until the part of the wrist. It's all cake.

(And while I wrote the above, I see the face, the neck, and some area around the throat of Glory as he is moving his head around in a shy manner.)

After His fingers, I now move to His body, and take a bite off the shoulder. It turns out to be a burger. At first it's a chicken burger but because I haven't been having chicken or any other meat for some time, I want it to be a veg burger. So I now see a veg burger with a veg patty with an onion disk inside. I take a bite. I now move to His face and see myself kissing Him, but the vision that follows is a sharp bite taken off of a chocolate biscuit filled with vanilla cream. The bite is accompanied by the sound. I can feel his calling to me to have communion with Him now. I understand how it nurtures intimacy with Him in a way that I hadn't before. I can feel His willingness for me to eat His flesh and drink His blood. It shows how close and connected we are. I really want to eat His flesh now, and drink His blood for I love Him so much for who He is (nature-wise) and how He LOVES. I never saw communion in this way before. I feel an urgent urgency to have a burger - and that burger is literally His BODY to me now, while previously it was just a burger that I was 'thinking' of as being a part of communion. I see it now - what communion really is. Previously, though I thought of it as such, I couldn't really relate to it and often forgot while eating that I had begun to eat in order to have communion with Him. But this time, the burger is no longer a burger but His BODY, and I WANT to eat it! I want to have more intimate quality time with Him. His flesh and blood are my spiritual food.

The green light present initially reminded me of the vision of a red light present on the head of a dark metallic skeleton, and how recently I had been saying out, "Why was a red light put on my forehead!?" I had repeated it many times and involuntarily complained internally as the phrase would make its way out on its own.

3.1 The Communing Muscular Man

The vision was followed by another small (animated) vision that showed the top-view of a man with a well-built upper body sitting at a dining table surrounded by different kinds of food. The man was shown as wearing a light green plastic bra.

~17:35

4. The Vicious Glory

I then see Glory to my right, standing naked near the wardrobe as he is hitting my head (and face) with a white tube light in his hands, but the tube light is not breaking though he is hitting me too repeatedly and with a lot of impact. I then recall the previous vision of him hitting my legs brutally with a long arms exercising machine. It reminds me of the one my dad used to use back in my hometown to exercise his arms muscles, but why was that naked Glory hitting my legs with it instead of using it on himself to exercise. I recall my dad using it on my mom's legs one day when they got into a fight. I empathize with my mom in a way I didn't before. I later recall her telling me that had it been someone else in her place, she would've suicided by now or long left him, but she stayed with him. Though it was on a different time that she had told me this. I just thought that if that's why Jesus gave me the communion vision yesterday, because though I've suffered because of others while walking in His will, I still stand with Him.

And then after a while, the next thing I saw was a naked Glory now hitting my head lightly with a grey flip-flop. Why was he taking precaution this time while previously he just hit me without any inhibitions?

5. Kartik Communes With The Cardio Group

Vision: I saw the bulky guy in the Gym (named Kartik) standing in a row with the other girls in the cardio group. All of them were facing the treadmills' side and had their hands grasping the hands of the two persons at their sides, with Kartik in the centre. He was dressed in his tricolor white zipper jacket and the rest were dressed in black. All of them danced together in synchrony by moving their joined hands up together with all of them lifting the same leg together followed by another lift of the cojoined hand and the other leg. They kept dancing together like this.

When he was lifting weights near the reception desk of the gym, and we were to do cardio, he had happened to perhaps hurt his hands as he abruptly dropped the rod seeing which the instructor said rashly to him in a local dialect to let his hands be severed but that he should continue lifting the weight. So I received the above vision the following night.

The vision reminded me of its semblance with me dancing in synchrony with a row of men in black where we all had out hands on the shoulders of the persons adjacent to us.

6. Glory Communes With Me

Well, after the tube light vision, I had a vision in which Glory started eating the left side of my waist while I laid on my right side. And it turned out to be a cake of the same kind that I had found inside Jesus - chocolate bread with vanilla filling - but only with thicker layers of vanilla filling and chocolate bread. He eats my waist up from down from the side. The vision that follows is a groin-shaped cake now being shown in place of the physical organ, and apparently, Glory is supposed to be eating it. I recall the previous vision in A-16, where he his naked upper body had rushed towards my groin with arms spread and a devilish expression.

The next thing I see is him licking thick and smooth white vanilla cream on my upper body. My entire body is supposedly a cake now.

I don't recall now the order of the visions - that if I had Glory's visions first or that of communion with Jesus'. But I do know that I got up from my bed with the nudge to order a burger right then and have communion with Jesus. I happened to receive a free gift on Instamart when I opened the Swiggy App, and when I opened the gift box, I had to choose from three options of eatables. I found it hard to decide because I wasn't a big fan of either of the three. The third option Coca Cola seemed good to go because of the weather, and I chose the same because it was playing in my Spirit.

I recall now. I had Jesus' visions first. Because it was first in Him that I had found the cake 'surprisingly'. And therefore by the time I had the cake visions pertaining to me, it had seemed normal to me.

7. 'You're My Favourite'

I heard this in the Spirit at night after I had communing visions with Jesus. I know that God doesn't show favoritism with His children, though He judges their hearts righteously. So, a person.

8. 'Mein Lath Gaad Du!'

'I will stuff a Danda (in the ground)!'

And while I was having the visions with Glory, I kept hearing intermittently in my spirit these phrases from the song Dangal: "Mein Lath Gaad du!" 'I will stuff a danda in the ground!' - said in order to show high energy and enthusiasm.

8.1 Glory with a Danda

Later when I was waiting for my order and was walking around in my room, I had the vision of Glory now standing naked with a 'Lath' (long wooden danda) of the same size as him in his right hand, that he hit on the floor in an angry constrained manner as he looked at me!

9. "Kat Gaya"

I had the burger on the roof. And when I was about to finish eating it, with just 4-6 bites remaining, I kept hearing in my Spirit, "Kat Gaya.. Kat Gaya" ("Got Cut" "Got Cut"). It repeated a few times.

10. 'Ke Mar Ke Bhi Kisi Ko Yaad Ayenge'

'That I will be remembered by someone even after I die'

The guy sings:
'That I will be remembered by someone even after I die'
In someone's tears, I will smile..

The above lyrics from the song 'That you've fallen for someone's smiles..' (#9 on Page 415) have been playing in my Spirit and have been highlighted to me since yesterday.

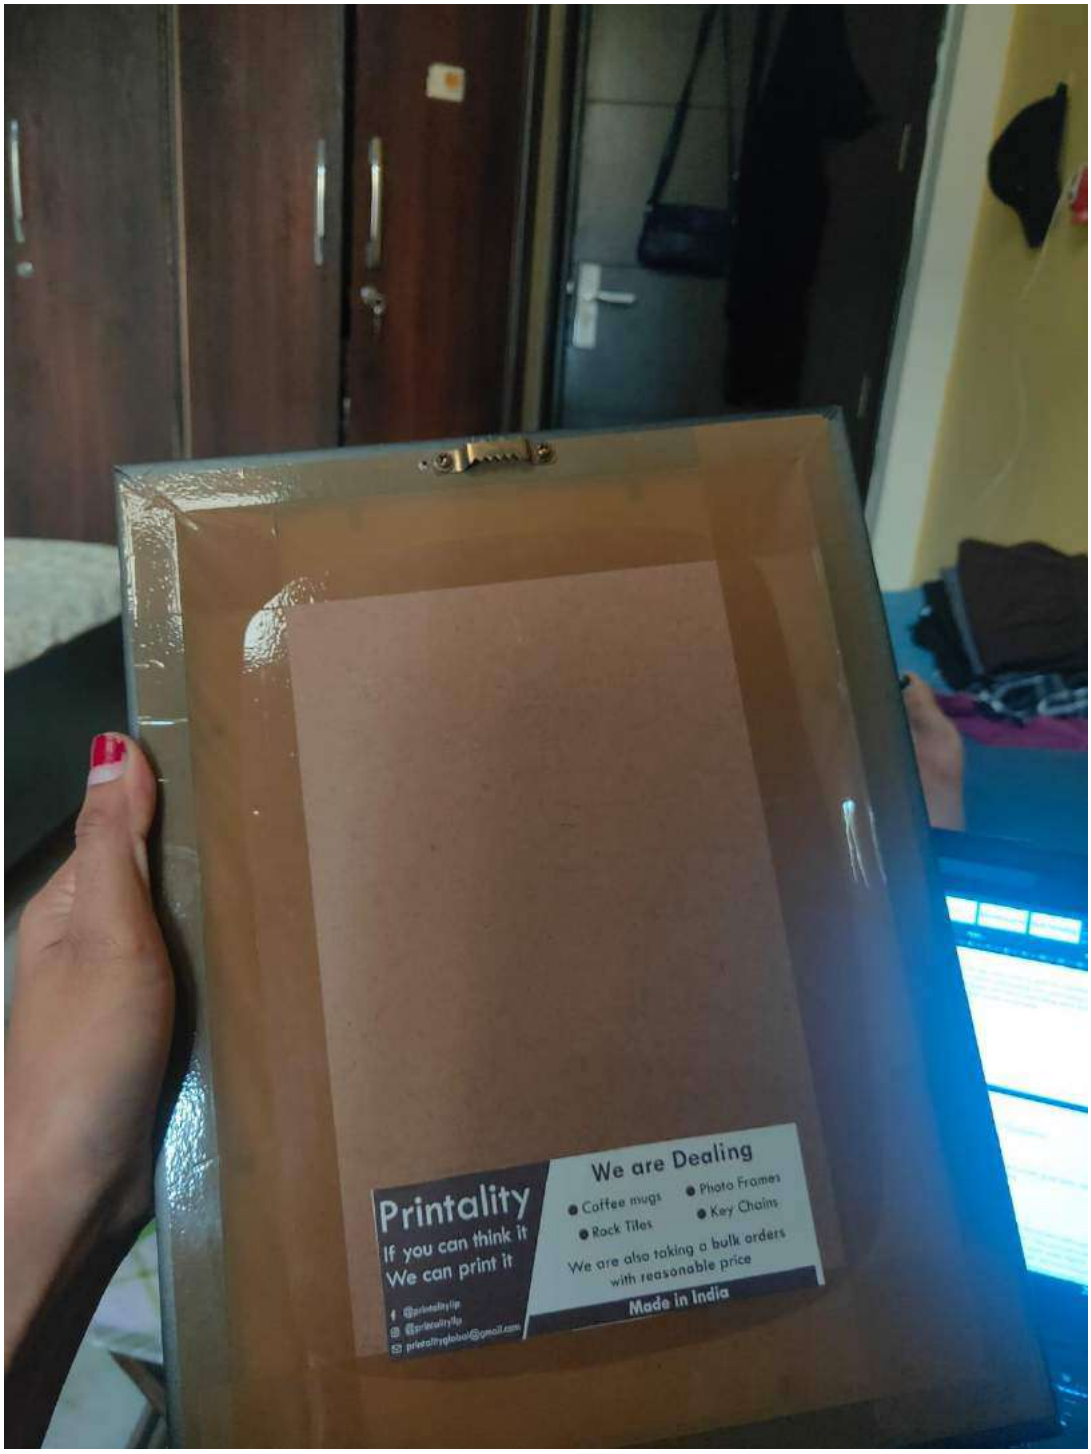
11. 'Printality'

During the past week, I had received the sign many times to print the revelations as my eyes rested on 'Printality' written at the back of a scripture wall hanging that I have placed on my table. When it fell first, my eyes rested on 'Print' of Printality. And then it kept falling again and again for a few days and my eyes kept being drawn to 'Printality' written at the back.



'Printality' in Room 303 of A-10

12. 'Corrupt'

In the morning yesterday, when I look at my Pen Drive, I heard 'Corrupt' in my Spirit. I knew that I had to hurry to get it printed because I couldn't rely on my Pen drive.

13. From the past 4-5 days:

The Hooded Man In Black And The Penis Forehead Hits

In a tent dimly lit with yellow light, I saw Paras Patel (PP: Matthew of The Chosen) with a group of men fully dressed in thick black hooded ankle-length attire lying on the floor. They seemed to be resting or were perhaps asleep. The vision began with him slowly raising his upper body slightly as he laid between others. The vision that followed now showed him standing alone. The environment was lit in yellow light. And bang! A thick elephant trunk appeared lifted up out of nowhere and hit his forehead. And it hit his forehead quickly and repeatedly in a row while standing straight.

This made me think if there was now a new threat that these people had released for me. Because in the case of KA, I had received a threat after the vision in which the elephant trunk had hit his forehead. The threat was that my forehead was going to be hit. I saw an acting man standing near his scooty with a thick cushioned wrap wrapped around his forehead.

The vision of several hits in a row repeated itself a few number of times intermittently that and the next day.

The Dagger, and the Pointing Ranbir Kapoor Again

Vision (past few days): I am on my side and as I am about to fall asleep, I see a dagger coming at my waist from above
Followed by RK sitting against a wall with both legs wide open dressed in a blue Jeans, and a shirt over a t-shirt. But his genitalia was again pointing out horizontally of the Jeans as he said, "Uth! Sukha Pada Hai!"

14. Dream This Morning:

14.1 The Cuboidal Box Covered With Matchsticks

Smriti (my high school friend from my hometown) is making an art rectangular box that resembles the one in shape that I made. But hers constitutes of erected matchsticks fixed on the outer edges of the box as she is fixing them with a very wide transparent tape. I help her in making that box. The box reminds me of my own box covered with floral wallpaper. But my created box apparently represented my grave because of the follow-up vision I had after some days of creating it. My grave was a silver-like metallic box surrounded with floral bushes of multiple colors around it.

14.2 Ranbir Kapoor in Black & White

I see the upper half of RK dressed in a black suit with a white shirt as he moves sideways in a rhythmic fashion.
I see him now holding in his hands two thick and wide glasses of whiskey, one on each shoulder.

It reminds me of the photo of Death Conqueror I had seen on fb in which he was dressed in a black suit with a white shirt inside and was standing with two glasses of alcohol, one in each hand with his arms around two women, one on each side, both of them dressed in black, after which I had blocked him.

Then I have a vision of him dressed the same but this time with his eyes closed while he held a flat piece of rectangular light yellow and parrot green colored cloth wrapped rigidly in a transparent sheet against his right ear like a phone. His closed eyes were shown a huge with widely spaced but long eyelashes as he talked with a weighed down expression that looked like he was trying to console someone on the phone.

15. I Want To Throw All The Stuff And Keep What I Like.

Later when I wake up, I feel terrible for the stuff that I have accumulated. I am not liking anything that I see. I recall I only liked tshirts over pants/Jeans and not kurtas, suit or the like. I feel like I am no longer myself. I feel repelled by my hair that look disgusting to me! Just a useless accessory! I want to throw the nail paint kit in the dustbin and many of my clothes. I think of getting white tshirts and black jeans/pants to wear every day, just a reasonable number of them. But I know that I won't do it because a great part of the stuff that I bought was related to revelations. Only the wide-legged black and blue jeans, and the Jesus thirts are what I bought from my own choice, and those are what I like the most, and also some full-sleeved shirts! I feel so dumb for changing my appearance to that of worldly perception and trend instead of it being a reflection of me!

16. Why Does Everyone Want To Hit My Forehead..

In the morning, while still being on the bed, I had visions of Glory hitting my head again, but this time with his huge and long genitalia. I thought that in his case, it's hitting on 'my' head and not his own like it did with KA and PP.

17. Prof TRS Repeatedly Hits a Newspaper on My Head

The follow-up vision now had the upper half of Prof TRS hitting my forehead with a vertically folded newspaper with a serious and annoyed expression as he bent over forward to a slight extent, dressed in a light blue collared shirt. The newspaper looked new and like it hadn't yet been opened.

18. Jesus Opens It And Puts It His Mouth in a Go..

The next vision had Jesus (dressed in a long white tunic and with shoulder-length straight hair) take that newspaper from his hand. He hit it lightly on the head of one of us. Because it was a distant vision, I couldn't see clearly who it was. He then He took a few steps to the right and stood in the light facing the window of my room, with His back visible to the seer, opened the newspaper wide which then crumbled up instantly towards Him as He gulped it down His mouth in a go.

19. Ped Ke Neeche.. Kal Tak. Kal Tak. Kal Tak.

I had this dream-vision during day. In this vision, I stood inside the PG at its gate while some people were bent low on their backs and were shifting some stuff out of the PG's gate by passing it out in unison. Apparently, it was being placed out. But after they were done and I took some steps to look outside, I didn't find anything placed there. And while they were passing and placing the stuff outside, this phrase kept being repeated in the background, "Ped Ke Neeche.. Kal Tak. Kal Tak. Kal Tak.' (Below the Tree. Uptil Tomorrow. Uptil Tomorrow. Uptil Tomorrow.) It reminded me of 'Aaj Tak' (the News Channel)

20. My New Hairstyle

Resembles some visions now. The visions with Glory in which I had a small pony at the back and the beheading one as well.

21. Judge Physically Your Own Self, Not Others'

Instead of giving me covert threats of chopping my hand, the pig can chop his genitalia. His problem will be solved for his lifetime, and he won't have to work so hard to gather chickens.

They're not just dumbasses, they're ungodly dumbasses who only perpetrate the kingdom of devil. Their actions, words and threats speak for themselves - that how much of filth they carry on the inside. As if chopping my hands will decrease my aversion from people like them. It will stay the same and I will still look at them with the same eyes. What kind of parents did he have who didn't correct him in his disgusting lifestyle. I would have straightened out such a person in the beginning phases of his life only. Look at God, He will throw away the bad fish - the internally bad fish in the lake of fire in Hell. They may burn my physical body, but my spirit is God's. He created me and owns me. Not this pig who has no sense of his actions. If he was a characterful man and did things the right away, he would've succeeded in his endeavour long back and but his ways not only didn't get him what he wanted but also filled me with an aversion for him because of his remorselessness.

This is a greater dumbass than his immoral partner.

22. Chimpanzee in Yellow & White Making the Prophetic Symbol

Vision (past two days): A chimpanzee dressed in a yellow suit sits with his body facing to the left. He is wearing black goggles as well. He then looks to my side and smiles showing his white teeth and turns his face back to his front again.

Death Conqueror has often portrayed himself as someone in yellow & white. He's a moral chimpanzee. Even animals have a better sense of morality.

23. The Threat - 'They Will Chop My Wrist/Hand(s)'

I can't even think of giving a threat of physical hurt to innocent people, let alone actually hurt them. But here comes this disgusting chimpanzee, who not only causes pain but his superiority complex shields himself from the truth of his actions - no persistent guilt.

I don't fear getting a hand chopped. Why one? Chop both. Whenever I face a threat, it just fills me with more feelings of repulsion for not only the people of his kind, but also that those that support him. Who knows how many people he has killed before! And Akhila!? As long as the other person is not killing her and her family, she will go and make bonds with such a person! I will not let even my friend befriend such a criminal like him! He's guilty! And both of them have made a mockery of my forgiveness! They didn't value it but continued in their ways. I may forgive them for the wrong they have done unto me, or more wrong that he will do to me, but God will see them at the end, should they continue with their wicked hearts. Seems like an entire city has become a zombie that supports wickedness!

He doesn't value forgiveness. And therefore he is rejected by me! He did such a wrong thing to me, and I forgave him too, but I don’t see any godly values in him. He will be rejected by God as well if he thinks he is so superior that he never has to repent.

One can't stay 'badtameez' for his entire life. Tejaswi used me physically once. But I looked at him with aversive eyes and didn't want to have anything to do with him or his lifestyle.

A person like me, who can't even give real threats to innocent people to get her way, will I choose him for me!? Him!? Or let him be a part of my life? - he can only dream about it! But my dreams are not grandiose but given by the spirit of God and are rooted in truth.

23.1 Learn something from this:

A godly person would rather have his/her own hands chopped than have someone else's because of him/her.

But here comes the immoral chimpanzee, who is chopping the hands of innocent people. Truly, the two are made for each other because they complement each other's negative traits. The bad trait that is missing in one is present in the other.

He should've understood by now that wicked ways don't always work for Godly people. It this was so, none of God's people would've died at the hands of the wicked perpetrators. Those people chose God and His ways over succumbing and becoming one with the evil-minded ones. But he hasn't yet understood it and has continued in his ways.

I've written a lot about the reasons why I didn't like my ex-roommate Akhila's company. (She calls herself Ak Ar - short for her full name - Akhila Arram - as if naming oneself after a weapon is something glorious) So now I will write the reasons I never went to him but only felt repulsed.

The reasons that made me repulsed from Death Conqueror who doesn't match up to his name, because his name should've been Mrittyudevta (Death Giver) and not Mrittunjay (Death Conqueror)… Even his name reflects selfishness because it only tells about him being unconquerable by death while he will go around inflicting death on others. And the only crown he deserves to wear is that which has Mrityudevta written on it in the front - a crown that shows that he carries the demon of a pain giver who inflicts death on those who don't follow ungodly ways!

Interestingly, all names came with a prophetic significance. My Yahoo email username is KartWar and it has a display picture of a transparent fish in water which I put up many years back during my BSc days (somewhere between 2010-2011). And my name KartWar is short for my full name Kartika Panwar and I too am a part of the war.

24. The Reasons I Abhorred Death Conqueror

1. He was calling me 'his new toy' in 2020 when I was in immense pain during my menstrual cycle and was moving on bed with closed eyes. I didn't know back then that I was being watched live by others. But later, when I opened my YouTube channel, I saw a video recommendation 'My New Toy Getting Turned On In Public'. I watched it without clicking on the link and opening it. In that video, the lady was sitting on a chair and vibrating foolishly alone while being fully dressed because of some reason that I can't recall. It was quite an unusual video reco that I shouldn't be having. And then when I wrote something in my diary with a light wooden cover, I saw a video reco that had a diary with a similar cover. This told me that I was somehow being watched. But more importantly, I was in pain, but he not only breached my boundaries, and made fun of me.

2. He was showing me YT recos repeatedly that said, "Kya aap meeting point set karte hai..? Apni keemat bataiye?" ("Do you set meeting point? Name your price.") This made me encounter his cheap character and made me feel repulsed!

3. I don't want to recall more because God doesn't count the sins of those He eventually brings to Him. So, if He is coming to God in the end, I will let the things that poke me inside go, but at times they just keep popping up in my mind as they remind me of why I stayed away from him.

No. Let me write more. Because the truth of one's character should be made public. Let his inner self be stripped naked. Oh yeah, but he was already represented as a naked demonized infant.

3. My YouTube's 'un-personalized' ad said, "When you take a step, we all move." This told me that there are more people involved.

4. This particular day I shaved my body while bathing, and then when I opened YouTube, what I see is a beautiful Korean woman dressed in a parrot green one-piece bathing suit showing off her hairless hands and legs. This told me that I was being watched even in the washroom. That they sent their cameras there as well. It gave me a shock and I felt more repulsed from him. This day I was affirmed internally that this person couldn't be trusted and that he would do anything by his own reasoning. By this time, I had witnessed more and more of his cheap mind.
5. This day in 2020 they made a lot of noise on the floor above as they danced with music playing out loud. They were dancing on some regional song the lyric of which they all were singing together! The lyric said, "Dil tere pyaar ka maara hai Bagdo." "The heart is fallen for you, Bagdo!" This made me feel so aversed because this group of people who sent cameras even in my washroom was now singing this song to me in a group!? I thought, "Why is he insulting 'love' by singing such a song?" What he had done was not what love would do I was calling him a hypocrite inside of me! Or maybe he had the moral sense of a Chimpanzee that I didn't know of then!

25. The Unexpected Encounter With Glory

When I was at home in the lockdown of 2020, I often thought about the past instances when I had seen Glory when he made his appearances. Once in 2018, after having been admitted to PhD, when after returning from work to my home in Omaxe, I was buying vegetables, I stood at the left of the vegetable stall and happened to look straight and then I caught sight of a person whose face alone was visible as he his body behind a car while seeming to be talking in a nervous manner to someone below. As I my eyes laid on him, he abruptly lowered himself down and hid.

I thought, "What is he doing here?" "And that this is not a way to approach someone!" I mean, I had hardly had any interaction with him when we were in the same batch of MSc, and the last thing I remembered from one of his fb posts of a poem was this last verse, "Hug, Kiss and Valentine are just bases 1, 2 and 3."

In that poem, he had explained the process of making and reneging promises ending in betrayal. The poem ended with his perception of the 3 bases. And I had received a special notification about this post in my notifications section which I shouldn't have had because I hadn't opted to receive notifs from specific people. So, why did he show up there!? Anyway. After Tejaswi's betrayal, when I saw this poem's intentional notification, and also his intentional fb display picture in which he wanted to show off his face, I blocked him! Because I wasn't up for more risks or setting foot in traps that were very much apparent as I was already in a lot of emotional pain. And I knew that he had posted it because of my long posts on narcissism and psychopathy. Why was he trying to lure me to him by putting up such covert posts, especially when I had just been heartbroken!? I felt uneasy and blocked him.

So, when I saw his face unexpectedly that night in my home's society which lies near the border of Delhi - a place he wasn't expected to be present, I was in a bit of both shock and confusion and didn't know how to respond. It was slightly crowded at the vegetable vendor's stall so it took me time to buy. While I stood there, I saw from the corner of my eyes a small car slowly drive towards me from his direction and stop to my right. Well, I didn't look at it because I had very strong boundaries. I didn't go and talk to strangers who didn't first introduce themselves. I could tell that the car to my right was expecting me to approach it but why would I? Because there are many reasons a car would stop at a place and I wasn't the kind of person who would go to a stranger's car. There may have been other people as well in that car, perhaps people from his family. I didn't see. I wasn't the kind of a person who gave indirect signs to people and expected them to comply with them. So, their behavior seemed weird to me. The car stayed there for a while and then left. And after I was done writing this para, I heard in my Spirit the chorus of the song 'Cute Munda'.

"Had Kar Di Apne"
"You're Just too Much"

The guy sings:
This journey was for but a while,
The togetherness was but for a while.

I talked casually with you for a little while
And you thought that it rained without the cloud.

You're just too much.
You're just too much..

You're just too much.
You're just too much..

The lady sings:
This journey was for but a while,
The togetherness was but for a while.

I talked casually with you for a little while
And you dropped at my home with a wedding's crowd..

You're just too much.
You're just too much..

You're just too much.
You're just too much..

Had Kar Di Apne.mp4

The guy sings:
"Aao Karle Dosti, Gussa Choddo Yaar"
"Come and let's be friends, leave this anger, my friend"

Come and let's be friends, leave this anger, my friend
Between the both of us, can develop love one day..

26. One Night At Home

This night at home few years back as I laid in my single bed near the window, and then I was a different person whose Psyche hadn't yet split, I was somehow flooded with the memories I had of spotting Glory here and there, the appearances that he intentionally made. I could feel that though we had not interacted a lot, there was indeed something which had me thinking me of him. I can't really recall if this was at a time when I had already been targeted by the spy cams. But all I remember is me thinking of him and 'missing' him in a sense. I This event has been being highlighted to me intermittently so I wrote it here today finally. I remember now what had me think about him in that manner. It was because I had put together the pieces of what I had seen in the past. I understood what was it when I happened to look at his fb timeline and saw a photo in which he was standing behind an armoured statue with a raised sword and a shield, with a hurt expression. It was in response to what I had written in my Notebook back then with the heading 'Put On Your Armour, Please'. I had written it to encourage myself because I was in pain. And then I understood the other incident too in which after I had unexpectedly spotted him in my home's society after which he had hid. I remembered his expressions from that day. Connecting everything together, I had developed an impression of him being an empathetic person by then and my heart was touched. When I looked at the past events with a different (correct) lens, my view of him changed.

That night I laid on my bed reiterating his name internally in breaths. I just couldn't stop and I wanted him that night. The song 'Sanson Ki Mala Mein' ('In the beaded necklace of breaths') on Page 412 goes with this event.

27. Glory Seemed Moral, Death Conqueror Seemed Tiny & Cute

Now comes the latter part. During this phase, Death Conqueror was on his hunt using his immoral ways (as usual) with the persistent intermittent sounds of the floor being hit on the above floor. And then I happened to think about both of them, their differences and similarities, and how they addressed different sides of me.

I saw that I had an emotional inclination towards Glory because of his morally right responses that I had observed. But Death Conquered, though his way said a different story, was so tiny and therefore cute. He looked desirable to me. But I am a moral person, so I by default chose the moral critertia to judge the two.

28. Why I Stayed Away and Looked Down On Others?

Because when I looked at them, I saw that their interactions were rooted in getting along together and being a part of the societal fluid but strong morals didn't stand out in them. Their behavior and everything else seemed normal but there was a dire lack of something. I just couldn't relate and put a finger on it. But when I was in the presence of someone who had a continuous consistent sense of morality, I went along well together and resonated instantly. After I came to God, my vision of the world became complete and I received new, better, and comprehensive glasses to look through. I stood out among people, not because of my looks, but because of my inner self that reflected outwardly! I did not want to be an active part of the society but wanted to have genuine hearty bonds with good people and wanted to live a righteous life away from wickedness, and be independent. I bonded easily with such people. I can spend my money easily, but I find it hard to spend other people's money on things that I 'want' or 'need' as well if they happen to be expensive. I wrote it just to clear some doubts in the minds of some people. Being independent makes me feel so good. It's like I'm breathing in fresh and free air. But now even this mentality has changed since I came to God, because now I attribute to God even the money that I earned or would earn, for I learnt and understood that it's Him who provided it to me and therefore I'm not really independent but fully dependent on Him.

I hated societal rituals and customs. I found them redundant. So I didn't like to be a part of them either. I valued morals or doing the right thing. Love wasn't found in societal gatherings or celebrations where people who secretly compete with each other pretend to go along. I didn't like any kind of grand celebrations because I found them shallow. And I knew that if I was to marry, I would only go for love marriage and perhaps for a way that didn't involve a lot of people but was about the act of marrying alone and not being in a gathering. I didn’t like at all the concept of marrying just for the sake of marrying or the bearing of responsibilities. But it had to be driven by an inner impulse of wanting to be with the other person and not because one wanted to play a role.

(The way Death Conqueror tried to get his way made it look like I had to play just a 'role' regardless of me liking it or not, and I didn't like his way. I am not playing a 'role' with God, but I am in an active relationship with Him where He doesn't use hurtful ways to make me 'bend my knee' or 'bow down'. He knows that I already love Him and He communicates to me directly in a love-filled manner! Jesus won my 'heart'. He did not use brute force abusive ways to make me praise Him when He is doing intentional evil to me. He showed me love and came with His Godly moral nature and cared for my heart. I can trust Him and I know that He is not working behind my back to hurt me or send me to Hell. He's not trying to make me accept something ungodly or immoral. He rather wants to protect me and His other sheep and get them out of this system.)

God has brought a lot of changes in me. Because I learnt that what is not societally possible on Earth is the norm in Heaven where gathering of angels worship the Most-High God in unison and there's no pretence. The environment is 'Holy' in the absence of wickedness.

But on Earth, everything comes amalgamated with impurities.

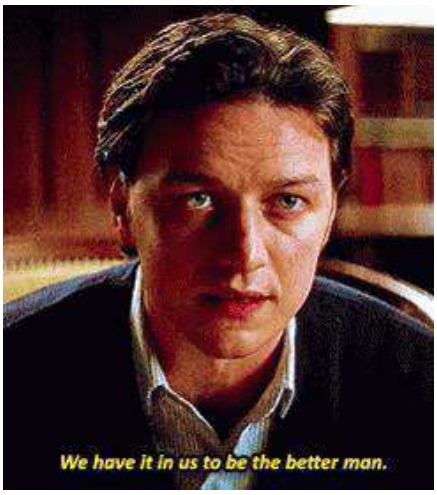
1. Professor X

As I laid on bed some minutes back, and I didn't have a relaxed expression but a tensed one, I had an immediate vision.
Vision (303, A-10, Around 10 mins back): The top view of young Professor X from the X-Men Series seen from a place above between his throat and chest, while he's lying with his eyes closed with a tensed expression as his face moves around a bit like mine is. Suddenly the figure of his face changes to one with an uneven texture, sunken eyes and protruded upper jaw. He has vast telepathic powers in the series.

Professor X:



2. The Orange Bucket, Water, and the Blue Underwear

Vision (During day): I saw an orange bucket in the balcony of the rooms at the front of A-16 (my last PG). The bucket seemed to be resembling that used by the sanitation lady who cleans there. It was placed slightly to the left of the balcony door and was 3/5th with water with a small light blue cloth floating in it (seemed to be someone's - a male's - underwear). And then someone was pouring out more water from above in the bucket in a contained streamlined manner.

3. 'Pyaar Ki Yeh Kahani Suno'

'Listen to this tale of love..'

The lady sings:
Listen to this tale of love..
Once there was a boy, and there was a girl

What youth is, listen.
Once there was a boy, and there was a girl

That too was an era of its own,
the times were very much different
When they were strangers..

They both were into each other
But to whom could they've told what they carried in their hearts..

4. My Glorious Time In My Hometown With 'Good People'

While writing the whiskey vision on the last page, I thought about how belonging from a place considered by the immoral rich as 'Dehaat' (term for a backward rural area) was better than being a part of the lifestyle of the ungodly immoral in a city considered developed! (I never used this term for even those who belonged from a rural area for real and lived a rural lifestyle.) I found my friends that came from nearby villages very nice, cooperative, and without deception. While the ones that were from my own town indulged in gossip and backbiting! I was good friends with all the village girls and everyone respected me and at times even brought from their homes things for specifically me to eat. All said that I was a very good person. I had good bonds with them though I wasn't a close friend of them. All knew right from wrong! The teachers respected me and other students as well. But I had a certain specific thing with some of the teachers because of my persistent literary interest. I remember when once my English teacher Khuranna Ma'am surprised me with a hug from behind as she said that I had written a very good paper. She was a moral and fat lady with a round face and hair colored with Henna. My best friend Shreya was sitting near me too. The teacher said that though we had secured the same marks, she should read my paper, as I in her eyes I had written it very well. I used to become the favourite of all my English teachers within the first two classes themselves. I've lived among 'good people', not people like him! So he can forget that I will want to enter into his world! And now I can't even talk and think and write easy stuff because of the immoral dumbasses. If there were people like Death Conqueror and my roommate at my home, people would've gathered outside their homes to talk to them and 'deal with them' in a way. My ex-roommate wouldn't even have found the space to talk of the useless things she talks about here all the time. Because none would resonate with her. They didn't tolerate such filthy bastards there. They would've found no acceptance there because of who they are and how they operate. He only disgusts me!

And then I came to this disgusting place filled with immoral filth!

After I wrote the above, I laid on my bed to find some rest. I then had this beautiful vision.

5. The Field, The Hero and The Baby Girl

Vision (303, A-10, Past two days): I saw a Bollywood actor riding a bicycle to the left. To the other side could be seen a field of green crops standing erect. The Bollywood actor had his head shaved from the sides and his hair at the top was styled upwardly. His bicycle had a basket at the front in which was sitting a baby girl. Throughout the drive, he gave a wide teethful and truthful smile. At first it seemed like Ranveer Singh, then the facial expressions took a rough form and morphed to a few people. But after a while of focusing, the face settled to that of Arjun Kapoor, the second hero in the song 'Tune Mari Entriyaa'.

6. Meera Called a 'Bai' (Maid)

Meera was once sharing with me how some of the people in her class started calling her Meera Bai (Meera Maid), and later just Bai (Maid). And that she never got bothered by it because those people had nothing better to do or talk about. It also reminded me of how things used to be in my hometown. Most of the families preferred to take care of their household chores independently, which was a routine part of their life. It brought them contentment and they enjoyed doing their chores, while in cities it is seen as something backward.

7. Jasmine Gets Served

I had this vision in the morning within the past two days.
Vision (303, A-10, Past two days): Jasmine dressed in her sky-blue two-piece is sitting in front of a round and light brown wooden table with two round slabs - one above, one below in a space lit with yellow light. She is facing the seer's line of sight. A bowl is placed in front of her and a rough figure of a guy is present to the seer's left (and her right). The guy is rushing to the left side to fetch and place something in front of her.

8. If They Want To Now Ruin My Reproductive System

They should keep in mind the dream that had me in a home with a baby girl named Divya where the TV series CID's character called Daya (Kindness) came to visit me.

9. 'Sajna Sath Nibhana..'

(My) darling, Stand with me..

The Lady Sings:
(My) darling, Stand with me..
(My) darling, Stand with me..

My co-journeyer during the springs
Don't leave me in the middle of the path..

10. 'Kisne Saath Nibhaya..'

'Who (ever) stood together (forever)..?'

The Guy Sings:
Who (ever) stood together (forever)..
Who (ever) stood together (forever)..?

Only took heart for a toy,
Played with it and rejected..

Who (ever) stood together (forever)..

In the song's video, the heartbroken guy on the right in the video's thumbnail sings these lyrics on seeing the duo on the left together.

11. Tera Saath Har Janam Mein

'accompaniment to you in every birth..'

The Lady sings:
The grief of my loss has been present in your sadness and grief..
The grief of my loss has been present in your sadness and grief..

My love has given accompaniment
to you in every birth..

If you even take a birth..
My presence with be with you..

On every step you place your foot on,
My presence will accompany you..

My Presence.. My Presence..
My Presence.. My Presence..

12. Jaise Suraj Ki Garmi Se Jalte Hue Tan Ko..

'Like a body burning in the heat of the sun..'

The guy sings:
Like a body burning in the heat of the sun
finds the shade of a tree..

A relief of a similar kind, my heart has found since I came to you.. My Ram

My heart was someone lost..
Unable to find support..

My heart was someone lost..
Unable to find support..

Like a boat fighting through the tough waves
Is unable to find the shore..
Is unable to find the shore..

That dwindling boat, as if, by someone was shown the shore..

A relief of a similar kind, my heart has found
since I came to you.. My Ram

Apparently, I'm being compared to Ram here. By far, I've been compared to Ganesha, Shiva, Hanuman/Bajrang Bali, and now Ram.

13. Unusual Movements

Well, I have been feeling something moving at the side of my left ovary. It's an unsusal place to feel something moving in. Idk if it's because of my menstrual cycle or because their tiny drone has now made a way uptil there. I am not sure. But I do know that my intestines are bulging out in my tube at the top because of the visions I had with KA and Glory. With KA, it was a small pink tissue bulb in a dark tunnel that was present at the top. But then a few days back I had this another vision.

14. Glory Grabs My Intestines

Vision (303, A-10, Some days back): I saw the side-view of Glory putting his hand into my tissue tube from the right side and on reaching the end his hand was rubbing against the curves of small light reddish flesh tubes that came out from the left side of the dark tunnel. He was trying to get hold of something but his hand kept brushing against and grabbing the light reddish tubes.

This Death Conqueror is the cheapest rat and pig I have ever met. He may ruin my life for now. But he will get a payback in God's time! Why was he born!? To do such a thing to others!? He's immoral filth of the Earth! He's proved that he's definitely not human! So, he should go and find someone of his own filthy kind! - Oh yeah. He already found one - the devil's whore!

And the only case in which he won't get a payback is if he repents and changes for the better leaving his past lifestyle behind, but even then He may get something in return.. depends on God’s righteous judgment. He prefers to forgive, but judges when He has to.

I think I will go and get an ultrasound done so that I know where it is located.

15. Ghamandi

'Prideful'

I also heard in the Spirit some weeks back this phrase being said by someone. The one person whom I recalled was calling me ‘Ghamandi’ was Awadhesh Prasad (my ex supervisor). It was back in 2018. I had happened to interject in a question a girl was asking in a talk in the Seminar Hall because there was a confusion in what was it that she wanted to point at. So, I interjected and suggested what she might have misunderstood. But Awadhesh Prasad called me prideful. It seems to me to be the other way round. He's the one who’s prideful and is faking to be humble. He is prideful because he wants what is not his and what he has no right over! Why was he asking me to write everything about my model on a paper and give it to him before I shifted with Nivedita Ma'am. He's covetous and has the heart of a rapist! Just like his disciple Deepak!

16. The Dancing KA on the Coca-Cola Song

KA was dressed in a full-sleeved white shirt with small colorful print as he danced along some of the lyrics of the Coca-Cola song. Some of the lyrics on which I had this vision were:

'Of raw mangoes and raw Oranges, my sweetheart brought a rucksack filled of..
Then Eno along with Jalzeera - two packets of them he had them brought.. '

Last morning while sifting through some of the stuff, I found an Eno packet and other stuff that I hadn't used for long. The Eno had passed way beyond its expiry date.

The way KA danced was in the way Hritik Roshan danced in the song 'Kaccha Nahi Kuch Bhi Pakka Nhi' from the movie 'Koi Mil Gya', with his arms lifted in the air and hands making loose movements with a happy expression.

The Dance Move

While editing the photo on the past page, I was reminded of yet another song that I had heard in Spirit long back in A-16.

16. 'Dil Na Liya, Dil Na Diya..'

'Didn't give (your) heart, Didn't take (someone's) heart..'

Didn't give (your) heart, Didn't take (someone's) heart..
Then what else did you do..?

Didn't give (your) heart, Didn't take (someone's) heart..
Then what else did you do..?

If, after coming to this world,
You didn't love then what else did you do..?

This world is a circus,
At times you're upright, at times inverted.

The one who finds Love becomes upright
Or else they remain hanging (in the dualistic state)..

The God above will one day ask you this..

Didn't give (your) heart, Didn't take (someone's) heart..

Then what else did you do..?

If, after coming to this world,
You didn't love then what else did you do..?

1. The Vision of a Birthing In The Lift

I went down to get my Swiggy order of a Kachori and Imarti around half an hour back, and as the lift's door closed on my way up, I had the vision of the head of a child being pushed out of me from below. One more push and now its expressions were visible and they looked vicious. It wasn't a small-sized child but looked like the size of a 6 months-or-so old and was dressed in a tank-shaped white vest and light blue cotton shorts. Immediately after the child was out of me, it quickly climbed upwards with its head and body being away by a foot or so. When its face reached my face's level, it abruptly threw its head towards me to attack my lips with his. Its eyes were narrow and reddish, it had a wicked smile and short pointed nails, the cone starting from the base itself. The child had the smile throughout. It reminded me of Brother Jonathan's video in which he shared the scripture from the story of Rebecca giving birth to twins, in which, Esau, the 'evil' twin came out first.

2. Aditi's Mom's Uterus Comes Out

This event from when I was still living in my hometown was highlighted to me twice a long time back. But I didn't really understand why. We stayed on rent on the first floor of Saini's uncle duplex for some time. He had a daughter named Aditi who used to keep short hair (boy cut). Her mom developed this problem where her uterus would come out whenever she would sit on a surface. So it had to be eventually operated on and removed.

3. Nirbhaya's Intestines Come Out

And then the rape case in Delhi where the victim Nirbhaya's intestines had come out of her vagina was also highlighted to me. But again, I did not really understand why. Because the people who committed that crime were very savage. But here comes the educated savage people who use 'advanced' ways to commit the same crime. No worse than these criminals. That's why they say that you shouldn't educate wicked people because an uneducated thief will only steal a loose pipe or snatch a chain. But an educated criminal will steal an entire railway track.

4. Khooni Pinjra

'Bloody Cage'

This phrase was highlighted to me in the Spirit a while back when I laid with my eyes closed on bed. I had a series of visions. And then this phrase came out in my spirit. It reminded me of the slaughtering vision on Page 118. Abusers cage you and make you watch the murder of your loved ones or people you know or who matter to you.

5. Baby Girl and The Devil

I saw a baby girl in a dress with small green prints sucking the smooth black gloved thumb of someone really huge but who had an evil aura about him. Only his thumb was visible.

The vision was then followed by:

6. An Array of Multiple Slabs of a Baby In Diaper

I saw a standing baby wearing just a diaper facing the viewer but looking to the left, her body lit in the broad daylight coming in from the left, with multiple slabs placed in an arc carrying her image. One couldn't tell which one was real and had the real baby. But then another baby of a similar height appeared and walked with a limp toward the sight of the viewer. She was fully dressed in a long green tunic with a white print and had a bulging tummy with hair tied low at the back. She wasn't contained in an array of identical pictures but was real and physical and was just one in number, uncontained in any of the slabs.

Arrangement of rucksacks I saw on the ground floor of A-10 near the stairs

7. In Dept With RS

I had this vision while sitting on my allotted seat in Room No. 184 of the Multistorey Building of my workplace (Department of Physics & Astrophysics, University of Delhi). It was during the time when I was still regular in the dept, around a month back.
And when I wrote the above sentence, I had a vision of Glory shouting with a mouth wide open - a shout of anger/pain.

I was sitting in my corner seat and then had a vision of RS on my right side slightly behind Jema's seat. He was dressed in the attire of the NSCG song – a blue t-shirt over light blue jeans. The following vision had me standing there as well with my back facing me (as seen from my seat) and we were both kissing profusely and apparently putting our hands in each other's pants as well. We kept hugging and kissing. The follow-up vision was smaller in size and was seen from a distance from the opposite side of the room. From this view, RS' body and face was facing to the left and made the prophetic symbol with me standing facing him. I held his penis protruding out of his jeans followed by an immediate abrupt long white ejection. We continued making out. This vision is buried behind a load of other revelations. So, I am trying to gather the details as I want to write as close as possible to what I had seen. But my holding of his genitalia followed by an immediate ejection was the focus and highlight of that part of the vision. My hands were then going up his t-shirt as I touched him all over. I've delayed writing this vision for so long. But I want to complete this part now because I have to get it printed. I like to keep personal revelations buried in my heart, for the same reason I didn't write many, for until long. But I gotta write them now. His hands are also moving on me. We keep kissing for a long while as I saw in the revelation. We are also doing a tongue to tongue at times. The vision is still small and seen from the opposite end of the room. But this time, he is standing facing to the right and me facing to the left. His tongue is shown as being too long. He inserts it in my mouth and it slides right in over my slightly coated tongue, going down into my belly, and comes out through the other end. (It felt slightly gross to look at it because it must have had to pass through my intestines to be able to exit from the back, but then I assumed that my intestines were clean and empty.) After spending some time there, we move to the pillar that lies to the left side of my seat in the room, with my back against the pillar and him facing me. We seem to be in a wrestling match as my jeans is lowered to the level of my thighs and his fingers are reaching up into me while we still kiss each other. Well, it's interesting that unlike the fleshly revelations of 'Dubai' slaughtering a snake tied to a baby with an axe, this revelation didn't involve any snake but two real people who want each other. So, it can be taken for granted that the revelation was rooted in love and not just the physicality of it. We stood against that protruding pillar for a while kissing each other and continuing in that manner. I just couldn't seem to get enough of him. We're so blessed that we weren't slaughtering a snake but ministering our love to each other.

8. The Dance With Ayushmann

I laid on my bed on my left side when I had this vision.
Vision (D1, A-16, Late 2022/arly 2023): I saw Ayushmann Khurrana at some distance above me as he pounced at my right breast looking below at me with a fierce animalistic expression. And again, he pounced at my right breast. The next thing I saw was him now bent to my level on bed as he kissed me on my bed. I can't recall the exact details of what followed afterwards, but I have a rough view of the details – he was first squeezing my left breast from over my top, and then the right breast. I removed the quilt away from my right side as it felt suffocating. After a while, the scene changed to that of a duet. We danced for a while together, holding each other, and it ended with a far-sighted view of a guy, dressed in a waist coat over full-sleeved shirt tucked inside pants, ending the dance by lowering a lady dressed in a thick white gown to a level almost parallel to the ground by supporting her back with his left hand while the lady held his waist by her right hand. Both had their free hands stretched away from their bodies in the air thereby making a spectacular view of a dance move alone.

The beginning and ending of this dance were peculiar, so they were what stayed clearly in my mind. The beginning was frightening and came as a surprise, but the ending was soul soothing.

9. "Mein To Jal Gya"

'I Got Burnt Up'
Once when I was at home, my dad came out of the washroom after bathing and said, "Mein To Jal Gya." ("I got burnt up.") The water had become too hot because of the sun during the day.

10. RS and The Unexpected Appearance of Amitabh Bachchan

In this vision, I saw RS in a contained 3-D frame being dressed in his clothes from the Pepsi Ad. He was making joyful expressions while changing poses and moving around inside the frame with a teethfull smile, bearded face and neck length hair. I am watching him moving happily in a dancing and swaggy manner in the 3-D photo frame with a background of dark bluish depth with a mix of white color. But Amitabh Bachchan dressed in a white suit comes in from the left and as He does, RS quickly goes backwards flying like a leaking balloon. The look of Amitabh Bacchan in the vision reminded me of his representation as God in the song 'Oh God Tussi Great Ho!' He then faces me and is smiling at me as now standing alone in that frame. But then I reach into my chest and take my deep red love heart out with both hands and when I have stretched my hands out completely, on the inner side of it is the photo of RS.

11. Photo of RS's Face

The inner side of my love heart has the photo of RS's face with a teethfull and joyful smile. His face is bearded, his neck-length hair are straight, and his expressions are fierce, joyful and mischievous at the same time. The sides of his neck are visible being covered by the blue and white jacket of his Pepsi Ad. God may have sent him away from the frame. But his photo is there on the inner surface of my heart not visible to those who look from the front.

Heard in the Spirit (D1, A-16, Vijay Nagar):
I heard sung as a part of the song in my spirit back when I was in A-16. But I didn't record it. Now that I've come here, I got to know that Raju is the name of the bhaiya who keeps the PG clean. He is a short-heighted man (aroud 5 feet or so) with a mustache. He cleans the rooms, the washrooms and the outer area and stays in the PG itself.

Jesus is calling him to Him as well. He is seen by God.

Towards the end of the video, a small child of around 3-4 years of age is walking slowly upwards on its four on a slanted rainbow path. He is then met with a hand stretched forth to him.
And while I was editing the above video, I heard in my spirit, "Ye Paagal Ho Gyi Hai!" "She's gone mad".
Well, Sir/Madam, it's my job to call people to Jesus (God), individually and specifically.

13. Raaju Chacha with a Bowed Head

I had this vision during bathing in the evening yesterday,
Vision (yesterday, evening of 17th): I saw the upper half of Raju Bhaiya of this PG standing with a slight smile with his head and eyes bent down in a sincere way. He was dressed in a black collared polo t-shirt with a black and white print in the middle. The vision repeated a few times.

14. Why Was He Cutting Me Down..?

Vision of RC today: He makes a cut through the middle on my body from up to middle with me being in the same position that I laid on bed at that time. I was lying in that position (being covered with a sheet) when he was cleaning the room. He is a good-hearted person though, in general.

15. Meera - A Gift to Her Parents

Meera told me once that her teachers used to tell her parents when they used to go the PTM that she was given as a gift to them, that she was such a good student and so so sincere that she was a gift to them.

16. Deepika Padukone Weeping With a Filled Heart

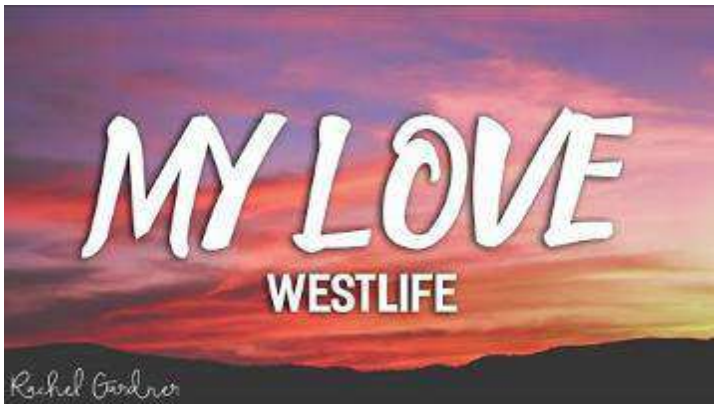
Vision (Around a week back):
She's dressed in a printed greyish saree as she looks at me and cries in a dark background. But she doesn't look sad. She rather looks molten. These are tears of a filled heart. And while she is weeping, she stretches out her hands to me intermittently from that dark background, touches my face and pulls them back.

17. 'Well Done, My Good and Faithful Servant'

In this room (303, A-10) one evening, when I was thinking about how I wanted to hear this from Jesus at the end, I was too serious and feeling overwhelmed and I really meant it. And then after a while, I felt it coming out of my heart, almost as if it was communicated to me that I was going to hear this at the end.

18. 'My Daughter, My Darling'

The Song:
Westlife - My Love (Lyrics)



19. He has No Fear Of God

May God judge Death Conqueror! He hasn't done anything that makes him worthy of me showing love to him. Boye ped babul ka to aam kaha se paaye! (When you've sowed the seeds of , you won't get a mango!) Sometimes I get pissed and angry, though I try to remain calm by looking at my darling Jesus who is the Most-High in Character and position and most importantly, my creator and owner. He is Death Conqueror's creator too, but he has rejected Him as of now and is not communing with His nature.

As I laid to sleep, I heard the song lyric from the coca cola Song, 'Kaccho Aam aur mausami ka bhar layo piyo katto.' 'Of raw mangoes and oranges, my darling brought a full rucksack of.'

Followed by the revelations written ahead.

20. 'Pajama Lutt Gaya'

An empty heart-shaped yellow plastic box is being covered by a human hand accompanied by the phrase, "Pyjama Lutt Gaya' ('Pyjama Got Looted')

21. A Guy in Gym With White Plates

Vision (Past few days): A guy in the gym I go to dressed in an orange t-shirt comes walking from near slightly away from the twister towards the end of the gym and he has white plates held close to his chest hanging vertically from his hands. He then hands one plate each to other guys standing around that area.

22. The Tall Guy In the Gym

There's a tall guy in the gym who wears specs. I had this vision of him dressed in a shiny long dark blue tunic with a golden half jacket on it as he stood standing facing to the left (making the prophetic symbol – meaning that he's called by God to Himself), with his back resting against the wall. The room in which he stood in this manner was lit with golden light and the surrounding walls looked bright yellow as well. He didn't have legs in that vision but he stood like a Jinn does. He didn't seem to have legs but his blue tunic itself took the shape of the tail-like base of a Jinn, and at first he seemed to be rubbing his thighs hidden beneath the Jinn tail, but then later a pillar appeared in front of him that he rubbed with both his hands.

It reminded me of the vision in which the upper half of a small Glory came out from inside of my heart with a fleshly Giniee tail and started kissing me with his tail still being attached to the inside.

23. Dushman Kills the Short-Haired Twin

The scene from the movie Dushman (Enemy) in which Kajol's twin sister with short hair is decorating a cake before she gets raped and killed by the villain (highlighted many weeks back)

24. A Softy in Red on a White Cake's Surface

Vision: A hand is decorating a white cake's surface by designing horizontal rows inside a conical softy using a red cream cone.

25. Unpacking the Orders

Vision: I am unpacking the delivered orders. (So, when I got up after a few minutes, I actually unpacked them or else I would've delayed.)

26. Multiple Slabs of Photo of a Green Mango

The baby in the arc array is now replaced by the photo of a green mango placed on a plate. The mango looks raw. To the left is lying another much smaller mango.

27. 'Kartika Tum Marne Wali Ho'

Heard in the Spirit: 'Kartika, you're about to die'

28. "Kartika, Tum Bilkul Cartoon Ho."

'Kartika, You're a Total Cartoon'
Heard in the Spirit (Past 4-5 days): Ranbir Kapoor's voice says, "Kartika, Tum Bilkul Cartoon Ho." "Kartika, you're a total cartoon."

29. "Neeri Moorakh"

'Grave Fool'
Heard in the Spirit (Past week)
Whenever I cleaned my nose using a spatula. The voice seemed to be Glory's, though I am not sure.

30. Dream Yesterday Morning: 'Upload'

A lady is lying naked in an open rectangular chamber in a cemented floor on the an outer verandah lit in yellow light. There is another chamber to her right but it is closed. A guy comes walking in but as he passes by her, she abruptly holds his hand, and one of her eyes opens simultaneously. The vision then focuses on her open eye that is shown as opened widely and is giving a robotic look as she says, "Up-load" in a robotic tone like Karishma in 'Karishma Ka Karishma'.

31. Amanda Palmer Gets Fully Stripped For Her Fans

An artist/singer fully stripped herself after one of her gigs and stood naked in front of her fans to let them sign or write anything on her body. I've watched a few of her videos. Though I don't remember her or her band's name now. I looked her up. She's Amanda Palmer. I had first come across her TED talk that she gave by the name 'The Art of Asking'. People need to go and watch it.

Ref: The art of asking | Amanda Palmer

I laid to rest for a while after writing out the above, stretched out my hands to feel relaxed and then put them on my forehead when I had the following vision:

31. Arjun Kapoor In My Place

The top-view of Arjun Kapoor lying on bed in the same pose as mine (with arms on his head) but in an off-white full-sleeved shirt as he smiles mildly, followed by the phrase in the next revelation being played in the Spirit.

32. 'Kartika Tum Bahut Sundar Ho'

Heard in the spirit: 'Kartika you're very beautiful'

33. The last scene from the movie 'Ishqzaade'

This scene has been highlighted to me a few times now. Perhaps it's an e.g. those who get scared of being killed for love's sake can learn from.
The two lovers kiss each other's faces profusely as they meet amidst being followed by those who want to kill them. They then shoot each other and die instead of choosing to die by the hands of their haters!

Ref: 😔 Ishaqzaade songs sad video 😔

I just noticed that he is making the prophetic symbol in the above thumbnail.

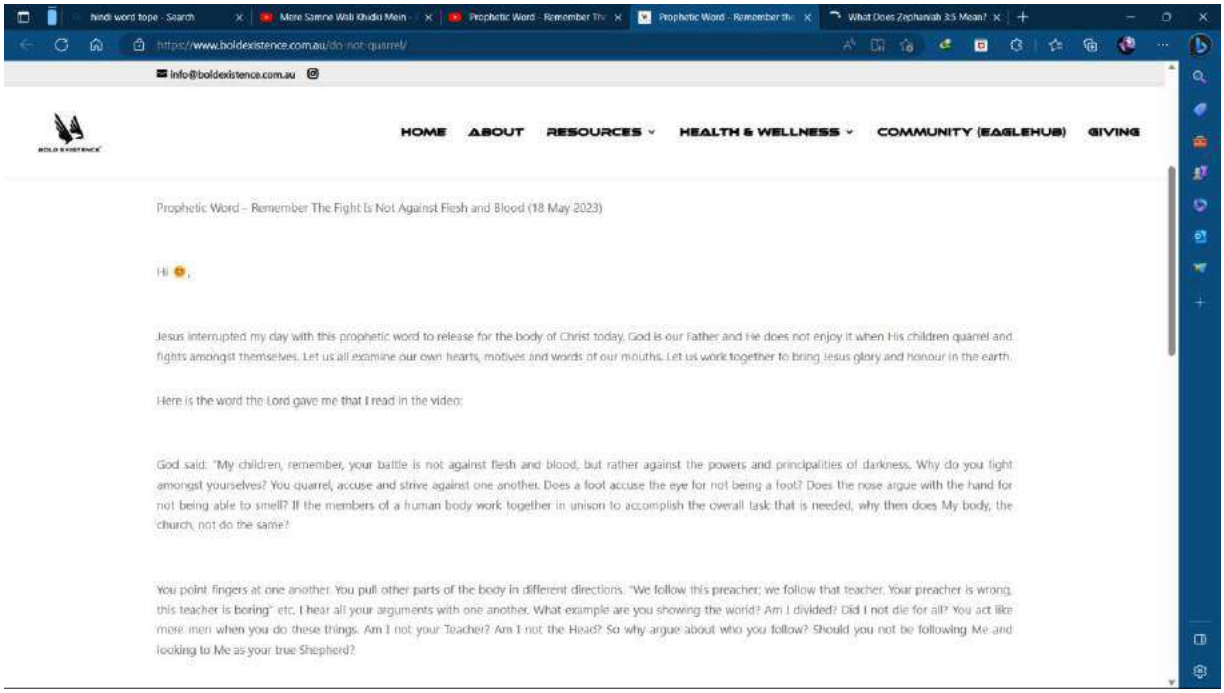
34. “There's Green Light In Him”

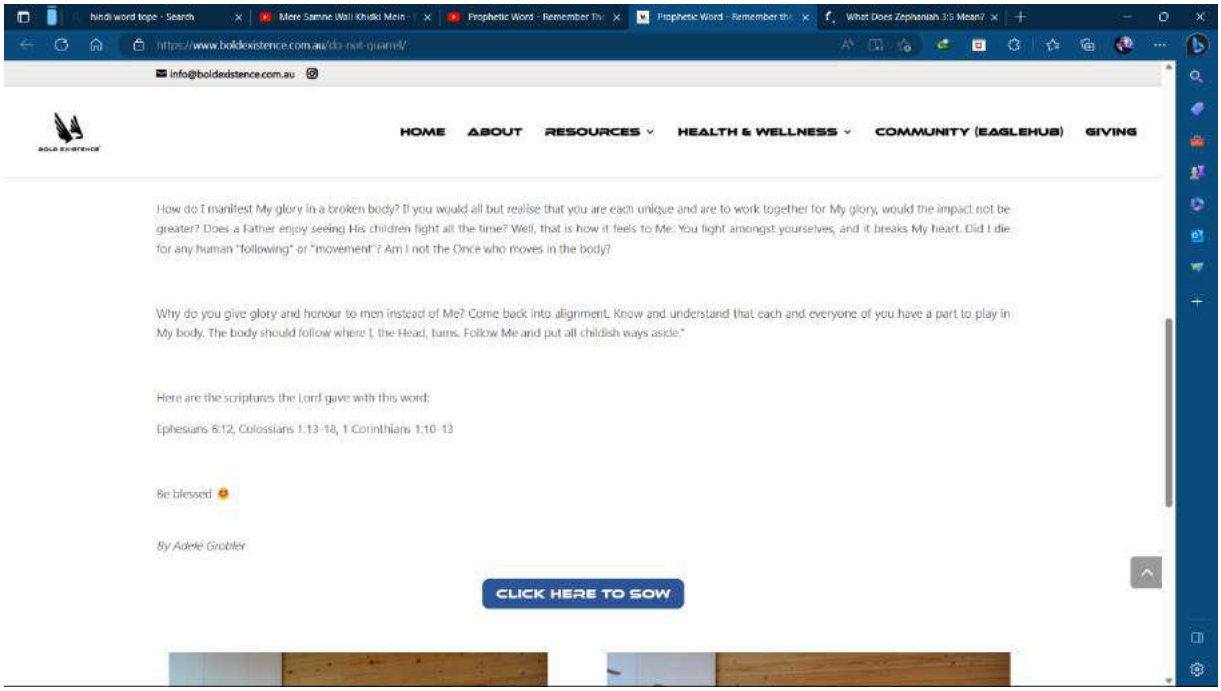
Dream-Vision: Someone said this phrase - 'There's green light in him' (referring to Death Conqueror)

35. Dream in the morning: Pulling Out My Loosening Teeth

I am moving around in a place that partly looks like my hometown and partly like the highway NCR area. I have to reach to a place, so I take a cab. I reach my hometown and am headed to a shop. I meet my mom there. I see that my teeth are moving as I can feel them with my tongue. I move one tooth a bit, and it gets loosened easily and comes out. In a similar manner, many of my teeth come out as I pull them out because they're loosened in their respective positions. Towards the end, I clench my jaws together and now look at my teeth. I see that my two front veneers are partly gone leaving only an inverted U shape at the top out of which are showing my real teeth that are inclined at an angle with the horizontal. The tooth of my lower jaw now look widely spaced as some I've taken out. I'm calling out to my mom as I take a look at my teeth but she seems to be busy. I can feel one more tooth loosening from its position. I move it around a bit with my fingers and it comes out. I take it out but then I think that I have now taken out a whole lot of them and that I may not be able to function well. So, I decide to put this tooth back in its position. I think that it will fix itself there in its due time. But when I open my mouth and take a look inside, I see that there is a white rectangular tooth box at my lower left jaw out of which that tooth was taken. I open it and find a stain of blood with bawa pasta cream. Apparently, the cream was what was holding the tooth in its position and when I took it out, the cream was now released. I put that tooth on top of the place oozing out cream and blood inside that box and then close it.

36. Prophetic Word by Sis Adele - Remember The Fight





Ref: [Prophetic Word - Remember The Fight]

When sis Adele said, "Am I not the one who moves in the body?"

37.1 The Snake Flows

I had the vision of a black snake with a multicolored skin moving in a dark background to the right.

And when she said, "The body should follow where I, the Head, turns."

37.2 The Huge Round Head of The Snake

I had the vision of the head of the snake was now being highlighted as it got swollen to a huge extent.

I knew then that these words were being highlighted to me to show the condition of the person whose genitalia moves in the body of another and who is telling the other person's body to follow where his 'head' (male genitalia) turns. And can we guess who that person is..? And why is he asking the other person to follow his head, because he can't use his head properly being the dumbass who indulges in a disgusting sinful and wicked lifestyle.

Additionally, the above visions reflect how the snake moves in his people (this place specifically). God can speak a message through an entirely different Word as well.

37. I, The Sky, The Red Dress, and RS

Vision (~21:00): My upper half in my half-sleeved red long top that I am wearing now, with my specs resting on my head, in the background of open sky with the face of a bearded RS superimposed on me momentarily, and then changing back to mine.

I went out to have some juice in the evening when I spotted a girl wearing a T-shirt on which was written: this city of modern love. It made me think how she had been too ignorant and hadn't learnt to use her brain independently of the system. "This city of Dumbasses" would have better suited the t-shirt's tagline! I wanted to go to her and correct her because to look at that T-shirt was pinching my physical and mental eyes!

38. No such Thing As 'Modern Love'

(Breaking Malleable Cultural Stereotypes, and Establishing Absolute Truths)

In this city of Dumbasses, the minds of people are overtaken by the cultural delusion of the place and the time and they lack the ability to think beyond these parameters. So, their limited perspective can only fathom within the limits the place put their minds in. To think beyond them and train their brains to do the right thing seems foolish to the ungodly foolish minds.

Heard in the Spirit:

39. Tu So Ke Raat Guzaar Lyi, Mein Ro Ke Raat Guzaar Lyi

'You slept and passed the night, I wept and passed the night.'

Ref: "Tu So Ke Raat Guzar Li Babbu Maan" (Full Song) | Saun Di Jhadi

40. Open Skies

The sight of open skies with a cloud is accompanied by the phrase 'My Love' from the song 'My Love' being sung in the Spirit - (reminds me of Jesus' love for me), and also of the scene from Fate/Stay Night, where Saber says that even if she was apart from Shirou, they were under the same sky, and it brought her peace.

Before I write the revelation below, I wan't to give a word of caution. Like other revelations that come up with truth related with analogous events, this too is one among them. And the right reader will understand what's being talked about, like it is in the case of releasing a Word that sounds general but is received individually by the person who resonates with it in His/her spirit and therefore gets a spiritual confirmation for the same. The 'Words' are often encoded by a Spirit and therefore I release them as it is. At times they carry correction, other times rebuke.

41. Me and The Laughing Ranveer Singh

Vision (303, A-10): The vision began with the back-view of me sitting on top of RS on my bed here in this PG and I had his penis in my hand that I was inserting in me through my red cotton night dress as I stood on my knees beside him. The vision was seen from the position of my chair near the balcony door. The next vision had me bending down to him and kissing him as he was laughing and couldn't stop doing so. He was dressed in his Pepsi Ad attire of full-sleeved Pepsi jacket on top of a white vest. He just seemed very joyous as he laughed with closed eyes. The vision then shifted to me again being upright on top of him, but now I was moving in a slow wavy manner at my position. The vision then changed to a scene from a movie in which a lady police inspector is sitting on top of a guy having intercourse while she reads a book held in one hand, still being fully dressed on the top. I then bent down and kissed him more and he laughed more. He laughed throughout the course of the revelation.

42. 'Itni Gareebi to Humne Kabhi Nhi Dekhi'

'We never witnessed this level of poverty'

43. The Mindset of 'Not Less Not More'

Regardless of How Much One Has (usually called as being 'content')
Idk who these people were addressing but they should walk out some steps and take a look around. They'll find many people who have way less than them. Perhaps they never empathized with people lesser than them. Because only that mindset would lead one to make such a statement. While a rational and openminded person sees it as a normal part of earthly existence. (S)he understands that not everyone can be at the economical level, and that if one has people lower to them in economic status, then also have those who're way higher to them. I see my worth as a child of God - His created Spirit. Not as an earthly human who is going to leave this place sooner or later - this place reserved for Hellfire. How does it even matter how one lived a life here!? One should be seen, known and led by God, instead of being lost in the worldly system that's passing away. 'Open Your Minds, Not Your Pants' that make you more connected to your flesh and be involved in the fake system!'

44. The Pen Cap Falls

It is a scene from a movie in which a man happens to be present at a place at an usual time and overhears the conspiracy set by some people present in a room. While standing outside the room, his pen's cap drops down making a sound which is noticed by the conspirators. He rushes outside and tries to leave, but is caught by those people and is killed. The scene has been highlighted to me several times.

An event from April this year: One day while sitting on my seat in the dept, Shagun, the PhD student of Prof Sanjay Jain of my dept. happened to drop a pen's cap near my chair before she left. I picked it up later to put it aside, but when I carefully noticed it, what was written on the steel handle of the cap was, "You know the most."

45. The Lip Stretch, The Lady In Towel and The Tall Bearded Guy

I had this vision when I was in Room D1 of A-16. Facing my room was a building to the left whose top could be seen from my room. When I fell asleep during that certain day, I had this series of visions.

Past Visions

(Room D1, A-16, Late 2021/Early 2022)

Vision: The left side view of the sleeping me was shown as my lower lip got stretched upwards to an unusual extent (by about a foot) in the air.

The vision was followed by the vision of a tall bearded muscular guy standing on the roof of the building to the left. He was looking down at me. The building is now colored yellow and apparently offers rented accommodation, but back then it was under construction.

Vision: A lady was lying naked on her left side on a surface along the wall in front of my bed. The lady looked thin and was covered by a thick navy blue towel that covered 2/3rd of her body.

Followed again by the vision of the tall, bearded guy standing on that building and looking at me.

1. Rehan Tears Juni's Photo

Vision: While washing clothes I had this scene from the movie Fanaa being highlighted to me in which before leaving the city for his next assignment, Rehan shreds the photo of Jooni in pieces and lets the pieces drift away in the air.

After washing clothes, when I reached my room, I found out that it was locked. My roommate Prachi came to unlock it.

2. As I Entered The Room..

Locked it and turned to the other side, (Vision) I saw RS in an off-white full-sleeved shirt behind me and we start kissing.

Then I wanted to rest for a while as I was just done with washing clothes. I had these revelations.

3. The Forehead Hits

Vision: I saw RS on top of me dressed in an off-white full-sleeved shirt hitting his broad forehead with mine with a huge impact. He kept doing this for a while.

4. Guys Cover the Pool With a Mat

Vision: The top view of a group of guys standing in a line is rolling forward a black mat over a pool of clean blue water while being bent on their upper bodies, all of them being dressed in just shorts (so their naked backs were visible).

I saw that I was going to keep receiving revelations about others, their thoughts, my thoughts or the things to come. So I decided to instead sit and write what I had already received. Whenever I go into rest, I receive revelations. And I wanted to complete what I already had.

5. Things That Touched My Heart and didn't let me go of Death Conqueror..

I've written previously the things that made me abhor DC. But let me write now the things that I liked as they showed his angelic side.

And when I was writing the above sentence, I had the vision of him sitting in the driver seat of a car as he smiled hugely and looked to his right. The vision repeated a few times.

1. I saw an animated YT video recommendation in which an innocent-looking guy stood at a distance from a girl outside a home's gate with his hand placed on her head. This again was unexpected because I wasn't following any such animated channels.

2. I came across yet another animated YT video recommendation that had an innocent guy lying on the other side of the bed facing an innocent girl while they looked at each other.

3. And all the other YT video recommendations that had an isolated and Godly aura about them.

4. He seemed to have a sense of morality because of the kind of tests he was putting across me to test my responses to them. But I didn't always choose to pass them especially when I could see that it was a test.

5. Also, I saw how invested he was in this cause. (But even I was invested in Glory because of God's made promise to me, but I chose the right way.)

Why did he choose this way?

6. Bits of Paper Put Together

Vision (303, A-10, ~2:50): I saw the photo of Ranbir Kapoor created by gluing together slightly spaced small bits of torn colored paper, in which he wore an orange coat.

~10:15

7. Vision(s) last night when I laid to sleep after writing the above:

Golden Stars In Eyes
I saw the face of Death Conqueror with two golden light stars shining superimposed on his eyes.

A Cannon
I heard a mild sound of the shot of a cannon below my right ear - the side on which I lay on my bed - accompanied by a small vision of the side-view of a thick iron cannon facing to the left - lifted at an angle of 45 degrees.

The Cannon to My Right Now
The small vision of the cannon was now to my right and it gave one or two more shots.

The Head of the Cannon
The follow-up vision after a gap of some seconds had the head of the cannon now shooting in my mouth. The vision repeated twice or thrice.

The Muscular Man & The Helicopter
A close-up view of a muscular man in front of me in a light brown full-sleeved uniform as he stands at some distance from a helicopter behind him with a hat on his head as he looks at me. Apparently, he is telling me something and picking something up at the same time. He turns back and walks towards the helicopter. The vision repeats itself a few times – him picking something lying on the table in front and turning back. But I didn't see if the guy entered the helicopter and left. Perhaps he did. But before that he had a close encounter with me.

A White Elephant
A small vision of a white elephant decorated with thick embroidered red mats placed on its head trying to lift something up from the center of my mid-forehead.
When I woke up in the morning:
The song started with a hard to discern
'Come Break Me down' ending with a loud and clear

10. "Chandrakanta"

The name of the TV series has been being highlighted to me in the Spirit for the past two weeks or so.

I watched the theme song today. And the following lines stood out:

The Chorus (The Story of Chandrakanta):

Chandrakanta ki kahani	The story of Chandrakanta..
Ye maana hai purani	Agreed that it's an old one..
Ye purani ho kar bhi	(But) this even being old..
Badi Lagti Hai Suhani	sounds very pleasant..
Naugarh Vijaygarh Mein Thi Takrar	There was rivalry between Nau Garh and Vijay Garh..
Naugarh Ka Tha Jo Rajkumar	The guy who was the prince of Nou Garh
Chandrakanta se karta tha pyaar	loved Chandrakanta..

The last stanza of the song:

Kroor Singh Ke Saathi Hai	The friends of Ruthless Lion
Hoshiyaar, Makkar..	Are clever and tricksy/bloody-minded
Aur uska daaya baazu	And his right arm
Shaitan Singh jiska naam hai	whose name is Devil Lion,
Uska drindo sa kaam hai..	He torments others like a vicious merciless animal
Uska drindo sa kaam hai..	He torments others like a vicious merciless animal

Along with the above lines of the sing was highlighted to me the dream in which I had seen the devil eye of Death Conqueror. His left eye was an angel eye, while his right eye was the devil eye. And in the lyrics, the right arm of Kroor Singh (Ruthless Lion) is Shaitan Singh (Devil Lion) which goes along with the dream. His Angel Eye Carries the Green Light.

The hero, Virender Singh of the serial Chandrakanta was from Nau Garh, while Chandrakanta and Kroor Singh were from Vijay Garh. Chandrakanta loved Virender Singh in the series. Nau is 9, the ninth hour of birthing. The guy in the theme song sings that Virender Singh loved Chandrakanta, and that's Glory.

11. "Alif Laila"

These lines from the title song were highlighted to me:

Alif Laila (One thousand and one nights..)
Alif Laila (One thousand and one nights..)
Alif Laila (One thousand and one nights..)
Every night, there's a new story..
The narration is quite interesting..

Centuries have passed by..
But it doesn't get old..

It wins and brings fairies
And defeats even Jinns..

12. God Judges In His Time

It can't be escaped. It may seem like one has been blindsided but the judgment of God falls at times like an unexpected sword. I accepted my path as set by God though it was painful. Will you accept His righteous judgment when its time..?

13. Kartik Aryan Running On a Long Treadmill

Vision (303, A-10, Morning): I saw Kartik Aryan, dressed in a full-sleeved off-white shirt tucked inside black pants, running in my direction (the direction of the viewer) on a treadmill track in a dark background. He is moving backwards but then he takes a huge leap and reaches me quickly. He is on the track again now, and is being pulled back by the arms of demons taking hold of him from behind. But when I pray to Jesus, he is set free of them and reaches me. And then I saw a blue hemispherical spiritual shield form around him that had others in it too. They stay protected along with others when I pray.

14. 'Banake Kyu Bigada Re'

After blessing why did you put to ruins..

Heard in the Spirit:

15. 'Kartika, Mein To Tumhe Chodnne Wala Hu'

'Kartika, I'm going to leave you.'
I've heard this phrase several times in my spirit.

16. 'Mere Samne Wali Khidki Mein'

'In the window my front'

In the song, the actor name is Bhola (Gullible) and he is being directed by his musician friend who helps him in winning the woman he loves. The musician friend sings for real sitting behind Bhola, while Bhola just moves his lips sitting in front of his open window facing the lady's window, as the lady watches him singing.

Bhola sings:

In the window to my front
Stays a piece of the moon..

(But) what's grieving is
That it stays crossed with me..

I've heard the chorus and other parts of this song intermittently for the past some months.

Ref: Mere Samne Wali Khidki Mein - Padosan - Saira Banu, Sunil Dutt & Kishore Kumar - Old Hindi Songs

17:01

And then this stanza specifically was highlighted to me:

Since the day I have seen her,
I've forgotten to light the night lamp.
I'm sitting holding my heart in such a manner that I've forgotten to go anywhere

Now day and night, in these eyes, this frolic persona resides in my heart..

In the window to my front
Stays a piece of the moon..

17. Ya To Mit Jaiye Ya Mita Dijiye..

Lines from the Stanza:

Last moments are going by
(so) just keep praying..

18. PS: If Volturi Wants To Persecute Bella, He Won't Be Left Unjudged.

Keep that in mind. It's a help book they can refer to see their fate. They may kill my family members in front of me or me at the end, but they won't be able to get away because 'Christian' is going to be arrested and persecuted. I will be secure with Jesus in any case, but they have to choose their eventual fate. My fate lies in the hands of Jesus who is waiting for me to join Him in eternity. While these foolish people will waste away in a span of time that is nothing compared to the real lifetimes of a Spirit. God compares man to a wildflower - here this moment, gone the next!

The scene from Breaking Dawn 2 in which Alice shows Volturi the progression of the fight between his men and their group has been highlighted to me several times. Volturi was initially very stubborn minded to fight the Cullens or else his supremacy in deciding the rules of the clan would have been challenged. But Alice showed him that though there would be deaths of important people from her family, Volturi too was going to die in the end if he chose to fight them. Seeing his eventual fate, Volturi decided to draw his group back whispering 'Not today' to them.

My family members could be slaughtered, I could lose my head. But, Christian could be arrested and persecuted naked in a tub too. I've written almost all the revelations and keep adding if I happen to recall something that I forgot to write about. I may be in a home with a medium-sized camel present in one of the rooms that has a baby girl named Divya, but then I would be visited by a fluffed 'Daya' who's calling Divya as her wife's daughter. Such a messy situation.

In any case, the dream in which I will heal Death Conqueror will definitely come to pass, because some of the details of that dream God even shared with Jonathan as well. He told him that I've to whisper something in his ear in order for him to be healed and that I know what it is. And now I've made the whispered phrase public. The dream was given to me back in 2020. It's already been three years.

When I was bathing late night:
these lines from Chandrakanta's title's song were highlighted to me:

19. The Prince of Naugarh

'Naugarh ka tha jo Rajkumar'	The guy who was the prince of NouGarh
'Chandrakanta se karta tha pyaar'	loved Chandrakanta..
'Chandrakanta se karta tha pyaar'	loved Chandrakanta..

20. RS's Surprise Attack From Behind The Bushes

Vision (few days back): Ranveer Singh comes flying from behind floral bushes in a garden, dressed in his Pepsi Ad attire of full-sleeved jacket, and he is shown as having huge white bat wings. He is bearded and has neck length hair. He comes and attacks someone (apparently someone wicked) present in the garden. He has a funny angry expression as he comes flying and attacks.

And then these lines keep playing in my Spirit intermittently, as they did when I was cleaning my drawer inside my wardrobe.

1. 'Toh Chalu'

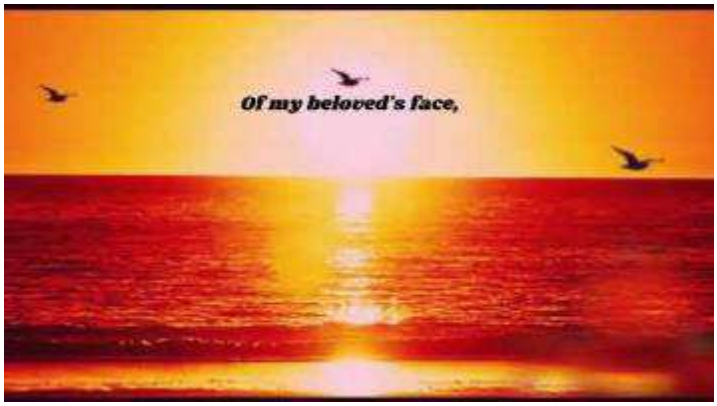
'So that I can Leave..'
Toh Chalu.. (So that I can Leave..)
Toh Chalu.. (So that I can Leave..)

Oh the moments that are passing by..

Of my beloved's face, these soft lines..
Of my beloved's hair, these clouds..
Of my beloved's eyes, bright lamps..
Of my beloved's lips, these fine lines..

All of these are her beautiful traits.
Before leaving,
in my Breath,
in eyes,
in dreams
in memories..
and in this heart,
let me keep her hidden..

Ref: EngSub - Ae Jaate Hue Lamho.. (Oh The Moments That are Passing By..)
[This is on my channel]



I don't know whose thoughts these lines reflect…
But they're so full of purity..
These lines played in my spirit back when I was in A-16 as well, many months back, back to the mid of 2022. And I often thought if it's Glory.

It just occurred to me how my way of ministering to people was both alike and complementary to Adele's. She releases word for people who need to confirm with the Spirit or see if it resonates in their spirit to see if it's for them. While I get the word that reflects the thoughts of a person which the person would know is his/her by reading it.

Idk, I get a sense of purity when I think about Glory. Sometimes I think if it's me who is the problem in his case since I only went to his place once. But I don't feel ok with going to a stranger's home by myself when I haven't even talked to him for even once.

I had this dream many months back, back when I wasn't writing all revelations.

2. Me in a Metro

I am moving in a Metro station, moving up elevators and walking a lot inside. I am at a height above the floor and I see Glory slowly parking a white scooty downstairs inside the metro, with him standing on the floor and parking the scooty using his hands. He is not looking at me but it seems as if he is aware of my presence. But how did he expect me to react? He can't keep moving in indirect ways because they don't get him/me anywhere.

I went outside to have juice, and after returning checked if they had cooked Chowmein as they had cooked a Chinese meal. I found it there but didn't take any and went to my room. After a while, I laid to rest and had the following visions. But before that, I just want to write about the ample number of times two visions have been being highlighted to me during the past two months.

3. God's Counsel For The Way To Approach a Love Interest

And if it's not a love interest, then don't approach at all!

One in which Glory's version of Jesus rushed to me with a bouquet of lavender-colored flowers, and another in which another short-heighted fellow dressed in a white track suit with a hooded white sweatshirt that covered even his head came walking in a funny way with a bouquet held with his right hand on his shoulder covering his face that was already covered with the hood. Why are these people not heeding God's counsel!? When I have heeded these many of His counsels and brought all these changes in me!? The way to approach a person matters. Death Conqueror has proven it by failing for 4 consecutive years while using the same approach. If they don't come to in that manner, then how will the birthing take place!? For how long will they hide like shy rats while being a 'beast' on the inside..?

4. Revelations during my Rest:

4.1 Many Arrows Strike My Back

I am standing on what looked like the service road facing the Ganda Nala here in Vijay Nagar, dressed in my black dress with white polka dots, and then many arrows strike my back at once.

4.2 Chowmein

Vision: Chowmein in a small vertical space

4.3 Glory Eating Chowmein

Follow-up Vision: A close-up view of the face of Glory eating chowmein from the PG's plate held a few inches below his chin. He's eating it with his fingers while looking at me.

4.4 The Woman Wrapped in White

Vision: I saw the parallel view of a tall woman, lying on bed with her eyes closed, as seen from the left side near her groin. It seemed like she was fast asleep. She had long brown-blonde hair that rested on the left side of the bed, and she was wearing a white shoulder less dress – looked like a white wrap, or a white towel.

4.5 Sparkle Sky-Blue Winged Eyes

A frontal side-view of closed eyes with long lashed and sky-blue sparkle winged eye-liner.

Pepsi Ad

5. The Croissant Me

Dream-Vision (more than a month back): I'm walking across the room around my bed in my white vest while my belly bulges out.

Revelations during late evening:

Vision: Glory salutes me as he stands fully naked.

6. The Sleeping Jacquelin Fernandez

Vision (when I laid to sleep): The lady in the white shoulder-less wrap lying on bed with closed eyes changes to the Bollywood Heroine Jacqueline Fernandez and now she is lying straight with her brown wavy hair behind her and she is slightly moving.

7. I Don't Decide What I See

It's the Spirit who does that. So, if someone thinks that I can read their minds or know their whereabouts at any instant, or what they're going to do at my own discretion, then it's just not the case. I receive revelations that are important for me receive in God's view. I can't see through a wall or a screen at my own will. It's not like having superpowers that one controls. But it's more like bending oneself according to what God wants me to see. I wrote it to clear out the air. Though one does control the flow of the Spirit in a way by submitting to the nudges and paying attention to it, like I received revelations pertaining to some people when I first thought about them. But even when I am not thinking about them, I can be given a revelation related to them. It's God who is in charge.

8. The Prophetic Song

While eating a mango around 10 minutes back, the stanza that I wrote previously of the song 'Toh Chalu' was playing in my Spirit. And when the line 'Unki Aankhon Ke Roshan Diye..' ('Of my beloved's eyes, bright lamps..') played in my Spirit, I had the following vision flash in my mental view which made me realize that the song that I wrote last night prophetically represented my own heart's state which I would be feeling today.

God can form bonds and separate people as well as he's the one in charge. I happened to write the revelation 'In Dept With RS' that was pending for long and then completed the one in which I had the photo of RS hidden at the inner surface of my heart. And when I was having my mango at the end of my second meal of the day, I realized that it's me who's going through the emotional state of the song I wrote the previous night. Because the stanza says, the person wants to take one long sufficient look at his beloved's face, and then keep her hidden in his heart, and I felt like completing my pending RS revelations because I felt a pang of separation which goes along with the aura of the song. I will have to move ahead with my God-given chore as I keep the memories buried intact in my heart.

9. RS Laughs Alone

This time when I went into rest around 17:00, I saw RS laughing very hard as he looked to the left and the right and then me. He was standing in front of a white wall, dressed in the Pepsi Ad attire of full-sleeved jacket over jeans.

10. Dhokha

'Betrayal'

I heard this previously in my spirit as well. And it was reiterating in my spirit even now.

11. 'Are Dekhi Teri Chaturai'

'Yeah we've witnessed your cleverness (sarcastically said)..'

Guy 2 sings:
Yeah we've witnessed your cleverness (sarcastically said)..

Yeah we've witnessed your cleverness (sarcastically said)..
You didn't understand how musical notes work..

13. 'Hum Hasat Jaat'

'I Keep laughing'

Guy 2 sings:
One clever lady..
She's too smart.. (said sarcastically)
She is getting entangled in her own spread net's mesh
(And) I keep laughing..
Ha ha ha ha ha

One clever lady..

She's too smart.. (said sarcastically)

16. What Counts, What Doesn't..

RS: though an actor – very smart because he's wise, empathetic and moral. But Death Conqueror – though a PhD and much more, and went to Cambridge - it's all useless, because look at what he did! He isn't even rational like a scientist. Because why is he continuing in a way which is not working using a approach which is neither good nor involves situation-specific ingenuity. His mind is nowhere like Einstein's who couldn't have done such a thing that he did. But RS's mind matches Einstein's in his moral temperament which is malleable and understands all temperaments as an artist.

There's a way to solve a problem using which anyone could solve it, as it's the set way, or the standard way. But then there's a way that no matter hard one tried one couldn't think of except the person who came up with it, though it may be very simple – that is called genius. I first read it in perhaps "Surely, you must be Joking, Mr. Feynman!" Death Conqueror uses the standard wicked ways to get his way. I'm sorry. I may forgive, and God does too when one repents. But whatever be the case, He is a righteous judge, and I have to follow His leading.

His devil lion part doesn't anywhere match the mindset of a moral scientist.

17. Sridevi's Eyes are Like Two Dollops of Coffee

In the movie English Vinglish, Sridevi's friend who's romantically interested in her tells her that her eyes are like two huge dollops of coffee.

18. 'Kartika, Mein To Tumhe Fenkne Waala Hu'

"Kartika, I'm going to throw you away."

19. Ye Kaali Kaali Aankhein

These black black eyes..
These fair fair cheeks..
These sharp sharp eye looks

I've been in a bad state.

19.1 Kartik Aryan Runs To Police With The Page

And the next day of writing this, when I was going through it again, I had the vision of Kartik Aryan grabbing and running with the page and giving it to Police.

20. Is He Going To Chop My Ear(s)..?

Because the event when Peter chopped the ear of a roman soldier who had come to arrest Jesus has been being highlighted to me a few times. And also, in the healing dream, I wrapped my head with my mustard shawl that my Naani gifted to me. He just makes me abhor him more. Instead of repenting of what he already did wrong, he just keeps coming across as a worse person. How does he expect to light/reap honey out of thin air by only sprinkling poison in it.

21. Bella is Swimming Towards Me

Vision (303, A-10, 00:55): The upper half of Bella dressed in a colorful striped bra swimming towards the sight of the viewer with a poker face and a half open mouth as she gasps for air moving her hands with her hair at the back, her being completely wet in water.

22. 'Mein Pareshaan..'

23. She Soothes and Goes Along With His Wicked Nature

I get it. My ex-roommate soothes his devil eye as she easily accepts his immoral thoughts. That's why they go along together. Because if she had an independent sense of morality, she wouldn't be passing his messages to me that were meant to hurt me in some way. She herself like hurting me though she was physically attracted to me. Both are just so alike, driven by flesh, but don't know the respect that comes with love. She fuels his savage part.

I had this phrase repeat itself to me for some days.

This line from the song played in my Spirit when I was having my coffee on bed sitting in the dark with lights off.

1. 'Kya Khoob Lagti Ho'

'How pleasant you seem'

The guy sings:
'How pleasant you seem'
very beautiful you look..

immediately followed by the vision

1.1 RS Covered With a Printed Sheet

Vision (303, A-10, ~1:27): A clean shaven RS with short hair stands on road during day with an innocent expression and covers himself with both hands with a white sheet/blanket printed with black text with colored square pictures on it, almost as If he's feeling cold. He looks at me (the viewer of the vision), as he stands there.

The song continues:

The Guy Sings:
'How pleasant you seem'
very beautiful you look..

The Lady sings:
Say it once again,
And keep saying it..
(It) feels good..
Every dream of (my) life
Now seems to be true..

The Guy Sings:
How pleasant you seem
very beautiful you look..

The Lady sings:
You're loved (by me) more than (my) life..

The Guy Sings:
You're my life..

The Lady sings:
You're loved (by me) more than (my) life..

The Guy Sings:
You're my life..

2. The Abrupt Breastsucking

I was writing some other revelation, when I was interrupted by the following abrupt vision.
Vision (303, A-10, day before yesterday): I saw Glory sucking on a left breast with an upright head holding the breast firm in front of him.

The vision continued for a while.

While resting last evening on my bed, I had the following vision:

3. The Severed Breasts

Vision (303, A-10, yesterday evening): I saw Glory at a level lower to mine as he abruptly lifted my t-shirt up thereby showing the white bra that I wore in the vision. He then put my left breast wholly in his mouth once.. twice.. and during the second time he severed it abruptly as he moved upwards to a distance of two meters. And as it got severed, what was left was a tiny blob of skin at its place. There was no blood shed.
(While I was editing the once.. twice.. part, my heartbeat became prominent for a while in synchrony with someone else's..)

The vision was followed by

Vision (303, A-10, yesterday evening): I saw a small vision of a tall well-built man dressed in a loose printed Kimono with hair tied at the back. He severed my right breast but he didn't stop coming at me even after he had done so. He bent his body low and back up again, and kept doing so with vigor. He didn't seem too normal.

18:09
I went to the dept today after around a month.
When I was trying to work, I had the vision of a hand coming from the right and a face (resembling Glory) stabbing that side of my head.

Later, I laid with my head down as I wasn't able to read, think or work. It was almost as if my ability to reason had gone dull and my head felt a lot of burden too. While lying with my head on the table at front, I heard the chuckle of a baby accompanied by vision of a chuckling baby wearing a full skyblue dress with a stubbled head and narrow eyes as it looked at me. Immediately after the revelation, there came the sound of a horn from outside the building from some distance to the right.

I returned earlier around 16:00 as I wasn't having an emotionally sound day and therefore had a heavy head. While walking on my way back here, when I was walking on the service road opposite to the Arts faculty gate, I felt a strong urge to have some part of my body amputated as it would then at least give a form to what I was going through on the inside. I wanted my body be hurt, say have a wrist or a hand chopped. At least my mental pain will then manifest physically. On walking further ahead, I saw a tree to my left against the wall and subconsciously thinking of it as me, had a vision of a dagger being stabbed in it followed by an immediate flow of blood gushing out.

Throughout the day, I kept hearing this chorus song lyric in my Spirit:

4. 'Hosh Na Khode Kahi Josh Me Dekhne Wala'

'Be wary lest a man watching in excitement loses his senses.'

The lines prior to this played as well in my spirit:

Though the moon is inside a veil,
it is glowing the surrounding four directions..
Be wary lest a man watching in excitement loses his senses.

Ref: Ghoongte Mein Chanda | Udit Narayan | Koyla | Shahrukh Khan | Madhuri Dixit | Bollywood Hits Song

On reaching PG, I laid in bed to rest. I walked my way here as I had been sitting mostly in the dept and needed to move my body. While being on bed, I had these visions:

5. The Bird Trapped

Vision: I saw a white bird stuck in a dark space fluttering with its wings wide open. It was trapped in the dark space.

6. Amputated Arms & Legs

Vision: I saw in my left mental view a man without arms and legs dressed in a sleeveless grey top flying in a well-lit white open space, with his body lying horizontally facing downwards throughout the motion. At first, he neither had arms nor legs, but then well-built arms appeared on his body which faced forward in the direction of his motion. He didn't have legs.

After this vision, I somehow happened to imagine myself without arms and legs. It reminded me of the scene from the Bollywood movie 'Mann' where the heroine found out that she had lost her legs in an accident.

I also saw a blade coming at my neck as I laid on my bed. I knew these were all warnings.

7. Ranveer Singh on a Scooty

The next vision had the front-view of RS on a scooty taking a turn to the left from the service road at the T-point near A-17/B, as two hands of the person sitting behind him moved back on his head through his neck-length straight hair and pulled them back away from his forehead on both the sides. He was dressed in an untucked pink shirt striped in thin white over trousers. He looked so fair. The follow-up vision then had two arms resting down along his waist followed by a 11-12 yrs old girl between him and the lady at the back.

8. The Burning and Dying Bird

Vision: I saw the caged bird again - afloat in the dark space facing the viewer with its winged spread out. But this time, its wing to the left was burning. The wing already burnt kept disappearing. Both of its wings were burning now. The follow-up vision now showed it facing to the right with a longer than usual black beak. Both its wings were gone and more than half of its body at the back was missing as more of it burnt with just its face and the surrounding area of its neck left. As it burned more, it slowly moved/fell down and out of the sight of the viewer.

I happened to think if it's me to whom this is happening. Well, I do feel ruined. Because what Death Conqueror has to offer is not what I want, and the things that mattered to me, he has ruined already!

Then I thought, "Is this what's mentally happening to Glory?" Then this phrase came to my mind, "I'm a flightless bird." I felt terrible upon realizing if I put him through this.
And a while back, I was thinking if Death Conqueror was a normal person and had not created this situation, perhaps things would've been different between me and Glory. Idk. But then I also happened to think that Glory will easily find someone better looking for himself if it wasn't for the promise made by God. And that I didn't want to put him in any kind of trouble. But even despite the unfavourable situation, he stood his ground and waited for me for whatever duration that he did. This Death Conqueror doesn't know how to do things the right way, and he doesn't leave space for others to do things the right way either.

9. Testimony (My Loosening Teeth):

This afternoon, I felt a strong urge to go and have a tandoori Paneer Sandwich with 'Paneer' (Cheese) being repeated in my Spirit. So I went and had it with a Jeera drink. I realized later its correlation with the previous dream revelation of 'Pulling Out My Loosening Teeth' on Page 418. The sandwich had the bawa-colored mayo sauce and I put red ketchup over it. This gave it the dream's look of the sauce and blood together inside the rectangular box in my mouth, and the tooth represented paneer. That's why it was coming out so easily, because the paneer today slid easily out of the sandwich as well.

Specifically, I held the leftover piece of one of the halves of the sandwich, and a piece of paneer was hanging out down from it. It was little clumsy to eat it. Just a while back I realized that that piece of paneer hanging out represented the tooth that came out of a box filled with the sauce of the same color along with a hint of tomato ketchup that I took as blood in the dream.

10:11
I had this vision when I was bathing after gym that day (Monday).

10. The Guy In The Dark Grey Polo Shirt

This is a medium heighted muscular guy in the gym I go to, who though he looks muscular, is childlike internally.
Vision: I saw his upper half dressed in the grey polo tshirt and he had two red love hearts in front of his eyes.

Towards the end of the bath:
Vision: He was bent to the level of my ass with his face close to my ahole. He seemed to be sucking it lightly. (Yuck! Don't do that..)

Vision (late night when I was writing revelations on laptop): Again, he was dressed in the same clothes, and he stabbed a dagger in my right thigh though my legs were inside the olive green sheet.

After writing these revelations about him:
Vision: He turns away from me with a joyful expression and runs around happily dressed in his black gym attire.
His facial features resemble Death Conqueror a bit. The day before yesterday, he was saying 'Pulit agee Pulit' referring to a two Policemen standing outside the gym. And yesterday he was shouting for no reason at my right side. I get a close brotherly feeling for him, for he seems like a child to me.

After returning from Gym and having dinner, I took a bath and laid on bed. On my way towards my PG, I thought about why I didn't talk to the policeman I had encountered on the way. I didn't feel a nudge to talk to him, but by the time I had reached the Panipuri stall, I was regretting passing him by without having a chat with him, as my condition is not getting better but worsening, and these people aren't getting any better either. I felt I should've told him everything and filed a complaint! But then I don't know what these wicked workers of devil are going to do as they've their minions present at unexpected nooks and corners. I don't trust them all! Just look at what they did! It's not that I'm afraid of what might happen to me, but I still haven't completed my purpose on Earth so I don't want to do anything that will hinder in God's plan by putting me at risk. I'm waiting for my experimental ministry to start and won't want to mess up things before that from my end. If the police already knows of the crime, why hasn't it yet started investigating on its own? Why do they need instigation from people!?

1. Their Spy Drone Is Stuck in My Throat

But why did they send it inside! Truly, they don't think of consequences before committing a crime or a foolish deed or a sin – as is evident from how they lived their life! While I was resting in PG before gym, I felt a bit of pain inside my neck as if something was hitting it from the inside. And after a while I heard a buzzing sound coming from my throat. This reminded me of the vision 'In Dept With RS'. If it makes its way in my belly, it's going get out with poop. I can't even stand in the presence of such people! Let alone talk to them!

After bathing when I laid to rest, I had these visions:

2. Our Eternal Nature and the Presence of RS in My Heart

I suddenly came in tune with the eternal nature of our existence and therefore I knew that we all were undestructible spiritually. The realization was followed by the feeling of very close and warm presence of RS felt inside my heart. As if he literally was there. Reminded me of the vision I previously had.

3. The Blissful Rest

RS is lying facing a lady up close whose arms only are visible that are lying near his face. And then he pulls her slightly towards him. They're lying in a silent and blissful rest. ('I see a jealous face of Glory with eyes wide open.')

4. Evacuating The Hole

A guy is pulling a vertical string. The vision moves to the left and a hole in the ground is shown out of which is moving upwards a bucket carrying something. Apparently, they seemed to be removing things from that hole.

5. Tere Naam & Crunches

I saw the huge face of Salman Khan from the movie 'Tere Naam' ('To Your Name') with his hair partitioned in the middle. On his shoulders were two tiny fair thighs of a lady who laid with her head pointing down at an angle. She was doing crunches with her thighs around his neck. This was followed by the Song Tere Naam's stanza being sung in my Spirit.

Lyrics (Eng Translation):
In the teary streams flowing from the eyes..
I saw you in the moon and the stars.

In the agonizing fire of separation, the breaths burn moment by moment..
Now they bead the garland of your memories.

For you.. For you..

For you, of this world,
Every kind of tyranny is worth bearing, Beloved..
Ho..
Every kind of tyranny is worth bearing, Beloved..
Every kind of tyranny is worth bearing, Beloved..

To your name..
I've devoted
Life of mine, in entirety, Beloved..
Ho…
Life of mine, in entirety, Beloved..

6. 'Open Your Mind'

I had a vision long back at night on the roof of A-16 and I've written about it on 'Open Your Mind' page. I had it on the roof of A-16. In this vision, I was represented by a golden light being and my head split from the center at the top into which poured in golden light from above. I had also had this uttering in the Spirit, "Open Your Mind" one day while taking my clothes off the roof of A-16 last year. I've written about it previously as well.

7. Tenu Wekh Ke Slow Karda

'Looking at you, slows down'

Heard in the Spirit a few times:
Ho turn and look you beauty,
The young man is blowing horn..
(He) races his car against the air
(but) Looking at you, slows it down..

8. 'Naye Naye Naina Mere Dhoondhe Hain'

'My new eyes.. they search'

My new eyes.. they search	Naye naye naina mere dhoondhe hain
everywhere, why, for you..?	Darbadar kyun tujhe
These new visuals.. they stare	Naye naye manzar yeh takte hai
in such an intense manner, why, at me..?	Iss kadar kyun mujhe
In bits, my heart started shedding itself on flowers..	Zara zara phoolon pe jhadne laga dil mera
In bits, my heart started to feel love for thorns..	Zara zara kaanton se lagne laga dil mera
I'm distressed, disturbed, confounded, confused..	Main pareshaan pareshaan pareshaan pareshaan
Where are those fireworks..	Aatishein woh kahaan
I'm distressed, disturbed, confounded, confused..	Main pareshaan pareshaan pareshaan pareshaan
The animosity is (gone in) smoke..	Ranjishein hai dhuan haan
Fainting, the streets are beginning to turn,	Gash kha ke galiyan, mudne lagi hain, beginning to turn..	mudne lagi hain
to your paths, they're beginning to connect,	Raahon se teri, judne lagi hain, beginning to connect..	judne lagi hain
All these squares, as if tired of distances,	Chaubare saare yeh meelon ke maare se
ask for your address..	Poochhe hain tera pata
Just by walking a bit, gets fatigued - my heart..	Zara zara chalne se thakne laga hai dil mera
By just a bit, to fly - desires my heart..	Zara zara udne ko karne laga dil mera
I'm distressed, disturbed, confounded, confused..	Main pareshaan pareshaan pareshaan pareshaan
(This) weather of loveliness..	Dilkashi ka samaa
I'm distressed, disturbed, confounded, confused..	Main pareshaan pareshaan pareshaan pareshaan
(This) weather of wishes..	Khwahishon ka samaa

For no reason, I have begun to love myself,	Be-baat khud pe, marne lagi hoon
begun to love myself..	Marne lagi hoon
Free Sighs.. I've begun to take,	Bebaak aahein, bharne lagi hoon begun to take..	Bharne lagi hoon
These are splatters of love,	Chaahat ke chheente hain,
though salty, they're still sweet..	khaare bhi meethe hain
What has become of me..	Main kya se kya ho gayi
Bit by bit, is changing countenance - my heart..	Zara zara fitrat badalne laga dil mera
Bit by bit, is fighting my fate - my heart..	Zara zara kismat se ladne laga dil mera
(Music..)
What intoxications..	Kaisi madhoshiyan
(Music..)
Joys, joys...	Mastiyan, mastiyan
I'm distressed, disturbed, confounded, confused..	Main pareshaan pareshaan pareshaan pareshaan
Where are those fireworks..	Aatishein woh kahaan
I'm distressed, disturbed, confounded, confused..	Main pareshaan pareshaan pareshaan pareshaan
The animosity is (gone in) smoke..	Ranjishein hai dhuan haan

9. Glory Salutes Me

Vision (few days back): I had this vision when I was in the washroom. Glory stood naked in the washroom and gave a salute to me, raising his arm like an army person.

10. Glory Strikes My Right Eye

I was lying on my bed with my head towards the door when I had this vision.

Vision (Room 303, A-10, Past 4-5 days): Glory hits a two-feet long and a one inch thick nail in my right eye from above.

11. The White Skeleton Face With a Black Cap

I had this vision later during the day when I went to get the unedited version of my Notebook printed.
Vision (303, A-10, Last week): I saw the face of a skeleton with its jaws clenched together. The skeleton had the face shape like mine and it wore a black cap like I did that day.

12. I am eating layers off RS

Vision (Past two days): In this vision, I saw the upper half of RS on my bed and apparently, I was eating off layers of flesh from his right shoulder and the area below. His red flesh on the inside was visible as I did more of it. I will never do such a thing in real life. I respect the bodies of people I love!

13. I Kiss The Spent Face of RS

Vision (Yesterday night): The face of RS, from the ending of the Lootera movie in which he looks darker and is dressed in a grey jacket, was to my right in the air as I laid on my bed and in the vision I was kissing him while holding his face.

I had ordered a veg burger with Pepsi last to last night. After having it, when I laid on bed, I had this vision.

14. The Burger and RS

Vision (Yesterday Night): I saw a burger in place of my groin, and the face of RS between my legs ready to eat it.

15. Dream Yesterday Evening

Baby's Specs

In the dream, I had to get specs for a baby (that's supposedly mine). I am looking for the right frame. I ended up choosing a transparent frame and was now deciding on the shape of it.

The Egg

I take out the two eggs from the refrigerator to cook. One has developed an internal brownish look. It's too old and the chic has formed to some extent. So I go to the dustbin and throw it in. It breaks and its yellow yolk spreads inside.

The dream ended with

Old Man saying - "Hum To Nahi Lenge"

I saw the old man I met last year in the home I had visited dressed in his half-sleeved white vest and sitting on the bed of the room facing the back of A-16 with a slightly bent back in his home with folded crossed legs while looking in my direction on the bed here in A-10 as he said, “Hum To Nahi Lenge” (“I will not take!”)

And when I wrote the above part of him looking in my direction and saying this, I saw him now acting in a corrective manner like he was going to hit me.

16. My Sleeping Pose

I realized after waking up that it had been like Bella during her transformation. And my arms, legs and face have become bony after I fasted. I need to build muscle and loose belly fat.

17. Shamsher Sir Asks For My Song Notebook

He had been sneakingly reading my Song notebook by bending and peeking from behind while I sat on the stairs outside the corridor at one of the entrances. I was startled by him and he had funny expressions because he knew that he had stressed me out as he wasn't supposed to be reading it. He then asked me for the Notebook. But I knew that he had the reputation of grabbing hold of the object by acting all nice and friendly and then complaining about it to Principal Ma'am. So I denied to give it to him. He asked me several times! He even said that the song he had been reading was his favourite. He said things like, “ just want to look into the Notebook and go through it.” "Please, give it to me once." "I won't tell anyone." He said that the song he had been reading was his favourite song. The song was 'Sun Zara' (Listen a bit) from 'Lucky' movie. Despite his many requests, I didn't give it to him.

Visions Today Night (about half an hour back):
I had these visions when I was lying on bed.

1. Krishna Reads a Newspaper

Vision: I saw the guy who the gym instructor was calling Krishna standing facing to the left against the wall between my PG room's door and the bed. He was dressed in his dark grey polo t-shirt over trousers, and had a newspaper opened in his hands. And he was reading it very seriously, with his sight fully focused. He looked at me intermittently for a second and then went back to reading the newspaper. He then licked the newspaper with a wide tongue. He was too engrossed in it.

2. RS Lifts The Suitcase With One Hand

A huge RS dressed neatly with a clean shaven shining face and styled hair lifts the sky-blue suitcase lying on the top of my wardrobe in swag with one hand and places it below after swirling it once.
Earlier during the night, I was struggling to get it down while organizing my clothes.

3. Krishna Crawls Up From Below

As I laid on bed, I had this vision.
The revelations will be understood by those who're related with the events described, and not with the people shown in the revelation to describe the event.

Vision: I saw the guy from gym (Krishna) at the junction of my upper and lower body slowly crawling up on me. The vision then changed to him now crawling up on a white staircase in air with very short stairs and without side railings.

This made me later think is the staircase represented my brain.

Gives a Salute
Vision: Krishna gives a salute raising his arm and starts walking upright like an army person near my wardrobe in the room.

The vision below made me think if he now represents someone else as is the case with revelations related with other people.

An Elephant Trunk Turned To Left
As he read the newspaper, I saw a thick elephant trunk-like penis appear in place of his groin and it turned to the left like a rod in the direction of my bed's side, as if it had faced an injury.

As I wrote it, I had the vision of him slapping my left cheek with a serious expression.

In Specs
The next vision had him engrossed in the newspaper wearing black rectangular specs, and his expressions resembled the movie Tujhme Rab Dikhta Hai's moustached actor.

4. The Guy in Blue & White Outside Gym

Vision (yesterday evening/night): I saw the guy from my gym, who has tiny spiky hair with a muscular built and who resembles RS, standing outside with modesty near the top of its stairs. He held a bouquet of flowers in his left hand and was dressed in a blue suit and a white shirt on the inside.

5. Low squats With Two Rifles in Hands

Vision today evening: The same guy doing low-level squats slowly in the gym facing opposite to the mirror to the left of the reception desk. He had a tough expression as he did those squats and he had a toy rifle lifted horizontally in each hand.

After a while, I had this vision:

6. The Backward Walk

Vision: The guy dressed in a blue suit with a white shirt inside and a bouquet in his hand walked backwards to the left of the gym.

7. Why Was His Heart Breaking?

While having the burger on the roof, I saw a vision of the upper half of RS with a love heart shown embedded in his chest. It was shown as breaking from the middle. But why..? The middle part of the heart kept getting further and further protruded outwards as it broke more and then came out the inner pink flesh. But why! I have been hearing this song lyric being sung in the spirit for a few minutes now – Hum wafa karke bhi tanha reh gaye.. ('Despite being faithful, I am left alone'). Seeing his heart break in that manner brought a lot of pain to me!

And then I was also reminded of the vision in which Amitabh Bachchan came in to the frame in which I was watching RS make different poses. His appearance sent RS off in the background, but then I had his photo etched in my heart. I am fully capable of committing to one person. That's who I am intrinsically on the inside. But I have to write the revelations I receive on a daily basis and it ends up compartmentalizing my brain. But when it's time, I will rewire it back to one compartment piece while the hearty bonds I made with others will be resting in my heart, being fully capable of occupying that compartment alone. But as of now, God is having me do this. And it's not my will to break hearts. But his heart is not just 'any heart'. It's a special and HUGE heart. It'll be a forever burden on me to know that his heart broke bcz of me. No. We're eternal beings and being together in flesh may not always be ordained by God for those who love the other person truly. But at times He listens.

When I looked at God's will and other revelations, I wished strongly that I will see RS when I am in heaven. Because I knew that on Earth God has His plan. No more broken hearts in heaven and we have an eternity. Let me pray healing over his heart. I will keep praying for his healed heart many times during the day. It will made new and will be joyful in the Lord. I have all the memories intact - from the Rickshaw drive to my tailor visits to get my clothes repaired. To think that God had me make such strong and unexpected bonds with people I never thought I will get to know, it just makes me filled with joy. It doesn't make me sad to think how they couldn't assume a specific role in my life, but it fills my heart to know that my heart became one with theirs and that I had the good fortune of relishing such unconditional bonds.

8. I Reminisce RS's Huge Heart

I kept revisiting this part of the vision with RS when I was on the roof a while back. I saw him fall horizontally on me from above with a huge Love heart in his hands in front of his chest. It covered in width his entire chest and such a beautiful sight it was. I kept saying to myself as I recalled the vision, "His huge heart..", "His huge heart..", "His huge heart.."Reminiscing about the vision brought me a bit of pain as well. Because it made me think if I would need to let go soon. But then I knew that he was already etched on the inner side of my heart. His red heart was the BIGGEST heart I ever saw! Let me happily drink the bitter cup I have in my hands, being the King's cupbearer. The pain that follows is a part of my bitter cup.

9. Sanson Ki Mala Pe

'On the beaded necklace of breaths'..

Then I was walking to and fro on the roof. And I ended up weeping as I thought about him. The vision in which he stood alone on the NSCG bridge also kept recurring to me. And then I was reiterating his name inside and weeping. What's true (a love bond) is never broken.

And then the lyrics of this song were highlighted to me. Even now they play inside.

And when I was back in the room, I was thinking that I would want to give him my scripture bottle that I received today as a souvenir.

While having Panipuris on my way back from the gym, I happened to place my water bottle on the vendor's slab and forgot it there. I remembered later about it. I didn't go to get it back because it was a disposable one and I had another bottle at home.

10. Glory Kicks My Ass

Before setting out for gym last earlier during the evening of the past day, I was filling my bottle with my upper body bent to about 90 degrees with the vertical. I then had this vision.

Vision (Near Water Dispenser, 3rd floor, A-10, Evening about 7:30): Glory is kicking my ass from behind.

Later, as I was thinking about the vision on my way to gym, I heard these song lines in the spirit.

11. Mujhe To Teri Lat Lag Gayi

Mujhe to teri lat lag gayee	I've become addicted to you
Zamana kahe lat ye galat lag gyi	People say that it's not good
Mujhe to teri lat lag gayee	I've become addicted to you..

12. A Huge RS Kicks a Basketball

I went to the balcony to use my towel, and then I had the vision of a huge RS standing at some level above me to my left with a basketball at his foot. And then he kicked it, and I imagined it hitting my face.

He may kick the basketball, but I have a forever bond with him and I will see him in Heaven! It means a lot to me all the ways He showed himself up!

The basketball vision repeated itself with Him kicking it with even greater vigour as it bounced once before coming to my face.

13. My New Eyes Search Everywhere For You - Why…?

These lying have been playing in my Spirit since past two days.

My new eyes.. they search everywhere, why, for you..?	Naye naye naina mere dhoondhe hain Darbadar kyun tujhe
These new visuals.. they stare in such an intense manner, why, at me..?	Naye naye manzar yeh takte hai Iss kadar kyun mujhe

14. 'Pehli Baar Takkar Ka Koi Mila Hai'

'For the first time, I have found someone challenging'

The scene from the movie 'Mann' in which Aamir Khan tells Manisha Koirala that for the first time he had found someone challenging.

This made me think of Death Conqueror. Because why has he been trying to break me! It doesn't at all looks like he had any right motives in targeting after me! A person who loves another builds him/her up, not break them down! I don't see him as someone challenging. He just uses crooked ways to get his way. That's not something great that makes him challenging.

15. The Sharp Internal Pain on the Left Side of My Brain

It was back in 2016 or 2017 when I first experienced a sharp pain on the left side of my brain. Afterwards, I often felt concussions as if layers of my brain were twisting or as of something was stuck inside it that moved whenever I put pressure internally. It made me think if he had inserted his drone in my brain those many years back. That did he ever have any right motives in targeting me. He can easily find and marry a cook who will clean as well. But why is he ruining someone's life and abusing her!

16. Something Crawling On The Surface of My Brain

Yesterday Evening Before Gym: I felt something crawl on the left side of my brain and it came along with a bit of pain.

17. A Flying Insect In Front Of My Left Eye

I was in a Rickshaw on my way to the dept, and then I saw a flying insect sit on the glass of my specs of my left eye. It was perhaps sitting on the inner surface first, but then it moved to the outer surface and flew away.

18. A Smiling Patrick Das Gupta

I was explaining to my mom how Einstein's paper got published when he used a different approach to match the small difference between a parameter of the planet Mars' observed trajectory and the value of the parameter evaluated using Newtonian Mechanics. And how they had been rejecting my paper saying that the work is not novel though it explained more things than the previous model did. I had also shared with her how Awadhesh Prasad had been causing problems in the acceptance of my research manuscript. Because some of the first reviews were plainly crap.

Then I had the vision of a smiling face of Prof Patrick Das Gupta of the Department of Physics & Astrophysics of Delhi University.

19. 'Dil Ke Armaan Aasoon Mein Beh Gaye'

'The desires of my heart flowed down in tears'

The lady sings:
The desires of my heart flowed down in tears
I despite being faithful was left alone.

I heard the chorus of this song yesterday. I didn't really understand to whom did they pertain. Because I'm not really having any 'Armaans' in this place as Jesus is only Armaan now and I already have him. And the people He brought in my life are my Armaans for heaven! And I have loved them truly!

Ref: दिल के अरमा आंसुओं में बह गए Nikaah (1982) (Dil Ke Arman Aansuon Men Bah Gaye) NH Hindi Songs

One vision that came to my mind was the blank page that had a bluish flow of ink lying down with small Shaktimans flying out of it. I couldn't have done anything to stop Amitabh Bachchan from entering the frame carrying RS.

20. A Teethfully Smiling RS Enters a Flying Helicopter

Vision (this morning): I saw RS dressed in his cheetah printed blue and white track suit as he entered a flying helicopter from the right side, his body and face facing to the left thus making the prophetic symbol. He sat inside and said, "We've to keep an eye on her" as he looked down.

21. The Comparison

Dream (last week): In this dream, I was walking to a house with someone. We entered a building and passed through a corridor, turned to the right and there was a meshed wooden door present there at some height of a few stairs. As a guy was about to open the door, I turned away from it and walked back and now reached a Verandah to the left of the corridor. It gave an aura of the hall of our rented home in my hometown. I was waiting for the guy to come and meet me. I was dressed in a sleeveless black tunic printed in white and was carrying a bag. The guy came. He had a height similar to mine, perhaps slightly taller. Apparently, I had come to meet him as a potential marriage prospect. I knew in the dream that I was from a much worse financial background than him, so I was feeling nervous around him. I was sent to him and had visited him with another lady with me, and it wasn't me who had chosen to be in that situation. But the main reason for my slight discomfort arose because I was meeting him for the first time. I anyway moved towards him and opened my arms to hug him. I wanted to hug him because though I was meeting him for the first time, I seemed to be already having a bond with him. After having a chat for a while, I saw myself walking down the stairs as a third person from about 4-5 meters. I had my usual wavy hair in that dream. Later I was on what looked like the roof of our rented home in my hometown, and there was a voice comparing that guy with Deepak. The first comparison played in the guy's favour. I can't recall what it was, but it wasn't based on looks. The voice made a second comparison and whatever was said about the first guy – I don't recall. I think it was about the normal living conditions of the guy. That he lives in a normal home. The voice then said something and then vision moved to one of the holes on the roof to show the compared reality of Deepak. I turned out to be a huge rat hole that went deep. It also resembled a drain, but without the drain water, and it had some ants moving inside. There was a bag present there. Further in was sitting a smiling fair and chubby man dressed in a pink full-sleeved shirt over pants and he faced to the right. There were other things present in that hole as well. It looked sort of like a rat's deep drain home.

22. Demonized Politicians

Vision (yesterday night): I saw a moustached man dressed in a black half jacket over white tunic walking in a crowd with black demonized eyes as someone from the back pointed at him a long shadowy black saw. It didn't look like a real physical saw but just a black shadow of it.

23. Sanjay Sir Making Faces

Vision (few days back): Sanjay Sir makes faces while looking at the sight of the seer. He turns his mouth to the right (viewer's right) and looks mischievous. The next thing shown is him sitting on his chair in the Physics Dept, dressed in his full-sleeved tunic with his table in front. He had a pen his hand and seemed busy as he looked at me. The vision changed from him outside to him being inside his office.

24. The Dreamy Black Car

Vision (D1, A-16, Last year): I saw a small vision of a black car parked on the road adjoining the Ganda Nala as it was making little movements at its position. There was a dreamy aura around the car. At first, there were some colorful balloons around it as it moved amidst them. The vision then changed to the semi-animated view of a beach followed by one more vision of another place.

25. The Book of My Testimony

This is the book of my testimony of revelations given by God.

26. 'House on Fire'

Uttered in the spirit: 'I'm a House on Fire'.

Lyrics:
I don't like to wait too long, to wait too long, wait too long
Bring it on and bring it strong,
bring it, baby..
I feel the pain and it feels good,
I knew it would, Your heart burns through..
I feel the pain and I cry out, cry out..

I need you, I need you..

Babe, I'm gonna drink you in
Like oxygen, like oxygen.

Baby, I'm a house on fire
And I wanna keep burning..

Boy, I'm going up in flames
And you're to blame
Yeah, you're to blame

Baby, I'm a house on fire
And I wanna keep burning..

I wanna keep burning..
I wanna keep burning..
I wanna keep burning..

Baby, I'm a house on fire..

I wanna keep burning..
I wanna keep burning..
I wanna keep burning..

Baby, I'm a house on fire..

So take me to the heavens now
As we burn down, as we are found
Take me to the heavens now
My heart screams out..

I need you, I need you..

Babe, I'm gonna drink you in
Like oxygen, like oxygen

Baby, I'm a house on fire
And I wanna keep burning..

Boy, I'm going up in flames
And you're to blame
Yeah, you're to blame

Baby, I'm a house on fire
And I wanna keep burning..

I wanna keep burning..
I wanna keep burning..
I wanna keep burning..

Baby, I'm a house on fire..

I wanna keep burning..
I wanna keep burning..
I wanna keep burning..

Baby, I'm a house on fire..

Love me..
to the beat of a drum
To the beat of a drum, yeah

Ref (The Song): Sia - House on fire (Dance Video)

Love me..
till the walls cave in.. yeah

Love me.. to the beat of a drum
To the beat of a drum, yeah
Love me.. I don't want saving..

Babe, I'm gonna drink you in
Like oxygen, like oxygen.

Baby, I'm a house on fire
And I wanna keep burning..

Boy, I'm going up in flames

And you're to blame
Yeah, you're to blame..

Baby, I'm a house on fire

And I wanna keep burning..

I wanna keep burning..
I wanna keep burning..
I wanna keep burning..

Baby, I'm a house on fire..

I wanna keep burning..
I wanna keep burning..
I wanna keep burning..

Baby, I'm a house on fire.

While I was watching and taking screenshots from the video, I saw RS now raising his hand to slap me. I thought, “Why?”.

29. Jesus – The Lion King

Vision (Roof, A-16, Late 2022/ Early 2023):

13:04

Though I had come across this worship video previously, I had this vision repeat twice while walking on the roof of A-16 this particular night.

30. Dream (Around half an hour back)

Bipasha's Basu's Evil Doppelganger From Movie 'Raaz'

I was in Saini Uncle's house – one of our rented homes in our hometown. The scene seemed to be set in the plot of the movie 'Raaz' (Secret). I already knew in the dream that the evil doppelganger of Bipasha Basu roamed around on the first floor. I prayed as I move around. I found the evil doppelganger moving around in an orange saree and she was walking in the long balcony to the right of the pagan temple where some people often made animal sacrifices to false gods. I prayed as I saw her. I moved around in the balcony as well making rounds and keeping a check on things. The balcony took a turn to the right at the end leading one to the front of the building – that was the structure of that house.

Short Heighted Guy

I moved back to being inside one of the rooms and saw a short-heighted guy there. He was dressed in a coat over a shirt. He seemed to be half conscious and was lying on his front on a surface at some level from the floor. He was not saying out much.

Trying to cast off demon off the Possessed Bipasha Basu

I was out again and saying out prayers for the possessed lady to be normal again. I prayed repeatedly. She didn't seem to be getting better but nothing bad happened either. Later I got to know that I would've to go through something bad.

Bollywood celebrities Gather in the Mourning

I was then in the room present at the opposite end of the entrance of the balcony. I saw people gathered there. I saw Kajol sitting on floor near the entrance door at the right end of the wall in front of me. She was sitting parallel to the closed door. There were other people present there as well. All were silent. The next time I looked in the direction of Kajol, I spotted Ajay Devgan, dressed in a creamish tunic striped in light sky blue and a different shade of cream, walking to the left, in the direction in which Kajol faced, with his right hand placed on his forehead to cover his eyes. He quickly exited the room through the door present on the opposite wall.

Short Heighted Guy With a Female's Voice

I went back to the short-heighted guy. It seemed like he was drunk. I kissed him and was then holding his small and thin genitalia. This time he laughed but his tone was high-pitched like a woman's. He said a few things too. But it was quite clear that he too was demon possessed.

Bipasha Basu's Demons Start Manifesting

I looked away from the short-heighted man towards the other end of the room. I saw two Bipasha Basus sitting there. One was sitting on bed dressed in a black saree with her back slightly bent. The other was sitting on chair and was dressed in an orange saree. The one on the chair was now starting to manifest her demons. I went in front of her and started saying out the name of Jesus. I repeated the Hebrew name 'Yahusha Hamashiach' of Jesus as well. But she kept sitting looking at me. I now saw myself with her in the room adjoining the balcony. The room was dark. I was standing with my hands on her head and was trying to say out in words what I saw manifest on the wall in front of me. I saw a skyblue rectangular chart appear in front of me, and then thick white lines appeared at a few inches away from the borders followed by something appearing in writing inside the borders.

The Bone of My Dad's Left Wrist is Showing

The next thing I saw was my dad walking in from outside with his left wrist covered with oil. Some of his flesh was torn to the sides through which his bone was visible. When we asked him about the injury, he said that he had a car accident. Looking at his injured wrist made me cry out. I asked him why had he not bandaged it but had just left it open and covered with oil. He didn't reply but told me something weird instead.

And then He Tells Me To Do Weird Stuff

He said in a very serious tone, "Ab jab bhi tu ghar se dept jane ke liye bahar nikalegi, to daaru pikar nikalna aur apna ye hath pakad kar rakhna." "Now whenever you step out of home for the department, step out after having alcohol and keep holding this hand of yours" (referring to my left hand). I understood that these were not his words but someone else's. I also understood he didn't have a car accident. I asked him to call those at our home. And that if I understood their reasons, I might agree to do the same. But again, I told him that he shouldn't take for granted that I will definitely do it. I had rather felt sick and like crying when he had told me to consume alcohol every time I stepped out of home. It just seems so sick to me. I told him that me asking him to call those people at home was not some kind of trap but that my response to their argument would depend on how they came across me (and not upon what threat they gave). I was still explaining this to him when the dream ended!

While writing the above, I recalled how I had felt like harming my own wrists and feet on my way back from the dept. And then I recalled the dream in which Himanshu had made deep cuts in a wrist and a foot.

31. "Uska Darindo Sa Haal Hai"

'His state is like a vicious animal'

Heard in the Spirit. The phrase was sung in the tune of 'Uska Darindo Sa Kaam Hai' from the theme song of Chandrakanta.

Also, the vision in which I saw the face of a beaten down Shahrukh Khan kept being highlighted to me.

32. 'Dil Mein Shola Bhadak Rha Hai'

'In my heart is roaring a fire'

The guy sings:
'In my heart is roaring a fire'

(Dil Jala Jal Jayega)
'It's going to burn'

Ref: Tha Kar Ke [Full Song] Golmaal Returns

33. 'Jal Rahi Hai Chandrakanta'

From the theme song of Chandrakanta

It reminded me of the vision in which a white bird with a long black beak was burning. And then the pain in my heart. And then the vision of a white heart behind red curtains. Is my heart burning for real because of their spy drone messing with it. I don't know. It also reminded me of the 'House on Fire' revelation.

Amidst this situation, I am looking for the next move of God that would lead me to the next step of my purpose here. Because that's thing we should be doing here.

34. Rebel Foods

Heard in the Spirit. And the vision of the event having 'Rebel Foods' shown written behind a box carried by a delivery person on a two-wheeler. The event was from back from 2018 near the gate of GTB Metro Station facing Outram Lanes.

35. The second Camel Dream:

This detail from the dream was being repeatedly highlighted to me. So, I'm adding it here. I saw my back as a third person as I walked towards the door of the home amidst the sounds of blasts and gunshots. I was wearing a black jacket over black pants and had my hair tied low at the back. There were a few people with me.

36. 'Bodyguard'

Highlighted in the Sprit as I entered the lift two weeks or so back.

37. Ajay Devgan Makes The Prophetic Symbol

Vision (last night): I saw the upper half of Ajay Devgan sitting on a surface facing to the left with an inverted cap on his head.

And this morning, the part of the song Raaju Chacha in which the children are calling him was playing in my Spirit so clearly.

Raju Uncle Raju Uncle,
Come Come Come

Come and Gone have numerous seasons..

Raju Uncle, Raju Uncle,
Come Come Come

We (God's people) are waiting for you..

Raju.. Raju Uncle..
Bum Chiki Bum Bum

Raju.. Raju Uncle..
We (God's children) love you

Raju.. Raju Uncle..

38. Virat Kohli Faces To The Right

Vision (last night): I saw a bearded face of Virat Kohli facing to the right. And then he was itching the right side of his nose. My ex-roommate Akhila has the photo of Virat Kohli facing to the right set as her WhatApp Display Picture. It reminded me of the orange and black painting she created in the dream with the huge face of the man facing to the right ending it with the short-heighted guy stroking her knee with a feather. I guess she is comparing the short-heighted man with Virat Kohli.

39. In HOD's Home

Dream (Mid/Late 2022): In this dream, I was living in the home of the HOD of the Physics Dept. I was told to cook and manage the home. The home mostly stayed dark. I saw the HOD once in a while dressed in a white tunic. I saw myself struggling to manage everything. The home seemed reasonably big and stuffed. I stayed indoors all the time.

40. Prachi With a Huge Trunk

Vision (yesterday evening): My new roommate in this PG (Prachi) is standing in front of her closed wardrobe dressed in her loose night suit (white top over striped red trousers). Her top is lifted to waist level revealing her sides and her huge elephant trunk like penis is lifting towards me as it oscillates vertically a bit.

My roommate was preparing to bathe and was in the washroom prepping her stuff. She had the song 'Ek Uncha Lamba Kad' ('One thing – your stature is so high and tall') playing in her phone. She then went inside with the phone. I then heard in the spirit and happened to utter out the following two lines from the song:

41. 'Tu Hai Sabse Juda, Dil Tuhjpe Fida'

'You're different than everyone else, My heart is all about you.'

The nudge of the spirit even had me sing the lines in a breath as they emerged in my spirit. After 2-3 seconds, she happened to open the door wider for some reason and the same lines were playing in her phone.

Some screenshots from the video:

The situation represents what has been done to my brain. And they did it long back. Many years back. It just keep moving inside my brain. I don't know how many they have sent inside! They were afraid. Because I am not one of them!

43. The Bride Weeps

For ridiculing you earlier...
...I apologize.

4. Anck Su Namun Dies

From the beginning, their agenda was to hurt my brain/mind and devastate my life completely while watching it silently from a distance, enjoying every bit of it! They enjoyed watching me stressed and in pain. How I felt while bathing publically – they enjoyed giving me pain, every bit of it! When I was all wet and was rushing to turn off the geyser when its yellow LED happened to light itself, I could've got electrocuted! But they only watching me in pain and wanted to give me more of it. Wanting to make me tolerate more and more of it in various ways! It was never about love! It was always about gaining control and breaking the other person! Or why else would he mock me by saying things like, "My cat is breaking!" They knew the things that were important for me, so they attacked precisely those things! People like them cause mental and emotional pain. They are killers and workers of devil.

They communicated to me that I was being 'edited' by another user. That I was 'normal'. They should look at themselves before passing judgments on others! How can a person with the heart of a killer and an abuser judge a normal person. Only a normal person should judge another normal person. Not abusers like him and his clan!

He is nothing like the things that God showed me! He is just earthly filth who likes to ruin the lives of those who don't want to live like him, think like him or love in the sick abusive way like him!

I have understood this by now, that all things I harboured were but in my own mind, and that their only agenda was to cause pain and damage to me! Why would then Deepak say indirectly to me, "He would send you to someone else!" The group of rapists, the educated psychopaths targeted me while their minds are worse than the most vicious of animals!

Three people I saw in that dream in which I laid asleep/unconscious while two were putting their hands in my vagina, and one was under the influence of alcohol, lying with his arm on my breasts. These people will surely receive their judgment! Do they really think that they are above God?

KINOBSCURA

I just so so so love Jesus. I may be feeling downcast or not upto the mark, but he reminds me of what I am capable of and highlights what I've already done. He knows what makes me happy and fills my heart. The only advances He made on me were those meant for dancing together. In the rest, it was me who was putting my head in His chest, or was eating his flesh as a part of communion. I feel so relaxed and happy in His presence. He has no guile in Him, and He's so full of love.

3. John Nash Runs For A Hug

Vision (303, A-10, ~ two hours back): The upper half of John Nash from the movie 'A Beautiful Mind' is shown. It's day time and he runs slowly in what seems to be an open area with open arms towards the viewer. He is dressed in a full-sleeved light blue shirt with a sleeveless black sweater on top.

The guy sings:

4. Koi To Roke, Koi To Toke

'Someone stop it, someone make it aware'

Iss umar mein ab, khaogey dhokhe
At this this age now, you'll get cheated on (several times)..

Kisko pataa tha pehlu mein rakha Dil aisa paaji bhi hoga
Who knew that the heart I thought I knew well would be so naughty

Hum to hamesha samajhte the koi Hum jaisa haaji hi hoga
I always thought that my heart was, just like me, pure

(Haaji means Any Muslim person who has travelled, visited to Mecca is called as Haaji. Mecca is a religious place of Muslim people.)

Hai zor karein, kitna shor karein
Oh it forces me, and makes a lot of noise

Bewaja baaton pe ainwe gaur karein
Without any reasons, it pays attention to intricate details

Dil sa koi kameena nahi
No one is naughty and mean like heart

Koi to rokey, koi to tokey
Someone stop it, someone make it aware

Iss umar mein ab khaogey dhokhe
At this this age now, you'll get cheated on (several times)

Darr lagta hai ishq karne mein ji
I am afraid of falling in love

Dil to bachcha hai ji
My heart is still a child

Dil to bachcha hai ji
My heart is still a child

Thoda kaccha hai ji
It's still a bit inexperienced

Haan dil to baccha hai ji
Yes my heart is still a child

5. 'Dil Ko Todenge'

'We'll Break Heart'

I fell half asleep a while back when I had this brief revelation.

Apparently, I was waiting for someone. Then I heard the sound of arrival of some people followed by a thick and stuffed male voice saying 'Dil Ko Todenge' ('We'll Break Heart'). It reminded me of yesterday's vision in which I saw RS's heart breaking from the middle with the inner flesh coming out. This made me think if the vision represented my heart because in some visions 'I' was represented as RS. For e.g., in the vision where RS was shooing away Aarchi and Himanshi, the two bully girls from the previous PG, at a later time I was him in the dept as I looked at myself who was shooing them away. But why do they want to break heart..? I've been already carrying the burden of their wickedness on my heart and now they want to break it more or actually physically break it?.. They don't care about the breaking of the heart of other person because of their wicked ways.

And two or so days back I was weeping inside telling God how he broke my heart by doing this thing to me! That what was the point of now promising him to me, when he has already done every crap thing possible, and is willing to do more and break more of my heart!

This song has been playing in my Spirit intermittently for the past two weeks.

6. Ek Dil Hai

There is a heart,

Ek Dil Hai,
There is a heart,

Ek Dil Hi To Hai
There is only a heart

Mera Dil Hai,
It's my heart

Mera Dil Hai,
it is my heart,

Mera Dil Hi To Hai
It is my heart alone itself..

Tujhe pyaar se dekhne waala
One that looks at you lovingly..

Tujhe apna samajhne waala
One that thinks of you as its own..

Ek Dil Hai,
There is a heart,

Ek Dil Hai,
There is a heart,

Ek Dil Hi To Hai
There is only a heart..

Mera Dil Hai,
It's my heart

Mera Dil Hai,
It is my heart

Mera Dil Hi To Hai
It is my heart alone itself..

I've been writing revelations since past year. But I don't know if they believe them fully! Because if they did, they should've stopped doing what they've been doing. Earlier Death Conqueror was saying that I'm only telling lies to survive, and that the revelations are only about acting. I don't know what false thing they have in their minds now..

But then, since yesterday, while writing revelations, I've been intermittently seeing a repetition of the vision of Death Conqueror with his face turned to 'his' right (and my left) in front of me making the prophetic symbol while smiling followed by him kissing my forehead. It just seems hard to believe to me.

7. The Lobes' Brush

The vision was seen from the perspective of a woman lying on her back on a bed and looking horizontally down.
Vision (303, A-10, during day yesterday): I saw the closed mouth of the childlike guy in dark grey polo tshirt from the gym lying against the outer lobes of a woman's shaven and smooth groin area, as his lips moved infinitesimally vertically against the lobes. The vision repeated itself a few times.

It's 5:16 in the morning already. I am going to sleep now.

~13:15

8. The Lady With Braces

I have seen this fair girl in the gym. She has a height of about 5 feet and 2 inches and has a protruded upper jaw. She wears a specs as well.
Vision (Morning, few days back): The face of the lady with braces on her upper jaw.

Visions Early Morning when I had laid to sleep:

9. I Hug Ranveer Singh

I saw a small and distant back view of RS standing facing in the other direction. He looked very fluffed, way too muscular and was dressed in a deep red t-shirt over blue trousers. A lady (me) came walking in front of him and placed her arms around his shoulders and then they shared a warm hearty hug. I saw her face to the left beside him. She had her hair tied low at the back. From a distance, she seemed to be resembling Deepika Padukone.

10. Twin Star Rotation on Ground

Vision (303, A-10, ~5:25 Morning): I saw RS dressed in his cheetah printed blue and white track suit from the Pepsi Ad holding hands in a criss-crossed manner with a younger and much shorter girl of about 10 yrs of age as they revolved around each other in a yellow sunlit park area.

While writing the above revelation, I was reminded of the vision in which two tiny golden angels made a heart shape with their bodies and revolved around each other.

16:38
I went to the parlour to get eyebrows, upperlips and chin done. On my way back to PG, I saw a juice vendor walking ahead of me. I felt like having it but he was 6-7 metres ahead of me. When I reached my PG, I thought of not having the juice because I already had lunch an hour or two back and wasn't feeling hungry.
When I later was in the washroom removing stains from my white clothes, I heard in my spirit these song lyrics.

11. 'Awaaz Deke Humein Tum Bulao'

'By calling out to me, call me'

The lady sings:
By calling out to me, call me
In love, do not stress me this much..

Ref: Aawaz Deke | Professor | Full Song HD | Shammi Kapoor, Kalpana

12. They've Not Yet Understood

They accuse me of not bowing down to them. But they don't understand that they're not someone who I am supposed to bow down to. Are they God? Didn't they read the Word by God given Sis Adele in which God said that His messengers have not bowed down to the world and have stayed with Him. Do they fear God!? Or they see themselves as God?

They have a very high view of themselves which makes them think that they will even ask a person who works for God to bend according to them, instead of them bending according to God.

Glory Hits The Back of My Head

Vision (~16:56): A naked Glory hits the left side of the back of my head from behind me with a rod.

I don't see anything in them to bow down to. If they had exhibited Godly traits, that would've been impressive and I would've looked at them with respect and admiration. But they only exhibited oppressive traits that come from the devil, as if their money gives them power over lives of others. You're mistaken, Sir! Surely, you must be gravely mistaken, Mr. Fake Feynman.

Vision: More hits at the back of my head. (The acts don't show much love.)

Are the children of God called to bow down to the world or its ways? No.

Go and learn some basics about how to care for emotions of other people, instead of just trying to make things right with money. His sister was saying, "they want you to love them". Such a gross lie. Everything they do and every threat they say gives out the message that they want me to become a mindless puppet, not a free lover. If he wanted love, he would've worked towards coming across as a real person ready to mentally commune. But he came across as someone who is only showing a movie to my eyes through others, is giving threats and is hurting me remorselessly. I bow down to humble people who're not expecting others to bow down to them.

Vision: Glory hits the centre of my head

I would rather bow down to a humble sanitation worker for him/her to have his way in something, because (s)he is looking forward to have her/his way in humility, and because even if (s)he doesn't get her/his way, (s)he would maintain a humble and godly countenance. But I will not bow down to a spoilt rich brat who think he is so superior that others have to live at his command, who thinks he has the right to emotionally and physically hurt others! As if he is some kind of God. He's not passed enough tests for me to bow down to him.

Vision: Glory is again hitting my head. Why does this naked Glory keeps hitting my head..?

13. A Gross Fight Between Birds

I was woken up in the morning by the sound of a gross fight between birds outside in the balcony. They were making a lot of noises and it seemed deadly. It made me later think if they're going to beat me up. But then I was also reminded of the dream in which a blad man was beaten up and was brought to the camp of the people of God where Jesus dropped for inspection, and when He looked at the injured guy, left quickly after saying, "This is normal." It's normal for the children of God to expect and experience persecution from the hands of ungodly people.

14. RS Runs With a Flag

This vision was in line with the two visions I had before falling asleep. I didn't find my Revelation Notebook nearby, so I thought I will write them directly in here, because I had been writing revelations for almost the entire day and the first two RS revelations before falling asleep were heart-warming and healing - so I remembered them. The third one which I will write below was kinda objective, so I didn't recall it immediately when writing the hug and the revolution revelation.

Vision (Early Morning Before Falling Asleep): I saw the side-view of RS running to the right holding a white triangular cloth flag with the round Pepsi symbol by its wooden stick in his left hand. He was running with a group of people but they were not ahead of him, but somewhat behind.

15. Dream (Morning)

I've a job at a construction site, it's kind of a technical job. Ajay Sir is there sitting on the top of the right end of a wall. Ajay Sir is the ex-PhD student of Awadhesh Prasad – the Non Linear dynamics teacher of the Department of Physics & Astrophysics, Delhi University. (Awadhesh Prasad is a sexual harasser.) A guy leaves the job in our arena and moves to the adjacent one. There is a wide horizontal hole on that side of the wall. The guy tells me that he is only paid only Rs. 5k, and that he will change his job soon. I am then in a room with a lady and a guy. It's a workplace supposedly. There is just a bed in that room, and the guy sitting on chair says they should get a sofa. I tell them that if they had to live there along with others, then a sofa could be of use. And what came to my mind along with was the sitting arrangement of the reality show Big Boss.

The University's Silent Reading Room

I am now in a large room with ample empty space. Looks like a university's reading room. It has furniture only along the sides and is lit with mild yellow light. I am sitting on the left corner of the left side of the room. I seem to be having a part of some experimental apparatus in my hand that I place on one side. I now move to the end of the room at the right side. There is a electronic keyboard lying there. I try to play a few things. I am not too good at it, but I am trying to play melodies that I know. I then turn back and start walking along the wall of that side of that room, exiting through a door at the left.

The Row of Three Dresses

I then enter into a showroom with my PhD colleague and friend Jema. She has to buy some stuff. When I enter the showroom, the first thing my eyesight happens to rest at is the row of clothes at the right which has the same three dresses placed in order one after the other. Two of the dresses have a brown and black cheetah print, while the third with a black & white cheetah print with a V-neck, similar to that of Katrina Kaif in 'Uncha Lamba Kad'. The group of three dresses repeats itself on that row.

I and Jema move to the end of the store and come across a niche of clothes. Jema wants to check them out. All clothes lying in that niche are the same. They are soft white sweatshirts with a pinkish floral print. I too take a look at them. I am back to the room now. And then I see this written on a page in front of me, “He is coming for you, he’s coming for you. Good bye.” And the dream ends.

16. ‘Intehaa Ho Gyi Intezaar Ki’

The guy sings:

The limits of waiting has been far crossed..
Yet I haven’t received any news about my loved one..

I have a firm belief that she is not unfaithful

Then what’s the reason for making me wait..

17. I Kept Praying For RS Heart

While washing clothes, I was praying for an antidote revelation for the heart-break revelation. That it be healed fully and be made a new creation in God, that his mind opens to the spiritual realm, and he becomes unbreakable realizing that children of God whom He has saved out of the system never really die but their innate constitution live forever and it is a spiritual person with a functional memory and not a boring spirit without emotions. The spiritual person feels love and other godly emotions. It is trapped inside the body that brings the negative counterparts along with it. I prayed that his heart stays as huge and intact as I had seen it in the previous vision in A-16. Because I've not done anything for such a breaking of his heart to take place. I am a simple-minded person who like to be straightforward with people. I still haven't understood why I saw that vision. And as I wrote the previous sentence, I saw RS slap my left face accompanied with a sharp sound, but it didn't hurt. I think the vision was only about the sound.

18. I Realize That I've To Pray For Death Conqueror

Instead of Abhorring Him. I realized this after I had returned from the gym. I don't abhor him 'all the time'. I forgive but then he continues in his ways which makes me abhor him again. He is the one responsible for my behavior and attitude towards him. God keeps healing my heart and the situation keeps hurting it, so I dwindle between the two states. But I never wanted a bitter heart for anyone since the beginning. It was just not in my nature. He challenged my limits, and will perhaps challenge more of them. I realized that as a child of God, it was expected of me to not just walk in forgiveness (which is easy for me to do), but also not keep a record but pray (this is what I have to learn). My walk is about learning to be more Christ-like, and not walk with a heart that sometimes changes its states under stress. God said in one of Sis Adele's videos that though his child was stressed and dwindling in his/her emotional state, (s)he could maintain a heart of love despite difficult circumstances. It spoke directly to my heart because though I may be sometimes in a bad heart state, I know my potential and what I can be or how I am when I am in my best heart state. And not just him, but Akhila as well, instead of complaining about what she said or did. By doing so, I was letting her decide how I was to feel and think. Though her behavior was not right, I don't want to stoop to a low-level degraded mindset.

Vision: RS Spits on My Face, turns his back and walks away. He could as well be representing someone else, or a coded situation.

19. God Reminded Me of Who I Was

In the carrier Bus revelation, when I went to Akhila'a seat to tell her that she needn't work that hard because she was Penny and not Amy, she didn't take offence but just smiled and continued working. While washing clothes this evening, I realized that that was how I used to be before I went through this prolonged period of oppression! The words of others used to slide right off me and I used to be unaffected and had a heart state of being filled and happy 'all the time' regardless of what I had or didn't have! I didn't need to be around people to be happy. It was almost as it I was in a 'continuous' state of happiness and contentment, and at times my heart used to feel so warm and filled. It almost seemed like something was flowing from inside of me that kept me in that state. I was often filled with warm emotions and though I wasn't having any money of my own, I considered my life very beautiful, because my happiness was because of my internal connection with something that kept my heart and soul filled. It increased during my days of BSc and was present during a part of MSc as well, but that's how I always was since childhood. It may seem weird to some people, that how can a person be happy and content without company or doing the usual 'fun' wordlly stuff, but that's how I was. Now I have become more open and have made space in my life to incorporate other people's way of finding happiness.

20. They Ruin what Challenges Them

The way Death Conqueror and the Gang have been giving me different threats, it seems similar to the events in the movie 'Shudra – The Rising'. In that movie, whatever a Shudra person did that challenged their oppressors, or was considered elite, the oppressors then hurt that person and took that ability away from him/her. I never thought that I would meet such people in this era, people who threaten to destroy things that I have or am good at, people who want to devastate my life in a way and ruin my good characteristics – be it physical or mental.

20.1 The Tongue Slaughter

In this part from the movie, a Shudra child was found saying out something which the 'elite' of the land did, so the religious priest who was in a way the head of the elite crowd gives out a sentence of slaughtering the child's tongue in order to teach the family a lesson.

Ref: Shudra bachhe ki Om nama shivay bolne par jubaan kati

20.2 Pouring of Hot Oil in Ears

If a Shudra person listened to something that the Elite did, the elite used to put hot oil inside the ears of that person to teach them a lesson.

21. Shrewd Politics Played By The Ones In Power

This has happened throughout the history of Earth where people in power inflicted intentional who are in power. Like those considered as the religiously elite oppressed Shudras, Egyptians oppressed Israelites – who were the people of God. To the oppressors, it doesn't matter if what they do is wrong. All that matters is that their throne should stay unchallenged.

Deepak once said to me, "Areyy!! Rajneeti pata nahi kya kya karwa deti hai insaan se!!" ("Politics makes one do unimaginable things.") I thought that he really lacked common sense. Because the societal political section of brain is a secondary section while the section of common sense based on morality is a primary section of the brain. A normal person doesn't use secondary sections while bypassing the primary ones. Death Conqueror and his gang are just so dumb – the evil dumb. It just makes me want to puke on their faces. But then I look at God's tolerance of him and how he views him, that he's an infant, His child, not really a politician. One has to be child of God first – be good at using primary sections of brain before forming secondary ones, or else one uses one's corrupt primary sections to guide higher level connections in the brain. I don't think he can do good research when it comes to explaining the comprehensive functioning of brain. His way of thinking is twisted and broken. He may be fast in computation or remember a lot of things, but I can see that he doesn't has the right moral insight needed. Perhaps he can publish good papers in science, but he will fail drastically in even 'understanding' the socio-scientific connection between psychology, morality and decision making, let alone find something new that can help someone be a better person. Because I have now noticed it many times how he amalgamates hurtful situations or statements with a normal situation or statement in order to make the other person accept the hurtful situation. He is a grossly dumb person in my view, just like Akhila. He may have a huge collection of labels for things in his brain, or vast info about worldly stuff, but he just lacks what's really needed in a person, the things that RS and KA have, that Ayushman, Mayank and Glory have. They have close to a healthy brain. They make good moral citizens and make the world a better place. And though they are from different professions, they're still good enough, actually very good, because they operate with a correct primary sense of morality that guides the other actions or choices that they make. Death Conqueror and Gang have corrupt brains that could never do good research in humanities, and neither can they do interdisciplinary research that connects humanities with science within a moral framework. And they are hurting the person who is capable of doing so!

If I had stayed in their company in A-16, I would've become as blind as they are mentally. They are just so so focused on the outside and the things that play out in that arena, that they can't see really 'see' all that they're missing out on. Their thinking goes along the line of not missing out living in a worldly way, but they miss grossly out on the things not found in the world. The Egyptians increased the workload of Israelites and intentionally created problems for them. They didn't want them to grow in numbers for they were afraid that they might overpower them. The same thing plays out even now.

Deepak's statement made me think about what was it in my case that they had to resort to play dirty politics? Don't they know that every person has a free will that is not supposed to be oppressed or exploited by others? If there's no such thing as privacy, then why don't they put themselves on display. Why don't they put the females of their homes on display! They're just so coward and 'Makkar' (tricksy) truly!

The next time they send a mail, or greet someone, they should sign it as '(Hidden) Makkar Truly' followed by their names, instead of using 'Best regards' or 'yours truly' posing as someone good. And they should never use 'Yours sincerely'!

Or maybe I judged him too harshly. But when he didn't even come across me in a normal manner, how can he expect me to accept his crooked ways. A person who uses such ways is not who I want for myself. And I will easily find many who are not crooked like him or use criminal ways and hurt others to get their way, but rather 'show' love to show their love instead of showing unconscientiousness or a lack of moral sense.

One has to reject the ungodly thoughts one happens to have, thoughts that make one want to hurt others to get one's way, but they not only accept such thoughts and behavior but also want to propagate them. Why would I want to comply with those who propagate lies and want to perpetuate a wrong way to live – those who make the world a worse place to live. It doesn't matter how they use their money to earn accolades from the have-nots, but I will look at their comprehensive behavior!

The Indian history is a typical example of ungodly tyranny like the one inflicted by the Egyptians on Israelites. I may have a town upbringing, but I've the right mind needed to live a fulfilled life without hurting others, which he doesn't.

22. I Threaten Glory

This situation kept repeating to me in the spirit wherein I was telling Glory in an instructive manner, "Jinda rehna hai to jo keh rhi hu vo karle!" "If you want to stay alive, then better do what I am telling you to do."

23. 'Dil Pe Goli Lagi Hai' (But Why..)

'I got shot at my heart'

I kept hearing this phrase 'Dil Pe Goli Lagi Hai.' 'It's my heart that got shot (or got hurt)'

24. 'Aao Sunau Pyaar Ki Ek Kahani'

'Let me narrate to you a story of love'
Once there was a boy, and a girl mad in love.

25. Flat Pizza Base With Red Sauce On Top

Vision (yesterday): A flat pizza base spread with red sauce on top as a hand moves a knife over the sauce. The Pizza seems to be placed on a table that resembles the one below in the hall at the ground floor of this PG, and it's dark.

Reminds me of the breast Pizza and severed breasts.

I was taking out my teeth in the dream and they represented my act of eating a tandoori panner sandwich. But in the above revelation, the vision pertains to the eatable. So am I going to chop my breast. Idk. Though I thought about it casually Room no. D4 of A-16. I was thinking that I will chop and send them to Death Conqueror so that him and his people leave me alone! Because I was too pissed and disgusted with them!

A day or two back I was imagining actually meeting RS and saying, "Finally, we're meeting." Since I've been having revelations about him since past year.

The previous revelation of RS above me with his pink erected genitalia was being highlighted to me a minute back.

Death Conqueror, I wish you had a complete moral backbone, not a quarter malleable one. There're many people who are not homeless but are still highly moral! And to be moral even after being homeless is a pointer of a high character quality. Politics has ruined his brain.

26. Kho Gayi Khusboo Hawa Mein

The fragrance got lost in the air

'Kuch na Reh Gaya..'
And nothing of it was left..

27. The Threat: The Man Will Be Lost

I, whom the criminals are calling a man, have been receiving these threats that I will be lost and won't be found.

While on my way back from the Dronacharya Gym at night, I saw two people on a bike in the street to the left of Sardar Bakshi Ji eating hub, and one of them said in a rural tone while looking at me, "Kaha kho gya vo aadmi" ("Where did that man get lost!?") followed by, "Ha Kaa Ho?" ("Yeah.. Where are you!?") The two men then drove away.

28. If Someday I Get Lost

This is the book that shows the kind of things that happened to me, after I got lost. My chest is going to be broken and my heart ripped out. My forehead is going to be opened, and my belly is going to be slaughtered and opened. Recall the visions with Glory in which he was peeking inside my open heart, forehead and belly with devilish expressions.

But also recall the revelation, "Either Ghoda or Chatur' ('Either Horse or Clever') The Notations are Not consistent. Will I reveal everything now!? Breaking the Code solves my future murder mystery!

Also recall, the fat man with a bulged belly sitting on the left side of a drain hole – the place where Deepak lives. On the top of the hole were some ants, then a black laptop/college bag and then a smiling fat and fair man in a pink full-sleeved shirt sitting at the left side of the drain and facing to the right with a smile.

29. Dream (A-16): Delhi University Is Cambridge University..?

In this dream, I saw Death Conqueror in the area outside the Room No. L of Physics Dept of Delhi University. He was moving on the road near the watchman's cabin and apparently, I too was there. I thought, "What am I doing in Cambridge University!?"

30. 'Mein To Bahut Intelligent Thi'

Vision (A-17/B, Saroj Sadan, Late 2020/Early 2021): Glory says in a taunting manner while moving in an abrupt wavy manner, "Mein to Bahut Intelligent Thi." ("I was very intelligent") It seemed as if he was mocking me with that comment. Who says such a thing about others. I always try to encourage others to do better than they did previously. I can never say such a thing about someone.

31. Earth: A City of Fools

Earth: A place where to attain things of no value, people ruin things that are of real value.

I too am a fool who has accepted her foolishness in front of God and has accepted how great He is to be so Holy and yet love me and others in the manner that He does.

1. “Where there’s love, there’s always jealousy..”, said Tejaswi. He said this to me once. It made me think about how unworthy he was to say such a thing because he intentionally went ahead to form rotten love bonds using a ‘fake’ persona to fool the other person, and then even if the other person didn’t want to be with him, he would pester them while emotionally abusing them! A woman is by default is emotionally abused in his company because he targets her because of her being a woman to trap her.

Scriptures are highlighted in yellow.

Exodus 34:14 (NIV)
14 Do not worship any other god, for the LORD, whose name is Jealous, is a jealous God.

Deuteronomy 4:24 (NIV)
24 For the LORD your God is a consuming fire, a jealous God.

Deuteronomy 32:16 (NIV)
16 They made him jealous with their foreign gods and angered him with their detestable idols.

Deuteronomy 5:9 (NIV)
9 You shall not bow down to them or worship them; for I, the LORD your God, am a jealous God, punishing the children for the sin of the parents to the third and fourth generation of those who hate me,

Psalm 79:5 (NIV)
5 How long, LORD? Will you be angry forever?
How long will your jealousy burn like fire?

Psalm 78:58 (NIV)
58 They angered him with their high places;
they aroused his jealousy with their idols.

2. “Sorry Shaktimaan”

This particular video from the Shaktimaan series has been highlighted to me for over a week now. In that video, a girl was brushing her teeth but left the tap running even when she wasn’t using the water. She gets interrupted by Shaktimaan who tells her to turn off the tap when she doesn’t need it. That’s how I was too for a long period of time. For past some time I started leaving the tap open as it had begun seeming a lot of mental work to think of turning on and off the tap, that if I was needing it or not. Most probably because of my situation that has injured my brain to a great extent.

3. Their Drones Inside of Me and The Dream of The Locust Army

In the evening, I realized that their drones moving inside my body were in direct correlation with dream rev #1 on Page 53, in which I stood against the devil on a mountain top where he was hiding behind the cliff with just half of his huge serpent head visible. In that dream, I had a prayer weapon in my hand that created a shield of fire and deflected an army of demon insects flying in a group from the left towards the building I was guarding. My current situation is devil's response to what will ensue - and he does it through people. The revelations God gave me represent their actions torment of me as well.

And because their drones are inside of me, anywhere I go or whomever I happened to meet, they'll know about it.

4. Movement Inside the Back of My Neck

When I was resting today, I felt something moving at the back of my neck. Their drones just keep moving inside, and they keep hitting my ENT areas from the inside. At first, I got worried briefly, because that area had my brain's connection with my spinal cord. But then since yesterday, I have realized one sure thing. That the person that's inside of me is not really fed by my body or is alive because of my body. And I realized that 'that' is what God was trying to teach me, that my mind is independent of my physical brain. You've to 'believe' it to realize it. Angels or spirits have glorified bodies and not physical ones, but they have a functioning consciousness. I was reminded of my own argument that I had given to Deepak about how a physical brain is just a carrier physical mechanism for consciousness and wasn't 'responsible' for it. So, I understood that if I prayed and believed with all my heart, I wouldn't even be hurt by their drones though they may be inside of me. Everything this wicked person's gang does goes in line with the revelations given by God, and works towards freeing me from my body. Jacob, leave your pack of wolves and turn to God.

5. Blockage in My Eye

When I was A-16, my eyes started watering a lot at a point in time. They would itch and I felt as if something was inside of them, but when I would check around, I wouldn't find anything. But my eye(s) would itch and I could feel a blockage though I couldn't see it. I used two types of eyedrops at that time because my eyes would itch and burn. I think this selfish Death Conqueror and his tricksy shrewd gang 'deserve' to be punished. But their actions only reflect the negative counterpart of the revelations given to me by God. Truly, they play on the devil's side.

This made me think if my red kajal reflected this move of theirs as well – representing bloody eyes.

Recall that both my eyes were closed in that vision and I had red eyeliner lines below my lower lid. Everything was prophetic of their plans.

6. The Extremely Tall RS

I was reminded today of the dream I've previously written about by the same revelation name. In that dream, I was in a room alone with RS and he stood with the countenance of a righteous policeman where in he was looking straight to the right (my right), but I kept looking at him. He was way too taller than me (about 4-5 feet taller) and I had to look up at him. It seemed like I was a child in front of him. I was trying hard to reach to his level and kiss him and I finally managed it. But when I lifted a hand, the scene changed to a group setting. I've written this rev before. I just happened to carefully notice a moustached face that resembled RS' and it looked to the right. I recalled the dream later and saw the resemblance of the situation with the dream. When he had moved around to a side, I noticed yet another person who reminded me of Glory because his face resembled his' to a good extent (~45%) though he was darker than him and also fat. He was looking at me with great focus. I could see that it was intentional. But I couldn't understand why would he stare at me. I was staring at the moustached guy because of God's given revelations and how God changed my heart towards this person who is too 'tall' for me. But what was Glory's doppelganger's reason?

7. High-Rated Gabru

In the revelation 'RS – the fearless bride of Christ' on Page 389, after RS' got shot on his left chest, I saw Deepika Padukone standing to his right (from the viewer's perspective) an inch or two behind him, and then she too got shot on her left chest as he stood facing forward ignoring her. This part of the dream was shown some seconds later.

Well, I just happened to think that the act of reaching out to RS with her flowing red drape was because of Deepika Padukone's fear of crowd/attention. But no, she's used to crowd.

8. Naa Tum Bewafa Hai, Na Hum Bewafa Hai..

'Neither are you unfaithful nor am I unfaithful.'

But what can we do, when our paths are divergent..
Stanza 1:

Where cool, cool air is flowing around..

Where cool, cool air is flowing around..
There someone's love is burning..
Earth and Sky – both are crossed with me..

Neither are you unfaithful nor am I unfaithful..
Neither are you unfaithful nor am I unfaithful..

Ref: Na Tum Bewafa Ho Na Hum Bewafa Hain - Ek Kali Muskai

The Guy Sings:

9. 'Gaalo Ka Hai Rang Gulabi'

'The color of cheeks is pinkish..'
Where're you from, I am Punjabi.

The color of the cheeks is pinkish..
Where're you from, I am Punjabi.

Our cheeks become pink after sweating a lot during cardio.

10. Hoga Tera Good Luck, Dil Mere Liye Rakh

'It will be your good luck, keep your heart reserved for me'

I have 'Uncha Lamba Kad' (high and tall stature). I am 5' 6".

11. Their Twisted Sympathy

Whenever I call them out for their poor character and behavioral traits, they make the point that only 'poor people are good', and because they're rich in the vain sense, they don't have to be characterful. He takes his wealth as a pass to do just anything. Has he not watched Spiderman!? "With great power, comes great responsibility!" Their arguments reflect their stupidity. Because a poor person has greater reasons to be wicked, for by resorting to immoral ways and choosing the wrong path, (s)he can attain worldly wealth or possessions in an easier way. But the path will kill that person's soul. A wise person preserves one's soul but lets go of the world and its perks.

If I had not left my ex-supervisor Awadhesh Prasad for he made it a condition to have sexual relations with him to work with him, then I would already have had two papers by now, and my PhD would've been procedurally easier, but it would've killed my soul. These people don't have a soul. I don't know what God saw in Death Conqueror that He crossed his paths with me. I can't learn anything from him to be a better person! If not better, he will make me worse and I may not be able to grow to be the kind of 'person' that God wants me to be. I don't want to be like him or Akhila or their friends who choose to be friends with such people. There's nothing resonating. The short-heighted person is not about being a better version of one's previous self, but about being in power and playing the dirty game. Everything about his lifestyle 'stinks'. I can hug a stinking person, but not someone who's immoral. I've learnt a lot by now from RS on how to be empathetic and cover cultural gaps. He's emotionally intelligent! I compare RS with DC so that he learns something from him. My roommate Prachi gave me few hugs to make me feel better. I was thinking that if she was my ex-roommate or someone having the character traits like hers or like Death Conqueror, I would've felt much worse and like dying. It would have left me feeling drained and suicidal. I don't know how I felt about her hug. Only when a good-hearted person gives you a hug do you feel the healing, not by the hands of the wicked! If not him or Glory, God could've easily found someone else for me. I didn't want a very rich person for myself. Someone normal who knows godly basics and is able to understand me along with being responsible on his part would've been enough/perfect. No one wants someone whose feet intentionally run to hurt you.

12. My Dad Tells Me Not To Cry

Back when I was a child, my dad used to teach me. But when I didn't understand, he used to hit me. And then I would start crying. But then he would tell me to not cry and be quiet. I understood it even as a child that what he did was not what he was supposed to do, because hitting me wasn't going to make me understand or remember things. He used a way in a situation not meant for it. It only made me cry, not understand the concept. I used to tell him crying to teach me with love, but he continued in his ways and only showed crumbs of love while teaching me.

By going through trials and difficulties, my love for 'God' is tested, not for a wicked person who is working to dig my grave, or who has already fulfilled the future conditions for my grave to be dug. I can let go of people if He asks me to, not giving them even a place in my heart if He wants me to let go of them completely or forget them for they have been too wicked. But I can keep the good ones for forever in my heart though our paths may separate. What's the point of keeping a wicked person in one's heart? I have godly RS etched on the inner surface of my heart.

My ungodliness is reflecting out in the above para. I just realized it when I read it again. I was letting my humanity come in between my God-given purpose and the state of mind needed. But I know that when I fall, God will lift me up and refine my nature.

My roommate was telling me to 'not cry over small things' after hugging me.

13. 'Vo Kisna Hai'

I had heard the lyrics of this song in the Spirit back in A-16, but I didn't record it.

Heard in the Spirit (Early 2023):

That person who is playful, and has soothing eyes..
With whom all girls of this Braj town are in love with..

That's Kisna.
That's Kisna.

That's Kisna…

That's Kisna.

Ref: Woh Kisna Hai | Sukhwinder Singh | Vivek Oberoi | Isha Sharvani | Javed Akhtar | Kisna Movie Songs

Kisna is another name for Krishna. And I came across this guy named Krishna in the gym. He too is called by God. It's amazing how God calls people individually through me as he gives me revelations pertaining to them.

14. 'Yaha Aag Yaha Shole'

'Here burns fire, here burns flames'

Here burns fire, here burns flames
The young prince is now alone..

It's the question of his life now..
He's besieged alone..

Rustam calls you again and again..

Get up Jabaaz, Get up You..

Ref: Chandrakanta (चंद्रकांता) 1994 full title song by sandeep patharia(sam)

15. 'Uth Jaa Jabaaz Uthjaa'

'Get up Jabaaz, Get Up..'
This phrase from Chandrakanta's theme song has been being highlighted to me for the past two days.

Get up Jabaaz, Get Up..
Get up Jabaaz, Get Up..

Jabaaz – name or adjective that refers to a brave person who puts his/her life at stake.

What was being highlighted to me when I wrote the above, was the previous vision of a camel on its feet on Page 395.

16. 'Zamana Kahe Meri Raahon Mein Aaja..'

The World and Love, Both Call..

Stanza 2:
The world says, "Come to my paths.."

The world says, “Come to my paths..”
Love says, “Come to my arms..”

They don’t understand the inhibiting reasons (that make us helpless)..

Neither are you unfaithful nor am I unfaithful..

17. RS’ Doppelganger Lifts a Weight

Vision (During Day): The guy lifts a weight holding the two ends by placing his palm below each. The weight constitutes of two small black cylindrical weights separated by a 2 feet long steel rod. He is wearing a loose orange t-shirt and faces the treadmill side of the gym while standing near the opposite side. He lifts it with both hands at once and does vertical rounds by bending his elbows as he lifted his forearms while keeping the upper arms vertically straight. I saw that this was also easier to do than the burpees.

18. Krishna Makes A Heart Symbol

Vision (during day): His upper half was shown wherein he was dressed in a black top and was making a heart shape with both hands on top of his left chest. He was moving his hands to and fro with the heart symbol.

19. I Wet The Mat With Tears

I was lifting weights in the gym today standing in front of the mirror to the left of the gym’s entrance.

I noticed the orange mat lying in front of me. It had dried vertical sweat stains left by the guy who did burpees with the mat placed ahead while his sweat fell on it. I had noticed thrice during the past days that it made a thick line of sweat on the orange mat whenever the guy (who resembles RS) worked out. Though this evening there was someone else working out on that mat, it made me recall that guy alone.

The vision: A huge flow of tears gushes down from my eyes and wets the mat. Looking at the hard work of that person just made me want to cry.

The vision was followed by:

A Lick On The Mat

Vision: I lick the place of dried sweat once. It also reminded me of the vision in which I licked the place on the ground where I had seen Jesus standing on the roof of A-16.

And while I wrote the above, these lyrics played in my Spirit.

21. The Head Bow, the Red Eyes and The Long Tongue

Vision (During day): Krishna bows his head down while standing in his black gym attire at a distance of about 3-4 meters. A second later his head lifts, he has red eyes and his long tongue flows through the air towards me.

22. My Dad Hits My Head

It was in the drawing room of our rented first floor above Aditi (Saini uncle's home in my hometown Pundri). My dad was taking an oral math's exam, and whenever I wasn't able to answer, he would hit my head from a distance with a black wire he held in one of his hands, with the maths book in his other hand. No matter how much I tried to evade the wire, it managed to reach my head as it was long enough.

23.'Yakeen Nahi Hota, It's Impossible'

Heard in the Spirit.

I heard it first when I was having snacks on the roof a few hours back, and it kept repeating itself for a while.

It repeated itself again in my Spirit a few minutes back.

24. Don't Be Sad When Amitabh Bachchan Comes In The Picture

This is regarding the vision in which Amitabh Bachchan (dressed in all white) walked into the frame from the left and sent Ranveer Singh flying into the background like a leaking balloon. But then I took out my red love heart that had RS's photo on its inner surface. He had a teeth-full smile with a fun mischievous expression.

25. Don't Worry. There's A Time For Death.

God has me in His hand. No matter w hat they do, it's not going to hurt me enough to incapacitate me from doing what He wants me to do before I've done it. He teaches me something and changes my heart every day. It's like He trained me to walk without fear of damage to one's body parts or the fear of death.

26. Gobi Parantha

That Gobhi (cauliflower) represents my brain. Recall the revelation – 'zombies want to eat brains'.

27. The Back-Hit Again

Vision (yesterday): A naked glory behind me jumps with all his vigour to hit the top of my head with a danda/rod.

1. Two Sections

Vision (within the past hour): Two human figures are sitting in the position of Kappa's brand logo – with their knees bent vertically and their backs against each other. The figure to the left is in a light green background while the one to the right is sitting in a yellow background. The two get separated as the vision splits hugely out from the middle. The follow-up vision has 'One section' instead of two.

2. One Section

Vision: The green and yellow sections are still segregated as different sections, but this time there is one person/figure lying horizontally between the two sections. The figure seems to be a woman's because of the shadow of her open hair that are reaching her shoulder as is visible in the sight of the viewer. The figure's upper body is situated in the left light green section while its lower legs extend to the yellow section to the right and are moving.

And when I was writing the above, I heard in the Spirit, "Kat Gaya" ('Got Cut/Slaughtered')

Remember that we are divided inside with our two sides facing in the opposite direction. That's the system. When we come to Jesus, we are made one as he reconciles the two sections by inverting the wicked section to the right side up thereby making peace.

But the green and yellow colors remind me of grass and sunlight.

I had just fallen asleep with my head resting on the side near to the table when I heard in the spirit – A Blast.

3. A Blast Near My Left Ear

Was that my eardrum bursting/blasting because of the spy cams/drones inside..?

The sound was followed by the following vision.

4. The Head of RS with Sideburns

Vision: The head of RS lying above my head facing in a perpendicular direction to my left. The head was severed but yet it was moving slightly at its position. His eyes were open, and his face had sideburns and his chin was slightly bearded too. He wasn't dead with a severed head yet.

5. Recall The Revelation – 'Kaat Ke Samundar Mein Fenk Di.'

'Cut her and threw her in the ocean' – from the movie 'Guzaarish'. They may throw me in a drain as well – Recall the rat's drain hole home of Deepak. That fat man in the drain in a pink shirt could be me as well.

5.1 A Cockroach Comes Out Of A Gutter Shed

I had had Paanipuris at Shyaam Chaat Bhandaar at some distance right of Pracheen Shiv Mandir that late evening after the gym when while walking away from the shop, I saw a big cockroach crawl out of one of the holes in the cemented cover of a drain hole near the sideway. I was nudged to kill it. I walked back to the drain and stepped at its place, but I missed my aim and it immediately ran to the left.

6. Recall All the Torturous Revelations

That's their plan to exhibit with me. The insertion of the hand in the vagina and grabbing of intestines, hit my head brutally, and break open my chest by hammering a huge nail inside. God is the judge, not these wicked ones. My supervisor Nivedita Deo perhaps knows more about the situation. Because everyone else seems to be knowing more than me. Once she was sharing some cultural things and was talking about the kind of surnames a certain place had. We were sitting in the departmental canteen and she had recently returned from a trip with her family. She was sharing her experiences there and other things related to her hometown. All the surnames she said out were weird and long. One of the surnames she said out made me pay attention to her, as it I recalled that it was the bully's surname. Perhaps everyone else knows more about my situation than myself. I only know about my good fate with Jesus. And want to meet all whom I loved on Earth in Heaven with Jesus.

7. The Highlighted Bully

Though I was not paying much attention to her talks as I don't like talks about culture, the surname 'Majumdar' caught my attention and I started listening to her. I realized that it was Death Conqueror's surname.

8. Shubh Swagatam..

'Blessed Welcome'

'Shubh Swagatam, Shubh Swagatam, Shubh Swagatam..'
Blessed Welcome, Blessed Welcome, Blessed Welcome..

Aaaaa… (Melodical Humming)

'Karte Hai Apka, Shubh Swagatam…'
We felicitate you, with a blessed welcome..

I've been hearing this chorus of a welcome song in my Spirit since I was with Akhila in A-16. This was a song our school's musical group had prepared to perform somewhere.

9. Lafzon Mein Keh Na Sakoon (Abhijeet Sawant)

'(I) Find it hard to put in words'

The Guy Sings:

(I) Find it hard to put in words
But can't stay without saying it out either..

(I) Find it hard to put in words
But can't stay without saying it out either..

I'm in a trance day & night..
I don't know what kind of love it is..

(I) Find it hard to put in words
But can't stay without saying it out either..

The Stanza
Wherever I turn and look at
There I see her..

My desires say that I am too much in love,
In your desire, my beloved, I didn't realize when I got lost..

What is this effect.. that I don't even realize
When I woke up and when I slept,

My heart's beloved and life line..

(I) Find it hard to put in words,
But can't stay without saying it out either..

I'm in a trance day & night..
I don't know what kind of love it is..

(I) Find it hard to put in words,
But can't stay without saying it out either..

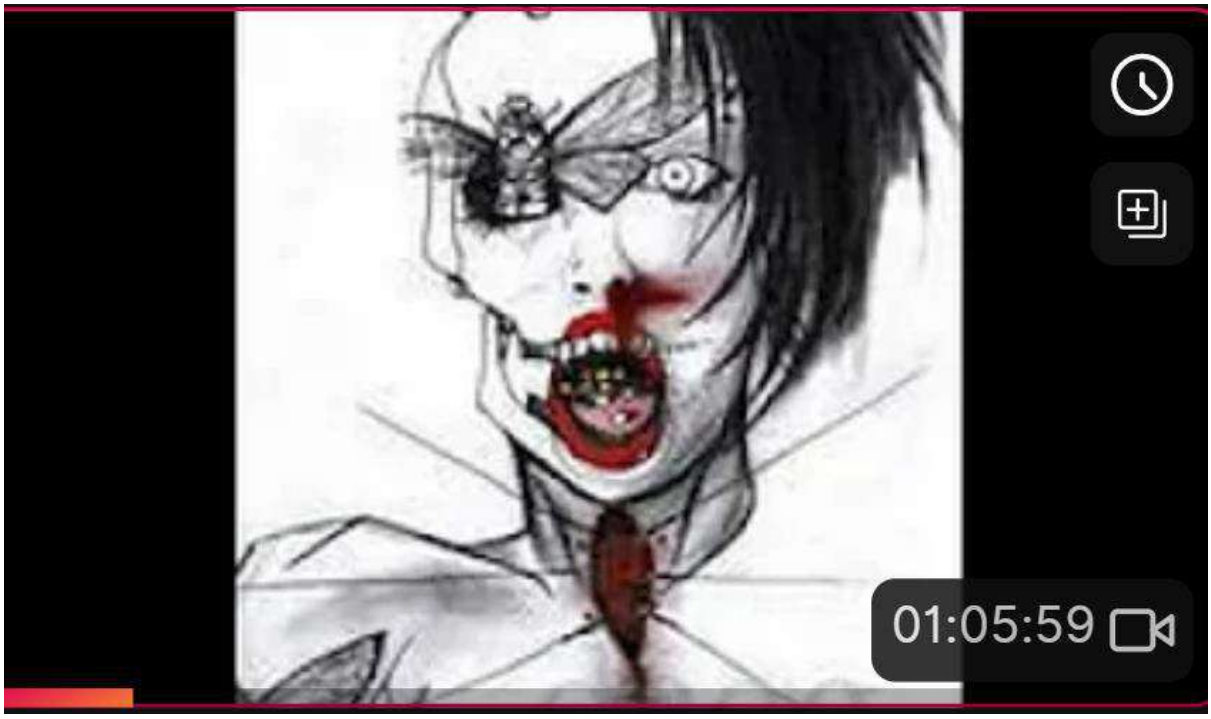
10. The Locust Army of Devil

My possible future state because of the spy cams/insects inside:



Ref: [Man in OUR IMAGE - Part 2 - ASSIMILATE WHO ?? Pay ATTENTION (odysee.com)]

11. Recall – Kapil Mausa Ji Being Tormented By Insects

He was lying beside a wall being tormented by those insects and was dying outside alone while his family members looked for him. That's me. Now I see it. They planned it from the beginning. I was only writing what God showed me. And I thought there was something good in him. I feel strain in my left eye. As if something is pushing out from the inside.

12. A Raptor's Hand Holds My Hand

I was once resting on my bed in this PG. I rested my right hand away from my body towards my roommate's side of the room. And then I had this immediate vision.

Vision (303, A-10, Past two weeks): I saw a dark green raptor's hand put its hand on top of mine.

13. A Locust Flying In Front Of My Eyes

Vision (A-17/B, Saroj Sadan, Late 2020/Early 2021): I saw a beige locust flying outside in the center of my sight at the level of my eyes.

14. 'Aa Gaye Paas Hum'

15. 'I Don't Want Attention'

Sometimes I may get mentally frozen when I can't make out how to react. When I saw the mustached RS facing to the right (who seemed to be resembling him by 85%), my pace slowed down and I didn't know how to react. I kept walking slowly and looked at the people present with him around the vehicle. Also, the person being a 'tall' celebrity stressed me out a bit as well.

I wrote this because I have been hearing the beginning of Charlie Puth's 'Attention' song since yesterday night after the gym. It was not there previously. If anything, I've avoided deliberate attention because it made me nervous. But now I've learned to ignore the person paying attention and continue doing my thing.

I can see by looking at someone if (s)he is being normal in her/his behavior, or if their behavior is affected to test or get a reaction out of me. In the latter case, I just either end up observing the situation briefly or ignoring it altogether.

16. God Has Prepared Me Mentally

By revealing the torturous revelations in advance, he prepared my heart mentally. It changed my brain toward facing difficulties when walking with him. Though yesterday I was disturbed and today morning as well. But now I have become more heavenly-minded. His revelations changed my heart though it took some time. By revealing to me these physically hurtful situations beforehand, He strengthened me and prepared my heart. And He showed me how He himself went through difficult and painful situations.

17. Cracking My Heart, Chest And Head Open

That's who they are. I recalled the revelations of RS's heart breaking in 'discrete' moves. And then I recalled the long and thick nail placed on the center of my chest. It was a chest being 'cracked' open.

Also, the vision in which I saw Kartik Aryans' hand reaching inside my chest as he hammered a nail in my heart. The breaking of RS's heart looked like it was being pushed outwards from the inside, because the discrete movements of breaking made the centre zig-zag split outwards after which came out flesh. I don't know if it means they will attack my heart on the inside of me.

18. A Man Nails My Forefinger

Vision: My hand is placed on the wooden table in the kitchen below as a man dressed in a thin red skinny t-shirt with a bulging tummy over blue half pants strikes a nail in its extended forefinger.

22:26

19. Buffalo With A Burst Right Eye

Vision (): The side view of a black buffalo was shown. It was walking in the lane that leads to the Photostat shops on the lane going towards Patel Chest, some meters away from the Ganda Nala. The right eye of the buffalo was burst open and a red hole surrounded by open red flesh could be seen.

20. Blast Near My Knee

When I almost fell into a deep sleep, I heard in the spirit a small blast near my knee.

22. Tomorrow I'll Go To A Certain Church

It's a church that the pastor I met in Saroj Sadan (A-17/B) in 2021 runs. He and his son go to places and pray for people. His son was in his undergrads when I had met them. They minister to people from slum areas, and he even goes to faraway places like Panipat (which is in Haryana) with his wife on their scooty to minister and pray for people. When he had come to visit us on the PG's cook Natthu Uncle's insistence, he had recently dealt with the case of a demonically oppressed pregnant lady before coming to meet us that night. His son told me that at times they had to keep praying until 3 to 4 am in the morning. In that lady's case as well, they prayed for long at night. He told me that the lady's face showed that she was demonically oppressed and therefore was facing problems.

He came on his scooty with his son, and on his scooty's head was written 'God Bless You'. He lives such a humble lifestyle. He had started his church/ministry because of a vision given by the Holy Spirit. I had wanted to meet him to ask about being baptized in water. He had told me that it would take some months for that as I would need to attend some of his sermons on baptism after which they would look for a bigger church that has a baptism arrangement. And that if those bigger churches were closed due to covid and weren't offering baptism services, then it could be arranged at the banks of Yamuna. I have not yet gotten baptized in water. Though I tried to self-baptize myself in 2020 at home. I will talk to him about water baptism again as well.

The event at home:

I had shared with him the event that I had witnessed at my home in 2020 in which I was woken up at night by a loud shouting voice of a woman coming from the top-right end of the bedroom I and my youngest brother were sleeping in. I asked him about its meaning, he stayed silent and didn't say much. I had later asked God that or one of the following few nights about the meaning of that experience at home. As I questioned God in my heart about its meaning, something entered my forehead from above and took the form of a huge golden key inside in a dark background.

And in one of the recent revelations related to RS that I had, he was standing in an open area in daylight and holding a huge golden key with both his hands as he put his smiling bearded face against the hole present at the other end of the key held in his left hand, and looked at me through it.

The Church In The Ark Dream

There was a man sitting on a chair in a room lit with white light. Other people present there were either standing or sitting on the floor around him. He had a round face with short hair and was dressed in a full-sleeved shirt tucked inside pants in that dream. There was a weapon lying on the floor. He smiled and signalled me to pick it up. He was asking me to operate it. I held it in my hands and operated it without knowing all the controls. It ended up forming a huge electromagnetic disk of fire at the front. After that followed the dream event that had me operating that weapon in front of a scared and hiding devil.

When I asked Nathu Uncle about the church about a week or more back, he confirmed that church hs some people standing and some sitting on the floor. I will go and see tomorrow. I've to learn to pray. Then I will pray for all my loved ones to end up in Heaven.

God Bless RS. God Bless Amy.

God Bless KA. God Bless K (Me). God Bless AK. God Bless Mayank. God Bless Glory. God Bless Death Conqueror. God Bless Jema & Pooja. God Bless 'All' 'His' children.

23. 'Naam Likh Diya.. Tera Naam Likh Diya..'

'Have written your name.. I've written your name..'

The song has the lyric 'Tera Naam Rakh Diya' ('I've named you so..'), but I was hearing in my Spirit, 'Tera Naam Likh Diya..' sung in the same melody!

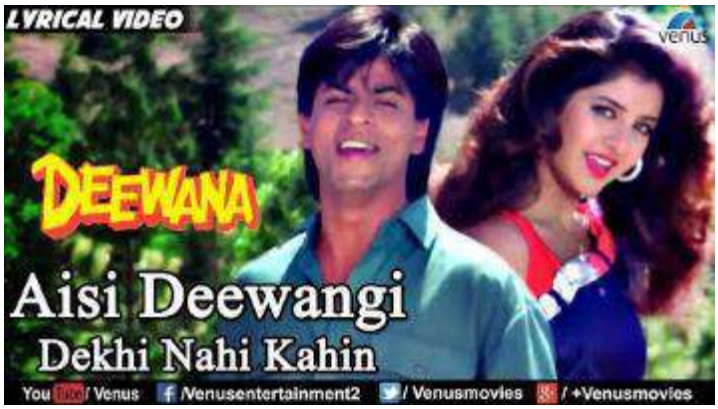
This song has played in my Spirit many times previously as well when I was in A-16.

Ref: Aisi Deewangi - Lyrical Video | Deewana | Shahrukh Khan | Divya Bharti | Ishtar Music



Love is one thing. And doing the right thing is another. One can forgive based on repentance and the state of heart of the person, no matter how many times one has been sinned against. But at times, even God judges His children, though He loves them, as He wants to correct them. God corrects the ones He loves.

1 Corinthians 13:7

King James Version

7 Beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

Proverbs 3:12

New International Version

12 because the LORD disciplines those he loves,
as a father the son he delights in.[a]

1 Corinthians 13:7

The Message

3-7 If I give everything I own to the poor and even go to the stake to be burned as a martyr, but I don't love, I've gotten nowhere. So, no matter what I say, what I believe, and what I do, I'm bankrupt without love.

Love never gives up.
Love cares more for others than for self.
Love doesn't want what it doesn't have.
Love doesn't strut,
Doesn't have a swelled head,
Doesn't force itself on others,
Isn't always "me first,"
Doesn't fly off the handle,
Doesn't keep score of the sins of others,
Doesn't revel when others grovel,
Takes pleasure in the flowering of truth,
Puts up with anything,
Trusts God always,
Always looks for the best,
Never looks back,
But keeps going to the end.

1. An Internally Lit Jesus

Vision (Morning): Jesus lying on his back in his white multi-layered tunic on my bed as he lights up with firey light coming out from inside of his body and through his open mouth.
It also represented my situation because I may catch a fire on the inside if they keep meddling with my brain and heart with their 'metallic' spy cam. But I may 'not' catch fire as well because the Holy Spirit will protect me. (Recall – the 'House On Fire' revelation) I think that's why they might resort to the level of ruthlessness I described on the previous page, or in the Greenlight vision I had with Jesus, as they may feel powerless about their failed efforts to make me bow down to them, and in killing or making 'me' end my life 'without a clue' of their involvement.

And that's also the reason I was given the revelation in which I operated a long weapon resembling a rifle which created what looked like an electromagnetic disk of fire. I am not afraid of their drones inside of me. Because Jesus can even contain the fire and extinguish it. He's with me in the fire. That's why He gave me this vision. I can go through fire for the person I love and He's in it with me. I will dance with Him in the fire. If He chooses to save me from it, so be it, if He doesn't, even then I know I am saved and am His. While Death Conqueror and the gang can only inflict pain and do not know to reject ungodly abusive thoughts, words and behavior. Don't they have enough common sense to not use a physical method for a chemical problem?

Daniel 3:14-28
Contemporary English Version

14 "I hear that you refuse to worship my gods and the gold statue I have set up. 15 Now I am going to give you one more chance. If you bow down and worship the statue when you hear the music, everything will be all right. But if you don't, you will at once be thrown into a flaming furnace. No god can save you from me."

16 The three men replied, "Your Majesty, we don't need to defend ourselves. 17 The God we worship can save us from you and your flaming furnace. 18 But even if he doesn't, we still won't worship your gods and the gold statue you have set up."

19 Nebuchadnezzar's face twisted with anger at the three men. And he ordered the furnace to be heated seven times hotter than usual. 20 Next, he commanded some of his strongest soldiers to tie up the men and throw them into the flaming furnace. 21-23 The king wanted it done at that very moment. So the soldiers tied up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego and threw them into the flaming furnace with all of their clothes still on, including their turbans. The fire was so hot that flames leaped out and killed the soldiers.

24 Suddenly the king jumped up and shouted, “Weren't only three men tied up and thrown into the fire?”

“Yes, Your Majesty,” his officers answered.

25 “But I see four men walking around in the fire,” the king replied. “None of them is tied up or harmed, and the fourth one looks like a god.”[a]

26 Nebuchadnezzar went closer to the flaming furnace and said to the three young men, “You servants of the Most High God, come out at once!”

They came out, 27 and the king's high officials, governors, and advisors all crowded around them. The men were not burned, their hair wasn't scorched, and their clothes didn't even smell like smoke. 28 King Nebuchadnezzar said:

Praise their God for sending an angel to rescue his servants! They trusted their God and refused to obey my commands. Yes, they chose to die rather than to worship or serve any god except their own.

2. What Happens After Death

The Bible on What happens after death: The Bible has past examples of raising up of the dead through the power of the Holy Spirit. It doesn't talk about reincarnation.

Hebrews 9:27 ESV
And just as it is appointed for man to die once, and after that comes judgment,

Ecclesiastes 12:7 ESV
And the dust returns to the earth as it was, and the spirit returns to God who gave it.

2 Corinthians 5:8 ESV
Yes, we are of good courage, and we would rather be away from the body and at home with the Lord.

John 5:28-29 ESV
Do not marvel at this, for an hour is coming when all who are in the tombs will hear his voice and come out, those who have done good to the resurrection of life, and those who have done evil to the resurrection of judgment.

John 11:24-26 ESV
Martha said to him, “I know that he will rise again in the resurrection on the last day.” Jesus said to her, “I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live, and everyone who lives and believes in me shall never die. Do you believe this?”

3. RS Sets the Behavioural Standard

Glory, learn from RS! Just look at the revelations God gave me related to him. It's almost as if RS is setting a standard for other men to follow in their own lives.

4. Return of the Dead

When some of God's people visited Earth and met Jesus at the mountain top. It was not reincarnation.

Matthew 17:1-3 (Easy-to-Read Version)

Jesus Is Seen With Moses and Elijah

17 Six days later, Jesus took Peter, James, and John the brother of James and went up on a high mountain. They were all alone there. 2 While these followers watched him, Jesus was changed. His face became bright like the sun, and his clothes became white as light. 3 Then two men were there, talking with him. They were Moses and Elijah.

5. My Changed Speech

Even the tone of my speech is affected. I noticed it during the past week. I no longer talk the way I used to. It seems constricted to me now. But that's fine.

6. "Isme Teri Maut Ka Saman Hai"

'This contains the material for your death.' – I kept hearing this in the spirit a few days back.

7. Going To Church

I didn't find it burdensome at all today to get ready for Church, and I did it before time, while I don't find any motivation to go to my workplace - the physics dept. It leaves me drained to even think of going there.

8. 'Tenu Le ke Jana Apne Naal'

'I've to take you along with me.'

The guy sings:

I've to take you along with me.
Don't wanna live, without my beloved, for these many years..

Though it's midnight, I can't sleep..
During the day either, I can't find rest..

Ohh..

Though it's midnight, I can't sleep..
During the day either, I can't find rest..

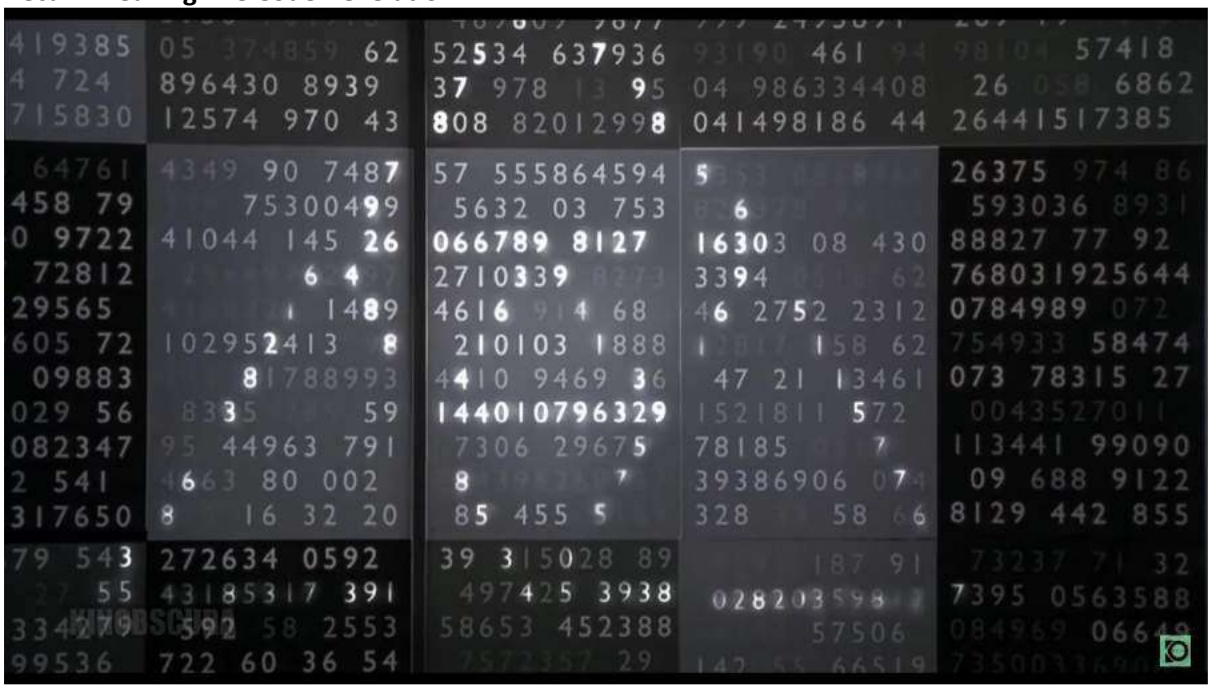
9. Breaking The Code - What Counts What Doesn't.

Recall 'Breaking The Code' revelation.



10. 'Death is The Way Back Home.'

Quoting Jonathan.

11. The Case in The Green Light

Remember what Jesus went through in the Green Light Communion vision. (I may go through a real physical version of the same in a bus running through green lights.)

12. Apka Dil Hmare Paas Hai

'Your heart is with me..'

The guy sings:
(Apka Dil Hmare Paas Hai)
Your heart is with me..

(Hmara Dil Aapke Paas Hai..)
My heart is with you..

Do you realize..
Only this thing holds utmost importance now..

(Apka Dil Hmare Paas Hai)
Your heart is with me..

(Hmara Dil Aapke Paas Hai..)
My heart is with you..

The lady sings:
(Apka Dil Hmare Paas Hai)
Your heart is with me..

(Hmara Dil Aapke Paas Hai..)
My heart is with you..

13. My Dead Airdopes

My Airdopes ran out of battery at the wrong time in the gym.

14. But RS will always be in my heart.

- Always

I am so glad that God replaced the thoughts of torment by Death Conqueror with His revelations about RS and others in the sense that my focus shifted away from his and his gang's hurtful persecution of me to those people, who have a good heart and won't do such a thing that he did, though we may not be intended by God to be together, but to only have a hearty bond that soothes and heals. It's God who brings people together and separates them as well. He sometimes does so when we start to entirely focus on one person and move Him to the sideline. Recall -Amitabh Bachchan comes in the picture frame and sends RS flying off. We're not called to focus on or worship anyone more than Him.

15. Gods Made People

Replacing false gods with real people - that's what God did by giving me revelations pertaining to false gods of the place, in which a person, me or someone else was shown as having the form of one or the other Hindu Gods. Hard to understand for a Christian mind, but a rational mind will understand how it changes the perception of false gods over a period as the focus shifts from them that person who is not God, leading to a change in hearts of people towards the real God.

16. Was There Ever Any Love Present At All?

I had been asking for the past few days looking at the violent revelations about the things that I am going through and how they will ensue, that if the bully ever, ever was about love, or was he only playing a power game!? Does he not realize that power games can leave a person feeling broken and drained.

Recall the revelation in which the devil is floating in air with the lady whose chest, belly and a leg below the knee are covered with blood – 'The Moral Man, The Serpent Chaser, and The Woman in White' on Page 386. Everything seems to be pointing to the opening or slaughter of belly and chest, and also the breaking of a knee.

And while I wrote the above, the scene from Lootera got highlighted to me in which the heroine breaks down and opens her heart and asks the hero if he ever loved her. The hero replies that he did love, and loved a lot, and still does.

17. The Crown

Within the past week, whenever I went downstairs and came out of the lift of my PG, my eyes rested on the electricity board downstairs, on which was written, “Crown”. My gaze would stop at the word on the board again and again.

The Board On The Ground Floor Of A-10

This made me think if I was now going to be crowned because of all that I went through. And today I realized that it referred to the electric crown of my brain. Loosing which I will gain my heavenly crown. I don’t feel bad about it. I feel overwhelmed that I will for real get to go back home, and it fills my heart. My true home. .

18. I'm Coming Home, I'm Coming Home

And this song plays in my spirit:

And the blood will dry
Underneath my nails
And the wind will rise up
To fill my sails

So you can doubt
And you can hate
But I know
No matter what it takes

I'm coming home
I'm coming home
Tell the world I'm coming home

Let the rain
Wash away
All the pain of yesterday
I know my kingdom awaits
And they've forgiven my mistakes

I'm coming home
I'm coming home
Tell the world I'm coming

Still far away
From where I belong
But it's always darkest
Before the dawn

So you can doubt
And you can hate
But I know
No matter what it takes

I'm coming home
I'm coming home
Tell the world I'm coming home

Let the rain
Wash away
All the pain of yesterday

I know my kingdom awaits
And they've forgiven my mistakes
I'm coming home
I'm coming home
Tell the world I'm coming home

I'm coming home
I'm coming home
Tell the world I'm coming home

Let the rain
Wash away
All the pain of yesterday
I know my kingdom awaits
And they've forgiven my mistakes

I'm coming home
I'm coming home
Tell the world I'm coming, home

18. Being Malang – Rejecting the World

Malang: refers to a person who is out of the world and its ways..

If anything, be Malang in Love.. two hands rubbing a penis producing heart shaped protrusions reflect the physical counterpart of praying to God inculcating a stronger love bond with Him.

19. Glory: Do Your Part.

Sift out the revelations pertaining to you. Look at the revelation 'The Dusty Man & The Fairy'.

Can you see your part after sifting my part out? Not only you've to be bulky (well you can skip that if you want), but you've to also type out my thesis for I am busy with printing out revelations (because I can't type and print my thesis!). Be prepared to do that. God wants you to do that for me (and Him) because it decreases my workload.

20. The Trance

I went into a trance that evening on seeing the moustached RS in Blue & white, and couldn't think clearly. I found it enchanting to look at him. I thought that just seeing him in my real life was enough for me because it was only because of God's created situations that I came across him. Such a huge heart.

21. 'Aayi Jab Saamne, Jaane Kyu Vo Dar Gyi..'

'When she came in front of me, I don't know did she get scared..'

The guy sings:
When she came in front of me, I don't know why she got scared..
(and) left me in a lunatic state of love..

My heart's beloved and lifeline..

I don't know what the matter is..
That the day seems to be the night..

I don't know what the matter is..
That the day seems to be the night..

Though the day is new, the evening is new..
I am in a strange state..

(I) Find it hard to put in words..
But can't stay without saying it out either..

22. My High School Friend Deepika Sharma

I had a friend during my high school days (2008-2010) in D.A.V Pundri (my hometown), Distt .Kaithal, Haryana. She had a round face with sunken eyes, small lips, and lifted cheeks. She was very slim and almost the same height as me, just shorter by an inch or so.

I later took a crash course with her as well in Chaitanya Institute in Punjabi Bagh in Delhi for a month or so immediately after my 12th boards were over. From what I got to know from my dad after joining in PhD, she had found a job in a bank.

23. The Dark Brown Horse's Head

Vision (afternoon): The head of a dark brown horse is galloping on my naked widely separated breasts. It takes one in mouth, then takes it out, and goes from one breast to another. It does this many times. Then I see cooked yellow lentils in a small steel ball. The horse takes it in his mouth in a go.

24. Aaj Kal Tere Mere Pyaar Ke Charche Har Juban Par

'These days the discussion of our love is on every tongue'
The Guy sings:
These days the discussion of our love is on every tongue..
Everyone knows about it, and everyone got the news.

These days the discussion of our love is on every tongue..
Everyone knows about it, and everyone got the news.

The Lady sings:
Oh Yeah..?

The Guy Sings:
Everyone knows about it, and everyone got the news.

The Lady sings:
So what..?

25. 'Capping The Crown'

Recall the Rev #11 - The White Skeleton Face With a Black Cap - on Page 422. Their plan - to 'cap my crown'. During the past week, my eyes have been stopping at 'Crown' written at the electricity board on the ground floor of this PG. Today, after watching the last scene from the movie Kill Bill in which The Bride tells Bill that she never thought he could cap her crown with a bullet, I realized that with the spy drones inside of me, this is also what they perhaps intend to do – to 'cap' my crown/brain internally.

26. Kaam Kar Kaam

My dad once shouted at my mom to do household chores instead of thinking about other stuff. He hardly respected her, and even if he did, it was momentary.

27. The Forehead Hits

I can feel the forehead hits now. They are hitting the center of my forehead with their spy drones. And it's making me dizzy. And it makes me recall the dance vision with Kartik Aryan. My forehead just keeps getting heavier and I can feel this something moving on the inside. It reminds me of the forehead hits on the head of Paras Patel where one night he woke up from sleep and was hit repeatedly on his forehead. So does that mean one night I would wake up with huge damage to my brain. I can't even imagine doing such a thing to them.

I now understand few more revelations.

28. Glory Trying to Restore My Neck - #5 on Page 107

It wouldn't have made sense otherwise. But God gave me this revelation because my they will dissociate my neck internally, slowly. The vision of the severed head of Ranveer Singh lying behind me in a dark background as I lay on my bed, had his face still moving and changing expressions, just like mine did in the revelation on Page 107. My head was severed above my neck and a guy was trying to bandage my neck while kissing it. I assumed that it must be Glory. But the vision prior to this one was 'A Kiss of Love' in which I saw the face of Ranveer Singh kissing slowly a lady below in a watery background. My neck is going to be severed slowly it seems, just like my head's crown. Recall 'Capping the Crown'.

I'm coming home.. I'm coming home..

29. Removing A Thick Slab Of Meat

Vision (Afternoon): A hand takes away a slab of red meat from a column of slabs of meat placed on the left lifted surface along the door of a house a few houses after A-17/B (Saroj Sadan) of this locality (Vijay Nagar, Single Storey). 3-4 more slabs were left in that vision.

30. The Sudden Change In Reality

I was on the roof of my PG. Perhaps I was washing clothes. But then suddenly I had a vision in which the whole thing above in the sky changed to a yellowish and very peaceful scenery, almost as if Heaven was being shown to me in the sky. A sudden change in the aura of the place, a place of no fear and sin, but where only love abounds. No crime, no hatred, no competition, no comparison, no jealousy, no contention, no oppression, but a place of pure peace created by God to live with Him. That's our home. And while we are on Earth, we are away from it.

31. Kartik Aryan Kisses Me

Vision (Past few days): I don't recall what I was doing. Perhaps I was writing revelations alone when I had this vision. I saw Kartik suddenly appear in that vision and he kissed me passionately. I could feel his heart.

All these revelations God gave me to strengthen me and show me love.

As I got up from my chair to take a break, I had the chorus of this song play for a long while in my spirit.

32. The Case of Shailza – The Girl From My Hometown Pundri

Shailza was a girl who lived in the same lane of houses that Shamsher Sir later lived on rent. It was along the lane of houses my friend Sakshi Thakral lived as well. Her home was to the right of the rented home of Samsher Sir. It was during my middle school that this incident happened and it took over the local news. A naked body was found along the side of a river. Her lips were deformed, and her body was injured with many cuts on it.

My mom is so worldly and thinks in worldly terms. I received a call from her while I was writing the above and then we were engrossed in arguing for more than an hour. I don't know how her heart will change towards God. It's hurtful to talk to her because she defies God and keeps stressing on her own way of thinking which is limited to the physical world.

Anyway. Coming back to the Case of Shailza. Shailza had an affair with a married man who got her pregnant. She was madly in love with him and was asking him to marry her. The guy brushed aside her attempts for a while but then on further insistence, he asked her to pack her bags and come to a certain place where he would pick her up from, as her family wouldn't have allowed her to marry an already married man. She goes to him with her stuff and gets in his car. He has some of his friends with him as well, supposedly to help them. But after a while they attacked her. They used blades to make cuts in her body, chewed her lips, raped her in turns, and then threw her naked body into a river body.

Am I really asking for that or the worse situation that I've been shown? I mean.. do I deserve that to be done to me..? On this Earth, we have to endure till the end, and God has trained me in such a manner now that it's hard for me to feel hatred toward the mindsets and ideologies that I previously didn't like. I already wrote what would've worked. If they came respectfully to me with a bouquet and talked like a sensible person, it would've been enough. But they chose to disrespect me and yet wanted to have me come to them in submission, and 'not in love'. But I, though I loved them very much, didn't go to them because of their ways.

Vision (Afternoon): A man dressed in a light sky-blue polo t-shirt over blue jeans comes riding on a bike on the service road with a fat girl behind him. The guy is tall, lean, and fit and resembles Ranveer Singh and has sideburns and a slight beard on his chin. The girl resembles the fat lady with straight hair who lives to the left of Nath Tent & Caterers and she is carrying a polythene with vegetables in it. The guy stops at the turn into the street running adjacent to A-16 (Swami Jagannath Dham). The lady is now standing on the ground facing the guy while the guy is still on his bike and is at the entrance with his bike facing the street. The vision is seen from the side of Nath Tent & Caterers as the guy makes the prophetic symbol while holding the transparent polythene with carrots and other vegetables in it. The face then amalgamates to Glory's and a mixture of RS and Glory. The vision focuses on the polythene held in his left arm held horizontally and then ends.
